Athletic Profile: Before, During, & After PENN

- Specialty/Specialties: 440, 220 occasional 100, and half mile if Tup was annoyed with me (which was somewhat frequent)

- What Year(s) Team Captain: 1970-71
- Best Time/Distance/Jump: 46.8 on lead off leg of mile relay
- Honors: Several times Hep champ mainly in relays. School record in mile relay and sprint medley relay. Won IC4A 880 relay at Penn relays 1970 (still have the watch to prove it)!
- Memorable Performance: There were multiple on the field experiences that are memorable- some for good reasons like winning and others memorable for losing like having the baton fly out of my hand on the opening leg of a mile relay at the IC4A's. Still one that always makes me chuckle was, I think in 1969, traveling to the indoor Heps at Yale. It was a long rainy ride from Philly to New Haven. Kenny Dietz, my on the road roommate, was coming along for the ride even though there was no discus and he didn't throw the other events. Kenny's bag and its contents somehow got wet in the belly of the bus. He put his socks on the lamp between the beds to dry and we went to dinner. His socks got burned through at the ankle and we arrived to a room of smoke. He was so nervous about turning in destroyed socks! Still makes me laugh. I'm secure enough in my manhood to reveal that we more than once reveled in the "magic fingers" massager while on the road for Penn.

Degree/Major @ PENN

Employment Profile

The personal information contained herein will only be shared with PENN TRACK/FIELD/XC alumni who graduated between 1971 & 1980. We will NOT share the contents of this profile with anyone else.

I'll try not to make this War and Peace, but my post Penn career was a tad varied. I started out in Brand Management in San Francisco for a consumer paper products company. I was there several years and joined a large consulting firm, Arthur D. Little in Massachusetts, and worked out of both their San Francisco and for 2 years their Boston offices. I traveled all over the world selling and implementing Strategic Planning for large companies. I got hired by a client, Atari, and ran their international marketing department. After that I did a number of stints running companies including the North American business for Reebok. I was also started and ran the Playstation division of Sony for the Americas. After that I started doing turnarounds for VCs and PE groups for about 12 years. I found out you needed a food taster and car starter in that line of work, so I transitioned to starting a hedge fund with 3 friends. We focused on small public companies in the later stages of turnarounds and invested and advised. I recently turned the business over to my 2 partners and am now a silent (to the degree that is possible) partner. My last lap is helping my son in a business he started in med-tech. I've resigned all Board seats except for my son's business, and am looking forward to ungainful unemployment in early 2023.

Hobbies, Passions, Retirement Activities

- Still ski but not with my former intensity (one year skied over 1.2MM vertical feet). New location will make that difficult seeing the average winter temperature here is in the 70's and the tallest point in FL is 345 ft.
- Still hit the gym 3-4 times a week
- Photography
- Travel- I have been to 78 countries in my quest for membership in the century club. Going to Antarctica in Feb 2023 and will hit my 7th continent and my only missing ocean swim

Children/Grandchildren

- 2 children and 3 grands from my daughter who attended Penn. Son married to his business for the moment

Your most memorable post-PENN experience

Clearly the responsible answer is the birth of my kids and subsequently my grandkids. However, moving beyond that I suppose taking a company public, fixing some rather broken companies, and frankly making it this far. I am oft reminded by the Mickey Mantle quote - "If I had known I was going to live this long, I would have taken better care of myself". RIP Mick.
