HEADLINES

- After winning three straight including an 89-80 upset of #8 and previously undefeated SMU, the Owls stumbled in their most recent game and lost 64-61 at East Carolina in the final seconds.
- Temple's most recent win saw the Owls get back to their giant-killing ways with the victory against SMU, and they have now taken down a Top 10 team in seven of the last eight seasons.
- Overall, the Owls have won five of their last seven including a double-overtime win against Cincinnati on Jan. 16.
- Sophomore forward Obi Enechionya led Temple with 18 points at ECU on Jan. 27. The Owls led for more than half of a game that saw 12 ties and 14 lead changes, but they suffered a six-minute scoring drought near the final stretch.
- In the SMU win on Jan. 24, senior guard Devin Coleman went a perfect 8-of-8 from the field including 7-of-7 from long range. He scored a career and game-high 23 points, and was named The American's Player of the Week.
- With 7.6 made three-pointers per game, Temple now leads all teams in the American Athletic Conference.
- Temple has faced six ranked teams already this season, with its three wins being the most since 2005-06. The Owls now have at least one win over a ranked opponent for nine straight seasons.
- The Owls have three regular-season wins over Top 25 teams, the most since 1999-00. This season also marks the first since 1998 that the Owls have beaten two Top 25 opponents on the road.
- Senior guard Quenton DeCosey is Temple's leading scorer this season with 15.7 points per game, ranking third in the conference, and has scored in double figures in 17 of 19 contests. He has scored 1,285 points to rank 32nd all-time in program history. When DeCosey scores at least 20 points, the Owls are 5-1 so far this season.
- Senior Jaylen Bond, the Owls' leading rebounder at 8.2 rpg (eighth in the league), has missed the past two games with a lower back injury.
- The Owls' 55-53 win at #23/24 UConn on Jan. 5 was the 200th win for head coach Fran Dunphy in his 10 seasons at Temple. He is now one of just five Division I coaches with 200 or more wins at two different schools, while also taking each school to six or more NCAA Tournaments.
- With 514 wins, Dunphy is just three wins away from surpassing former Owl coach John Chaney and becoming the all-time winningest coach in Philadelphia Big 5 history. With his next win, Dunphy will have 205 at Temple and will tie James Usilton, Sr., for third place in all-time coaching wins for the program behind Chaney and Harry Litwack.
- As a team, the Owls are ranked fourth in the nation in fewest turnovers per game at 9.5. They have recorded single digit turnovers in 10 of 19 games, tallying as few as five (vs. Delaware on 11/29).
- USF is 5-17 overall and had lost nine in a row before turning it around with back-to-back wins. The Bulls won 71-62 at Houston on Jan. 23, and followed it with a 73-60 win at Tulane on Jan. 27.
- Freshman guard Jahmal McMurray leads USF with 15 ppg and 49-of-140 three-pointers (.350).

TEMPLE VS. USF

- Temple and USF are meeting for the sixth time, with the Owls leading 3-2 in the all-time series.
- The Owls have won three in a row including both meeting last season. They won by 25 points, 73-48 on Jan. 22 at home, and later won 61-48 at USF on Feb. 4.
- The teams split meetings in 2013-14, with each winning on the other's home court. On Jan. 9, USF used a late run to beat the Owls 82-75 in Philadelphia. Two months later on March 8, Temple edged the Bulls 66-65 in Tampa after a thrilling comeback over the last eight and a half minutes.
- The first meeting in the series was three years ago in the NCAA Second Round at Bridgestone Arena in Nashville, Tenn. The Bulls won by a score of 58-44 after trailing Temple 19-15 at halftime.
- The NCAA win was an upset for the Bulls, who were seeded 12th against the fifth-seeded Owls.

LAST MEETING: TEMPLE 61, USF 48 (FEB. 4, 2015)

- Senior point guard Will Cummings became the 50th player in Temple men's basketball history to reach the 1,000-point plateau while leading the Owls to a 61-48 win at USF.
- Cummings scored 19 points including 13 in a big second half that lifted TU to its fourth straight win.
- After a lackluster, 23-point first half, the Owls turned things around with 38 points in the second. Even while struggling offensively early, Temple's defense held strong. The Owls forced 13 USF turnovers while committing only seven, and held the Bulls to 34.5 percent shooting for the game.
- Cummings was the only player to finish in double figures in scoring for Temple, but Jesse Morgan scored nine while Quenton DeCosey and Josh Brown added eight apiece. Jaylen Bond grabbed a team-high nine rebounds while also scoring six points and leading all players with three steals.
- USF got 16 points from Corey Allen, Jr., and a game-high 14 rebounds from Ruben Guerrero.
- The Owls were never able to get much going in the first half, hitting just 8-of-28 from the field and only 1-of-10 from long range. They led only in the first two minutes before trailing the rest of the half, at one point by as many as eight.
- Allen, Jr., scored nine points in a row for USF starting near the nine-minute mark, and his three-point play at 5:10 gave the Bulls their largest lead of 21-13. From there, Temple was able to close out the half on a 10-3 run to come within a point, 24-23 at halftime.
- The 23-point first half matched Temple's lowest of the season. The Owls held USF to 30 percent shooting, but a couple extra shots from behind the arc kept the Bulls in the lead.
- Early in the second half the Owls used a 10-2 run to take the lead, and held it the rest of the way. The game was within reach for USF most of the half, with Temple not taking its first 10-point lead until near the six-minute mark.
- With 6:19 remaining, Cummings hit career points 1,000 and 1,001 at the free throw line to give the Owls a 10-point, 52-42 lead.
- The Bulls soon came within six but could get no closer, and Temple closed out the game on a 6-0 run in the final, low-scoring three and a half minutes.

IN ELITE COMPANY

1,860 TEMPLE VICTORIES RANKS 5TH ALL-TIME

Temple's 75-57 victory over Bowling Green on Dec. 31, 2012 put the Owls in elite company. They joined Kentucky, North Carolina, Kansas, Duke and Syracuse with 1,800 wins. Temple Basketball owns a 116-year won-loss record of 1,860-1,032. The Owls' history also includes:

- 49 postseason appearances (31 NCAAAs, 18 NITs)
- 2 Final Four appearances (1956 and 1958) under Harry "The Chief" Litwack
- 5 regional finals in the last 27 years under John Chaney (1988, 1991, 1993, 1999 and 2001)
- 2 NIT Championships (1938 and 1969)
- 2 Naismith Basketball Association Hall of Fame Coaches in Litwack and Chaney.

