All-Time Letterwinners

Penn Athletics Hall of Fame Inductees

The University of Pennsylvania athletic department established the Penn Athletics Hall of Fame in 1996 to honor the greatest athletes and coaches ever to wear the Red and Blue. The Penn men's track & field program has been honored with 31 members of this prestigious collection of distinguished individuals.

Bernard E. Berlinger, Sr. W'31 - Class I

Barney Berlinger was one of the great track and field performers in Pennsylvania history. A native of Philadelphia, he set school records in the javelin, pole vault, and shot put, and was the recipient of the Sullivan Award, presented annually to the outstanding amateur athlete in the United States, in 1931.

Following his freshman year of 1928, Berlinger finished third in the decathlon at the U.S. Olympic Trials and competed in that summer's Olympic Games in Amsterdam. He was the Penn Relays decathlon champion in 1929, 1930 and 1931, setting the Carnival record during his senior year (7735.6135 points). His best event of the 10 in his record-setting 1931 decathlon performance was the shot put, in which he scored 829.5875 points.

A 1931 graduate, Berlinger was the first recipient of the Class of 1915 Award, bestowed annually on "that member of the senior class who most closely approaches the ideal University of Pennsylvania student-athlete."

Following graduation with a degree from the Wharton School, he won the national AAU decathlon championship in 1934, and continued to compete nationally and internationally for several years. He returned to Pennsylvania in 1938 to become an assistant track coach to the legendary Lawson Robertson.

Bernard E. Berlinger, Jr. ME'60 - Class I

Barney Berlinger, Jr. followed in his father's athletic footsteps at Pennsylvania. A member of both the football and track teams, Berlinger set a then-school record of 14-feet, 4 ½ inches in the pole vault, an event where his father had set a school record 30 years earlier.

But it was on the football field that Berlinger left his mark at Pennsylvania. In 1958 he was the first Red and Blue player to be selected a first-team All-Ivy League performer and repeated that first-team selection in 1959 when he captained Pennsylvania's first Ivy League championship team.

Like his father, he earned the Class of 1915 Award. He also received the Edgar Church Award from his football teammates as the senior player who had given the most to the team.

Lawrance A. Brown, W'1922 - Class III

Served as captain of the 1922 track & field team. During his Penn tenure, was the world record holder in the 1,000 yards and the one-mile and two-mile relays. IC4A Champion in the 880 yards in 1922. Finished second in the IC4A mile (1920 and 1921), the AAU 880 (1921) and the NCAA 880 (1922). After graduating from Penn, set a new record in the 500 meters at Franklin Field. Member of the 1924 U.S. Olympic Team and is one of the runners depicted on the Penn Relay Carnival plaque.

Sam Burley, C'2003, CGS'2006 - Class IX

Penn track & field program has long considered the 800 meters to be a "Penn" event, with a long list of Heptagonal and IC4A champions over the years. Sam Burley might be the most prominent among them. He won the 800 at the 2003 NCAA Outdoor Championships, just the Quakers' second national champion in that race. The first? Try Earl Eby—in 1921. Burley also was a two-time winner in the 800 at the Outdoor Heptagonal Championships, in 2001 and 2003, and took the 1,500 at Outdoor Heps in 2002 and 2003. (That's right, he hit the 800/1,500 double in 2003, making him the only multiple champion at that meet; not surprisingly, he was voted the meet's Outstanding Performer.) He also was an individual Heps champion at the 2003 indoor meet, in the 1,000, as well as a winner with the 4x400 relay team in 2002. Burley helped Penn to its most recent Heptagonal team titles, outdoor championships in both 2001 and 2002. Burley graduated as a five-time All-American and 13-time All-Ivy honoree. On this night of his induction, Burley still holds the school records in both the indoor 800 (1:48.16) and outdoor 800 (1:45.39); in both cases, those marks also are second all-time among Heps schools. He also stands seventh all-time at Penn in the indoor 500 (1:04.02); seventh in the outdoor 1,500 (3:46.52); and eighth in the indoor 1,000 (2:26.13). A star in the classroom, as well, Burley was a 2003 NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship recipient, and he was the University's Class of 1915 Award recipient in 2002-03 as voted on by Penn's head coaches.

