2017 PORTLAND STATE SEASON STORYLINES

The 2017 Portland State women's soccer season will be the Vikings' first under new head coach Katie Burton. Coach Burton will have the luxury of inheriting an experienced team with 10 players who started at least nine matches last season back in 2017. Seniors Katie Forsee and Kristin Moyer return as leaders for the Vikings, after each earned All-Big Sky first-team honors last season. Junior midfielder/forward Krystal de Ramos and redshirt sophomore Maxine Nagramada return after earning All-Big Sky honorable mention last season, as well. Between those four, the Vikings will return their two top goal scorers from last season (Forsee and de Ramos), and two of their leaders on their back line (Moyer and Nagramada). The Vikings will also bring in 14 recruits this season, who join a team that narrowly missed a Big Sky tournament berth last season.

2017 VIKING SEASON PREVIEW

PORTLAND, Ore. — First games under a new coach cannot go much better than they did for the Vikings Tuesday.

Playing their first match – albeit an exhibition – under new head coach Katie Burton, the Vikings beat the University of the Fraser Valley, 6-1. The Vikings hadn't scored more than four goals in a match in close to four years, but did it while facing their first opponent under Burton.

All that said, Tuesday was just an exhibition, and the Vikings will have a tough time repeating their performance when they open the counting portion of their schedule at cross-town rival University of Portland Friday. That's when the typical unknowns of a first-year head coach will come back into play, as they will throughout the season for the Vikings.

Burton – who as the associate head coach at her alma mater Sacramento State helped lead the Hornets to a second-place finish within the Big Sky last season – inherits a team that would seem capable of handling the unknowns of a first-year head coach. The Vikings return 10 starters from last year's team that finished a game out of making the Big Sky tournament, including the team's two All-Big Sky first-team selections from last season in seniors Katie Forsee and Kristin Moyer.

Burton has also noted the team's work ethic in her time with the Vikings, something that was apparent last season when the Vikings posted their first comeback win since 2013, and recorded their first six-point road trip to Northern Colorado and North Dakota in program history.

"The returners have set the standard with their fitness, attitudes, work rate and focus," Burton said. "The group's ability to absorb information and implement that in training and games has helped us hit the ground running."

Forsee and Moyer have helped set a strong work ethic on the team, as they have rarely missed time on the field over the past two seasons. Forsee played every minute of the Vikings' last eight matches last season, while Moyer missed only 40 minutes of action all season.

Moyer remains on pace to break the career record for minutes played, as she enters her senior season with 4,932 – 1,292 behind the current record of 6,224 minutes played, set by Juli Edwards (2004-07). If Moyer doesn't miss a minute of action, then she'll break the record during the Vikings' 15th match of the season, which would be the Vikings' road match against Idaho on Oct. 15.

Moyer will also anchor a defense that improved throughout the year last season. The Viking defense struggled at the start of last season – giving up 19 goals over the team's first five matches – but then settled into a groove after that. The Vikings ranked tied for second in the conference with four shutouts in Big Sky play, and ranked fourth with a 1.24 goals-against average in conference play.

Kristin Moyer (center, #21) returns as one of two All-Big Sky first-team selections for the Vikings from 2016. Moyer and fellow senior Katie Forsee were both named to the All-Big Sky first team last season, while Maxine Nagramada and Krystal de Ramos were each named All-Big Sky honorable mention.

Moyer and the Viking defense also posted their first back-to-back road shutouts since 2013 with a pair of 1-0 wins over Northern Colorado and North Dakota. Additionally, the Vikings shut out eventual Big Sky tournament champion Eastern Washington, which featured 2016 Big Sky Offensive MVP and Golden Boot winner Chloe Williams.

Forsee, meanwhile, led the Vikings with 13 points on five goals and three assists last season, with her three assists also setting the standard on the team. Additionally, Forsee scored three of the Vikings' six game-winning goals during the 2016 season, including both game-winning goals in the Vikings' road sweep of Northern Colorado and North Dakota.

Outside of Moyer and Forsee, the Vikings also return 2016 All-Big Sky honorable mentions Krystal de Ramos and Maxine Nagramada. De Ramos tied Forsee with a team-high five goals last season, while Nagramada helped Moyer anchor the Vikings' backline.

Redshirt junior goalkeeper Abbie Faingold also returns after starting 16 matches in goal for the Vikings. Sophomore defender Kasey Isobe also returns after starting all 18 matches on the Vikings' backline, as well as 18-match starter Liv Jillings. Senior Rachel Michieli, who started 12 matches for the Vikings, and Jade Rafallo, who started 10 matches, return as well. Tamera Mikamura, who started 16 matches, is still recovering from an offseason ACL injury.

Junior forward Morgan Matthews returns as one of the Vikings' super subs from last season, when she ranked fourth on the team with three goals, including the game-winner in the Vikings' 1-0 win over Nevada.

