THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

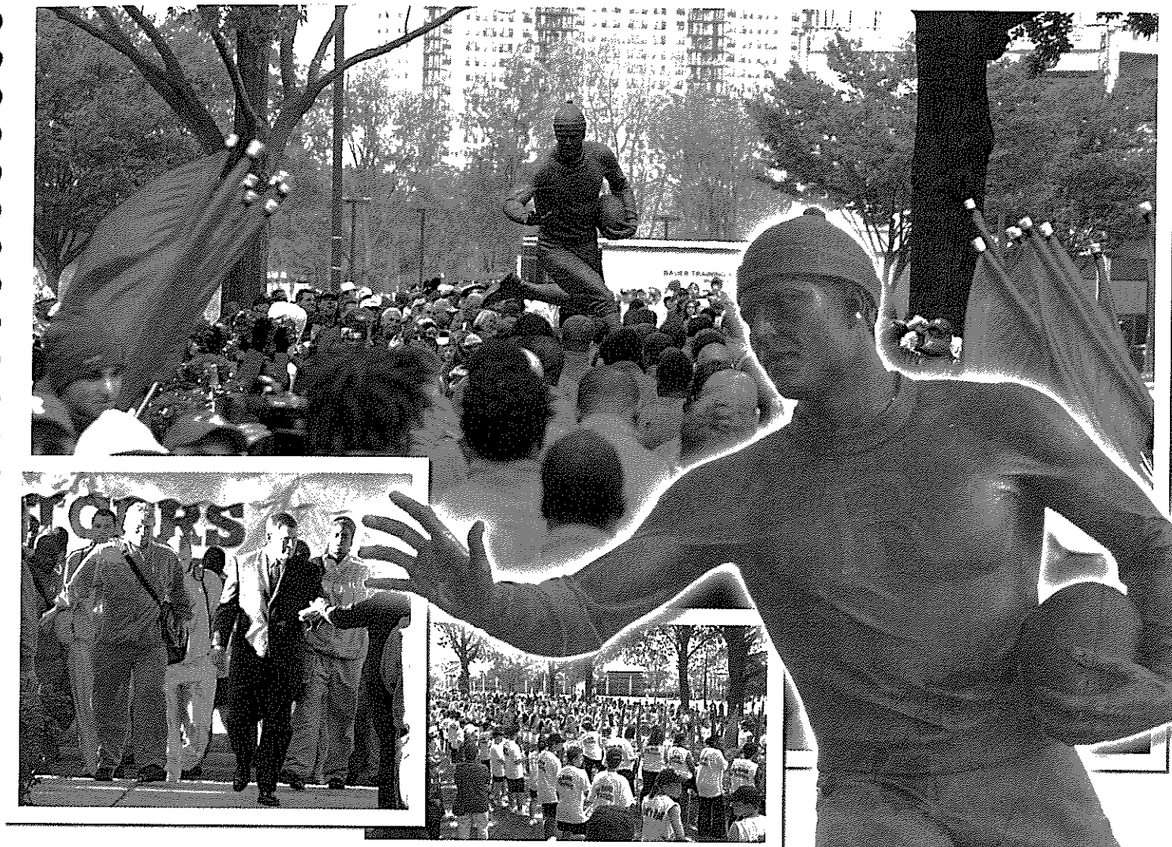

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

TRADITION LIVES ON

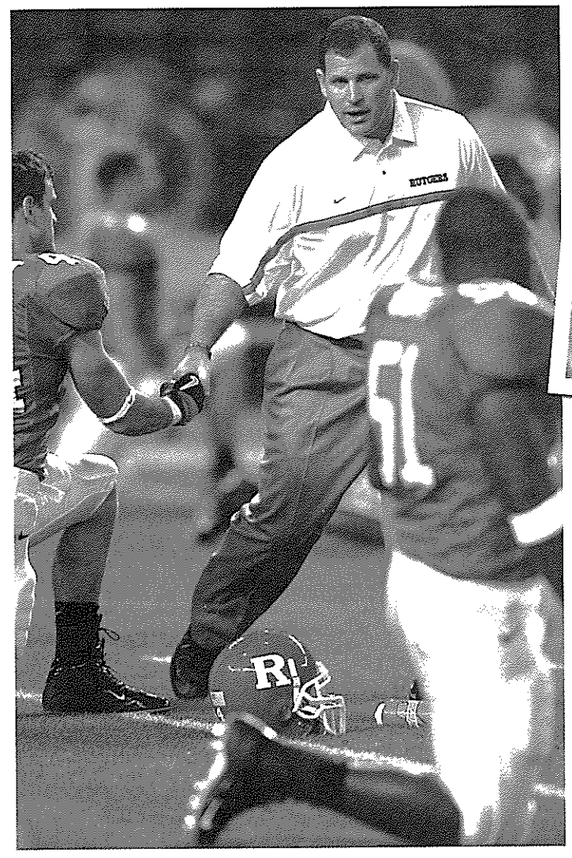

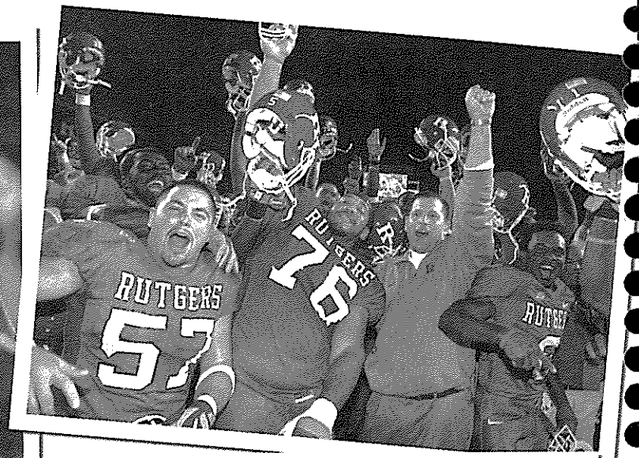

Before every Rutgers home game, the players and coaches take the SCARLET WALK on their way to the locker room. Fans line the walkway just to catch a glimpse of the Scarlet Knights as they touch the base of the statue commemorating the first college football game and honoring Rutgers as the BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL.

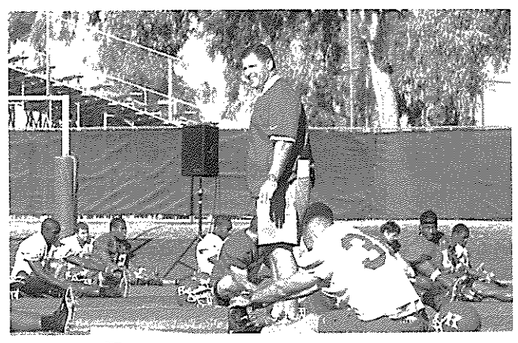

"The Scarlet Walk is a great opportunity for fans to support the Rutgers Football program by sharing in one of our 'newest' traditions, while remembering and honoring one of our oldest. This is where college football began. Right here. It's important to keep that tradition alive." - Head Coach Greg Schiano

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

RUTGERS TODAY

Since arriving at Rutgers in December, 2000, head coach Greg Schiano has rebuilt the Rutgers program from the ground up.

The tireless efforts of the Rutgers coaching staff have put the Scarlet Knights squarely into college football's national spotlight.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

NATIONAL EXPOSURE

As a member of the BIG EAST Football Conference, Rutgers has direct access to the Bowl Championship Series and the National Championship game.

The BIG EAST is one of six major conferences whose champion is guaranteed a spot in the BCS with a chance to play for the National Championship every year.

BOWL CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

The BCS consists of the Rose Bowl, Allstate Sugar Bowl, FedEx Orange Bowl, Tostitos Fiesta Bowl and the BCS National Championship game.

In addition to the BCS bowl bid, Rutgers has an opportunity each season to play in top-level bowls in some of the best locations in North America!

DID YOU KNOW...

Rutgers Football has caught the attention of the largest media market in the world!

The Insight Bowl was ESPN's highest rated college football game in the New York market since local ratings have been recorded.

College Football

Knight Shift

Across the country, the Insight Bowl was the 4th highest rated bowl game on ESPN/ESPN2 in 2005. The rating was a 16% improvement over the 2004 Insight Bowl, featuring Notre Dame vs. Oregon State.

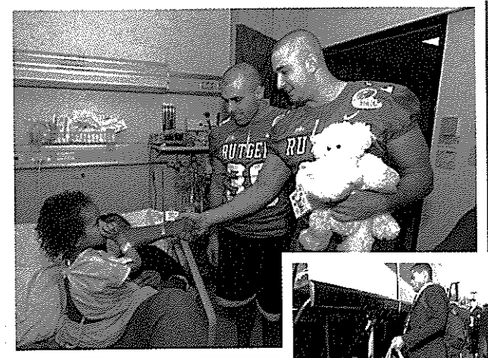

In addition, over 325 news articles were written about Rutgers and the Insight Bowl, including stories in five of the largest papers in America. Over seven million readers were able to follow the Scarlet Knights' trip to the Insight Bowl.

Rutgers received the red-carpet treatment — literally — after arriving shortly

RUTGERS BOWL WEEK

•Several Scarlet Knights visited with and distributed Rutgers coloring books and T-shirts to children at the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit at Banner Desert Children's Center in Mesa, AZ. "Seeing the fight in those sick children, it was a tremendous experience, one I will never forget," said fullback Jean Beljour.

• Many members of the team attended a Phoenix Suns-Washington Wizards NBA game and an Arizona Cardinals-Philadelphia Eagles game. Both contests featured Rutgers connections as the Wizards are coached by former Scarlet Knight great Eddie Jordan, while tight end L.J. Smith and quarterback Mike McMahon started for the Eagles.

• Mike Allen, chairman of the Insight Bowl, along with representatives from both Rutgers and Arizona State, rang the NASDAQ Stock Market opening bell on December 9, 2005 Insight is a member of the NASDAQ stock exchange.

• James Gandolfini, a 1983 Rutgers graduate and star of HBO's "The Sopranos," joined the Scarlet Knight captains for the pre-game coin toss while ABC late-night talk show host Jimmy Kimmel, who attended Arizona State, stood next to the Sun Devil captains.

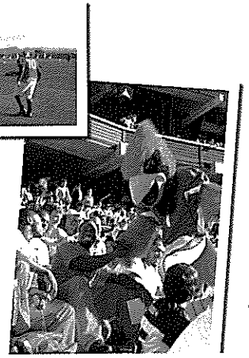

• Rutgers sold approximately 7,000 tickets to the game, the most tickets ever sold by a BIG EAST team in Insight Bowl history.

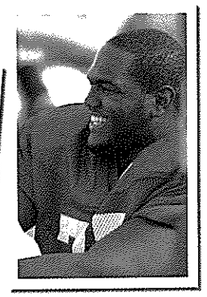

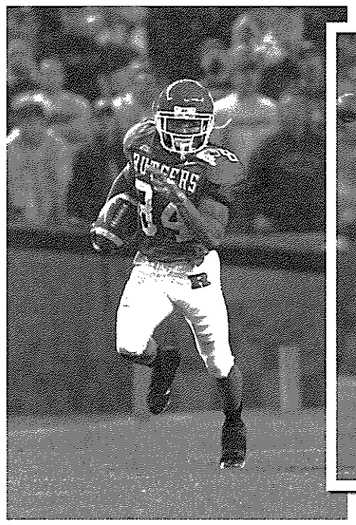

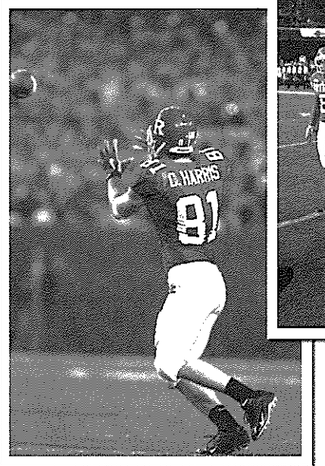

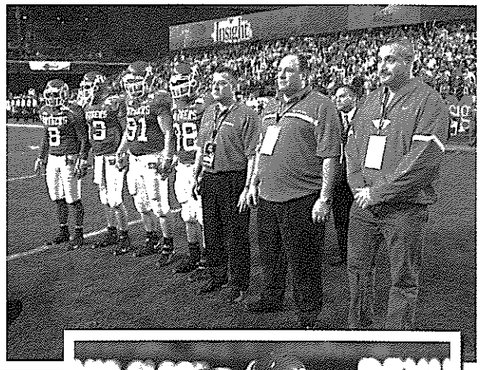

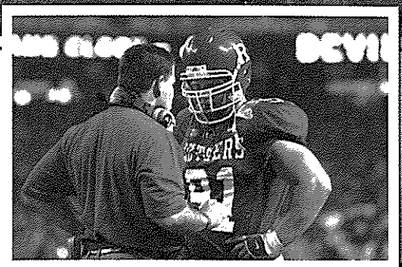

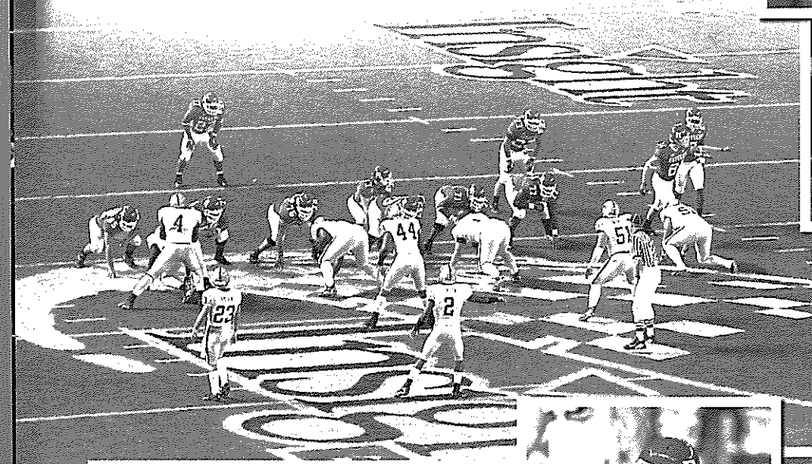

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

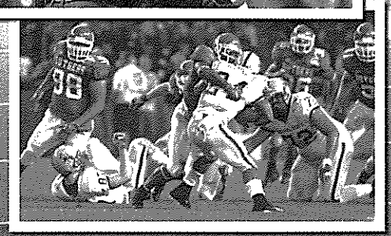

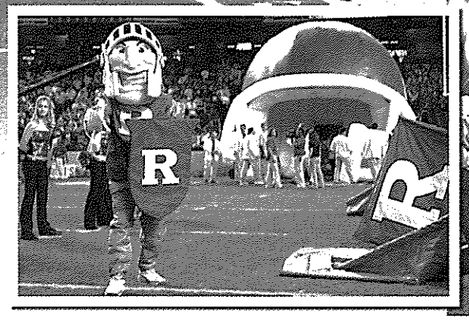

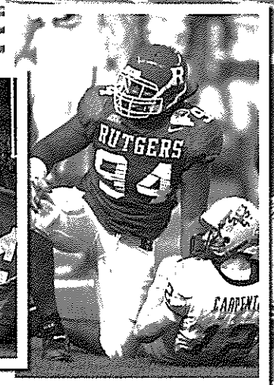

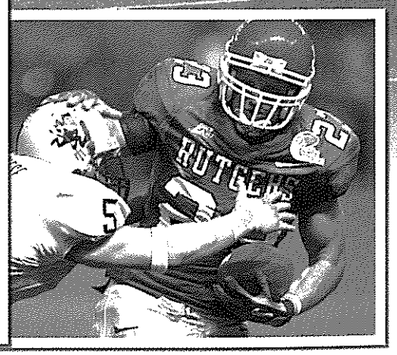

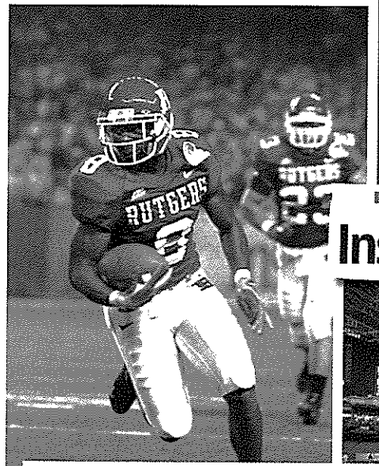

RUTGERS IN THE INSIGHT BOWL

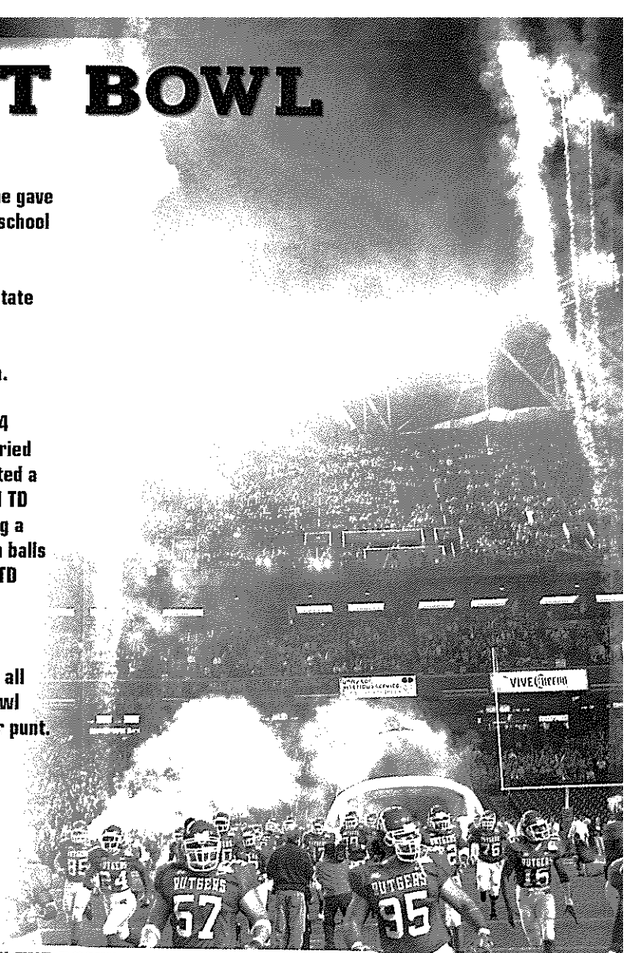

• Rutgers' season-high 532 yards of total offense in the bowl game gave the Scarlet Knights' 4,765 yards for the season, the best mark in school history.

• The 2005 Insight Bowl featured a rematch of the 1978 Garden State Bowl when Rutgers and Arizona State played at Giants Stadium. "This has to be the longest home-and-home series in the history of college football," said Insight Bowl Chairman Mike Allen.

• Senior quarterback Ryan Hart completed 24 of 38 passes for 374 yards and three touchdowns. Freshman running back Ray Rice carried 20 times for 108 yards, while junior fullback Brian Leonard collected a career-high 98 receiving yards on six catches, including a 31-yard TD reception. Leonard added 46 yards rushing on 10 carries, including a three-yard TD run. Senior wide receiver Tres Moses caught seven balls for 113 yards, with his final career reception going for a 29-yard TD reception.

• Rutgers place kicker Jeremy Ito connected on all four field goal attempts in the Insight Bowl, including a record 52-yarder, and hit all four extra points. He was named to the 2005-06 Rivals.com All-Bowl Team. Punter Joe Radigan also averaged a booming 50.3 yards per punt.

Head coach Greg Schiano hosts a weekly television show, Inside Rutgers Football, that is seen through the New York/New Jersey-Metropolitan area on MSG, as well as throughout Florida on The Sun Sports Network and nationally on CSTV.

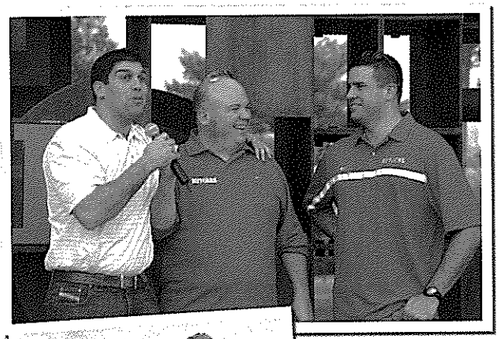

The 30-minute show is hosted by Bruce Beck, a member of the sports staff at NBC-4 in New York City. In addition to interviews with Coach Schiano, the show also offers in-depth player features and a behind-the-scenes look at the many facets of the program.

In addition, Coach Schiano hosts a weekly radio show from his office in the Hale Center that can be heard throughout the New York/New Jersey area on 50,000 watt WOR-AM radio and on the internet through www.nj.com and Rutgers' official website, www.scarletknights.com. The format of the show features a personal touch, as fans are encouraged to call the show and speak directly with Coach in a question-and-answer session, as well as email questions to scarletknights.com.

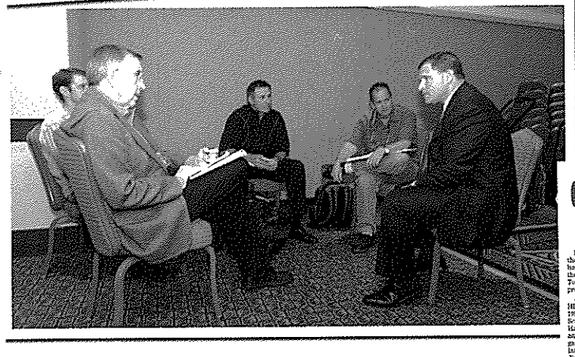

All of the exciting action of Rutgers football is carried by WOR (710 AM) in New York City, a 50,000-watt signal that beams Scarlet Knight game action to a 12-state region along the eastern seaboard. All games are also carried on the internet, allowing listeners from around the world to check in on the action. Chris Carlin and Tim Pernetti handle the play-by-play and analysis duties, respectively, while Anthony Fucilli is the sideline reporter.

PHOENIX — Rutgers won the coin toss, but then again, how could it not have gone in the Scarlet Knights favor with Tony Soprano looking over the proceedings?

James Gandolfini, star of HBO's "The Sopranos" and a 1981 Rutgers alum, stood with Scarlet Knights captains Ryan Hart, Will Gleason, Ryan Neill and Trey Mines for the pre-game coin toss, while ABC's late-night talk show host Jimmy Kimmel, who attended Arizona State for 2 ½ years, represented the Sun Devils.

Clips of The Sopranos' aired over Chase Field's jumbotron prior to the coin flip, with one scene showing Gandolfini's character taking someone's overtip. And that, of course, drew cheering responses from Rutgers fans.

The Scarlet Knights won the toss and opted to receive.

"FOOCH' BOWL: Despite saying all week that the retractable roof over Chase Field would be open for last night's game, Insight Bowl officials opted to close it prior to kickoff. It wasn't raining, but the Phoenix Inka temperature was said to be the reason.

RU James Gandolfini looks on from the Rutgers sideline last night.

Good thing the game wasn't played in New Jersey, where 40-degrees would have felt like a heat wave.

CROWD MIGHTY: Last night's game was a sellout marking the sixth straight year the Insight Bowl drew a packed house at Chase Field. ... Fox gates sold nearly 7,000 of its 19,000-ticket allotment — more than the previous three Big East teams (Pittsburgh, Syracuse and West Virginia) distributed to Insight fans.

WHAT'S IT WORTH: For playing in the Insight Bowl, each team received a payout of $750,000. That's considerably less than the $950,000 payout that Notre Dame and Oregon State received last year — a reward for drawing an Insight record attendance of 42,012.

CHASED OFF: The Insight Bowl was played for the sixth and final time at Chase Field, the home of Major League Baseball's Arizona Diamondbacks. In July, Insight officials announced plans to move to Tempe's Sun Devil Stadium as well as new conference alignments with the Big 12 and Big 10.

FLYING IN: Four Army skydivers participated in pregame plans for the national anthem, which was performed by Arizona State's band.

FIRST PASS: Ryan Hart completed his first seven before throwing an incomplete pass. He had thrown for 237 yards and two touchdowns up to that point.

FAST START: The team's first 17 points tied for the most points in the opening quarter this season. Rutgers opened with 17 points against Pittsburgh on Sept. 30.

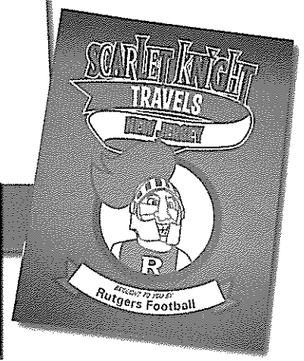

NO DEFENSE: The teams combined for 824 yards total offense in just the opening quarter, only 12 of which came on the ground. They also picked up 14 first downs.

The Rutgers Football program can be seen all around New Jersey and in Florida! With billboards across the Garden State, as well as in Dade, Palm Beach and Broward counties in Florida, the Scarlet Knights always have a presence high above the ground! Also, you can see Rutgers Football promoted on buses up and down the roads of New Jersey!

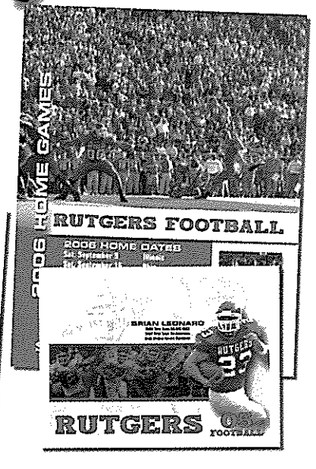

Rutgers Football also reaches out to children in New Jersey. With children's books, coloring books and the RU Reading into the Game and Read Across America programs, the Rutgers Football program is very active in helping children learn to read.

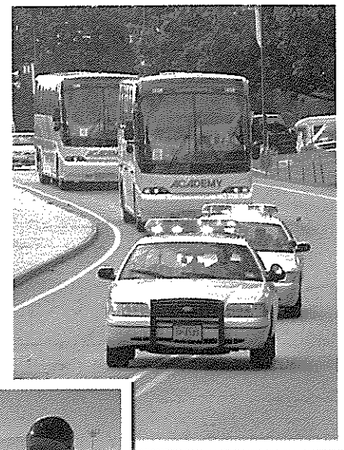

Rutgers is always promoting its football players for conference, regional and national awards. From mass mailings to websites and computer wallpapers to interactive DVDs with interviews and highlights, Rutgers continues to attract attention to its student-athletes in a variety of ways.

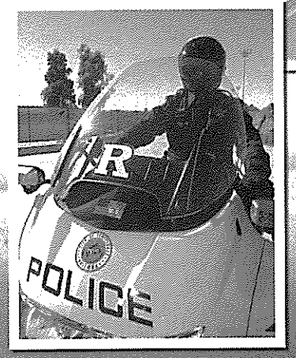

TEAM TRAVEL

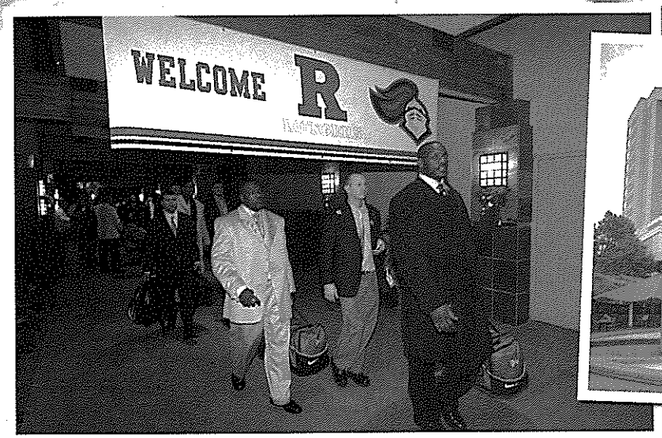

The Rutgers football team travels in a first-class manner during its season.

The road trips start with an escort by the New Jersey State Police to Newark-Liberty International Airport, where the team boards a Continental Airlines charter plane and flies to its destination. Once there, the team is again escorted to its hotel by the state police and then to the visiting stadium on game day. Following the game, the team is escorted to the airport and flies via charter back to Newark, where it is again greeted by the New Jersey State Police for a safe return to campus.

For home games, the Rutgers football team spends Friday night at its "home away from home," the beautiful Hilton East Brunswick hotel, located right off the Rutgers campus. Players can focus on the game more easily away from the campus setting, while also enjoying first-class hotel accommodations.

NEW JERSEY

There is always something to do around

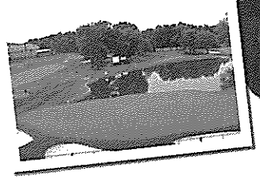

RUTGERS!

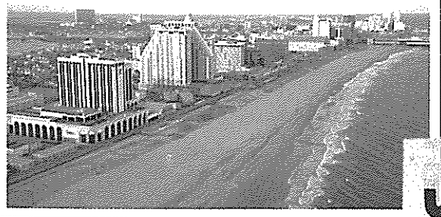

Located in New Brunswick, RUTGERS is in the middle of one of the most exciting areas in the world!

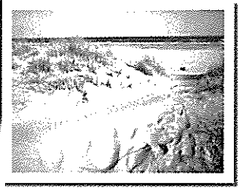

In addition to the thriving social atmosphere on campus, Rutgers is just minutes away from New York City and the Jersey Shore, and just a short drive to local hot spots like Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

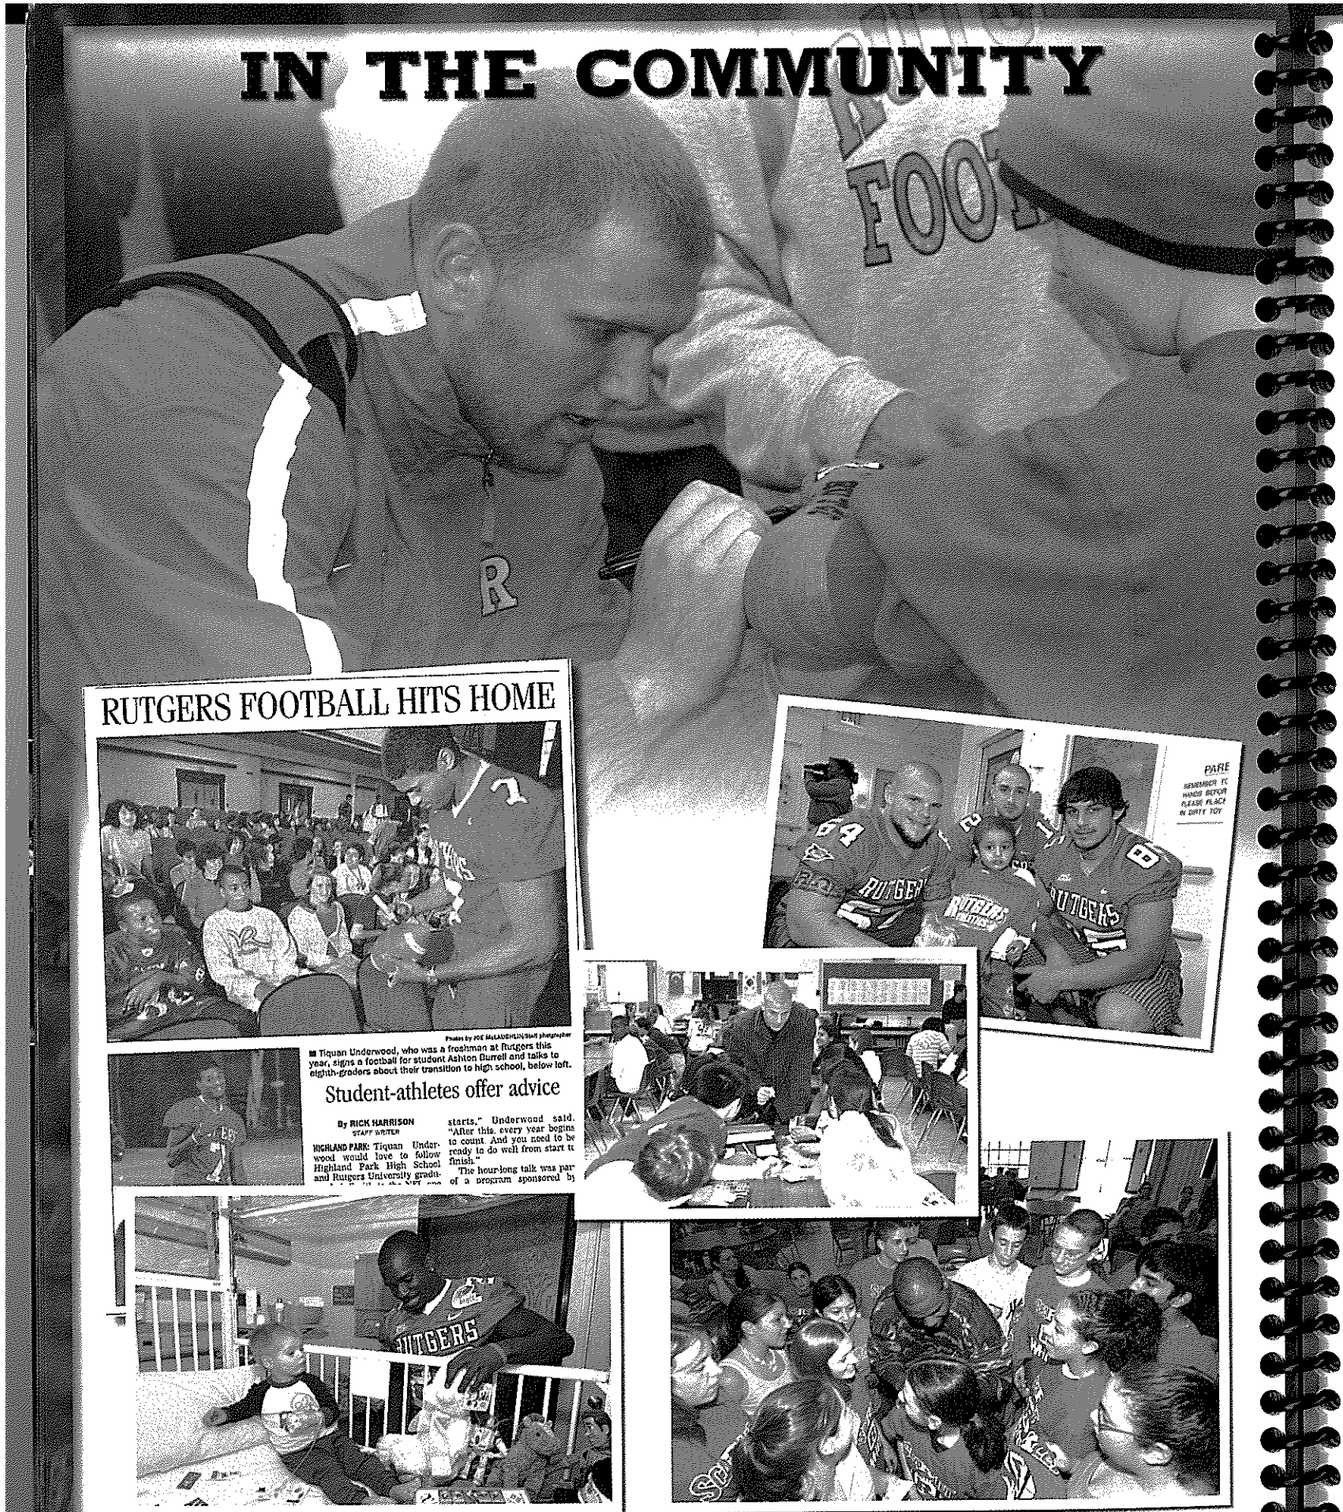

STATE OF INNOVATION

1790 - New Jersey is the first state to sign the Bill of Rights.
1804 - Alexander Hamilton and Aaron Burr have a famous duel in Weehawken.
1824 - The first ferry service in the U.S. opens between Hoboken and Manhattan.
1844 - The first nearly complete dinosaur fossil is found in Haddonfield.
1869 -The first intercollegiate football game is played at Rutgers in New Brunswick.
1870 - The four-mile long Boardwalk in Atlantic City is built, becoming the world's first boardwalk.
1876 -Thomas Edison opens labs in Menlo Park.
1882 -The first amusement pier over the ocean is built in Atlantic City.
1883 - Roselle is the first U.S. town to be lighted by electricity.
1886 - Johnson & Johnson is founded. Headquartered in New Brunswick, J&J develops, markets and sells more medical devices than any other company.
1897- John Dorrance of the Campbell Soup Company invents condensed soup, revolutionizing the industry.
1933 -The first drive-in movie theater opens in Camden.
1947 - Larry Doby, from Paterson, becomes the second African American to play Major League Baseball.
1952 - Selman Waksman wins the Nobel Prize for his work on antibiotics (a term he coined) and their effect on TB.
1961 - The Cherry Hill Mall opened, becoming the first fully-enclosed shopping center on the East Coast.
1988 - ACUVUE® Disposable Contact Lenses are produced by Vistakon and soon become the most popular contact lens brand in the world.
1999 - The Dextra artificial hand is developed by William Craelius, Rutgers associate professor of biomedical engineering, and his graduate student, Rick Abboudi. It is the first multi-finger artificial hand.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

SUCCESS AFTER RUTGERS

Countless Rutgers Football Alumni have gone on to successful careers off the field. Here are just a few...

MARK HERSHHORN

A highly-successful entrepreneur who has distinguished himself in the direct-marketing and real estate arenas, Mark Hershhorn, is a former Scarlet Knight football player who earned a BS in economics from Rutgers in 1971. A Henry Rutgers Scholar, Hershhorn is currently the President and CEO of CKS & Associates Management LLC, a real estate development firm that is credited with the acclaimed revitalization of West Philadelphia. Hershhorn is also CEO of Midwest Real Estate Investment LLC, General Partner of New Horizon West 1LP and CEO of New Horizons Real Estate Holdings LLC.

