ALABAMA
PRESIDENT
DR. STUART R.
BELL

Dr. Stuart R. Bell became the 29th president of The University of Alabama in July 2015, bringing with him 30 years of experience in higher education. He had previously served at the Capstone for 16 years as a faculty member and then department head of mechanical engineering.

Since his return, the University has developed and implemented a strategic plan, Advancing the Flagship which elevates institutional focus on academic programs, research and creative activity, inclusion and diversity, as well as the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty and staff. The Capstone has made significant investments in faculty to support the needs of a growing student body and an innovative research institution. Three new interdisciplinary research centers have been established, joining many other centers on campus focused on solving critical, real-world challenges. UA has continued to expand campus facilities and bolster academic and co-curricular programs, all of which draw exceptional students to campus.

Immediately prior to becoming UA's president, Dr. Bell was executive vice president and provost at Louisiana State University. Before his time at LSU, he served the University of Kansas as dean of the School of Engineering. Under his leadership, both institutions opened new facilities and saw great success in student recruitment and retention.

An Abilene, Texas, native, Dr. Bell earned a nuclear engineering degree from Texas A&M University in 1979. He earned his master's and doctorate degrees in mechanical engineering from the same university in 1981 and 1986, respectively.

It was also at Texas A&M that he met and fell in love with his wife, Susan. They have three adult children, Stuart, Stacy and Stephen, and they are the proud grandparents of one granddaughter, with another one due this fall.

ON YOUR CAMPUS...

The University of Alabama knows a thing or two about legends.

Legends have been made in our academic halls, on our athletic fields and courts, and through our endeavors to shape a better world through our teaching, research and service.

UA legends earn prestigious honors, such as Pulitzer Prizes, Emmy Awards, Heisman Trophies and Medals of Honor. They wear names like inventor, entrepreneur, best-selling author, pioneer, CEO, founder and national champion.

Here are just a few of our legends:

Best-selling authors: Harper Lee, "To Kill a Mockingbird"; Winston Groom, "Forrest Gump"; Kathryn Stockett, "The Help"; Mark Childress, "Crazy in Alabama"; and T.S. Stribling, "The Store."

CEO/Chairman of the Board/President: Marillyn Hewson, Lockheed Martin; W.W. Clements, Dr Pepper Company; Sam DiPiazza, PricewaterhouseCoopers; Thom Rainer, Lifeway Christian Resources; Vicki Hollub, Occidental Petroleum.

Pioneers and Founders: Millard Fuller, Habitat for Humanity; Jimmy Wales, Wikipedia; Joe Gibbs, Golf Channel; John Hendricks, Discovery Channel; Janet Gurwitsch, Laura Mercier cosmetics; Morris Dees, Southern Poverty Law Center.

Science: Dr. Edward O. Wilson, biologist, researcher and two-time Pulitzer Prize-winning author; Robert Jemison Van de Graaff, scientist and inventor.

Journalism: Howell Raines, Pulitzer winner at The New York Times; John Cochran, prize-winning television journalist; Rece Davis, ESPN journalist.

It matters where you go to college. The University of Alabama is the fastest growing flagship in the country because of our commitment to excellence and the success of our graduates. For the last 11 years, UA has ranked in the top three for Goldwater Scholars, along with Harvard and Stanford. We also rank in the top three nationally for National Merit Scholars.

Learn more about how you can become a legend at gobama.ua.edu. You can also visit ua.edu/legends to read about more legends from The University of Alabama.

INTRODUCTION

GREG BYRNE

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

One of the most acclaimed and respected administrators in collegiate athletics, Greg Byrne was formally introduced as The University of Alabama's Director of Athletics on January 19, 2017, and officially began his tenure leading the department on March 1.

Byrne's role at Alabama is his third venture at the helm of a major collegiate athletics program. Prior to coming to Alabama, Byrne was Vice President for Athletics at the University of Arizona from 2010-17 and was Director of Athletics at Mississippi State University from 2008-10. With more than 20 years of experience as an athletics administrator, Byrne has fashioned an impressive administrative career hallmarked by consistent success in fundraising, innovative strategies and competitive success with a strong emphasis on academic excellence.

Throughout his career, Byrne has been consistently more impactful and successful with each step up the administrative ladder. As a fundraiser, he has been directly involved in raising more than $200 million in gifts during his career. As a leader of competitive athletics programs, he has fostered major improvements across the spectrum of sports at both programs he has led. A proponent of developing student-athletes into productive people after college, Byrne has led programs that have attained academic success at levels not reached prior to his tenure.

He also has deep experience working in the Southeastern Conference (SEC), having spent 2002 to 2005 at the University of Kentucky as Associate Athletics Director for Development and Fundraising before a four-year stint at Mississippi State (2006-10). From 2006-08, Byrne served as Associate Athletics Director for External Affairs at MSU before becoming Director of Athletics.

Under Byrne's leadership, Arizona Athletics underwent more than $140 million in construction and renovation of athletics facilities. That work was highlighted by the $72 million Lowell-Stevens Football Facility, the addition of two video boards in Arizona Stadium (football), and a new scoreboard in the McKale Center (basketball). Additionally, Byrne oversaw a $30 million renovation of the McKale Center, a project that included upgraded locker rooms, seating, restrooms, concessions, enhanced lighting and a new playing floor.