Bill Carr W'33 - Class II

Bill Carr left several marks on intercollegiate athletics, but his best performance came as a junior in 1932, when he represented the United States in the Olympics. In those Los Angeles Games, Carr set two world records, defeating Stanford's Ben Eastman, who was the favorite coming into the 400-meter run. Carr surpassed Eastman within the final 80 meters, crossing the finish line with a time of 46.2 seconds, establishing a world record.

Carr's other gold-medal and record-setting victory at the Olympics was in the 1,600-meter relay, for which he ran the anchor, passing British 800-meter champion, Thomas Hampson, in the stretch. The team's time was 3:08.2. In collegiate racing, Carr bested former Penn runner Ted Meredith's 440-yard intercollegiate record.

In 1932, Carr was the third runner on the Penn Indoor Track team's 1,600-meter relay, which eventually broke the world record, with him running the lap in 48 seconds.

Carr, a co-captain in 1932, was honored with the Class of 1915 Award in 1933.

Penn Athletics Hall of Fame Inductees

Nathaniel "Nate" J. Cartmell, W'1907 - Class III

Nate Cartmell was one of the most heralded track athletes of the early 1900s for the University of Pennsylvania and when teamed with legendary coach and Hall of Fame member Mike Murphy, the duo was unstoppable.

As a freshman, Cartmell finished second in the 100 and the 220 at the IC4As in 1904 and was selected to compete for the United States Olympic team. The rookie held his own, winning two bronze medals in his first international competition, one in the 100 and 200.

After taking a year away from Penn, Cartmell returned in 1905 and Murphy left Yale to become the head track coach that same year. For three straight seasons, Cartmell and Penn proved triumphant in their track endeavors. In 1906, the Intercollegiate were held at Harvard and Penn finished second overall, while Cartmell placed first in the 100 and first in the 220. The following year, Cartmell again came away victorious in both events at the Championships and the University of Pennsylvania won the Intercollegiate Track Championship held in Cambridge.

For Cartmell's final season as a collegiate runner, he did not disappoint as captain of the Penn track team. The 1908 Intercollegiate were held at Franklin Field, and although Penn finished second behind Cornell, Cartmell earned a three-peat in both the 100 and 220-dash events. Penn's prolific sprinter went on to compete in the 1908 Olympics and won a gold medal as part of the sprint medley relay team. He also won a bronze medal for the U.S. in the 200 and recorded a fourth-place finish in the 100.

He continued his climb of track prominence after graduation. As one of only five American males to win at least three Olympic medals in the dashes, Cartmell went to compete overseas in 1909. He won the 220 at the 1909 Professional Championship of the World in England

Denis Elton Cochran-Fikes, C'1974, WG'1979 - Class III

Denis Fikes took the collegiate track and field and cross country world by storm in his very first year with the Quakers in 1970. And after four consecutive years of the same intensity and Penn pride, Fikes finished his track career at Penn with several championships, numerous accolades and plenty of records. His love of the sport, and collegiate athletics in general, propelled him into various coaching positions and his current administrative duty in the University of Pennsylvania's athletic department.

In the spring of 1974, he became the first Penn and Ivy League athlete to break a four-minute mile when he ran a 3:55.0. It was also the best performance by an African-American athlete in the U.S. and was ranked 15th on the all-time world list at the time.

In all, Denis Fikes recorded over 25 school records in the middle distance events from 1,000 meters to three-miles. He won seven Heptagonal titles and one IC4A title. He was a six-time All-Eastern honoree and a two-time All-American.

After college, Fikes continued the sport he loved with the Philadelphia Pioneers, Marine Corps and Athletic Attic. He represented the U.S. twice during 1976, competing in the USA vs. USSR indoor dual meet and the CISM games (International Military Championships).