Formerly CFO, Treasurer, Vice President and Director of the Franklin Mint, Senior Vice President of Food Operations and Joint Ventures of Nutri/System, Inc. and President, CEO and Director of National Media Corporation, Hershhorn still plays an important role in the Rutgers community. He serves as the Chairman of the Board of Overseers, the governing body of the Rutgers University Foundation. He is also a member of the Rutgers University Board of Trustees and its Executive Committee.

Mark and his wife, Charon, stand among the university's most generous contributors. In 2001, they established the Hershhorn Academic Support Center, which provides state-of-the-art academic surroundings for student-athletes seeking to supplement and/or enhance their education. A Hershhorn Academic Support Center is located within the Rutgers Football Complex and the Louis Brown Athletic Center.

ELNARDO WEBSTER

After a standout career at linebacker for Rutgers, Elnardo Webster found his way onto the Pittsburgh Steelers' roster, about to embark on a promising professional football career. Those dreams came crashing down quickly, as he suffered a career-ending knee injury in his first start with the team. Webster quickly turned to his other dream and began to pursue a law degree, graduating from Rutgers with a J.D. degree and a Master's Degree in Business Administration in 1996. He served as a legal intern with the NFL and New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority while in school and is currently a partner in the law firm of Booker, Rabinowicz, Trenk, Lubetkin, Tully, DiPasquale and Webster, P.C. He is also heavily involved in community service, serving as treasurer for Corey Booker's mayoral campaign in Newark and running Sports Features, a program that is focused on exposing inner-city youth to alternative careers in sports.

VAUGHN McKOY

Once an enforcer on the football field as a safety from 1986-89, Vaughn McKoy has moved onto a distinguished career in the legal profession. He is currently the Associate General Counsel at PSEG. Prior to accepting that post, McKoy was the Director of the New Jersey Division of Criminal Justice. He began his professional career as a trial lawyer in Newark and has worked his way up the ranks, initially as First Deputy Attorney General and Acting Director of the Division of Criminal Justice. McKoy also serves on the Rutgers' Board of Trustees and is active in the New Brunswick community.

GENE RENNA

If partipating in athletics is about developing teamwork and leadership skills, then Gene Renna has taken the ball and run with it - literally. As the current Chief Operating Officer of Mobil Oil, Renna is among the corporate world's biggest names.

Renna began his 35-year career with Mobil in 1968 as a staff analyst in the financial department of US Marketing and reached a management position by the age of 26. He has held several leadership positions including: President of Mobil South, Executive Vice President - International Marketing and Refining and Vice President of Planning and Economics. He arrived at Rutgers as a 5-9, 175-pound lineman but has emerged as a giant in the business world.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

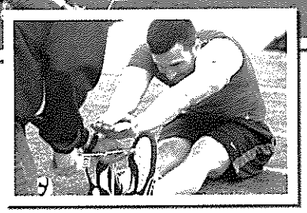

PRO DAY

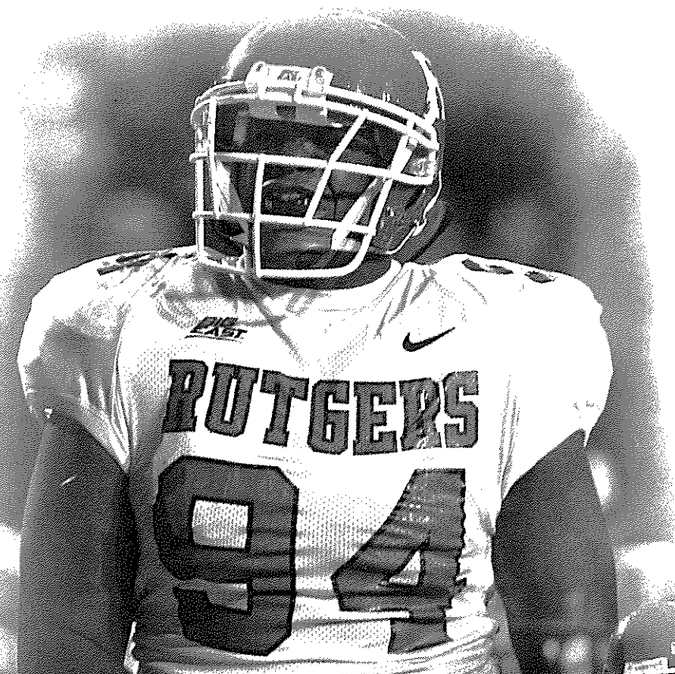

Each year Rutgers Football hosts Pro Day on the FieldTurf inside the Bubble, showcasing the Scarlet Knights' senior class to professional scouts and representatives from every NFL team. Rutgers opens its doors to the National Football League in an effort to give each Scarlet Knight a chance to increase his value on the field for the upcoming NFL season.

The structured day includes numerous drills to test speed, agility, quickness, strength and ball control. The day is designed to facilitate the evaluation processes of the professional scouts, while providing a familiar environment for the Scarlet Knights during rigorous testing.

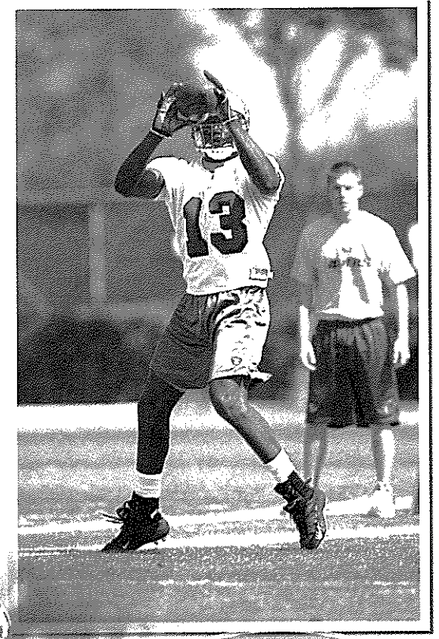

In addition to Rutgers Pro Day, many players have represented Rutgers in post season All-Star Bowl Games and played in front of professional scouts around the nation.

FOOTBALL FACILITIES

RUTGERS STADIUM IS THE HOME OF THE SCARLET KNIGHTS!

Rutgers Stadium, which seats 41,500 fans, was upgraded with FieldTurf, the leading artificial playing surface in all of college and pro sports. In addition to the Rutgers Stadium surface, the turf inside the Rutgers Bubble - the nation's largest air-supported indoor structure - was redone with FieldTurf as well. The upgrade to the playing and practice fields was just one of the many exciting improvements at Rutgers!

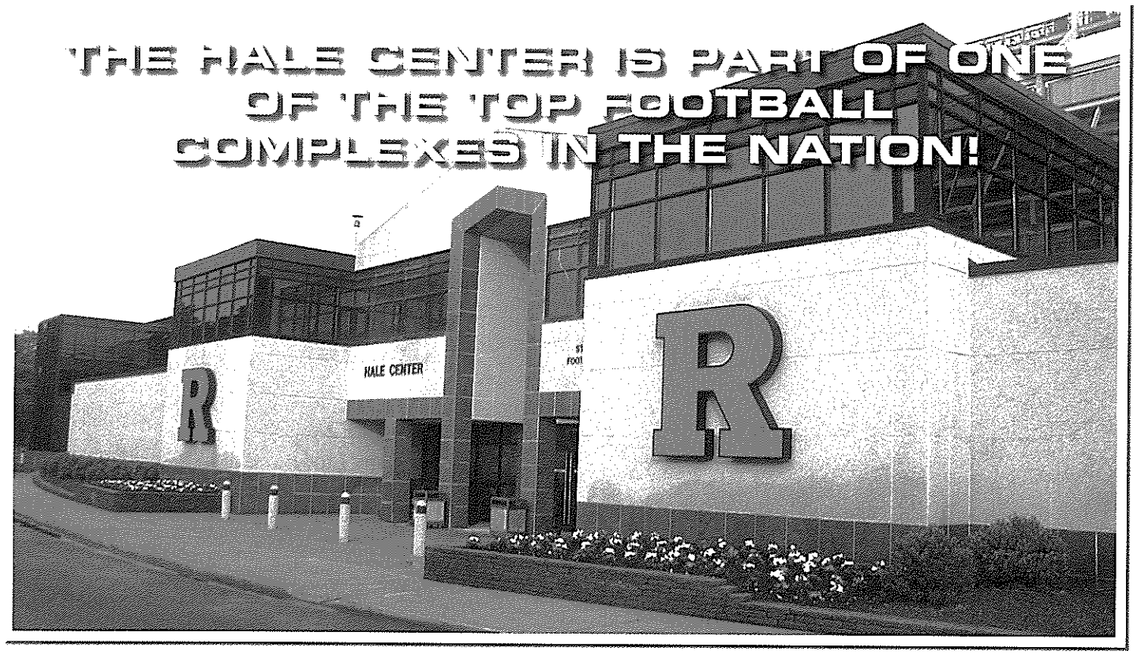

Ryan Neill works out for scouts at Rutgers' Pro Day on the FieldTurf inside the Bubble.

With the $13-million expansion complete, the Hale Center gives Rutgers student-athletes all the advantages to succeed on the field, and in the classroom.

In addition to Rutgers Stadium and the Rutgers Bubble, the Rutgers Football Complex boasts three full length practice fields, located just outside the Hale Center.

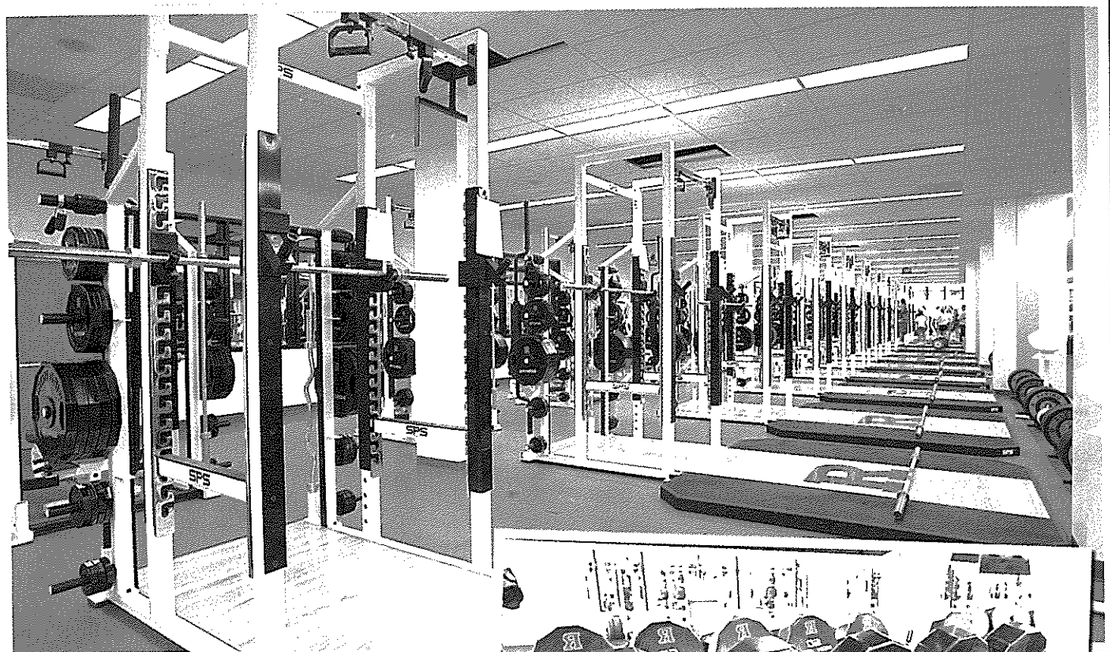

The Scarlet Knights' locker room in the new and improved Hale Center

STRONG BODIES

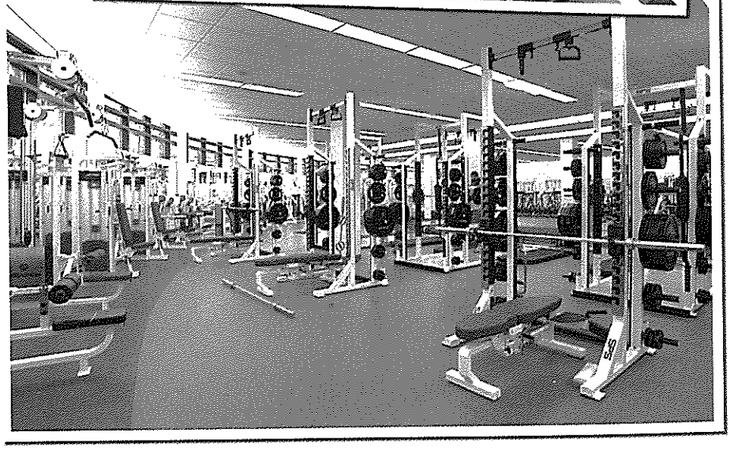

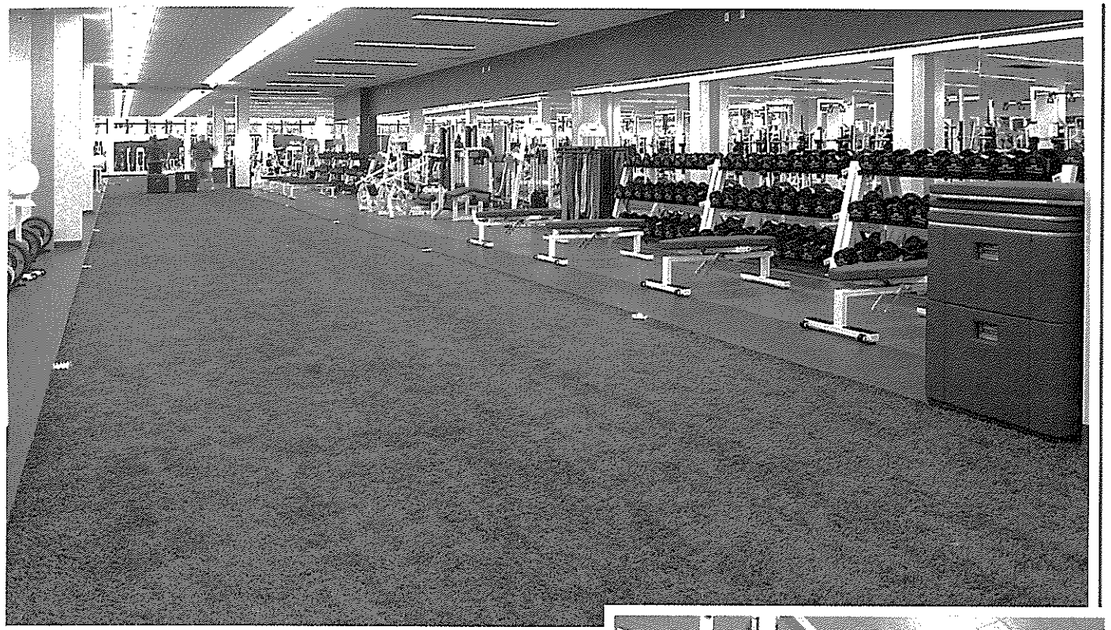

The new weight room at the Hale Center is one of the most impressive strength and conditioning facilities in the country.

With over 100 machines and free-weight stations, the Scarlet Knights are able to make the most of their time in the weight room, for optimum gain.

With a state-of-the-art form of video overlay technology, players can instantly critique their own lifting form, and compare it to video of professional weight lifters on the same screen, to maximize performance.

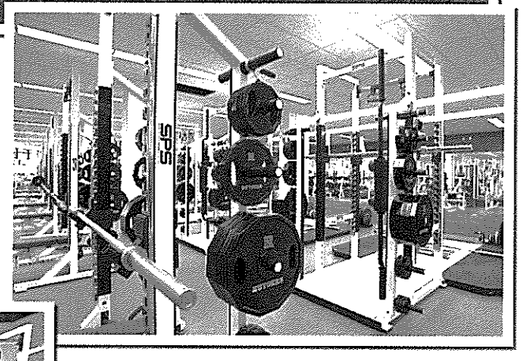

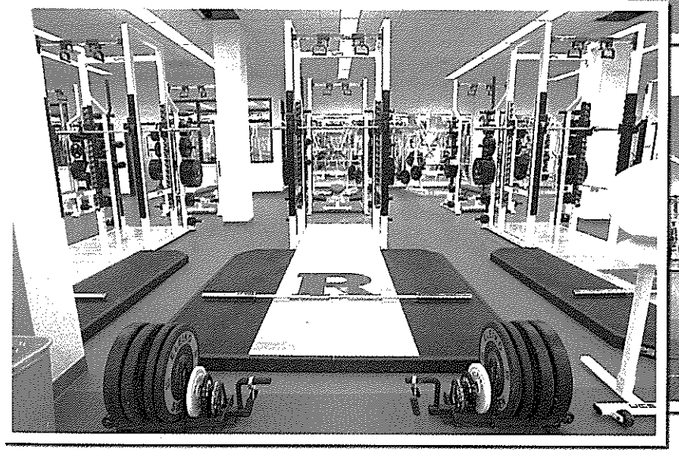

STRONG BODIES

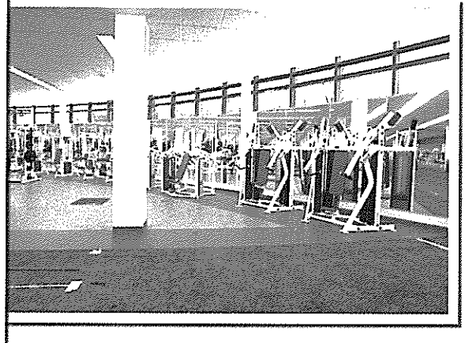

"This is the best weight room in the country. When you combine the size, the technology and amenities like the 60-yard FieldTurf track, we now offer the top strength and conditioning facilities in the country."

- Greg Schiano

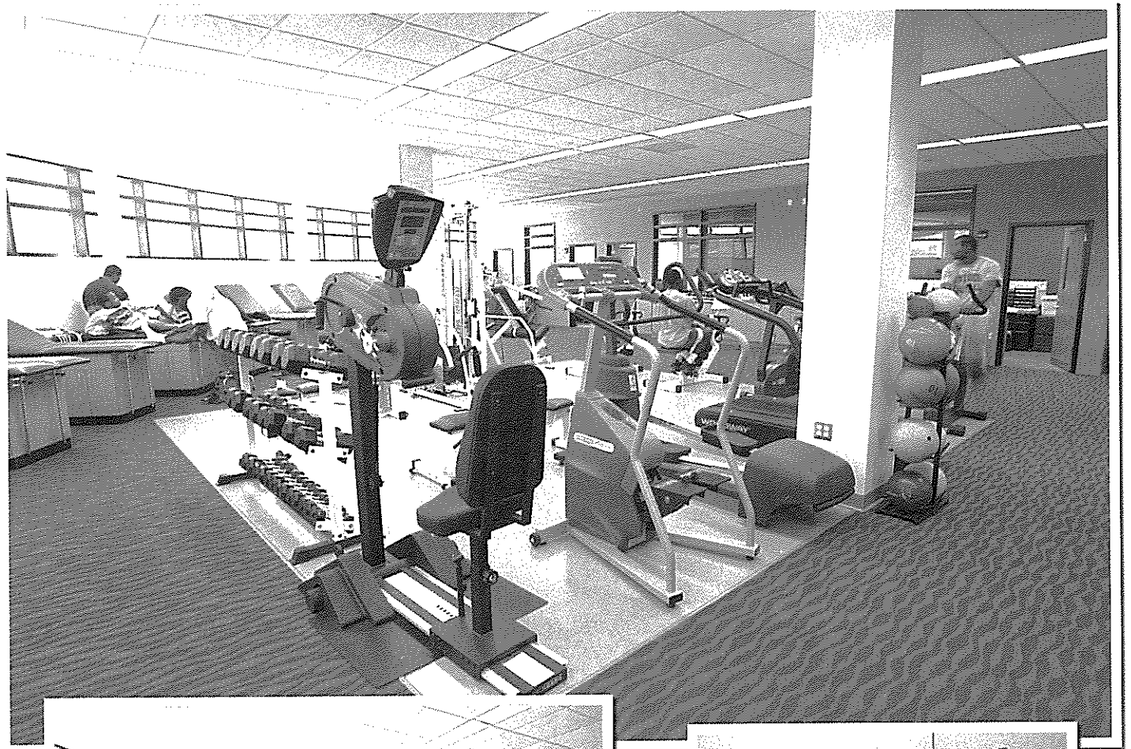

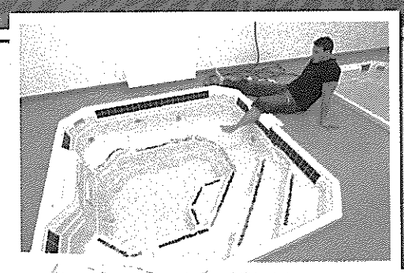

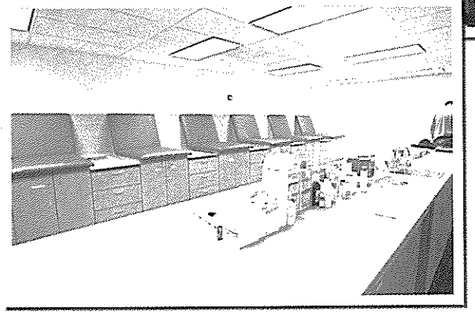

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

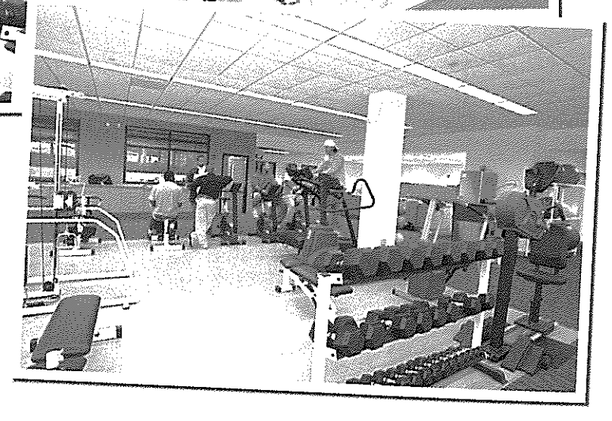

STRONG BODIES

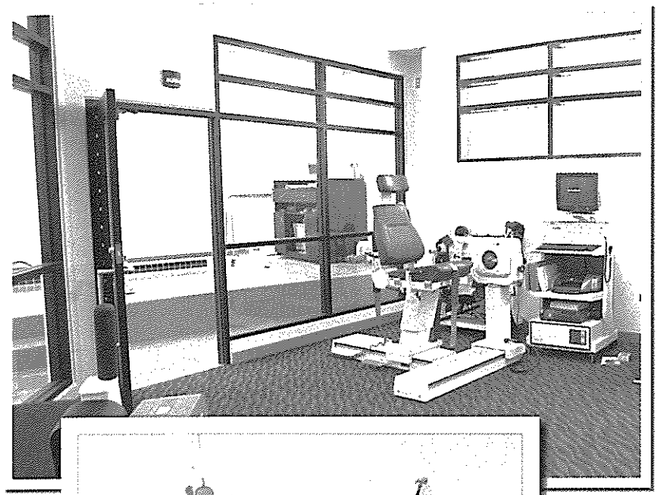

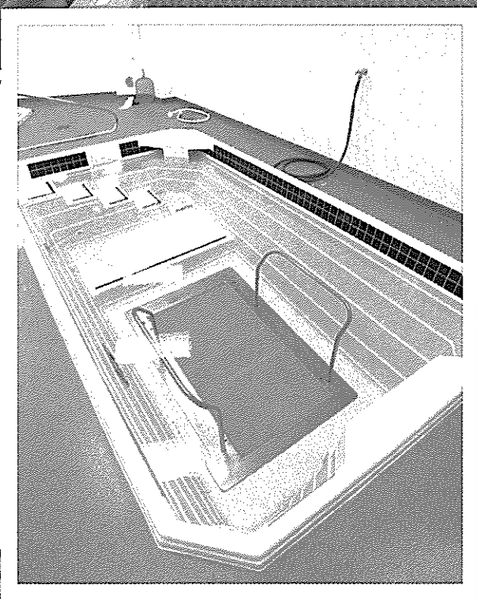

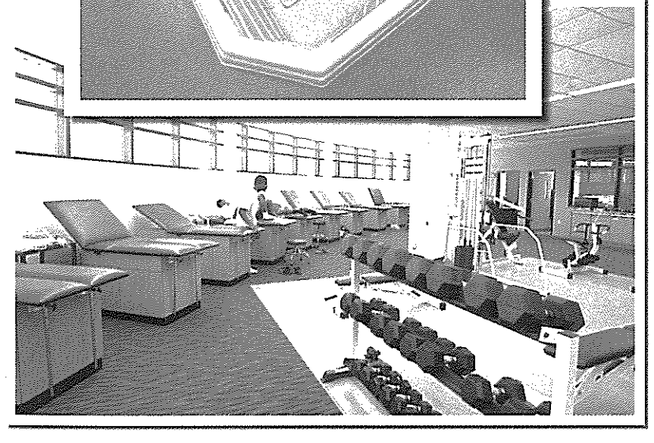

STRONG BODIES

The Rutgers Football Training Room is another great addition to the Hale Center.

With a dozen treatment tables, 10 ultrasound machines, eight taping tables and a host of cardiovascular and strength and conditioning equipment, the new training room gives Rutgers every advantage in both rehabilitation and prevention of injuries.

Two new advancements in technology - the Biodex machine and the Hyrdoworks pool - are featured in the training room as well.

The Biodex System 3 offers pioneering breakthroughs in neuromuscular testing and rehabilitation technology, providing student-athletes a fast, effective, documented return to action.

The Hydroworks pool is part of the new "wet room," which also features a hot tub and a cold tub. TheHydroworks is a pool with a treadmill on the floor, providing water resistance while running and putting less strain on joints during rehab.

STRONG MINDS

The new football facilities include state-of-the-art digital classrooms and meeting rooms with the latest video and multimedia technology.

Another great addition to the football complex is the 150-seat amphitheater for meetings and game preparation.

Players can also benefit from the computer lab, which is equipped with the latest desktop computers from Dell, and has high-speed internet access at each station.

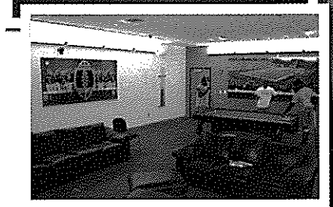

The Rutgers Football program was recently recognized by the AFCA for its excellence in the classroom. Rutgers Football graduates 70% of its players, which is 12% higher than the national average.

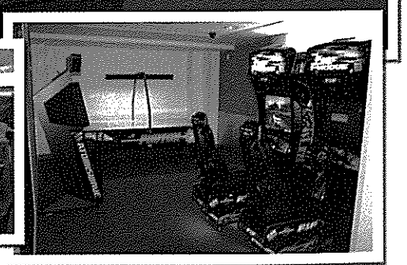

Also, Rutgers Football's APR score was the fourth-highest in the nation - and the second-highest of any bowl team.

New to the Hale Center is the redesigned players lounge. One of the best and most unique lounges in the country, Rutgers Football players are able to recharge their bodies and minds here.

Featuring plasma TVs, a pool table and air hockey table, PS2 consoles, arcade games and racing simulators, Rutgers Football players can always enjoy their home away from home.

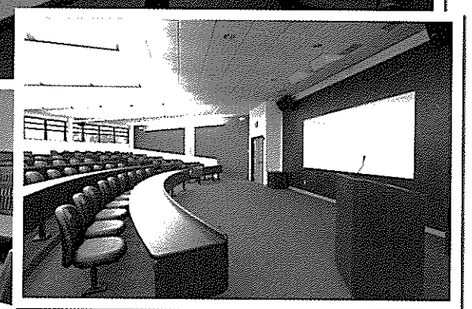

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

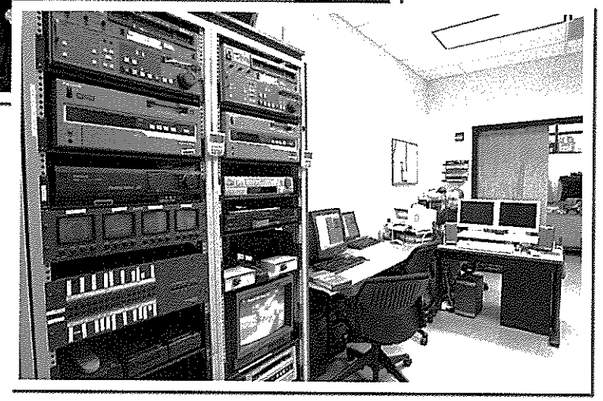

STRONG MINDS

Cutting-edge video technology is used weekly to break down game and practice film in preparation for upcoming opponents. The video department utilizes the most advanced resources in the country to help mentally prepare the Scarlet Knights each week.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

FOOTBALL FACILITIES

This season, the Hale Center has even more things to offer!

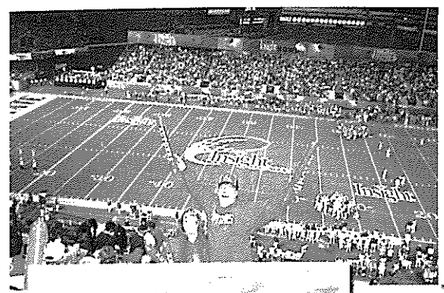

Upon entering the Rutgers Football Complex, fans will be treated to a new exhibition showcasing many great current and former Scarlet Knights. The new display highlights Rutgers' long football history, from the First College Football Game, all the way up to the Scarlet Knights' trip to the Insight Bowl.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

2006 OUTLOOK

Coming off of a berth in the 2005 Insight Bowl, Rutgers head coach Greg Schiano and his staff look to blend a core of key veterans with a large group of young players, while mixing in another talented recruiting class, when pre-season training camp commences in August.

"We're a very young football team," the sixth-year coach understated. "Fifty-eight of a possible 85 scholarship players have three or four years of eligibility remaining. We're certainly a freshman and sophomore dominated team.

"But," Schiano added, "I think we have some real strong, experienced leaders in the upper two classes who will really lead the younger guys where we need them to go."

The Scarlet Knights enjoyed their most successful season in years in 2005 with seven wins, an upper-echelon finish in the BIG EAST Conference and the berth in the Insight Bowl.

Gone from last year's team are a number of outstanding players who Rutgers fans had grown accustomed to cheering for, including record-setting quarterback Ryan Hart, All-BIG EAST wide receiver Tres Moses, and All-American DE Ryan Neill, a finalist for the Ted Hendricks Award, presented annually to the nation's top defensive end.

But the Scarlet Knights return key contributors from last year's bowl squad, including two-time All-America fullback and Heisman Trophy candidate Brian Leonard, BIG EAST Special Teams Player of the Year Willie Foster, two-time All-BIG EAST tight end Clark Harris and freshmen All-Americans Ray Rice and Courtney Greene.

In 2006, the Scarlet Knights return their top two rushers, eight of their top nine receivers, their leading punt returner and kickoff returner, nine of their top 10 all-purpose yardage leaders, six of their top seven scoring leaders, and six of their top seven leading tacklers (including the top three leading tacklers). Rutgers also returns its starting placekicker and punter.

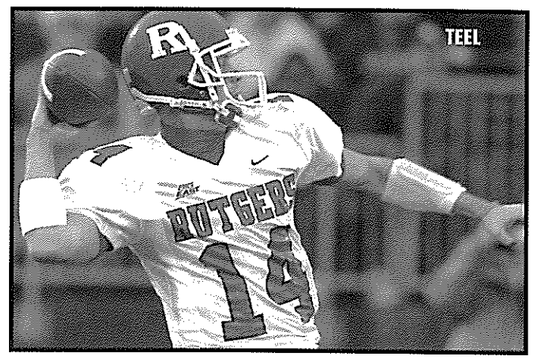

Under Schiano's guidance, Rutgers has shown consistent improvement from year to year. With a number of "firsts" achieved last season, the upward movement of the program has become the norm, not the exception. Schiano welcomes the fact that increased success translates into increased expectations.

"Expectations are what you're in it for - you want to be at a place where the expectations are high," Schiano said. "I only expect that they'll go higher and higher, which they should."

The Scarlet Knights experienced a productive Spring Practice 2006 and are pointing to the future with great optimism.

"I feel very good about our program," said Schiano. "And when I talk about our program, I am talking about the things that we can control. It's not only the football players and football coaches, it's all the support around it, such as academic support, strength and conditioning, which I believe is housed in the best weight room facility in the country, and our training and video staff. You look at all the things that touch our players' lives, and assist the coaches to do their jobs. We've, over time, put together a program and now we have competition at every position. At almost every spot, there is really heated competition. That, to me, is what a program is. You're graduating your kids, you have competition at every spot."

RETURNING QUARTERBACKS

16	Andrew DePaola	Fr.	6-2	200
15	Jabulani Lovelace	Fr.	6-2	200
14	Mike Teel*	So.	6-4	220

OFFENSE

Sophomore Mike Teel (6-4, 220) returns as the Scarlet Knights' lone signal caller with game experience. Teel appeared in nine games, making three starts, and led Rutgers to a 31-9 win at Syracuse. Freshman Jabulani Lovelace (6-2, 200) was a redshirt in 2005 after a successful career at Tenafly High School. Another freshman who sat out the 2005 season, Andrew DePaola (6-2, 200), also returns.

Joining the Scarlet Knights at quarterback for pre-season camp will be freshmen Tom Lang (6-3, 195/Concord, MA) and Chris Paul-Etienne (6-2, 180/Miami, FL). Lang directed his teams to a combined 23-5 record over his career, while Paul-Etienne was ranked among Florida's top 10 quarterbacks by the Orlando Sentinel. Domenic Natale (6-2, 190/Warren, NJ), a highly-acclaimed signal-caller who starred at The Hun School in Princeton, has transferred to Rutgers from Michigan State and will practice with the Scarlet Knights but must sit out the 2006 season under NCAA guidelines.

RETURNING RUNNING BACKS

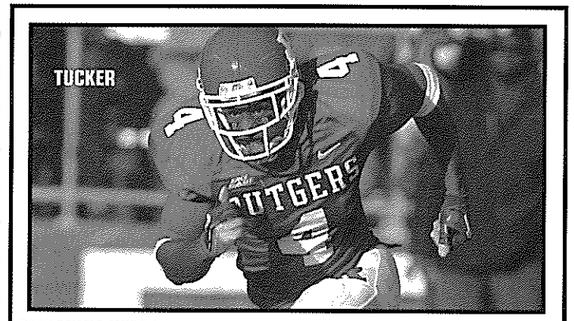

32	Jean Beljour*	Jr.	6-0	222
31	Kyle Kummer	Fr.	5-11	215
23	Brian Leonard*	Sr.	6-2	235
22	Dimitri Linton	So.	5-9	192
41	Chazz Lynn	So.	5-10	175
40	John Nicola	So.	5-10	210
27	Ray Rice*	So.	5-9	195
42	Devon Smart	Fr.	5-10	185

2006 OUTLOOK

Senior fullback Brian Leonard (6-2, 235) and sophomore running back Ray Rice (5-9, 195) return to give the Scarlet Knights one of the top one-two punches and most talented backfields in the nation. The multi-talented Leonard, a two-time All-America selection and a 2006 Heisman candidate, gained 740 yards on the ground and scored 11 rushing touchdowns, while catching 55 passes for 568 yards and six TDs. Rice enjoyed an outstanding freshman campaign, becoming the first Rutgers true freshman back to go over the 1,000-yard mark (and the first Scarlet Knight to eclipse 1,000 yards in 11 years) with 1,120 yards.

Sophomore Dimitri Linton (5-9, 192) sat out the 2005 season with an injury, but appeared in nine games in 2004. Junior fullback Jean Beljour (6-0, 222) is an experienced player who is coming off a fine spring. Providing depth in the RU backfield in 2006 will be freshman fullback Kyle Kummer (5-11, 215), sophomore running back Chazz Lynn (5-10, 175), sophomore fullback John Nicola (5-10, 210) and freshman running back Devon Smart (5-10, 185).

Kordell Young (5-9, 190/Westville, NJ) will join the competition at running back when he arrives for pre-season training camp. Young, who rushed for more than 4,500 career yards and scored 63 touchdowns during his high school career, was rated the seventh-best all-purpose back in the nation by Rivals.com as a senior. A pair of highly-rated fullbacks in Jack Corcoran (6-1, 230/Hammonton, NJ) and Edmond Laryea (6-0, 202/Staten Island, NY) will also be on hand for pre-season camp.

