Lights, Camera, Action

Saturday's Ivy League showdown at Schoellkopf Field will be televised live on the American Sports Network (check local listings) and streamed on the Ivy League Digital Network. Dave Armstrong and Richard Baldinger will call the action for the American Sports Network. The game can be heard live on WPRB 103.3 FM and the Princeton TuneIn App, with Cody Chrusciel and Dave Giancola providing the call.

Salute To The Real Heroes

Saturday will be Community & Military Appreciation Day at Princeton Stadium. Prior to the game, a trained military reserve parachute team, Fastrax, will deliver the game ball to the stadium from a plane that will hover over Princeton Stadium. Make sure to get to your seats early (11:45am) to watch the show.

There will be up to four (4) FREE tickets for all military and first responders; just go to Booth #1/ will call and show your ID. Also, the first 3,000 fans will receive a FREE mini American flag (given out at Caldwell Plaza), and the first 1,000 fans will receive a FREE Princeton Roller Banner (given out at Caldwell Plaza). A member of each military branch will join our Princeton captains for the coin flip prior to the game.

The Amazing Race

Princeton lost its margin for error two weeks ago in a 23-20 overtime loss to Harvard here on Powers Field, but it can also put itself right back into the championship race Saturday.

Both Penn and Harvard are 4-0 in Ivy play, and they will meet the following Friday night at Franklin Field on the NBC Sports Network. If Princeton wins this weekend and Penn wins next Friday night, the Tigers would share first place with both teams heading into next weekend's game at Yale.

If Princeton loses today and Harvard defeats Columbia in Boston Saturday afternoon, the Tigers would be officially eliminated from the race.

Working Overtime

Penn rallied from a 20-10 halftime deficit last season at Franklin Field, blocked a 35-yard field goal on the end of regulation and threw an 11-yard touchdown pass in overtime to claim a 26-23 win to keep its Ivy League championship hopes alive. Princeton running back Joe Rhattigan rushed for two touchdowns in the game, while Luke Catarius had 14 tackles for the Tigers.

A PRINCETON WIN WOULD ...

- assure Princeton its third winning season in the last 14 years (2006, 2013)
- keep Princeton alive in the Ivy League race with two weekends remaining
- improve Princeton's all-time series lead over Penn to 66-41-1
- give Princeton back-to-back home wins over Penn for the first time since 1990-92

Week 8: Penn (5-2, 4-0 Ivy) at Princeton (5-2, 3-1 Ivy)

1957, 1963, 1964, 1966, 1969, 1989, 1992, 1995, 2006, 2013 Ivy League champions

Seventh Heaven

Princeton got a record-setting performance from junior quarterback John Lovett last weekend at Cornell. Lovett accounted for seven touchdowns in the 56-7 win; he threw for four touchdowns, rushed for two and caught his first touchdown pass of the season. He now leads the NCAA FCS with 14 rushing touchdowns, and he has accounted for 23 (14 rush, 8 pass, 1 receiving) on the season.

On The Record

John Lovett is making a run at Keith Elias' program record of 19 rushing touchdowns. The junior quarterback needs six over the last three games to break the mark. Ironically, the last Tiger player to make a run at that record was also a Princeton quarterback; Quinn Epperly rushed for 18 touchdowns during the 2013 Ivy championship season.

Run To Glory

Senior Isaiah Barnes caught the second-longest touchdown pass in Princeton history last weekend. Facing a 2nd and 15 on the Tigers' own 5-yard line, Lovett hit Barnes on a quick inside post around the 20, and Barnes took it the distance for a 95-yard touchdown. The only pass to go for more yards in Princeton history was a 99-yard touchdown pass from Matt Verbit — son of associate head coach Steve Verbit — to Clinton Wu in a 2003 victory at Brown.

Barnes ended the game with seven catches for a career-best 170 yards, and he moved into third in the Ivy League with 66.4 receiving yards per game. The current league leader is Penn's Justin Watson, who averages 115.3 per game.

Rank And File

Princeton (35.6) and Penn (29.7) rank 1-2 in the Ivy League in scoring offense, and both are in the Ivy Top 3 in total offense, rushing offense, first downs and third down conversions.