After his running became hampered by injuries, Fikes took to coaching and administration. He held coaching positions with the Marines and Harvard University, before coming back to Penn in 1986 to be the associate athletic director and now serves as the compliance coordinator for the athletic department.

Bruce R. Collins C'74 - Class I

Bruce Collins earned a permanent place in Pennsylvania's track and field annals as one of the outstanding collegiate hurdlers of the early 1970's. An NCAA, IC4A and Heptagonal Games champion in the 400-intermediate hurdles, Collins was the Penn Relays champion in the event in 1972 and 1973, and ran on the Carnival's shuttle hurdles relay championship teams in 1972, 1973, and 1974. In 1972, as a Pennsylvania sophomore, he ran the fourth fastest time in the U.S. Olympic trials. His school record for the event still stands, and his best time of 13.98 seconds for the 110-meter high hurdles is the second fastest ever run by a Quaker. Collins also ran the 400-meter leg in the still-standing school record of 9:41.6 for the distance medley relay, run in 1974.

Willis N. Cummings, D.D.S., D'1919 - Class VIII

A three-year member of the Penn cross country and track & field teams (1917-19), Willis N. Cummings faced much more adversity than your typical collegiate athlete. Not only did he have to overcome the course, track, fatigue and his opponents, but he also had to overcome the color of his skin. Cummings—pictured at right with the 1973 Penn men's cross country team at Van Cortlandt Park (Cummings is circled in the back row)—was just the third African-American student at Penn to earn a varsity letter, and when he was named captain of the cross country team in 1918 he became the first African-American to captain a varsity program for any team at any school in the Ivy League. However, for decades, his accomplishments were buried—by Penn and its opponents—because of his race. After earning a bachelor's degree from Fisk University in 1916, Cummings enrolled in the University's School of Dentistry as one of two African-Americans among the Class of 1919's 259 members. He joined the cross country and track & field teams with the support of head coach Lawson Robertson, but that decision was not widely accepted. Several schools refused to run against Cummings and the Quakers as long as an African-American was on the roster. Coach Robertson was unfazed by much of the criticism and anointed Cummings as team captain in 1918, simply because he was the best of his time. Cummings won the Mid-Atlantic AAU cross country championships as a junior and a senior—the first person to ever accomplish that feat, regardless of race. However, most of Cummings' records and accolades disappeared upon his graduation. In fact, in 1918, no team picture was taken, as Penn was reluctant to show an African-American sitting in the center as a team captain. It was not until 1963, when Cummings brought in his own scrapbook, newspaper clippings, mementos and research that his name was restored to the official records. Cummings, who ran in three Penn Relays as a member of the Red and Blue, graduated sixth in his class and was the first African-American elected to Omicron Kappa Upsilon, the national dental honor society. Following his retirement from dentistry in 1970, Cummings could often be found taking laps around the famed Franklin Field track. As late as 1980, every team photo in Penn history hung in the Donaldson Room of Weightman Hall—except that of the 1918 cross country team. A photo of Cummings stood in its place. With those photos since replaced, Cummings now regains his rightful place in that room alongside the rest of Penn's greatest athletes.

Kenneth B. Dietz, W'1971 - Class VI

The words were written in The Daily Pennsylvanian in April 1969: "Sophomore Ken Dietz is the best discus man in Pennsylvania track & field history." Best throw from that year held up for 25 years as the program's standard. A three-time All-East honoree, Heptagonal champion and first-team All-Ivy selection in the discus. He never lost to an Ivy League in that event during his four years on campus. Gold medalist at the 1969 World Maccabiah Games. Captain of the 1971 team that swept the indoor and outdoor Heps titles, the genesis of a 10-year period that saw the Quakers dominate that competition.

J. Kenneth Doherty - Class II

Ken Doherty was an accomplished athlete in his days at the University of Michigan, winning the U.S. decathlon championship as well as taking the bronze medal at the 1928 Amsterdam Olympics, setting a national decathlon record the following year. What Doherty did to the Penn Relays and to the world of track and field, however, made a much larger impact.

