PITT BASKETBALL: CULTURE OF SUCCESS

Pitt Basketball achievements in establishing its "Tradition of Excellence."

- Compiled a 364-121 record over the past 14 seasons (2001-15) and .751 winning percentage, which ranks among the nation's top-six best winning percentages during that span.
- Owns a 160-80 league record and .667 winning percentage in league regular season play (ACC and Big East) over the last 14 seasons, which ranks second in the Atlantic Coast Conference over that period.
- Advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 12 of the last 14 seasons, one of only seven schools nationally to achieve that honor. The 12 appearances rank as the second most in the Atlantic Coast Conference during that span.
- Claimed six Big East championships, including four regular season titles (2002, 2003, 2004 and 2011), and two tournament titles (2003 and 2008). The six conference titles rank as the fourth most in the ACC from 2001-15.
- Ascended to the nation's No. 1 ranking for the first time in school history (2008-09 season).
- Awarded with a No. 1 seed upon entering the NCAA Tournament for the first time in school history (2009) and two times overall (2009 and 2011).
- Surpassed both 20 wins overall and 10 wins in conference regular season play 12 times in the last 14 seasons. Pitt is the only Big East program to have won over 20 overall games and 10 league games with such consistency from 2001-13.
- Advanced to NCAA Elite Eight play for the second time in school history (2009) and NCAA Sweet Sixteen play five times in the last 14 seasons. Only 11 programs nationwide have advanced to more Sweet Sixteens during that span (Duke-9, Kansas-9, Michigan St.-8, Connecticut-7, Arizona-7, Syracuse-6, UNC-6, Louisville-6, Wisconsin-6, Kentucky-6, Florida-6).
- Won 10 or more league regular season games 12 times in the last 14 seasons.
- Completed six of the last 14 seasons ranked among the nation's top-10 programs and 10 of those years ranked among the nation's top-25.
- Named Madison Square Garden's "Team of the Decade" after winning two Big East titles and advancing to seven league tournament title games from 2000-10. Pitt advanced to seven of eight Big East Championship Finals from 2000-08, a mark that ranks fifth among the all-time best conference tournament title run streaks in NCAA Division I basketball history.
- Concluded its 13th year at the Petersen Events Center with a 207-30 record and .873 winning percentage (16-0 in 2002-03, 19-1 in 2003-04, 13-4 in 2004-05, 16-1 in 2005-06, 16-2 in 2006-07, 16-2 in 2007-08, 19-0 in 2008-09, 17-1 in 2009-10, 17-1 in 2010-11, 15-7 in 2011-12, 16-3 in 2012-13, 13-5 in 2013-14, 14-3 in 2014-15). The 207-30 record and .873 winning percentage ranks as the nation's ninth-best current mark since the arena opened in 2002-03. Pitt won 40 consecutive home games from 2002-04, a streak which spanned two years and 68 days. Pitt also won its first 34 games in the Petersen Events Center, the third longest streak to open a new arena in NCAA Division I basketball history (1. UCLA, 51; 2. Providence, 41; 3. Pitt, 34).
- Sold out the Petersen Events Center in each of its first 12 seasons of operation and has enjoyed a string of 216 consecutive regular season home sellouts dating back to the 2002-03 season. Tickets are at a premium as the Petersen Events Center has a season ticket waiting list of nearly 13,000 members. The Petersen Events Center is considered one of the nicest on-campus college basketball facilities in the nation.
- Attracted exactly 2,322,832 fans since the Petersen Events Center opened in 2002-03, an average of 10,558 per game.
- Appeared on television in 388 games (including 220 national TV contests) during the last 13 seasons, an average of over 29 times per year (ESPN-94, ESPN2-42, CBS-42, ABC-4, ESPNU-31, ESPN-Classic-1, FSN National-2, HDNet-6, ESPN Regional-132, CBS Sports Network-1, ESPN3-19, Tru-TV-1, TBS-2, TNT-1, Comcast/Philly-1, Pitt Panthers Television-9).
- Graduated over 80 percent of its players including a total of 36 players over the last 12 seasons (Griffin Abel, Chase Adams, Marcus Bowman, Gilbert Brown, Jaron Brown, Sean Brown, Mike Cook, John DeGroat, Yuri Demetris, Jermaine Dixon, Tim Frye, Ashton Gibbs, Antonio Graves, Doyle Hudson, Levon Kendall, Brandin Knight, Carl Krauser, Ontario Lett, Chad Johnson, Mark McCarroll, Gary McGhee, Julius Page, Lamar Patterson, Maurice Polen, Ronald Ramon, Nick Rivers, Nasir Robinson, Charles Small, Dante Taylor, Ryan Tiesi, Chevon Troutman, Austin Wallace, Tray Woodall, Cameron Wright, Talib Zanna and Donatas Zavackas).
- Achieved three top-10 percent Academic Performance Ratings (2013-14, 2011-12, 2010-11) over the last four seasons, one of only three ACC programs to achieve that honor in that timeframe (Pitt, Duke, Notre Dame).

MEDIA INFORMATION & POLICIES

Assistant Athletic Director for Media Relations Matt Plizga will coordinate all requests and media activities for the Pitt men's basketball program. He can be reached via email at mplizga@athletics.pitt.edu or by phone at (412) 648-8240.

CREDENTIALS

Credentials for Pitt home games are issued to working media only and should be requested as early as possible due to space limitations, parking limitations and demand. All credential requests need to be made online at www.sportssystems.com/clients/Pitt_MBB.

Media members are required to make credential arrangements at least 24 hours in advance of the game in question.

Credentials are limited to members of the working media only. A media pass allows accredited media access to the Media Interview Room, Beano Cook Media Workroom, Press Row and floor access for photographers/camera crews. Only web sites of each participating institution with contractual rights and accredited news web sites will be issued credentials.

Each visiting opponent SID submits a list of attending media members. To get on that list, please inform the respective sports information contact.

MEDIA WILL CALL/ENTRANCE

All media members must pick up credentials and enter the arena at Media Will Call. Pitt's Media Will Call/Media Entrance will open two hours prior to tipoff. It is located at the Miller Administrative Entrance off Terrace Street (across from the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine) and adjacent to the Petersen Events Center's main ticket office. Due to time constraints, credentials will not be mailed. Credentials for Pitt opponents will be dropped off at the respective visiting team's hotel. Visiting radio and TV broadcasters/producers may pick up their credentials at shootaround or through their respective media relations contacts.

Once you have received your pass at Media Will Call, follow the signs and proceed down the hallway to the elevator. Take the elevator up to the Event Level (EL) where you can access the Beano Cook Media Workroom, Media Interview Room, Press Row and basketball court. The Media Interview Room is on your left, the Media Workroom is on your right and the court/media seating may be accessed at the first hallway to your left. A media relations representative will be stationed at Media Will Call to assist you.

PARKING

Parking may only be obtained/approved through the Athletic Media Relations Office. Parking is limited as all requests must be made at least 24 hours in advance of the game in question.

Media parking will be at the same location as in past years: O'Hara Garage. Media members must access O'Hara Garage off of University Drive (for directions, please refer to the campus map on page 4). Media members must call the Athletic Media Relations Office to confirm a parking space as a list will be at the O'Hara Garage gate.

The O'Hara Garage closes five hours after tipoff. In the event that you are locked out of O'Hara Garage, please call the campus police at (412) 624-2121. Within five minutes, a police officer will unlock the gate for you.

INTERVIEW POLICY

The Athletic Media Relations Office will assist all media personnel with coverage of Pitt basketball. All interviews MUST be arranged through the Athletic Media Relations Office. Generally, head coach Jamie Dixon and selected players are available for interviews two days prior to each game. All practices are closed to the media. PITT IMG SPORTS NETWORK

The University of Pittsburgh and its multimedia rights holder, IMG College, provide the Panthers with thoroughly comprehensive radio coverage. Pitt men's basketball game broadcasts air over a loyal network of 20 stations, including 50,000-watt flagship station 93.7 The Fan (KDKA-FM) in Pittsburgh.

Radio coverage includes:

- The AT&T Pre-Game Show, a 30-minute show prior to each game and the 30-minute Baierl Automotive Post-Game Show.
- A weekly Jamie Dixon radio show on 93.7 The Fan, will air beginning in October.

In his 47th year, BILL HILLGROVE is the "Voice of the Panthers." Hillgrove's informative and enthusiastic play-by-play descriptions have been a Panthers trademark since 1969. A 1962 graduate of Duquesne University, Hillgrove has also served as play-by-play broadcaster for Pitt Football for the past 42 years.

His longevity as a sportscaster has made him one of Pittsburgh's most recognizable and favorite media personalities. He was named the Pittsburgh Steelers' play-by-play announcer in 1994. Hillgrove was awarded the National Football Foundation's 2007 Chris Schenkel Award, which honors a sports broadcaster who has enjoyed a long and distinguished career.

Joining Hillgrove courtside for his 37th year is color analyst DICK GROAT. A Pittsburgh native, Groat is one of the city's most enduring sports legends, making his mark in two different sports. A 2007 College Basketball Hall of Fame inductee, he was a four-time All-America basketball and baseball player at Duke, where he is one of only 13 Blue Devils to have his number retired. Groat was named the 1952 College Basketball Player of the Year after becoming the first and only player in NCAA history to lead the nation in both points and assists in the same season. Groat played one year for the Fort Wayne Pistons before concentrating solely on professional baseball.

As a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Groat captured the National League batting title as well as Most Valuable Player honors in 1960. That same year, the Pirates won the World Series over the Yankees in a dramatic seven-game series. He later went on to play for the St. Louis Cardinals, where he was a key figure on the 1964 World Series championship team.