TEMPLE MEN'S BASKETBALL

LAST TIME OUT: EAST CAROLINA 64, TEMPLE 61 (JAN. 27, 2016)

- Kentrell Barkley converted a three-point play in the final seconds to lift East Carolina (10-11, 2-6 American) to a 64-61 win over visiting Temple (11-8, 5-3) Wednesday night at Minges Coliseum.
- It marked the second straight win for ECU over a top tier conference foe as the Pirates were coming off an 84-83 victory at Memphis Sunday. The Owls, fresh off an 89-80 upset over #8 SMU, saw their season best three-game win streak come to an end.
- Barkley's winner came off a Quenton DeCosey block of a Prince Williams' drive to the basket. The ball landed in Barkley's hands in the lane where he made a strong move to the basket for a lay-up and foul with 1.8 seconds to play.
- After the ECU forward converted the free throw, Temple's Josh Brown heaved the ball the length of the court to Obi Enechionya. His shot, only a two-point attempt, rimmed out to end the contest.
- Enechionya, starting in place of senior captain Jaylen Bond, tied for game scoring honors with 18 points. DeCosey added 14 points and a game-high 11 rebounds for his third double-double of the season.
- Bond, the Owls' leading rebounder (8.2 rpg) and third leading scorer (9.9 rpg), missed his second straight game due to a lower back injury.
- Freshman Ernest Aflakpui had his best game in a Temple uniform, setting season highs in points (8), rebounds (10) and minutes (33).
- Prince Williams, who scored seven of the final 10 points for ECU, led the Pirates with 18 points. Barkley posted a double-double with 13 points and 10 rebounds while B.J. Tyson added 14 points.
- The game featured 12 ties and 14 lead changes with the largest lead being a five-point margin by the Owls in the second half, 52-47.
- Following Enechionya's three-pointer that gave Temple its 52-47 advantage, the Owls were held scoreless for over six minutes. During that stretch, ECU went on a 7-0 run to take a 54-52 lead, one it would not relinquish.
- Temple tied the contest four times over the final 3:05, the last coming on two free throws by Brown with 21 seconds to play. Barkley's game-winner came on the ensuing possession.

Giant Killers

Temple's 89-80 upset of #8 SMU on Jan. 24 was the program's seventh win over a Top-10 team in the last eight seasons. The Owls achieved the feat for five straight years from 2018-09 to 2012-13, and began a new streak in 2014-15 with a 77-52 defeat of #10/10 Kansas on Dec. 22.

On Dec. 13, 2008, Dionte Christmas scored 35 points to lead the Owls to an 88-72 win over #8/8 Tennessee. On Dec. 13, 2009, Juan Fernandez delivered a career-high 33 points in a 75-65 win over #3/3 Villanova. On Dec. 9, 2010, Ramone Moore exploded for a career-high 30 points in a 68-65 win over #9/10 Georgetown. On Jan. 4, 2012, it was Khalif Wyatt scoring 22 points to propel the Owls to a 78-73 win over #3/5 Duke. Wyatt did it again with a career-high 33 points in an 83-79 win over #3/3 Syracuse on Dec. 12, 2012.

After a season without a Top 10 win, the Owls made 18 of their final 23 shots from the field for a dominant win against #10/10 Kansas at the Wells Fargo Center in 2014-15. Senior Devin Coleman sparked the most recent upset against #8 SMU, hitting 8-of-8 from the field including 7-of-7 from long range to finish with a career and game-high 23 points.

In addition to beating a Top 10 team in seven of eight seasons, the Owls have beaten at least one Top 25 team for nine straight seasons. Their three victories over ranked opponents this year are the most in the regular season since 1999-00.

In Elite Company

With Temple's seventh win of the season at #23/24 UConn on Jan. 5, head coach Fran Dunphy joined Roy Williams, Eddie Sutton, Lou Henson and Rick Pitino as the only coaches in NCAA Division I history to win 200 games at two different schools while also reaching the NCAA Tournament six times with each program.

Temple vs. the Polls

For the first time since the 1997-98 season, Temple has won two road games against opponents ranked in the Top 25. Last season, the Owls faced Top 25 teams just four times. This season, they have already faced six ranked opponents and are likely to face at least one more when they play Villanova at home on Feb. 17.

Three Wins To History

Temple head coach Fran Dunphy is three wins away from surpassing former Owl coach John Chaney and becoming the all-time winningest coach in Philadelphia Big 5 history. Dunphy, who became the fifth coach to win 200 games at two schools while taking each to six NCAA Tournaments, is the one of eight coaches to have won 200 or more games at a Big 5 school since the city league was formed in 1955. Below is the list of 200-win coaches in city-series history.

John Chaney (Temple)	516-253 (1982-06)
Fran Dunphy (Penn/Temple)	514-278 (1989-present)

TEMPLE MEN'S BASKETBALL

Home Sweet Home

The Liacouras Center has proven to be a tremendous home court advantage. Since the arena opened its doors in 1997, the Owls have posted a 192-59 (.765) all-time record, and set the record for wins in a single season with 16 in 2014-15. That marked the seventh 10-win season in the last eight campaigns for the Owls at home and Temple is 98-23 (.810) at home since the start of the 2007-08 campaign. To the right is a list of 10-win seasons in the building (bold under Dunphy).

Sixth Man

Senior guard Devin Coleman has given the Owls new life in coming off the bench over the last seven games. Coleman started in the first 12 games of the season, a 6-6 stretch for Temple, averaging 8.6 ppg and shooting 31.5 percent from long range (17-of-54).

Since coming off the bench for six games starting with the Owls' win at UConn on Jan. 5, Coleman is the team's second-leading scorer with 12.3 ppg, and has hit 22-of-44 three-pointers (50 percent). Temple's record in that span is 5-2.

Coleman Comparison

In games started (12)

8.6 ppg, 30.9 percent from the field, 31.5 percent from long range (17-of-54), team record 6-6.

In games off the bench (7)

12.3 ppg, 46.4 percent from the field, 50 percent from long range (22-of-44), team record 5-2.

