MIKE RILEY AND HIS STAFF HAVE SHOWN CONFIDENCE IN THE TEAM WITH SEVERAL GUTSY PLAY CALLS IN RECENT YEARS

Mike RILEY

*Head Coach
Eighth Season at Oregon State
32 Years of Coaching Experience
Alabama, '75*

What program has the longest active bowl win streak (4) in the Pac-10?

What program has the second-best record (19-8) in the Pac-10 over the last two seasons?

USC and what other Pac-10 program has finished in the Associated Press Top 25 each of the last two seasons?

The answer to all three questions ...

OREGON STATE

The man behind those factoids is eighth-year head coach Mike Riley.

Riley is credited with the rebirth of the Oregon State football program when he was first hired in January of 1997 and has led the program to unparalleled success during his second tenure that began in 2003.

Starting with the 2003 season Oregon State has won all four bowl games it has appeared in, finished with three winning marks in the Pac-10 Conference and overall has won 39 games.

Riley is the first coach in OSU history to win more than one NCAA-sanctioned bowl game at OSU, capturing the 2003 Las Vegas Bowl, the 2004 Insight Bowl, the 2006 Sun Bowl and the 2007 Emerald Bowl titles. He also is the first coach to lead the program to more than one winning conference season (5-3 in '04, 6-3 in '06 and 6-3 in '07) since 1969. The victory in the Emerald Bowl improved Riley's collegiate postseason record as a coach to 7-0; 4-0 as a head coach at Oregon State and 3-0 as the offensive coordinator at USC.

His 2007 team won seven of the final eight games on the way to a 9-4 mark, just one game behind co-Pac-10 champions USC and Arizona State. The team also won at No. 2 California, when a Bear victory would have moved them to No. 1, and beat No. 18 Oregon in Eugene. The defensive unit finished first in the nation for rush defense and accumulated the most yards lost via tackles, than any other team in the Football Bowl Subdivision. Sixteen Beavers were named to the all-conference team and 11 to the league's all-academic squad. The team ended the year No. 25 in the AP Poll.

The 2006 team became only the second club in OSU history to win at least 10 games — winning eight of the last nine, including impressive victories over No. 3 USC (ending the Trojans' 27-game Pac-10 win streak), No. 24 Hawai'i and Oregon. To cap one of the best seasons in school history, the Beavers won a thrilling game over Missouri (39-38) in arguably the best Sun Bowl ever played. The final summary of the season showed OSU finishing third in the Pac-10, just one game behind co-winners USC and California. Fourteen student-athletes earned all-conference mention and nine earned academic honors. The team ended the year No. 21 in the final AP Poll and No. 22 in the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) Rankings.

In 2004 the team accepted the challenge of playing both the '03 defending national champions, the eventual 2004 national champions and faced one of the most difficult schedules in the nation. The team fought through early setbacks before defeating Oregon in the annual Civil War in record fashion. The victory over the archrivals propelled OSU to a convincing 38-21 victory over Notre Dame in the Insight Bowl. The Beavers closed 2004 winning six of their final seven games and pushing Orange Bowl/National Champion USC to the wire.

The hometown boy — he attended Corvallis High School — returned to the Beaver sideline for the second time and led the program to the 2003 Las Vegas Bowl title in convincing fashion. His '03 team set numerous individual and team records, and led the Pac-10 Conference for both offense and defense. He followed up the '03 team's success by signing the program's best ever recruiting class, according to several scouting organizations.

Riley left Oregon State after the 1998 season to pursue a unique opportunity to become the head coach of the National Football League's San Diego Chargers. He spent four years in the NFL, returning to Oregon State after a one-year stint as an assistant with the New Orleans Saints.

Riley was a popular choice when he was originally hired for the position in late December of 1996 and was equally as popular upon his hiring the second time.

The 55-year-old coach calls Corvallis his hometown, although he was born in Wallace, Idaho. He grew up watching Beaver football, as his father Bud was an assistant coach for the program from 1965-72. Mike was a standout quarterback at Corvallis High School, leading the Spartans to the 1970 state title.

Riley, who already had coaching in his blood at a young age, made the decision to continue playing the sport in college at the University of Alabama for legendary coach Paul "Bear" Bryant. He played cornerback from 1971-74, helping the Tide to four Southeastern Conference titles and the 1973 national championship.

