THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

• Rutgers University and its neighbor, Princeton, played the first game of intercollegiate football on Nov. 6, 1869, on a plot of ground where the present-day Rutgers gymnasium now stands in New Brunswick, N.J. Rutgers won that first game, 6-4.

• In celebrating the 150th anniversary of the first game, Rutgers announced several new details for the year-long festivities. "An anniversary like this deserves a season-long celebration with many elements and that's just what we've planned.

There's only one Birthplace and it's right here 'On the Banks,'" said Director of Athletics Pat Hobbs.

GAME THEMES

- Aug. 30 vs. Massachusetts: "The Birthplace of College Football"
- Sept. 21 vs. Boston College: "Celebrating Paul Robeson"
- Oct. 5 vs. Maryland: "Celebrating Our All-Americans"
- Oct. 19 vs. Minnesota: "Celebrating the 1940, 1950s & 1960s"
- Oct. 26 vs. Liberty: "Celebrating the 1970s, 1980s & 1990s"
- Nov. 16 vs. Ohio State: "Celebrating the 2000s"
- Nov. 23 vs. Michigan State: "The Believe Game"

THE FIRST GAME

• The game was played with two teams of 25 men each under rugby-like rules, but like modern football, it was "replete with surprise, strategy, prodigies of determination, and physical prowess," to use the words of one of the Rutgers players.

• William J. Leggett, captain of the Rutgers team, who later became a distinguished clergyman of the Dutch Reformed Church, suggested that rules for the contest be adopted from those of the London Football Association. Leggett's proposal was accepted by Captain William Gunmere of Princeton, who later became Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of New Jersey.

• At 3 p.m. on that memorable afternoon, the 50 combatants and about 100 spectators gathered on the field. Most of the assemblage sat on a low wooden fence and watched the athletes doff hats, coats and vests and use suspenders as belts. To distinguish themselves from the bareheaded visitors, 50 Rutgers students, including players, donned scarlet-colored scarfs which they converted into turbans.

• The teams lined up with two members of each team remaining more or less stationary near the opponent's goal in the hopes of being able to slip over and score from unguarded positions. Thus, the present day "sleeper" was conceived. The remaining 23 players were divided into groups of 11 and 12. While the 11 "fielders" lined up in their own territory as defenders, the 12 "bulldogs" carried the battle.

• Each score counted as a "game" and 10 games completed the contest. Following each score, the teams changed direction. The ball could be advanced only by kicking or batting it with the feet, hands, heads or sides.

• Events leading up to the game were described by John W. Herbert, Rutgers '72, who was one of the players: "To appreciate this game to the full you must know something of its background," Herbert wrote in 1933. "The two colleges were, and still are, of course, about 20 miles apart. The rivalry between them was intense. For years each had striven for possession of an old Revolutionary cannon, making night forays and lugging it back and forth time and again. Not long before the first football game, the canny Princetonians had settled this competition in their own favor by ignominiously sinking the gun in several feet of concrete. In addition to this, I regret to report, Princeton had beaten Rutgers in baseball by the harrowing score of 40-2. Rutgers longed for a chance to square things."

• Rutgers got Columbia University started in the grid sport the following season and in a few years most of the colleges and universities in the East were represented on the gridiron.

THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

• Rutgers has played the most games in college football history (1,360). A series of events to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the first game in 1869 were held Nov. 6.

• Starting off at Old Queens, captains Tyshon Fogg, Tyreek Maddox-Williams and Zach Venesky joined Gil Greenberg, who at 97 is the oldest living Rutgers football letterwinner, chancellor Christopher Molloy and director of athletics Pat Hobbs to ring the bell. The bell, gifted to the University from Colonel Henry Rutgers in 1826, is reserved to mark significant occasions university-wide. The Rutgers Glee Club also performed for the crowd in attendance.

• The gathering then moved down to the College Avenue Gym with a Rutgers drum-line procession to uncover a new plaque that commemorates the first game. Donated by Devco and the City of New Brunswick, the inscription is titled "The Birthplace of College Football."

• Later on, the Empire State Building was lit up in alternating sides of scarlet and orange to celebrate the anniversary.

• The day-long festivities wrapped up with a special event to highlight the growth of college football from its inception in 1869 through present day. "A Celebration at the Birthplace: 150 Years of College Football," hosted by BTN's Dave Revsine, featured a panel of speakers who shared stories and experiences around college football. In addition to Revsine, noted college football historian Ron A. Smith was on hand to discuss the early years of college football. The panels included appearances by former Scarlet Knights Marco Battaglia, Brian Leonard and Mike Teel, in addition to director of athletics Pat Hobbs and Wisconsin athletics director Barry Alvarez.

• In addition, fans are encouraged to visit the Alexander Library to view "Rutgers Football from the Vault: Celebrating 150 Years," an exhibition that celebrates Rutgers' legacy as the birthplace of the first intercollegiate football game and covers the entirety of Rutgers' football history. Walk from the first game versus Princeton on Nov. 6, 1869 all the way through Rutgers joining the Big Ten. Each case covers a decade of Rutgers history providing a window to view the teams and players as well as the campus and student fans through each time period. The gallery is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

VERSUS PENN STATE

• Rutgers and Penn State will meet for the sixth time in a Big Ten contest, 18th time in Pennsylvania and for the 30th meeting overall. RU has played PSU more in its history than any other Big Ten opponent.

