In 13 years at the helm of the Oklahoma State women's tennis program, head coach Chris Young has transformed OSU into a national tennis power.

A native of Norman, Okla., Young has compiled a career record of 413-197, while directing the OSU women and the men's and women's programs at both Wichita State and his alma mater, Oklahoma Christian. Young now holds a 224-103 record with the Cowgirls.

After spending five years as the director of tennis at Wichita State, Young returned to his home state where he competed as a collegian and began his coaching career before taking over the Cowgirl program.

During his time in Stillwater, Young has led the Cowgirls to unprecedented success, as shown by the team's ten-straight trips to the NCAA tournament, five trips to the NCAA Sweet 16 in the last seven years, two Big 12 regular-season titles and a national runner-up finish to the 2016 season.

During Young's 13 years in Stillwater, he has overseen 46 Academic All-Big 12 selections, two ITA Arthur Ashe Leadership & Sportsmanship Award Recipients, nine All-American selections, 15 ITA Regional Champions, four ITA Rookie of the Year regional selections, three ITA Central Region Senior Players of the Year, two Big 12 Freshman of the Year selections, the 2015 Big 12 Newcomer of the Year and 2015 and 2021 Big 12 Player of the Year. Under Young, the Cowgirls have racked up six 20 win or more seasons in the last eight years.

Young was also instrumental in the fundraising and design of the state-of-the-art Michael and Anne Greenwood Tennis Center that would push OSU and Stillwater to the forefront of college tennis. Since the grand opening in 2014, both the OSU men's and women's programs have experienced exponential growth, and the facility has hosted several major events, including the 2014 ITA Central Region Championships, 2016 Big 12 Championships, the 2021 ITA Indoor National Championships and the 2022 ITA Central Region Championships

In his twelfth season at OSU, the Cowgirls recorded a 20-6 record while showcasing another successful run in the NCAA tournament by advancing to the sweet sixteen. Young led the team to his 400th career win and tacked on his second Big 12 Freshman of the Year in Mhai Sawangkaew. Young garnered a pair of ITA All-Americans, Lisa Marie Rioux and Ayumi Miyamoto, after helping lead them to the NCAA semi-finals in doubles.

In 2021 the Cowgirls posted an 11-12 record while navigating the challenges of competing during the COVID-19 pandemic. Young earned his 200th win as the OSU head coach and added his second Big 12 Player of the year and eighth ITA All-American to his resume in Bunyawi Thamchaiwat. Young helped lead Alana Wolfberg to a second-team All-Big 12 selection and a trip to the NCAA Individual Championships.

In 2020 the Cowgirls went 11-1 showing promise of another NCAA Tournament run, before the season was cut short due to the pandemic. Young added coaching two more All-Americans to his resume, with Lisa Marie Rioux and Ayumi Miyamoto earning the distinction.

In 2019, Young's Cowgirls posted a 21-8 overall record and hosted the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament for the fifth-straight season. The Pokes finished second in the Big 12 for the second year in a row thanks to an 8-1 record and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the eighth-straight year.

In 2018, Young's Cowgirls posted a 20-5 overall record. Despite only returning three letterwinners from a season prior, the Pokes finished second in a stacked Big 12 and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the seventh-straight year.

Young guided Cowgirls Vladica Babic and Sofia Blanco to the finals of the 2018 NCAA doubles draw, which also clinched the pair's first All-America recognition. Under Young's direction, the OSU tandem became the first OSU doubles team to be named All-Americans since 1991. Babic and Blanco were also named ITA All-Stars, while five Cowgirls received All-Big 12 accolades.

In his eighth year, Young led the Cowgirls to a 25-6 overall record and 8-1 mark in Big 12 play, good for the team's second consecutive Big 12 regular season conference title. OSU followed up its fourth Big 12 title match appearance in the last five years with its second-straight Elite Eight appearance, as the No. 9 seed Cowgirls dropped No. 8 Georgia Tech in a thrilling 4-3 victory to advance.

The 2017 season would bring Viktoriya Lushkova her third singles All-America recognition, as Young guided the Ukrainian standout to become the first player in school history to achieve such a feat. That season, Young would also coach seven Cowgirls to an All-Big 12 team and four Pokes to appearances at the NCAA Individual Championships.

Young was named the unanimous Big 12 Coach of the Year after leading the Cowgirls to the best season in program history in 2016, claiming the 2016 Big 12 Championship and advancing to the national championship match for the first time ever. OSU turned in a 29-5 overall record, along with a perfect 9-0 mark in conference play to bring home the regular-season Big 12 title. The squad would storm through the Big 12 Championship, winning each of its three matches, 4-0, to take home the tournament title as well.

Coaching Staff

In the 2016 NCAA Tournament, Young and the host Cowgirls handled Albany and Tulsa to advance to their second-straight Sweet 16. OSU would knock off the likes of No. 5 Georgia, No. 4 Ohio State and No. 1 California on its way to the NCAA Finals, where they would meet powerhouse Stanford and fall just short, losing, 4-3.

The following week at the NCAA Singles Championship, Young coached junior Katarina Adamovic to a quarterfinal appearance and her first career All-American honor. In all, a combined seven Cowgirls finished the season in the ITA singles and doubles rankings, while the team earned its highest finish in school history at No. 8.

During the 2015 season, OSU's women's program rose to new heights, finishing the season 23-6. The Cowgirls took down 14 ranked opponents and notched 15 shutout wins. The stellar season earned the Cowgirls their fourth-straight trip to the NCAA championships and the privilege to host the first and second rounds for the first time on the OSU campus. A heroic showing by the Pokes advanced them to the Sweet 16, where they faced a tough Florida team and fell. Throughout the season, Young saw his squad rise to No. 8 in the ITA polls, the highest ranking in program history. He also saw Lushkova earn the highest singles ranking at No. 10. She paired up with Miami transfer Kelsey Laurente to become the nation's No. 3 doubles team at one point, also breaking a school rankings record.

