Tradition. Defined as a long accepted custom or belief.

As the oldest sport on the University of Alabama campus, Crimson Tide baseball is smothered with tradition.

Alabama has won 25 conference baseball championships, including a league-best 14 Southeastern Conference titles. The Crimson Tide has also won seven SEC Tournament Championships, played in 18 NCAA Regionals and advanced to the College World Series five times.

Alabama has produced more than 100 professional baseball players, including an SEC-leading 58 to reach the major leagues. Three former Tide stars have served as Major League managers, with Luke Sewell leading the St. Louis Browns to their only World Series title in 1942.

As the 2008 season begins, Alabama celebrates that tradition by honoring two of its greatest teams and celebrating the 60th birthday of its ballpark.

The Tide will celebrate the 25th anniversary of the 1983 College World Series team with a reunion March 7-9 in Tuscaloosa. Led by SEC Player of the Year and Golden Spikes Award winner (baseball's Heisman Trophy), David Magadan, the Crimson Tide landed an SEC Championship and berth in the 1983 College World Series. Magadan shattered school and SEC records with a .525 batting average in 1983, leading the Tide to a 46-11 overall record and a runner up finish to Texas at the College World Series. Head Coach Barry Shollenberger was named SEC Coach of the Year for his efforts.

Alabama will celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Coach Joe Sewell's SEC Championship team. Legend has it that Sewell approached Coach Paul Bryant about allowing some of the football players to play baseball in the spring. Bryant agreed but told Sewell if they played the Tide better win the SEC. Sewell and the Tide defeated LSU in a one-game playoff to settle the SEC Western Division title then beat Florida in a best-of-three series to win the 1968 SEC Championship. Centreville native and third baseman Stan Moss led the SEC with eight home runs.

Finally, the Crimson Tide will celebrate the 60th birthday of Sewell-Thomas Stadium this season. A gigantic birthday party is planned for the Joe on Friday, March 21 as the Tide hosts Vanderbilt in the SEC opener. All former players are invited back for this historic game as the Tide celebrates 60 years of baseball at Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

Now that's tradition.

ROLL TIDE!

JOE SEWELL

There is no doubt that Joe Sewell was one of the finest baseball players to ever play for the Alabama Crimson Tide. He was surrounded by an all-star cast of players that produced some of the greatest seasons in Crimson Tide lore. As UA's starting second baseman from 1918-20, Sewell teamed with another future Major League shortstop, Riggs Stephenson to form a solid double-play combination. Also, Sewell and Stephenson were regarded as two of the hardest hitters in baseball.

Sewell played on teams that posted a 42-4 (.913) record against college teams. Overall, the Crimson Tide went 44-8 (.846) en route to three Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association titles in 1918, 1919 and 1920. The 1918 team featured five future MLB players -- Sewell, Stephenson, Dan Boone, Francis Pratt and Lena Stiles. They posted a 13-4 record, including a 13-2 mark against college teams. The 1919 team was just as successful, as Alabama went 16-2, including a 15-1 slate against college teams. The Tide won its third straight SIAA title with a 15-2 record in 1920, including a 14-1 mark against college teams.

Sewell was the cornerstone on those successful Bama teams. In 1920, he set every hitting and fielding record at Alabama and was named to the All-SIAA team and every mythical All-America team college baseball had to offer. He batted over .300 but even more impressive was his defensive prowess at second base. He was also captain of the 1920 team.

After leading UA to the 1920 SIAA title, Sewell signed with Cleveland and played in New Orleans in the Southern League, leading them to the AA Championship. Sewell was then called up to the big leagues, where he replaced Ray Chapman, who was struck in the face and accidentally killed by a submarine pitch, and became the Indians starting shortstop and helped the Indians to the 1920 World Series championship over the Brooklyn Nationals.

Sewell played 14 years in the big leagues for Cleveland and the New York Yankees, where he was Lou Gehrig's roommate. He batted .312 during his career as he amassed over 2,200 career hits. Sewell also set Major League Baseball records for fewest strikeouts in a season (4) and career (114) -- records that will never be broken. He played on two World Series championship teams with Cleveland (1920) and New York Yankees (1932). He was inducted in the MLB Hall of Fame in 1977.

Sewell returned to Alabama in 1964, at the age of 65, to coach the Crimson Tide baseball team. He compiled a 106-79 (.603) overall record in five seasons. He was forced to retire after the 1969 season at the state mandatory retirement age of 70.

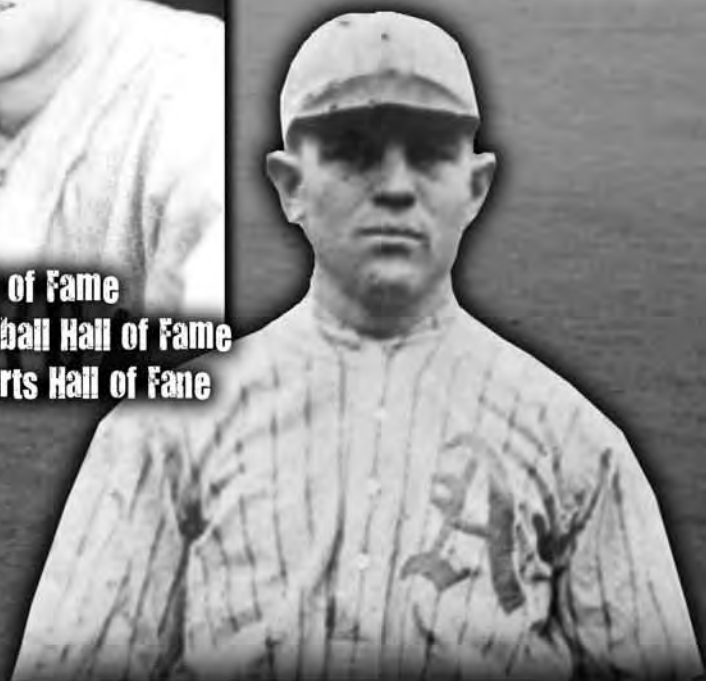

He led the 1968 team to a 24-14 record and the SEC Championship.

ROCKY COLBURN
Head Strength Coach
8th Year at Alabama

Rocky Colburn, a 1985 UA graduate, returned as the Tide's head strength and conditioning coach in January 2006. Colburn joined the Crimson Tide after seven years as an assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Atlanta Falcons.

A coaching veteran of more than 15 years, Colburn's diverse coaching resume has also included successful stops at the high school and collegiate level. In his role with the Falcons, Colburn assisted Al Miller, a former Tide strength coach, with all facets of the team's strength and conditioning program. Colburn made the switch to the professional ranks after serving as the head football coach at Bibb County High School in Centreville, Ala., for four years.

A native of Cantonment, Fla., Colburn was the assistant strength and conditioning coach at Alabama from 1987-92. He also coached one year at Samford. As a player, Colburn was an academic All-SEC defensive back for the Crimson Tide under legendary coach Paul "Bear" Bryant from 1981-82 and Ray Perkins in 1983.

The Tide was 25-10-1 during his playing career and won an SEC championship in 1981. He and his wife, Donna, a Birmingham native, have four sons, Luke, Riley, Ted and Jake.

THE TIDE IN THE COMMUNITY

The Crimson Tide baseball team is visible throughout the community, winning the Athletic Department's Community Service Award in 2005 & 2006.

Members of the Crimson Tide baseball team offered a helping hand to the family of Assistant Athletic Trainer Ginger Gilmore in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. The team raised more than $700 for food and clothing for Gilmore's family following the devastating hurricane.

Jeremy Brown, a first-round draft pick of the Oakland Athletics and Johnny Bench Award winner, visits patients at DCH Regional Medical Center.

Emeel Salem was named to the 2006 and 2007 SEC Good Works Team for his countless hours of community service. Salem also received the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award at the 2007 College World Series for his baseball skills, academic achievement and community service projects.

Crimson Tide Baseball

This is Alabama Baseball

*The Alabama Crimson Tide opens 116th season of intercollegiate baseball in 2008. Baseball is the oldest sport on the UA campus. Bama played its very first game on July 1, 1892 at Birmingham's Lakeview Park as coach Shelby Fletcher's team posted a 6-3 win over Sewanee.

*Since then, Alabama has posted a 2,242-1,323-23 (.628) record in 3,594 games.

*Alabama became the 17th school in NCAA history to record 2,000 wins with a 12-0 win over Winthrop on March 4, 2001.

*In SEC play, Alabama has posted a 815-632-4 (.563) all-time ledger in 1,451 league games.

*Alabama has won more SEC Championships (14) than any other school.

*UA has also won six SEC Tournament Championships, including five under coach Jim Wells (1995-96-97-99-02).

*The Crimson Tide has also played in 18 NCAA Tournaments, winning six NCAA Regional Championships.

*Alabama has five College World Series appearances and has played in the national championship game in 1983 and 1997.

*The Crimson Tide also boasts an impressive professional baseball history sending well over 100 former players into the pro ranks.

*As many as five former Tide players saw action in the big leagues last season, including Lance Cormier (Atlanta), Dustan Mohr (Tampa Bay), Andy Phillips (NY Yankees), Paul Phillips (Kansas City) and Taylor Tankersley (Florida).

*Three former Tide players have served a big league managers, including Andy Cohen, Butch Hobson and Luke Sewell. Sewell managed the St. Louis Browns to their only World Series title in 19XX.

*Craig Shipley (1983-84) serves as the Assistant General Manager for the defending World Series Champion Boston Red Sox.

*David Magadan (1981-83) is currently the hitting coach for the Boston Red Sox.

*Alan Dunn (1981-83) is the bullpen coach for the Baltimore Orioles.

*Two former members of the Crimson Tide baseball family have been enshrined in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum. Joe Sewell was inducted in 1977 and broadcaster Mel Allen, who spent 39 years with the Yankees, won the Ford Frick Award in 1978.

*Magadan was the 1983 Golden Spikes Award Winner and SEC Player of the Year.

*Dr. Jeff Laubenthal won the H. Boyd McWhorter SEC Male Scholar-Athlete of the Year Award in 1993.

*Jeremy Brown won the Johnny Bench Award in 2002.

*Wade LeBlanc was named the 2004 National Freshman of the Year after setting UA single-season freshman records for innings (112.2) pitched, strikeouts (98), wins (8) and complete games (5).

*Emeel Salem was also the 2007 recipient of the H. Boyd McWhorter SEC Male Scholar-Athlete of the Year award.

*Salem was also a two-time first-team ESPN the Magazine Academic All-American in 2006 and 2007. In addition, he was the 2006 and 2007 SEC Baseball Scholar-Athlete of the Year and named to the SEC Good Work team both years.

Media Notes

CREDENTIALS: Please direct all media requests for Alabama home baseball games to Assistant Athletic Media Relations Director Barry Allen. Season credentials and single game credentials are available. Credentials will be left at the first base gate of Sewell-Thomas Stadium, located on Paul W. Bryant Drive, two hours prior to the start of each game. Professional scouts will report to the main ticket booth and will be issued a ticket for each game during the 2008 season.

INTERVIEWS: Coach Jim Wells and Crimson Tide players are available before practice and after each game. Practice usually begins at 2 p.m. each day and is generally open to the media and the general public. Photographers are allowed on the field to shoot b-roll as long as they are accompanied by a member of the Athletic Media Relations staff.

WEEKLY TELECONFERENCE: Coach Jim Wells will participate in two weekly teleconferences during the season. Alabama will host a teleconference each Thursday, beginning Feb. 21, 2008 at 10 a.m. Please call the Athletic Media Relations Office for the phone number. In addition, the SEC will conduct a weekly teleconference with all 12 head coaches beginning in April. The league also sponsors a teleconference prior to the start of SEC play and the Monday prior to the SEC Baseball Tournament. Please contact Chuck Dunlap (205.458.3010) at the league office for specific dates, times and telephone number.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS: Please arrange all post-game interviews through a member of the Alabama Media Relations staff. Requested players will be available outside the UA dugout approximately 10 minutes following the game.

CRIMSON TIDE SPORTS MARKETING: Crimson Tide Sports Marketing, a division of Learfield Communications, is the rights holder for all Crimson Tide radio and television broadcasts. CTSM (205.348.9600) is in its 10th year with the University of Alabama and will provide state-wide coverage of all SEC baseball games this season. In addition, Alabama baseball will be featured weekly on "Hey, Coach!", a ninety-minute talk show dedicated to Crimson Tide athletics. CTSM airs the show each Monday night live from Bob Baumhower's Wing's Restaurant in Tuscaloosa. Veteran broadcaster Tom Roberts serves as the program's host. Michael Alford serves as the network's general manager. CTSM will also provide satellite feeds of Crimson Tide baseball throughout the season. Each week a 15-minute feed, consisting of taped interviews, highlights and narrated tape package, is offered September through June. In addition, selected game highlights are fed after the conclusion of each game. Please contact Tom Roberts for more information concerning dates, times and coordinates. To obtain videotaped footage of the Crimson Tide baseball team, please contact Roberts at the above number.

CRIMSON TIDE RADIO: For the 10th consecutive season, Crimson Tide baseball will be carried on a state-wide network. Alabama baseball will be distributed this year by CTSM and all games will be aired on the Crimson Tide Sports Network. For a complete listing of affiliates, please contact CTSM or the Athletic Media Relations Office. In Tuscaloosa, the flagship station for Crimson Tide baseball is WACT-AM (1420). Chris Stewart begins his ninth season on UA baseball broadcasts. He will team with Vince Ferrara this season. Ferrara hosts "The Sports Breakdown" Monday through Friday 7-9 a.m. on WACT 1420 "The Tusk". Stewart is also the play-by-play voice for the Alabama men's basketball team. In addition, all games may be heard via the internet through the University of Alabama's official web site or through broadcast.com. Stewart is also the host for "Crimson Tide This Week", a weekly review of Alabama athletics.

2008 ALABAMA BASEBALL

GAME SERVICES: The Sewell-Thomas Stadium press box is equipped with wireless and ethernet capabilities. The press box contains two working press booths, one television booth, two radio booths and a Crimson Tide Suite that entertains pre- and post-game functions. The press box is open 2 1/2 hours prior to the start of each game. The press box elevator is located to the left of the main entrance of the stadium. Prior to the game, rosters, game notes, statistics and starting lineups are available to all members of the media as well as professional scouts. In addition, lineups will be posted in the media work room located behind the Crimson Tide suite. Following the game, an official NCAA box score, running play-by-play and and post-game notes are available.

"The best and the brightest arrive at UA with very high expectations. They expect outstanding academic programs, superior teaching, strong staff support, and first-class facilities. It is imperative as we attract these bright young people that we grow with balanced excellence, and that is exactly what we are doing. Honors College, the Blount Initiative and the honors programs in the various majors across the University's colleges and schools are Louisiana Lafayette meeting the expectations of the best and brightState"

President
The University of Alabama

As president of The University of Alabama, Dr. Robert E. Witt has committed the University to an ambitious plan for growth and achievement. His goals include increasing enrollment to 28,000 students by 2010 and stimulating significant growth in research in support of economic expansion for the state and nation. Under his leadership, enrollment has reached record levels and academic quality has increased significantly.

The Fall 2006 freshman class included 83 National Merit Scholars, ranking UA 11th nationally among public universities in enrollment of these nationally recognized students. Since its inception in 2003, the University's Honors College has grown exponentially, enrolling more than 900 freshmen in 2006. A major building program, including academic, athletic and residential facilities, is under way. Private giving to the University is at an all-time high with supporters embracing a capital campaign with a major goal of improving scholarship opportunities for deserving students.

The campaign theme is Our Students, Our Future.

Dr. Witt's vision for the University of the future has three cornerstones:

- To be a university of choice for the best and brightest students;
- To be a student-centered tier-1 research university;
- To be an academic community united in its commitment to enhancing the quality of life for all Alabamians.

Now in his fifth year as president, Dr. Witt came to UA with 35 years experience in the University of Texas System. He received his B.A. in economics from Bates College, his M.B.A. from Tuck School at Dartmouth College, and his Ph.D. from Penn State University. He serves on the board of directors of the Black Warrior Council Boy Scouts of America and is a member of the West Alabama Chamber of Commerce, the Tuscaloosa County Industrial Development Authority, and the Elizabeth Project Care Board.

