THE BASICS

The Oklahoma State women's tennis opens up the 2016 fall slate this Friday as it travels to Newport, R.I. to compete at the inaugural International Tennis Hall of Fame Grass Court Collegiate Invitational at Bill Talbert Stadium. The event features eight of the top men's and women's teams in the country. On the women's side, the Cowgirls are joined by No. 2 California, No. 16 Georgia Tech and No. 55 Harvard.

The occasion will mark the first time a major collegiate invitational will be hosted at the International Tennis Hall of Fame, which held the first U.S. National Championships (the precursor to the U.S. Open) in 1881.

COWGIRL LINEUP

The Cowgirls are expected to send five players to this weekend's event, including senior Carla Tur Mari, junior Vladica Babic and sophomore Katarina Stresnakova. The event will also allow fans a first look at sophomore Sofia Blanco, who sat out the 2015-16 season, and newcomer Lena Ruppert.

ON THE AIR

Fans can catch the action at the International Tennis Hall of Fame on FloTennis.com, which will be streaming the matches at the event beginning Friday at 9 a.m. CT.

OKLAHOMA STATE FROM A DISTANCE

Oklahoma State returns five contributing letterwinners from a 2015-16 campaign that saw the Cowgirls post the best finish in program history, earning the title of NCAA Runners-Up. Last season, OSU racked up a 29-5 record on the way to earning the program's first Big 12 Championship in 13 years, thanks in part to a 9-0 conference record.

The OSU roster is headlined by three standout seniors in Katarina Adamovic, Viktoriya Lushkova and Carla Tur Mari. Adamovic is coming off an impressive junior season that saw the Cacak, Serbia native earn her first ITA All-American honor by way of advancing to the NCAA individual quarterfinals last summer. A two-time All-American and the 2015 Big 12 Co-Player of the Year, Lushkova has been a key to the Cowgirls' unprecedented success as well, riding into the fall season on an 18-match win streak. Tur Mari provided a major boost to the back end of the OSU singles lineup in 2016, going 22-8 in the No. 6 spot.

Also returning for the Cowgirls are junior Vladica Babic and sophomore Katarina Stresnakova. Babic tallied six victories over ranked opponents in 2016, including a triumph over No. 28 Kennedy Shaffer of Georgia to help push the Cowgirls to a win over the Bulldogs in the NCAA Sweet 16. The highlight of Stresnakova's first season in Stillwater came in the NCAA Tournament, when the Slovakia product took down Ferny Angeles Paz of Ohio State in the NCAA quarterfinals to clinch the win over the Buckeyes and push the Cowgirls into the national semifinals.

The Cowgirls boasted one of the most impressive doubles records in the country in 2016, winning all but one doubles point in 34 matches. With the level of talent set to return, that success figures to continue this upcoming season.

Head coach Chris Young enters his eighth season at the helm of the Cowgirl tennis program after earning his 100th win with the program last season. Young is assisted by second-year assistant coach Matt Manasse.

EYEING THE OPPONENTS

Aside from the Cowgirls, the International Tennis Hall of Fame Grass Court Collegiate Invitational field includes seven ranked singles players and two ranked doubles teams.

No. 7 Maegan Manasse leads second-ranked California after posting a 27-13 overall record in 2016. Manasse is joined in the rankings by Golden Bears Denise Starr (No. 62), Olivia Hauger (No. 86) and Karla Popovic (No. 90).

Sixteenth-ranked Georgia Tech's roster boasts three ranked singles players, led by No. 20 Johnnise Renaud who went 24-14 in 2016. No. 23 Paige Hourigan and No. 77 Rasheeda McAdoo round out the list of ranked Yellow Jackets.

After a 12-11 record in 2016, Harvard finished the season ranked No. 55. Harvard is led by Amy He, who led the team in victories last season with 26.

NOTABLE STREAKS AND TRENDS

- The Cowgirls have spent 40 consecutive weeks in the ITA top 25. The last time OSU was outside the top 25 was March 18, 2014.
- The Cowgirls have won 20 or more matches in each of the last two seasons.
- Oklahoma State has won 14-straight regular season conference matches dating back to March 29, 2015, when the Cowgirls came up short, 4-3, at Texas Tech.
- Since 2012, OSU has made five-straight NCAA Tournament appearances. That streak is the second-longest in program history behind a 10-year streak that saw the Cowgirls earn NCAA Tournament berths from 1982-91.
- Senior Viktoriya Lushkova enters the 2016 fall season on an 18-match singles win streak.

SUPER SENIORS

The experienced Cowgirl roster includes three seniors this season, all of which have been major contributors to the growth of the OSU women's tennis program. Katarina Adamovic, Carla Tur Mari and Viktoriya Lushkova have combined for 199 wins, three All-America honors and 10 All-Big 12 accolades while helping the Cowgirls to a 68-20 record.