That year, Lushkova and Katarina Adamovic were named All-Big 12 singles selections and the Lushkova/Laurente duo and Adamovic/Babic duos were named All-Big 12 doubles selections. Lushkova and Carla Tur-Mari were labeled as Academic All-Big 12 selections as well.

Young earned accolades for himself as he was named the 2015 ITA Central Region Head Coach of the Year.

Under his direction in 2014, Oklahoma State saw its first women's tennis All-American since 1991 in Viktoriya Lushkova. In 2015, Lushkova repeated the honor, making her the first Cowgirl since the 1986 and 1987 seasons to earn two singles All-America honors. She is also just the second Cowgirl to accomplish the feat.

In 2014, he led the Pokes to a 15-8 campaign with a 7-2 record against Big 12 opponents. The Cowgirls produced 11 wins over ranked teams, including a huge 4-3 win over No. 14 Oklahoma. Young and his squad received the highest final ranking for the program since 2001, when it was named the No. 21 team in the nation. The Cowgirls went on to the NCAA Championships for the third year in a row, where they advanced to the Round of 32 after a dominating 4-0 win over South Florida.

Several of his players earned individual awards following the season. Lushkova was not only named All-American but also Big 12 Freshman of the Year, ITA Central Region Rookie of the Year and selected to the All-Big 12 singles and doubles team. Kanyapat Narattana joined Lushkova on the All-Big 12 doubles and Megan McCray was named to the singles team.

In 2013, Young coached the Cowgirls to a 16-9 overall record. The team notched 11 wins over ranked opponents, including a 5-2 victory over No. 12 Nebraska in San Diego, Calif., in March. Oklahoma State competed as the fifth seed in the Big 12 tournament after recording a 5-4 mark in conference play for the second straight year.

That year, Young's Cowgirls made the program's deepest run at the Big 12 Championship in 10 years with a 4-2 win over fourth-seeded TCU, and an exciting victory over top seed and 19th-ranked Baylor to send Oklahoma State to the conference championship for the first time since 2003; however; the Cowgirls fell, 4-0, to the No. 3 seed Texas in the Big 12 championship the next day.

The Cowgirls earned back-to-back NCAA tournament bids in 2012 and 2013, for the first time since the 1990 and 1991 seasons. In 2013, Young also coached the Cowgirl doubles team of Malika Rose and Narattana to an NCAA doubles tournament appearance.

Oklahoma State finished with an 11-10 record in Young's third season. The Cowgirl program saw its biggest win ever in 2012 when the team defeated No. 6 Texas for the fourth time in history. As a result, the Cowgirls received a No. 5 seeding and a spot in the quarterfinals of the Big 12 Championships, as well as a bid to the Tuscaloosa Regional in the NCAA Tournament. OSU fell in its first match of each tournament. Under Young's direction, Meghan Blevins was named ITA Central Region Rookie of the Year in 2012.

The 2011 Cowgirls finished the season with an 8-16 record; however, the team made it to the quarterfinals of the Big 12 Championship for the second straight year, edging out Missouri before eventually losing to top-seeded Baylor.

In his first year at OSU, Young led the Cowgirls to a 13-10 finish, their best in three years, and picked up his milestone 200th career coaching win.

Young's coaching prowess was evident as his 2010 Cowgirls reached the quarterfinals of the Big 12 Championship and received several individual accolades. His athletes earned a Big 12 Newcomer of the Year award, a No. 4 singles Big 12 co-championship and a doubles spot on the all-conference team.

He also earned his second USTA/ITA Campus and Community Outreach Award in 2010, as he was honored for his work in promoting tennis to the community.

During his time in Wichita, Young led the women's squad to a 94-38 mark, including a 33-6 ledger in Missouri Valley Conference play. A three-time conference coach of the year selection, Young guided the Shockers to league crowns in 2006, 2007 and 2009. Those seasons also resulted in the first three NCAA Tournament appearances in school history.

Young took a program that had never held a national ranking or defeated a ranked opponent and transformed the Shockers into a squad that was ranked for 43-straight weeks and defeated more than 20 ranked opponents under his direction.

The 2008-09 campaign saw Young's squad post a 21-6 mark and capture its third league title in four seasons. Individually, his players won 65 of their 68 individual matches in MVC action.

The fruits of his off-court work began to show as well as the Shockers finished the year ranked in the top 10 nationally in attendance.

The Shockers narrowly missed their third-straight conference title in 2008, finishing the year with a 16-8 mark and a runner-up finish at the MVC Tournament.

Young's third season at WSU proved to be one for the history books as his charges produced a school-record 27-3 mark and became the first MVC squad to win an NCAA Tournament match. The Shockers knocked off 25th-ranked South Carolina in the first round to secure the school's first NCAA victory. Additionally, the Shockers climbed to No. 16 in the national rankings, making them the highest ranked team in the history of the MVC.

Five Shockers earned all-conference honors, including Madina Rakhim, who finished the year with a 29-2 mark at the No. 1 singles position. The Shockers were dominant up and down their lineup, finishing with a 66-1 record in their individual conference matches.

For his efforts, Young was named the ITA Central Region Coach of the Year. The 2007 campaign also saw him earn the USTA/ITA National Award for Community Service.

The 2004-05 campaign, WSU's first under Young, resulted in immediate progress. The Shockers finished with a 13-13 mark, giving them their highest win total in seven years and providing an indicator of the program's bright future.

Young produced 17 all-conference singles players, nine all-league doubles performers. His squads also emphasized their work in the classroom with 16 Missouri Valley Conference Scholar-Athletes dotting his rosters.

From 2005-08, Young also steered the Shocker men's program and tallied a 58-38 record. His 2008 squad recorded 19 wins and achieved the program's highest ranking in 10 years. Individually, he coached nine all-conference singles players, two all-league doubles teams and produced two MVC Scholar-Athlete selections.

Prior to taking over the Shocker program, Young worked as the assistant men's and women's coach at Oklahoma Christian University, including a stint as the interim head coach for both programs in 2002.

He took charge of the women's program in 2003 before adding the OC men's head coaching position to his list of duties the following year. The 2003 season also resulted in a national championship on the men's side.

