HEADLINES

- The Owls are coming off a 77-70 win at #22/23 Cincinnati in their American Athletic Conference opener, a win which marked the program's ninth season in a row with a victory over a Top 25 team.
- 10th-year head coach Fran Dunphy has won 199 games at Temple (509 overall), needing just one more to reach the 200-win plateau. Dunphy will then become one of just five Division I coaches with 200 or more wins at two different schools, while also taking each school to six or more NCAA Tournaments.
- Four players reached double figures in scoring in the Cincinnati win, led by senior Quenton DeCosey with 19 points.
- DeCosey hit double digits in free throws for a second-straight game, making 10-of-11 at the stripe against the Bearcats. He currently ranks fourth in the conference with a free-throw percentage of .859.
- Both senior Devin Coleman and junior Daniel Dingle had big games at Cincinnati, scoring 14 points apiece and each hitting a three-pointer during a key 8-0 late-game run.
- Temple hit a season-high 30 free throws (30-of-38, 78.9 percent) in its win against Delaware State on Dec. 19, with DeCosey making 12-of-15 and junior Josh Brown hitting a perfect 8-of-8. DeCosey recorded his third career double-double in the victory, adding a career-high 12 rebounds to a team-best 20 points.
- Sophomore forward Obi Enechionya and Brown both recorded their first career double-doubles against Saint Joseph's on Dec. 13. Enechionya added a career-high 13 rebounds to a career-high 25 points, while Brown grabbed a career-high 12 boards and scored a season-high 13 points.
- As a team, the Owls are leading the nation in fewest turnovers per game at 8.5. They have recorded single digit turnovers in eight of 11 games, tallying as few as five (vs. Delaware on 11/29).
- Temple's first three losses this season were to teams ranked in the Top 25. This season marked the first time in program history the Owls had faced three ranked teams in their first four games.
- DeCosey is Temple's leading scorer this season with 15.5 points per game, ranking in a tie for fifth in the American Athletic Conference, and has scored in double figures in 10 of 11 contests.
- For a second year in a row, Temple has been picked to finish sixth of 11 teams in the American Athletic Conference Preseason Poll. Last year, the Owls finished three spots higher in a tie for third.
- The Owls are coming off a 26-11 season that marked the best turnaround in NCAA Division I, as they won 17 more games than in the previous season.
- Dunphy earned his 500th career win when Temple defeated Memphis in The American Tournament quarterfinals last season, and is now one of just 25 active NCAA Division I coaches with 500 victories.
- Houston comes into Saturday's game at 11-2 overall and having won three straight, including a double-overtime win vs. Wyoming on Dec. 22. Four players are averaging in double figures in scoring for the Cougars, led by sophomore guard Rob Gray, Jr. at 18.5 ppg. With 83.2 ppg as a team, Houston ranks second in The American.

TEMPLE VS. HOUSTON

- Temple and Houston are meeting for the fourth time, with the Cougars holding a 2-1 lead in the series.
- Houston won both meetings in 2013-14, but the Owls won 66-54 at home in the only meeting of the 2014-15 season.
- Houston's wins the year before came by scores of 88-74 on its home court and 89-79 at Temple on March 1, 2014.
- Second-year Houston head coach Kelvin Sampson is 0-2 against Temple, losing to the Owls last season and also losing 61-43 (March 17, 1996) in the NCAA First Round while he was the head coach at Oklahoma.

LAST MEETING: TEMPLE 66, HOUSTON 54 (FEB. 26, 2015)

- Four players scored in double figures as Temple used a big second half for a 66-54 win over Houston on Feb. 26 at the Liacouras Center.
- Quenton DeCosey led the way with 16 points and tied his career high with nine rebounds, helping the Owls notch their 20th win of the season.
- Jaylen Bond tied DeCosey for team-high honors in rebounds with nine, while also scoring 15 points on 6-of-8 shooting from the field. Senior Will Cummings added a game-high seven assists to 14 points, and senior Jesse Morgan scored 10 points.
- Temple trailed by five at halftime but went on to outscore Houston 37-20 while shooting over 55 percent from the field in the second half.
- There were four ties in a high-scoring first half, but three of those ties came after Temple's final lead of the period which was 10-8 in the first four minutes.
- After the final tie at 26-26 with 7:26 remaining, Houston took the lead and held it for the remainder. The Cougars' largest lead of the half was five, which they matched at the break, taking a 34-29 lead into the locker room.
- The Owls hit six three-pointers in the first half, with both Cummings and Morgan hitting two apiece.
- Bond scored four points including a monster one-handed dunk as part of an 8-0 Temple run to start the second half, giving the Owls a three-point, 37-34 lead at 16:19. Temple held Houston to just a single point and no field goals for over seven minutes, leading by as many as six during that stretch.
- After the Cougars scored six in a row including their first field goal of the half, the Owls made another run to begin pulling away. With the game tied at 41-41, Bond scored six more points and slammed another dunk as part of an 11-2 run that gave Temple its largest lead of nine, 52-43 with 8:19 to go.
- Just two minutes later, back-to-back layups for Cummings gave Temple its first double-digit lead, and Devin Coleman extended the advantage to 15 with a reverse layup followed by a fast break layup. Over the final four minutes the Owls got a pair of buckets from DeCosey to keep Houston from coming within fewer than 12.

