MSU - Kevin Broadus (63-69, 5th season)

SETTING THE SCENE

Fresh off the heels of a comeback victory at Howard last weekend, achieving a historic milestone for head coach Robert Jones in the process, Norfolk State returns to Echols Hall for a weekend homestand against a pair of conference foes.

The Spartans (11-8, 1-1 MEAC) face Coppin State (2-15, 1-2 MEAC) on Saturday, Jan. 27 at 4 p.m. for Health & Wellness Night at Echols Hall, before battling Morgan State (5-14, 2-2 MEAC) on Monday with housing and residential life as the theme.

Norfolk State stormed back from a 15-point second half deficit in Washington D.C. on Saturday, vanquishing the Bison with a go-ahead 3-pointer from Jamarii Thomas in the final minute of the ballgame. Thomas and Allen Betrand led the Spartans with 14 points each, both going 5-of-11 from the floor as well.

The win marked the 200th victory of Jones' decorated career, all coming as the head coach of the Norfolk State men's basketball program. Accomplishing the feat in dramatic fashion at Howard's Burr Gymnasium made it extra special: it was the same venue where Norfolk State came back from a 22-point second half deficit for Jones' 100th win on Feb. 2, 2019.

Coppin State enters Saturday's game with just two wins on its resume, facing a brutally tough out-of-conference schedule. The Eagles have played with intensity in all of their conference games, however, their two losses coming by a total of five points.

Coppin State enters Saturday's matchup after back-to-back overtime thrillers. The Eagles took down Maryland Eastern Shore 58-55 in the first matchup, before falling to Morgan State 89-86 last Saturday.

The Bears earned their first victory of MEAC play with the result at CSU, after falling 75-74 at Maryland Eastern Shore and 78-66 against Delaware State.

Head Coach Robert Jones

Head coach Robert Jones sets out on his 11th season leading the Norfolk State men's basketball program in 2023-24 and his 17th year overall with the Spartans. He led the program to its second-consecutive MEAC title in 2022 and an NCAA Tournament First Four win over Appalachian State in 2021.

The MEAC Coach of the Year in 2019 and 2021, Jones has led NSU to a .743-win percentage in league play – fifth in the nation among coaches with at least 100 games coached – and made seven postseason appearances in nine years of postseason play.

In Jones' tenure, the Spartans have won three MEAC regular season titles and two MEAC Tournament championships. Norfolk State has appeared in the last four MEAC Tournament championship games, and five of the last six.

Jones led Norfolk State to the MEAC Final in 2023, finishing the year with a 22-11 overall record. The Spartans went 9-5 in conference play, earning the No. 3 seed in the MEAC Tournament. NSU defeated No. 6 seed Coppin State 73-56 in the quarterfinal round and won an overtime thriller 72-65 over North Carolina Central the next day to earn an appearance in the championship game. The Spartans nearly pulled off a third victory in three days, falling 65-64 to Howard in the title bout.

During the 2022-23 season, Norfolk State shined on some of the brightest stages, winning multiple games at showcase events. The Spartans defeated Alabama A&M 89-83 at the ATL Has Something to Say HBCU Challenge (Atlanta, Ga.), before besting Hampton 78-66 and North Carolina A&T (70-66) in the Boost Mobile HBCU Challenge Hosted by Chris Paul (Las Vegas, Nev.). NSU beat Hampton a second time 83-71 on Feb. 4 for the Invesco QQQ Legacy Classic (Newark, N.J.), hosted by Michael B. Jordan.

NSU guard Joe Bryant Jr. was named MEAC Player of the Year and BOXTOROW HBCU National Player of the Year for a second consecutive season in 2022-23, while senior Kris Bankston also earned All-MEAC First Team and BOXTOROW All-America First Team honors. Both players were also selected to participate in the prestigious Portsmouth Invitational Tournament (PIT).

CollegeInsider.com named Jones a finalist for the 2022-23 Ben Jobe National Coach of the Year and Skip Prosser Man of the Year awards. He was also selected to coach the 2nd Annual "Classic for Columbus" Basketball All-Star Game & Extravaganza, an all-star event that two of his players participated in as well (Bryant and Bankston).

Jones earned MEAC Coach of the Year honors for the second time of his career in 2022 as he led the Spartans to a MEAC regular season title with a 12-2 conference record. The team finished 24-7 overall, its winningest season since the 2011-12 campaign, defeating Coppin State 72-57 in the MEAC Championship to clinch a berth in the NCAA Tournament. Jones was named MEAC Tournament Most Outstanding Coach for the second consecutive year.

