GREG SCHIANO

Sports

‘It’s great to be home’

Pro or college, the choice was clear for Schiano

TARA SULLIVAN

PISCATAWAY, N.J. — Hung on the wall to the far right of where Greg Schiano stood at Rutgers University Wednesday were side-by-side pictures of two brothers who were on this campus back in the mid 2000s. One, wearing a white No. 21 jersey, is cradling a football in the crook of his right elbow, no doubt one of the many interceptions he snared as an undergrad. The other, in a red No. 25 jersey, is staring through his facemask with such intensity that you can practically feel the heat from across the room.

These are the McCourty brothers, twins Devin and Jason, two of the most distinguished players in the history of a program that had a founding role in a sport that just turned 150 years old. Of course, they're better known as members of the reigning Super Bowl champion Patriots, winning alongside each other last February in Atlanta.

Just weeks after that gritty win over the Rams, it seemed the two defensive backs were set for a reunion with their college coach, as Schiano joined Bill Belichick's staff as defensive coordinator.

But Schiano changed his mind only a few weeks later, issuing a statement as he left the job, and the game, for his foreseeable future. And though it's been anything but a straight line from there to here, now we know why.

Schiano wasn't ready to commit

Though he said working for the Patriots was “the best six weeks of my football life,” Greg Schiano has returned to Rutgers.

Head coach Greg Schiano returns to the Banks, where he led Rutgers to new heights from 2001-11. The National Coach of the Year guided the Scarlet Knights to six bowl games, including the program’s first victory in school history.

Schiano coached 16 Rutgers All-America selections, mentored 83 RU players who signed NFL contracts and propelled the Scarlet Knights to their first national top-10 ranking, peaking at No. 7. The success extended beyond the gridiron with unprecedented academic honors. Rutgers led the nation in Academic Progress Rate in 2010 and ranked second in 2011.

RUTGERS GETS YOU READY

Rutgers football set records both on and off the field under the guidance of head coach Greg Schiano. Upholding the academic prestige of Rutgers University was the standard for the Scarlet Knights, who secured the nation's top Academic Progress Rate in 2010 and ranked No. 2 in 2011. Rutgers was the only state university ranked in the top 10 percent in each of Schiano's last five seasons.

The Scarlet Knights have made their impact felt in the community as well, volunteering with Special Olympics NJ, visiting local hospitals and participating in youth camps. The group has also lent their voices to critical discussions around social activism, racial justice and tolerance.

Coach Schiano is one of the biggest influences in my life. His ability to develop young men is second to none. I have more respect and appreciation for him than any coach I have ever been around.

BRIAN LEONARD, 2003-06

I'm fired up to see what's to come for Rutgers. Schiano had a lot of success his first time there and I got to witness first hand the lessons he taught us as a head coach.

JASON MCCOURTY, 2005-08

He knows you're never going to be perfect, but he's going to try and get the best out of you every single day. You'll take that with you for the rest of your life. Our fan base has something to be excited about. This will be a football team that is prepared, plays hard and goes out every Saturday and gives it its all.

MIKE TEEL, 2004-08

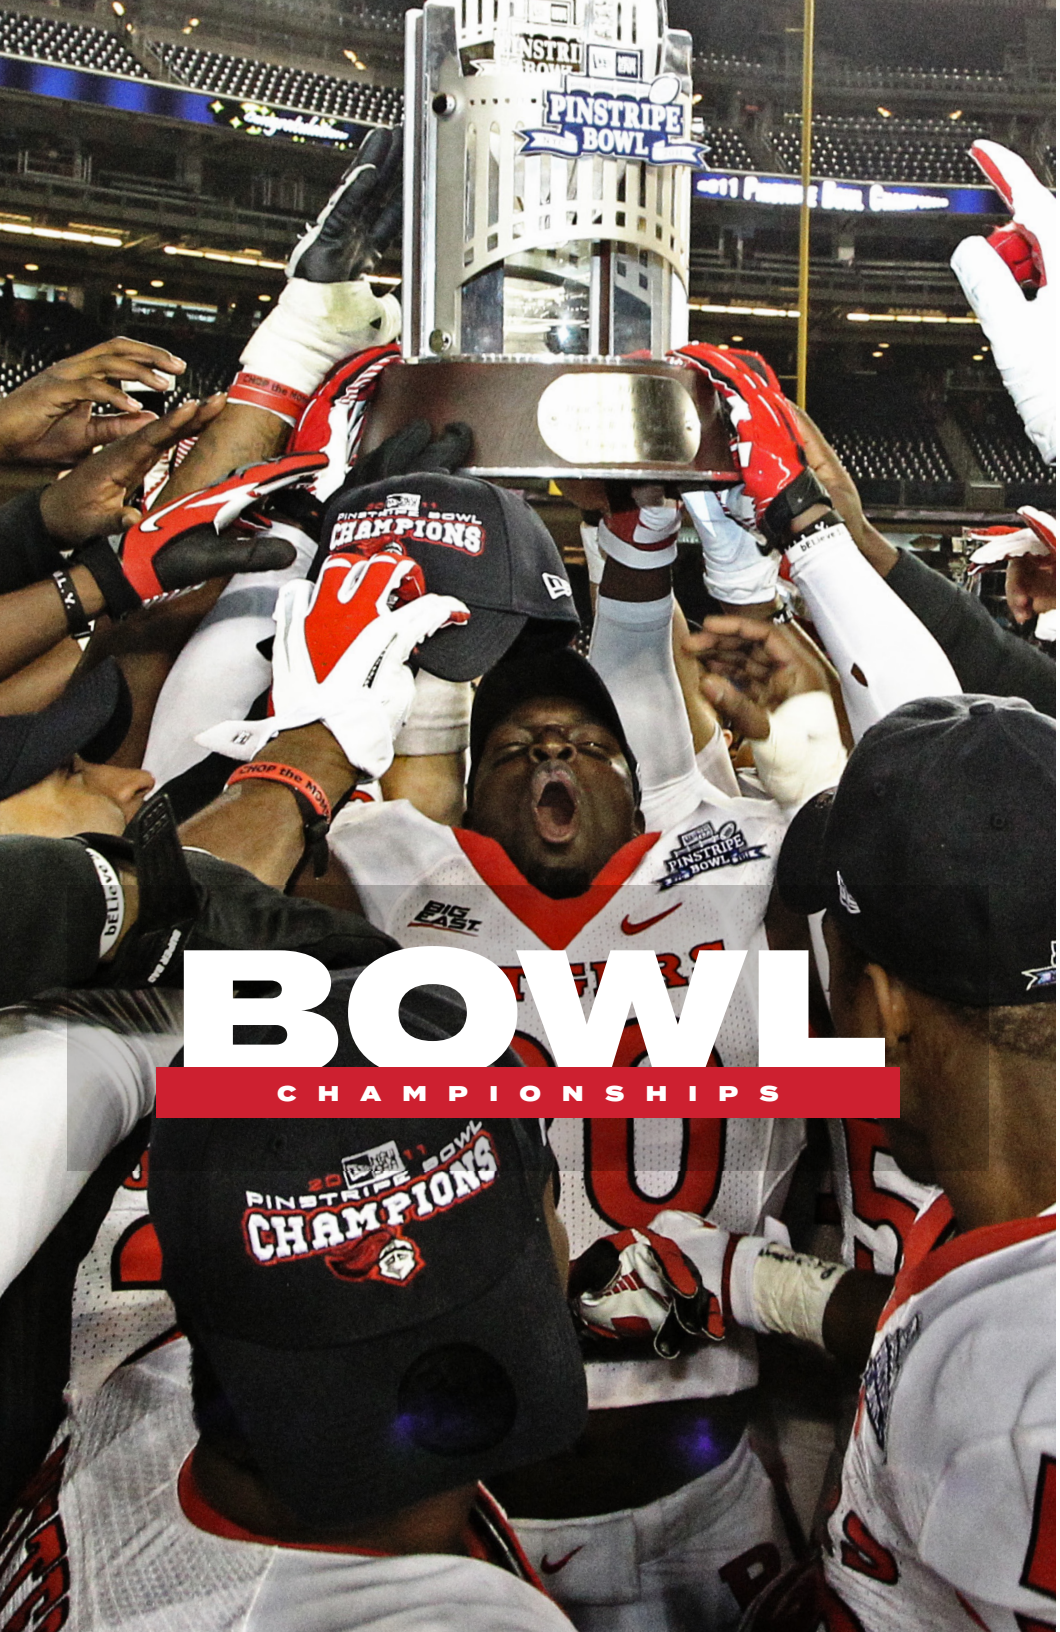

It's amazing to have Coach Schiano back here at Rutgers University. He's done so much for me in my personal career. The culture he built here allowed me to form relationships that will last a lifetime. I'm super blessed to have had him as a coach, and I know the University is blessed to have him back.

KEVIN MALAST, 2005-08

It's great to see Coach Schiano back right where he belongs. With him in charge, Rutgers will look like the great teams of his era.