The 10 returning starters for the Vikings make up only a fraction of the team, however, as the Vikings added 13 newcomers, including 11 freshmen. Burton, who didn't take over head coaching duties until July, inherited the Vikings' 2017 signing class, but has been pleased with what she's seen so far.

"We have been pleasantly surprised. We have a very talented incoming class that has helped raise the bar and expectations at training," Burton said. "The group is a mix of high soccer IQ players with craft and creativity on the ball. Often time there is a tough transition period from playing club to Division I Soccer, but in our case most of these kids came in as experienced players, both mentally and physically."

The Vikings started two freshmen in their exhibition against the University of the Fraser Valley Tuesday, while seven more made appearances in the match.

The newcomers will have the benefit of a robust home schedule this season, as the Vikings play 10 of their 18 regular-season matches at home, and two of their eight road matches will be played in the state of Oregon.

One of those two Oregon road matches comes Friday, when the Vikings open their season at cross-town rival University of Portland.

The Vikings have never beaten the nationally competitive Pilots, but if they were to pull off the upset Friday, then that would surely beat out Tuesday's exhibition debut for Burton.

STRONG OFFENSE:

The Vikings scored a goal in 12 of their last 13 matches, with the only exception being the Vikings' 0-0 draw with then-league-leading and eventual Big Sky tournament-champion Eastern Washington on Sept. 30. The Vikings finished the season on a seven-match scoring streak into their match against Sacramento State Friday, tied for the fourth-longest scoring streak in program history. The Vikings' offense was a bright spot for the team all season in 2016, as the team scored 21 goals, eight more than the team scored in 2015, and equal to the total the team scored in 2014. Additionally, the Vikings had three players with at least four goals this season, the first time the Vikings have spread out the scoring like that since 2013. The Vikings also scored multiple goals in six matches this season, more than the Vikings' totals in 2015 and 2014. Individually, junior Katie Forsee and sophomore Krystal de Ramos led the Vikings with five goals each this season, while departed senior Aurora Bodenhamer ranked third on the team with four.

DE RAMOS IS DUH-DUH-DANGEROUS:
Sophomore Krystal de Ramos finished the 2016 with goals in back-to-back matches to move her into a tie with Katie Forsee for the team lead with five goals on the year. De Ramos' strong season for the Vikings came on the back of a busy summer of soccer for the Viking sophomore, as she also played for the Philippines National Team at the AFF Women's Championship at the end of July 2016. De Ramos earned her first international cap on July 26, when she was inserted into the starting XI for the team's match against Thailand. De Ramos also started in the Philippines' 2-0 win over Singapore on July 30.

THE FORCE-EE IS WITH THE VIKINGS:
The force is strong with junior Katie Forsee, who led the Vikings with five goals in 2016, and scored three of the team's six game-winning goals. Forsee's three game-winning goals tied her for the second-best single-season total in program history, just one behind the single-season record of four game-winning goals that Cori Bianchini set in 2013. Forsee also set the program record for shots in a single match with 12 against North Dakota on Oct. 16, 2016, and tied her own school record for shots on goal in a Big Sky match with six against the Fighting Hawks.

IRON WOMAN:
Fifth-year senior Kristin Moyer did not miss a minute of action in 14 of the Vikings' 18 matches in 2016, and only missed a total of 40 minutes in the other four matches combined. For her career, Moyer has missed playing time in just nine matches, and did not miss a minute of any match in 2015. Additionally, Moyer has started all 55 matches of her career, giving her a chance to break the school records for career starts and minutes played if she stays healthy this season. Moyer will break the school record in minutes played if she stays healthy, as her 4,932 career minutes played rank just 1,292 off Juli Edwards' current record of 6,224. Moyer will need the Vikings to make the Big Sky tournament in 2017 to break the school record for career starts, however, as ranks 19 starts behind the current record shared by Nathalie Wollman and Dolly Enneking at 74 – and the Vikings only have 18 matches on their regular-season schedule.

TO THE ATHLETICS OFFICE: Media who would like to pick up parking, credentials or other materials at the Media Relations Office follow I-405 to the 6th Avenue exit. Follow for two blocks to SW Hall. Only on-street parking is available. The Athletics Office entrance is 527 SW Hall, Suite 415. Enter the building just east of 6th Avenue and take the elevator to the fourth floor.

MEDIA FACILITIES AT HILLSBORO STADIUM

PRESS BOX: The press box at Hillsboro Stadium is located at the top of the grandstand on the south side of the field. There is an elevator opposite the facility's concession stand, between the Ron Tonkin Field baseball facility (to the right as you enter) and Hillsboro Stadium (on your left as you enter). There are three sections of rooms on the press box level once someone is up there. The main media seating will be in the middle group of rooms in either the room labeled "announcer/press staff" or another designated room.