Young and his wife, Sarah, have two children, Braden and Kelsy.

May 14, 2022 | Charlottesville, Va.
Virginia Tennis Facility

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. – Oklahoma State's 12th-ranked women's tennis team saw its season come to a close on Saturday afternoon in Charlottesville, Virginia, as the Cowgirls fell, 4-1, to No. 5 Virginia in a tightly-contested battle in the Round of 16 of the NCAA Tournament.

OSU finished its impressive 2021-22 campaign at 20-6 overall, including a 7-2 mark in Big 12 play, in a year where the Cowgirls held a top 15 ranking for the majority of the season and reached the program's fifth Sweet 16 in the last seven seasons.

The match started with Virginia winning two of the three doubles matches to collect the opening point. No. 12 Lisa Marie Rioux and Ayumi Miyamoto had the third-ranked duo in the nation on the ropes as they led 4-3 over Emma Navaro and Hibah Shaikh when their match was halted.

Mhai Sawangkaew and Martina Zerulo dropped their match to Virginia's Elaine Chervinsky and Natasha Subhash, 6-1.

Oona Orpana and Dariya Detkovskaya got off to a slow start but rebounded, taking two straight games in a promising comeback effort that fell short in a 6-3 setback against Amber O'Dell and Sofia Munera of Virginia, giving the Cavaliers the point.

OSU ushered a solid response to start singles action, winning four out of the six first sets.

Virginia extended its lead via No. 1 Emma Navaro taking down 20th-ranked Lisa Marie Rioux, 6-1, 6-1.

Oona Orpana cut into the Cavalier lead with a dominating performance on court four. After putting together a complete first set, Orpana never looked back in the second, putting on a clinic to pick up a 6-2, 6-0 rout over Virginia's Sofia Munera.

Due to rain, the match was moved indoors. Virginia picked up a point with a court six victory from Sara Ziodato, defeating Alana Wolfberg, 6-3, 6-2.

Ayumi Miyamoto dominated the first set but couldn't close out Cavalier Hibah Shaikh, dropping the match, 6-2, 1-6, 6-1, earning Virginia the match-clinching point.

Martina Zerulo rattled off six straight games to take the first set before dropping the second. When her match was halted in the third set, the score was 6-1, 3-6, 1-4 against Elaine Chervinsky. After putting on a show in the first set, freshman Mhai Sawangkaews's match stood at 6-2, 4-6 2-3, when it was stopped.

Adamovic, Lushkova Led Cowgirls to NCAA Final

Oklahoma State beat 20 ranked opponents in 2015-16, including three top-five opponents during the NCAA Championships.

- After steamrolling through the Big 12 regular season with a perfect 9-0 record, the Cowgirls won the Big 12 Tournament in front of overflow crowds in Stillwater. In a twist of good fortune, the NCAA Championships were held at the University of Tulsa that year, which led to an already-ignited OSU fan base coming out in massive numbers to create an overwhelming home-court advantage for the Cowgirls.
- While in Tulsa, OSU played inspired tennis, claiming a 4-0 win over No. 5 Georgia, a 4-2 win over No. 4 Ohio State and a 4-3 win over top-ranked California before losing a 4-3 decision to No. 15 Stanford in a title match that went down to the very last point.
- All-Americans Katarina Adamovic and Viktoriya Lushkova were the top players for an OSU team that played with fiery emotion and a flair for the dramatic up and down the roster.
- Unheralded freshman Katarina Stresnakova had one of the most memorable matches of the tournament when she erased a 4-2 deficit in the third set to topple Ohio State's Ferny Angeles Paz

"I'm just proud, I mean you guys all saw the crowd and the teams compete, it's unbelievable for college tennis ... I'll remember this week for the rest of my life. I'm not at all disappointed in the outcome, I'm just so proud of these kids because how could you not be? I'm proud of Oklahoma State, I'm proud of our fans and I'm proud of tennis in the state of Oklahoma and what we could do."-Head Coach Chris Young Following the Title Match.

National Success

The Michael and Anne Greenwood Tennis Center, the second major project in Oklahoma State University's Athletic Village, was unveiled in January of 2014 with the indoor portion of the complex hosting its first varsity matches. The outdoor courts also opened during the spring semester of 2014.

The 50,000 square foot tennis center is located just north of Boone Pickens Stadium. The indoor facility houses six tennis courts, along with coaches' offices, locker rooms, and a sports medicine hub complete with a hydrotherapy center. The indoor facilities are able to seat at least 350 spectators.

The webcams inside the facility are another exciting feature, which allow OSU to live-stream matches onto the team's website.

The center includes 12 lighted outdoor tennis courts in two sets of six courts. The courts are set up to allow fan viewing of each match being played in both the indoor and outdoor venues.

After a tour of the Greenwood Tennis Center, a tweet by the United States Tennis Association pronounced OSU's new complex as one of the top two collegiate facilities in the country.

OSU women's head coach Chris Young said the Greenwood Tennis Center would give OSU the chance to host many tournaments. That dream has already come to fruition as the facility has hosted a number of prestigious tournaments since being dedicated.

In 2016, the Greenwood Tennis Center hosted its first Big 12 Championship, which the Cowgirls won in convincing fashion. Ultimately, Young hopes the facility can eventually host the NCAA Championships.

"Through every stage of building the facility we have been able to talk to those selection committees, we ask them what things they are looking for to make sure we are including things that are going to be the most important when hosting championship events," Young said.

Michael and Anne Greenwood provided the lead gift for the multi-faceted tennis project. The Greenwoods are OSU alumni who have supported the University in many ways. They began to follow OSU tennis when Anne's father, Joe Morris, started attending matches in the late 1970s and eventually led the family to become OSU tennis fans.

The Greenwoods went to the OSU tennis coaches and OSU Athletic Director Mike Holder and offered their support for the new facilities.

Greenwood Tennis Center

"Our OSU tennis coaches and players have had to practice and play in extreme heat, bitter cold and gale force winds," Michael Greenwood said. "And whenever rain is involved, the teams have to leave Stillwater and find an indoor alternative or cancel the scheduled event.

