THE BIRTHPLACE

November 6, 1869: Rutgers hosted Princeton in the first college football game making Rutgers "The Birthplace of College Football." Then referred to as the "Queensmen," the team ultimately prevailed over its in-state rival with a 6-4 victory.

Today, the team takes the Scarlet Walk in front of a crowd of fans as they touch the base of the statue commemorating the first college football game.

THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

THE BIG TEN

Nearly 120 years after its inception, the Big Ten remains a national leader in intercollegiate athletics on and off the field. Big Ten programs have combined to win more than 300 team and nearly 1,700 individual NCAA Championships, consistently taking home individual honors for athletic and academic accomplishments and fulfilling the Big Ten's mission of academic achievement and athletic success.

LIFE BEYOND THE GAME

Rutgers football continues its established trend as one of the nation's top programs both on the field and in the classroom. The Scarlet Knights were ranked in the top 10 percent nationally in APR for eight-straight seasons, the only state institution to earn such distinction during that span.

Head coach Chris Ash instituted the "Life Beyond the Game" program that focuses on the personal and professional development of the Scarlet Knights.

"It's our obligation to help student-athletes in the life after football. When the cheering stops, the goal is to help give them an opportunity to go get employed. A lot of people want college athletes in the workforce, and what we need to do is make sure our college athletes get connected to the right people." – Chris Ash

COMPETITIVE EXCELLENCE

Head Football Strength and Conditioning Coach Kenny Parker works to help transform the Scarlet Knights both physically and mentally, encouraging a culture of competitive excellence and commitment to pushing each player to reach their fullest potential.

"I want to build a fast, physical team that plays with relentless effort, tremendous enthusiasm, and plays for each other. I want our opponents to turn on the film and say, you know what, this is a real one. We'd better strap it on because these guys are going to come and they are going to play hard." – Chris Ash

SERVICE KNIGHTS

Each year, members of the Rutgers football program take time to give back to the community. From spending time with Special Olympics NJ, to visiting local hospitals and soup kitchens, to participating in youth camps, the student-athletes and coaches are focused on giving back wherever they are needed.

THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

NFL KNIGHTS

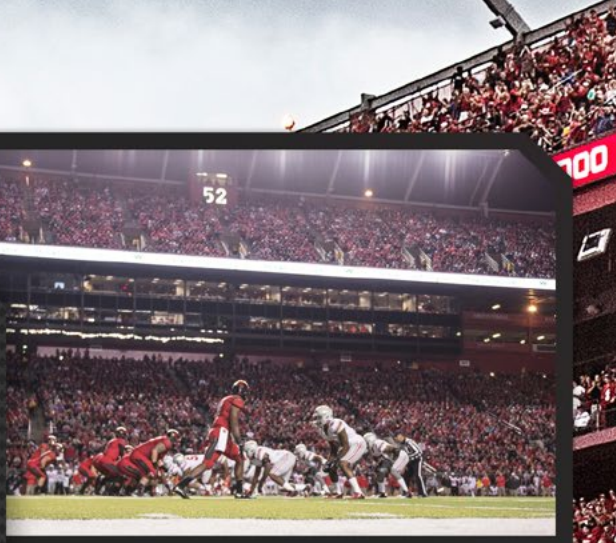

Rutgers football has become an elite program in terms of developing players for success at the next level. The Scarlet Knights boast 18 players who have participated in a Super Bowl, and have hoisted the Lombardi Trophy a combined 15 times. There are currently 20 former Scarlet Knights on active NFL rosters.

In 2016, head coach Chris Ash saw a record number of his former pupils selected in the NFL Draft. Ash watched as six of his defensive players were selected, including three in the first round.

GAMEDAY

High Point Solutions Stadium is home of the Rutgers Scarlet Knights and is located on-campus in Piscataway. Packed, loud, and 52,454 proud, High Point Solutions Stadium is the site for the ultimate college gameday experience.

FACILITIES

Rutgers football has one of the top football complexes in the nation. Included within the Hale Center is a brand new state-of-the-art weight room, interactive lobby entrance, spacious meeting rooms, a player lounge with all the latest technology and an in-house academic support center.

COACHING STAFF

A man with short brown hair, wearing a red jacket with a black patch on the sleeve, is shown in profile, shouting with his mouth open. He is wearing a black watch on his left wrist. The background is a blurred crowd of people, many wearing red. A large white 'SH' is overlaid on the left side of the image.

A new era begins for the Birthplace of College Football as Chris Ash takes over as the 30th head coach in the 147-year history of Rutgers football.

A coach with national championship pedigree, Ash arrives "On the Banks," with nearly two decades of collegiate coaching experience, including five years in the Big Ten Conference (four as a defensive coordinator) with four Big Ten Championships.

CHRIS ASH

HEAD COACH • FIRST SEASON AT RUTGERS

The 42-year-old Ash served as co-defensive coordinator and safeties coach at Ohio State and helped lead the Buckeyes to the 2014 national championship.

In his five seasons as a defensive coordinator, Ash pioneered four groups ranked in the top 25 statistically, including a top-10 defensive unit in 2015. As the defense coordinator at Wisconsin in 2011 and 2012, the Badgers put together back-to-back seasons ranked 15th overall in total defense. The 2011 squad was 13th in scoring defense while the 2012 team turned in a 17th-place ranking.

Ash was hired by Ohio State head coach Urban Meyer in January 2014 to improve a Buckeye defense that placed 112th in pass defense and 47th in total defense in 2013. In his first season, OSU's defense ranked 19th nationally in total defense and 29th in pass defense. The Buckeyes also ranked fourth in the country with 24 interceptions en route to Big Ten, Sugar Bowl and national championships.

In 2015, the Ohio State defense continued its strides under Ash, ranking second in scoring defense nationally and ninth-best in total defense. The Buckeyes earned a berth in the Fiesta Bowl, finishing the season with a 12-1 record after defeating Notre Dame in the bowl game.

The 2016 NFL Draft saw numerous players from Ash's defensive unit selected, including the first overall defensive player in Joey Bosa, who was picked third by the San Diego Chargers. In all, the draft featured six defensive players taken from Ohio State with three in the first round.

Prior to taking over the OSU defense, Ash held the defensive coordinator post and coached the secondary at the University of Arkansas in the Southeastern Conference in 2013 under head coach Bret Bielema. He helped improve Arkansas' pass defense in his one season in Fayetteville, with the Razorbacks' defense finishing 72nd nationally in passing yards allowed after ranking 113th in 2012.

Ash was first promoted to the defensive coordinator role in the Big Ten while at the University of Wisconsin, where he spent three seasons with the Badgers. His 2011 defense led the Big Ten (conference games only) in total defense and pass defense efficiency, and it ranked fourth nationally in fewest passing yards allowed (163.6), 13th in scoring (19.0) and 15th in total defense (316.4). In 2012, the UW defense ranked 15th nationally in total defense (322.5), 17th in scoring (19.1), 18th in fewest passing yards allowed (193.6), 22nd in pass efficiency and 24th against the run (128.9).

Ash began his coaching career as a defensive graduate assistant at his alma mater, Drake University, in 1997. He was promoted to defensive coordinator for the next two seasons before moving on to Iowa State University in 2000. Ash spent eight seasons over two different stints in Ames, including the 2009 season, during which current Houston head coach Tom Herman was also on the staff. Ash progressed from graduate assistant with the Cyclones in 2000-01 to defensive backs coach for a total of six seasons.

Ash spent the 2007 and 2008 seasons at San Diego State University as the defensive backs coach and recruiting coordinator under head coach and College Football Hall of Fame inductee Chuck Long.

Ash has produced numerous instructional videos, including a three-video series -- "Aggressive 4-3 Defense" -- that includes shutting down the passing game and stuffing the run segments. He has coached 34 different players that have gone on to sign NFL contracts.

A native of Ottumwa, Iowa, Ash earned his undergraduate degree from Drake in 1996, and was a two-time letterwinner at defensive back for the Bulldogs. He is one of three from that era of Drake football to become a FBS head coach, joining Dave Doeren (NC State) and Charlie Partridge (Florida Atlantic). Ash completed his master's degree in education from Iowa State in 2005.

COACHING STAFF

Ash and his wife, Doreen, are the parents of a young son, Brady. Ash also has a son, Tanner, and a daughter, Jacey.

What they're saying about Chris Ash...

"I would like to congratulate Chris Ash on becoming the head coach at Rutgers University and, at the same time, truly thank him for the excellent coaching, mentoring and teaching he has provided this football program over the last two seasons. Chris is an outstanding young man; a really fine coach and an exceptional husband and father. I am happy for the opportunity that he, his wife Doreen and young family are about to take on and I wish them all the best."

- Urban Meyer, Ohio State head coach

"Chris did a great job for us at Wisconsin and has been successful at every stop he's made as an assistant. I was always impressed with his preparation and the way he motivated his players. He's ready to be a head coach. I think Chris is a great fit for Rutgers and I'm happy to have him as a head coach in our league."

- Barry Alvarez, Wisconsin Director of Athletics

"Very excited for Chris and the opportunity he has at Rutgers and in the Big Ten Conference. He's got all the tools to lead a program and has certainly earned it. As a first-year head coach I'll be there to help him in any way, but my guess is he'll do just fine."

- Bret Bielema, Arkansas Head Coach

"I'm very excited for both Chris and Rutgers. As long as I've been coaching college football, we've had a special relationship - talking defense, talking motivation and talking the game of life. I have the greatest respect for him as a teacher, coach and person, and knew it was just a matter of time before he became a head coach. I can't wait to see what he can do."

- Dave Doeren, NC State Head Coach

"It was only a matter of time before Chris got an opportunity to lead a program. He has a plan that he has been working on since he started coaching in 1995 at Drake University. He has been under some tremendous coaches. He will have great success at Rutgers."

- Charlie Partridge, Florida Atlantic Head Coach

DREW MEHRINGER

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/QUARTERBACKS

Drew Mehringer is in his first year as offensive coordinator for Rutgers after being hired by head coach Chris Ash on Dec. 14, 2015. Mehringer also coaches the quarterbacks for the Scarlet Knights.

Mehringer joins the Rutgers staff after spending the 2015 season as wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator at Houston under head coach Tom Herman. The Cougars won the American Athletic Conference and finished with a 13-1 record, including a victory over Florida State in the Peach Bowl.

Mehringer worked for seven seasons with Herman's offense at Houston, Ohio State, Iowa State and Rice. Herman previously served as the offensive coordinator at Ohio State in 2014 while Ash was on staff as co-defensive coordinator.

Prior to arriving in Houston, Mehringer spent the 2014 season at James Madison as the co-offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. While at James Madison, the Dukes advanced to the FCS Playoffs for just the second time in the previous six years. JMU's offense ranked 10th nationally with 484.6 yards per game behind the arm of junior quarterback Vad Lee who finished fourth in voting for the 2014 Walter Payton Award, considered the Heisman Trophy of FCS football. Lee was also named a Third-Team AP All-American and received the Bill Dudley Award, given to the best collegiate football player in Virginia.

The team also set single-season program records with 1,060 offensive plays, 6,300 offensive yards, 315 first downs, 475 passing attempts, 286 passing completions, 30 passing touchdowns, 3,499 passing yards and 159 passing first downs. Lee set single-season James Madison records in passing completions (282), attempts (465), yards (3,462), touchdowns (30) and total offense (4,288 yards). Lee threw for more than 300 yards in five contests and had a streak of six games with at least 250 passing yards.

Lee also did it on the ground, ranking ninth in the league at 63.5 rushing yards per game and a team-high nine rushing touchdowns on the season. Lee ranked fourth nationally in total offense with an average of 329.8 yards per game while ranking sixth nationally with his 30 touchdowns and seventh nationally with his 3,462 yards.

Mehringer spent the 2012 and 2013 seasons as a graduate assistant at Ohio State, working with the program's tight ends and wide receivers in his first season before working with the offensive line in his second season in Columbus. With Mehringer's assistance, offensive tackle Jack Mewhort was named First Team All-America in 2013 and was named First Team All-Big Ten along with Corey Linsley and Andrew Norwell as the Ohio State offense broke 12 single-season records in 2013.

He also spent two seasons as a graduate assistant at Iowa State, where he worked with the wide receivers. During his time in Ames, Iowa, receiver Aaron Horne was named the 2011 Big 12 Offensive Newcomer of the Year.

A native of Mansfield, Texas, Mehringer attended Rice as a quarterback before suffering a career-ending injury. He then served as a student assistant with the quarterbacks with Herman for three seasons, graduating in 2010 with a degree in political science. Mehringer earned a master's degree in sports management at Ohio State in 2013.

JAY NIEMANN DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR/LINEBACKERS

Jay Niemann is in his first season as defensive coordinator for Rutgers after being hired by head coach Chris Ash on Dec. 30, 2015. Niemann has over 25 years of coaching experience, including the previous five as the defensive coordinator at Northern Illinois.

Niemann led the defense since 2011 for a Northern Illinois program that won the Mid-American Conference West in five-straight seasons with three league titles. Also coaching the safeties, the Huskies played in a bowl game in all of those seasons, including a berth in the 2013 Orange Bowl.

Niemann's top defensive pupil at NIU, safety Jimmie Ward, wrapped up a stellar collegiate career in 2013 and was selected by the San Francisco 49ers in the first round of the 2014 NFL Draft. The 30th overall pick, Ward led the Huskies in tackles in each of his final two years. In all, Niemann's defense has produced seven players who signed with NFL teams. In addition to Ward, Rashaan Melvin, Alan Baxter, Sean Progar, Ken Bishop, Joe Windsor and Pat Schiller have signed with NFL teams since 2011.

In 2015, NIU won six conference games and was ranked eighth in the nation in turnovers gained (29) and fourth in interceptions (22). In Niemann's defense, sophomore cornerback Shawun Lurry leads the FBS with nine interceptions and earned multiple All-America honors. Up front, the unit posted 26 sacks with 15 different players involved in at least a half sack. Overall, four Huskies on the defensive side were named All-MAC, with three first-team selections.

The 2014 season saw the Huskie defensive unit force 24 turnovers and hold six opponents to 17 points or less. Six NIU defensive players earned All-MAC honors under Niemann's guidance, including first-team selections Jason Meehan and Paris Logan.

In 2012, the NIU defense held five opponents to nine points or less en route to a second straight MAC title and a historic berth in the 2013 Orange Bowl. The Huskie defensive unit totaled 40 sacks in 2012, second all-time at NIU.

In his first season in DeKalb, Niemann oversaw the development of a young defense. By week six, the Huskies turned in their best defensive game of the season statistically and in the 2011 MAC Championship game, the NIU defense shut out Ohio in the second half en route to a 23-20 victory, the school's first MAC football title in 28 years.