TEMPLE MEN'S BASKETBALL

LAST TIME OUT: TEMPLE 77, #22/23 CINCINNATI 70 (DEC. 29, 2015)

- For a ninth year in a row, Temple defeated a nationally ranked team as the Owls started their American Athletic Conference schedule with a 77-70 road win at #22/23 Cincinnati.
- Temple broke open an extremely tight game with eight straight points in the final minutes, including three-pointers by both Devin Coleman and Daniel Dingle. The pair, who both finished with 14 points, were two of four players to score in double figures for the Owls.
- Quenton DeCosey hit 10-of-11 at the line and led Temple with 19 points in the win. Coleman hit 4-of-7 from long range, while Dingle reached his career high in scoring by hitting 6-of-10 overall including 2-of-3 from behind the arc. Josh Brown scored 11 points for the Owls, while Jaylen Bond pulled down a team-high six rebounds.
- Temple matched its best shooting percentage of the season at 50 percent, and also matched its most three-pointers made with 10. Five players hit treys in the game, including freshman Levan Shawn Alston, Jr. who hit both of his attempts.
- The first half featured five ties and 10 lead changes, but it was the Owls who took the lead for the final three minutes with a 6-0 run. Temple shot an impressive and season-best 57.1 percent from the field in the opening period, also hitting 5-of-11 from long range.
- The Bearcats led by as many as seven early in the half, 14-7 after a 7-0 run, but Temple used a 14-4 run to lead 21-18 at the nine-minute mark. The teams then stayed within three points of each other for the next seven minutes, with the lead changing hands a number of times. Two free throws for DeCosey at 3:08 started a 6-0 run that put the Owls in the lead for good, once by as many as five.
- Cincinnati's Octavius Ellis converted a three-point play in the final seconds of the half, cutting Temple's lead to two, 39-37 at the break.
- Another four ties and six lead changes came in the second half. Temple had some early five-point leads, the last at 60-55 just past the midway point. With back-to-back buckets at six and five minutes left, Cincinnati took a 63-62 lead, but it would be the last advantage for the Bearcats.
- After the game's 11th tie, 65-65 with three minutes left, two DeCosey free throws were followed by treys for Dingle and then Coleman, putting Temple up 73-65 and in the lead for good. The Bearcats rallied back to make it 73-70 with 37 seconds to go, but 4-of-6 at the line to close out the game was enough for Temple to remain ahead. The Owls were aided by a strong defensive rebound from Bond and a key steal by Brown with 11 seconds to go.

One for 200

Temple head coach Fran Dunphy needs just one more win to reach 200 victories in his tenure at Temple. With Temple's seventh win of the season he will join Roy Williams, Eddie Sutton, Lou Henson and Rick Pitino as the only coaches in NCAA Division I history to win 200 games at two different schools while also reaching the NCAA Tournament six times with each program.

Conference Openers

Since the start of Atlantic 10 play in 1982, Temple is now 22-12 all-time in conference openers. The Owls had a record of 20-11 in A-10 openers, and are 2-1 since joining the American Athletic Conference. They lost their first American opener at Rutgers (71-66 on Jan. 1, 2014), but won their second 57-53 at defending NCAA champion UConn on Dec. 31, 2014, and their third 77-70 at #22/21 Cincinnati on Dec. 29, 2015. When opening conference play on the road since 1982, Temple is 10-7. The Owls' game at Cincinnati marked the eighth time in head coach Fran Dunphy's 10 seasons that they have played their conference opener on the road. Temple is now 5-5 in conference openers under Fran Dunphy, with a 4-4 record in road openers.

Assistance From Brown

Junior point guard Josh Brown has reset his career high in assists twice this season. In the Owls' win at Penn on Dec. 9, he dished a career-high nine assists while recording just a single turnover. Brown currently ranks fourth in The American in assists per game (4.5) and ranks third in assist/turnover ratio (2.8).

500th Win for Dunphy

Temple head coach Fran Dunphy became the 24th active Division I men's basketball head coach to reach the 500-win mark with the Owls' 80-75 win over Memphis on March 13, 2015. He joined Hall of Fame Owl legend John Chaney as the only two coaches in Philadelphia Big 5 history to record 500 wins. Chaney compiled 516 in his 24 years patrolling the Temple sidelines (1982-2006).

DeCosey Hits 1,000

Temple senior guard Quenton DeCosey had scored 998 points heading into the Puerto Rico Tip-Off, and a three-pointer early in the Owls' opening-game win vs. Minnesota made him the 51st player in program history to reach the 1,000-point plateau. DeCosey, who was honored for his milestone prior to the FDU game on Dec. 2, led Temple with 22 points that night and has now scored 1,157 career points (40th all-time).