While Doherty was finishing his 25-year coaching career with a 10-year stint at the University of Pennsylvania, he wrote his first track and field textbook, Modern Track and Field, in 1953. He wrote two more books in the 1960s and published several articles in track and field trade journals. Doherty came to be known as one of the leading track and field authors for three decades.

While Doherty was coaching the Red and Blue, he took the reigns of the Penn Relays, directing it from 1951 until 1969. The Relays was not the only event he directed, as he produced the Philadelphia Inquirer Games for nine years, the U.S./U.S.S.R. dual-meet in 1959 and the NCAA Championships in 1961. Doherty was enshrined in the National Track Hall of Fame in 1961.

Earl W. Eby, W'1921 - Class V

Penn men's track and field has long considered the 800-meter race to be "its" event. Earl Eby is one of the earliest examples; he was a silver medalist in the 800 at the 1920 Olympic Games held in Antwerp, Belgium and the 1919 Inter-Allied Games held in Paris, France.

Eby also holds the honor of being Penn's first NCAA track champion—he won the 880 at the first NCAA Championship meet in Chicago in 1921. Prior to that, he was the 880 titleist at both the 1920 and 1921 Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America (IC4A) meets—until the NCAA meet came along, the IC4A was considered the national collegiate championship meet.

Eby—who was captain of the 1921 Penn track team—put together quite a string of championships during his tenure at Penn. In addition to his numerous titles at the 800 and 880 distances, he was a three-time USA Track and Field champion in the indoor 500.

Steven L. Galetta, C'1979, GM'1987 - Class V

Born and bred in Brooklyn, Steven Galetta, C'79, GM'87, took the road less travelled out of his neighborhood to land at Penn in the fall of 1975 and went on to a stellar four-year career in both lightweight (now sprint) football and track for the Quakers.

In football, he was a four-time letterwinner and captain of the 1978 team. That same season, he was recipient of the Lt. Charles E. Schmucker Award as "the ideal lightweight football player." A four-time first-team all-league player, Galetta remains third on the program's career rushing chart with 2,091 yards—at the time of his graduation it was a school record, and it stood for 21 years—and his 819 yards in 1975 (which was the school record until 1989) remains fifth on the single-season list.

In track, Galetta was an All-Ivy and All-East performer, as well as an NCAA finalist in 1976. Galetta was honored with the Class of 1915 Award in 1979 as the University's outstanding male athlete. Galetta was a Rhodes Scholar.

John R. Haines W'56 - Class II

While Penn's track and field heyday had passed, John Haines did more than his share to resurrect the former glory of the University of Pennsylvania track and field squad; his most impressive feat was being the only athlete ever to win four consecutive national championships in the same event, that being the 60-yard dash, which he won from 1953 through 1956. In addition to the four national championships, he won the event three times at the IC4As, and in 1955 and 1956, he was the College-American record holder in that event.

Haines also won the national championship in the 55-meter dash, and in 1956, he was the runner-up in the 400-meter and the 100-meter races at nationals. In indoor competition, Haines was equally competitive, and was named an All-American from 1953 through 1955. In 1955, he won the 100-meter run at the IC4As. The following year, in the same competition, he won the 220-yard run and 400-meter run. Over his career, Haines won six IC4A championships, five Heptagonal championships, and two Penn Relays titles.

In 1956, Haines competed in the Olympic Trials, and was a finalist in the 100-meter, 200-meter, and 400-meter dashes. In addition, Haines was the Cane Man for the Class of 1956.

Edward K. James, M.D., C'1976 - Class VI

Graduated with the school record in the indoor 55, indoor 100 and outdoor 200. Helped Penn to six Heptagonal titles during his career, winning five individual Heps titles and three others with relay teams. A two-time Heps champion in the indoor 55-meter dash and outdoor 200. As a junior, part of a 4x100 relay team that attained All-America status and ran a time (39.59 seconds) that was still the record at the time of his induction. As a senior, pulled off the 100/200 double at the IC4A Championships. 1976 recipient of the Class of 1915 Award. Ran the 100 and 200 at the 1976 Olympic Trials.