Niemann came to NIU after spending three seasons as co-defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Hardin-Simmons University in Texas. During his tenure with the Cowboys, Niemann helped turn a defense that ranked last in the nation prior to his arrival into the No. 2 unit in the American Southwest Conference in 2009.

A native of Avoca, Iowa, Niemann spent much of his coaching career in his home state, with stops at Simpson (Iowa) College, the University of Northern Iowa and Drake University. Niemann compiled a 32-29 record in his six seasons as head coach at Simpson (2002-07). He led the Storm to the 2003 NCAA playoffs while also serving as defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach.

Niemann coached the secondary (1997, 2001), linebackers (1998-99) and filled the role of defensive coordinator (1999-2000) during his five seasons at Northern Iowa (1997-2001). The Panthers advanced to the semifinals of the 2001 NCAA Football Championship Subdivision (then Division I-AA) playoffs. One of Niemann's UNI pupils, cornerback Ty Talton, went on to play in the NFL.

Prior to his arrival at UNI, Niemann spent eight seasons at Ash's alma mater, Drake. After serving as the defensive backs coach from 1989-94, he was promoted to defensive coordinator/assistant head coach in 1995. In his final three seasons, the Bulldog defense ranked in the top 10 nationally in scoring defense, pass efficiency defense and total defense.

Niemann began his coaching career in 1985 at Western Washington where he coached the linebackers and special teams units while pursuing his master's degree. He accepted the graduate assistant position at the University of Washington, working with the Husky linebackers and defensive backs from 1986-88, coaching under UW legends Don James and Jim Lambright.

A graduate of Iowa State, Niemann played football for the Cyclones from 1979-82. He earned his master's degree from Western Washington in 1988. Niemann and his wife, Lou Ann, have two sons, Ben and Nick.

VINCE OKRUCH

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR/TIGHT ENDS

Vince Okruch is in his first year as special teams coordinator for Rutgers after being hired by head coach Chris Ash on Dec. 10, 2015. Okruch spent the previous two seasons (2014-15) at Ohio State assisting with quality control for the kicking game and the defense.

With more than 35 years of coaching experience, Okruch has worked with some of the legendary names in college football, including Lou Holtz, Bill McCartney, Gary Barnett and Urban Meyer.

Okruch spent three seasons at the University of Akron before joining the Buckeyes. While at Akron from 2009-11, he coached on the defensive side of the ball, overseeing the defensive tackles, safeties and linebackers at different times during his stint. He also served as special teams coordinator.

Okruch has 15 years of experience coaching in the Big Ten with stops at Minnesota, where he coached under Holtz and John Gutekunst, Northwestern (Barnett) and Illinois (Ron Zook). Okruch coached alongside Barnett for a total of 12 years, including five seasons as the defensive coordinator at the University of Colorado.

In 2009 while at Akron, Okruch tutored Zips linebacker Brian Wagner who was named consensus Freshman All-America, including first-team honors by Sporting News.

Prior to coming to Akron, Okruch served as defensive coordinator at Illinois for one season. Under his guidance, the 2006 Illini defense made the jump to the upper half of the Big Ten. Nationally, the unit ranked 33rd in total defense (310.17 ypg), 31st in pass defense (182.25 ypg) and 31st in pass efficiency defense (115.20 rating).

Okruch came to Illinois after one season as linebackers coach at Louisiana-Monroe and one year as defensive coordinator at Western Illinois. ULM posted a 5-2 conference record and were Sun Belt co-champions.

He spent five seasons as the defensive coordinator at Colorado (1999-2003). During his time at CU, the Buffs' defense held opponents to under 100 yards rushing 18 times and limited their foes to below 300 yards total offense on 12 occasions.

Before heading to Colorado, Okruch was part of Barnett's staff at Northwestern (1992-98), which won two Big Ten titles and made a trip to the 1996 Rose Bowl and 1997 Citrus Bowl. At NU, he served as defensive line coach for five years (1992-96) and two seasons as defensive coordinator (1997-98).

A native of Buffalo, N.Y., and a graduate of Culver-Stockton College in Canton, Mo., Okruch earned four letters playing both quarterback and tight end at Culver-Stockton. He also was a member of its baseball team. After completing his bachelor's degree in physical education, he went on to earn his master's degree at Northeast Missouri State in 1980. He and his wife, Janet, have two children; a daughter, Taylor, and a son, Jordan.

COACHING STAFF

AJ BLAZEK OFFENSIVE LINE

AJ Blazek is in his first season as offensive line coach for the Scarlet Knights after being named to the position by head coach Chris Ash on Dec. 24, 2015. Blazek was a Big Ten student-athlete at Iowa and spent the previous three seasons on the staff at Western Illinois.

Blazek worked as the offensive line coach and the run game coordinator for Western Illinois from 2013-15. In each season, the Leathernecks had a 1000-yard rusher and an All-Missouri Valley Football Conference offensive line selection.

In 2015, WIU earned an at-large bid in the FCS playoffs and advanced to the second round. The team averaged nearly 400 yards of total offense per game and finished the season ranked No. 8 in the nation in fewest tackles for loss allowed. Running back Nikko Watson finished 11th in the nation with 108.7 rushing yards per game, while sophomore center Jacob Judd also collected all-conference recognition.

In his first year, Blazek helped the offensive line improve nearly 30 spots nationally in sacks allowed from the previous 2012 season, and more than 60 spots compared from two seasons before that. Despite using six different starting lineups along the front five (mainly due to injuries), the offense registered eight 100-yard rushing efforts during the 2013 season and nearly scored as many points as the previous two seasons combined.

Prior to arriving at Western Illinois, Blazek had a four-year stint at Winona State in Minnesota. He worked with the offensive line and tight ends and was the co-offensive coordinator in his final three seasons with the Warriors. Blazek was named the 2012 "Assistant Coach of the Year" by the American Football Coaches Association.

During his four years, Blazek coached 14 of his position players to All-Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference honors - including four All-NSIC offensive linemen and one All-NSIC tight end last season. Twice during his three years as co-offensive coordinator Simmons led the conference in rushing. In 2012, the Warriors broke the program and NSIC record for total offense. The Warriors also won the 2012 Mineral Water Bowl, finishing 10-2.

Before joining Winona State, Blazek was the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Fort Hays State (2005-08) in Kansas. He coached five offensive linemen to all-conference honors and one ESPN Academic All-American, Jordan Stricker, in 2008. Offensive tackle Wes Yarbough signed a NFL free agent contract with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Blazek began his coaching career at his alma mater, the University of Iowa. He coached for four seasons (2001-04), the first year as a student assistant before becoming a graduate assistant coach. The Hawkeyes captured two Big Ten Conference titles during his time, and won bowl games versus Florida and LSU.

In 2003 while working with the offensive line, Blazek helped tutor the future No. 2 overall NFL draft pick, Robert Gallery. He also coached six other NFL draft picks at Iowa: Eric Steinbach (Cincinnati/2nd), Bruce Nelson (Carolina/2nd round), Seth Olsen (Denver/4th), Ben Sobieski (Buffalo/5th), Pete McMahon (Oakland/6th) and Mike Elgin (New England/7th).

Following his All-America and Academic All-America career at Butler County Community College, Blazek was a two-year letterwinner at center for the Hawkeyes. He earned All-Big Ten Conference honors in 2000 and was a co-captain during that 2000 season. Twice he earned Academic All-Big Ten Conference honors.

Before he began his collegiate coaching career, Blazek played two seasons for the Chicago Rush of the Arena Football League. He was the recipient of the 2001 Walter Payton Award for community service.

A native of Wichita, Kan., Blazek received his bachelor's degree in Health Promotions in 2001, then a master's degree in Sports Administration in 2004, both at Iowa.

He and his wife Kyla have four children: Cooper, Macey, Reece and Quincy.

SHANE BURNHAM

DEFENSIVE LINE

Shane Burnham is in his first season as defensive line coach for the Scarlet Knights after being hired by head coach Chris Ash on Dec. 31, 2015. Burnham spent the previous seven seasons on the staff at Iowa State, including working with Ash in Ames in 2009.

Burnham worked in 2015 with the Cyclones' inside linebackers after spending the previous six years focusing on defensive tackles in a unit run by his father, defensive coordinator Wally Burnham. He added oversight of special teams starting in 2012.

Switching to a 3-4 defensive scheme this past season, Iowa State posted 30 sacks with 74 tackles for loss and picked up a shutout conference victory over Texas. On special teams, the Cyclones ranked third in the nation with a 17.4-yard average on punt returns.

Under Burnham's guidance, several defensive tackles saw marked improvement over the years to help the program to three bowl appearances. Defensive tackle Nate Frere finished his career under Burnham in 2009, completing his eligibility with 69 tackles, 34 of them in 2009. It was Stephen Ruempolhamer who stepped up under Burnham's coaching in 2010-11. Ruempolhamer finished his career with 91 tackles, 14 for loss and six sacks. Former walk-on Patrick Neal closed out his career with 98 tackles and 5.5 sacks. In 2012, Burnham helped mentor Jake McDonough into an All-Big 12 first-team performer. McDonough, who signed an NFL contract, had 36 tackles, including 5.5 for loss.

Burnham helped the ISU special teams post a pair of kickoffs returned for touchdowns in 2013, as the Cyclones had not had a kickoff return (non-on-side kick) for a touchdown since 1994. It marked the first time since 1963 where the Cyclones had two kickoff returns for a touchdown in a season.

Iowa State ranked in the top-20 nationally in both kickoff return and punt return defense in 2014. Jarvis West tallied his second career special teams touchdown when he raced 82 yards to the end zone versus Kansas State. It was the ninth-longest punt return in school history. West and Aaron Wimberly graduated with top-five career kickoff return averages, with Wimberly's 26.45 career kickoff return clip being the second-best mark in school history.

Prior to working at Iowa State, Burnham spent four seasons (2005-08) at Elon as the linebackers/defensive ends coach and special teams coordinator. Elon finished the 2008 season ranked 19th in the final FCS coaches poll. The Phoenix were third in the Southern Conference and 29th nationally in total defense and landed second in the conference and 30th in the country in scoring defense. At Elon, Burnham coached Chad Nkang to SoCon Defensive Player-of-the-Year and All-America honors, and he was drafted by the Jacksonville Jaguars.

As special teams coordinator, Burnham saw the Elon punt return unit rank 17th nationally by averaging 11.93 yards per return in 2007. Senior Michael Mayers, a first-team All-SoCon selection as a return specialist, ranked seventh in the country by averaging 28.77 yards per kickoff return that fall.

Burnham joined the Phoenix staff for the 2005 season after serving at The Citadel as a linebackers coach in 2004. Previously, Burnham was a linebackers coach at Richmond for four years (1998, 2001-03). While there, he coached All-Atlantic 10 Conference selections Adrian Archie and Mark Thompson. He also helped the Spiders claim a conference title and an NCAA I-AA playoff berth during his tenure.

A 1998 graduate of South Carolina, Burnham earned a bachelor's of science degree in exercise science while collecting four varsity letters for the Gamecocks' football team. The two-year starter was named his team's most outstanding inside linebacker as both a junior and a senior.

As a senior, the three-time Academic All-SEC choice received his team's leadership award and was named the Honda/Jefferson-Pilot Scholar-Athlete of the Week for his performance in games against both Kentucky and Auburn.

Burnham is married to the former Meagan Drolet, who was a swimmer at Virginia Tech. The couple are parents of three daughters Lindsay, Brady and Wyatt.

PLAYING CAREER

Played wide receiver at Nebraska Wesleyan from 1985-87.

Bill Busch is in his first season as defensive backs coach for Rutgers after being hired by head coach Chris Ash on Dec. 29, 2015. Busch, who will focus on coaching the safeties, has spent over a decade as an assistant in the Big Ten Conference, previously working with Ash at Ohio State.

Busch spent the 2015 season at Ohio State handling quality control on defense. Prior to joining the Buckeyes, he worked for two seasons as the safeties coach at Wisconsin. Busch also assisted with the special teams unit for the Badgers. In his first season at Wisconsin, Busch helped lead a defensive backfield that ranked 17th nationally in passing defense and tied for 13th in passing yards per attempt in 2013.

Busch arrived at Wisconsin after spending four seasons at Utah State. In his first two seasons (2009-10), Busch served as defensive coordinator before taking over as safeties and special teams coach during the 2011-12 seasons. Busch was also promoted associate head coach.

In 2004, Busch returned to Nebraska for his second stint with the Huskers, coaching the outside linebackers and serving as special teams coordinator. He previously worked as a graduate assistant at Nebraska from 1990-93. Busch moved over to coach the safeties and continued to handle special teams duties in 2005-07.

During his tenure, the Huskers blocked 16 kicks, including seven in 2005. Nebraska ranked in the top 25 nationally in net punting (24th in 2006) and punt returns (17th in 2005) under Busch, as well. NU's kickoff coverage unit ranked 15th nationally in 2006 after finishing 22nd the previous year.

Busch coached the secondary at Utah from 2001-03, spending a season under head coach Urban Meyer. Utah boasted one of the top defenses in the Mountain West Conference in 2003 to help the Utes to a 10-2 record and their first outright conference title since 1957.

Utah's 10 victories that season tied the then-school record and its No. 21 final national ranking in both polls was the school's highest since 1994. The secondary ranked second in the Mountain West and 27th nationally in pass efficiency defense, as Utah surrendered just nine passing touchdowns in 12 games.

In 2001, Utah ranked 17th nationally in pass efficiency defense while earning an 8-4 overall record that concluded with a victory over USC in the Las Vegas Bowl.

Before his three seasons at Utah, Busch spent four years at New Mexico State where he coached the defensive backs. His first full-time coaching job was at Northern Arizona where he was the secondary coach in 1995 and 1996. Busch also served as the co-defensive coordinator in 1996.

Busch, a Pender, Neb., native, earned his bachelor's degree in education from Nebraska Wesleyan in 1988. He added a master's degree in 1990 from Nebraska-Kearney.

AARON HENRY

ASSISTANT DEFENSIVE BACKS

Aaron Henry is in his first season as assistant defensive backs coach after being hired by head coach Chris Ash on Dec. 28, 2015. A Big Ten student-athlete, Henry played at Wisconsin from 2007-11, playing for Ash the final two seasons and serving as a graduate assistant at Arkansas with Ash.

A native of Immokalee, Fla., Henry spent the last two seasons as a defensive graduate assistant focusing on the secondary at Arkansas. Reunited with his collegiate head coach Bret Bielema, the Razorbacks picked up five Southeastern Conference victories in 2015 to earn a berth in the Liberty Bowl. In 2014, Arkansas became the first unranked team in college football history to post back-to-back shutouts against ranked opponents and won the Texas Bowl over Texas.

