With victories at the 1997 and 2021 NCAA Championships, Pepperdine and its superb men's golf program has earned a spot among the nation's elite.

The Waves' individual accomplishments include one National Player of the Year (Sahith Theegala in 2020, who swept the Fred Haskins Award, Ben Hogan Award and Jack Nicklaus Award), two Byron Nelson Award winners (Jason Allred in 2002 and Michael Putnam in 2005), 22 GCAA All-American selections, 14 WCC Championships medalists, 15 GCAA All-American Scholars and a CoSIDA Academic All-American first teamer (Lars Herne in 1993).

Pepperdine is a regular participant in postseason play, having advanced to NCAA Regional Championships in 24 of the last 28 seasons it has been held. The Waves have made all 11 of their team appearances at the NCAA Championships since 1993.

Closer to home, no West Coast Conference program has had more success than the Waves, who have captured 21 WCC titles since 1987. Pepperdine has finished either first or second at the WCC Championships 27 times in the last 34 tournaments.

Golf had its roots at Pepperdine's old Los Angeles campus. Although historical records are sparse, Pepperdine fielded its first-ever golf team in the late 1940s or early 1950s. Coaches in the '50s included Gordon MacEachron and Bob Morris. Wayne Wright, the University's former athletics director, served as the team's mentor from 1965-68.

When Pepperdine made its move to the Malibu campus in the early 1970s, the program was dropped. It was reinstated a decade later in 1981-82, and Dr. Bob Gilliam, a former professor at the University, served as the Waves' head coach for three seasons before Bob Yokoi assumed the duties in 1984-85.

At this time, the University began to make a serious financial commitment toward the program, providing funding for scholarships, first-rate instruction and consistent practice opportunities at a top-flight facility.

In 1987, Pepperdine achieved its first notable success, as the Waves upset several local collegiate powers and claimed the championship of the Southern California Invitational at the famous Torrey Pines Golf Course near San Diego. The Waves' Jim Johnson won the individual title. That particular tournament victory signaled the arrival of the program.

Pepperdine won its first-ever WCC golf title that same year, and Johnson earned a spot competing as an individual at the NCAA Championships — a first-time accomplishment for a Waves' player.

Kurt Schuette, a player at Pepperdine for two seasons in the mid-1980s, assumed the head coaching duties in the fall of 1988, marking the first time that the University had employed a full-time golf coach. Under Schuette's guidance, the program continued to make positive advances, including the 1989 WCC championship in his first season. At the 1993 NCAA West Regional in Provo, Utah, the Waves placed seventh overall, thus securing a first-ever team berth to the NCAA Championships.

Under the direction of first-year head coach Todd Andrews, Pepperdine finished fourth at the 1996 NCAA West Regional at the Stanford Golf Course, capturing its second NCAA Championships berth.

John Geiberger assumed the head coaching duties in the fall of 1996, inheriting a talent-laden team with extensive experience. Pepperdine used a late-season surge to advance to the 1997 NCAA West Regional, and a ninth-place finish there allowed the Waves to move on. After placing 30th and 24th at its first two NCAA Championships appearances, Pepperdine outperformed the nation's top teams at the Conway Farms Golf Club in Lake Forest, Ill., to claim its first-ever NCAA men's golf championship.

Jason Gore and Michael Walton finished third and fifth, respectively, in the final individual standings at the 1997 NCAA Championships, and both were All-American honorable mention selections by the GCAA.

Pepperdine returned to the NCAA Championships four times in a seven-year span (2000, 2002, 2004 and 2006) and picked up the school's second and third top-10 finishes with an eighth-place result at the Scarlet Course in Columbus, Ohio in 2002 and a 10th-place finish at the The Cascades Golf Course in Hot Springs, Va., in 2004.

Though the Waves didn't qualify as a team in 2005, Michael Putnam went to Caves Valley Golf Club in Owings Mills, Md., as an individual. He tied for medalist honors, but lost in a three-hole playoff.

The Waves' seventh NCAA appearance came when they traveled to the Crosswater Course in Sunriver, Ore., for the 2006 NCAA Championships, where they tied for 22nd place. The 2011 squad earned its eighth trip to the NAAs and finished in 25th place at Karsten Creek Golf Club in Stillwater, Okla.

Michael Beard, a former All-American for the Waves, rejoined the program in December 2012, replacing Geiberger as head coach. Beard led Pepperdine to the WCC title at the Waves' home course, Saticoy Country Club, in 2015, and got the Waves back to the NCAA Championships in 2017. A 13th-place finish at Rich Harvest Farms near Chicago was the program's best finish in more than a decade. and the team then improved to 11th place in 2019 at the Blessings Club in Fayetteville, Ark.