Alvin C. Kraenzlein D'1900 - Class II

Alvin Kraenzlein was arguably the most successful of Penn's countless track greats, who set nine intercollegiate and Olympic records, invented modern track methods, and was a notable coach as well. Kraenzlein's greatest moment came at the 1900 Paris Olympics, where he became the first male athlete ever to win four Olympic gold medals. Kraenzlein won the 200-meter and 100-meter hurdles as well as the 60-meter dash and the broad jump.

Competing on the collegiate level, Kraenzlein set the world record for long jump in 1899 and the year before, he set world records in the 120-yard high-hurdles and 220-yard low-hurdles, a record that lasted more than a quarter of a century. He was named All-American seven times: three times each for the high-and low-hurdles and once for the long jump. His skills led to his induction into the National Track Hall of Fame.

Kraenzlein is credited with inventing the current hurdling method of leading with a straight leg.

Upon graduation, Kraenzlein coached winning programs at Mercersburg Academy and the University of Michigan. He was hired by Germany to coach its Olympic team for five years, but World War I cut short that contract.

Penn Athletics Hall of Fame Inductees

Don Lippincott, C'1915 - Class II

Early in his tenure at Penn, Lippincott made a name for himself as a world class sprinter. At the age of eighteen, he was granted a spot on the U.S. Olympic Track Team. Pitted against the world's best sprinters at the time, the unlikely Lippincott set a world record in a qualifying heat in the 100 meters with a time of 10.6 seconds; this time advanced him to the finals, where he would capture the bronze medal. He followed this performance with even more success in the 200 meters, winning a silver medal.

For the next three years Lippincott was a member of Penn's varsity track team, becoming a champion record-holder during a time when Penn athletes dominated the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America (IC4-A) under the coaching of the legendary Mike Murphy. In his last years at Penn, Lippincott became a member of the 1,600-meter relay team and gave another world-record performance in 1915, the same year he was named captain of the track team, he was a member of the Board of Directors of the Athletic Association.

Josiah C. McCracken, M'1901, H'1927 - Class III

As the University of Pennsylvania's only world record holder in the throws, McCracken was not to be taken lightly out on the field. He set the world record in the hammer throw as a sophomore in 1898 with a toss of 153 feet, eight inches. He also earned the 1898 IC4A title in the hammer throw and broke the old record in that event with a throw of 149 feet, five inches. During that same meet, McCracken broke another IC4A mark and recorded another IC4A Championship in the shot put with a record-throw of 43 feet, eight and one-half inches. McCracken was named an All-American for his accomplishments.

As a junior in 1899, McCracken won both the shot put and hammer throw championships at the IC4As, was named an All-American in both events and served as the captain of the University of Pennsylvania track team.

In 1900, McCracken competed at the Olympic Games for the United States in Paris. There, he won a silver medal in the shot put and followed that with a bronze medal in the hammer throw, which etched his name into Olympic history forever.

Not too many other Penn athletes boast credentials comparable to Josiah McCracken's as a two-sport athlete, world record holder, Olympian and All-American.

E. Leroy Mercer M'1913 - Class II

LeRoy Mercer was one of America's best in two sports – he was named to the College Football Hall of Fame and he represented the United States track team at the 1912 Olympics after being selected as an alternate in 1908.

On the football field, Mercer was twice named All-American, in 1910 and 1912, and the fullback captained the 1911 and 1912 Red and Blue squads. Over the course of his three-year varsity career, Mercer scored 30 touchdowns, 15 in his senior campaign. These accomplishments all came without any secondary school football experience.

Mercer captained the 1913 University of Pennsylvania intercollegiate-champion track team. The year prior to that, however, he had placed fifth in the Olympic long jump and sixth in the decathlon. In 1913, he was named an All-American for his long jump accomplishments, and he won the IC4A long jump titles in 1912 and 1913. Mercer cleared the 12-foot mark in the pole vault in 1908, setting a record which he then broke in 1909. He is credited with becoming the only high school athlete to clear that height with a now-outdated spruce pole.

