2014 SEASON PREVIEW

2014 Season Outlook

With a strong set of returning gymnasts, promising newcomers and a successful offseason, Temple Women's Gymnastics and head coach Aaron Murphy are prepped to begin a new season in 2014.

The Owls are coming off a 6-26 record from the 2013 season, with a fourth place finish at the conference championships. Murphy, who was named ECAC Coach of the Year for the past season, has brought in seven newcomers to a team returning 19 athletes.

From the team's ECAC championship line-up, which posted 2013's top team score of 192.175, only one routine has been graduated. This includes returning a full beam squad (Jean Alban, Alexis Arena, Sylvie Borschel, Brittanie DeMeno, Taylor Rakus, and Heather Zaniewski) that was ranked within the top 30 of all Division 1 programs last season. "Beam is that one event that has stood out for us in the past couple years and I know we'll have no problem continuing that success," said Murphy.

Fifth-year senior and co-captain Jean Alban will be one of the team's key returnees this season. Alban is coming off the best season of her career. She posted career-highs on all four events with her best work a 38.65 all-around score at the West Virginia quad-meet. "Jean looks to contend in the all-around in her final year at Temple University and will have her sights set on out performing herself from last season," said Murphy.

Heather Zaniewski

Alongside of Alban senior co-captain Heather Zaniewski, who earned a spot in the USAG Nationals uneven bar finals last season, is expected to make a clean and quick recovery from a small shoulder surgery to continue her strong addition to the team's beam, bar and vault line-ups.

Other key returnees include the Owl's all-around competitors Brittanie DeMeno and Alexis Arena. The pair posted top all-around scores of 38.2 and 38.125, respectively. Floor exercise and vault workers Stephanie Verry and Lauren Capone, along with uneven bar specialists Reagan Oliveri and Tara Kilkenny, will all be expected to make strong returns and help the team achieve high rankings in both the ECAC conference and the USAG division. Murphy states, "Reagan has a great chance at taking an all-around position for Temple this season and has proved her skills throughout the pre-season."

The other members of the team can't go unrecognized as they strive to break into the top six this year. They are Brianna Ferdinandi, Jasmine Johnson, Arielle Burris, Danielle Vahala, Taylor Moyer and Mary Kate Walch.

Murphy has added a strong freshman set to this year's roster. Victoria Reggiani, a native of Ridge, N.Y., and Waldorf, Md. resident, Briana Odom both come from successful junior olympic program careers, qualifying for the National Invitational Tournament as level 10 gymnasts. As Temple Owls, both look to make a strong impact in their rookie seasons. "These two young gymnasts along with their fellow freshman teammates have taken on the role of being a Temple gymnast and have what it takes to mix into the top six of any given event," Coach Murphy says strongly.

Odom and Reggiani are joined by fellow rookies Rebecca McAndrew, a beam and floor specialist from Limerick, Pa., Mikaela Postlethwait, who travelled from Albuquerque, N.M. to train in all four events and Jazznique Baker, a native of Harrisburg, Pa. who also trains in the all-around.

Newcomers Erin McCane of Latham, N.Y. and Rachel Kudler of Marlboro, N.J. will each take a red-shirt this year and recover from major surgeries to begin full training in the 2014-15 season.

Assistant coach Deirdre Mattocks-Bertotti will return for her second season with the Owls. Last season, she primarily trained the vault and floor squads who successfully qualified five team members to the USAG National competition on the two events, as well as placed two gymnasts, Ruzich and Capone, in the top five on the floor exercise at conference championships.

This season, Mattocks-Bertotti will focus a large part of her efforts to the Owls beam squad, where she hopes to continue the consistency and success from the 2013 season. "With Coach Blake Collins missing from the staff this year, Deirdre will ensure that our excellence on beam will remain constant," said Murphy.