At Wisconsin, Henry appeared in 52 games and made 32 starts, compiling 181 tackles, including seven for loss with 4.5 sacks, seven interceptions and 23 passes defended. He helped lead the Badgers to three consecutive Big Ten titles, including victories in each of the first two Big Ten Championship Games. He was part of three Wisconsin teams that became the first Big Ten program to play in the Rose Bowl three straight years since the 1976-78 seasons.

As a senior with Ash as a the defensive coordinator, Henry was an All-Big Ten first team performer, starting all 14 games and finishing the year with 67 tackles, including three for loss with one sack, four interceptions and seven passes defended. In 2010, he was an All-Big Ten second team selection after he collected 58 tackles, three fumble recoveries, one forced fumble, two interceptions and nine passes defended.

He began his career in 2007 as an honorable mention Freshman All-American and Freshman All-Big Ten first team honoree. He sat out the 2008 season while recovering from an injury and returned in 2009 to play in all 13 games.

Following college, Henry spent time in training camp with the Oakland Raiders.

Henry was a three-time Academic All-Big Ten selection and graduated from Wisconsin with a bachelor's degree in consumer affairs in business management in 2011. He earned his master's degree in sports management from Arkansas in 2015.

Zak Kuhr is in his first year as running backs coach for Rutgers after being hired on Dec. 26, 2015 by head coach Chris Ash. Kuhr served as co-offensive coordinator at James Madison in 2015 and previously worked with Rutgers offensive coordinator Drew Mehringer on the Dukes' staff.

Kuhr coached the James Madison running backs the previous two seasons, before adding co-offensive coordinator duties in 2015. As co-offensive coordinator, James Madison finished with a 9-3 record, advancing to the second round of the FCS playoffs against Colgate this past season. The JMU offense ranked in the top 10 nationally in several statistical categories, including leading the country in third down conversion percentage (54 percent).

The Dukes were second in scoring offense (44.3 ppg), third in total offense (528.8 ypg), third in first down offense (329), seventh in rushing offense (273.8 ypg) and ninth in red zone offense (89.4 percent). Running backs Cardon Johnson and Khalid Abdullah combined to rush for over 2,000 yards as the team netted 3,285 yards with 36 touchdowns.

In his first season as running backs coach, JMU's rushing offense amassed over 2,800 yards and 25 touchdowns. The Dukes averaged 215.5 rushing yards per game, which ranked second in the Colonial Athletic Association and 21st in all of FCS.

Prior to joining the JMU staff, Kuhr spent the 2013 season at Old Dominion as a graduate assistant working with the running backs and special teams. Before ODU, he coached two seasons at Ohio State under head coach Urban Meyer as an intern working with the same personnel groups. That included mentoring running back Carlos Hyde, who went on to earn All-America status. Kuhr also assisted in developing game strategies for the special teams against opposing defenses for the Buckeyes.

He had a two-year stint at Edward Waters College as a special teams coordinator. His coaching career began as an assistant at Mandarin and N.B. Forrest high schools, including serving as offensive coordinator at Forrest.

Kuhr is a University of Florida graduate, earning his bachelor's degree in sports management in 2013.

JAFAR WILLIAMS

WIDE RECEIVERS

Jafar Williams is in his first season as wide receivers coach at Rutgers after being hired by head coach Chris Ash on Jan. 21, 2016. Williams spent the previous three seasons working with running backs at Purdue.

A native of Philadelphia, Williams was hired as running backs coach at Purdue in Jan. 2013. In 2015, he helped Markell Jones break the Boilermaker's freshman rushing record with 875 yards on 168 carries, finishing eighth overall in the Big Ten with 72.9 yards per game. Jones also led the team with 10 rushing touchdowns (11 overall) for 66 points as a true freshman. In 2014, Akeem Hunt tallied 949 yards on the ground to place eighth in the league (79.1/ game). He then went on to sign an NFL contract with the Houston Texans.

Williams joined Purdue from his running backs position at Kent State where in 2012 he coached one of the nation's top rushing tandems in Dri Archer and Traylon Durham. Under Williams' direction, the duo combined to rush for 2,745 yards and 30 touchdowns in 14 games. Archer, who averaged nine yards per carry, led Kent State with 1,429 yards rushing on 159 carries, while also hauling in a team-high 39 receptions for 561 yards with four touchdowns and returning 16 kickoffs for 591 yards and three additional scores. He was named an Associated Press, Walter Camp, ESPN.com and Sporting News All-American following the regular season. Durham finished with 1,316 yards rushing on 276 carries with 14 touchdowns, as the team ranked No. 18 nationally in rushing offense (225.79/ game).

The 2012 season saw the Golden Flashes earn an 8-0 conference record to earn the MAC East Division title. Overall, the team went 11-3 and appeared in the national polls at points during the year.

Prior to working two seasons at Kent State, Williams spent 2010 as the special teams quality control assistant at Northwestern. Before that, Williams was the wide receivers coach at Howard in 2009. Under his guidance, wide receiver Willie Carter earned second team All-Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference honors.

Williams spent the 2007 and 2008 seasons on the staff at Illinois State. As the wide receivers coach for the Redbirds, he mentored first team All-Missouri Valley Conference honoree Eyad Salem and second team pick Jason Horton.

Prior to his tenure with ISU, Williams was the passing game coordinator and wide receivers coach at Moravian for two years. In 2005, Moravian claimed the first Eastern College Athletic Conference championship in school history.

A 2003 graduate of Maryland, Williams played wide receiver for the Terrapins from 2000-03 with 90 receptions and 1,301 receiving yards. The Terps earned a trip to the Orange Bowl following the 2001 season. After college, he spent time with the Washington Redskins before beginning his coaching career at Moravian. Williams received a bachelor of science degree in health and human performance from Maryland in 2003.

PLAYING CAREER

A three-year letterwinner at Florida on the defensive line. Playing career with the Gators spanned 2000 through 2004, including red-shirt seasons in 2001 and 2002 because of a back injury. He was a starting defensive tackle in 2003 and 2004.

KENNY PARKER

HEAD STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING COACH

Kenny Parker was named head strength and conditioning coach by head coach Chris Ash on Dec. 18, 2015. Parker has spent the previous four seasons as an assistant with the Ohio State football program.

Prior to joining Rutgers, Parker has served as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at Ohio State for four seasons. A 2005 graduate of the University of Florida, Parker came to Ohio State after two seasons as a defensive line coach and strength coach at Murray State University.

Parker, who also spent a year in a director of player development capacity while at Murray State, was responsible for all of the Racers' in-season and off-season training in his strength coach role. His players made great strides in the weight room, and on the field his defensive line helped the Racers rank fourth nationally in tackles-for-loss as it combined for 54 tackles-for-loss, including 16 quarterback sacks.

Parker spent 10 years as a player and/or coach with the Gators, and was part of the Gators' programs when the team won a National Championship and three Southeastern Conference titles.

His playing career with the Gators spanned 2000 through 2004, including redshirt seasons in 2001 and 2002 because of a back injury. He was a starting defensive tackle in 2003 and 2004. Following his graduation in 2005 (sociology), Parker worked in a number of roles with UF, including as a defensive intern, graduate assistant and as an assistant director with the school's football camps. He left Florida after the 2009 season for his positions at Murray State.

Parker played his prep ball at Northside (Ga.) High School, where he was a USA Today All-American and was rated as one of the nation's top 20 defensive tackles by Rivals.com. Parker was a two-time all-state honoree and played in the Florida-Georgia all-star game as a senior.

Parker and his wife Melissa are from Warner Robins, Ga. The couple has a young daughter, Kyndal, and twin boys, Kellen and Kaden.

SEAN BAROWSKI

DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Sean Barowski is in his third season on the Rutgers coaching staff as a defensive assistant. Barowski graduated from Rutgers after serving as a student assistant coach for the Scarlet Knights through the 2014 season, where he worked with the linebackers.

Barowski, a Harrisburg, Pa. native, joined the Scarlet Knights in 2011 as a walk-on fullback until his career was ended due to injury. Barowski recorded 312 tackles, had 615 all-purpose yards and 22 catches at Bishop McDevitt High School as a fullback and linebacker.

COLLIN BAUER

DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Collin Bauer joined the Rutgers staff in 2016 as a defensive graduate assistant, working with the defensive line. He spent the previous two seasons as a defensive graduate assistant at Maryland. He earned his Master's Degree from Maryland in 2015 in real estate development.

Prior to Maryland, Bauer spent a season at The Citadel, working with the defense. A 2013 graduate of Towson with a degree in social sciences, Bauer served as a student assistant coach for the football program from 2010 to 2013.

DAVID GALANTE

OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

David Galante is in his first season as an offensive assistant for Rutgers after working in a variety of roles at Kean since 2011, including as graduate assistant offensive line coach. He also played collegiately for the Cougars from 2007-11.

Galante served the previous four seasons as offensive line coach at Kean, mentoring seven all-conference players from his position group, four to all-region status and one All-American. He played a key role in practice organization, video coordinating, academic monitoring, day-to-day operations and other duties under the head coach. In addition, Galante worked as assistant strength and conditioning coordinator the past three years and as assistant football recruiting coordinator that involved visiting high schools throughout New Jersey.

As a student-athlete, Galante was an offensive lineman and capped off his senior season with the program's first-ever appearance in the Division III NCAA tournament. Off the field, Galante was inducted into Chi Alpha Sigma, the national student-athlete honor society, in addition to being named to the New Jersey Athletic Conference all-academic team as a second-team member. His final season, he was named a member of the CoSIDA all-academic all-region team.

Galante earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in physical education and health teacher certification in 2013 and completed his Master's of Arts in counseling in May 2016. He is from Wall Township, N.J.

MARK ROSENBAUM

OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Mark Rosenbaum is in his first season as an offensive assistant. He spent 2015 working with the wide receivers at Moravian and played quarterback at Susquehanna.

With the Greyhounds, Rosenbaum performed a variety of roles that included instructing, preparing and organizing long term goals of the football program along with increasing efficiency of the day-to-day operations. With the receivers, he directed daily meetings to cover passing concepts, run game responsibilities and techniques pertaining to receiver play. In addition, he was responsible for the punt block and return unit, which blocked three punts to lead the Centennial Conference. Rosenbaum recruited North Jersey.

Rosenbaum previously worked at his alma mater, Susquehanna, as an offseason student assistant from Nov. 2010 to March 2014. He was a four-year letterwinner for the Crusaders as a signal caller and named Team MVP as a senior after completing 87-of-132 passes for 1,129 yards with eight touchdowns.

Rosenbaum graduated from the Sigmund Weis School of Business at Susquehanna in 2014 with a double major in finance and economics. He is originally from Long Valley, N.J.

JIM MONK

SPECIAL TEAMS QUALITY CONTROL

Jim Monk joined the Rutgers staff in 2016 as a quality control coach, working with special teams. Monk spent the 2014 season at James Madison with RU offensive coordinator Drew Mehringer and running backs coach Zak Kuhr and last year worked at Florida Atlantic.

Monk worked as an offensive and special teams quality control coach for the Owls, breaking down and analyzing game film to create scouting reports for both units. In addition, he led and organized scout team meetings and created daily schedules and scripts for practice.

Monk served as the assistant running backs coach in 2014 at James Madison. Monk led position meetings, developed practice schedules and scripts, charted plays during practice, graded running backs and worked from the press box on game days.

Monk earned his bachelor's degree with a double major in marketing management and management with a concentration in entrepreneurship and innovation at Virginia Tech in 2013. While in college, he worked as a volunteer with the football program, focusing on recruiting. Monk attended Westfield High School in New Jersey and played varsity football.

JORDAN SALKIN

OFFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL

Salkin joined the Rutgers staff in 2016 as a quality control coach, working with the offense.

Prior to RU, Salkin worked at James Madison University for the 2014 and 2015 seasons, along with Scarlet Knights offensive coordinator Drew Mehringer and running backs coach Zak Kuhr. With the Dukes, he assisted with the offense and the special teams. At JMU, Salkin aided in weekly game planning, installed and coached the scout teams and managed gameday personnel. While Salkin was on staff, the Dukes offense boasted a top-10 offense for both seasons, including ranking No. 1 nationally in total offense in 2015.

Salkin is a 2014 graduate of West Virginia University. He earned a Bachelor of Science in sport management and minor in communication studies.

ADAM WEBER

DEFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL

Adam Weber joined the Rutgers staff in 2016 as a defensive quality control coach. He comes to Rutgers from Ohio State, where he served as a defensive assistant under then-defensive coordinator Chris Ash. He worked for the Buckeyes for two and a half years, beginning in July of 2013.

Prior to OSU, Weber worked in the athletic department at Bishop Kenny High School in Jacksonville, Fla. He also served as an account assistant representative with the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Weber earned his Bachelor's Degree from the University of North Florida in sports management in 2012. While at UNF, he worked in the Ospreys' athletic department as a development intern.

ADAM CALTURY

DIRECTOR OF RECRUITING

Adam Caltury was named director of recruiting by head coach Chris Ash on Jan. 7, 2016.

Caltury spent the 2014 and 2015 seasons at Ohio State, working as a recruiting assistant. Prior to joining the Buckeyes' staff, he served as offensive coordinator at Central Valley High School in Pennsylvania.

Caltury graduated from Monaca High School in 2008 where he began his coaching career as the quarterbacks and wide receivers coach for two seasons. In 2010, he joined the staff at Central Valley serving as the wide receivers coach for three seasons before being promoted to offensive coordinator in 2013.

Caltury and his wife Erica are natives of Pittsburgh, Pa., and both graduated from Slippery Rock. The couple welcomed their first child in June, a daughter named Addison Lee.

WILL GILKISON

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Will Gilkison enters his sixth season as Director of Football Operations. Gilkison spent the previous year serving as the Director of External Operations and prior to that stint was a member of the Rutgers football staff for three seasons.

Gilkison's duties include the oversight of the day-to-day operations of the football program, along with logistical and budgetary responsibilities. He also manages team travel, organizes preseason camp and serves as the team's liaison to other athletic department offices and university branches.

A four-year letterwinner at linebacker with the Scarlet Knights, Gilkison captained the 2005 Insight Bowl team and was the recipient of the Paul Robeson Award, presented annually to the individual whose performance, leadership, and dedication on and off the field during his career has had the greatest impact on Rutgers football.

Gilkison became a member of the staff in 2006 as a student assistant. He was responsible for helping prepare and implement weekly practice schedules. Gilkison also worked as a strength and conditioning assistant during this time, creating and facilitating off-season training programs while instructing players in skill development.