Four Students Named to USA Today's All-USA College Academic Team

Four students from The University of Alabama have been named to this year's USA Today All-USA College Academic Team. This year's team brings UA's total for the last four years to 24, a figure that tops all other colleges and universities. UA had the most students on the list in 2005 with five and in 2003, also with five. In 2004, with four students on the team, UA came in second only to Harvard. A total of 83 students nationwide were selected from more than 600 nominees for the 2006 team. Yale, Duke and Northwestern Universities each had three students on the team, the second highest total.

Alabama's USA Today All-USA College Academic Team Honorees (L-R): Kristi Wilcox, Katie Boyd, Jennifer Phillips and Michele McGaha.

Mal Moore

Director of Athletics

Mal Moore, in his ninth year as the Tide's Director of Athletics, has put his stamp on one of the nation's most storied athletic programs. Alabama's athletic teams have excelled in the competition arena and he has now directed completion of a $125 million facilities campaign that has revitalized the Crimson Tide's athletic facilities. It has been Moore's leadership, vision and initiative that has enabled this monumental project to reach fruition.

Alabama football competes in the newly expanded Bryant-Denny Stadium which holds 92,138 fans, making it the seventh-largest on campus facility in the nation. With the north end zone expansion completed, this magnificent edifice now houses 120 skyboxes, a new home team locker room, a club level area hosting 1,680 patrons, a new administrative level and approximately 6,800 additional upper deck seats.

Moore's tenure at UA has been marked by unprecedented facility growth for the athletic department but he has also had a national impact as a key member of several prestigious NCAA and college football committees. Moore currently serves on the NCAA Division I Football issues Committee, the SEC AD Bowl Advisory Committee and on the Big Six Conferences Minority Coaches Forum.

Moore was rewarded for his successes with a contract extension that will take him through June, 2010. He received unanimous support from the UA Board of Trustees.

"This is based on two things: his ability to identify and hire good coaches and secondly, his vision about facilities."

Alabama student-athletes are already utilizing new stadiums for soccer and tennis and football is enjoying a state-of-the-art weight facility, locker room and sports medicine area and a Hall of Champions and administrative area that makes it one of top venues in the nation.

Crimson Tide student-athletes also benefit from a state-of-the-art academic center that came on line in early 2005 and renovation of Coleman Coliseum is complete.

His leadership has been crucial in helping guide Alabama through a period that has, at times, been extremely difficult. It has been his guidance and efforts that have helped Alabama weather the storm, while continuing to move in a positive direction toward a future that will shine as brightly as Alabama's storied paState

Under Moore's direction Alabama's athletic teams have produced a number of Southeastern Conference titles, including men's basketball, gymnastics, baseball and softball and SEC tournament titles in both baseball and softball, and an NCAA gymnastics title. Alabama athletes have earned some of the highest honors the SEC and NCAA have to offer, including SEC Athlete of the Year, SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year, NCAA Top VIII, NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships and NCAA Sportsman of the Year. These honors are over and above the individual conference and national titles that Alabama athletes continue to bring home to the Capstone.

During his tenure, Moore has also supervised the completion of a number of other facility projects, highlighted by the expansion of Sewell-Thomas Stadium; new lighting systems for Coleman Coliseum, Sewell Thomas Stadium and the women's soccer field and installation of new artificial turf in the Hank Crisp Indoor Practice Facility.

Hired on Nov. 23, 1999, Moore's stint as Director of Athletics is the latest phase of his 30-plus years of service to the Capstone. Well-known in athletic circles, Moore brings a vision of championships and success to the office of athletics director thanks to his three decades of experience in collegiate athletics.

As a player and coach at Alabama, Moore was part of seven national championships, 14 SEC championships, and 27 bowl trips.

Alabama capitalized on that background, and Moore's popularity, by naming him as Associate Athletics Director for External Affairs in 1994, a position that required constant travel to speaking engagements around the Southeast.

In his career, Moore has worked with a diversified field of constituents, from fellow coaches to former players, to fans and the business community. All those experiences and relationships make him the ideal person to lead Alabama athletics into the 21st century.

A 1963 graduate of the University of Alabama, Moore holds both an undergraduate degree in Sociology and a 1964 Master's Degree in Secondary Education from the Capstone. A scholarship player for Coach Paul Bryant, Moore was a member of Alabama's 1961 national championship team.

Coaching football for 31 years, 22 of those at Alabama, provided Moore with a wealth of experience and knowledge in the world of college athletics. As a coach, Moore served as Bryant's graduate assistant in 1964 and then Alabama's defensive backfield coach from 1965-70. He served as the Tide's quarterbacks coach from 1971-82 and from 1975-82 took on the additional responsibility and elevated role as the Tide's offensive coordinator.

Alabama won national championships, in 1964, 1965, 1973, 1978, 1979 and 1992 with Moore coordinating all the offensive plays for the last four of those championship teams. He is the only man connected with the Alabama coaching staffs, past or present, who was a member of all seven of those title squads. In addition to Alabama, his coaching career included stops at Montana State, Notre Dame and the NFL's Phoenix Cardinals.

Moore was born December 19, 1939 in Dozier, Alabama. He has been married to the former Charlotte Davis of Tuscaloosa since July 20, 1968. They have one daughter, Mrs. Steve (Heather) Cook of Scottsdale, Arizona, a granddaughter, Anna Lee, and a grandson, Charles Cannon.

Athletic Department Senior Support Staff

Finus Gaston Senior Associate Athletics Director/ Chief Financial Officer

Crimson ties are a family tradition for Finus Gaston, Senior Associate Athletic Director. His father, the late Finus C. Gaston, was sports information director at Alabama from 1953-61. His mother, the late Jewell Gaston, was a long-time UA departmental employee in the Tide Pride office.

Gaston joined the University of Alabama Athletics Department in 1996 after serving the University for 22 years. The Tuscaloosa native was Assistant Vice President for Auxiliary and Support Services before joining the Crimson Tide athletics staff.

His duties as the department's Chief Financial Officer encompass management of the athletics business office, budgeting, human resources, contract negotiation and administration, long range strategic planning, team travel for all sports, capital projects, and general maintenance of facilities and grounds associated with athletics. During the fall of 1999, Gaston served as the University's interim athletics director.

His ties run deep with the department. The 1969 Tuscaloosa High School graduate continued his education at the University of Alabama, working his way through school as Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant's head football manager. In 1973, Gaston earned a degree in business education, then went on to earn a Master of Arts degree in trade and industrial education in 1975. In 1984, Gaston received his Doctor of Education Degree in administration and higher education. His doctoral dissertation, "Administrative Decision Making: A Study of Collegiate Trademark Licensing Programs", was the first documented research on the collegiate licensing industry.

He is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa, and Kappa Delta Pi honorary fraternities.

Upon graduation, Gaston's career flourished at the University. Working in the Financial Affairs Division, he held positions as Buyer, Assistant Purchasing Manager, Purchasing Manager and Director of Licensing, Associate Director of Business Services, and Assistant Vice President for Auxiliary and Support Services.

Gaston and his wife, Martha, have two children: a son, Will Wagner, a 1995 graduate of Alabama and a 2001 graduate of UAB Dental School and his wife Berkley (UA '95); a daughter, Curri Dichiarra, a 1998 graduate of the Capstone and her husband Neal (UA '2001), and four granddaughters, Anna Carson Wagner, Allie Wagner, Martie Will Dichiarra and Maggie Dichiarra.

One of the greatest teams in Alabama baseball lore will celebrate its 25th anniversary this season.

The 1983 Crimson Tide baseball team captured the SEC Championship and won the NCAA South Regional on its way to the school's best finish at the College World Series.

The 1983 CWS team will be honored during the Alabama-Youngstown State series March 7-9, 2008 at Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

The team will hold an autograph party at the Joe prior to the game on March 8. In addition, the team will be recognized on the field before the game and members of the team will throw out the ceremonial first pitch.

After the game, the team will have a reception in the A-Club Suite at Bryant-Denny Stadium to cap the weekend's festivities.

The season began with a bang as the Tide won 15 of its first 17 games en route to a 46-11 final record and runner up spot to Texas at the College World Series.

Of course, the Tide's success story started with All-American and Golden Spikes recipient David Magadan, who led the nation with a school and SEC record .525 batting average. He also slapped a UA and then-SEC record 31 doubles and added a record 95 RBI.

Alabama lost its first two SEC games at eventual SEC Western Division champion Mississippi State, but went three weeks without another loss.

Late in March, Alabama gained national spotlight with a No. 24 ranking by Collegiate Baseball newspaper.

But not until the students began studying for final exams did the Crimson Tide hit full stride.

On April 30, the Tide dropped the first game of doubleheader at Ole Miss, but rebounded to win the next game, 5-4, to begin a string of 15 consecutive wins that stretched all the way to Omaha.

"We felt like the Ole Miss series turned the season around for us," former Alabama head coach Barry Shollenberger said. "From that point in the season, we knew he had a good team."

The Tide finished second in the SEC Western Division with a 14-7 league record, but charged through the SEC Tournament at Dudy Noble Field in Starkville, Miss., with wins over Florida (15-2), Tennessee (8-6) and Mississippi State (10-9) to win the school's first SEC title since 1968.

Magadan went 10-for-11 (.909) in the three games to earn Most Valuable Player honors. He had five hits, including a pair of doubles and home runs, in the first-round rout of the Gators.

Third baseman Bret Elbin, catcher Frank Velleggia and pitcher Tim Meacham were also named to the All-SEC Tournament Team.

Next up was the NCAA South Regional at Dick Howser Stadium in Tallahassee, Fla., where Alabama, Florida State, Miami and South Alabama comprised one of the toughest four-team regional fields in the nation.

Dean Hayes six-hitter was good enough to stop the Hurricanes, 6-2, in the opener. The Tide then beat FSU, 7-5, to advance to the championship game.

Miami then beat Florida State to earn a rematch with the Crimson Tide in the finals.

The Crimson Tide jumped out to a 6-1 lead, but held off a furious UM rally for an 11-9 win at the school's first trip to Omaha since 1950.

Afterwards, Miami head coach Ron Fraser climbed on the jubilant Alabama bus to again offer his congratulations and some encouraging words.

"Coach Fraser told us we had the team that could win in Omaha," Shollenberger-

1983 College World Series Remembered

David Magadan was the 1983 Golden Spikes Award winner and SEC Player of the Year after leading the nation with a school and SEC record .525 (114-for-221) batting average his junior season.

er recalled. "That meant a lot to us. We knew we had a special team, a good team, then to hear that from him made it even more special."

Designated hitter Ted McClendon was named the South Regional Most Valuable Player.

Alabama was off to Omaha where it would play in one of the most star-studded fields in CWS lore.

The field consisted of four-time national champion Arizona State (Barry Bonds, Oddibe McDowell and Don Wakamatsu), Michigan (Barry Larkin, Chris Sabo and Scott Kamienicki), Texas (Roger Clemens, Calvin Scharaldi and Billy Bates) and Maine (Billy Swift).

Alabama took down the Arizona State in the opener as Craig Shipley's RBI single in the bottom of the 11th inning plated the winning run in the 6-5 win. Magadan was 4-for-4 in the win.

The Crimson Tide had another nail-biter in its second CWS game, beating Michigan, 6-5. The Tide built a 6-0 lead on three straight singles by Magadan, Rob Skates and Velleggia in a three-run fourth inning.

Michigan answered with three runs in the bottom of the frame and tallied single runs in the sixth and seventh innings, but could get no closer and Bama relief ace Troy Brauchle notched his 12th save to advance the Tide in the winner's bracket. Magadan went 4-for-4 in the win over Michigan to set the CWS record with eight straight hits in the series.

The Tide met Texas in its third game at the CWS and suffered its first loss since April 30 with a 6-4 setback in 10 innings.

Magadan's solo home run in the eighth forced extra innings, but Texas plated two runs in the top of the 10th to snap the Tide's then-school-record 15-game winning streak.

Calvin Scharaldi earned the win in relief for the Longhorns.

Alabama fell into the loser's bracket, where a rematch with Arizona State awaited.

1983 College World Series Remembered

Behind the pitching of Alan Dunn and Tim Meacham and the hitting of Frank Velleggia the Sun Devils were no match for the Tide this time around.

Dunn and Meacham combined on the one-hit shutout in the Tide's 6-0 win. Lew Kent, the former head coach at Radford University, pinch-hit for freshman Barry Bonds and broke up the no-hitter with a seventh-inning single.

Velleggia's sixth-inning grand slam highlighted a five-run inning for the Tide offense.

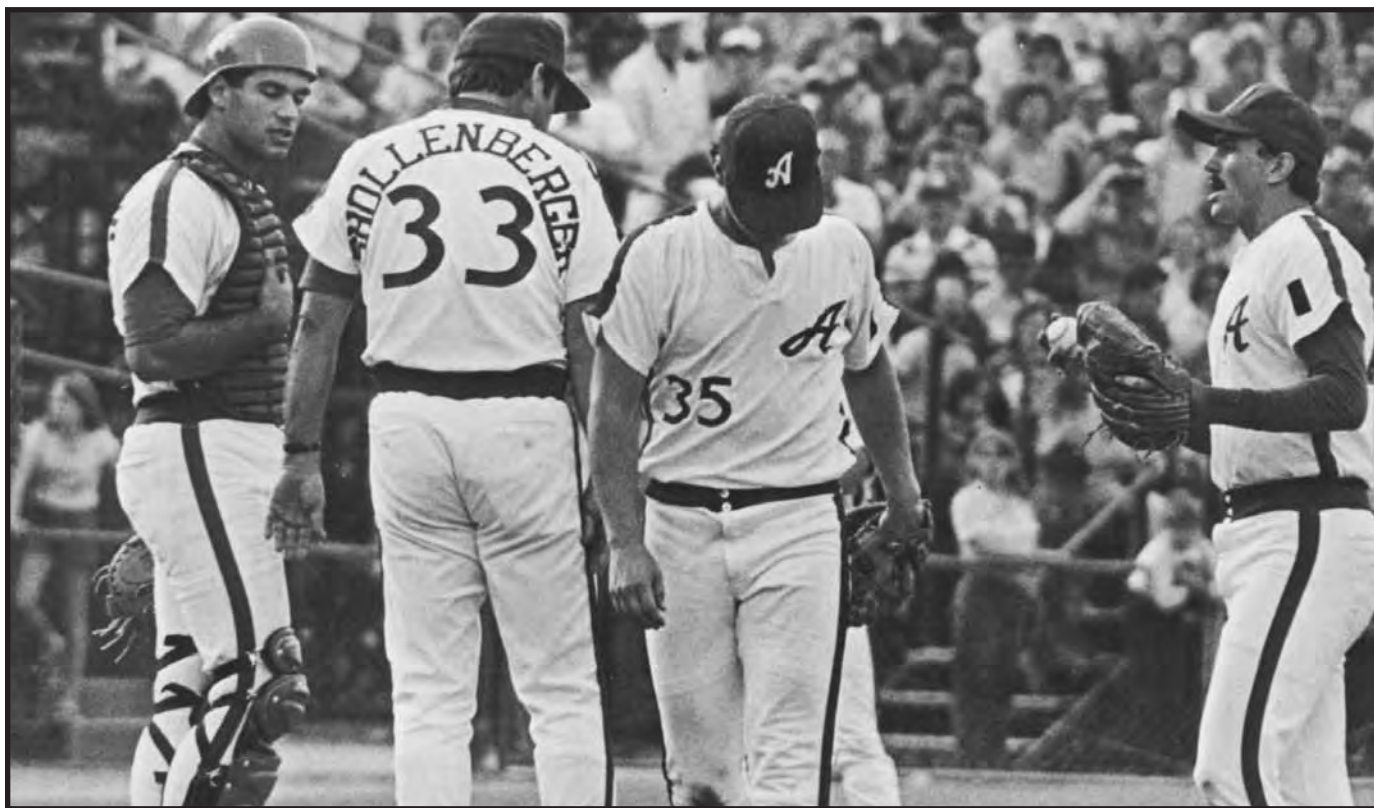

Following the win, Alabama was back on the field in less than 24 hours for another meeting with Texas.

Alabama took a 2-0 lead through five innings with single runs in the third and fifth innings. Bret Elbin's sacrifice fly scored Shipley with the first run and Dee Smithey homered in the fifth for the two-run lead.

Texas tied the game in the top of the sixth inning and took a 4-2 lead in the seventh on consecutive hits by Mike Brumley (single), Kirk Killingsworth (triple) and Jose Tolentino (single).

Magadan doubled and scored on Allan Stallings' RBI single in the eighth to cut the deficit to 4-3, but the Tide could get no closer.