ACCOMMODATIONS: Pregame notes and programs can be made available to media members who have announced they are coming to matches.

The Gordon Faber Recreaction Complex staff, which runs the facility, will have a public wireless connection available in all rooms on the press box level.

Cold beverages will also be available before and during the matches. Food will not be provided, but concession stands will be open during matches.

STATISTICS: Live media stats are available during all matches at http://vikslive.statb.us. They are completely interactive to the individual.

Hard copies of box scores will be provided after each half and overtime period. Complete summaries will be provided at the conclusion of the game.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS: Postgame interviews at Portland State women's soccer matches will be conducted on the field after an undetermined cooling off period. For assistance with interviews, contact Andy Jobanek, Portland State Media Relations Assistant, in the press box before the end of the match. Visiting team interviews are at the discretion of the visiting media relations professional.

MEDIA PARKING AT HILLSBORO STADIUM: Parking is free for all people at Hillsboro Stadium during Portland State women's soccer matches. Parking is generally widely accessible, except during matches that run up against Hillsboro Hops games. The Hops play on both days of the Vikings' home tournament this season. Parking can be reserved for media requesting to attend matches on those days.

BROADCAST ARRANGEMENTS: Visiting radio or television crews can be accommodated upon request. Requests need to be made as soon as possible before matches, as rooms on the press box level of Hillsboro Stadium will have to be reserved well in advance.

Portland State University serves as a center of opportunity for nearly 30,000 undergraduate and graduate students. Located in Portland, Oregon, one of the nation's most livable cities, the University's innovative approach to education combines academic rigor in the classroom with field-based experiences through internships and classroom projects with community partners. The University's 49-acre downtown campus exhibits Portland State's commitment to sustainability, while many of the 124 bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees incorporate sustainability. PSU's motto, "Let Knowledge Serve the City," inspires the teaching and research of an accomplished faculty whose work and students span the globe.

ORIGINS

The University was established as Vanport Extension Center in 1946 and in 1952 moved to downtown Portland. In 1955, the Vanport Extension Center became Portland State College, a four-year, degree-granting institution. Graduate studies were added in 1961, doctoral programs began in 1968, and the institution was granted university status in 1969.

EDUCATION

Portland State University is a nationally acclaimed leader in community-based learning. Located in downtown Portland's tree-lined South Park Blocks, the University is the largest, most diverse and only urban university in the Oregon University System. It is Oregon's fastest growing public institution, serving more students and conferring more graduate degrees each year than any other school in the Oregon University System.

PSU's award-winning general education program, called University Studies, provides students with learning experiences designed to facilitate the acquisition of knowledge and attitudes that will build a foundation for lifelong learning.

The University offers more than 120 majors, minors and areas of concentration. Portland State is home to Oregon's largest business school and the Graduate School of Education is Oregon's largest and most comprehensive school of its kind. PSU also offers the largest academic summer program in Oregon.

Portland State's Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide an athletic program that develops the whole person through education and competition.

Student-athletes have access to their own computer lab in the Stott Center, which is open whenever the Stott Center itself is. The lab's 15 computers are replaced every other year.

Student-athletes work with an academic advisor and have access to the Skills Enhancement and Tutoring Center to ensure they are able to get the most out of their education. Student-athletes are also able to attend seminars given by the career center.

GREEN. IT'S MORE THAN OUR SCHOOL COLOR.

At Portland State we do more than just study sustainability. We engage directly with our community to make sustainability real. Our goal is to harness the strengths of our urban university - our new ideas, our innovative partnerships, our academic rigor - toward solving the environmental, social, and economic problems of our time.

In September 2008, Portland State University received the biggest donation in its history: $25 million from the James F. and Maron L. Miller Foundation for research and projects focused on sustainability.

ABOUT SUSTAINABILITY

If you're encountering the concept of sustainability for the first time, you may be asking yourself what all the buzz is about. When pressed to provide a definition, most sustainability professionals offer some variation on the following definition: Sustainability means meeting the economic, social, and environmental needs of the present without compromising the similar needs of future generations.

Sustainability is a process. By thinking about sustainability as a continuum rather than an endpoint, we as a University are better positioned to identify our successes while simultaneously focusing on future goals. Portland State aims to be a living laboratory of sustainability, with our efforts at research and education fully integrated with the community around us.

HEAD COACH KATIE BURTON

Larry Lawson

Katie Burton took over as the eighth head coach in program history on July 5, 2017, and will be a first-time head coach for the Vikings during the 2017 season.

Burton came to the Vikings after spending the last two seasons as the associate head coach at Sacramento State, where she helped lead a program turnaround. The Hornets hadn't made the Big Sky tournament in four seasons before Burton's arrival, but broke that streak with a Big Sky tournament appearance in Burton's first year in 2015.

