Last Time Out: Walk-Off, Series Win

West Virginia won its home-opening series vs. Old Dominion, with a 4-3 win on Friday night before a doubleheader on Saturday, beginning with a 10-inning, 5-4, loss and concluding with a 12-inning, 6-5, victory. All three victories featured comebacks for WVU, in the sixth inning on Friday, in the first and ninth innings in Saturday's opener and in the ninth and 12th innings in Saturday's finale.

- WVU's 4-3 win on Friday came thanks to junior catcher Ray Guerrini, who executed a squeeze bunt that scored two runs in the eighth inning. The Mountaineers trailed 2-0 early, but with the help of five errors in the final three innings, WVU came back to beat ODU with three unearned runs. West Virginia tied the score at 2-2 in the sixth inning before Guerrini drove in the two runs, including the game-winner, in the bottom of the eighth. Sophomore right-hander Conner Dotson earned his third win of the season with 1.2 scoreless innings in relief, allowing just two hits.
- In Saturday's first game, WVU came back for the second consecutive day. The Mountaineers trailed 4-1 in the ninth inning but stormed back with three runs in the bottom half to tie the game. Old Dominion then answered with the winning run in the 10th inning.
- Just 30 minutes later though, WVU bounced back for a 6-5, 12-inning win. Freshman shortstop Jimmy Galusky's two-RBI, game-winning single in the 12th was the second time the Mountaineers had come back in the game, after they scored one in the ninth to send the contest into extra innings. ODU held a 4-3 lead in the ninth inning before sophomore designated hitter Kyle Davis drove in Galusky, the game-tying run, in the ninth. Galusky's game-winner in the bottom of the 12th inning came after ODU took a 5-4 lead in the top of the 12th.

WVU Plays MLB's Diamondbacks

West Virginia played an exhibition contest vs. the Arizona Diamondbacks on Feb. 29 in Scottsdale, Arizona. The Mountaineers jumped out to an early 1-0 lead with a pair of hits in the first inning before suffering a 7-4 loss.

- The game is believed to be the first in program history against an MLB club.
- The seven-inning exhibition contest at Salt River Fields at Talking Stick, Arizona's Spring Training home ballpark, featured a mix of Major League and Minor League talent for the Diamondbacks. The majority of WVU's roster also saw playing time in the game.
- While official stats were not recorded, WVU totaled four runs on six hits, while the Diamondbacks had seven runs on 13 hits with two errors.
- Junior catcher Ray Guerrini reached base three times, with a hit and two walks, while freshman second baseman Cole Austin and sophomore left fielder Caleb Potter reached base twice, each with a hit and a walk. Senior center fielder KC Huth and freshmen pinch hitters Kyle Gray and Marques Inman also recorded hits.

- RBIs were credited to Potter, driving in Austin in the first, Austin, plating Huth in the fourth and Inman, who doubled home Guerrini in the fifth. WVU also scored in the third inning, when sophomore third baseman Kyle Davis came home on a bases-loaded wild pitch.

Off to a Hot Start

With a 5-1 record to open the season and having won five consecutive games, West Virginia got off to one of the best starts in program history.

- It is the best start to the season since 2006, when WVU also started the year 5-1.
- WVU's five consecutive wins have all come in road games. The last time the Mountaineers won five or more consecutive true road games was 2004, when they won six in a row in a stretch separated by a homestand. In 2014, WVU won six in a row away from home, with three coming in neutral site contests.
- The Mountaineers are off to their best start to the season under fourth-year head coach Randy Mazey. In 2013, Mazey's first season, it took WVU 11 games to record its fifth win and it took nine games in 2014 and 11 in 2015.

Huth Named Player of the Week

Senior center fielder KC Huth was named the Big 12 Player of the Week on Feb. 29, the second consecutive week to open the year that WVU has earned a conference accolade.

- Huth led the WVU offense in its sweep at UNLV, hitting .636 (7-11) with a 1.182 slugging percentage. He hit his first two home runs of the season and had four RBIs, a walk and 13 total bases while stealing two bases on two attempts. In the field, Huth added six putouts without an error.
- Friday, Huth went 1-3 and scored the eventual winning run in the ninth inning after a leadoff walk.