Magadan batted .550 (11-for-20) in the College World Series and was named to the All-Tournament Team along with Meacham.

Tim Meacham takes over for starter Alan Dunn in the Tide's 6-0 win over Arizona State. Dunn and Meacham combined on the one-hit shutout as the Tide advanced to the 1983 College World Series Championship Game.

Alabama's Sewell-Thomas Stadium

There is no place like home.

And, Sewell-Thomas Stadium (aka "The Joe") is the place to be in 2008, as the Crimson Tide's ballpark celebrates its 60th birthday.

The Crimson Tide baseball team played its home games at University Field until the end of the 1947 season. The Tide moved to its present day site when land acquired from Coach Frank Thomas' family was used to create a new field for the Tide baseball squad.

Frank Thomas Field opened on March 26, 1948 as a 2,000-seat facility, which attracted many overflow crowds in the 1950s and 1960s under Coach Tilden "Happy" Campbell and Coach Joe Sewell.

The inaugural game was played on March 26, 1948 with the Crimson Tide beating the Bradley Braves 5-2 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Pitcher Clarence Flack delivered the first pitch at 2:02 p.m. (CT) on that afternoon in the Tide's new baseball home. Dick Dill recorded the first hit at Thomas Field and Jack Rutledge swatted the first home run. Flack was the winning pitcher that afternoon for the Tide. Marvin Blemker also pitched and earned what is known today as a save.

Since the inaugural game in 1947, Sewell-Thomas Stadium has seen plenty of changes, both on and off the field.

The stadium was renamed Sewell-Thomas Field in 1978, honoring former Alabama football and baseball standout and Major League Hall of Famer Joe Sewell.

Alabama played the first night game in school history on March 00, 1981 with a 13-8 victory over Western Kentucky.

The ballpark has undergone two major renovations since it was erected in 1947, with the last coming in 1999. In addition, there are additional plans for future renovations on the both the inside and outside of the stadium.

The original grandstand was completed in time for the 1991 season and the Tide's new ball park held 2,700 fans.

Wesley Construction of Talladega, Ala., built the new facility for $2.1 million and the completion of the permanent grandstand changed the name of the facility to Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

In 1996, bleachers were added down the right field line to raise the stadium's capacity to more than 4,000 as the Crimson Tide hosted its first NCAA Regional in 1996.

N.C. Morgan Construction of Tuscaloosa, Ala., is responsible for the most recent additions at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The $4 million expansion project gives the Tide one of the finest home facilities in all of college baseball.

The project, which was completed prior to the 2001 season, involved extending the grandstand down the right-field line. The addition of 2,000 seats raised the stadium capacity to 6,118 seats. The bench seats that filled the upper level of the grandstand were moved to the new addition. Chairback seats, similar to those in the lower level, were installed in the upper level.

The stadium also received three new ticket booths, five new concession stands and five new restrooms for men and women. Two "hawker" stands were added to allow for concession sales in the grandstand.

The players and coaches benefited from the 2001 renovations, too. The Crimson Tide moved into its spacious clubhouse in 2001. The expansion also included three indoor batting cages and pitching machines, a meeting room, training room, equipment room and coaches offices.

A new stadium entrance was created in the fall of 2005 and a new sound system from All Pro Sound was installed prior to the start of the season. The ball park also got a general facelift with new paint, signs and handrails as part of this $175,000 project.

During the last two seasons, Alabama had added a new sound system and state-of-the-art video board and scoreboard.

Feb. 27, 1985

- Gordie Hershiser, Paul Mirocke and Greg Hibbard combined on a seven-inning no-hitter against Jackson State. Alabama won the game, 9-0.

March 26, 1985

- Jack Dietrich became the first player in school history to play all nine positions in the same game as the Tide beat Alabama State, 13-4. Dietrich opened the game as the starting pitcher and moved to a different position on the field with the corresponding inning (2nd inning - catcher, 3rd inning - first base, etc.).

The Joe - Celebrating its 60th Anniversary in 2008

May 4, 1985

- Sophomore catcher Doug Duke belted his 25th home run of the season to set the UA single-season record. He finished the year with 27 home runs, a record that still stands today.

May 5, 1985

- The Tide beat No. 1 ranked Miami (Fla.), 12-6, to earn a series win over the Hurricanes.

March 4, 1986

- The Crimson Tide beat Ferris State 14-13 for the 500th win at Thomas Field.

April 7, 1986

- Alabama defeated the Birmingham Barons 11-8 in an exhibition game at Thomas Field. Mike Yastremski (2-for-4, 4 Runs), the son of Hall of Famer and Red Sox legend, Carl, had two hits and scored four runs in the loss. The Barons also used future Major Leaguers Ron Karkovice and Bobby Thigpen in the loss.

May 4, 1987

- Director of Athletics Steve Sloan and Head Baseball Coach Barry Shollenberger announce the plans for a 2,700-seat grandstand and the Tide's new baseball facility will be called Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

April 30, 1989

- Alabama defeats Ole Miss, 4-3, in the final game at Sewell-Thomas Field.

August 15, 1989

- Construction begins on Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The 2,700-seat grandstand also called for new restrooms, new concession stands and press box. The cost of the project was $2.1 million. The project was handled by Wesley Construction Co., of Talladega, Ala.

March 21, 1989

- Alabama hosted a day-night doubleheader at Thomas Field with Towson State and Georgia Southern. The Tide beat Towson State, 5-0, in the first game and lost to Georgia Southern, 4-2, in the nightcap.

Feb. 23, 1990

- The Crimson Tide opens the 1990 season in the partially renovated Sewell-Thomas Stadium. Numerous weather delays forced the delay in the opening of the stadium and there was only limited seating for the first four home games. The entire 1990 season was played with a make-shift press box due to more construction delays.

March 9, 1990

- Sewell-Thomas Stadium is open with all 2,700 seats as the Tide beats Ohio State, 9-0. Joe Vitiello was the star with two home runs and seven strong innings on the mound to earn Collegiate Baseball newspaper "National Player of the Week" honors.

Alabama State Senator Bert Bank, Billy Martin, George Steinbrenner and Paul "Bear" Bryant before the Alabama-Yankees exhibition game in 1978.

March 14, 1990

- Dr. Barry Shollenberger becomes the school's all-time winningest coach with his 349th career win, surpassing Tilden "Happy" Campbell. Alabama beat Murray State, 3-0, to make Shollenberger the winningest Tide coach. March 24, 1990 - Alabama defeated Mississippi State, 7-4, in the first SEC game at Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

May 2, 1990

- In one of the zaniest scenes in sports history, the Alabama-West Florida baseball game was delayed due to a beehive that had been built in the on-the-field batting cage. After several unsuccessful attempts to destroy the nest, a specialist was dispatched to Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The beekeeper arrived and removed the nest from the cage. The delay was more than three hours and the scheduled doubleheader was reduced to one, nine-inning game, which began at 8 p.m., more than three hours after the scheduled start time. Alabama ripped seven doubles in the game in route to a 9-5 win.

March 3, 1981

- Alabama notches its 600th all-time win at Sewell-Thomas Stadium with an 8-7 win over Illinois State.

April 6, 1991

- Director of Athletics Cecil "Hootie" Ingram, along with members of the Sewell and Thomas families dedicate Sewell-Thomas Stadium prior to the Tide's doubleheader with Ole Miss. Alabama swept the twinbill winning, 4-3 and 10-1.

April 10, 1991

- Mick Kerns became the only player in Alabama history to hit an inside-the-park grand slam in the Tide's 12-5 win over Murray State.

Feb. 15, 1992

- A computer driven matrix board (36' X 24') is installed in left-center field at Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

March 15, 1992

- Brad Oliver and Juan DeBrand each hit a grand slam in the Tide's 15-1 win over Middle Tennessee. Oliver's came in the third inning, while DeBrand added a grand slam in the seventh inning.

March 10, 1994

- Alabama plays its 1,000th game at Sewell-Thomas Stadium in a 5-2 loss to Notre Dame.

May 14, 1994

- In Barry Shollenberger's final home game, Alabama lost to Auburn, 6-3 to end the regular season.

Feb. 18, 1995

- The Jim Wells era began in thrilling fashion with a 2-1 win over Middle Tennessee in 11 innings. Brett Taft's infield single in the bottom of the 11th inning scored Anthony DuBose with the winning run.

April 5, 1995

- Coach Wells became the winningest first-year coach in school history with a 15-2 win over Samford. Wells 22nd win broke the old mark of 21 wins held by JWH Pollock in 1907. Wells finished the year with 42 wins.

May 7, 1995

- Alabama beats Arkansas, 7-4, for the 700th all-time win at Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

The Joe - Celebrating its 60th Anniversary in 2008

Matt Frick's 10th inning home run beat Southern California in 1997.

May 10, 1996

- An additional 1,600 bleacher seats were added down the right field line to raise stadium capacity to 4,107 for the final regular season series with Auburn and the NCAA post-season. In addition, the visitor's bullpen was moved into foul territory to make room of the additions.

May 12, 1996

May 23, 1996

- Alabama defeated Princeton, 15-2, in the first-ever NCAA Regional game at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. Joe Caruso was 3-for-5 with three runs scored and three RBI in the win. The NCAA Regional attracted more than 80,000 fans to the Joe for the four-day event with the Tide playing in front of record crowds each day.

May 26, 1996

- Alabama defeated Virginia, 18-8, to win the NCAA South I Regional championship and advance to the College World Series for the first time since 1983. Dustan Mohr had four hits and scored four runs in the win. Corey Spiers (3-for-4, 4 RBI) and Rusty Loflin (2-for-2, RBI) were a combined 5-for-6 with seven RBI in the DH spot in the lineup.

Feb. 14, 1997

- A number of renovations awaited the Tide in the 1997 home opener. For the first time, Alabama played with a padded outfield wall, which measured 8-feet high and was made of 16-gauge steel. A new sound system was installed and "Click Effects" was used for the first time to enhance the atmosphere at games.

May 22, 1997

- Alabama hosts the NCAA South II Regional and defeats Troy, Wichita State, North Carolina State and Southern California in consecutive days to earn its second straight trip to the College World Series.

May 25, 1997

- Matt Frick hits walk-off, two-out home run in bottom of the 10th inning as Alabama beat Southern Cal, 10-9, to earn its second straight trip to the CWS.

March 2, 1999

- Alabama defeated Austin Peay, 6-2, to earn its 800th all-time win at Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

May 28-30, 1999 - Alabama defeated Navy and Southern Miss (twice) to secure the Tuscaloosa Regional Championship and advance to the first-ever NCAA Super Regional.

June 4-5, 1999

- Under the new NCAA Tournament format, Alabama is one of eight teams to host the newly created NCAA Super Regional at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The Crimson Tide swept LSU in the best-of-three series, 13-6 and 13-5, to advance to Omaha for the third time in four years.

Feb. 10, 2000

- The second major expansion of Sewell-Thomas Stadium is completed as 2,000 permanent seats were added down the right field grandstand and bleachers were added to the left field foul line. Also, new locker rooms, coaches offices, training room and team meeting rooms were added. The cost of the project, completed by N.C. Morgan of Tuscaloosa, was $4 million.

Feb. 10, 2000

- In front of the largest crowd in stadium history (6,118), Alabama defeated BYU, 11-1, to open the 2000 season. The Crimson Tide sold its entire allotment of season tickets and finished second in the national in total and average attendance.

March 5, 2001

- Alabama became the 17th NCAA Division I school to win its 2,000th all-time baseball game with a 12-0 win over Winthrop.

April 5, 2002

- Alabama defeated Florida, 4-1, for the school's 900th all-time win at Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

March 24, 2006

- Alabama defeated Ole Miss, 12-2, to earn the school's 1,000th all-time win at Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

June 2-4, 2006

- The Crimson Tide captured the 2006 NCAA Tuscaloosa Regional with wins over Jacksonville and Troy (twice) to advance to its first NCAA Super Regional since 1999.

June 9-10, 2006

- Alabama hosted North Carolina in the NCAA Super Regionals and lost both games to the Tar Heels, 11-5 and 8-7.

May 13, 2007

- Alabama topped the 2,000,000 mark in all-time attendance on the final day of the regular season against Arkansas. The Tide closed out the 2007 season with 2,004,908 fans since the park was dedicated in 1991.

Crimson Tide Baseball

2008 Season Preview

Mercurial.

A perfect description for any Southeastern Conference baseball game.

Games can turn on a single pitch or play.

Teams can change from inning to inning, game to game or season to season.

Alabama had ridden that emotional roller coaster many times.

For instance, emotional SEC series wins last year against South Carolina, Arkansas and Mississippi State that catapulted the Tide into the SEC Tournament.

Then back-to-back losses in the SEC Tournament which zapped the Tide's NCAA Regional chances.

The loss of several high draft picks and last year's most versatile pitcher just days before the start of classes in the fall semester.

All a part of the life of a college baseball team.

While the Crimson Tide team has seen numerous changes to its roster since last season, the NCAA has also made some significant changes regarding the sport.

Teams were given 45 days to hold fall workouts, a move that allowed the Crimson Tide to hold 18 intrasquad games from September to November.

"The players played hard," Alabama Head Coach Jim Wells said. "We feel like we got accomplished the majority of things we wanted to get accomplished in that period of time and we would not have been able to that without the extra practice time.

"We have an idea of who can play. Now it's getting them in the right position and getting them more reps. We have more depth than we have had because of all the returning position players and some of the players aren't front-line players that have been in the program three, four or five years."

There are also changes in the format of the season beginning with a uniform starting date for practice and games. Teams are not allowed to hold team practices until February 1. In addition, the uniform start date for college baseball is February 22, two weeks later than the Tide's previous start dates under head coach Jim Wells and more than month later than some teams in California and Hawai'i had grown accustomed too.

The new schedule format will call for teams to play five games a week, including two midweek games Tuesday and Wednesday and three conference games Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Here is the skinny of the 2008 Crimson Tide baseball squad.

*Alabama opens the season with 36 players on its baseball roster.

*The Tide has only three seniors, including first baseman Matt Bentley and pitchers Josh Copeland and Will Stroup.

*In addition, the Tide has 18 juniors, six sophomores and nine freshmen.

*The Crimson Tide returns 10 position players that started at least one game last season.

*Alabama returns more than 60 percent of its offense from last year's squad, including 2008 preseason Brooks Wallace Award candidate Alex Avila.

*Avila hit .296 (66-for-223) with 14 home runs and 61 RBI last year. He also led the Tide with 15 doubles.

*Bentley hit a career-best .299 (58-for-194) last year with 12 home runs and 36 RBI. The 12 home runs were the most in his UA career.

*Avila and Bentley combined for 26 home runs last season and the Tide returns 48 of 58 home runs (83 percent) from a year ago.

*Avila, Bentley, Brandon May and Jake Smith combined to start 190 games last season.

*On the pitching front, more than 50 percent of its appearances, wins, save and innings from last year's team.

*Alabama returns seven pitchers off last year's squad with significant mound time.

*Those seven pitchers combined for 103 appearances, 16 wins, eight saves and 242 strikeouts.

*Copeland led the team with 27 appearances and posted a team-best 2.97 ERA last year.

*Austin Hyatt turned in a career-best season with a 5-1 record, two saves and 3.07 ERA.

*Stroup posted a 3-1 record and 4.65 ERA in 24 games as starter and reliever.

Here is a position-by-position breakdown of the 2008 Alabama baseball team.

PITCHERS

Alabama will open the season with depth on the mound, which will be needed to survive the five-game per week schedule.

The Crimson Tide returns seven pitchers off last year's team that combined for more than 100 appearances, but does not have that dominant number one starter.

"We are trying to develop a number-one type guy and we may not have that," Wells said. "We do have a lot of quality guys that throw strikes. Pitching-wise, we have more than we have had, just not a guy that stands out as that front-line guy, but it's still very early. They have shown to throw strikes and that is the number one thing. The guys that can do that will pitch."

"We are in a position to have a better club this year. There is something to work with there and we have some flexibility."

"Nelson and Kilcrease were the two standouts pitching-wise, along with Howell. They will pitch this year for us in some role."

"Right now, your weekend starters would have to be Nelson, Hyatt, Quigley and Stroup. The closer would be Copeland and Kilcrease. Nelson could be a Friday night guy here pretty soon."

There are some candidates to fill the void created when sophomore right-hand pitcher Tommy Hunter was taken in the first round by the Rangers last July.

