FREDERICK E. GRUNINGER - DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Fred Gruninger has overseen the growth of the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics from 16 men's varsity sports a decade ago, to 32 today, including 16 women's teams.

Gruninger, a 1953 Rutgers graduate took over the reins in 1973 and his aggressive leadership has vaulted Rutgers into the national spotlight in a number of sports.

During his tenure as Director of Athletics numerous Rutgers teams and student-athletes have participated in post-season play. In 1984-85 Rutgers sent three teams to post-season competition — tennis, field hockey and crew — while individual student-athletes represented Rutgers in wrestling, track and field and golf post-season play. Overall, Rutgers teams put together a fine 241-185-10 record in 1984-85 and won better than 53 percent of all games/matches played. This past fall season saw three Rutgers teams — men's and women's soccer and field hockey — ranked in the nation Top 20 polls at one point during the season.

A life-long New Jerseyman, Gruninger was born in East Orange, attended Scotch Plains High School, taught and coached at Rahway High School, earned a master's degree from Rutgers in 1961, and has been a member of the Rutgers administration since 1959. In 1965, he began his career in intercollegiate athletic administration and his athletic ties to the State of New Jersey have been long and continuous, spanning some 35 years as a student athlete, coach and administrator.

Following military service, Gruninger first returned to Rahway High School and then to Rutgers as Executive Director of the Rutgers Fund, then becoming Executive Secretary of the Rutgers Alumni Association and Associate Director of the alumni group. In 1964, he became a member of the athletic administration as Assistant to the Director charged with coordinating and cultivating the secondary school recruitment program for all sports.

Gruninger was named Assistant Athletic Director in 1968, and, three years later, was appointed Associate Athletic Director.

In addition to his administrative duties, Gruninger coached the Scarlet golf team between 1963 and 1972, recording a 109-30-2 mark and taking both teams and individuals to numerous post-season tournaments. He was also a member of the International Association of Basketball Officials and the intercollegiate official's organization for a period of 16 years until his appointment as Director of Athletics.

The energetic and enthusiastic administrator has held numerous offices in state, regional and national athletic organizations. He recently served as a member of the Board of Directors of the College Football Association (CFA) and also was on the Director's Board of the Major Independent Football Association. He is presently a member of the NCAA Post-Season Football Committee.

Locally, Gruninger has served as a member of the board of directors for the Raritan Valley Chamber of Commerce, the Heart Fund and the Multiple Sclerosis Fund and was a member of his Township Greenacres Committee. He serves on the tournament committee of the New Jersey State Golf Association.

A resident of Martinsville, Gruninger is the efficient manager of programs that involve over 1,000 student-athletes and over 100 full and part-time coaches and support staff members.

Gruninger and his wife, Barbara, are the parents of two sons — Mark, a graduate student in Ceramic Engineering at Rutgers and Jack, a Bridgewater-Raritan East student active in football, basketball and golf. Daughter Katherine is a recent graduate of Lafayette College and was captain of the Lafayette women's basketball team in 1984-85.

1985 RUTGERS BASEBALL PREVIEW

Coming off a season which Rutgers recorded its most victories (25) in the school's history, head coach Fred Hill and the Scarlet Knights enter the 1986 campaign with great optimism.

Entering his third season as the Scarlet skipper, Hill has witnessed improvement since he stepped on campus - from a 13-21 mark in 1984 to a 25-15 record last year.

"We are very pleased the way everything has gone so far. Setting a school record for wins in '85 is certainly a positive step in the right direction," says Hill. Our goal is to build upon that and continue our progress."

Rutgers will field a much improved team from last season with a pitching staff that is a year older and a potent lineup which includes newcomer Glen Gardner of Somerville. Although the team has improved so has the schedule.

"I think our team will be improved over last year however our schedule will be much more difficult. This is the toughest since I've been here and probably the toughest ever at Rutgers."

The Scarlet Knights will open the season with a three-game series in North Carolina against the Tar Heels and then will travel to Florida to engage in an 11-game swing in the Sunshine State where they will tackle NCAA Champions Miami, ranked third in the nation by Baseball America and Maine University, a perennial national power, ranked 25th in the country.

RU will also battle local rivals including St. John's, Princeton, Montclair State and Rider and must fight in the Atlantic 10 Conference with the likes of Temple, Massachusetts, and St. Joseph's.

While glancing at the Rutgers' roster the initials "Sr." are not present. That is due to the fact that there are no seniors on Hill's squad. Rutgers may be young but it is not short of experience or talent.

"We feel pretty good about the season," states Hill. With not having any seniors, this is a year we can improve our record and at the same time get experience for younger players to continue our progress toward an outstanding program."

Last season Rutgers was edged out by Massachusetts for the final playoff birth in the Atlantic 10. UMass squeaked by Rutgers in the final league contest of the year to earn the spot. This season Hill feels his squad will be even more competitive in the conference and the race to the NCAA's.

"We have set three goals for 1986," says Hill. Be competitive in the league and reach the playoffs, win our conference and therefore get an NCAA bid and to be competitive in the NCAA's."