In 2008, Gilkison joined the player development staff, serving as a mentor for first and second year players. He oversaw the transition of these individuals into the college environment, assisting them with basic life skills, time management, goal setting and prioritizing. He and his wife Katie currently reside in Union Beach, N.J. The couple have four children, Margaret, William, Grace and Gunnar.

ALLISON KREIMEIER

DIRECTOR OF PERFORMANCE NUTRITION

Allison Kreimeier is in her first season as Director of Performance Nutrition at Rutgers. Kreimeier works to design and recommend optimal nutrition programs to enhance the Scarlet Knights student-athletes' performance on the competition fields. In addition to coordinating a comprehensive education program for student-athletes and coaches, Kreimeier will also provide one-on-one nutrition counseling to student-athletes, as well as oversee the setup of fueling stations for all sports and coordinate post-workout recovery nutrition.

Kreimeier arrived at Rutgers after working as the Director of Nutrition at the University of Houston, overseeing the needs for 15 Division I sports, including the 2015

American Athletic Conference and Peach Bowl Championship Cougar football team. While at Houston, she supervised the dietetic interns and performed over 50 team education seminars.

Prior to her appointment at Houston, Kreimeier worked as a Clinical Dietitian at CHI St. Vincent Infirmary, a Family and Consumer Science Nutrition Specialist with the Arkansas Department of Health and as a Dietetic Intern with the University of Central Oklahoma.

Kreimeier earned a B.S. in dietetics/nutrition in 2012 and a M.S. in family and consumer sciences/nutrition in 2013 from the University of Central Arkansas.

PAT KELLY

VIDEO COORDINATOR

Kelly joined the Rutgers staff in 2016 as the video coordinator. Kelly arrives in Piscataway after spending the last three seasons (2013-15) as the recruiting video coordinator/assistant video coordinator at Arkansas. Kelly overlapped with Ash in 2014 in Fayetteville and before that at Wisconsin.

Kelly has shot and digitalized football games and practices since 2004 as a video coordinator. He also has extensive experience with opponent tape exchanges, matching video clips and game analysis. Kelly has worked with a variety of video programs over the years.

Prior to coming to Arkansas with head coach Bret Bielema, Kelly worked as a video assistant and coordinator at Wisconsin for the 2011 and 2012 seasons, including two trips to the Rose Bowl.

Kelly spent six months as the assistant video director at the United Football League in 2010, where he was in charge of day-to-day video operations. His duties included reporting to coaches and their needs, troubleshooting problems, teaching how to accomplish their projects, managing cutups and the corresponding filters. In addition, he would quickly digitalize all games so coaches could immediately self-scout and evaluate.

Kelly started his career as a student coordinator at Colorado State in Oct. 2003 before starting to shoot games the following season. He was part of the CSU Video Department that was named CSVA Mountain West Conference Video Coordinators of the Year for the 2005-2006 and 2007-2008 seasons. He would stay on with the Rams until June 2009 before taking a video position at Washington State, where he spent one season.

Kelly earned his a bachelor of arts from Colorado State in English Literature in 2009 with a minor in political science. He and his wife Tricia reside in Piscataway, N.J. with their daughter Ella.

COACHING STAFF

TOBY NIENAS DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Toby Nienas came to Rutgers in 2016 as the director of player personnel. He arrived in Piscataway with over 20 years of collegiate coaching experience, spending the previous three seasons (2013-15) as the special teams coordinator at Colorado.

Prior to his stint with the Buffaloes, Nienas coached the secondary at Montana State during the 2012 season. In his lone year at Montana State, the Bobcats finished as tri-champions of the Big Sky Conference with an 11-2 mark and an appearance in the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) quarterfinals. Under Nienas' guidance, Montana State finished 14th in the nation in pass efficiency defense, holding opponents to just a 52.6 completion percentage and recording 13 interceptions.

Before arriving at Montana State, Nienas spent the previous three seasons at New Mexico (2009-11). Nienas was the special teams coordinator in his first two years with the Lobos before being promoted to defensive coordinator for the 2011 season. Nienas coached two All-Mountain West Conference performers during his time at New Mexico.

A native of Kansas City, Kan., Nienas served three seasons on the San Diego State coaching staff (2006-08), coordinating the special teams all three years along with coaching the Aztec tight ends in 2006 and 2007 and the outside linebackers in 2008.

At SDSU, he coached punter Michael Hughes to honorable mention All-America honors in 2007 and tutored Tyler Schmitt, the only long snapper specialist selected in the 2008 NFL Draft. Ash was also on the San Diego State staff in 2007 and 2008.

In addition to his positions at Colorado, Montana State, New Mexico and San Diego State, Nienas enjoyed full-time assistant coaching stints at Temple (2002-05), Alabama-Birmingham (1996-2001) and North Carolina (1995).

Nienas earned his Bachelor's degree in history in 1995 at the University of Missouri, where he began his coaching career as a student assistant. He and his wife, Cassie, have three sons, Charlie, Henry and Edward.

NICK QUARTARO DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Nick Quartaro is in his first season as director of player development. Quartaro brings over 30 years of college football experience to Piscataway, including seven as a head coach. He and head coach Chris Ash worked together on the Iowa State staff from 2000-01.

A native of Geneva, N.Y., Quartaro served as head coach at Fordham (1994-97) and at Ash's alma mater, Drake (1986-88). A three-year letter-winner as a kicker at Iowa (1974-76), he returns to the Big Ten after working as a defensive assistant and with special teams at Northwestern from 1981-85 and as a graduate assistant at for the Hawkeyes in 1978.

Quartaro spent the last five seasons on the staff at North Texas as the assistant head coach under Dan McCarney, who also mentored Ash previously at Iowa State for seven seasons. At NT, Quartaro worked with the wide receivers the first three years before moving to the tight ends the last two. He coached tight end Marcus Smith to a team-high six touchdowns in 2014 and 29 receptions this past season, ranked second-most on the team. The Mean Green earned nine wins in 2013 for just the sixth time in over 100 years of the program, including winning the Heart of Dallas Bowl over UNLV for the program's third bowl win.

Prior to joining North Texas, Quartaro was the associate head coach and offensive coordinator at Kansas from 2002-06, where he helped the Jayhawks earn two bowl game appearances (2003 Tangerine Bowl, 2005 Fort Worth Bowl). During his time at Kansas, 19 offensive players earned Big 12 All-Conference accolades.

The 2005 Jayhawk offense set a school record for bowl-game total yards with 538 against Houston in a victory in the Fort Worth Bowl, and in 2006 running back Jon Cornish led the Big 12 in rushing while setting a school record for yards in a season with 1,457. During the 2003 campaign, Quartaro helped orchestrate a KU offense that set 12 different single-season school records at the time including most points (384), most touchdown passes (25) and most total yards gained (5,479).

Prior to arriving in Lawrence, Quartaro was an integral part of the rebuilding processes at Iowa State and Kansas State as an assistant coach, and at Fordham and Drake as a head coach. He successfully altered the record of a formerly winless football program at Fordham, and was associate head coach and worked with Kansas State's tight ends and special teams in the Wildcats' gridiron turnaround.

Quartaro, who served as wide receivers coach at ISU from 1998-2001, was instrumental in helping the Cyclones achieve back-to-back appearances in bowl games his last two seasons and the best combined record (16-7) in 23 years. His influence was felt in ISU's 9-3 record, top 25 ranking and victory over Pittsburgh in the 2000 Insight.com Bowl.

Quartaro was named head coach at Fordham University in 1994 and spent four years building a winning program. In 1997, Quartaro's last season, the Rams finished with their first-ever winning record in the Patriot League, a 4-2 mark, good for third place. Prior to his appointment at Fordham, Quartaro had a five-year tenure as part of the original staff of Bill Snyder at Kansas State. Elevated to assistant head coach in his second year and associate head coach in his third season, Quartaro helped K-State to its first bowl game in the Snyder era in the 1993 Copper Bowl. He also had assignments as tight ends and special teams coach for the Wildcats.

Quartaro served as head coach at Drake University for three years (1986-88) and guided the Bulldogs to a 7-3 mark in his third and final year. He also worked five years (1981-85) at Northwestern under former NFL head coach Dennis Green assisting with the secondary, the defensive line, and coordinating the special teams and coached future 14-year NFL punter John Kidd and special teams standout Steve Tasker of the Buffalo Bills.

Quartaro also worked as a high school head coach in Iowa and served as an assistant at Hobart College in Geneva, N.Y.

After starting his college playing career as a defensive end/kicker at Xavier (Ohio), Quartaro transferred to Iowa and became the Hawkeyes' kicker for three seasons and earned his degree in 1977. He finished his career as Iowa's second all-time leading scorer and was named academic all-conference as a junior. Quartaro spent time serving as a college football radio analyst in the Tampa Bay area while working in corporate management before joining the staff at North Texas.

Quartaro and his wife, Stephanie, have two children, Andria and Tony.

Known as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten is home to a lineage of legendary names and an ongoing tradition of developing strong leaders. Even in its infancy, the conference established itself as the preeminent collection of institutions in the nation, where the pursuit of academic excellence prevailed as the definitive goal.

The history of the Big Ten traces back 120 years to the Palmer House hotel in Chicago, where on January 11, 1895, then-Purdue president James H. Smart and leaders from the University of Chicago, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University and University of Wisconsin set out to organize and develop principles for the regulation of intercollegiate athletics.

At that meeting, a blueprint for the administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' first known action "restricted eligibility for athletics to bonafide, full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies." That important legislation, along with other legislation that would follow in the coming years, served as the primary building block for intercollegiate athletics.

On February 8, 1896, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met at the same Palmer House and officially established the mechanics of the conference, which was officially incorporated as the "Intercollegiate Conference Athletic Association" in 1905.

Indiana University and the State University of Iowa became the eighth and ninth members in 1899. In 1908, Michigan briefly withdrew its membership, and in 1912 Ohio State University joined the conference, bringing its membership total back to nine. Upon Michigan's return in 1917, the conference was first referred to as the "Big Ten" by media members, and that name was eventually incorporated in 1987.

As the 1900s opened, faculty representatives established rules for intercollegiate athletics that were novel for the time. As early as 1904, the faculty approved legislation that required eligible athletes to meet entrance requirements and to have completed a full year's work, along with having one year of residence.

In 1901, the first Big Ten Championship event was staged when the outdoor track and field championships were held at the University of Chicago. The debut event marked what is now a staple of conference competition. Today, the Big Ten sponsors 28 official sports, 14 for men and 14 for women, including the addition of men's ice hockey and men's and women's lacrosse the last two years. Big Ten schools compete in a total of 42 different sports, furthering the conference's commitment to broad-based programming and providing more participation opportunities than any conference in the country.

One of the conference's proudest traditions began in 1902 when Michigan took on Stanford in the Rose Bowl, the nation's first bowl game. Big Ten teams only appeared in Pasadena twice before the conference signed an exclusive contract with the Tournament of Roses in 1946, making it the first bowl game with permanent conference affiliations. But Michigan's appearance in 1902 cultivated a relationship that has endured for more than a century. In January 2014, Michigan State defeated Stanford in the 100th Rose Bowl Game.

Coupling the academic goals set forth by the leaders of the charter members of the conference and their steadfast commitment to athletics, the conference instituted the Big Ten Medal of Honor in 1915. It is awarded annually by each conference institution to a student of the graduating class who has attained the greatest proficiency in scholarship and athletics. It is the most prestigious honor a student competing in Big Ten athletics can receive.

In 1922, Major John L. Griffith became the conference's first "Commissioner of Athletics." Griffith was the first of five men to assume the role of commissioner in the conference's history, followed by Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson in 1945, Bill Reed in 1961, Wayne Duke in 1971 and current commissioner James E. Delany in 1989.

After nearly 30 years with 10 members, the conference consolidated to nine schools when the University of Chicago formally withdrew its membership in 1946. Michigan State College (now Michigan State University) was added to the Big Ten three years later, bringing the number of affiliated conference schools to 10 once again.

In 1955, the Big Ten formulated a revenue-sharing model designed to pool all football television rights of its members and share those proceeds equally. The conference and its members continue to utilize a revenue-sharing model, dividing media rights, bowl payouts and other profits among all conference institutions.

While academics have always played an integral role in the conference, presidents of the Big Ten member institutions formalized the primacy of academics with the establishment of the Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) in 1958. The CIC was formed as an academic consortium of all Big Ten universities and founding conference member Chicago. In 2013, the 15 schools currently constituting the CIC produced over $10 billion in funded research, $4 billion more than any other conference.

In one of Duke's first actions as commissioner, he oversaw the adoption of the Big Ten Advisory Commission in 1972, designed to study conference programs and make suggestions which would further Big Ten objectives. The Advisory Commission enlists former students that competed in Big Ten athletics to serve as liaisons to the NCAA's Diversity and Inclusion Department, the Big Ten Student-Athlete Advisory Commission and other organizations.

In 1981, the conference presidents and chancellors endorsed a proposal that enabled universities to affiliate their women's intercollegiate programs with the conference, and the first conference championships for women were staged that fall. The Big Ten was the first conference to voluntarily adopt male and female participation goals after launching its Gender Equity Action Plan in 1992.

In December of 1989, the conference agreed in principle to invite Pennsylvania State University for membership. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Presidents officially voted to integrate Penn State into the conference, giving the Big Ten 11 members.

In 2004, the Big Ten implemented a pilot program of instant replay for college football. Following the season, the conference forwarded replay proposals to the NCAA regarding the future use of instant replay, where it approved country-wide testing in 2005. In 2006, the NCAA approved the use of instant replay for all conferences.

In 2006, Commissioner Delany announced the creation of the first conference-owned television network, a 20-year agreement with Fox Networks to create what would become the Big Ten Network (BTN). Launched on Aug. 30, 2007, BTN now produces more than 1,000 events across all platforms each year. BTN is in more than 60 million homes in the U.S. and Canada via the nation's major cable, satellite and telco providers and more than 300 additional cable operators across the country. BTN2Go is the digital extension of BTN, delivering live and on-demand programming to computers, smartphones and tablets and also is accessible outside the U.S., Canada and the Caribbean via BTN2Go International.

On June 11, 2010, the Big Ten Council of Presidents/Chancellors (COP/C) approved a formal membership application by the University of Nebraska, expanding the conference to 12 institutions. Nebraska officially joined the Big Ten Conference on July 1, 2011.

The conference expanded its footprint further in 2012 when the COP/C approved formal membership applications from the University of Maryland and Rutgers University on November 19 and 20, respectively. Maryland and Rutgers became official Big Ten members on July 1, 2014, giving the conference almost 9,500 students participating in intercollegiate athletics and more than 11,000 participation opportunities on 350 teams.

