Purdue's All-Americans

The Purdue Boilermakers have had eight players earn All-America honors, with five of those coming in the last six seasons. The Boilermakers have produced four All-Americans and five Freshman All-Americans. Purdue's first All-American was Bill Skowron, who earned that honor in 1950 – a third team selection by the American Baseball Coaches Association. Most recently, Ryne White earned All-America honors from Ping!Baseball, and Matt Bischoff and Tony Sedlmeyer were each named Freshman All-Americans by Collegiate Baseball Magazine and Ping!Baseball – all in 2007.

Established in 1971 in honor of the late Purdue athletics director Guy "Red" Mackey, this award recognizes athletes who exemplify the overall success of the university's intercollegiate athletics programs. Mackey devoted nearly half a century to Purdue before his death in February of 1971 and served as athletics director from 1942 until his passing. His accomplishments were legion during his career, but the inspiration for this award stemmed from the leadership, loyalty, integrity and concern for others that marked each day of his life.

Squad members from each of Purdue's intercollegiate athletics teams are nominated by their teammates for the award. The criteria for nomination include competitive spirit, a positive attitude, loyalty, self-discipline, hard work for the best interest of the team and a willingness to help others.

Originally the Mackey Award was awarded to three of the nominees each year, with each nominee receiving a scholarship to continue their education. Today each nominee is honored with the award and receives a plaque commemorating his/her accomplishment.

Pictures of the members of the baseball program who received the Mackey Award scholarship surround this description.

~ Year-By-Year Results Notes ~

Numbers in parenthesis preceding opponent is opponent's rank according to Collegiate Baseball Magazine's final poll of each respective season. Beginning with the 1998 season, the ranking notation indicates (1) the opponent's rank at the time of the game and (2) the opponent's rank at the end of the season. For example, in 1998 Illinois is noted by a "(24/20)" – indicating Illinois was ranked 24th at the time of the game and 20th at the end of the season.

Number in brackets following opponent indicates extra-inning game (number of innings played).