For the sixth season, CURTIS AIKEN joins Hillgrove and Groat on home radio broadcasts. A four-year Pitt basketball letterwinner from 1983-87, Aiken ranks among school all-time career scoring leaders with 1,200 career points. A key recruit who helped pave the way for Pitt's entry into the Big East, Aiken was the senior leader on Pitt's 1987-88 co-Big East regular season champion team that finished 25-8 overall and 12-4 in league play.

Curtis Aiken (left), Dick Groat (center) and "Voice of the Panthers" Bill Hillgrove call Pitt Basketball on the Pitt IMG Sports Radio Network. Hillgrove and Groat begin their 36th year together broadcasting Panthers basketball, the nation's longest tenured college basketball broadcast tandem. Aiken joins Hillgrove and Groat for all home games.

SEASON PREVIEW

Junior Michael Young

An uneven finish to the 2014-15 season and an offseason littered with injuries have quelled outside prognostications for the Pitt men's basketball team, but expectations inside the program remain high as the Panthers enter their third year in the Atlantic Coast Conference. All-ACC forwards Jamel Artis and Michael Young, along with senior point guard James Robinson, headline a veteran-laden roster that features eight players with extensive Division I starting experience.

The Panthers registered a 19-15 record (8-10 ACC) and reached postseason play for the 15th consecutive season a year ago, but fell shy of the NCAA Tournament after dropping four games late in the season. Following a trip to the 2015 NIT and with a roster featuring a mixture of high-level veterans, talented transfers and rising prospects, head coach Jamie Dixon is poised to get the Panthers back on the biggest stage in March.

Dixon, in his 13th year at the helm of the Pitt program, returns an overwhelming majority of production from a year ago. Much of that production came from Artis and Young, who combined to average 27.0 points and 13.3 rebounds per game as sophomores. The tandem made big strides in its second year - Artis ranked fourth (+8.7), while Young ranked sixth (+7.4) in largest scoring average increases in the ACC - and will be relied upon to take its game to the next level in 2015-16.

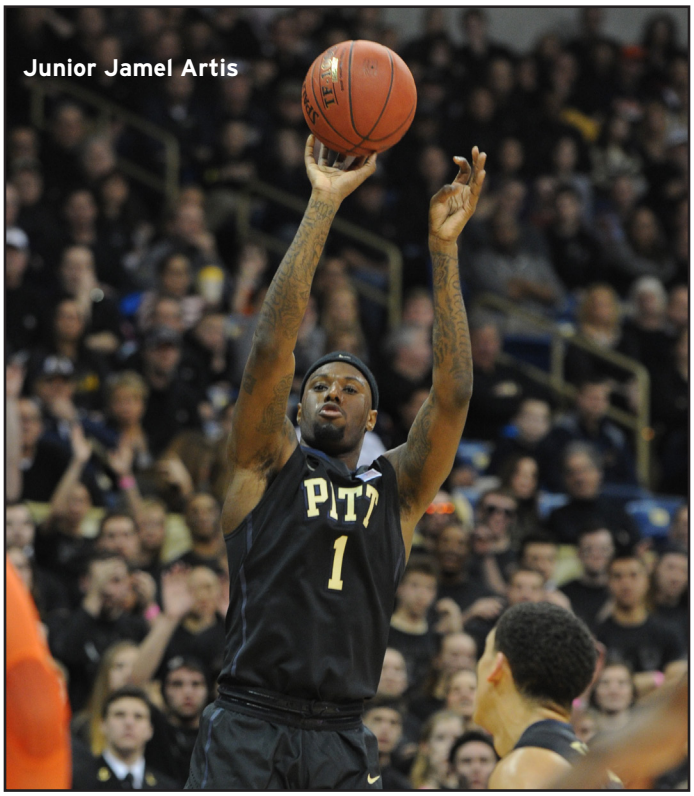
Artis, who started all 34 games last season, is one of the ACC's most versatile scoring threats. The Baltimore, Md., native proved to be matchup problem a year ago, averaging 13.6 points and 6.0 rebounds per game en route to earning third team All-ACC honors. Artis hit stride late in the year and averaged 19.5 points per contest over a 13-game span during the heart of ACC play. He is the top returning scorer in conference play after averaging 16.1 points over 18 league games in 2014-15. Artis expanded his range beyond the arc last season, shooting 39.4 percent from deep. The addition of several bigs will allow Artis to move back to the small forward as a junior, where he has the skill set and ability to become one of the ACC's most prolific scorers.

Young has started every game of his college career and has established himself as one of the top rebounders in the ACC. He does much of the dirty work, including battling for rebounds and loose balls in addition to setting ball screens around the perimeter, but also possesses a well-rounded offensive skill set. Playing out of position at the center spot in 2014-15, Young averaged 13.4 points and 7.3 rebounds per game and is second among returning ACC players in terms of offensive rebounds (3.3 orpg.). He is expected to return to power forward this season and build upon an honorable mention All-ACC campaign a year ago.

Pitt's post rotation will feature three new, yet experienced faces. The Panthers welcome a pair of graduate transfers in Rafael Maia (Brown) and Alonzo Nelson-Ododa (Richmond) as well as junior college addition Rozelle Nix (Pensacola State JC).

PITT'S PRESEASON STORYLINES

- Pitt returns four starters, including All-ACC honorees Jamel Artis (3rd) and Michael Young (HM), seven of its top 10 scorers, 85 percent of its scoring, 74 percent of its rebounding and 86 percent of its assists.
- Artis (13.6 ppg.) and Young (13.4) form the top returning scoring tandem in the ACC. The duo combined for 27.0 points and 13.3 rebounds per game, while shooting 49.9 percent (327-of-656) from the field last season.
- Pitt ranks among the nation's top six programs in winning percentage (.765, 364-121) over the last 14 years. During that span, Pitt has made one NCAA Elite Eight appearance, five Sweet Sixteen appearances, won six Big East titles and has advanced to 12 of the last 14 NCAA Tournaments.
- Pitt is one of only nine schools nationally to advance to the NCAA Tournament in 12 of the last 14 seasons: Duke, Gonzaga, Kansas, Michigan State, Pitt, Texas, Arizona, Louisville and Wisconsin.
- Pitt is the only team in the past 10 years to post wins over top 15 teams from Connecticut, Duke, Georgetown, Louisville, North Carolina, Notre Dame, Syracuse, Villanova and West Virginia.
- Jamel Artis and Michael Young are the only two returning players in the ACC to finish in the top 20 in scoring and rebounds a year ago.
- James Robinson owns a career 3.29:1 assist-to-turnover ratio, tops in ACC history (minimum two years and 300 assists).
- Pitt welcomes three graduate transfers this season with Rafael Maia (Brown), Sterling Smith (Coppin State) and Alonzo Nelson-Ododa (Richmond) joining the program after completing their degree requirements from their respective schools.
- The trio of Jamel Artis, James Robinson and Michael Young started all 34 games a year ago. Young has started every game (70) of his career, while Robinson has started 102 of 103 career contests.
- Michael Young was named by the NCAA to serve as a student-athlete representative on the Division I Men's Basketball Oversight Committee.
- Chris Jones (toe), Cameron Johnson (shoulder), Alonzo Nelson-Ododa (eye), James Robinson (foot) and Sterling Smith (foot) each had offseason surgeries. All five players returned to the court by the start of practice.



Junior Jamel Artis

Maia joins the program after leading the Ivy League in rebounding for the past three seasons. The San Paulo, Brazil native averaged 10.0 points and 8.1 rebounds over an 80-game career at Brown. He is adept at carving out space on the blocks and also possesses strong hands and solid footwork in the post. Maia, a two-time All-Ivy League and Academic All-Ivy selection, suffered a right thumb injury in early September but was able to continue to work on conditioning and his left hand while sidelined. The 6-9, 245-pound center will be relied upon to help anchor the post unit.

Nelson-Ododa brings a different skill set to the position as he established himself as an elite shot blocker during his tenure at Richmond. The 6-9, 235-pound foward ranks second in the Spider record books with 185 blocks over 94 career games (69 starts). He also has shown solid scoring and rebounding abilities throughout his career. Nelson-Ododa averaged 6.6 points and 5.1 rebounds per game last season and is poised to have a significant impact for the Panthers in 2015-16.

Nix, highly-touted junior college prospect, rebounds with authority, disrupts the flow of slashing offensive players and is an effective screen and roll option. He earned first team All-Panhandle Conference honors a year ago after averaging 11.2 points and 9.5 rebounds per game at Pensacola State.

Sophomore Ryan Luther returns to provide the Panthers frontcourt with even more depth and versatility. The Gibsonia, Pa., native is a rapidly developing stretch four with an excellent shooting touch out to the three-point line and underrated athleticism. He gained valuable experience a year ago, appearing in 23 contests, and will look to build upon last season's averages of 1.9 points and 1.0 rebounds per game.

The Panthers also have a great mixture of talent, experience and depth at the wing and on the perimeter. Junior Sheldon Jeter returns after averaging 4.7 points and 2.5 rebounds per game in 2014-15. The Beaver Falls, Pa., native is an explosive athlete that will provide a defensive presence on the wing to go along with excellent finishing ability in transition. He started nine of the final 10 games a year ago and can play multiple positions on both ends of the floor.

Redshirt junior Chris Jones also has the skill set to fill multiple spots on the perimeter. He averaged 8.5 points and made 41 three-point field goals last season. Jones, one of the top three-point shooters on the team, was sidelined for a large portion of the summer after undergoing toe surgery but returned to the court in late September and is ready to continue last season's development.

Cameron Johnson, a redshirt freshman from Moon Township, Pa., is back after missing all but eight games last season with a shoulder injury. Fully healthy after offseason surgery, he is poised for a breakout year. Johnson is a lanky athlete with outstanding range and a quick release. He averaged 4.5 points per game in eight contests before the injury last season and has continued to develop throughout the offseason.

