MCINTOSH'S MONSTER WEEK

Sophomore guard Bryant McIntosh enjoyed the best back-to-back games of his young career last week. He started things off on Wednesday by posting 20 points, 5 rebounds, 5 assists and a career-best 4 steals in a victory over Fairfield. On Friday, McIntosh followed things up by tallying a career-best 32 points on 11-of-17 shooting (5 of 6 from 3-point range) while dishing out 6 assists in an overtime win over Columbia. For the week, McIntosh averaged 26.0 points, 5.5 assists, 4.0 rebounds and 2.0 steals per game while shooting 63.3 percent (19-30) from the field and 70 percent (7-10) from 3-point range. It marked the first time in his career that he has scored 20 or more points in consecutive games. His previous best point total was 22 vs. UIC on Dec. 22, 2014. The 32 points are the most in a game by a Northwestern player since Drew Crawford scored 34 at 23rd-ranked Creighton on Dec. 22, 2011.

FALZON'S DAZZLING DEBUT

Aaron Falzon had a freshman debut like no other in Northwestern history in the Wildcats' win over UMass Lowell Nov. 13. Falzon went 8-of-11 from the field in the contest, including going a perfect 6-for-6 with 15 points in the second half. He went 4-for-6 from 3-point range in the win.

OLAH TABBED BIG TEN PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Senior center Alex Olah was honored as the Big Ten Co-Player of the Week on Nov. 16 for his performance in the Wildcats' 79-57 win over UMass Lowell on Nov. 13. Olah posted 21 points and 12 rebounds, marking his ninth career double-double and his third career game with 20+ points and 10+ rebounds. Olah shot 7-of-11 from the field and 7-of-8 from the free throw line. He also had two blocked shots.

POSTSEASON HONOREES RETURN

A trio of Northwestern players picked up postseason honors from the Big Ten Conference. Redshirt junior guard Tre Demps was a consensus honorable mention All-Big Ten selection, earning the recognition from both the league's coaches and media. Junior center Alex Olah was named an honorable mention pick of the media.

Additionally, guard Bryant McIntosh earned a selection to the five-member Big Ten All-Freshman Team. McIntosh is the fifth Northwestern player to receive the honor over the last 10 years.

TRIO NAMED TEAM CAPTAINS

Redshirt senior Tre Demps, senior Alex Olah and redshirt junior Sanjay Lumpkin are serving as team tri-captains for the 2015-16 season. Demps, a native of Concord, California, has appeared in 105 career games, including making 46 starts. A native of Timisoara, Romania, Olah has started 98 of the 101 contests that he has appeared in during his time at Northwestern. Lumpkin, a native of Wayzata, Minnesota, has seen action in 74 career contests while making 63 starts with the Wildcats.

WILDCATS TAKE EXHIBITION TOUR OF SPAIN

From August 22 through September 1, the Wildcats participated in a foreign tour of Spain. Along the way, the team visited Madrid, Valencia, Alicante and Barcelona. Northwestern posted a 4-1 record in its five games against professional teams.

BLOCK PARTY

Alex Olah already is the top shot blocker in Northwestern history. With 14:36 remaining in the first half against Indiana on Feb. 25, 2015, Olah swatted Hanner Mosquera-Perea for his 137th career block, giving him sole possession of first place and moving him past John Shurna who recorded 136 from 2009-2012. He currently has 151 career blocks. Olah's average of 1.8 blocks per game during the 2014-

15 season ranked second in the Big Ten. His 59 blocked shots are the most by a Wildcat since blocks became tracked as a statistic in the 1978-79 season. The total bested the 58 blocks he notched during the 2013-14 campaign.

CRASHING THE GLASS

Alex Olah has made strides as a rebounder throughout his career. After posting averages of 4.1 rebounds per game as a freshman and 5.2 as a sophomore, Olah boosted that average to 6.9 per contest in 2014-15. The mark ranked fifth in the Big Ten. Olah notched a career-best 13 boards against Iowa on Feb. 15 after recording 12 three times earlier in the year: vs. Elon (11/22), vs. Western Michigan (12/20), vs. Illinois (1/14). His 10 double-figure rebounding games in 2014-15 were the most by a Wildcat since Evan Eschmeyer had 15 during the 1998-99 campaign. Olah recorded 10 or more rebounds in a game only once in his first two collegiate seasons. He started the 2015-16 season with a 12-rebound effort vs. UMass Lowell and is the team leader with an average of 7.0 rebounds per game.