• The series began 101 years ago on Nov. 9, 1918 with a 26-3 Rutgers victory at Penn State. The programs played annually from 1982 until 1995.

• Rutgers will be looking to snap a 12-game losing streak in the series, last winning at Beaver Stadium in 1988, 21-16. Mike Boti ran for a pair of touchdowns in the third quarter and the defense clinched the game with a goal-line stand to beat the 15th-ranked Nittany Lions.

• In the last meeting at Beaver Stadium in 2017, Rutgers took a 6-0 lead in the second quarter on two field goals before Penn State, who was ranked No. 16 in the AP Poll and No. 14 in the College Football Playoff poll, posted five unanswered touchdowns to win, 35-6. The Scarlet Knights had more rushing yards, 157-90, and recovered a live ball off the opening kickoff to lead to a field goal, becoming the first opponent to take a first-quarter lead over the Nittany Lions all season.

• Last season in Piscataway, Penn State won, 20-7. Isaiah Wharton defended four passes with three breakups and one interception.

• The 2014 game marked the first Big Ten game for Rutgers and was played before a stadium-record 53,774 fans in Piscataway.

• Rutgers has 12 players on its roster from the state of Pennsylvania: Rashawn Battle (Grentown), Drew Bethke (Furlong), Raheem Blackshear (Warminster), Jaohne Duggan (Bethlehem), Jalen Jordan (Philadelphia), Tyreek Maddox-Williams (Philadelphia), Austin Rosa (Reading), Matt Rosso (Fairless Hills), Manny Taylor (Philadelphia), Zach Venesky (Peckville) Aaron Young (Coatesville) and Avery Young (Coatesville).

• Wide receivers coach Lester Erb is from Milton, Pa.

• The next meeting is set for Nov. 28, 2020 in Piscataway.

RUTGERS ATHLETICS ANNOUNCES CHANGE IN FOOTBALL LEADERSHIP

- Director of athletics Pat Hobbs announced Sept. 29 that head football coach Chris Ash and offensive coordinator John McNulty were relieved of their duties. Nunzio Campanile is serving as interim head coach/offensive coordinator for the remainder of the season.

- "We appreciate Chris's dedicated efforts on behalf of our football program, our department and our University," said Hobbs. "This change is especially difficult because of the steadfast commitment that Chris and his family have made to our student-athletes. Progress has been achieved in many areas, but, unfortunately, that progress has not been realized on the field of play. As such, it is in the best interest of the program to make a change."

- "We are excited to be working with Ventura Partners," said Hobbs. "They provide a unique range of services, including talent acquisition and development. We will begin working together immediately to ensure excellent leadership for our football program. They will also be working with us throughout the engagement on strengthening our human resources and providing market data and intelligence."

INTERIM HEAD COACH/OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR NUNZIO CAMPANILE

Nunzio Campanile is in his second season on the Rutgers coaching staff and has served as the interim head coach and offensive coordinator since Sept. 29, 2019.

Campanile spent his first season (2018) “On the Banks,” coaching the running backs before moving to tight ends to start 2019.

A graduate of Paramus Catholic, Campanile spent the previous eight seasons as the head coach at Bergen Catholic, including winning a state title in 2017, after working as offensive coordinator at Don Bosco Prep from 2000-09.

Campanile compiled a 60-28 (.681) record leading the Crusaders from 2010-17 as a perennial top-100 football national power. The team capped off the 2017 season by capturing the Non-Public, Group 4 title, the first state championship for the program since 2004, with a 44-7 triumph over St. Peter’s Prep that featured over 400 yards of total offense. Bergen Catholic went 10-2 overall with a nine-game winning streak to end the season, finishing 10-0 against New Jersey competition to earn the No. 1 ranking in the state.

The Crusaders saw seven all-state quarterbacks under Campanile’s watch and averaged over 35 points per game during his tenure. Numerous prospects signed scholarship offers across the country.

In 2012, Campanile was selected by USA Football to join the coaching staff for the US Under-19 National Team that competed in the third annual International Bowl in Austin, Texas.

Prior to arriving in Oradell, Campanile worked under legendary coach Greg Toal at Don Bosco Prep. The Ironmen won six state titles in 10 seasons with Campanile as the offensive coordinator with a 112-6 record, claiming the national championship in 2009. He mentored quarterbacks Mike Teel and Gary Nova during that time, who would both go on to set passing records at Rutgers.

Campanile also previously served as the head wrestling coach and athletic director at Don Bosco Prep, winning the 2010 Non-Public A state title on the mat. He has additionally worked as a history and physical education teacher.

Campanile comes from a football family, having played quarterback and safety for his father, Mike, at Paramus Catholic. His brothers, Vito, Nick and Anthony, are coaches as well.

A 1999 graduate of Montclair State University, Campanile also attended Amherst College for two years. He has been married to his wife Heather for 16 years and the couple has two children, Michael and James.