MATCH NOTES

RECORD WATCH

- Viktoriya Lushkova's .820 career win percentage in singles ranks second all-time in program history. She is the first player since Kate Vaslyeva in 2003 to break onto that list.
- With 73 career singles wins, Viktoriya Lushkova is currently tied with Dominika Olszewska for sixth on the Big 12 era career list. She is sixth on the doubles Big 12 era list with 74 career wins.
- With 69 career doubles wins, Katarina Adamovic sits tied for 10th with Kanyapat Narattana and Maria Alvarez on the program Big 12 era career doubles wins list. With an .802 win percentage in doubles, Adamovic's doubles win percentage leads the Big 12 era list in that category as well.
- With 71 career doubles wins and 72 career singles wins, Carla Tur Mari sits in eighth and ninth, respectively, in the Big 12 era program record book in those categories.

FALL OUTLOOK

The Cowgirls have a busy 2016 fall slate on tap that includes tests against some of the strongest teams and athletes in collegiate tennis, beginning with the Hall of Fame Grass Court Invitational this weekend that features players from four ranked teams.

Following their weekend in Rhode Island, the Cowgirls will gear up for a challenging October in which the team will compete at the Riviera/ITA All-American Championships in Pacific Palisades, Calif., and the ITA Central Region Championships in Minneapolis, Minn. While much of the team is in Minneapolis, senior Katarina Adamovic will compete at the Oracle/ITA Masters from Oct. 13-16 in Malibu, Calif., which features 32 of the elite singles players from around the country.

If any Cowgirl singles player or doubles team is victorious at the ITA Central Region Championships, they'll advance to the USTA/ITA National Indoor Championships in Flushing, N.Y., from Nov. 3-6. Meanwhile, the Cowgirls are set to compete at the Dick Vitale Intercollegiate Clay Court Classic in Lakewood Ranch, Fla.

COWGIRLS IN THE ITA RANKINGS

Oklahoma State women's tennis senior Katarina Adamovic is ranked No. 10 in the Intercollegiate Tennis Association preseason singles rankings, leading a slew of Cowgirls that appear in the preseason singles and doubles polls released Tuesday. Adamovic's No. 10 ranking ties for the highest in program history, matching fellow senior Viktoriya Lushkova's No. 10 ranking in 2015.

Adamovic also appears in the ITA doubles rankings with teammate Vladica Babic, coming in at No. 32.

Babic lands in the singles rankings at No. 25 after a 2016 season that saw the Montenegro product turn in a 27-9 overall record in singles.

Senior Viktoriya Lushkova enters the 2016-17 season at No. 39 in the ITA singles rankings. Lushkova and senior Carla Tur Mari team up to rank No. 36 in the ITA doubles poll after a 34-7 season in 2016.

AMONG THE ELITE

As if the Oklahoma State women's tennis program needed further proof of its arrival on the national stage after last season's NCAA Runner-Up finish, the numbers back up the Cowgirls as well. OSU is one of only 12 NCAA Division I teams to win 20 or more matches in both of the last two seasons.

Adding to that stat, OSU has won 52 matches over the last two seasons as well, making it the second-winningest program in the country over that span behind only North Carolina. A look at the full list:

Team	Win Total (2015 & 2016)
North Carolina	61
Oklahoma State	52
Ohio State	51
Wichita State	51
Michigan	49
Vanderbilt	48
Florida	47
Baylor	46
Georgia	46
Texas Tech	46

YOUNG GUNS

While the 2016-17 Cowgirl roster boasts plenty of experience, the young talent that head Coach Chris Young has brought on board over the last couple of seasons is evident as well, especially with a pair of newcomers.

Freshman Aliona Bolsova (Spain) joined the Cowgirls this fall after finishing one of the most decorated junior careers of any signee in Cowgirl history, having been ranked as high as No. 4 in the ITF world junior rankings with a number of impressive wins under her belt.

Freshman Lena Ruppert (Germany) has been ranked as high as the No. 70 player in Germany, while recording five wins against players in the top-50. Ruppert came to OSU this fall rated as one of the top-10 players under the age of 18.

HOME, SWEET HOME

The Cowgirls are scheduled to play 11 matches at the Michael and Anne Greenwood Tennis Center this upcoming season. Fans won't have to wait long to see OSU either, with the team's first six dual matches set in Stillwater.

In his seven years at the helm of the Oklahoma State women's tennis program, head coach Chris Young has transformed OSU into a national tennis power.