On June 3, 2013, the Big Ten announced that Johns Hopkins University had been accepted as the conference's first sport affiliate member. Johns Hopkins' addition in men's lacrosse gave the Big Ten six institutions sponsoring the sport, allowing the debut of men's lacrosse as an official conference sport and building on the Big Ten's tradition of broad-based sports competition. On June 17, 2015, the conference announced that Johns Hopkins was accepted as a sport affiliate member for women's lacrosse beginning with the 2016-17 academic year.

In the fall of 2013, the Big Ten opened a new conference headquarters and meeting center in Rosemont, Ill. The newly constructed building is located 10 minutes from O'Hare Airport and has been designed to fully service the needs of more than 350 meetings annually for Big Ten and CIC related committees and coaches groups. The new headquarters also features an interactive digital museum - the Big Ten Experience - which opened to the public on June 7, 2014, and brings the conference's storied academic and athletic history to life. For more information on the Big Ten Experience, go to bigten.org.

In June 2014, the Big Ten opened a second office in New York City, featuring both office and meeting space in Midtown Manhattan. Three Big Ten staff members are based in the New York City office to provide expanded coverage and service, while other conference and institutional administrators utilize the space as necessary when conducting business on the East Coast. The Big Ten and its member institutions also have access to satellite office space in Washington, D.C.

Delany and his staff work to meet the educational needs of students competing in intercollegiate athletics to allow them to excel in all areas of their lives. The conference office manages 28 different championships and tournaments, offers legislative and compliance services, oversees the production and distribution of nearly 1,400 events annually, provides staff services to coaching and administrative personnel and services media and fans interest for information on the Big Ten Conference.

More than 120 years after its inception, the Big Ten remains a national leader in intercollegiate athletics on and off the field. Big Ten programs have combined to win more than 450 team and 1,800 individual national championships, consistently taking home individual honors for athletic and academic accomplishments and fulfilling the Big Ten's mission of academic achievement and athletic success.

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

A photograph of President Robert Barchi, a middle-aged man with thinning hair, wearing a light blue dress shirt and a dark red tie. He is smiling and looking towards two young men on either side of him. They are standing in front of a large, ornate stone gate with a metal fence. The gate has a large stone pillar with a carved 'R' and the year '1773'. The background shows green trees and a clear sky.

ROBERT BARCHI Robert Barchi is the 20th president of Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, a 67,000-student comprehensive research institution.

Appointed in 2012, President Barchi is leading Rutgers at one of the most exciting moments of its 250-year history. In 2013 he guided the formation of Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences, a major new division of the university established when, through restructuring legislation signed by Governor Chris Christie, most units of the former University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey were integrated into Rutgers.

President Barchi led development of an ambitious universitywide strategic plan, the first at Rutgers in nearly 20 years, and a corresponding physical master plan. He helped lead Rutgers into the Big Ten Athletic Conference, a group of similarly sized leading research institutions, and the conference's academic consortium, the Big Ten Academic Alliance. Working closely with Rutgers alumni and friends, he successfully completed the university's first billion-dollar capital campaign. And, after helping advocate for passage of a statewide bond referendum for higher education construction, Dr. Barchi has overseen a capital program totaling more than $1.2 billion in planning, design, and construction of academic and student-services facilities across all Rutgers locations.

ROBERT L. BARCHI

PRESIDENT OF RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

From 2004 to 2012, Dr. Barchi served as president of Thomas Jefferson University in Philadelphia, nationally regarded as a top university dedicated to health sciences education and research. Prior to Jefferson, he was provost and chief academic officer of the University of Pennsylvania, an Ivy League institution founded in 1740. There, he had responsibility for Penn's 12 schools, all academic programs, athletics, students, and faculty.

Dr. Barchi was born in Philadelphia but spent his formative years not far from Rutgers in Westfield, N.J. He received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Georgetown University, and Ph.D. and M.D. degrees from the University of Pennsylvania. He completed specialty training at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania and holds board certification in neurology. Throughout his career, Dr. Barchi has been active as a teacher and as an NIH-funded researcher in the fields of neuroscience and neurology, and he has published extensively in his field. He was elected to the National Academy of Medicine in recognition of his pioneering research on the structure and function of voltage-gated ion channels in nerve and muscle, and on the role these critical molecules can play in human disease. He was also elected to the American Society for Clinical Investigation and the Association of American Physicians and named a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Neurological Association, and the American Academy of Neurology.

In 1972, Dr. Barchi began his academic career as a faculty member at Penn. Within a decade, he rose to become the David Mahoney Professor of Neurological Sciences. Between 1983 and 1996, he served as director of the Mahoney Institute of Neurological Sciences—an interdisciplinary, universitywide entity that he expanded to become the focus for Penn's growth in neuroscience, encompassing the intellectual activities of more than 120 faculty members. Dr. Barchi founded the Department of Neuroscience at Penn and served as its first chair; he also served as chair of the Department of Neurology. He was named the Fairhill Professor in 2002, a position that he still holds in emeritus status.

The University of Pennsylvania named Dr. Barchi as its provost and chief academic officer in 1999, and he served in this capacity until 2004. As provost, Dr. Barchi had responsibility for the university's 12 schools and their academic programs and budgets and Penn's intercollegiate athletics program, as well as for Penn's students and faculty. During his tenure, he worked with president Judith Rodin to reassert the primacy of the academic mission in the direction of the university. He recruited new leadership to nine of the 12 schools at Penn and established a number of universitywide interdisciplinary educational and research institutes. He also led the university through a comprehensive strategic planning process.

As president of Thomas Jefferson University, Dr. Barchi oversaw a period of tremendous growth. The university established three new schools—including the Jefferson School of Pharmacy, which graduated its first class in May 2012, and the Jefferson School of Population Health, the only school in the nation to offer a master's degree in chronic care management. Overall student enrollment increased by 51 percent and annual degrees awarded rose by 54 percent. Dr. Barchi also expanded the reach of the campus, inaugurating the Partnership in Healthcare Education, an academic affiliation with the University of Delaware that offers dual-degree programs between the two institutions.

Other accomplishments at Jefferson include successful implementation of an ambitious strategic plan that integrated the university's clinical, education, and research missions; a comprehensive facilities master plan that supports those missions; and a major fundraising campaign that provides the resources necessary for success. During Dr. Barchi's tenure, Jefferson established 22 new endowed professorships and 50 endowed scholarships, helping to ensure a healthy and diverse community of faculty and students. The university surpassed $300 million in fundraising under his leadership, twice the amount raised during the preceding eight-year period.

During his presidency, Dr. Barchi also oversaw the transformation of Jefferson's urban environment into a vibrant university campus. A coordinated construction program, coupled with improved landscape design and signage, helped provide visitors and the Jefferson community a sense of place and connectedness to the compact urban campus in the heart of the city's historic district.

Dr. Barchi is married to Francis Harper Barchi, a faculty member in the Edward J. Bloustein School of Planning and Public Policy at Rutgers. Before coming to Rutgers, she was a senior fellow in the Center for Bioethics at the University of Pennsylvania, where she was engaged in education and research activities relating to international research ethics. Francis Barchi holds a Ph.D. in social welfare, a master's in bioethics, and a master's in nonprofit leadership from the University of Pennsylvania, as well as a bachelor's degree from Smith College. She is the former executive vice president of the Dana Foundation in New York, a post she assumed following a 20-year span as president of her own company, which provided protocol and strategic communication services for international clients. Francis Barchi's research focuses on the social and behavioral factors that influence women's health in southern Africa. In 2009, she completed the first major quantitative study on women's autonomy and gender-based violence in Botswana, and she is the principal investigator on a study in that country examining the extent to which women's understanding of HPV and cervical cancer influences their decision-making about prevention and treatment. She is currently part of a team responsible for ethics training of health professionals in Botswana, Tanzania, and Guatemala.

As an avocation, President Barchi is an expert in the history and mechanical development of clocks and watches. In addition to collecting and conserving examples of these timepieces from the 17th and 18th centuries, he designs and constructs his own precision clocks in his basement machine shop.

The Barchis, who have four adult children and one young dog, spend their leisure time at their home in coastal Maine where they are avid boaters and hikers.

PATRICK HOBBS DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

A New Jersey native with over 20 years of leadership experience in higher education and public service, Patrick Hobbs serves as the Director of Athletics at Rutgers University.

Hobbs joined the Scarlet Knights on Nov. 29, 2015, moving south down the New Jersey Turnpike after notable achievements at Seton Hall University. He served as Dean at the Seton Hall School of Law from 1999 to 2015 and oversaw the Department of Athletics for the Pirates from 2009 to 2011.

"There is no question about the opportunity at Rutgers," Hobbs said at his introductory press conference. "New Jersey is a special place. This is New Jersey's University."

Hobbs stated that his first priority was to hire a football coach to lead young men and to serve as an ambassador for Rutgers University. Just eight days after his hire, he announced Chris Ash as the 30th head coach in the 146-year history of the program. Ash arrived with nearly two decades of collegiate coaching experience, including five years in the Big Ten Conference (four as a defensive coordinator) with four B1G Championships.

"Chris Ash is absolutely the right coach at the right time for Rutgers football," Hobbs said. "He brings with him a national reputation for his coaching and recruiting abilities and, more importantly, for his character and leadership."

The positive momentum established during the fall semester, continued to bloom in the spring. Hobbs restructured Athletics leadership to enhance communication, improve resource allocation and to enrich customer service and the game day experience. This new leadership is charged with developing a comprehensive strategic plan that will communicate a defined vision for Rutgers Athletics.

On March 22, Steve Pikiell, the 2016 America East Conference Coach of the Year who led Stony Brook to six post-season appearances over the past seven years, was introduced by Hobbs as the 19th head coach in the history of Rutgers men's basketball. A two-time team captain under Jim Calhoun at Connecticut, he arrived with 25 years of coaching experience, including the past 11 seasons as head coach of the Seawolves.

"Everywhere Steve has been, he's won," said Hobbs. "But most impressive, is that everywhere he's been, they started at the bottom and rose to the top. He will bring that same dedication and energy to build a successful program at Rutgers."

A media conference on May 10 further reinforced the positive trajectory of Rutgers Athletics under Hobbs. "R B1G Build," a comprehensive campaign launched to raise $100 million for new or upgraded facilities, had surpassed the $50 million milestone in just 15 weeks. The initiative was boosted 10 donations of more than $1 million during that span, including the three largest gifts in Rutgers Athletics history, which combined to exceed $11 million.

"This generous support will help meet critical needs for our student-athletes to successfully compete in the nation's premier academic and athletic conference," said Hobbs. "Having supporters who not only understand what it takes to compete on an elite level, but provide the resources to help lead us there, is integral to our success."

When the 2015-16 season came to a close, the achievements, both on the field and in the classroom, were unmistakable. Rutgers was one of just two Universities to have its men's and women's soccer, wrestling and men's lacrosse programs all nationally-ranked. RU student-athletes combined to win 16 Big Ten Players of the Year honors and individual championships. In addition, Scarlet Knights earned 17 All-America and 46 All-Big Ten honors. These accomplishments were available for the world to see, as 279 competitions were televised or streamed, including 90 televised on national linear networks.

Rutgers had 228 student-athletes recognized as Academic All-Big Ten, an increase from 196 in 2014-15. RU also boasted 72 Big Ten Distinguished Scholars with cumulative grade point averages of 3.7 or better, an increase from 54 the prior year. In between their athletic and academic achievements, Rutgers student-athletes performed more than 3,500 hours of community service in 2015-16.

Hobbs, 56, is the proud father of three children and resides in Basking Ridge, N.J.

"Old" Rutgers Stadium

Dedicated on November 5, 1938 at the Rutgers-Princeton game, the Stadium had its first game two weeks earlier as Rutgers hosted Hampden-Sydney. The season finale against Lafayette was the third game in the Stadium. Rutgers won all three contests and did not lose at the site until the sixth game in 1940, a 7-6 loss to Lafayette. Rutgers won the first 13 Stadium games, including seven straight in 1939.

HISTORY & TRADITION

THE FIRST FOOTBALL GAME

Rutgers and Princeton played the first game of intercollegiate football on Nov. 6, 1869, on a plot of ground where the present-day Rutgers gymnasium now stands in New Brunswick, N.J. Rutgers won that first game, 6-4.

The game was played with two teams of 25 men each under rugby-like rules, but like modern football, it was "replete with surprise, strategy, prodigies of determination and physical prowess," to use the words of one of the Rutgers players.

At 3 p.m. on that memorable afternoon, the 50 competitors and about 100 spectators gathered on the field. To distinguish themselves from the bareheaded visitors, 50 Rutgers students, including players, donned scarlet-colored scarves which they converted into turbans.

Events leading up to the game were described by John W. Herbert, Rutgers '72, who was one of the players: "To appreciate this game to the fullest you must know something of its background," Herbert wrote in 1933. "The two colleges were, and still are, of course, about 20 miles apart. The rivalry between them was intense. For years each had striven for possession of an old Revolutionary cannon, making night forays and lugging it back and forth time and again. Not long before the first football game, the canny Princetonians had settled this competition in their own favor by ignominiously sinking the gun in several feet of concrete. In addition to this, I regret to report, Princeton had beaten Rutgers in baseball by the harrowing score of 40-2. Rutgers longed for a chance to square things."

A challenge for the game was issued by Rutgers. Three games were to be played that year. The first, played at New Brunswick, was won by Rutgers. Princeton won the second game, but cries of "over-emphasis" prevented the third game in football's first year when faculties of both institutions protested on the grounds that the games were interfering with student studies. An analytical account of the game appeared in the November, 1869 issue of the Targum, Rutgers' undergraduate newspaper.

"To describe the varying fortunes of the match, game by game, would be a waste of labor for every game was like the one before," wrote the student reporter. "There was the same headlong running, wild shouting, and frantic kicking.

"To sum up, Princeton had the most muscle, but didn't kick very well, and wanted organization. They evidently don't like to kick the ball on the ground. Our men, on the other hand, though comparatively weak, ran well, and kicked well throughout. But their great point was the organization, for which great praise is due to the captain. The right men were always in the right place."

One of the Princeton players, William Preston Lane, in 1933 contended in a newspaper interview that Rutgers "ran us Princeton men out of town. I never found out why they did that," he related. "But we don't ask any questions. When we saw them coming after us, we ran to the outskirts of New Brunswick and got into our carriages and wagons and went away as fast as we could."

Lane's contention is refuted in the Targum account. "After the match the players had an amicable 'feed together,'" the paper reported. "At 8 o'clock our guests went home, in high good spirits, thirsting to beat us next time, if they can."

Regardless of what actually happened after the first game, football was here to stay. Rutgers got Columbia University started in the grid sport the following season and in a few years most of the colleges and universities in the East were represented on the gridiron.

THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Parts of this article were written by John Bruns, former long-time sports writer for the Home News and the Easton Times-Express.