MOHAMED SANU, 2009-11

BOWL

CHAMPIONSHIPS

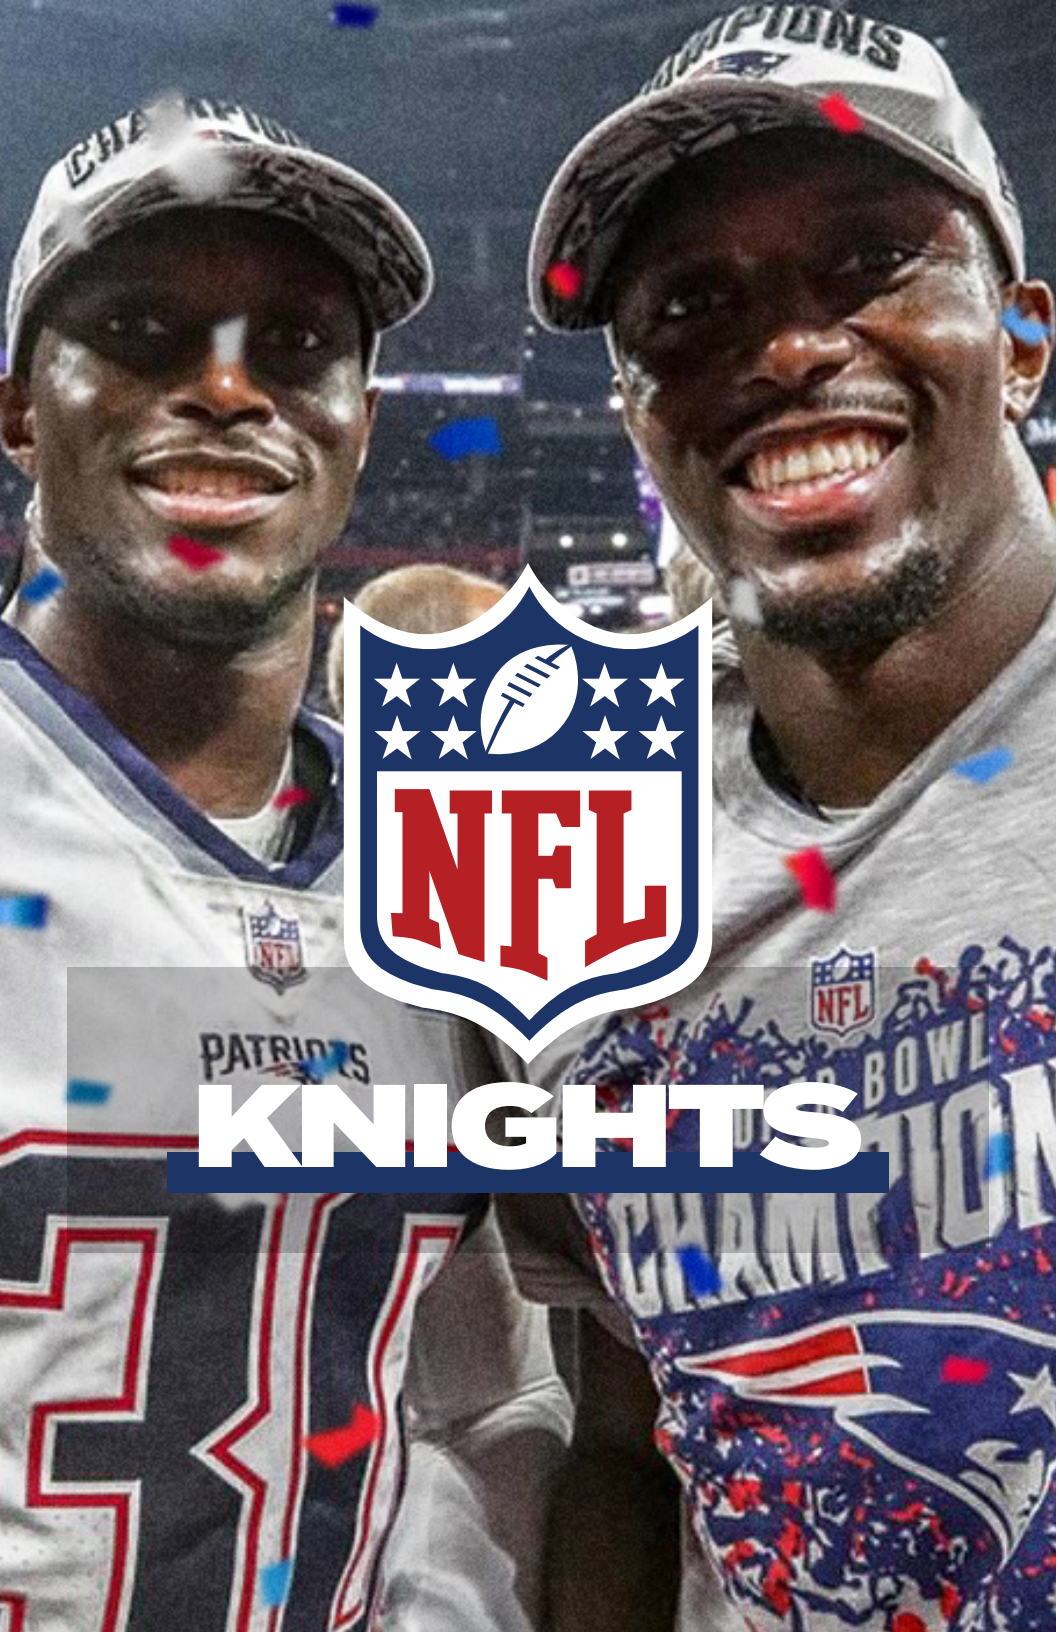

After making one prior trip to a bowl game in Rutgers football history, Schiano led the team to six bowls in seven seasons, including the program's first bowl victory. The Scarlet Knights won the last five, which was the longest active streak in the nation following the 2011 season. In addition, RU was ranked in 20 weeks during Schiano's tenure after appearing in the AP Poll only nine times prior.

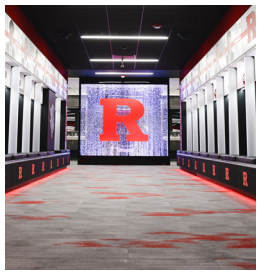

Schiano mentored 83 Scarlet Knights who went on to sign NFL contracts. That includes first-round picks in Kenny Britt (2009), Anthony Davis (2010) and Devin McCourty (2010). Rutgers had never had a player taken in the first round before Britt went 30th overall to the Tennessee Titans. Davis' selection at No. 11 by the San Francisco 49ers marked the highest draftee in school history. McCourty, who went 27th to the New England Patriots, has won three rings in five trips to the Super Bowl.

Nine Scarlet Knights who played for Schiano at Rutgers entered the 2020 season active on the NFL rosters (Michael Burton, Duron Harmon, Clark Harris, Tyler Kroft, Steve Longa, Devin McCourty, Jason McCourty, Logan Ryan and Mohamed Sanu).

FACILITIES

Rutgers football has one of the top football complexes in the nation. Included within the Hale Center is the state-of-the-art Ron and Joanna Garutti Strength and Conditioning Center, an interactive lobby entrance, spacious meeting rooms, a player lounge and an in-house academic support center.

The recently upgraded Marco Battaglia Practice Complex is the site where the Scarlet Knights train and practice and their downtime is spent in the The new Greg and Anna Brown Locker Room thanks to the generosity of the Brown family.

In New Jersey, our fans are just louder- around here we call it the Jersey Factor. SHI Stadium is home of the Rutgers Scarlet Knights and is located on campus in Piscataway. Packed, loud and 52,454 proud, SHI Stadium is the site for the ultimate college game day experience. Each fall Saturday, New Jerseyans unite in the excitement generated by The Knight Pulse, a game day tradition where fans pound their chests to the beat of "The Hum," as the energy in the stadium builds to a crescendo in the biggest stadium moments. Combined with the Knight riding horseback into the stadium and unique performances by the Rutgers Marching Band, the atmosphere on game day is electric.

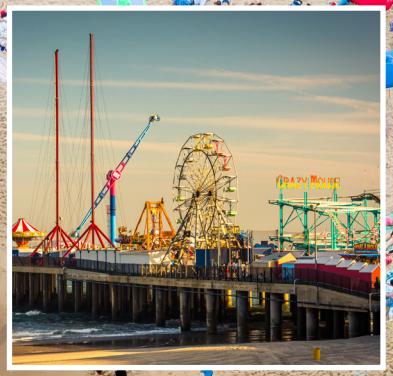

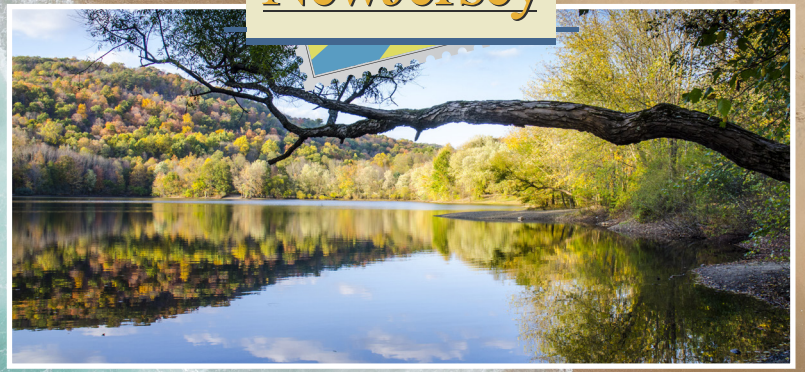

NEW JERSEY

Located in the world's largest media market and the epicenter of the business world, the Rutgers campus provides access to the best that New Jersey has to offer. The New Brunswick campus is just minutes away from New York City and the Jersey Shore. Local hot spots like Philadelphia and Atlantic City are a short drive away from campus, making the Garden State a sought-after destination.

GREG SCHIANO

HEAD COACH (12TH SEASON)

Greg Schiano, who led Rutgers to new heights from 2001-11, returns as the head football coach "On the Banks." Schiano's appointment as head coach comes following the Rutgers Board of Governors' approval of contract terms on Dec. 3, 2019.

The Wyckoff, New Jersey, native directed the Scarlet Knights to six bowl appearances, coached 83 RU players who signed NFL contracts and guided the program to the top APR score in the nation during his previous 11 seasons in Piscataway. He was named the 2006 National Coach of the Year.

Schiano, who has three nine-win campaigns and coached 16 Rutgers All-America selections, holds a 68-67 record as the Rutgers head coach, including a 56-33 mark in his last seven seasons. The 68 wins are fourth in school history, behind Frank Burns (78), Harvey Harman (74) and John Bateman (73).

"Rutgers University and this football program have meant the world to me and my family," said Schiano. "I arrived here in 2000 with the goal to build a program that would be a source of pride for the state of New Jersey and develop great young men. I look forward to embracing that challenge once again. This is a great opportunity for all of Rutgers to pull together to get us back to where we all know we belong. It will take everyone on this campus and in the State of Rutgers to get this done."

After making one prior trip to a bowl game in Rutgers football history, Schiano led the team to six bowls in seven seasons, including the program's first bowl victory. The Scarlet Knights won the last five, which was the longest active streak in the nation following the 2011 season. In addition, RU was ranked in 20 weeks during Schiano's tenure after appearing in the AP Poll only nine times prior.