At Mississippi State, where he was the youngest athletics director in the SEC and the youngest to lead an athletic program at the NCAA Division I-A level, Byrne oversaw the hiring of head football coach Dan Mullen and former head baseball coach and current Director of Athletics John Cohen.

As the son of veteran athletics administrator Bill Byrne, one of the nation's most prominent college sports administrators with 30 years of experience as an Athletics Director, Greg Byrne has been around the enterprise of running successful athletic programs for most of his life.

A native of Pocatello, Idaho, Byrne earned his bachelor's degree from Arizona State University in 1994 and his master's degree from Mississippi State University in 2009. Byrne is married to the former Regina Misa of Junction City, Ore., and the couple has two sons, Nick and Davis.

- Enrollment at The University of Alabama reached a record high of 38,563 for fall 2017. More than 40 percent of UA's 7,407-member freshman class scored 30 or higher on the ACT and 38 percent were in the top 10 percent of their high school graduating class. The entering class carries an average high school grade-point average of 3.72, with 34 percent having a high school GPA of 4.0 or higher.
- The University of Alabama is a leader among public universities nationwide in the enrollment of National Merit Scholars, with more than 500 currently enrolled.
- Ranked among the top 60 public universities in the nation in U.S. News and World Report's annual college rankings. UA's latest college rankings include:
 - The School of Law is ranked 27th among all law schools in the nation (9th among public universities), spring 2018.
 - The School of Library and Information Studies is ranked 28th nationally in the latest rankings for library schools, spring 2018.
- University of Alabama students continue to win prestigious national awards. Fifty-three UA students have been named Goldwater Scholars, including two in 2018. The University of Alabama has produced a total of 15 Rhodes Scholars, 16 Truman Scholars, 33 Hollings Scholars and 13 Boren Scholars.
- Twenty-six current UA faculty have received National Science Foundation CAREER Awards, the nation's most prestigious recognition of top-performing young scientists, in disciplines ranging from nanoscience and engineering to biological sciences.
- UA was awarded a patent for a medical privacy tent developed by engineering students and Crimson Tide Athletics, firmly protecting the tent's capability to expand or collapse on the sideline of a football field.
- Fifteen University of Alabama graduates have accepted Fulbright awards to study and teach abroad during 2018-2019.
- PRWeek Magazine has recognized the public relations program in The University of Alabama's College of Communication and Information Sciences as one of the top five programs in the nation eight times in the past 10 years.
- Students at UA who competed in a NASA robotics contest came away with the top prize for the fourth year in a row in 2018. Alabama Astrobotics took the top prize at the NASA Robotic Mining Competition.
- U.S. News and World Report ranks The University of Alabama's Manderson Online Business Master's programs 13th in the nation.
- Public Accounting Report's 2017 rankings place UA's Culverhouse School of Accountancy's undergraduate program seventh, master's programs ninth and doctoral program seventh in the nation.
- UA's Army ROTC Ranger Challenge team won its second consecutive Brigade Ranger Challenge at Camp Blanding, Florida, in January 2018, defeating 10 other Ranger Challenge teams.
- UA is building a new Performing Arts Academic Center on the historic Bryce property. The $60 million center will provide the theatre and dance department with space for performances and to expand its community programming and outreach.
- UA's Stran-Hardin Arena, a $10 million vanguard facility for adapted sports, was unveiled in January 2018.

BUILT FOR BAMA

WEIGHT ROOM

Alabama's state-of-the-art 37,000-square-foot weight room is a showcase for the Crimson Tide's lauded training programs. The weight room features 21,000-square feet on the lower level and 16,000-square feet on the second floor. The weight room is highlighted by 24 combination racks that have platforms built into the ground for a level surface, providing a safer workout environment, as well as a brand new dumbbell station. The upper level houses cardio stations, medicine balls, office space for team doctors and a rehabilitation center. The complex features a state-of-the-art nutrition bar, video monitor and sound system. The weight room seamlessly connects the Mal Moore Athletics Complex to the Hank Crisp Indoor Practice Facility.

WEIGHT ROOM

LOCKER ROOM/MEETING ROOMS

The facilities at Alabama rowing's display are top-of-the-line. Located in the Student Activity Center at the Presidential Village, the space is home to a 1,750-square-foot locker room and team room. The area also includes a separate 95-square-foot athletics training room and a 500-square-foot meeting room with a super-sized flat screen monitor. Aside from the boathouse at Manderson Landing, this area is home to the day-to-day resources the Crimson Tide athletes can use at their disposal.

LOCKER ROOM

NUTRITION CENTER

Alabama's new state-of-the-art dining facility boasts two floors of serving, dining and lounge space, including two separate outdoor dining areas and a total capacity of 480 people. The facility features 10 cook-to-order stations staffed by five performance chefs and 20-plus assistants. The fuel center that has on-the-go snacks features: fruit salads, yogurt parfaits, freshly made wraps and sandwiches, hot soups, cereals and shakes. The private dining space boasts presentation technology and seating for up to 40 people for pregame meals and nutrition education. The dining facility provides student-athletes with easy access to the Tide's nutrition staff to best assist with performance nutrition goals.