When Rutgers defeated Princeton in 1869, the setting was quite different than it is today. The game was contested on a field along College Avenue in New Brunswick. There were not tens of thousands of cheering fans in a multi-million dollar stadium. There was no manicured grass field or electronic scoreboard. There was no elaborate athletic equipment or television cameras. But on that fall day in 1869, those students established a tradition of quality football programs, competitiveness and school spirit that continues at Rutgers, the birthplace of intercollegiate football.

Now 147 years later entering the 2016 season, Rutgers has had many historical moments, outstanding athletes and memorable triumphs over the years.

However, those historic moments were difficult to predict during the early years when intercollegiate football scheduling was inconsistent. For example, Rutgers won six of 10 games in 1882, but played only one game in 1885. Similarly, the Scarlet Knights went 8-6 in 1891, but two years later played only four games. By the early 1900s, scheduling had become more consistent and football became more popular across the country.

The eight wins of 1891 were not matched until Rutgers went 8-1 in 1947 with one of the most successful teams of coach Harvey Harman in the Golden Era immediately following World War II. That team, quarterbacked by Frank Burns, who would later become Rutgers' most successful coach, lost its opener to Columbia and then swept through eight-straight opponents.

In 1913, coach George Foster Sanford began a tradition of success among Rutgers coaches in their inaugural year by leading his team to a 6-3 mark. He then flirted with two perfect seasons, improving the team to 7-1 in 1915 and 7-1-1 in 1917.

Those two seasons, which featured All-American Paul Robeson, were among Rutgers' best. The Scarlet Knights outscored opponents by an average of 44-3 in 1915 and 33-2 in 1917. Sanford, a member of Rutgers' Hall of Fame, also helped to introduce Rutgers to the New York metropolitan area, playing games at the Polo Grounds against teams like Notre Dame, Nebraska, Louisiana State and West Virginia. A few years later, in 1924, two-time All-America end and fullback Homer Hazel helped coach John Wallace continue the tradition of first-year coaching success, as Rutgers posted a 7-1-1 mark.

Harvey Harman also had a successful first season, going 7-1 in 1938, the year Rutgers dedicated the original Rutgers Stadium. Rutgers won the dedication game, 20-18, over Princeton.

Harman, however, was replaced by former coach Harry Rockafeller during World War II. His tenure included an 8-1 season in 1947 when Rutgers, dominated by WWII veterans, registered a combined record of 27-7 from 1945-48.

When John Steigman coached Rutgers from 1956-59, he brought back the single-wing formation to the Scarlet Knight offense, and led Rutgers to an 8-1 mark in 1958. The only loss of that season, 13-12 to the Quantico Marines, came when All-American tailback Billy Austin had to miss a game due to a broken hand.

Another first-year coach got off to an impressive start when John Bateman went 8-1 in 1960. That campaign was followed by Rutgers' first undefeated season in 1961, when the team went 9-0, capping the season with a fourth-quarter, 25-point comeback win over Columbia. That team included All-American center Alex Kroll, and was ranked 15th nationally. In his 11 seasons, Bateman led Rutgers to 73 wins in 124 games.

In 1973, Frank Burns took the reins of Rutgers football and became the most successful Rutgers coach ever by building teams recognized for fundamentals and defense. Burns himself was also known as a fierce linebacker and won the Most Valuable Player Award in the 1949 College All-Star game, when he made 17 tackles against the New York Giants. The Burns' defenses were led by linebackers Ed Steward, Jim Hughes, Jim Dumont and defensive end Nate Toran. Burns' first team went 6-5, while running back "JJ" Jennings rushed for 1,353 yards (third in Rutgers history) and 21 touchdowns (second).

Over the next five seasons, Burns' teams won at least seven games each season, including a five-season stretch from 1975-79 when Rutgers' winning percentage was .803 with a record of 45-11. The jewel in the crown of Burns' tenure as Rutgers' coach was the 1976 season, when the team was perfect at 11-0, establishing the best season ever at Rutgers. During Burns' 11 seasons at Rutgers, the Scarlet Knights won nearly two-thirds of their games (78-44). He also took Rutgers to its first bowl appearance – the Garden State Bowl – at Giants Stadium against Arizona State in 1978.

Doubtless, the biggest win of the Burns era was the 13-7 upset of Tennessee on November 3, 1979 in Knoxville. Burns called it "the greatest of my coaching career."

The following year, 1980, Rutgers had one of its great "near-misses" of its long history when the Scarlet bowed, 17-13, to a highly-favored Alabama team coached by Bear Bryant at Giants Stadium. The gracious Bryant said, "We didn't beat Rutgers. All I can say is we won."

In 1984 when Dick Anderson was named head coach, a renewed commitment to football at Rutgers was backed by a $3 million state-funded package. Those funds helped finance the artificial surface practice fields, the practice "Bubble" and the Hale Center, which includes locker rooms, offices, a weight-training area and medical facilities for the football team.

Anderson won seven of 10 games in his inaugural season. Other highlights of his years at Rutgers include upset wins over such nationally-ranked teams as Penn State and Michigan State, and a nationally-televised victory over Northwestern in the program's 1,000th game. Anderson's teams produced some of the most exciting players in Rutgers history, including record-breaking passer Scott Erney, career tackles leader Tyrone Stowe (533 from 1983-86) and football/baseball star Eric Young. Anderson's last game at Rutgers was a memorable one. It was the 1989 Emerald Isle Classic versus Pittsburgh in Dublin, Ireland, the first time a Rutgers team played overseas.

Doug Graber became the Scarlet Knights' 23rd coach in 1990 and placed an emphasis on recruiting the best talent in the state of New Jersey. His first recruiting class included three first team all-state selections and two second-team All-State selections among the 12 recruits from New Jersey.

Another major boost for Rutgers came in 1991 when Rutgers joined the Big East Conference and won its first league game over Boston College, 20-13. The team went 13-9 in its first two years in the league, including a 4-2 mark in 1992.

The 1994 season celebrated not only the 125 years of college football, but also the return of the newly-renovated and expanded Rutgers Stadium. The return was a welcomed one. Rutgers teams have been at their best at the stadium, compiling a 237-120-4 (.662) record there since 1938. The new stadium has been quite a different setting than that of the first college football game played 130 years ago, as the Scarlet Knights are playing for their own place in history as they continue the college football tradition that was born "On the Banks of the Old Raritan."

1998 Big East Coach of the Year Terry Shea concluded his tenure in 2000, as the Scarlet Knights opted to take the program in a different direction for the 2001 season. On Dec. 1, 2000, Director of Athletics Bob Mulcahy introduced the newest coach in the storied history of Rutgers football - Greg Schiano.

Schiano's first three recruiting classes rejuvenated the football program. In 2003, the team closed strong, upsetting Syracuse, 24-7, in the season finale. In 2004, before the largest crowd ever at the time at Rutgers Stadium (42,612), the Scarlet Knights defeated Michigan State, 19-14.

In 2005, Schiano coached Rutgers to its best record in over a decade, 7-5, and its first bowl bid since 1978. In a Wild West shootout staged at Chase Field in Phoenix, Rutgers fell just short, losing to Arizona State, 45-40, at the Insight Bowl Dec. 27.

In 2006 Schiano was named the National Coach of the Year and Big East Coach of the Year, as the Scarlet Knights earned their first national top-10 ranking in 2006 and won 11 games for the second time in school history. The campaign included a thrilling win 28-25 over No. 3/4 Louisville in front of a Thursday night national audience on ESPN. The comeback victory, with RU overcoming an 18-point deficit, became one of the turning points in modern Rutgers history as fans stormed the field to ignite "Pandemonium in Piscataway." Rutgers ended the season with a ranking of No. 12 in the national polls.

The success Rutgers achieved on the field was something Schiano envisioned from the first day he became the leader of the Scarlet Knights. At his introductory press conference, Schiano stated, "We're going to win at Rutgers and we're going to do it the right way." The 2006 season was complete with a convincing 37-10 victory over Kansas State in the Texas Bowl, the first bowl championship in school history. In addition, Brian Leonard was the recipient of the Draddy Trophy, known as the Academic Heisman.

The program won eight more games in 2007, including the highest ranked win in program history with a 30-27 victory over No. 2 USF. The season concluded with a dominating 52-30 victory over Ball State at the International Bowl in Toronto. Ray Rice ran for a school-record 280 rushing yards on the day to bring his career total to 4,926, a program high. An All-America pick and Heisman Trophy candidate, the running back also set the Scarlet Knight standards for attempts (910), touchdowns (49) and 100-yard games (25).

The 2008 campaign for the Scarlet Knights started slowly, but the program relied on a strong foundation built by Schiano and together as a family Rutgers turned in seven consecutive victories to close out the season – culminating in a 29-23 victory over NC State in the PapaJohns.com Bowl. In 2009, the Scarlet Knights saw a number of milestones set en route to a record of 9-4, including a 45-24 victory over UCF in the St. Petersburg Bowl.

Prior to Schiano's arrival at Rutgers, the Scarlet Knights had never fielded a receiver who had gained 1,000 yards in a season. In 2009, Tim Brown became the fourth during his tenure to eclipse the mark. Brown also became the school's all-time leader in receiving touchdowns, passing RU's initial first round draft pick Kenny Britt. RU had two first round picks in 2010, with Anthony Davis being the highest pick in program history at No. 11 by the San Francisco 49ers. Devin McCourty was selected at No. 27 by the New England Patriots.

While the results on the field did not favor Rutgers in 2010, the world was introduced to Eric LeGrand. The junior defensive tackle suffered a spinal cord injury at MetLife Stadium Oct. 16 against Army, but he did not let the condition bring him down. LeGrand has become a public figure and has raised countless dollars towards spinal cord research. He became the first Scarlet Knight in the 144 years of the football program to have his number retired during halftime of the Sept. 14, 2013 game against Eastern Michigan.

Rutgers returned to a bowl game in 2011 with a trip to the New Era Pinstripe Bowl. It was the second game of the season for the team at Yankee Stadium. The Scarlet Knights defeated Army during the regular season before beating Iowa State in the bowl game. Wide receiver Mohamed Sanu set the school record with 115 receptions on the season and was drafted in the third round of the NFL Draft by the Cincinnati Bengals.

Following the season, head coach Greg Schiano took the head coaching job with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers to end an 11-year tenure. Kyle Flood, who joined the program in 2005, was promoted from the staff to the lead position several days later.

Flood made an immediate impact on the Rutgers program with a successful first season, as he led the school to its first Big East Championship in 2012, ending with a 9-4 record and 5-2 record in the league. Flood was named the Big East Coach of the Year, an honor he shared with Louisville's Charlie Strong. Flood's nine regular season victories were the most by any first-year coach in Rutgers history, as eight players garnered All-Big East honors. Khaseem Greene totaled 136 tackles to earn Big East Defensive Player of the Year for the second consecutive season, in addition to All-America status. The defensive unit was among the best in school history, ranking fourth nationally in scoring defense, tied for ninth in turnovers gained and 10th in total defense.

Offensively, wide receiver Brandon Coleman established himself as one of the nation's premier deep threats by scoring 10 touchdowns during the season, tied for the most in school history. He would end up with 20 in his career, tied with Brown for the school record.

The year culminated with a trip to the Russell Athletic Bowl in Orlando to face Virginia Tech. However, the Scarlet Knights fell 13-10 in overtime. In the offseason, Rutgers had 12 players signed by NFL teams, with a school-record seven selected in the NFL Draft.

Rutgers came out of the gates in 2013 with a 4-1 start through September. Following a 52-51 loss in overtime at Fresno State, RU rattled off four straight wins. The winning streak was highlighted by a comeback win over Arkansas in the first visit by an SEC team to High Point Solutions Stadium. In its first American Athletic Conference game, Rutgers won in triple overtime at SMU, 55-52. Other conference victories included a late fourth quarter win with the hurry-up offense versus Temple and a postseason-clinching performance on Senior Night against USF. The 2013 New Era Pinstripe Bowl was the eighth bowl trip in nine years for Rutgers. The Scarlet Knights took on a ranked Notre Dame team inside a sold-out Yankee Stadium.

On July 1, 2014, Rutgers officially joined the Big Ten Conference to usher in a new era in its deep and storied history. Support for the program reached new levels for the Big Ten opener, as a stadium-record 53,774 fans packed High Point Solutions Stadium for a game against Penn State. The Scarlet Knights won their first Big Ten game Oct. 4 over Michigan, with Kemoko Turay leaping to block a potential go-ahead field goal to seal the win and set off a storming of the field. The first road win in conference play came at Maryland after RU erased a 35-10 deficit to win 41-38 in the biggest comeback in school history, which would be matched a year later at Indiana. Senior quarterback Gary Nova threw for 347 yards on a career-best 28 completions in the 2014 win versus the Terrapins, ending his career as the all-time touchdown passing leader (73).

The first year in the Big Ten would be capped off with a convincing 40-21 win over North Carolina in the Quick Lane Bowl, hosted by the Detroit Lions. The Scarlet Knights went 8-5 and earned the Lambert-Meadowlands Trophy, emblematic of the top team in the East in the Bowl Subdivision.

In the second year in the Big Ten, Leonte Carroo closed his time as a Scarlet Knight with 10 receiving touchdowns to raise his school-record total to 29 over 31 games at the position. He averaged a score once every 4.2 receptions over his career, racking up 2,373 yards to join the list of standout wide receivers.

On Dec. 7, 2015, Chris Ash, a national-championship winning defensive coordinator at Ohio State, took over the program as the Scarlet Knights continue to establish a presence in the Big Ten and nationally.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

PAUL ROBESON

Paul Robeson played four years for the famous coach, G. Foster Sanford. Rutgers had a 22-6-3 record in that time. In 31 games, Rutgers scored 941 points to opponents' 191. Robeson was a powerful contributor to that record. Robeson was a two-time All-America end. Frank Menke named him All-America in 1917 and 1918. Walter Camp picked him in 1918. (Camp did not name an All-America team in 1917.) Following college, Robeson played three years as a pro - 1920 with Hammond, 1921 with Akron and 1922 with Milwaukee - in the American Professional Football League. He obtained his law degree in 1923. At Rutgers, Robeson was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and was valedictorian of the class of 1919. He won the college oratorical contest four-straight years and gave the commencement address at graduation. Robeson won 12 letters in four sports - four in football, three each in basketball and baseball, and two in track. He stood 6-3 in height and his weight was listed at 191 in early years, at 215 his senior season. This man of many talents became an actor, singer and lecturer. He was on Broadway and in the movies. His rich basso made his signature song "Ol' Man River" a classic. He starred in plays, such as "The Emperor Jones," "Othello," "Showboat," as well as many others, in the U.S., Europe and Africa. In 1925 he made a recording that sold 55,000 copies in four months. In 1972 he received the Whitney Young Memorial Award. Ebony Magazine called him "one of the 10 most important black men in American history." Paul Robeson was born April 9, 1898, in Princeton, N.J. His father, Rev. William Robeson, had escaped slavery in 1860 in North Carolina at age 15. His mother, Maria Bustill, was a teacher. When Paul was a high school senior, he won the statewide academic test and received a scholarship to Rutgers. In 1915, he was the third African-American to enter Rutgers and the first to play football. He died January 23, 1976. After his tenure at Rutgers, he became an accomplished actor, singer and lecturer, and was commemorated on a US postal stamp.