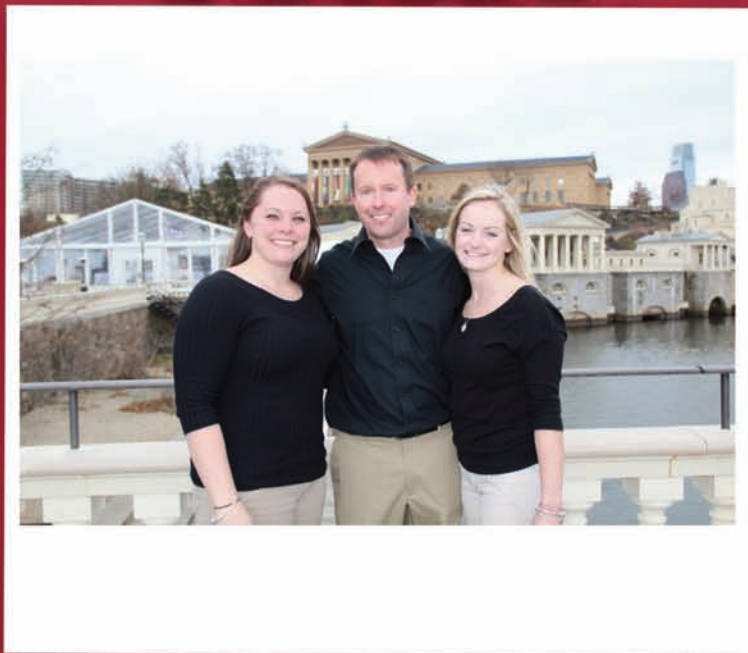

After two intrasquad meets, the Owls will take to the nation's capital on January 12th to kick off the regular season at the Lindsey Ferris Invitational hosted by the George Washington University Colonials.

Following the season opener, the Owls will make a visit to the University of Bridgeport followed by a long trip to Alaska, where two meets will be held on January 24th and 26th. February will be kicked off with the Ken Anderson Memorial Invitational in McGonigle Hall on the first, where the Owls will welcome West Chester, Ursinus and conference rivals UPenn and Cornell.

The home competition will be followed by trips to UPenn, Towson, Rutgers, Ursinus, and Eastern Michigan. The regular season will wrap up with a trip to William & Mary before the Owls return home to host the ECAC Championships at noon on March 22 in McGonigle Hall.

Aaron
MURPHY

Head Coach
Eight Season at Temple • Temple '01

Coming off Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference Coach of the Year honors in 2013, Aaron Murphy enters his eighth season as the head coach of the Temple women's gymnastics team. Murphy, who competed for the Owls on the men's gymnastics squad from 1998-2001, began assisting the late Ken Anderson with the women's program in 2001 and eventually moved into his current role in October, 2006.

Murphy was honored as the ECAC's Coach of the Year for the second time in his career in 2013, despite his Owls earning only six wins on the year. During that campaign, Murphy showed his ability to get the most out of his lineups several times when he was forced to fluctuate his intended order at the last minute, due to pre-meet injuries. Murphy demonstrated a knack for getting his student-athletes to step up when the pressure was on, which helped members of his squad receive eight ECAC weekly awards over the course of the season.

In 2012, Murphy guided the Owls to a record-setting performance by his squad at the annual Ken Anderson Memorial Invitational on Feb. 5. Not only did the Owls take the title on their home floor, they set the school record for a combined team total with a score of 193.275. Under Coach Murph that same season, his vault lineup set a new program record for their highest score on the apparatus with a 48.650 at William & Mary in the final meet of the regular season. During the postseason, Murphy saw his team demonstrate an impressive performance at the ECAC Championships, where it placed third and produced Katie Canning as the program's first-ever ECAC All-Around Champion.

The 2010 season was yet another successful endeavor for Murphy and his team. The Owls repeated as third place finishers at the ECAC Championships, a meet which they hosted in McGonigle Hall. Moving forward to the USAG Championships, the Owls qualified for the team competition and saw a record eight athletes earn USAG All-America honors.

In 2009, Murphy was recognized as ECAC Division I Coach of the Year, leading his team to a school-best third place finish at the ECAC Conference Championships. During that run, he also led the team to breaking the all-time team record, a mark that stood for six years. The Owls posted a team score of 192.625 against Cornell on March 15, 2009.

Prior to being named head coach, Murphy was the assistant coach for four years at Temple. The 2001 Temple graduate was named the USA Collegiate Assistant Gymnastics Coach of the Year in 2004.

In his four years as an assistant at Temple, Murphy was responsible for spotting all four events while constructing the strength and conditioning program. Under his guidance, the program celebrated 16 USAG All-American honorees and several new school records.