DINING HALL

ROWING ON THE BLACK WARRIOR RIVER

It is one of the best practice and competitive courses in the nation, giving the University of Alabama's young rowing team an immediate boost. The Black Warrior River, where the Crimson Tide practices and competes, features high banks, with long, protected straightaways and minimal current which makes it a rower's dream. The Tide also benefits from having the river largely to itself.

Alabama is also fortunate that the river is dotted with prime viewing areas for dual meets and regattas, including The Park at Manderson Landing, which sits near the finish line of most of the Tide's home events. With its multi-tiered slope down to the edge of the river, the park is a natural 'stadium' for cheering on the Crimson Tide.

Already endowed with one of the nation's top competition and practice venues in the Black Warrior River, the completion of the state-of-the-art boathouse and training facilities encompasses everything the Tide needs to continue moving up through the ranks of collegiate rowing.

These facilities coupled with the already stellar athletic training, strength and conditioning and academic opportunities provided to all Alabama student athletes provide Alabama rowers with the best of all things.

THE BOATHOUSE AT MANDERSON LANDING

Alabama Rowing officially opened its brand-new facilities on Oct. 23, 2014 at the ribbon-cutting ceremony at Manderson Landing on the banks of the Black Warrior River.

Former University President Dr. Judy Bonner and Director of Athletics Bill Battle were on hand as well as UA head coach Larry Davis, his staff and the 2014-15 team. Victoria Croy, a member of the Crimson Tide's inaugural team, represented the rowing alumni while captains Logan O'Neil and Courtney Atkinson along with senior Alyssa Drevenak represented the current team during the ribbon cutting ceremony. Following a short Q&A session with Davis, Croy and O'Neil and the ceremonial ribbon cutting, members of the current team were on hand for tours and answered questions about the facility to the multitude of fans and media members in attendance.

The rowing program's facilities, designed by Ellis Architects and built by Harrison Construction, includes both The Boathouse at Manderson Landing as well as space at the Student Activity Center at the Presidential Village. The boathouse includes a floating dock and storage space for up to 54 shells of varying length. The Student Activity Center includes a 2,200-square-foot ergometer room, a 1,700-square-foot training space, locker rooms, athletic training room, meeting room and coaches' offices.

FACILITY QUICK FACTS

- 11,463-square-foot boathouse
- 140-plus foot floating dock
- Storage racks capable of holding 54 shells
- 2,200 square foot ergometer room featuring 50 ergometers facing four 80-inch HD flat screen televisions to facilitate recording and review technique
- 1,700 square feet of training space on the mezzanine with a "swingulator" training unit to allow rowers to train out of the water as a boat.
- 1,750-square-foot locker room and team room
- 950-square-foot athletics training room
- 500-square-foot meeting room with super-sized flat screen monitor

Alabama's new facilities were officially opened on Oct. 23, 2014

GLENN PUTYRAE

Head Coach

1st Season

WASHINGTON, 1994

Glenn Putyrae, the nine-time West Coast Conference Coach of the Year, was named head rowing coach at The University of Alabama, Director of Athletics Greg Byrne announced on Friday, June 14. Putyrae comes to Tuscaloosa with 19 years of head coaching experience having spent 15 of those over two stints at Gonzaga (1999-2007, 2011-18) and the other four at Georgetown (2007-11).

Putyrae took Gonzaga to new heights, winning five WCC championships over a seven-year span (2013, 2015-18). The team's 2013 league title earned the Zags their first bid in program history into the NCAA championships, where the Bulldogs finished 19th. Gonzaga placed in the top 20 in each of its national meet appearances since then as well, finishing 17th in 2015, 16th in 2016, 19th in 2017 and 18th in 2018. All of this was accomplished with just five scholarships, which is 15 less than the maximum number of scholarships allowed in rowing by the NCAA.

Overall in his 15 seasons at the helm in Spokane, Wash., Putyrae coached four Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association All-Americans and 13 CRCA All-Region/All-Conference selections. Twenty-eight of his student-athletes have been named All-Western Intercollegiate Rowing Association selections, while at a conference level, Putyrae has had four WCC Rowers of the Year, four WCC Newcomers of the Year, seven WCC Coxswains of the Year and 44 All-conference honorees.

Academically, his teams have fared just as well with three student-athletes earning CoSIDA Academic All-District honors, 51 being named CRCA Scholar-Athletes and 80 earning a spot on the WCC All-Academic Team.

In addition to his nine WCC Coach of the Year trophies, Putyrae is a four-time WIRA Coach of the Year, and he and his staff earned CRCA Region 5 Staff of the Year in 2016.

During his four years at Georgetown, Putyrae led the Hoyas to a second place finish (2010), third place finish (2011) and two fourth places finishes (2008, 2009) at the BIG EAST championships. His lightweight squad experienced success as well as the lightweight Varsity 8+ crew secured a spot in the Intercollegiate Rowing Association Championships all four years. The Hoyas finished second at the 2008 IRAs, fifth at the 2009 IRAs and sixth at both the 2010 and 2011 national championships.