Riley immediately launched a successful coaching career following his graduation from Alabama. His first stop was as a defensive graduate assistant coach for Mike White at the University of California in 1975. He helped the Bears to an 8-3 record and a share of the Pacific-8 Conference title.

He continued his education and his coaching in 1976 at Whitworth College in Spokane, Wash. He finished his master's degree in physical education in 1977 while working for the popular Pacific Northwest coach and future Canadian Football League legend Hugh Campbell.

Riley's first full-time appointment came at NAIA powerhouse Linfield College in McMinnville, Ore. From 1977-82 he served as the program's defensive coordinator and secondary coach, as well as assistant athletic director. Riley assisted head coach Ad Rutschman's Wildcats to a six-year record of 52-7-1, which included five conference titles and the 1982 undefeated NAIA title team.

An opportunity to coach in professional football presented itself following the '82 season, and Riley was on his way to the Canadian Football League's Winnipeg Blue Bombers as the secondary coach. During his three-years as an assistant, Winnipeg produced a 32-15-1 mark and won the 1984 Grey Cup title.

Riley returned to the college ranks in 1986 as an assistant

"You really want to play hard for him. He really empowers you as a player to play hard and play well and be creative. I have not seen a team that plays harder."
— Former NFL quarterback and current NCAA head coach Jim Harbaugh.

coach at the University of Northern Colorado, before being named the youngest coach in CFL history in 1987 with Winnipeg at 33-years of age. Riley guided the Bombers to two Grey Cup titles (1988, '90) and was named the CFL's Coach of the Year in those seasons. He was inducted into the club's Hall of Fame June 13, 2007.

In 1991 Riley took over the San Antonio Riders of the World Football League, spending two seasons before the league suspended its North American operations.

He returned to the college ranks in 1993 when then USC head coach John Robinson offered him the position of offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach — he later became assistant head coach. The Mesa (Ariz.) Tribune named him the league's top assistant coach in 1993 after leading the Trojan offense to record setting numbers. Then USC quarterback Rob Johnson earned numerous Pac-10 and NCAA records and would later become a first-round draft pick.

Riley remained at USC through the 1997 season, helping the Trojans to victories in the Rose, Cotton, and Freedom Bowls. USC won one outright league title, shared another and finished second one time.

In addition, Riley has been the head coach for three postseason all-star games — the Hula Bowl, East-West Shrine Game and Blue-Gray All-Star Classic. As a Beaver, he has coached current NFL players Steven Jackson, Derek Anderson, Keith Ellison, Dwan Edwards, Matt Moore, Sabby Piscitelli, Adam Koets, Mike Hass, Sam Paulescu, Joe Newton, Roy Schuening and Joey LaRocque.

"He's the nicest guy I know, and one of my closest friends," Robinson said. "Some guys come into your life and really have a positive influence, others just come and go. Everyone who has ever known Mike thinks he's the nicest guy."

Mike and his wife Dee are the parents of one son, Matthew, and one daughter, Kate. Matthew and Kate both attend OSU.

Riley's success at all levels is well documented. He has earned the respect of players, coaches, media and fans. He has been called the savior of Oregon State football and the future continues to look bright for the Orange and Black.

Jay LOCEY

*Associate Head Coach / Wide Receivers
Third Season at Oregon State
30 Years of Coaching Experience
Oregon State, '78*

Jay Locey is in his third year at Oregon State as the Assistant Head Coach, and this season will be working with the wide receivers. He came to OSU after a tremendously successful career at Linfield College in nearby McMinnville.

Locey brought to Oregon State many of the aspects that made him one of the most successful coaches in small college football, including some well received team building activities that he credits for much of the success at his former program.

He currently coaches possibly the best group of receivers in the last few seasons at OSU, including 2006 All-American Sammie Stroughter and freshmen postseason honors recipients in 2007 James Rodgers and Darrell Catchings.

Locey spent the first two seasons at OSU working with the tight ends. In 2006 he coached senior Joe Newton, who earned postseason all-conference honors and competed in the Senior Bowl. Newton finished his career with the most touchdowns (15) ever for a Beaver tight end.