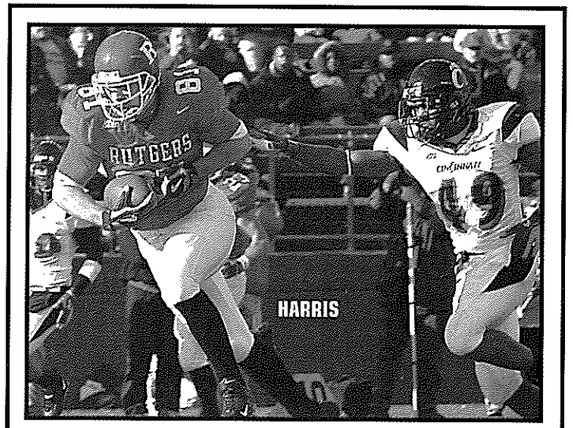

RETURNING WIDE RECEIVERS

5	Dennis Campbell	Fr.	5-9	185
9	Marcus Daniels*	Sr.	6-2	200
84	Willie Foster*	Sr.	5-10	175
32	Wayne Morse	Sr.	6-2	195
40	Nkosi Remy	Sr.	6-1	185
2	Vito Steriti	Fr.	5-7	180
80	Keith Taylor	So.	6-4	185
83	James Townsend	Jr.	6-1	185
4	Shawn Tucker*	Sr.	6-2	200
7	Tiquan Underwood*	So.	6-2	175

At wide receiver, Rutgers will look to replace the ultra-productive Tres Moses, who graduated as Rutgers' all-time leading receiver with 192 catches for 2,522 yards. Senior Shawn Tucker, at 6-2, 200, (32 catches, 484 yards in 2005; 109 career receptions) returned after sitting out the 2004 season and enjoyed a solid campaign last year. Willie Foster, at 5-10, 175, (eight catches, 16.1 yards per reception in 2005) also returns with experience at the wide receiver position, as do 6-2, 200-pound senior Marcus Daniels (48 career receptions) and 6-2, 175-pound sophomore Tiquan Underwood (four receptions for 47 yards).

Sophomore Keith Taylor (6-4, 185) and junior James Townsend (6-1, 185), a transfer from the University of Iowa, are good-sized targets. Freshman Dennis Campbell (5-9, 185) gained valuable experience in the spring. Adding depth to the wide receiver position will be seniors Wayne Morse (6-2, 195) and Nkosi Remy (6-1, 185), along with freshman Vito Steriti (5-7, 180).

Joining the competition at wide receiver when they arrive for pre-season camp will be a trio of skilled performers in Kenny Britt (6-4, 205/Bayonne, NJ), Tim Brown (5-8, 150/Miami, FL) and Shamar Graves (6-3, 200/Woodbridge, NJ).

RETURNING TIGHT ENDS

89	Kevin Brock	So.	6-5	225
12	Anthony Cali*	Sr.	6-5	245
81	Clark Harris*	Sr.	6-6	255
85	Sam Johnson*	Sr.	6-3	250

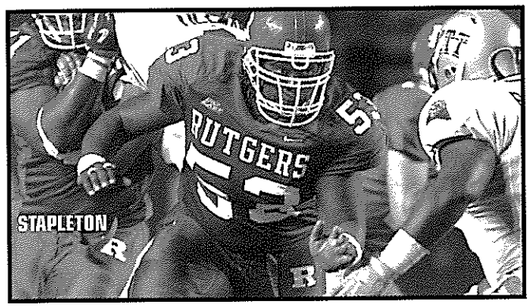

Two-time All-BIG EAST selection Clark Harris (6-4, 260), one of the top tight ends in college football, returns for his senior season with 109 career receptions for 1,522 yards. Sam Johnson (6-3, 258) is a crunching blocker and sure-handed target who scored three TDs from the position. Anthony Cali (6-5, 245) and Kevin Brock (6-5, 237), who both saw action primarily on special teams in 2005, also return.

Two freshmen with impressive size who will join the competition at tight end when pre-season camp arrives are Jesse Cisco (6-5, 250/Morristown, NJ) and Jeff Minemeyer (6-7, 250/Ebensburg, PA). Craig McGovern (6-3, 252/Lawrenceville, NJ) transferred to Rutgers from Michigan State and took part in Spring Practice 2006. He will sit out the 2006 season per NCAA guidelines.

The Scarlet Knights lost All-BIG EAST guard John Glass, Jr., and fellow starter Sameeh McDonald, from the offensive line to graduation. Junior starters Pedro Sosa (6-5, 295) and Jeremy Zuttah (6-4, 290) return, as does starting senior center Darnell Stapleton (6-3, 285), a preseason Rimington Trophy candidate. Massive junior Mike Fladell (6-8, 322) is battling for a starting spot along with senior Cameron Stephenson (6-5, 305), who returns to the offensive line from the defensive line. Sophomore Mike Gilmartin (6-6, 290) also saw action during the 2005 season, gaining a start against Buffalo.

Providing important depth up front for the Scarlet Knights will be junior Dan Mazan (6-4, 290), sophomores Carl Howard (6-4, 305) and Corey Hyman (6-4, 290), along with senior Mitar Rudanovic (6-3, 290).

DEFENSE

Two-time All-BIG EAST choice Ryan Neill, one of the top defensive ends in the country in 2005, must be replaced, as well as his counterpart on the other side of the line, Val Barnaby. Neill and Barnaby helped give the Scarlet Knights one of the top pass rushes in the country last season, combining for 34 tackles for loss and 20 sacks. Also gone is solid interior man Luis Rivas, who saw significant action throughout his career.

The Scarlet Knights welcome back Ramel Meekins (6-0, 275), who earned a starting spot and responded with 63 tackles (fifth best on the team), including nine sacks and 15 tackles for loss. Also returning will be Eric Foster (6-2, 260), who had eight tackles, including 2.5 tackles for loss, in the season opener at Illinois, but was sidelined for the season with an injury the following game vs. Villanova. The experienced William Beckford (6-1, 230) made the move to the defensive line late in the season, while sophomore Cherry Lewis (6-3, 240) also made the switch from linebacker to defensive end during Spring Practice 2006.

Young players like Jamaal Westerman (6-3, 252), Chris Dirksz (6-1, 272), Vantrise Studivant (6-3, 265), Pete Tverdov (6-4, 250), and Gary Watts (6-3, 245) all gained valuable experience in 2005. Other members of the the defensive line corps for the Scarlet Knights this season include senior Joe Giacobbe (6-1, 273), a former walk-on, senior Milan Rudanovic (6-2, 245), junior George Eshareturi (6-3, 295), a transfer from Iowa, Mike Ziarnowski (6-2, 260), and freshmen Nate Nurse (6-5, 290), Jonathan Pierre-Etienne (6-3, 260) and Kevin Small (6-2, 261).

Joining the defensive line corps when pre-season camp arrives will be Matthew Hardison (6-4, 250/Freehold, NJ), Charlie Noonan (6-2, 260/Philadelphia, PA), Markus White (6-4, 235/Lake Worth, FL) and Eric Wilson (6-2, 300/Ft. Lauderdale, FL), who was a standout at Hibbing Community College in Minnesota.

55	Devraun Thompson*	Sr.	5-11	220
54	Brian Tracey	So.	5-10	212

2006 OUTLOOK

Senior Devraun Thompson (5-11, 220), a starter in the middle throughout the season, anchors the linebacker corps for the Scarlet Knights. Thompson was second on the team with 97 tackles, including eight tackles for loss and two sacks. Also returning is senior Quintero Frierson (6-1, 240), who registered 46 tackles in 2005. Junior Brandon Renkart (6-3, 235) has added strength and made the transition from safety to linebacker during Spring Practice 2006. Sophomores Kevin Malast (6-2, 225) and Chris Quaye (6-0, 225) each gained valuable experience as freshmen last season.

Damaso Munoz (6-0, 220), a member of the 2005 recruiting class, will be added to the competition. Providing further depth at linebacker will be junior Gaudhi DeSades (6-3, 225) and sophomores Nate Harris (6-2, 225) and Brian Tracey (5-10, 212).

A deep and versatile group of incoming linebackers signed national letters of intent with Rutgers in February and will enter the competition when pre-season camp arrives. The incoming linebacking crop is comprised of Sorie Bayoh (6-2, 225/Miami, FL), Blair Bines (6-2, 225/Shirley, NY), Ryan D'Imperio (6-2, 230/Sewell, NJ), Antonio Lowery (6-1, 210/Miami, FL), Andres Morales (6-2, 250/Bethlehem, PA), and Patrick Nemorin (6-3, 220/Deerfield Beach, FL).

24	Joe Porter*	Sr.	6-0	195
11	Derrick Roberson*	Sr.	5-10	175
46	Brandon Wood*	Sr.	6-1	200

Three quarters of last year's starting defensive backfield returns, as well as experienced depth. Ron Girault (5-11, 195), who broke into the starting backfield at safety as a freshman two years ago, anchors the secondary and will be joined at safety by freshman All-America selection Courtney Greene (6-1, 205).

There's experience at the corners as well, with senior Derrick Roberson (5-10, 175) returning along with seasoned veterans Joe Porter (6-0, 195) and Manny Collins (5-10, 190), a pair of seniors. Also on hand are Anthony Miller (6-0, 170), who did not play last season but saw action in the second half of the 2004 campaign as a true freshman, and Robert Baham (6-0, 195), who was on the depth chart in pre-season camp before an injury sidelined him for the season. Hard-hitting Glen Lee, (6-2, 195), Jason McCourty (5-11, 180) and Leslie Jackman (5-11, 175) all picked up valuable experience in 2005 as true freshmen.

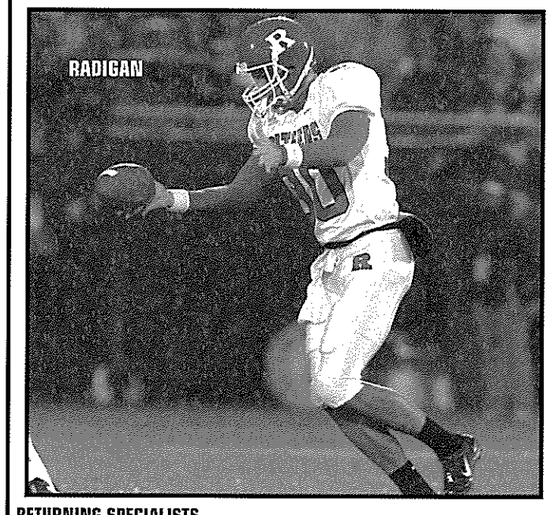

Lending valuable depth in the defensive backfield will be senior Brandon Wood (6-1, 200), freshmen Billy Anderson (6-0, 185) and Devin McCourty (5-11, 185), and sophomore Marc Orosz (5-10, 180).

Joining the competition in the defensive backfield when pre-season camp arrives will be Kevin Holloway (5-9, 175/Hollywood, FL), Julian Hayes (6-1, 205/Malverne, NY) and Zaire Kitchen (6-1, 215/Hightstown, NJ), who starred at Hightstown High School before spending a prep school year at Hargrave Military Academy.

SPECIAL TEAMS

Placekicker Jeremy Ito (5-11, 185) followed up a fine freshman season with an outstanding sophomore campaign, hitting on 20-of-27 field goals and all 40 of his extra-point attempts. He was fifth overall in scoring in the BIG EAST Conference, and second among kickers, in 2005. Ito boomed eight field goals of 40 or more yards, including a career best (and Rutgers record) 52-yarder against Arizona State in the Insight Bowl.

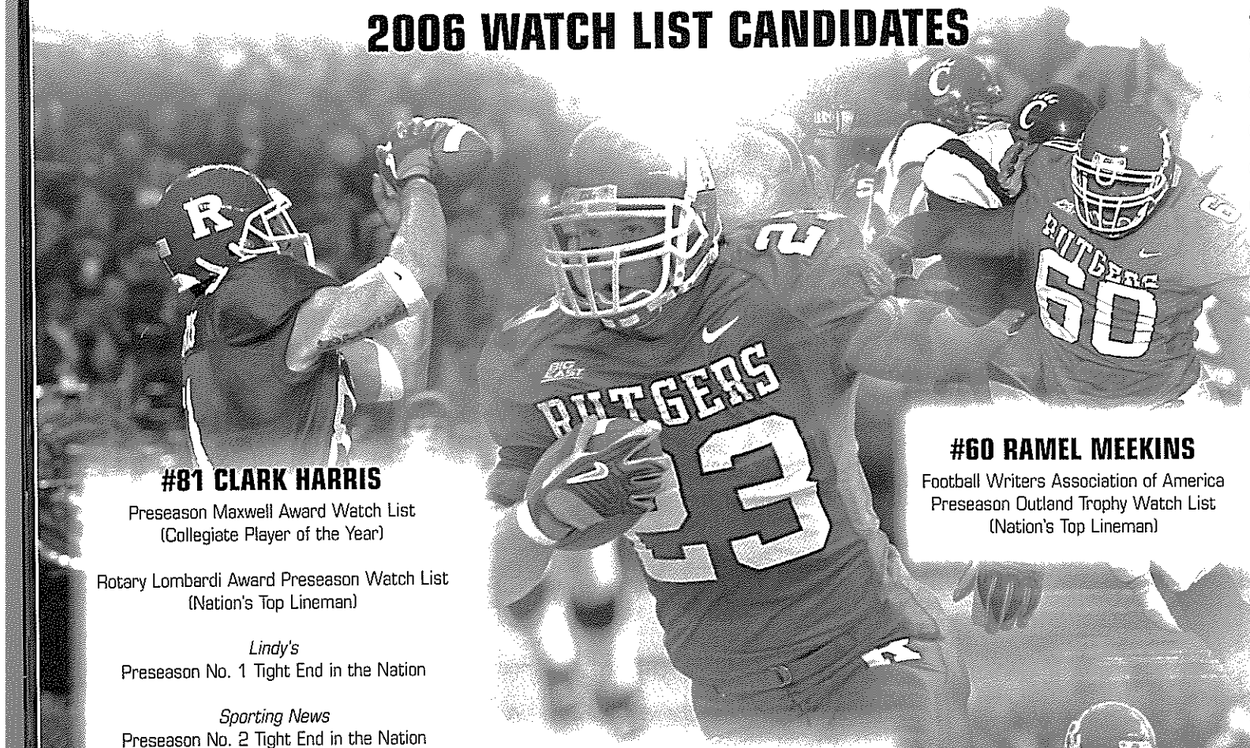

Joe Radigan (6-5, 220) returns to handle the punting duties. Radigan averaged 39.3 yards per punt in 2005, and was named BIG EAST Special Teams Player of the Week for his efforts at Connecticut, when he dropped four punts inside the Huskies' 20-yard line (including three inside their 10-yard line) to keep them pinned back in the fourth quarter. WR Willie Foster (5-10, 175) was the Scarlet Knights' top return man last season, and was BIG EAST Special Teams Player of the Year after returning 30 kickoffs for 736 yards (24.5 per return) and one TD, and 15 punts for 164 yards (10.9 per return) and one TD. Versatile WR Tiquan Underwood (6-2, 175) also returned 11 kickoffs for 298 yards (27.1 per return).

Rutgers bowls 'em over

Success helps Schiano attract best class ever

BY TOM LUICCI
STAR-LEDGER STAFF

It was the one question that always intrigued Rutgers football followers. If Greg Schiano could have rebuilding success while saddled with a climate loser, what would happen if the coach ever had a football team to sell?

The first recruiting class in school history — at least on paper — seems to be the answer.

With 25 recruits committing on national letter of intent signing day yesterday, Schiano's words and body language seemed to indicate that he knew he'd delivered in a big way after his latest talent haul was officially revealed.

With nine players from New Jersey — several of them marquee players — and 24 freshmen in the group (junior college transfer Eric Wilson being the only one who can't), Schiano preached a theme he said will help this program take the next step.

The first steps were taken that 4th with the school's first winning season since 1976 and first bowl appearance since 1978. The Scarlet Knights went 7-5, falling to Arizona State in a thrilling Insight Bowl, 6-49

...available field, there's really only...

...notable need in an area dominated by inexperience.

But as much as the talent graduation might have helped make the difference with Britt and Young, continuing to win could play an important role in the years to come, Schiano said.

"I think it will have a big impact moving forward because so much recruiting is done well in advance," he said. "You're talking about juniors, sophomores, even freshmen. It's so advanced now.

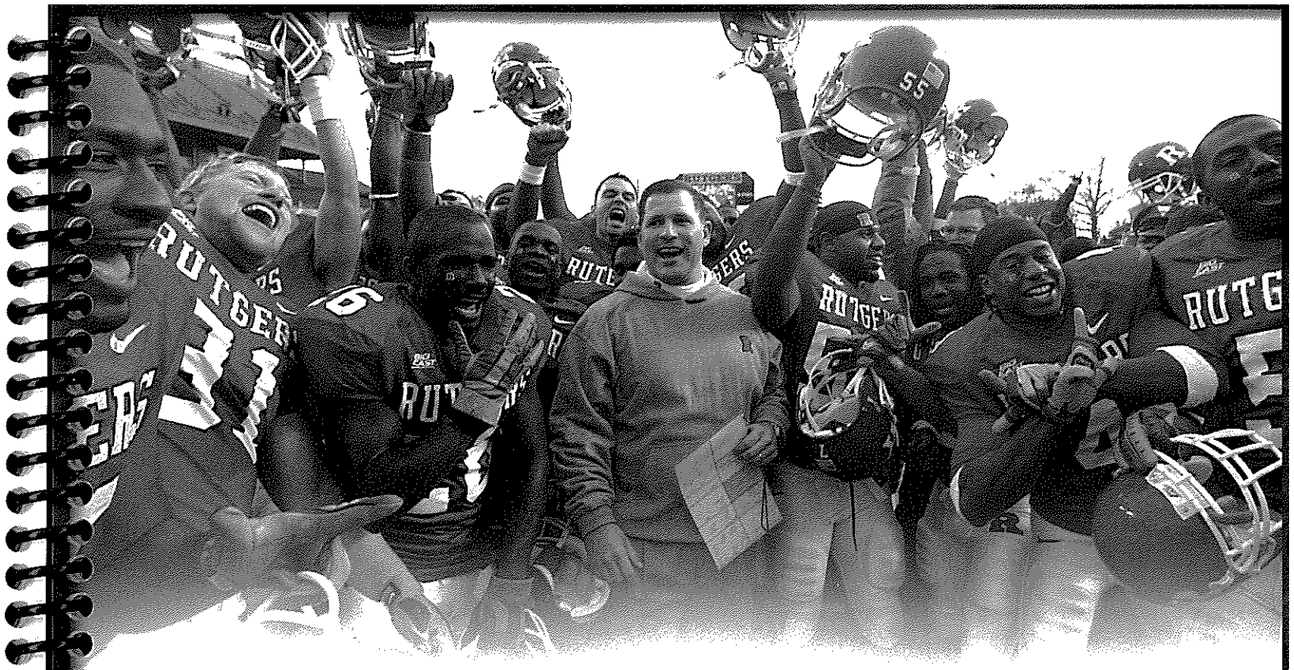

"I look at it like this: If we go out and do what we're capable of doing (this fall), now there are sophomores that are going to be juniors in high school that only know Rutgers as a team that is winning. It doesn't take long to get a cycle of guys through who see you differently."

Schiano wouldn't rate individual players, but said several had a chance to be special.

"I look at three guys and say, 'There's talented guys and there's super talented guys,' said which guys are what I'm not going to say," he said. "I think we have four or five guys who are super talented guys."

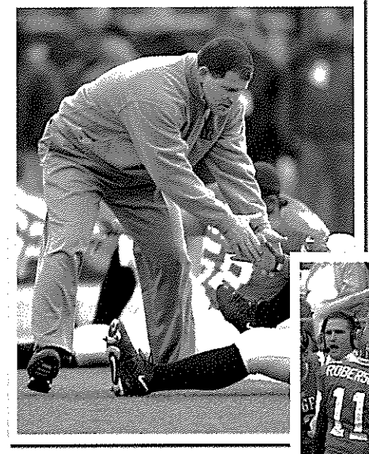

Note: Spring practice will begin March 20 in Saturday, with the annual spring game set for April 22 after a Saturday. Schools are permitted 15 practice days during the spring, including the spring game.

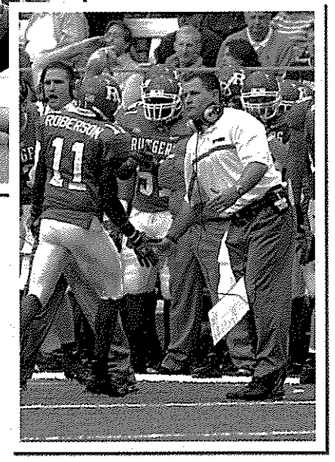

West Deptford running back Kordell Young reversed field this week, becoming one of Rutgers' top recruits after committing to Virginia.

HEAD COACH

There was a great deal of pride in the room when Rutgers head coach Greg Schiano met with the media two days after the Scarlet Knights' win over Cincinnati in the 2005 regular-season finale.

Schiano spoke about the excitement the Scarlet Knights felt about accepting a bid to the 2005 Insight Bowl, about finishing in the upper echelon of the final standings in the BIG EAST Conference, about posting their first winning season in 13 years, and about earning a bowl bid for the first time in 27 years.

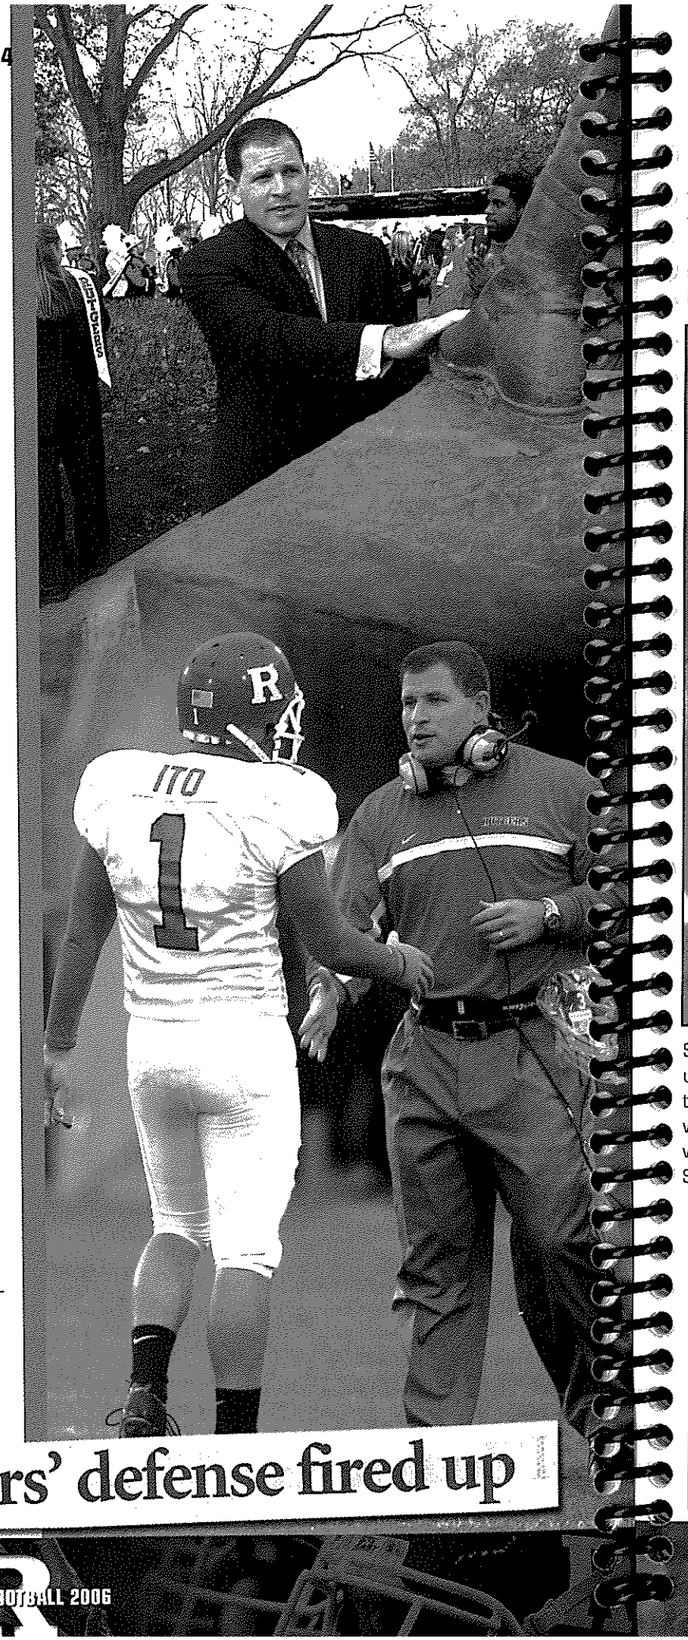

But Schiano, now in his sixth year as head coach of the Scarlet Knights, was quick to remind everyone that the success the team achieved in the 2005 season was not the ultimate goal for the Rutgers program.

"This has been a process that has been going for a while here in the state of New Jersey, and one that I think the people well deserve. Hopefully, they'll enjoy this, and understand that this is just a step," said Schiano. "The goal still is what I said the first day. We came here to build a program that will win national championships.

"Along the way, there are bowl games, there are conference championships, and then there are national championships. That's still the ultimate goal. I knew it wouldn't happen overnight, our staff knows that and our players know that," Schiano added. "We're building a program – it's not about a season. It's about building a program, and going to that pinnacle that we talked about when we first got here. This is a step on the climb."

A New Jersey native who returned to his roots to take over the reins of the Rutgers football program, Schiano has led the Scarlet Knights throughout his tenure with the energy, passion and boundless enthusiasm that have been the hallmarks of his career.

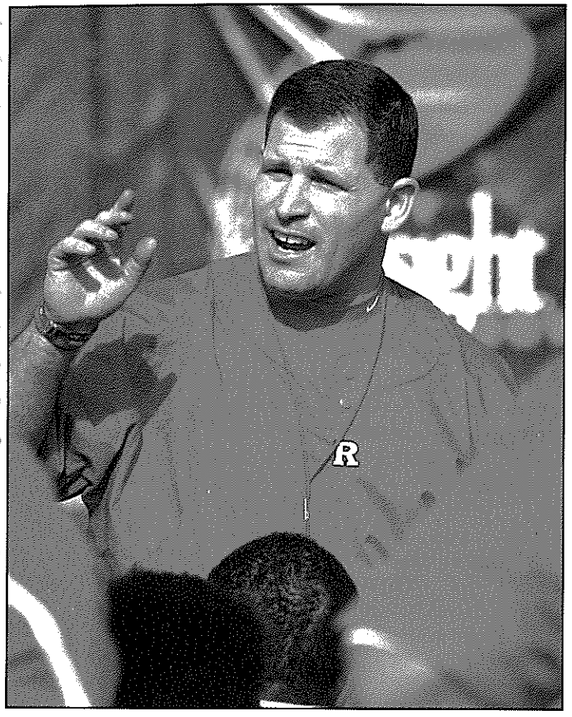

Schiano's impact as head coach is evidenced in all aspects of the Rutgers football program. Schiano and his staff have continued to upgrade the level of talent by recruiting student-athletes with outstanding athleticism and great character, all part of the building process that continues to result in on-field success.

Schiano has Rutgers' defense fired up

Rutgers now boasts one of the nation's finest football complexes, highlighted by an expansive strength and conditioning facility, a state-of-the-art training room and academic support facilities which include classrooms, study rooms and computer labs. With a state-of-the-art scoreboard and field turf playing surface in place, Rutgers Stadium continues to be one of the most scenic settings for college football in the country.

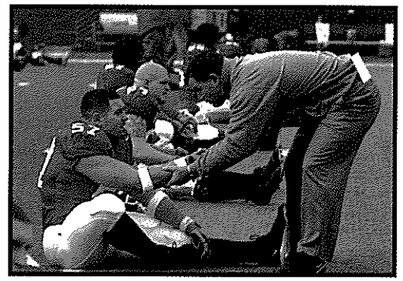

Schiano's arrival signaled a new era at Rutgers, and he continues to guide the program at New Jersey's State University to the elite of Division I-A college football. His tireless work ethic, winning attitude and commitment to the university are pillars which generate excitement throughout the "State of Rutgers." Schiano, who grew up in Wyckoff and graduated from Ramapo

SCHIANO AGREES TO SEVEN-YEAR CONTRACT

On December 22, 2005, Greg Schiano agreed to a new seven year contract that will see him coach the Rutgers football team through the 2012 season.

"This contract reflects our appreciation for the outstanding work Greg Schiano has done with our football program," said Director of Intercollegiate Athletics Bob Mulcahy. "He is committed to the total development of our student-athletes on and off the field, and the overall performance of the program in the past five years is a testament to that commitment."

Academic achievement has been a hallmark of Schiano's tenure at Rutgers. The Academic Performance Rate (APR) released by the NCAA showed that the Scarlet Knights are perennially-ranked program at the top among all Division I-A programs.

Rutgers Football was the second-highest ranked team to compete in a bowl game in the 2005 season.

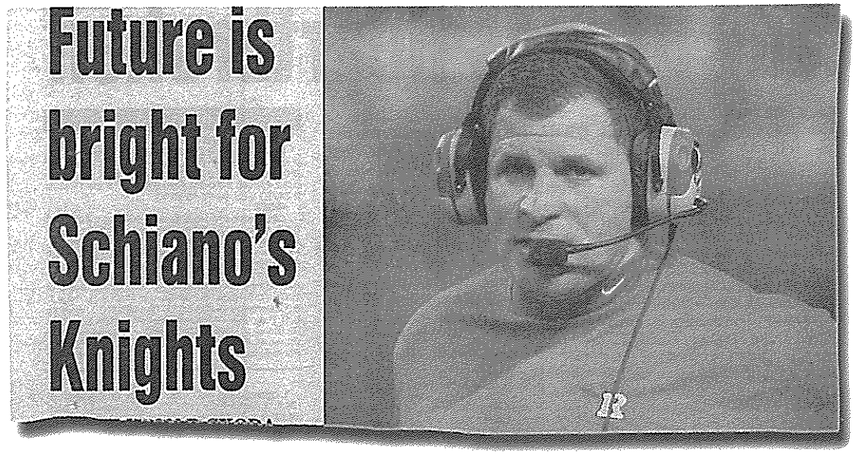

High School, took over as the 27th head coach of the nation's oldest college football program on Dec. 1, 2000. On that day, Schiano proclaimed his vision of excellence for Rutgers football. "This program will be built on a rock foundation," he said. "It will take longer than building it on stilts, but when it's built, it will be built forever. This is where I started; this is where I was striving to get back to. I'm thrilled to be here. It's time."

Under Schiano's guidance, a number of former Scarlet Knights have advanced to the NFL. Tight end L.J. Smith was the starting tight end for the Philadelphia Eagles in Super Bowl XXXVIIII and caught a TD pass. Gary Brackett started at middle linebacker for the Colts throughout the 2005 season, including the playoffs, where he forced a fumble on a goal line stand against Pittsburgh.

This season, five Scarlet Knights who played for Coach Schiano signed with NFL teams, including All-American Ryan Neill (Buffalo Bills), All-BIG EAST standout Tres Moses (Baltimore Ravens), Val Barnaby (Detroit Lions), Chris Baker (San Francisco 49ers) and Sameeh McDonald (Detroit Lions).

Other NFL Knights from Schiano's reign include OL Trohn Carswell (Carolina Panthers), DT Gary Gibson (Baltimore Ravens), DB Brandon Haw (Miami Dolphins), DB Jarvis Johnson (Baltimore Ravens), WR Aaron Martin (Dallas Cowboys), DE Raheem Orr (New York Giants), DT J'Vonne Parker (Cleveland Browns) and RB Dennis Thomas (Kansas City Chiefs).

Another former standout, defensive back Nate Jones of the Dallas Cowboys, was a remarkable talent on the field and in the classroom while at Rutgers. Jones became Rutgers football's first two-time Academic All-America selection, and was a member of the prestigious National Football Foundation/ College Football Hall of Fame National Scholar Class of 2003, one of just eight Division I-A players honored. Jones was also the recipient of the BIG EAST/Aéropostale 2003 Football Scholar-Athlete of the Year Award, and was the BIG EAST's Co-Special Team Player of the Year in 2002.

Schiano, who served as defensive coordinator of the Scarlet Knights in 2005, guided a unit that was second in the nation in sacks, fifth in the nation in tackles for loss and tied for 12th in fumbles recovered. The 2005 defensive unit was in the top 35 in both third down and fourth down defense.

Achievement and success are nothing new to Schiano. Wherever he has been in his coaching career, success has followed. During Schiano's two-year stint as defensive coordinator at Miami (1999-2000), the Hurricanes posted a 20-5 record, including an 11-1 record, the No. 2 national ranking and the Sugar Bowl championship in 2000. The Hurricanes boasted one of the top scoring defenses in the nation in 2000, and were the stingiest defensive squad in the BIG EAST Conference.

Under Schiano, the Miami defense showed rapid and marked improvement in his two seasons as defensive coordinator. The 'Canes defense closed out the 1999 season by not allowing a passing touchdown in 27 quarters, and was 12th nationally in scoring defense (allowing 17.2 points per game). In 2000, Miami surrendered just 15.5 points per game, the fewest allowed by any team in the BIG EAST and No. 5 nationally.

Prior to his assignment at Miami, Schiano spent three seasons in the NFL with the Chicago Bears (1996-98). Schiano was a defensive assistant in 1996-97, and was the defensive backfield coach in 1998. The 1997 Chicago Bears' third-down defense showed measurable improvement under Schiano's leadership, finishing first in the NFC and fourth in the NFL as opponents converted just 31.7% of their third-down attempts. In 1996, the Bears' pass defense climbed from 27th to 11th in fewest yards allowed.

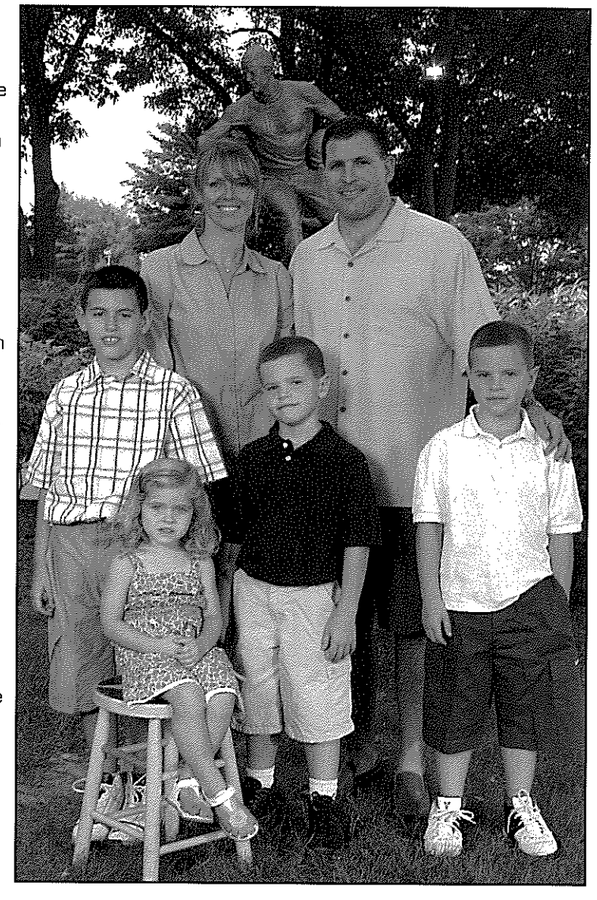

Schiano was defensive backfield coach at Penn State University from 1991-95. While at Penn State, the Nittany Lions had 58 wins and made six bowl appearances in his tenure. Overall, in nine seasons as an assistant on the collegiate level, Schiano's teams advanced to eight bowl games.

Schiano's first assignment as a coach in the college ranks came during the 1989 season, when he served as a graduate assistant coach at Rutgers, following a one-year stint as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Ramapo High School. Schiano was a standout linebacker at Ramapo, playing for Coach Mike Miello, who is now head coach at William Paterson University after four seasons on the Rutgers Football staff. After his initial stint at Rutgers in 1989, he moved on to Penn State as a graduate assistant coach in 1990.

Schiano's influence reaches beyond the college playing fields, as his stable of NFL players continues to grow each season. In addition to former Scarlet Knights like Smith, Brackett and Jones, Schiano has helped guide such NFL standouts as Ed Reed (safety, Baltimore Ravens), Dan Morgan (linebacker, Carolina Panthers), Kim Herring (defensive back, Cincinnati Bengals) and Mike Rumph (cornerback, San Francisco 49ers).

Schiano is a 1988 graduate of Bucknell University where he was a three-year letterman at linebacker. He was named to The Sporting News All-America Pre-Season Team in 1987. He served as team captain his senior year and, as a junior, he topped the team with 114 tackles and was named All-Conference.

Schiano and his wife, Christy, are the proud parents of four children.

