In 2007, Ryne White produced the longest and second-longest hitting streaks on record at Purdue. White's 22-game hitting streak from Feb. 24 until April 8 was, at the time, the longest consecutive streak of games with a hit. That record lasted half a season, broken by White's 24-gamer from April 9 through the final day of the season, May 20. The NCAA record streak is 58 games by Robin Vetura (Oklahoma State) in 1987.