Pitt went the graduate transfer route to land another elite perimeter weapon in Sterling Smith. The Chico, Calif., native recorded 934 points and made 159 three-point field goals over a 93-game career at Coppin State before joining the Panthers. In addition to his scoring prowess, Smith is also an excellent defender and a strong rebounder. His toughness and experience will be major assets as well in 2015-16.

Jonathan Milligan joined the program in the beginning of September after earning all-conference honors at Kilgore College last season. He is a lightning-quick combo guard adept at getting in the lane. Milligan averaged 14.3 points per game a year ago and will give the Panthers another impact player at the guard position.

The Panthers also bring in talented freshman Damon Wilson to an already deep backcourt. The Powder Springs, Ga., native averaged 15.2 points, 3.3 rebounds, 5.6 assists and 1.8 steals per game while leading Our Savior New American [N.Y.] to a 22-12 record against a national schedule as a senior. Wilson, ranked No. 73 in ESPN's Top 100, has the skill set to be a top-tier guard on both ends of the floor and will push for immediate playing time.

Spearheading the entire backcourt will be veteran point guard James Robinson, who has started 102 of 103 games since arriving from DeMatha Catholic. He is widely regarded as one of the top point guards in the ACC and enters the year as the league record holder in career assist-to-turnover ratio (3.29:1). Robinson has averaged 7.6 points, 2.9 rebounds and 4.3 assist per game in his career, while showing a propensity to shine at the biggest moments. In addition to taking care of the basketball, he has also shown excellent defensive skills and a knack for making clutch baskets at the end of shot clocks and games. Robinson missed a large portion of summer workouts due to foot surgery but continued to refine his shooting form throughout the recovery process. He will be looked upon to provide leadership and organization to a Pitt roster featuring eight new faces.

Pitt's roster is supplemented by three walk-ons - Mike Lecak, Ryan Seelye and Zach Smith. Lecak, in his fourth year with the Panthers, is a hard working guard with the ability to lead the Panthers' second unit. Seelye was added to the roster in late September, while Smith played two seasons at Pitt-Bradford before joining the program.

Talented, tough and together will define a Pitt team ready to get back to the NCAA Tournament and crack the upper echelon of the ACC. It will take all three elements to navigate a challenging schedule that features 11 matchups with NCAA Tournament teams from a year ago.

HEAD COACH
JAMIE DIXON
13th Season
TCU '87

Toughness. Intelligence. Unselfishness. Consistency. Teamwork. Success. Improvement. These words describe the University of Pittsburgh basketball program led by head coach Jamie Dixon.

Using those ideals, Dixon has established and maintained a "Tradition of Excellence" and "Culture of Success" for Pitt Basketball both on and off the floor. On the floor, Pitt has emerged as a national power. The Panthers rank among the nation's top-10 programs in winning percentage over the last 14 years and Pitt has claimed more conference titles (six) than any other school in the previous Big East and third-most among Atlantic Coast Conference programs. Player development is a cornerstone for the program as six players have won the Big East Most Improved Player Award since Dixon's arrival.

Dixon has also built a program that its fans can be proud of off the court. Pitt is prominent in the community, donating countless hours of service for the greater good. In the classroom, Pitt has graduated a majority of its student-athletes and has achieved top-10 percent NCAA Academic Performance Rate team scores in four of the past five years.

Beginning his 13th season as its head coach at Pitt (17th overall), Dixon has stockpiled numerous coaching milestones and awards:

- Earned four college basketball National Coach of the Year honors: 2011 Sporting News, 2010 Jim Phelan Award, 2010 USA Basketball and 2009 Naismith.
- Guided Pitt to 10 NCAA Tournament appearances in the last 12 seasons, one of only eight college basketball programs nationally to achieve that honor.
- Set the NCAA Division I record for most wins after eight seasons as a head coach in 2011 with 216 victories. He also ranks fourth all-time in wins after 10 seasons (262) and 12 season (307) as a head coach, third following nine seasons (238), tied the record for most wins after seven years in 2010 (188) and set the six-year mark in 2009 (163).

- Became the only coach in NCAA Division I basketball to guide his team to the NCAA Tournament and win at least one game in each tournament over a six-year span (2006-11).
- Guided Pitt to its first NCAA Regional Final (64-team tournament) and Elite Eight appearance, a school-best 31-5 record, the school's first No. 1 national ranking and the program's first-ever No. 1 seed upon entering the NCAA Tournament in 2008-09.

- Became the only coach in school history to lead Pitt to two 30-win seasons, two No. 1 seeds upon entering the NCAA Tournament, nine consecutive 20-win seasons, eight straight 10-plus win Big East regular seasons and eight straight NCAA Tournaments (2004-11).
- Directed Pitt to three NCAA Sweet Sixteen appearances (2004, 2007 and 2009).
- Named Madison Square Garden's College Basketball "Coach of the Decade" (2000-10).

- One of only nine coaches in NCAA Division I history to win over 100 games during the first four seasons of a coaching career.
- Reached both 100 wins and 200 wins at Pitt faster than any other head coach in school history. Dixon needed only 126 games to reach the 100-win milestone. Only 14 coaches in the history of college basketball reached 100 career victories faster than Dixon. His 200 victories were accomplished in only 255 total contests. He is one of only 13 coaches in NCAA Division I history to reach 200 victories in 255 games or less.
- Amassed a spectacular 12-year 134-74 league regular season record (115-57 Big East; 18-17 ACC).
- Tallied a 191-31 home record in his first 12 seasons as head coach.
- Became the first rookie head coach in Big East history to both guide his team to the league's regular season title and earn Big East Coach of the Year honors in 2003-04. Dixon earned those accolades after leading the Panthers to the Big East regular season title and a school-record 31 wins, which ranks as the third highest total in NCAA Division I history for a first-year head coach. Dixon also led Pitt on an 18-game win streak to begin the season, a streak which ranks as the third-best start for a rookie head coach in NCAA Division I history.
- Guided Pitt to three top-10 percent rankings in the NCAA's Academic Performance Ratings over the last four seasons (2013-14, 2011-12 and 2010-11).

An outstanding talent evaluator who is nationally recognized for his coaching know-how, unquestioned character and integrity, recruiting skills, rapport with players and work ethic, Jamie Dixon was introduced as the University of Pittsburgh's 14th head basketball coach on April 15, 2003.

Dixon is a basketball coach who is intelligent, honest, confident, well-spoken and true to his word. He is a family man and complete coach who cares for his players and program to the highest degree. Under Dixon, student-athletes have consistently improved as players on the court and developed as citizens off the court. His players consistently graduate and the Pitt program continually achieves high APR scores. For Dixon, basketball is a lifestyle, not a job. He believes teamwork, offensive efficiency, defense, rebounding and taking good shots are the key ingredients to winning championships. That philosophy has paid off as Pitt consistently ranks among the nation's top offensive, defensive and rebounding squads.

Dixon's 12-year head coaching tenure at Pitt has seen the Panthers compile a remarkable 307-111 record, accumulate a 134-74 league regular season record and earn 10 NCAA Tournament berths and 12 postseason berths, including three Sweet Sixteen appearances (2004, 2007 and 2009) and one NCAA Regional Final (2009). He set an NCAA Division I all-time record for best start to a coaching career after eight seasons with his 216 victories and his .735 career winning percentage currently stands 10th nationally and the fifth-best among active Atlantic Coast Conference coaches. In addition, his .658 career Big East win percentage ranks as the best all-time mark in league play, surpassing Georgetown's John Thompson, Connecticut's Jim Calhoun, Syracuse's Jim Boeheim, Louisville's Rick Pitino and St. John's Lou Carnesseca.

Dixon's players at Pitt have excelled as well. Three (Steven Adams, Oklahoma City Thunder; DeJuan Blair, Washington Wizards; Lamar Patterson, Atlanta Hawks) are currently playing in the NBA, while six have been selected in the NBA Draft. Four of his players have earned consensus All-America honors, 16 were All-Region honorees, 10 earned major league awards including four league Most Improved Player honorees, 18 have been named all-league selections and 15 have scored over 1,000 career points.

Over the past 16 seasons, Dixon has been the one constant and essential figure in the Panthers' dramatic rise to national prominence. The three-year span from 2001-04 produced the winningest period in school history as Pitt won three consecutive Big East regular-season titles, advanced to three straight NCAA Sweet Sixteen appearances, captured the program's first Big East Tournament title in 2003 and compiled one of the nation's three best winning percentages (.846 with an 88-16 record) from 2001-04 including a 51-2 home record. In addition, the program opened its sparkling, 12,508-seat Petersen Events Center, the nation's best on-campus basketball venue.

Dixon has 24 years of major NCAA Division I coaching experience, including stints at Pitt (15 years), Northern Arizona (four years), Hawaii (three years) and UC-Santa Barbara (one year). Additionally, as an assistant coach, he served under a school's winningest coach in four different stints (winning percentage). His teams have won a combined 10 conference titles, advanced to the postseason during 18 different seasons and his student-athletes have earned five league player of the year awards. He helped turn destitute programs at Pitt, Hawaii and Northern Arizona into winners and has experienced a high level of accomplishment at several different levels.

Records through 2014-15 season

Facing a major rebuilding project, he joined the Pitt staff in 1999 as associate head coach and recruiting coordinator. In four short years, he helped turn the Pitt basketball program into a consistent national power. In 2000-01, the Panthers surged through the conference tournament, earning a surprising Big East Championship title game berth while winning five of their last seven contests. It was that year at Madison Square Garden that the college basketball world first took notice of the emerging Pitt program as the Panthers upset nationally ranked Syracuse, Notre Dame and a surging Miami team to earn the school's first-ever championship game berth. That strong finish concluded with a National Invitation Tournament berth, the school's first postseason appearance in four years.