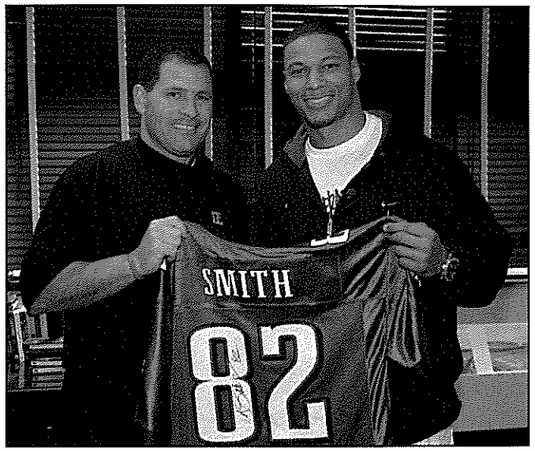

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT GREG SCHIANO

"Greg Schiano pushed us to be the best, not only on the field but in the classroom and as people. He didn't accept anything less than 100% from us at all times, because that is what he expects from himself, too. I learned a lot from the man and think he has done a great job rebuilding the program."
- Nate Jones, former Rutgers All-American and member of the Dallas Cowboys

"I think Coach is laying the foundation for the program to be successful for a long time. Coach Schiano and his staff and the players on this team will take this team places that people never dreamed we could go."
- Ryan Neill, former Rutgers All-American and member of the Buffalo Bills

"Coach Schiano and his staff helped prepare me both mentally and physically for the next level. They're more than just coaches – they're really great people and they took an active role in my life at Rutgers. Whenever I return to Rutgers and to the football complex, I always feel like I'm back home."
- L.J. Smith, former Rutgers tight end and second-round draft pick of the Philadelphia Eagles

"Coach Schiano is a proven leader who inspires and motivates his players. He's a great coach with great vision – I don't think it will be long before all the pieces are in place at Rutgers. Rutgers is a great place to play football."
- Gary Brackett, former Scarlet Knight and member of the Indianapolis Colts

"Coach Schiano is a great coach - he was like a father figure to all of us. He brings a great scheme to teams that give them the opportunity to win. I have all the respect in the world for him and know he will be a success."
- Ed Reed, S, Baltimore Ravens

"Coach Schiano taught us as an NFL-type defensive scheme, which played to our strengths. He was also a family-oriented coach, who cared about you and your family's well being."
- Mike Rumph, DB, San Francisco 49ers

"Coach took a lot of time with his players. He took extra time to make sure we were doing the right things and he was a great motivator. He was really somebody that you love to play for."
- Dan Morgan, LB, Carolina Panthers

"I think he's a great coach and a great person. He's a guy who built our whole defense on trust, and I'm sure with him being the head coach at Rutgers, he's taking the same philosophy to them."
- Damione Lewis, DT, Carolina Panthers

"Coach Schiano is a great fit at Rutgers. He has been really the type of coach that Rutgers needs - young, energetic and knowledgeable. He not only gets the team ready for Saturdays, he's getting his players ready to play on Sundays as well."
- Shaun O'Hara, former Rutgers Scarlet Knight and a member of the New York Giants

"First of all he is a really good guy. He taught me a great deal in my first two years in the NFL in Chicago. He was an inspiration to me. He is a thinker, he is well-organized and he is going to get with his players and turn that program into a winner."
- Terry Cousin, DB, Jacksonville Jaguars

"Coach Schiano was my first coach in the NFL for the Chicago Bears. He was instrumental in preparing me for my professional career. He is a great guy to be around."
- Tony Parrish, DB, San Francisco 49ers

"Greg Schiano is one of the most intense coaches I've ever played for."
- Kim Herring, former S, Cincinnati Bengals

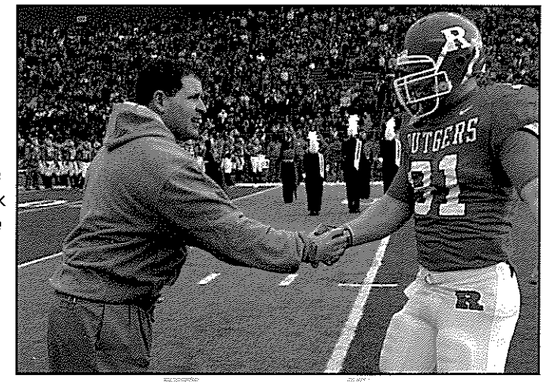

"He's the first coach that introduced me to the man defense, with four under and three deep. It really helped me pick up the scheme here in the NFL. He's a smart, energetic coach who really taught me to watch tape and break down film. We were really close off the field."
- Nate Webster, LB, Denver Broncos

"I'm fired up that Coach Schiano is at the helm at my alma mater. What I like best about him is his attitude. Every time you're around him you come away with a feeling that he's going to get it done."
- Marco Battaglia, TE, NFL Veteran and former Rutgers All-American

"Coach Schiano is a great man and I owe him a lot. He helped me develop not only as a football player, but also as a person. He has done an amazing job with the program and the team is only going to get better."
- Raheem Orr, former Rutgers defensive end and former member of the New York Giants

"Coach Schiano is one of the most impressive coaches and people I have been around. He has the ability to maximize talent and develop players at an extraordinary rate. Schiano has proven he is a great fit for Rutgers."
- Bill Rees, Director of Player Personnel, Cleveland Browns

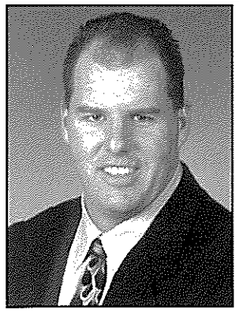

"Greg is one of the bright young minds in the game today. He combines that with a conscientious work ethic and a caring attitude." - Bob Slowik, Defensive Backs Coach, Denver Broncos

JAY BUTLER

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC DIRECTOR FOR STRENGTH & CONDITIONING
HEAD FOOTBALL STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

The Scarlet Knights have become a measurably bigger, faster and stronger football team under the direction of Jay Butler. Now in his sixth season with the Scarlet Knights, Butler was promoted to Assistant Director of Athletics for Strength and Conditioning and Head Football Strength and Conditioning Coach in 2004 after four seasons as Coordinator of Strength and Conditioning and Head Football Strength Coach.

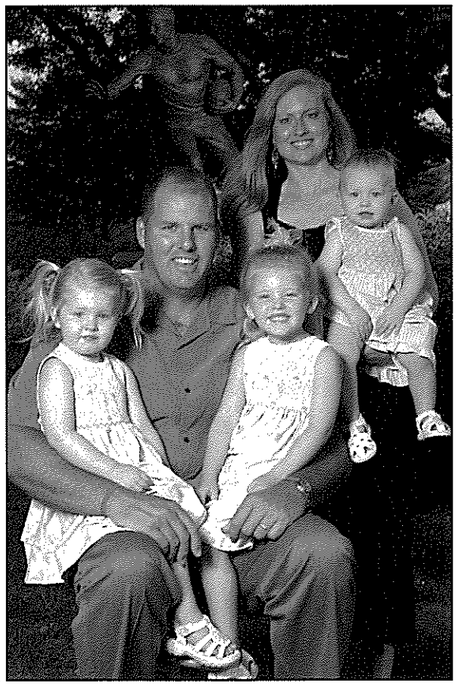

Prior to joining the Scarlet Knights' staff, Butler served as the Director of Speed, Strength and Conditioning at Dartmouth College for five years (1996-2000). Before his stint at Dartmouth, Butler served four years at East Carolina University in the strength and conditioning program. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant for three years at ECU while earning his master's degree and was soon promoted to Assistant Director of Strength and Conditioning in 1995.

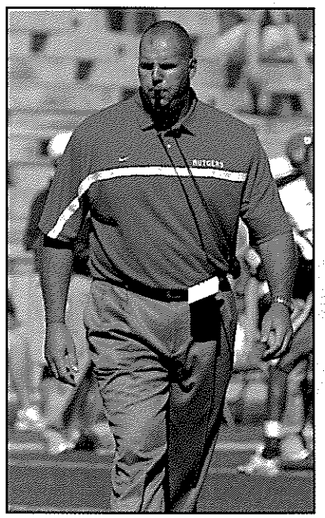

Butler, who earned a Mechanical Engineering degree from Bucknell University in 1991, designed the state-of-the-art, 15,500 square foot strength and conditioning facility in the expanded Hale Center. He incorporated the latest technologies, including digital video analysis, a 60-yard field turf track and other amenities for developing the complete football player.

He has helped mold a number of players into professional athletes, who are currently enjoying successful careers in the National Football League.

Butler is a 1987 graduate of nearby Hillsborough High School, where he excelled in both football and baseball. He went on to be a three-year starter and two-time All-American offensive tackle at Bucknell University. He played two seasons on the professional level.

Butler and his wife, Jo Ann, are the proud parents of three daughters, Kylie, Casey and Sydney.

CHRIS DEMAREST

SECONDARY COACH

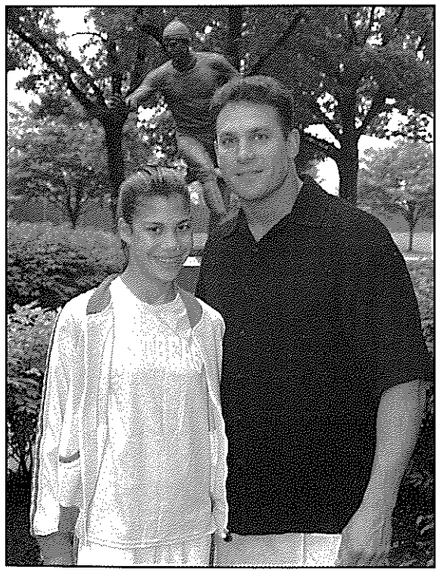

Chris Demarest, a New Jersey native who began his career in coaching as a graduate assistant at Rutgers in 1989, is in his third season as secondary coach of the Scarlet Knights.

During his tenure overseeing the Scarlet Knights' secondary, the Scarlet Knights have shown steady improvment. Last season, Courtney Greene earned consensus Freshman All-America honors, ranking second in the BIG EAST in tackles as a true freshman, and Ron Girault ranked ninth in the league in tackles. In 2004, Joe Porter ranked second in the BIG EAST in interceptions with five.

Demarest came to Rutgers after serving as defensive backs coach at North Carolina State for four seasons (2000-03). In that time, he helped the Wolfpack to four consecutive bowl appearances, three wins in post-season play, and a 34-17 overall record. Demarest tutored Terrence Holt, who earned All-America honors and is a member of the Detroit Lions. Demarest also coached NFL players Brian Williams (Minnesota Vikings), Adrian Wilson (Arizona Cardinals), Andre Maddox (New York Jets), Lamont Reid (Arizona Cardinals) and Marcus Hudson (San Francisco 49ers) while at North Carolina State. In 2004, Demarest mentored strong safety Jarvis Johnson, who signed a free agent contract with the Baltimore Ravens following his senior season.

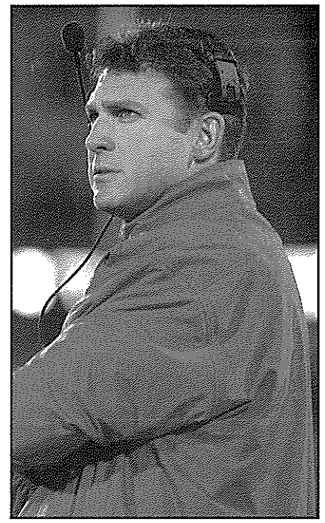

This is Demarest's second stint as a member of the Scarlet Knights' coaching staff. His first coaching assignment was as a graduate assistant for the Scarlet Knights in 1989, following a successful collegiate career as a player at Northeastern. In his first tenure at Rutgers, Demarest was on a staff that also included Rutgers head coach Greg Schiano as a graduate assistant coach.

Prior to his tenure at North Carolina State, Demarest was a graduate assistant at Florida State for two seasons (1998-99). Demarest was responsible for coaching the cornerbacks and helped the Seminoles to a combined 23-2 record, including a 12-0 record in 1999 and a victory over Virginia Tech in the Sugar Bowl for the national championship. The year before, the Seminoles led the nation in pass defense en route to an 11-2 record and a berth in the Fiesta Bowl. Demarest helped tutor a number of Seminoles who went on to the NFL, including Derick Gibson (Oakland Raiders), Dexter Jackson (Tampa Bay Bucs) and Mario Edwards (Miami Dolphins).

A native of Keyport, NJ, Demarest was a standout defensive back at Northeastern, earning All-New England honors and All-America recognition after grabbing 11 interceptions in 1987. He was a free agent signee by the Washington Redskins in 1988, before beginning his coaching career with the Scarlet Knights in 1989 as a graduate assistant. Demarest also served on the staffs of East Carolina (1990), Northeastern (1991-92), East Stroudsburg (1993), Millersville (1994), and Lehigh (1994-97) before moving on to Florida State.

Demarest, who has a daughter, Junelle, and son, Dante, resides in Piscataway.

KYLE FLOOD
OFFENSIVE LINE COACH

Kyle Flood is in his second season as offensive line coach for the Rutgers football team.

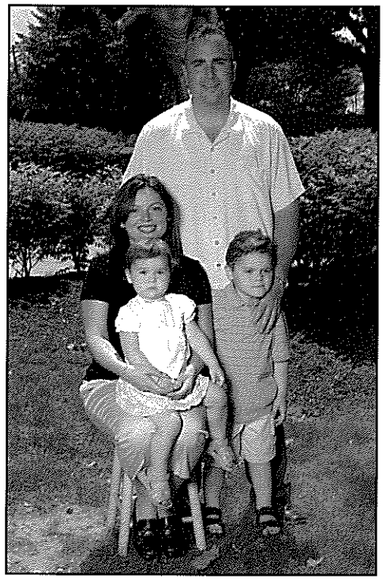

In 2005, Flood coached an offensive line that helped Rutgers to one of its most productive seasons offensively en route to a berth in the Insight Bowl. The Scarlet Knights were second in the BIG EAST conference in pass offense, third in scoring, and featured the outstanding tandem of Brian Leonard and Ray Rice in the backfield, which combined for 1,860 yards on the ground. Right guard John Glass Jr. was an All-BIG EAST selection in 2005 under his tutelage.

Flood came to Rutgers after three seasons at the University of Delaware, where he helped the Blue Hens to a National Championship in 2003, and a pair of Atlantic 10 Conference titles. In addition to serving as offensive line coach at Delaware, he was also assistant head coach and recruiting coordinator.

Flood was named to the Delaware coaching staff in 2002. During his time at Delaware, the Blue Hens posted a 30-11 record, including a 15-1 mark and the Division I-AA national championship in 2003. In 2004, the Blue Hens were 9-4 and shared the Atlantic 10 title with a 7-1 conference record.

Flood's offensive line helped Delaware rank No. 9 nationally in scoring (34.7), 20th in rushing (207.6 yards) and 33rd in total offense, while allowing just 25 sacks in 16 games in its national championship season. In 2004, the Blue Hens were third in the Atlantic 10 in rushing, gaining 167 yards per game, and allowed just 19 sacks in 13 games. In his first season at Delaware, the Blue Hens' offensive line allowed 15 sacks in 12 games, the lowest total allowed by a Blue Hen team since 1991.

Prior to his three seasons at Delaware, Flood was offensive line coach at Hofstra from 1997-2001. While at Hofstra, he helped the Pride earn berths in the NCAA Division I-AA Football Championships in 1997, 1999, 2000, and 2001. The Pride ranked among the top offensive teams in NCAA I-AA football during his tenure, ranking second in total offense (491.6), fourth in passing offense (301.0), and fifth in scoring offense (37.9) nationally in 2001. They captured the 1999 Lambert Cup as the top I-AA team in the East and took the 2001 Atlantic 10 Championship in their first year in the conference.

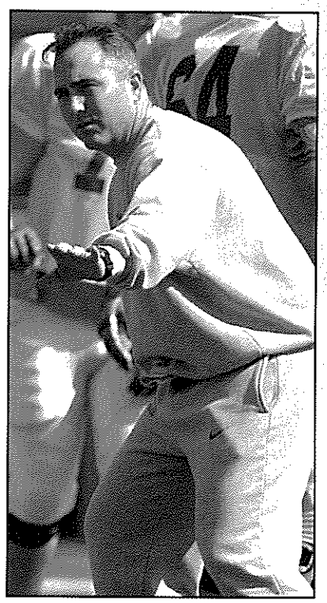

The 35-year-old Flood, a 1993 graduate of Iona College, was a four-year letterwinner for the Gaels. A high school teammate of former Rutgers All-American tight end Marco Battaglia at St. Francis Prep High School in Queens, NY, Flood earned first team All-Liberty Conference honors in 1991 and served as team captain of the Gaels in 1992.

Flood's first college coaching position came in 1995-96 as offensive line coach at Long Island University-C.W. Post. While coaching at C.W. Post, he helped the team to the ECAC Division II Eastern title in 1996.

Flood began his coaching career at St. Francis Prep in 1993, as both offensive line and defensive line coach in 1993-94. He also taught mathematics at St. Francis for four years.

Flood and his wife, Amy, are the proud parents of a son, Kyle, and a daughter, Isabella.

ROBERT FRASER
ASSISTANT TO THE HEAD COACH

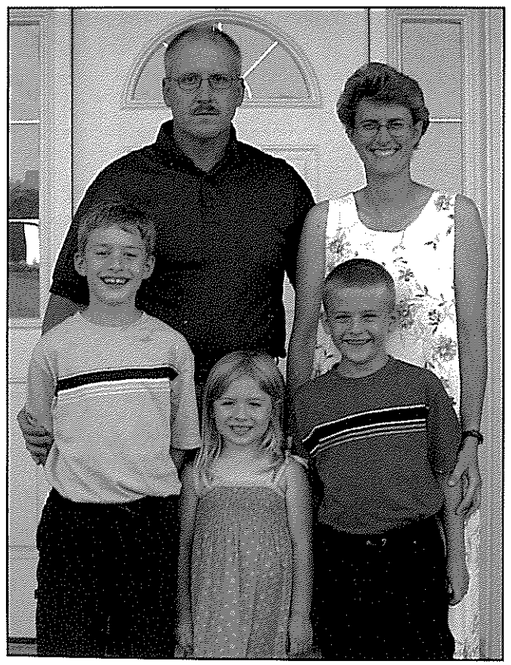

Robert Fraser joined the Rutgers staff in July as Assistant to the Head Coach. He brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to the program after serving the past nine seasons as linebackers coach at Colgate University.

During his tenure at Colgate, he coached three Patriot League Defensive Player of the Year honorees and nine All-Patriot League selections. Under Fraser's tutelage, two players earned All-America honors, highlighted by Jared Nepa, who was named the Linebacker of the Year in the Northeast last season.

Prior to his nine-year stint at Colgate, Fraser served as the inside and outside linebackers coach at Allegheny College during the 1997 season.

Fraser began his coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Allegheny College for the 1985-86 seasons. He served in the same role at Rutgers for the 1987 and 1988 seasons, where he worked with then graduate assistant coach Greg Schiano for five months leading up to the 1989 season.

He returned to Allegheny for the 1989 season in his first full-time position, serving three seasons as linebackers coach. The Gators were undefeated for two seasons and in 1990 won the NCAA Division III National Championship.

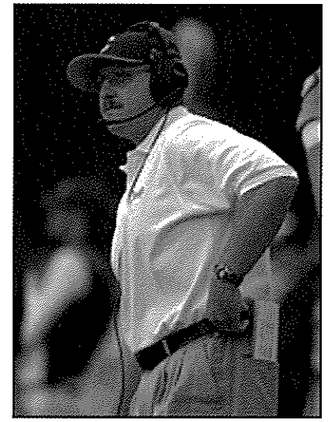

Fraser began a four-year stint at the College of the Holy Cross in 1992 where he coached the defensive line, before one year as offensive tackles and tight ends coach at Northeastern University.

Fraser was a four-year letterwinner at Allegheny where he was team captain in his junior and senior seasons. In his sophomore season, Fraser earned All-America honors on the defensive line. He was inducted into both the Allegheny College and East Allegheny High School Hall of Fames.

Fraser, 43, graduated from Allegheny in 1985 with a degree in computer science.

He and his wife, Cheryl, are the proud parents of sons Justin and Jason, and daughter Jessica.

PHIL GALIANO
DEFENSIVE ENDS COACH

Phil Galiano is in his fourth season as a member of the Rutgers staff, serving as defensive ends coach for a second season. Galiano was linebackers coach in 2004, and he worked with the defensive line in 2003.

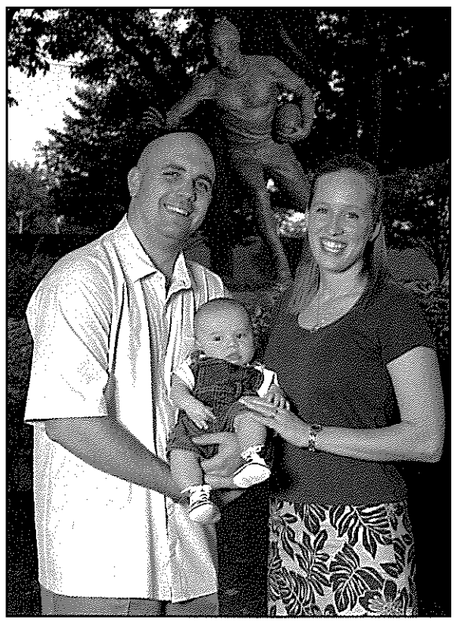

Under Galiano's tutelage, Rutgers' defensive ends led the Scarlet Knights to 47 sacks last season, which led the country at the end of the 2005 regular season. Both of RU's starting defensive ends in 2005 signed NFL contracts this spring with All-American Ryan Neill signing with the Buffalo Bills and Val Barnaby signing with the Detroit Lions.

Galiano began his career with the Scarlet Knights as a defensive assistant in 2003, playing an integral role in weekly preparation for the upcoming opponent, including on-field coaching and film breakdown.

Prior to coming to Rutgers, Galiano was an offensive assistant at Villanova in 2002, working primarily with the tight ends. He also coached the outside linebackers at New Haven in 2001, under current Scarlet Knight assistant head coach Darren Rizzi, who was head coach of the Chargers at the time. During Galiano's time at New Haven, he worked with Idris Price, who won a Super Bowl ring with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2003.

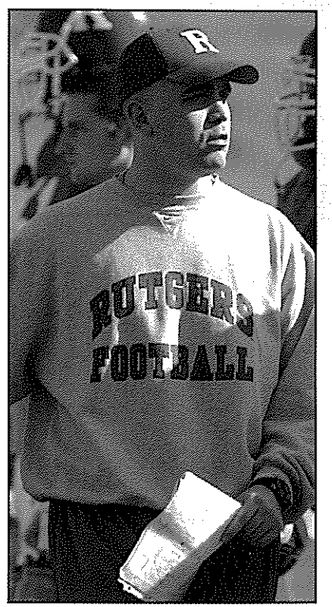

Galiano's first assignment was at Dickinson College, where he served as coach of the outside linebackers during the 2000 season.

Galiano was a three-year starter at safety for Shippensburg University, and served as a tri-captain during his senior season. Galiano helped lead the Raiders to three consecutive winning seasons as a starter from 1997-99, when they posted a 21-11 mark in that time. As a senior, despite missing almost two games with injury, he was one of the team's most productive defensive backs, recording 63 tackles, including two for loss.

Galiano led the Raiders' secondary in tackles with 72 as a junior, and also led the team in fumble recoveries with three. He set a Shippensburg record for the longest fumble return when he took a recovered fumble 95 yards for a touchdown against Bloomsburg. As a sophomore, he broke into the starting lineup and recorded 69 tackles and blocked one punt. He also returned two interceptions 50 yards, including a 35-yard return for a TD against Edinboro. As a freshman, he recorded 46 tackles and had one interception.

Galiano, who hails from Norristown, PA., graduated from Shippensburg in 2000 with a business administration degree. He and his wife, Kelly, are the proud parents of infant son, Thomas Jeffrey.

CARY GODETTE
DEFENSIVE LINE COACH

Cary Godette is in his second season as the defensive line coach. In his first year as coach of the defensive line, the Scarlet Knights posted 47 sacks, which led the country at the end of the 2005 regular season, and finished fifth in the country in tackles for loss with 107. Defensive end Ryan Neill was a first team All-BIG EAST selection, and earned All-America recognition from SI.com.

Godette came to Rutgers with six years of experience as an NFL assistant coach, most recently serving as assistant defensive line coach with the Arizona Cardinals in 2003-04. Godette's first NFL assignment was with the Carolina Panthers as defensive line coach in 1995-96. He was also with the Miami Dolphins from 1996-2000 and also participated in the NFL's Minority Internship Program with the Dallas Cowboys during their 1992 training camp.

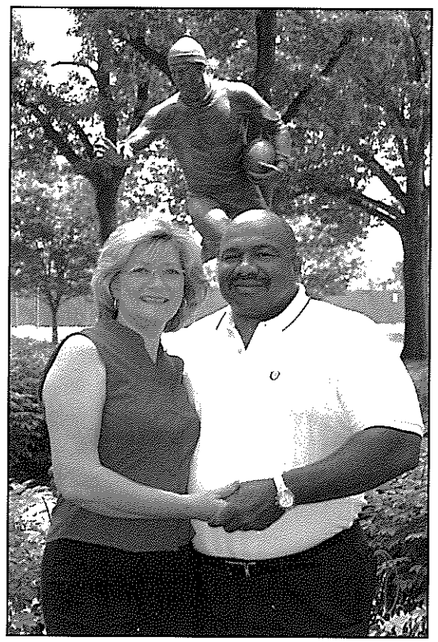

Godette has also coached in the collegiate ranks for 22 years. Godette has coached in six college bowl games, most recently in the 2005 Insight Bowl with the Scarlet Knights. Godette has coached in the Tangerine Bowl (2002), the Micronpc.com Bowl (2000), and the Peach Bowl (1994) with N.C. State, and the Peach Bowl (1991) and Independence Bowl (1987) with East Carolina.

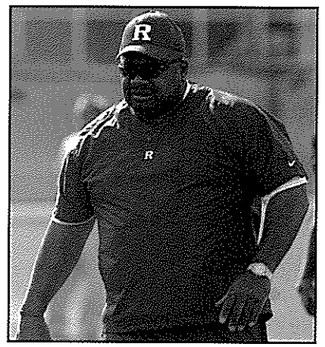

A standout on the defensive line at East Carolina, Godette earned All-Southern Conference and All-America recognition in 1976 and appeared in the American Bowl all-star game. He was the Pirates' Defensive Player of the Year in 1975 (when he earned honorable-mention All-America status) and 1976. He still holds the school record for tackles for loss by a junior with 18 (set in 1975).

Godette began his coaching career at his alma mater the following year as defensive line coach. He then went to Wyoming, first as defensive line coach (1980) and then as linebackers coach (1981-82). In 1983, Godette began a six-year stint at the University of Cincinnati where he coached the Bearcats' defensive ends (1983), outside linebackers (1984), tight ends (1985-86), and defensive line (1987-88) in addition to recruiting and game operations responsibilities. After one season as an assistant at Terry Sanford High School in Fayetteville, NC in 1989, Godette returned to the college coaching ranks, . beginning with two seasons at East Carolina (1990-91) and Georgia Tech (1992-93), and another at North Carolina State (1994), before moving on to the NFL.

After five years in the NFL with the Panthers and Dolphins, Godette returned to the college ranks for two seasons at North Carolina State before spending the 2002 campaign at Western Carolina as assistant head coach and defensive line coach.

Godette and his wife, Ruby, reside in Piscataway.

CHRIS HEWITT

DIRECTOR OF SPEED AND SKILL DEVELOPMENT

Former NFL player Chris Hewitt is in his second season as Director of Speed and Skill Development at Rutgers, after serving as a graduate assistant on the Scarlet Knights coaching staff in 2004.

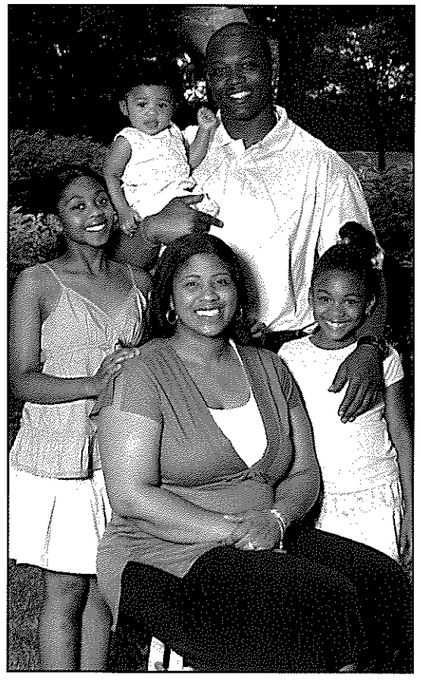

Hewitt, a graduate of Dwight Morrow High School in Englewood, enjoyed a successful collegiate career at the University of Cincinnati (1992-96), before going on to the NFL's New Orleans Saints. At Cincinnati, Hewitt was a three-year starter in the secondary, and a two-time All-Conference USA selection (1995-96). He was also named to the All-Liberty Bowl Alliance team in 1995 and the All-Independent Football Alliance team in 1993.

As a red-shirt freshman for the Bearcats in 1993, Hewitt was named the team's Newcomer of the Year after averaging 31.5 yards per kick return, the second best single season return average in school history.

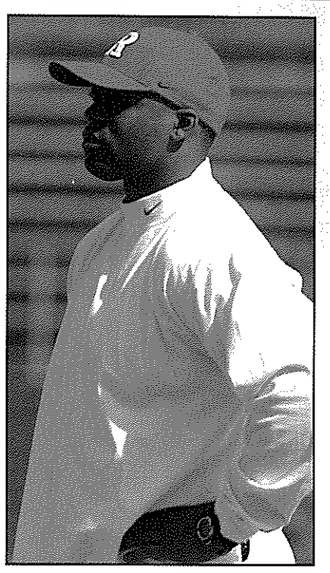

Hewitt joined the Saints as a free agent in 1997, and played four seasons in the secondary and on special teams for New Orleans.

Following his playing career, he joined the Cleveland Browns coaching staff as a participant in the NFL's Minority Coaching Fellowship Program, and worked primarily with special teams and defensive backs. In 2003, Hewitt was an assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Notre Dame.

A standout in football and track at Dwight Morrow, Hewitt was a two-year starter for the Maroon Raiders and earned All-County and All-State recognition.

Hewitt and his wife, Tanisha, are the proud parents of daughters Azia, Briana and Christina.

ROBERT JACKSON

RUNNING BACKS COACH

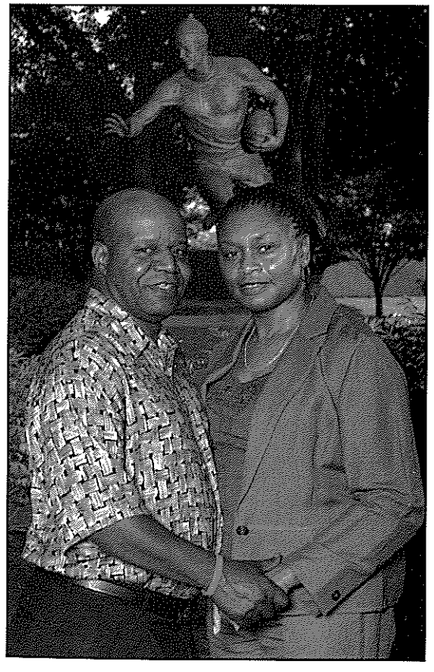

Robert Jackson is in his second season as running backs coach for the Scarlet Knights. Under Jackson's tutelage, the Scarlet Knights' produced their first 1,000-yard rusher in 11 seasons as true freshman Ray Rice gained 1,120 yards. Rice teamed with All-American fullback Brian Leonard (740 yards rushing, 55 receptions) to give the Scarlet Knights one of the nation's most potent backfields in 2005.

Jackson came to Rutgers after six seasons at the University of Illinois. Jackson joined the Illinois staff in 1999 as wide receivers coach, and served in that capacity for two years before adding responsibilities as recruiting coordinator for his final four seasons. Four of Jackson's standout receivers, Brandon Lloyd (San Francisco 49ers), Walter Young (Pittsburgh Steelers), Aaron Moorehead (Indianapolis Colts) and Greg Lewis (Philadelphia Eagles) completed their second season in the NFL at the conclusion of the 2004 season. Under Jackson's tutelage, that quartet helped account for 57 TDs and 7,714 yards through the air and became the most productive quartet in Illinois Football history.

In Jackson's six years, Illini wide receivers gained over 2,000 yards through the air five times and Lloyd and Young each earned All-Big Ten honors. Jackson helped Illinois win an out-right Big Ten title in 2001, earning a Sugar Bowl berth.

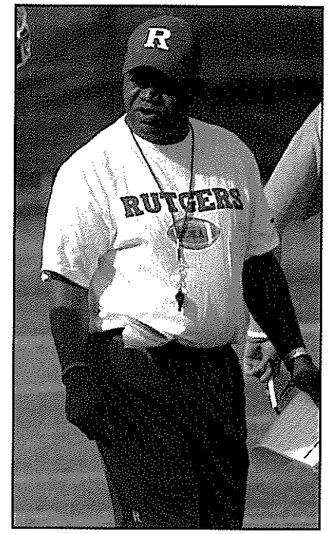

Prior to his term at Illinois, Jackson was member of the Oregon State staff for eight years, serving as wide receivers coach (1992-97) and adding responsibilities as Assistant Head Coach in 1996-97. Jackson served as academic coordinator for the football program and helped deliver a team that led the nation in graduation rates in 1994 (94.6 percent) with 25 Academic All-Pac 10 selections.

The Harvey, IL, native was a highly successful prep coach at Thornwood High School. Jackson served as an assistant coach for many years before becoming head coach of the football and baseball teams (1974-86).

Jackson's first assignment in the collegiate ranks was at his alma mater, Northern Illinois in 1986. In six seasons with the Huskies, they ranked among the nation's top offensive squads and posted a 9-2 record in 1989.

Jackson and his wife Jo Ann are the proud parents of two children, Bobby and Marc, who both played football at Illinois as defensive backs.

JOHN McNULTY

ASSISTANT OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/QUARTERBACKS/ WIDE RECEIVERS COACH

John McNulty, who came to Rutgers with six years of experience as a coach in the National Football League, is in his third season on the Scarlet Knights' sideline. He continues as wide receivers coach, while assuming the role of assistant offensive coordinator and overseeing the quarterbacks in 2006. Under his guidance, Rutgers wide receiver Tres Moses earned All-BIG EAST honors in 2004 and 2005.

McNulty was an assistant coach with the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars from 1998-2002, and with the Dallas Cowboys in 2003. During his six-year career as an assistant in the NFL, his teams advanced to the playoffs three times. McNulty also had seven years of collegiate coaching experience with the University of Michigan (1991-94) and the University of Connecticut (1995-97), before beginning his tenure at Rutgers.

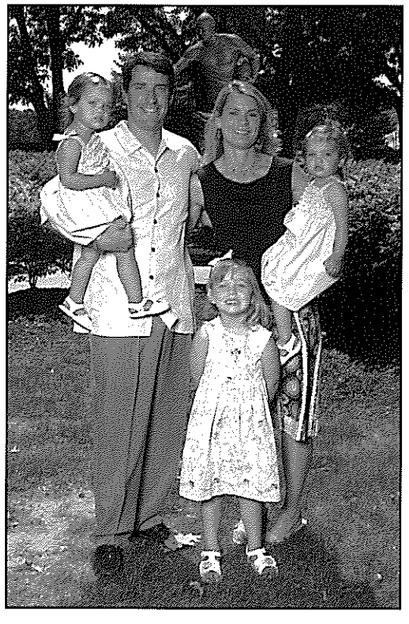

McNulty served as the Jaguars' quality control coach in 1998 and 1999, before being named wide receivers coach in 2000. While with the Jags, McNulty worked with one of the NFL's top receiving duos, Jimmy Smith and Keenan McCardell. During the 2000 and 2001 seasons, that pair combined for 390 receptions, and 4,903 yards, while Smith earned All-Pro honors both seasons. In 2002, Smith notched 80 receptions for 1,027 yards, the seventh consecutive season that he surpassed the 1,000-yard mark.

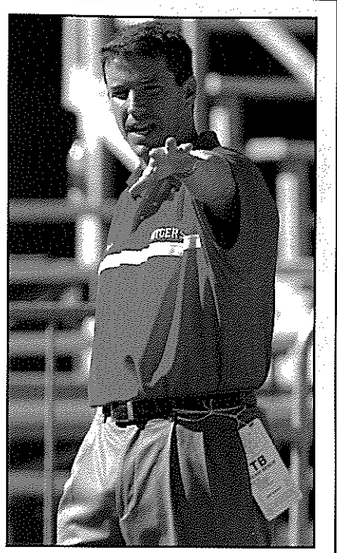

McNulty helped Jacksonville to an NFL Playoff appearances in 1998, with an 11-5 regular-season record, and again in 1999, with a 14-2 regular season mark. McNulty added to that with Dallas in 2003, as he helped the Cowboys to a 10-6 record and a berth in the playoffs.

A safety as a collegian at Penn State from 1988-90, McNulty was a member of two Nittany Lion bowl teams. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Michigan in 1991. Michigan won two Big Ten titles and appeared in four bowl games, including two Rose Bowl appearances, in McNulty's tenure with the Wolverines. In 1994, McNulty worked with standout wide receivers Amani Toomer (now with the New York Giants) and Mercury Hayes (one-time Atlanta Falcon).

McNulty then moved to Connecticut in 1995, working with wide receivers and special teams, and coaching wide receivers that surpassed the 1,000-yard mark in receptions in both 1996 and 1997. He helped UConn WR Carl Bond earn All-America notice in 1997.

McNulty, and his wife Kim, are the proud parents of daughters, Abigail, Allison and Megan.

DARREN RIZZI

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH/SPECIAL TEAMS/LINEBACKERS COACH

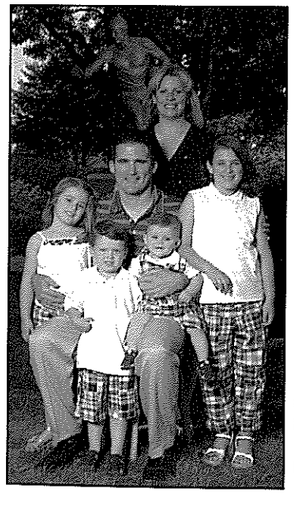

Darren Rizzi is in his fifth season on the Rutgers coaching staff, and is in his third year as Assistant Head Coach. Rizzi, who was head coach at New Haven for three seasons before coming to Rutgers, also coaches the Scarlet Knights' special teams and linebackers.

