VCU (3-2) RAMS vs. #13 ALABAMA (6-0) CRIMSON TIDE

Head Coach: Shaka Smart, third season
Career Record: 58-23 Record at VCU: 58-23

Head Coach: Anthony Grant, third season
Career Record: 124-52 (6 yrs.) Record at UA: 48-27

THE STORY LINES

• VCU will be looking for its third straight win after collecting back-to-back wins against Western Kentucky this past week, once at the Charleston Classic and once in Bowling Green, Ky.
• The win in Bowling Green was the first true road game for the Rams. With their 68-45 win, VCU has now won three of its past four true road games dating back to last season.
• VCU will be facing off against their former Head Coach Anthony Grant, who won 76 games with the Rams from 2006-09. Senior Bradford Burgess and redshirt junior David Hinton were the only two current members of the Black & Gold to play for Grant.
• Tonight marks the second time in the past three years that the the Rams have faced a former Head Coach. Jeff Capel, current assistant at Duke, brought his 17th-ranked Oklahoma Sooners to Richmond in 2009. VCU won that contest 82-69.
• The 82-69 win over Oklahoma was the last time the Rams faced a ranked opponent in the regular season. All-time, VCU is 7-25 against ranked opponents. Including NCAA Tournament wins over Purdue and Kansas last year, the Black & Gold have won three straight against opponents ranked in the AP Top 25.
• Tonight marks the seventh time in the past 11 games that the Rams have faced a BCS opponent. VCU is 5-2 over that stretch and is 8-4 against BCS opponents under Smart's watch. The SEC is the only conference that Smart and the Rams have not toppled over the past three years.
• The Rams have etched in four different starting lineups this year with eight different players earning a starting nod. Last year, VCU had 10 different players make at least one start.
• Entering tonight's contest, Burgess has started 115 consecutive games, which is the longest active streak in all of college basketball. He needs six more starts to reach the all-time school record of 121 set by Michael Brown from 1981-84.

COMING UP

• VCU will return home for the first time in 19 days when they host the Bulls of South Florida on Wednesday, Nov. 30. Game time at the Verizon Wireless Arena is set for 7:30 p.m.

SCOUTING THE CRIMSON TIDE

• Former VCU Head Coach Anthony Grant is in his third season with the Crimson Tide. Grant and company have had quite a bit of success recently, winning 10 of their past 11 games.

• Sophomore Charles Hankerson scored 16 points and grabbed nine rebounds to lead the No. 13 ranked Alabama men's basketball team to an 82-45 victory over Alabama A&M in Coleman Coliseum Wednesday night.

• Reigning SEC Player of the Week Tony Mitchell continues to lead the Tide with 14.7 points and 8.7 rebounds per game despite only playing eight minutes against Alabama A&M before leaving the contest with a right ankle sprain. His status for Sunday has yet to be determined.

• Alabama is as tough as they come at home, bringing a 23-game home winning streak into tonight's showdown, a span of 638 calendar days since its last loss at Coleman Coliseum. It's the fifth-longest active home-winning streak in the country.

• UA's six opponents have combined to score just 0.77 points per possession, the 10th best average in the nation this season. Only one of their opponents, Purdue, has scored more than 0.90 points per possession.

• Alabama is 12-2 all-time against current members of the Colonial Athletic Association. Delaware was the last CAA team to best UA, doing so by a 76-66 margin on Dec. 28, 1999 in the Bank One Fiesta Bowl Classic in Tuscon, Ariz.

 - NCAA Tournament*

TAKING ON THE TIDE

• Tonight's contest is the fourth all-time meeting between these two programs with the Crimson Tide taking home victories in all three of the previous showdowns.

• This is actually the first time the Rams have played in Tuscaloosa with two of the three previous meetings coming at neutral sites and the third being in Richmond.

• The first-ever meeting came in the 1985 NCAA Tournament Second Round. None of the current members of the VCU coaching staff were even in high school at that time.

• The SEC has been a thorn in the Rams' side throughout the 43-year history of the VCU program. All-time, the Black & Gold are 1-20 against the current members of the SEC. The lone win came against Alabama's arch rival, Auburn, during the 1986-87 season.

LOCKED IN

• VCU's defensive effort on Wednesday night against the Hilltoppers was one of the best in recent program history:

- The 45 points is the lowest scored by a VCU opponent since Feb. 28, 2009 when Georgia State was held to 41.
- The Black & Gold held the Hilltoppers to just 18 second-half points, only four over the last 12:47 of the contest.
- Over that final 12:47, WKU was held to 1-of-8 from the field and coughed the ball up nine times.