Under his watch, Georgetown produced four Pocock Lightweight All-Americans, 10 All-BIG EAST Team selections and 16 CRCA Scholar-Athletes. In both 2008 and 2009, the Hoyas earned the BIG EAST Academic Team Excellence Award, and in 2009, Putyrae and his coaching staff were named BIG EAST Coaching Staff of the Year.

Putyrae's first stint as head coach at Gonzaga began in 1999, when he was named interim head coach after having served as the freshman men's crew coach since 1997. The interim title was removed the following year, and he remained in the position until 2007 when leaving for Georgetown. In those eight seasons, Putyrae led Gonzaga to seven WCC championships and three ECAC Rowing International appearances, winning the national title in 2013.

Putyrae took over his first program in 1994, serving as the freshman men's coach at Washington State. Prior to that, he was a graduate assistant coach for the men's team at the University of Washington.

Putyrae is a 1994 graduate of the University of Washington, and rowed for the Huskies from 1989-93. He later went on to earn a master's degree in education from Washington State University in 1997. Putyrae and his wife, Mollie, have one son, Patrick, and a daughter, June.

James Mulcahy enters his third season with the Tide. His primary duties include working with the Varsity crews and serves as the team's Recruiting Coordinator.

While at the Argonaut Rowing Club, Mulcahy had 28 athletes earn medals at the 2015 Provincial Championships, six at the 2015 Royal Canadian Henley Regatta and four at the 2015 Canadian Indoor Rowing Championships.

He also coached Team Canada at both the 2015 and 2016 CanAmMex Regatta and previously served as the varsity women's rowing coach at the University of Toronto, and as the head coach of the Saskatoon Rowing Club.

Mulcahy was a competitive rower from 2000-08, lettering for four years at Columbia (2005-08) and serving as captain of the Columbia University Varsity Heavyweight Crew during his final three years.

Grace Barbara enters her first year with the Crimson Tide.

A native of Alexandria, Va., Barbara spent two seasons as Louisville's graduate assistant coach (2016-18). She started rowing for T.C. Williams where she was team captain for two years.

For five consecutive years, Barbara medaled at the Virginia State Championships, winning silver at the Stotesbury Cup and gold at the Scholastic Nationals.

She went on to row for Indiana University for four years and was an instrumental factor for the team as it qualified for the 2014 NCAA Championships for the first time in program history, finishing ninth in the 1V4+ and 11th overall.

Upon graduating, Barbara returned to T.C. Williams, coaching the women's 2V to a silver at Stotesbury and bronze and Scholastic Nationals in 2016.

The Launch Party: Tuscaloosa Mayor Walt Maddox, former Director of Athletics Mal Moore, former UA President Dr. Robert E. Witt and Associate Athletics Director Marie Robbins were all on hand for the announcement that Alabama would add rowing as a varsity sport on the banks of the Black Warrior River in the fall of 2005.

A SHORT HISTORY OF ALABAMA ROWING

The Black Warrior River was the scene for the historic inception of Crimson Tide rowing in October 2005. Then, Director of Athletics Mal Moore, accompanied by former University President Robert E. Witt, stood on the river's bank and announced the addition of rowing to the varsity lineup.

With the scenic river behind them, rowing was going to the next level by becoming the 21st varsity sport at the University of Alabama.

LAYING THE FOUNDATION

For over 20-plus years, the sport of rowing had been growing in the Tuscaloosa community and on the national scene. At the Capstone, club rowing began in 1987. Mainly a social club whose intentions were to go out and have fun – among team members there was little, if any previous rowing experience or real desire to succeed on the water.

A few athletes with rowing experience joined the club in 1997, bringing with them a desire for change. The team adopted a more competitive attitude, spent more time practicing, and began expanding its fundraising efforts.

In 1998, Larry Davis and wife, Vicki, moved to Tuscaloosa so she could take on a new job, leaving the former rowing coach looking for local work. When news of the University's co-ed club rowing program's need for a coach came to light, it seemed like a comfortable fit for the former University of Virginia rower. In January 1998, Davis was introduced as the team's volunteer coach.

"Like any club that has never been organized or supervised, there was a learning curve," Davis said. "Many of them had never been in a competitive sport before."

In the meantime, Associate A.D., Marie Robbins and others in the athletics department at Alabama were having discussions about adding a 21st varsity sport. There were a number of candidates to fill the slot, but Robbins, the Tide's senior woman administrator, could not get past the stories she was hearing about a successful club that was making the best of its limited resources a little way up the Black Warrior River.

"We started to delve into the issue about 2003," Robbins said. "We began to talk about the opportunity to add an additional sport for women and provide additional participants the opportunity to compete."

With a program and sport already in mind, it seemed natural to Robbins and those at the University to elevate the program's coach as well. Davis had turned rowing into a grassroots success on campus, building up a team of college students that was bringing home numerous medals, as well as back-to-back points trophies at the Augusta Invitational in Augusta, Ga.