"This has provided an unfair playing field for our dedicated student-athletes for over 40 years and we decided the time to correct this situation was long overdue."

The Greenwoods said the tennis center is not about them, but about taking OSU tennis to the next level of greatness.

"When you look at the history of the program with its many conference championships over the years, the level of success is remarkable given the lack of facility infrastructure to support the program," Anne Greenwood said. "We are already beginning to see the positive impact by the level of excitement being shown by players, coaches and fans that are part of OSU Tennis and its bright future."

The Greenwoods explain their financial support of the new facilities is to show appreciation to the coaches and players have provided the foundation for OSU Tennis. However, in designing the complex, they have tried to make it as fan-friendly as possible to promote attendance.

"OSU Tennis has been a hidden gem in an obscure location," the Greenwoods said. "The new tennis facilities are world class in a central location that will make attending a tennis match an enjoyable experience.

"We would encourage all students and alumni to come out and watch these amazing athletes represent OSU proudly and, along with us, live orange!"

Hailing from all 50 states and 100 countries, we are united by the Cowboy Code.

- We end the day knowing we gave it everything we had.
- We dream only as big as the sky.
- We know challenges come with pain, but pain will not win.
- We have a passion to do what's right, even when it's hard.
- We stand for what matters, even if we stand alone.
- We finish what we start.
- Being a Cowboy isn't in our clothes, it's in our character.

- Inspired by James P. Owen's 2004 book "Cowboy Ethics: What Wall Street Can Learn from The Code of the West."

University President Dr. Kayse Shrum

Dr. Kayse Shrum

University President
Second Year | OSU College of Osteopathic Medicine

On April 2, 2021, the OSU/A&M Board of Regents selected Dr. Kayse Shrum as the 19th president of Oklahoma State University. A native Oklahoman, President Shrum earned her doctor of osteopathic medicine degree from the OSU College of Osteopathic Medicine and has completed executive leadership and management training programs at Harvard University and Stanford University.

In addition to navigating the realignment of the Big 12 conference in her first few months, Dr. Shrum also launched the system-wide strategy process to guide the future of the university. The goal is for OSU to become the nation's premier land-grant university, creating and discovering solutions to societal problems, providing students with a world-class education and sending them into the world after graduation well-equipped to handle the challenges before them. The strategy is expected to be presented to the Oklahoma A&M Board of Regents in fall 2022.

During her first year as president of the Oklahoma State University system, Dr. Shrum initiated the development of an OSU energy institute. The Harold Hamm Foundation and Continental Resources contributed a combined $50 million gift creating the Hamm Institute for American Energy at Oklahoma State University. The Hamm Institute's mission is to educate the next generation of energy leaders — in Oklahoma, the United States and from around the world — cementing Oklahoma's legacy as a global energy leader.

Dr. Shrum also celebrated the launch of the new Oklahoma Aerospace Institute for Research and Education (OAIRE), which brings together OSU's historic strength in aerospace engineering, flight training and aeronautics. This university-level institute brings the state's aerospace innovation economy together under one umbrella. OAIRE will support ongoing and future partnerships between university, commercial, military and government agencies, becoming a valuable resource for developing Oklahoma's aerospace ecosystem. That includes generating high-tech jobs and cutting-edge research that brings commercial enterprise and military sustainment support to the state.

Before being named president of the OSU system, Dr. Shrum was named president of OSU Center for Health Sciences (OSU-CHS) in 2013, becoming the youngest and first female president and dean of a medical school in the state of Oklahoma. Dr. Shrum holds the George Kaiser Family Foundation Chair in Medical Excellence and Service and the Saint Francis Health System Endowed Chair of Pediatrics.

Under her leadership, OSU-CHS experienced unprecedented growth. Student enrollment more than doubled as new academic programs were established to meet the health care workforce needs of Oklahoma. She also led the construction of the A.R. and Marylouise Tandy Medical Academic Building, a state-of-the-art learning facility that houses Oklahoma's largest and most technologically advanced hospital simulation center.

A strong supporter of collaborative partnerships, Dr. Shrum worked with Cherokee Nation Principal Chief Bill John Baker and his administration to establish the nation's first tribally affiliated medical school, the OSU College of Osteopathic Medicine at the Cherokee Nation, which opened in fall 2020. She also helped secure a landmark investment from Purdue Pharma in the amount of $197.5 million to create a center of excellence in addiction treatment and studies to address the opioid addiction epidemic — the National Center for Wellness and Recovery.

Dr. Shrum launched award-winning high school recruiting programs like Operation Orange and Blue Coat to White Coat, established the Rural Medical Track curriculum and expanded the number of residency training programs in rural Oklahoma by securing support from the Oklahoma Legislature, Oklahoma Health Care Authority and Oklahoma Tobacco Settlement Endowment Trust.

Dr. Shrum's leadership, professional and civic contributions have led to notable recognition and rewards. Her honors include:

- 2022 Oklahoma Women's Hall of Fame induction
- 2022 Oklahoma Osteopathic Association DO of the Decade
- 2020 Journal Record Health Care Hero

Athletic Director Chad Weiberg

Chad Weiberg

Athletics Director
Second Year | Oklahoma State, 1994

Chad Weiberg assumed the role of Oklahoma State Vice President and Athletic Director in July of 2021 after having spent the previous four years serving as OSU's Deputy Athletic Director. In this role, Weiberg serves on President Kayse Shrum's leadership team that helps to advance Oklahoma State's land grant mission and President Shrum's strategic initiatives for the institution.

The timing of his promotion to athletic director lined up with seismic shifts in the national intercollegiate athletics landscape. Realignment within the Big 12 Conference and the emergence of Name, Image and Likeness in college sports both occurred within a month of Weiberg's start date. Later in his first year came the NCAA Constitutional Convention and subsequent Transformation Committee plus further realignment on the national level. Those foundational changes brought urgent new action items to his list of responsibilities to position OSU for continued success in an entirely new landscape.