LIFE ON THE ROAD

• The Rams have had to get comfortable sleeping in hotel beds as they are in the midst of a stretch of five straight games outside of the Commonwealth of Virginia, something that has happened only one other time in school history; that was last year.

• Over that stretch, VCU will sleep in their own beds just five out of 14 nights.

YOUTH IS SERVED

• With only 12 years of college basketball experience on the Black & Gold roster, VCU sits as the ninth youngest team in the country (0.92 years per player).

• The numbers are even more telling when you look at the minutes played from last season. VCU returns just 42% of its minutes played.

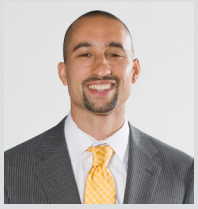

• With an average age of 30.2, the Rams coaching staff ranks as one of the 10 youngest in the country. Smart, 34, currently ranks as the ninth youngest Division I Head Coach.

GOING THE DISTANCE

• The three-pointer is a key part of VCU's offensive attack as displayed by last year's magical Final Four run. Over the past two-plus seasons, the Rams are 21-3 when connecting on 10 or more three-pointers.

• Getting good looks from beyond the arc is important for VCU, as the team is 20-7 under Coach Smart when attempting 25 or more three-pointers. They are 1-1 this year when that occurs.

GLASS OF IMPORTANCE

• Rebounding is always a focal point for the Black & Gold, and it is telling when looking at the stat sheet. Under Coach Smart, the Rams are 40-7 when the rebounding battle is even or in VCU's favor.

• Getting second chances is always nice for VCU, who is 21-4 when grabbing 15 or more offensive rebounds over the past two-plus seasons.

EMPTYING THE STATBOOK

• VCU has reached double-digits in steals in two of their first five games, both resulting in victories. During Coach Smart's tenure, the Rams have reached double-figures in steals 32 times. In those games, VCU is 27-5.

• Junior point guard Darius Theus has four assists and at least one steal in each of VCU's first four games. The Black & Gold are 15-3 all-time when those two things occur.

• Senior Bradford Burgess continues to make his way up several categories in the VCU record book:
  - He now has started 115 consecutive games, just seven away from Michael Brown's school record of 121.
  - His 1,256 points now rank him 22nd on the all-time scoring chart. Next up is Lorenza Watson with 1,257 points.
  - His 159 three-pointers are just 11 behind Jamal Shuler for sixth-place all-time.
  - His 3,576 minutes have already cracked the top-10 in that category and rank ninth, just 33 minutes behind Mike Schlegel.

• Over the past two-plus seasons under Coach Smart and company, VCU is 36-2 when opponents score 65 or less.

#WINNING

• The whole world got to witness Coach Smart's ability to register win after win. What the world didn't know is that he's been doing that ever since he entered the coaching world. Since starting as an assistant at California University of Pa., Smart's teams (as an assistant and head coach) are 279-120, good for a .699 winning percentage. Ten of his 12 seasons have resulted in 20-plus totals in the win column.

• The recent era of VCU Basketball has been the best that the Rams have ever seen with the past two classes each piling up 103 victories over their four seasons with the Black & Gold. The lone senior on this year's roster, Bradford Burgess, will need to compile 20 more victories this year to be the all-time wins leader at VCU with 104.

• VCU's 235 wins over the past 10 seasons is 20 more than any other Division I institution in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

• VCU's defensive presence has really stepped up over the past 11 games dating back to last year. In that stretch, the Rams have held opponents to just 62.5 points per game, while holding four of those opponents under 60 points. Only three times in those 10 games have their opponents scored more than 70.

• Defending the arc has been crucial for the Black & Gold over that 10 game stretch with opponents shooting just 29.8% from beyond the arc. Over the span, not a single opponent has double-digit three-pointers, and only twice has the opposition shot over 40%.

• A big part of VCU's defensive presence is creating turnovers, and the Rams have been able to do just that as of late, forcing an average of nearly 16 turnovers a game. This year, the Black & Gold are forcing 18.4 turnovers per outing.

BROTHER KNOWS BEST

Through the first three games of the 2011-12 season, sophomore Rob Brandenberg found himself struggling. He was 6-of-26 from the field, 4-of-16 from three and averaging 6.0 points per outing.

A phone call with his twin brother, Kevin, flipped a light switch for the Gahanna, Ohio native.

"He asked me why I wasn't taking the ball to the hole and just shooting threes," Brandenberg said. "The coaches have been saying that all year, but sometimes it just takes someone different saying it. Three-pointers are sometimes just the shot you take because it's easy to sit behind the line and fire away, but that's not how I can help the team the most."

