ROCK HEAD COACH NOREEN HERLIHY

THE HERLIHY FILE

Hometown: Cork City, Ireland

High school: Sacred Heart Secondary School

Collegiate alma mater: Mercyhurst College, 1992

Degrees: B.S. in Sports Medicine, emphasis in Wellness; Master's degree in Sports Administration, Slippery Rock University, 2003.

13th season as The Rock women's head coach
156-77-13 record

Coaching experience:

Head coach, Slippery Rock University, Slippery Rock, Pa., 1995-present; Assistant coach, Mercyhurst College, Erie, Pa., 1992-95.

College playing experience:

NCAA Division II All-American, two-time Academic All-American and two-time all-region selection, Mercyhurst College, 1991-92; junior college All-American, Massasoit Community College, 1989-90.

Hobbies: Listening to music, camping and hiking.

Named in 1995 as the head women's soccer coach at Slippery Rock University, Noreen Herlihy quickly set about the task of making The Rock a state, regional and national power.

The rest, as the saying goes, is history.

In only her second season (1996), Herlihy tutored The Rock squad to a 14-5 record that stood for eight seasons as the best ever recorded by an SRU women's soccer team.

Herlihy's leadership efforts did not go unnoticed. She was recognized by her peers as the 1996 Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference "Coach of the Year."

A year later, SRU officials asked Herlihy to accept the added role of men's head coach and undertake the challenge of rebuilding that program.

The first woman to lead the SRU men's program, Herlihy served as a dual-team coach for four seasons before re-focusing her full attention on the women's team in 2001.

The results have been phenomenal. Since 2001, The Rock women's program has:

- Averaged 13 wins per season;
- Made five straight trips to the semifinal round of the PSAC playoffs;
- Received three NCAA regional tournament berths;
- Claimed three PSAC regular-season titles;

- Won two PSAC postseason championships;
- Maintained a consistent presence in the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) regional and national rankings.

The 2007 season stands as the capstone on the growth of The Rock women's program. SRU won a school-record 17 games, captured its third PSAC regular-season crown in the last five seasons and made its second straight appearance in the NCAA regional playoffs.

The Rock burst upon the postseason picture in 2000, when it made its first-ever trip to PSAC playoff competition.

The following season, The Rock took a larger and more significant leap as it garnered a first-ever NCAA regional tournament berth.

But the Green and White were not satisfied with just getting there. They also scored an opening-round win and, thus, earned a berth in the regional final in its first trip to the national playoffs.

The 2001 season was also a significant one for Herlihy personally. She recorded her 100th career win on Sept. 16, 2001, during a sweep of a women's/men's doubleheader against PSAC rival Shippensburg.

Simultaneously to the women's meteoric sprint to success, she engineered the rebirth of The Rock men's program. Her first men's squad finished the 1997 season with a 10-8 record, doubling the win total from the previous season.

Herlihy's playing career was headlined by her selection to the Irish National Team from 1985-88.

She was also named to a pair of All-American honors, selected as an Academic All-American and earned four all-region honors at Mercyhurst.

Herlihy graduated from Mercyhurst in 1992 with a B.S. in sports medicine. She continued her education while coaching at The Rock and received a master's degree in sports administration from Slippery Rock in 2004.

Following her graduation from Mercyhurst, Herlihy remained at the school for two seasons as an assistant women's soccer coach. She helped the 1993 and 1994 Lakers to the NCAA Division II final four before becoming The Rock coach in 1995.

Herlihy's contributions to the Mercyhurst women's soccer program were recognized in a big way in 2005 as she was inducted into the school's sports hall of fame.

Noreen Herlihy and success. They are synonymous. Hand in hand with those traits come class and style.

She knows how to win, and she does it the right way.

Megan Jessee Graduate Assistant

In 2003, The Rock added the PSAC regular-season and playoff championships and a second trip to NCAA postseason competition to its collection in the course of compiling a 15-3-2 won-lost ledger that, at the time, stood as the most victories in school history.

In recognition of her coaching efforts that season, Herlihy received her second PSAC "Coach of the Year" honor and was named as the NSCAA regional "Coach of the Year."

The Rock women followed up that memorable 10th anniversary season effort with a PSAC-Western Division regular-season title and a conference semifinal appearance in 2004.