Schiano took over on Dec. 1, 2000. "This program will be built on a rock foundation," he said. "It will take longer than building it on stilts, but when it's built, it will be built forever. This is where I started; this is where I was striving to get back to. I'm thrilled to be here. It's time."

2006 NATIONAL COACH OF THE YEAR

Building up the Scarlet Knights with three rejuvenating recruiting classes to start, Schiano put together an upset win over Syracuse to close 2003 before knocking off Michigan State to start 2004 in front of the largest crowd in Rutgers Stadium history at the time (42,612). The team broke through in 2005 with a 7-5 record, the first winning season since 1992, and a trip to the Insight Bowl for RU's first bowl appearance since 1978.

Moving to the memorable 2006 campaign, Rutgers went 11-2, earned the program's first national top-10 ranking (peaking at No. 7) and won a bowl championship with a convincing 37-10 victory over Kansas State in the Texas Bowl. "Pandemonium in Piscataway" was achieved with a 28-25 upset of No. 3 Louisville in front a raucous home crowd and national television audience. It was the first triumph for the program over a top-25 opponent since 1988. Schiano collected the Eddie Robinson, Walter Camp, Home Depot and Liberty Mutual National Coach of the Year, as well as the Big East Coach of the Year following the season. The final national ranking of No. 12 still stands as the high-water mark in program history.

The momentum continued in 2007 with eight more wins, which included a 30-27 victory over No. 2 USF. The season was capped by running past Ball State, 52-30, in the International Bowl and set school records for scoring (426), first downs (294) and total offense (5,841). The 2008 campaign started 1-5, but the Scarlet Knights reeled off a six-game winning streak to become bowl eligible again and went on to beat NC State, 29-23, in the PapaJohns.com Bowl to finish with seven-straight in the win column. Then in 2009, RU beat a top-25 opponent for the fourth consecutive year and took down UCF, 45-24, in the St. Petersburg Bowl to finish off a 9-4 season.

In 2011, Rutgers had its third nine-win season under Schiano, tying Burns for the most in program history. The Scarlet Knights defeated Iowa State, 27-13, in the Pinstripe Bowl for the fifth-straight bowl win.

While producing victories at a rate unprecedented in the program's history, the Rutgers football team also committed fully to succeeding in the classroom. In 2010, Rutgers ranked first in the nation in Academic Progress Rate. The team followed that up with the nation's No. 2 ranking in 2011. The program was the lone state university to be ranked in the top 10 percent nationally in APR during each of Schiano's last five seasons.

Nate Jones became the program's first two-time CoSIDA Academic All-America selection (2002-03) and was a member of the National Football Foundation/College Football Hall of Fame National Scholar Class of 2003, one of just eight FBS players honored. In addition, Brandon Renkert earned CoSIDA Academic All-America status in 2007, while Brian Leonard received the prestigious Draddy Trophy, recognized as the "Academic Heisman," in 2006.

SCHIANO HAS LED RUTGERS TO SIX BOWL GAMES

Known as a tireless recruiter with the ability to spot talent and develop players, Schiano mentored 83 Scarlet Knights who went on to sign NFL contracts. That includes first-round picks in Kenny Britt (2009), Anthony Davis (2010) and Devin McCourty (2010). Rutgers had never had a player taken in the first round before Britt went 30th overall to the Tennessee Titans. Davis' selection at No. 11 by the San Francisco 49ers marked the highest draftee in school history. McCourty, who went 27th to the New England Patriots, has won three rings in five trips to the Super Bowl.

Schiano coached the leading rusher, passer and receiver by yards in Rutgers football history, sending all to the NFL. Ray Rice finished with 4,926 rushing yards, 1,812 more than second place, with 49 touchdowns. He holds the top two spots on the RU single-game rushing leaderboard with a high of 280 in the 2008 International Bowl. Mike Teel was a three-year starting quarterback and is the only signal caller in school history to lead the Scarlet Knights to three bowl victories. Throwing for 9,398 yards overall, he still owns single-game school records for passing yards (447) and touchdowns (7) in Rutgers' 63-14 victory over Louisville in 2008. Britt was a primary target for Teel, recording 3,403 receiving yards. He once had five consecutive games with over 100 yards and totaled 14 such outings, both school standards.

Schiano also turned special teams in a game-changing force for the Scarlet Knights. RU blocked 60 kicks during his first tenure to rank among the nation's leaders, while scoring 51 defensive/special teams touchdowns. Kicker Jeremy Ito shattered the school record with 80 career field goals and earned All-America status.

Schiano accepted the head coach position for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in Jan. 2012 and spent two seasons at the helm of the NFL franchise.

Schiano returned to the sidelines as the associate head coach and defensive coordinator, also coaching safeties, at Ohio State in 2016. He coached 10 players who were NFL Draft picks, five of whom were first-round selections during his three seasons. There were three first-round picks from the secondary in the 2017 NFL Draft: Malik Hooker (Indianapolis), Gareon Conley (Oakland) and Marshon Lattimore (New Orleans). Hooker, a unanimous All-America pick in 2016, was first nationally with three "pick-sixes" and third nationally with seven interceptions that season.

The Buckeyes went 36-5 in Schiano's three years as defensive coordinator and 24-3 against Big Ten opponents. That led to two Big Ten titles plus wins in the 2017 Cotton Bowl and 2019 Rose Bowl. In addition, OSU was No. 6 nationally in total defense under Schiano in 2016 when advancing to the College Football Playoff semifinals.

The Buckeyes were one of just three programs to rank in the top 10 in total defense in both 2016 and 2017. Schiano was the No. 2 recruiter in the nation by 247Sports and CBSSports.com for the 2018 signing class.

Schiano served as the defensive coordinator at Miami in 1999 and 2000 before becoming the Rutgers head coach. The Hurricanes posted a 20-5 record during that time, including 11-1, the No. 2 national ranking and a Sugar Bowl win in 2000. That defense finished fifth nationally in scoring defense (15.5) after ranking 12th in the category the year before (17.2). Following the 2000 season, linebacker Dan Morgan, who was the 11th overall pick in the NFL Draft, became the first player in college football history to win the Butkus Award (top linebacker), Nagurski Award (college defensive player of the year) and Bednarik Award (top defensive player) in the same year, in addition to being a consensus first-team All-America selection and the Big East Defensive Player of the Year. Strong safety Ed Reed was also a consensus first-team All-America honoree in 2000 and would later earned a spot in the both the College Football Hall of Fame and Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Prior to his assignment in Miami, Schiano spent three seasons in the NFL with the Chicago Bears (1996-98). The 1997 team placed first in the NFC in third-down defense (31.7 percent), while the 1996 squad climbed from 27th in the NFL to 11th in fewest yards allowed.

Schiano was the defensive backfield coach at Penn State from 1991-95 after working as a graduate assistant in 1990. The Nittany Lions picked up 58 wins throughout those years and made six bowl appearances. The 1994 PSU team went 12-0 (8-0 Big Ten) and finished No. 2 in the national rankings after beating Oregon in the Rose Bowl. He previously was a graduate assistant at Rutgers in 1989, beginning his coaching career as an assistant as his alma mater, Ramapo High School the year before.

Schiano was a three-year letterwinner at linebacker for Bucknell (1985-87). He was named to the Sporting News All-America Preseason Team in 1987. He served as a team captain his senior year after leading the team with 114 tackles as a junior to earn All-Patriot League honors.

SEAN GLEESON

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/QUARTERBACKS

A native of Glen Ridge, New Jersey, Sean Gleeson is in his first season as offensive coordinator at Rutgers. Gleeson also coaches the quarterbacks.

COACHING HISTORY

2020-present: Rutgers (offensive coordinator/quarterbacks)
2019: Oklahoma State (offensive coordinator/quarterbacks)
2017-18: Princeton (offensive coordinator/quarterbacks)
2016: Princeton (running backs/special teams coordinator)
2013-15: Princeton (running backs)
2011-12: Fairleigh Dickinson (offensive coordinator/quarterbacks)
2007-11: Delbarton School (football, baseball, bowling)

THE GLEESON FILE

Hometown: Glen Ridge, N.J.
Alma Mater: Williams, 2007
Wife: Lauren
Children: Sons, Eamon and Patrick

OKLAHOMA STATE

• After six seasons at Princeton, Gleeson was hired by Oklahoma State as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach in 2019.
• The Cowboys' offense averaged 32.5 points (36th nationally) and 453.9 yards (22nd nationally) per game with two ranked wins and a berth in the 2019 Texas Bowl. The balanced unit (2,985 rushing yards, 2,916 passing yards) also ranked 17th in the country with 229.6 rushing yards per game and 27th with a 64.1 completion percentage.
• Three offensive players earned All-Big 12 honors, including Big 12 Offensive Player Chuba Hubbard, Big 12 Offensive Freshman of the Year Spencer Sanders and second-team wide receiver Tylan Wallace. Hubbard was also named a consensus All-America pick and a Doak Walker Award finalist after leading the nation with 2,093 rushing yards and 179.54 all-purpose yards per game. For Sanders, he passed for 2,065 yards to set an OSU freshman record and averaged 269.0 yards of total offense to rank third among Power Five freshmen during the regular season.