HELPING HAND

Early on in his sophomore season, Bryant McIntosh already has proven to be one of the top point guards in the Big Ten. His 150 assists in 2014-15 established a Northwestern freshman record, topping the prior mark of 128 by Michael Thompson in 2007-08. McIntosh's assist total was the third-best overall in school history and was only seven shy of the NU single-season record of 157 set by Tim Doyle in 2006-07. McIntosh is averaging 7.0 assists per game through NU's first four contests, including matching his career high with 9 assists against North Carolina on Nov. 23.

LAW TO MISS 2015-16 SEASON DUE TO SHOULDER INJURY

Sophomore forward Vic Law will undergo surgery on a torn labrum in his left shoulder and will miss the 2015-16 season. Law appeared in all 32 games, including making 19 starts, as a freshman during the 2014-15 season. He averaged 7.0 points and 4.8 rebounds per game while ranking fifth in the Big Ten in conference play with a .442 3-point field goal percentage.

DEMPS, MCINTOSH PARTICIPATE IN ELITE SUMMER CAMPS

Redshirt senior guard Tre Demps and sophomore guard Bryant McIntosh both earned invitations to elite summer camps this past August. Demps was one of 20 of the top college players in the nation to take part in the Nike Basketball Academy in California. Meanwhile, McIntosh was one of just four college players invited to NBA MVP Stephen Curry's SC 30 Select Camp that was held in California as well.

NEXT TIME OUT...

Northwestern returns to action at 6 p.m. Central time Tuesday when it travels to Virginia Tech as part of the Big Ten/ACC Challenge.

HEAD COACH CHRIS COLLINS

33-37 CAREER RECORD (THIRD SEASON)

Chris Collins was named the 24th head men's basketball coach at Northwestern University on March 27, 2013.

Collins' second season with the Wildcats saw the young team continue to improve throughout the season. Despite a stretch of heartbreaking losses, Northwestern showed the resilience to bounce back late in the year to post four straight Big Ten victories and five of six.

Despite being without the services of leading returning scorer JerShon Cobb for a good portion of the season, the 'Cats came together during their late-season surge. Three of the team's top six scorers were true freshmen, including point guard Bryant McIntosh who set the school freshman record with 150 assists to go along with an average of 11.4 points per game en route to being named to the five-member Big Ten All-Freshman Team. Juniors Tre Demps and Alex Olah both earned honorable mention All-Big Ten recognition.

In his first season at the helm, Collins led the Wildcats to an impressive string of road victories. Collins won his debut as a head coach, notching a 72-55 victory over Eastern Illinois Nov. 9. He traversed the 'Cats through a grinding Big Ten schedule, including earning his first conference triumph at home against 23rd-ranked Illinois Jan. 12.

Northwestern's string of road success began Jan. 18 at Indiana before the Wildcats earned a 65-56 win at 14th-ranked Wisconsin. The winning ways continued three days later when the 'Cats notched a one-point win at Minnesota, marking NU's first three-game road winning streak since 1960.

The Wildcats finished the season strong as they defeated Purdue on the road to wrap up the regular season before upsetting sixth-seeded Iowa in the opening round of the Big Ten tourney.

The Wildcats held four of their Big Ten opponents below 30 percent shooting in a game. NU allowed a mere 63.3 points per game in conference play to rank second in the league. Meanwhile, the team's .419 opponents field goal percentage ranked third in the Big Ten.

Collins came to Evanston after serving on the coaching staff at Duke since July 22, 2000. He was promoted to Associate Head Coach in the summer of 2008. During Collins' 13 seasons on the Blue Devils' staff, Duke posted an overall record of 385-77 while recording eight ACC tournament championships, four ACC regular season titles, eight in-season tournament titles and national championships in 2001 and 2010.

Collins worked primarily with backcourt players during his time at Duke and tutored All-Americans Jason Williams, Mike Dunleavy, Chris Duhon, J.J. Redick, Gerald Henderson, DeMarcus Nelson, Jon Scheyer, Nolan Smith and Austin Rivers, in addition to NBA draft picks Daniel Ewing, Kyrie Irving and Kyle Singler.

Before returning to his alma mater, Collins served as an assistant coach at Seton Hall for two years with Tommy Amaker. In 1999-2000, Collins was part of a staff that guided the Pirates to a 22-10 record and the Sweet 16 of the NCAA tournament. Prior to Seton Hall, Collins spent the 1997-98 season as an assistant with the WNBA's Detroit Shock.

As a player, Collins played professional basketball in Finland during the 1996-97 season, leading the league in scoring.