Locey is one of the most successful coaches in the history of small college football. The five-time Northwest Conference Coach of the Year led the Wildcats to the 2004 NCAA Division III title and in 10 years as the head coach, guided the program to a record of 84-18, including a streak of 41 consecutive wins.

During his tenure as head coach, Locey coached 16 All-Americans, led Linfield to its longest Northwest Conference unbeaten streak (23 games), and continued with the program's NCAA record consecutive winning seasons streak which stood at 50 at the end of 2005.

Locey was associated with Linfield for 23 years and experienced three national titles and 13 conference championships. In 2005 he was named one of the state's top 25 most influential sports people by The Oregonian and was selected the Division III Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year.

Locey began his Linfield career in 1983 when he accepted the position of defensive coordinator, replacing current Oregon State head coach Mike Riley, who moved on to the Canadian Football League.

The 53-year-old native of Corvallis served as an assistant under a number of Northwest coaching legends, including Ad Rutschman, Bud Riley, Dee Andros, Tom Smythe and Chuck Solberg. His grandfather, Percy Locey, was a college football coach at the University of Denver and the athletic director at Oregon State (1937-47).

In addition to his coaching duties at Linfield, Locey was a full professor in the College of Health and Human Performance. He was an instructor for anatomical kinesiology and the principles of neuromuscular conditioning.

As a sophomore at Corvallis High School in 1970, he had the opportunity to play on the varsity football team that went undefeated and won the state championship. A reserve linebacker, he played special teams while learning under a special group of seniors that included Mike Riley, Gary Beck (OSU assistant), Don Reynolds, Jerry Hackenbruck and Kerry Eggers.

Locey earned a football scholarship to Oregon State. After starting just one game as a sophomore, he went on to receive First Team All-Pacific-8 Conference honors as a defensive back in 1976 and second team in 1975. Twice he was singled out as OSU's top student-athlete and received the outstanding senior award his final year. After an attempt at playing professional football in Canada, Locey returned to Oregon and embarked on a career in coaching. He served as a graduate assistant for one season at OSU before being hired by Smythe as a secondary coach at Lakeridge High School in Lake Oswego, Ore.

After four successful years at Lakeridge, Locey returned to his alma mater to coach with Beck while completing his master's degree at the University of Oregon (1983). Locey honed his coaching skills under Rutschman, and was a part of two NAIA national title teams in 1984 and 1986 before leading the Wildcats to the 2004 NCAA crown.

His family includes wife, Susan, and daughters Danika, Braelyn and Rachelle.

Mark BANKER

*Defensive Coordinator / Safeties
Eighth Season at Oregon State
29 Years of Coaching Experience
Springfield College, '78*

Mark Banker and the assistants have developed one of the top defenses in the nation, and it's backed up by the statistics. Banker is in his sixth year as defensive coordinator and during his career nearly 30 players have earned postseason All-Pac-10 Conference honors.

He has spent 12 of the last 13 seasons with head coach Mike Riley, including two stints at Oregon State University. In 2008, Banker joined Riley, offensive coordinator

In 2007, the defense was first against the rush (70.6 yards), fourth for quarterback sacks (3.4 per game), sixth for tackles-for-loss (8.2) and eighth for total defense (306.2). Eleven players earned postseason honors. Over the last two seasons the Beaver defense has accounted for 1,065 lost yards. His 2006 team led the Pac-10 and finished third for quarterback sacks, was the conference leader for red-zone defense and led the nation for tackles-for-loss yardage (528). The team also produced four all-conference players, including first team honoree Sabby Piscitelli, one of the best safeties to ever play at OSU.

Banker Profile

Assignment: Defensive Coordinator / Safeties
Recruiting: California (San Fernando Valley, Central California Coast) & Hawai'i
Year at OSU: 8th
Hometown: Plymouth, Massachusetts
Education:
1978 — Bachelor's of Physical Education from Springfield College
Wife: Debbie
Children: Chris, Jayme, Kelsey

In 2005 the team ranked fourth in the Pac-10 for total defense, including leading the conference and finishing 17th for rush defense (108.0).

His 2004 unit led the Pac-10 Conference for pass efficiency defense (100.9/8th in NCAA) and ranked second for passing yards allowed (196.0), total defense (313.3), third down conversion defense (29.4%) and red zone defense (71.7%). This coming after the 2003 team posted similar numbers and rankings.