PRINCETON

• Gleeson engineered one of the most explosive offenses in the Football Championship Subdivision and helped the Tigers to an undefeated 2018 season. In Gleeson's six years on staff, Princeton won three Ivy League championships and averaged 36.9 points per game, which marked the program's highest output over a six-year stretch in program history.
• In addition to posting a perfect 10-0 record in 2018, Princeton led the FCS in scoring offense by averaging 47.0 points per game and ranked in the top 10 nationally in total offense (second with 536.8 yards per game), rushing offense (sixth with 295.5 yards per game), third-down conversion percentage (second with a mark of 53.4 percent) and pass efficiency (seventh with a mark of 161.26). The Tigers' 470 points scored set an Ivy League record.
• Coached directly by Gleeson, Tiger quarterback John Lovett excelled as a dual-threat performer in 2018. Lovett led the Ivy League by averaging 303.0 yards of total offense per game, passing for 203.7 yards per game and rushing for 99.3 yards per contest. He ranked second in the league in both of those categories. Lovett, Princeton's first two-time first-team All-American since 1964, threw 18 touchdown passes against just three interceptions and completed 66.1 percent of his passes.
• Lovett won 2018 Ivy League Offensive Player of the Year honors over his teammate, Jesper Horsted, an All-American wide receiver who signed with the Chicago Bears. It marked the first time in Ivy League history that two teammates were finalists for the Offensive Player of the Year award.
• In his first year as offensive coordinator in 2017, quarterback Chad Kanoff earned Ivy League Offensive Player of the Year honors, but did it in a different way than Lovett. Kanoff was a pro-style passer who set the Ivy League single-season record with 3,474 passing yards.
• During Gleeson's time as offensive coordinator, 18 members of the 2017 and 2018 Princeton offenses earned All-Ivy League honors, including first-team honors for Kanoff in 2017, Lovett in 2018, Horsted (twice), and OL Mitchell Sweigart. Horsted ended his career with several single-season and career receiving records, while Sweigart became Princeton's first lineman to earn multiple first-team All-Ivy honors since 2000-01.
• The 2018 Princeton recruiting class was ranked No. 1 in the FCS by 247Sports.com and included four-star quarterback Brevin White, who turned down an offer from Alabama to be coached by Gleeson at Princeton.
• Gleeson joined the Princeton staff in 2013 in the role of running backs coach. That team won the Ivy League and ranked second nationally in scoring offense with 43.7 points per game. He added the title of special teams coordinator in 2016 before being elevated to offensive coordinator in 2017.

PRIOR EXPERIENCE

• Gleeson's first job after graduation came at Delbarton School in Morristown, where he taught English and algebra and coached football, baseball and bowling. His first job in college football came as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Fairleigh Dickinson from 2011-12.

PLAYING EXPERIENCE

• Gleeson played quarterback at Williams College, where he graduated in 2007 with a degree in English. While at Williams, Gleeson was the highest-rated passer in the New England Small College Athletic Conference in 2005 (minimum 100 attempts), with a rating of 163.6. His team finished 8-0 in 2006. Gleeson also played first base for the baseball team at Williams.

ROBB SMITH

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Robb Smith is in his first season back as defensive coordinator. A native of Leechburg, Pennsylvania, Smith previously spent four seasons on the Scarlet Knights' staff from 2009-12 and also worked with Schiano at the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

COACHING HISTORY

2020-present: Rutgers (defensive coordinator)
2019: Texas A&M (defensive analyst)

THE SMITH FILE

Hometown: Leechburg, Pa.
Alma Mater: Allegheny, 1997
Wife: Amy
Children: Sons, Charlie and Jack

RUTGERS

• Smith served in various capacities on the Rutgers staff, including defensive coordinator and secondary coach in 2012, special teams coordinator and linebackers coach in 2011, special teams coordinator and cornerbacks coach in 2010 and special teams coordinator and outside linebackers coach in 2009.
• The 2012 season saw Rutgers claim its first conference title since 1961 and the fifth in school history. The Scarlet Knights finished the year ranked fourth in the nation in points allowed per game (14.2), sixth in rushing yards allowed per game (95.2), 10th in total defense (311.6 yards per game) and tied for third in rushing touchdowns allowed (6). Rutgers allowed just 91 points against seven Big East opponents, ranking as the eighth-lowest total in conference history. The defense held opponents to 95.2 rushing yards per game, only the third time in school history the Scarlet Knights kept the opponent average below 100 yards.
• Under Smith's guidance, Rutgers became one of the best special teams units in college football. The Scarlet Knights ranked in the top 10 in blocked punts each of his three years coordinating the unit. Rutgers led the country in 2010 with nine blocked punts, tied for second in 2011 with nine and ranked eighth in 2009 with five. While Smith was at Rutgers, the Scarlet Knights led the nation with 31 blocked kicks. They were also one of the best in the nation in punt and kick returns for touchdowns, tying for fifth with five punt return touchdowns and tying for ninth with four kickoff return touchdowns. Their nine combined special teams touchdowns tied for the fifth-highest total in the NCAA during that time.

TAMPA BAY BUCCANEERS

• Smith spent the 2013 season as linebackers coach for Schiano in Tampa Bay, which included coaching Lavonte David. An All-Pro, David became the first linebacker and third player since the sack became an official statistic in 1982 to register at least 100 tackles with at least six sacks and five or more interceptions in a season.

PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE

• Smith spent the 2019 season as a defensive analyst with Texas A&M and prior to that, served as the defensive coordinator at Minnesota during the 2017 and 2018 seasons.
• The Golden Gophers allowed a total of 274 points in 2017, the fewest permitted by the team since 2004. Smith also worked with the linebackers and saw Thomas Barber earn All-Big Ten Third Team honors after posting 115 tackles.
• Smith came to Minnesota from Arkansas, where he spent three seasons as the defensive coordinator and secondary coach. His defense ranked No. 10 in both scoring defense (19.2 points per game) and total defense (323.4 yards per game) in 2014. It was the first time since Arkansas joined the SEC in 1992 that the Razorbacks had finished in the top 10 in either statistic. In addition, Arkansas became the first unranked team in college football history to post back-to-back shutouts of ranked opponents when the Razorbacks blanked No. 20 LSU and No. 8 Ole Miss in November.
• In 2015, Smith's unit excelled against the run, as Arkansas held 12-of-13 opponents below their season rushing average. The Razorbacks allowed only 116.46 yards per game on the ground, which ranked second in the Southeastern Conference and 12th in the nation.
• Then in 2016, Smith's defense was at its best in the second half of games, as Arkansas allowed only 51 points in the third quarter and 73 in the fourth quarter.

PLAYING EXPERIENCE

• A 1997 graduate of Allegheny (Pa.) College with a bachelor's degree in economics, Smith was a three-year letterwinner at strong safety. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Iowa from 1999-2001 and earned his master's degree in communications studies from Iowa in 2002.

ADAM SCHEIER

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

Adam Scheier is in his first season as Rutgers' special teams coordinator. A native of The Bronx, New York, Scheier brings 24 years of collegiate coaching experience into 2020, including the last 20 working with special teams.

COACHING HISTORY

2020-present: Rutgers (special teams coordinator)
2019: Mississippi State (senior special teams consultant)
2018: Texas Tech (special teams coordinator)
2017: Ohio State (quality control, kicking)
2014-16: Wake Forest (special teams coordinator/tight ends)
2009-13: Bowling Green (special teams coordinator/tight ends)
2005-08: Lehigh (special teams coordinator/wide receivers)
2002-04: Lehigh (special teams coordinator/running backs)
2000-01: Princeton (special teams coordinator/wide receivers)
1997-99: Columbia (strong safeties/outside linebackers)
1996: Dartmouth (secondary)

THE SCHEIER FILE

Hometown: The Bronx, N.Y.
Alma Mater: Dartmouth, 1995

Children: Daughters, Callie, Riley and Maddie; Son, Brady

MOST RECENTLY

• Scheier spent the 2019 season as senior special teams consultant at Mississippi State, as the Bulldogs earned a spot in the Music City Bowl. In 2018 he served as Texas Tech's special teams coordinator, earning a Broyles Award nomination, and overlapped with Schiano on the 2017 Ohio State staff.
• In 2018, Scheier served as special teams coordinator at Texas Tech and merited a Broyles Award nomination. The Red Raiders were one of only three schools nationally that produced a semifinalist for both the Lou Groza Award and the Ray Guy Award. Kicker Clayton Hatfield was named First Team All-Big 12 with 106 points and ranked sixth nationally in field goal percentage (.895). Punter Dominic Panazzolo, who downed 21 boots inside the 20-yard line, and returner De'Quan Bowman, who placed fourth in the country with 906 combined kick return yards, both earned honorable mention All-Big 12 status.
• Scheier arrived in Lubbock after spending the 2017 season at Ohio State, where he served as a special teams quality control coach. In that role, he worked closely with head coach Urban Meyer on game-planning, scheme development, opponent scouting and personnel for a team that won the Big Ten Championship Game and finished No. 5 in the AP Poll. Ohio State ended the year ninth nationally in punting (led the Big Ten), 10th in kickoff coverage (third in the Big Ten) and 17th for kickoff return (second in the Big Ten). The Buckeyes produced All-Big Ten performers at three special teams positions as well, kicker, punter and kickoff return specialist.

WAKE FOREST/BOWLING GREEN

• Scheier helped build several of the nation's top special teams units during his three years at Wake Forest, as the Demon Deacons ranked fourth nationally in net punting during his first season in 2014 and then eighth in 2015. Wake Forest led the ACC each of those two seasons and also ranked 13th nationally for kickoff coverage in 2014. Alex Kinal became one of the nation's top punters under Scheier's guidance. He was a two-time semifinalist for the Ray Guy Award and ended his tenure at Wake Forest ranked fourth all-time in career punting (41.8 yards per punt).
• Scheier, who was also the tight ends coach at Wake Forest and Bowling Green, was instrumental in the development of Cam Serigne, who set the Wake Forest single-season record for receptions by a tight end as just a redshirt freshman in 2014. Serigne caught 54 passes for 531 yards and five touchdowns that season, earning second team Freshman All-America honors by College Football News and third team accolades by Athlon Sports. Serigne, who played three seasons under Scheier, added 562 receiving yards through the air the following season, which ranked second all-time among Wake Forest tight ends. He closed his career in 2017 as the school's all-time career leader for both receptions and receiving yards by a tight end.
• Scheier was similarly successful during his stint at Bowling Green, as the Falcons regularly ranked among the top special-teams units in the Mid-American Conference (MAC). During his five-year tenure, Bowling Green blocked 16 kicks, returned three kickoffs for a touchdown and added four more touchdowns via punts during that span alone.
• In his final season, Bowling Green led the MAC and finished fourth in the nation for punt return average. Bowling Green returned two punts for a touchdown in 2013, as the Falcons led the MAC and ranked fourth nationally in punt return average. The Falcons were also the conference leader for kickoff return average as the Falcons finished 14th nationally in the category.