Rutgers has made marked strides in special teams play under Rizzi's direction the last four years. In 2005, wide receiver/return specialist Willie Foster was named BIG EAST Special Teams Player of the Year. The Scarlet Knights also featured one of the top place kickers in the country in Jeremy Ito. Ito, who converted 4-for-4 field goal attempts in the Insight Bowl, including a career-long 52-yarder, earned a spot on the Rivals.com All-Bowl Team. He connected on 20-of-27 field goals in 2005, and was 40-of-40 on PATs. Under Rizzi's tutelage, former Rutgers standout, and current member of the Dallas Cowboys, Nate Jones developed into one of the nation's most feared kickoff return weapons. Jones earned All-BIG EAST honors twice, being named the Conference's "Co-Special Teams Player of the Year" in 2002. Jones also led the BIG EAST and was sixth in the country in kickoff returns, averaging 28.3 yards per return in 2002.

Under his guidance, the Scarlet Knights ranked eighth nationally in kickoff returns last season. Individually, Ito was 12th nationally in field goals per game.

Before taking over the linebackers in 2005, Rizzi served as the Scarlet Knights' running backs coach in his first three seasons on the staff, and developed a deep corps, led by fullback Brian Leonard. Leonard was a First Team All-BIG EAST selection and was named to Pro Football Weekly's All-America team following an outstanding 2004 campaign. Leonard was named BIG EAST Freshman of the Year in 2003 by College Football News after leading the team in rushing with 880 yards.

Rizzi, who added Assistant Head Coach responsibilities in February, 2004, compiled a 15-14 record as head coach at New Haven, despite playing notoriously challenging schedules. In his final season at New Haven, Rizzi guided the Chargers to a 5-4 record in 2001, facing one of the toughest schedules in the nation among Division II teams. One of the biggest wins in New Haven history came when Rizzi's Chargers notched a 17-14 upset victory over Villanova, which was ranked No. 12 among Division I-AA teams at the time.

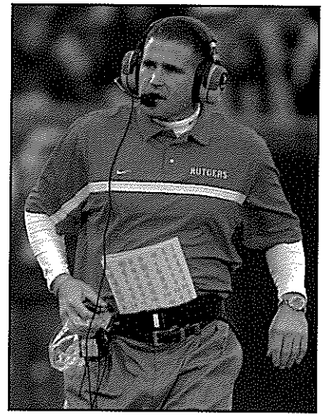

A native of Hillsdale, NJ, and a graduate of Bergen Catholic High School, Rizzi went on to earn All-America honors as a tight end at Rhode Island. Following his senior season, Rizzi was named the Rhode Island College Player of the Year, and was honored by the New Jersey Sports Writers Association at its annual banquet. He graduated from Rhode Island in 1992 with a degree in speech communications.

Rizzi began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Rhode Island in 1992 before moving to Colgate, where he served as tight ends coach/special teams assistant in 1993. He was an assistant at New Haven from 1994-97, serving as special teams coordinator/defensive line from 1994-96 before being elevated to defensive coordinator in 1997, where he helped lead the Chargers to a 12-2 record and an appearance in the Division II national championship game.

Rizzi was on the Northeastern staff in 1998, serving as special teams coordinator/linebackers coach before returning to New Haven as head coach in 1999.

Rizzi and his wife, Tracey, are the proud parents of four children.

JOE SUSAN

RECRUITING COORDINATOR/TIGHT ENDS COACH

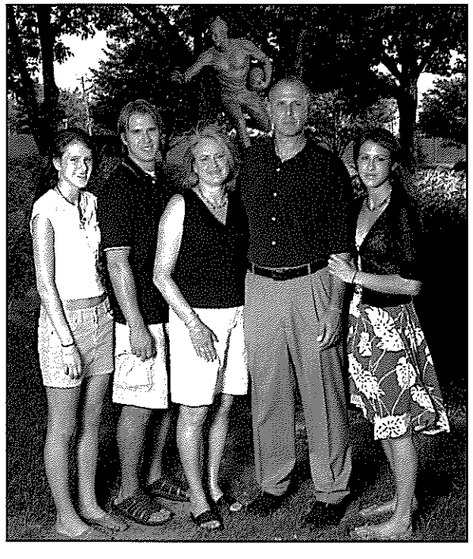

Joe Susan, who possesses a wide range of college coaching experience, is in his sixth season as a member of the Scarlet Knights' coaching staff. He was named recruiting coordinator in February, 2004, and also serves as tight ends coach. Susan, who has experience as a head coach, offensive coordinator, offensive line coach, and tight ends coach in over 25 years in the collegiate ranks, played an instrumental role in assembling the 2005 squad that finished third in the BIG EAST and earned a berth to the Insight Bowl.

Susan has directed a deep corps of tight ends that includes two-time All-BIG EAST selection Clark Harris, one of the nation's best at his position. In the past two years, Harris, who has been a John Mackey Award candidate as the nation's top tight end in both 2004 and 2005, has led all BIG EAST tight ends in catches (91), yards (1,337) and touchdowns (9) during that time.

A native of South River, NJ, Susan returned to his New Jersey roots to join the Rutgers staff in 2001 after a memorable 2000 campaign, when he served as head coach at Davidson and led the Wildcats to a 10-0 record, the only unbeaten team in school history and a single season record for wins. That year, the Division I-AA Independents Sports Information Directors Association named him Coach of the Year. In 2000, Susan received a Presidential Citation from the University of Delaware for outstanding achievement.

Prior to the undefeated season at Davidson, Susan spent nine years as offensive coordinator at Princeton (1991-99). He also served briefly as offensive line coach at Memphis, before accepting the challenge to become the head coach at Davidson.

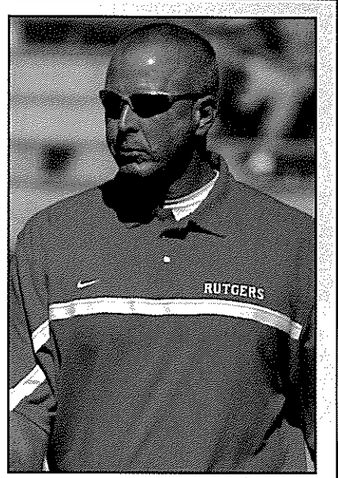

Susan was offensive line coach at Bucknell from 1981-88, when he took on the added responsibility as associate head coach for two seasons with the Bison. During his tenure at Bucknell, he recruited Rutgers head coach Greg Schiano to play for the Bison. Susan also recruited offensive lineman Jay Butler, who is presently the Scarlet Knights' strength and conditioning coordinator.

Susan enjoyed an outstanding playing career at Delaware (1973-76), as his teams compiled a 36-12-1 record in his tenure there. During his sophomore season, the Blue Hens were the NCAA Division II national runner-up.

Susan began his career in coaching in 1978 at Delaware, as a graduate assistant. After a year as an assistant at Gettysburg, he returned to his alma mater for one season.

Susan and his wife, Cynthia, are the parents of one son, Matthew, and daughters Jessica and Julia.

CRAIG VER STEEG

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

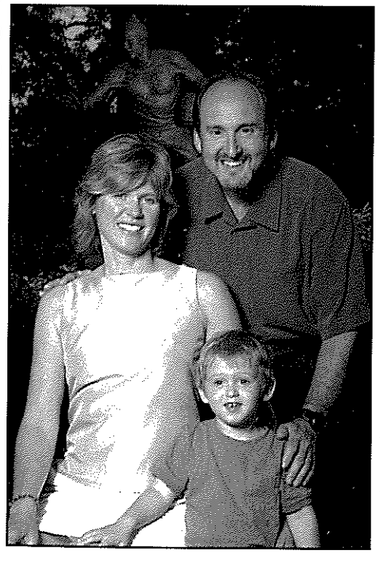

In his first three years as Rutgers' offensive coordinator, Craig Ver Steeg's impact has been easily seen. In his first season directing the offense in 2003, Ver Steeg oversaw a unit that tallied 329 points, the second-highest point total in school history, and had 4,423 yards total offense, also second-best all time at Rutgers. In 2004, the Scarlet Knights boasted the top-ranked passing offense in the BIG EAST, and the third-best in the conference in total offense. In 2005, the Scarlet Knights were second in the BIG EAST in total offense and second in pass offense. Ver Steeg tutored Ryan Hart, who established nearly every Rutgers passing mark in his three-plus seasons as the Rutgers starting quarterback

Now in his fourth season with the Scarlet Knights, Ver Steeg (pronounced ver STEG) came to Rutgers with a successful background as an offensive coach at four Division I institutions, as well as with the NFL's Chicago Bears. Prior to joining the Scarlet Knight staff, he served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for two seasons (2001-2002) at the University of Utah.

In his first season at Utah in 2001, Ver Steeg's offensive system helped the Utes improve 50-plus places nationally in most offensive categories. The 2001 Utes finished 24th in total offense, including 12th in rushing offense and 40th in scoring.

Prior to his stint at Utah, Ver Steeg was quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator at Illinois for four seasons (1997-00). Ver Steeg also served as quarterbacks coach, wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator at Cincinnati (1990-93), and passing game coordinator, quarterbacks and wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator at Harvard (1994-95). Head coach Greg Schiano and Ver Steeg were both members of the NFL's Chicago Bears coaching staff during the 1996 and 1997 seasons.

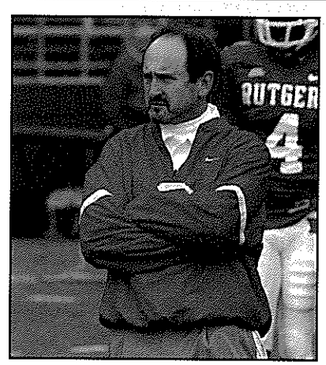

In 1984, Ver Steeg was a graduate assistant at Southern California. He held the same post at Utah in 1986-87 and 1989, and served as Utah's recruiting coordinator in 1988.

Ver Steeg's first full-time coaching position was at Cincinnati in 1990, where he coached the Bearcats' wide receivers for two seasons, followed by two years as quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator. In 1993, Cincinnati notched an 8-3 record, was ranked No. 27 in the nation, and was the Independent Football Alliance champion.

Among his pupils through the years, Ver Steeg has worked with record-setting Utah quarterback Scott Mitchell, who went on to play 12 seasons in the NFL. At Illinois, Ver Steeg worked with Kurt Kittner, who as a sophomore broke Jeff George's single-season record for TD passes with 24. Kittner was Illinois' MVP in 1999, and was also MVP of the Micronpc.com Bowl that year. Kittner, now with the Chicago Bears, led the Amsterdam Admirals to the NFL Europe Championship in June, 2005.

Ver Steeg graduated from Southern California in 1983 and received his master's degree from Southern California in 1986. He and his wife, Lisa, are the proud parents of son Ian.

JEFF ANDERSON
OFFENSIVE GRADUATE ASSISTANT

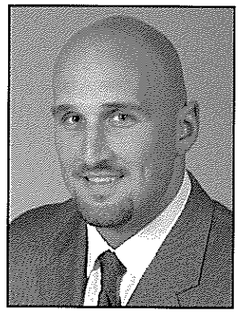

Jeff Anderson is in his third season as a graduate assistant and works primarily with the Scarlet Knight offense. Anderson came to Rutgers after five seasons on the staff at Lock Haven (PA) University, where he most recently was special teams coordinator/linebackers coach. While at Lock Haven, Anderson also served as tight ends coach, and defensive line coach.

Anderson earned a bachelor of science degree in management in 1992, and a master's of education in higher education in 1994 from Penn State. As an undergraduate at Penn State, he played four seasons as a linebacker and tight end. An injury cut his playing career short, and he served as undergraduate assistant coach in his final season. Anderson then went on to hold positions in Penn State's academic support center, student-athlete services and as an advisor in student aid.

Anderson is a graduate of nearby Bridgewater Raritan High School, and was a linebacker on defense and played tight end and running back on offense. Anderson earned all-state recognition in football, and also as midfielder for the lacrosse team, while at Bridgewater. He is the son of former Rutgers football head coach (1984-89), and current Penn State assistant coach, Dick Anderson.

TODD GREINEDER
DEFENSIVE GRADUATE ASSISTANT

Todd Greineder is in his second season as a graduate assistant and works primarily with the defensive backs, coaching the safeties. Greineder, who worked in the area of player development in 2004, is in his third year on the Scarlet Knights' staff.

Greineder graduated from William and Mary in 2001, and was a four-year starter at linebacker. Greineder concluded his outstanding career with the Tribe with 380 tackles, including 141 stops in his senior season, which was seventh best among Division I-AA players. Greineder was an All-Atlantic 10 selection as a senior, and was also named to the National Strength Coaches Association All-America team.

A graduate of Lancaster (PA) Catholic High School where he excelled in football and track, Greineder was named to his alma mater's Hall of Fame in 2004. He was a two-time defensive MVP of the team, and holds school records for most tackles in a season and career.

Greineder began his career in coaching at St. Thomas Aquinas High School in Fort Lauderdale, FL, as linebackers coach before joining the Rutgers staff.

DAVID McCUNE
HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER - FOOTBALL

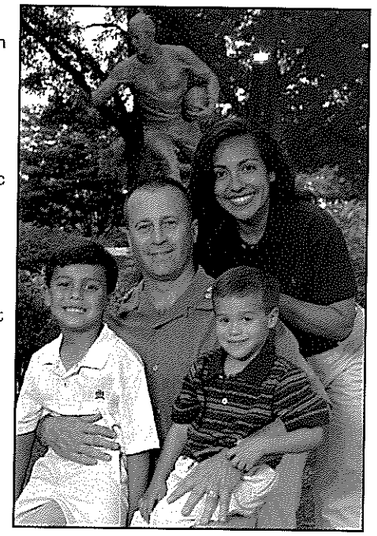

David McCune is in his sixth season as Head Football Athletic Trainer at Rutgers. He oversees all aspects of athletic training from injury prevention to rehabilitation within the program. McCune also assists with the coordination of the entire athletic department's athletic training staff.

He has worked with head coach Greg Schiano for nearly a decade, also serving as Coordinator of Athletic Training and Football Athletic Trainer at the University of Miami for four seasons (1997-2000), before accompanying Schiano to the Scarlet Knights for the 2001 season.

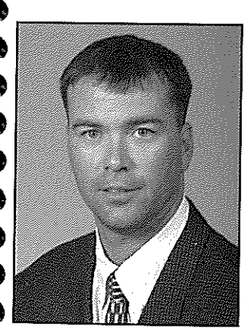

The 43-year-old McCune, a Virginia native, graduated from James Madison in 1986, and earned his Master's Degree from Southwest Missouri State in 1988. He began his career as an Assistant Athletic Trainer at Southwest Missouri in 1989, where he worked for one year before being named Head Athletic Trainer at the University of Miami's HealthSouth Sports Medicine Clinic (1989-93).

From 1993-95, he was Director of Sports Medicine for the HealthSouth Sports Medicine Clinic. He then returned to his alma mater, James Madison, as Athletic Trainer, where he served from 1995-97 before re-joining the Miami program.

David and his wife, Cindy Lou, are the proud parents of two sons.

MIKE PAWLUSIAK
ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER

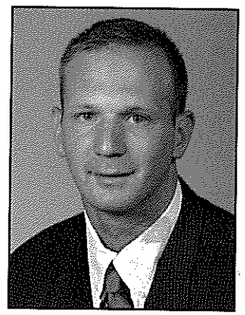

Mike Pawlusiak is in his third year as a staff athletic trainer with the Scarlet Knights, working as the first assistant athletic trainer with the Rutgers football program.

Prior to taking his assignment at Rutgers, Pawlusiak worked as a staff athletic trainer at Florida International University from 2000-2004.

Pawlusiak graduated from Castleton State College ('96) with a B.S. in Physical Education/Athletic Training and the University of Miami ('00) with a M.S.Ed in Sports Medicine, while also serving as a graduate assistant athletic trainer.

Pawlusiak and his wife Jamie reside in Piscataway.

ARNO RHEINBERGER
ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER

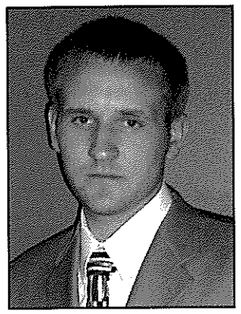

Arno Rheinberger is in his fourth year as an athletic trainer at Rutgers University. He works primarily with the football and men's lacrosse teams.

Prior to working at Rutgers, Rheinberger was an Assistant Athletic Trainer with the Frankfurt Galaxy of NFL Europe. He also was a seasonal athletic trainer with the New York Giants over the course of three seasons.

Rheinberger completed his graduate studies in Kinesiology at the University of Wyoming ('02) and received his Bachelor of Science at Rutgers University ('00).

Rheinberger currently resides in New Brunswick.

CHRIS HAYES
VIDEO COORDINATOR

Chris Hayes was named Video Coordinator for the Rutgers football program in July, 2006. He brings a wealth of video filming and editing knowledge after serving the past two years in the program's video department.

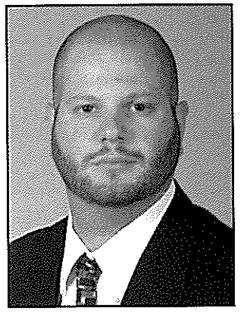

Hayes' daily responsibilities include the fulfilling of all internal visual needs of the program. He will primarily be in charge of filming and editing video for instant analysis by the coaching staff using the latest video technology available in DVSport Software. He will oversee the Assistant Video Coordinator and a staff of eight student assistants.

In 2005, Hayes worked as an intern in the Rutgers video department where he gained experience in editing video and organization of film sessions. During games, he filmed from field level and edited highlights on a weekly basis. Hayes also assisted with the NFL's New York Jets and DVSport in 2005.

A 2006 graduate with honors from Rutgers University with a B.A. in Communications and Criminal Justice, Hayes began his work in the program's video department in January 2004 as a student assistant. He filmed practices on a daily basis, along with each of the Scarlet Knights' home and away games.

Hayes resides in Old Bridge, NJ.

STEPHEN PRATTI
ASSISTANT VIDEO COORDINATOR

Stephen Pratti is in his second season as Assistant Video Coordinator. He joined the staff in the summer prior to the 2005 season. Pratti assists with the day-to-day video operations for football, where his primary responsibilities include producing and editing team highlight films and directing cameras for team practices.

Pratti came to Rutgers after serving four seasons with the NFL's Washington Redskins from 2001-04, where he assisted with the video operations for the organization.

He spent one season working with the University of Maryland staff, working all aspects of video production for the athletic department.

Pratti got his start as an intern with the NFL's New York Giants in 1998-99, before graduating from William Paterson University in 1999, with a communications degree.

Pratti resides in Eatontown, NJ.

JASON MITCHELL
DIRECTOR OF EXTERNAL OPERATIONS

Entering his sixth season with the Rutgers program, Jason Mitchell was named Director of External Operations in July, 2006.

Mitchell served as the Rutgers Assistant Recruiting Coordinator last season. He helped oversee a staff of 15 recruiting assistants, organizing mailings to prospective recruits, while managing the program's recruiting database and video library.

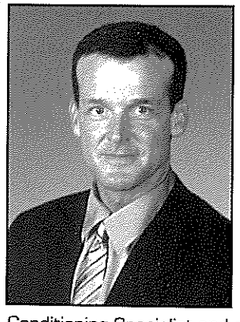

From 2003-04, Mitchell was a recruiting assistant with the Scarlet Knights, helping the staff with the day-to-day recruiting responsibilities and tasks, including hosting on-campus recruits and planning official recruiting visits.

Mitchell joined the Rutgers program in 2001 as a student assistant, serving in a variety of roles, including quality control for the program.

Mitchell began his career as an administrative assistant to the head coach at Ramapo High School in 1999 under then head coach Mike Miello, managing equipment and scheduling activities. He spent two seasons at Ramapo before making the move with Miello to Rutgers in the summer of 2001 when Greg Schiano was hired as the Scarlet Knights' head coach.

The 26-year-old Mitchell earned his Bachelor of Science in Exercise Science and Sports Studies from Rutgers in 2005. He resides in New Brunswick, NJ.

BOB GILMARTIN
STRENGTH & CONDITIONING ASSISTANT

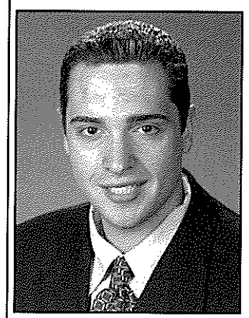

Bob Gilmartin enters his sixth season with the Rutgers football program. In addition to being an assistant with the football program, he is the Head Stength and Conditioning Coach for the Rutgers mens lacrosse, women's lacrosse, field hockey, and wrestling programs.

A 1989 graduate of the UMass-Amherst, Gilmartin earned a bachelors degree in management. He is a NSCA Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist and a USAW Level 1 Club Coach.

Gilmartin, a Massachusetts native, graduated from Millis (MA) High School where he played football and basketball.

He resides in Somerset, NJ.

SHAWN KENNISH
DIRECTOR OF INTERNAL OPERATIONS

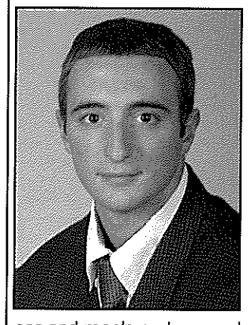

Shawn Kennish was named the Director of Internal Operations in July after serving as the Coordinator of Football Operations last season. In his fifth year with the Rutgers football program, Shawn graduated from Rutgers in 2004 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Exercise Science and Sports Studies with a focus in Sports Management. He had initially joined the program as an undergraduate, working three years as a strength and conditioning assistant under Assistant Athletic Director for Strength and Conditioning, Jay Butler.

Upon graduation, Kennish was appointed to the position of Football Operations Assistant in June 2004, assisting the Director with managing the daily functions of the football program.

Kennish graduated from Toms River High School East in 1999, where he played football and competed in indoor and outdoor track. He also worked as the Strength and Conditioning Coach at Central Regional High School in Bayville, NJ, prior to becoming an Operations Assistant in the Rutgers football program. Kennish resides in New Brunswick, NJ.

MIKE TUFO
STRENGTH & CONDITIONING ASSISTANT

Mike Tufo is in his second year as an Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach with the Rutgers football program.

He joined the Rutgers staff last season after completing his Master's Degree in Kinesiology at the University of Connecticut. In addition to assisting with the football and men's and women's basketball programs at Rutgers, Tufo is the Head Strength and Conditioning Coach for the men's soccer and men's and women's swimming programs.

At UConn, Tufo was a Graduate Assistant in the Department of Kinesiology as well as an assistant to the strength and conditioning department. He worked with 22 of the 24 teams trained by the Strength and Conditioning Department including the football and basketball programs. Tufo began working in the Strength and Conditioning field in 2002 while working at Princeton University.

The 26-year-old Tufo earned a B.S. in Exercise Science from the College of New Jersey. He resides in New Brunswick, NJ.

PAT MANNING
HEAD EQUIPMENT MANAGER

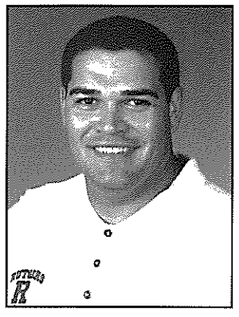

Pat Manning serves as the head equipment manager for the Scarlet Knight football program.

A 1972 Rutgers graduate with a degree in physical education, Manning has traveled worldwide with the United States lacrosse team, while also serving as an equipment manager at Purdue University and at Metuchen High School as a certified athletic trainer.

Pat and his wife, Carla, reside in Highland Park.

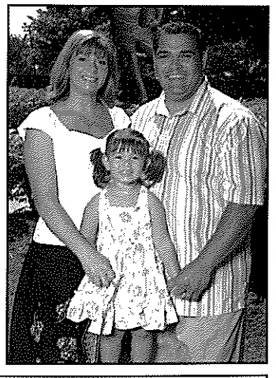

ULY MOLINA
ASSISTANT EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Uly Molina, a 1989 Rutgers College graduate, is heavily involved in the day-to-day operation of the football equipment staff.

Molina earned three letters as a football manager at Rutgers from 1986 through 1988. Prior to joining the equipment staff, Molina worked for two years as an assistant in the Rutgers Ticket Office.

Uly and his wife, Denise, reside in Somerville with their daughter Isabella.

THE BIG EAST CONFERENCE

The 2005 season began a new era of BIG EAST Conference football as the University of Cincinnati, University of Louisville and University of South Florida joined Connecticut, Pittsburgh, Rutgers, Syracuse and West Virginia to give the league an expanded gridiron presence that now ranges as far south at Tampa, Fla. and as far west as Louisville, Ky.

The league that quickly established itself as a national force after its inception in 1991, continued its success a season ago as four schools earned trips to bowl games. West Virginia (11-1, 7-0 BIG EAST) finished the regular season unbeaten in league play for the first time since 1993 to win the 2005 BIG EAST Conference title. Earning the BIG EAST's automatic Bowl Championship Series bid, West Virginia represented the conference in the 2006 Nokia Sugar Bowl in Atlanta. The Mountaineers defeated Georgia, 38-35, to finish the year fifth in the final Associated Press Top 25 Poll and sixth in the final USA Today Poll. Louisville was ranked 19th and 20th, respectively, in the final AP and USA Today polls.

Over the last five seasons, the BIG EAST has compiled one of the best winning percentages of any BCS conference in bowl games. BIG EAST Conference teams are 16-13 in postseason play since 2000.

The BIG EAST has been a frequent contender for the national championship. Eight times in the league's 15 seasons a BIG EAST squad has been in a bowl game, playing for a claim to the national crown.

The BIG EAST has always been proud of its football student-athletes for their academic achievements. In 2005, West Virginia's Jay Henry was named an ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America First Team performer as selected by CoSIDA. In addition, seven league players earned Academic All-District honors. Henry and teammates Dan Mozes and Gavin Justice, as well as Connecticut's Rhema Fuller and Rutgers' Brian Leonard and Ryan Neill earned first team accolades. Louisville's Brian Brohm and Cincinnati's Earnest Jackson garnered second team honors.

Since its birth, the BIG EAST has been a national power, both on and off the field. Commissioner Michael Tranghese served as coordinator of the BCS for two years from 2002-03. He has spearheaded the development of BIG EAST football since its beginning.

The BIG EAST Conference's entrance into football was announced on February 5, 1991. The league gained instant notice and credibility with its level of excellence on the field and with its television and bowl relationships. The BIG EAST has been a charter member of each of the major bowl agreements with the major conferences, beginning with The Bowl Coalition in 1992 followed by The Bowl Alliance in `95. The Bowl Championship Series began in `98. Recently, it was announced that the BIG EAST will continue as an automatic qualifier in the new BCS agreement that will begin in 2006.
Extensive television exposure and the BIG EAST have been synonymous terms. For football, the league established its own regional television package in 1991 before it had played a game. The BIG EAST Television Network immediately was the largest regional college football network in the country.

The BIG EAST has television agreements with ABC and ESPN that run through the 2007 season. Both agreements ensure that ABC or ESPN telecasts a BIG EAST game virtually every week of the year.

ESPN Regional Television owns broadcasting rights for all telecasts not assigned to ABC or ESPN. ERT, which took over for the BIG EAST Network in 1996, produces and distributes additional games, including a BIG EAST Game of the Week, through syndication, local markets and pay-per-view.

The BIG EAST has always aligned itself with prestigious bowl games. The league champion plays in the Tostitos Fiesta, FedEx Orange, Allstate Sugar or Rose Bowls as part of its membership in the Bowl Championship Series.

In a first-of-its-kind collaboration among Division I conferences and football bowl partners, the BIG EAST and Big 12 Conferences — along with the University of Notre Dame — have together forged a bowl partnership beginning in 2006 that will assure both BCS Conferences' and Notre Dame's participation in the Toyota Gator Bowl and Vitalis Sun Bowl over a four-year period. In years when selecting a BIG EAST team, the Toyota Gator Bowl or Vitalis Sun Bowl will have the first pick after the BIG EAST's representative to the Bowl Championship Series has been determined. The Atlantic Coast Conference will provide the opposition in the Toyota Gator Bowl and the Pac-10 Conference will participate in the Vitalis Sun Bowl.

The Meineke Car Care Bowl is now in its fifth year with the BIG EAST Conference. The Meineke Car Care Bowl, which is played in Bank of America Stadium in Charlotte, N.C., will pick after the Toyota Gator Bowl or Vitalis Sun Bowl. If Navy is bowl eligible in 2006, the Midshipmen will receive the bid to the Meineke Car Care Bowl.

In November, the BIG EAST entered into a four-year agreement to participate in the Houston Bowl and will meet an opponent from the Big 12 Conference beginning in the 2006 season. On April 27, the NCAA Bowl Certification Committee gave the Houston Bowl a 60-day extension before making a decision on certification. The Houston Bowl is played at the state-of-the-art Reliant Stadium in Houston, Texas.

Michael A. Tranghese
Commissioner

The BIG EAST Conference has also aligned itself with two new bowls – the International Bowl in Toronto, Ontario, and the Birmingham Bowl in Birmingham, Ala. The two bowls were approved by the NCAA Bowl Certification Committee on April 27. The new agreements currently give the BIG EAST a total of six bowl deals. In the International Bowl, the BIG EAST will meet a team from the Mid-American Conference. In the Birmingham Bowl, the BIG EAST will play a team from Conference USA. The International Bowl will be played in the Rogers Centre on Jan. 6. The Birmingham Bowl will be played at Legion Field on Dec. 23. Both games will be televised by ESPN or ESPN2.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

2005 SEASON REVIEW

The 2005 Rutgers team finished 7-5 overall and third in the BIG EAST Conference, achieved its first winning season since 1992 and made its first appearance in a bowl game since 1978. Following the regular season, Rutgers earned a trip to the Insight Bowl in Phoenix, AZ where the Scarlet Knights dropped a highly-entertaining 45-40 shoot-out to Arizona State.

The Scarlet Knights opened the season 3-1, defeating Villanova in the home opener (38-6), Buffalo on the road (17-3), and Pittsburgh (37-29) in the BIG EAST opener in a Rutgers Stadium game televised live to a national audience on ESPN 2, after opening the season with a 33-30 overtime loss at Illinois.

A 27-14 home loss to West Virginia, was followed by consecutive BIG EAST road victories, at Syracuse (31-9) and at Connecticut (26-24). A 31-21 Homecoming Day victory over Navy gave RU a 6-2 record, marking the first time the Knights were bowl eligible since 1992. The win over the Midshipmen was played in front of a sellout crowd of 41,716 fans, the second-largest crowd in Rutgers Stadium history.

Losses to South Florida at home (45-31) and at Louisville (56-5) left the Knights with a 6-4 record with one regular season game to play. A bye week served to re-energize the team as RU capped its regular season with a rousing 44-9 home win over Cincinnati, a triumph that catapulted the Scarlet Knights into the Insight Bowl with a 7-4 record.

SCARLET KNIGHTS AMASS BEST OFFENSIVE TOTAL IN SCHOOL HISTORY

Rutgers enters the 2006 season, coming off its best offensive output in school history. The Scarlet Knights totaled 4,765 yards of offense last season, breaking the previous mark of 4,701 yards set during the 1995 season. Many of the key contributors to last season's record-breaking yardage total return in 2006.

RU SECOND IN NATION IN SACKS

Rutgers' defense recorded 47 sacks on the season, which is the highest single-season sack total since the statistic was first kept by Rutgers in 1976 when RU also posted 47 sacks. The 3.83 sacks per game was the highest in the BIG EAST, and second-best in the nation in 2005. The nine sacks in the victory over Cincinatti were the most by a Rutgers team in Greg Schiano's five seasons at the helm.

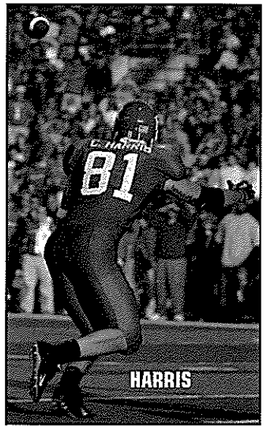

LEONARD LOOKS TO PAINT SCHOOL RECORD BOOKS

All-American fullback Brian Leonard enters his senior season near the top of several Rutgers all-time lists. Here is a look at his standing and what he needs to break the school record.

CATEGORY	STATS	PLACE	BEHIND LEADER
Touchdowns	40	1st	-
Scoring	242	2nd	19 points
All-Purpose Yardage	3,926	2nd	1,414 yards
Receptions	169	3rd	23 receptions
Receiving Touchdowns	13	T-4th	4 touchdowns
Rushing Yards	2,352	6th	762 yards
Rushing Touchdowns	27	5th	7 touchdowns
Receiving Yards	1,574	7th	948 yards

LEONARD, HARRIS BOAST CONSECUTIVE-GAME RECEPTION STREAKS

FB Brian Leonard and TE Clark Harris enter their senior seasons ranked not only near the top of the nation but among the BIG EAST's all-time leaders in consecutive games with a reception. Leonard has at least one catch in all 34 games he has played in during his career. The fullback caught multiple balls in each game last season, recording four or more catches in 10 contests. His 34-game reception streak is tied for third-best in BIG EAST history. Harris upped his reception streak to 30 games with six receptions for 85 yards and a TD in the Insight Bowl. His streak is tied for seventh in BIG EAST history. WR Tres Moses, who finished his Scarlet Knight career in 2005, is sixth in BIG EAST history with at least one reception in 31-straight games.

LEONARD, RICE FORMED ONE OF RU'S TOP RUSHING TANDEMS IN 2005

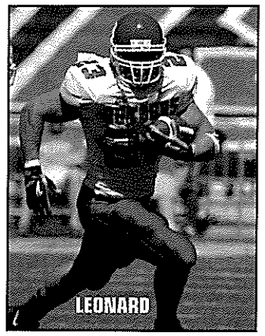

FB Brian Leonard and RB Ray Rice combined for 1,860 yards on the ground for the Scarlet Knights' last season. The total ranks as the second-highest in school history. Rice led RU's ground attack with 1,120 yards last season, which ranks sixth on the all-time single-season list. Leonard accumulated 740 rushing yards on the year. The pair combined to average exactly 155 rushing yards per game last season.

2005 SEASON REVIEW

FRESHMEN MAKE IMMEDIATE IMPACT

Thirteen newcomers saw action in 2005, and three (RB Ray Rice, C Darnell Stapleton and DB Courtney Greene) earned starting assignments. Rice became the first 1,000 rusher (1,120 yards) for Rutgers since 1994, ending with the fifth-highest single-season total in school history. He also ranked among the top five true freshman running backs nationally. Greene was named a Freshman All-American after leading the team in tackles (116) and ranking second in the BIG EAST and 25th nationally in tackles per game (9.7).

LEONARD, NEILL EARN ESPN THE MAGAZINE ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICA HONORS

Fullback Brian Leonard and defensive end Ryan Neill were each named to the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America District 2 Football Team, as selected by members of CoSIDA, the College Sports Information Directors of America, last fall.

To be eligible for ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America Football Teams, a student-athlete must be a starter or key reserve and maintain a cumulative grade-point average of at least 3.20 on a scale of 4.00. He must have reached sophomore athletic and academic standing at the institution and completed at least one full academic year at the school.

SIX SCARLET KNIGHTS NAMED TO BIG EAST ALL-ACADEMIC FOOTBALL TEAM

Six members of the Rutgers football team were named to the 2005 BIG EAST Conference All-Academic Football squad. Fullback Brian Leonard headlined the group as one of only four players in the league to earn All-Academic honors for a third time.

Joining Leonard were defensive end Ryan Neill, place kicker Jeremy Ito, defensive back Brandon Renkart and offensive linemen Jeremy Zuttah and Mike Gilmartin.

Neill and Leonard were two of 11 student-athletes on the BIG EAST's All-Academic Football squad to also earn All-BIG EAST accolades on the gridiron in 2005.

Leonard, who majors in labor studies, was named an All-American by Pro Football Weekly for the second consecutive year. The two-time All-BIG EAST selection rushed for 740 yards and 11 touchdowns, also catching 55 passes for 568 yards and six touchdowns in 2005. Neill, a communications major, was named an SI.com All-American after closing out his RU career ranked among the national leaders in sacks and tackles for loss.

An engineering major, Renkart sealed the Scarlet Knights' victory over Pittsburgh with a late interception in his first season in the RU secondary. Ito (undeclared major) ranked among the national leaders in field goals. He converted 20-of-27 field goals last season, including all four field goal attempts in the Insight Bowl. Gilmartin (American Studies) and Zuttah (undeclared) played integral roles on an offensive line that produced the school's first 1,000-yard rusher since 1994.

The All-Academic Team recognizes letterwinners who have posted a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better. Student-athletes who have completed a minimum of two semesters of academic work and earned a letter are eligible. It is the 14th consecutive season the BIG EAST has honored its student-athletes with an academic team.

