HEAD MEN'S BASKETBALL COACH: BEN MCCOLLUM

13th Season • 329-83 Overall; 201-59 MIAA

Northwest Missouri State head coach Ben McCollum has taken the Bearcats to an elite status in the realm of college basketball.

McCollum is the first four-time NABC Division II National Coach of the Year and a seven-time MIAA Coach of the Year.

Folks around basketball are talking about McCollum because of what has been built in Maryville, Mo.

"He really, really understands culture and what goes into winning from a people standpoint," Marquette head coach Shaka Smart said. "Then he's a great coach on both ends of the floor. And like the way that they play, you can tell he teaches guys and helps guys grow in how to play as opposed to little parts of the offense or parts of the defense. He teaches them to understand how to put it all together."

"I coach Division I basketball, and I promise you they were a top-100 team in the country (last season)," Lipscomb head coach Lennie Acuff said. "How they play, what they do, it's high-level basketball — their skill level, their feel, their player development, it's really done in an admirable way."

McCollum's Bearcats accomplished something in 2014-15 that no Northwest team had achieved since 1986-87. An outright MIAA regular season title after going 15-4 in conference action and 25-7 overall, marking a fourth-straight 20+win season. To cap it off, Northwest entered the NCAA Regional Championship tournament as a No. 4 seed and knocked off No. 5 Minnesota State (59-56) and host and No. 1 seed Augustana (66-65) to make a second-consecutive appearance in the Sweet 16. Pitts was tabbed a First Team All-MIAA performer and earned MIAA Freshman of the Year accolades. Matt Wallace was named the MIAA Defensive Player of the Year. McCollum won his 100th career game with an 83-59 victory over Northeastern State on Jan. 5, 2015, in Tahlequah, Okla.

The 2013-14 Bearcats reached the NCAA Sweet 16, going 24-9 overall. The regular-season MIAA co-champions went 16-3 in conference play to earn McCollum his second MIAA title. It was also the team's third consecutive 20-plus win season, a feat that had not been accomplished since the 2007-08 season, prior to McCollum's arrival. DeShaun Cooper was named the MIAA Player of the Year and was an All-America honoree by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC).

west advanced to the MIAA Tournament Championship game in 2013 knocking of top seed Fort Hays State before falling in overtime of a thrilling championship game to UCM.

In 2011-12, the Bearcats captured its 12th MIAA regular season championship in after finishing 15-5. The Bearcats showed improvement in McCollum's second season in 2010-11, despite a 10-16 overall record. Northwest finished the season by winning six of the year's final nine games. During his first season, McCollum was the second-youngest active head coach in NCAA Division II as the team finished 12-15 and one win shy of qualifying for the MIAA tournament.

Assistant Coach

Before returning to Northwest, McCollum served four years as an assistant coach under David Moe at Emporia State.

McCollum got his start in college coaching as a graduate assistant at Northwest under head coach Steve Tappmeyer, who he would eventually replace. During his two seasons as a graduate assistant, Northwest went 58-8 and returned to the Elite Eight for the second time in program history.

Personal

As a player, McCollum helped lead the Bearcats to a 51-12 record, including a 29-3 mark during the 2001-02 campaign that culminated with the first Elite Eight appearance in Northwest history. It also marked the first time the Bearcats swept the MIAA regular season and tournament titles as they lost a heartbreaker to Southern Indiana in the Elite Eight.

A native of Storm Lake, Iowa, McCollum began his college career at North Iowa Area Community College where he was a two-time all-region performer before transferring to Northwest.

McCollum earned his bachelor's degree in finance before earning a master's degree in athletic administration, both from Northwest. He and his wife, Michelle, are the parents of two sons, Peyton and Tate, and a daughter, Grace Ann.