PLAYING EXPERIENCE

• Scheier began his coaching career shortly after a four-year career at Dartmouth College where he was named the Special Teams Player of the Year as a senior. He earned his degree in psychology from Dartmouth shortly after his playing career concluded in 1995.
• Scheier remained at Dartmouth for the 1996 season where he assisted in coaching the secondary. He moved to Columbia University a year later to coach the strong safeties and outside linebackers for three seasons (1997-99). While in New York, he also earned his master's degree in education from Columbia in 1998.

PRINCETON

• Aurich was promoted to offensive coordinator in 2019, after spending the previous three seasons (2016-18) as offensive line coach at Princeton.
• In his first season leading the offense, Aurich guided the Tigers to a second-ranked rushing offense with 164.7 yards per game and ranked third in scoring offense, total offense and passing offense. Seven players on the Tigers' offense earned All-Ivy League accolades, including first-team selection Alex Deters.
• In 2018, Princeton boasted the top rushing offense in the conference with 295.5 yards per game and the second-best passing offense at 241.3 passing yards. The offensive line tied for second in the Ivy for the fewest sacks allowed that season. During a perfect 10-0 season, the Tigers led the FCS in scoring offense with 47.0 points per game and finished second in total offense and sixth in rushing offense. The offense broke its previous 2013 record to become the highest scoring offense in league history. Three lineman earned all-league recognition, including first-team honors for both George Attea and Reily Radosevich.
• Since being named offensive line coach, Aurich helped 12 linemen to All-Ivy League honors, including Mitchell Sweigart, who became the first Tiger since 2001 to receive back-to-back First Team All-Ivy League selection in 2017.
• During a two-year span from 2017-18, Princeton ranked in the top 15 in the country in fewest sacks allowed and the Tigers were in the top five in the country with the fewest tackles-for-loss allowed.
• In 2017, Aurich was also elevated to associate head coach and continued to serve as the program's recruiting coordinator.
• Princeton captured three Ivy League Championships during his tenure with the Tigers and was part of an offensive staff that averaged 36.9 points per game, the program's highest offensive output over a six-year stretch.
• Aurich took over the offensive line prior to the 2016 season, and he helped guide Princeton to an unprecedented three-year run. In 2016, he helped Princeton win the Ivy League title and produce the league's leading scoring (34.6), total (415.5), and rushing (183.2) units.
• Prior to taking over the offensive line, Aurich spent three seasons coaching the tight ends from 2013-15. In that time, he also served as the special teams coordinator for two years from 2014-15. Aurich was hired as the running back coach for the Tigers in 2011 where he mentored Chuck Dibilio, the first true freshman in the Ivy League to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a season.

PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE

• Aurich spent a season in the National Football League with on Schiano's 2012 Tampa Bay Buccaneers staff. It was his third season with Schiano, having spent the 2009 and 2010 seasons on the Rutgers staff. Aurich served in a player development role in his first year (2009) before becoming a defensive assistant in 2010.
• Aurich's coaching career began at his alma mater Concordia Academy, where he was an assistant coach for the 2006 season. He moved to Albright College, where he coached tight ends and served as assistant recruiting coordinator for two years.

PLAYING EXPERIENCE

• A native of St. Paul, Minnesota, Aurich is a graduate of Princeton where he helped to turn the program around during his playing days. After going 2-8 season his sophomore year, he moved into the starting lineup and led the Tigers to a 5-5 record in 2004 and a 7-3 record in 2005. The seven wins during his senior year marked the most at Princeton for more than a decade.

FRAN BROWN

BUCKNELL

• Susan most recently served as special assistant to the director of athletics & recreation at Bucknell in 2019 after resigning as head football coach following the 2018 season. He led the Bison for nine seasons, with a high-water mark of 8-3 in 2014 to earn recognition as the Patriot League Coach of the Year.
• During his tenure as head coach at Bucknell, Susan's players accounted for 69 All-Patriot League accolades, including a pair of four-year honorees in Julién Davenport and Abdullah Anderson, both of whom are now competing in the NFL. Susan also coached four Patriot League Scholar-Athletes of the Year, and his 2017 team set a record with 48 Patriot League Academic Honor Roll selections.

RUTGERS

• Susan spent nine previous seasons with the Scarlet Knights from 2001-09, helping the program to five consecutive bowl appearances and four bowl championships.
• He started off as offensive line coach in 2001 on Schiano's original staff before moving to tight ends in 2003 and adding the title of recruiting coordinator in 2004. Susan was integral in securing several highly-touted and nationally-ranked recruiting classes, including the 2009 group that ranked in the ESPN.com Top 25. He also mentored Clark Harris, a three-time All-Big East selection who completed his 12th NFL season in 2019.

PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE

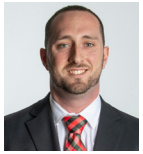

• Before his time at Rutgers, Susan spent one year as the head coach at Davidson in 2000. He led the Wildcats to a 10-0 record, a single-season record for wins and the only undefeated mark in program history. Susan was named the Coach of the Year by the Division I-AA Independents Sports Information Directors Association. Additionally, he received a Presidential Citation from the University of Delaware for outstanding achievement.
• At Princeton, Susan served as both the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach for a decade. In addition to recruiting duties at the Ivy League institution, he organized and implemented year-round strength and conditioning programs, developed and coordinated the spring football clinic and coordinated travel plans for away games.
• Susan's initial tour of duty at Bucknell began in June 1981. From 1981 through 1988, he was in charge of the offensive line and served as strength coach. Prior to the 1989 campaign, Susan was promoted to assistant head coach while keeping his duties with the offensive line. During that time he recruited Schiano, who served as a co-captain as a senior in 1987, to Bucknell.
• Susan's first foray into the coaching profession came at his alma mater, Delaware, where he was a graduate assistant on two separate occasions, separated by a one-year stint at Gettysburg College.

PLAYING EXPERIENCE

• Susan enjoyed an outstanding playing career at Delaware (1973-76), helping his team post a 36-12-1 record. The 1976 Newark Touchdown Club Offensive Lineman of the Year, he helped the Blue Hens capture two Lambert Cups (1974, 1976) and reach the 1974 NCAA Division II national championship game.
• In addition to a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology from Delaware, Susan earned his master's in physical education with an emphasis in exercise physiology from his alma mater in 1982. A native of South River, New Jersey, Susan was inducted into his high school's Hall of Fame in 2014.

ANDREW DIRIENZO

GRADUATE ASSISTANT OFFENSE

Andrew DiRienzo is in first season as an offensive graduate assistant and third year with the program after joining the player development staff in February 2018.

Prior to his arrival "On the Banks," DiRienzo served as the defensive backs coach at Division III Pace University in Pleasantville, New York. In his lone season with the Setters in 2017, DiRienzo helped install the defensive game plan and was in charge of Pace's special teams unit. DiRienzo also worked as the program's social media coordinator.

DiRienzo was a student assistant at Springfield College from 2015-16, where he worked with the team's wide receivers as a junior and the quarterbacks as a senior.

DiRienzo graduated from Springfield in 2016 with a bachelor's degree in sports studies.

ROSS DOUGLAS

GRADUATE ASSISTANT DEFENSE

Ross Douglas enters his first year as a graduate assistant on defense and third season on staff in 2020.

A two-year letterwinner "On the Banks," Douglas played in 22 games for the Scarlet Knights from 2016-17. As a senior in 2017, Douglas started all 12 games at linebacker, totaling 38 tackles with four pass breakups. Douglas also competed in 10 games at safety during his junior campaign. He participated in the Pittsburgh Steelers rookie mini-camp in 2018.

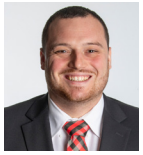

Douglas transferred to Rutgers from the University of Michigan, where he played from 2013-15. Douglas appeared in 18 career games for the Wolverines, which included six games at running back during the 2015 season.

One of the top prospects out of Ohio during his scholastic career, Douglas was named AP Division II All-Ohio first team as a senior after he rushed for 1,363 yards and 24 touchdowns.

A 2017 Academic All-Big Ten selection, Douglas graduated from Michigan with a bachelor's degree in general studies with a concentration in history in 2016. The Avon, Ohio, native earned his master's degree in labor studies and employment relations from Rutgers in 2018.

SCOTT VALLONE

GRADUATE ASSISTANT OFFENSE

Scott Vallone, who holds the Rutgers football program record with 53 career games played, is in his first season as an offensive graduate assistant for the Scarlet Knights. He coached the Fordham defensive line the previous two years, being promoted to associate head coach in 2019.

In his first year with the Rams, Vallone guided a line that helped the defense lead the Patriot League and rank 20th in the NCAA FCS in tackles-for-loss (7.5/game). The team placed 36th nationally with 2.42 sacks per game in 2019.

Vallone joined the Fordham staff after spending two years at St. Lawrence University as the team's defensive coordinator. He also coached the linebackers in 2017 and the defensive line in 2016. In 2017, Vallone saw linebacker Skyler Williamson earn Liberty Conference Defensive Player of the Year and First Team All-Region honors along with three other players who earned All-Liberty Conference accolades. The St. Lawrence defense led the Liberty Conference in fourth down conversion (seventh in the NCAA), tackles-for-loss (12th in the NCAA), first downs defense (41st in the NCAA), third down conversion and sacks.

In 2016, Vallone led the Saints defense to one of the most dominant seasons in program history. St. Lawrence was the top-ranked team in the Liberty League in 13 defensive categories and ranked in the top 10 in the nation in five categories, including scoring defense (second, 11.0 points allowed per game), defensive touchdowns (third, six in 10 games), first downs defense (seventh overall and third among teams that played more than eight games, 129 allowed), red zone defense (seventh, .500), and tackles-for-loss (ninth, 9.1 per game). Among the Saints' defensive leaders was Chyron Brown-Wallace, the most decorated St. Lawrence football player in nearly 35 years. He earned the highest vote total among NCAA Division III athletes for the Cliff Harris Award, which recognizes the best small college defensive player in the nation. A two-time American Football Coaches Association First-Team All-American, Brown-Wallace was the 2016 Liberty League Defensive Player of the Year and earned D3football.com All-American honors.