"We looked at a lot of coaches internally and externally and ultimately at the end of the day we decided that coach Davis, in terms of local knowledge and familiarity with the club program and local operation of the river also had a wealth of collegiate experience under his belt," Robbins said. "For coach [Mal] Moore, Larry's loyalty to the university was helpful in that for 10 years he worked in addition to his paid job to volunteer and coach these young ladies who had come out for the club team."

Davis' resume included head coaching jobs at Marist College and the University of Alabama-Huntsville as well as an assistant coaching spot on the 1983 U.S. Men's National Rowing Team. In February 2006, Davis would be able to add one more school to that already impressive list.

For a school with little experience in rowing a seasoned coach like Larry Davis was the obvious answer, Robbins said.

"With Coach Davis, it's local knowledge," she said. "Having been here for 10 years helps those of us with less knowledge about the sport."

STARTING OUT

The transition from club to NCAA Division I proved challenging. The team was forced to move on without former club athletes who could not adjust to the commitment necessary to varsity-level rowing. Davis set up a challenging first-year schedule to help with the transition, including competitions against notable Division-I crews such as Notre Dame and Cincinnati as well as Murray State and Creighton, two schools that had previously beaten Alabama's club team.

"There was no fluff in the schedule, but there were some teams I thought we could beat," Davis said.

To the surprise of many in collegiate rowing, they did just that, defeating past foes Murray State and Creighton and coming from behind to beat the Bearcats of Cincinnati. Alabama medaled in all four events at the Head of the South Regatta, winning two of them. The Tide also beat schools such as North Carolina and Duke while giving Notre Dame a bit of a scare, holding close to them in a couple of events.

Success came quickly to the first-year program despite unfamiliarity with the sport by both the athletes and the athletic department's support staff. Rowing was a sport that Robbins and her colleagues had to learn the nuances of - things such as what equipment and facilities were necessary and how many staff members to hire were among the initial challenges.

"The biggest challenge is attitude," Davis said. "When you're dealing with walk-ons, I think a lot of people don't understand the sport and how much hard work is involved. When you take somebody who is used to a club mentality, the varsity level is much more intense. It takes athletes who are driven, dedicated and committed. It takes a lot of hard work, focus, discipline and sacrifice."

"What I'm asking the students to do is move a boat over a mile and a quarter distance as fast as they can, which means they're running flat out for somewhere near seven minutes," Davis said. "It's enjoyable in one way, but it's very painful. It's not something your average person is going to want to do."

In the classroom, seven rowers earned 2007 Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association Scholar-Athlete Award, while nine earned a place on the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll.

The Tide followed up a successful first season spring with an extremely successful fall, opening the season with a pair of top-three finishes and a silver-medal finish all at the Head of the Charles Regatta.

A gold-medal finish followed at the Hobbs Island Regatta in Huntsville. The team continued to excel in the spring of 2008, winning race after race during the dual-meet season, including a program-first sweep against UNC on their home water at Chapel Hill. Strong dual meets propelled Alabama into the 2008 postseason, where they earned a silver medal at the Southern Intercollegiate Rowing Championships and finished second overall at the SIRA Championships, a major accomplishment for such a young program. At the Dad Vail College Championships, Alabama continued to take big strides, reaching the Grand Final of the Novice 8+ race, taking fourth overall. Individually, Bryn Crawford became the first UA rower to earn a place on the Collegiate Coaches Rowing Association's All-South Region team.

In the classroom, nine rowers earned the Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association Scholar-Athlete Award while 16 were named to the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll.

The Tide kept stride and continued its winning ways, carrying over into its third season, a season emblazoned in bronze, silver and gold. Success came early as the women earned a pair of bronze medals and seven top-10 finishes at the Chattanooga Head Race to open the season. In their second race of the season, the squad split up with the varsity crews heading to Cambridge Mass., for the prestigious Head of the Charles Regatta and the novice crews heading to Huntsville, Ala., for the Hobbs Island Regatta. Both teams experienced great success with the varsity squad placing 10th, beating 35 other teams at one of the most competitive races, while the novice crews brought home first and second place in the Novice 8+ race. The Tide earned five top-three finishes, including a pair of gold medals, at the Head of the Tennessee Regatta. Closing out the fall season, the novice squad performed exceptionally well, bringing home three medals - a bronze, silver and gold - at the Head of the Hooch Regatta.

As the 2009 spring season got under way, Alabama made major strides, achieving success in meets against the likes of Clemson, Kansas State, Tennessee, North Carolina and Southern Methodist. The success against these established crews propelled the team to the postseason, earning two Grand Final berths at the SIRA Championship Regatta. As they continued through the postseason the team would see two crews head to the semifinals and one boat head to the petite finals at the Dad Vail Regatta. The girls advanced four crews to the finals of the South/Central Sprint Championships to cap off a very successful season.

Milestone: One of the early milestones of the Crimson Tide Rowing team was winning a silver medal at the 2007 Head of the Charles Regatta which is one of the largest and most prestigious regattas in the world.

Golden Girls: The Crimson Tide won gold by a course-record time in the Women's Club 4+ at the prestigious Head of the Charles in the fall of 2017.

