

Right Turn

Princeton is one of two teams in the FCS (Cornell) without a single turnover this season. During the last 15 seasons, Princeton had not gone three straight games without a turnover prior to the first three of this season. Should the Tigers extend that streak to four today, it would mark the first time this decade that Princeton has had four turnover-free games in an entire season, much less in a row.

Second Chance

Princeton has not allowed a second-half point yet this season. Columbia had only four drives after halftime last week, and two ended in turnovers. Through the first three games, opposing teams have averaged only 3.3 second-half possessions per game (excluding a Butler possession with less than 30 seconds left).

Twice As Nice

Junior safety TJ Floyd recorded a pair of interceptions against Columbia last Friday, which gave him three over the previous two games. He is the first Princeton player with multiple interceptions in a game since Anthony Gaffney did so in a 2014 game at Columbia.

Sack Race

Senior Mike Wagner, a guest on this week's edition of the Original Eleven podcast, led the FCS in sacks last fall when he suffered a season-ending injury during a Week 5 matchup at Brown. He already leads Princeton in sacks (3) and tackles for loss (3.5) this season; he had two sacks and a forced fumble last weekend in the 45-10 win at Columbia.

On The Mark

Senior Mark Fossati saw his 2017 season end prematurely when he broke his leg in a loss to Columbia. He has returned as one of the team captains, and he leads Princeton with 21 tackles in 2018.

Johnson & Johnson

Senior Tom Johnson started all 10 games at the middle linebacker position last season, and he earned first-team All-Ivy honors after ranking third in the Ivy League with 95 tackles. His younger brother James is Tom's backup at middle linebacker, and the duo already ranks second (Tom, 18) and third (James, 15) on the team in tackles this season.

Oh Brother

The Johnsons aren't the only set of brothers on the team. Backup offensive lineman Stefan (guard) and Nikola (center) Ivanisevic are also brothers; Stefan is a senior, while Nikola is a junior.

You Gotta Lovett

Senior John Lovett enters today's game as the reigning two-time Ivy League Offensive Player of the Week. He rushed 17 times for a career-high 174 yards and two TDs, and he completed 12 passes for 135 yards and two TDs against Columbia, mostly in the first half. Lovett leads the FCS in points responsible for per game (28.7), is ranked second nationally in passing efficiency (185.2), and fourth in rushing yards per carry (8.9).

Piling Up The Honors

John Lovett earned his sixth career Ivy League Offensive Player of the Week honor following the win over Columbia, which matches him with Keith Elias '94 and Quinn Epperty '15 for eighth-most all-time Player of the Week honors in Ivy history. The only Princeton player with more Ivy weekly awards is placekicker Taylor Northrop '02, a seven-time Special Teams Player of the Week.

Double Trouble

John Lovett wasn't the only runner who had great success at Columbia last Friday night. Sophomore running back Collin Eaddy rushed six times for 102 yards, including a 66-yard touchdown. Lovett and Eaddy became the first Princeton tandem to post 100-yard performances in the same game since Judd Garrett and Chris Hallihan did so against Cornell on Nov. 18, 1989. That offensive line was led by senior center Bob Surace, now the ninth-year head coach who oversaw Princeton's third straight victory by at least 35 points this season.

Catching On

Senior Steve Carlson has caught four touchdown passes over the last two games, including a pair of scores in the 45-10 win over Columbia. He is now fifth on Princeton's career touchdown receptions list with 15, one behind the tandem of Kevin Guthrie '84 and Roman Wilson '14.

The all-time Princeton leader is the guy on the other side of the field; senior Jesper Horsted, who caught three TDs in the home opener against Monmouth, has 20 career touchdown catches.

Rewriting The Record Book

While Jesper Horsted already has the career record for touchdown receptions, he has a chance at breaking the records for both career catches and receiving yards as well (see chart on page 3 of notes packet). He currently has 141 receptions, tied for fifth most in program history, and 1,969 receiving yards, fourth most in program history. To surpass both marks, Horsted would need to average 8.7 catches and 138.2 receiving yards per game the rest of the season.

Head Of The Class

Jesper Horsted was named one of the national semifinalists for the 2018 William V. Campbell Trophy, an award that recognizes an individual as the top football scholar-athlete in the nation. Candidates for the awards must be a senior or graduate student in their final year of playing eligibility, have a GPA of at least 3.2 on a 4.0 scale, have outstanding football ability as a first-team player or significant contributor and have demonstrated strong leadership and citizenship.