Banker first stepped onto the OSU campus in 1997 with Riley. He spent two seasons at OSU as the secondary coach and recruiting coordinator. The '97 Beavers ranked among the Pac-10's best for interceptions with 16 and Banker helped the program finish sixth in the league for pass defense. Cornerback Basheer Elahee ranked tied for third in the league in '97 for pass breakups (12) and safety Andrae Holland led the league in '98 in the breakup category with 22. Banker also had the opportunity to recruit and coach a young player by the name of Dennis Weathersby, who went on to become an All-American cornerback.

Banker began his coaching career in 1979 as a graduate assistant for his alma mater, Springfield College in Massachusetts. He spent two years at Springfield, one as an offensive line coach and one as running backs coach, before embarking on a full-time career.

His first full-time opportunity came at Cal State Northridge in 1981. He remained with the Matador program until 1994, serving 11 years as defensive coordinator. When he first arrived at CSUN the program had just 11 scholarships; when he left the program sponsored 54.

In 1995 he moved to the Division I ranks at the University of Hawai'i as the outside linebackers and special teams coach. In 1996 he moved to the University of Southern California, joining a staff that included Riley.

Following his first tenure at Oregon State, Banker went with most of the coaching staff to San Diego to work for the Chargers. He was promoted to defensive coordinator in 2001 after serving two seasons as the cornerbacks coach. As the coordinator the Chargers ranked 11th in the league for total defense and first for average rush defense.

Banker earned three letters as a running back at Springfield, where he graduated with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He is a high school graduate of Plymouth-Carver in Massachusetts, where he earned a total of 11 letters in football, hockey and baseball.

Mark and his wife Debbie have three children; Chris, Jayme and Kelsey.

Danny LANGSDORF

*Offensive Coordinator / Quarterbacks
Sixth Season at Oregon State
12 Years of Coaching Experience
Linfield, '95*

Danny Langsdorf is in his fourth season at Oregon State University in his current capacity as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. This is his sixth season overall in the program, serving two years as a graduate assistant coach for Mike Riley during the 1997 and '98 seasons.

The 2007 Oregon State offense overcame a rash of injuries to finish third in the conference for the second consecutive year with a 6-3 mark. The Beavers once again won their bowl game, defeating Maryland in the Emerald Bowl. Tailback Yvenson Bernard finished his illustrious career sixth in the Pac-10 and second all-time at OSU for career rushing yards with 3,862. Bernard and linemen Roy Schuening and Andy Levitre earned Pac-10 All-Conference accolades. Following the season, Langsdorf coached in the Hula Bowl with

In 2006 the Beaver offense enjoyed a balanced attack led by senior quarterback Matt Moore and an experienced returning cast. Bernard and guard Jeremy Perry earned first team All-Pac-10 Conference, and another seven Beavers earned second team and honorable mention acclaim. Overall the offense finished in the top half of the conference for scoring, passing, pass efficiency, first downs, red zone offense and time of possession. The team also scored 30-plus points in eight games, including six of the final seven.

In his first year as offensive coordinator in 2005, Oregon State broke the school record for total offense for an 11-game season with 4,609 yards, which included an 11-game record for passing with 3,261 yards. Five offensive players in '05 earned postseason honors, including wide receiver Mike Hass who was the Biletnikoff Award recipient and a first team All-American.

The 36-year-old Langsdorf arrived at OSU after spending three years with the New Orleans Saints and during the 2002 season coached with Riley. Langsdorf spent the last two years as assistant wide receivers/special teams coach for the Saints. In 2002 he was the offensive assistant/quality control coach.

Prior to his stint with the Saints, he was an assistant coach with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League. He was the Eskimos' offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach from 2000-2001 after serving as the wide receivers coach in 1999. Langsdorf's guidance helped the Eskimos lead the CFL for total yards in 2001 with 6,606.

Langsdorf began his professional career as a player/coach with the Deggendorf Blackhawks of Germany. His college coaching career started in 1996 at California Lutheran University in Thousand Oaks.

During Langsdorf's previous two years at Oregon State he worked with the offense, particularly focusing on the tight ends. He was part of the coaching team that transformed the offense from the wishbone to a multiple set.

