2009 MEN'S SEASON PREVIEW

The Purdue men's track and field team looks to post its second straight impressive season, following one of its best efforts in school history in 2008. The Old Gold and Black sent a pair of individuals to the NCAA Indoor Championships, six more to the national outdoor meet and had 16 individuals qualify for the NCAA Mideast Regional Championships in 18 events. The Boilermakers were second at the 2008 Big Ten Indoor Championships, scoring the most points in school history, and fourth at the outdoor conference meet.

The Boilermakers fielded a combined 16 medalists at the conference championships (nine indoors, seven outdoors), including eight Big Ten gold-medal winning performances. They tied one school record and posted top-five efforts in 11 events. Purdue hopes to build off this incredible success in 2009, and has several athletes across the roster to help them in pursuit of the ultimate goals of winning Big Ten Championships and top-25 showings at the NCAA Championships.

SPRINTS

Purdue could see most of its men's sprint records fall in 2009, courtesy of the fleet feet of sophomore Shane Crawford. Despite an injury-shortened rookie campaign, Crawford managed to match the Purdue record in the 60-meter dash with a time of 6.70, and provisionally qualify for the NCAA Indoor Championships. He boasts an incredible pre-collegiate resume, including a top 100-meter time of 10.33 at the 2007 Pan American Junior Games and a bronze-medal finish at the 2007 U.S. Junior Nationals.

Joining Crawford in the speed department is sophomore Andy Dunn and freshmen Josh Lee and Mike Willey. Dunn had a solid rookie season, running mainly in the 400-meter dash and 4x400-meter relay, while Lee and Willey should make an immediate impact. Lee has a career-best mark of 21.63 in the 200-meter dash and 47.93 in the 400-meter dash, while Willey has gone 21.40 in the 200.

LONG SPRINTS

The Boilermakers are set to field a newly formed group in 2009, comprised of runners specializing in the 400-, 600- and 800-meter runs. Junior Reese Byerrum and sophomore Derrick Bettis lead a large group of youngsters, consisting of Carter Denne, Michael Dunten, Matt Lingam, Ben and Brandon Matthies, Jacob Palmer and Gabriel Pirtle. Byerrum owned some of the Boilermakers' top 800-meter times in 2008, and was a key member of the bronze-medal winning distance medley relay squad at the 2008 indoor conference championships. Bettis saw his times drop significantly last season, and looks to continue hacking away at the seconds this year.

MID-DISTANCES

Purdue's mid-distance group is set to break out in 2009, comprised of senior Stephen Bach, junior Garrett

Zambrows and sophomore Alex Folk. Bach stepped up in his junior season, posting the fourth-fastest 600-meter run time in school history and earning fourth-place at the Big Ten Indoor Championships. He ran on the Boilermakers' place-winning 4x400-meter relay squad at the outdoor conference meet, and dropped his career-best time in the 800-meter run to 1:51.19.

Folk was solid as a rookie, notching a top one-mile run time of 4:14.44, and running on the bronze medal-winning distance medley relay team at the Big Ten Indoor Championships. Zambrows redshirted his initial year as a Boilermaker after transferring from Lehigh University, but has solid credentials and looks to make an immediate impact.

DISTANCES

Sophomore Matt De Silva and junior transfer Caden Shields headline the Purdue distance group and hope to take their times to new levels in 2009. De Silva highlighted the Boilermakers' distance efforts last year, anchoring the distance medley relay squad that nabbed third at the Big Ten Indoor Championships, and qualified for the finals in the 1,500-meter run at the outdoor conference meet. Shields comes to Purdue all the way from New Zealand, where he was a two-time 10,000-meter run junior national champion, and posted the second-fastest junior 5,000-meter run time in the country at 14:39.00.