Loaded Schedule

Temple faced Top 25 teams in three of its first four games for the first time in program history. Twice before, in 1990-91 and 1993-94, the Owls faced ranked teams in three of their first five games. The Owls now have three regular-season wins over Top 25 teams, the most since 1999-00. On Dec. 29, Temple won 77-70 at #22/23 Cincinnati, and on Jan. 5 the Owls edged out #23/24 UConn, 55-53. Temple got its first home win of the season over a ranked team when the Owls beat #8 SMU 89-80 on Jan. 24.

Three of Temple's eight losses have come to teams that were ranked in the Top 25 at the time of the game (#1/1 North Carolina, #22/20 Butler and #16/16 Utah) with another coming on the road against 2015 NCAA finalist Wisconsin. The combined won-loss record of all seven teams the Owls have lost to is 114-49 (.699).

Current Records of Opponents to Defeat Temple in 2015-16 (as of Jan. 25)

North Carolina, 18-2

Saint Joseph's, 17-3

Cincinnati Season Sweep

Just six games into its American Athletic Conference schedule, Temple completed a regular season sweep of Cincinnati, a team that was ranked in the Top 25 in the first meeting. The Owls won 77-70 at #22/23 Cincinnati in the conference opener on Dec. 29, and earned a 67-65 double overtime win at home against the Bearcats on Jan. 16. Temple's seven shots from long range made the difference in the game. Cincinnati came in as the conference's leader in three-pointers made per game at 7.9, and ranked third with a .366 three-point field-goal percentage. The Owls held them to just a single trey, as the Bearcats finished at 1-of-18 (5.6 percent). Cincinnati has appeared in five straight NCAA Tournaments, advancing to the third round in 2015.

500th Win for Dunphy

Temple head coach Fran Dunphy became the 24th active Division I men's basketball head coach to reach the 500-win mark with the Owls' 80-75 win over Memphis on March 13, 2015. He joined Hall of Fame Owl legend John Chaney as the only two coaches in Philadelphia Big 5 history to record 500 wins. Chaney compiled 516 in his 24 years patrolling the Temple sidelines (1982-2006).

Clutch Shooter

Junior point guard Josh Brown hit a jumper in the lane with 2.6 seconds remaining at #23/24 UConn on Jan. 5, lifting the Owls to a 55-53 win. It was the second such game-winning shot for Brown in his career, as he also hit a shot with two seconds left that gave the Owls a 61-60 win at Memphis on Feb. 7, 2015.

Starting Lineup Remix

After the first two games of the season, head coach Fran Dunphy used the same starting lineup for 10 games in a row. That group included sophomore Obi Enechionya (out for season opener due to injury), junior Josh Brown, senior Jaylen Bond, senior Devin Coleman and senior Quenton DeCosey. Dunphy then mixed up his lineup for five straight games, replacing Coleman and Enechionya with a combination of freshmen Ernest Aflakpui, Levan Shawn Alston, Jr. and Trey Lowe, redshirt junior Daniel Dingle and junior Mark Williams. Aflakpui has now started in five straight games, the most of anyone outside the five who started in 10 straight. The Owls went 5-1 while switching up the lineup each game. They kept the same lineup for their most recent two games, suffering a loss at East Carolina after winning against SMU with those starters.

DeCosey Hits 1,000

Temple senior guard Quenton DeCosey had scored 998 points heading into the Puerto Rico Tip-Off, and a three-pointer early in the Owls' opening-game win vs. Minnesota made him the 51st player in program history to reach the 1,000-point plateau. DeCosey, who was honored for his milestone prior to the FDU game on Dec. 2, led Temple with 22 points that night and has now scored 1,285 career points (32nd all-time).

Handle With Care

Temple has proven adept at handling the ball in each of the last two seasons, ranking in the top 10 nationally in fewest turnovers. This year Temple is currently ranked fourth nationally in fewest turnovers overall with 181, and also fourth nationally in fewest turnovers per game with a 9.5 average. Last season the Owls led the league and ranked eighth among all Division I teams at the end of the season with 9.5 turnovers per game. Temple led the nation in fewest turnovers 11 times under Hall of Fame head coach John Chaney. (n.b. - NCAA records only date back to the 1993 season).

Assistance From Brown

Junior point guard Josh Brown has reset his career high in assists twice this season. In the Owls' win at Penn on Dec. 9, he dished a career-high nine assists while recording just a single turnover. Brown currently ranks fourth in The American in assists per game (4.6) and is ranked first in assist/turnover ratio (3.2).

TEMPLE MEN'S BASKETBALL

Mascot Double Trouble: Hooter and Stella

Temple Athletics has both a traditional and a live mascot cheering on its teams, as Hooter the Owl and Stella can both often be found on the sidelines. To honor Temple's beginning as a night school for ambitious young people, the nocturnal owl was adopted as its mascot. The owl represents wisdom and knowledge and is known for being perceptive, resourceful and courageous. Hooter the Owl is a part of Temple's Spirit Squad, making appearances at games, alumni events and more. Each February, mascots from all over the city of Philadelphia come to Temple to celebrate Hooter's birthday at a home basketball game, which will take place this season on Saturday, Feb. 27 against UCF.

Stella, a great horned owl, began her career as Temple's live mascot in 2013. Though she's small—just 2 feet tall and only 3 pounds—Stella is a mighty predator, with an impressive 60-inch wingspan and talons capable of crushing prey with 28 pounds of force per square inch. She currently resides in the Elmwood Park Zoo in Norristown, Pa., where she also is a wildlife conservation teacher. Stella originally hails from Washington state. Her favorite foods include rodents, rabbits and snakes.

Big 5 History

The Owls earned a share of their 27th Big 5 title in 2012-13, with that total (21 shared, six outright) leading the Big 5. Temple's 134-93 record in city series games ranks second, and the Owls have won four Big 5 titles in head coach Fran Dunphy's nine seasons. Temple finished 2-2 in Big 5 play last season with wins over Penn and La Salle, a narrow, 58-56 loss to Saint Joseph's and finally a loss to #7/7 Villanova. The Wildcats earned the Big 5 title in 2014-15 with a perfect 4-0 record. With a 2-1 Big 5 record so far in 2015-16, Temple can earn a share of the title with a win over Villanova on Feb. 17.

Perfect Game

Perfection is a rarity in basketball or in any sport, but senior guard Devin Coleman couldn't miss in a recent big win for the Owls. Hitting 8-of-8 from the field including 7-of-7 from beyond the arc, Coleman scored a career and game-high 23 points in leading Temple to an 89-80 upset of #8 SMU on Jan. 24.

