THE BIRTHPLACE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

• Rutgers University and its neighbor, Princeton, played the first game of intercollegiate football on Nov. 6, 1869, on a plot of ground where the present-day Rutgers gymnasium now stands in New Brunswick, N.J. Rutgers won that first game, 6-4.

• In celebrating the upcoming 150th anniversary of the first game, Rutgers has announced several new details for the year-long festivities. "An anniversary like this deserves a season-long celebration with many elements and that's just what we've planned. There's only one Birthplace and it's right here 'On the Banks,'" said Director of Athletics Pat Hobbs.

GAME THEMES

- Aug. 30 vs. Massachusetts: "The Birthplace of College Football"
- Sept. 21 vs. Boston College: "Celebrating Paul Robeson"
- Oct. 5 vs. Maryland: "Celebrating Our All-Americans"
- Oct. 19 vs. Minnesota: "Celebrating the 1940, 1950s & 1960s"
- Oct. 26 vs. Liberty: "Celebrating the 1970s, 1980s & 1990s"
- Nov. 16 vs. Ohio State: "Celebrating the 2000s"
- Nov. 23 vs. Michigan State: "The Believe Game"

THE FIRST GAME

• The game was played with two teams of 25 men each under rugby-like rules, but like modern football, it was "replete with surprise, strategy, prodigies of determination, and physical prowess," to use the words of one of the Rutgers players.

• William J. Leggett, captain of the Rutgers team, who later became a distinguished clergyman of the Dutch Reformed Church, suggested that rules for the contest be adopted from those of the London Football Association. Leggett's proposal was accepted by Captain William Gunmere of Princeton, who later became Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of New Jersey.

• At 3 p.m. on that memorable afternoon, the 50 combatants and about 100 spectators gathered on the field. Most of the assemblage sat on a low wooden fence and watched the athletes doff hats, coats and vests and use suspenders as belts. To distinguish themselves from the bareheaded visitors, 50 Rutgers students, including players, donned scarlet-colored scarfs which they converted into turbans.

• The teams lined up with two members of each team remaining more or less stationary near the opponent's goal in the hopes of being able to slip over and score from unguarded positions. Thus, the present day "sleeper" was conceived. The remaining 23 players were divided into groups of 11 and 12. While the 11 "fielders" lined up in their own territory as defenders, the 12 "bulldogs" carried the battle.

• Each score counted as a "game" and 10 games completed the contest. Following each score, the teams changed direction. The ball could be advanced only by kicking or batting it with the feet, hands, heads or sides.

• Events leading up to the game were described by John W. Herbert, Rutgers '72, who was one of the players: "To appreciate this game to the full you must know something of its background," Herbert wrote in 1933. "The two colleges were, and still are, of course, about 20 miles apart. The rivalry between them was intense. For years each had striven for possession of an old Revolutionary cannon, making night forays and lugging it back and forth time and again. Not long before the first football game, the canny Princetonians had settled this competition in their own favor by ignominiously sinking the gun in several feet of concrete. In addition to this, I regret to report, Princeton had beaten Rutgers in baseball by the harrowing score of 40-2. Rutgers longed for a chance to square things."

• Rutgers got Columbia University started in the grid sport the following season and in a few years most of the colleges and universities in the East were represented on the gridiron.