ALEX KROLL

Alex Kroll, a consensus All-American center on Rutgers' first undefeated football team in 1961, is the Scarlet Knights' sixth inductee into the College Football Hall of Fame, as a part of the Class of 1997. Kroll, a 6-2, 228-pound center and linebacker, was a major force in Rutgers compiling a 17-1 record in his two years of play "On the Banks." In 1960, the Knights, under coach John Bateman, were 8-1 and followed up with the school's first undefeated campaign, going 9-0 in 1961. Team captain of the lauded 1961 squad, Kroll was a two-time first-team All-ECAC choice and won first-team All-America honors from the Associated Press, United Press International, Newspaper Enterprise Association, Look, and the American Football Coaches Association. Known as a "coach on the field," he was credited with making the quarterback sneak an offensive weapon as Rutgers scored seven touchdowns on that play in 1961 with Kroll clearing the way into the end zone for the signal-caller. He was also a first-team All-East choice by the AP in 1961 and played in the North-South game and the Senior Bowl. In 1960, he was an honorable mention All-American. Following his senior season, he was a second-round draft pick of the New York Titans, playing for one season in 1962. Kroll earned a BA in English Literature in 1962 and was a Henry Rutgers Scholar with a perfect grade point average in his major. He received a National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Post-Graduate Scholarship in 1961. In 1986, he was awarded the Silver Anniversary Award from the National Collegiate Athletic Association for his collegiate achievements. Immediately following his last game with the Titans, he joined the workforce at Young & Rubicam, the world's largest independent advertising agency, as a copywriter. After a succession of writing and supervisory jobs in the creative department, he was named executive vice president and worldwide creative director in 1970. He was named president and chief operating officer in 1982 and, four years later, Kroll became chairman of Young & Rubicam. He is retired but still serves as Chairman Emeritus of Young & Rubicam.

HARVEY HARMAN

Few men loved the game with the fervor of Harvey Harman, a huge man with a grand smile and a fierce dedication to the sport. A former president of the American Football Coaches Association, Harman received that group's Amos Alonzo Stagg Award, symbolic of outstanding service to the profession. It was not surprising that Harman achieved such acclaim, for he learned his football lessons from two of the game's mentors - Glenn "Pop" Warner and Jock Sutherland - while at Pittsburgh. Harman was a starting tackle for the Panthers before taking his first coaching assignment at Haverford. From there he moved on to Sewanee (the University of the South), Pennsylvania and Rutgers. It was at Rutgers that he had his greatest success, directing the Scarlet Knights to a 26-7-1 record before interrupting his career to serve in the U.S. Navy during World War II. Harman returned to Rutgers after the war and led the Scarlet Knights for another 10 seasons before accepting a position as Executive Director of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, Inc. In that capacity, Harman became known as the goodwill ambassador for football, continuing to serve the game until his death in 1969. His career record lists a slate of 140-104-7.

HOMER HAZEL

He parted his dark hair down the middle, in the fashion of the day, and his deep-set eyes glowed with a competitive fire. Homer Hazel, Rutgers' first Hall of Famer, was, without doubt, the most versatile player the Scarlet ever produced. A natural athlete, Hazel excelled in various sports and was most successful as a track and field star. His speed and quickness served him well, for he once recovered his own kickoff in the enemy end zone for a touchdown. Homer led Rutgers to identical 7-1-1 records in his final two seasons, earning All-America laurels in each. He was an end in 1923, when the only Scarlet loss was to West Virginia (27-7). He had Rutgers on the way to an unbeaten finish in 1924 - this time as a hard-hitting fullback - when Bucknell untracked the Scarlet in the final game of the season, 12-7. During the 1924 campaign, Homer Hazel established school records for most points after a touchdown and longest completed pass. He could do it all. Carrying 226 pounds over a 5-foot-11 frame, Homer lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track at Rutgers. He later served as Athletic Director, football and basketball coach at the University of Mississippi for more than five years. He was a golf pro for four years, and a labor relations manager for more than 20 years. Hazel won his first letter in football at Rutgers in 1916. He left school because of a lack of funds. Hazel worked at various jobs and, at age 28, played football again at Rutgers. Walter Camp named him All-America end in 1923, All-America fullback in 1924. Hazel was born June 2, 1895, and died February 3, 1968.

GEORGE LITTLE

A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, George Little opened his coaching career at the University of Cincinnati and produced a two-year record of 10-8-0 before moving up the road to Oxford, Ohio, home of the Miami Redskins, in 1916. There, Little brought the Redskins their first Conference Championship and a 7-0-1 mark. After service in World War I, Little returned to Miami and directed the Red and White to yet another league crown and a three-year post-war record of 20-3-1. He also coached the Miami basketball and track teams, claiming a conference crown in the latter sport. The 1922 and 1923 seasons found Little at Michigan under head coach Fielding Yost, the man he replaced in 1924. That year, Little's Wolverines were 6-2. The next season, Little was in Wisconsin as the new Athletic Director and head coach of the Badgers, and he led his charges to a two-year mark of 11-3-2. His teams displayed imagination and strength on offense, a unique ruggedness on defense. Little wound up his collegiate career as the Athletic Director at Rutgers, and then served as executive secretary of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

GEORGE FOSTER SANFORD

At the entrance to Rutgers Stadium, inscribed upon a bronze plaque, is a tribute to George Sanford. It was financed and installed by his players, the men "...he inspired to deeds beyond themselves." Undoubtedly, Sanford was an inspirational leader of men, a gentleman who excelled as both player and coach. Sanford played center on the 1891 and 1892 Yale teams which held each of their 26 opponents scoreless. Though he was never chosen to an All-America team, a 1927 poll named him the all-time Yale center. Sanford began his coaching career at Columbia (1899-1901), called in to revive the football program which had been abandoned after the 1891 campaign. His 1899 team defeated Yale for the first time ever, and it was at Columbia that Sanford developed the famous "Flying Hurdle Play" which saw Harold Weekes catapulted over the line of scrimmage. Moving to Rutgers (1913-23), Sanford had marked success as his club rolled to a 56-32-5 record. He was hailed as a "miracle worker" in 1917, after his Rutgers team beat the heavily-favored Newport Naval Reserve All-Stars, 14-0. Between his teams at Columbia and Rutgers, Sanford devoted his energy toward a successful insurance brokerage business.

RUTGERS BOWL HISTORY

1978 GARDEN STATE BOWL

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. - In its first postseason action in program history, Rutgers faced Arizona State at Giants Stadium in the inaugural Garden State Bowl in 1978. The Scarlet Knights pulled ahead in the first half on a touchdown by David Dorn and field goal from Kennan Startzell to take a 10-0 lead. However, the Sun Devils closed the gap just before the end of the first half when Mark Malone found Bob Weathers in the end zone. In the third quarter, Arizona State claimed the lead with two Malone touchdown passes and in the final quarter added another score with a rushing TD to make the score 28-10. Ted Blackwell brought the Scarlet Knights to within 10 points with his five-yard rushing touchdown and successful two-point conversion. Rutgers had a final chance to take over the game when an offside kick came bouncing its way, but an offside flag on the kickoff erased the Scarlet Knights good fortune. Arizona State tacked on two touchdowns to secure the 34-18 victory.

2005 INSIGHT BOWL

PHOENIX - Rutgers and Arizona State met for the second time in a bowl game, this time at Phoenix's Chase Field. The Scarlet Knights came up just short in the contest, losing 45-40 to the Sun Devils. RU scored the game's first touchdown on a pass from Ryan Hart to Clark Harris, but ASU quickly responded with a TD of its own, evening the game at 7-7. Both teams traded a number of scores, but back-to-back touchdowns in the fourth quarter helped ASU to a 45-33 lead and the eventual victory. Rutgers engineered a 63-yard TD drive in the final 51 seconds, but it was not enough as the Sun Devils held on for the 45-40 win.

2006 TEXAS BOWL

HOUSTON - Rutgers' most memorable season ended with the program's biggest milestone - the first bowl victory in the history of Scarlet Knight football. Ray Rice rushed for 170 yards and a touchdown, while Tim Brown hauled in two TD passes as the 16th-ranked Scarlet Knights defeated Kansas State 37-10. Rice eventually went on to be named the Texas Bowl's Most Valuable Player. In the first quarter, Mike Teel hit Brown in the end zone on a 14-yard touchdown pass and the pair later connected, this time with a 49-yard strike to give Rutgers a 14-0 lead. Jeremy Ito sent a 37-yard field goal through the uprights with less than a minute remaining in the first half to take a 17-10 lead at halftime. In the opening minute of the third quarter, Rutgers extended its lead on an interception returned for a touchdown by Quintero Frierson. The Scarlet Knights scored the final 23 points of the game as Rice added a 46-yard touchdown run and Ito converted a pair of field goals to give RU the 37-10 victory.

2008 INTERNATIONAL BOWL

TORONTO - In its third-consecutive bowl game, Rutgers pulled off another program milestone with its second-straight postseason victory as the Scarlet Knights defeated Ball State, 52-30. Ray Rice had one of the finest individual outings in college football history, rushing for a career-high 280 yards and four touchdowns en route to being named the International Bowl's Most Valuable Player, his second-consecutive MVP honor in a bowl game. Rice's 280 yards were the third-most rushing yards in NCAA Bowl history. He entered the game with 1,732 yards on the ground and ended his season with 2,012 yards rushing to become the 13th player in NCAA history to amass more than 2,000 yards. The rushing total also set a Big East and school single-season record. The 52 points scored were the most in Rutgers' bowl history. Including both individual and team marks, RU set a total of nine bowl records at the International Bowl.

2008 PAPAJOHNS.COM BOWL

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – Fitting that Rutgers would end the 2008 season with a come-from-behind win. After winning only one of their first six games, Mike Teel and the Scarlet Knights erased an 11-point second half deficit to defeat North Carolina State 29-23 in the PapaJohns.com Bowl. Leading the comeback -- as he did all season -- was Teel, who passed for 319 yards and two touchdowns, including a 42-yard scoring toss to Kenny Britt to give the Scarlet Knights (8-5) the lead for good in the fourth quarter. Teel's pass to Britt with 8:30 to play proved to be the winning touchdown. Britt, a third-team All-American, made a juggling catch as he crossed the goal line and finished with six catches for 119 yards. Teel, a senior, was the game's most valuable player. He ended his career on a seven-game winning streak after being booed at home when he was struggling earlier in the season. NC State (6-7) held a 17-6 halftime edge, led by quarterback Russell Wilson who was 11-for-23 for 186 yards and a score. But Wilson left the game with a strained knee late in the first half and did not return. The Scarlet Knights scored 10 consecutive points in the third quarter on a 31-yard field goal by San San Te and an 11-yard pass from Teel to Tiquan Underwood. Rutgers took a 19-17 lead with 13:31 to play on a 28-yard field by Te after a 10-play, 70-yard drive. The Wolfpack came right back as reserve quarterback Daniel Evans drove them 64 yards in eight plays and hit Anthony Hill with a 16-yard touchdown pass to give NC State a 23-19 lead. But it was only two plays later when Teel hit Britt for the go-ahead score.

2009 ST. PETERSBURG BOWL

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. – Rutgers (9-4) capped off its fifth-straight bowl appearance with its fourth-consecutive bowl victory, defeating Central Florida 45-24 in the 2009 St. Petersburg Bowl on Saturday, Dec. 19 at Tropicana Field. The Scarlet Knights showed a great display of balance in all three phases of the game, recording touchdowns on offensive, defensive and special teams. RU ended the night with two rushing touchdowns, two passing touchdowns, one interception and one kickoff returned for scores. Rutgers gained 380 yards of total offense behind a career passing day from freshman quarterback Tom Savage who completed 14-of-27 passes for 294 yards and two touchdowns. Fellow true freshman Mohamed Sanu also enjoyed a career-best evening as he accounted for three of RU's five touchdowns. Sanu had 13 carries for 41 yards and a pair of touchdowns, in addition to catching four passes for 97 yards and a TD. For his performance Sanu was awarded the Most Outstanding Player trophy, joining past bowl honorees Ray Rice (2006 Texas Bowl, 2008 International Bowl) and Mike Teel (2008 PapaJohns.com Bowl).

2011 NEW ERA PINSTRIPE BOWL

BRONX, N.Y. – Chas Dodd hit Brandon Coleman for an 86-yard touchdown pass late in the fourth quarter and Jawan Jamison ran for two scores to lead Rutgers over Iowa State 27-13 in the New Era Pinstripe Bowl on Dec. 30, 2011. The Scarlet Knights (9-4) ran their bowl winning streak to five and improved to 2-0 this season at Yankee Stadium, where they beat Army earlier in the season. Rutgers, which played in one bowl game before 2005, is 5-1 in the postseason since that season. The Cyclones (6-7) finished the season on a three-game losing streak, their last win coming on Nov. 18 in Ames, Iowa, when they pulled off the biggest upset of the season against Oklahoma State. In this game, Steele Jantz relieved Barnett in the second quarter and helped pull the Cyclones within 20-13 in the fourth on Jeff Woody's 20-yard touchdown run with 10:00 left. After an exchange of punts left Rutgers deep in its own end, Dodd went deep to Coleman. The 6-foot-6 redshirt freshman went over 5-7 cornerback Jeremy Reeves, then outran the corner to the end zone to make it 27-13 with 5:47 left. It was Coleman's only catch, but it turned out to be the play of the game. Jamison, another redshirt freshman giving Rutgers fans hope for more bowls to come, finished with 134 yards on 27 carries.

2012 RUSSELL ATHLETIC BOWL

ORLANDO - Rutgers saw its 2012 season come to an end with a 13-10 overtime loss to Virginia Tech in the Russell Athletic Bowl in Orlando on Dec. 28, 2012. The loss ended the Scarlet Knights' bowl win streak at five, which had previously been the longest active streak in the nation. In the 15th meeting between the two squads, Rutgers held a 10-0 lead heading into the fourth quarter. The Scarlet Knights scored first on a ball that was snapped over Virginia Tech QB Logan Thomas and recovered in the end zone by Rutgers LB Khaseem Greene on the opening drive. An RU field goal by Nick Borgese late in the opening quarter would be the final points until the last stanza. In the fourth, the Hokies were able to tie it up. In the first overtime possession, the Hokies settled for a 22-yard field goal to take a 13-10 lead. Rutgers had a possession to answer, but after going three-and-out, Borgese missed wide-right on a 42-yard field goal attempt to end the game. Rutgers finished the year 9-4 and earned a share of the school's first Big East Championship.