The 2001-02 Pitt team built upon that momentum as it finished 29-6 and surpassed the school record of 25 victories set in 1973-74. Pitt won the Big East West championship, the school's first league title of any kind since the 1987-88 campaign, and made its first NCAA Tournament appearance in nine seasons (1992-93). The squad also became the first Pitt team to advance to an NCAA Sweet Sixteen since 1973-74 with two NCAA tournament wins over Central Connecticut State and California.

With five starters and nine letterwinners back, the 2002-03 Pitt squad captured the school's first Big East Tournament championship while making its third straight appearance in the title game. The team finished 28-5 on the year and advanced to its second consecutive NCAA Sweet Sixteen. The Panthers also won their second straight Big East West title and co-Big East regular-season title with a second consecutive 13-3 league record. In addition, the Panthers concluded the inaugural season in the Petersen Events Center with a perfect 16-0 home record and ended the season on a 22-game home win streak.

Prior to Pittsburgh, Dixon served as an assistant coach at the University of Hawaii under legendary head coach Riley Wallace for the 1998-99 season and previously was an assistant under Ben Howland at Northern Arizona University (1994-98). He also was an assistant with Howland at the University of California-Santa Barbara (1991-92) under Jerry Pimm before moving on to the University of Hawaii for two seasons (1992-94).

While at Northern Arizona, Dixon helped lead the Lumberjacks to a 42-17 record over his last two years, including back-to-back 21-win seasons and a pair of Big Sky regular season championships. Northern Arizona led the nation for three consecutive seasons (1997-99) in three-point field goal percentage and ranked among the nation's top two schools in overall field goal percentage during that span. In addition, Northern Arizona won 20-plus games in three consecutive seasons and advanced to postseason play two times, including the 1997 NIT and the school's first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance in 1998. The 1998 Lumberjack squad was one of two teams to reach the NCAA Tournament and carry a team grade point average of 3.0 or better.

Howland and Dixon arrived at Northern Arizona for the 1994-95 season. After suffering through back-to-back 9-17 and 7-19 seasons, the staff guided Northern Arizona to the 10th best one-year turnaround in NCAA Division I basketball history, improving the Lumberjacks to a 21-7 record in 1996-97.

Dixon completed his first stint as an assistant coach at the University of Hawaii from 1992-94 under head coach Riley Wallace. In 1993-94, he helped lead the Rainbows to their first WAC championship and first NCAA Tournament appearance in nearly 30 years. Dixon was also instrumental in developing the Rainbows' perimeter players, including former Phoenix Suns guard and Buffalo, N.Y. native Trevor Ruffin. In his second stint at Hawaii (1998-99), he worked with the perimeter players, including former Denver Nugget Predrag Savovic, and concentrated on recruiting both nationally and abroad. At UC-Santa Barbara, Dixon helped lead the Gauchos to an NIT appearance in 1992.

Dixon began his coaching career in 1989 as the head coach at TeAute College in New Zealand before serving as an assistant coach from 1989-91 at Los Angeles Valley Junior College where he helped head coach Jim Stephens lead the school to a Western States Conference Championship.

A North Hollywood, Calif. native, Dixon attended Notre Dame High School in Sherman Oaks, Calif., where he earned All-Del Rey League and All-California Interscholastic Federation honors. Dixon enjoyed a successful four-year career at Texas Christian University where he played for Jim Killingsworth and led the Horned Frogs to two Southwest Conference titles as a junior and senior. He earned All-SWC honors in 1987 and was an All-SWC Academic performer. Additionally, he led the SWC in assists as a senior, earned the Henry Iba Award as MVP of the All-College Tournament and was voted TCU's Senior Male Scholar-Athlete Award recipient. He was inducted into the TCU Athletic Hall of Fame in 2007. Dixon received his bachelor's degree in finance from TCU in 1987 and earned a master's degree in economics from UC-Santa Barbara in 1992.

Dixon was selected in the 1987 NBA draft by the Washington Bullets. He went on to play professionally with the Lacrosse Catbirds of the Continental Basketball Association and also in New Zealand before getting involved with collegiate coaching.

Dixon is married to the former Jacqueline Corteway. The couple has one son, Jack Connor, born June 2, 2002, and a daughter, Shannon Iwalani, born Feb. 25, 2004. His wife earned a Masters Degree in speech language pathology at the University of Pittsburgh in 2003.

FAST FACTS ABOUT JAMIE DIXON

- Sister is the late Maggie Dixon, who served as the head women's basketball coach at the United States Military Academy (2005-06) and as an assistant coach at DePaul. In 2006, Jamie and Maggie became the first brother-sister duo in NCAA Division I history to guide their teams to the NCAA Tournament in the same season. A week later after the Final Four, Maggie tragically died of a heart arrhythmia. A vibrant, passionate and successful coach, Maggie was only 28 years old. In Maggie's honor, the Maggie Dixon Classic is held each year at Madison Square Garden. It has become the nation's premier women's college basketball event and held in conjunction with the Maggie Dixon Heart Health Fair. Dixon and his family have created the Maggie Dixon Foundation, a non-profit organization with two goals: to educate youth on heart health awareness and the promotion of women's college basketball.
- Dixon saved two people from a car that flipped several times after veering off and hitting a guardrail on I-279 North. Dixon's initial thought was that "no one would survive this event." He was the first person on the scene and cracked the windshield while pulling a female passenger from the wreckage. When asked about the incident, Dixon simply responded, "I did what anyone else in Pittsburgh would have done given the situation. I just happened to be there."
- Dixon's grandparents, who emigrated from Ireland, met in Pittsburgh in the 1920s. They fell in love in Pittsburgh and lived in the city for five years before moving to New York. As a young boy, Dixon's grandparents would tell him stories about the Pittsburgh Pirates. Dixon instantly became a Pirates and Roberto Clemente fan as he hung a poster of the All-Star on his wall. He has had several opportunities to throw out the first pitch at Pirates games.
- Dixon is still known in New Zealand as one of the best professional players to compete there. He scored 61 points for a New Zealand traveling all-star team against Sam Houston State. Dixon played professionally for the Hawke's Bay Hawks and began his coaching career at Te Aute College in 1989.
- As a player at TCU, Dixon made a dramatic halfcourt shot at the buzzer to defeat Texas and win the Southwest Conference championship. For years, the clip was used in SWC promotional videos and Dixon remains famous in Fort Worth. The clip can be found on Youtube along with a post-game interview with Dixon.
- Dixon's playing career came to halt while playing professional basketball in Holland. After he collided with an opponent, he nearly died of a ruptured pancreas. He underwent several operations and did not eat for 50 days during a three-month hospital stay.
- As a youngster growing up in North Hollywood, Dixon had an acting career. He still is a card-carrying member of the Screen Actors Guild. In his early 20s, Dixon was in a Bud Light commercial that featured a woman dunking on him. The commercial was one of the more popular basketball ads of the year and aired on virtually every basketball event. At age 12, Dixon fired a space gun in a commercial for Mattel. At age 10, he was the star of a TV commercial for Rice Krispies, pretending to celebrate a birthday while eating cereal. At age 5, he did a TV commercial for Volvo, sitting in the back seat and smiling while his father played the driver. He was also in a Kentucky Fried Chicken commercial.
- Father Jim Dixon was an actor and screenwriter who starred in a variety of movies and productions.
- Sister, Julie is an attorney for Los Angeles County.

WHAT THEY'VE SAID ABOUT JAMIE DIXON

"What a franchise Jamie Dixon has built here in Pittsburgh. He has had all of his success without having the high draft picks. Jamie Dixon's one problem is that he's always in a hurry. He's in a hurry to win 100 games, in a hurry to win 200. Next thing you know, he'll be at 300!"
-Bill Raftery, ESPN

"One of the things that makes Jamie Dixon such a great coach is that he's working just as hard and is just as intense with a 17-point lead as he works when he's down."
-Bob Knight, ESPN

"Pitt has two dominant traits: 1. They're unselfish. By passing extensively, Pitt churns the clock, works for better shots and, above all, keeps the opponent from tracking any one player. 2. They're "tough." What Pitt lacks in pure shooting it more than makes up by outscratching and outclawing opponents."
-Dejan Kovacevic, Pittsburgh Tribune-Review

"Pitt plays with great toughness. They share the ball well. They know excatly who they are and they rarely take a bad shot...That's who they are."
-Brian Gregory, Head Coach, Georgia Tech

"Jamie's teams play every possession with intensity no matter the score. His players are well coached, they know how to play, they are tough, do things the right way, they listen to their coach and they execute the right way."
-Bob Knight, ESPN

"There is a legacy of success that has been established under Jamie Dixon. Guys like Ashton Gibbs, Gilbert Brown and Gary McGhee, they went hard every day in practice against the likes of Levance Fields, Tyrell Biggs, DeJuan Blair and Sam Young. That gave them confidence going into the new year. The beat just goes on at Pitt."
-Fran Fraschilla, ESPN

"I hate to sound like a recruiting advertisement for the guy, but what player wouldn't want to play for Jamie Dixon?"
-Jay Bilas, ESPN

"Jamie Dixon has done such a fantastic job since taking over the program. They have won more games at Pitt than any Big East school over the last eight years."
-Dan Shulman, ESPN

"Dixon is revered in Pittsburgh and the Panthers view him as their version of Mike Krzyzewski, a coach who can leave a legacy for years to come."
-Andy Katz, ESPN.com - June 15, 2009

"Jamie Dixon has established himself as one of the finest collegiate coaches there is in the game today and this summer he proved himself on the international court too. In leading the USA Men's Under 19 Team to the World Championship, he not only accomplished something that the United States had not done since 1990, but to do so he had to quickly form a team from 12 individual players and earn their respect and confidence. He obviously did so and his team responded by winning it's nine games in an impressive team manner."
-Jerry Colangelo, Chairman, USA Basketball

"Nobody has done a better job of establishing a culture that focuses on the team."
-Mike DeCourcy, The Sporting News