Sophomore Austin Graham (Hoover, Ala.), freshman Connor Hoehn (Damascus, Md.), junior Austin Hyatt (Marietta, Ga.) junior Casey Kebodeaux (Mandeville, La.), freshman Jimmy Nelson (Niceville, Fla.), junior Robert Phares (Tuscaloosa, Ala.), junior Miers Quigley (Roswell, Ga.) and senior Will Stroup (Birmingham, Ala.) are all candidates for the five starting spots on the mound entering the 2008 season.

Quigley (LHP, 16 G, 15 GS, 4-7, 4.88 ERA) has the most experience of the group and is the only returning pitcher to start all 10 SEC series last year.

Stroup (LHP, 24 G, 4 GS, 3-1, 4.65 ERA) had the third-most appearances on the team last year before ending the season in the starting rotation with starts against Florida, Arkansas, Mississippi State and Florida (SEC Tournament) to close out the year.

Nelson (RHP, Niceville High School) is a true freshman that stood out this fall with his ability toughness on the mound and ability to throw strikes.

Hyatt (RHP, 16 G, 3 GS, 3-1, 2 SV, 3.07 ERA) made his mark in the Tide bullpen last year with a knack for stranding inherited runners.

Kebodeaux (RHP, 18 G, 10 GS, 3-4, 5.06 ERA) started both SEC and mid-week games last season for the Tide.

Hoehn (RHP, St. John's College High School) is another talented freshman that could become a weekend or midweek starter this season.

Graham (RHP, 1 G, 0-0, 13.50 ERA), who has battled injuries in his UA career, shined on UA's scout day in the fall and will challenge for time on the mound as a starter.

Phares (RHP, Shelton State Community College) made the transition from junior college with a solid fall on the mound. His ability to throw strikes makes him a candidate for a starting spot or time in the bullpen.

The remaining pitchers will vie for time in the bullpen, with some roles already defined heading into the 2008 campaign.

Miers Quigley

2008 Alabama Baseball Scouting Report

Senior Josh Copeland (Palmetto, Ga.) has the most experience with a team-high 27 appearances out of the pen last season and will be joined by redshirt freshman Austin Evans (Tampa, Fla.), Jarrod Hewes (Mobile, Ala.), sophomore Del Howell (Tuscaloosa), freshman Nathan Kilcrease (Phenix City, Ala.), Jamie Manning (Empire, Ala.), Patrick Nappi (Birmingham, Ala.) and Tyler White (Brandon, Miss.).

Copeland (RHP, 1-2, 4 SV, 2.97 ERA) will be used as a set-up man or closer this season. He has the lowest ERA of any returning pitcher and recorded 27 strikeouts in 30-plus innings last year.

Howell (LHP, 1 G, 0-0, 33.75) is the most improved among the returning pitchers and could end up in the Tide's starting rotation after a solid fall camp. He had only one appearance last season and spent the rest of the season as an outfielder, DH or pinch-hitter. Howell will definitely see action as a two-way player this season with an improved offensive game as well.

"Howell can play," Wells said. "He is better. He may evolve into someone that can start (on the mound), but my first instinct is to use him out of the pen. He had a really nice fall. He is one of those guys whose whole game improved."

Kilcrease (RHP, Glenwood Academy) joined Nelson as the most impressive freshman pitchers in the fall. He is a hard-nosed competitor and has the ability to pitch on consecutive days, which may allow him to settle in as the Tide's closer this season.

Nappi (RHP, Shelton State Community College) is another leading candidate as the Tide's set-up man in 2008. Nappi and Copeland should battle for the team lead in appearances. Nappi's curveball makes him a logical choice for the set-up role.

Evans (RHP, Redshirted in 2007) is a hard thrower who may be thrust into action early in the season for the Tide.

Manning (RHP, Wallace State Community College) will bring two years of junior college experience to the Tide bullpen.

Hewes (RHP, Faulkner State Community College) and White (LHP, Brandon High School) will also compete for time in the bullpen this season.

CATCHERS

The catching position may be the most improved on the field this season for the Crimson Tide.

Alabama will open the season with seven catchers on its 2008 roster, including junior Alex Avila (Pembroke Pines, Fla.), sophomore Brock Bennett (Tucker, Ga.), junior Brian Clark (Indianapolis, Ind.), junior Vin DiFazio (Hampton, N.J.), junior Kyle Moore (Wetumpka, Ala.), junior Mike Sharp (Liberty, Mo.) and junior David Woods (Bailey, Miss.).

In the off-season, Avila (57 G, .296, 14 HR, 61 RBI) made the move to catcher and he made an immediate impact. He spent last summer working at the position in the Cape Cod League and then got some instruction from Detroit Tigers all-star backstop Ivan Rodriguez. Avila's father, Al, is the Vice President and Assistant General Manager of the Tigers. While he is still learning the position and improving every day, Avila is the favorite to win the starting job.

"I think it's a good move for Avila," Wells said. "He is very excited and has taken to it well. Mike Sharp is a guy we signed late and he has done well also. We have gone from having no catchers to seven, but I think Avila has put himself in a good position, if he keeps improving, to be a front-line guy."

"He brings a lot to the table. He knows the game and he communicates well with the pitchers. (Assistant coach) Dax Norris has done a great job with him. He wants to play. He wants to do well. He is very motivated. He knows that is the position for him."

Sharp (Kansas City Community College) had a solid two-year junior college career and showed improvement in the fall.

DiFazio (redshirted in 2007) missed the 2007 season with a viral nerve infection in his shoulder, but rebounded nicely with a solid fall both offensively and defensively.

Moore (31 G, 22 GS, .200, 2 HR, 12 RBI) is the only returning catcher with any game experience. Moore started 22 games last season and did not make an error in 139 chances behind the dish.

Bennett (3 G, .333, 0 HR, 0 RBI) and Clark (3 G, .500, 1 HR, 1 RBI) will also compete for time behind the plate.

Woods (Meridian Community College) is a walk-on that joined the team in January.

INFELDERS

Alabama returns three-quarters of its starting infield from last year's team and that experience, along with the addition of two outstanding freshmen, should make this a solid defensive unit in 2008.

Senior first baseman Matt Bentley (Huntsville, Ala.), sophomore second baseman Brandon May (Marietta, Ga.) and sophomore third baseman Jake Smith (Shannon, Ala.) return, along with other veterans juniors Wes Henderson (Oxford, Ala.) and Jeff Texada (New Iberia, La.).

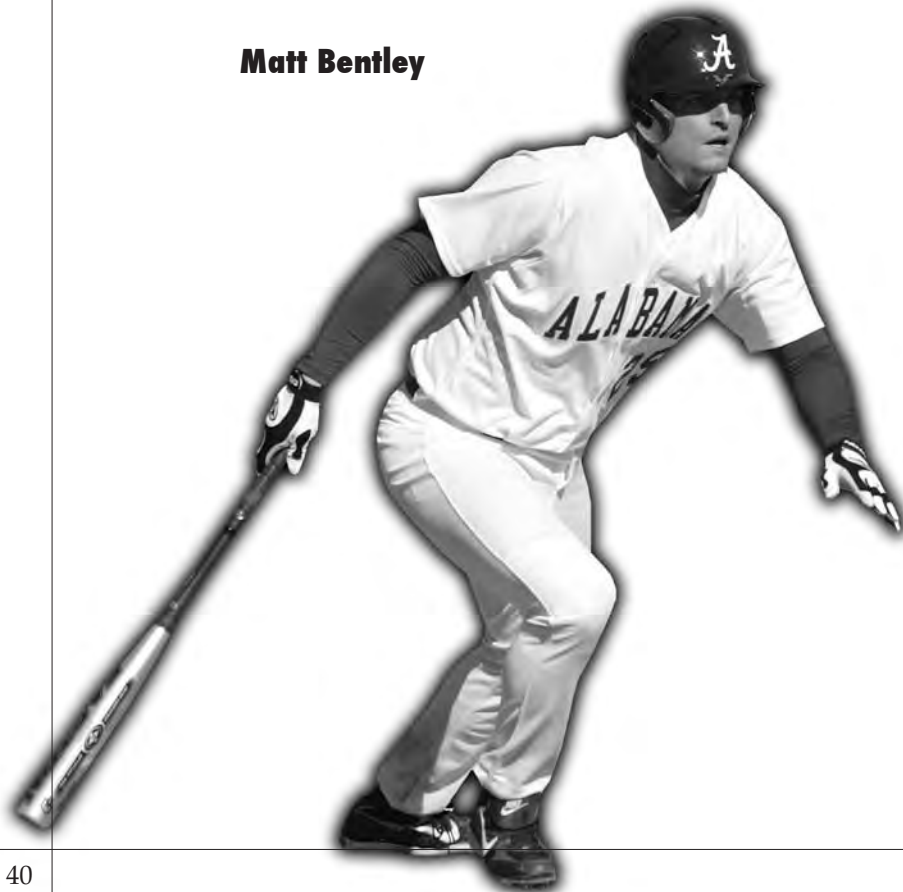

Bentley (53 GS, .299, 12 HR, 36 RBI) returns for his second full season at first base and is coming off a banner season, where he set career highs in virtually every offensive category.

May (49 G, 41 GS, .264, 0 HR, 13 RBI) enters the 2008 season as one of the team's better offensive players. His offensive game improved in the fall to go along with his improved defense.

Smith (40 G, 39 GS, .246, 6 HR, 29 RBI) may be the Tide's best defensive infielder. He has good range and strong arm and an improved offensive attack will make him a better all-around player this season.

Henderson (9 G, .167, 0 HR, 1 RBI) brings strong defensive skills and experience to the lineup this season.

Kent Matthes

Jake Smith

Brandon May

Texada (39 G, 25 GS, .277, 1 HR, 12 RBI) has also shown improvement on offense and defense and could take over as the Tide's starting shortstop.

"We have three of the four starters back," Wells said. "There is one guy (shortstop Greg Paiml) we have to replace. Texada, Wilson and Rutledge are all good players, so that will be a battle to the end. Rutledge is a key guy because he has had such a good fall and has been able to play well in any position.

He will be pushed by a pair of talented freshmen that could make an immediate impact on the Tide infield and lineup this season.

Ross Wilson (Hoover, Ala.) and Josh Rutledge (Cullman, Ala.), a pair of All-State high school players in 2007, had stellar fall camps and are considered top candidates replace Paiml.

Wilson (Hoover High School), who is the younger brother of Tide quarterback John Parker Wilson, was drafted in the 36th round of the 2007 MLB Draft last June.

Rutledge (Cullman High School) played on Cullman's state championship baseball team and also has the speed to play centerfield this season.

"I think the addition of those two freshmen, who are really good athletes, it gives you some maneuverability. Rutledge can play anything. Wilson can play anything.

"So the infield defense is good. Whether it's Wilson, May, Rutledge or Texada, they all field the ball and throw it to first base and turn double plays and we are going to need that because the ball is going to be put in play a lot."

Freshmen Jon Kelton (LaGrange, Ga.) and Jimmy Tullidge (Tuscaloosa, Ala.) will also challenge for playing time in the infield.

Kelton (LaGrange High School) spent the majority of the fall at second base, while Tullidge (Tuscaloosa Academy) played mostly at third base and could see some time on the mound as well.

OUTFIELDERS

While Alabama lists only five outfielders on its roster, the biggest concern will be the replacement of four-year starter and two-time All-American Emeel Salem in centerfield.

Four of the five outfielders have significant playing time at Alabama over the last couple of seasons, including sophomore Del Howell (Tuscaloosa, Ala.), junior Kent Matthes (Orlando, Fla.), junior Tyler Odle (Vestavia Hills, Ala.) and junior Ryan Rhoden (Tuscaloosa, Ala.).

Junior Alex Kubal (Shorewood, Minn.) is the only newcomer listed among the UA outfielders. Kubal (Gulf Coast Community College) will compete for a starting spot in center field along with Odle and freshman infielder Josh Rutledge.

"We have everybody back, plus we added Kubal," Wells said. "He was brought in to be the centerfielder. He plays hard and he has improved. I feel comfortable with him going out there. We have looked at Rutledge and Texada in center, too. Every guy mentioned, except Kubal, has been in the program one year, two years or three years. We will be fine there."

Matthes (51 G, 50 GS, .307, 8 HR, 45 RBI) is a two-year starter and the leading candidate to open the season as the Tide's right-fielder.

Rhoden (43 G, 37 GS, .291, 2 HR, 16 RBI) is also a two-year starter for the Tide. He split time last year between the outfield and catcher. He moved back to the outfield in the fall and his offensive game showed great improvement as he concluded the camp as one of the Tide's leading hitters.

Odle (25 G, 5 GS, .130, 1 HR, 4 RBI) saw an increased role last year and started five games toward the end of the season. He showed excellent offensive and defensive skills in the fall and his speed will keep in the mix in the outfield.

Howell (25 G, 10 GS, .255, 1 HR, 4 RBI) may have the best raw power in the Tide lineup. A two-way player, Howell will likely see action in left field or as the designated hitter when not on the mound. He was one of the Tide's most improved players in the fall.

Head Coach Jim Wells

Lisa, Lauren, Drew, Melissa and Jim Wells.

The success of the Alabama baseball program dates back to the turn of the century.

The Crimson Tide is the winningest baseball program in Southeastern Conference lore, with more than 2,000 all-time wins, 25 conference championships, 19 NCAA Regional appearances and five trips to the College World Series.

Since his arrival to the Capstone on June 4, 1994, Jim Wells had continued that tradition of excellence and in the process has set Alabama records for most coaching appearances and most coaching victories on the baseball diamond.

Wells is back for his 14th season with the Tide in 2008 and has compiled a 554-272 (.671) in 826 games. He set the all-time record for most games coached last year at Mississippi State when he notched his 823rd game in a Tide uniform on May 18, 2007 at Dudy Noble Field. Dr. Barry Shollenberger held the previous record with 822 games in his UA career from 1980-94. Wells became the school's all-time winningest baseball coach with his 488th win at Alabama on March 3, 2006 as the Tide defeated Appalachian State, 4-3, at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. Shollenberger held the previous record with 487 wins in his UA career.

Overall, Wells begins his 19th season as a Division I head coach, where he has compiled a 748-361 (.675) record in 1,109 games. He is currently 00th among active Division head coaches in terms of career wins and 00 in terms of career winning percentage.

In his 18 previous seasons, Wells has won five regular-season conference championships, eight post-season conference championships and taken 13 of his 18 teams to NCAA Regional play, with three teams (1996, 1997 and 1999) advancing to the College World Series.

The Crimson Tide captured the 2006 SEC Championship with a 20-10 league record. Alabama (44-21) won its sixth NCAA Regional championship and fourth under Wells last season. The Tide played in the NCAA Super Regionals for the second time in school history and first since 1999. Alabama has played in 10 NCAA Tournaments in 12 years under Wells. UA has also won six SEC Tournament (1995, 1996, 1997, 1999, 2002 and 2003) titles. He has twice been named SEC "Coach of the Year" (1996, 2002) by his peers. He was named Southland Conference Coach of the Year three times. The Bossier City, La., native was named Alabama's 29th head baseball coach on June 4, 1994.

Since taking over the Crimson Tide program, Wells has averaged 43.5 wins per year, including three seasons of 50 or more wins and nine seasons of 40 or more wins. He has taken 10 of his 12 teams to NCAA Regionals.

The tradition of Alabama baseball goes back into the 19th century. Alabama has won more SEC Championships (14) than any other school. The Crimson Tide has also put more than 50 players in Major League Baseball, also the second-best total in SEC lore.

Wells made his mark on that Alabama tradition with his first season in 1995. And, he has been building on that foundation ever since. Alabama wrapped up his rookie season (1995) with a 42-23 record and its first national ranking since 1991. Along the way, Wells directed the Crimson Tide to a school-record tying 18 SEC wins and the 1995 SEC Western Division Tournament Championship. The Tide posted four consecutive come-from-behind wins in four days to win its first post-season tournament since 1983. UA's 8-7 win over LSU in the tourney opener, snapped the Crimson Tide's 10-game tourney losing skid.

Wells also became the school's winningest first-year head coach when Alabama defeated Samford, 12-5, on April 5, 1995. It was his 22nd win for the Tide, breaking the previous record of 21 wins set by J.W.H. Pollard in 1907. In addition, his .646 rookie winning percentage was the second best in Alabama history. Tilden "Happy" Campbell posted a 10-2 (.833) mark in his first year for the Tide in 1935. The 1995 season ended with a runner up finish to Clemson at the NCAA East Regional on the Clemson campus. A hard-fought game with Clemson ended a story-book season that fell just one game short of the College World Series.