Burton then helped lead the Hornets to a second-place finish within the Big Sky in 2016, when they clinched the No. 2 seed and a first-round bye in the Big Sky tournament with a 2-1 win over the Vikings in both teams' regular-season finale.

Burton cut her teeth as an assistant coach at the University of San Francisco from 2011-14, where she again helped lead a program turnaround. The Dons hadn't finished better than seventh in the nationally respected West Coast Conference in the previous five seasons to Burton's arrival. However, Burton helped lead USF to two top six finishes in the WCC in her four years at the school, and laid the groundwork for the Dons' record-breaking season in 2015, when the team set program records for best WCC finish (T-2nd), most WCC wins (7) and best WCC record (7-2-0).

Burton's first coaching stop came at UNLV, where she spent a year-and-a-half as an assistant coach/camp director/director of operations for both the men's and women's soccer programs from 2010-11.

As a player at Sacramento State, Burton helped lead the Hornets to their first NCAA tournament appearance in 2007. Burton and the Hornets swept the Big Sky regular-season and tournament titles that season, and finished with an unbeaten conference record at 4-0-3.

Burton was a three-time All-Big Sky selection as a player (2003, 2006, 2007), including an All-Big Sky first-team selection as a senior in 2007.

Burton is married to her wife, Christine Conklin, and is the daughter of Susie and Brian Cram.

THE BURTON PROFILE

EDUCATION:
University of San Francisco, M.A., Sports Management, 2013

• 2011-14, San Francisco, Assistant Coach
• 2010-11, UNLV, Assistant Coach/Camp Director/Director of Operations Men's and Women's Soccer

PLAYING EXPERIENCE:
• Sacramento State, 2003-07
• Helped Sacramento State to its first NCAA tournament appearance in 2007
• Led Sacramento State to Big Sky regular-season and tournament titles in 2007
• Three-time All-Big Sky selection, including first-team selection in 2007
• All-Big Sky tournament selection in 2007

Assistant Coach
Maureen Whitney
1st Year • Sacramento State, 2001

Maureen Whitney joined the Portland State soccer coaching staff in the fall of 2017 as the top assistant under first-year head coach Katie Burton.

Like Burton and fellow Viking assistant Jenny Lawrence, Whitney came to the Vikings after playing and coaching at Sacramento State. Whitney played soccer and softball at Sacramento State from 1998-99, and coached as an assistant with the Hornets across two stints from 2000-03 and 2007-10. Whitney coached both Burton and Lawrence as players, including in 2007, when the Hornets swept the Big Sky regular-season and tournament titles, and made their first NCAA tournament appearance. Whitney brings a wealth of post-collegiate playing experience to her role at Portland State, having spent parts of the past 16 years with the California Storm of the Women's Premier Soccer League (WPSL). Whitney played for the Storm for over a decade starting in 2001, and spent two different stints as a player-coach and assistant from 2005-09 and 2015-17.

Whitney won two WPSL championships with the Storm in 2002 and 2004, the latter of which she won with former Portland State head coach Laura Schott. Whitney was named the WPSL MVP the following year in 2005, and captained the Storm for 10 consecutive seasons. Additionally, Whitney was named a WPSL All-Star for four straight seasons from 2003-07, and won the 2012 WPSL Leadership Award.

Whitney played with several national team players during her time with the Storm, including Brandi Chastain (U.S.), Sissi (Brazil), Leslie Osborne (U.S.), Stephanie Cox (U.S.), Shannon MacMillan (U.S.) and current USWNT star Alex Morgan.

Whitney was also called into camp for the San Jose CyberRays of the professional Women's United Soccer Association, but the league folded a month later. Whitney was twice called up to Sky Blue FC during the 2008-09 season when the team played in the WPS, but turned down both call-ups to stay as an assistant at Sacramento State.

In college, Whitney was a three-sport athlete at Walla Walla Community College for two years, playing soccer, basketball and softball before moving to Sacramento State. Whitney earned NWAC All-Star honors in soccer in 1997.

Whitney has also coached collegiately as an assistant coach at Fresno State from 2010-12, and College of the Sequoias from 2014-15. Additionally, Whitney served as a Youth Soccer Coach at Elk Grove United and San Juan Soccer Club from 2002-06 and 2006-10, respectively, and worked as a Sports Camp Director and Summer Camp Director at Sacramento State from 2001-04. Whitney also served as the WPSL Chief Consultant from 2005-07.

Assistant Coach
Jenny Lawrence
1st Year • Sacramento State, 2009

Jenny Lawrence joined the Portland State women's soccer coaching staff in the fall of 2017, serving as an assistant coach in charge of the team's goalkeepers under first-year head coach Katie Burton.