VERSUS MICHIGAN

- Rutgers will play Michigan for the sixth time since joining the Big Ten in 2014. The programs did not previously meet.
- In one of the more memorable games in Rutgers football history, the Scarlet Knights earned a 26-24 victory over Michigan on Oct. 4, 2014 in a home night game to pick up the program's first league win as a member of the Big Ten Conference.
- QB Gary Nova led RU with 404 passing yards (third-most in RU history) and three touchdowns, while PK Kyle Federico kicked two field goals. The game was sealed with 3:01 remaining in the fourth quarter when DL Kemoko Turay skied above the line to block a potential go-ahead 56-yard field goal.
- The sellout crowd of 53,327, the third-largest in Rutgers history, stormed the field to celebrate the win.
- The attendance mark of 111,213 in the 2017 Rutgers-Michigan game in Ann Arbor signaled the largest crowd to ever witness a Rutgers football game.
- Both the longest rushing (Pacheco 80-yard touchdown in 2018) and passing (Nova to Turzilli 80-yard touchdown in 2014) play for Rutgers in conference play against a Big Ten opponent came against Michigan.
- Freshman DL Devin Baldwin is from Southfield, Michigan.
- Sophomore LB Drew Singleton spent his first two seasons at Michigan, playing in seven games in 2018.
- Defensive coordinator Andy Buh and Michigan head coach Jim Harbaugh were both on the Stanford coaching staff from 2007-09.
- Offensive coordinator John McNulty started his coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Michigan from 1991-94.
- The next meeting is set for Nov. 14, 2020 at SHI Stadium.

LAST SEASON'S MEETING

- Rutgers ended the first quarter tied with No. 4 Michigan, but the Wolverines scored the last five touchdowns of the game to win, 42-7.
- Against a defense that entered the week leading the nation in total defense, Rutgers posted 193 rushing yards with an average of 5.8 yards per carry. Michigan had been allowing only 93.9 rushing yards per game and 2.8 yards per carry in its previous nine games. The 193 team rushing yards are the most for Rutgers against a top-five opponent since recording 251 versus No. 5 Penn State in 1994, a span of 13 games.
- RB Isaih Pacheco ripped off an 80-yard touchdown run. It was the longest rush by a freshman in Rutgers history, longest offensive play of the season for Rutgers, longest against Michigan's defense all year and the longest rush by a Scarlet Knight in a conference game since joining the Big Ten.
- Pacheco finished with a season-high 142 rushing yards in the game for his second time reaching the century mark. The 142 yards are tied for third most for a Scarlet Knight against a ranked opponent in a game, following 181 by Ray Rice (2007 versus No. 2 USF) and 158 by Terrell Willis (1993 at No. 11 West Virginia) and matching the 142 by Ray Rice (2007 versus West Virginia).
- Rutgers did not allow a sack. It was one of two games that Michigan, who averaged 2.62 sacks per game, went without recording a sack last year.

"The percentage of our guys going to the NFL is very small," said Ash. "Even if you do go to the NFL, your lifespan there could be very short and then what are you going to do for the rest of your life? Universities have programs set up to help the general students population with alumni, but I think it's our obligation to help student-athletes in their life after football."

THE HUNT

- Throughout the Rutgers football facilities are signs that read "The Hunt." "The Hunt" is really the theme of the team," said Ash. "We're basically chasing the other teams in the Big Ten. We can't make any secret about that. To chase them, we gotta go hunt every single day. Whether it's in the weight room, out in the indoor (bubble) with our special workouts or in practice."

HEAD COACH CHRIS ASH • FOURTH SEASON

Chris Ash took over the helm of the Rutgers football program, his first season as a head coach in 2016, culminating a nearly 20-year career as an assistant coach.

A coach with a national championship pedigree, Ash enjoyed a decorated and accomplished career prior to arriving “On the Banks,” including five years in the Big Ten Conference (four as a defensive coordinator) with four Big Ten championships.

Ash built a reputation as a relentless and tireless worker throughout his various stops. Upon becoming the 30th head coach in the 147-year history at the Birthplace of College Football, Ash made clear his vision for the Scarlet Knights program.

“I want to build a first-class program here, a program that the University, the State of New Jersey, high school coaches and high school players can be proud to say that this program is theirs and they want to come here and be a part of it.”

Ash has embarked on outlining the plans to complete that vision, which includes a mission to create an environment to develop student-athletes mentally, physically and spiritually to reach their full potential and to be successful in life after football.