In 1996, Alabama won the SEC Championship. It was the Crimson Tide's first SEC title since 1983 and first regular-season crown since 1968. The Crimson Tide also landed its first-ever NCAA Regional at Sewell-Thomas Stadium and won that 1996 South I Regional championship with wins over Princeton, South Alabama, Stetson and Virginia to advance to the College World Series for the first time in 16 years. The Crimson Tide entered the CWS as the No. 1 seed and after a dramatic win over Oklahoma State in the first round, the Crimson Tide lost its next two games to Miami and Clemson and the season ended with a school-record 50 wins.

The following year (1997), Alabama put together its finest season in school history as the Crimson Tide won a school-record 56 games and played in the national championship game at the College World Series. The hard work by the Alabama coach and his staff paid off as the Tide mentor was tabbed Baseball America "National Coach of the Year" after that record-setting season.

Alabama shattered numerous school, SEC and NCAA records along the way to hosting its second consecutive NCAA Regional at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The Crimson Tide won the NCAA South II Regional championship against the toughest six-team bracket in the 48-team field. The Crimson Tide posted wins over Troy State, Wichita State, North Carolina State and Southern California. The Shockers and Trojans were ranked in the Top 10 in the country while the Wolfpack held a Top 20 national ranking.

The Crimson Tide clinched its second straight trip to the CWS with a 9-8 (10-inning) win over USC in the South II title game. Matt Frick's two-out, solo home run provided the winning margin in what remains as one of the most exciting games in the Wells era. It was ironic that a home run would propel the Tide back to the CWS. The Crimson Tide hit a school-record 160 home runs in 1997, the third-highest mark in NCAA history. In addition, the Tide became the only team in NCAA history to have four players with 20 or more home runs. Dustan Mohr (25), Roberto Vaz (22), G.W. Keller (21) and Robbie Tucker (20) all eclipsed the 20 home run barrier in 1997.

The Crimson Tide also led the nation in runs scored (679), hits (860), total bases (1,571) and captured the NCAA statistical national championship with a .621 slugging percentage. The school-record clip was 100 points higher than the previous UA record set in 1983. Alabama's .621 slugging mark is the second highest in NCAA history. The 1979 Wichita State team set the record with a .625 slugging percentage. Alabama's 860 hits were the most by a Division I team since Wichita State pounded out 914 hits in 1991. The 1,571 total bases were the most since Florida State's 1,580 total bases in 1985.

In addition to his Baseball America award, Jim was also the recipient of the Sington Soaring Spirit Award, presented by the Sington Foundation. The award is named for the late Alabama football and baseball letterman Fred Sington, who was one of the most distinguished sports leaders in this state's history. Wells is only the third coach to be honored, and the first baseball coach.

In 1998, Wells guided Alabama to a 46-18 overall record and a runner-up finish to Long Beach State at the NCAA West Regional at Palo Alto, Calif. The Tide entered as the number-two seed at the six-team regional, but lost 5-3 to the 49ers in the title game, missing its third straight trip to the CWS. Alabama also finished 19-10 in the SEC, which ranked them second in the Western Division behind LSU and third overall. Bama also finished third at the SEC Tournament, snapping its string of three straight post-season championships.

In 1999, Wells directed Alabama to its third College World Series appearance since 1996, posting a 53-16 overall record en route to a fourth place national ranking. He led Alabama to the best overall record in the SEC and posted a second-place finish in the SEC with a 21-9 league record, one-game behind league champion Arkansas (22-8). Wells led the Crimson Tide to its fourth SEC Tournament title in five years with a perfect 4-0 mark at 1999 SEC tourney. He directed the Crimson Tide to an undefeated NCAA regional post-season, winning all three games from Navy and Southern Miss (twice) at the NCAA Regionals in Tuscaloosa. The Tide swept LSU in a best-of-three NCAA Super Regionals to advance to Omaha.

Alabama set or tied 34 school records in 1999 and set the NCAA record with 13 home runs in a 30-4 win at UAB (April 14, 1999). For his efforts, he was named South Region Coach of the Year by the American Baseball Coaches Association.

In 2000, Wells guided Alabama to a 41-24 overall record and a sixth-straight trip to the NCAA Regionals, finishing runner-up to College World Series participant Stanford in the Palo Alto Regional.

The Tide's string of seven straight NCAA Regional appearances came to end with a 32-23 record in 2001, but the absence was short-lived.

After a one-year absence from the post-season scene, Wells not only returned his troops to the 64-team field in 2002, but he also landed the Crimson Tide the No. 3 national seed and the school's fourth NCAA Regional Tournament at Sewell-Thomas Stadium since 1995. The 2002 squad posted the school's fourth, 50-win season en route to the SEC Western Division Championship and SEC Tournament Championship. For his efforts, Wells was voted SEC "Coach of the Year" by his peers. The honor was the second by Wells at Alabama and the fifth time in his career he had been voted conference "Coach of the Year". He was named Southland Conference "Coach of the Year" three times while at Northwestern State.

In 2003, the Crimson Tide claimed its second consecutive SEC Tournament Championship with wins over South Carolina, Auburn (twice) and LSU at the Hoover Met. The four wins landed the Crimson Tide a No. 2 seed at the College Station (Texas) Regional.

After missing out on the NCAA Regionals in 2004, Alabama was back in the national limelight in 2005 with another 40-win season and a trip to the NCAA Regionals. The Crimson Tide went 40-23 in 2005 and finished runnerup to No. 1 ranked Tulane at the NCAA New Orleans Regional played on the Tulane campus.

The Tide won its 14th SEC Championship and 25th overall conference baseball title in 2006 and captured the NCAA Tuscaloosa Regional Championship with wins over Jacksonville State and Troy (twice) to earn its second trip to the NCAA Super Regionals. Alabama lost both games to No. 5 North Carolina and ended the season with a 44-21 overall record.

Alabama posted a 31-26 record last season and advanced to the SEC Tournament for the 11th time in Wells' 13 seasons as head coach.

Prior to being named head coach at Alabama, Wells compiled an impressive 192-89 (.683) mark at Northwestern State, his alma mater from 1990-94, where remains the school's winningest all-time coach. He was named the Louisiana Sportswriters Association 1994 "Coach of the Year".

In his five-year tenure at Northwestern State, Wells averaged nearly 40 wins per season and had the Demons in the NCAA Regionals two times. In addition, he was selected as Southland Conference Coach of the Year three times.

In 1990, Wells became head coach at his alma mater, Northwestern (La.) State, his first full-time collegiate coaching position. He inherited a program that had suffered 13 consecutive losing seasons in a state that was full of Division I baseball playing schools (13 to be exact). He won his first 20 games as a head coach at Northwestern State in 1990 and the following year (1991), he guided the Demons to the SLC Championship and a berth in the school's first-ever NCAA Regional, losing to Louisiana Lafayette and the eventual national champion

LSU Tigers at Alex Box Stadium.

The Demons won back-to-back Southland Conference championships in 1993 and 1994 and participated in the 1994 NCAA Midwest I Regional in Stillwater, Okla. In 1993, NSU posted a 40-14 (.741) record, including an 18-6 conference mark. The highlight of the season was an upset of eventual national champion LSU. The Demons posted a 6-3 win over the Tigers in front of a record-crowd (3,388) in Natchitoches.

Wells guided the Northwestern State to a school-record 45-15 (.750) mark in his final season. The Demons also won the SLC, its third title in five years under Wells. NSU compiled an 8-3 ledger against Top 25 foes. The 1994 Demons set 19 school and SLC records.

Northwestern State University retired Jim Wells No. 17 prior to the Alabama-Northwestern State game on April 9, 2003 at Brown-Stroud Field. A large contingent of Wells' family and friends were in attendance for the pregame ceremony. In addition, Wells was inducted into the Northwestern State University Athletic Hall of Fame during the 2004-05 school year.

Prior to his days at Northwestern State, Wells spent three years as a graduate assistant coach at LSU. During his tenure in Baton Rouge, the Tigers posted a 143-57 (.715) record and two NCAA Regional titles (1987 and 1989). He coached outfielders and hitters on LSU teams that ranked fourth nationally and participated in the College World Series. Among the notables at LSU during Wells' three-year stay was 1989 first-round draft pick Ben McDonald and Albert Belle.

After coaching summer league teams while in college and then serving as head coach at Loyola Prep High School (1982-86) for five seasons, Wells landed his first collegiate job, serving as a graduate assistant coach for Skip Bertman at LSU (1987-89). His baseball career was enhanced by Boots Garland, a close personal friend of Wells and his father.

Wells earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Northwestern State in 1980. He earned his master's degree in education and administration from LSU in 1989. Prior to his days at LSU, Wells was the basketball and baseball coach at Loyola Prep (1982-86).

Wells was born March 21, 1955. He is married to the former Lisa Breazeale of Natchitoches and has three children, Lauren, Melissa and Drew.

Crimson Tide Baseball

Mitch Gaspard

ASSISTANT COACH & RECRUITING COORDINATOR – 8TH YEAR AT ALABAMA
LOUISIANA LAFAYETTE, 1988

Long-time University of Alabama assistant coach Mitch Gaspard has returned to the Capstone to become the Crimson Tide's assistant coach and recruiting coordinator.

Gaspard, 42, spent the last six years as head coach at Northwestern (La.) State in Natchitoches, La. He compiled a 211-128 (.622) record in his tenure at Northwestern State. During those six years, he led the Demons to a pair of Southland Conference championships, one SLC Tournament championship and a berth in the 2005 NCAA Baton Rouge (La.) Regional.

In 18 years of coaching, Gaspard has worked with teams that have won eight conference championships, eight conference tournament championships, played in 14 NCAA Regionals and three College World Series.

In Gaspard's first season, he guided his team to NSU's eighth conference title in 12 seasons as the Demons finished among the nation's best in pitching and fielding while finishing 43-17 overall.

After heavy graduation losses, Gaspard and his staff blended a core of highly-regarded high school products with some good junior college talent and led the club to a fourth-place showing in the league while compiling a 35-22 overall mark.

In 2004, the Demons challenged for another SLC title before finishing second in the league. Northwestern was sixth nationally in stolen bases, 44th in the country with a team ERA of 4.11, 26th in double plays per game and the Demons batted a robust .296. NSU (33-23) won eight of its nine SLC series, including beating SLC champ Lamar, and the Demons averaged seven runs per game. Sophomore first baseman Bobby Barbier won Academic All-America honors.

The 2005 season was another banner year for the Demons and Gaspard. Having being named the SLC's Coach of the Year, Gaspard and the Demons steamrolled through the league schedule with a remarkable 22-5 record - 41-20 overall - setting a new conference record for most league wins in a season. The Demons won the league race by six games. The team also cracked into the national polls, continuously ranking in the NCBWA Top 35 and Collegiate Baseball Top 30. As a result of its success, Northwestern State was selected as an at-large participant to the NCAA Baseball Tournament where it finished 1-2 in the Baton Rouge Regional.

Gaspard continued the tradition of great coaches at NSU, surpassing the win totals of former head coach Jim Wells (1990-95), Dave Van Horn (1996-98) and John Cohen (1999-2001), all of whom are now head coaches in the Southeastern Conference.

During his days as Wells' assistant at NSU, the Demons won SLC titles in 1993 and 1994, winning in NCAA regional play in 1994.

Gaspard was a pivotal figure as an ace recruiter and a shrewd tactician in the remarkable revival of the Crimson Tide. Alabama had four SEC wins in 1994, but after Wells and Gaspard arrived, the Tide won the SEC Tournament in 1995 and were one win away from the College World Series. By the time Gaspard returned to NSU, Alabama had earned six NCAA Regional appearances and three College World Series berths, including a national championship game loss to LSU in 1997.

In each of his seven seasons at Alabama, Gaspard molded the Tide into one of nation's finest defensive units. As the chief recruiter, he landed five straight Top 20 recruiting classes, including three Top 10 finishes in 1997, 1998 and 1999.

An all-state shortstop at Port Arthur Jefferson, he led his team to the Texas state title as a senior and then became the starting second baseman in 1985 for a first Skip Bertman-coached LSU team that advanced to NCAA Regional play.

He played his final two collegiate seasons as a starter at second for the University of Houston, where he became an assistant coach in 1988.

Gaspard moved to Louisiana-Lafayette from 1989-92, helping the Ragin' Cajuns reach three NCAA Regionals and win three conference titles.

He and his wife, Kim, have two daughters, Brae (14) and Paeton (10).

B.J. Green

ASSISTANT COACH - 7TH YEAR AT ALABAMA
ALABAMA, 2002

A veteran member of the Alabama baseball program, B.J. Green is in his 10th season with the Crimson Tide and his second as full-time assistant coach.

In December 2007, Green was placed on medical leave at the University and will not coach this season due to health issues.

During his 10-year career as a player, student assistant coach, volunteer coach and assistant coach, Green has been a part of one SEC Championship (2006), three SEC Tournament championships (1999, 2002 and 2003), seven NCAA Regional appearances, two NCAA Super Regionals and one College World Series appearance (1999).

During his stint as the Crimson Tide's volunteer assistant coach, Green worked with the Crimson Tide pitching staff.

In 2006, Alabama pitchers led the SEC with a 3.51 ERA. In 2004, Alabama pitchers ranked second in the SEC and eighth nationally with a 3.36 ERA.

Green has tutored four All-Americans on the mound in his tenure with the Crimson Tide, including 2004 National and SEC Freshman of the Year, Wade LeBlanc.

Green has seen 18 Crimson Tide pitchers taken in the Major League Baseball Draft, including first-round selection Taylor Tankersley (2004).

Two of Green's pupils - Tankersley (Florida Marlins) and Lance Cormier (Atlanta Braves) - have reached the big leagues.

Green has also served as the coordinator of the Alabama Baseball Camps.

In 2003, Green served as the pitching coach for the Harwich Mariners of the Cape Cod League.

While with Harwich, Green coached the No. 4 overall pick in the 2004 Major League Draft Jason Niemann, Cape Cod League All-Star (Justin Hedrick) and five other pitchers taken in the MLB Draft.

Green played for Coach Jim Wells and the Crimson Tide from 1998-2001. He compiled an 18-4 (.818) career record. In 1998, he set the UA freshman record with eight wins on the mound.

In 1999, Green was a member of the Crimson Tide team that posted a 53-16 overall record and finished third at the College World Series.

Alabama also won the 1999 SEC Tournament championship, the 1999 NCAA South Regional and the 1999 NCAA Super Regional championship.

He earned his bachelor's degree in sports fitness management from the University of Alabama in 2002.

Green was a four-year letterman at Gardendale High School for coach Barry Brake. He was the 1997 USA Today Player of the Year for the state of Alabama after setting the state record with 455 career strikeouts.

A native of Gardendale, Ala., Green was born Jan. 2, 1979.

Dax Norris

INTERIM ASSISTANT COACH – 3RD YEAR AT ALABAMA
ALABAMA, 2008

One of the cornerstones of the University of Alabama's baseball revival under head coach Jim Wells has returned to the Capstone as the school's interim assistant coach.

Dax Norris, a two-year starter at catcher in 1995 and 1996, was hired last summer as the Tide's volunteer coach, but was promoted to interim assistant coach when B.J. Green was placed on medical leave in December, 2007.

A hard-nosed player, Norris brings that same work ethic to the field as an assistant coach, where he will work the Tide hitters and catchers and assist coach Wells with the pitching staff.

Norris played in 132 games for the Crimson Tide, including 122 starts, and batted .329 (177-for-538) with 10 home runs and 83 RBI. He added 39 doubles, two triples and 42 walks and compiled a .994 fielding mark as one of the top backstops in school history.

He spent the 2007 season as an assistant coach at Niceville (Fla.) High School, where he worked under former Bama assistant coach Kevin Berry and tutored UA pitching signee Jimmy Nelson.

A journeyman minor leaguer, Norris played 11 seasons with the Atlanta Braves and Houston Astros organizations, reaching the Triple A level with both clubs. He played in 846 career minor league games and batted .265 (771-for-2,914) with 73 home runs and 421 RBI. He had a career-high 122 hits and 72 RBI for the Greenville (S.C.) Braves (Class AA, Southern League) in 2000 and smacked a career-high 15 home runs in Greenville in 1999. During the off-seasons, Norris ran his own hitting school in Florida.