Handle With Care

Temple proved adept at taking care of the ball last season, and the Owls led the conference and ranked eighth among all Division I teams in fewest turnovers at 9.5 per game. This year Temple has protected the ball even better. Despite playing three ranked foes in their first four games, the Owls are ranked first nationally in fewest turnovers per game with an 8.5 average. Temple led the nation in fewest turnovers 11 times under Hall of Fame head coach John Chaney. (n.b. - NCAA records only date back to the 1993 season).

Jaylen Bond Named 2015-16 Temple Men's Basketball Team Captain

Senior forward Jaylen Bond, the leading returning rebounder in the American Athletic Conference, has been named the Temple men's basketball team captain for the 2015-16 season. Bond becomes the first solo team captain at Temple in Fran Dunphy's 10 seasons at the helm. The last Owl to be a solo captain was David Hawkins during his senior season in 2003-04.

"Jaylen was the consensus choice by a vote of his teammates," said Dunphy, the 2015 American Athletic Conference Coach of Year. "He is everything a coach wants in a captain. He is a hard worker, who leads by example, and most importantly he has earned the respect of his teammates."

Bond, a Philadelphia native (Plymouth-Whitemarsh HS), transferred to Temple prior to the 2013-14 season after playing his first two seasons at the University of Texas. After sitting out his first year at Temple, he averaged 7.6 points and 7.9 rebounds per game while starting 29 of 35 games played. The 6-8 forward was named second team all-Philadelphia Big 5 and honorable mention all-conference. He was second on the team and sixth in conference in steals (1.4 spg).

TEMPLE MEN'S BASKETBALL

Home Sweet Home

The Liacouras Center has proven to be a tremendous home court advantage. Since the arena opened its doors in 1997, the Owls have posted a 189-58 (.765) all-time record, and set the record for wins in a single season with 16 in 2014-15. That marked the seventh 10-win season in the last eight campaigns for the Owls at home and Temple is 95-22 (.812) at home since the start of the 2007-08 campaign. To the right is a list of 10-win seasons in the building (bold under Dunphy).

Loaded Schedule

Temple faced Top 25 teams in three of its first four games for the first time in program history. Twice before, in 1990-91 and 1993-94, the Owls faced ranked teams in three of their first five games. Temple was unable to defeat any of those three ranked teams at the start of the season (#1/1 North Carolina, #22/20 Butler and #16/16 Utah), but the Owls got another chance at #22/23 Cincinnati on Dec. 29 and made it count with a 77-70 road win. This season now marks the ninth in a row in which Temple has a win over a Top 25 team. Last year the Owls earned a 77-52 win against #10 Kansas, giving head coach Fran Dunphy a sixth win over a Top 10 team.

Big 5 History

The Owls earned a share of their 27th Big 5 title in 2012-13, with that total (21 shared, six outright) leading the Big 5. Temple's 133-93 record in city series games ranks second, and the Owls have won four Big 5 titles in head coach Fran Dunphy's eight seasons. Temple finished 2-2 in Big 5 play last season with wins over Penn and La Salle, a narrow, 58-56 loss to Saint Joseph's and finally a loss to #7/7 Villanova. The Wildcats earned the Big 5 title in 2014-15 with a perfect 4-0 record.

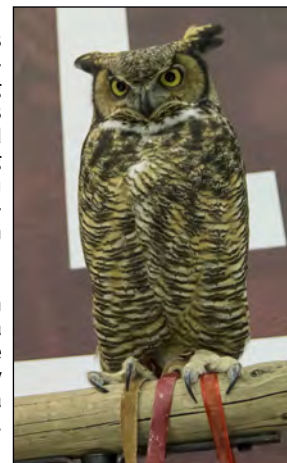

Alums Return to Fran Dunphy's Staff

Two Temple alums joined head coach Fran Dunphy's staff in the offseason, while a third was promoted within the staff. Chris Clark ('08), who helped lead the Owls to the first of six straight NCAA Tournaments under Dunphy, now serves as video coordinator for the team. Luis Guzman ('10), who played a significant role in three Atlantic 10 Champion teams and made four NCAA Tournament appearances with the Owls, joined the program as a graduate manager. Former basketball manager Raheem Mapp ('09), who has worked with the team in various capacities since 2006, was promoted to director of basketball operations after serving five years as the administrative/video coordinator for the team.

Mascot Double Trouble: Hooter and Stella

Temple Athletics has both a traditional and a live mascot cheering on its teams, as Hooter the Owl and Stella can both often be found on the sidelines. To honor Temple's beginning as a night school for ambitious young people, the nocturnal owl was adopted as its mascot. The owl represents wisdom and knowledge and is known for being perceptive, resourceful and courageous. Hooter the Owl is a part of Temple's Spirit Squad, making appearances games, alumni events and more. Each February, mascots from all over the city of Philadelphia come to Temple to celebrate Hooter's birthday at a home basketball game, which will take place this season on Saturday, Feb. 27 against UCF.

