National Honors

NCAA Elite 89

The ELITE 89, an award founded by the NCAA in 2009, recognizes the true essence of the student-athlete by honoring the individual who has reached the pinnacle of competition at the national championship level in his or her sport, while also achieving the highest academic standard among his or her peers. The Elite 89 is presented to the student-athlete with the highest cumulative grade-point average participating at the finals site for each of the NCAA's 89 championships.

2010-11 Philip Adam, Men's Track & Field

CoSida Academic All-America Player of the Year

The Academic All-America of the Year honor, which began in 1987-88, is awarded to the most outstanding student-athlete of the year and is chosen from the student-athletes who have been awarded Academic All-America Honors. From over 360,000 student-athletes in the nation, just twenty-four are selected as Team Members of the Year.

2003-04 Adam Davis, Men's Track and Field

CoSIDA Academic All-America

All-America teams are selected in ten programs: football, women's volleyball, men's and women's basketball, baseball, softball, fall/winter men's at-large, spring men's at-large, fall/winter women's at-large and spring women's at-large. A first, second and third team are selected in both the University (Division I and I-AA) and College (Division II, III and NAIA) Divisions. Football consists of just first and second teams. In order to be nominated, the student athlete must be a starter or important reserve with at least a 3.30 cumulative grade point average. He or she must have reached sophomore athletic and academic standing. The All-America awards have been sponsored by CoSIDA (1952-84), CoSIDA/GTE (1985-99), CoSIDA/Verizon (2000-03), and CoSIDA/ESPN "The Magazine" (2003-11). At present, the All-America awards are sponsored by CoSIDA/Capital One.

Conference Honors

Southwest Conference Scholar Athlete Award

The honor recognizes athletes who achieve a high level of academic achievement (at least a 3.20 grade point average) while competing as a starter or important reserve on their team. Each of the 16 conference schools nominate one player. Sports information directors from all of the schools vote on one winner from each sport.

1984-85 William Moore, Men's Track & Field

SWC Scholar Athletes of the Year

The American Southwest Conference Athlete of the Year is awarded on the basis of athletic accomplishment and contribution to a specific sport and the institution's overall athletic program. The SWC Scholar Athlete of the year award was sponsored by GTA in the 1989-90 academic school year.

1989-90 Raoul Karp, Men's Track & Field

SWC Academic All-Honor Team

Sponsored by GTE, the Southwest Conference Academic All-Honor Team consisted of one member from each team at each university in the former Southwest Conference, except football, from which the conference honored three players from each university. A committee consisting of the academic counselor, head coach, athletic director and faculty representative from that institution chose the honorees at each institution. Nominees must have been letter winners in their sports, been in residence at least two semesters and earned a minimum 3.0 cumulative grade point average. The committee also considered the students' fields of study and their contributions through leadership and example.

Rice University Honors

Rice University Scholar Athletes

Sponsored by the 'R' Association, Rice University Scholar Athletes are selected from a pool of Honor Athletes (3rd, 4th, and 5th year student-athletes that maintain a 3.3 GPA) during the spring semester of every academic year. Each varsity team may honor up to three roster members with the title of Scholar Athlete and awardees are determined by the OAAA (Office of Academic Advising for Athletics) in conjunction with the Athletics Department coaching staff. A student-athlete's GPA is the primary factor for review in each selection process. However, a student-athlete's major, year in school, and athletic contributions may also influence the final decision.

Graduating with Honors

Each year Rice University recognizes those members of the graduating class whose academic performance has been particularly exemplary. Those students whose grade point averages are among the top three percent of the class graduate Summa Cum Laude, the remainder in the top ten percent are honored Magna Cum Laude and those within the top fifteen percent are recognized Cum Laude. Additionally, selected students may be inducted into the Rice chapter of Phi Beta Kappa honor society. These students have demonstrated intellectual achievement and the love of learning in the liberal arts and sciences.