The Waves had a record-setting 2019-20 season that was unfortunately cut short in mid-March due to the global COVID-19 pandemic. Pepperdine ended the season ranked #1 in the Bushnell Golfweek coaches poll and in the Golfstat computer rankings. Sahith Theegala was the nation's #1-ranked player and was the unanimous National Player of the Year, becoming only the fifth player ever to capture the Fred Haskins Award, Ben Hogan Award and Jack Nicklaus Award in the same year. He and freshman

William Mouw earned All-American first team honors. Beard received the Dave Williams Award as the National Coach of the Year.

Despite Theegala's graduation, the Waves came back the next year to capture the 2021 NCAA championship. Pepperdine gave notice by winning the prestigious East Lake Cup title, one of a program-record six tournament titles. At the NCAA Championships, Pepperdine finished third in stroke play, then beat three juggernauts — the top-three ranked teams in the country according to the computers — in Florida State, Oklahoma State and Oklahoma, to win the title. Six different Waves earned All-American honors, another program record.

Beard has earned an unprecedented five consecutive WCC Men's Golf Coach of the Year awards between 2016-21.

Several Waves have gone on to success on the PGA Tour. A total of seven Waves have held PGA Tour cards, including a program-record four during the 2015 season: Gore, Andrew Putnam, Michael Putnam and Byron Smith. Jason Allred and Jeff Gove have also played on the PGA Tour, while Theegala earned his card for the first time for the 2021-22 season.

1997 NCAA CHAMPIONS

Pepperdine posted a three-over-par score of 287 to hold off a furious final day charge by Wake Forest and claim its first-ever NCAA men's golf title on May 31, 1997, at the Conway Farms Golf Club in Lake Forest, Ill., near Chicago.

Heading into the final round, Pepperdine held a two-shot lead over tournament host Northwestern. The Waves withstood the pressure with a final-round 287. They watched their closest challengers fall off the pace and completed the four-day, 72-hole tournament with a team total of a 12-over-par 1,148 to beat runner-up Wake Forest by three shots.

Wake Forest began the day in 11th place, but the Demon Deacons carded a five-under-par score of 279 to zoom up the leaderboard and make things close.

Clemson posted an even-par score of 284 and finished in third place with a final total of 1,153, five shots behind Pepperdine.

The Waves, making their third-ever appearance at the NCAA Championships, were seeded 24th at the 30-team event.

Pepperdine competed at the tournament without the services of first-year head coach John Geiberger, who traveled with the team to Chicago but was confined to his hotel room after contracting the chicken pox. Kevin Marsh, a former player at Pepperdine from 1993-96, and Tim Wilhelm, a former Pepperdine Associate Athletic Director, assisted the team during the tournament.

"It was a really tough week to miss, but, to tell you the truth, I was pretty sick all week," said Geiberger from his hotel room after Pepperdine had secured the national championship. "But, I feel great now. I am chowing on a steak, and I have the national championship trophy here in my room ... so I must be okay."

The Waves departed for Chicago on May 24, and Geiberger indicated that he began feeling ill later that evening.

"At first, I thought I just had the flu, but by Monday I knew it was something worse," Geiberger said.

Geiberger did not attend the practice rounds on May 26 and 27, and was eventually confined to his room at the Deerfield Hyatt. In fact, Geiberger never laid eyes on the Conway Farms Golf Club until he watched the live final-round coverage on ESPN.

Pepperdine players inked Geiberger's initials and 425 — his hotel room number — on the back of their hats at the beginning of the tournament as a tribute to their ailing coach.

"There were so many good teams at the NCAA Championships, but, prior to the event, I was confident that we would play well," Geiberger said. "I just prepared the team as the year went along, and in February I started to get a great feeling about the team. We had two guns (Jason Gore and Michael Walton) as good as anyone in the country, and they proved that during the tournament."

Clemson junior Charles Warren beat Brad Elder of Texas on the first sudden-death playoff hole at the NCAA Championships to claim the individual title in the 100th anniversary year of the event. Warren dropped a short par putt to claim the crown after he and Elder had tied at five-under par 279 through 72 holes.

Pepperdine senior Jason Gore held a one-shot lead heading into the final hole, but suffered a double-bogey and had to settle for a third-place tie with Keith Nolan of East Tennessee State at four-under-par 280.