Coleman's performance from long range tied the school record for three-point percentage in a game, matching Pepe Sanchez's 100% (7-7) game against Rhode Island on February 16, 1997.

In the Owls' four biggest conference games so far (SMU, UConn, two against Cincinnati), Coleman is a combined 18-of-28 (.643) from three-point range.

Alums Return to Fran Dunphy's Staff

Two Temple alums joined head coach Fran Dunphy's staff in the offseason, while a third was promoted within the staff. Chris Clark ('08), who helped lead the Owls to the first of six straight NCAA Tournaments under Dunphy, now serves as video coordinator for the team. Luis Guzman ('10), who played a significant role in three Atlantic 10 Champion teams and made four NCAA Tournament appearances with the Owls, joined the program as a graduate manager. Former basketball manager Raheem Mapp ('09), who has worked with the team in various capacities since 2006, was promoted to director of basketball operations after serving five years as the administrative/video coordinator for the team.

The Battle of Broadcasters

While Temple is playing at USF, there will be a historic event going on simultaneously on the University's main campus. "The Battle of Broadcasters," a contest to pick two Chinese students to be Mandarin-language broadcasters for Owls' men's basketball games, will be coming to a conclusion. An idea originating from Temple President Neil Theobald in an effort to engage the University's nearly 1,300 Chinese students, the contest will involve the five finalists each getting a shot at providing play-by-play and analysis of the Temple-USF game in Mandarin. The winners will do audio broadcasts and highlight videos in Mandarin for future Temple games.

Meet the Battle of the Broadcasters finalists:

Echo Chen, College of Education '16, is working toward a master's in psychology, a rare major for Chinese students in the U.S. Was a strong three-point shooter for her high school team (nickname: "superwoman"). Served as manager of men's team as an undergrad in China. Interning as school counselor for local charter school. Views contest as way to communicate with people.

Metsky Liu, School of Pharmacy '17, became basketball fan by watching games with her father (watching reminds her of her family). Mother was a radio broadcaster in their hometown. Chose Temple to study pharmacy because of its comprehensive program. Played soccer in college.

Shizhe (You) You, School of Tourism and Hospitality Management exchange student, is a former pro basketball player in China (played on national champion team). After injury, decided to go to school and study sports management. Has done several study-abroad experiences in London and L.A. His home university is forming a partnership with Temple and sent him as the first ambassador. Member of the Cherry Crusade, Temple's official student fan section.

James Yuan, Fox School of Business '19, went to high school in California and Connecticut. Played varsity basketball in high school—was only Chinese player in league. Lived with high-school coach who taught him ins-and-outs of NCAA sports. Emcees Chinese Student Scholars Association events. Wants to win contest to help other Chinese students understand sport's rules.

Javi Yuan, School of Media and Communication '19, Wants to be a sportscaster—calls it his dream. Provides commentary on Chinese game-streaming website; has 2,000 followers. Played high-school basketball.

Double-Digit Debut

With his 12 points against #1/1 North Carolina, Levan Shawn Alston, Jr., became the first true freshman to score in double figures in his Temple debut since Mark Tyndale tallied 19 points in an 80-78 home loss to Auburn on Nov. 19, 2004. Redshirt freshman Ramone Moore also scored in double figures with 11 points in 20 minutes in a 79-65 win over East Tennessee State at Charleston Classic on Nov. 14, 2008. Alston's father, Levan Alston, scored six points in 34 minutes off the bench in his first game as an Owl, a 65-54 win over USC at the Martin Luther King Classic in Memphis on November 27, 1994. A transfer from New Orleans, Alston was a junior at the time.

Devin Coleman Named American Player of the Week

After his career and record-setting performance in leading Temple to an 89-80 upset of previously undefeated and eighth-ranked SMU, senior guard Devin Coleman was named the American Athletic Conference Player of the Week on Jan. 25. The honor is the first-ever for Coleman, who was named to the conference's weekly honor roll earlier this season.

In the SMU win, Coleman shot a perfect 8-of-8 from the field including 7-of-7 from beyond the arc, finishing with a career and game-high 23 points. His three-point shooting effort tied the school record for 3-point percentage in a game set by Pepe Sanchez on Feb. 16, 1997. In the Owls' other game of the week, a 62-49 win at La Salle, Coleman scored six points and tied his season high with six rebounds.

Temple to Honor 1991 Elite Eight Team on Feb. 14
On Valentine's Day this year, Temple will celebrate by bestowing love on its 1991 men's basketball Elite Eight team. At the Owls' Feb. 14th game against USF (3 pm), Temple will honor the players, coaches and managers on the 25th Anniversary year of this special team.

Hall of Fame coach John Chaney's 1990-91 Owls, led by the program's all-time leading scorer in senior guard Mark Macon (2,609 points) entered the NCAA Tournament as the 10th-seed in the East Region. They opened the tournament, held at College Park, Md., by knocking off 7th-seed Purdue, 80-63, with Mik Kilgore scoring a game-high 25 points. Macon led the way in the second round with 20 points while Kilgore added 18 in a 77-64 decision over #15-seed Richmond, who had upset #2-seed Syracuse in its first round game.

Macon treated the crowd at the Meadowlands to a show in a 72-63 overtime win against #3-seed Oklahoma State, scoring 26 points to lift the Owls to their second of five Elite Eight appearances under Chaney. Mark Strickland rejected eight Cowboy shots to tie former Owl Tim Perry for third on the NCAA Tournament single-game blocked shots list.

Despite one of the best performances in Macon's brilliant career, a 31-point, 9-rebound effort, Temple fell to #1-seed North Carolina, 75-72. It was the closest the Owls would come to the Final Four under their legendary coach.

Macon, who led the team with a 22.0 scoring average, was named the Most Outstanding Performer of the East Region for his efforts while Kilgore (14.6 ppg) earned a spot on the all-Region team. Donald Hodge (11.6 ppg) and Vic Carstarphen (10.4 ppg) also averaged double figures while Strickland (7.7 ppg) rounded out the starting five.

1987-88 Team to be Inducted into Big 5 Hall of Fame

The 1987-88 Temple men's basketball team that finished as the AP's #1 ranked team and advanced to the NCAA Elite 8 with a 32-2 overall record, will be one of five teams inducted into the Philadelphia Big 5 Hall of Fame on April 11, 2016 at the league's annual awards banquet.