Prior to his experience with the women's gymnastics program, Murphy spent the 2001-02 season as an assistant with the Temple men's program under head coach Fred Turoff. While responsible for spotting all skill events for safety purposes, he was integral in assisting the men's team to an ECAC Conference Championship and national recognition.

In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Murphy was the Public Gymnastics Clinic Director at Temple from 2001-03. In coaching all ages and skill levels, he utilized his several years of experience in supervising, coordinating and working hands-on with inner-city children participating in gymnastics.

A four-year letterwinner at Temple, Murphy served as a team captain his senior season (2000-01). His career as a performer, and 2001

U.S. Championship participant, is headlined with several honors including the 2001 Bill Braverman Award Recipient for Excellence and the 2001 Most Consistent Gymnast Award.

Murphy, born in Barberton, Ohio, currently resides in Philadelphia.

Dierdre MATTOCKS BERTOTTI

Assistant Coach
Second Season at Temple • Temple '06

Former All-American Deirdre Mattocks Bertotti is in her second season as the assistant coach for the women's gymnastics team at her alma mater.

Bertotti, a Temple gymnast from 2003-2006, still holds a share of the program's all-time individual record score on uneven bars with a 9.900, which helped the Owls set a program record team score of 49.050 against Cornell (March 14, 2004) on the apparatus.

Providing support for head coach Aaron Murphy, Bertotti is assisting on all events, but is primarily training the vault and floor exercise performers.

Before her return to Temple, she coached at Metzler's Gymnastics in Downingtown, Pa., where she trained Level 6-10 gymnasts, while specializing in coaching balance beam routines.

During her gymnastics career at Temple, Bertotti was named the team's Most Consistent Gymnast in 2004-05. A year later, she was elected co-captain and served on the Student-Athlete Advisory Council.

Bertotti graduated from Temple with her Bachelor's degree in Sport and Recreation Management before going on to Saint Joseph's University to earn her Masters' degree in Adult Learning and Training.

In addition to assisting the Owls, Bertotti is the Assistant Director for Compliance Services at Saint Joseph's University.

A native of New Berlin, Pa., Bertotti currently resides in Media, Pa. with her husband Steve and their son, Vincenzo.

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY

University Administration

Neil D. Theobald is Temple's 10th president. He began his tenure at Temple on January 1, 2013.

In naming Theobald to this role, Temple Board of Trustees Chairman Patrick J. O'Connor cited his extensive record of accomplishment as a university administrator and faculty member: "Dr. Theobald is a gifted teacher and dedicated researcher. In addition, he has a deep and practical understanding of the changing dynamics of higher education. He wants to ensure that students have access to an education that is first-class and affordable. I can't think of a better set of values to bring to the Temple presidency."

Theobald was named Indiana University's senior vice president in 2007. Previously, he had served as the senior vice provost at the University's flagship campus in Bloomington and as special assistant to IU's president. Major accomplishments during more than a decade as a senior administrator at Indiana University include increasing the mean SAT score of the incoming class at IU Bloomington from 1096 to 1203, directing a $1.1 billion capital campaign, and boosting IU's credit ranking to Moody's highest level (Aaa).

In addition to his administrative responsibilities, Theobald holds a professorship in education finance. His research interests in the appropriate role of decentralization in educational financing and in modeling educational labor markets are reflected in more than $1.5 million in funded research, numerous books and book chapters, dozens of articles published in professional journals, and nearly 50 policy reports for state governments across the United States.

At Indiana University, Dr. Theobald directed a research center that assisted state governments in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, and Washington in devising education funding processes that equitably facilitated academic excellence. In addition, Theobald was a three-time winner of IU's Teaching Excellence Recognition Award.

Theobald is a past-president of the American Education Finance Association, winning the association's Jean Flanigan Award for the outstanding dissertation in the study of educational finance in 1990. In 1995, the University Council for Educational Administration presented Theobald with the Jack A. Culbertson Award as the professor who, in the first seven years of his or her career, made the most outstanding contribution to the profession. In 2003, Theobald was presented the Distinguished Graduate Award by the College of Education at the University of Washington.