Norfolk State began the season 9-1, its best start in the program's Division I history and the best-ever start at the Division I level for any MEAC program past or present. The Spartans defeated teams from the Ohio Valley, Mid-American, CAA, Big South, and SWAC during a dominant non-conference stretch. College Insider ranked NSU 16th in its final mid-major poll of the season.

During the historic season, three of Jones' players received All-MEAC honors. Bankston and Jalen Hawkins landed on the conference's second and third teams, respectively, while Bryant earned a spot on the first team. Bryant was named MEAC Player of the Year, the fourth recipient in Norfolk State program history,

In addition to his MEAC accolades, Jones was named the Ben Jobe HBCU Division I Coach of the Year and BOXTOROW Co-Coach of the Year, and was presented the College Insider Hugh Durham Award, presented annually to the top Division I mid-major coach in college basketball. He was also selected as the head coach of Team McLendon at the inaugural HBCU All-Star Game, leading the squad to a 79-75 victory.

Jones headed HBCUnited during an impressive run of The Basketball Tournament in July of 2022. The team defeated the region's No. 1 and No. 5-seeded squads at Rucker Park in Jones' hometown New York City.

After serving as an assistant coach on NSU's first NCAA Tournament squad, Jones led the 2020-21 team to a share of the MEAC Northern Division title (8-4) in addition to the MEAC Championship. It marked the first time NSU won both the regular season and tournament titles in the same year. The Spartans went on to defeat Appalachian State, becoming the only current MEAC school to win two games in the NCAA Tournament. The program was named the HBCU Large School National Champion by the Black College Sports Network (BCSN).

Jones was named the MEAC Tournament Most Outstanding Coach and the HBCU Co-Coach of the Year by HBCU All-Stars LLC/CBS Sports. He was a finalist for three CollegeInsider awards: Ben Jobe (top minority coach), Hugh Durham (top mid-major coach), and Skip Prosser (success on the court and integrity off the court). NSU went 17-8 overall in 2020-21, his seventh .500 or better overall record in eight years as head coach.

Jones led the Spartans to their second-ever regular season title in 2018-19 at 14-2, the second-most wins in the league in program history. NSU finished 22-14 overall for the most wins in Jones' tenure and the second-most in the program's Division I history. It also marked his second 20-win season along with the 2014-15 campaign. The Spartans capped it off by defeating No. 1 seed Alabama in the NIT first round, regarded as perhaps the biggest upset by point spread in NIT history.

In addition to earning the MEAC Coach of the Year Award, Jones was named the NABC District 15 Coach of the Year and the Skip Prosser Award winner. He later received the Norfolk Sports Club's President's Award for 2019, given in special acknowledgement and recognition of outstanding achievement.

He followed that campaign up with another strong season in 2019-20. NSU finished tied for second in the league standings at 12-4. They did the same in 2014-15, 2015-16 and 2016-17, each year posting the same 12-4 record with a second-place finish. The Spartans have been no worse than tied for fourth in the league during his tenure, that coming in 2017-18 with an 11-5 MEAC record and 13 teams in the league. They finished 11-5 and tied for third in Jones' first year in 2013-14 as well.

Jones' overall head coaching mark now stands at 188-137, including 113-39 in MEAC play.

NSU took part in the CollegeInsider.com tournament for four seasons from 2014-17. The program has made nine postseason berths at the Division I level altogether, including seven under Jones and one each in 2012 (NCAA) and 2013 (NIT) during his last two years as an assistant coach.

Only once in Jones' 16 seasons as either an assistant or head coach has NSU finished outside the top 4 in the regular season standings. In fact, Norfolk State is currently fifth in the nation in D-I basketball for the longest streak of .500-or-better conference records, now at 25 years and counting heading into the 2023-24 campaign. Every other team in the MEAC has had at least one losing conference record since 2017-18. NSU is also tied for sixth for most consecutive top 4 conference finishes (12th) in the nation.

Jones has been named a finalist for the Ben Jobe Award a total of seven times, including previously from 2015-17, again in 2019, and he won the award in 2022. He was a finalist in 2019 for the Hugh Durham Award and in 2014 for the Joe B. Hall Award, presented by CollegeInsider to the most outstanding first-year D-I head coach.

He has coached numerous outstanding players during his time at NSU, including 24 All-MEAC honorees as head coach. NSU had a first-team player nine times out of 10 years from 2008-17, and at least one all-conference honoree every year except one from 2004 until now. In 2018-19, the Spartans had a program record five players earn All-MEAC honors.

In Jones' first year in 2013-14, meanwhile, senior Pendarvis Williams was named AP All-America honorable mention and also earned a spot on the Lou Henson All-America Team for mid-major players. He later competed in the Reese's College All-Star Game at the 2014 Final Four and with the Houston Rockets Summer League team in Las Vegas before going on to a professional career in the NBA G League and Europe.