Lawrence completed a staff full of ex-Sacramento State players and coaches, as she, Burton and fellow assistant Maureen Whitney all played and coached at Sacramento State before coming to Portland State. Lawrence and Burton overlapped as players at Sacramento State, including in 2007, when the Hornets swept the Big Sky regular-season and tournament titles, and made their first NCAA tournament appearance.

Lawrence earned All-Big Sky honorable mention in her first year with the Hornets in 2005, and finished her career ranked third all-time in career saves.

Lawrence first joined the Hornets' coaching staff as a volunteer assistant and goalkeeper trainer, and served in that role from 2009-11 – a stretch that included the Hornets' second Big Sky title and NCAA tournament appearance in 2010. Lawrence rejoined the Hornets' coaching staff as an assistant in 2014, and served in that role before leaving to join the Vikings.

Lawrence oversaw the development of three-time All-Big Sky second-team selection Savannah Abercrombie in her first stint mentoring goalkeepers at Sacramento State. Lawrence then coached Kim Mata in her final year at Sacramento State when she rejoined the Hornets' staff in 2014, and coached Mata to her second straight All-Big Sky honorable mention that season.

Outside of her time at Sacramento State, Lawrence served as a coach and trainer for the Elk Grove United Soccer Club from 2010-17, assisting in the player development for the club's U8 to U12 girls divisions, as well as the boys and girls goalkeepers, aged 7-14.

The Big Sky Conference expanded to 12 full-time members with the return of Idaho, an original member of the conference for the 2014-15 season. With the addition of Idaho, the Big Sky Conference now has 11 teams competing in women's soccer, the most teams in conference history, and will feature a 10-match league season for the first time during the 2014 season.

The Big Sky is an NCAA Division I member in all sports, with member institutions classified in the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS).

Before Idaho joined in the summer of 2014, the Big Sky added four members for the 2012-13 school year in North Dakota and Southern Utah (full members), and UC Davis and Cal Poly (football-only affiliate members).

Those schools and Idaho were added to Eastern Washington, Idaho State, Montana, Montana State, Northern Arizona, Northern Colorado, Portland State, Sacramento State and Weber State.

The Big Sky Conference was established in 1963 by six charter members - Idaho, Idaho State, Gonzaga, Montana, Montana State and Weber State. Those six schools formed the foundation of the Big Sky before the league expanded in 1970 by adding Boise State and Northern Arizona. Gonzaga left the Sky in 1979 and was replaced by Nevada, which gave the league eight members. The conference grew to nine schools in 1987 with the addition of Eastern Washington.

The 1990s saw change in the makeup of the league, beginning in 1992 when Nevada departed and put the Big Sky back at eight teams. In 1996 Boise State and Idaho left and at the same time the conference added Portland State, Sacramento State and Cal State Northridge. The Big Sky maintained nine teams for five years before Cal State Northridge departed in the spring of 2001.

The Big Sky now includes nine states spanning from the Pacific Ocean to the Red River Valley of North Dakota. The league is represented along the entire west coast with institutions in Washington, Oregon and California. League schools also range up and down the Rocky Mountains with institutions in Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and Colorado.

On Feb. 25, 1963, the name Big Sky was adopted by six presidents of the charter members as the name of the new conference. The name Big Sky originated in a novel written by the late A.B. (Bud) Guthrie of Great Falls, Mont., in 1947 entitled "The Big Sky." Jack Hollowell, a former Montana advertising director, promoted the Big Sky theme for the Treasure State. While on a track and field trip from Pocatello, Idaho, to Missoula, Mont., legendary Dubby Holt of Idaho State saw a "Welcome to Big Sky Country" sign as his team entered Montana. Holt, and his athletes thought "Big Sky" would be a perfect name for the new conference. Harry Missildine of the Spokane Spokesman-Review called for the newly formed league to be named the Big Sky Conference in his column dated Feb. 20, 1963.

The Big Sky sponsors championships in 15 sports, including men's and women's cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field, basketball and tennis. In addition, there are also championships in football, and women's volleyball, golf, soccer and softball. The Big Sky Conference hosted its first softball championship last season during the 2013-14 academic year.

The 2014-15 season will mark the 27th year that the Big Sky Conference will sponsor championships in women's sports. The former Mountain West Conference existed from 1982-88, sponsoring championships for women's sports at the same institutions the Big Sky had men's programs. The Big Sky merged with the Mountain West in 1988, forming one league for both men and women.

Doug Fullerton, the fifth commissioner of the Big Sky Conference, will enter his 19th year at the helm. Fullerton took over the Big Sky on July 1, 1995, replacing longtime commissioner Ron Stephenson, who passed away in 2011. Stephenson served the league for 14 years. Steve Belko was the commissioner from 1977-81, while John Roning held the post from 1971-77. The first league commissioner was Jack Friel, who served from 1963-71.