A native of Peoria, Ill., Theobald had planned to enter an electrician's apprenticeship after high school. However, donors to Trinity College in Connecticut made it possible for him to attend college and Theobald earned a bachelor's degree in 1978. After a short stint in the corporate world, Theobald began his education career as a secondary school mathematics teacher in the State of Washington, where he also coached baseball. He subsequently served as both an assistant professor and an associate professor at the University of Washington, where he earned a doctoral degree in educational finance in 1988.

Dr. Theobald and his wife, Sheona Mackenzie, have three children: Roddy, Kinnear, and Mattie.

Dr. Theobald will be formally invested as Temple's 10th president on Oct. 18, 2013.

Athletic Facilities

Joseph V. Labolito

The Liacouras Center has been the home of the Temple men's and women's basketball teams—along with concerts, commencement, and other events—since 1997.

The Liacouras Center

The Liacouras Center is a four-building complex that includes a Convocation Center, the Independence Blue Cross Student Recreation Center, 1700 North Broad Street and the Entertainment Community Center with retail shops, a 1,200-car parking garage, and a live-music restaurant. The Center has been designed as a venue for culture, sports, entertainment, commerce and education.

The Convocation Center seats 11,000 for convocations, commencements and concerts; 10,206 for basketball games; and up to 3,500 for theater and dance. The theater configuration is named for benefactress Esther Boyer Griswold.

Rededicated on February 13, 2000, and named in honor of former Temple President Peter J. Liacouras, The Liacouras Center, the home of Temple basketball, is one of the premier on-campus arenas in the country.

Already the site of some exciting events in its history, the Temple venue has hosted such sold-out concerts as Bob Dylan, along with the NBA Players Party prior to the 2002 NBA All-Star game and the 2002 Atlantic 10 Women's Basketball Championship. The Liacouras Center was also the site of the 2003 NCAA Men's Gymnastics Championships, the 2004 NCAA Women's Basketball First and Second Rounds, and the 2006 and 2011 NCAA Women's Basketball Regionals.

In an historic partnership, the Pennsylvania state legislature provided capital funds - $31.8 million - to build a new multi-use complex, provided the University could raise $28.7 million from private sources. The total cost of the multi-building complex would be $107 million - an investment in Temple's future.

Originally christened The Forum at The Apollo of Temple, the Board of Trustees voted in 2000 to change the building name to The Liacouras Center in honor of President Liacouras' retirement after 18 years as Temple's chief executive.

Lincoln Financial Field

On August 13, 2003, the Philadelphia Eagles and Temple University announced a 15-year pact for the Owls to play their home football games at Lincoln Financial Field. An average of 24,137 fans per game witnessed the Cherry & White in its inaugural season at the venue, a 21 percent increase from the prior year's average.

Lincoln Financial Field, familiarly known as The Linc, is the home stadium of the National Football League's Philadelphia Eagles. It has a seating capacity of 68,532 (69,032 with Standing Room Only tickets). The stadium was named in June 2002 when the Lincoln Financial Group paid $139.6 million for naming rights over the next 21 years. It is located in South Philadelphia on Pattison Avenue between 11th and 10th Streets, closer to the area's stretch of Interstate 95 than to Pattison.

In 2011, the stadium became powered with a combination of onsite wind, solar, and dual-fuel generated electricity, making it the world's first major sports stadium to convert to self-generated renewable energy. Approximately $25 million was invested to build the system, saving the Eagles an estimated $60 million in energy costs.

Edberg-Olson Hall

Edberg-Olson Hall is the home of the Temple University football program. Officially dedicated on December 9, 2000, the facility was designed by AP3C Architects of Philadelphia. The building was engineered to not only support the football team's functional requirements, but to enhance the experience through innovative design concepts.

During the season, approximately 250 people will pass through its doors on a daily basis. In 2012, Edberg-Olson Hall underwent a $10 million upgrade with a 15,000-square-foot expansion. The original 23,600-square-foot building contains team and coaches locker rooms, a training room, equipment facilities, coach's offices, a players' lounge, individual position meeting rooms, and a theater-style team meeting room. Opened in July 2012, the upgrade has a strength and conditioning area that expanded from 2,500 square feet to 10,000 square feet. The expansion also features an enlarged sports medicine office with hydrotherapy, a full-service academic support area, and a 3,500-square-foot team function room. An observation balcony runs the length of the building. It is the perfect complement to a gridiron landscape outside featuring over 100,000 square feet of Sprinturf and 24,000 square feet of AstroTurf. Eight, 85-foot poles providing 85 candles of white rendition light line the perimeter of the complex. Powder-coated cyclone fences provide privacy.