Brandenberg listened to his brother on Sunday, and it showed. He was 7-of-14 from the field with 10 of those 14 shots coming inside the arc. His 18 points was his highest total since Jan. 18th of last year when he poured in 23 in a 71-54 home win over Georgia State.

HAVOC LIVES HERE

• Coach Smart and his staff have branded their style of play as "HAVOC". Now in their third year, the Rams are ready to wreak more HAVOC than ever before.

• In Wednesday's win over WKU, the Rams forced 22 turnovers for the third time this year. It was the 14th time during Coach Smart's tenure and VCU is 13-1 in those contests.

• Need a sample of HAVOC? Last season the Rams set a school record for a second straight year in steals with 328, which was just three off the nation leader of 331 (Belmont) and just one short of the CAA record set by Old Dominion in 2004-05.

NOVEMBER REIGN

• During the month of November, Coach Smart has had plenty of success at the helm of the Rams. Over the past two-plus years, VCU is 11-5 in the month of November, posting 4-1 ledgers in each of the past two opening months.

• Over the past 10 years, the Black & Gold are 31-19, posting four victories during the month of November in four of those seasons.

THE NUMBERS GAME

• Under Coach Smart and his staff, the Rams are 49-7 when taking a lead into halftime.

• Senior Bradford Burgess has grabbed eight or more rebounds 24 times in his three-plus seasons. VCU is 20-4 in those contests.

• Burgess is well regarded as an overly unselfish player, but when he's aggressive, it only leads to good things for the Rams. The Midlothian, Va. native has reached double-digits in shots attempted 39 times. In those 39 games, VCU is 28-11, and Burgess has averaged 16.7 points.

• The Rams have reached the 70-point mark in 51 of Coach Smart's 77 games. In those contests, VCU is 44-7. On the contrary, in games that they have given up 70 points or more, the Black & Gold are 14-18.

• Junior point guard Darius Theus is the new floor general for the Black & Gold, and his ability to distribute will play a key role in VCU's success. Fifteen times in his career, Theus has dished out four or more assists. In those games, VCU is 12-3.

YOU GOT A NEW NUMBER?

• Two returners are sporting new numbers this year with Rob Brandenberg switching from #23 to #11, while Juvonte Reddic changed from #5 to #15. Both switched numbers because their old numbers are already hanging in the Siegel Center rafters and both the current Rams want to make legacies of their own.

GLOBAL REACH

• Juniors Troy Daniels and Darius Theus spent 10 days on a European excursion. No, it wasn't with Chevy Chase and company. The duo traveled with Global Sports Academy, an organization that gives various student-athletes an opportunity to experience different cultures.

• Senior Bradford Burgess also had an opportunity to see the world as he earned an invitation to the USA Basketball World University Games Training Camp this past August. Unfortunately, a sprained ankle forced him to pull out of the training camp.

• A member of the Ram family did make the trip to Colorado Springs for the Training Camp. Head Coach Shaka Smart was named a sideline coach for Matt Painter during the five-day training camp at the USA Basketball Headquarters.

SHAKA-MANIA

• After VCU's unforgettable run to the Final Four this past April, the Rams locked up coveted Head Coach Shaka Smart with a new eight-year contract extension to keep him in Richmond.

• Smart was busy during the summer, taking home multiple awards including the 2011 Fritz Pollard Coach of the Year award, given out by the Black Coaches' Association, and the 2011 Clarence "Big House" Gaines Coach of the Year Award, handed out by the National Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association.

WE'LL BE MISSING YOU

• There are four key cogs missing from last year's roster when the Rams take the floor tonight with VCU losing 61% of its scoring, including leading scorer and Southwest Regional MVP Jamie Skeen (15.7 ppg).

• All four seniors signed professional contracts with Skeen heading to France, Joey Rodriguez spending time in both Puerto Rico and Istanbul, Brandon Rozzell staying in town to join the Richmond Elite 13 Semi-Pro squad and Ed Nixon heading to Macedonia.

• The hardwood wasn't the only thing that the four seniors excelled at as the whole quartet earned their diplomas in June. All six of the seniors during Coach Smart's tenure have earned their degrees.

EYES ON US

• Recently, VCU Athletics announced a partnership with ESPN3 to broadcast all home games that were not previously scheduled to be aired. With this partnership, the Rams already have 25 games on the broadcast schedule, which breaks the old school record of 23, set by last year's Final Four squad.