Weiberg responded with a series of investments to best position OSU Athletics and Cowboy Football to continue to compete for championships in the rapidly changing environment. In addition to contract and compensation adjustments for head coach Mike Gundy and his staff, OSU launched a complete remodel of the football locker room, added a heating system in the Sherman Smith Training Center, new field turf for Boone Pickens Stadium and the practice field and announced $40 million worth of improvements to the fan experience in Boone Pickens Stadium over the next few years. Those investments came during a 2021-22 school year that saw the Cowboy football program finish first in the Big 12 standings and secure wins over Oklahoma and Texas plus a Fiesta Bowl victory over Notre Dame.

Under Weiberg, OSU's response to the dynamic shifts in the NCAA landscape included creating an NIL program that established partnerships with leaders in the new space, including the innovative Brand Squad that pairs the best and brightest students in OSU's famed Spears School of Business with student-athletes for the purpose of creating a personal brand and managing NIL opportunities, as well as coordinating with supporters establishing new collectives to provide NIL opportunities for OSU student-athletes.

OSU was the only Big 12 school recognized as a national finalist for Best Institutional Program at the inaugural NIL Awards at the INFLCR NIL Summit in 2022. Additionally, OSU created the POSSE STAR Fund to provide student-athletes financial rewards for achieving academic success in accordance with the Supreme Court ruling on Alston vs. NCAA.

The first women's team national championship in Oklahoma State history was won in Weiberg's first year as athletic director when the Cowgirl equestrian team won the 2022 NCEA overall championship. Weiberg subsequently signed head coach Larry Sanchez to a new contract, as well as contract extensions for softball coach Kenny Gajewski after he led the Cowgirls to the 2022 Women's College World Series and women's tennis coach Chris Young after he led the Cowgirls to the 2022 NCAA Sweet 16.

Also in his first year, Weiberg hired Jacie Hoyt as the new head coach for Cowgirl Basketball. Another notable investment in Weiberg's first year was the construction of a state-of-the-art locker room for the Cowboy wrestling program. He has initiated the planning process for future facility improvements for OSU Athletics as well.

As OSU's Deputy Athletic Director, Weiberg was the chief operating officer, second-in-command and responsible for the day-to-day operations of the athletics department. He served as Athletic Director Mike Holder's administrative liaison for football and men's basketball and was responsible for football scheduling.

During his time as Deputy AD, he played a significant role in successfully navigating OSU Athletics through the COVID pandemic. Notably, he developed a partnership with the Oklahoma State University Center for Health Sciences that helped produce the planning and resources to keep Cowboy and Cowgirl student-athletes healthy, safe and ready for competition.

Weiberg was a key figure in several important initiatives that benefitted student-athletes and fans alike. A little more than one year after Weiberg's arrival, OSU added a director of counseling and sport psychology position within the athletic department to better serve the mental health of student-athletes. In 2020, Weiberg played a role in launching - and continues to serve as a member of - the Oklahoma State Athletics Council for Diversity and Inclusion.

He also played a key part in improving OSU's gameday experience. Highlights include the addition of one of the largest video boards at a college-only football stadium, the addition of alcohol sales at OSU athletic venues and expanded concession offerings.

Weiberg is a 1994 OSU graduate with a bachelor of business administration degree. He earned a master's in business administration from OSU in 2002. After earning his undergraduate degree, he served as the director of corporate sales and donor relations for OSU Athletics until 1999. He served as senior director of field operations for the OSU Alumni Association from 1999-2002 before becoming the director of development for the OSU Foundation/College of Business Administration from 2002-03. He held a similar role for OSU Athletics from 2003-04 before moving to Kansas State.

At K-State, Weiberg served the KSU Foundation as Director of Corporate Relations for a year before becoming the Director of Major Gifts for K-State Athletics in 2005. Weiberg assumed the lead role for K-State Athletics' Ahearn Fund in 2009 and, for his team's efforts, was recognized as the National Fundraiser of the Year by the National Association of Athletic Development Directors in 2014. Weiberg was the Senior Associate Athletic Director for Development when he left K-State in 2015 to become Deputy Director of Athletics at Texas Tech University, a role in which he served for two years before returning to his alma mater in 2017.

College athletics have played a large role in Weiberg's life from an early age. His father, Mick, and brother, Brett were both college basketball head coaches and his brother, Jared, played basketball at OSU under Eddie Sutton for a year before moving into the role of team manager. Weiberg's uncle, Kevin, served as commissioner of the Big 12.

Weiberg and his wife, Jodi, have two children, Ella and Grant.

Learfield Directors' Cup

The Learfield Directors' Cup honors institutions and evaluates success in all sports, men's and women's. The Directors' Cup allows athletic departments to measure the success of each sports program evenly and does not weigh the success in one sport above the success in another.

Oklahoma State in the Learfield Directors' Cup

• OSU has finished in the top three in the Big 12 in seven of the last nine years.
• Because Oklahoma State does not sponsor women's volleyball and does not get credit for its performance in equestrian, it has only 17 sports eligible for Learfield Directors' Cup scoring, while most others count points from 19 sports. Operating with a two-sport handicap, Oklahoma State has still finished in the top 25 nationally the last two years and has finished in the top three of the Big 12 each of the last four years.

Phillips 66 Bedlam Series

The Bedlam Series is calculated by straight wins and losses in head to head competition. In sports where there is no head to head matchup, the Big 12 Championship final standings are used.

While Oklahoma State and Oklahoma have been in competition for more than 100 years, the all-sports Bedlam Series did not come into existence until the 1999-2000 academic year. The annual Bedlam Series is tied at 11 wins apiece. OU controlled the early years of the Bedlam Series, but with Bedlam victories in eight of the last nine years, OSU has since become the superior school in direct competition.

Name, Image and Likeness and POSSE STAR Fund

Oklahoma State is at the very forefront of the Name, Image and Likeness era of college sports and has the accolades to prove it. OSU was the only Big 12 school recognized as a national finalist for Best Institutional Program at the inaugural NIL Awards at the INFLCR NIL Summit in 2022.