The 2017 season was one marked by improvements for the Scarlet Knights as the team matched its program record for victories in Big Ten play, tying a league win total from 2014, the first year in the conference. Rutgers defeated Illinois on the road for its first road league win in two seasons and topped both Purdue and Maryland in front its home crowd.

In his previous post before Rutgers, Ash served as co-defensive coordinator and safeties coach at Ohio State and helped lead the Buckeyes to the 2014 national championship.

In his five seasons as a defensive coordinator, Ash pioneered four groups ranked in the top 25 statistically, including a top-10 defensive unit in 2015. As the defense coordinator at Wisconsin in 2011 and 2012, the Badgers put together back-to-back seasons ranked 15th overall in total defense. The 2011 squad was 13th in scoring defense while the 2012 team turned in a 17th-place ranking.

Ash was hired by Ohio State head coach Urban Meyer in January 2014 to improve a Buckeye defense that placed 112th in pass defense and 47th in total defense in 2013. In his first season, OSU’s defense ranked 19th nationally in total defense and 29th in pass defense. The Buckeyes also ranked fourth in the country with 24 interceptions en route to Big Ten, Sugar Bowl and national championships.

In 2015, the Ohio State defense continued its strides under Ash, ranking second in scoring defense nationally and ninth-best in total defense. The Buckeyes earned a berth in the Fiesta Bowl, finishing the season with a 12-1 record after defeating Notre Dame in the bowl game.

The 2016 NFL Draft saw numerous players from Ash’s defensive unit selected, including the first overall defensive player in Joey Bosa, who was picked third by the San Diego Chargers. In all, the draft featured six defensive players taken from Ohio State with three in the first round.

Prior to taking over the OSU defense, Ash held the defensive coordinator post and coached the secondary at the University of Arkansas in the Southeastern Conference in 2013 under head coach Bret Bielema. He helped improve Arkansas’ pass defense in his one season in Fayetteville, with the Razorbacks’ defense finishing 72nd nationally in passing yards allowed after ranking 113th in 2012.

Ash was first promoted to the defensive coordinator role in the Big Ten while at the University of Wisconsin, where he spent three seasons with the Badgers. His 2011 defense led the Big Ten (conference games only) in total defense and pass defense efficiency, and it ranked fourth nationally in fewest passing yards allowed (163.6), 13th in scoring (19.0) and 15th in total defense (316.4). In 2012, the UW defense ranked 15th nationally in total defense (322.5), 17th in scoring (19.1), 18th in fewest passing yards allowed (193.6), 22nd in pass efficiency and 24th against the run (128.9).

Ash began his coaching career as a defensive graduate assistant at his alma mater, Drake University, in 1997. He was promoted to defensive coordinator for the next two seasons before moving on to Iowa State University in 2000. Ash spent eight seasons over two different stints in Ames, including the 2009 season, during which current Texas head coach Tom Herman was also on the staff. Ash progressed from graduate assistant with the Cyclones in 2000-01 to defensive backs coach for a total of six seasons.

Ash spent the 2007 and 2008 seasons at San Diego State University as the defensive backs coach and recruiting coordinator under head coach and College Football Hall of Fame inductee Chuck Long.

Ash has produced numerous instructional videos, including a three-video series -- “Aggressive 4-3 Defense” -- that includes shutting down the passing game and stuffing the run segments. He has coached 34 different players that have gone on to sign NFL contracts.

A native of Ottumwa, Iowa, Ash earned his undergraduate degree from Drake in 1996, and was a two-time letterwinner at defensive back for the Bulldogs. He is one of three from that era of Drake football who became a FBS head coach, joining Dave Doeren (NC State) and Charlie Partridge (formerly with Florida Atlantic). Ash completed his master’s degree in education from Iowa State in 2005.

Ash and his wife, Doreen, are the parents of a son, Brady and daughter, Alexis. Ash also has a son, Tanner, and a daughter, Jacey.