Stella, a great horned owl, began her career as Temple's live mascot in 2013. Though she's small—just 2 feet tall and only 3 pounds—Stella is a mighty predator, with an impressive 60-inch wingspan and talons capable of crushing prey with 28 pounds of force per square inch. She currently resides in the Elmwood Park Zoo in Norristown, Pa., where she also is a wildlife conservation teacher. Stella originally hails from Washington state. Her favorite foods include rodents, rabbits and snakes.

Chairman of the Boards

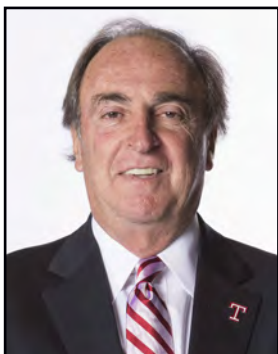

Junior forward Jaylen Bond made an immediate impact in his first season at Temple after transferring to the school from Texas. The Philadelphia native led the American Athletic Conference with a 7.9 average. Temple forward Anthony Lee led The American in 2013-14 in rebounding (8.6 rpg). Prior to that, the last Temple player to lead a conference in rebounding was Duane Causwell, who averaged 8.9 boards during the 1988-89 season to top the Atlantic 10 Conference. Tim Perry was the only other Owl to lead the A-10 in rebounding, doing it twice (8.6 rpg in 1986-87; 9.5 rpg in 1985-86).

Double-Digit Debut

With his 12 points against #1/1 North Carolina, Levan Shawn Alston, Jr., became the first true freshman to score in double figures in his Temple debut since Mark Tyndale tallied 19 points in an 80-78 home loss to Auburn on Nov. 19, 2004. Redshirt freshman Ramone Moore also scored in double figures with 11 points in 20 minutes in a 79-65 win over East Tennessee State at Charleston Classic on Nov. 14, 2008. Alston's father, Levan Alston, scored six points in 34 minutes off the bench in his first game as an Owl, a 65-54 win over USC at the Martin Luther King Classic in Memphis on November 27, 1994. A transfer from New Orleans, Alston was a junior at the time.

Summer Session

Freshman guards Levan Shawn Alston, Jr., and Trey Lowe are playing their first season at Temple together, but it is not the first time they have been teammates. The Owl duo played together on the AAU squad Team Final Basketball in the summer of 2014.

10TH SEASON • LA SALLE '70 509-276 Overall • 199-113 at Temple

One of 25 active NCAA Division I coaches with 500 victories, Fran Dunphy is in his 10th season at the helm of the Temple men's basketball program. One of the all-time winningest coaches in Philadelphia Big 5 history, Dunphy will become just the fifth coach to win 200 games at two different Division I programs while also taking both schools to six or more NCAA Tournaments. He will join Lou Henson (New Mexico, Illinois), Rick Pitino (Kentucky, Louisville), Eddie Sutton (Arkansas, Oklahoma State) and Roy Williams (Kansas, North Carolina) in this elite club.

A part of Big 5 Basketball for the last six decades, Dunphy starred at La Salle as a player (1967-70) and served on the Explorer staff as an assistant coach before embarking on a 17-year stint as the head coach of the Penn Quakers (1989-06). He became the first person to serve as the head men's basketball coach at two Philadelphia Big 5 institutions when he took over the reins of the Temple program from Hall of Fame coach John Chaney on April 10, 2006.

All he has done at Temple is win. He ranks fourth on the school's all-time coaching win list with a 199-113 record while guiding the Owls to six NCAA Tournaments, three conference titles and a trip to the 2015 NIT Semifinals in his nine years at the helm. His Temple teams have defeated six Top 10 teams in his tenure and have appeared in the Top 25 during 24 weeks.

Dunphy recorded his historic 500th coaching win in impeccable fashion last season by knocking off Memphis, 80-75, in the American Athletic Conference Quarterfinal round on March 13. His overall record stands at 509-276 which includes 16 20-win seasons, 15 NCAA Tournament appearances, 13 conference championships, eight Big 5 titles and one NIT trip.

Named Philadelphia Big 5 Coach of the Year in four of his nine seasons at Temple, Dunphy led his second Owl squad on a late-season run to the Atlantic 10 Championship. He guided the Cherry and White to a 21-13 overall mark in 2007-08, including a second place A-10 regular season finish with an 11-5 conference record. He followed that by directing his charges in 2008-09 to a 22-12 record, 11-5 in league play, and another conference championship.

The 2009-10 season is one that will go down as one of the best in Temple lore. Picked tied for fifth in the A-10 preseason poll, Dunphy motivated his charges to their first A-10 regular season title (9th overall) since 2002 with a 14-2 record. The 2010 A-10 and NABC District Coach of the Year brought the Owls back into the national spotlight with the program's first national ranking since 2001, with the team staying in the polls for 13 consecutive weeks. His Owls would go on to become just the second A-10 team to win three consecutive conference championships while also posting just the fifth perfect Philadelphia Big 5 season in the program's history.

The number one accomplishment achieved by the 2009-10 Temple team, that finished the season with a #12 ranking in the Associated Press poll, was its 29 victories (against six defeats), which ranks third in the school's history.