OSU's reputation as an NIL leader was earned not through hype, but through planning and then executing a strategy that placed maximizing NIL opportunities for student-athletes as the top priority.

OSU was the only Big 12 school recognized as a national finalist for Best Institutional Program at the inaugural NIL Awards at the INFLCR NIL Summit in 2022.

The strategy started with putting professional-quality photo, video and graphic resources directly into the hands of student-athletes to help them build their personal brands using their own social media accounts.

OSU also took the step of partnering with experts in the NIL space to stay ahead of industry trends and then established group licensing deals to create more opportunities for passive income for student-athletes. Not long after those group licensing deals were completed, officially branded merchandise that included the name, image and likeness of active student-athletes were sold in the OSU campus bookstore and other shops in Stillwater and beyond.

The whole time, the focus remained on maximizing NIL opportunities for Cowboys and Cowgirls from all sports. With that in mind, OSU created the POSSE STAR Fund to incentivize academic success as a way for student-athletes to receive a financial reward.

OSU's most innovative step was forming The Brand Squad to partner the best and brightest students in OSU's famed Spears School of Business with Cowboy and Cowgirl student-athletes in order to identify and maximize opportunities for the student-athletes to profit from their name, image and likeness.

Members of The Brand Squad go through a certification process and then help the student-athletes learn to brand and market themselves to potential NIL partners. The relationship works because the student-athletes have someone who takes the time and makes the effort to help them secure NIL deals while the members of The Brand Squad benefit because they get résumé-building experience while in college.

Even with The Brand Squad actively looking for NIL opportunities for student-athletes, OSU still created an online directory in order to make it easy for brands to connect directly with Cowboy and Cowgirl student-athletes.

OSU's commitment to helping student-athletes maximize their NIL opportunities has put it at the very forefront of the NIL era in college athletics, and it's not hard to see why.

A Proven Draw

Oklahoma State TV Viewership

Oklahoma State has proven itself as a ratings draw in football, establishing itself near the top of the Big 12 Conference in viewership over the last decade.

In 2021, Oklahoma State averaged nearly three million total viewers per game across the season. That average grows to over four million viewers in games televised only on ABC, ESPN and FOX.

Including bowl season, OSU ranked second among all league institutions in average total viewership throughout the 2021 season.

OSU was in three of the four most-watched games across the Big 12 in 2021, including the most-watched regular-season game (No. 10 Oklahoma at No. 7 Oklahoma State on ABC).

OSU's Bedlam victory was seen by an average of 6.49 million viewers, including 2.13 million in the coveted 18-49 demographic. The 2021 matchup between the Cowboys and Sooners peaked at 7.7 million viewers, and was the most-viewed Bedlam game since 2013 and the third most-watched Bedlam Game ever.

Bedlam 2021 outdrew the Red River Rivalry, historically the most-watched matchup of the Big 12 regular season, by over half a million viewers.

The Cowboys' appearance in the 2021 Big 12 Championship Game drew over eight million viewers, including 2.33 million in the coveted 18-49 demographic. The Big 12 title game peaked with 10.8 million viewers, and average viewership more than doubled 2020's Big 12 title game.

An average of 7.96 million viewers (2.34 million in the 18-49 demo) watched Oklahoma State's victory over Notre Dame in the 2022 PlayStation Fiesta Bowl.

The 2022 Fiesta Bowl peaked at 14.3 million viewers, and its average was up 20 percent over the previous Fiesta Bowl game (Oregon versus Iowa State).

Oklahoma State's ratings success is not an anomaly, but part of a larger trend tracking with the continued success of the Mike Gundy era.

OSU has three of the top ten most-watched Big 12 regular season games since 2016, and ten of the top 30 in that same time period.

Mr. T. Boone Pickens

"Mr. Pickens is a big part of our success and we're all thankful for the lasting impact he's had on Oklahoma State, both athletically and academically. It would have been difficult for us to climb as high as we have without him. You'd be hard-pressed to find anyone who has had a greater impact on a university than Mr. Pickens has had at Oklahoma State. He'll be missed, but his legacy here will live on for a long time to come."
- OSU Football Coach Mike Gundy

A legendary energy executive and one of America's best-known entrepreneurs, there will never be another like T. Boone Pickens.

The namesake of Oklahoma State's football stadium and School of Geology, Pickens passed away in 2019 at the age of 91, but left a legacy that is unmatched.

During the span of his long career, he created thousands of jobs and made billions of dollars—for others as well as himself — and he wasn't timid about spreading it around. "I like making money. I like giving it away.... not as much as I like making it, but it's a close second," he often said.

The breadth of his philanthropy — which approached $1 billion — included health and medical research, treatment and services; entrepreneurship; kids at risk; education and athletics, with a particular focus on his alma mater, Oklahoma State; corporate health and fitness; and conservation and wildlife management.

In many ways, Pickens was a record-setting philanthropist. His $165 million gift to OSU in 2005 was the single largest gift for athletics in NCAA history, and the $7 million donation to the American Red Cross in 2005 was the largest individual contribution in the 150-year history of that organization. His unprecedented giving to OSU athletics triggered a renaissance in the Cowboy football program and was a key factor in its first Big 12 championship in 2011 and its first BCS Bowl win in the Fiesta Bowl matchup with Stanford in 2012.

On May 21, 2008, Pickens gave $100 million for the endowment of major faculty chairs and professorships at Oklahoma State. The OSU School of Geology already bears his name from previous gifts to OSU.

Over the years, Pickens donated close to $600 million to Oklahoma State, split virtually equally between athletics and academics. Backed by the record donation in 2005, Pickens and OSU athletic director Mike Holder set into motion the acquisition of land that has produced OSU's sparkling Athletic Village, which now includes the Sherman Smith Training Center, the Michael and Anne Greenwood Tennis Center, O'Brate Stadium and OSU's track and field facility.

In 2010, OSU launched its campus-wide "Branding Success" campaign and T. Boone Pickens again led the charge with yet another $120 million gift to his alma mater.