A 23rd-round draft pick by the Atlanta Braves in 1996, Norris was a two-year starter for the Crimson Tide. He batted .283 (72-for-254) as a junior in 1995 with three home runs and 34 RBI in 63 starts. Norris was named to the 1995 NCAA East Regional All-Tournament Team at the Clemson, S.C., where he batted .316 (6-for-19) with two runs scored and five RBI in five games. He also turned in 36 errorless chances behind the plate.

He was elected team captain on the Crimson Tide's 1996 SEC Championship team that finished with a then-school record 50 wins. Alabama also captured the 1996 SEC Tournament championship at the Hoover Met and hosted the school's first-ever NCAA Regional. Norris led UA to its first College World Series appearance since 1983 during his senior year. He batted .370 (105-for-284) with seven home runs and 49

RBI en route to being named First-Team All-American by the Super Smith Team. He was also a First-Team All-SEC honoree and American Baseball Coaches Association All-South Region pick.

Prior to playing at Alabama, Norris was a two-year starter at Central Alabama Community College in Alexander City, Ala. A native of LaGrange, Ga., Norris was born Jan. 14, 1973. He is married to the former Rene' Simpkins.

Hoffer
Athletic Trainer

Joe Hoffer (pronounced HO-fer) was named Assistant Athletic Trainer on August 17, 2007, after a two-year stint at the University of Wisconsin-Stout and four years of experience with USA Baseball.

Hoffer worked the past two seasons at UW-Stout in Menomonie, Wis., where he served as the athletic trainer and pitching coach for the Division III school.

He has also been involved with USA Baseball during his athletic career. He served as the Junior Olympic Athletic Training Site Coordinator in Peoria, Ariz., in 2004, 2005 and 2007. In 2006, he was the Head Athletic Trainer for USA Baseball's 16-and-under team that captured the gold medal at the Pan Am Games in Barquisimeto, Venezuela.

Hoffer earned his master's of science degree in Sports Administration and Health Promotion from Northwestern (La.) State University in 2005. During his two years at NSU, Hoffer worked with football, track and field and baseball. In 2005, he was the trainer for the Demons baseball team that won the Southland Conference Championship under then-head coach Mitch Gaspard and earned an at-large bid to the NCAA Regionals in Baton Rouge, La.

He earned his bachelor's of arts degree in Exercise Physiology with an emphasis in Athletic Training from the College of St. Scholastica in Duluth, Minn., in 2003. Hoffer was a four-year letterman on the men's tennis team that advanced to the Region Finals all four years (2000-03) and earned the Region Championship in 2001. He also worked as a student athletic trainer.

A native of Minneapolis, Minn., Hoffer attended The Academy of Holy Angels in Richfield, Minn. He is engaged to Steph Miettunen, who is currently working on her doctoral degree in pharmacy at the University of Minnesota, with the wedding date set for July 26, 2008. Hoffer was born Dec. 18, 1980.

2007 - Alabama Baseball Season Review

Alabama (31-26, 15-15 SEC) won three of its last four Southeastern Conference series to earn its 11th SEC Tournament berth in 13 years under Coach Jim Wells, but back-to-back losses to Arkansas and Florida at the SEC Tournament ended the Tide's season.

*Senior centerfielder Emeel Salem (Mountain Brook, Ala.) had a solid senior season on and off the field. In addition to being named First-Team All-SEC, First-Team All-South Region (American Baseball Coaches Association) and Third-Team All-American (NCBWA), Salem was the 2007 recipient of the H. Boyd McWhorter SEC Male Scholar-Athlete of the Year and the Lowe's Senior CLASS awards. A first-team Academic All-American selection, Salem was the SEC Baseball Scholar-Athlete of the Year and well as a member of the SEC "Good Works" Team.

*Senior left-hander Brandon Belcher was named the Southeastern Conference Pitcher of the Week, February 12. In his first appearance on the mound since "Tommy John" surgery, Belcher threw 5 2/3 scoreless innings in his 2007 debut against Georgia State on Saturday, Feb. 10. He limited the Panthers to just one single and added six strikeouts after throwing 70 pitches. After allowing a second-inning single, Belcher retired the next 12 GSU hitters in order before leaving the game with two outs in the sixth inning. The start was Belcher's first since May 21, 2005 at Auburn when he suffered an injury that led to surgery. This marks the second time Belcher has won SEC Pitcher of the Week honors in his career. He earned the first award on March 15, 2004 after posting wins over Southern Miss (5.1 IP, 1 H, 0 R, 3 BB, 4 K) and Southeast Missouri State (7 IP, 5 H, 0 R, 0 BB, 8 K) over a five-day span during his freshman season.

*Sophomore right fielder Kent Matthes was named the Southeastern Conference Player of the Week February 19, after hitting .417 (7-for-17) with four home runs and 10 RBI in four games from Feb. 12-18. He wrapped up the week with a 1.275 slugging percentage, a .412 on-base mark and scored six runs. He also added three highlight-reel catches in right field. Matthes hit Alabama's first inside-the-park home run in 12 years in a 7-5 loss to Troy on Feb. 14. He added his second home run of the week against Canisius on Feb. 17 and capped the week with a two home run game against Canisius on Feb. 18.

*Freshman third baseman Jake Smith was named the Southeastern Conference Freshman of the Week on March 19 after his SEC debut against the Tennessee Volunteers. He was also named to the College Baseball Foundation and Hall of Fame National Honor Roll March 21. Smith had a smashing SEC debut against Tennessee, going 5-for-10 (.500) with five runs scored, two home runs and five RBI. He drilled a two-run home run in his first career SEC at-bat in Friday's series opener, sparking the Crimson Tide to a 9-7 win. Smith had four hits and three RBI in the SEC opener. He added another two-run home run in Saturday's series clinching win. For the week, Smith batted .533 (8-for-15) with five runs scored, one double, two home runs and five RBI.

Salem was named the Southeastern Conference Player of the Week on May 14 after his stellar weekend against the sixth-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks. The Mountain Brook, Ala., native capped a stellar home career with a solid weekend against the Razorbacks. Salem hit .533 (8-for-15) in the series win with one home run and three RBI. He also scored three runs and added one double and one stolen base. Salem was 2-for-5 with one RBI in Bama's 10-0 blowout win in the series opener. He went 2-for-5 and scored one run in game two of the series. Salem capped the weekend with a 4-for-5 effort in the series finale with two runs scored, one home run and two RBI. Salem's two-run home run in the sixth inning in the series finale that gave Alabama a 6-4 lead that it never relinquished.

Bernard Robert held LSU to runs and nine hits in seven-plus innings for the win ... Hunter retired all six batters he faced for the save ... Alex Avila had three hits and Jeff Texada added two hits in the loss for Alabama ...

Vanderbilt (April 6-8, 2007 - Hawkins Field - Nashville)

No. 1 Vanderbilt took two of three from Alabama Hawkins Field in Nashville ... It was the Commodores third series win over the Crimson Tide in the last four years ... David Price and Miers Quigley both took shutouts into the eighth inning of the series opener before Vandy broke through with three runs in the bottom of the eighth for the 3-0 win ... Alabama left the bases loaded in the of the inning ... Vandy got home runs from Pedro Alvarez and Dominic de la Osa to win game two ... The Crimson Tide salvaged the final game with a 5-3 win in 10 innings as Matt Bentley stole home (straight steal) with two outs to give Bama the lead ... Kent Matthes tied the game with a two-out single in the ninth ... Alex Avila hit two home runs in the series finale ... The Commodores outscored the Crimson Tide 10-7 in the three-game, pitching dominated series ... The series opener was played with wind chills in the teens and snow fell for the first two innings of the game ... The Tide is now 14-14 (.500) all-time against the No. 1 ranked team, including six series wins.

Georgia (April 13-15 - Sewell-Thomas Stadium - Tuscaloosa)

After dropping the series opener, Alabama bounced back to take the next two games to earn the series win over Georgia ... Stephen Dodson took a shutout into the ninth inning of the opener before Matthes' solo home run made the final score, 4-1 ... Belcher had three hits in the loss ... Bentley's bases-loaded single in the bottom of the ninth inning gave the Tide a 7-6 come-from-behind win in game two of the series ... Salem went 3-for-5 and scored the winning run in the ninth inning as the lead changed hands three times in the final four innings ... Austin Hyatt and a trio of relievers pitched the Tide to series win with a 5-3 win in the finale ... Hyatt, making his first career Southeastern Conference start, gave up a two-run home run to Georgia's two-hole hitter Gordan Beckham in the top of the first inning and then kept the Bulldogs off the scoreboard until his departure with two outs in the seventh ... He allowed allowed two runs and eight hits with two walks and four strikeouts for his second straight SEC win ...

Emeel Salem: 2007 H. Boyd McWhorter SEC Scholar-Athlete Winner

For just the second time in school history, a member of the University of Alabama baseball team has earned the highest academic honor from the Southeastern Conference.

Emeel Salem was named the male recipient of the 2007 H. Boyd McWhorter Scholar-Athlete of the Year. Vanderbilt University track and field athlete Erika Schneble was the female recipient.

"This is so overwhelming and it's such an honor to receive such a prestigious award," Salem said. "I owe all of this to those who have helped me with my academics the past four years. Without them, none of this would be possible."

The two were chosen by a committee of Faculty Athletics Representatives from SEC universities. Both will receive a $10,000 post-graduate scholarship, provided by AT&T. The awards were formally presented to the two student-athletes at the annual Awards Banquet at the league's spring meeting in Destin, Fla. on May 31.

Salem joins former Crimson Tide outfielder and Academic All-American Dr. Jeff Laubenthal as the only two UA baseball players to win the league's highest post-graduate honor. Laubenthal, who now serves as the team physician for the Tide baseball team, won the award in 1992.

"The H. Boyd McWhorter Scholar-Athlete Award is the highest honor a student-athlete can receive in the Southeastern Conference," said SEC Commissioner Mike Slive. "Emeel and Erika have displayed dedication and commitment to success in all phases of their lives that have made them excellent selections for the McWhorter Scholar-Athlete Award. The SEC and AT&T are extremely proud to honor these two student-athletes for their accomplishments."

Salem, a senior from Birmingham, Ala., has earned a 3.85 grade point average, with a double-major in Marketing and Spanish. He is a three-time member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll (2006-07 Spring Honor Roll announced later in spring) and a six-time member of the Dean's and President's List.

Salem also received the 2007 Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award, which honors a male and female student of the graduating class and is considered the highest honor the University of Alabama bestows. It recognizes excellence of character and service to humanity and the practice application of noble ideals.

Salem was also named the 2007 Paul W. Bryant Male Student-Athlete Award winner at the annual Academic Achievement banquet Monday, April 30 in The Zone at Bryant-Denny Stadium. He became the third baseball player to win the coveted Bryant Award, joining Laubenthal (1993) and Lance Cormier (2002) as winners of the award.

He was the 2006 and 2007 SEC Baseball Scholar-Athlete of the Year and member of the 2006 and 2007 SEC Good Works Team from community service. He was also a 2006 and 2007 First-Team Academic All-American by CoSIDA/ESPN the Magazine.

The SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year Award was first presented in 1986. The honor was renamed the H. Boyd McWhorter SEC Scholar-Athletes of the Year in May 1990 to honor the former commissioner who served the conference from 1972-86.

Past Alabama winners include: Julie Estin (gymnastics, 1987), Jeff Laubenthal (baseball, 1992), Meredith Williard (gymnastics, 1997), Kristen Sterner (gymnastics, 2003) and Lauren Imwalle (soccer, 2004).

Emeel Salem: 2007 Lowe's Senior CLASS Award Winner

A model student athlete on the field, in the classroom and in the community, University of Alabama senior centerfielder Emeel Salem (Mountain Brook) has been chosen as the first winner in the baseball division of the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award. Selected by a nationwide vote of coaches, media and fans, the award is presented to college baseball's outstanding NCAA Division I senior student athlete.

The award presentation was made today on ESPN during the first championship round game of the NCAA College World Series in Omaha. Salem, who was a sixth-round draft pick by the Tampa Bay Devil Rays and has reported to Fishkill, N.Y. for the beginning of his professional career, was in Omaha with his parents, Emeel and Jenny Salem, to accept the award.

Earlier this year, Lowe's announced the addition of baseball and three other NCAA sports to the award program that originally was launched in 2001 with basketball. An acronym for Celebrating Loyalty and Achievement for Staying in School, the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award has grown into the nation's premier tribute to college seniors.

The award identifies personal qualities that define a complete student athlete, with criteria including excellence in the classroom, character and community, as well as competition in sports.

"This is truly an honor for me," said Salem, a two-time Academic All-American. "To win such a prestigious award is very humbling. I have always taken my school work and off-the-field matters very seriously. I am truly honored."

On the field, Salem produced a .351 batting average as a senior to earn First Team All-Southeastern Conference honors. He finished his career with 142 consecutive starts in centerfield and set all-time Alabama career records for stolen bases (76) and triples (13).

In the classroom, he double-majored in Marketing and Spanish, carrying a 3.85 GPA. His community service has been constant, ranging from leadership roles in Life Skills programs, youth camps and student athlete advisory committees, to being a Katrina Relief volunteer, and even reaching outside the borders with a missions trip to Nicaragua and Venezuela with Athletes in Action.

Salem recently received the 2007 Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award, the highest honor the University of Alabama offers. He was a recipient of the 2007 H. Boyd McWhorter Southeastern Conference Male Scholar-Athlete Award and has twice been named the SEC Baseball Scholar-Athlete of the Year. He is an 8-time member of both the UA President's List and the UA Dean's List. In all, Salem has earned more than $20,000 in post-graduate scholarships this year, believed to be the most by an student-athlete in school history.

Emeel Salem

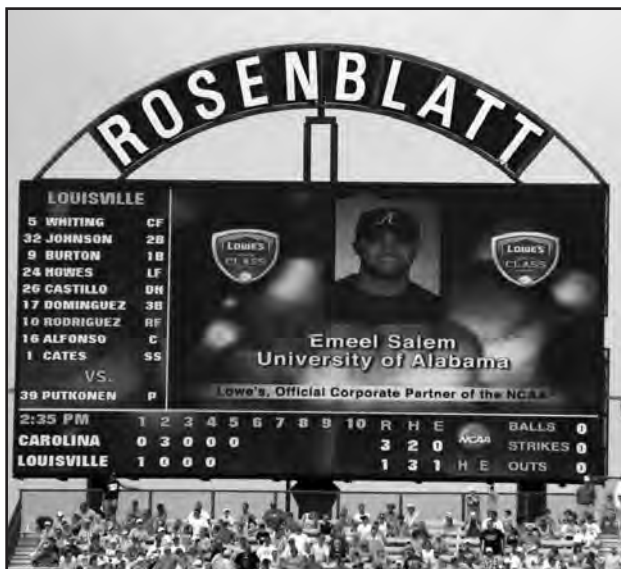

"Emeel Salem is a quality person and very deserving of this honor," said Jim Wells, former head baseball coach at Alabama. "While he is a great baseball player, he is a better student and even better person. Emeel represents what the student-athlete is all about. He had a solid career at Alabama. I am very proud of his accomplishments, both on and off the field."

"We at Lowe's are extremely excited to award the Senior CLASS Award because it is about so much more than honoring talented athletes," said Bob Gfeller, SVP of Marketing and Advertising at Lowe's. "The Lowe's Senior CLASS Award is about acknowledging hard-working students who embody the spirit of college athletics. Emeel has set a great example for us on the field, in the classroom and in the community as he reflects on the goals he has accomplished and the promising future ahead of him."

The Lowe's Senior CLASS Award also names an All-Senior All-America Team based on voting results of the finalists. Joining Salem on the 2007 First Team are: Bryan Henry of Florida State, Austin Adams of Texas Christian, Andy DeLaGarza of Coastal Carolina and Eric Cattoni of Saint Mary's. The Second Team consists of: Eric Rose of Michigan, Ryan Gryskevich of Bucknell, Brad Mills of Arizona, Keanon Simon of Oklahoma State and Aaron Ivey of Oklahoma.

Sportscaster Dick Enberg, Honorary Chairman of the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award, first conceived the idea of an award for seniors in 2001 in response to the growing trend of men's basketball players leaving school early for the NBA.

Lowe's, an official Corporate Partner of the NCAA, has expanded the Senior CLASS Award program this year to include NCAA Division I men's lacrosse, men's hockey, baseball and softball in addition to men's and women's basketball. The winner in each sport has been announced at the respective NCAA Championship events.