Vallone served as the defensive line assistant coach at his alma mater, Rutgers University, in 2015 and started his coaching career as St. Lawrence's defensive line coach in 2014.

Vallone graduated from Rutgers in 2012 with a Bachelor of Arts in economics. A four-year starter for the Scarlet Knights at defensive tackle, he was a First Team All-Big East selection and the school's Best Rush Lineman Award winner as a senior after posting a team-high 12.5 tackles-for-loss. He finished his career with 195 tackles and made 51 consecutive starts. A Football Writers Association of America Freshman All-America in 2009, he scored a touchdown against North Carolina Central after recovering a fumble in the end zone in the first game of the 2011 season.

Following graduation, Vallone had professional stints with three NFL teams, including the Miami Dolphins, Detroit Lions and New England Patriots. He also spent time in the CFL with the Montreal Alouettes.

JAMAAL WESTERMAN

GRADUATE ASSISTANT DEFENSE

Jamaal Westerman returns to Rutgers in 2020 for his first season as a defensive graduate assistant. He played in 50 games for the Scarlet Knights from 2005-08 before seeing action in 58 NFL contests (2009-13) and 60 CFL games (2015-18). He ranks third in RU history with 26 career sacks.

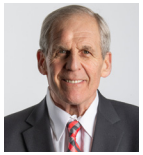

Born in Brooklyn, New York, later moving to Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and playing high school football at Notre Dame Academic in Brampton, Ontario, Canada, Westerman was a two-time All-Big East selection and part of four RU teams that appeared in bowl games. That included traveling back to Canada for the 2008 International Bowl, a 52-30 victory over Ball State.

Overall, Westerman recorded 141 collegiate tackles as a defensive end with 44.5 tackles-for-loss, 26 sacks, four pass breakups, three forced fumbles and two blocked kicks. He earned the team's David Bender Award in 2008.

Westerman was signed by the New York Jets in 2009 and would also appear with the Indianapolis Colts, Arizona Cardinals, Buffalo Bills and Pittsburgh Steelers. In the CFL, Westerman posted 17 sacks with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers to earn all-star status.

DENNIS GOLDMAN

OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

A native of Brooklyn, New York, with nearly four decades of coaching experience, Dennis Goldman is in his first season as an offensive assistant for the Scarlet Knights. Goldman reunites with offensive coordinator Sean Gleeson, as the two worked five seasons together on the Princeton staff from 2013-17.

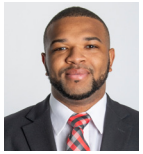

Goldman mentored 12 All-Ivy League wide receivers during his tenure with the Tigers, winning the league title in 2013 and 2016. Previously, Goldman spent six seasons as the wide receivers coach for the CFL's Hamilton Tiger-Cats and also coached the position group at Syracuse, Maryland and Temple. Goldman tutored Super Bowl XLII hero David Tyree and NFL standouts Marvin Harrison and Qadry Ismail during a 10-year stint the Orange.

Goldman began his coaching career in 1971 at Bulkely (Conn.) High School. He then coached at Jonathan Law High School in Milford, Connecticut (1973) before working at Westchester (N.Y.) Community College in 1974. He landed his first four-year college coaching job at Southern Connecticut State. After a one-year stint at Orville Platt High School (1980), Goldman headed to Princeton (1981) for the first time. Following one year with the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy in 1982, Goldman directed Northeastern's secondary and special teams from 1983-85. He instructed wide receivers and tight ends at Holy Cross from 1986-1990.

Goldman is a graduate of Abraham Lincoln High School in Brooklyn. He earned a bachelor's degree in health and physical education at Southern Connecticut State, where he played offensive line, in 1971, and received his master's degree in physical education from the University of Bridgeport in 1974. Goldman and his wife, Christine, have two children, Jake and Leah. He welcomed his first grandson, Louie, in 2015.

JAMEL MUTUNGA

OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Jamel Mutunga is in his first year as an offensive assistant at Rutgers. Mutunga spent the previous three seasons on staff at Princeton, where he coached the Tigers' running backs and helped Princeton's offense become one of the most prolific units in the FCS.

Princeton's backfield shined under the watch of Mutunga, as the Tigers produced the Ivy League's top rushing offense in three consecutive seasons from 2017-19. Princeton went 8-2 in 2019, with Collin Eaddy produced 12 rushing touchdowns and leading the team with 799 yards rushing to claim all-league accolades.

The Tigers went undefeated in 2018 and showcased back-to-back top-10 FCS team rushing totals in 2017 and 2018. Running back Charlie Volker earned first team all-conference laurels and rushed for an Ivy-best 14 touchdowns during the Tigers' undefeated campaign in 2018. Eaddy and Volker both earned multiple all-league recognition.

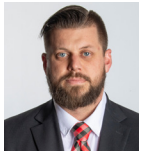

During his Princeton tenure, Mutunga took part in the Bill Walsh Minority Coaching Fellowship with the Atlanta Falcons. Mutunga worked with the Falcons' running backs and wide receivers and also assisted with special projects for head coach Dan Quinn. Mutunga also took part in the program with the New York Jets in 2014.

Prior to his arrival at Princeton, Mutunga spent three seasons at Lehigh from 2014-16 as an offensive assistant coach. The Mountain Hawks possessed the No. 6 offense in the FCS during his final season on staff, as Lehigh running back Dom Bragalone rushed for 1,171 yards and 14 touchdowns to earn First Team All-Patriot League honors.

Mutunga's first collegiate coaching stop came at Muhlenberg, where he worked with the team's tight ends and running backs as an offensive assistant from 2012-13. The program produced 16 wins during his two-year stint in Allentown, Pennsylvania, which included an 8-3 record and an invitation to the ECAC South Atlantic Bowl in 2013.

A standout collegiate running back, Mutunga was a four-year letterwinner and three-year starter at Gettysburg College from 2006-09. He had 2,804 career rushing yards and earned All-Centennial Conference honors three times. Mutunga tied a Centennial Conference record with five rushing touchdowns in one game and finished his career third on the Gettysburg all-time list with 38 touchdowns. A native of Bel Air, Maryland, Mutunga graduated from Gettysburg in 2011 with bachelor's degrees in business administration and economics.

ADAM WEBER
OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Adam Weber is in his first season as an offensive assistant after working the four previous years as a defensive quality control coach for the Scarlet Knight. He primarily worked with the safeties.

He arrived at Rutgers from Ohio State, where he spent two and a half years as a defensive assistant with the Buckeyes. That included being part of the 2014 national championship team.

Prior to OSU, Weber worked in the athletic department at Bishop Kenny High School in Jacksonville, Florida. He also served as an account assistant representative with the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Weber earned his bachelor's degree from the University of North Florida in sports management in 2012. While at UNF, he worked in the Ospreys' athletic department as a development intern.

TJ WEYL
OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

TJ Weyl is in first year as an offensive assistant at Rutgers. Weyl spent the last two seasons on staff at Vanderbilt and also worked at Monmouth and Princeton prior to his arrival "On the Banks."

Weyl served as a defensive graduate assistant with the Commodores from 2018-19, where he worked primarily with the inside linebackers. Vanderbilt picked up six wins and earned a trip to the Texas Bowl against Baylor in 2018.

In 2017, Weyl served as quality control assistant for a Princeton offense that averaged 38.2 points, 483 total yards and 351 passing yards per game. In 2016, Weyl started his coaching career as an offensive quality control coach at Monmouth.

A native of Medfield, Massachusetts, Weyl earned a master's degree in liberal arts and sciences from Vanderbilt in 2020 and a bachelor's degree in history from Cornell in 2012. Weyl played lacrosse for the Big Red and helped Cornell to back-to-back NCAA Final Four appearances in 2009 and 2010.

JORDAN HUXTABLE
DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

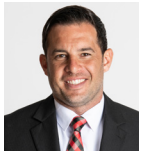

Jordan Huxtable is in his second season with the Scarlet Knights and first serving as a defensive assistant. He worked as a defensive quality control coach in 2019.

Huxtable spent the 2018 season as an assistant defensive backs coach at Morehead State. Huxtable helped Sayyid Kanu earn honorable mention All-Pioneer honors after the senior corner produced a team-best 62 tackles along with a team-high six pass breakups and two interceptions.

Prior to his arrival at Morehead State, Huxtable worked the 2017 season on the coaching staff at Elmhurst College and the 2016 campaign as a coaching intern at Northern Illinois. At NIU, Huxtable assisted with the cornerbacks.

The St. Charles, Illinois, native played football at the University of Connecticut and Northern Illinois before he closed out his collegiate career at Illinois State. Huxtable earned his bachelor's degree in university studies from Illinois State in 2016.

DREW LASCARI
DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Drew Lascari is in his third season on the Rutgers football staff. He is serving as a defensive assistant after spending the last eight games of the 2019 season as the quarterbacks coach. Lascari worked as special teams quality control coach for the Scarlet Knights in 2018. Prior to his arrival at RU, Lascari was the head coach at Cardinal Mooney Catholic High School in Sarasota, Florida.

Lascari spent three seasons at the helm of the Cardinal Mooney varsity team, establishing the structure, core beliefs and goals for the football program. He was responsible for organizing all practices, game plan implementation and scheduling, while managing a staff of 15 coaches. Lascari led a six-win improvement as the team went from 2-8 in year one to an 8-2 record in his second season. He also oversaw the academic progress management for each student and designed the team's strength program.

A native of Pequannock, New Jersey, Lascari began his coaching career at Don Bosco Prep where he spent six seasons with the Ironmen. He served as the offensive coordinator during his tenure, including coaching the wide receiver and quarterback positions. Lascari was also the team's NCAA placement coordinator and head strength coach.

Lascari developed the daily practice schedule and scripts, as well as handled all offensive installations, scouting reports and game film analysis. While at Don Bosco, Lascari coached former Rutgers wide receiver and All-Big Ten selection Leonte Carroo.

Lascari graduated from Pequannock Township High School and later played football at SUNY Cortland, where he was a four-year letterwinner and Academic All-American. He earned a bachelor's degree in Health Science from SUNY Cortland and a master's degree in sports management at Columbia University.