Here is a look at the 1986 Scarlet Knights:

HITTING

Rutgers will show a lineup that has speed, consistency and power which adds up to more run production. The Knights will be led by junior Paul Schwendel. A two-year starter, Schwendel led the team in six offensive categories last season including hits (52) and RBI's (45). Teaming up with Schwendel will be sophomore Steve Hooey. Hooey gives the Knights long ball potential. He led the Knights in hitting last spring with a .398 average and finished ninth in batting in the Atlantic 10 Conference. The steady bat of Sam Ferretti will also add to the attack. The sophomore hit .336 in his initial campaign with nine doubles and two triples. He also showed some power with two home runs. With the quality bats of juniors Sean Kauffman, Joe Lynch and Scott Trochim in the lineup, Rutgers will possess a solid and potentially dangerous offensive attack.

PITCHING

Coach Norm Schoenig's hard work payed off last season as the RU pitching staff finished fourth in the Atlantic 10 with a 5.34 ERA. This year that mark could improve. Rutgers returns its top two winners of last year in Bob MacDonald and Noel Gluck. MacDonald went 4-3 last spring while Gluck led all pitchers with a 6-1 mark. Overall, RU returns seven pitchers which had a combined record of 19-7 in '85. Joining MacDonald and Gluck in the starting rotation will be Darrin Winston. Winston emerged as one of the leaders in the staff last year splitting time as a starter and reliever. He was 3-0 and was third in the conference in ERA allowing just 2.57 runs per nine innings. The bullpen will miss Matt Shaffery, who graduated. Shaffery racked up four saves and had a 3-2 record. But there are strong arms in the bullpen to pick up the slack. Sophomore Dan Lengyel will be the number one man out of the bullpen and sophomores Jose Gonzales, Dave Bauer and Gary Geraghty and junior Len Sutton will also be called upon.

INFIELD

There will be a different look in the infield this season - the familiar face of four-year starter Tony Grunhauser is gone at shortstop. Sophomore Sam Ferretti will move over from second to fill the gap left by Grundhauser. Ferretti made just eight errors last season for a .956 fielding average and was second on the team in assists with 81. Freshman Neil Kurtz, who had a solid fall campaign defensively will start at second. The corners are well-guarded by Scott Trochim and Paul Johnson. Trochim, at third base, had an .888 fielding percentage last season and finished third in assists with 80. Johnson made only five errors at first last year. An excellent defensive first baseman. Freshman Mark Ozoroski will be ready to step in at either of the two positions up the middle and Glen Gardner will see action at first base.

OUTFIELD

Two "veterans" will make up two thirds of the outfield. Juniors Paul Schwendel and Sean Kauffman will patrol left and centerfield, respectively. Sophomore Steve Hooey will start in rightfield. Kauffman possesses excellent speed and has an outstanding arm. Committed just one error last season for a .985 fielding percentage. Schwendel also made one error in '85 for a .975 fielding mark.

Used most of the season as a designated hitter, Hooey had just eight putouts last year with no errors.

CATCHERS

Gary Resetar missed all of last season due to illness but is back to battle junior Joe Lynch for the catching job. Both are capable of handling the young pitching staff. Freshman Eugene Casaleggio will back up Lynch and Resetar.

HEAD COACH FRED HILL

"We built a top program at Montclair. Now we are moving on to a Division I school with a competitive schedule, excellent academic reputation and top flight facilities, the challenge is there." - Head coach Fred Hill in his first season at RU.

In August of 1983 Fred Hill began his quest to build a top notch program on the Banks of the Raritan River. Now, just two and a half years later, no one is surprised at the great success Hill has endured in his first two seasons - and the best is yet to come.

Success is nothing new to the Scarlet skipper, it is something he has enjoyed throughout his playing and coaching career. Whatever he has previously touched has turned to gold. That trend has continued at Rutgers.

In his first season in New Brunswick, Hill took the reigns of an unfamiliar group of players and went 13-21, winning seven of its last 10 games. Last year was a banner year for the Scarlet as the squad raced to a 25-15 record, the most wins ever by a Rutgers baseball team. The Knights failed to qualify for the Atlantic 10 playoffs by one game, losing to Massachusetts on the final day of league play.

"We are pleased the way everything has gone so far," says Hill about the vast upward direction the program is headed. "Setting a school record for wins in '85 is certainly a positive step in the right direction. Our goal is to build upon that, continue our progress and build upon the '85 season."

Building a baseball power is commonplace for Hill. Before coming to Rutgers, Hill guided the Montclair State program and built it into one of the finest Division III programs in the nation. He spent seven years with the Indians where he compiled a 148-91-2 record. The highlight of his seven-year stint came in 1983 when the Indians finished 31-14 and won the Mid-Atlantic Regional Championships. For his efforts, Hill was named NCAA Division III Coach of the Year.

In addition to his baseball duties, Hill also was in command of Montclair's football program, putting together a 52-16-4 career record.

A 1957 graduate of Upsala College, Hill enjoyed tremendous success as an undergraduate, earning 11 varsity letters in three sports. In baseball, Hill received four letters and saw his best season as a junior by leading Upsala in hitting.