This marks the first time the Big 5 has inducted teams into its prestigious Hall of Fame. The other teams are: the 1968-69 La Salle Explorers (23-1, #2 national ranking); the 1970-71 Penn Quakers (28-1, #3 national ranking); 2003-04 Saint Joseph's Hawks (30-2, #1 national ranking) and 1984-85 Villanova Wildcats (25-10, NCAA Champions).

John Chaney earned his second straight USBWA National Coach of the Year award following the season while freshman guard Mark Macon was named to the AP All-America Second Team. Macon was joined on the all-Atlantic 10 First Team by his backcourt mate, senior Howard Evans, and fellow senior forward Tim Perry, who earned A-10 Player of the Year accolades. Junior forward Mike Vreeswyk earned second team all-conference honors.

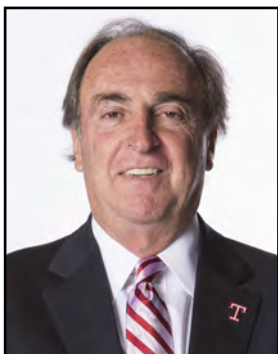

Six Owls Represent Temple at Big 5 60th Anniversary

The Philadelphia Big 5 turns 60 this year and there was no better way to celebrate than with the Big 5 doubleheader at the Palestra on Jan. 20.

Six all-decade teams were honored, with Temple being represented by the following six star players: 1950s: Jay Norman (1955-58); 1960s: John Baum (1966-69); 1970s: Ollie Johnson (1969-72); 1980s: Mark Macon (1987-91); 1990s: Aaron McKie (1991-94); 2000s: Lynn Greer (1997-02).

Summer Session

Freshman guards Levan Shawn Alston, Jr., and Trey Lowe are playing their first season at Temple together, but it is not the first time they have been teammates. The Owl duo played together on the AAU squad Team Final Basketball in the summer of 2014.

10TH SEASON • LA SALLE '70 514-279 Overall • 204-116 at Temple

One of 25 active NCAA Division I coaches with 500 victories, Fran Dunphy is in his 10th season at the helm of the Temple men's basketball program. One of the all-time winningest coaches in Philadelphia Big 5 history, Dunphy is also just the fifth coach to win 200 games at two different Division I programs while also taking both schools to six or more NCAA Tournaments. He has joined Lou Henson (New Mexico, Illinois), Rick Pitino (Kentucky, Louisville), Eddie Sutton (Arkansas, Oklahoma State) and Roy Williams (Kansas, North Carolina) in this elite club.

A part of Big 5 Basketball for the last six decades, Dunphy starred at La Salle as a player (1967-70) and served on the Explorer staff as an assistant coach before embarking on a 17-year stint as the head coach of the Penn Quakers (1989-06). He became the first person to serve as the head men's basketball coach at two Philadelphia Big 5 institutions when he took over the reins of the Temple program from Hall of Fame coach John Chaney on April 10, 2006.

All he has done at Temple is win. He ranks fourth on the school's all-time coaching win list with a 204-116 record while guiding the Owls to six NCAA Tournaments, three conference titles and a trip to the 2015 NIT Semifinals in his nine years at the helm. His Temple teams have defeated six Top 10 teams in his tenure and have appeared in the Top 25 during 24 weeks.

Dunphy recorded his historic 500th coaching win in impeccable fashion last season by knocking off Memphis, 80-75, in the American Athletic Conference Quarterfinal round on March 13. His overall record stands at 514-279 which includes 16 20-win seasons, 15 NCAA Tournament appearances, 13 conference championships, eight Big 5 titles and one NIT trip.

Named Philadelphia Big 5 Coach of the Year in four of his nine seasons at Temple, Dunphy led his second Owl squad on a late-season run to the Atlantic 10 Championship. He guided the Cherry and White to a 21-13 overall mark in 2007-08, including a second place A-10 regular season finish with an 11-5 conference record. He followed that by directing his charges in 2008-09 to a 22-12 record, 11-5 in league play, and another conference championship.

The 2009-10 season is one that will go down as one of the best in Temple lore. Picked tied for fifth in the A-10 preseason poll, Dunphy motivated his charges to their first A-10 regular season title (9th overall) since 2002 with a 14-2 record. The 2010 A-10 and NABC District Coach of the Year brought the Owls back into the national spotlight with the program's first national ranking since 2001, with the team staying in the polls for 13 consecutive weeks. His Owls would go on to become just the second A-10 team to win three consecutive conference championships while also posting just the fifth perfect Philadelphia Big 5 season in the program's history.

The number one accomplishment achieved by the 2009-10 Temple team, that finished the season with a #12 ranking in the Associated Press poll, was its 29 victories (against six defeats), which ranks third in the school's history.

In 2010-11, Dunphy led the Owls to a 26-8 record, including another 14-2 mark in A-10 play, and a fourth straight trip to the NCAA Tournament. This time the Owls, the 7-seed in West Region, defeated 10th-seeded Penn State, 66-64, in the second round for the program's first NCAA win since 2001. The Cherry and White game second-seeded San Diego State all they could handle in the next game before falling to the #5/6-ranked Aztecs, 71-64, in double-overtime.

It was a great season for Temple as the Owls were ranked among the nation's Top 25 for eight weeks during the season, climbing as high as #19 in the January 10 Associated Press poll. The Owls also overcame mid-February injuries to two starters, closing the season with seven wins in their final 10 games. The only losses in that stretch came to NCAA Sweet 16 participants Duke, Richmond and San Diego State.

In 2011-12, despite losing projected starter Scootie Randall for the season and center Micheal Eric for 13 games, Dunphy guided his charges to a 24-8 mark and the program's first outright A10 regular season title since 1989-90. The Owls finished 13-3 in league play and Dunphy earned his second A10 Coach of the Year honor for his efforts. Temple defeated #3/3 Duke to mark its fourth straight season with a win over a Top 10 opponent, and later cracked the national polls for the third straight year.

Temple, which also shared the Big 5 title, earned an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament for the second straight season, and was the fifth-seed in the NCAA Midwest Region.

In 2012-13, Dunphy again guided the Owls to another 20-plus win campaign with the Cherry and White becoming one of eight teams to compete in the last six straight NCAA Tournaments. Temple also knocked off a Top 10 team, this time #3/3 Syracuse, 83-79, at Madison Square Garden (12/22/12) to extend its current nation's best record to five straight seasons of defeating a Top 10 foe while being unranked at the time.