"This season was a transition where most of the club athletes were gone and we didn't have as many seniors," Davis said. "We increased our boat speed but we also toughened up our schedule. It was probably a little frustrating for the girls because we were going faster but we weren't seeing some of the wins that we saw the year before because we were now rowing a lot of the top-20 teams in the United States."

Academically, nine rowers earned the Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association Scholar-Athlete Award and 24 UA rowers earned a place on the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll.

GROWING THE PROGRAM

From joining Conference USA to enjoying their first gold medal at the Southern Intercollegiate Rowing Association Championships, Alabama rowing's fourth season was a season full of firsts. The first group of four-year seniors provided the Crimson Tide with the most experience at the highest level since the program's start, which paid dividends right away with a bronze medal in the Club 8+ competition at the Head of the Charles Regatta early in the 2009 fall season. Alabama closed out the fall with a gold-medal sweep of the Secret City Regatta races.

Alabama started the 2010 spring season off with a sweep, taking first place in all of its races in a home dual meet against Kansas State. The Tide secured another first by taking gold in the Varsity 4+ at the Southern Intercollegiate Rowing Association Championships.

At the 2010 South/Central Sprint Championships, Alabama earned a place in the finals of all its races. The South/Central Sprints also served as the first Conference USA Rowing Championships, marking the first time that Alabama participated in a conference event. The Tide finished sixth in C-USA while junior Laura Skaggs earned All-Conference USA honors.

On the academic side of the ledger, Alabama was one of only two teams with three rowers on the Conference USA All-Academic Team as seniors Stacey Ogle, Bailey Sanders and Katie Spohr all came away with the honor. Other classroom accolades included 11 rowers, the most of any team in the nation, earning the Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association Scholar-Athlete Award. A program-best 27 Alabama rowers earned a place on the Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll.

The Crimson Tide's fifth season was a quantum leap forward, including top honors at a national regatta and winning a trio of gold medals from the SIRA Championships.

"The 2010-11 season was a huge step forward for us," Davis said. "It was big in terms of knowing what it takes to be competitive and then being able to go out and execute it. I think in the past we might have had an idea of what it took to be successful, but that was the first time we were able to bring it all together and execute on a consistent basis."

Alabama posted a huge win at the 2011 San Diego Crew Classic, an event billed as "America's Premier Spring Regatta," when its First Varsity 8+ boat took first place in its race, winning the SeaWorld Cal Cup. Alabama's squad was among more than 4,000 rowers out on Crown Point Shores on Mission Bay.

"We attacked a bit more than we did in the prelims and had a more aggressive race plan in finals," Davis said after the race. "The Varsity 8+ dug down a little deeper and did what they were capable of doing. They made a really good move about midway through the race, pulling ahead, and really pushed through the third 500."

Following its success at the San Diego Crew Classic, Alabama's Varsity 8+ was named the inaugural Conference USA Boat of the Week as well as Row2K.com's Crew of the Week.

Alabama followed up their 2010 Varsity 4+ SIRA Championships gold medal by repeating the feat in 2011, as well as bringing home gold in the Varsity 8+ and Second Varsity 8+ races, in the midst of rough weather conditions.

"To sweep all the Varsity Open races is a really big step forward for our program," Davis said after SIRAs. "There aren't too many programs that have done that, so we were pretty happy with that."

The Tide was looking forward to carrying its success into the 2011 Conference USA Championships, but the April 27th tornado that ripped through Tuscaloosa cut the academic semester and the rowing team's season short. It also trimmed a dual meet with Clemson and the Tide's second appearance at the C-USA Championships from Alabama's schedule.

"We were certainly disappointed to not be able to carry our success into the postseason, but it was still a very good year for us," Davis said. "To be able to go and travel across the country and compete at a very high level against teams that are making it to the NCAAs, and to turn around and not only win one race but the three open championship races for varsity women at the SIRA Championships, shows that we learned how to execute in a high pressure situation at a high level."

Senior Alissa Kranz earned 2011 All-Conference USA honors and became the second Alabama rower to earn CRCA All-South Region honors. On the academic side of the ledger, Alabama became the only team to put three rowers on the Conference USA All-Academic Team each of the first two years of the program when senior Jessica Allaway, Kranz and junior Stephanie Varner came away with the honor in 2011.

Other classroom accolades included eight rowers earning 2011 Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association Scholar-Athlete Award honors and 17 rowers earning a place on the SEC Academic Honor Roll.

Allaway also earned the 2011 Brad Davis SEC Community Service Award, which earned her a $3,000 postgraduate scholarship while the team received the athletic department's community service award for the fourth year in a row.

Despite having a team slowed by injuries, Alabama's sixth season provided the young program a clinic in fighting through adversity.

In their first race of the 2011-12 fall season, the Chattanooga Head Race, the Tide earned two medals, taking gold in the Novice 8+ race and silver in the First Varsity 8+ race. Alabama also medaled in the Club 8+ race at the prestigious Head of the Charles Regatta.

The 2012 spring season showed improvements, with the Novice 8+ boat taking first place at the Oak Ridge Invitational and the Second Varsity 8+ finishing second.