Fresh Face

Freshman running back Ryan Quigley posted Princeton's first 100-yard rushing performance since the season opener last weekend, when he gained 102 yards on nine carries in the win at Cornell. His last rush would be the longest, as he scored a 50-yard touchdown for the final points of a 56-7 win. It was Princeton's longest TD run since Charlie Volker scored on a 64-yard run against Colgate last season.

Sack Exchange

Princeton junior Kurt Holuba, who missed the final seven games last season with an injury, was named the Ivy League Defensive Player of the Week two weeks ago after recording 10 tackles and three sacks in the overtime loss to Harvard. He followed with another sack last weekend and now ranks second in the Ivy League with 5.5 sacks this season.

Right Turn

Princeton has forced 18 turnovers this season, most in the Ivy League, and it leads the Ivy League with a +9 turnover margin. Penn is tied for second in the league with a +2 margin, but the Penn offense has the fewest giveaways (eight) in the Ivy League this season, including only two by interception.

Grounded

Princeton's rushing defense moved to the top of the Ivy League and now ranks fifth in the FCS; the Tigers are allowing only 79.9 rushing yards per game, and they have limited opposing rushers to 2.4 yards per carry.

Cool Hand Luke

Senior Luke Catarius ranks ninth in the Ivy League with 7.6 tackles per game. He had 14 tackles last year vs. Penn, one short of his career best.

Great Scott

Scott Carpenter was named a semifinalist for the prestigious William V. Campbell Trophy, one of the top scholar-athlete honors in college football. Candidates for the award must be a senior or graduate student in their final year of eligibility, have a GPA of at least 3.2 on a 4.0 scale, have outstanding football ability as a first-team player or significant contributor and have demonstrated strong leadership and citizenship. The class is selected each year by the NFF Awards Committee, which is comprised of a nationally recognized group of media, College Football Hall of Famers and athletics administrators.

Covering Princeton Football

With Honors

Andrew Griffin, a wide receiver from Avon, Ind., and John Orr, a linebacker from Nashville, Tenn., are two of the five recipients — from a pool of more than 1.1 million high school football players — of the prestigious 2016 NFF National High School Scholar-Athlete Awards. Each of the five recipients is selected as the best of the best from his region of the country at the high school level. The five honorees, who are now playing college football after graduating high school in 2016, are being recognized solely for their accomplishments in high school.

Princeton is the only school to have multiple honorees of a 2016 National Scholar-Athlete Award, and it is the only Ivy League school to have an honoree. Among the other schools honored are Stanford and Michigan.

Coach Speak

Head coach Bob Surace is one of two men to win an Ivy League championship as both a player (1989) and a head coach (2013). He was named a finalist for the Eddie Robinson Jr. Head Coach of the Year Award following the 2013 season.

Working Sundays

Mike Catapano '13, Caraun Reid '14, and Seth DeValve '16 are each on NFL rosters this season, marking the first time three drafted Princeton players have all been on NFL rosters for the same weekend since the 1980s. Reid has already returned a fumble for a touchdown this season, and DeValve made his first career catch last Sunday.

We're Honored

All recipients of Princeton's Charles W. Caldwell Award, which is awarded to that senior member of the varsity football squad who has shown the greatest improvement in football during his years at Princeton, have been invited to Saturday's game to be recognized at halftime. The award is in memory of Charles W. Caldwell '25, Head Coach of Princeton Football 1945-1957.

The Crystal Ball

Princeton returns to the road next Saturday to face Yale at 12:30 pm in the 139th meeting of the second-oldest active series in college football. The game will be streamed live on the Ivy League Digital Network.

Home Sweet Home

Princeton will play its home finale Saturday, Nov. 19, at 1:30 against the Dartmouth Big Green in a game televised on One World Sports and streamed live on the Ivy League Digital Network. Prior to the game, Princeton will honor the Class of 2016, which will graduate with four seasons of .500 or above football, including the 2013 Ivy League championship season.

You can purchase tickets for the game on GoPrincetonTigers.com or by calling 609-258-4TIX.

BOB SURACE '90

THE CHARLES W. CALDWELL JR. '25 HEAD COACH OF FOOTBALL

Bob Surace '90, a man who both won an Ivy League title as an All-Ivy center and met his future wife while at Princeton, returned to his beloved alma mater on Dec. 23, 2009 with the goal of restoring the program to its past glory.