Temple would finish the campaign with a 24-10 record, advancing to the third round of the NCAA Tournament before narrowly falling to top-ranked Indiana, 58-52. The Owls capped their final season in the Atlantic 10 Conference with a thrilling 84-76 win over #19/21 VCU on CBS to finish tied for third in the league with an 11-5 record.

The program struggled in 2013-14, its first season in the American Athletic Conference. In a classic rebuilding year, the Owls posted a 9-22 record. The Cherry and White did continue its streak of wins over a nationally-ranked program to seven with a 71-64 upset over #23 SMU.

In 2014-15, Dunphy led his team to the best turnaround among all Division I teams, posting 17 more wins than the previous season to finish at 26-11 overall and 13-5 in the conference. A signature win over #10 Kansas was among the total as the Owls posted a 77-52 victory over the Jayhawks at the Wells Fargo Center (12/22).

The Owls finished the regular season 23-10, but were surprisingly left out of the NCAA Tournament. As the #1 overall seed in the NIT, Dunphy, in his time coaching in the tournament, guided Temple to wins over Bucknell, George Washington and Louisiana Tech to reach the semifinals, before falling to Miami at Madison Square Garden.

Dunphy was named American Athletic Conference Coach of the Year, marking his third conference coach of the year honor (A-10: 2010, 2012). He also joined Chaney (516) as one of only two coaches to win 500 or more games at Big 5 schools.

One of the most respected coaches in the nation, Dunphy has coached eight Conference Players of the Year, three Conference Rookies of the Year, five perfect Conference seasons and 53 All-Conference honorees.

Prior to joining Penn's coaching staff, Dunphy served as an assistant under Speedy Morris at his alma mater, La Salle University (1985-86 through 1987-88). The Philadelphia native's coaching career began at the United States Military Academy (1971-72), where he served as an assistant under head coach Dan Dougherty. In 1975, he became head coach of his high school alma mater, Malvern Prep. He remained there until becoming Lefty Ervin's assistant at La Salle University (1979-80).

The following year, Dunphy joined current Maryland head coach Gary Williams' staff at American University. He served as an assistant two seasons under Williams, and the final three years under Ed Tapscott, the former head coach of the NBA's Washington Wizards (2008-09). He returned to La Salle in 1985, serving one more season under Ervin and assisting Morris for two seasons. He left La Salle to become Tom Schneider's assistant at Penn in 1988.

In 1989, Dunphy was named the 16th head coach at Penn. He would compile a 310-163 overall record in his 17-year career. His Quaker teams won an unprecedented 48 straight Ivy League games and four league titles from 1992 through 1996. His 1993-94 team posted a 25-3 record and earned a Number 25 ranking in the CNN/USA Today Coaches' Poll, the program's first such ranking since the 1978-79 campaign. That year also included a 90-80 first round upset of sixth-seed Nebraska in the NCAA Tournament.

In his last eight seasons at Penn, Dunphy guided the Quakers to six Ivy League titles and a 93-19 league record. From 1999-2001, he led Penn to 25 straight league wins, including a perfect 14-0 mark in 1999-2000. In 2001-02, Dunphy's Quakers posted a 25-7 record and won the school's first outright city-series title with a perfect 4-0 mark since 1973-74.

A full-time educator on and off the court, Dunphy is in his eighth year teaching in Temple's prestigious Fox School of Business. He is team-teaching an honors course with Dr. Lynne Anderson, entitled, Management, Theory & Practice: From the Locker Room to the Board Room. He previously had served as a lecturer in the Wharton Executive Education program and in the management department of the Wharton School.

Dunphy is one of the leaders in the local Coaches vs. Cancer campaign and was named to the National Council of Coaches vs. Cancer. He was also honored as the 2002 National Coaches vs. Cancer Coach of the Year for his service and tireless dedication to those in need. On September 23, 2008, he joined four other coaches to speak to legislators on Capitol Hill on the need for more funding for cancer research.

The Owl mentor also devotes time to Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Greater Philadelphia's Board of Directors, and his Penn and Temple teams have participated in the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program each year. He is also a member of the Philadelphia CYO Hall of Fame.

A 1970 La Salle graduate with a degree in marketing, Dunphy was an outstanding player under Explorers' head coach Tom Gola. As a junior, he helped the Explorers to a 23-1 record. He served as a co-captain his senior year when he averaged 18.6 ppg and led the team in assists, while also being named the MVP of the annual Quaker City Basketball Tournament. In 1979, he earned a Master's degree in counseling and human relations from Villanova University.

Dunphy and his wife, Ree, reside in Villanova, Pa., with their son, J.P.

Mr. Big Five

Temple head coach Fran Dunphy is synonymous with the Philadelphia Big 5. Dunphy, who lived his first 10 years in Southwest Philadelphia before moving to nearby Drexel Hill, Pa., starred at La Salle from 1967 through 1970. He would later serve as an assistant at his alma mater (1979-80; 1985-88) before taking the assistant coaching job at Penn for the 1988-89 season. After one season he would take over as the Quakers head coach, compiling a 310-163 record in 17 seasons. He is now in his 10th season at Temple. He received a master's degree in counseling from Villanova, and currently resides in Villanova, Pa.

A Man For All Causes

Dunphy has been a major contributor of his time and energy to the American Cancer Society through Coaches vs. Cancer. He has spearheaded the local efforts of the six Division I coaches that have led to raising over $1 million to benefit the American Cancer Society. Named the Coaches vs. Cancer National Coach of the Year for his efforts, Dunphy has helped to steer events in the area such as the Coaches vs. Cancer Golf Outing; the Coaches vs. Cancer Basketball; coordinated open practices with the six area teams and holding a March Madness Breakfast to raise awareness for the cause. He was honored in 2008 as a local hero by Bank of America for his role with Coaches vs. Cancer.

Another cause that Dunphy champions is Big Brothers/Big Sisters. The Owl coach devotes his time to Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Greater Philadelphia by serving on the organization's Board of Trustees. His Penn teams participated in Big Brothers/Big Sisters programs each year during his tenure at the school. His Temple teams have been actively participating in the program the past three seasons.

Dunphy is also a member of the Philadelphia CYO Hall of Fame.