In 2010-11, Dunphy led the Owls to a 26-8 record, including another 14-2 mark in A-10 play, and a fourth straight trip to the NCAA Tournament. This time the Owls, the 7-seed in West Region, defeated 10th-seeded Penn State, 66-64, in the second round for the program's first NCAA win since 2001. The Cherry and White game second-seeded San Diego State all they could handle in the next game before falling to the #5/6-ranked Aztecs, 71-64, in double-overtime.

It was a great season for Temple as the Owls were ranked among the nation's Top 25 for eight weeks during the season, climbing as high as #19 in the January 10 Associated Press poll. The Owls also overcame mid-February injuries to two starters, closing the season with seven wins in their final 10 games. The only losses in that stretch came to NCAA Sweet 16 participants Duke, Richmond and San Diego State.

In 2011-12, despite losing projected starter Scootie Randall for the season and center Micheal Eric for 13 games, Dunphy guided his charges to a 24-8 mark and the program's first outright A10 regular season title since 1989-90. The Owls finished 13-3 in league play and Dunphy earned his second A10 Coach of the Year honor for his efforts. Temple defeated #3/3 Duke to mark its fourth straight season with a win over a Top 10 opponent, and later cracked the national polls for the third straight year.

Temple, which also shared the Big 5 title, earned an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament for the second straight season, and was the fifth-seed in the NCAA Midwest Region.

In 2012-13, Dunphy again guided the Owls to another 20-plus win campaign with the Cherry and White becoming one of eight teams to compete in the last six straight NCAA Tournaments. Temple also knocked off a Top 10 team, this time #3/3 Syracuse, 83-79, at Madison Square Garden (12/22/12) to extend its current nation's best record to five straight seasons of defeating a Top 10 foe while being unranked at the time.

Temple would finish the campaign with a 24-10 record, advancing to the third round of the NCAA Tournament before narrowly falling to top-ranked Indiana, 58-52. The Owls capped their final season in the Atlantic 10 Conference with a thrilling 84-76 win over #19/21 VCU on CBS to finish tied for third in the league with an 11-5 record.

The program struggled in 2013-14, its first season in the American Athletic Conference. In a classic rebuilding year, the Owls posted a 9-22 record. The Cherry and White did continue its streak of wins over a nationally-ranked program to seven with a 71-64 upset over #23 SMU.

In 2014-15, Dunphy led his team to the best turnaround among all Division I teams, posting 17 more wins than the previous season to finish at 26-11 overall and 13-5 in the conference. A signature win over #10 Kansas was among the total as the Owls posted a 77-52 victory over the Jayhawks at the Wells Fargo Center (12/22).

The Owls finished the regular season 23-10, but were surprisingly left out of the NCAA Tournament. As the #1 overall seed in the NIT, Dunphy, in his time coaching in the tournament, guided Temple to wins over Bucknell, George Washington and Louisiana Tech to reach the semifinals, before falling to Miami at Madison Square Garden.

Dunphy was named American Athletic Conference Coach of the Year, marking his third conference coach of the year honor (A-10: 2010, 2012). He also joined Chaney (516) as one of only two coaches to win 500 or more games at Big 5 schools.

One of the most respected coaches in the nation, Dunphy has coached eight Conference Players of the Year, three Conference Rookies of the Year, five perfect Conference seasons and 53 All-Conference honorees.

Prior to joining Penn's coaching staff, Dunphy served as an assistant under Speedy Morris at his alma mater, La Salle University (1985-86 through 1987-88). The Philadelphia native's coaching career began at the United States Military Academy (1971-72), where he served as an assistant under head coach Dan Dougherty. In 1975, he became head coach of his high school alma mater, Malvern Prep. He remained there until becoming Lefty Ervin's assistant at La Salle University (1979-80).

The following year, Dunphy joined current Maryland head coach Gary Williams' staff at American University. He served as an assistant two seasons under Williams, and the final three years under Ed Tapscott, the former head coach of the NBA's Washington Wizards (2008-09). He returned to La Salle in 1985, serving one more season under Ervin and assisting Morris for two seasons. He left La Salle to become Tom Schneider's assistant at Penn in 1988.

In 1989, Dunphy was named the 16th head coach at Penn. He would compile a 310-163 overall record in his 17-year career. His Quaker teams won an unprecedented 48 straight Ivy League games and four league titles from 1992 through 1996. His 1993-94 team posted a 25-3 record and earned a Number 25 ranking in the CNN/USA Today Coaches' Poll, the program's first such ranking since the 1978-79 campaign. That year also included a 90-80 first round upset of sixth-seed Nebraska in the NCAA Tournament.

In his last eight seasons at Penn, Dunphy guided the Quakers to six Ivy League titles and a 93-19 league record. From 1999-2001, he led Penn to 25 straight league wins, including a perfect 14-0 mark in 1999-2000. In 2001-02, Dunphy's Quakers posted a 25-7 record and won the school's first outright city-series title with a perfect 4-0 mark since 1973-74.