A hall-of-famer in both Oklahoma and Texas, Pickens was a world leader on the energy front with the launching of the Pickens Plan, a unique private sector initiative formed to address the economic and national security threats posed by America's reliance on OPEC oil.

A presence at every Oklahoma State home football game for years, Pickens was a true Cowboy legend.

"He was just an old country boy from Holdenville, Oklahoma, but he could think his way around any Noble Prize winner. Boone was a legend, a change agent, a life force that rarely comes along."

The Big 12 Conference

Under the leadership of commissioner Brett Yormark, the Big 12 enters its 27th year as one of the nation's premier athletic conferences.

TCU and West Virginia joined the league on July 1, 2012 and became the Big 12's first additions since inception, joining Baylor, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Texas and Texas Tech. Beginning on July 1, 2023, BYU, UCF, Cincinnati and Houston will become members.

The Conference's hard work ethic and strong values have translated to enormous success in its first 26 years. Since it began competition in 1996-97, the league can boast of 77 NCAA team titles and over 700 individual national championships.

The Big 12 has been at the forefront in college athletics reform, specifically with student-athlete welfare issues to include cost of attendance, student-athlete time demands and strengthening its policy for concussion diagnosis and management. In 2014-15, the Big 12 introduced and hosted three "State of Collegiate Athletics" forums to examine the issues facing college athletics. Two were conducted in Washington, D.C and one in New York City. Panelists included respected authorities from intercollegiate athletics, university leadership and sports journalism. The third forum featured a special session comprised of student-athletes. The Big 12 continued the "State of Collegiate Athletics" forums with Dallas serving as the host site for three events and one staged in Atlanta.

The award-winning Big 12 Champions for Life, an initiative of the Conference, begins its eighth year in 2022-23. It features current and former student-athletes, selected by league institutions, in a series of public service announcements highlighting the positive impact an athletics scholarship has had on their lives leading to stories of personal growth and success.

During the 2021-22 athletics season, the Big 12 captured a record eight team national championships along with 15 individual titles. Kansas won the Conference's second-consecutive and third overall men's basketball crown. Baylor was the 2021 champion while Kansas also won in 2008. Oklahoma collected its and the league's fifth gymnastics national championship. Texas brought home the Big 12's first NCAA title in men's indoor track & field while Oklahoma State earned the league's second trophy in Equestrian. Four titles were added to the ledger in the spring season with Texas capturing its second-consecutive championships in women's tennis and rowing. The Longhorns also won the Big 12's seventh men's golf crown. Oklahoma brought home its second straight and sixth overall softball national title.

The Big 12 has the best bowl win percentage of any conference over the last two seasons (.833). The Conference placed 70 percent of teams in 2021 bowl games for the first time since 2018, and had seven bowl squads for the 18th season out of the last 23. Baylor and Oklahoma State played in and won CFP New Year's Six Bowls to give the Big 12 two teams in the postseason structure for the sixth time in its eight years. From 2017-19, Oklahoma made three straight CFP semifinal appearances and has made four since 2015.

The Conference has claimed seven Heisman winners, including former OU signal callers Kyler Murray in 2018 and Baker Mayfield in 2017. The Big 12 has had a finalist in 16 of its 26 seasons for a total of 21 with two finalists in five seasons.

The Big 12 and its member institutions are committed to a competitive environment where sportsmanship and fair play take center stage. Whether on the field, in the classroom, or within the community, the student-athletes, administrators, coaches and game officials of the Big 12 support the highest ideals in sportsmanship.

National academic accolades have always been strong in the Big 12. Charlie Kolar (Iowa State) was the recipient of the 2021 William V. Campbell Trophy, known as the Academic Heisman. He is the Big 12's fifth honoree since 2000. Alison Gibson (Texas) was presented the NCAA Today's Top 10 Award in January 2021. It recognizes former student-athletes for their successes on the fields and courts, in the classroom and in the community. Since 1996, the Big 12 has a total of 14 honorees for this prestigious award. In the last 12 seasons, 25 student-athletes were recipients of the NCAA Elite 90 Award with Emma LaPinta (Oklahoma gymnastics) and Jules Callaham (Oklahoma State softball) earning their second straight honor in 2022. Additionally, OSU's Ryan Schoppe was rewarded for Men's Indoor Track in 2022. The accolade showcases individuals who have reached the pinnacle of competition at the national championship level, while also achieving the highest academic standard among their peers.

In its short history, the Big 12 has over 720 Academic All-America recipients, averaging over 25 each season. Big 12 student-athletes have shown commitment to their studies by earning numerous individual academic recognitions. On 23 occasions a league athlete has garnered the top academic honor for their respective sport, including Bianca St. Georges (West Virginia) for soccer in 2018-19 and Brittany Brewer (Texas Tech) for women's basketball in 2019-20.

Competitive excellence, scholarship and sportsmanship are all equal components of the Big 12 philosophy. All-Big 12 teams and Academic All-Big 12 squads are recognized for each sport at the end of their respective seasons. At the end of each academic year, the Conference honors its top male and female student-athletes with the Big 12 Athlete of the Year and Big 12 Sportsperson of the Year awards.

Institutions can also nominate student-athletes for the prestigious Dr. Prentice Gautt Postgraduate Scholarships. A total of 481 scholars have received over $3.7 million in postgraduate financial aid through the first 25 years of the program.

The Big 12 sponsors 23 sports. Men's squads include baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, swimming & diving, tennis and wrestling. Women's teams are fielded in basketball, cross country, equestrian, golf, gymnastics, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, rowing, soccer, softball, swimming & diving, tennis and volleyball.

Big 12 institutions create a league that encompasses five states and nearly 38 million people. Nearly 5,000 student-athletes from across the United States and around the World compete annually in the sports sponsored by the Conference.

The Conference currently conducts postseason championships for 22 of its 23 sports with the Football Championship Game returning in 2017 after a six-year absence. Each championship helps to determine teams and/or individuals that will represent the Conference in national postseason competition.

The Conference office is headquartered in Irving, Texas.