Collins also served as a court coach and scout for Mike Krzyzewski, assisting the USA Basketball Senior National Team staff with on-court duties as well as game preparation from 2006-12, including during the program's gold-medal performances at the 2008 Beijing Olympics, 2010 FIBA World Championships and 2012 London Olympics. During the summer of 2014, he served as the coach of the USA Select Team which consisted of a group of up-and-coming NBA players who practiced against the USA National Team in preparation for the National Team's participation in the FIBA World Cup.

Collins is the son of former NBA All-Star and coach, Doug Collins, who is currently an NBA television analyst for ESPN. A native of nearby Northbrook, Ill., Collins is a 1996 graduate of Duke with a bachelor's degree in sociology.

Collins and his wife, Kim, have two children: Ryan and Kate.

"POUND THE ROCK" IS WILDCATS' MANTRA

Since head coach Chris Collins arrived in April 2013, the Wildcats have adopted the mantra of "Pound The Rock." The Wildcats have a rock in their locker room, and above it is a quote from Jacob A. Riis. The quote reads:

"When nothing seems to help, I go look at a stonecutter hammering away at his rock perhaps a hundred times without as much as a crack showing in it. Yet at the hundred and first blow it will split in two, and I know it was not that blow that did it, but all that had gone before."

The mantra is one that also has been adopted by the NBA's San Antonio Spurs.

Game 1

NU 79, UMass Lowell 57

Nov. 13, 2015 • Evanston, Ill.

Alex Olah poured in 21 points and 12 rebounds, Aaron Falzon scored 20 points and Northwestern limited UMass Lowell to 32 percent shooting on the way to a 79-57 victory at Welsh-Ryan Arena. Sanjay Lumpkin matched a career high with 12 rebounds and Bryant McIntosh dished out a game-high eight assists. The Wildcats overcame a slow start, shooting 59 percent in the second half, including 8-of-16 from beyond the arc. After missing their first seven shots of the game, the River Hawks hit six straight field goal attempts and took a 25-16 lead as the 'Cats missed their first 11 3-point attempts. But NU battled back and when McIntosh hit a jumper as the half expired, the 'Cats headed into the break down 34-32. Just before the 18-minute mark, Tre Demps nailed his first 3-pointer of the game, giving the 'Cats a 38-35 lead. They extended their lead to 45-39 behind five quick points from McIntosh and a 3-pointer from Nathan Taphorn. Northwestern's 3-point barrage continued with Falzon's second of the game, then McIntosh and Taphorn knocked down threes on back-to-back plays to stretch Northwestern's lead to 61-50, its first double-digit advantage of the game. Falzon stayed red-hot, hitting a pair of threes, grabbing an offensive rebound for an easy putback layup and assisting on an Olah layup – all within a span of just over three minutes. Northwestern ended on a 24-7 run, scoring from all over the court. The 'Cats finished with a 38-14 advantage on points in the paint but scored more than half its second-half points—24 of 47—on 3-pointers. NU did a good job taking care of the basketball, committing only six turnovers while handing out 18 assists. Falzon's point total was the most ever by a Northwestern freshman in his collegiate debut.

Game 2

NU 79, Fairfield 72

Nov. 18, 2015 • Evanston, Ill.

Bryant McIntosh scored a game-high 20 points, including 14 in the second half, and four Wildcats scored in double figures as Northwestern held off a second-half push by visiting Fairfield to secure a 79-72 victory at Welsh-Ryan Arena. The Wildcats jumped out to an early 13-6 lead behind three 3-pointers in as many attempts by freshman Aaron Falzon. The hot start gave Falzon seven consecutive makes from beyond the arch spanning two games. A 3-pointer by McIntosh pushed Northwestern's advantage to 27-14, but Fairfield went on an 8-0 run to cut their deficit to five. The 'Cats eventually took a 39-29 halftime lead as it forced 10 turnovers by the Stags that they converted into 16 points. The Wildcats stretched their lead to as much as 16 when Scottie Lindsey's 3-pointer pushed the score to 57-41 with 13 minutes remaining, but a 17-4 Fairfield run closed the gap to three. The Stags were within three points on four separate occasions, including trailing 68-65 with under three minutes remaining. However, McIntosh hit a jumper in the lane and then converted a three-point play with under a minute left to seal the win for NU. ## Game 3

NU 83, Columbia 80 (OT)

Nov. 20, 2015 • Evanston, Ill.