The native of McMinnville, Ore., was a standout college football student-athlete playing quarterback. He was a member of the Boise State University football team from 1991-93, lettering one season and earning Big Sky Conference All-Academic honors as a sophomore. He transferred to Linfield College in McMinnville after the '93 season and became the Wildcats' starting quarterback for 1994 and '95. He played for his father (Ed) at Linfield and was selected to the All-Northwest Conference Team as a junior after passing for 2,055 yards and 24 touchdowns. He set a then-school record with 493 passing yards against Southern Oregon on Nov. 12, 1994. He was injured much of his senior season, but concluded his two-year career with 2,724 yards, completing 195 of 356 pass attempts.

Ed Langsdorf is a scout with the San Diego Chargers after spending 20 years as a coach at Linfield.

Danny is married to the former Michele Bertrand, a softball standout at Linfield who still appears in the school record books for her pitching prowess. Danny graduated from Linfield in 1995 with a bachelor's degree in exercise science.

He donated a kidney to Laurie Cavanaugh, offensive line coach Mike Cavanaugh's wife, in May of 2007.

MIKE CAVANAUGH – OFFENSIVE LINE

Mike CAVANAUGH

*Assistant Coach / Offensive Line
Fourth Season at Oregon State
21 Years of Coaching Experience
Southern Connecticut State, '86*

Mike Cavanaugh is in his fourth season as Oregon State's offensive line coach. His coaching has enabled the Beaver offense to post gaudy numbers during his tenure.

In his last three seasons he has coached two current NFL prospects and his players have earned 11 Pac-10 Conference postseason honors, headed by first teamers Roy Schuening in 2007 and Jeremy Perry in 2006.

His 2007 line helped Beaver running back Yvenson Bernard finish his career sixth in the Pac-10 Conference for career yards with 3,862, second all-time at OSU. In addition to Schuening, tackle Andy Levitre earned second team and center Kyle DeVan honorable mention All-Pac-10.

The 2006 team featured sophomore guard Jeremy Perry earning Pac-10 First Team honors, tackle Adam Koets and DeVan garnered second team acclaim, and Schuening and Levitre earned honorable mention. Oregon State was the only program in the Pac-10 to have all five of its starters earn postseason honors.

Cavanaugh's '06 group was so highly regarded by the Beaver coaching staff and players that head coach Mike Riley elected to run a dive play for a two-point conversion with 23 seconds remaining in the 2006 Sun Bowl, earning Oregon State a 39-38 victory over Missouri.

In 2005 three of "Cavs" offensive linemen earned post-season honors, including Perry as the Pac-10 Co-Freshman of the Year and College Football News Freshman All-America. Running behind the likes of Perry, Bernard was the nation's ninth-best running back in terms of yards per game (120.1).

Cavanaugh, a 1986 graduate of Southern Connecticut University, spent six seasons at the University of Hawai'i as the offensive line coach. He coached five NFL draft selections during his Warrior tenure.

The 45-year-old Cavanaugh helped Hawai'i finish in the top 17 for total offense in each of his last four seasons, including second in 2002 at 495.6 yards per game. Hawai'i was sixth in 2003 at 488.1, seventh in 2001 at 462.7 and 17th in 2004 at 434.0. The Warriors are known for their passing attack, yet during the Cavanaugh tenure the team allowed just one sack on every 26 attempts.

During his career at the Manoa campus, the Warriors played in four bowl games, including a 23-17 victory over Oregon State in the 1999 Oahu Bowl.

Cavanaugh began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Albany in New York. In 1987 he was the offensive line coach at Wesleyan in Middletown, Conn., and from 1988-91 he was at Alma College in Michigan. While at Alma he served as the offensive coordinator/offensive line coach for the first three seasons and then as the defensive coordinator/linebackers coach for the final year.

Cavanaugh then was the offensive line coach and strength coach at Murray State in Kentucky for the 1992 season and offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Sacred Heart University in Connecticut for 1993 and '94. He was the offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Ferris State University in Michigan for the 1995 and '96 seasons and helped the program win a pair of Midwest Intercollegiate Conference titles. The '95 team advanced to the NCAA Division II semifinals.