"It was the best double-bogey that I ever made," Gore said. "I heard that we had a six-stroke lead in the team standings, and there were 50 million thoughts running through my head so it was hard to play golf. It doesn't matter that I did not win the individual championship because I love all of these guys and the team trophy is what college golf is all about."

Pepperdine senior Michael Walton finished fifth in the final individual standings at three-under-par 281 after firing an impressive score of 68 in the final round.

"The whole week was magical," Walton said. "Coach got the chicken pox, and Kevin (Marsh) just happened to be here. The circumstances were nothing like what we expected, but we are all great players and we knew we had to play our best golf in order to win. This is the best feeling you could ever imagine."

Junior Andy Walker tied for 20th place at four-over-par 288, and indicated that the experience of competing at the NCAA Championships the previous year was a big advantage.

"We did not come here (to the NCAA Championships) to just experience playing again," Walker said. "There is so much you can get caught up in here, and that is what happened to us last year — we forgot to play golf. The main thing is we had fun and the whole experience has been amazing."

Adding to the story, Pepperdine had just barely advanced to the NCAA Championships. The Waves finished ninth at the NCAA West Regional, held May 15-17 at the Carleton Oaks Country Club in Santee, Calif., and edged Brigham Young by just one shot to secure the final berth.

2021 NCAA CHAMPIONS

Some may have thought that the window had closed on the Pepperdine men's golf team's chances at a national championship after COVID-19 prematurely ended the 2019-20 season, at a time when the Waves were ranked #1 in the country.

When Pepperdine reassembled the following season, the Waves were without unanimous National Player of the Year Sahith Theegala, the nation's #1 player, who had graduated and turned professional.

But Pepperdine still maintained the nation's deepest team, filled with talent. As it turned out, a record six Waves earned All-American honors from either the GCAA or Golfweek in 2020-21, and eight student-athletes finished ranked among the nation's top 100 players. Five different Waves either won a tournament or reached a playoff.

The group would claim a program-record six tournament wins, including the East Lake Cup and the Western Intercollegiate. Pepperdine won its 21st West Coast Conference title with a record score of 49-under.

The Waves were in a precarious spot at the NCAA Cle Elum Regional, as they were tied for fifth after two rounds, and only five teams would advance. But Pepperdine turned in the best score of the third and final round to finish fourth and comfortably advance to the NCAA Championships.

Pepperdine got off to a good start in stroke play at the finals, which were held at Grayhawk Golf Club in Scottsdale, Ariz. The Waves were third after the first round and fourth after the second round. But they slid to ninth place after the third round, which was good enough to make the first cut, but a spot outside the top eight, which would be necessary to advance the program to match play for the first time.

As they did in the final round at regionals, the Waves responded favorably under the pressure-packed situation. They shot a 9-under 271, the best round by any team in the entire tournament and a program record at the NCAA Championships, to move from ninth place to third place.

Match play began on Tuesday with a quarterfinal matchup against Florida State. Clay Feagler (6&4) and Joey Vrzich (4&3) posted dominating wins, and Joe Highsmith chipped in on 8 to win his match 2&1 and send the Waves to the semifinals by a 3-1-1 score.

After a brief break, play continued with a semifinal against Oklahoma State. Feagler again scored the first point for the Waves. A hole-in-one on 8 was the start of a remarkable run that saw him win five straight holes to go from 2-down to 3-up after 12 before claiming a 2&1 victory. Dylan Menante then recorded the second point, 3&2. For the second time in the day, Highsmith had the clinching point, halving 17 and 18 to earn a 1-up win. The other two matches, which were tied, were abandoned and Pepperdine downed the Cowboys 3-0-2.

In the final, Pepperdine squared off against top-ranked Oklahoma. The two schools had already met in match play once during the season, with the Waves beating the Sooners 4-1 in the final of the East Lake Cup. They were also the top two-ranked teams from the canceled 2020 season, so it was fitting that they would get their chance to meet for the 2021 title instead.

Oklahoma claimed the first point of the afternoon, but Highsmith and William Mouw both claimed 4&3 wins to put the Waves one point away from the championship.

As he did during the semifinal, Feagler trailed for a good portion of the match and was down by two after 11 holes. But the senior — who had utilized a COVID-19 redshirt year to come back for a fifth season and compete for a championship — won on 12, 13 and 14 to take the lead. Oklahoma's Ben Lorenz evened it on 15, but Feagler won on 16 to go back ahead. With all eyes on his match, Feagler hit an 8-foot putt to halve 17. On 18, he put his fairway shot onto the green but about 35 feet from the hole. Lorenz missed his birdie chance, and Feagler put his putt within two feet of the hole. Lorenz conceded, giving the Waves the national championship (Oklahoma was leading in the last match, accounting for the 3-2 final score).