2016 SEASON RECAP

PORTLAND, Ore. — The Portland State women's soccer team's 2016 season started with the Vikings more often described as "young" than any other descriptor.

It was understandable since the Vikings had 18 underclassmen on their 26-player roster, and were starting three freshmen on the backline in front of a pair of goalkeepers with no career starts between them.

By the end of the season, however, "young" – though still accurate, of course – was no longer the primary descriptor for the team as the Vikings showed enough grit and mental toughness to shake the "young" moniker and forge a new identity.

"This was a unique year in that often eight or nine positions on the field were occupied by players who did not play the previous year, or did not play the position they were now asked to play. But this year's team had a special identity, and spirit of support about it. They care about each other on the field, off the field, and in the classroom. Everything I've seen from them this year has demonstrated that," head coach Laura Schott said of her team after season's end.

The Vikings showed their mental toughness several times during Big Sky Conference play, even as they dealt with some hard-luck losses early on.

The Vikings had just about as bitter of an opening weekend to conference play as any team could ask for, as they came back to force overtime on the road against Northern Arizona and Southern Utah, only to lose both matches in overtime.

Those losses put the Vikings in a hole early on in the conference schedule, and league-leading and eventual Big Sky tournament champion Eastern Washington was coming to Hillsboro Stadium for the team's next match. The Eagles came into the match as the league's best offense, and featured the best offensive player in the league in Chloe Williams, who would go on to win her second straight Big Sky Offensive MVP award and earn her third straight All-Big Sky first-team selection at the end of the year.

A third straight loss to open Big Sky play would have all but sealed the Vikings' fate, but instead the Vikings came out and played likely their best match of the season while outplaying the powerful Eagles in a 0-0 draw. The Vikings held the Eagles to a season-low four shots while outshooting them 14-4 in the match, and held Williams without a shot.

Breanne Chilton-Eddy's (#6) game-winning goal in overtime against Weber State made ESPN's Top 10 plays for Oct. 23, coming in at No. 4. The goal also came on Chilton-Eddy's own Senior Day.

It was an impressive shutout for a team that had only held three of their first 10 opponents to less than two goals in a match.

The shutout spurred the Vikings to a 1-0 win over Montana two days later, a team that would go on to tie for third in the Big Sky at the end of the regular season.

The Vikings faced another set back the weekend after, however, with another overtime loss on the road to Idaho State, and then a 2-1 home loss to Idaho, the eventual Big Sky regular-season champion. The loss to the Vandals stung particularly hard, as the Vikings led that match 1-0 at halftime, but then conceded an early PK and indirect free kick in the box in the second half that led to the Vandals' two goals.

Those losses dropped the Vikings to 1-4-1 with only four matches remaining in the Big Sky schedule, putting the Vikings on the precipice once again. This time, the Vikings weren't returning home from a road trip, either, and would instead have to fight to keep their season alive on the toughest road trip in the Big Sky conference as they headed to Northern Colorado and North Dakota.

The Vikings had never earned six points on the Northern Colorado-North Dakota road trip, and hadn't won in Northern Colorado since 2008. What's more, the Vikings took an eight-match road losing streak in conference play into their match against the Bears, as they hadn't won a conference road match since beating North Dakota on Oct. 19, 2014.

But this is also where the ignorance of youth may have benefited the young Vikings, as that history showed no signs of bothering the team at all. Instead, the Vikings went out and beat Northern Colorado and North Dakota 1-0 on a pair of Katie Forsee game-winners, completing their first six-point conference road weekend since 2013.

The wins catapulted the Vikings back up the Big Sky standings, giving them 10 points at 3-4-1 in conference play.

Weber State snuffed out the Vikings' momentum early in the Vikings' subsequent match, however, as the Wildcats went up 1-0 in just the seventh minute. Sophomore Krystal de Ramos leveled the match again with a goal in the 30th minute, but neither team found the net in regulation after that, sending the match to a dreaded overtime period.

Overtime had not been a friendly place for the Vikings going into their match against the Wildcats, as three of the Vikings' four conference losses to that point had come in overtime. Viking fans were no doubt reluctant to see the Vikings' match against the Wildcats head to overtime, but what followed could only be described as magic.

After all, the Vikings were also celebrating Senior Day in their match against Weber State, and redshirt junior Breanne Chilton-Eddy – who was one of the seniors honored before the game – scored one of the best goals in program history to hand the Vikings a 2-1 win over the Wildcats, completing the team's first comeback win since Oct. 13, 2013.

Chilton-Eddy's goal, which came on a high-arching shot from distance that tucked just under the crossbar and into the far-side netting, made ESPN's Top 10 plays that night, and was later picked up by NCAA Soccer, Fox Soccer and the USA Today's For the Win.