Mercer was named University of Pennsylvania's Dean of Physical Education in 1930.

J. E. Ted Meredith W'1916 - Class II

James Edwin "Ted" Meredith was at Mercersburg Academy when he began his assault on the track world. He earned his notoriety when he broke the interscholastic 440-yard record twice, once at a meet in Princeton, N.J., and once at Franklin Field. In 1912 at the age of 19, Meredith won the 800-meter competition at the Stockholm Olympics – a race where the top four finishers all ran under the world record. He won a second gold medal running a leg of the 1,600-meter relay as well.

Meredith enrolled at the University of Pennsylvania, and during a two-week span of the 1916 season, he set two more world records in the 880-yard race and set the 440-yard mark as well. He would lower his 440 time in IC4A competition that same year. Overall, Meredith won four combined IC4A championships in the 880- and 440-yard runs.

Prior to his record-setting season, Meredith was the U.S. National champion in the 440-yard run in 1914 and 1915. He won five All-America distinctions, three times for the 440-yard competition and two for the 800. He is a member of the National Track Hall of Fame.

David A. Merrick W'1976 - Class I

Twenty years after he last ran for Pennsylvania, Dave Merrick is still considered the greatest long distance runner in school history.

Merrick's time of 28:49.2 for 10,000 meters, run in 1972, is 58 seconds better than the second fastest time in school records, and his time of 23:51 over Van Cortlandt Park's championship cross country course in New York City is still the all-time school record. He also ran the anchor mile on another school record, the 6,400 meter relay (15:09.8).

Merrick's best NCAA cross country finish was ninth place in his senior year of 1975. He was a member of three outdoor Heptagonal Games championship teams.

Michael C. Murphy - Class II

In the heralded adolescence of the University of Pennsylvania track program, Mike Murphy was the man who guided the athletes to their stellar achievements. He was Penn's track coach and athletic trainer from 1896-1900, and after a second stint at Yale, came back to coach from 1905-1913. During that time, he coached three Olympic teams (1900, 1908 and 1912). Out of the 21 teams he coached, eight of them won intercollegiate championships, four of them at Penn, in 1907, 1910, 1912 and 1913.

The athletes Murphy coached were second-to-none as well, including fellow inductees Alvin Kraenzlein, Ted Meredith, Leroy Mercer, Walter Tweksbury, Mike Dorizas and T. Truxtun Hare, all of whom were Olympians. In addition, Murphy is credited with developing the modern crouched starting method for sprinters.

Today, a plaque erected by the Pennsylvania Varsity Club still stands in Franklin Field, honoring Michael C. Murphy, with his most famous quote inscribed on it: "You can't lick a team that won't be licked." He was much revered, even after his retirement. Upon his death, the University hung its flags at half-mast and cancelled all of its athletic competitions.

Penn Athletics Hall of Fame Inductees

George Orton G'1894, Gr'1896 - Class II

George Orton was a Red and Blue representative in the 1900 Paris Olympics, where he set a world record in the 2,500-meter steeplechase and won the bronze in the 400-meter hurdles. Orton represented the United States, but was the first Canadian competitor in the Olympics. The Olympics in 1900, however, was just Orton's crowning glory, after he had made quite a name for himself at the University of Pennsylvania.

Orton was honored with All-America status for the mile run in 1894, 1895 and 1897; for the two-mile run in 1896; and for the steeplechase in 1894, 1896 and 1897. He set collegiate records in those three events as well. In AAU competition, he was the steeplechase and mile champion in three of his four years.

In 1913, Orton began managing the Penn Relays, and he compiled and edited The History of Athletics at the University of Pennsylvania 1873-1896.