In football, the little running back was Upsala's leading rusher for four seasons as well as its leading scorer three times. For his accomplishments, he was named Most Valuable Back for the 1954, 1955 and 1956 seasons and capped off his career by being honored as a little All-American.

In basketball, Hill earned three varsity letters and garnered the Most Improved Player award in 1957. For all of his work, Upsala named Hill the Most Outstanding Athlete in 1955, 1956, and 1957.

Upon graduation, Hill began his coaching career after a brief stint with the Washington Senators. He returned to his alma mater in 1959 to assume the coaching duties of the freshman baseball team. At the same time, he served on the coaching staff at the East Orange Soverals, a semi-pro league in the Essex County league.

After a year, Hill went to the high school level to be an assistant at his old haunt, Clifford Scott High School in East Orange. After serving as an assistant for five years, Hill took control of the program in 1965 and led Scott to a six-year mark of 94-58, including two State sectional championships. While at Scott, Hill also served as its head football coach from 1966 to 1970.

In 1970, Hill moved on to Pequannock High School where he was head football coach. Hill stayed at Pequannock for four years before going back to Upsala as an assistant baseball coach. He remained at Upsala until 1977 when he took over at Montclair State.

Now, at Rutgers, it is just a matter of time before the Scarlet Knights begin to reap the benefits of Fred Hill's many years of baseball knowledge. Known for his hard work and dedication, one can always find Fred Hill at the batting cage, bullpen or his office. No matter where, he'll be talking baseball.

Fred and his wife, Evelyn, reside in Verona and have six children, Nancy, Fred, Linda, Jim, Tracey, and Karen.

Hill will be assisted by Norm Schoenig, John Seymour and Duane Stupienski

1985 SCARLET KNIGHTS REVIEW

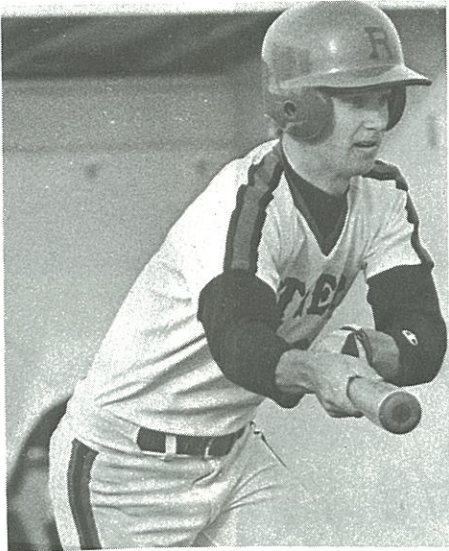

It was a record-breaking year for the 1985 Rutgers baseball squad. The Scarlet Knights won the most games by a Rutgers baseball team in the history of the program finishing with an impressive 25-15 record. In the process RU set seven offensive records.

The Knights hit more home runs than any Rutgers team smacking 28 round-tripper. The squad also set new marks in doubles (74), hits, (414), RBI's (297), walks (243), and batting average (.320).

Fred Hill's corp finished third in the Eastern Division of the Atlantic 10 Conference with a 6-6 record and was one game away of clinching a playoff spot in the league's postseason championship.

Rutgers began the season winning four of nine games in Florida including a 22-1 whitewashing of Florida Memorial. Hill's troops found New Jersey to be a much nicer place as they returned home and reeled off four straight victories before bowing to Penn State, 16-5, in the first game of a twin bill. But RU answered back in the second game with an 8-7 win over the Nittany Lions.

SCOTT TROCHIM

With the season at the mid-point Rutgers' record sat a hair over .500 with an 11-10 mark but the Knights won five games in a row scoring 61 runs in those five contests. In the next week, RU went 1-3 and then, again, chalked up five consecutive W's to raise its record to 22-13.

While the Knights were enjoying a stellar season, the Atlantic 10 Conference race was heating up and the mighty Scarlet were entrenched in the war. They travelled up to Massachusetts to play the Minutemen in a crucial three-game series. Rutgers was one game behind UMass for the final playoff birth. RU needed to win two of the three to earn the right to play top-seeded Temple in the playoffs. Rutgers won the first game, 7-2, but lost the last two in close contests, 9-6 and 10-8.

Refusing to fold, the Scarlet Knights returned and won their last two games to finish the season at 25-15.

1985 DIAMOND CLUB ALUMNI GAME

They came in many shapes and sizes. Some were in shape and some were not. Some ran slow and some ran like their days on the Banks. On September 14, 1985 baseball players of the past relived their days on the diamond as they participated in the first Annual Diamond Club Alumni Game. The players were as recent as '85 graduate Tony Grundhauser and as far back as William M. Mutch, a 1920 graduate of Rutgers and a healthy 89 years young. The Black team prevailed over the Scarlet squad, 6-2. But the score was of little importance for these former Rutgers diamonders. Reliving the days as an RU athlete was all that mattered.

If you have at least two years of college left, you can spend six weeks at our Army ROTC Basic Camp this summer and earn approximately $600.

And if you qualify, you can enter the ROTC 2-Year Program this fall and receive up to $1,000 a year.

But the big payoff happens on graduation day. That's when you receive an officer's commission.

So get your body in shape (not to mention your bank account).