Herlihy's recruiting and coaching abilities are reflected in the fact that she has coached four players who have earned NSCAA All-America acclaim – including a pair of first-team selections – 11 all-region performers, a two-time PSAC women's soccer "Athlete of the Year," two other conference MVPs and 22 student-athletes who have earned All-PSAC recognition.

Herlihy's success at The Rock is the by-product of the infectious enthusiasm she brings to her job.

That exuberance has served her well throughout her playing and coaching career.

Megan Jessee is in her first season as The Rock women's soccer graduate assistant under veteran head coach Noreen Herlihy.

Jessee joined The Rock staff after a four-year playing career at Connecticut.

She earned second-team Big East Conference, New England and All-Northeast Region honors as the Huskies' starting goalie in 2004 and helped lead UConn to an NCAA Division I playoff berth. she also earned Big East Academic All Star Team honors in 2004.

Jessee came to SRU with coaching experience through service with the Connecticut ODP, FSU Soccer Plus Football Club, Soccer Plus Camps and Region 1 ODP Girls Soccer Camps organizations.

Jessee received her bachelor's degree from UConn as a liberal arts and science major with minors in business and communications.

HISTORY OF THE PROGRAM

The Slippery Rock University women's soccer program has come a long way in a relatively short time.

In the span of 15 seasons, the Green and White have secured a position of prominence in state, regional and national competition.

The past seven seasons are but a microcosm of The Rock's meteoric rise to the top.

Since 2001, The Rock women's program has:

- Averaged 13 wins per season;
- Made five straight trips to the semifinal round of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference playoffs;
- Received three NCAA regional tournament berths;
- Claimed three PSAC regular-season titles;
- Won two

PSAC postseason championships;

- Maintained a consistent presence in the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) regional and national rankings.

SRU made a fifth straight trip the PSAC semifinals in 2007. Three of those trips came after SRU had claimed a PSAC regular-season title and two of the campaigns culminated in a conference playoff crown.

The Rock also made its third trip to NCAA Division II regional competition in 2007 to culminate a best-ever 17-5-1 campaign.

The Rock women's program was founded in 1993 with the hiring of Erika Lutwin as the first head coach.

As expected, The Rock experienced the growing pains associated with a neophyte program.

The Rock won only six games in its first two seasons and 11 in the initial three campaigns.

The tide quickly turned, though, as the 1996 squad – the fourth fielded by The Rock and second coached by Noreen Herlihy – compiled a 14-5 record that stood until 2003 as the best record in the program's history.

Herlihy's leadership efforts did not go unnoticed. She was recognized by her peers as the 1996 PSAC "Coach of the Year."

The 2001 squad matched the win total of the 1996 team, then went three steps farther when it received the first-ever NCAA Division II postseason berth, recorded the first national playoff victory and earned the first regional-final berth.

The 2001 season was also a significant one for Herlihy personally. She recorded her 100th career win on Sept. 16, 2001, during a sweep of a women's/men's doubleheader against PSAC rival Shippensburg.

A year earlier, in 2000, The Rock took its first step into postseason competition when it earned a berth ranking in the Oct. 5 National Soccer Coaches Association of America national poll.

The Rock returned to the pinnacle of PSAC success in 2005, when it won the conference championship. But, for the second successive season, The Rock had the door to the NCAA tournament slammed on its fingers.

The sour taste of disappointment was washed away by receipt of NCAA berths in both 2006 and 2007.

The 2007 campaign stands as the program's best ever as the Green and White recorded a school-record 17 wins and achieved a school-record-tying No. 3 ranking in the NSCAA national poll.

In terms of individual talent, the high-water mark was established in 2003 when Sarah Arsenault concluded her collegiate career.

Arsenault ended her career as The Rock's all-time leading scorer with 70 goals, 21 assists and 161 points. Along the way, she earned first-team NSCAA All-America honors in 2003, back-to-back PSAC "Athlete of the Year" awards in 2003 and 2004, four straight first-team All-PSAC honors, three first-team all-region merits and the PSAC "Rookie of the Year" award in 2001.

Arsenault is one of only two Rock players who have earned first-team All-America honors. She shares that distinction with Meghan McGrath, who was also honored in 2003.