Pitching for the Ages

WVU's pitching put on an impressive display in its three game series to open the year at Charleston Southern.

- WVU recorded back-to-back shutouts, with a 5-0 win on Saturday and a 3-0 victory on Sunday. The last time WVU shut out an opponent in consecutive games was 2007, a double-header shutouts of Copin State, 10-0 and 12-0 on April 3.
- The Mountaineers allowed just two earned runs all series and four runs total, all on Friday. WVU held CSU scoreless for the final 19 innings of the series.
- West Virginia held CSU to a .195 batting average.
- The WVU pitching staff had an ERA of 0.69, No. 1 in the Big 12 and sixth nationally.
- WVU is one of just seven teams in the country with two shutouts to open the season.

Davis Named Preseason All-America

- Coming off a standout freshman season, sophomore infielder Kyle Davis was named to the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association Preseason All-America Third Team.
- A three-time Freshman All-American last season, Davis earned the preseason honor as the team's third designated hitter.
- As a freshman, Davis led the Mountaineers with a .353 batting average and 17 doubles. He had four home runs, 31 RBIs and one triple. Davis ranked third in the Big 12

Conference in batting and in doubles, fifth in hits and total bases and eighth in slugging percentage.

- Davis earned three All-America honors last season: Baseball America's 2015 Freshman All-America Team, NCBWA Freshman All-American First Team and Louisville Slugger Freshman All-America First Team as selected by Collegiate Baseball newspaper.
- A Cincinnati native, Davis also was named to the All-Big 12 Second Team and the All-Big 12 Rookie Team.

The Return of the Arms

- The Mountaineers return 11 of 16 pitchers from last year's roster. Twenty-six of 27 wins and 435.1 of 482.2 innings pitched return from last season.
- The five pitchers lost from last year's roster combined for two starts and 47.1 of 482.2 innings pitched in 2015.
- Headlining the returning pitchers is senior Ross Vance and junior Chad Donato, who made 15 and 14 starts, respectively, in 2015 and won seven games each. Additionally, closer BJ Myers returns for his senior season after posting a 4-1 mark with five saves a year ago.
- WVU adds seven freshmen arms to the 2016 pitching staff.

Plenty of Bats and Gloves are Back

- In the field and at the plate, six of nine starters return from 2015, while eight of WVU's 15 position players return in 2016.
- Sophomore infielder Kyle Davis (.353) and junior first baseman Jackson Cramer (.291) posted the team's highest batting averages a year ago and each started at least 50 games. Davis led the team in hits (79), doubles (17) and tied for the team lead in RBIs (31), while Cramer had a team-best .520 slugging percentage, was first on the team in walks (27) and second in hits (52), doubles (15) and home runs (8).
- Senior outfielder KC Huth and junior outfielder Shaun Wood each return at least 50 starts from a year ago.

WVU Sixth in Big 12 Preseason Poll

- WVU was voted to finish sixth in the 2016 Big 12 baseball coaches' preseason poll. It is the second consecutive season the Mountaineers were voted sixth after WVU was predicted to finish in seventh place in 2014 and last in 2013, the team's inaugural Big 12 season. West Virginia garnered 26 points, the most in its four years in the league.

- Just four points separate the three top teams. TCU tops the poll with 57 points, while Oklahoma State is second with 55 and Texas sits third with 53. All three teams earned three first-place votes, marking the first time in conference preseason poll history that three or more teams have received multiple first-place votes.
- The two-point separation between No. 1 TCU and No. 2 Oklahoma State is the closest in preseason history, along with the 2011 poll, which separated Oklahoma and Texas by two points.

Rose, Sell-Out Highlight Leadoff Dinner

- Fans showed they were ready for the season in record numbers as a sold-out crowd of more than 800 fans helped kick off the 2016 season at the fourth annual WVU Baseball Leadoff Dinner on Jan. 30.
- Featuring guest speaker Pete Rose, attendance more than doubled last year's crowd, as attendance and interest in the annual event has continued to rise.
- In addition to speaking with the crowd at the evening's dinner, Rose spoke with the WVU baseball team about his career, what made him so successful on the field and his advice for the team this season. Rose is the all-time Major League Baseball leader in hits with 4,256, won three World Series in his 24-year playing career and was a 17-time All-Star.