The win also put the Vikings back at .500 in conference play at 4-4-1, and put them a win away from improbably qualifying for the Big Sky tournament after starting the year 1-4-1.

The Vikings only needed a win over Sacramento State to make the Big Sky tournament, but that would prove easier said than done, as the Hornets – led by eventual Big Sky Coach of the Year Randy Dedini – beat the Vikings 2-1, and Northern Colorado jumped past the Vikings for the final tournament spot with a win over last-place North Dakota.

The season-ending loss stung, but the Vikings' run into contention has already turned promise for 2017, as the team will return 10 of the 11 players who started at least 10 matches for the Vikings. What's more, the Vikings return both of their 2016 All-Big Sky first-team selections in Forsee and Kristin Moyer, who led the Vikings' offensively and defensively this season.

"There is no substitute for experience," Schott said. "The incoming class is solid. Myself, [assistant coach] Rochelle [Hearns] and [assistant coach] Cris [Lewis] are very excited about the student-athletes who are currently in our program and the ones joining us in the future. I don't believe we have ever had that many returning starters so 2017 will be a new challenge and we are looking forward to it."

Forsee led the Vikings with 13 points on five goals and three assists, and frequently was the player to step up when the Vikings absolutely needed a goal as she led the Vikings with three game-winning goals.

Forsee's presence in the Vikings' attack made a major difference across the board this season. Injuries forced Forsee to play on the Vikings' back line last season, and the attack suffered as a result with the Vikings only scoring 13 goals in 2015. This season, the Vikings scored 21 goals, with Forsee scoring or assisting on eight of the 21.

De Ramos, meanwhile, earned All-Big Sky honorable mention while tying Forsee for the team lead in goals scored with five. Senior Aurora Bodenhamer added four goals of her own to finish with 11 goals in her career and sit in a tie for seventh all-time at Portland State.

Bodenhamer won't be back next season, but the Vikings will return the majority of their attack in Forsee, de Ramos, Morgan Matthews (seven points on three goals and an assist in 2016), Rachel Michieli and Liv Jillings.

Moyer also finished with four points for the Vikings on one goal and two assists, but her major contribution will of course remain on the defensive side where she anchored the Vikings' back line this season.

The defense came into the season as a major question mark, as the Vikings started three freshmen on their back line, in front of two goalkeepers with no career starts between them coming into the season.

Moyer and the defense improved dramatically throughout the season, however, as the Vikings held a 2.88 goals-against average going into their match against Eastern Washington on Sept. 30, but finished with a 0.95 goals-against average over their final eight matches of the season.

"Some years you wish the year was longer because you see the trend of results and shutouts and improvement and this was one of those years. We just kept getting better," Schott said.

Moyer, Kasey Isobe and Maxine Nagramada – another All-Big Sky honorable mention – all started all 18 matches for the Vikings on the back line, and all will return next season. Additionally, Abbie Faingold will return after starting 16 matches for the Vikings in goal, as well as backup goalkeeper Ashton Blanskma, who started two matches for the Vikings and finished the team's shutout against North Dakota on Oct. 16.

The spring season will give the Vikings' returners even more time to gel together, and come next August, the top descriptor for the Vikings will no longer be "young."

GOING VIRAL:

The Portland State women's soccer team and redshirt junior Breanne Chilton-Eddy went viral after Chilton-Eddy scored the game-winning goal against Weber State in overtime on Oct. 23. Chilton-Eddy's goal made the top 10 plays of the day on ESPN's SportsCenter that night, coming in at No. 4, while NCAA Soccer, Fox Sports and Fox Soccer, the popular Twitter handle @SoccerGrlProbs and USA Today's For the Win all either picked up the story or retweeted video of the goal. Chilton-Eddy's goal was also named the Goal of the Week on TopDrawerSoccer.com. Chilton-Eddy's goal wasn't the first time the Vikings had gone viral this season, however. A clip from senior Aurora Bodenhamer's show "Immediately After Practice with Ro" with freshmen Kasey Isobe and Tamera Mikamura also went viral earlier this season. The clip, where Isobe jokes that her and other native Hawaiians "like to ride their dolphins to school", was retweeted more than 2,000 times.

MAYBE OVERTIME'S NOT SO BAD ANYMORE:

The Vikings had had enough of overtime before Breanne Chilton-Eddy's miracle shot in overtime against Weber State. The Vikings had lost three matches in overtime – all in Big Sky play – before they finally won in overtime against the Wildcats. The Vikings' five overtime matches stand as a school record, two more than the old record of three, which only happened once before back in 2003.