A full-time educator on and off the court, Dunphy is in his eighth year teaching in Temple's prestigious Fox School of Business. He is team-teaching an honors course with Dr. Lynne Anderson, entitled, Management, Theory & Practice: From the Locker Room to the Board Room. He previously had served as a lecturer in the Wharton Executive Education program and in the management department of the Wharton School.

Dunphy is one of the leaders in the local Coaches vs. Cancer campaign and was named to the National Council of Coaches vs. Cancer. He was also honored as the 2002 National Coaches vs. Cancer Coach of the Year for his service and tireless dedication to those in need. On September 23, 2008, he joined four other coaches to speak to legislators on Capitol Hill on the need for more funding for cancer research.

The Owl mentor also devotes time to Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Greater Philadelphia's Board of Directors, and his Penn and Temple teams have participated in the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program each year. He is also a member of the Philadelphia CYO Hall of Fame.

A 1970 La Salle graduate with a degree in marketing, Dunphy was an outstanding player under Explorers' head coach Tom Gola. As a junior, he helped the Explorers to a 23-1 record. He served as a co-captain his senior year when he averaged 18.6 ppg and led the team in assists, while also being named the MVP of the annual Quaker City Basketball Tournament. In 1979, he earned a Master's degree in counseling and human relations from Villanova University.

Dunphy and his wife, Ree, reside in Villanova, Pa., with their son, J.P.

Mr. Big Five

Temple head coach Fran Dunphy is synonymous with the Philadelphia Big 5. Dunphy, who lived his first 10 years in Southwest Philadelphia before moving to nearby Drexel Hill, Pa., starred at La Salle from 1967 through 1970. He would later serve as an assistant at his alma mater (1979-80; 1985-88) before taking the assistant coaching job at Penn for the 1988-89 season. After one season he would take over as the Quakers head coach, compiling a 310-163 record in 17 seasons. He is now in his 10th season at Temple. He received a master's degree in counseling from Villanova, and currently resides in Villanova, Pa.

A Man For All Causes

Dunphy has been a major contributor of his time and energy to the American Cancer Society through Coaches vs. Cancer. He has spearheaded the local efforts of the six Division I coaches that have led to raising over $1 million to benefit the American Cancer Society. Named the Coaches vs. Cancer National Coach of the Year for his efforts, Dunphy has helped to steer events in the area such as the Coaches vs. Cancer Golf Outing; the Coaches vs. Cancer Basketball; coordinated open practices with the six area teams and holding a March Madness Breakfast to raise awareness for the cause. He was honored in 2008 as a local hero by Bank of America for his role with Coaches vs. Cancer.

Another cause that Dunphy champions is Big Brothers/Big Sisters. The Owl coach devotes his time to Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Greater Philadelphia by serving on the organization's Board of Trustees. His Penn teams participated in Big Brothers/Big Sisters programs each year during his tenure at the school. His Temple teams have been actively participating in the program the past three seasons.

Dunphy is also a member of the Philadelphia CYO Hall of Fame.

Under Dunphy, the Owls won the outright A-10 regular season title in 2011-12 for the first time since 1989-90. During Temple's years in the A-10 under Dunphy, the Owls went 80-32 in A-10 play and won three A-10 Championships (2008, 2009, 2010).

Professor Dunphy

For the eighth straight year, Dunphy taught an honors course in the University's prestigious Fox School of Business with Dr. Lynne Andersson. The course, titled Management, Theory and Practice: From the Locker Room to the Board Room, is offered in the fall semester.

Top 25 Coach

Temple coach Fran Dunphy entered last season ranked 25th among active NCAA Division I coaches in wins with 477, needing just 23 victories to join an elite group (88 all-time, now 25 active) of coaches with 500 wins while coaching at least a decade at the Division I level. Dunphy reached the 500-win mark when the Owls beat Memphis in the American Tournament quarterfinals, and is now one of 25 active Division I coaches to record 500 career wins.

As a team, Temple is currently leading the American Athletic Conference in free throw percentage at .744. The Owls have shot over 80 percent at the line three times this season, including twice in the last six games. Their best performances so far saw them hit 8-of-9 (.889) vs. #22/20 Butler (Nov. 20) and 25-of-28 (.893) in a win vs. FDU (12/2). The Owls were close to 80 percent in a win vs. Delaware State (Dec. 19), setting a season record for free throws made, hitting 30-of-38 (.789).

Individually, senior Quenton DeCosey leads the team and ranks fourth in the conference at .859 (55-64) while junior Josh Brown is close behind, ranking in a tie for seventh in the conference at .833 (25-30). DeCosey had 15 chances at the line vs. Delaware State and made 12 of them (.800), and followed that performance by going 10-of-11 (.909) in a win at #22/23 Cincinnati.

Bond Doubling Up

Senior forward Jaylen Bond notched five double-doubles for Temple last season, and has recorded three in the first 11 games of 2015. Bond put up back-to-back double-doubles earlier in the season, scoring 12 points and grabbing 10 rebounds at both Wisconsin and Penn.

