Moreover, she accomplished her second national title while competing with a broken bone in her foot. In 1996, Unger was recognized by the NCAA as the Oregon Woman Athlete of the Year. Upon graduation, she held school-records in the 100-meter hurdles, high jump, long jump, triple jump and the heptathlon. She competed in the 2000 and 2004 U.S. Olympic Trials in the heptathlon.