McGrath rung down the curtain on her own success-laden career in 2007. She holds the school record for career assists and stands second in both career points and goals scored.

Prior to the arrival of Arsenault and McGrath on the SRU campus, the torch-bearer for Rock women's soccer was Sonya Maher.

A former member of the Irish National Team, Maher scored 40 goals and had 23 assists for 103 points. She now ranks second in all

The Rock women's soccer team has competed in the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference and/or NCAA playoffs each of the last five seasons and seven of the last eight seasons in the PSAC playoffs.

Three seasons later, The Rock won its first-ever PSAC regular-season and playoff titles en route to a 15-3-2 final record that, at the time, stood as the most victories in school history, and a berth in the NCAA playoffs.

In recognition of her coaching efforts that season, Herlihy received her second PSAC "Coach of the Year" honor and was named as the NSCAA regional "Coach of the Year."

Herlihy and The Rock successfully defended their regular-season title in the newly-created Western Division in 2004 and earned a berth in the conference semifinals. The season ended on a sour note, though, as The Rock was inexplicably denied in its quest for a second successive berth in the NCAA playoffs.

The 10th-anniversary, 2004 season also saw Herlihy's squad achieve a best-ever No. 3 regular-season three career categories.

Maher was the first women's soccer player to receive All-America honors; she was named to the NSCAA third team in 1999.

Maher was also the first player in Rock women's soccer history to earn first-team all-region and PSAC honors in all four collegiate seasons. McGrath matched that effort in 2007.

Maureen Ennis, like Maher a native of Ireland, became The Rock's second All-American in 2001 when she earned second-team honors.

Maher was the catalyst to The Rock's success in the mid- to late-1990s, which set the stage for SRU's rise to the upper echelon of competition.

The Maher-led 1996 squad came within a win of earning the first-ever berth to the PSAC playoffs. A 3-0 loss to East Stroudsburg in the final conference game of the season denied SRU of the coveted postseason berth.

Four seasons later, in 2000, The Rock broke through the barrier. A 1-0 win on SRU's James W. Egli Soccer Field over top-ranked Lock Haven in the season finale secured the elusive first-ever PSAC playoff berth.

A 1-0 loss in Lock Haven two days after the regular-season upset win over the Bald Eagles in 2000 denied The Rock its first PSAC playoff win.

All-time record: 158-91-14

The 2003, 10th anniversary team took the program to the top of the PSAC and into the national playoffs.

The 2003 Rock squad won the PSAC regular-season title and added the postseason crown by virtue of 5-2 and 4-3 wins over Millersville and Lock Haven, respectively, in playoff action on Egli Field.

SRU's subsequent second trip to NCAA Northeast Regional competition ended with a 3-0 loss to PSAC rival West Chester in semifinal action at Adelphi University.

The Rock successfully defended its PSAC regular-season title in 2004 when it claimed the Western Division crown. A 1-0 loss to Indiana U. of Pa. in the conference semifinals and a subsequent snub by the NCAA selection committee put a damper on the season.

The Rock finished second in the 2005 PSAC-West regular-season competition but avenged a regular-season loss to division champion Indiana by scoring a 1-0 win in conference semifinal action. That win, sandwiched between a 4-1 triumph over Edinboro and a 1-0 victory at Kutztown, catapulted to its second conference title in three seasons.

SRU ran the PSAC-West title banner up the proverbial flagpole again in 2007 en route to a berth in the conference finals at West Chester. The Rock, after knocking off the then-No. 5-ranked Golden Rams in a regular-season meeting, lost a pair of postseason decisions to WCU, 2-0 in the PSAC title game and 1-0 in an NCAA regional semifinal game.

Sandwiched between the losses to West Chester was a 2-0 win over Adelphi in first-round action.

A dozen years ago, Rock faithful probably didn't even dream about the conference, let alone the national playoffs. Now, it's almost a foregone conclusion SRU will be a postseason participant.

If the past is any indication, the best is yet to come.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

The Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference, with 56 years of organized competition, has established itself as one of the most respected NCAA Division II athletic conferences.

In its history the PSAC has laid claim to 38 NCAA team champions and 210 individual title winners, giving credence to its fine athletic tradition. The conference has prospered on the national level in recent years, as it annually has close to one-third of its teams participating in NCAA postseason competition.