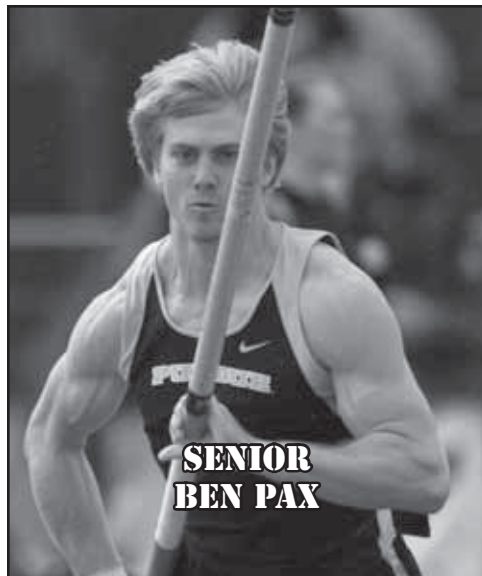

HURDLES

Purdue's hurdle efforts remain in safe hands in 2009 with the return of standout sophomore Josh Hembrough. His list of rookie accomplishments include NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championship qualification, Big Ten 60- and 110-meter hurdle championships and 2008 Big Ten Indoor Freshman of the Year honors. After just one season he is tied for third all-time in the 60-meter hurdles with a time of 7.79, and sits second all-time in the 110-meter hurdles with a mark of 13.58.

Rookie Mike Willey looks to provide ample support with outstanding high school credentials. He was a two-time Ohio high school state champion in the 300-meter hurdles, clocking a top time of 36.53, and placed in the 110-meter hurdles twice with a career-best of 13.85.

JUMPS

The Boilermakers return the bulk of their Big Ten point scorers in 2009, including 2008 Big Ten Indoor high jump champion Adetayo Adesanya and nine-time Big Ten scorer Nolan Petties. Adesanya had a breakout sophomore season in 2008, winning the indoor conference title, placing second at the outdoor conference championships and qualifying for the NCAA Outdoor Championships with a fourth-place showing at the Mideast Regional meet. Also coming back in the high jump are junior Lance Moe and senior

SENIOR
BEN PAX

Chris Kirkwood. Moe has placed at the conference meet a trio of times, with a high mark of fourth at the 2008 indoor championships, and will share his time this season with the multi-events as he has a career-best total of 6,476 points in the decathlon, good for fifth all-time at Purdue. Kirkwood had a breakout junior season, placing at both the indoor and outdoor conference meets. He was seventh indoors with a career-best jump, and fifth outdoors.

Petties qualified for the NCAA Mideast Regionals in both the long jump and triple jump for the second straight season in 2008, bouncing career-best marks of 7.59 meters (24-11.00) and 15.45 meters (50-08.25), respectively. He placed in both events at the indoor and outdoor Big Ten meets, and has his sights set on conference titles and NCAA qualification in his senior campaign. Sophomore David Burroughs joins him on the runway and looks to continue building on his solid rookie season.

POLE VAULT

The Purdue pole vaulters had a breakout season in 2008, posting career-bests across the board, including Big Ten Outdoor Champion and NCAA Mideast Regional runner-up Eric Sparks. Sparks qualified for the NCAA Outdoor Championships with his career-best mark, clearing 5.41 meters (17-09.00) at the regional meet. Senior Ben Pax stood out as well tying for fifth and posting a career-best mark of 5.21 meters (17-01.00) at regionals, and placing at both the Big Ten indoor and outdoor meets. Sophomore Chris Thoman cleared the NCAA Mideast Regional qualifying mark in his rookie season, and freshman Derek Cullison looks to throw his name into that class after a redshirt year.

THROWS

The Boilermakers have a solid group of throwers returning in 2009, headlined by 2008 NCAA Outdoor Championship qualifiers Ben Harpenau and Bill Hardcastle. Harpenau owns some of the top weight throw and hammer throw marks in school history, topping out at 64.23 meters (210-09) in the hammer throw and earning the silver medal at the Big Ten Outdoor Championships. Hardcastle exploded at the outdoor conference meet, winning the shot put and discus, earning conference freshman of the year honors and being named the Big Ten Outdoor Field Athlete of the Year and of the Championships. His top shot put mark of 18.85 meters (61-10.25) is third all-time at Purdue, as is his career-best discus throw of 57.13 meters (187-05).