Alani Moore, Damion Moore and Quinton Rose Sign National Letters of Intent

Temple head basketball coach Fran Dunphy has announced the signing of three highly-touted recruits, Alani Moore, Damion Moore and Quinton Rose, to National Letters of Intent.

"We are excited to welcome these three to the Temple Basketball family," said Dunphy. "These are not only talented young men on the court, but outstanding citizens who will be a great fit as teammates. They will play a big part in helping the program continue its storied history of success."

Alani Moore, a 5-10, 150-pound point guard, will play at Friendship Collegiate Academy (Washington, D.C.) this season after starring at Montrose Christian in 2014-15. The Hyattsville, Md., native averaged 17.4 points per game for Montrose as junior to earn first team All-Met honors.

Damion Moore, a 6-10 center from Callaway (Miss.) High School, is a three-star prospect who averaged 3.9 points, 4.6 rebounds and 1.1 blocks per game on Callaway's state championship squad as a junior. He showed his enormous potential in Callaway's 2015-16 season opener when he led the Chargers with 25 points and 10 rebounds.

Rose, a 6-6, 175-pound guard out of Bishop Kearney in Rochester, N.Y., averaged 15.4 points, seven rebounds and seven assists during the 2014-15 season. The three-year varsity performer earned a spot on the 15-player Democrat and Chronicle All-Greater Rochester Team in 2015.

Giant Killers

When Temple defeated #3/3 Syracuse on Dec. 12, 2012 (83-79), it marked the fifth straight season in which the unranked Owls had taken down a Top 10 opponent. That feat did not occur during the 2013-14 season, but Temple has now achieved it in six of the last eight seasons after a 77-52 defeat of #10/10 Kansas on Dec. 22. The win vs. the Jayhawks came two years to the day after the Syracuse win.

The Kansas win gave the Owls a victory over a Top 25 team for an eighth season in a row, and was the sixth win over a Top 10 team for head coach Fran Dunphy. With the Owls' 77-70 win at #22/23 Cincinnati on Dec. 29, they have now beaten a Top 25 opponent for nine straight seasons.

On Dec. 13, 2008, Dionte Christmas scored 35 points to lead the Owls to an 88-72 win over #8/8 Tennessee. On Dec. 13, 2009, Juan Fernandez delivered a career-high 33 points in a 75-65 win over #3/3 Villanova. On Dec. 9, 2010, Ramone Moore exploded for a career-high 30 points in a 68-65 win over #9/10 Georgetown. On Jan. 4, 2012, it was Khalif Wyatt scoring 22 points to propel the Owls to a 78-73 win over #3/5 Duke. Wyatt did it again with a career-high 33 points in the win over the Orange in 2012.

20/20 Vision

Temple recorded its 35th 20-win season in 2014-15. It marked the seventh time (in nine seasons) that head coach Fran Dunphy led the Owls to a 20-win campaign. From 2007-13 Temple recorded six straight 20-win seasons, tying the program record for consecutive 20-win seasons, set under Hall of Fame head coach John Chaney (1995-01). Chaney posted 15 20-win seasons (24 seasons) while fellow Hall of Fame coach Harry Litwick compiled eight (21 seasons).

For Three

Temple has made at least one three-pointer in 651 consecutive games. The last time the Owls did not make a three-pointer in a game was February 1, 1996. Temple missed all 16 three-point attempts that day in dropping a 59-35 decision to #1 UMass at McGonigle Hall.

On the Radio

For the 15th straight year Temple men's basketball is being broadcast live on 1210 AM WPHT. All the Owls' games will be carried on the radio with Harry Donahue handling play-by-play and John Baum providing color commentary.

Hometown Hero

Redshirt sophomore Daniel Dingle returned to his high school, St. Raymond's, Jan. 25 to have his Temple jersey hung in the gym. Dingle is one of 36 former St. Raymond's players to go on and play at NCAA Division I schools and his jersey joins his brother's, Dana Dingle, who starred at UMass from 1992-96.

Three's For Hunger

Temple Men's Basketball, Learfield Sports' Temple Sports Properties and The Fresh Grocer of Progress Plaza are working together to give back to Philabundance, Philadelphia's largest food bank. For every three-point basket made during the 2015-16 men's basketball season, The Fresh Grocer of Progress Plaza will donate one case of non-perishable food and goods to Philabundance.

Temple to Compete in 2016 NIT Season Tip-Off

Temple will be among four teams headlining the NIT Season Tip-Off as it returns to Barclays Center in 2016. The Owls will be joined by Florida State, Illinois and West Virginia in the championship round.

The 2016 Preseason NIT marks the sixth time that Temple has participated in the prestigious tournament. The Owls placed third in the 1986 tournament and were runners up in the 2000 event. The Cherry and White also competed in 1990, 1995 and 2005.

In its second year under the ESPN Events umbrella, the 2016 NIT Season Tip-Off will maintain its format with Florida State, Illinois, Temple and West Virginia each hosting two games at home against designated campus-site teams prior to traveling to Brooklyn. The full schedule, remaining four teams, and campus-site games will be announced at a later date.