Emeel Salem was recognized at the 2007 College World Series as the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award winner.

Phillip Doyle former All-American placekicker was the Crimson Tide's first Freshman All-American in 1989.

Joe Sewell – 1977 Hall of Fame Member

Joe Sewell had a knack for this “funny game.”

That knack has made him the only player in Crimson Tide baseball annals to be inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in the quaint little town of Cooperstown, NY.

The only other Crimson Tider in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum is New York Yankees legendary broadcaster Mel Allen, who along with Florida alum Red Barber, earned induction in 1978 as the inaugural winner of the Ford C. Frick Award.

Inducted in the Hall of Fame in 1977, Sewell’s career spanned 14 seasons with the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees.

From the moment he left the Capstone as student body president in 1919, Sewell’s major league career was stuff dreams are made.

After leading the Crimson Tide to the 1919 Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship, Sewell was selected by the Indians and signed with the New Orleans, La., team in the Southern Association.

The Titus, Ala., native made his major league debut with the Indians in the heat of a pennant drive in 1920, after their everyday shortstop was killed after being hit with a submarine pitch. Sewell rose to the challenge and batted .329 over the final 22 games of the season to help the Indians clinch the American League pennant.

Alongside future Hall of Famers Stanley Coveleski, Tris Speaker and Bill Wambagass, Sewell and the Indians disposed of the Brooklyn Robins in seven games, taking the 1920 series five games to two.

Sewell batted only .174 (4-for-23) in his first trip to the fall classic, but was solid in the field in all seven games helping the Indians lay claim to the World Series title.

He played 11 years for the Indians before joining the New York Yankees roster for the final three years of his outstanding major league career.

Sewell once again tasted greatness with Yankees in 1932, when New York beat the Chicago Cubs in the most talked about World Series in history.

The Yankees won 107 games in 1932 and swept the Cubs in the best-of-seven fall classic. The Yankees took the first two games at Yankee Stadium (12- and 5-2) before moving to Wrigley Field for games three and four.

In game three, Babe Ruth, a teammate and close friend of Sewell, made baseball history. And his fifth inning at-bat off Chicago hurler Charley Root is still the most talked about home run in baseball history.

Ruth slugged a three-run home run in the first inning and legend has it that after taking two called strikes in his third at-bat, the Sultan of Swat then pointed to center field before he slammed a two-run home run over the head of Johnny Moore for what has become the most debated home run in the history of the fall classic.

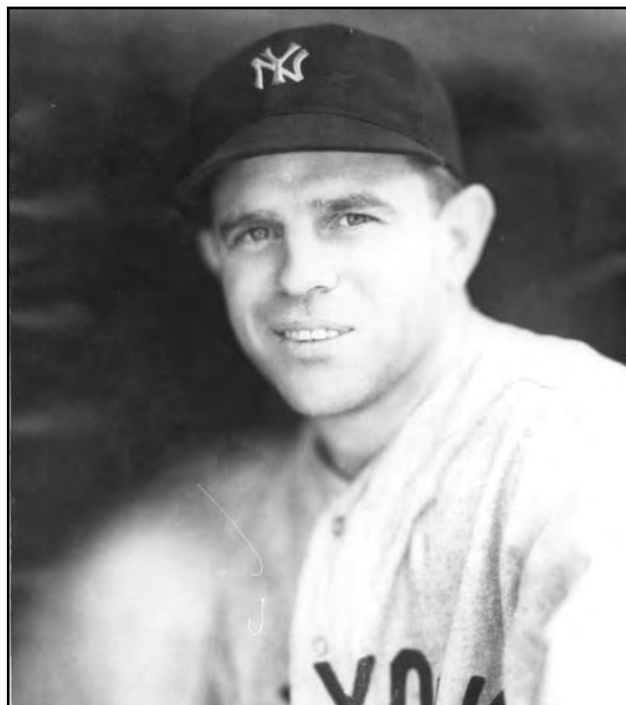

The Yankees won the game 7-5 and then closed out the Cubs the following day (13-6) to win the 1932 World Championship.

In a lineup filled with Hall of Famers from Frank Crosetti to Bill Dickey to Lou Gehrig to Ruth, Sewell batted .333 (5-for-15) in the four games with six runs scored and two RBI. He was on base when Ruth slugged his first inning home run in game three and witnessed the famed “called shot” from the Yankees dugout.

Sewell was also close friend and roommate with Yankee legend Lou Gehrig, whose career was tragically cut short due to ALS in the 1930s.

In 14 major league seasons, Sewell batted .312 (2,226-of-7,132) with 1,051 career RBI. He played in nearly 2,000 career games and logged over 7,000 at-bats for the Indians and Yankees. He also had more than 2,000 hits, 1,000 runs scored and 1,000 RBI.

He hit .300 or better in 10 of his 14 seasons in the big leagues. His best season was 1923 when he batted .353 (195-for-553) with the Indians. He collected a career-high 204 hits with the Indians in 1925, when he posted a .336 (204-for-608) batting average.

An outstanding fielder, Sewell led the American League in put-outs and assists four times in his career and led the league in fielding percentage three times.

A “singles hitter” overshadowed by some the game’s greatest sluggers, Sewell set five major league records that continue to pass the test of time: fewest strikeouts in a season (3, two times); consecutive games without a strikeout (115 games); consecutive at-bats without a strikeout (437 at-bats); most seasons of 500 or more at-bats with fewer than four strikeouts (4); fewest career strikeouts (114).

Throughout his sparkling 14-year career at the pinnacle of the baseball profession, Sewell turned in numbers that are simply amazing to the average baseball fan. For instance, his 114 career strikeouts in over 7,000 career at-bats averages out to one strikeout for every 63 at-bats, one strikeout in every 16 games played.

And still years later, in 1964, at age 66, Sewell, a Tuscaloosa resident and businessman since his college days, took over the Crimson Tide’s baseball program as head coach. In his seven-year tenure, Alabama compiled a 114-99 (.535) record, which included the 1968 SEC Championship and a trip to the NCAA District III Playoffs in North Carolina.

Sewell was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in 1977, along with Ernie Banks, Martin Dihigo, Pop Lloyd, Al Lopez and Amos Rusie.

He is one of 11 Alabama natives to be enshrined in Cooperstown, joining fellow legends Hank Aaron (Mobile), Monte Irvin (Columbia), Heinie Manush (Tuscumbia), Willie Mays (Westfield), Willie McCovery (Mobile), Satchel Paige (Mobile), Ozzie Smith (Mobile), Don Sutton (Clio), Billy Williams (Whistler) and Early Wynn (Hartford).

Sewell died on March 6, 1990 in Mobile, Ala., after a lengthy illness. At the time of his death he was the oldest living baseball Hall of Famer at 91 years of age.

Crimson Tide Baseball

Mel Allen – 1978 Ford C. Frick Award

Mel Allen is as much a part of the national pastime as the squeeze play, hot dogs, and pennants flapping in the breeze. And he never played in the big leagues. Instead he called the game, and that allowed the fans to play the games over and over in their minds. His voice is the voice that millions of fans associate with the game of baseball.

Born Melvin Allen Israel, the son of a traveling textile representative in Birmingham, and raised all over Alabama, he was a spindly student manager for the Crimson Tide football and baseball teams when he got his chance to announce games.

His first assignment behind the microphone was doing play-by-play of a football game between Tulane and Alabama, his beloved alma mater.

While a student at The University of Alabama, he sold shoes, coached speech and debate, and ultimately earned his law degree before winning an audition to announce in New York for CBS Radio.

After winning that audition with CBS in 1936, Allen broadcast his first World Series for the network in 1938. He joined the Yankees the following year and stayed for 25 more, delighting millions of baseball fans with his warm sign-on -- "Hello, everybody!" -- and his trademark phrases "How about that!" and "Going, going, gone!"

Allen was the Voice of the New York Yankees from 1939 to 1964, the team that aroused more passion than any other in baseball. With his vivid phrases and pleasing Alabama drawl, he called many of the great events in the game: the Babe's good-bye, Larsen's perfect game in the 1956 World Series, Mantle's heroics, Maris' record-shattering summer (1961), Casey's barbs, Yogi's convoluted pronouncements.

"Mel Allen meant as much to Yankee tradition as legends like Ruth, Gehrig, DiMaggio and Mantle," Yankees owner George Steinbrenner said. "He was the Voice of the Yankees."

In an era before television, millions of radio listeners around the nation saw the game through the descriptions of this thoughtful and articulate Alabamian who prided himself on being both a reporter and storyteller.

Allen moved to the Milwaukee Braves in 1965, went on to broadcast for the Cleveland Indians and handled a variety of assignments for NBC. He returned as the Voice of the New York Yankees in 1970s and began a 19-year association with This Week in Baseball as host of the popular program.

In his 58 years of sports broadcasting, Allen did it all. He called thousands of Yankees games, 24 Major League Baseball World Series, 20 All-Star Games, 14 Rose Bowls, five Orange Bowls, two Sugar Bowls, and over 2,000 newsreels.

A winner of numerous industry, listener and viewer awards, Allen is a member of National Baseball Hall of Fame (as the first Ford C. Frick winner in June, 1978), National (USA) Sportswriters and Broadcasters Hall of Fame (March, 1972), The American Sportscasters Association Hall of Fame (1985), The Radio Hall of Fame (1988), The Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, The University of Alabama Communication Hall of Fame (1995) and was enshrined to Monument Park at Yankee Stadium (July 25, 1999).

Once he sat next to a weakened Lou Gehrig in the dugout before a game. Gehrig would soon die from the disease that forced his emotional, early farewell from the game.

"Mel, sometimes your descriptions of the game are the only thing that keeps me going."

Mel went into the tunnel and cried like a baby.

How about that?

David Magadan - Golden Spikes Award

Not before or since has an Alabama baseball player had a season at the plate like David Magadan did in 1983.

The Alabama junior shattered school and Southeastern Conference records that still stand today in becoming the 1983 Golden Spikes Award winner, presented annually by the United States Baseball Federation.

Magadan, who concluded the 1983 season with six school career records (at-bats, runs, hits, RBI, doubles, total bases and batting average), was a major contributor in Alabama's national runner up spot to Texas at the College World Series. In addition, he paced the Crimson Tide to the NCAA South Region and Southeastern Conference titles en route to a 46-11 record, one the most successful campaigns in school history.

He batted an incredible nation-leading .525 (114-for-217) as a junior, was voted the 1983 College "Player of the Year" by Baseball America, and led the team in hits (114), doubles (31), total bases (180) and slugging percentage (.829) during his record-setting campaign.

Magadan was a consensus First-Team All-America selection by The American Baseball Coaches Association, The Sporting News, Baseball America and The National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association during the 1983 season and was a three-time All-SEC selection at the Capstone.

He hit safely in his initial 27 games as a freshman in 1981 and batted an incredible 10-for-11 (.909) at the 1983 SEC Tournament in Starkville, which included a five-hit game (2 doubles, 2 HRs) against Florida in second-round action en route to being named the Most Valuable Player. He also set the CWS record by hitting safely in his first eight trips to the plate and wound up batting .550 (11-for-20) at Omaha in five games.

After his freshman season at Alabama, he led his American Legion team to the 1981 American Legion World Series Championship and in the process was named the "Sports Club Amateur of the Year" when Tampa Post 248 won the national title. Magadan is also recognized in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum for his amateur accomplishments in 1981.

The Tampa, Fla., native played in 162 games in his Alabama career and batted .439 (268-for-610) with 64 doubles, 14 home runs and 188 RBI. His .439 batting average still ranks among the leaders in Division I baseball and still sits atop the SEC standings as the highest career average in league history.

Magadan still holds Alabama records for highest single-season batting average (.525, 1983), highest career batting average (.439, 1981-83), single-season hits (114, 1983), single-season (31, 1983) and career doubles (64, 1981-83) and single-season RBI (95, 1983).

He also set the Alabama standards for highest batting average for a freshman (.399, 1981) and junior (.525, 1983) and most RBI (95, 1983) by a junior.

Magadan also shares the single-game record with five hits, a feat he accomplished an Alabama record three times against Alabama Christian (April 16, 1983), Florida (May 13, 1983) and Arizona State (June 4, 1983).

He was drafted by the Boston Red Sox out of Tampa's Jesuit High School and then was one of six UA players taken in the 1983 MLB Draft. He signed with the New York Mets and was assigned to the Columbia (SC) Mets in the Class A South Atlantic League in his first pro ball assignment. In that first summer, Magadan batted .336 with three home runs and 32 RBI for the Class A Mets.

Magadan made his major league debut against the Chicago Cubs on Sept. 17, 1986 as the starting first baseman at Shea Stadium. In the game, Mags went 3-for-4 with two RBI, including the game-winner in the eighth inning that clinched the National League Eastern Division title for the eventual World Champions.

In 1990, he finished third in the NL batting race with a career-best .328 (148-for-451) average.

He played 15 years in the Major Leagues before retiring from the game after the 2000 season. In those 15 seasons, he batted .289 (1,165-for-4,031) with 41 home runs and 483 RBI in 1,491 career big-league games.

After his playing days, he was named roving minor league hitting instructor by the San Diego Padres before being promoted as the hitting coach for the National League San Diego Padres prior to the 2003 season.

Crimson Tide Baseball

Andy Phillips - Dick Howser Finalist

Andy Phillips is clearly the most decorated player in the history of Alabama baseball.

A member of coach Jim Wells' first signing class, Phillips rewrote the UA record books and in the process took the Crimson Tide baseball program to new heights with three trips to the College World Series in his four-year career.

His impact was not limited to the Crimson Tide baseball family as his talents were recognized nationally by writers, broadcasters and professional scouts.

A consensus All-America selection as a senior, Phillips was named the 1999 National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association District III Player of the Year and finished runner up to Baylor's Jason Jennings as the winner of the Dick Howser Trophy, presented by the NCBWA to the best player in college baseball.

Florida State's Marshall McDougal, Cal State Fullerton's Spencer Oborn and Rice's Mario Ramos were also finalists for the Howser Trophy, named for the former Florida State infielder and Kansas City Royals manager.

Phillips was also named First-Team All-American by the NCBWA as well as member of the 1999 NCBWA Super All-American squad.

In addition to the NCBWA honors, Phillips was also named First-Team All-American by College Baseball Insider and was Third-Team All-America selection by Baseball America, Collegiate Baseball and the American Baseball Coaches Association.

The Demopolis native wrapped up his Alabama career as the school record-holder in eight career statistical categories, including most games played (244), games started (224), at-bats (904), runs scored (222), total hits (322), home runs (61), RBI (226) and total bases (590).

In addition, he ranked second in career doubles (63) and triples (11), and was third in assists (537) and 10th in walks (86).

As a senior in 1999, Phillips set the standard of excellence for Crimson Tide baseball. He played in 64 games and batted .398 (103-for-259) with 22 home runs and 66 RBI. Phillips also added 71 runs scored 22 doubles, 30 walks and 16 stolen bases for an Alabama team that captured the SEC Tournament Championship and finished third at the College World Series.

He also set Alabama single-season records for total bases (203) and set records for most home runs (22) and RBI (66) by a shortstop at Alabama. The 22 home runs are the most by an Alabama senior.

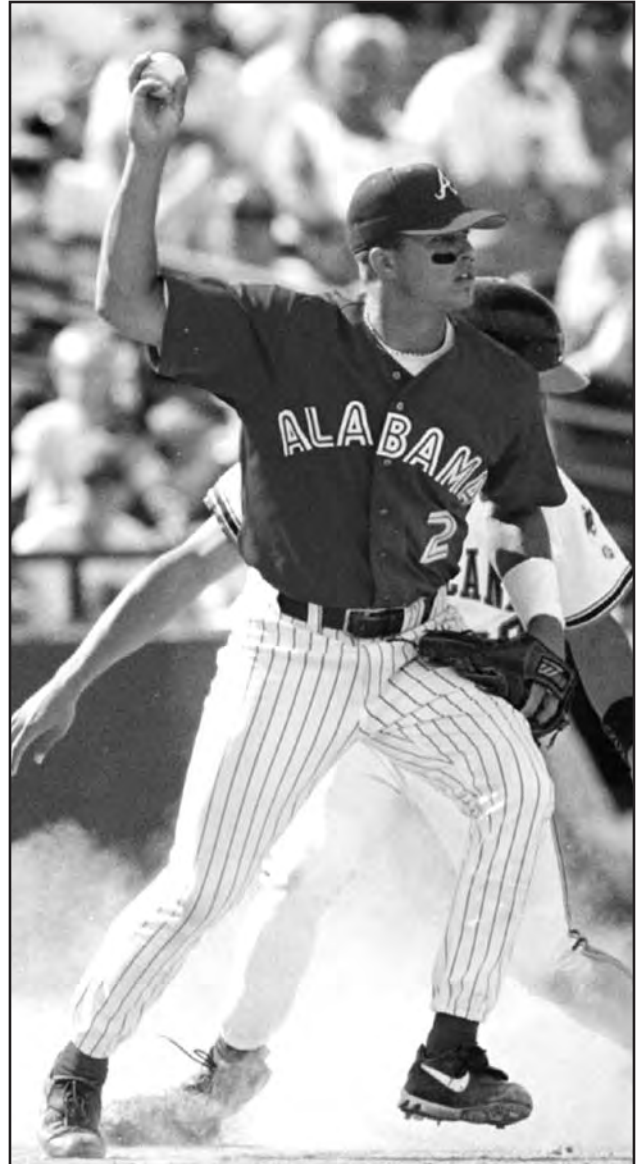

The former Tide shortstop also set the SEC record with a 36-game hitting streak during his final season at Alabama, breaking the old standard of 33 games held by LSU second baseman Todd Walker (1993).