Junior Steve Carlson leads the Purdue javelin efforts, qualifying for the NCAA Mideast Regional championships last year, and placing fifth at the Big Ten Outdoor Championships with a career-best mark of 61.79 meters (202-09).

SENIOR
BEN HARPENAU

2009 WOMEN'S SEASON PREVIEW

The Purdue women had a solid 2008 campaign and look to continue building on those efforts this year. The Boilermakers tied for 22nd at the 2008 NCAA Indoor Championships and tied for 53rd at the outdoor national meet, marking the third and fourth straight national competitions in which Purdue has scored. They sent a trio of athletes to the indoor nationals, with two capturing All-America honors, and fielded six women at the outdoor championships, with one securing All-America recognition. The Old Gold and Black was sixth at the NCAA Mid-east Regional meet with 32 team points, and secured a trio of individual Big Ten Championships at the outdoor conference meet.

However, more impressive than all of this, in 2008 the Purdue women's track and field team posted its first-ever Olympic qualifier with rising senior Kara Patterson earning a trip to Beijing in the javelin. The return of Patterson and fellow All-American Mallory Peck should help lead the rest of the squad back into the top half of the conference standings and continue scoring at the national championships in 2009.

SPRINTS

Rookie Elise Glass looks to make an immediate impact in the Big Ten sprint standings, coming to Purdue with solid high school times. Her top time in the 100-meter dash would have scored at the 2008 conference championships and she's surely set to crack the Boilermakers' all-time top five in all the sprint events this season. Glass will see solid support from a host of returners, including 2008 captain Lauren Scott and sophomores NaTasha Blair, Lena Raffin and Janan Graham.

MID-DISTANCES

The Boilermakers have a large amount of potential in their mid-distance runners this spring, highlighted by breakout junior Ashlee Lengacher and sophomore Lindsey McKnight. Lengacher exploded in her sophomore campaign, qualifying for the NCAA Mid-east Regionals and provisionally qualifying for the national indoor meet in the 800-meter run. She hacked nearly seven seconds off her previous career best, cracking Purdue's all-time indoor top five in the 600- and 800-meter runs with respective bests of 1:32.26 and 2:08.75. McKnight spread her efforts across the board during the 2008 indoor season, posting a solid pentathlon total of 3,590 points at the Big Ten Championships, but focused those efforts into the 800 during the outdoor season and saw some of the Boilermakers' top times of the year.

DISTANCES

runners, and are all set for breakout seasons in 2009. They've all seen their times steadily drop in their initial seasons, and look to make big moves on the rest of the conference this spring. Their support runs deep throughout the Boilermaker ranks and may see help from rookies Stephanie Bonk, Katie Conrad and Kassie Kovert as soon as this year.

HURDLES

Senior Ranay Harvey leads the Boilermaker hurdlers after qualifying for the NCAA Mid-east Regional Championships in both the 100- and 400-meter hurdles in each of the last two seasons. She holds spots on both the Purdue all-time leaderboards in the 60- and 100-meter hurdles, ranking third all-time in the 60 with a mark of 8.54, and fourth in the 100 with a time of 13.55. She's placed at the Big Ten Championships several times, and looks to make the jump into the upper tier this season. Supporting her efforts is sophomore NaTasha Blair and freshmen Morgan Monroe and Amy Sanders.