He moved on to the National Football League in 1997 as the assistant offensive line/quality control coach for the San Diego Chargers, a position he held for two years, before joining the Hawai'i staff.

Cavanaugh played college football at New Haven from 1981-82 before transferring to Southern Connecticut State where he earned a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1986. The Wallingford, Conn., native is married to the former Laurie Gilbride and the couple has two sons, Shane and Blair. Laurie's brother, Kevin Gilbride, is the offensive coordinator for the New York Giants.

First Season at Oregon State
Three Years of Coaching Experience
Oregon State, '02*

Keith Heyward is in his first year as a full-time assistant coach at Oregon State, but has been associated with the university at times since 1997.

Heyward came to OSU after spending the 2007 season as the inside linebackers coach at Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo. He helped the Mustangs finish first in the Great Western Conference for rush defense and third for total defense.

Prior to his one season at Cal Poly, he served as the graduate assistant coach for defense at Oregon State for the 2005 and 2006 seasons, where he helped develop two current NFL players (Keith Ellison & Sabby Piscitelli). During that span the Beaver defense ranked first in the Pac-10 Conference against the run, for quarterback sacks and tackles for loss yardage. The '06 team produced a 10-4 record, including ending USC's 27-game league winning streak and defeating Missouri in the Sun Bowl.

He is considered one of the best cornerbacks to ever play at Oregon State, starting 35 consecutive games and lettering four seasons (1997-2000). He played a pivotal part in the rebirth of Beaver football and played on the school's most successful team as a senior, defeating Notre Dame in the Fiesta Bowl and ending the year No. 4 in the country.

Heyward was a 2000 Pac-10 Conference Honorable Mention selection and in 1997 Riley named him Rookie of the Year. For his career he made 88 tackles, 23 pass breakups and notched five interceptions.

Heyward is a 2002 OSU graduate in communications. Following his college playing career he was on the professional rosters of the British Columbia Lions, Scottish Claymores and Los Angeles Avengers. He also participated in the preseason camps of the San Francisco 49ers and Seattle Seahawks. In addition, Heyward also has been employed in the private sector.

He is a graduate of Taft High School in Woodland Hills, Calif.

Greg NEWHOUSE

Assistant Coach / Linebackers
12th Season at Oregon State
33 Years of Coaching Experience
Nevada, '76

Greg Newhouse is in his 12th season at Oregon State, the longest tenure of any football coach in the program and the fourth-longest in the Pac-10 Conference. He has experience at OSU coaching the linebackers, his current position, the defensive line and as defensive coordinator.

Newhouse has coached some of the best linebackers in the conference during his tenure. In 2007 all three starters, Derrick Doggett, Alan Darlin and Joey LaRocque earned Pac-10 Conference second team honors. His group helped Oregon State lead the nation for rush defense (70.6), finish fourth for quarterback sacks and sixth for tackles-for-loss. Overall the defense was eighth nationally.

His 2006 group included the same trio of linebackers who formed one of the top units in the nation. The threesome combined for 257 tackles, with Doggett and Darlin ranking among the top 10 in the conference for tackles-for-loss. The Beaver defense finished fourth for quarterback sacks, first in the conference for red-zone defense and first in the nation for tackles-for-loss yardage with 528.

In 2005 as the defensive line coach Newhouse helped the program finish first in the Pac-10 and 17th in the nation for rush defense (108.0), and finish first in the conference for fewest first downs allowed (219). The 2004 team finished second in the Pac-10 Conference and 18th in the nation for total defense, allowing 313.3 yards per game. The unit also ranked second in the league for pass defense (117.3), first (8th in NCAA) for pass efficiency defense (100.9) and second for red zone defense and third down conversion defense. He also helped the 2003 team rank among the top 20 defensive units in several categories, including seventh for total defense.

Newhouse began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Nevada in 1975, but then was promoted to full time prior to the season with the assignment of coaching the defensive backs. He also coached at Nevada in 1977, working with the secondary, after a one-year stint at Chaffey Junior College as special teams and defensive backs coach. From 1978-79 he was on the staff at UNLV, coaching linebackers, kickers and punters, and from 1980-82 he worked at Cal State Fullerton with the secondary and punters.

Newhouse moved to the professional ranks in 1983 with the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football League, working as the secondary coach his first season. He was promoted to defensive coordinator in 1984, a role he served through the '87 season.