Geasey Field

The AstroTurf on Geasey Field is one of the largest permanent AstroTurf surfaces in the world, covering over 156,000 square feet. In summer of 2009, Geasey Field underwent a massive $1 million renovation. The surface was replaced with AstroTurf 12 carpet, complete with a drainage system. The scoreboard is a state-of-the-art wireless board with a message expansion. The lighted facility at 15th and Norris Streets serves as the home of Temple field hockey and lacrosse, in addition to an alternate football practice site.

McGonigle-Pearson Hall Athletic Complex

Summer 1969 marked the first use of Temple University's physical education and athletics building, located in the heart of the Main Campus at Broad Street and Montgomery Avenue. The complex currently houses a weight room and training facilities, as well as facilities for teaching, research, student recreation and athletic competition. The Temple volleyball, fencing and men's and women's gymnastics squads play their home competitions in McGonigle Hall.

In 2012, the University completed a $48-million renovation and expansion of McGonigle and Pearson Halls, providing additional classrooms, faculty and coaching staff offices as well as new men's and women's basketball practice courts, weight room, and cutting-edge sports medicine equipment. The additional 26,000-square feet provide 24-hour access and advanced digital technologies.

The Pavilion

The Pavilion Athletic Facility, which is utilized by football, field hockey, women's lacrosse, baseball, softball, men's and women's soccer, is a 32,000-square foot multi-purpose field. The facility, which is available as an auxiliary training site for the remainder of Temple's 24 varsity athletic programs, features Field Turf XT57, an ideal surface for Temple's varsity teams to train on.

Ambler Sports Complex

Temple's picturesque Ambler Campus plays host to the University's men's and women's soccer teams as well as baseball and softball. On January 14, 2003, Upper Dublin Township gave final approval to Temple University's plans to construct NCAA-standard soccer, baseball and softball fields at the Ambler Campus. Baseball and softball opened play in the spring of 2004 while the Owl soccer teams started in the fall of 2004.

Temple Athletics

Kevin Clark, who arrived at Temple in November 2012 in the role of Senior Advisor to the President, served as the University's Interim Director of Athletics from May 3 through October 31 before being appointed vice president and director of athletics by President Neil D. Theobald on November 1, 2013.

A veteran athletic administrator, Clark came to Temple after serving the previous 11 years on Indiana University's senior athletic staff, the last two in the role of Senior Associate Athletic Director of Internal Operations.

As Senior Associate Athletic Director of Internal Operations, Clark was responsible for overseeing the department's athletics business office, information technology, human resources, travel services, athletic facilities, IU Golf Course, equipment operations, concessions and food services, and other areas of internal administration. He served as a member of the senior administrative staff and, in this capacity, worked with other senior administrators to advise, develop and implement departmental policies and strategies including yearly and long-term strategic plans.

Additionally, Clark also served as the sport administrator for football, baseball and women's

Dr. Patrick Kraft, who served on the senior athletic staffs at Indiana University and Loyola University Chicago, was named Deputy Director of Athletics at Temple in May, 2013.

Kraft spent the past two years as the Executive Senior Associate Athletics Director at Loyola University Chicago. At Loyola, he had direct oversight of all aspects of the department's external operations, including the marketing, ticketing, media relations and fundraising components. Kraft played an integral role in Loyola's move from the Horizon League to the Missouri Valley Conference.

In his two years at the school he was able to grow the men's basketball season ticket base by 30 percent with an overall increase of 51 percent in ticket revenue. Additionally, he generated an increase of 400 percent in cash sponsorship to the department while also growing the department's annual giving by 75 percent.

Not limited to just external operations at Loyola, Kraft was responsible for overseeing the day-to-day management of the department's $12+ million budget. He also served as the sport supervisor for men's and women's basketball and was responsible for handling all of the department's business contracts.