RICHARD L. McCORMICK
PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

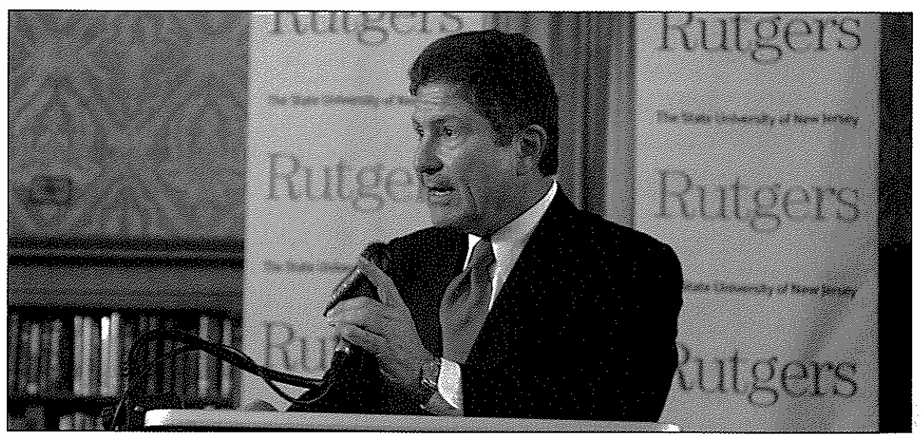

Richard L. McCormick became the 19th president of Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, on December 1, 2002. Among Dr. McCormick's key priorities are maintaining and enhancing Rutgers' academic quality, strengthening undergraduate education, and connecting the university more deeply to the people of New Jersey.

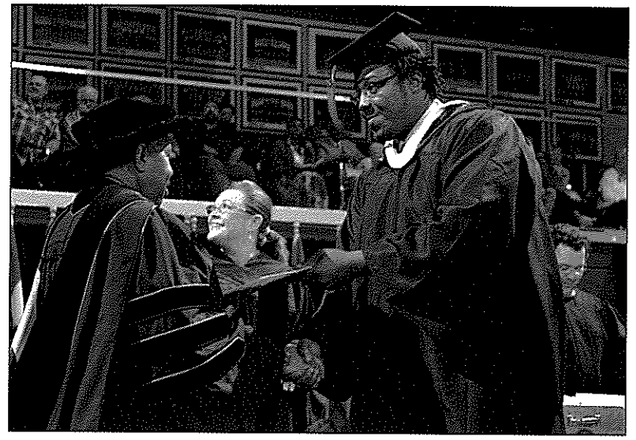

Prior to becoming president of Rutgers, Dr. McCormick enjoyed a distinguished career as a faculty member, scholar, and university administrator. After earning his B.A. in American studies from Amherst College in 1969 and his Ph.D. in history from Yale University in 1976, Dr. McCormick began his career as an assistant professor of history at Rutgers–New Brunswick/Piscataway. He rose through the ranks to become professor of history (1985), chair of the Department of History (1987–1989), and dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences (1989–1992). From Rutgers, Dr. McCormick moved in 1992 to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where he served as executive vice chancellor, provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs. In 1995 he became president of the University of Washington, where he served until returning to Rutgers in 2002.

The author of three books and numerous articles, Dr. McCormick is a recognized scholar of American political history. He has two children, Betsy, age 21, and Michael, 17. He is married to Joan Barry McCormick.

RUTGERS THE STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW JERSEY

A BRIEF HISTORY

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, is one of the leading universities in the nation. The university is made up of 29 degree-granting divisions; 12 undergraduate colleges, 11 graduate schools, and three schools offering both undergraduate and graduate degrees. Five are located in Camden, seven in Newark, and 14 in New Brunswick/Piscataway.

Rutgers has a unique history as a colonial college, a land-grant institution, and a state university. Chartered in 1766 as Queen's College, the eighth institution of higher learning to be founded in the colonies, the school opened its doors in New Brunswick in 1771 with a lone instructor, a single sophomore, and a handful of first-year students. During its early years, the college developed as a classic liberal arts institution. In 1825, the name of the college was changed to honor a former trustee and Revolutionary War veteran, Colonel Henry Rutgers.

Rutgers College became the land-grant college of New Jersey in 1864, resulting in the establishment of the Rutgers Scientific School, featuring departments of agriculture, engineering, and chemistry. Further expansion in the sciences came with the founding of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station in 1880, the College of Engineering (now the School of Engineering) in 1914, and the College of Agriculture (now Cook College) in 1921. The precursors to several other Rutgers divisions were also established during this period: the College of Pharmacy (now the Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy) in 1892, the New Jersey College for Women (now Douglass College) in 1918, and the School of Education in 1924.

Rutgers College assumed university status in 1924, and legislative acts in 1945 and 1956 designated all its divisions as The State University of New Jersey. During these years the university expanded significantly with the founding of an evening division — University College — in 1934 and the addition of the University of Newark (now Rutgers–Newark) in 1946 and the College of South Jersey at Camden (now Rutgers–Camden) in 1950.

Since the 1950's, Rutgers has continued to expand, especially in the area of graduate education. The Graduate School—New Brunswick, Graduate School—Newark, and Graduate School—Camden each serve their respective campuses. In addition, professional schools have been established in such areas as management, social work, criminal justice, applied and professional psychology, the fine arts, and communication, information and library studies. (A number of these schools offer undergraduate programs as well.) Also at the undergraduate level, Livingston College was founded in 1969, emphasizing the urban environment. The first Summer Session began in 1913 with one six-week session. That summer program offered 47 courses and had an enrollment of 314 students. Currently, Summer Session offers over 1,000 courses to more than 15,000 students on the Camden, Newark, and New Brunswick/Piscataway campuses, off-campus, and abroad.

Today, Rutgers continues to grow, both in its facilities and in the variety and depth of its educational and research programs. The university's goals for the future include the continued provision of the highest quality education, along with the increased support of research and commitment to public service to meet the needs of society.

RUTGERS THE STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW JERSEY

RUTGERS AT A GLANCE

• Chartered in 1766 as Queen's College, Rutgers is the eighth oldest college in the nation.
• Rutgers was designated the State University of New Jersey by legislative acts in 1945 and 1956.
• Rutgers is New Jersey's largest public research university and is located on three regional campuses in Camden, Newark, and New Brunswick/Piscataway.
• Rutgers was named New Jersey's land-grant university in 1864 and has a special responsibility for serving the needs of the state.
• Rutgers is a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU), a highly selective organization composed of the 62 leading research universities in North America.
• There are 29 degree-granting schools and colleges, offering more than 100 distinct bachelor's, 100 master's, and 80 doctoral and professional degree programs.
• Rutgers is one of New Jersey's major employers with some 2,661 faculty and 6,350 staff.
• For every dollar New Jersey invests in Rutgers, the university channels $5 into the state's economy. In 2003, the amount of state support was $524 million, while the combined effect of university direct and indirect spending was estimated at $2.8 billion.
• With holdings of approximately four million volumes, the Rutgers library system ranks among the nation's largest.
• Rutgers enrolls more than 50,000 students: 37,000 undergraduates and 12,000 graduate students.
• More than 10,000 students each year earn a degree from Rutgers.
• The university has more than 347,000 living alumni; nearly 200,000 alumni reside in New Jersey.

TEACHING AND LEARNING

• Rutgers faculty include MacArthur "genius" Fellows, National Medal of Science and National Medal of Technology recipients, Fulbright Scholars, Guggenheim Fellows, members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and winners of many other prestigious awards and grants.
• The graduate philosophy department is ranked second in the English-speaking world by the Philosophical Gourmet Report.
• Rutgers Business School–Newark and New Brunswick is ranked among the top five schools in the country for technology management according to a Journal of Product Innovation Management study. It is tenth out of 51 for international business according to a Journal of International Business Studies report. BusinessWeek ranks the school's Executive MBA program fifth in the world in the area of strategy and sixth in the area of finance.

RESEARCH

• Streptomycin, the first effective cure for tuberculosis, and other potent antibiotics were discovered at Rutgers by Professor Selman Waksman and his students in the 1940s. Waksman received the Nobel Prize for his important contributions to medicine.
• The New Brunswick/Piscataway campus is home to the New Jersey Stem Cell Institute, a joint endeavor with the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. The institute is devoted to finding new and effective approaches to treating seemingly incurable diseases such as Parkinson's, Alzheimer's, diabetes, and spinal cord injury.
• The Rutgers Cell and DNA Repository is a valuable resource for researchers around the world studying the role heredity plays in complex genetic diseases such as schizophrenia, bipolar disorder, autism, Alzheimer's, alcoholism, diabetes, and Tourette's syndrome. The repository, which holds samples donated by more than 100,000 people, is supported by more than $60 million in federal grants.
• The Protein Data Bank, based at Rutgers, is the international repository of three-dimensional protein structures. With $30 million in federal funding, the data bank provides vital information on more than 35,000 proteins and other macromolecules for scientists working to design more effective treatments for disease.
• Rutgers' Institute of Marine and Coastal Sciences ranks among America's top 15 marine research organizations based on peer competition for National Science Foundation research funding.
• The Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy, the only pharmacy school in New Jersey, ranks in the top 10 percent among pharmacy schools nationwide in research dollars awarded by the National Institutes of Health.
• Rutgers holds approximately 411 patents and, since 1989, has licensed 49 start-up or early-stage companies.
• Rutgers is a partner in the Southern African Large Telescope, one of the world's largest optical telescopes and the southern hemisphere's newest eye-on-the-sky.
• Rutgers University is leading the Northeast Structural Genomics Consortium, a $52.7 million research program to reveal the roles that proteins play in life's most fundamental processes.

RUTGERS THE STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW JERSEY

ROBERT E. MULCAHY III
DIRECTOR OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

Innovation, achievement and excellence have been the hallmarks of Robert Mulcahy's tenure as Director of Athletics at Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey. Since coming to Rutgers in 1998, Mulcahy has been the guiding force in the continued development of the university's Division of Intercollegiate Athletics program. He is committed to the ideal that Rutgers Athletics will provide the best possible experience for its student-athletes.

Mulcahy's vision for Rutgers Athletics has led the division to unprecedented development and accomplishment. Wide-ranging improvements in facilities have allowed the division to function at greater efficiency, thus enabling opportunity for greater success for Rutgers student-athletes, both in the classroom and on the playing field.

Mulcahy's leadership has brought reality to this vision. He has been responsible for raising the division's endowment by $4 million, and was instrumental in developing and securing outside revenue totaling $24 million, resulting in the renovation, and construction, of a number of facilities.

Capital projects from this funding include the expansion and enhancement of the Hale Center, allowing it to become one of the finest of its kind nationally, with an expansive strength and conditioning facility, a state of the art training room and academic support facilities which include classrooms, study rooms and computer labs. Rutgers Stadium has enjoyed significant enhancements under Mulcahy's watch, as well, and now features a state-of-the-art scoreboard and Field Turf playing surface, all helping to ensure the best possible experience for student-athletes and fans.

Other projects have resulted in a modern, state-of-the-art academic support laboratory in the Louis Brown Athletic Center (the "RAC"), as well as an expanded weight training complex, and a modern media headquarters and interview facility. Office space for coaches and administrators was a priority that has come to fruition, allowing the senior athletic administration to be centrally located in the RAC for the first time, while future plans call for the continued upgrading of the RAC.

Mulcahy has made significant upgrades in many areas of the academic support program, including computer labs and tutorial services, and those enhancements have been reflected by gains in the classroom by student-athletes. The division remains committed to its goal of exceeding the grade point average of the general student population. Programs such as the comprehensive RU Strong/LifeSkills have been bolstered to help ensure a positive and meaningful experience for the Rutgers student-athlete.

Under Mulcahy's leadership, Rutgers student-athletes are committed to community involvement. Among the many projects they organize and participate in are the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee annual Holiday Toy Drive, Student-Athlete Blood Drives, the Read Across America program, and area hospital visits.

The Annual Report, which chronicles the division's achievements and goals and was produced for the first time ever following the 1998-99 academic year under Mulcahy's direction, includes the cumulative grade point averages of each varsity team.

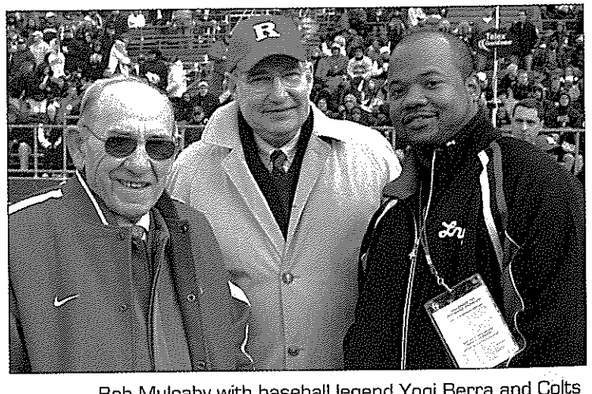

Mulcahy has also overseen the institution of a comprehensive marketing and promotional plan to further increase corporate revenue and enhance the overall image of the athletic program. Corporate sponsorship has risen each year during Mulcahy's administration, and will continue to expand as Rutgers Athletics maintains its sponsorship with one of the nation's leading firms, Nelligan Sports Marketing.

All the while, the Rutgers athletic program continues to grow and improve on the field of play.

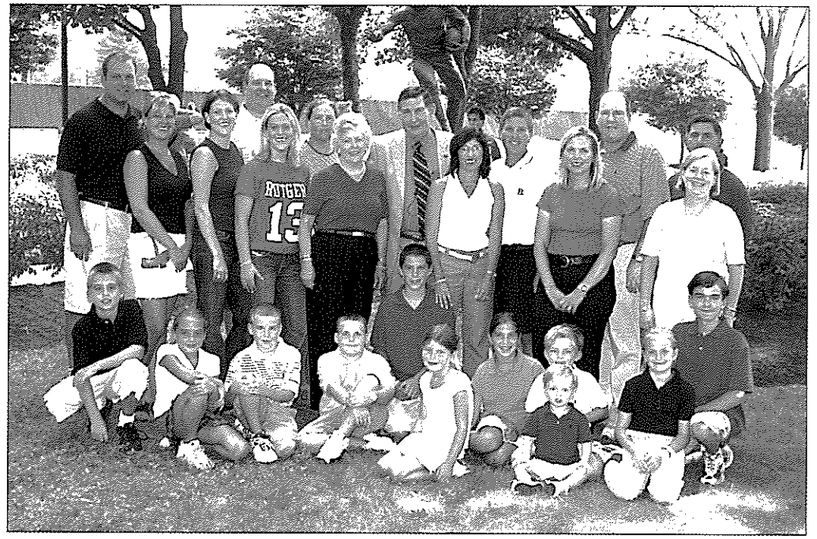

In the 2005-06 academic year, the Scarlet Knights' football team finished with a 7-4 regular season record, a third-place finish in the BIG EAST Conference, and made its first post-season appearance in 27 years with a berth in the Insight Bowl. The women's basketball team completed the BIG EAST regular season schedule with a perfect 16-0 record and earned its second consecutive BIG EAST championship. Two Scarlet Knights, Cappie Pondexter (WNBA) and Quincy Douby (NBA), were first-round draft choices in their respective sports. Pondexter was a consensus first-team All-America selection while Douby led the BIG EAST in scoring and was named first-team All-Conference.

Other standouts from the 2005-06 season included Kelly Harrigan, who guided the Rutgers women's swimming team to its highest finish ever in the BIG EAST Swimming and Diving Championships while earning All-America honors for a second straight year, and long jumper Shameka Marshall from the women's track and field team, who earned All-America status after a runnerup finish in the NCAA championships.

Perhaps the grit and determination that personifies Rutgers athletics is no better exemplified than by gymnast Lauren Sisler. In June, 2006, Sisler was the recipient of the Wilma Rudolph Student-Athlete Achievement Award, presented by the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletes (N4A), an award to honor student athletes who have overcome great personal, and/or emotional odds, to achieve academic success while participating in intercollegiate athletics. Sisler suffered through the personal tragedy of losing both her parents within hours of each other during her freshman year, yet persevered through such trying times to raise her GPA by almost a point and a half, and developing into one of the gymnastics' teams top performers by the time she graduated from Rutgers.

Bob Mulcahy with baseball legend Yogi Berra and Colts Linebacker and former RU standout Gary Brackett.

Mulcahy has also been a leader in the strategic development of the reconfigured BIG EAST Conference. Following well-documented membership defections, the BIG EAST acted swiftly and with resolve to emerge as a powerful 16-team league, including eight institutions competing in Division I-A football as BCS members.

Mulcahy came to Rutgers on April 15, 1998, after an extraordinary 19-year tenure as President and CEO of the New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority. Under Mulcahy's leadership, the NJSEA developed into the nation's premier sports and entertainment venue. Among his noteworthy achievements at the Meadowlands included establishing New Jersey as the home of the finest college athletic competition in the country, including the creation of the Kickoff Classic Football Game, attracting the Army-Navy game to the facility on three occasions, and hosting eight NCAA Men's Basketball Eastern Regionals and the last Final Four ever to be held in an Arena, in 1996. Mulcahy led the negotiations that resulted in the NHL's Devils, the NFL's Jets, and Major League Soccer's MetroStars calling the Meadowlands their home.

Mulcahy's leadership at the NJSEA helped develop legislation which led to it overseeing the reconstruction of Rutgers Stadium and building new soccer, lacrosse and track and field facilities in 1994. The Sports and Exposition Authority matured from primarily a horse racing and professional football business into a statewide engine for sports, entertainment and exposition development during Mulcahy's tenure. By the end of his tenure at the Meadowlands, the Sports Complex was hosting 600 events a year, drawing seven million visitors annually to such attractions as the Giants, Jets, Devils, Nets, and horse racing, as well as a broad variety of family shows and concerts.

Mulcahy's lifelong passion for scholastic and college athletics, and his undying commitment to public service, has not gone unnoticed. The New York Times described his tenure with the NJSEA as one of "quiet fervor and foresight, establishing the Meadowlands as one of the nation's leading sports and entertainment complexes." The Newark Star Ledger hailed the holding of the NCAA Final Four, an event that was co-hosted by Rutgers, in New Jersey as "the miracle of the Meadowlands."

Among his many professional affiliations, Mulcahy serves on the Board of the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame, is Chair of its Awards Committee, is an honorary member of the American Football Coaches' Association, and serves or has served on the Boards of several business and charitable corporations.

Mulcahy, a graduate of Villanova University (AB in History, 1958), has received several awards from his alma mater, including the Medal of Excellence from the College of Arts and Sciences, the Alumni Medal, and the James "Jumbo" Elliot Achievement Award. Among other honors, his most prized awards include the Knight of St. Gregory medal, received from Pope John Paul II, and the Ellis Island Medal of Honor.

After 37 years in Mendham, Bob and his wife Terry relocated to Basking Ridge. They are the parents of seven children, and also have 11 grandchildren.

"Our goal continues to be graduating well-rounded student-athletes who can use the lessons learned in the classroom and on the field to become leaders in society. To continue to achieve our vision, we must ensure that our student-athletes are afforded the best possible opportunities in their highly-competitive environments. Our strategic plan, a larger endowment, and expanded, state-of-the-art facilities are cornerstones of this vision of excellence." – Robert E. Mulcahy, III

In recognition of his years of service to the Garden States sports world, Bob Mulcahy was inducted into the prestigious New Jersey Sports Hall of Fame in 1999, joining such luminaries as Yogi Berra, Jerry Izenberg, Vince Lombardi, Bill Parcells, Willis Reed and Phil Simms.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

THE FIRST FOOTBALL GAME

Rutgers and Princeton played the first game of intercollegiate football on Nov. 6, 1869, on a plot of ground where the present-day Rutgers gymnasium now stands in New Brunswick, N.J. Rutgers won that first game, 6-4.

The game was played with two teams of 25 men each under rugby-like rules, but like modern football, it was "replete with surprise, strategy, prodigies of determination and physical prowess," to use the words of one of the Rutgers players.

At 3 p.m. on that memorable afternoon, the 50 competitors and about 100 spectators gathered on the field. To distinguish themselves from the bareheaded visitors, 50 Rutgers students, including players, donned scarlet-colored scarves which they converted into turbans.

Events leading up to the game were described by John W. Herbert, Rutgers '72, who was one of the players: "To appreciate this game to the fullest you must know something of its background," Herbert wrote in 1933. "The two colleges were, and still are, of course, about 20 miles apart. The rivalry between them was intense. For years each had striven for possession of an old Revolutionary cannon, making night forays and lugging it back and forth time and again. Not long before the first football game, the canny Princetonians had settled this competition in their own favor by ignominiously sinking the gun in several feet of concrete. In addition to this, I regret to report, Princeton had beaten Rutgers in baseball by the harrowing score of 40-2. Rutgers longed for a chance to square things."

A challenge for the game was issued by Rutgers. Three games were to be played that year. The first, played at New Brunswick, was won by Rutgers. Princeton won the second game, but cries of "over-emphasis" prevented the third game in football's first year when faculties of both institutions protested on the grounds that the games were interfering with student studies.

An analytical account of the game appeared in the November, 1869 issue of the Targum, Rutgers' undergraduate newspaper.

"To describe the varying fortunes of the match, game by game, would be a waste of labor for every game was like the one before," wrote the student reporter. "There was the same headlong running, wild shouting, and frantic kicking.

"To sum up, Princeton had the most muscle, but didn't kick very well, and wanted organization. They evidently don't like to kick the ball on the ground. Our men, on the other hand, though comparatively weak, ran well, and kicked well throughout. But their great point was the organization, for which great praise is due to the captain. The right men were always in the right place."

One of the Princeton players, William Preston Lane, in 1933 contended in a newspaper interview that Rutgers "ran us Princeton men out of town. I never found out why they did that," he related. "But we don't ask any questions. When we saw them coming after us, we ran to the outskirts of New Brunswick and got into our carriages and wagons and went away as fast as we could."

Lane's contention is refuted in the Targum account. "After the match the players had an amicable "feed together," the paper reported. "At 8 o'clock our guests went home, in high good spirits, thirsting to beat us next time, if they can."

Regardless of what actually happened after the first game, football was here to stay. Rutgers got Columbia University started in the grid sport the following season and in a few years most of the colleges and universities in the East were represented on the gridiron.

THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

The following is excerpted from an article that was written by John Bruns, former long-time sports writer for the Home News, and current sports writer for the Easton Times-Express.

When Rutgers defeated Princeton in the first intercollegiate football game ever played in 1869, the setting was quite different than it is today. The game was contested on a field along College Avenue in New Brunswick. There weren't tens of thousands of cheering fans in a multi-million dollar stadium. There was no manicured grass field or electronic scoreboard. There was no elaborate athletic equipment or television cameras. But on that fall day in 1869, those students established a tradition of quality football programs, competitiveness and school spirit that continues at Rutgers, the birthplace of intercollegiate football.

Rutgers won six of 10 games in 1882, but played only one game in 1885. Similarly, the Scarlet Knights went 8-6 in 1891, but two years later played only four games. By the early 1900's, scheduling had become more consistent and football became more popular across the country.

The eight wins of 1891 weren't matched until Rutgers went 8-1 in 1947 with one of the most successful teams of coach Harvey Harman in the Golden Era immediately following World War II. That team, quarterbacked by Frank Burns, who would later become Rutgers' most successful coach, lost its opener to Columbia and then swept through eight straight opponents.

In 1913, coach George Foster Sanford began a tradition of success among Rutgers coaches in their inaugural year by leading his team to a 6-3 mark. He then flirted with two perfect seasons, improving the team to 7-1 in 1915 and 7-1-1 in 1917. Those two seasons, which featured All-American Paul Robeson, were among Rutgers' best.

Sanford, a member of Rutgers' Hall of Fame, also helped to introduce Rutgers to the New York metropolitan area, playing games at the Polo Grounds against teams like Notre Dame, Nebraska, Louisiana State and West Virginia. A few years later, in 1924, two-time All-American end and fullback Homer Hazel helped coach John Wallace continue the tradition of first-year coaching success, as Rutgers posted a 7-1-1 mark.

Harvey Harman also had a successful first season, going 7-1 in 1938, the year Rutgers dedicated the original Rutgers Stadium. Rutgers won the dedication game, 20-18, over Princeton. Harman, however, was replaced by former coach Harry Rockafeller during World War II. His tenure included an 8-1 season in 1947 when Rutgers, dominated by WWII veterans, registered a combined record of 27-7 from 1945-48.

When John Stiegman coached Rutgers from 1956-59, he brought back the single-wing formation to the Scarlet Knight offense, and led Rutgers to an 8-1 mark in 1958. The only loss of that season, 13-12 to the Quantico Marines, came when All-American tailback Billy Austin had to miss a game due to a broken hand.

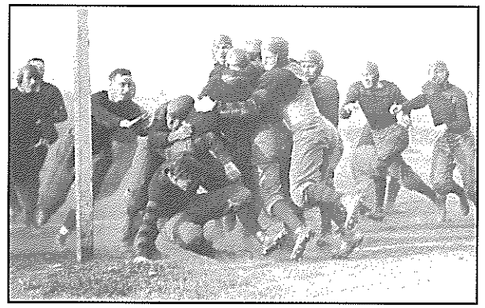

Another first-year coach got off to an impressive start when John Bateman went 8-1 in 1960. That campaign was followed by Rutgers' first undefeated season in 1961, when the team went 9-0, capping the season with a fourth-quarter, 25-point comeback win over Columbia. That team included All-American center Alex Kroll, and was ranked 15th nationally. In his 11 seasons, Bateman led Rutgers to 73 wins in 124 games.

In 1973, Frank Burns took the reins of Rutgers football and became the most successful Rutgers coach ever by building teams recognized for fundamentals and defense. Burns himself was also known as a fierce linebacker and won the Most Valuable Player Award in the 1949 College All-Star game, when he made 17 tackles against the New York Giants. The Burns defenses were led by linebackers Ed Steward, Jim Hughes, Jim Dumont and defensive end Nate Toran. Burns' first team went 6-5, while running back "JJ" Jennings set single-season records for rushing yardage (1,353) and touchdowns (21) that still stand.

Over the next five seasons, Burns' teams won at least seven games each season, including a five-season stretch from 1975-79 when Rutgers' winning percentage was .803 with a record of 45-11. The jewel in the crown of Burns' tenure as Rutgers' coach was the 1976 season, when the team was perfect at 11-0, establishing the best season ever at Rutgers. During Burns' 11 seasons at Rutgers, the Scarlet Knights won nearly two-thirds of their games (78-44). He also took Rutgers to its first bowl appearance, the Garden State Bowl, at Giants Stadium against Arizona State in 1978.

Doubtless, the biggest win of the Burns era was the 13-7 upset of Tennessee on November 3, 1979 at Knoxville. Burns called it "the greatest of my coaching career."

The following year, 1980, Rutgers had one of its great "near-misses" of its long history when the Scarlet bowed, 17-13, to a highly-favored and No. 1-ranked Alabama team coached by Bear Bryant at Giants Stadium. In a post game comment, Bear Bryant said, "We didn't beat Rutgers. All I can say is we won."

In 1984 when Dick Anderson was named head coach, a renewed commitment to football at Rutgers was backed by a $3 million state-funded package. Those funds helped finance the artificial surface practice fields, the practice "Bubble" and the Hale Center, which includes lockerrooms, offices, a weight-training area and medical facilities for the football team.

Anderson won seven of 10 games in his inaugural season and his teams produced some of the most exciting players in Rutgers history, including record-breaking passer Scott Erney, career tackles leader Tyronne Stowe and career kickoff return leader Eric Young.

Doug Graber became the Scarlet Knights' 23rd coach in 1990 and placed an emphasis on recruiting the best talent in the state of New Jersey. His first recruiting class included three first-team All-State selections and two second-team All-State selections among the 12 recruits from New Jersey.

Another major boost for Rutgers came in 1991 when it joined the BIG EAST Football Conference. The team went 13-9 in its first two years in the BIG EAST, including a 4-2 BIG EAST mark in 1992, before slipping to 4-7 the following season.

The 1994 season celebrated not only the 125 years of college football, but also the return of the newly-renovated and expanded Rutgers Stadium.

A new stadium has been quite a different setting than that of the first college football game played over 130 years ago. The Scarlet Knights are playing for their own place in history as they continue the college football tradition that was born "On the Banks of the Old Raritan." After a less than stellar run through the mid-1990's under 1998 BIG EAST coach of the year Terry Shea, the Scarlet Knights opted to take the program in a different direction.

On December 1, 2000, Director of Athletics Bob Mulcahy introduced the newest coach in the storied history of Rutgers Football - Greg Schiano.

Under Schiano's leadership, 'it's time' for Rutgers Football to regain the nation's attention.

Hall Doors Finally Open For Robeson

The following is an excerpt from the inscription found on Robeson's plaque in the National College Football Hall of Fame in South Bend, Indiana.

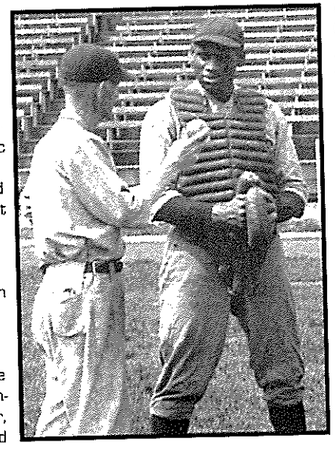

Paul Robeson played four years for the famous coach, G. Foster Sanford. Rutgers had a 22-6-3 record in that time. In 31 games, Rutgers scored 941 points to opponents' 191. Robeson was a powerful contributor to that record....

Robeson was a two-time All-America end. Frank Menke named him All-America in 1917 and 1918. Walter Camp picked him in 1918. (Camp did not name an All-America team in 1917.) Following college, Robeson played three years as a pro - 1920 with Hammond, 1921 with Akron and 1922 with Milwaukee - in the American Professional Football League...

He obtained his law degree in 1923. At Rutgers, Robeson was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and was valedictorian of the class of 1919. He won the college oratorical contest four straight years and gave the commencement address at graduation.

Robeson won 12 letters in four sports - four in football, three each in basketball and baseball, and two in track. He stood 6-3 in height and his weight was listed at 191 in early years, at 215 his senior season. This man of many talents became an actor, singer and lecturer. He was on Broadway and in the movies. His rich basso made his signature song "Ol' Man River" a classic. He starred in plays, such as "The Emperor Jones", "Othello", "Showboat", as well as many others, in the U.S., Europe and Africa. In 1925 he made a recording that sold 55,000 copies in four months. In 1972 he received the Whitney Young Memorial Award. Ebony Magazine called him "one of the 10 most important black men in American history."...

Paul Robeson was born April 9, 1898, in Princeton, N.J. His father, Rev. William Robeson, had escaped slavery in 1860 in North Caroline at age 15. His mother, Maria Bustill, was a teacher. When Paul was a high school senior, he won the statewide academic test and received a scholarship to Rutgers. In 1915 he was the third black to enter Rutgers and the first to play football. He died January 23, 1976.

A true renaissance man, Robeson won 12 letters in four sports at Rutgers - four in football, three each in basketball and baseball, and two in track. After his tenure at Rutgers, he became an accomplished actor, singer and lecturer, and was recently commemorated on a US postal stamp.

Kroll is the 6th Rutgers Selection to College Football Hall of Fame

Alex Kroll, a consensus All-American center on Rutgers' first undefeated football team in 1961, is the Scarlet Knights' sixth inductee into the College Football Hall of Fame, as a part of the Class of 1997.

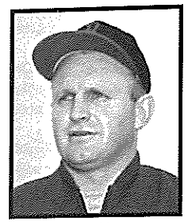

Kroll followed end Paul Robeson, halfback Homer Hazel and coaches George Foster Sanford and Harvey Harman into this most cherished of college football's honors. Former athletic director George Little is also among the all-time honorees.

Kroll, a 6-2, 228-pound center and linebacker, was a major force in Rutgers compiling a 17-1 record in his two years of play "On the Banks." In 1960, the Knights under coach John Bateman were 8-1 and followed up with the school's first undefeated campaign, going 9-0 in 1961. Team captain of the lauded 1961 squad, Kroll was a two-time first-team All-ECAC choice and won first-team All-American honors from Associated Press, United Press International, Newspaper Enterprise Association, Look, and the American Football Coaches Association. Known as a "coach on the field," he was credited with making the quarterback sneak an offensive weapon as Rutgers scored seven TDs on that play in 1961 with Kroll clearing the way into the endzone for the signal-caller.

He was also a first-team All-East choice by the AP in 1961 and played in the North-South game and the Senior Bowl. In 1960, he was an honorable mention All-American. Following his senior season, he was a second-round draft pick of the New York Titans, playing for one season in 1962.

Kroll earned a BA in English Literature in 1962 and was a Henry Rutgers Scholar with a perfect grade point average in his major. He received a National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Post-Graduate Scholarship in 1961. In 1986, he was awarded the Silver Anniversary Award from the National Collegiate Athletic Association for his collegiate achievements.

Immediately following his last game with the Titans, he joined the workforce at Young & Rubicam, the world's largest independent advertising agency, as a copywriter. After a succession of writing and supervisory jobs in the creative department, he was named executive vice president and worldwide creative director in 1970. He was named president and chief operating officer in 1982 and, four years later, Kroll became chairman of Young & Rubicam. He is retired but still serves as Chairman Emeritus of Young & Rubicam. He resides in Charlotte, VT, with his wife, Phyllis. They have three children.

Harvey Harman

HARVEY HARMAN

Few men loved the game with the fervor of Harvey Harman, a huge man with a grand smile and a fierce dedication to the sport.

A former president of the American Football Coaches Association, Harman received that group's Amos Alonzo Stagg Award, symbolic of outstanding service to the profession. It was not surprising that Harman achieved such acclaim, for he learned his football lessons from two of the game's mentors - Glenn "Pop" Warner and Jock Sutherland - while at Pittsburgh.

Harman was a starting tackle for the Panthers before taking his first coaching assignment at Haverford. From there he moved on to Sewanee (the University of the South), Pennsylvania and Rutgers.

It was at Rutgers that he had his greatest success, directing the Scarlet Knights to a 26-7-1 record before interrupting his career to serve in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Harman returned to Rutgers after the war and led the Scarlet Knights for another 10 seasons before accepting a position as Executive Director of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, Inc. In that capacity, Herman became known as the goodwill ambassador for football, continuing to serve the game until his death in 1969. His career record lists a slate of 140-104-7.

Homer Hazel

HOMER HAZEL

He parted his dark hair down the middle, in the fashion of the day, and his deep-set eyes glowed with a competitive fire. Homer Hazel, Rutgers' first Hall of Famer, was, without doubt, the most versatile player the Scarlet ever produced.

A natural athlete, Hazel excelled in various sports and was most successful as a track and field star. His speed and quickness served him well, for he once recovered his own kickoff in the enemy end zone for a touchdown.

Homer led Rutgers to identical 7-1-1 records in his final two seasons, earning All-America laurels in each. He was an end in 1923, when the only Scarlet loss was to West Virginia (27-7). He had Rutgers on the way to an unbeaten finish in 1924 - this time as a hard-hitting fullback - when Bucknell untracked the Scarlet in the final game of the season, 12-7. During the 1924 campaign, Homer Hazel established school records for most points after a touchdown and longest completed pass.

He could do it all. Carrying 226 pounds over a 5-foot-11 frame, Homer lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track at Rutgers. He later served as Athletic Director, football and basketball coach at the University of Mississippi for more than five years. He was a golf pro for four years, and a labor relations manager for more than 20 years.

Hazel won his first letter in football at Rutgers in 1916. He left school because of a lack of funds. Hazel worked at various jobs and, at age 28, played football again at Rutgers. Walter Camp named him All-America end in 1923, All-America fullback in 1924. Hazel was born June 2, 1895, and died February 3, 1968.

George Little

GEORGE LITTLE

A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, George Little opened his coaching career at the University of Cincinnati and produced a two-year record of 10-8-0 before moving up the road to Oxford, Ohio, home of the Miami Redskins, in 1916. There, Little brought the Redskins their first Conference Championship and a 7-0-1 mark.

After service in World War I, Little returned to Miami and directed the Red and White to yet another league crown and a three-year post-war record of 20-3-1. He also coached the Miami basketball and track teams, claiming a conference crown in the latter sport.

The 1922 and 1923 seasons found Little at Michigan under head coach Fielding Yost, the man he replaced in 1924. That year, Little's Wolverines were 6-2. The next season, Little was in Wisconsin as the new Athletic Director and head coach of the Badgers, and he led his charges to a two-year mark of 11-3-2. His teams displayed imagination and strength on offense, a unique ruggedness on defense.

Little wound up his collegiate career as the Athletic Director at Rutgers, and then served as executive secretary of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

George Foster Sanford

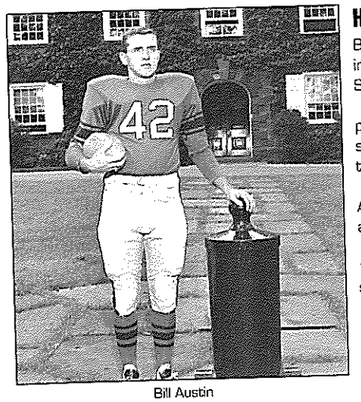

GEORGE FOSTER SANFORD

At the entrance to Rutgers Stadium, inscribed upon a bronze plaque, is a tribute to George Sanford. It was financed and installed by his players, the men "...he inspired to deeds beyond themselves."

Undoubtedly, Sanford was an inspirational leader of men, a gentleman who excelled as both player and coach. Sanford played center on the 1891 and 1892 Yale teams which held each of of their 26 opponents scoreless. Though he was never chosen to an All-America team, a 1927 poll named him the all-time Yale center.