Moving Up

Senior running back Charlie Volker continues to move up the Princeton rushing charts. He is now 14th in program history in career rushing yards (1,599), and he could move into the Top 10 by the end of today's game. He scored his 23rd career touchdown last week, which leaves him one short of eighth place (Walter Snickenberger) in the Princeton record book.

Volker is averaging 9.03 yards per carry this season, the third most in all of FCS football.

Stand On The Line

No position saw more change due to graduation than the offensive line (only All-Ivy tackle Reily Radosevich and two-year starter George Attea returned in 2018), but that group has thrived so far in 2018. Among the impressive feats so far by the group:

- Princeton's scoring offense ranks 2nd in the FCS (48.3 points per game)
- Princeton's rushing offense ranks 4th in the FCS (323 yards per game)
- The starting line has been called for only one penalty, a false start vs. Columbia; the only offensive holding call of the season came with the reserves in during the fourth quarter at Butler
- Princeton has only allowed three sacks this season

Flag Football

Princeton ranks first in the FCS in fewest penalties per game (2.0) and fewest penalty yards per game (20.0).

Conversion Chart

Princeton ranks fourth nationally with a 50% conversion rate on third downs. The Tigers were 6 for 11 last weekend, and they were 7 for 12 in the home opener against Monmouth.

O Captain, Our Captains

Princeton has four captains for the 2018 season. Senior John Lovett is the lone captain from the offense, while Mark Fossati, Kurt Holuba, and Tom Johnson are captains from the defensive side. Of those four, only Johnson was healthy for the entire 2017 season, when he earned first-team All-Ivy honors.

Working Sundays

Seth DeValve '16 became Princeton's highest-drafted player in the modern era when the Cleveland Browns selected him in the fourth round of the 2015 NFL Draft. He entered his third season with 70 catches and three TDs for the Browns, where he plays tight end. Chad Kanoff '18, the reigning Ivy Offensive Player of the Year, signed a contract with the Arizona Cardinals in the offseason and made the team's practice squad. Last week, Caraun Reid '14 signed a contract with the Dallas Cowboys.

Fresh Faces

Princeton brought in the FCS' top-ranked recruiting class (per HeroSports.com and 247sports.com) last summer, and several members have played over the first two weeks. Among the highlights:

- Matthew Jester, Alex Kilander and Uche Ndukwe already have at least a half tackle for loss; Jester has a pair of sacks, including one last Friday at Columbia
- Trey Gray is averaging 4.4 yards per carry and is fourth on the team with 80 rush yards this season
- Dylan Classi caught his first two passes for 38 yards in the win over Columbia last week
- George Triplett is the team's starting punter, and he connected on a 43-yard kick in his home debut

ESP(rinceton)N

The new partnership between the Ivy League and ESPN means that all Princeton home games, as well as Ivy League road games, will be streamed live on ESPN+; that partnership extends throughout all Princeton sports, meaning the majority of Princeton home games will be streamed at ESPN+. A monthly ($4.99) or yearly ($49.99) subscription is less expensive than the Ivy League Network subscription would be, and it gives you access to the full platform of live events and other features of ESPN+.

Listen Up

There will be two weekly podcasts during the football season for Princeton fans. The "Original Eleven" returns for its second season, and it will be available at the beginning of each game week (typically Monday, Tuesday at the latest) to recap the previous game and chat with a member of the team. The new "Bob Surace Show" will be available on Thursday nights, and it will be a replay of the radio show held each Thursday at Alchemist & Barrister at Princeton. You can have both podcasts downloaded automatically — as well as the full library of Princeton Athletics podcasts — by subscribing to "Princeton Tigers."

Coach 'Em Up

Princeton head coach Bob Surace '90, the 2016 Ivy League Coach of the Year, is a three-time finalist for FCS National Head Coach of the Year honors. He is one of two men to win an Ivy League championship as both a player (1989) and a head coach (2013/2016).

The Crystal Ball

Princeton will remain home next week and will host Brown on Saturday, Oct. 13, during Alumni Week-end. This will be the first of six straight Ivy League games to close the season. Princeton has won five of the last six meetings with Brown, including a 53-0 win in Providence last year.

If you can't make it to Princeton Stadium, you can watch the game live on ESPN+.

BOB SURACE '90

THE CHARLES W. CALDWELL JR. '25 HEAD COACH OF FOOTBALL

1957, 1963, 1964, 1966, 1969, 1989, 1992, 1995, 2006, 2013, 2016 Ivy League champions

Bob Surace '90, a man who both won an Ivy League title as an All-Ivy center and met his future wife while at Princeton, returned to his beloved alma mater on Dec. 23, 2009 with the goal of restoring the program to its past glory.