Within four seasons, he achieved that mark in record-breaking fashion.

Surace, a 2013 finalist for the Eddie Robinson Jr. National Head Coach of the Year award, led Princeton to the 2013 Ivy League championship while setting Ivy League records in both total offense and scoring offense. Despite being picked to finish fifth in the league, and only two years removed from a 1-9 season, Surace guided Princeton to an 8-2 season and road victories over the top three teams in the preseason poll.

Surace, who is in his seventh season as Princeton head coach, has placed 52 players on the last four All-Ivy League teams, and he has coached a Bushnell Cup recipient in three of the last four years, most recently Defensive Player of the Year Mike Zeuli. A former NFL assistant coach at Cincinnati, Surace has also seen two top defensive linemen — Mike Catapano and Caraun Reid — get selected in the NFL Draft over the last four years.

This past April, wideout Seth DeValve was selected in the fourth round of the NFL Draft by the Cleveland Browns, making him the highest-drafted Tiger of the modern era. Prior to DeValve, the highest-drafted Tiger was Reid, who was picked in the fifth round of the 2014 Draft by Detroit.

FAST FACTS ON BOB SURACE

- Guided Princeton to the 2013 Ivy League championship
- 2013 Princeton squad holds the Ivy League records for total and scoring offense
- 2013 Eddie Robinson Jr. National Head Coach of the Year finalist
- Four straight seasons of .500 or better (hasn't happened at Princeton since 1992-95)
- Has coached three NFL draft picks (Mike Catapano '13; Caraun Reid '14; Seth DeValve '16) at Princeton
- has coached three Bushnell Cup winners (Catapano, 2012; Epperly, 2013; Zeuli, 2014)
- one of two people to win an Ivy League title as a player (1989) and head coach (2013)
- has coached 68 All-Ivy League honorees, including 18 first-team selections
- first-team All-Ivy League center when he led Princeton to the 1989 Ivy League title
- coached nine years in the NFL with the Cincinnati Bengals

Surace guided Princeton to a historic 2013 Ivy League championship; the Tigers set

Ivy League records in both total offense and scoring offense, and placed a league-best 17 players on the All-Ivy League team. Princeton, which averaged 43.7 points per game, saw quarterback Quinn Epperly earn the Bushnell Cup as the league's Top Offensive Player.

Epperly was one of two Princeton players to attend the Bushnell Cup banquet in New York City that season, as Reid was a finalist for the Ivy League Defensive Player of the Year award. In addition, Reid made Princeton history in two impressive ways. He became Princeton's first two-time First-Team All-America honoree in 20 years when he was named to the 2013 All-America team by The Sports Network, and he became the second player in program history to earn an invitation to the Senior Bowl.

Princeton was explosive throughout the season; after scoring 50 points only four times in a span of 469 games entering the 2013 schedule, the Tigers did so five times during their eight wins, including victories over historic rivals Harvard and Yale. That clinched a second straight bonfire at Princeton, a tradition saved for a "Big Three" title.

While the 2013 season will be remembered forever for earning the program's 10th Ivy League championship, it is one of four straight seasons with at least a .500 record. After Princeton won the 2006 Ivy League title, the program produced six straight losing seasons and opened 2012 with an 0-2 record.

The 22nd head coach at Princeton, Surace was a first-team All-Ivy center when he helped the 1989 Tigers to a 6-1 league mark and a share of the Ivy title. In addition to his tenure with the Bengals, Surace was also the head coach at Division III Western Connecticut State University, where he put together an 18-3 record in 2000 and 2001.

Surace (pronounced "suh-RACE") had served as assistant offensive line coach for the Bengals for the last six years of his time with Cincinnati; prior to that, he served two seasons as an offensive staff assistant. In addition to his work with the line, he played a key role in the entire offensive staff's game preparation. In 2009, that offense helped the Bengals to a 10-6 record and a sweep of their AFC North rivals, including the defending Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

His wife, Lisa, was a four-time letterwinner in women's soccer at Princeton and is a member of the Class of 1992. She holds a Ph.D. in psychology and is now the Lower School Head at Princeton Day School.

They have a daughter, Alison, and a son, A.J.