At Indiana, Kraft was responsible for the branding and marketing efforts for all of the Hoosiers' programs. He oversaw game production for all of IU's varsity sports and coordinated basketball.

In his first nine years at IU, Clark served as the Associate Athletic Director for Finance/CFO. In that role, he managed the athletic financial business office and was instrumental in the development and administration of the department's budget.

At Saint Louis University, Clark served as the Director of Business Administration-Student Development from 2000-2001. Prior to that role, Clark was the Assistant Athletic Director of Business and Finance from 1996-2000. He prepared and administered budgets ranging from $10-$30 million. While at Saint Louis University he established the first-ever athletic department contingency fund.

Prior to his tenure at Saint Louis University, Clark served as a staff accountant at the NCAA from 1991-1996. There he assisted with the preparation and management of a $30 million operating budget.

Clark earned a bachelor's degree in accounting from Grambling State University and later earned an MBA from Webster University.

The Kansas City, Mo. Native retired as a Major after serving 23 years in the United States Army Reserve. He and his wife, Kendra, have four children, Kevin Jr., Michael, Ellicia and Logan.

group, season and single-game ticket sales for football, men's basketball, men's soccer, women's basketball and women's volleyball. In addition, Kraft managed the promotion, marketing, brand enhancement and enforcement of the school's Adidas contract and the Big Ten Network partnership as well as the Learfield Sport Properties multi-media rights agreement with the Hoosiers.

His efforts at Indiana helped increase home football attendance to its highest mark in 17 years, with it also being the third largest football attendance increase among all Division I schools. He also instituted a strategy that saw a 20 percent increase in student ticket sales and the overall highest season ticket base in 13 years.

The Libertyville, Ill., native began his career in 2001 as the corporate sponsorship and promotions coordinator with the Arena Football League. He then spent three years as the business development director with United States Synchronized Swimming (2001-04). He then served four years in higher education, the first three at Indiana (2005-08) as an associate instructor for sports marketing and management and the last as a clinical professor in the school of business administration at Loyola Chicago (2008-09).

Kraft, who played football as an undergraduate at Indiana, has three degrees from the University. He earned a bachelor's degree in sports marketing/management (2000), a master's degree in sports marketing/administration (2005) and a doctorate in sports marketing (2008).

Kraft resides in Haddonfield, N.J., with his wife Betsy and daughter Annabelle.

Mark Ingram, who has successfully led the athletic development offices at three Football Bowl Subdivision schools over the past decade, is in his second year as Assistant Vice President for Athletic Development at Temple University. The Winston Salem, N.C., native, who most recently served as the Senior Associate Athletic Director at Tennessee, also serves as the sport administrator for baseball.

In his five years as the Senior Associate Athletic Director at his alma mater (Tennessee '96), Ingram was responsible for the planning and strategy for the department's Capital Campaign that raised $336 million during his tenure. While sitting on UT's athletics senior and executive staff, he oversaw an athletics development staff of 27 professionals and seven part-time employees. His role also included serving as a member of the University's Vice President's Development and External Affairs Management Team as well as being involved in project management for $250 million Neyland Football Stadium master plan.

Before his return to his alma mater, Ingram served as Assistant Athletics Director for Development ment at the University of Georgia for two years ('06-07). Prior to that, he was the Assistant Athletics Director for Development at the University of Missouri beginning in the fall of 2002, where he successfully guided the Champions for Life capital campaign that raised more than $117 million. That campaign benefited a number of areas including a $75 million basketball arena and a $16 million all-sport student-athlete academics and training facility.

Prior to working for the University of Missouri, Ingram served as Assistant Director of Marketing and Assistant Director of Development at the University of Tennessee from 1998 to 2002.

A 1996 graduate from Tennessee with a bachelor's degree in sport management and minors in business and psychology, Ingram was a two-year starter for the Volunteers' football team. He was a two-time Academic All-SEC and twice awarded the Volunteer Award which is given to the most valuable player who is a former walk-on. Also a member of the SEC Good Works Team, Ingram earned his master's degree in sport administration from Tennessee in 1997.