A native of Norman, Okla., Young has compiled a career record of 305-159, directing the OSU women and the men's and women's programs at both Wichita State and his alma mater, Oklahoma Christian. Young now holds an 116-65 record with the Cowgirls.

After spending five years as the Wichita State Director of Tennis, Young returned seven seasons ago to his home state where he competed as a collegian and began his coaching career.

During his time in Stillwater, Young has led the Cowgirls to unprecedented success, as shown by the team's back-to-back trips to the NCAA Sweet 16, five-straight trips to the NCAA tournament and most recently, the 2016 season which brought the program's first Big 12 Championship in 13 years and an NCAA Runner-Up finish.

During Young's seven years at Oklahoma State, he has overseen 18 Academic All-Big 12 selections, two ITA Arthur Ashe Leadership & Sportsmanship Award Recipients, three All-Americans, five ITA Central Regional Champions, two ITA Rookie of the Year selections, a Big 12 Freshman of the Year, the 2015 Big 12 Newcomer of the Year and 2015 Big 12 Player of the Year.

Young was also instrumental in the fundraising and design of the state-of-the-art Michael and Anne Greenwood Tennis Center that would push OSU and Stillwater to the forefront of college tennis. Since the grand opening in 2014, both the OSU men's and women's programs have experienced exponential growth, and the facility has hosted several major events, including the 2014 ITA Central Region Championships and the 2016 Big 12 Championships.

Young was named the unanimous Big 12 Coach of the Year after leading Cowgirls to the best season in program history in 2016, claiming the 2016 Big 12 Championship and advancing to the national championship match for the first time ever. OSU turned in a 29-5 overall record, along with a perfect 9-0 mark in conference play to bring home the regular season Big 12 title. The squad would storm through the Big 12 Championship, winning each of its three matches, 4-0, to take home the tournament title as well.

In the 2016 NCAA Tournament, Young and the host Cowgirls handled Albany and Tulsa to advance to their second-straight Sweet 16. OSU would knock off the likes of No. 5 Georgia, No. 4 Ohio State and No. 1 California on its way to the NCAA Finals, where they would meet powerhouse Stanford and fall just short, losing, 4-3.

The following week at the NCAA Singles Championship, Young coached junior Katarina Adamovic to a quarterfinal appearance and her first career All-American honor. In all, a combined seven Cowgirls finished the season in the ITA singles and doubles rankings, while the team earned its highest finish in school history at No. 8.

During the 2015 season, OSU's women's program rose to new heights, finishing the season 23-6. The Cowgirls took down 14 ranked opponents and notched 15 shutout wins. The stellar season earned the Cowgirls their fourth-straight trip to the NCAA championships and the privilege to host the first and second rounds for the first time on the OSU campus. A heroic showing by the Pokes advanced them to the Sweet 16, where they faced a tough Florida team and fell. Throughout the season, Young saw his squad rise to No. 8 in the ITA polls, the highest ranking in program history. He also saw Lushkova

Young earned accolades for himself as he was named the 2015 ITA Central Region Head Coach of the Year.

Under his direction in 2014, Oklahoma State saw its first women's tennis All-American since 1991 in Viktoria Lushkova. In 2015, Lushkova repeated the honor, making her the first Cowgirl since the 1986 and 1987 seasons to earn two singles All-America honors. She is also just the second Cowgirl to accomplish the feat.

In 2014, he led the Pokes to a 15-8 campaign with a 7-2 record against Big 12 opponents. The Cowgirls produced 11 wins over ranked teams, including a huge 4-3 win over No. 14 Oklahoma. Young and his squad received the highest final ranking for the program since 2001, when it was named the No. 21 team in the nation. The Cowgirls went on to the NCAA Championships for the third year in a row, where they advanced to the Round of 32 after a dominating 4-0 win over South Florida.

Several of his players earned individual awards following the season. Lushkova was not only named All-American but also Big 12 Freshman of the Year, ITA Central Region Rookie of the Year and selected to the All-Big 12 singles and doubles team. Kanyapat Narattana joined Lushkova on the All-Big 12 doubles and Megan McCray was named to the singles team.

In 2013, Young coached the Cowgirls to a 16-9 overall record. The team notched 11 wins over ranked opponents, including a 5-2 victory over No. 12 Nebraska in San Diego, Calif., in March. Oklahoma State competed as the fifth seed in the Big 12 tournament after recording a 5-4 mark in conference play for the second straight year.

That year, Young's Cowgirls made the program's deepest run into the Big 12 tournament in 10 years with a 4-2 win over fourth-seeded TCU, and an exciting victory over top seed and 19th-ranked Baylor to send Oklahoma State to the conference championship for the first time since 2003; however, the Cowgirls fell, 4-0, to the No. 3 seed Texas in the Big 12 championship the next day.