In a time that pre-dated Franklin Field, William "Bill" Page was one of the most well known track athletes in the world. A former college, American and World record holder, Page set all three as a member of the Red and Blue from 1885-87. Page was a three-time All-American in the high jump during his time at Penn. He was also a three-time Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America (IC4A) champion and Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) champion. In 1885, while just a sophomore, he won his first IC4A and AAU titles in the high jump, setting a collegiate and American record in the process and earning his first All-America honor. A year later, Page repeated that feat with IC4A and AAU titles, in addition to yet another All-America honor. Then, in his final season as a Quaker in 1887, Page became the world record holder in the high jump. En route to his third straight All-America selection, as well as the IC4A and AAU titles, Page became the first person to ever clear 6 feet, 4 inches in the high jump. Making his feat even more impressive, this was also a time when there was seldom a soft landing area for high jumpers and well before the modern day high jump technique was created. Upon his graduation in 1887, Page's school record in the high jump stood for more than half a century—in fact, it took 55 years before another Quaker surpassed his mark.

Stan Pawlak, C'1966 - Class III

Three-time letterwinner in both basketball and track. Served as co-captain of both teams in 1966. All-ECAC basketball selection in 1966. Led 1966 basketball team to Ivy Championship. Three-year leading scorer for the basketball team. Third in career scoring average at 20.3 points per game. Member of the 1,000-point club. Three-year All-Ivy basketball honoree. First Penn inductee into the Big 5 Hall of Fame (1973). Named to Ivy League Silver Anniversary All-Star Basketball Team in 1981.

Lawson Robertson - Class III

Lawson Robertson, who served as coach of both the University of Pennsylvania and the United States Olympic track teams, was a participant and a coach of track since 1901.

As a member of both the 1904 and 1906 Olympic track teams, he placed second in the standing high jump. Robertson had the distinction of introducing the javelin throw to U.S. track and field after the 1906 Olympics in Athens. From 1906-08, he was the 300-yard national indoor champion. In 1907, he finished first in the 150-yard dash in the national indoor championships. Robertson also held the world record for the three-legged race with Harry Hillman.

After retiring from competition, Robertson began his coaching career in 1909 when he coached track and field at the New York Athletic Club and afterwards, at Brooklyn College and New York University. He was appointed head track coach at the University of Pennsylvania in 1916, and was thereafter well-known for developing quality track athletes.

As the Penn coach, his 1920, 1923, 1924, 1930 and 1931 teams won the indoor track national championships with his 1920 squad also capturing the outdoor track championship. During his 31 years at Penn, Robertson coached nearly a dozen world record holders including Ted Meredith, W'16 and Larry Brown, W'22. He also served as the head coach of the Olympic track and field teams in 1924, 1928, 1932 and 1936. In addition to his duties as track coach, Robertson spent some years as the conditioning coach for the Penn football team and taught military tactics to undergraduates.

Robertson's unique standing in sport history won him a place with the select group of top coaches in the Helms Hall of Fame.

A plaque in the name of the late Lawson "Robbie" Robertson was erected at Franklin Field in 1953 and Irving J. Feist, W'29 stated at that plaque unveiling that "... keep alive the example of a leader who saw the highest purpose of amateur sport in its relationship to education, to national character and to world understanding ... Robbie's dignity, tact and perspective made him an ambassador without portfolio, of the sports world to the academic, of Pennsylvania to its intercollegiate contemporaries, of the American athlete to those of other nations."

Fred A. Samara W'1973 - Class II

A two-time track All-American, Samara was honored for the decathlon in 1971 and in 1972 for the long jump. Samara won the Penn Relays decathlon title five times, four times after graduation, and once in 1973, when he captained the University of Pennsylvania men's track team. Also that year, he won the IC4A outdoor long jump title.

Samara competed in the 1976 Olympics in Munich, where he was the second United States finished in the decathlon. In 1974, Samara set the indoor pentathlon record, and the following year, he set the world record in the decathlon. In the 1973, U.S. World University games, he won the decathlon competition. Overall, he was an All-Ivy League performer in eight indoor and outdoor events over a three-year span.