DAMASO MUÑOZ
DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Born in Brooklyn, New York, and raised in Miami, Florida, Damaso Muñoz is in his first season as a defensive assistant for the Scarlet Knights. He was a four-year letterwinner as a Rutgers linebacker from 2006-09, as the team won a bowl championship each season.

Most recently, Muñoz served as an assistant coach at Florida powerhouse St. Thomas Aquinas, helping the team to a perfect 15-0 record, after working with defensive backs and special teams at NAIA Keiser University.

As a player, Muñoz was recruited to Rutgers out of Miami Southridge High School and went on to play in 51 games for the Scarlet Knights with 200 career tackles, 20 tackles-for-loss and three interceptions. He also had a 35-yard kickoff return for a touchdown in the St. Petersburg Bowl, a 45-24 victory over UCF.

Muñoz was signed by the Chicago Bears in 2010 and later by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. He had a successful six-year career in the Canadian Football League, playing with the Edmonton Eskimos and Ottawa Redblacks. He served a captain for the Redblacks in 2016 and earned the team's defensive player of the year.

Muñoz graduated from Rutgers with a bachelor's degree in labor management in 2010.

CHARLIE NOONAN
DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

A former Rutgers football team captain along the defensive line, Charlie Noonan is in his first season back with the Scarlet Knights as a defensive assistant. Noonan spent last season on staff at Lehigh as the Mountain Hawks' linebackers coach and run defensive coordinator.

With the help of Noonan, Lehigh produced the top rushing defense in the Patriot League in 2019. Linebacker Keith Woetzel earned Second Team All-America and first team all-conference accolades for the Mountain Hawks, as he led the Patriot League in tackles (118), sacks (12) and tackles-for-loss (17.5).

Noonan joined Lehigh from Holy Cross, where he spent four seasons (2015-18) as a defensive line coach. During his first season with the Crusaders, Noonan worked with defensive end Dewayne Cameron, who earned first team All-Patriot League honors twice, as well as a spot on the first team All-New England team.

In his second season at Holy Cross in 2016, defensive end Ryan Smith led the Patriot League with 12 sacks. In 2017, his defense earned 23 sacks for 154 yards and forced 12 fumbles and in 2018, Noonan mentored Teddy Capsis to first team All-Patriot League accolades.

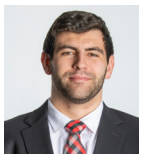

Before his appointment at Holy Cross, Noonan spent two seasons as a graduate assistant at Rutgers from 2013-14. Noonan mentored All-Big Ten selection Kemoko Turay, who led the team with 7.5 sacks during the 2014 campaign. In 2013, RU allowed just 100.8 rushing yards per game, the fourth-best mark in the country.

Noonan also worked at Division III Thiel College (Pa.) in 2012. Competing in the Presidents' Athletic Conference, Thiel's defense finished its season first in the league in both sacks and rushing defense, while finishing in second place in tackles-for-loss and total defense.

In 2011, Noonan served as a volunteer assistant coach at the Haverford School (Pa.), where he worked with the defense.

Noonan earned a bachelor's degree in economics and a master's degree in labor and employment relations from Rutgers in 2010. Noonan was a two-year starter four-year letterwinner at defensive tackle for the Scarlet Knights under current head coach Greg Schiano from 2006-10 and finished his collegiate career with 72 stops in 47 games played. Noonan signed with the Philadelphia Eagles as an undrafted free agent in 2011.

JOE SCHIANO
DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Joe Schiano is in his first season as a defensive assistant for the Scarlet Knights. He is the eldest son of Rutgers head coach Greg Schiano.

Schiano finished his playing career at Bucknell in 2019, seeing action in all 11 games with 25 tackles (17 solo), 3.5 tackles-for-loss, two sacks and two forced fumbles. In the win over Lehigh, the defensive lineman sealed the game with a strip sack on the final drive. He was a recipient of the Tom Gadd Coaches' Award.

Academically as a history major, Schiano earned a spot on the Patriot League Academic Honor Roll three times, became a member of the National Football Foundation Hampshire Honor Society and garnered recognition on the Bucknell Dean's List.

Schiano was born in Chicago and played high school football at Berkeley Prep in Tampa, Florida.

KEITH BRUNO

SPECIAL TEAMS ASSISTANT

Keith Bruno is in his first season as a special teams assistant with Rutgers football. He spent last year on the Albright football coaching staff as special teams coordinator and safeties coach.

Bruno returned to Albright, his alma mater, in 2019 for his second stint of coaching after spending two years as the defensive coordinator at St. Lawrence. In 2017, as special teams coordinator, the Lions blocked four kicks.

As a defensive coordinator at St. Lawrence in 2018, the Saints led the Liberty League in sacks and tackles-for-loss. Bruno also developed first team all-league linebacker Liam Murray, and all-league/all-region defensive lineman Tyler Mirabile, along with honorable mention defensive back Tyler Burns.

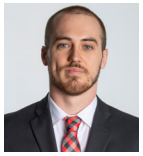

Bruno was part of a coaching staff that helped lead Albright to a MAC-Centennial Bowl Championship title in 2016, as the Lions posted an 8-3 overall record. As the special teams coordinator, Bruno coached three all-conference players, including two first team selections. He mentored units that led the conference in numerous categories such as field goals, touchdowns, converted fakes and total kickoff coverage. In 2015, Bruno helped lead Albright to a Middle Atlantic Conference title with a 10-2 mark, coaching a secondary that ranked seventh in the nation in interceptions.

Bruno played on the Lions football team from 2008-12. The free safety posted 43 tackles as a junior and 39 as a senior. Bruno was a member of the 2009 Albright football team that posted a school-record 11 wins and advanced to the quarterfinals of the NCAA Division III playoffs.

Following his playing career at Albright, Bruno moved into the high school coaching ranks at his alma mater Brick Township Memorial in New Jersey, where he coached the linebackers during the 2012 season. Bruno then moved on to McDaniel where he served as an assistant coach working with the defensive backs in 2013 and 2014. Bruno earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from Albright in 2012, and graduated from Brick Memorial High School in 2008.

AARON MILLER

SPECIAL TEAMS ASSISTANT

Aaron Miller is in his first season with Rutgers football in 2020 as a special teams assistant. Miller previously worked at Princeton, where he served as the Tigers' offensive quality control and assistant running backs coach during the 2019 season.

Princeton finished 8-2 during Miller's lone season with the Tigers, as the team produced the Ivy League's top rushing offense in 2019. Miller assisted with a unit that featured running back Collin Eaddy, who produced 12 rushing touchdowns to claim all-league accolades.

Prior to his arrival at Princeton, Miller was hired as a special teams quality control coach at Texas Tech in 2018. Miller worked with kicker Clayton Hartfield, who was a First Team All-Big 12 selection and a Lou Groza Award semifinalist.

Miller spent two seasons (2016-17) on staff at Ohio State as a special teams assistant, where he was in charge of the unit's scout teams during Buckeye practices. Kicker Sean Neurnberger and punter Drue Chrisman earned Third Team All-Big Ten accolades in 2017, as Chrisman was a semifinalist for the Ray Guy Award.

Miller earned his bachelor's degree in marketing and sport industry in 2016 from Ohio State. During his time as an undergraduate in Columbus, Miller worked as a video assistant with the Buckeye football team.

WILL GILKISON

ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR/FOOTBALL

Will Gilkison is in his 19th season with the Rutgers football program in 2020 and serves as the associate athletic director of football. He previously held the title of director of football operations for nine years after working as director of external operations and as a member of the Rutgers coaching staff. Gilkison was a four-year letterwinner for the Scarlet Knights.

Gilkison's duties include the oversight of the day-to-day operations of the football program, along with logistical and budgetary responsibilities. He also manages team travel, organizes preseason camp and serves as the team's liaison to other athletic department offices and university branches.

A four-year letterwinner at linebacker with the Scarlet Knights, Gilkison captained the 2005 Insight Bowl team and was the recipient of the Paul Robeson Award, presented annually to the individual whose performance, leadership, and dedication on and off the field during his career has had the greatest impact on Rutgers football.

Gilkison became a member of the staff in 2006 as a student assistant. He was responsible for helping prepare and implement weekly practice schedules. Gilkison also worked as a strength and conditioning assistant during this time, creating and facilitating offseason training programs while instructing players in skill development.

In 2008, Gilkison joined the player development staff, serving as a mentor for first and second year players. He oversaw the transition of these individuals into the college environment, assisting them with basic life skills, time management, goal setting and prioritizing. He and his wife Katie currently reside in Union Beach, New Jersey. The couple have six children, Margaret, William, Grace, Gunnar, Harrison and Penelope.

ERIC JOSEPHS

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Eric Josephs begins his second season as director of player personnel at Rutgers. Prior to his arrival "On the Banks," Josephs spent the previous season at Baylor as the program's director of player personnel.

During his time in Waco, Josephs helped the Bears secure the No. 4 overall recruiting class in the Big 12 according to both Rivals and 247Sports for the 2019 recruiting cycle. In 2018, Baylor went on to win the Academy Sports + Outdoors Texas Bowl.

Josephs arrived at Baylor following a two-year stint as the director of recruiting at Tennessee from 2016-18. While on Rocky Top, Josephs helped the Vols secure the nation's No. 15 ranked recruiting class in 2017 according to Rivals and ESPN and a top-20 class in 2018. Tennessee secured a victory in the Music City Bowl over Nebraska in 2016.

Prior to his time with Tennessee, Josephs spent three years at the University of Miami (Fla.) from 2013-15, which included a stint as the program's director of player personnel in 2015. That season, Josephs was responsible for the identification, selection, organization and flow charts of prospective recruits. Miami made three-straight bowl appearances during his time with the Hurricanes and signed three top 25 recruiting classes. The 2014 class was rated No. 10 in the nation according to ESPN, while 2015 was ranked No. 25 and the 2016 class was listed at No. 19.

Josephs spent 2012 as an intern with the Philadelphia Eagles and also completed internships with the Dallas Cowboys, New England Patriots and Buffalo Bills. A native of Teaneck, New Jersey, Josephs earned his bachelor's degree in management from Wisconsin in 2011.