"Jamie Dixon knows what he's doing. Pitt's made the NCAA Tournament every year and he's always able to build and coach teams with the toughness and skills to win in one of the toughest conferences in basketball."
-Brent Jones, USA Today - April 6, 2009

"Pitt's secret is in the details. It's in the weight room, the practice gym and the hearts that beat inside those chests. Watch Pitt's players and you see them continue to be aggressive even after they make mistakes. That goes back to Jamie Dixon believing in them and creating an environment in which they come to believe in each other. One thing players know is that the coach won't punish them for every blunder."
-Joe Starkey, Pittsburgh Tribune-Review - January 17, 2010

"Sought after Dixon building a second home in Pittsburgh...Dixon has never not won at least 20 games in a season, never not won at least 10 Big East games in a year, never not made the Field of 65. Career record: 163-45. Career Big East record: 70-30...Pitt has everything he needs."
-Gary Parrish, CBS Sportsline

"Pitt wasn't supposed to be this good this season. Pitt had to replace four starters-including DeJuan Blair and Sam Young, now in the NBA- from last season's 31-5 team. A down year seemed inevitable. Big East coaches picked Pitt to finish ninth in their preseason poll. But there Pitt is this morning, in third place in the conference. 'I believe any team can be as good as it desires to be.' That's all Dixon knows. It's how he lives and coaches. It's the rock-solid foundation up on which Pitt's great program is built."
-Ron Cook, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

"Loyalty at this level, in any sport, is unique. Chasing the big bucks is more the norm, but what has changed over Jamie Dixon's tenure is how much Pitt has become a destination job. Pitt is arguably one of the premier jobs in the Big East, which makes it one of the top gigs in the country."
-Andy Katz, ESPN.com - May 9, 2008

"Jamie Dixon, you just led your USA Basketball team to the world championship. What are you going to do next? I'm going to Georgia, recruiting!" Dixon takes his best shot at a challenge–any challenge–then moves on to the next. And you wonder why Dixon is one of the top coaches in America? Correct that. One of the top coaches in the world?"
-Ron Cook, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette - July 15, 2009

"Jamie cares as much or more about people than any coach I've ever been around. That's a unique characteristic, to be that driven and yet care about other people."
-Steve Pederson, former Pitt AD

"Jamie is probably the most grounded person I know. And he possibly is the most focused person I know. When he is coaching, he is coaching 100 percent. And when he is with his family, he is doing that 100 percent. He is really able to focus completely on whatever he is doing, and that's rare."
-Steve Pederson, former Pitt AD

"Jamie Dixon is a Helluva Basketball Coach... The way Jamie Dixon handled this team has to be very encouraging to Pitt fans whose entire rotation is in flux heading into next season. The Under-19 World Championships proved that Jamie Dixon can find a way to win with any hand he's been dealt."
-Paul Sievers, Bleacher Report - July 14, 2009

"I remember Dixon's response to Mike Cook's injury against Duke last season at Madison Square Garden. The coach didn't just monitor the situation, as many would have done, even though it occurred at a crucial point in a huge game. Instead, he raced out and knelt beside Cook, holding Cook's hand as the player writhed in pain. 'I'll never forget that about coach Dixon,' Cook said later. 'That meant a lot to me and my family. I remember I looked up and saw him for a second. I saw his face. He really felt for me.' If this coach can't be taken at his word, no coach can."
-Joe Starkey, Pittsburgh Tribune-Review on Sept. 26, 2008, after Cook tore his ACL in overtime vs. Duke

"At Pitt, Dixon made the right choice when he headed into coaching. He has been brilliant since inheriting the Panthers' job when Ben Howland left to become the leader at UCLA. Pitt realized what a gem they had in front of them. Dixon, in his own style, has created something special with his players."
-Dick Vitale, ESPN - February 13, 2007

"Not only is Jamie Dixon a great basketball coach, but he's a class gentleman in every way."
-Dick Groat

"...Dixon is a humble and reserved person. But he is also a fierce competitor..."
-John Grupp, Pittsburgh Tribune-Review - January 6, 2008

"The Panthers win by doing the little things. They rebound, they play defense, they play together. If they don't have top-10 talent, they do have top-10 tenacity, top-10 grit, top-10 hustle and a top-10 belief in themselves."
-Josh Herwitt, Fox Sports Net

"Dixon's teams always play hard, always play defense and always play unselfish basketball."
-Ron Cook, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette - January 6, 2009

"Dixon does a fantastic job of getting his team to understand the importance of playing as a unit on both ends of the court. They are very unselfish and they share the ball well. It is always tough to beat the Panthers because they have great chemistry, talent and are well-coached."
-Dick Vitale, ESPN

"Nobody in his right mind expected this inexperienced, undersized team to start 13-2 and 3-0 in the Big East, including back-to-back wins at Syracuse and Cincinnati. It's the first week of January, and I'm wondering if it's already Dixon's best coaching job."
-Joe Starkey, Pittsburgh Tribune-Review - January 8, 2010

"The best coach in the city...That designation falls to Jamie Dixon. What Jamie Dixon does with the talent he has puts him, in my estimation, at the top of the list in Pittsburgh. What sets Dixon apart is that he can win with lesser talent. That is the mark of a great coach. Nobody gets their players to play harder, no one gets a greater commitment to defense and team. He takes the ordinary and makes them excellent...It has to be Dixon because it happens too often. Expect surprises from the Panthers, expect their players to continue to get better and expect Dixon to continue being the best coach in the city."
-Bob Smizik, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette - Jan. 6, 2010

ASSISTANT COACH
BRANDIN KNIGHT
10th Season
Pittsburgh '05

Former University of Pittsburgh star and retired No. 20 jersey honoree Brandin Knight begins his eighth year as an assistant coach at Pitt. In his 10th total season overall as a member of Pitt head coach Jamie Dixon's staff, Knight is responsible for recruiting student-athletes, scouting opponents, game preparation and on-floor coaching.

"Brandin has always been a tremendous asset for our program," Dixon said. "As a player, Brandin proved to be an exceptional leader and a coach on the floor. Through the years, he has developed into an outstanding basketball coach. He has been a terrific role model for our players and was instrumental in turning our program around. In addition, he has always remained loyal to Pitt."

Knight joined Dixon's staff in 2006-07 as its Program Assistant/Video Coordinator and served the 2007-08 season as Director of Men's Basketball Operations.

Pitt has compiled a 256-87 record and reached postseason play 10 times since Knight joined the staff. The Panthers won the 2008 Big East Championship, earned two NCAA Tournament No. 1 seeds (2009 & 2011) and captured the 2011 Big East regular season title with Knight on the sidelines. He was instrumental in the development of All-America selection Sam Young along with all-league guards Levance Fields, Ashton Gibbs and Tray Woodall.

A Pitt point guard from 1999-2003, Knight's leadership was largely responsible for Pitt's basketball renaissance. The transformation of Pitt's basketball program into a national power can be attributed largely to Knight who led the dramatic turnaround. Pitt finished 13-15 during his freshman year, improved to 19-14 with a surprise Big East Championship Finals appearance and NIT berth as a sophomore, then burst onto the national stage with a 29-6 record, Big East regular season title, national top-10 ranking and NCAA Sweet Sixteen berth during his junior season in 2001-02. As a senior in 2002-03, Knight's Panthers maintained that success with a 28-5 record, co-Big East regular season title and second straight NCAA Sweet Sixteen appearance.

In the end, Knight helped lead Pitt to two consecutive Big East regular season titles (2001-02 and 2002-03), two NCAA Sweet Sixteen appearances (2002 and 2003), the program's first Big East Tournament title (2003), three consecutive appearances in the Big East Tournament final (2001, 2002, and 2003) and an 89-40 (.690) four-year record.

A 2003 Wooden All-America team selection, 2002 Associated Press All-America team member and two-time All-Big East honoree, Knight concluded his career with 1,440 points, 785 assists, 492 rebounds and 298 steals. He earned the Big East's co-Most Valuable Player and Most Improved Player awards in 2001-02.

Knight still holds school records for career assists (785), career assist average (6.2 apg.), career steals (298), career 3-point field goal attempts (261), season minutes played (1,284 in 2001-02) and consecutive games played with at least one assist (91 from 2000-03).

Knight's No. 20 jersey was retired in a ceremony prior to the Panthers' Marquette game on March 4, 2009.

Following his Pitt career, Knight played two seasons with the NBDL's Asheville Altitude. He helped lead the Altitude to back-to-back league titles in both 2003-04 and 2004-05. In 2005, he signed a contract with the NBA's Houston Rockets, but suffered a knee injury two weeks later. Knight spent the following two years in Pittsburgh rehabbing the injury. During that span, Knight got involved with coaching. He coached several AAU teams, including a squad that captured the Under-16 Pittsburgh Jamfest title in 2006.

Knight, who graduated with a History degree from Pitt in June, 2005, is a native of East Orange, N.J. His brother, Brevin, is a 12-year NBA veteran who was a consensus All-America point guard at Stanford (1994-97). The Knights represent only one of eight brother combinations in NCAA Division I history to earn All-America honors, a distinguished list that includes Marv and Vern Huffman, Eddie and Johnny O'Brien, Dick and Tom Van Arsdale, Mike and Willie Sojourner, Albert and Bernard King, Jim and John Paxson and Harvey and Horace Grant. His father Melvin, a former Seton Hall assistant basketball coach (1978-82) and player (1968-71), serves as the athletic director at Essex County College (N.J.).

Knight resides in Pittsburgh with his wife Michelle, daughter Kylah and son Brandin.

BILL BARTON
Fifth Season
Salem State '89

A New England native with extensive East Coast prep school recruiting ties, Bill Barton begins his fifth season at the University of Pittsburgh as an assistant coach. Barton's main responsibilities include recruiting student-athletes, game preparation and on-floor coaching.