During his record-setting hitting streak, Phillips batted .407 (66-for-162) with 17 home runs and 45 RBI.

In 1998, he was named The Sporting News National Player of the Week (April 1, 1998) when he batted .500 (8-of-16) with six runs scored, three home runs and 11 RBI in wins over Southern Miss and Miss. State.

Phillips was just as successful off the field, earning his degree from Alabama in 1999. He was an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and is accomplished singer. Twice during his career he sang the National Anthem prior to a Crimson Tide home game at Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

A three-time All-SEC selection, Phillips was also named to the 1999 SEC Good Works Team for his many hours of community service.

Jeremy Brown - Johnny Bench Award

The most decorated catcher in University of Alabama baseball history, Jeremy Brown was named the winner of the 2002 Johnny Bench Award, presented annually by the Greater Wichita Area Sports Commission to the nation's best catcher.

"The Greater Wichita Sports Commission would like to congratulate all of the award finalists and especially Jeremy Brown, the 2002 Johnny Bench National Collegiate Catcher of the Year," Bob Hanson, President and CEO of the Greater Wichita Sports Commission, said. "Jeremy represents the University of Alabama in a remarkable manner."

Brown edged out Southern California junior Alberto Concepcion and University of Houston junior Chris Snyder to win the 2002 award.

"Wow, this is great," Brown said upon receiving the 2002 Johnny Bench Award. "I'd like to thank my family and my coaches for all of their support over the past four years. It's truly an honor to receive this award from the best acatcher of all time, Mr. Johnny Bench."

It is the highest honor awarded to an Alabama baseball player since David Magadan earned the 1983 Golden Spikes Award, presented annually to the best player in college baseball.

The Golden Spikes award is the baseball equivalent to college football's Heisman Trophy award.

Bench, a native of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Major League Baseball Hall of Famer, was on hand to present the award. Bench was the starting catcher for the Cincinnati Reds back-to-back World Series championship teams in 1975 and 1976.

Former Los Angeles Dodger first baseman Steve Garvey delivered the keynote address to more than 350 people in attendance at the Grand Eagle Ballroom at the downtown Wichita Hyatt Regency hotel. The banquet recognizes the achievements and dedication of local youth, high school, college and professional coaches in the Wichita area.

Brown was joined in attendance by his mother, Lila, and younger brother Dustin. Alabama head baseball coach Jim Wells was also in attendance to see his All-American catcher win the award symbolizing the best college catcher in the nation.

A two-year starter behind the plater for Alabama, Brown was a runner up to Baylor's Kelly Shoppach in the 2001 voting, is one of two Southeastern Conference catchers to win the Johnny Bench Award, joining LSU's Brad Cresse, who won the inaugural award in 2000.

A native of Hueytown, Ala., he appeared in 66 games for Alabama as a senior and compiled a .320 average (70-for-219) with 11 home runs and 64 RBI. He also set the UA single season record with 69 walks, surpassing the previous total of 66 walks held by Bret Elbin in 1983.

Brown made only one error for Alabama in his final 119 games at the Capstone. He set the UA single-season record with a 1.000 fielding percentage in 2001 and made only one error in 2002, compiling a .998 fielding clip.

He was second in the SEC with seven pickoffs and ranked among the league leaders by throwing out 43 percent of his attempted base stealers.

A first-round pick of the Oakland Athletics, Brown concluded his UA career as the all-time leader for games played (251), games started (251), runs scored (244), walks (207) and putouts (1,660). He is the only player in SEC history with 300 career hits (307) and 200 career walks (207).

In addition, Brown was named Second-Team All-America by the National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association and was a First-Team All-SEC pick for the second consecutive year.

Brown was also chosen as the District III Player of the Year by the National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association and was a finalist for the 2002 Dick Howser Trophy, presented by the St. Petersburg Area Chamber of Commerce and Verizon.

Crimson Tide Baseball

Beau Hearod - District III Player of Year

Beau Hearod went where few University of Alabama players had gone before.

The slugger from Jennings, La., had a phenomenal season and in the process led the Southeastern Conference in both home runs (20) and RBI (82) in his final campaign with the Crimson Tide.

A first-team All-SEC selection Hearod became the first Alabama player to lead the SEC in home runs since Doug Duke smacked a league-leading 27 four-baggers as a junior in 1986. Overall, Hearod was just the fourth player in Alabama history to lead the league in home runs, joining Stan Moss (7, 1968), Butch Hobson (13, 1973) and Duke as the league's home run champ.

Hearod was also the first Crimson Tide slugger to lead the league in RBI since Duke's league best total of 82 RBI in 1986.

After putting up those staggering numbers during the rugged 62-game season, which included 34 games against SEC teams, Hearod was tabbed as the District III Player of the Year by the NCBWA, marking the second consecutive year and the third time since the inception of the award in 1999 an Alabama player has been bestowed player of the year honors in District III.

Former UA catcher Jeremy Brown, a first-round draft selection by the Oakland Athletics and 2002 Johnny Bench award winner, was named the 2002 District III Player of the Year following an outstanding senior season. Andy Phillips, the school's all-time home run leader, won the inaugural District III Player of the Year award in 1999 and was one of the three finalists for the prestigious Dick Howser Trophy, which is presented to the NCBWA Player of the Year.

Other 2003 district winners included Boston College pitcher Chris Lambert (District I), St. John's outfielder Mike Rozema (District II), South Carolina lefty David Marchbanks (District IV), Ohio State pitcher Scott Lewis (District V), Nebraska first baseman Matt Hooper (District VI), Tulane first baseman and left hand pitcher Michael Aubrey (District VII) and Southern University shortstop Richie Weeks (District VII), New Mexico first baseman Billy Belcher (District VIII) and Arizona State shortstop Dustin Pedrioa (District IX).

From the ranks of these standouts, Southern University's Rickie Weeks was named the winner of the 2003 Dick Howser Trophy.

As a senior, Hearod started all 62 games for the Crimson Tide and batted .346 (80-for-231) with 20 home runs and 82 RBI. He was also named the Most Valuable Player of the 2003 SEC Tournament at the Hoover Met, leading the Crimson Tide to its second straight post-season title and sixth under coach Jim Wells.

Hearod ranked ninth nationally in home runs (20) and 17th nationally with 0.32 home runs per game. He was sixth in total RBI and ninth with 1.32 RBI per game. He also led the SEC and ranked 27th nationally with a whopping .719 slugging percentage.

In his three-year career with Alabama, Hearod played in 177 games and batted .327 (210-for-643) with 40 home runs and 191 RBI. He also added 141 runs scored, 43 doubles, five triples, 61 walks and compiled a .595 career slugging mark.

He also wrapped up his UA career with five grand slams, one shy of the school, SEC and NCAA record held by Mike Pitisci in 1984.

Wade LeBlanc – Freshman of the Year

Wade LeBlanc had a freshman season like no other in the 111-year history of the University of Alabama baseball program.

The talented freshman left-hander racked up just about every post-season award available as he became the first rookie in Crimson Tide baseball history to earn National and SEC "Freshman of the Year" honors.

He was tabbed the 2004 National Freshman of the Year by Collegiate Baseball newspaper after being named the 2004 SEC Freshman of the Year at the conclusion of the regular season.

"That's unreal," LeBlanc said when told of the news via telephone. "I thought I had a pretty good season, but the way it ended (against Miss. State), I did not think I had any chance. I thought I had the ability to have a good season, but nothing quite like this."

LeBlanc said he thought the turning point in the season was the back-to-back wins against No. 6 LSU and No. 10 Florida in early May. He beat LSU 8-2 on May 1 in Baton Rouge and then shutout the high-powered Gators in Tuscaloosa on May 7, allowing just four hits and striking out nine batters.

"I guess the LSU and Florida games back-to-back really told me what kind of season I was having," he said. "This whole season was crazy, I never thought I would have a year like this and be named National and SEC Freshman of the Year. This is a great honor."

LeBlanc finished his outstanding freshman season as he set Alabama freshman records for innings pitched (112.2), strikeouts (98) and complete games (8) and tied the UA freshman record with eight wins on the mound.

In 16 games, including 15 starts, LeBlanc posted an 8-4 record and 2.08 ERA this season. He worked 112 2/3 innings and allowed 87 hits, 37 runs and 26 earned runs, with 26 walks and 98 strikeouts. He also threw eight complete games and pitched three shutouts for the Crimson Tide.

In addition to his freshman records, LeBlanc also ranks among the school's Top 10 single-season leaders in several categories.

His eight complete games tied Gene Lary (1955) for second place on the school's single-season list. The three shutouts also tied Mike Innes (1968) and Drew Blocker (1974) for third-place on the single-season shutout charts.

LeBlanc's 112 2/3 innings pitched tied Dean Hayes (1983) for seventh place on the single-season innings list. The 98 strikeouts tied Jarrod Kingrey (1998) and Steve Shoemaker (1994) for 10th place on the single-season charts at UA.

In addition, LeBlanc was tabbed a Third-Team All-American by both the National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association (NCBWA) and Baseball America. He was the only freshman named to the 2004 Baseball America All-American team.

LeBlanc was also named to the 2004 Freshman All-SEC team and was a Second-Team All-SEC selection as voted by the league's 12 head coaches.

SEBaseball.com tabbed also tabbed him as the 2004 SEC Freshman of the Year as well as a First-Team All-SEC selection.

LeBlanc was also selected to the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) All-South Region team.

2008 SEC Tournament

The Southeastern Conference Baseball Tournament returns for a 11th straight year to Regions Park in the south-Birmingham city of Hoover, Ala., May 21-25.

The SEC Tournament will follow an eight-team double elimination tournament that is modeled after the College World Series. The tournament field includes the top teams from the SEC's Eastern and Western Divisions plus six at-large bids based on conference winning percentage.

The eight teams are seeded 1-8 with the two divisional champions guaranteed of the top two seeds. Last season, Vanderbilt defeated Arkansas 7-4 to claim their first SEC Tournament since 1980. Regions Park serves as home of the Double-A Birmingham Barons (Chicago White Sox) of the Southern League. The stadium also serves as a home field to the nationally renowned Hoover Buccaneer high school football program.

Located eight miles south of Birmingham, Regions Park is regarded by many sports experts as one of the best of its kind in the nation. It seats 10,800 for baseball, but can accommodate over 16,000 when the patio, banquet and side grassy areas are used. The stadium also houses 12 suites and state-of-the-art dressing and training rooms. Wireless internet access was added in 2004, concourse and signage renovation was done in 2005 and a second-level pressbox expansion, new stadium seating and an exterior facelift in 2007 completed a $4.5 million renovation project. A new video scoreboard is set to be added for 2008.

The 2007 SEC Baseball Tournament, held in Hoover, Ala. drew nearly 90,000 fans. Four times time in the last six years the tournament has surpassed the six-digit mark in total attendance. The 2002 SEC Baseball Tournament total attendance of 124,440 was the largest total in tourney history. The championship game pulled in 13,023 and was the second largest title game crowd in tournament history. It was also the third largest single game attendance in tourney history at the time. The 2003 SEC Baseball Tournament total attendance of 122,393 was the second largest total in tourney history, barely behind the 2002 event. New session and per game average records were also set in 2003.

Tickets for the 2008 tournament are $100 for reserved box seats, $17 for a single-game reserved seat, $60 for a Dr Pepper Six-Pack general admission book, and $12 for a single-game general admission.

The SEC athletic directors recently decided to extend, for five years, the SEC's contract to hold the baseball tournament at Regions Park. The Southeastern Conference will keep its baseball tournament in suburban Birmingham through 2011 with the newly signed deal.

The SEC Tournament will be held at the Hoover Met through the 2011 season.

1. Two-Team Tie: When two teams are tied for a finish, the following procedure will be used (in the following order until the tie is broken):

A. Won-lost results of head-to-head competition between the two tied teams.

B. If they are divisional opponents:

1. Won-lost percentage within their division (over the 15-game SEC division schedule).

2. Won-lost percentage of the two teams versus the No. 1 team in their division (and proceeding through the No. 6 team, if necessary).

C. If two teams are not divisional opponents:

1. Won-lost record of the two teams versus the No. 1 seed using common opponents only (and proceeding through the No. 8 seed, if necessary).

2. Coin flip by the Commissioner.

2. Three-Team Tie (or more): When three or more teams are tied for a finish, the following procedure will be used (in descending order until the tie is broken): Once the tie has been reduced to two teams, the two-team tiebreaker procedure as stated in No. 1 above will be used.

A. If all three teams are common opponents: Total won-lost percentage of games played among the tied teams.

B. Won-lost percentage of the tied teams versus the No. 1 seed and proceeding through the No. 8 seed, if necessary, using common opponents only.

C. If three or more teams still are tied, the Commissioner will conduct a draw.

SEC TOURNAMENT HISTORY:

Alabama is 47-38 (.552) all-time in SEC post-season play, dating back to its first appearance in the 1950 SEC Playoffs, a best-of-five series against Eastern Division champ Kentucky.

The Crimson Tide is 37-27 (.578) since the league adopted a tournament format in 1977.

Coach Jim Wells has posted an impressive 29-11 (.725) record at the SEC Tournament, including an SEC record six post-season titles.

Alabama won championships in 1983, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1999 and 2002, with the last five coming under Wells' watch.

In SEC Tournament games played at the Hoover Met, Alabama has compiled a 25-12 (.676) record under Wells, winning the championship in 1996, 1999, 2002 and 2003.

SEC TOURNAMENT CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES:

Alabama is a perfect 7-0 (1.000) in SEC Tournament Championship game appearances, winning the title in 1983, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1999, 2002 and 2003.

2003	Alabama 10, LSU 3	Hoover, Ala.

Jim Wells and Skip Bertman have combined to win 12 SEC Tournament Championships.

WELLS HAS WON SIX SEC TOURNEY CROWNS:

Alabama head coach Jim Wells has directed the Crimson Tide to an SEC-record tying six SEC Tournament championships in his first 14 years at the Capstone.

Alabama's 10-3 win over LSU in the 2003 SEC Championship game gave the UA skipper his sixth post-season title, tying his former boss and mentor Skip Bertman for most SEC post-season titles in league history. Bertman, now the Director of Athletics at LSU, led the Tigers to six SEC Tournament championships (1986, 1990, 1992, 1993, 1994 and 2000) during his tenure at LSU.

Legendary Miss. State skipper Ron Polk joins Bertman and Wells as the only coaches in SEC history with four or more SEC Tournament championships in league history.

^ - The South Carolina game snapped the Alabama record and SEC record 273-game scoring streak, dating back to the 1995 season.

+ - Junior Sam Bozanich sets the single-season record for home runs by a second baseman with his 14th and 15th home runs against Samford. The previous record was 14 held by Joe Caruso (1997).

* - Darren Wood hits for the cycle in Alabama's 14-0 win at LSU on the final day of the regular season. Wood's cycle is the second of his career and fourth in school history.

$ - Alabama hit grand slams on three consecutive days at the 2000 Palo Alto Regional.
Ben King (May 26) opened the tournament with a grand slam against Nevada and Scott Mc-Clanahan (May 27) and Jeremy Brown (May 28) each hit one against Stanford. It marked the first time in school history the Crimson Tide hit a grand slam on three consecutive days.