Over his first eight seasons, he has achieved that mark in record-breaking fashion.

Surace, a three-time finalist for the Eddie Robinson Jr. National Head Coach of the Year award, led Princeton to both the 2013 and 2016 Ivy League championships despite being picked to finish fifth in the preseason media poll both seasons.

Surace was named the Ivy League Head Coach of the Year in 2016 after leading Princeton to the program's 11th Ivy League championship. His team led the Ivy League in scoring, total and rushing offense, as well as scoring, total and rushing defense. Princeton had two All-America honorees, the Ivy League Offensive Player of the Year, a finalist for Ivy League Defensive Player of the Year, and 18 All-Ivy League players.

That championship performance came three seasons after the memorable 2013 championship season, when Princeton set Ivy League records in both total offense and scoring offense. Despite being picked to finish fifth in the league, and only two years removed from a 1-9 season, Surace guided Princeton to an 8-2 season and road victories over the top three teams in the preseason poll. Princeton, which averaged 43.7 points per game, saw quarterback Quinn Epperly earn the Bushnell Cup as the league's Top Offensive Player.

FAST FACTS ON BOB SURACE

- Guided Princeton to the 2013, 2016 Ivy League championships
- 2012, 2013, 2016 Eddie Robinson Jr. National Head Coach of the Year finalist
- 2016 Ivy League Coach of the Year
- 2013 Princeton squad holds the Ivy League records for total and scoring offense
- six straight seasons of .500 or better (hasn't happened at Princeton since 1962-67)
- has coached three NFL draft picks (Mike Catapano '13; Caraun Reid '14; Seth DeValve '16) at Princeton
- has coached five Bushnell Cup winners (Catapano, 2012; Epperly, 2013; Zeuli, 2014; Lovett, 2016; Kanoff, 2017)
- one of two people to win an Ivy League title as a player (1989) and head coach (2013, 2016)
- has coached 98 All-Ivy League honorees, including 28 first-team selections
- first-team All-Ivy League center when he led Princeton to the 1989 Ivy League title
- coached nine years in the NFL with the Cincinnati Bengals

Surace, who is now in his ninth season at Princeton, has placed 99 players on the All-Ivy League throughout his tenure, and he has coached a Bushnell Cup recipient in five of the last six seasons, the most for any coach in the Ivy League. He has seen a quarterback win the Offensive Player of the Year honors in each of the last two seasons — John Lovett in 2016, and Chad Kanoff in 2017.

A former NFL assistant coach at Cincinnati, Surace has also seen three of his graduates — Mike Catapano, Caraun Reid, and Seth DeValve — get selected in the NFL Draft over the last six years.

DeValve (Cleveland, 4th round, 2016) and Reid (Detroit, 5th round, 2014) are the two highest-drafted Princeton players of the modern era of the NFL draft, and both have scored multiple touchdowns in their young NFL careers.

Reid also made Princeton history in two impressive ways. He became Princeton's first two-time First-Team All-America honoree in 20 years when he was named to the 2013 All-America team by The Sports Network, and he became the second player in program history to earn an invitation to the Senior Bowl.

In 2016, Lovett became the first offensive player to earn First-Team All-America honors since Keith Elias; incidentally, Lovett broke Elias' single-season rushing touchdown record during the 2016 Ivy championship season. Last season, Kanoff broke the Ivy League record for single-season passing yards while rewriting the Princeton record book in both single-season and career marks.

The 22nd head coach at Princeton, Surace was a first-team All-Ivy center when he helped the 1989 Tigers to a 6-1 league mark and a share of the Ivy title. In addition to his tenure with the Bengals, Surace was also the head coach at Division III Western Connecticut State University, where he put together an 18-3 record in 2000 and 2001.

Surace (pronounced "suh-RACE") had served as assistant offensive line coach for the Bengals for the last six years of his time with Cincinnati; prior to that, he served two seasons as an offensive staff assistant. In addition to his work with the line, he played a key role in the entire offensive staff's game preparation. In 2009, that offense helped the Bengals to a 10-6 record and a sweep of their AFC North rivals, including the defending Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

His wife, Lisa, was a four-time letterwinner in women's soccer at Princeton and is a member of the Class of 1992. She holds a Ph.D. in psychology and is now the Lower School Head at Princeton Day School.

They have a daughter, Alison, and a son, A.J.