Beasley School of Law Associate Professor Eleanor Myers is in her seventh year as Temple University's faculty athletics representative. The NCAA requires each member institution to appoint a faculty athletics representative to represent the institution and its faculty in its relationships with the NCAA and its athletic conferences and to oversee academic integrity and compliance issues on campus. In her role as FAR, she also chairs the President's Advisory Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics. In 2009, Myers was appointed by the NCAA as a member of the Division I Committee on Infractions, which holds hearings on major violations of NCAA rules and imposes penalties.

Myers joined Temple's law faculty in 1993. She specializes in Professional Responsibility and business courses. She has won awards for curriculum design and for teaching. She has also Previously, Myers served as Temple's associate university counsel from 1983 to 1989 with responsibility for technology transfer, business negotiations and health care issues. Prior to joining Temple's faculty, Myers held teaching fellow posts at the University of Pennsylvania and Stanford University and handled securities and antitrust class action litigation for a Philadelphia law firm. Myers holds a bachelor degree and a law degree (magna cum laude) from the University of Pennsylvania.

Al Shrier is the dean among national college sports information directors with 60 years of service. In 2004, his years of dedication to Temple University were rewarded as he was immortalized with his own bobblehead doll to become the first administrator in the history of NCAA athletics to be so honored.

Shrier officially retired from his position as Temple SID on June 30, 1995, but due to necessity, returned to the post during the 1995-96 academic year. He remains at the University in the role of special assistant to the director of athletics and is in charge of credentials, media services, and hospitality at Temple sporting events.

On January 23, 2013, the University hoisted a banner to the rafters of the Liacouras Center in his honor.

Joe Giunta returned to Temple University in March 2012 as the Senior Associate Athletic Director for Sports Administration. He had previously served in a similar capacity with Temple Athletics from 2003-08.

Giunta is responsible for ensuring that Temple's student-athletes are given the administrative support and resources necessary to be academically and athletically successful and to ensure that all operations are conducted within University, Conference, and NCAA rules. He oversees men's basketball as well as the athletic training, equipment, facilities, and strength & conditioning departments.

Giunta previously served as the Owls' Associate Athletic Director for Sports Administration from March 2003 until June 2008 when he accepted the position of Director of Athletics and Recreation at Cabrini College. At Cabrini, Giunta managed a department consisting of a staff of 20 full and part-time staff, 16 varsity Kristen Foley returns for her 14th year in Temple administration and 19th overall. She was promoted to Senior Associate Athletic Director in August 2011 and oversees the administration of women's basketball, volleyball, women's soccer, cross country and track and field, field hockey, fencing, men's gymnastics, men's and women's tennis, and men's and women's rowing. In addition, Foley provides the color analysis for the women's basketball web stream broadcasts.

Foley was the Tournament Manager for two NCAA Women's Basketball Regional Championships (2011 and 2005) and the 2004 First and Second Rounds. Throughout her tenure, she has served on numerous Atlantic 10 Conference Committees (Administrative, Executive, Volleyball, Softball, and Women's Rowing) and currently is a member of the Officiating Committee and Championship Review Subcommittee. Previously, she chaired the NCAA Fencing Committee (2004-06) and was a member of the NCAA Women's Basket-

Larry Dougherty is in his 11th year at Temple and second as Senior Associate Athletic Director for Communications after serving the previous four years as Associate Athletic Director. In his position, Dougherty oversees the athletic communications and publications of the University's 24-sport Division I-A athletic program as well as the television and radio operations. He also is the varsity sport administrator for men's soccer.

Dougherty joined the Owls' staff after serving 15 years in the media relations office at Saint Joseph's, the last eight as the school's assistant athletic director for media relations. Prior to SJU, he served as the SID at Nicholls State for one year and as the information director of the East Coast Conference for two years.

during 2010-11. He was the recipient of the ECAC-SIDA's 2011 Irving T. Marsh Award.

He earned both his bachelor's (1982) and executive MBA (1994) degrees from Saint Joseph's. His father, Andy, also served as the SID at SJU from 1972-81.

Sherryta Freeman is in her ninth year at Temple and her third year as the Senior Associate Athletic Director after serving for five years as the Associate Athletic Director for Compliance and Student-Athlete Affairs at Temple.