America's Greatest Homecoming

Ask any Oklahoma State University graduate what OSU's greatest tradition is, and you'll hear one word - Homecoming.

The OSU Alumni Association has presented Homecoming at OSU since 1920, growing it from a small-town carnival to a nine-day, award-winning celebration. It is widely known as America's Greatest Homecoming with its signature event, Walkaround, which regularly draws more than 80,000 spectators to view elaborate Greek house decorations and residence halls bathed in orange.

OSU's Homecoming is entirely run by students - more than 250 on committees within the Alumni Association and thousands more in Greek, residential and campus life. Cowboys love our Homecoming tradition and are actively contributing to an endowment to secure its future existence and growth on our campus.

Homecoming is a driving force in the Stillwater community. The Harvest Carnival event contributes approximately one quarter of the yearly canned food donations to the local Harvest II food drive. Homecoming also highlights other OSU sports at Homecoming & Hoops where fans can preview the upcoming season's squads for Cowboy and Cowgirl basketball in addition to enjoying a pep rally for Saturday's football game.

From the Edmon Low Library's orange fountain to Hester Street painted for coaches and players to view during "The Walk," OSU and its alumni are proud to claim America's Greatest Homecoming. Homecoming 2022: 'Hats Off to Cowboy Heroes' is October 14-22 and will conclude with the Texas vs. OSU football game on Saturday, October 22.

Oklahoma State Spirit

The Cowboy Trail

Dating back to the 1890s, Oklahoma A&M sports teams had been referred to as Agriculturists or Aggies, the Farmers, and officially but unpopularly, the Tigers. But by 1924, Charles Saulsberry, sports editor of the Oklahoma City Times, and other writers who regularly covered college events, had begun to refer to Stillwater's teams as the A&M Cowboys. Reporters' constant search of colorful synonyms started sprinkling Cowpokes, Pokes, Waddies, Cowpunchers and Punchers in conversation. "Cowboys" had a Southwestern flavor and flair that fit like a favorite pair of boots.

The Athletic Council authorized athletics director Edward C. Gallagher to have 2,000 balloons printed, "Oklahoma Aggies—Ride 'Em Cowboy" for sale at football games in 1926.

Pistol Pete

(excerpt from text written by Lance Millis)

Around 1923, when Oklahoma A&M College was searching for a new mascot to replace its tiger (copied along with the school's orange and black colors, from university founders who hailed from Princeton), a group of students saw Frank Eaton leading the Armistice Day Parade. He was approached to see if he would be interested in being the model for the new mascot, and he agreed. A likeness was drawn and began to be used on sweatshirts, stickers, etc., and a tradition was born.

That caricature was the basis for what is used today as the official Oklahoma State University mascot. For 35 years, the crusty old cowboy was a living symbol of OSU, representing the colorful past of the area. As such, he would attend OSU athletic events, building dedications, etc., and sign autographs, pose for photographs and reminisce about the Old West with anyone who would listen.

To this day, his likeness is a visible reminder of the Old West to literally millions of people yearly as a symbol of colleges whose mascots pay homage to the cowboy. Each year, OSU students tryout for Pistol Pete. A panel of former "Petes" judge the tryouts and select the two best candidates based on an interview, a mime, and posing as mascot in different "game situations." The two who are selected split the approximately 500 appearances annually. These appearances include all athletic events, pep rallies, business openings, weddings, birthday parties, and public school events.

Frank Eaton - the original Pistol Pete

Frank Eaton - Before Pistol Pete

"My boy, may an old man's curse rest upon you, if you do not try to avenge your father...You must never stop until they are all accounted for!" These words, according to one of Eaton's many stories, were spoken by a family friend following the brutal murder of his father, and guided the formative years of Frank's life.

Born in 1860, in Hartford, Connecticut, Frank moved with his family to Kansas shortly after the close of the Civil War. When Frank was eight years old, his father, a former Union soldier, was shot and killed by a group of lawless former Confederates. Frank was a witness to the murder and each of the murderers' faces was imprinted in his memory.

After being challenged to avenge his father's death by Mose Beaman, (the family friend), Frank set out to learn how to handle guns. Mose gave him a gun and holster, and taught him how to handle and shoot guns. Frank quickly learned to "shoot a snake's head off with either hand". During the next few years, Frank's days were spent helping his mother with chores and practicing shooting. With each passing year, he became faster and more accurate with his guns.

When Frank was 15, he learned of the location of one of his father's killers. After deciding it was almost time to set out on his mission, Frank wanted to make sure his shooting skills were good enough. He decided to visit Fort Gibson, a cavalry fort, to try to learn more about handling a gun. There he competed with the cavalry's best marksmen, beating them each time. After many competitions, the fort's commanding officer, Colonel Copinger gave Frank a marksmanship badge and a new name. From that day forward, Frank would be known as Pistol Pete.

Bullet

The Oklahoma State University Cowboys have many symbols of their western heritage, but none is more appropriate than their mascot, Bullet. The Spirit Rider program debuted in 1984 with the first few Spirit Riders providing their own horse to serve as mascot for the OSU Cowboys.

However, in 1988, Stars Parr Money was donated to the OSU Athletic Department to be used specifically as the mascot. Since that time, Bullet has delighted crowds with his traditional sprint across the football field following every Cowboy touchdown. The heart of the Cowboy Spirit Rider Program, Bullet is not only seen at Boone Pickens Stadium and other OSU football games, he's made appearances at local elementary schools, parades, rodeos and other special events, including the opening ceremonies of the Oklahoma State Special Olympics.

The tradition of the Spirit Rider can be attributed to the late Eddy Finley, who wanted to promote school spirit the "cowboy way," on horseback. Since that time, additional support has come for the Spirit Rider and Bullet, much of it due to Finley's hard work. A horse trailer, custom-tooled saddle and uniform dress for the Spirit Rider and ground crew have been donated to OSU. In honor of the Spirit Rider and its tradition, Jim Hamilton sculpted the Spirit Rider bronze statue that sits just south of the Greenwood Tennis Center.

Bullet is a regular part of the Cowboy football game day experience.