1987-88 Team to be Inducted into Big 5 Hall of Fame

The 1987-88 Temple men's basketball team that finished as the AP's #1 ranked team and advanced to the NCAA Elite 8 with a 32-2 overall record, will be one of five teams inducted into the Philadelphia Big 5 Hall of Fame on April 11, 2016 at the league's annual awards banquet.

This marks the first time the Big 5 has inducted teams into its prestigious Hall of Fame. The other teams are: the 1968-69 La Salle Explorers (23-1, #2 national ranking); the 1970-71 Penn Quakers (28-1, #3 national ranking); 2003-04 Saint Joseph's Hawks (30-2, #1 national ranking) and 1984-85 Villanova Wildcats (25-10, NCAA Champions).

John Chaney earned his second straight USBWA National Coach of the Year award following the season while freshman guard Mark Macon was named to the Associated Press All-America Second Team. Macon was joined on the all-Atlantic 10 First Team by his backcourt mate, senior Howard Evans, and fellow senior forward Tim Perry, who earned A10 Player of the Year accolades. Junior forward Mike Vreeswyk earned second team all-conference honors.

Temple Advances to 2015 NIT Semifinals

The Owls are coming off a 26-11 season that marked the best turnaround in NCAA Division I, as they won 17 more games than in the previous season. After barely missing out on an at-large NCAA Tournament berth in 2014-15, the Owls made a run through the NIT all the way to the semifinals at Madison Square Garden, where they fell 60-57 to Miami (FL).

Training Techniques

Temple head coach Fran Dunphy employed some unique training methods this off-season to make sure his team was mentally and physically ready for the upcoming season. The Owls worked out at the Joe Hand Boxing Gym in Philadelphia for four sessions in July. The team even was counseled by World Champion Bernard Hopkins, who trains at the gym. The Owls then had cross-fit and spinning training workouts in the summer to improve their cardiovascular fitness before embarking on hour-long yoga sessions the last three weeks to work on their mental approach.

Trio of Tens

Temple posted its 10th win before January 1 for a third time under head coach Fran Dunphy last season and just the fifth time in program history. Besides the 2014-15 season, Dunphy's 2012-13 Owls, which finished 24-10, and 2009-10 squad (29-6) also accomplished the feat. Both of those teams advanced to the NCAA Tournament. Hall of Fame coaches John Chaney (1986-87 team, 32-4, NCAA) and Harry Litwack (1965-66, 21-7, NIT) each accomplished the feat once.

Flipping the Stats

At the conclusion of the 2013-14 season, Temple was last in The American in scoring defense and field goal percentage defense, as well as eighth among 10 teams in three-point field goal percentage defense. The Owls' offseason work on the defensive end was obvious last season, as Temple ranked third, fourth or fifth among 11 teams in all three categories. Only seven of the Owls' 36 opponents scored over 70 points, with 19 others scoring 60 points or less.

Bright Lights

At least 29 national television games highlight Temple's 2015-16 schedule. Temple will appear on ESPN entities a total of at least 21 times during the course of the season.

Record-Setting Defense

Temple's stifling defense held Tulane to a Liacouras Center record-low eight points in the first half of a 55-37 win on Jan. 31. It was the lowest scoring total in a half for any team ever in the building. Tulane's 37 points matched the lowest total for an opponent in the Fran Dunphy era, with the Owls also achieving that feat against American in the 2014-15 season opener. For the program, it marked the first time since the 1993-94 season that Temple had held two opponents to under 40 points in the same season.

Going Overtime

Temple is 56-48 overall in overtime contests and has won 14 of its last 19 overtime tilts. Prior to the 2013-14 season's Dec. 7 OT loss vs. Texas, the Owls had won five straight OT games dating back to a double overtime loss to San Diego State (71-64) in the third round of the 2011 NCAA Tournament. TU had won 12 straight single OT games dating back to a 73-69 win over Marist (11/18/08).

The Owls won their only overtime game of the 2014-15 season, a 57-53 decision at defending NCAA champion UConn in the American Athletic Conference opener on Dec. 31.

Temple is 0-1 in overtime games so far in 2015-16, falling by just a single point to Big 5 foe Saint Joseph's, 66-65 at home on Dec. 13.

Practice Palace

Temple's $10 million basketball practice facility was completed in January, 2012, and the Donald and Nancy Resnick Court was officially dedicated on October 5. Part of the $48 million renovation to Pearson and McGonigle Halls, the new state-of-the-art facility, features separate courts for the Owls' men's and women's basketball teams.

A Dynamic Duo

Temple has two Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame coaches. The first inductee was Harry Litwack, who coached the Owls from 1952 to 1973 and registered 373 wins. Litwack was inducted on April 26, 1976. John Chaney, who retired March 12, 2006 after 24 seasons and 516 wins at Temple, was inducted on October 5, 2001. Temple is only one of nine universities who have two coaches in the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame. The center jump circle at the Liacouras Center is jointly named in honor of these two coaching legends.