Williams is also one of numerous players Jones has coached at Norfolk State who have gone on to play professionally, including eight-year NBA veteran Kyle O'Quinn. Just during his head coaching tenure, a total of 20 players have finished their NSU careers and competed professionally.

Jones was named the interim head coach of the NSU basketball team on April 15, 2013, following the departure of former head coach Anthony Evans. A former assistant coach with the Spartans, Jones' interim title was removed in February of 2014 during that first year leading the program.

During the 2012-13 season, Jones served as the associate head coach. It marked his sixth straight year as an assistant coach with the program, all under Evans. It was the last two years of that tenure, though, that the Spartans really began to flourish.

After capturing the MEAC tournament title in 2012 and upsetting No. 2 seed Missouri in the NCAA Tournament, the Spartans captured the conference's regular season title in 2013 with a 16-0 record and earned the league's automatic bid to the NIT. It marked just the fourth time ever a MEAC school ran the table during the regular season, a remarkable accomplishment considering NSU lost four of its five starters from that 2012 championship team.

The Spartans won their first regular-season title since finishing in a tie for first in the CIAA Northern Division in 1994-95. They were also one of three schools nationally in 2012-13 to go undefeated in conference play along with Gonzaga and Memphis. Heading into the MEAC tournament, NSU's 15-game win streak stood as the second-longest in the nation at the time.

NSU went 21-12 overall in 2012-13, the second 20-win season in two years after its 26-10 campaign during the 2011-12 campaign.

During his six-year tenure as an assistant coach, two of Jones' primary responsibilities included developing the perimeter players and serving as the team's recruiting coordinator. His prowess on the recruiting trail was key to NSU making a turnaround beginning in 2011-12, and the story of his biggest catch was played out in the national media during NSU's 86-84 upset of Missouri that season.

The star of the game, senior center O'Quinn, was one of Jones' first recruits at NSU. Making the story headline-worthy was the fact O'Quinn, an unheralded high school player who only really played his senior year, received one D-I offer in high school – that from the Spartan basketball program.

O'Quinn became the centerpiece of the 2011-12 team that won its first-ever MEAC title and finished with the most wins (26) in 17 years. His stock continued to rise following a very successful senior year, including his 26-point, 14-rebound effort against the Tigers, as well as through his MVP performance at the Portsmouth Invitational. The Orlando Magic later selected O'Quinn with the 49th overall pick in the 2012 NBA Draft, NSU's first draft pick since 1988.

After arriving at NSU following the promotion of Evans to the head coaching position in 2007, Jones became an essential part in the Spartans' continued rise during Evans' six-year head coaching stint.

In his first year as assistant coach in 2007-08, Jones helped the Spartans secure their second winning record as a D-I program with a 16-15 overall record. NSU also notched what at the time was its best-ever MEAC record at 11-5, tying for second place in the regular-season standings.

Jones came to NSU after spending two seasons in 2005-07 as the head varsity boys basketball coach at St. Mary's High School in Manhasset, N.Y. His teams compiled a 32-15 record competing in New York's highest classification (Class AA). Under Jones' direction, St. Mary's advanced to two consecutive Nassau-Suffolk Catholic League championship games.

Between stints as a high school and AAU coach, 13 of Jones' players earned D-I scholarships, including former Spartans Tamares, Aleek Pauline, and Quasim Pugh.

Prior to joining the high school ranks, Jones served for three seasons as an assistant coach at a pair of D-III schools. Jones was an assistant coach at Bard College in 2001-02 prior to serving a two-year stint at his alma mater, the State University of New York at New Paltz. There, Jones helped the Hawks reach the SUNYAC championship game in 2003.

Jones was a four-year letterwinner from 1997-2001 at New Paltz. He played under Evans, who was an assistant at New Paltz from 1997-99. Jones was a three-time All-SUNYAC selection and an honorable mention D-III All-American in 2000. Jones ranks No. 9 all-time in school history in scoring with 1,321 points, first in blocks with 140 and second in rebounds with 875. He was inducted into the Hawks Athletics Hall of Fame Class of 2022.

Jones earned his bachelor's degree in business management from New Paltz in 2002. In 2011, he was also selected to attend the NCAA's Achieving Coaching Excellence (ACE) program, a professional development workshop for college coaches administered by the NCAA Student-Athlete Affairs department in partnership with the Black Coaches and Administrators (BCA). In 2020, Jones gave his support to ABIS, the Advancement of Blacks in Sports.