He returned to college football in 1988 at the University of Hawai'i, where he spent two seasons coaching the secondary and punters. In 1990 he was the defensive coordinator and secondary coach at New Mexico.

Newhouse joined Riley for the first time at San Antonio (1991-92) in the World League of American Football, serving as the club's defensive coordinator and secondary coach. He remained in pro football after the World

Joe SEUMALO

*Assistant Coach / Defensive Line
Third Season at Oregon State
14 Years of Coaching Experience
Hawai'i, '95*

Joe Seumalo is in his third year at Oregon State and he has developed one of the best defensive lines in the nation.

He has played an integral part of the team's success in recent seasons, particularly on defense. The Beaver unit finished first in the nation in 2007 against the run (70.6), fourth for quarterback sacks (3.4 per game), sixth for tackles-for-loss (8.2 pg) and eighth for total defense overall (306.2). The team accounted for more yards (537) lost via tackles-for-loss than any other program in the nation. Of the 13 teams the Beavers faced in 2007, 12 gained under their season average for rushing yards.

All four starters on the Beaver defensive line earned Pac-10 Conference postseason honors last season, including Dorian Smith gaining first team accolades and Jeff Van Orsow second team.

Seumalo's first year with the program was very successful as he was part of a defensive unit that ranked first in the Pac-10 Conference for quarterback sacks and led the nation for tackles-for-loss yardage (528). Linemen Ben Siegert and Van Orsow both earned Pac-10 postseason recognition after the two made among the biggest plays in OSU history. Siegert blocked a school record two field goals in the win over Oregon, including the Ducks' game-winning attempt. Van Orsow deflected John-David Booty's two-point conversion attempt to preserve a 33-31 win over USC, ending the Trojans' 27-game conference win streak.

Seumalo arrived at Oregon State after one year as the defensive line coach at San Jose State University. Prior to his stint in the Bay Area, he spent four years as the defensive line coach at Cal Poly University in San Luis, Obispo.

At Cal Poly, he was part of a coaching staff that molded one of the top Division I-AA defenses. In 2004, the nationally-ranked Mustangs were third in the country for rushing defense and ninth in scoring defense yielding just 16.6 points per game. One of his linemen, All-American Chris Gocong, led all I-AA players in quarterback sacks with 17.5 and was second in tackles for loss at 21.5. Gocong went on to finish second in the 2004 Buck Buchanan Award voting for the top defensive player in the Football Championship Subdivision classification.

The 2003 Cal Poly defense was 24th nationally in rushing defense yielding 121.1 yards per game and was among the best pass rushing teams with 40 quarterback sacks. Overall, the Mustangs averaged 39 sacks a season in his four years.

Seumalo Profile

Assignment: Defensive Line
Recruiting: California (Inland Empire / High Valley)
Year at OSU: 3rd
Hometown: Honolulu, Hawai'i
Education: 1995 – Bachelor's of Sociology from the University of Hawai'i Wife: Karen
Children: Andrew, Isaac, Noah and Jessi

A defensive lineman at the University of Hawai'i from 1985 through 1988, Seumalo was a second-team All-Western Athletic Conference choice in his senior season. While at Hawai'i he played for a coaching staff that included current OSU assistant coach Greg Newhouse. Seumalo went on to play in the Canadian Football League for the Calgary Stampeders and Ottawa Roughriders in 1989, the Edmonton Eskimos in 1994 and for the Rhein Fire of NFL Europe in 1995. He once again played for Newhouse in Edmonton.

The 1995 graduate of Hawai'i began his coaching career in 1994 at Kaiser High School in Honolulu. During his five seasons as an assistant coach at Kaiser, he also served as a guest coach for the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football League in 1996 and the Hawai'i Hammerheads of the Indoor Football League in 1999.

Seumalo moved to the college ranks in 1999 as a graduate assistant at Hawai'i, where he was part of a staff that included current OSU offensive line coach Mike Cavanaugh. In his two seasons, he coached the defensive ends and assisted with the special teams.

He and his wife, Karen, have three sons, Andrew, Isaac and Noah, and one daughter, Jessi. Andrew is a freshman on the OSU football team.