Sanford began his coaching career at Columbia (1899-1901), called in to revive the football program which had been abandoned after the 1891 campaign. His 1899 team defeated Yale for the first time ever, and it was at Columbia that Sanford developed the famous "Flying Hurdle Play" which saw Harold Weekes catapulted over the scrimmage line. Moving to Rutgers (1913-23), Sanford had marked success as his club rolled to a 56-32-5 record. He was hailed as a "miracle worker" in 1917, after his Rutgers team beat the heavily-favored Newport Naval Reserve All-Stars, 14-0. Between his teams at Columbia and Rutgers, Sanford devoted his energy toward a successful insurance brokerage business.

ALL-AMERICANS

Bill Austin

HEISMAN CANDIDATE BILL AUSTIN

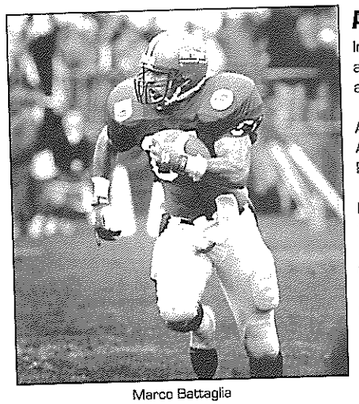

Bill Austin, a Fanwood, NJ native and graduate of nearby Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School, captured the imagination of the college football community in the late 1950's. His twisting, elusive running style helped him lead the Scarlet Knights in rushing for three straight seasons.

Not blessed with great size at 5-11, 170, the speedy Austin amassed 2,073 yards rushing and scored 204 points. He was a prototype single-wing tailback who, in his day, had few peers. His 32-touchdown career ranks second in the Rutgers annals among all-time scorers and he had 13 interceptions from his defensive back position, which is one short of the all-time mark.

A member of the inaugural Rutgers Football Hall of Fame Class in 1988, Austin was a first-team AP All-American selection in 1958. The 1958 Rutgers football media guide referred to Austin as "a natural leader with an even temperament."

The Scarlet's team captain in 1958, Austin led Rutgers to an 8-1 record with the lone blemish being a 13-12 defeat at the hands of the Quantico Marines. Rutgers fans from this era will recall that Austin was forced to sit out the Quantico Marines game with a hand injury. The Scarlet's first undefeated season came in 1961. The 1976 team also posted a perfect record. If not for an injury suffered by the team's best player, 1958 may have been Rutgers' first undefeated season.

An honorable mention All-American lacrosse player for two seasons, Austin was selected by the Washington Redskins in the 1959 NFL draft.

Marco Battaglia

ALL-AMERICAN MARCO BATTAGLIA

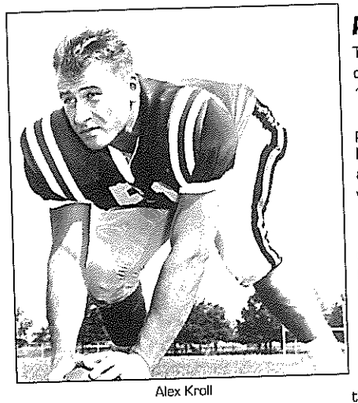

In 1993, Marco Battaglia caught 27 passes. In 1994, that number swelled to 58. By 1995, he was being hailed as the nation's best tight end. Following a 69-catch, 894-yard, 10-touchdown season in 1995, there was no longer a debate as to who was the nation's best.

He was a consensus First-Team All-America, having earned first-team honors by the Football Writer's Association, the Walter Camp Foundation, the Associated Press and the American College Football Coaches Association and appeared on the Bob Hope Christmas Special. Battaglia was also named the BIG EAST Offensive Player of the Year. He played in the prestigious East-West Shrine Game.

The signature game of his career came at Giants Stadium against Penn State. In a game televised nationally by ESPN, Battaglia showed the nation what he was all about. He grabbed a school-record tying 13 catches for 184 yards (third-best all-time at RU) and scored three touchdowns.

Combining speed, strength and the heart of a lion, this 6-3, 245-pounder was the second tight end taken in the 1996 NFL draft, a second-round draft choice of the Cincinnati Bengals.

For his career, Battaglia finished with a school record 171 receptions for 2,221 yards, a figure which places him second on the all-time list. His seven 100-yard plus receiving games is also a Rutgers record.

Alex Kroll

ALL-AMERICAN ALEX KROLL

The great Alex Kroll took a rather circuitous path on his way to Rutgers football stardom. The 6-2, 228-pound center excelled for two seasons at Yale before serving two years in the Army. After forming a friendship with 1957 Scarlet co-captain Art Robinson at Fort Campbell, Kentucky, Kroll transferred to Rutgers.

The Leechburg, PA, native immediately gained the notice of the Rutgers coaching staff with his physical prowess, an asset that was only overshadowed by his keen intellect. The captain of the undefeated 1961 team, Kroll's senior biography in the 1961 Rutgers football media guide included the following anecdote: "his performance and leadership in 1960 helped Rutgers to a season which surpassed even the most optimistic of the previews. He has size, speed, hustle, and an uncanny ability to call defenses best equipped to stop the enemy."

It is no small coincidence that, in his two years "On the Banks," the Scarlet Knights amassed a 17-1 record.

An AP first-team All-American in 1961, Kroll, who was also a top-notch linebacker, was regarded as the finest center in the nation. A draft choice of the AFL's New York Titans, Kroll had a brief professional football career. However, his uncanny intelligence, leadership qualities and savvy, traits that he honed on the gridiron, have served him well in his long and prosperous business career.

A Henry Rutgers Scholar with a perfect grade-point average, Kroll served as the president and CEO of Young and Rubicam, the world's largest advertising company, and credits much of his success to his football days at Rutgers.

Kroll was a member of the inaugural Rutgers Football Hall of Fame Class of 1988, and was also selected to the College Football Hall of Fame.

CLASS OF 2005 INDUCTEE

Terrell Willis

The leading rusher in Rutgers football history, Terrell Willis boasted an explosive combination of blazing speed, uncanny moves, and uncommon balance. From 1993-1995, the Orange, NJ native rushed for 3,114 yards on 588 carries and 20 touchdowns. With a knack for eluding would-be tacklers with an array of swift spin moves, Willis burst onto the national scene with a brilliant redshirt freshman season in 1993, amassing 2,026 all-purpose yards, which not only shattered the NCAA freshman record previously held by Georgia's Herschel Walker, but was also second in the nation. In 1993, Willis was named Rookie of the Year by the BIG EAST, Sports Illustrated, UPI, ECAC and Football News. He was named first-team All-BIG EAST as a running back, second-team All-BIG EAST as a return specialist, and was named ECAC Rookie of the Week six times. In 1994, Willis ran for 1,080 yards on 216 carries with five TDS and again earned first-team All-BIG EAST honors. In 1995, he gained another 773 yards on 177 carries and two TDs. On November 12, 1994, Willis rushed for a school-record 232 yards on 35 carries and two TDs.

CLASS OF 2004 INDUCTEE

Travis Broadbent
Class of 1992

Broadbent anchored an offensive line that helped the 1992 Scarlet Knights achieve a 7-4 record, led by a high-powered offense that averaged 31 points per game, which was 12th in the nation. Following the 1992 campaign, the Tyrone, PA native was named First Team All-ECAC and All East (Second Team) by the Associated Press. A year earlier, the 6-2, 280-pound Broadbent earned Second-Team All-BIG EAST honors in the conference's inaugural year. He also earned All-East (First Team) honors from the Associated Press, and All-ECAC honors in 1991.

CLASS OF 2003 INDUCTEES

Harry Swayne
Class of 1990

Swayne played for the Scarlet Knights from 1983-1986, and was a starting defensive tackle for three seasons. His best season came as a senior in 1986, when he registered 51 tackles, five sacks, nine tackles for loss and three fumble recoveries. Swayne was taken in the ninth round of the 1987 NFL draft by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and proceeded to play 15 seasons in the NFL. He played with the Bucs (1987-90), Chargers (1991-96), Broncos (1997-98), Ravens (1999-2000) and Dolphins (2001). He captured three Super Bowl rings (two with Denver, one with Baltimore) during his career and also won an AFC Championship with the Chargers.

Dick Hale
Class of 1944

Hale was a long-time supporter of Rutgers Athletics and the building which houses the football locker rooms, athletic training room, coaches offices and strength and conditioning facilities bears his name. He also served as an advisor to University President Richard L. McCormick as a member of the Board of Overseers and was also a member of the President's Council executive committee. He received the George H. Cook Award in 1997, Cook College's highest alumni recognition for outstanding achievement and was inducted into the Rutgers Hall of Distinguished Alumni that same year. Hale, who pased away in 2004, was also a veteran of two wars, serving in both World War II and the Korean War, receiving the Silver Star and two Bronze stars for bravery in combat.

CLASS OF 2002 INDUCTEES

Andrew "Abe" Sivess
Class of 1949

Sivess (B.S. '49; M.A., Education, '50) was a long-time member of the Rutgers University athletic department, serving on the athletic training staff from 1946 to 1984. He was appointed the head athletic trainer in 1965 and worked with the football program during the 1960's and 1970's, including the team's undefeated seasons in 1961 and 1976. As a student-athlete at Rutgers, Sivess earned 10 varsity letters (two in football and four each in basketball and baseball), helping the basketball team to a 13-7 mark in 1945-46 and the football team to a combined 12-4 mark in 1945-46. A native of South River, he also served as the golf coach at Rutgers from 1973-1982, guiding the team to an undefeated season in 1979. He was a Navy veteran of World War II.

Shawn Williams
Class of 1993

Williams was an All-BIG EAST as well as All-East (Associated Press) selection at outside linebacker following his senior season in 1992. A captain that year, Williams helped lead Rutgers to a 7-4 record, including a 4-2 mark in BIG EAST play. He began his career in 1989, and was in on 34 tackles, the most by a freshman that season. As a sophomore in 1990, he was third on the team with 60 tackles, including a career-high 16 in a win over Army. In 1991, Williams was among the top linebackers in the East, registering 79 tackles, second-best on the team, and leading the BIG EAST with 13 sacks for minus 78 yards. As a senior, Williams capped his standout career with 69 tackles, giving him 242 in his career which, at the time of his graduation, ranked him among the top linebackers to ever play at Rutgers. His 21 career quarterback sacks rank fourth in school history.

CLASS OF 2001 INDUCTEES

Steve Tardy
Class of 1990

Steve Tardy arrived at Rutgers in the fall of 1985 after a standout scholastic career at nearby Hillsborough High School. Following a red-shirt season, he turned in a productive and durable Scarlet Knight career from 1986-89. He was a standout guard on some of the finest offensive teams in Scarlet Knight history that were led at quarterback by fellow RU Football Hall of Fame member Scott Erney. Quiet and unassuming, the 6-5, 273-pound Tardy was a perfectionist both on the football field and in the classroom. He was a 1988 AP All-American (honorable mention), and earned All-East honors from 1987-89. Tardy won the David Bender Trophy in 1987 and 1988 as the team's top offensive lineman, and in 1988 and 1989, he won the Upstream Award as the team's top student-athlete. A civil engineering major, his efforts were also recognized on the national level as he was a CoSIDA-GTE second-team Academic All-American in 1989 and a 1989 National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete.

Eric Young
Class of 1989

A standout receiver and special teams performer during his career, Eric Young was among the top offensive players in the East during his Rutgers career from 1985-88. In four seasons, Young caught 109 passes for 1,380 yards and nine touchdowns. He graduated as the third-leading receiver in school history and, at the time of his induction, was seventh all-time. He led the Scarlet Knights in receiving yards as a junior with 364 yards and as a senior with 592, which was the fifth-highest total at the time of his graduation. On special teams, Young returned 64 punts, which served as the top mark at the time. He also graduated fourth on the all-time all-purpose yardage list with 2,928 and, at the time of time of his induction, ranked eighth. A two-time All-East selection as a wide receiver, Young was also a standout baseball player at Rutgers, earning all-conference honors on two occasions. Young moved on to professional baseball and broke into the Major Leagues in 1992 with the Los Angeles Dodgers. A National League All-Star in 1996, Young is a member of the San Diego Padres.

CLASS OF 2000 INDUCTEES

Albert Kosup
Class of 1978

Kosup came to Rutgers in 1973 from nearby J.P. Stevens High School in Edison. He was one of the top quarterbacks to ever play for Rutgers and was the starting signal-caller in one of the most successful eras in Scarlet Knight history. Kosup was at the controls during the "Perfect Season" of 1976 when Rutgers posted an unblemished 11-0 record and finished the year ranked No. 17 in the country. As a sophomore in 1974, he threw for over 1,000-yards and guided Rutgers to that season's NCAA high of 781 yards total offense (against Colgate).

Francis "Peaches" Heanen
Class of 1934

Heenan was a three-year letterwinner for Rutgers (1931-33) and was an "ironman" offensive and defensive end in a time when Rutgers ran the ball 99% of the time. Heenan very rarely left the field and played virtually every minute of every game from 1931-33. Incredibly, he was on the field for all 600 minutes of the 1932 season. A rugged 180-pounder, his teams were 18-9-3 during his three varsity seasons. A native of Perth Amboy, he prepped at St. Mary's High School, and later returned to coach at St. Mary's for four years after his pro career.

CLASS OF 1999 INDUCTEE

He was a first-team All-BIG EAST selection in his senior year (1992) after hauling in 56 passes for 755 yards (13.5 yards per catch) and six touchdowns. He was also a first team All-East selection (Associated Press), and was a honorable mention All-America selection by UPI following his outstanding senior campaign. Guarantano came to Rutgers after an outstanding scholastic career at Lodi High School.

CLASS OF 1998 INDUCTEES

Lawrence "Larry" Pitt
Class of 1939

In 1969, to commemorate the centennial of college football, Pitt literally "wrote the book," putting the finishing touches on a highly-informative 163-page piece of work entitled Football at Rutgers, A History, 1869-1969. His passion for Rutgers University and its athletic teams is unparalleled and he was a noted speaker and historian for Rutgers football. A charter member of the Football Hall of Fame committee, Pitt was a varsity letterwinner in 150-pound football and lacrosse.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

Ken Smith
Class of 1981

Smith was a key performer on Frank Burns' highly-successful teams from 1977-1980. Smith played an integral role in helping the Scarlet Knights achieve a record of 32-13 and four winning seasons and played in the 1978 Garden State Bowl. Smith was one of the best defensive backs in school history, and consistency was his hallmark. Smith was a 1981 First-team AP All-East selection and 1979 honorable mention AP All-East choice.

Tyronne Stowe
Class of 1987

One of the most accomplished players in Rutgers history, Stowe was named AP All-American (HM) in 1985 and 1986. In addition, he was a 1st-team AP All-East choice as an inside linebacker in 1985 and 1986, a first team All-ECAC choice in 1986 and a 2nd team AP All-East selection in 1984. Stowe was a two-time Homer Hazel Award winner as team MVP in 1985 and 1986 and was a 1986 Blue-Gray game participant. He holds the single game tackles mark with 27 vs. West Virginia in 1986 and is the Scarlet Knight career leader in tackles with 533. He also holds single season marks for total tackles (157 in 1985), assisted tackles (81 in 1986) and is second in unassisted tackles (106 in 1985). Stowe played 10 seasons in the NFL.

Charles Hoyt "Bus" Terrill
Class of 1926

Terrill was a four-year letterwinner (1921, 23-25) and helped lead teams to a 7-1-1 record in both 1923 and 1924. He was regarded as a dangerous punt and kickoff returner and a reliable punter and was named honorable mention New York Herald All-East in 1923, and 1st-Team New York Sun All-East in 1924. In 1923, he had 997 return yards and averaged more than 8 yards per carry (50 carries, 407 yards).

CLASS OF 1997 INDUCTEES

Anton "Tony" Hoeflinger
Class of 1964

An All-East ECAC 1st team member in 1963, he was the team captain that year and the recipient of the David Bender trophy as the team's top lineman. He started in all but three games in his three-year career (27) and was a Williamson All-America. Hoeflinger advanced from a fifth-string freshman fullback to become a starting right guard on the 1961 undefeated team. Also a linebacker on defense, this history major's speed was his best attribute on the playing field.

Glen Kehler
Class of 1979

An AP All-East (HM) selection in 1978 as a fullback, Kehler gained 2,567 rushing yards in his is career (the most by a RU fullback). Kehler was a three-year starter, and helped lead Rutgers to a 28-6 mark over that span. He was the team's leading rusher in 1976, 1977 and 1978. He ranks fifth in career carries with 537, and averaged 4.8 yards per career in his career. This sturdy back had five 100-yard games in his career. Kehler was a star player at a vaunted Westfield High School program where his father, Gary, was the legendary coach.

Kevin Kurdyla
Class of 1981

An Associated Press All-East selection in 1978, 1979, and 1980, Kurdyla is one of only two offensive linemen in the modern era to win three All-East accolades. In addition, he was an honorable mention Associated Press All-American in 1980, winner of the David Bender trophy in 1979 and 1980, and a four-year letterwinner. The Scarlet Knights were 32-13 in his time as a player. Following his career, he was a free agent for the NY Giants. He is a product of Newark East Side High School, where he earned all-county, all-city, and all-state honors.

Elnardo Webster
Class of 1992

A first-team All-BIG EAST, AP All-East and ECAC All-Star as an outside linebacker in 1991, Webster was also the Homer Hazel Award winner in 1991, the Bender Trophy winner (defense) in 1989 and 1990. He also earned honorable mention All-East honors from AP in 1991. Webster was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers in the ninth round in 1992, and made the team before his career was ended with a knee injury. A co-captain in 1991, Webster led the team in tackles in 1990 and 1991. A four-year letterwinner, his hometown is Jersey City, where he played at St. Peter's Prep.

John "Mike" Wittpenn
Class of 1918

A halfback and end who was characterized as an "outstandingly effective" player, Wittpenn continues to hold the interception return record of 99 yards against Stevens Institute in 1915. He earned four letters from 1913-1916, served as an assistant coach in 1917, a volunteer assistant coach form 1918-20 and coached the freshmen team from 1925-27 under Jack Wallace. Bill Pickel
Class of 1983

Pickel won four letters at Rutgers from 1979-82. He earned honorable mention AP All-East honors in his junior year (1981), despite missing five games with a back injury, but still recorded 58 tackles and four sacks. The winner of the David Bender Trophy as the team's best lineman in 1982, the Cronin Trophy (most improved) in 1980 and the Touchdown Club Trophy in 1982, he ranks sixth in career sacks with 16 as well as 10th on the career unassisted tackles list with 160. A starter with the Raiders and Jets during his 13-year career, he is the owner of a Super Bowl championship ring with the Raiders in 1984.

Earl Read
Class of 1950

A stalwart, starting offensive guard on the "Golden Era" teams, Read won three letters from 1947-49. During that time the Knights compiled a sterling 21-6 record when he blocked and opened holes for the likes of Frank Burns, Herm Hering, Harvey Grimsley and Hank Pryor. During the 1947 season, Rutgers won eight games by a margin of over three touchdowns per contest. His speed and power earned him an All-East selection by nationally-known writer Stanley Woodward. A Merchant Marine veteran and a native of Phillipsburg, he was captain of the 1949 Scarlet squad.

Steve Simms
Class of 1962

A two-time honorable mention All-American, Simms was a first-team All-ECAC selection in1960 and a first-team AP All-East choice. He led the 1960 and 1961 teams in rushing. Described as the East's best fullback in his senior year, his best asset was his power running ability. He paced the 1960 team in scoring with six TDs. He scored the go-ahead touchdown vs. Columbia to preserve the undefeated season in 1961. With 205 career rushes, he gained 1,240 career yards for an astounding 6.0 yards per attempt.

CLASS OF 1995 INDUCTEES

Scott Erney
Class of 1989

The most prolific passer in Rutgers football history, Erney was an honorable mention AP All-American in 1988. This Mechanicsburg, Pa., native was a three-time Homer Hazel Award winner and a co-winner of the Leslie Coursen Award. Erney holds every Rutgers major passing category record - yards (7,188) and completions (614). He holds the school record with 436 yards passing vs. Vanderbilt in 1988. He threw for more than 300 yards in a game on four occasions. He is also the single-season leader in attempts (374 in 1989), completions (208 in 1989) and yards (2,536 in 1989).

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

Jim Hughes
Class of 1978

A Verona, N.J., native, Hughes was an honorable mention AP All-American selection in 1976 and was a first-team ECAC selection in 1976 and 1978. He was the co-captain of the team in 1977 and had 10 career interceptions for 222 yards. Hughes' 113 tackles made him the leading tackler on the undefeated 1976 team and he added five interceptions (eighth-best single-season mark) for 133 yards. The 1976 Scarlet defense led the nation in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense. He was named the ABC Defensive Player of the Game in the season-ending win over Colgate.

John "By" O'Hearn
Class of 1954

O'Hearn was rated as one of the East's outstanding linemen. The sturdy 6-0, 210-pounder was an honorable mention AP All-American as a center in 1954. O'Hearn was a Colliiers' first-team All-East pick in 1954 and was the winner of the David Bender Trophy, emblematic of the team's top lineman. He served as co-captain of the 1954 team and played three years at guard before switching to center as a senior. The Maplewood, NJ native was also a key cog in the Rutgers defense from his linebacker position and was regarded as a powerful, aggressive player.

Kennan Startzell
Class of 1980

A reliable placekicker who combined great accuracy with tremendous leg strength, Startzell parlayed these assets into becoming Rutgers' all-time leading scorer with 261 career points. The Levittown, Pa., native is also the school's all-time leader in field goals with 46. His field goal percentage of .590 (46-of-78) is sixth-best all-time. Startzell led the Scarlet Knights in scoring in 1976 and 1978 and was the Touchdown Trophy recipient in 1979, a year where he was named first-team AP All-East. The four teams he played on posted a combined record of 36-9.

John Toohey
Class of 1915

Toohey was an All-American defensive tackle in 1914, a season which saw him serve as captain of the Rutgers team. Toohey played both offensive and defensive tackle and excelled on both sides of the line. He was selected to the Rutgers Athletic Hall of Fame by the Committee of Six. Toohey was named to the Rutgers All-Time Football Team in the 1940's along with fellow Rutgers Hall of Famer Bob Nash.

CLASS OF 1994 INDUCTEES

An honorable mention All-American in 1972 as a tight end, he shared the Homer Hazel Award that year with "JJ" Jennings as team's Most Valuable Player. He was a first-team AP All-East selection in 1972, and hauled in 68 career passes, and snared eight touchdown passes in 1970. He also caught three touchdown passes vs. Holy Cross. He signed a free agent contract with the Baltimore Colts in 1973.

Dan Gray
Class of 1978

A defensive tackle, Gray won the David Bender Trophy, emblematic of the team's top lineman, in 1977. He was an integral member of the 1976 undefeated team. His 29 career quarterback sacks are second-best all-time and his 224 yards lost on those sacks is also second-best. He totaled 80 tackles in his senior season, including seven quarterback sacks. A durable performer, Gray started all 33 games over his last three seasons.

Frank Kelley
Class of 1919

Kelley was a third-team Walter Camp All-American in 1918 and was an honorable mention choice on the mythical Rutgers Athletic Roll of Honor by the Committee of Six. He scored 10 touchdowns in 1917, including four in one game. One of those scores was a six-year sneak through center in a tough, exciting 7-7 Neilson Field tie with West Virginia. He transferred to Yale in 1920 but returned in 1921 to become an assistant coach at Rutgers under George Foster Sanford.

Sam Mudie
Class of 1962

Mudie passed for 23 touchdowns in three seasons. He began his career as a single-wing tailback for two years; he also punted and was the leading pass defender with six interceptions. Mudie was the Homer Hazel Award Winner in 1961, and was president of his junior class and president of Phi Gamma Delta. He was the 1962 Coursen Award winner and also served as co-captain of the 1961 lacrosse team.

Henry Pryor
Class of 1950

Pryor was one of the top players in the late 1940's, the "Golden Era" of Rutgers football. He played and won a letter in 1946, left school for the 1947 season and returned to play in 1948 and 1949. He entered Rutgers after serving two years in the Marines. He averaged 6.1 yards and led the team with 340 yards in 1948. He ran back 24 punts and six kickoffs for total of 643 yards, averaging 21.3 yards on runbacks, and led team in scoring with 36 points.

Lee Schneider
Class of 1970

A rugged linebacker, Schneider served as co-captain of the 1969 team and played in the famed Centennial Game vs. Princeton. He was a defensive mainstay for three years "On the Banks." He was an honorable mention AP All-East selection in 1969 and winner of the 1969 Touchdown Trophy Award. He later played with the New York Giants and the New York Titans (later the Jets) of the AFL. An assistant coach at Rutgers from 1970 to 74, Schneider is currently the Dean of Students at Cook College.

CLASS OF 1993 INDUCTEES

Deron Cherry
Class of 1980

A second-team AP All-East selection in 1979 and 1980, a 1980 co-captain and the Homer Hazel Award winner as the team MVP in 1979, Cherry recorded nine career interceptions and punted for a record 39.4 career average. His 12-year career with the Kansas City Chiefs was highlighted by six Pro Bowl appearances, all as a starter. His commanding presence made the Chiefs' secondary the NFL's top unit. The Palmyra native received the Byron White Humanitarian Award for his distinguished service to his team, community and country.

Harvey Grimsley
Class of 1950

The leading scorer with 168 points for four varsity seasons during the "Golden Era" between 1946 and 1949, Grimsley tallied eight touchdowns in three of his four seasons, when the Scarlet Knights posted a 28-8 record. In 1947, the 26-year old Army veteran averaged over five yards per carry and scored 48 points for the third time in an outstanding career. He capped his career by racing 63 yards in characteristic fashion for a touchdown against Fordham in his final contest. He scored two or more touchdowns in a game 11 times, and had 28 touchdowns for his career.

Ed McMichael
Class of 1980

McMichael was a second-team AP All-East selection in 1980 after receiving honorable mention All-East honors in 1979. He engineered the stunning 1979 victory over Tennessee and established new passing marks in a two-year career. Also at the helm in the 1980 thriller against Alabama, McMichael passed for 3,584 yards and completed 292 passes for 61.6 completion percentage. A 1980 squad captain, he threw for 20 career touchdowns, four of which came in the 1980 Princeton game, the last scheduled against the Tigers. He also played briefly for the New Jersey Generals in the USFL.

Sam Picketts
Class of 1972

A tri-captain of the 1971, Scarlet Knights, Picketts won first-team ECAC linebacking honors in 1970 and 1971, along with second-team AP notice that year. The Homer Hazel Trophy winner in 1971, he was a prototype of the modern linebacker and he made the width of the field his province. He recorded seven career interceptions and led the team with five in 1971. He returned a theft 54 yards for a score against Harvard and also blocked a punt for a safety in a 9-0 victory over Lehigh in 1970.

John Powers
Equipment Manager (1931-75)
Powers enjoyed a Rutgers career that encompassed four athletic directors and eight head football coaches. Considered "an institution of the University" by the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics, he was a one-man staff proud of the services he warmly provided to thousands of athletes. His close relationships with coaches and players and his continuing interest in Scarlet Knight football endeared him to all as a gentle man in all respects.

Arnold "Arnie" Truex
Class of 1936
An honorable mention All-American and an All-East selection in 1934 as a triple-threat tailback, he went on to a remarkable 39-year teaching and coaching career in New Jersey. One of the nation's top punters and field goal experts during his playing career, Truex posted a 137-51-6 scholastic coaching record with six undefeated seasons and six state and conference titles. Co-founder of the Shore Conference, he also coached basketball, profoundly influencing thousands of students and athletes.

CLASS OF 1992 INDUCTEES

John Alexander
Class of 1977
Alexander achieved honorable mention All-America honors in 1975. A first-team All-East selection in 1976, he teamed with Hall of Famer Nate Toran to head a Scarlet defense which was first in the nation in rushing defense, total defense and scoring defense. Alexander played on teams that amassed a 33-10-1 record, including the 11-0 mark in 1976. He was drafted by the Miami Dolphins, but he had a short-lived professional career due to injuries.

Jack Emmer
Class of 1967
Emmer once held the game, season and career records for receptions at Rutgers and his 237 receiving yards in the 1966 Holy Cross game remains a Rutgers record. Emmer, recently retired as the lacrosse coach at Army, was a second-team lacrosse All-American in 1967 and was an All-East selection in football, as well as the team captain and MVP in 1966.

Dr. Joel Fertig
Team Dentist for 45 Years
A fixture on the Rutgers athletic scene for nearly a half-century, Fertig entered the Hall of Fame for his impact on the program. A Mississippi State graduate, he is credited with being the first dentist in the East to introduce mouthpieces to high school athletes. He endowed a football scholarship and was a past president of the Touchdown Club.

Herman Hering
Class of 1950
Hering led the Scarlet Knight rushers in 1946 and 1947, a period known as the "Golden Era" of Rutgers football. He gained 510 and 528 yards in back-to-back seasons and was named an honorable mention All-East tailback in 1947. His 80 points in 1946 ranked third-best in the East ahead of both of Army's Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside tandem of Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard. A four-year letterwinner as a baseball outfielder, he won 11 games as a pitcher, including two victories in the 1950 College World Series.

Dino Mangiero
Class of 1980
Mangiero co-captained the 1979 Scarlet squad and was a key force in the celebrated victory at Tennessee that season. A third-team Associated Press All-American and a first-team All-East pick, Mangiero contributed 288 career tackles and 26 quarterback sacks, figures that rank eighth and third, respectively, on the all-time lists. He went on to play with four NFL teams in Kansas City, Seattle, San Francisco and New England.

Bryant Mitchell
Class of 1969
Mitchell led Rutgers in rushing and scoring for three consecutive seasons and gained 2,286 career rushing yards, running 495 times, scoring 21 touchdowns and scoring 132 points, all marks still among the top 10 in Scarlet history. A first-team AP All-East selection in 1968, he was the Homer Hazel Trophy winner as a senior. In 1968, Mitchell gained over 100 yards in nine of 10 games, averaging an even five yards a carry and completing his career with a 4.6-yard average.

Leon Root
Class of 1951
The recipient of the David Bender Trophy twice as the team's leading lineman, Root was named the senior athlete of the year in 1950 and was presented with the Donald Leslie Coursen Award. An honorable mention All-East selection in 1950, Root played in the 1950 North-South Shrine game. Considered one of the nation's top centers after beginning his career as a running back, Root was also a top-notch linebacker. He served as president of the Class of 1950 and captained the 1950 squad.

Ed Steward
Class of 1981
Steward was an AP honorable mention All-American and a first-team All-East pick in 1978 as a middle guard. A veteran of Desert Storm, he had two key interceptions in the victory over Tennessee in 1979 and also had 15 tackles in the Garden State Bowl game against Arizona State in 1978. In his three seasons, Rutgers posted a 25-9 record as he contributed 222 career tackles and 13 quarterback sacks.

Walter Winika
Class of 1936
He was considered one of the East's top ends during the 1930's and was a member of the all-time All-Rutgers football team which was selected in 1940. He scored the only touchdown allowed by the celebrated 1933 Princeton team and was credited with winning, virtually single-handedly, the Boston University game in 1935. Compared often to Paul Robeson, Winika was killed in a plane crash at Trinidad in 1942, the first varsity athlete from Rutgers to perish in World War II.

CLASS OF 1991 INDUCTEES

Andrew Baker
Class of 1984
Known as "Shake and Bake," the Trenton native graduated as the all-time record holder for reception yardage (2,268) and receptions (127). Baker, an Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American and first-team All-East selection in 1984, received the Homer Hazel Trophy as the team's most valuable player that year. His 857 receiving yards in 1983 was second all-time in a season. Baker was known for the acrobatic, leaping catches that he routinely made.

John Bateman
Head Coach (1960-72)
Bateman directed the Scarlet Knights to an 8-1 record in his first season and followed that with an unblemished 9-0 mark in 1961, the first undefeated season for Rutgers. In his 13 seasons as head coach, Rutgers posted a mark of 73-51. Fondly known as "Dr. John," Bateman had a storied coaching career, which was highlighted also by the 1969 Centennial Game victory over Princeton.

Philip Brett
Class of 1892
Brett captained the 1892 Rutgers team and later served as acting president of the University in 1930-31. A longtime Trustee, he was, at one time, identified as the author of the famous statement, "I'd die for dear old Rutgers." Brett embraced the University and was singularly influential in major decisions made by the State University.

Al Garrett
Class of 1919
Garrett captained the 1919 Rutgers squad and starred at several positions on both offense and defense. Tabbed a "human bullet" by his coach, George Foster Sanford, Garrett was a third-team Walter Camp All-American in 1916. He later played and coached at the professional level and taught at Rutgers-Newark for 20 years while also gaining fame as an official.

William "Bucky" Hatchett
President of the Class of 1950
Hatchett established records in football, basketball and track and is considered one of Rutgers' greatest all-around athletes. The first basketball player to score over 1,000 points and a record-setter in the high hurdles and the high jump, Hatchett shared the record with three touchdown receptions in a game for more than 40 years. He was inducted into the Rutgers Basketball Hall of Fame in 1994.

Mike Kushinka
Class of 1949
Kushinka was the first recipient of the David Bender Trophy, as the top lineman on the 1948 squad. An All-East selection in 1947, he played on teams that combined for a 22-5 record during his successful career. He and his family have close ties to Rutgers. His wife has a Rutgers doctorate and two daughters have master's degrees from the State University.

Mike Stang
Athletic Trainer for 33 Years
Stang was revered for his concern for the athletes under his care. Stang coached baseball at St. Peter's High School and was also a highly-respected and well-known official for many years. Retiring in 1966, he was twice given testimonial dinners attended by hosts of former Rutgers athletes.

Vinnie Utz
Class of 1942
Utz captained the 1941 Rutgers squad and was an honorable mention All-American that season, when he led Rutgers in rushing and keyed a 7-2 season. One of the most colorful of Rutgers athletes, "The Wizard of Utz" was also a member of the 7-1-1 team in 1939. A decorated war hero, he remained a flamboyant follower of Rutgers football during his professional career at Johnson & Johnson.

Bruce Van Ness
Class of 1970
Van Ness was the ECAC Football Sophomore of the Year in 1967 and played sensationally at five different positions for the Scarlet Knights. He accounted for 2,216 all-purpose yards during his collegiate career, which was capped by his selection as the most valuable player in the 1969 North-South All-Star game. Van Ness, now living in Rumson, was named Rookie of the Year in the Canadian Football League in 1970 and enjoyed an outstanding career with the Montreal Alouettes.

CLASS OF 1990 INDUCTEES

Thomas Turner Barr
Class of 1913
Judged too small to play football at Rutgers after a tryout as a freshman, he became a manager of the team as a senior in 1913. Upon his death in 1949, Barr bequeathed much of his estate to Rutgers. The fortune was held in trust for his wife with the stipulation that, upon her death, the money would go to the university to provide football scholarships. Mrs. Barr died in 1966. In 1967, the first Barr scholarships were awarded to four student-athletes - Murray Bakst, Steve Ferrughelli, Leo Smith and Kevin O'Connor.

David T. Bender
Class of 1925
A native of Bethlehem, PA, Bender entered Rutgers in 1921 and played four years of football and lacrosse. He was a tackle and center on the famed 1923 and 1924 squads, which posted identical 7-1-1 records. He received All-America recognition in lacrosse in 1924. He later became an assistant coach at Rutgers under both Henry Rockafeller and Harvey Harman. The David Bender Trophy has been awarded each year since 1947 to the squad's top offensive and defensive linemen.

John DeWitt
Class of 1886
DeWitt captained the 1884 football squad and earned seven letters in two periods of play. The New Brunswick native played on teams between 1883 and 1886, and, returning from railroad work in Iowa to become a mathematics instructor and an assistant in English composition, playing again between 1889 and 1891. DeWitt gained fame as a runner and dropkicker and starred in the first game on Neilson Field in 1891.

James Dumont
Class of 1984
A third-team All-American linebacker in 1983, he was a co-captain of the 1983 Rutgers football team and received AP first-team All-East honors in 1982 and 1983 after receiving honorable mention All-East recognition in 1981. He was an honorable mention All-American in 1982. His career produced 405 tackles, a Rutgers record until broken by Tyrone Stowe in 1986. Drafted by the Cleveland Browns in 1984, Dumont played in 17 games for the Browns that year and then with the New Jersey Generals of the USFL in 1985.

Harvey J. Harman
Head Coach (1938-41, 46-55)
A native of Selingsgrove, PA, Harman was a four-year starter as a tackle for Pittsburgh (Class of 1922) teams under Glenn "Pop" Warner. He arrived at Rutgers in 1938 and produced a 25-7-1 record in his first four seasons before receiving a commission as a lieutenant commander in the U.S. Naval Reserve and serving in several sea campaigns in the Far East. Harman returned to Rutgers in 1945 as head football coach and, in the next 10 seasons, posted a 48-37-1 mark. Overall, his record for 14 seasons at Rutgers was 73-44-2.

Edward Jones
Class of 1975
The Middletown (NJ) HS graduate still shares the Rutgers all-time interception record with 14. A co-captain of the 1974 squad, Jones was an AP Honorable Mention All-East selection in 1972 and and a second-team AP All-East choice in 1973. He led the Scarlet squad with seven interceptions in 1974 and was drafted by the Dallas Cowboys in the ninth round in 1975. He started at strong safety for the Buffalo Bills in 1975 and continued his brilliant career in the CFL with the Edmonton Eskimos and the British Columbia Lions from 1976 until 1985. He led the league with 11 interceptions in 1980.