Samara is an accomplished coach outside of Franklin Field. He was an assistant coach for the 1987 U.S. World championship team and the 1992 U.S. Olympic team. He acted as head coach for the 1995 U.S. team in the Pan-American games and the 1996 decathlon coach for eth USA/ Visa decathlon team. He is currently in his 21st season coaching the Princeton track team.

Penn Athletics Hall of Fame Inductees

John Baxter Taylor W'1908 - Class V

John Baxter Taylor made a name for himself at Penn before he even donned the Red and Blue; while at Brown Preparatory, he was a member of a team celebrated for not losing a race and capturing the one-mile interscholastic relay championship at the Penn Relays.

Taylor entered the Wharton School in 1903, withdrew at the end of his second year and moved into the School of Veterinary Medicine in 1908. During his tenure at Penn, Taylor was regarded as the finest quarter-miler in the college ranks, winning three IC4A championships at 440 yards and setting the record at 48.6 seconds. In 1907 he was the national indoor champion for 600 yards.

Internationally, Taylor holds two distinctions—he is the first African-American selected to represent the United States internationally in any sport, and he is the first African-American to win an Olympic gold medal (as a member of the United States' 1600-meter relay team at the 1908 London Games; another member of that relay team was Taylor's Penn teammate, Quaker Hall of Famer Nathaniel J. Cartmell).

Unfortunately, Taylor had only a few months to enjoy his success; he died of typhoid pneumonia on December 2, 1908.

Today, the trophy given to the men's team champion at the Outdoor Heptagonal Championships is named in John Taylor's honor.

Walter B. Tewksbury D'1899 - Class II

Walter Tewksbury was one of many Penn tracksters under Mike Murphy to compete in the 1900 Olympic Games in Paris, and like the others, he won his share of medals. Before reaching Paris, however, Tewksbury captured several championships for the University of Pennsylvania.

At the IC4A championships, Tewksbury was a two-time winner in the 100-meter and 220-yard dashes, winning both races in 1898 and 1899. Additionally, 1898 and 1899 marked Tewksbury's All-America status in those two events.

In Paris, Tewksbury amassed two gold medals, two silvers and one bronze. He won the 400-meter hurdles and the 200-meter dash, placed second in the 60- and 100-meter dashes and took third in the 200-meter hurdles.

James "Tup" Tuppy - Class II

Jim Tuppy coached some of the most successful University of Pennsylvania track teams and directed the Penn Relays to new heights during his 22 year tenure. "Tup" coached from 1966 until 1979 and was the Penn Relays director from 1970 through 1987.

Tuppy coached teams easily handled the competition, especially the outdoor teams between 1966 and 1969, which defeated 52 straight opponents. Over a 10 year span, his teams did not lose a single dual or triangular meet. In addition, he brought seven straight Heptagonal championships to Penn, and in 1972, the Quakers won their first IC4A championship in 52 years. Indoors, Tuppy's teams were almost as successful, winning Penn's first indoor Heptagonals title in 1971, the school's first indoor IC4A title in 41 years in 1972, and posting a 54-20 dual-meet record.

In his 18 seasons the Relays director, Tuppy was able to attract thousands of new fans and competitors by re-introducing the decathlon (after a 40 year hiatus) adding a marathon and in 1978, dedicating a complete day for women's events. Participants increased from 6,000 to 9,000 during his tenure. He also hosted the NCAA track and field championship in 1976 and coached the US team at the World University games in 1979.

Jack Welsh W'1943 - Class VI

Welsh was a three-star athlete at Penn, competing in football and basketball as well as in track and field. As a member of the track and field team he won the Class of 1915 Award which is presented annually to the Penn student-athlete that best exemplifies the spirit and tradition of University of Pennsylvania athletics. One of Penn's famed "Mungermen" football players, he picked off four passes against Princeton in just his third varsity game, a record that still stood at the time of his induction (68 years later). He finished his sophomore season with nine picks, another record that was still intact at the time of his induction, and ended his career with 13. His Penn teams did not lose to any Ivy competition during his three years, outscoring its competition 595-206 with seven shutouts. Welsh came back to coach after World War II and organized the Varsity Football Club and served as its first president.