The Cowgirls earned back-to-back NCAA tournament bids in 2012 and 2013, for the first time since the 1990 and 1991 seasons. In 2013, Young also coached the Cowgirl doubles team of Malika Rose and Narattana to an NCAA doubles tournament appearance.

Oklahoma State finished with an 11-10 record in Young's third season. The Cowgirl program saw its biggest win ever in 2012 when the team defeated No. 6 Texas for the fourth time in history. As a result, the Cowgirls received a No. 5 seeding and a spot in the quarterfinals of the Big 12 Championships, as well as a bid to the Tuscaloosa Regional in the NCAA Tournament. OSU fell in its first match of each tournament.

Under Young's direction, Meghan Blevins was named ITA Central Region Rookie of the Year in 2012.

The 2011 Cowgirls finished the season with an 8-16 record; however, the team made it to the quarterfinals of the Big 12 Championship for the second straight year, edging out Missouri before eventually losing to top-seeded Baylor.

In his first year as OSU, Young led the Cowgirls to a 13-10 finish, their best in three years, and picked up his milestone 200th career coaching win.

Young's coaching prowess was evident as his 2010 Cowgirls reached the quarterfinals of the Big 12 Championship and received several individual accolades. His athletes earned a Big 12 Newcomer of the Year award, a No. 4 singles Big 12 co-championship and a doubles spot on the all-conference team.

He also earned his second USTA/ITA Campus and Community Outreach Award in 2010, as he was honored for his work in promoting tennis to the community.

During his time in Wichita, Young led the women's squad to a 94-38 mark, including a 33-6 ledger in Missouri Valley Conference play. A three-time conference coach of the year selection, Young guided the Shockers to league crowns in 2006, 2007 and 2009. Those seasons also resulted in the first three NCAA Tournament appearances in school history.

Young took a program that had never held a national ranking or defeated a ranked opponent and transformed the Shockers into a squad that was ranked for 43-straight weeks and defeated more than 20 ranked opponents under his direction.

The 2008-09 campaign saw Young's squad post a 21-6 mark and capture its third league title in four seasons. Individually, his players won 65 of their 68 individual matches in MVC action.

The fruits of his off-court work began to show as well as the Shockers finished the year ranked in the top 10 nationally in attendance.

The Shockers narrowly missed their third-straight conference title in 2008, finishing the year with a 16-8 mark and a runner-up finish at the MVC Tournament.

Young's third season at WSU proved to be one for the history books as his charges produced a school-record 27-3 mark and became the first MVC squad to win an NCAA Tournament match. The Shockers knocked off 25th-ranked South Carolina in the first round to secure the school's first NCAA victory. Additionally, the Shockers climbed to No. 16 in the national rankings, making them the highest ranked team in the history of the MVC.

Five Shockers earned all-conference honors, including Madina Rakhim, who finished the year with a 29-2 mark at the No. 1 singles position. The Shockers were dominant up and down their lineup, finishing with a 66-1 record in their individual conference matches.

For his efforts, Young was named the ITA Central Region Coach of the Year. The 2007 campaign also saw him earn the USTA/ITA National Award for Community Service.

The 2004-05 campaign, WSU's first under Young, resulted in immediate progress. The Shockers finished with a 13-13 mark, giving them their highest win total in seven years and providing an indicator of the program's bright future.

Young produced 17 all-conference singles players, nine all-league doubles performers. His squads also emphasized their work in the classroom with 16 Missouri Valley Conference Scholar-Athletes dotting his rosters.

From 2005-08, Young also steered the Shocker men's program and tallied a 58-38 record. His 2008 squad recorded 19 wins and achieved the program's highest ranking in 10 years. Individually, he coached nine all-conference singles players, two all-league doubles teams and produced two MVC Scholar-Athlete selections.

Prior to taking over the Shocker program, Young worked as the assistant men's and women's coach at Oklahoma Christian University, including a stint as the interim head coach for both programs in 2002.

He took charge of the women's program in 2003 before adding the OC men's head coaching position to his list of duties the following year. The 2003 season also resulted in a national championship on the men's side.

During his time at Oklahoma Christian, the Eagles had 20 players receive NAIA All-America honors, including eight with Young as head coach.

The 2004 season saw Young garner both the men's and women's conference coach of the year honors in addition to his recognition as the NAIA Region VI Women's Coach of the Year.

Young's coaching career got underway in 1999 in Ardmore, Okla., where he served as a teaching pro and assistant coach at Ardmore High School.

As a player, Young earned three letters from Oklahoma Christian and helped the Eagles to top-five national finishes in each of his three seasons.

A 2000 graduate of Oklahoma Christian, Young and his wife, Sarah, have two children, Braden and Kelsy.