Moving Up

With a win vs. La Salle on Feb. 21, 2013, Fran Dunphy moved past Don Casey (151, '73-82) and into fourth place on the all-time Temple coaching win list. Hall of Fame coach John Chaney (516, '82-06) tops the list followed by fellow Hall of Famer Harry Litwack (373, '52-73) and James Usilton, Sr. (205, '26-39). Dunphy is now 204-115 ('06-present).

A-10 Success

Under Dunphy, the Owls won the outright A-10 regular season title in 2011-12 for the first time since 1989-90. During Temple's years in the A-10 under Dunphy, the Owls went 80-32 in A-10 play and won three A-10 Championships (2008, 2009, 2010).

Professor Dunphy

For the eighth straight year, Dunphy taught an honors course in the University's prestigious Fox School of Business with Dr. Lynne Andersson. The course, titled Management, Theory and Practice: From the Locker Room to the Board Room, is offered in the fall semester.

Top 25 Coach

Temple coach Fran Dunphy entered last season ranked 25th among active NCAA Division I coaches in wins with 477, needing just 23 victories to join an elite group (88 all-time, now 25 active) of coaches with 500 wins while coaching at least a decade at the Division I level. Dunphy reached the 500-win mark when the Owls beat Memphis in the American Tournament quarterfinals, and is now one of 25 active Division I coaches to record 500 career wins.

Quenton DeCosey Named American Athletic Conference Player of the Week on Jan. 11

Senior Quenton DeCosey was named the American Athletic Conference Men's Basketball Player of the Week after leading the Owls to a pair of conference wins. Temple won 55-53 on the road at #23 UConn on Jan. 5, and followed it up with a 78-60 home win over East Carolina on Jan. 9.

DeCosey averaged 19.5 points per game, 3.5 rebounds per game and 3.0 assists per game in the two victories. He shot 51.9 percent from field and improved that to 72.7 percent from three-point range (8-of-11). In the UConn win, DeCosey led the team with 15 points. He was the game-high scorer against ECU, tying his season high with 24 points while hitting 5-of-8 from long range.

Temple Picked Sixth in American Preseason Poll

Temple was picked to finish sixth in the 2015-16 American Athletic Conference men's basketball poll in voting by the league's head coaches. The Owls were also picked to finish sixth in 2014-15, but bettered that pick by three spots to tie for third in the league.

SMU is the overall preseason favorite in 2015-16 for the first time in league history, tallying 98 points and eight of 11 first-place votes. The Mustangs entered the season returning seven letterwinners and three starters from last year's squad that went 27-7 and posted a 15-3 mark in league play.

UConn garnered two first-place votes and was picked to finish second with 87 points. The Huskies return eight from last season's squad and welcome four newcomers in 2015-16. Cincinnati had one first place-vote and was picked third with 84 points. The Bearcats return nine student-athletes, including all five starters, from last year's 23-win team.

Tulsa was chosen fourth in the preseason standings with 76 points. The Hurricane returns five starters and nine letterwinners from last season's 23-win squad. Memphis (59 pts.), Temple (54 pts.) and Houston (48 pts.) were picked fifth, sixth and seventh in the preseason poll, respectively. East Carolina (31 pts.), UCF (30 pts.), USF (20 pts.) and Tulane (11 pts.) were tabbed eighth, ninth, 10th and 11th to round out the tallies.

Bond Doubling Up

Senior forward Jaylen Bond notched five double-doubles for Temple last season, and has matched that with five in the first 19 games of 2015. Bond put up back-to-back double-doubles earlier in the season, scoring 12 points and grabbing 10 rebounds at both Wisconsin and Penn. In the Owls' win at #23/24 UConn on Jan. 5, he added a game-high 10 rebounds to 11 points and hit 5-of-7 from the field. Bond notched his fifth double-double at Memphis on Jan. 13, adding a season-high 14 rebounds to 14 points.

Alani Moore, Damion Moore and Quinton Rose Sign National Letters of Intent

Temple head basketball coach Fran Dunphy has announced the signing of three highly-touted recruits, Alani Moore, Damion Moore and Quinton Rose, to National Letters of Intent.

"We are excited to welcome these three to the Temple Basketball family," said Dunphy. "These are not only talented young men on the court, but outstanding citizens who will be a great fit as teammates. They will play a big part in helping the program continue its storied history of success."

Alani Moore, a 5-10, 150-pound point guard, will play at Friendship Collegiate Academy (Washington, D.C.) this season after starring at Montrose Christian in 2014-15. The Hyattsville, Md., native averaged 17.4 points per game for Montrose as junior to earn first team All-Met honors.

Damion Moore, a 6-10 center from Callaway (Miss.) High School, is a three-star prospect who averaged 3.9 points, 4.6 rebounds and 1.1 blocks per game on Callaway's state championship squad as a junior. He showed his enormous potential in Callaway's 2015-16 season opener when he led the Chargers with 25 points and 10 rebounds.

Rose, a 6-6, 175-pound guard out of Bishop Kearney in Rochester, N.Y., averaged 15.4 points, seven rebounds and seven assists during the 2014-15 season. The three-year varsity performer earned a spot on the 15-player Democrat and Chronicle All-Greater Rochester Team in 2015.

Jaylen Bond Named 2015-16 Temple Men's Basketball Team Captain

Senior forward Jaylen Bond, the leading returning rebounder in the American Athletic Conference, has been named the Temple men's basketball team captain for the 2015-16 season. Bond becomes the first solo team captain at Temple in Fran Dunphy's 10 seasons at the helm. The last Owl to be a solo captain was David Hawkins during his senior season in 2003-04.

"Jaylen was the consensus choice by a vote of his teammates," said Dunphy, the 2015 American Athletic Conference Coach of Year. "He is everything a coach wants in a captain. He is a hard worker, who leads by example, and most importantly he has earned the respect of his teammates."

Bond, a Philadelphia native (Plymouth-Whitemarsh HS), transferred to Temple prior to the 2013-14 season after playing his first two seasons at the University of Texas. After sitting out his first year at Temple, he averaged 7.6 points and 7.9 rebounds per game while starting 29 of 35 games played. The 6-8 forward was named second team all-Philadelphia Big 5 and honorable mention all-conference. He was second on the team and sixth in conference in steals (1.4 spg).

For Three

Temple has made at least one three-pointer in 659 consecutive games. The last time the Owls did not make a three-pointer in a game was February 1, 1996. Temple missed all 16 three-point attempts that day in dropping a 59-35 decision to #1 UMass at McGonigle Hall.