Sophomore guard Bryant McIntosh scored a career-high 32 points while handing out 6 assists to help lead Northwestern to an 83-80 comeback win in overtime over Columbia at Welsh-Ryan Arena. Tre Demps added 22 points and 6 assists to the Wildcats' charge. The visiting Lions were red-hot from 3-point range to start the game, hitting seven of their first 11 shots from behind the arch. Columbia surged out to a 17-5 lead and the advantage was still 12, 25-13, just beyond the midway point of the opening half. Down 11, Northwestern finally got things going offensively, tallying 11 straight points to tie the game but Columbia ended the half on a 9-2 run to take a 35-28 lead at halftime. The Lions seemed to have an answer every time that the 'Cats appeared primed to make a charge. Things didn't look good for NU trailing by eight, 71-63, following a layup by Maodo Lo with 3:39 remaining. However, the hosts weren't willing to go away. A basket by McIntosh followed by a 3-pointer Aaron Falzon got Northwestern within three with three minutes still remaining. Columbia went back up by six, but a jumper by Tre Demps and a dunk by Gavin Skelly preceded McIntosh's game-tying baseline jumper with 40 seconds remaining to force overtime. In the extra session, a free throw by Falzon with 3:36 to go gave Northwestern its first lead of the game. NU's advantage was 77-76 before Demps nailed a triple to stretch the lead to four with a minute left. Columbia had one last chance after taking a timeout with 2.8 seconds remaining, but Alex Rosenberg wasn't able to get off a potential game-tying 3-point attempt at the buzzer.

Game 4

#9/8 North Carolina 80, NU 69

Nov. 23, 2015 • Kansas City, Mo.

Northwestern gave No. 9/8 North Carolina all it could handle in the first half, but the Wildcats eventually succumbed to the Tar Heels, 80-69, at the CBE Hall of Fame Classic at Sprint Center. Tre Demps led NU with 21 points, while Bryant McIntosh dished out a career-high nine assists. The Wildcats got off to a good start offensively as they hit four of their first five field goal attempts and trailed only by a point, 9-8, three minutes into the contest. A 9-0 run by the Tar Heels extended their lead to 10, but three consecutive 3-pointers by Scottie Lindsey, Aaron Falzon and Demps got NU within one, 18-17. The Wildcats eventually tied the game at the 7:08 mark when Alex Olah hit a hook in the lane and was fouled. His free throw knotted the score at 27-27. Lindsey, who scored 9 first-half points off the bench, gave Northwestern its first lead of the game when he followed by drilling his second triple of the half. When Lindsey later converted a three-point play, the Wildcats increased their advantage to 35-29 with four minutes left in the half. However, the Tar Heels ended the stanza on a 14-1 run to take a 43-36 lead at the break. After being limited to 3 points in the first half, Demps caught fire early in the second stanza to keep the Wildcats in the game. He scored 10 points in the first 2:35 of the half as Northwestern closed to within 48-46. UNC would gain some cushion with a 12-2 run that extended its lead to 60-48 with 13 minutes remaining. The Tar Heels' lead eventually grew to 20 before the Wildcats attempted to mount a comeback. McIntosh's three-point play with 6:24 to go got NU within 71-58. A 3-pointer by Demps made it 75-64 with 3:39 remaining, but the 'Cats were unable to get closer than nine the rest of the way.

Game 5

NU 67, Missouri 62

Nov. 24, 2015 • Kansas City, Mo.

Northwestern put together a stellar first half and then held on late to defeat Missouri 67-62 at the CBE Hall of Fame Classic at Sprint Center. Bryant McIntosh and Tre Demps led the Wildcats with 13 points apiece, while Scottie Lindsey dished out a career-high 7 assists. McIntosh came out on fire as he scored each of Northwestern's first 11 points, including drilling each of his first three 3-point attempts in helping the Wildcats jump out to an 18-7 lead eight minutes into the contest. NU didn't let up, though. Jordan Ash, Aaron Falzon and Sanjay Lumpkin each knocked down triples of their own as the lead grew to 31-11 thanks to a 22-4 run. The Wildcats would eventually take a 38-24 halftime lead. Missouri continued to cut into the lead early in the second half as it scored the first five points of the period to trim the Northwestern lead to nine, 38-29. The 'Cats continued to shoot the ball well from 3-point range as triples by Lumpkin and Lindsey made it 44-31. The Tigers continued to battle back, however, closing to within six points on two free throws by Jakeenan Grant with 9:56 remaining. The lead was still six with just over eight minutes left when Demps completed a three-point play to extend the lead to nine. Missouri continued to chip away, getting within 60-55 on a three-point play by Terrence Phillips with 5:32 left. NU was up four when Lumpkin and Olah each hit one of two from the charity stripe before Olah hit a pair to put the 'Cats up 65-57 with 2:07 remaining. But again, Missouri charged back and had a chance to make it a two-point game with 33.6 seconds remaining. Kevin Puryear could only make one of two from the free throw line and Northwestern sealed the game from the line at the other end.