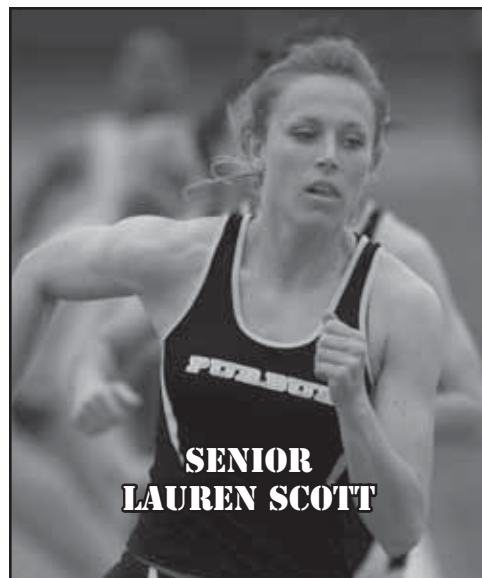

JUMPS

Despite the departure of one of Purdue's most decorated jumpers in its history in 2008 graduate Leah Kincaid, the Boilermakers' jump efforts are left in the solid hands of junior Christina Madison, transfer Nkieru Ugwoaba and freshman Leah Eber. Madison climbed to second all-time on Purdue's outdoor long jump list last season with a top mark of 6.25 meters (20-06.25), and moved to fifth on the triple jump list at 12.55 meters (41-02.25). Ugwoaba comes to Purdue from Portland State University, where she logged a top triple jump mark of 12.52 meters (41-01.00) and qualified for the 2008 NCAA West Regionals, while Eber looks to storm on to the collegiate scene after a solid redshirt campaign.

Sophomore Emily Breslin leads the Purdue high jumpers, finishing her freshman year in top form with a placewinning effort at the 2008 Big Ten Outdoor Championships. Her seventh-place mark of 1.71 meters (5-07.25) was the Boilermakers' best of the season and gives her solid footing for a huge jump in 2009.

POLE VAULT

Arguably the strongest returning group of Boilermakers in 2009, the pole vault squad includes a two-time All-American, two former NCAA Championship qualifiers, three NCAA Mid-east Regional qualifiers, a two-time Big Ten Champion, a Big Ten Championship record holder, a school record holder and a Purdue facility record holder. Senior Mallory Peck and junior Brianna Neumann lead the group after stellar 2008 seasons, where Peck earned her second straight NCAA Indoor All-America award, and won the Big Ten Outdoor Championship with a meet-record mark of 4.15 meters (13-07.25), while Neumann set the school record and posted a second-place finish at the NCAA Mid-east Regionals with a mark of 4.16 meters (13-07.75) to earn a trip to nationals.

Sophomore Tara Turnbull earned a regional bid in her inaugural season with a top outdoor mark of 4.00 meters (13-01.50), and incoming freshman Elizabeth Stover should jump right into the mix after five Colorado high school state championships and a career-best mark of 4.06 meters (13-04.00).

THROWS

The list of Purdue throws accomplishments is a long one, led by senior Kara Patterson and junior Stacey Wannemacher. Patterson became the first Olympic qualifier in Purdue women's track and field history in 2008, meeting the Olympic "A" javelin standard with her school-record mark of 61.56 meters (202-00) and winning the U.S. Olympic trials and setting a meet record with her toss of 58.44 meters (191-09). She became the Boilermakers' third All-American in the javelin in the last six years, joining 2002 NCAA Champion Serene Ross and 2007 NCAA Champion Lindsey Blaine with her fifth-place showing at the national meet, and Purdue's second-straight Big Ten Champion in the event, launching the best American collegiate mark in history at the conference meet.

Wannemacher qualified for her second straight NCAA Outdoor Championships in 2008, after smashing both the Boilermakers' indoor and outdoor records in the shot put. Her indoor toss of 15.81 meters (51-10.50) left her just shy of NCAA qualification, while her outdoor throw of 16.22 meters (53-02.75) locked up an at-large bid to the national outdoor meet in the traditionally deep NCAA Mid-east Region. She also secured regional qualification in the discus and hammer throw, posting the fifth-longest discus mark in school history at 50.10 meters (164-04) and becoming the only three-event qualifier in the throws events in the Big Ten in 2008.

Redshirt freshman Terri Anderson looks to provide immediate support to the Purdue throws, along with first-years Breann Fife and Meghan Kessler. Anderson specializes in the discus, where she boasts a top career mark of 47.83 meters (156-11).