Regarded as one of the top recruiters on the East Coast, Barton owns over 19 years of combined coaching experience, including each of the last eight seasons at the NCAA Division I level.

During his tenure at Pitt, Barton has helped the program to a 119-57 record and five postseason appearances. The Panthers have posted 13 wins of top-25 teams, including 10 over top-10 foes, in that span. Pitt won the Big East regular season championship and earned a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament in Barton's first year on the staff.

Barton spent 2010-11 as an assistant coach at Marshall University under Tom Herrion, a former Pitt associate head coach from 2007-10. In 2010-11, the Thundering Herd finished 22-12 overall, tied for fifth place in Conference USA with a 9-7 record and received an invitation to compete in the CollegeInsider postseason Tournament.

Prior to joining the NCAA Division I coaching ranks, Barton served 10 seasons (1997-2007) as the head coach at Notre Dame Prep in Fitchburg, Mass. Barton built the Notre Dame Prep program into a national powerhouse as he guided the school to back-to-back Prep School National Championships in 2005-06 and 2006-07, posting a 255-66 overall record and .794 winning percentage.

Barton specialized in player development as over 70 of his former players went on to earn NCAA Division I scholarships. Five of those players–Marcus Douthit (Los Angeles Lakers, 2nd round, 56th overall in 2004), Ryan Gomes (Boston Celtics, 2nd round, 50th overall in 2005), Will Blalock (Detroit Pistons, 2nd round, 30th overall in 2006), Michael Beasley (Miami Heat, 1st round, 2nd overall in 2008) and Lazar Hayward (Washington Wizards, 1st round, 30th overall in 2010)–were drafted by NBA teams. A native of Pittsburgh's Northside, Brian Regan is in his ninth season as the University of Pittsburgh's Director of Basketball Operations. Regan's association with Pitt Basketball goes back more than 30 years when he first attended the "Play Basketball Day Camps," directed by then Pitt coach Tim Grgurich.

As Assistant Athletic Director/Director of Men's Basketball Operations, Regan's various responsibilities include the day-to-day operations of the men's basketball program, serving as a liaison to athletic department officials and coordinating the student-athletes' practice, game-day and daily schedules. He also coordinates the program's summer camp schedule and monitors academic progress. During the summer of 2010, he organized Pitt Basketball's Summer Tour to Ireland.

"Brian is a valuable part of our program and has played a key role in our success," said head coach Jamie Dixon. "He brings with him extensive experience at several different levels. He is also thrilled to be working at Pitt and in his hometown of Pittsburgh."

Pitt has posted a 231-79 record with nine postseason appearances with Regan on the staff. The Panthers claimed the 2008 Big East Championship, reached the NCAA Tournament Elite Eight in 2009 and were Big East regular season champions in 2011. Pitt also won the 2012 College Basketball Invitational during his current tenure.

Regan, who joined the Pitt staff in 2007-08 as its Video Coordinator, has a combined 27 years of college coaching experience. He spent five seasons (2002-07) as an assistant basketball coach at Colgate University under head coach Emmett Davis. As a top assistant at Colgate, Regan's responsibilities included recruiting, scouting and coordinating the Raiders' summer basketball day and elite prospect camps. He also served as academic coordinator for the program.

Prior to his stint at Colgate, Regan served three years (1999-2002) as an associate head coach at Assumption College under head coach Tom Ackerman. In 2001-02, Assumption posted one of its most successful seasons in school history, advancing to the NCAA Division II Tournament Sweet Sixteen, capturing the Northeast-10 regular season championship and compiling a 24-6 record. All of these accomplishments were achieved after the Greyhounds were picked to finish last in the league's preseason coaches' poll. Three of Regan's recruits played key roles in that success, including league defensive player of the year Shahar Golan, All-America selection and league rookie of the year Brian Robinson and first team all-conference pick Shane O'Donoghue.

Regan is no stranger to the Western Pennsylvania coaching ranks, having served assistant coaching stints at Slippery Rock University (1994-99), LaRoche College (1993-94) and Robert Morris University (1990-93). During his tenure at Robert Morris, the Colonials won the Northeast Conference title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 1992 before dropping their first round matchup to UCLA in Tempe, Ariz. At Robert Morris, Regan oversaw guard play including NEC Player of the Year and Aliquippa native Myron Walker.

Regan began his college coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Pitt, serving two seasons (1988-90) under Paul Evans. He helped guide the Panthers to a 17-13 record and NCAA Tournament berth in 1989.

One of six siblings, Regan and his brothers regularly attended the Pitt youth basketball camps. Two of his brothers served as Pitt ballboys and both went on to compete collegiately at New York University. His father, the late "Baldy" Regan, served as a Pittsburgh city councilman.

A 1988 graduate of Saint Vincent College in Latrobe, Pa., Regan earned his undergraduate degree in communications. During his time at Saint Vincent, he worked as a student assistant under legendary coach Bernie Matthews. Regan also attended the Kiski School in Saltsburg, Pa.

- Enters his third season at Pitt with 639 points, 311 rebounds and 100 assists in 70 career games (34 starts)
- Tough, versatile performer, who has excelled on the inside and on the perimeter … rugged, playmaking big man who can hit jumpers from the perimeter, put the ball on the floor or bang down low

Pitt overcame a myriad of injuries and roster uncertainty to finish the 2014-15 campaign 19-15 (8-10 ACC) and reach postseason play for the 15th consecutive season. The Panthers' season was highlighted by home wins over No. 8 Notre Dame and No. 12 North Carolina as well as a season sweep of rival Syracuse.

Head coach Jamie Dixon reached a personal milestone during the season as well. With a 73-64 win over Florida State Jan. 14, Dixon became just the second head coach in school history to reach 300 or more career wins. His accomplishment ranks among the all-time NCAA Division I records for fastest to 300 career wins in both number of games (401, 19th) and total seasons (12, third). On the total number of games chart, he reached 300 victories faster than NCAA Division I coaching legends Arkansas' Nolan Richardson (404 games), North Carolina's Dean Smith (406 games), Creighton/Arkansas' Eddie Sutton (406), Indiana's Bob Knight (407) and Georgetown's John Thompson (407).

Pitt was led by standout sophomores Jamel Artis and Michael Young. The tandem combined to average 27.0 points and 13.3 rebounds per game while spending much of the year playing out of position. With a lack of healthy centers, the Panthers often played Young, a natural power forward at 6-9, at center, while Artis, a natural small forward, was shifted to power forward for the majority of the season. Both players refined their games tremendously during their second seasons at Pitt, ranking among the ACC leaders in greatest margin of improved scoring from 2013-14 to 2014-15, Artis ranked fourth (+8.7 ppg.), while Young ranked sixth (+7.4 ppg.).

In his 12th season as head coach at Pitt, Dixon began the season rotating junior big man Joseph Uchebo and senior Derrick Randall in his starting center role, but incessant knee ailments restricted Uchebo's mobility as the season grew on, and Young, who added an inch in length during the offseason, slid into the starting center spot. Freshman wing Cameron Johnson, an Our Lady of Sacred Heart graduate and one of five Pitt players from the greater Pittsburgh area, underwent early-season shoulder surgery and redshirted. Senior Cameron Wright needed surgery in the summer of 2014 to reconstruct a broken foot, and he missed Pitt's first eight games of the regular season, including the team's trip to Hawaii to play in the 2014 Maui Invitational. The Panthers finished 2-1 in the Maui Invitational, with comfortable wins over Chaminade and Kansas State. The lone loss came to No. 15 San Diego State, one of five Pitt defeats at the hands of a ranked opponent. Young and Randall were particularly impressive during the win over Chaminade as the duo combined for 38 points and 36 rebounds (20 offensive boards). Young finished with 27 points and 15 rebounds, while Randall had 11 points and 21 rebounds, tied for seventh-most in Panther history.

Individually, Artis emerged as one of the ACC's most prolific young scorers. After an offseason weight loss regimen and the position change, Artis got out to a slow start before closing the season with 18 straight double figure games. He averaged 19.5 points per contest during 13 consecutive matchups during the heat of ACC play and finished first among his team and 15th in the ACC in scoring at 13.6 points per game. He boosted his scoring numbers to 16.1 ppg. in ACC play. Artis totaled 21 points on the road against eventual National Champion Duke; 18 points when the Panthers hosted No. 10 Louisville; 20 points in a win over No. 8 Notre Dame; 15 points at No. 9 Louisville; 20 points at No. 2 Virginia; 16 points at Syracuse; and 32 points in a win over Bryant. Artis claimed All-ACC third team honors (coaches), received two votes for the ACC's Most Improved Player and was also named ACC Player of the Week (Feb. 9).

Young, who has started every game (70) in his career as a Panther, ranked among the ACC leaders in scoring (13.4 ppg. - T-16th), rebounds (7.3 rpg. - T-9th) and offensive rebounds (3.3 orpg. - 3rd) a year ago. He garnered honorable mention All-ACC accolades from the media and coaches while establishing himself as one of the top interior players in the conference. Young shot a team-best 53.0 percent from the field while scoring in double-figures 26 times and recording five double-doubles.

James Robinson, a rising senior who has started 102 of 103 career games, led the ACC (6th nationally) in assist-to-turnover ratio (3.11). He posted a career-high 23 points in

Junior Michael Young

Cameron Wright

Pitt's 76-62 win over Duquesne in the Dec. 5 City Game at Consol Energy Center, and notched 15 points, including the game-winning floater in Pitt's 76-72 upset over No. 8 Notre Dame. Robinson ranks third among active ACC players in career steals (121), fifth in career minutes per game (30.6) and second to North Carolina's Marcus Paige on the list of active assists leaders (438). Robinson, who remains the winningest player in DeMatha Catholic High School basketball history, also received a vote for the ACC Defensive Player of the Year in 2014-15.