James F. Monahan
Class of 1952
"Mighty Mo," who was named to the first-team All-East squad in 1951 by Collier's Magazine and by the American Football Coaches Association, captained the 1951 Rutgers team and was the squad's leading rusher in 1950 and 1951. His 81-yard run against Temple in 1951 remains the longest run from scrimmage in Rutgers football history. The West Haven, CT, native earned three letters in baseball and helped Rutgers post a 17-5 record in 1950, when the diamond squad won the District 2 title and finished as co-runner-up in the NCAA Tournament.

Richard F. Policastro
Class of 1970
A first-team All-East selection in 1969, he tossed 14 touchdown passes that season and led Rutgers to a 29-0 victory over Princeton in the nationally-televised Centennial Game, celebrating the 100th anniversary of football. A year earlier, in his first season after transferring from VMI, Policastro established six passing marks - 15 touchdown passes, 994 yards, four TD passes in a game, 17 completions and 30 pass attempts in a game, and 309 yards in a game. In 1969, the Highland Park native threw a record five TD passes against Colgate.

Robert Simms
Class of 1960
Simms led the Scarlet Knights in reception yardage for three consecutive seasons, gaining 180, 468 and 345 yards for the years between 1957 and 1959. In 1958, Simms caught a single-season record nine touchdown passes and was second on the charts with 13 for his career. His 64 points in 1958 ranked 10th in the nation. A first-team All-East selection that year, Simms was a ninth-round draft choice of the New York Giants as well as a fourth-round choice of Houston of the AFL, in 1960.

William Tranavitch
Class of 1940
Known as "Big Train," the Norwood, Mass., native captained the 1939 Rutgers team and was the nation's third-leading scorer with 90 points that year. He was the author of numerous memorable performances and in the Rutgers Stadium Dedication Game in 1938, scoring the first Rutgers touchdown in the celebrated 20-18 victory over Princeton. The Knights went on to post a 7-1 record, the best-ever at that point in Rutgers football history.

CLASS OF 1989 INDUCTEES

Henry Benkert
Class of 1925
A consensus newspaper All-American in 1924, "Heinie" led the East in scoring with 100 points. Also a second-team All-American in lacrosse, Benkert gained 2,124 yards during his career, which was the sixth-best figure in Rutgers history. He served on the Rutgers football staff between 1944 and 1949 and played professionally with the New York Giants and three other pro teams.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

Frank Burns
Class of 1949

The winningest coach in Rutgers football history, "Flinging Frank" quarterbacked the Scarlet Knights to a four-year, 27-7 record in the late forties. An honorable mention All-American, he was named the MVP of the 1949 College All-Star game, amassing 17 tackles as a linebacker against the New York Giants. As head coach between 1973 and 1983, he recorded a masterful 78-43-1 mark.

Dr. Hyman B. Copleman
Class of 1929

"Copey" gained the respect and admiration of thousands of Rutgers athletes in his 50 years as team physician. One of the nation's most highly-decorated physicians of World War II, the humanitarian and philanthropist became known as the Dean of Sports Medicine in New Jersey. "Copey" received the Rutgers Medal and the Loyal Son of Rutgers Medal and established the Copleman Scholarship Fund for scholar-athletes majoring in the biological sciences and pre-medical studies.

John "Jack" Grossman
Class of 1932

A prototype triple-threat tailback, Grossman received honorable mention All-American recognition in 1931 and went on to play with the Brooklyn Dodgers of the NFL for four seasons. He also played professional baseball and soccer in Latin America. Grossman captained the 1931 Rutgers squad.

James "JJ" Jennings
Class of 1975

This crunching runner led the nation in scoring in 1973, tallying 128 points, earning All-America honors and establishing Rutgers records with 2,935 career yards, 605 attempts and 33 touchdowns. He also owns the single-game marks of 40 attempts, and held the record of 230 yards for nearly 20 years. A resident of Holyoke, MA, Jennings, who played professionally with the Memphis Southmen and the Philadelphia Bell of the World Football League, was the league's Rookie of the Year in 1974.

William T. Leggett
Class of 1872

Leggett served as captain of the first Rutgers football team. While many of the Rutgers and Princeton players were socializing before the inaugural game on November 6, 1869, Leggett and the Princeton captain, William S. Gummere, developed the afternoon's rules of play. Under Leggett's leadership and tactical guidance, the Scarlet eked out a 6-4 victory. Leggett later became a distinguished clergyman of the Dutch Reformed Church.

Harry Rockafeller, Class of 1916
Head Coach (1927-30, 42-45) / Director of Athletics (1953-61)

"Rocky" recorded a 33-26 overall mark. One of the founders of the Eastern Intercollegiate Lightweight Football League, he coached the 150-pounders between 1933 and 1937, posting a 22-3-1 record. Associated with the university in various capacities for nearly 40 years, the 1915 All-American end served as director of athletics between 1953 and 1961. He is a member of the National College Football Hall of Fame.

George Foster Sanford
Head Coach (1913-23)

Sanford was elected to the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1971. A legend for his innovations and strategies, he also coached at Columbia at the turn of the century and is remembered with a plaque at Rutgers Stadium for his lasting influence on the character of his players. From 1913-1923, he led Rutgers to a fine 56-32-5 record. This period is recognized in Rutgers sports lore as the "Sanford Era."

Howard Parker Talman
Class of 1916

"Tal" captained the 1915 Rutgers squad and scored a single-game record of 48 points on six touchdowns and 12 extra points against RPI. That season, he scored 138 total points, at the time, a Scarlet record. On various All-America teams, Talman was recognized as a guard in 1913, as a halfback in 1914, and as a fullback in 1915. The versatile athlete played professionally for the Detroit Heralds and the Massillon Tigers.

CLASS OF 1988 INDUCTEES

William W. Austin
Class of 1959

A first-team All-American in 1958, Austin, though diminutive at 5-11, 170, amassed 2,073 yards and scored 204 points as he led the Scarlet in rushing for three years from his single-wing tailback spot. His 32 touchdowns ranked second among the all-time scorers and he had 13 interceptions. Austin was also a two-time honorable mention lacrosse All-American at Rutgers.

Homer H. Hazel
Class of 1925

Hazel was elected to the National Football Hall of Fame in 1951. He won All-America honors in 1923 as an end and repeated in 1924 as a fullback. The father of three children, "Pop" was an honor society member, President of his class and performed Bunyan-esque feats on the field. Hazel was elected posthumously and the Rutgers Team MVP is named in his honor.

Alexander Kroll
Class of 1962

An All-American at center and linebacker in 1961, Kroll led the Scarlet to its first undefeated season in 1961 (9-0) and spearheaded a two-season mark of 17-1. He was known for his smarts, toughness and savvy in the trenches. A Henry Rutgers Scholar with a perfect grade-point average, Kroll was the president and CEO of Young and Rubicam, the world's largest advertising agency.

George E. Little
Director of Athletics (1932-53)

Little was inducted into the coaching ranks of the National Football Hall of Fame in 1955. He coached at four colleges, including Michigan and Wisconsin, before coming to Rutgers where he was the dynamic force in the construction of the original Rutgers Stadium. Little was elected posthumously.

Robert A. Nash
Class of 1916

Known as "Nasty," Nash was named to Walter Camp's 1914 second-team All-America list during his junior season and went on to a superb, 10-year professional career. In 1921, he was traded by Akron to Buffalo in the first such NFL transaction and later had the distinction of being the first captain of the New York Giants in 1925. Nash was elected posthumously.

William Pellington
Class of 1952

A versatile player for the Scarlet for two years, Pellington earned major acclaim as a 12-year member of the Baltimore Colts. Pellington was the Colts' starting inside linebacker in the famous 1958 NFL Championship game, which saw Baltimore defeat the Giants in overtime at Yankee Stadium. Also a member of the 1959 World Champion Colt squad, he played through the 1964 season, when the Colts again went to the title game, however, losing to Cleveland.

Paul L. Robeson
Class of 1919

A 12-time letterwinner at Rutgers, Robeson was chosen an All-American in 1918 by Walter Camp, who called him the greatest end to "ever trod the gridiron." The second-highest ranking student in his graduating class, he was the first Rutgers player chosen a first-team All-American. After receiving a law degree from Columbia, Robeson went on to become a world reknown singer, athlete and social leader.

Nathaniel Toran
Class of 1977

A third-team All-American in 1975, Toran was a second team choice in 1976 and a Kodak first-team All-American when he led the Scarlet to an undefeated season. He captained a defensive unit that topped the nation in three defensive categories and his 52 sacks in three seasons is still a school record.

David A. "Sonny" Werblin
Class of 1931

The former president of the Rutgers Foundation, Werblin launched his business career as a freelance newspaper reporter while still a student and went on to become president of the Music Corporation of America from 1952 until 1965. After serving as president of the New York Jets until 1968, he was the guiding light of the New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority for seven years and then took over the leadership of Madison Square Garden in 1978.

RUTGERS STADIUM

The following excerpt came from the game program of the first game played in the New Rutgers Stadium, on September 3, 1994. Written by former Sports Information Director Bob Smith, this story chronicles the history of Rutgers Football and the stadium(s) it called home.

Far removed from midwestern corn fields where Hollywood created a baseball dream, Rutgers realized a football dream when the new Rutgers Stadium opened for the 1994 season.

The completion of the stadium, expanded to accommodate 41,500 fans, coincided neatly with the celebration of the 125th year of the game which, Rutgers and Princeton inaugurated in 1869.

The new stadium, financed by a New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority bond issue proposal, which was approved by the legislature and then Governor Jim Florio in January of 1992, was kicked off officially on March 9, 1993.

The historic groundbreaking ceremony drew over 500 as a host of state dignitaries spoke glowingly of the meaning for the University and the state. The stadium project would include expansion to nearly 42,000 seats with all the amenities of a first-class facility. Permanent lights, lit to a level of 150 footcandles, will make possible night games and television broadcast. A two-tiered press box seats over 200. The main concourse includes eight concession stands and the stadium will be equipped with a state-of-the-art sound system. A huge, new scoreboard towers over the south endzone.

At the groundbreaking ceremony, then-governor Jim Florio said "there is no doubt that what is good for Rutgers is good for New Jersey."

Rutgers president Francis L. Lawrence noted that "this grand old stadium...has been of great service to the people of New Jersey and this new project will provide 800 jobs in New Jersey. New Jersey is a great state that deserves the best in every aspect, in every area, including athletics." Athletic Director Fred Gruninger called the event a "real happening."

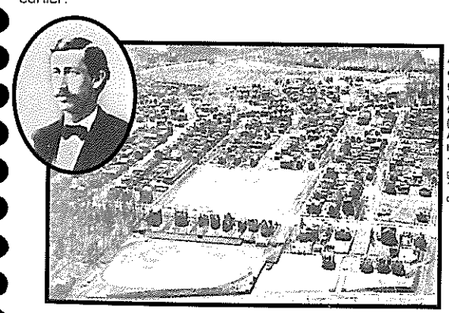

One hundred and twenty-five years ago on November 6, 1869, Rutgers and Princeton played the first intercollegiate football game in New Brunswick on College Field, which is now the site of the College Avenue Gymnasium and its parking lot. And, while Rutgers won that initial contest, 6-4, Princeton would dominate the early days of this intrastate rivalry.

The Tigers won the second game at home a week later and went on to win the next 24 games through 1897, holding the Scarlet

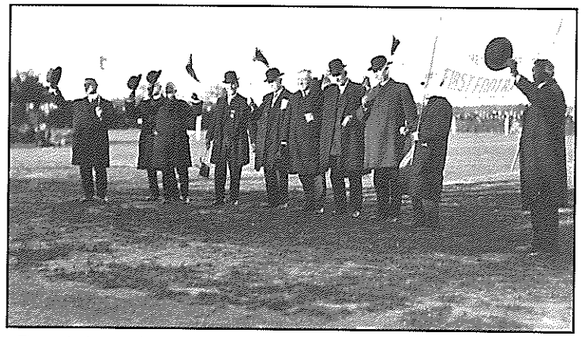

Knights scoreless in 22 of the 25 victories. Getting together again in 1911, Princeton added five more wins before the series lapsed in 1915. A leap of 18 years, a tumultuous time in this country's history, elapsed before the next meeting, but the pattern did not change as Princeton took the 1933, 1935, 1936 and 1937 games, all on its home grounds, as were all but six of the 34 games.

Those six games had been played at the site of the original game, College Field, where contests were staged through 1891, after which Neilson Field became the home of the Scarlet until 1938.

The stage was set for "the game that would live forever" (according to Jimmie Fleming, sports editor of the New Brunswick Home News) and a game that a New York news commentator rated one of the four principal historical events of 1938, along with the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia, the Munich agreement and the wars in China and Spain. But, the story began a few years earlier.

Through the presidency of John Martin Thomas (1925-30) and the brief 18-month tenure of Philip Milledoler Brett, Rutgers experienced a severe identity crisis. "For a quarter of a century," wrote historian Richard P. McCormick, "Rutgers had been in the throes of transformation from a small college to a multi-dimensional university, from an essentially private institution to an instrumentality of the state." That drama would continue even while the athletic picture began to improve. It would play itself out against a background generally called the Great Depression.

Robert C. Clothier was named president in December, 1931, and George E. Little became the athletic director in April, 1932. It is with these two visionaries that the story of Rutgers Stadium begins.

Both saw that the effectiveness of the instruction in physical education was being seriously hampered by lack of space and deteriorating facilities. Neilson Field, the football home site that had replaced College Field and the home of the Rutgers football since 1892, was in disrepair. Though indoor facilities were sufficient (College Avenue Gymnasium was completed in January 1932 and held athletic contests as well as a concert by Paul Robeson ('19) but if the overall program was to be strengthened, space had to be found.

Feeling that the University had weathered the initial phases of the Depression, Clothier dispatched Little on a survey of suitable land and on November 7, 1934, the determined athletic director recommended the purchase of a tract of land covering 256 acres across the Raritan River that included the disbanded New Brunswick Country Club golf course and the Adrian Vermeule properties. The Board of Trustees, noting that it was a daring move, nevertheless adopted the proposal and bought the land for less than $100,000.

Though the stadium area, a natural ravine, was included in the purchase, the original proposal did not include construction of a stadium. The development of the area would provide recreational areas for students and considerable acreage for future needs. The Federal government approved an initial grant of $320,000 on November 13, 1935, and work men began the enormous job of developing the River Road campus. The project was to carry a cost of $418,514 with the University contributing $98,390. It would provide work for 387 workers for one year.

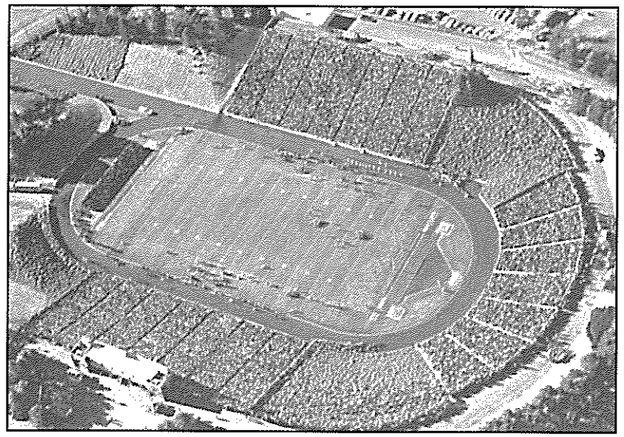

A year later, November, 1936, a second Works Progress Administration grant of $143,841 was approved with Rutgers adding $107,530. In January, 1938, an additional grant of $237,000 was made by the WPA which brought the total of the three grants to $995,707 while Rutgers had appropriated $239,000, including the cost of the site.

All this played out against the background of the Depression. Franklin D. Roosevelt's Second New Deal had created the Works Progress Administration, a massive relief program that derived from the administration's belief that "human dignity was diminished under direct relief programs but enriched by programs that provided work in exchange for relief."

Though controversial, the WPA program was far more comprehensive than earlier relief efforts. The program would spend more than $411 billion before it was canceled in 1943. According to historian Edward Ellis, the WPA, employing more than 8.5 million people on nearly a million and a half projects, "built 651,087 miles of highways, roads and streets; constructed, repaired or improved 124,031 bridges; erected 124,110 public buildings; created 8,192 public parks; built or improved 853 airports."

RUTGERS STADIUM

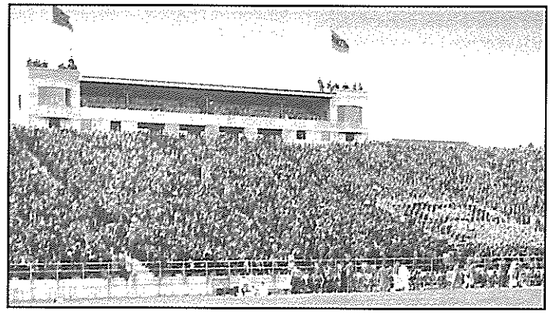

The "big mud hole," after three years of construction and an even longer period of research and planning, was a transformed marvel. The Class of 1939, dubbed "The Stadium Class," would honor Little by dedicating its yearbook to him. The dedication reads, in part, "We acclaim all that George Little has done - Sponsored large-scale intramurals to provide 'athletics for all' - conceived and developed a vast athletic plant...traveled, dreamed, and fought for Rutgers...thoughtful, creative, impulsive, dynamic, generous - bubbling over with ideas and enthusiasm - unflagging in labor and effort - a champion of progress." A plaque in Little's honor would later adorn the stadium entrance beneath the press box.

The 1938 season would open not only with a new stadium but also with a new coach. Upon the resignation of J. Wilder Tasker, who had been the head coach since 1931, Harvey Harman took over the reins. Arriving from the University of Pennsylvania, one of his first efforts, in concert with President Clothier and athletic director Little, was to have Princeton agree to shift the game from Palmer Stadium. The Tigers had not visited the Rutgers campus since 1888 and a span of 17 games, but they agreed to make the short trip on November 5, the seventh game of the season for the Scarlet.

The Rutgers-Princeton clash would come one day short of the 69 years since the historic first intercollegiate game between the teams. It would fall also on Harman's 38th birthday.

Rutgers opened the season with four games on Neilson Field defeating Marietta (20-0) and Vermont (15-14) before losing to NYU (25-6) and then edging Springfield, 6-0. The first game in the new stadium was against Hampden-Sydney before an estimated crowd of 10,000. Rutgers took an early 7-0 lead on a Burt Hasbrouck two-yard run and Len Cooke added the extra point for the first scores in the stadium. The game's most exciting play came after the Scarlet took a 26-0 halftime lead. Art Gottlieb hit Moon Mullen on a short pass at the Rutgers 43-yard line and the senior end raced 57 yards for the game's final score. A Hampden-Sydney threat was turned away on a Gottlieb interception in the Scarlet end zone at the end of the third period and the final score was Rutgers 32, Hampden-Sydney 0.

At halftime of the Dedication game, Judge George H. Lane, the sole Rutgers survivor of the first contest in 1869, would be honored. On a sad note, William Preston Lane, the only Princeton survivor of the first game, passed away that very morning.

The first-half play, before a crowd of 22,500, had been as masterful as the words. But, in the halftime dressing room, the Scarlet squad, at an 18-13 deficit, wondered if the 69-year-old jinx would continue to hold. One writer's account of the game imagined that "Over them hung the most grotesque hoodoo in the history of football."

Down 18-7, Rutgers stormed back as Herm Greif, who had worked on the WPA crew three years before, replaced Gottlieb and quickly completed a pass to Joe Varju who was tackled at the Princeton one-yard line with just 59 seconds remaining in the half. After three passes, Greif ran for the score to bring the Scarlet to within five points at halftime.

The day deserved a storybook ending and that was to follow. Princeton penetrated to the Rutgers 15-yard line in the third period but the drive was stopped by the Scarlet. The game's golden moment came with five minutes remaining. Rutgers center Doug Hotchkiss recovered a Princeton fumble at the Tiger 12. But, in two plays, Rutgers had lost 10 yards. Gottlieb and Tranavitch combined on a nine-yard pass completion and, on fourth down, Gottlieb found Mullen at the goal line for the go-ahead score. The extra point by Walt Bruyere was good, Rutgers had taken a 20-18 lead.

The ensuing Princeton possession saw the Tigers take to the air, but Mullen shut down the drive at the Rutgers 30 with an interception. That left time for only a last line plunge and the game was over, the hex was gone. Rutgers had defeated Princeton for the first time in 69 years.

The 1938 Dedication game was certainly of storybook stature, but there have been many more that rival that first contest.

None more so, perhaps, than that on another Princeton visit. Never has there been such preparation for a game in Rutgers Stadium that there was for the Centennial contest in 1969. All the elements of great sports drama were there - proclamations were issued; a special commemorative stamp was issued; a re-enactment of the first game drew 10,000 fans; pennants from some 350 football-playing colleges waved above the stands; an unscheduled protest march by Afro-Americans; introductions of celebrities, including the oldest living Rutgers football captain, William VB Van Dyck and Master of Ceremonies, Ozzie Nelson; the coin toss, or rather the three coin tosses, first with a 1869 silver dollar and then with a pair of Centennial medallions.

The game would be the first Rutgers home football contest ever televised as Chris Schenkel and Bud Wilkinson manned the ABC booth.

A crowd of 31,000 was on hand for the game, the largest in Scarlet history to that point, and later eclipsed only by the 31,219 for the Rutgers-Temple game in 1988, a Homecoming affair.

Princeton provided the game's opening salvo as Robinson Bordley returned the kickoff 63 yards to the Scarlet 24-yard line. Rutgers successfully repulsed the attack. Both teams missed field goal tries, but, after an interference call at midfield, Rutgers took a 7-0 lead on Rich Policastro's rollout and Chris Stewart's PAT near the end of the first period. The Scarlet upped the lead to 21-0 by halftime on a Bruce Van Ness TD and Bob Stonebraker's reception from Policastro.

Rutgers scored again on a 27-yard Mike Yancheff-to-Joe Barone pass, and, because the goal posts had already been dismantled, the Scarlet scored on a two-point conversion by Yanceff. The 29 points were the highest ever recorded by a Rutgers team against Princeton. The victory was Rutgers 10th in the 60-game series. The teams would go into their second centuries, once again having made football history.

THE INSIGHT BOWL • DECEMBER 27, 2005

In a Wild West shootout staged at Phoenix's Chase Field, Rutgers (7-5) fell just short, losing to Arizona State (7-5) 45-40 at the Insight Bowl Dec. 27.

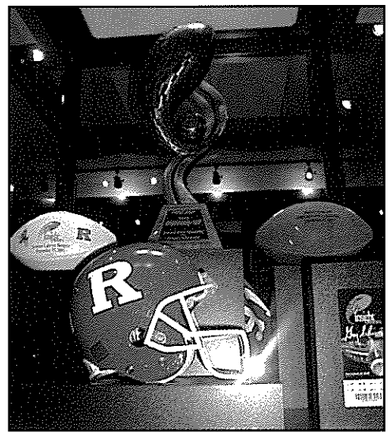

Rutgers struck immediately with an eight-play, 80-yard drive after receiving the opening kickoff. Brian Leonard ripped off an 11-yard run through a hole on the left side, followed by an 11-yard completion from Ryan Hart to Tres Moses and a 16-yard scamper by Ray Rice on a sweep left. Willie Foster's reverse for seven yards kept the Sun Devils off balance, and the Scarlet Knight line did an excellent job of protecting Hart, giving him ample time to find Moses down field for a 21-yard completion, pushing RU to the Arizona State 14-yard line. After Rice probed the left side of the line for a yard, Hart hooked up with Leonard for a 12-yard completion up the right sideline, and then Hart found tight end Clark Harris in the back right corner of the end zone from one yard out. Jeremy Ito's extra point gave the Scarlet Knights a 7-0 lead 2:08 into the contest.

Arizona State would answer with a seven-play, 80-yard drive of its own, capped by a 43-yard completion from Rudy Carpenter to Matt Miller, evening the scoreboard at 7-7.

Foster's 22-yard return of the ensuing kickoff set up Rutgers for its next scoring drive. Leonard turned a Hart screen into a 38-yard gain, and then took another Hart screen pass and dashed up the left sideline, scoring from 31 yards out to give Rutgers a 14-7 cushion six minutes into the first period.

During the Sun Devils' next possession, Courtney Greene jarred the ball loose from the ASU ball carrier at midfield and Ramel Meekins pounced on it, giving the Scarlet Knights possession at the Arizona State 46-yard line. Hart connected with Harris for a 23-yard completion, and Leonard fought through tackles for 13 yards over the left side, setting up a 25-yard field goal by Ito and a 17-7 lead with 5:22 to play in the opening stanza.

Rutgers started its first drive of the second quarter at its own seven-yard line and worked its way into ASU territory, but a fumble gave the Sun Devils the ball on their own 45-yard line. Staring at a fourth-and-five, Derrick Roberson seemingly ended the Arizona State drive with a nifty interception along the left sideline, but the play was wiped away by a penalty. A 19-yard completion on the very next play helped move the Sun Devils to the Rutgers five, but on a third-and-goal Devraun Thompson pressured Carpenter into an incomplete pass, forcing a 20-yard field goal by Jesse Ainsworth (17-10, 6:20).

Rutgers pushed its advantage back to two touchdowns thanks to a nine-play, 80-yard drive during its next possession. Rice gobbled up 24 yards on four carries, Moses caught a 16-yard toss from Hart on a crossing route and Rice broke a tackle to turn a short Hart pass into a 26-yard gain up the middle, placing the Scarlet Knights inside the 20. Leonard then went to work, cutting back across the grain for a 12-yard gain, and bulling his way in from the three-yard line for his second touchdown of the game (24-10, 2:29).

Arizona State found the end zone one last time before the break, a one-yard completion from Carpenter to Zach Miller, pulling the Sun Devils back to within seven points at 24-17 just 39 seconds before the intermission.

The Sun Devils received the opening kick of the second half and went for 70 yards in six plays, culminating in a one-yard touchdown by Rudy Burgess to even the score (24-24, 13:16) for the first time since five minutes into the contest.

Rutgers answered with a 23-yard field goal at the 6:53 mark to give RU a 27-24 edge midway through the third quarter. But, that lead was short lived, as ASU's Carpenter found Terry Richardson for a 22-yard touchdown and a 31-27 bulge (4:33).

Ito boomed a 52-yard field goal, a career best for him as well as an Insight Bowl record, to make it a one-point game (31-30) with 2:05 to play in the third. Ito then blasted his fourth field goal of the game from 48 yards out, pushing Rutgers ahead 33-31 2:02 into the final period.

Later on second-and-25, Carpenter found Jamaal Lewis for a 42-yard touchdown. The two-point conversion made it a six-point affair (39-33, 10:00). Rutgers was unable to produce any points during its next possession, and ASU extended its lead while using a precious 4:25 of the clock during its next drive, finishing with a Burgess four-yard run and a failed two-point conversion (45-33, 4:26).

But the Scarlet Knights continued to fight, and in 51 seconds engineered a 63-yard scoring drive, capped by a 29-yard strike from Hart to Moses (45-40, 2:00).

Rutgers' ensuing onside kick failed and ASU milked the final moments of the game to secure the victory.

Hart completed 24 of 38 passes for 374 yards and three touchdowns. Rice rumbled 20 times for 108 yards, while Leonard collected 98 yards on six catches and 46 yards on 10 carries. Moses caught seven balls for 113 yards. Ito was 4-for-4 on field-goal attempts.

Greene and Thompson each registered 12 tackles for the Scarlet Knight defense. Greene also added a forced fumble and two passes broken up. Ron Girault had 11 stops, and Meekins added five tackles to his two fumble recoveries.

THE GARDEN STATE BOWL • DECEMBER 16, 1978

Prior to the Garden State Bowl, there had been only a few attempts to stage a post-season bowl game in the Northeast because of unpredictable weather conditions in mid- or late-December. The Liberty Bowl was started in 1960 in Philadelphia and was staged there through 1964, then moved indoors in Atlantic City in 1965 before going to warmer climates in Memphis, Tenn., in 1966. The Gotham Bowl was held in the Polo Grounds in 1961, with Baylor defeating Utah State, 24-9, and, in its second try in 1962 in Yankee Stadium, Nebraska defeated Miami, 36-34, reportedly in 17-degree weather.

But, on Dec. 16, 1978, the thermometer in Giants Stadium read an unseasonable 40 degrees. And, despite the pre-game hope by the Rutgers squad that it would be much colder as it entertained an Arizona State team accustomed to playing in warm weather, Rutgers was hot at the start.

A two- or three-touchdown underdog to the 8-3 Sun Devils (who had defeated rival Arizona in the regular season finale and also owned a victory over the otherwise undefeated Southern Cal), Rutgers gained possession after an Arizona State punt at its own 32 and moved to the Sun Devil 47 in four plays. David Dorn then went off his right tackle, reversed his field and raced the distance down the left side for the game's first score. Kennan Startzell's extra point made it a 7-0 ball game early and the visitors were shocked further when Ed Steward recovered a fumble and Startzell booted his longest-ever field goal to that point in his career. The 46-yarder gave the Scarlet a 10-0 lead.

On the next Arizona State possession, Bob Hynoski intercepted a Mark Malone pass and raced 36 yards to the Sun Devil four-yard line. The count might have gone to 17-0 but Dorn fumbled at the two and the visitors took over.

Unable to add to the lead, Rutgers gave up the ball at the Scarlet 44 with 1:53 remaining in the half and the Sun Devils got on the scoreboard when Malone hit Bob Weathers in the end zone from the 14. A play earlier, Malone was trapped on a fourth and 10 play but shook loose to connect for a first down. Instead of 17-0 or 10-0, it was a 10-7 game at the half.

Malone tossed 26 and 47-yard touchdowns in the third period to MVP John Mistler and Chris DeFrance to give Arizona State a 21-10 lead in the third period and ran in from the one early in the final frame for a 28-10 lead.

Lethargic for a period and a half, Rutgers rebounded with 5:49 left in the game when Ted Blackwell scored on a five-yard run and then caught a two-point conversion pass from Ed McMichael.

"They were on their way to a nice, neat orderly finish," wrote syndicated columnist Jerry Izenberg. "And then, Kennan Startzell kicked the ball.

"Mechanically, it was the perfect squibbler. It had been done on a million football fields and when it works the kicking team recovers. The ball bounced off of Arizona State's Morris Williams...it bounced off of Rutgers' Mark Freeman...it skidded under the belly of Arizona State's Henry Pollard and came to rest underneath Rutgers' Craig Nielsen - in the Arizona State endzone. This is not unlike bunting for a home run.

"One official signalled touchdown - six points for Rutgers. A second apparently signalled touchback - Arizona's ball on its own 20. A third signalled toward the heavens with outstretched hands, which according to the annotated NCAA Hymnal and Prayer Book means: Why me, O Lord?

"But, back upfield lay a yellow flag. Rutgers was said to have been offsides on the kickoff and that ruling held. Instead of a 28-24 count and a possible 28-26 ballgame, the score reverted to 28-18 with 4:44 to go. In the game's final minute, Malone scored on a four-yard run for the closing 34-18 scoreboard count.

The weather had cooperated, the 33,402 fans had had their fill, the ball had nearly bounced in Rutgers' favor and it was a devil of a day. The Garden State Bowl would continue for three more years and would give way to the current post-season classic format.

–Written by Jerry Izenberg, a nationally-known columnist for the Star-Leger and a member of the Rutgers Hall of Distinguished Alumni.

CREDENTIALS - All members of the media covering a game in a working capacity must seek appropriate credentials in advance from the Office of Athletic Communications for all home games. We appreciate receiving these requests as early as possible. Requests for working space in the press box and photo passes for the sidelines will be honored from sports editors of daily and weekly newspapers and sports directors of television stations only. Requests for working credentials must be made in advance in writing on company letterhead to Athletic Communications. Working media only will be admitted and the code of conduct of the Football Writer's Association of America is strictly enforced.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS - All freelance photographers who request credentials must agree to supply no less than ten photos for each game in attendance. Photos must be digital files, and must be given to the Office of Athletic Communications no later than the start of the next home game, unless otherwise agreed upon.

PARKING - Parking is located next to the Bubble, across the street from Rutgers Stadium. You should request your parking at the same time you request your game credential. If time permits, both will be mailed to you. There is no day-of-game media parking list and therefore members of the media must have a media parking credential in advance of the game or make arrangements with the Office of Athletic Communications.

PRESS BOX SERVICES – Complete NCAA statistics, play-by-play, and quote sheets from both teams are all regular services on game day. Upon your arrival, you will receive a press folder with game program, flip card, updated stats and game day notes.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS – Coach and players, following the designated cooling off period, will be made available after each game to members of the media. All interviews for both teams take place in the Hale Center, which is located opposite the playing field from the press box. With approximately two minutes remaining the game, members of the media will be escorted across the field towards the Hale Center.

PHONES – A limited number of courtesy phones are available in the press box at Rutgers Stadium. The phones are all operator-assisted calls, or third-party billing calls can be made. Should you wish to have a phone installed at Rutgers Stadium, contact Verizon at 1-800-564-9911 or 9922.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS – All player interviews must be arranged through Athletic Communications at least one day in advance. Players are available in person on Mondays at the Weekly Rutgers Football Luncheon, and following practice, and Wednesdays following practice, pending class schedules/ availability. Please consult with Athletic Communications regarding availability. Player availability at other times will vary from week to week. A time mutually convenient for the player and the member of the media can be set up by the Office of Athletic Communications. During the game week, there will be no player interviews after Wednesday until following the game.

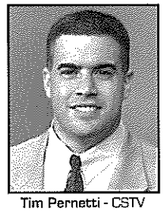

COACH SCHIANO INTERVIEWS – All interview requests must be arranged through Athletic Communications. Coach Schiano will be available to the media every Monday on the BIG EAST Coaches Conference call, Monday at the weekly Rutgers Football Luncheon and after practice on Tuesday and Wednesday.

PRACTICE COVERAGE – Please contact the Athletic Communications Office for practice coverage guidelines. Any request to cover practice must be made at least 24 hours in advance.

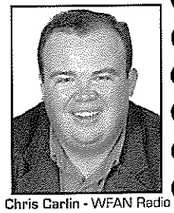

HIGHLIGHTS – Highlights of all Rutgers home games and selected road games will be made available to the networks at ABC, CBS and NBC. The newsfeeds are designated News One (ABC), Newsfeed (CBS) and A-News (NBC). Each network will make two minutes of highlights available to all affiliates. Call the Office of Athletic Communications (732) 445-4200, for further information.

For Travel Information, please contact the Rutgers Office of Athletic Communications.

All Rutgers football games will be broadcast over the Rutgers Radio Network via 50,000 watt WOR 710 AM and Central Jersey's WCTC 1450.

SCARLET R CLUB

SUPPORTING RUTGERS STUDENT-ATHLETES

When you make a financial contribution in support of Rutgers Athletics you automatically become a member of the Scarlet R Club – an ever-growing team that is widely considered Rutgers' most passionate and loyal supporters. Composed of alumni, fans, parents, and students, membership in the Scarlet R Club provides every Rutgers fan with an opportunity to become a valuable part of the team.

Individually and collectively, Scarlet R members are powerful. Our student-athletes benefit annually from their generosity. Scarlet R members play a crucial role in the overall development of the athletic department. Last year over 165 scholarships, funded by members of the Scarlet R Club, were awarded. Today, Rutgers student-athletes benefit on the field from significant improvements in training facilities and in the classroom from enhanced academic support. Scarlet R members can take pride in knowing their unwavering belief and dedication to Rutgers Athletics makes them each team's MVP.

You can direct your support based upon your interest. You can begin your own scholarship. You can choose to support one or more specific sports programs or the entire athletic department. And, you can give to a fund that provides scholarships to student-athletes, enhances academic support services, or upgrades facilities.

If you are interested in learning more about the ways you can become a member or renew your membership in the Scarlet R Club please contact the Department of Athletic Development. One of the staff members pictured below would be happy to provide you with all the information you need to make the best decision for you and for Rutgers.

JASON KROLL

Senior Associate Athletic Director for Development and Marketing

jkroll@winants.rutgers.edu

Jason Kroll was named Associate Athletic Director for Development and Executive Director of Scarlet R on November 1, 2004. He is responsible for directing and managing a comprehensive fundraising effort in support of Rutgers Athletics and brings with him a record of outstanding achievement in fundraising and sports marketing.

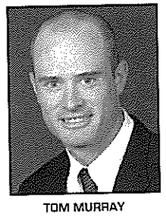

Since his appointment the Athletic Development team has worked with many generous, committed donors to raise more than $9 million for Rutgers Athletics. Included in this total is the single largest gift ever received from a living donor - $1.25 million from Ron and Pat Bainton to name the baseball field. In addition, Jason also helped to secure a $3.5 million gift which established the Richard H. Shindell Chair in Neuroscience and also brought $500,000 to the Rutgers Football Program.

The promotion of staff members, Lisa Gonzalez, Director of Athletic Development, Scarlet R Club, Tom Murray, Associate Director of Principal Gifts, and Josh Hodes, Associate Director of Athletic Development, Scarlet R Club stand as a testament to their individual and collective accomplishments to date.

Jason received his bachelor's degree from Drew University where he enjoyed four years of success on the baseball field as a student-athlete and for five years as an assistant coach. Jason holds a Master's Degree in Public Administration from Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Over 140 privately funded scholarships were awarded in 2004-05. The on-going foresight and generosity of Scarlet R members allows the nearly 800 student-athletes competing on one or more of Rutgers' 30 athletic teams the opportunity of a lifetime. All of us who study and work at Rutgers extend our thanks to each of our generous scholarship donors. Thank you!