HISTORY & TRADITION

2013 NEW ERA PINSTRIPE BOWL

BRONX, N.Y. – A 47-yard field goal by Kyle Federico brought Rutgers within three with less than nine minutes remaining, but 10 unanswered points by Notre Dame iced the contest, as the Irish defeated the Scarlet Knights, 29-16, in the 2013 Pinstripe Bowl at Yankee Stadium. It was the eighth bowl trip in nine seasons for Rutgers. A Pinstripe Bowl record crowd of 47,122 watched a back-and-forth affair for the majority of the contest, with neither team leading by more than one possession until late in the fourth quarter. Brandon Coleman led RU in receiving with two catches for 65 yards and a touchdown, while Paul James logged 48 yards on 10 rushing attempts. Coleman's touchdown late in the first quarter was the 20th of his career, tying him for the school record. Federico converted all three of his field goal attempts.

2014 QUICK LANE BOWL

DETROIT – In control from the outset, Rutgers thoroughly dominated North Carolina, 40-21, in the Quick Lane Bowl at Ford Field, turning in one of its stronger performances of the year to finish the 2014 campaign at 8-5. Quarterback Gary Nova threw two touchdown passes, freshmen running backs Josh Hicks and Robert Martin proved to be a dynamic 1-2 punch in the running game, with each topping 100 yards rushing, and the Scarlet Knights' defense quieted the most productive offense in North Carolina history for all but the final 6:45 of the game. The Scarlet Knights jumped out to a 23-0 lead at halftime, sparked by a 34-yard touchdown pass from Nova to Andre Patton on the first drive of the game. Hicks and Martin both added rushing scores to pad the lead, with Kyle Federico connecting from 19 yards away with 11 seconds left in the second quarter. Nova, who finished 9-of-20 for 184 yards, pushed the Scarlet Knights' 23-0 halftime lead to 30-7 with his second touchdown pass - this one a 34-yard strike to Andrew Turzilli - with 7:33 left in the third quarter. The advantage grew to 37-7 on Martin's 28-yard touchdown run with 14:11 to play. Federico tacked on a 31-yard field goal with 10:04 remaining to make it 40-7. Martin and Hicks joined Ray Rice (three times) and Jawan Jamison as the only Rutgers backs to rush for 100 yards in a bowl game. Martin (19 carries for 100 yards and two touchdowns) and Hicks (202 yards and one touchdown on 19 carries) also joined Rice as the only true freshmen to reach 100 in a bowl for the Scarlet Knights. Hicks was named MVP of the game for his efforts. The rushing totals for both Martin and Hicks were career highs, with Rutgers' 340 rushing yards overall the most in program history in a bowl game and the highest total this season. Defensively, Lorenzo Waters totaled a game-high 14 tackles (10 solo), adding two fumble recoveries and a blocked field goal. Darius Hamilton contributed two tackles for loss in the victory.

MEDIA INFORMATION

RUTGERS ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS

RUTGERS ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS

The Rutgers Athletic Communications Office is committed to assisting members of the media with their coverage of the Rutgers football team. Hasim Phillips serves as the primary contact for the football program with support from Jimmy Gill and Jordan Ozer.

The Athletic Communications Office is located on level one of the press box at High Point Solutions Stadium. For information regarding credentials, interviews, statistics, press conferences, etc., please call the Athletic Communications Office at 732-445-7028, visit CollegePressBox.com or e-mail Hasim Phillips at hphillips@scarletknights.com.

To assist in your coverage throughout the year, please read the media information on this page. All interview requests must be directed to and arranged through the Athletic Communications Office at least one day (24 hours) in advance. Coaches, players and support staff are prohibited from participating in any interviews without prior authorization from the Athletic Communications Office.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

All media credential requests must be submitted via email to credentials@scarletknights.com. Admittance to the High Point Solutions Stadium press box is limited to working media members only. Credential requests must be made formally to the credential email address.

Requests for game day credentials must be received at least two weeks in advance of the date of the contest to provide sufficient time for processing and mailing. Media credentials which cannot be mailed will be left at the West Gate Media Will Call (Media Entrance) beneath the press box at High Point Solutions Stadium.

Working space in the High Point Solutions Stadium Press Box is allotted on the following basis: (1) daily newspaper writers covering for next-day publication covering Rutgers or the current game opponent; (2) sports editors of newspapers in New Jersey, New York and Eastern Pennsylvania; (3) radio personnel for broadcast originations; (4) official school student daily newspaper; (5) approved special coverage; (6) press and TV working photographers; (7) weekly press representatives; non-originating radio representatives of AM news stations; and Internet writers for sites affiliated with established, nationally-recognized media outlets will be considered on a game-by-game basis as space permits. Visiting freelance and amateur photographers are not eligible for media credentials.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Sideline photographers and media members must follow NCAA guidelines, which prohibit entry to the bench areas.

PARKING

Media parking is located in the Green Lot, which is located next to the Indoor Practice Bubble. To enter the Green Lot, take River Road to Sutphen Road. Once on Sutphen, make your first left at Fitch Road and attendants will direct you to the media lot. You should request your parking at the same time you request your game credential. If time permits, both will be mailed to you. There is no day-of-game media parking list and therefore members of the media must have a media parking pass in advance of the game.

PRESS BOX SERVICES

Complete NCAA statistics, play-by-play and quote sheets from both teams are all regular services on game-day. Upon your arrival, you will receive information with a game program, flip card, updated stats and game day notes.

The press box has wireless internet access. Login information will be provided on the day of game.

PHONES

A limited number of courtesy phones are available in the press box at High Point Solutions Stadium. The phones are all operator-assisted calls, or third-party billing calls can be made. Should you wish to have a phone installed at High Point Solutions Stadium, contact Verizon at 1-800-564-9911 or 9922.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

All player interviews must be arranged through the Athletic Communications Office at least one day (24 hours) in advance. Players are available in person on Monday at the weekly Rutgers football press conference, and following practice on Tuesday and Wednesday, pending class schedules/availability.

Please consult with Hasim Phillips regarding availability as it will vary from week to week. A time mutually convenient for the player and media member can be set up by the Athletic Communications Office. During a traditional game week, there will be no player interviews after Wednesday until following the game.

COACH ASH INTERVIEWS

All interview requests for Rutgers head coach Chris Ash must be arranged through Hasim Phillips. In addition to post-practice media availability, coach Ash will be available to the media every Monday morning at his weekly press conference in the team meeting room of the Hale Center and on the weekly Big Ten teleconference on Tuesday morning at 12:56 p.m.

POST PRACTICE INTERVIEWS

On Tuesday, select offensive coaches and players will be available to the media post practice, while select defensive coaches and players will be available on Wednesday. Head coach Chris Ash will address the media following practice on Thursday.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS

Head coach Chris Ash, offensive coordinator Drew Mehringer, defensive coordinator Jay Niemann and select players, following the designated cooling off period, will be made available for interviews after each game. Following home games, the press conference for coach Ash will take place in the team meeting room on the second floor of the Hale Center, which is located on the east side of the stadium opposite the press box.

With approximately five minutes remaining in the game, members of the media will be escorted across the field towards the Hale Center.

The visiting team's press conference will be held in the linebackers meeting room on the second floor of the Hale Center.

WEEKLY PRESS CONFERENCE

Requested players will be available each Monday at the Rutgers football press conference at 12:30 p.m. in the team room on the second floor of the Hale Center.

COLLEGEPRESSBOX.COM

Collegepressbox.com is the official media website for Big Ten football. Access and download weekly game notes, quotes, statistics, media guides and more for the conference and each of its member schools throughout the season. Login information will be distributed to accredited media or you can apply for a password by sending an e-mail to password@collegepressbox.com.

RUTGERS RADIO NETWORK

All Rutgers football games will be broadcast over the Rutgers IMG Sports Network to 50,000 watt WOR 710-AM in New York City and Central Jersey's WCTC 1450-AM.

Play-by-play announcer Chris Carlin is well known to sports radio fans throughout the State of Rutgers. Carlin is in his 16th year with the Rutgers Radio Network, including his 13th as the play-by-play voice of Rutgers football. Carlin is also the play-by-play voice for Rutgers basketball and appears on SNY, including serving as co-host of "Loud Mouths."

Former Rutgers standout quarterback Ray Lucas begins his eighth season as the color analyst on the Rutgers Radio Network. The seven-year NFL veteran has also been an analyst for SNY on its New York Jets programming since 1996 and won a New York Emmy for best analyst in 2010 for his work on SNY.

Anthony "Fooch" Fucilli returns for his 13th season as the Rutgers Radio Network sideline reporter. Fucilli has also worked as a field producer and reporter for MSG Network since 1989.

Marc Malusis is back for his eighth year as the pre-game and post-game host on the Rutgers Radio Network. The pre-game shows starts one hour prior to kickoff while the post-game show stays on the air one hour following the game.

Former Rutgers defensive lineman Eric LeGrand begins his sixth season on the Rutgers Radio Network. LeGrand will provide insight and commentary on the pre-game show, halftime report and post-game.

ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS FOOTBALL CONTACTS

HASIM PHILLIPS Senior Associate Athletic Director, Communications

Office: 732-445-6069 • Cell: 732-470-9457 • E-mail: hphillips@scarletknights.com • Twitter: @HasimPhillips

Over the past decade, Hasim Phillips has worked as a media relations professional in the nation's No. 1 media market (New York) with roles both in college athletics and corporate communications. Phillips serves as the primary spokesman for Rutgers football, handling all media inquiries for the program's coaches and players. Additionally, he is the executive producer for the "RFootball Show," a 12-episode television series with distribution throughout the East Coast from New York to areas in South Florida. Phillips also oversees all football related content on the school's official athletics website (ScarletKnights.com). For Phillips, this is the second stint with Rutgers Athletics, having previously served with the department from 2004-2012. Phillips began his career in athletic communications at Rutgers in 2004, serving as an assistant until 2007 before becoming an Assistant Director for Athletic Communications from 2007-11. During this time, he spent four seasons assisting the lead football contact with a variety of tasks, including practice and game day media coverage as well as game notes and media guide production. While at Rutgers, he was a member of an athletic communications staff that was twice (2009, 2010) recognized by the Football Writers Association of America as a "Super 11" communications department, awarded to the top PR offices in the country. In 2011, he was elevated to the role of Associate Director of Athletic Communications, serving as the primary media contact for Hall of Fame head coach C. Vivian Stringer and the women's basketball team. Phillips joined The Madison Square Garden Company in 2012 as Manager for Corporate Communications. He assisted in the publicity efforts of the MSG Sports brand, helping promote marketing partnerships and new business initiatives. He also worked to promote the New York Knicks' community service initiative "Basketball in the Boroughs," securing targeted media opportunities to highlight the franchise's work in the community. Phillips also oversaw inquiries regarding the use of MSG trademarks or logos in television or film projects. He was responsible for script review and concept approval in addition to working with production crews while filming on site at Madison Square Garden. He served as a liaison between MSG, the corporate offices of the National Basketball Association (NBA) and National Hockey League (NHL), and several major motion picture and television studios. Phillips, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., is a 2004 graduate of Rutgers University.

JIMMY GILL Associate Director of Communications (Secondary Contact)

Office: 732-445-8103 • Cell: 732-991-9486 • E-mail: jgill@scarletknights.com • Twitter: @jgill027

Jimmy Gill is in his fourth year with the Rutgers football program, serving his second stint with the Scarlet Knights after returning to the athletic department in January 2013. He works as the secondary contact for football and the primary for baseball and gymnastics. Gill was promoted to Associate Director of Athletic Communications in June 2014 and was part of the 2014 staff that was honored by the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) as a recipient of the Super 11 Award. Prior to coming back to RU, Gill worked at the University of Miami (Fla.) as the volleyball and third football contact in the fall of 2012. The volleyball team successfully earned an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament and Gill was named CoSIDA Division I Volleyball East Region Sports Information Director Honoree for his efforts along the way. After the football season, he worked as a media relations assistant for the Orange Bowl committee for its annual game and the BCS National Championship. During the 2011-2012 academic year, Gill served as Athletic Communications Assistant at Rutgers as the contact for baseball, volleyball, women's tennis and gymnastics. A native of Lewes, Del., he earned a bachelor's degree in political science from Swarthmore (Pa.) College in 2010, before receiving his master's degree in sport administration from the University of Miami (Fla.) in 2011. While working towards his master's degree, Gill worked as a graduate assistant in the UM communications office, helping with all aspects of the office while functioning as the primary women's golf contact. He got his start in the business in the Swarthmore sports information department as a student worker with a primary focus on statistics for various sports. Gill was a four-year starter for the Garnet baseball team, earning all-conference honors and captaining the program's first-ever playoff appearance as a senior in 2010. An outfielder, he is still in the top-10 in program history in hits, games, doubles, home runs and RBIs.

JORDAN OZER Assistant Director of Communications

Office: 732-445-6021 • Cell: 973-202-9728 • E-mail: jozer@scarletknights.com • Twitter: @jozer07

Jordan Ozer is in his third year with the Rutgers football program, joining the department in July 2014, and was part of the 2014 staff that was honored by the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) as a recipient of the Super 11 Award. In addition to football, Ozer is the primary contact for men's lacrosse and field hockey and also serves as the secondary men's basketball contact. Prior to Rutgers, Ozer was a Communications Assistant at the American Athletic Conference. The South Orange, New Jersey native was responsible for coverage of conference sports including baseball, volleyball, men's soccer, tennis, swimming, and rowing along with assisting the league in men's basketball and football. The 2011 University of Wisconsin graduate was a Media Relations Assistant at the University of Arkansas, working with women's basketball and women's tennis, in addition to providing content for ArkansasRazorbacks.com. Ozer's multifaceted background includes experience as a Communications Intern with both the MLB's Washington Nationals and the East Coast Hockey League, as well as a Communications Assistant with US Club Soccer. Ozer worked the 2011 NBA Draft and game days for the Washington Redskins. He was a media assistant at the Regional Semifinals and Finals of the 2014 NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden and aided the Patriot League with the conference's 25th Anniversary Football Commemoration. While an undergraduate at Wisconsin, Ozer served as a student worker, handling media relations efforts for the Badgers' men's ice hockey and men's and women's golf teams.