Senior guard Cameron Wright was often responsible for shutting down opponents' top swingmen and outside scoring threats. He held Syracuse sharpshooter Trevor Cooney scoreless in Pitt's 83-77 closeout of the Orange at the Carrier Dome and assisted Robinson in limiting North Carolina star Marcus Paige to eight points during Pitt's 89-76 upset of North Carolina at the Petersen Events Center. After the game, Naismith Basketball and College Basketball Halls of Fame coach Roy Williams called Wright "sensational" for his stout defense and 10-assist performance. Wright would go on to finish 10th in the ACC in steals (1.4 spg.), one of the reasons why he received a vote for ACC Defensive Player of the Year.

Chris Jones also had a strong sophomore campaign boosting his averages to 8.5 points and 3.1 rebounds per game. His +6.1 point per game jump in scoring was ninth-best in the ACC. Jones led the Panthers with 41 three-point field goals and scored in double-figures 14 times. His top performance came in a road win over Syracuse when he scored 19 points and went 5-of-6 from three-point range.

Sheldon Jeter, a Beaver Falls native who began his career at Vanderbilt, was inserted by Dixon into the small forward role in mid-February. Jeter notched 22 points on 10-of-14 shooting in Pitt's win over No. 12 North Carolina in which the Panthers posted the highest shooting percentage against a Roy Williams-coached North Carolina team (65 percent), and their 30 assists were the second-most against the Tar Heels under Williams. Jeter also scored 18 points in Pitt's home win over Syracuse, held before the first-ever organized fan "blackout" of the Petersen Events Center in which all fans wore black Oakland Zoo t-shirts.

Pitt also had a successful season off the court with three players – Wright, Jeter and Robinson – being named to the Academic All-ACC Men's Basketball Team. To be eligible for consideration, a student-athlete must have earned a 3.00 grade point average for the previous semester and maintained a 3.00 cumulative average during his academic career. Eight total Pitt players or half of the team's 16-player roster were nominated for the honor, including Cameron Johnson, Mike Lecak, Ryan Luther, Aron Phillips-Nwankwo and Joseph Uchebo.

PITT'S MEDALISTS

CHARLES SMITH (1986 and 1988)

- Gold Medalist- 1986 USA World Championships (Madrid, Spain)

For the first time in 32 years, USA brought home the Gold Medal at the World Championships. Widely considered a darkhorse to win the gold, Team USA finished 9-1 and fended off a late rally to capture an 87-85 championship game decision over the USSR. Pitt's Charles Smith provided the firepower as he averaged a team-leading 15.0 points, hit 52.7 percent (61-117) of his field goals and pulled down 5.8 rebounds per game. Coached by Lute Olsen, the team also featured 12 future NBA players including David Robinson, Sean Elliott, Steve Kerr, Kenny Smith and Rony Seikaly.

- Bronze Medalist- 1988 USA Olympic Team (Seoul, Korea)

Favored to win the Gold Medal, head coach John Thompson's United States team lost a semifinal game to the Soviet Union, but rebounded with a 78-49 win over Australia to claim the Bronze Medal. Pitt's Charles Smith averaged 7.8 points and 4.1 rebounds per game. It was Smith's second international competition. USA finished 7-1 in competition.

SAM CLANCY (1979)

- Gold Medalist- 1979 Pan American Games (San Juan, Puerto Rico)

Led by head coach Bob Knight, the 1979 USA Pan American Games team featured one of the youngest and most explosive squads in American history. The Americans breezed to the Gold Medal contest by winning nine straight games and averaging a record 100.8 points per game. Pitt's Sam Clancy was a key contributor off the bench on a team featuring NBA All-Stars Isaiah Thomas, Kevin McHale and Ralph Sampson. He averaged 3.6 points (10-18 FG) while pulling down 3.3 rebounds per game.

JEROME LANE (1987)

- Silver Medalist- 1987 Pan American Games (Indianapolis, Ind.)

Team USA won its first five games by an average margin of 29 points but was denied the gold medal for just the second time in 36 years of the event as Brazil upset the Americans 120-115 in the Championship game. Pitt's Jerome Lane appeared in six games and averaged 3.5 rebounds per game. Leading scorers included David Robinson, Danny Manning and Rex Chapman.

SEAN MILLER (1991)

- Gold Medalist- 1991 World University Games (Sheffield, England)

Pitt's Sean Miller helped lead Team USA to a perfect 6-0 record, a second consecutive gold medal and eighth gold in 12 tries. He ranked second on the squad with six 3-pointers and connected on a perfect 10-10 free throws. Coached by P.J. Carlesimo, Team USA outscored its opponents on average 103.2-63.8.

JAMIE DIXON AND ASHTON GIBBS (2009)

- Gold Medalist- 2009 FIBA World Championships (Auckland, New Zealand)

Pitt's Ashton Gibbs and coach Jamie Dixon led the USA Basketball Under-19 Team to the 2009 FIBA World Championship Gold Medal with a perfect 9-0 record. Dixon assumed head coaching duties just a month before the team was to depart for New Zealand. He inherited an overhauled roster, guided the squad to the title and was named USA Basketball's "Coach of the Year" for his efforts. The squad's starting point guard, Gibbs averaged 9.8 points, dished out 20 assists and led the Americans in both minutes played (202) and minutes per game (22.4). He also contributed 12 3-pointers and connected on 82 percent of his free throw attempts. The USA stint proved to be a valuable experience for Gibbs upon entering his sophomore season. In 2011, Gibbs represented Team USA at the World University Games in Shenzhen, China.

JAMES ROBINSON (2012 and 2013)

- Gold Medalist- 2012 FIBA Americas Championships (Sao Sebastiao, Brazil)

James Robinson became the first player in school history to earn two Gold Medals in international competition in July, 2013 when he played a role on the USA Basketball 2013 Under-19 FIBA World Championship team. USA registered a perfect 9-0 record en route to the championship and defeated Serbia, 82-68, in the title game.

- Gold Medalist- 2013 FIBA World Championships (Prague, Czech Republic)

In 2012, Robinson also helped lead the USA Basketball Under-18 team to its sixth all-time FIBA Americas Gold Medal. The Americans concluded the event with a perfect 5-0 record and outscored five opponents by an average of 38.6 points per contest. USA defeated host Brazil, 81-56, in the title game. As the team's point guard, Robinson led Team USA in assist:turnover ratio and averaged 4.4 points per game. Robinson also represented Team USA at the Nike Hoops Summit.

ALL-TIME NUMERICAL ROSTER

List is from 1939-40. List is not a letterwinner list. Many players are missing, some players wear a different jersey each season and some numbers are worn by two players in a given year. The list depicts players who wore each number even if they did not play- i.e. redshirted, etc. Jerseys reflect the jerseys worn at home games. Multiple numbers were worn in several years.

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH

Chancellor Patrick Gallagher 210
Athletic Director Scott Barnes 211
The University of Pittsburgh 212

CHANCELLOR PATRICK GALLAGHER

Patrick Gallagher, PhD, is in his second year in serving as the 18th Chancellor and Chief Executive Officer of the University of Pittsburgh.

During his first year at Pitt, Chancellor Gallagher oversaw several key changes in the school's Athletics department with the hiring of Pat Narduzzi as football head coach in December and Scott Barnes as athletic director in April. But the impact of Chancellor Gallagher's leadership was not limited to the athletic arena, as Pitt experienced another exceptional year on all fronts:

• Pitt poet and English professor Terrance Hayes was named a 2014 MacArthur Fellow, one of the nation's most high-profile honors.

• University students continued to be among the most honored in the nation winning Udall and Goldwater scholarships as well as 15 Fulbright grants, 13 National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowships, and four Boren scholarships.

• Pitt, Carnegie Mellon University, and UPMC have formed the Pittsburgh Health Data Alliance in an effort to harness huge quantities of health information to better guide medical care and provide insights into disease.

• The University continued to be a strong community partner through civic engagement and was–for a second consecutive year–named to the President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll, which recognizes colleges and universities nationwide for playing an important role in their communities.

Following his nomination by President Barack Obama and his confirmation by the U.S. Senate, Chancellor Gallagher became Director of the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) in 2009 and was given the additional position of Undersecretary of Commerce for Standards and Technology in 2010. He served in both capacities until June 2014. During those years, he provided high-level direction for NIST, which promotes U.S. innovation and industrial competitiveness by advancing measurement science, standards, and technology. Many of NIST's areas of priority–including manufacturing, information technology and cybersecurity, energy, health care, the environment and consumer safety, and physical infrastructure–not only reflect high national priorities but also overlap with important work being done at the University of Pittsburgh.

On June 1, 2013, Chancellor Gallagher took on an additional role with the U.S. Department of Commerce when he was appointed Acting Deputy Secretary of Commerce by President Obama.

In that capacity, he served as the chief operating officer for the Department, with overall responsibility for budget, planning, and operations, advancing the Department's mission of helping to make American businesses more innovative at home and more competitive abroad.

In 2006, the U.S. Department of Commerce awarded him its Gold Medal for his leadership in interagency coordination efforts. While leading NIST, he initiated joint ventures with universities and put together a world-class research staff.

In 2013, Pitt awarded Chancellor Gallagher an honorary Doctor of Public Service degree in recognition of his contributions to advancing our nation through science and technology, and he received an honorary Doctor of Science degree from Saint Vincent College in May 2014.

Prior to assuming the directorship of NIST, Chancellor Gallagher served in a number of capacities within that agency, including deputy director, director of the NIST Center for Neutron Research, and leader of the Research Facilities Operations Group in the Center for Neutron Research as well as a NIST agency representative at the National Science and Technology Council.