Returning to the San Diego Crew Classic, Alabama again saw success with the First Varsity 8+ posting fifth- and sixth-place finishes and the Second Varsity 8+ posting a sixth-place finish.

The Tide had a solid showing at the Conference USA Championships, finishing just one point out of sixth place to take seventh overall on Melton Hill Lake. Senior Leigh Ann Terch earned All-Conference USA honors.

On the academic side, Alabama placed two rowers on the 2012 Conference USA All-Academic Team, marking the third year in a row that the Tide placed multiple athletes on the list. Senior Stephanie Varner earned her second consecutive unanimous selection while junior Canella Tinker made her debut.

Other classroom accolades included five rowers earning the Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association Scholar-Athlete Award, while 17 Alabama rowers earned a place on the SEC Academic Honor Roll and 23 were named to the C-USA Commissioner's Honor Roll.

At the beginning of the 2012-13 season, in its seventh appearance at the prestigious Head of the Charles regatta in Cambridge, Mass., Alabama won a bronze medal in First Varsity 8+. The Tide also won gold in the First Varsity 8+ at the 2012 Head of the Chattanooga and bronze at the 2012 Head of the Hooch.

In the spring, the Tide won six total races at the Oak Ridge Cardinal Invitational and posted wins in the First and Second Varsity 4+ on the Black Warrior River against West Virginia and Central Florida.

In its first appearance at the Knecht Cup Regatta, Alabama won the Second Novice 8+ while the Second Varsity 8+ took third.

At the fourth Conference USA Championship, and the first with 11 teams, the Tide took 10th place. Senior Tabitha Coleman earned All-Conference USA honors.

On the academic side, Coleman earned a place on the 2013 Conference USA All-Academic Team.

Other classroom accolades included seven rowers earning the Collegiate Rowing Coaches Association Scholar-Athlete Award while 17 Alabama rowers earned a place on the SEC Academic Honor Roll and 28 were named to the C-USA Commissioner's Honor Roll.

With construction of the brand new facilities under way, the 2013-14 season would be the final year in which Alabama Rowing launched from the north side of the Black Warrior River. The Tide opened its fall season on a strong note, earning first place finishes in the Collegiate 8+ and Novice 8+ at the Chattanooga Head Race. In total, 12 different boats would earn top ten finishes throughout the fall. In the spring, Alabama would take home a combined 34 top-three finishes at the Oak Ridge Cardinal Invitational, Knecht Cup Regatta and Dale England Cup.

Senior Lynsey Marshall was named to the All-Conference USA team at the league's championship on May 17 and Ashley Allison was named to the C-USA All-Academic Team. In total, a program-record 14 team members earned the C-USA Commissioner's Medal with 43 named to the C-USA Commissioner's Honor Roll and 18 named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll.

The 2014-15 season began the program's transition to the Big 12 conference and marked the opening of the brand new boathouse on Manderson Landing and training facility at the Student Activity Center at Presidential Village. Improvements in the facilities paralleled improvement on the water, as the team enjoyed a successful fall and spring. At the prestigious Knecht Cup Regatta, Alabama's Varsity 4+ took home a silver medal in the Grand Finals, marking the first time at Tide boat had medaled in a grand final at the event.

The season culminated in a fifth-place finish at the Big 12 Championships, the highest finish in program history. In total, Alabama qualified for five Grand Final races, totaling 22 points. Senior Melissa Etter was honored as Alabama's representative on the All-Big 12 Rowing team.

In the classroom, Alabama had a then-program high 12 CRCA Scholar-Athletes and qualified 25 rowers to the Academic All-Big 12 team.

Alabama's success on the medal podium continued immediately upon the start of the 2015-16 season, where the Crimson Tide won four events and medaled a total of 11 boats at the season-opening Chattanooga Head Race. A pair of top-20 finishes at a very windy Head of the Charles race in Boston and five event victories and 13 medals at the Head of the Hooch rounded out a successful fall season and set the stage for more success in the spring.

After opening its spring with an exhibition race against Eastern Michigan, the Tide posted event victories in the First and Second Novice 8+ at the Cardinal Invitational, with none of Alabama's boats finishing any lower than fourth in their race. The Tide then split its squad between two separate events, sweeping Drake at home while a selection of Varsity 8+ and Varsity 4+ rowers won seven of its nine races at the Lake Natoma Regatta in Sacramento, Calif.

Alabama's Novice crews continued its success with a silver medal at the Knecht Cup, marking the second-straight season in which Alabama has medaled in a grand final at the event. After sweeping SMU in Tuscaloosa on senior day, the Tide headed back to Oak Ridge, Tenn., for the Big 12 Championships where they competed in three grand finals and earned a pair of medals in the First Varsity 4+ and Third Varsity 8+.

Alabama also qualified 35 to the 2016 Academic All-Big 12 team, with the Tide accounting for six of the 10 honorees that posted a 4.0 grade point average. After the season, Alabama posted a program-record 17 CRCA Scholar-Athletes, the second-highest mark of any team in the country.

The Tide opened its 2016-17 season with a five-race sweep at the Chattanooga Head Race, a program-first. The fall season culminated in another program-first with three medal finishes at the Head of the Hooch, including two bronze and a silver.