Feagler and Highsmith each went 3-0 in match play (including the East Lake Cup, Highsmith went 5-0 on the season), while each of the other three team members gave the Waves at least one point over the two days en route to the second national championship in the program's history.

"Everyone said our year was last year," Feagler said. "Coach, at the beginning of the year, sat us down and said, 'A lot of people don't think you can do it this year.' That gave us a little motivation and look at us now. We're standing here, national champions. It was kind of surreal to come down to the 18th hole and basically have the last point just kind of on my shoulders. It was nerve wracking but it was exciting. It was kind of crazy."

Head coach Michael Beard said: "We didn't get to see it through last year and these guys came back better. It really wasn't me, they just came back with more fire and more determination and motivation. These guys are so good, we don't have to do much to motivate them."

To win the championship, the Waves played seven rounds over six days in the 100-degree Arizona heat. The Waves beat the top three-ranked teams in the country in match play.

SAHITH THEEGALA

In the spring of 2020, Sahith Theegala became the first Pepperdine men's golfer to become National Player of the Year. In fact, he did so in unanimous fashion, finishing as the nation's #1-ranked player by both Golfstat and Golfweek/Sagarin and sweeping the Fred Haskins Award, Ben Hogan Award and Jack Nicklaus Award.

He became just the fifth player in the 30 years that all three national awards have existed to win the Haskins, Hogan and Nicklaus in the same season.

Unfortunately, Theegala's senior season came to an early end, as the global COVID-19 pandemic caused the cancelation of all spring sports in March 2020. The season ended with Pepperdine holding the #1 ranking in both the Bushnell/Golfweek coaches poll and the Golfstat computer rankings.

Theegala was a three-time All-American for the Waves, making the first team in 2020 after receiving third-team status in both 2017 and 2018. Theegala's final season was all the more remarkable considering that he sat out the entire 2018-19 season with a wrist injury that required surgery.

Theegala's senior year included a school-record 69.04 scoring average. He won two of his eight tournaments, had six top-10s and was in the top 20 at all eight events. Seventeen of his 24 rounds were below-par.

His Pepperdine career records included scoring average (70.61), below-par rounds (74), top-20 finishes (36, tied) and victories (four, tied).

At the time he graduated, he had posted four of the top eight single-season scoring averages in program history.

Theegala earned All-WCC first team honors three times (the league didn't hand out awards in 2020) and was the co-WCC Player of the Year in 2017. He made PING/GCAA All-West Region all four of his playing seasons.

BYRON NELSON AWARD

Two Pepperdine men's golfers — Jason Allred in 2002 and Michael Putnam in 2005 — have been recipients of the Byron Nelson Award, which is presented annually by The Golf Coaches Association of America.

The award is presented to a graduating senior. The selection committee considers equally a nominee's entire collegiate academic career, collegiate golf career and his character and integrity while in college. Particular consideration is given to a nominee's good citizenship, as portrayed by Mr. Byron Nelson over the course of his life and golf career.

Allred was a two-time Cleveland Golf All-America Scholar (2001 and 2002) and a three-time West Coast Conference All-Academic honoree. He earned GCAA All-American third team honors as a senior. He also led Pepperdine's Christian student-athlete group, "The Goal," and posted six top 10 finishes in 2002. Allred finished second at the 2002 WCC Championships, third at the TaylorMade Intercollegiate and claimed medalist honors at The Club Glove Intercollegiate.

"To think that someone has seen in me character and a passion for things I believe are important is encouraging and humbling," Allred said. "More than anything I'm excited and totally thankful that Mr. Nelson was directly involved. It was an honor to have the opportunity to meet him. It's a challenge in college to balance everything. I just try to do everything with as much joy and passion as I can. I believe that's what God has in store for me."

In addition to becoming a three-time All-American and a two-time GCAA All-American Scholar, Putnam earned All-WCC honors three times, was named the conference's Golfer of the Year in 2003, selected WCC All-Academic on three occasions and was named All-Pacific Region three times.

Putnam put together the greatest season of any Pepperdine men's golfer in school history in 2005. He registered a school-record 70.58 stroke average in 45 rounds and produced 10 top 10 finishes, including tying for individual medalist honors at the Oregon Duck Invitational and the NCAA Championships. He finished as national runner-up following a three-hole playoff.

Two other Waves were finalists (in the final five) for the prestigious award: Alex Coe in 2006 and Andrew Putnam in 2011.