Dave UNGERER

*Special Teams Coordinator
Second Season at Oregon State
25 Years of Coaching Experience
Southern Connecticut State, '80*

Dave Ungerer is in his second year at Oregon State and is a veteran of 25 college football seasons.

Two of his players earned Pac-10 All-Conference mention — placekicker Alexis Serna and kickoff return specialists Gerard Lawson. Serna left the program as the school's all-time leading scorer with 384 points and set the Pac-10 record with 144 consecutive converted extra point kicks. Lawson was one of the best special teams players ever at OSU. The Beaver kickoff coverage team ranked first in the Pac-10 and fifth nationally, allowing a meager 17.8 yard average.

Ungerer came to Corvallis after four seasons at the University of Alabama as the special teams and tight ends coach. His Crimson Tide special teams excelled during his tenure, blocking 13 kicks and returning five punts and two kickoffs for touchdowns. While at Alabama he coached All-Southeastern Conference punt returners Javier Arenas and Tyrone Prothro, punter P.J. Fitzgerald and placekicker Brian Bostick.

Prior to his arrival in Tuscaloosa, Ungerer spent one season as the special teams/tight ends coach at the University of California. In his lone season, kickoff returner LaShaun Ward (ranked third in the nation for avg.), Mike McGrath and placekicker Mark Jenkins earned All-Pac-10 honors. In addition, Cal's kickoff return team was third in the nation and first in the Pac-10.

Ungerer arrived at California after two years at Lehigh University, where he assisted the program in finishing in the top-10 in the nation both years. In 1999 he was in private business after five years at the University of Maryland. While at Maryland he coached 1993 Honorable Mention All-American and first team All-Atlantic Coast Conference punter Scott Milanovich.

From 1988-91 he was the special teams/running backs/strength coach at Holy Cross. For three years he trained former OSU receivers coach and Holy Cross graduate Lee Hull in the offseason, assisting him in his Canadian Football League playing days.

Ungerer has also coached at Davidson University (1986-87), Northeastern University (1985) and as a graduate assistant at Rutgers University (1983-84).

The Edison, N.J., native is a 1980 graduate of Southern Connecticut State University with a bachelor's degree in physical education and health.

Dave and his wife Sylvia have three sons, Dominic, David and Dante.

Gary BECK

*Coordinator of Support Services
Third Season at Oregon State
31 Years of Coaching Experience
Oregon State, '76*

Gary Beck is in his third year on the staff at Oregon State and his first as Coordinator of Support Services. His new role with the Beaver staff includes on-campus recruiting, serving as a liaison with the medical and strength conditioning staff, assists in the preparation of camps and opponent preparation among other duties.

Beck spent the last two years as a graduate assistant, working with the running backs. He helped coach one of the Beavers' all-time great runners Yvenson Bernard, who finished his career sixth in the Pac-10 for rushing yards with 3,682.

Beck is among the most honored coaches in the history of high school football in the state of Oregon. During his prep football coaching career, Beck led Corvallis High School to a pair of state AAA titles (1979, '83) and to a state runner-up finish (1986). Corvallis won the Valley League title five times.

His postseason honors include being named the Valley League Coach of the Year five times, and earning the Oregon AAA Coach of the Year three times. He was a head coach in the annual summer Shrine All-Star Game three times.

Beck also served as the head baseball coach at Corvallis for three seasons and the head boys golf coach for 10 years. He started his coaching career in 1976 as the junior varsity baseball coach at Oregon State University. Beck also served as an assistant football coach, freshman boys basketball coach and assistant baseball coach.

He came to Oregon State in 2006 from Redmond High School in Central Oregon after two years as the defensive coordinator. During his entire coaching career he served as a physical education teacher.

Beck was a standout athlete at Corvallis High School during the same time frame as head coach Mike Riley. He played free safety and backup quarterback (behind Riley), helping the team to the 1970 state title. He also was a shortstop in baseball and a guard in basketball, assisting the team to the state title in '70.

Beck earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from OSU in 1976 and a master's in education from OSU in 1982. He was a four-year letterman in baseball for the Beavers and lettered on the varsity football team in 1972 as a free safety — his position coach was Riley's father, Bud.

Beck and his wife Vicki have two daughters, LeAnne and Michelle. Michelle currently attends OSU.