Three's For Hunger

Temple Men's Basketball, Learfield Sports' Temple Sports Properties and The Fresh Grocer of Progress Plaza are working together to give back to Philabundance, Philadelphia's largest food bank. For every three-point basket made during the 2015-16 men's basketball season, The Fresh Grocer of Progress Plaza will donate one case of non-perishable food and goods to Philabundance.

Temple to Compete in 2016 NIT Season Tip-Off

Temple will be among four teams headlining the NIT Season Tip-Off as it returns to Barclays Center in 2016. The Owls will be joined by Florida State, Illinois and West Virginia in the championship round.

The 2016 Preseason NIT marks the sixth time that Temple has participated in the prestigious tournament. The Owls placed third in the 1986 tournament and were runners up in the 2000 event. The Cherry and White also competed in 1990, 1995 and 2005.

In its second year under the ESPN Events umbrella, the 2016 NIT Season Tip-Off will maintain its format with Florida State, Illinois, Temple and West Virginia each hosting two games at home against designated campus-site teams prior to traveling to Brooklyn. The full schedule, remaining four teams, and campus-site games will be announced at a later date.

On the Radio

For the 15th straight year Temple men's basketball is being broadcast live on 1210 AM WPHI. All the Owls' games will be carried on the radio with Harry Donahue handling play-by-play and John Baum providing color commentary.

Chairman of the Boards

Junior forward Jaylen Bond made an immediate impact in his first season at Temple after transferring to the school from Texas. The Philadelphia native led the American Athletic Conference with a 7.9 average. Temple forward Anthony Lee led The American in 2013-14 in rebounding (8.6 rpg). Prior to that, the last Temple player to lead a conference in rebounding was Duane Causwell, who averaged 8.9 boards during the 1988-89 season to top the Atlantic 10 Conference. Tim Perry was the only other Owl to lead the A-10 in rebounding, doing it twice (8.6 rpg in 1986-87; 9.5 rpg in 1985-86).

Hometown Hero

Redshirt sophomore Daniel Dingle returned to his high school, St. Raymond's, Jan. 25 to have his Temple jersey hung in the gym. Dingle is one of 36 former St. Raymond's players to go on and play at NCAA Division I schools and his jersey joins his brother's, Dana Dingle, who starred at UMass from 1992-96.

Temple Advances to 2015 NIT Semifinals

The Owls are coming off a 26-11 season that marked the best turnaround in NCAA Division I, as they won 17 more games than in the previous season. After barely missing out on an at-large NCAA Tournament berth in 2014-15, the Owls made a run through the NIT all the way to the semifinals at Madison Square Garden, where they fell 60-57 to Miami (FL).

Training Techniques

Temple head coach Fran Dunphy employed some unique training methods this off-season to make sure his team was mentally and physically ready for the upcoming season. The Owls worked out at the Joe Hand Boxing Gym in Philadelphia for four sessions in July. The team even was counseled by World Champion Bernard Hopkins, who trains at the gym. The Owls then had cross-fit and spinning training workouts in the summer to improve their cardiovascular fitness before embarking on hour-long yoga sessions the last three weeks to work on their mental approach.

Coaches vs. Cancer

Temple head coach Fran Dunphy and his staff will be wearing sneakers this week at East Carolina (Jan. 27) and at USF (Jan. 31) in honor of Coaches vs. Cancer Suits And Sneakers Week. It's a nationwide event when basketball coaches across the county unite for a common cause saving lives from cancer. Coaches and their staff wear sneakers with their suits while coaching games to raise awareness, share the importance of nutrition and physical activity, and to promote the American Cancer Society as a place for people facing cancer to turn to for free information, help, and support 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

20/20 Vision

Temple recorded its 35th 20-win season in 2014-15. It marked the seventh time (in nine seasons) that head coach Fran Dunphy led the Owls to a 20-win campaign. From 2007-13 Temple recorded six straight 20-win seasons, tying the program record for consecutive 20-win seasons, set under Hall of Fame head coach John Chaney (1995-01). Chaney posted 15 20-win seasons (24 seasons) while fellow Hall of Fame coach Harry Litwack compiled eight (21 seasons).

Bright Lights

At least 29 national television games highlight Temple's 2015-16 schedule. Temple will appear on ESPN entities a total of at least 21 times during the course of the season.

Record-Setting Defense

Temple's stifling defense held Tulane to a Liacouras Center record-low eight points in the first half of a 55-37 win on Jan. 31, 2015. It was the lowest scoring total in a half for any team ever in the building. Tulane's 37 points matched the lowest total for an opponent in the Fran Dunphy era, with the Owls also achieving that feat against American in the 2014-15 season opener. For the program, it marked the first time since 1993-94 that Temple had held two opponents to under 40 points in the same season.

Going Overtime

Temple is 57-48 overall in overtime contests and has won 15 of its last 20 overtime tilts. Prior to the 2013-14 season's Dec. 7 OT loss vs. Texas, the Owls had won five straight OT games dating back to a double overtime loss to San Diego State (71-64) in the third round of the 2011 NCAA Tournament. TU had won 12 straight single OT games dating back to a 73-69 win over Marist (11/18/08).

The Owls won their only overtime game of the 2014-15 season, a 57-53 decision at defending NCAA champion UConn in the American Athletic Conference opener on Dec. 31.

Temple is 1-1 in overtime games in 2015-16. The Owls fell by just a single point to Big 5 foe Saint Joseph's, 66-65 at home on Dec. 13, but beat conference foe Cincinnati 67-65 in double overtime on Jan. 16.

Practice Palace

Temple's $10 million basketball practice facility was completed in January, 2012, and the Donald and Nancy Resnick Court was officially dedicated on October 5. Part of the $48 million renovation to Pearson and McGonigle Halls, the new state-of-the-art facility, features separate courts for the Owls' men's and women's basketball teams.

A Dynamic Duo

Temple has two Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame coaches. The first inductee was Harry Litwack, who coached the Owls from 1952 to 1973 and registered 373 wins. Litwack was inducted on April 26, 1976. John Chaney, who retired March 12, 2006 after 24 seasons and 516 wins at Temple, was inducted on October 5, 2001. Temple is only one of nine universities who have two coaches in the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame. The center jump circle at the Liacouras Center is jointly named in honor of these two coaching legends.