Freeman oversees all aspects of the department's compliance efforts with conference and NCAA rules and regulations. She works to educate coaches, administrators and student-athletes in regards to new rules and regulations as well as the processing of NCAA and conference waivers on behalf of student-athletes. She also oversees all student-athlete leadership and life skill development programming which includes the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) and the CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. Freeman is the varsity sports administrator for softball and men's golf. She is also the liaison for athletics to academics.

Metzinger earned a master of business administration degree with a concentration in human resource management from Temple in May 2011. He graduated from Villanova in 2004 with a bachelor's degree in accounting.

Following graduation, Metzinger worked for The Siegfried Group in Wilmington, Del., in accounting and assurance services. He moved into collegiate athletics as a volunteer at Drexel University and the University of Pennsylvania during the 2004-05 academic year, gaining experience in ticketing, marketing, and promotions.

Before heading to Rutgers, Metzinger worked for the director of athletics at his alma mater for the 2005-06 academic year. In this capacity, he contributed in a variety of areas, including business operations, marketing, and media relations.

Born and raised in the suburbs of Philadelphia, Scott Walcoff started at Temple University in August 2005. He was promoted to the position of Associate Athletic Director for Marketing and Sales in August 2011 after serving six years as Assistant Athletic Director for Marketing and Promotions.

Walcoff is responsible for developing season ticket campaigns and creating/facilitating all media advertisements (including radio, television, print, online and outdoor support). He also develops and coordinates game-day promotions. In his current role, he oversees the Ticket Sales Office, Corporate Sales Department, and Spirit Squad.

While at Temple, Walcoff and his staff have won four National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators (NACMA) awards. The awards were given for the creation of "Hooter the Owl's Birthday Party" theme at a Temple Men's Basketball game, the development of Temple Men's Basketball's "Five Months of Christmas"

In addition, Walcoff and his staff have increased Temple Football season tickets 300% and Temple Men's Basketball season tickets 100%.

Walcoff, a 1997 graduate of the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications at Syracuse University, previously served as director of marketing and public relations for the Liacouras Center for four years. He also spent time as a marketing coordinator for Comcast-Spectacor, as a promotions coordinator for Ticketmaster, as well as a writer/editor for both the Media Theatre for the Performing Arts and The Sports Network.

Rich Burg enters his first year as the Assistant Athletic Director for Football Communications.

Burg, who left the Philadelphia Eagles in 2007 after a decade of service with the organization, most recently served as the president of 5 Star Unlimited, a full-service public relations firm he established upon his departure from the NFL franchise. His company, based in Voorhees, N.J., specialized in the publicity of active and retired professional players with his most notable clients being former Eagles Donovan McNabb and Brian Dawkins.

In his role with the Eagles (1997-07), he managed all media commitments for McNabb, while also facilitating interview requests for most of the other members of the squad. He also created and implemented all media credential policies, coordinated all press box activities and arranged press conferences.

The Brooklyn, N.Y., native was also instrumental in transitioning the organization into a new practice facility in 2001 and Lincoln Financial Field, which also serves as the home of the Temple Owls, in 2003. Twice during his tenure (2002, 2005), he was part of a staff that won the Pete Rozelle Award

His extensive resume also includes stops at College Bound Student-Athletes in Cedarburg, Wisc., where he served one year (1994-95) helping potential student-athletes secure college scholarships. He also served two years (1992-94) as a store manager at The Complete Athlete and one year as the director of public relations of the Professional Spring Football League.

His first stint at the Eagles was for three years (1988-91), marking his first full-time position in the profession. He had served previously as an intern in the New York Rangers public relations office (1986-88).

A 1988 graduate of St. John's University, Burg resides in Voorhees, N.J., with his wife Carol and daughter Skylar.

Now in his 29th year at Temple, Lee Roberts serves as the Assistant Athletic Director for Facilities and Event Management. In this role, Roberts oversees the maintenance and upkeep of the University's athletic facilities, both on the main and Ambler campuses, as well as serving as the department's liaison with The Liacouras Center and Lincoln Financial Field.

The veteran administrator manages the game operations of all athletic events. He has helped to facilitate numerous conference and national competitions that Temple has hosted during that time, including the 2004 NCAA Women's Basketball first and second rounds, the 2005 NCAA Women's Basketball Philadelphia Regional, the 2011 NCAA