The PSAC also distinguishes itself as the second largest Division II conference in the nation in terms of sports sponsorship, awarding titles for 22 different sports.

While proud of its athletic success, the league has also thrived in an academic sense. The number of student-athletes designated by the conference as "Scholar-Athletes" - those who have attained a cumulative grade point average of 3.25 or better - has increased nearly every year since that standard was adopted in 1995-96. The number of yearly designees reached 1,420 in 2006-07. Furthermore, the most recent figure is nearly double the total of those in the mid-1990s and is almost one-third of the total student-athletes today.

The PSAC was organized in 1951 for the purpose of promoting and administering men's athletic programs within the 14 state teachers colleges in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. In 1977, due to the interest and growth of women's athletics, the conference was restructured to provide for women's programs.

From its inception, each conference member selected its own competitive division within the NCAA. In 1980, however, the presidents voted to reclassify the entire conference to Division II. Although all 14 institutions are members of NCAA Division II, eight schools have also elected to compete at the Division I level in select sports.

In 1983, all member institutions were granted university status as a result of Legislative Act 188, which formed Pennsylvania's State System of Higher Education. The system enrolls over 109,000 students and has more than 600,000 alumni, including 405,000 Pennsylvanians.

One of the largest conferences in the nation, the PSAC is governed by the presidents of the 14 member institutions. It employs a commissioner, two assistant commissioners and a director of media relations.

It's a

slippery rock university!

Slippery Rock University is Pennsylvania's premier public residential university and is one of the 14 institutions that make up the State System of Higher Education. The University was founded in 1889 and is comprised of more than 8,200 students, 415 full-time faculty and 483 staff. Slippery Rock University offers programs in the arts and sciences, business, communication, computer and information sciences, environmental sciences and studies, health and human services, and teacher education.

SRU is located on more than 650 acres in the rolling hills of western Pennsylvania, 50 miles north of Pittsburgh and 35 miles east of Youngstown, Ohio. The area is part of an emerging economic corridor linking Pittsburgh and Erie, Pa., and is easily accessible via I-79. The campus is characterized by a blend of picturesque historic buildings and modern, learning-centered academic and residential facilities offering the latest technologies. Within the past decade, the University and SRU Foundation have invested more than $150 million in new construction and renovations to ensure that our facilities remain among the best in the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education.

A Rock Solid Education

At Slippery Rock University we pride ourselves on providing students with a comprehensive learning experience that intentionally combines academic instruction with enhanced educational and learning opportunities that make a positive difference in their lives. We believe that a student's professional resume begins the moment they are admitted to the University and is the sum of their curricular and co-curricular learning experiences. To that end, students are encouraged to participate in a variety of activities from undergraduate research ... to community volunteerism ... to academic internships ... to study abroad ... to personal leadership development.

A Rock Solid Education is our promise that SRU graduates have the foundation to be successful in their careers and engaged citizens.

Academics at the ROCK

Slippery Rock University is a caring community of lifelong learners connecting with the world. Our fundamental mission is to provide high quality undergraduate and graduate academic instruction.

The Division of Academic Affairs delivers programming through four degree granting colleges: Business, Information and Social Sciences; Education; Health, Environment and Science; and Humanities, Fine and Performing Arts. The University offers more than 65 undergraduate majors and 20 graduate programs including a doctorate in Physical Therapy. Our Honor's Program offers academically gifted students an opportunity to study with select faculty in small, highly interactive academic settings both here and abroad. The University has an accomplished faculty. 87 percent of our full-time tenure, tenure-track instructional faculty members have an earned doctorate or terminal degree. And, because our most common class size is only 20-29 students, faculty members have time to mentor students and provide the personal attention that has become a hallmark of an SRU education.

Most students enjoy instructional experiences on-campus. In addition, students use learning facilities at nearby Moraine State Park, Jennings Environmental Education Center, McKeever Environmental Learning Center, the Regional Learning Alliance in the North Hills of Pittsburgh, as well as the Wallops Island Marine Science Laboratory in Virginia. All academic departments offer internship programs that provide on-the-job educational and professional training. We also offer numerous opportunities to study abroad.

The top ten undergraduate majors for fall 2006 were: elementary education, special education, exercise science, health and physical education, management, sport management, marketing, secondary education, biology and psychology.