Chancellor Gallagher received a bachelor's degree in physics and philosophy from Benedictine College, and he earned a PhD in physics at Pitt in 1991. He is a member of the American Physical Society, American Association for the Advancement of Science, Sigma Xi Honor Society, and Sigma Pi Sigma Honor Society.

While pursuing his graduate studies at Pitt, Chancellor Gallagher met his future wife, Karen Abrahamson, who was working in Pittsburgh as an occupational therapist. They were married in June of 1991 and are the parents of three boys.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR SCOTT BARNES

Nationally distinguished as one of the top administrators in collegiate athletics, Scott Barnes was named the new athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh by Chancellor Patrick Gallagher on April 24, 2015.

Barnes arrives at Pitt following an impressive tenure at Utah State University, where he was honored as an Under Armour Athletic Director of the Year Award winner for his work elevating the Aggies' program. He owns 26 years of administrative experience at the collegiate level and recently served as chair of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee. Barnes was the unanimous choice of a 14-member University search committee charged with the responsibility of recommending candidates.

"Athletics play an important role in the life of the University," said Chancellor Gallagher. "In Scott Barnes, we have found a person who understands the role that athletics play and who also recognizes the primacy of academics. Scott clearly shares our belief that we should pursue excellence in all that we do and that a student can be good in both athletics and academics."

"I want to thank Chancellor Gallagher and the search committee for this tremendous opportunity," said Barnes. "Chancellor Gallagher's vision for excellence across all facets of this great university, including athletics, is impressive and makes Pitt an exciting place to be for myself and my family. Pitt's exceptional student-athletes and coaches, loyal fan base and storied history are true assets that we can build on together. In addition, our membership in the ACC brings continued opportunities for Pitt Athletics to achieve excellence in every way. The Barnes family is honored and humbled to join the Pitt family."

Barnes stated that a major priority for his administration will be engaging and energizing Pitt fans everywhere--whether it's a fall Saturday at Heinz Field, a game night at the Petersen Events Center, waiting in the concessions line or even when clicking on the Panthers' Facebook page.

To achieve that goal, within days of arriving at Pitt, he announced the launch of the Panther Fans Experience Committee, a group that will serve as the pulse of the Pitt fan and provide important feedback to the athletic department.

"We want to know how Pitt Athletics can better serve its fans," Barnes said. "The best way to do that is by engaging our people and asking for their thoughts and opinions. By working together, we can create a fan experience that ranks among the finest in the country."

Barnes spent the past seven years as Athletic Director at Utah State, adding the title of Vice President in 2012. Under his direction, the Aggies enjoyed unprecedented athletic, academic and fundraising success. The highlights of Barnes' Utah State tenure include the following:

USU football averaged 10 wins a year over the past three seasons: Since 2012, the Aggies have compiled a 30-11 mark (.732) and won a school-record three consecutive bowls. (Prior to this three-year period, Utah State owned just one bowl victory in its first 114 seasons of competition.) In 2012, Utah State went 11-2, the winningest season in school history, and finished 16th in the final Associated Press poll. This past season, USU went 10-4 and defeated UTEP in the New Mexico Bowl.

Broad-based athletic program success: Under Barnes' watch, Utah State won 20 conference team championships. Individually, USU student-athletes perennially produced all-conference, All-America and all-academic performances.

Membership in the Mountain West Conference: Barnes ushered Utah State into a strong and stable league when the Aggies joined the Mountain West in 2013. The new affiliation provided USU with a nationally recognized conference that was also geographically advantageous. Utah State competed in the Western Athletic Conference (WAC) from 2006-13.

An 87% Graduation Success Rate (GSR): In addition to scoring high in the most recent GSR report, Utah State student-athletes earned a cumulative 3.17 grade point average during the 2013-14 academic year. The Aggies boasted 160 Mountain West All-Academic honorees, while 82 earned Mountain West Scholar-Athlete status.

Unprecedented athletic fundraising success: Utah State achieved all-time fundraising records under Barnes. He cultivated the two largest lead gifts in USU Athletics history: $5.25 million for the Wayne Estes Center (a basketball practice facility and volleyball competition venue) and $3.7 million for the ICON Sports Performance Center (which serves 16 sports programs and more than 400 student-athletes). He additionally increased private funding to the football program by $2.5 million through the Merlin Olsen Fund for Football Competitive Excellence.

Expansion and enhancement of USU's infrastructure: With fundraising at an all-time high, Barnes oversaw the completion of the $6.5 million 26,329-square-foot ICON Sports Performance Center in 2013 and the $9.7 million 32,000-square-foot Wayne Estes Center in 2014. He also announced a long-term naming rights partnership that provides key funding for Utah State's $36 million football stadium renovation project scheduled to be completed for the 2016 season.

A program-wide NIKE branding and identity program: Barnes orchestrated a partnership with NIKE, resulting in a new branding initiative for Utah State Athletics and a $2.4 million apparel deal to outfit each Aggie student-athlete.

Barnes not only built significant momentum for Utah State Athletics but did so in a fiscally prudent way. USU was lauded as the most economically efficient athletic department in the nation in 2009 following a study done by Texas A&M's Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics. In four subsequent studies, Utah State finished in the top 20 each year, including three times in the top six.

The Aggies' progress under Barnes earned national praise and recognition. He was a 2014 recipient of the Under Armour Athletic Director of the Year Award. Well versed on collegiate athletics issues, Barnes has served on multiple NCAA committees and recently concluded a five-year appointment on the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee. He is a member of the 1A Athletic Directors' Institute Faculty and a regular presenter for the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA).

Prior to his tenure at Utah State, Barnes spent nearly three years (2005-08) at the University of Washington as Senior Associate Athletic Director for Advancement. In that capacity, he was responsible for all external operations for the Huskies' athletic department, including fundraising, ticket sales, multimedia rights, marketing and communications.

Barnes served as Athletic Director at Eastern Washington University from 1999 to 2005. He increased the department's operating funds by securing the largest single gift in EWU athletics history and a $3 million university soft drink contract. Barnes hired six head coaches at Eastern Washington, including four who would earn Big Sky Coach of the Year honors. His work at EWU was recognized by NACDA when the organization honored him as the Division I-AA West Region Athletic Director of the Year.

Barnes' initial athletic director appointment was at Humboldt State University in California from 1997-99. He spent four years at Iowa State University, serving as the Cyclones' Director of Athletic Development (1994-95) and Associate Athletic Director for Development and Special Projects (1995-97).

From 1990-94, Barnes was an Associate Athletic Director at the University of the Pacific, serving as the Executive Director of the Pacific Athletic Foundation. He began his career in college athletics at the University of San Diego as Director of Athletic Development from 1989-90.

Barnes' career in college athletics was inspired by his own student-athlete experience as a basketball player at Fresno State University. Playing under legendary Bulldogs coach Boyd Grant, Barnes was an All-Pacific Coast Athletic Association (PCAA) performer at center and set the school record for single-season blocks (48). In 1983-84, he helped Fresno State to the PCAA Tournament title--capped by a 51-49 victory over Jerry Tarkanian's 10th-ranked UNLV Rebels--and an NCAA Tournament berth.

Barnes played professional basketball in Germany in 1985-86 and was the general manager of the Fresno Flames of the World Basketball League (WBL) from 1988-89.

He earned his bachelor's (1986) and master's (1993) degrees from Fresno State in physical education with an emphasis in athletic administration. His wife Jody was also a Fresno State student-athlete as a member of the track team. The couple has two children: daughter Milanna and son Isaac.

THE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

A "World-Class Institution," the University of Pittsburgh is an internationally respected center of learning and research, offering exceptional educational opportunities in the arts, sciences and professions.

OUR MISSION

The University of Pittsburgh's mission is to advance teaching, research and public service. This three-part commitment enables the University to serve others by educating diverse students from the region, the nation, and the world; expanding boundaries of knowledge, discovery and technology; and enhancing quality of life in the Western Pennsylvania region and beyond.

THE HISTORY

The University began in the Pennsylvania wilderness as the Pittsburgh Academy in 1787, the year the U.S. Constitution was adopted. Thirty-two years later, the Pittsburgh Academy became the Western University of Pennsylvania, and in 1908, the school changed its name to the University of Pittsburgh. Graduate degrees have been conferred since 1836, and the first doctoral program was developed in 1884. A private institution for most of its past, the University of Pittsburgh became state-related in 1966, establishing a relationship with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that continues to benefit both partners. Today, as an elected member of the prestigious Association of American Universities, Pittsburgh claims its place among the top public research universities in the nation.

ACCREDITATION

All campuses of the University of Pittsburgh are accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools' Commission on Higher Education. Schools, programs and departments may furthermore be accredited by discipline-specific accrediting bodies.

ACADEMIC ORGANIZATION

As an independent, state-related, coeducational institution, the University of Pittsburgh's main campus offers a multitude of degree-granting and other programs housed in 16 undergraduate, graduate and professional schools. The University system includes the Pittsburgh campus and four regional campuses at Bradford, Greensburg, Johnstown and Titusville.

There are approximately 122 academic, research and administrative buildings and residence halls located on the Pittsburgh campus, which covers 132 acres in the culturally rich Oakland neighborhood. At the heart of the campus stands a central landmark-the Cathedral of Learning, a 42-story Gothic tower, which is the tallest school building in the western hemisphere. The Cathedral contains the Nationality Rooms and 26 classrooms, each designed to reflect a distinct culture and providing an overall, multi-dimensional understanding of America's heritage.

At the Pitt campuses, over 11,000 employees and 5,263 faculty serve approximately 35,014 students, including over 10,000 graduate and over 24,000 undergraduate students. Alumni accomplishments range from managing Fortune 500 corporations, to writing best-selling novels, to unlocking the secrets of DNA and more.

As we enter the 21st century, Pitt remains a place of enduring tradition and vitality, true to the work ethic of Western Pennsylvania, rich in intellectual rigor and committed to preparing students for their lives and careers.