HOME SWEET HOME:

The Vikings were a strong home team all season, as they went 3-4-1 at home, versus a 3-7-0 record on the road. The Vikings also went 2-2-1 in five Big Sky matches at home, with their only losses coming to the top two teams in the Big Sky in Idaho and Sacramento State. Additionally, the Vikings' defense performed dramatically better at home this season, as the Vikings finished the year with a 1.21 goals-against average at home, while starting goalkeeper Abbie Faingold only allowed six goals at home and had a 0.89 goals-against average in home matches. In comparison, the Vikings had a 2.63 goals-against average as a team in road matches this season, where the Vikings allowed 27 of the 37 goals the allowed all season.

STRONG OFFENSE:
The Vikings scored a goal in 12 of their last 13 matches, with the only exception being the Vikings' 0-0 draw with the then-league-leading Eastern Washington Eagles on Sept. 30. The Vikings finished the season on a seven-match scoring streak into their match against Sacramento State Friday, tied for the fourth-longest scoring streak in program history. The Vikings' offense was a bright spot for the team all season, as the team scored 21 goals in 2016, eight more than the team scored during all of last season, and matched the total the team scored in 2014, when they finished second in the Big Sky Conference. Additionally, the Vikings had three players with at least four goals this season, the first time the Vikings have spread out the scoring like that since 2013. The Vikings also scored multiple goals in six matches this season, more than the Vikings' totals in 2015 and 2014. Individually, junior Katie Forsee and sophomore Krystal de Ramos led the Vikings with five goals each this season, while senior Aurora Bodenhamer ranked third on the team with four.

DE RAMOS IS DUH-DUH-DANGEROUS:
Sophomore Krystal de Ramos finished the season with goals in back-to-back matches to move her into a tie with Katie Forsee for the team lead with five goals on the year. De Ramos' strong season for the Vikings comes on the back of a busy summer of soccer for the Viking sophomore, as she also played for the Philippines National Team at the AFF Women's Championship at the end of July. De Ramos earned her first international cap on July 26, when she was inserted into the starting XI for the team's match against Thailand. De Ramos also started in the Philippines' 2-0 win over Singapore on July 30.

THE FORCE-EE IS WITH THE VIKINGS:
The force is strong with junior Katie Forsee, who led the Vikings with five goals this season, and scored three of the team's six game-winning goals. Forsee's three game-winning goals tied her for the second-best single-season total in program history, just one behind the single-season record of four game-winning goals that Cori Bianchini set in 2013. Forsee also set the program record for shots in a single match with 12 against North Dakota on Oct. 16, and tied her own school record for shots on goal in a Big Sky match with six against the Fighting Hawks. Forsee is also unquestionably the team's most versatile player, as she fluctuates in-game between the Vikings' attack and defense. Forsee also spent time at every position, save goalkeeper, last season, when she was named an All-Big Sky honorable mention.

AURORA BODENHAMER, BIG SKY KILLER:
Senior Aurora Bodenhamer moved into a tie for seventh all-time in goals scored at Portland State with her 11th career goal in the Vikings' loss at Idaho State on Oct. 7. Bodenhamer's goal against Idaho State was also her eighth career goal in Big Sky play, just two behind Dolly Enneking's school record of 10 conference goals, set from 2006-09. Bodenhamer also moved into a tie for seventh all-time with her fourth career game-winning goal earlier this season. Bodenhamer finished the season third on the team in goals (4) and points (9) this season, a season after she led the Vikings in both categories with five goals and 11 points in 2015. All five of Bodenhamer's goals last season came in Big Sky play, ranking one off the single-season record for conference goals by a Viking. Bodenhamer scored two goals in two different matches last season, including both goals in the Vikings' 2-1, overtime win over Southern Utah. Bodenhamer was named an All-Big Sky honorable mention after the season, the first all-conference honor of her career.

IRON WOMAN:
Trains should run their schedules off of the Vikings' Kristin Moyer because she's just that reliable on the Vikings' back line. The redshirt junior defender did not miss a minute of action in 14 of the Vikings' 18 matches this season, and has only missed a total of 40 minutes in the other four matches combined. For her career, Moyer has missed playing time in just nine matches, and did not miss a minute of any match last season. Additionally, Moyer has started all 55 matches of her career, giving her a chance to break the school records for career starts and minutes played if she stays healthy over her final two seasons of eligibility. Moyer has a better chance to break the school record in minutes played if she stays healthy, as her 4,932 career minutes played rank more than three-fourths of the way to Juli Edwards' current record of 6,224, and Moyer still has a season of eligibility remaining. To break the record for career starts, however, Moyer will need the Vikings make the Big Sky tournament in 2017, and likely make an extended run in the tournament as well. Moyer heads into her redshirt senior season with 55 career starts, 19 behind the current record shared by Nathalie Wollman and Dolly Enneking at 74. The Vikings have played 18 matches in the regular season in each of the past three seasons, meaning Moyer will likely need to pick up a start or two in the postseason to either tie or break the record.