Early dual meet success in the spring set up the Tide for a stellar all-around showing at the FIRA Rowing Regatta in Sarasota, Fla. There, Alabama won six races and posted nine top-three finishes with no boat finishing lower than fifth place. The Tide capped its spring with a fourth-place finish at the Big 12 Championships, netting a trio of event medals.

The team's success on the water was mirrored by its success in the classroom. Thirty Alabama rowers earned Academic All-Big 12 recognition, including a league-leading six with a 4.0 GPA. The Tide led all Division-I programs with 14 CRCA Scholar-Athletes and posted its highest team GPA in program history.

Alabama medaled in the First Varsity 4+, the Second Varsity 4+ and the Third Varsity 8+ at the 2018 Big 12 Championships.

ALABAMA EARNS TOP-20 VOTES

For the first time in program history, Alabama received five top-20 votes in the 2018 US Rowing/CRCA Coaches Poll.

No. 3 Texas, Alabama and Oklahoma were the only Big 12 teams to either be ranked or receive votes in that week's poll.

Alabama started its 2018 spring season with sweeps over Eastern Michigan and SMU before traveling to Kansas for the first of three-straight regattas away from home. At the Big 12 Double Dual, the Tide took home nine of ten possible victories against conference foes Kansas and Kansas State.

In the Crimson Tide's showing at the Longhorn Invitational, the 1V4+ crew highlighted the road trip by finishing second in a heat that consisted of then No. 7 Iowa and No. 9 Virginia. The finish was good enough to advance to, and win, the B Finals where they beat out then No. 18 Oklahoma.

In the fall, Alabama won gold in the Women's Club 4+ at the Head of the Charles in Cambridge, Mass.

TIDE TAKES BRONZE TRIO IN 2018 BIG 12 CHAMPIONSHIP FINALS

Alabama rowing wrapped up competition at the 2018 Big 12 Championships at Melton Hill Lake, competing in Grand Finals for all five championship events. After medaling in three events last season, the Tide equaled that performance this year by grabbing third in the Third Varsity 8+, Second Varsity 4+ and First Varsity 4+. Those showings helped propel Alabama to a fifth-place finish of 23 team points.

"Overall, we had a solid team performance this weekend," former UA head coach Larry Davis said. "All of our crews made the grand finals, we garnered three medals in five events and finished fifth overall in the team standings."

The 3V8+ was the first race of the day for Alabama, finishing neck-and-neck with Tennessee as the Tide's bow pushed across the line in 7:08.299, just six-tenths of a second ahead of the Volunteers in 7:08.912 to secure a bronze medal for Alabama. The Tide's 2V4+ and 1V4+ took third in the next two races before the First and Second Varsity 8+ finished up the day of racing.

The strong finish at the conference championship closes an outstanding week on and off the water for the Crimson Tide, as they placed 35 rowers on the Academic All-Big 12 team earlier this week. Thirty-three of the 35 earned first-team honors, including five with a 4.0 GPA, the highest total in both categories for any Big 12 team.

"Academically, 33 of our student athletes were recognized for making the Big 12 All-Academic First Team – the most of any team at the Championships by a large margin," Davis said. "I'm proud of the girls and how they represented Alabama this weekend."

THE BILL BATTLE ACADEMIC CENTER

The Bill Battle Academic Center at Paul W. Bryant Hall is the crown jewel in Alabama's $125 million Crimson Tradition building initiative. Through the auspices of the Crimson Tradition Fund, Alabama took its former athletic dorm and converted it into a 55,000-square foot state-of-the-art facility that benefits the more than 500 Crimson Tide student-athletes.

The building's many amenities includes a 48-seat computer lab with new equipment. The computer lab also houses 25 laptop computers that can be checked out by student-athletes for use on road trips. There are math, English and writing labs as well as individual study rooms. The athletic academic advisor offices are also housed in the building, along with several study lounges, two 50-seat classrooms and a 140-seat classroom.

The classrooms feature cutting edge teaching devices, including digital overhead projectors and "smart boards" that allow instructors to interact with students on the go. Throughout the building, there are 16 information stations that provide student-athletes with news about tutorials, study sessions and even practice schedules.

ALABAMA PLACES 35 ON

2018 ACADEMIC ALL-BIG 12 TEAM

The Big 12 Conference announced its 2018 Academic All-Big 12 Rowing team Thursday, May 10, with 35 Alabama student-athletes finding a spot on the list, including 33 first-team honorees.

Twelve of the 175 rowing honorees between the league's eight affiliate schools posted perfect 4.0 GPAs and, for the third-straight year, Alabama led the league with five of those 12 perfect GPAs. The second team consists of student-athletes with a GPA between 3.00-3.19 while the first team award winners hold GPAs of 3.20-plus.

To qualify, student-athletes must maintain a cumulative 3.00 GPA or higher and must have participated in 60 percent of their team's contests. Freshmen and transfers in their first year of academic residence are not eligible. Senior student-athletes who have participated for a minimum of two years and meet all criteria except percent of participation are also eligible.