MIKE KUZNIAK

DIRECTOR OF BEHAVIORAL SCIENCE AND TEAM SERVICES

Mike Kuzniak returns to Rutgers as the program's director of Behavioral Science and Team Services, where he will oversee the Scarlet Knights' equipment room. Kuzniak enjoyed a 13-year tenure "On the Banks" from 2004-16, which included a nine-year stint as RU's Director of Player Services.

Kuzniak, a BCBA (Board Certified Behavioral Analysis), spent the last four years as an ABA (Applied Behavioral Analysis) consultant working with children, adolescents, adults and their families throughout the state of New Jersey. He also utilizes the science of ABA to help athletes develop the ability to do the right thing in the right way in varied situations.

Kuzniak started as a student manager in the equipment room in 2004 and took charge of management of junior football managers. He also assisted with the shipping and receiving, handling and maintenance of athletic equipment, while creating an inventory database for indoor/outdoor equipment and apparel.

A two-time graduate of Rutgers, Kuzniak earned his Bachelor of Arts in 2006 and Masters of Education in 2008. Prior to arriving on campus, Kuzniak served in the United States Marine Corps, with stops in Parris Island, South Carolina, Camp Pendleton, California, Little Creek, Virginia, and Okinawa, Japan.

Kuzniak and his wife, Jamie, are the parents of two sons, Owen and Everett.

KEVIN MACCONNELL

CHIEF OF STAFF

Kevin MacConnell is in his first season back at Rutgers as the football chief of staff. MacConnell spent more than 25 years in his previous stint with Rutgers Athletics, last serving as the department's deputy director of athletics.

For the past six years, MacConnell helped create and oversaw the Sports Division for Academy Bus, the largest bus provider of collegiate and professional sports teams in the country.

MacConnell has over 35 years of experience in college and professional sports, most recently serving as the director of football operations for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers under head coach Greg Schiano. In that role he handled many of the day to day activities for the NFL club and served as the liaison between football and non-football departments. In addition, he managed several elements of Schiano's off-field agenda, including player and staff communications, football and stadium operations, scheduling and personal requests.

Prior to his time in the NFL, MacConnell oversaw various roles at Rutgers, assisting with public and community relations, marketing, promotions, corporate sponsorship, fundraising, ticket sales, event management and operations, team travel, radio and television. In his first post at Rutgers, MacConnell was the director of sports media relations before taking on the role of assistant athletic director of marketing and communications, followed by associate athletic director for external affairs. He was promoted to deputy director of athletics, a role that he held for his final seven years at Rutgers.

MacConnell began his career in the National Basketball Association as assistant public relations director of the New Jersey Nets. From there, he became director of public relations for the USFL's New Jersey Generals before starting his college athletics career as director of media relations for the Atlantic 10 Conference.

MacConnell and his wife, Debbie, have a son, Kevin. He also has a son Brett, who currently serves as the associate head coach and recruiting coordinator on the Princeton men's basketball staff.

DAVE MCCUNE

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF ATHLETIC TRAINING/ HEAD FOOTBALL ATHLETIC TRAINER

Dave McCune, a Virginia native, rejoined the Rutgers football team in January 2020 as the head athletic trainer. He is employed by RWJBH Health Services and also serves as the assistant director of the athletic training department. He previously served at Rutgers as the Scarlet Knights' head football athletic trainer from 2001-2016, overseeing all aspects of athletic training from injury prevention to rehabilitation within the program. While at Rutgers, he also co-directed in the coordination of the entire athletic department's athletic training staff.

McCune's extensive professional career spans over 33 years where he began as an assistant athletic trainer at Missouri State University. He first served as head athletic trainer at the University of Miami Sports Medicine Clinic from 1989 and until 1995 working with the orthopedic surgeons for the Heat, Marlins, Dolphins and Hurricanes. He then returned to his alma mater to serve as the men's basketball, soccer and baseball athletic trainer for James Madison University from 1995-97.

Following his time with the Dukes, he returned to the University of Miami as the coordinator of athletic training & football athletic trainer from 1997-2001. From 2001, McCune has served as the head football athletic trainer for the Scarlet Knights at Rutgers University. In 2005, he was named the co-director of athletic training and has remained in that position until 2016.

In July 2016, he was named the head athletic trainer at Christopher Newport University in Newport News, Virginia. He served as the coordinator for the athletic training department and also provided and the medical care for the Captains' football and baseball teams.

McCune received his bachelor's degree from James Madison University and went on to earn his master's degree from Missouri State University in 1988. A member of the National Athletic Trainer's Association (NATA), McCune has also served as a clinical education instructor at Rutgers since 2001 and has teaching experience dating back to 1987. In addition to his work in collegiate athletic departments, he has also worked and traveled with the USA National Track & Field team, USA Soccer, and was selected to work the Pan American Games.

McCune is married to Annie, a Rutgers grad. They have three sons, Devon, Braden and Alex.

DAMIERE SHAW

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Damiere Shaw is in his first season as the director of player development at Rutgers. A native of Chester, Pennsylvania, with experience developing NFL talent, Shaw spent 2019 on the staff at Fordham after serving for two years at Baylor.

As the wide receivers coach at Fordham, Shaw mentored three wideouts to over 600 receiving yards, the only team in the Patriot League to achieve the feat. That included rookie DeQuece Carter, who broke the school record for receptions (53) and receiving yards (723) by a freshman. Overall, the Rams paced the conference in total offense (357.2) and scoring offense (25.0), placing second in passing offense (223.9).

Shaw spent the 2017 and 2018 seasons as an offensive quality control coach for head coach Matt Rhule at Baylor. The job included assisting with coaching the wide receivers, identifying opposing team's coverages and personnel tendencies on game day, and breaking down opposing team's game film during the week. Shaw helped develop Jalen Hurd, a third-round pick of the San Francisco 49ers and the 2018 Big 12 Offensive Newcomer of the Year. He also mentored Denzel Mims, who finished third in school history in touchdowns, fifth in receptions and sixth in receiving yards. The Bears won the 2018 Texas Bowl over Vanderbilt.

Prior to his stint at Baylor, Shaw spent one season as a graduate assistant coach for Temple under Rhule in 2016, assisting with the wide receivers. The Owls won the American Athletic Conference championship that season.

Shaw made the transition from player to coach following an injury as a freshman. He served as a student assistant focusing on wide receivers with the Owls for three seasons from 2013-15. During the tenure, Shaw worked closely with Robby Anderson, who posted the second-most receiving yards in program history, and Keith Kirkwood, both NFL receivers.

Shaw earned a bachelor's degree from Temple in 2016. He is married to the former Miah Shockley and the couple welcomed their son, Justice, in 2020.

JORDAN WOLKSTEIN

DIRECTOR OF COMMUNICATIONS AND BRANDING

Jordan Wolkstein is in his first year as the director of communications and branding for Rutgers football in 2020. Wolkstein is responsible for the Scarlet Knights' presence on social media, including Facebook, Instagram and Twitter.

Prior to his arrival in Piscataway, Wolkstein spent four years in the financial sector. Wolkstein became an associate at Goldman Sachs in 2018 after a three-year tenure at JPMorgan Chase & Co. from 2015-18.

Wolkstein worked under current head coach Greg Schiano with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as an operations intern from 2012-13. After his year-long stint in South Florida, Wolkstein served in the same capacity with the football program at Maryland during its training camp in 2014.

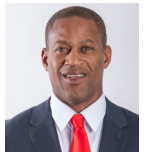

A Livingston, New Jersey, native, Wolkstein graduated with a bachelor's degree in business administration from Muhlenberg College in 2015.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. – Despite outgaining its opponent, Rutgers football closed out its 2019 season with a 27-6 road loss to No. 12 Penn State, ranked No. 10 in the College Football Playoff poll, on Saturday.

The Scarlet Knights rushed for 184 yards against the Nittany Lions, who entered Saturday with the fourth-best rushing defense in the country with just 89 yards allowed per game. Sophomore running back Isaih Pacheco led the RU rushing attack with 18 carries for 102 yards, while redshirt freshman quarterback Johnny Langan added 58 rushing yards. It was the fifth career 100-yard rushing game for Pacheco and third of the season.

Langan finished the day with 222 yards of total offense, which included 12 completions for 164 yards. Freshman wide receiver Isaiah Washington hauled in four catches for 63 yards to lead the receiving corp. Rutgers outgained Penn State, 383-333, the most total yards against a ranked opponent since Oct. 29, 2011 against No. 25 West Virginia.

On defense, the Scarlet Knights recorded a season-high four sacks, as junior linebacker Tyshon Fogg led the unit with 1.5 sacks to go along with his 100th tackle of the season. Redshirt freshman defensive back Christian Izien matched Fogg with with eight tackles, while junior defensive back Tre Avery recorded his second career interception. Junior defensive lineman Julius Turner added a blocked extra point in the loss.

Junior placekicker Justin Davidovicz went 2-of-3 on field goal attempts, as he connected on 29 and 38-yard tries to account for the RU scoring in Happy Valley. Junior punter Adam Korsak totaled 227 punting yards and pinned his opponent inside the 20-yard line for the 31st time this season.

NOV. 6, 1869: THE FIRST GAME

THE FIRST GAME

Rutgers and Princeton played the first game of intercollegiate football on Nov. 6, 1869, on a plot of ground where the present-day Rutgers gymnasium now stands in New Brunswick, N.J. Rutgers won that first game, 6-4.

The game was played with two teams of 25 men each under rugby-like rules, but like modern football, it was "replete with surprise, strategy, prodigies of determination and physical prowess," to use the words of one of the Rutgers players.

At 3 p.m. on that memorable afternoon, the 50 competitors and about 100 spectators gathered on the field. To distinguish themselves from the bareheaded visitors, 50 Rutgers students, including players, donned scarlet-colored scarves which they converted into turbans.

Events leading up to the game were described by John W. Herbert, Rutgers '72, who was one of the players: "To appreciate this game to the fullest you must know something of its background," Herbert wrote in 1933. "The two colleges were, and still are, of course, about 20 miles apart. The rivalry between them was intense. For years each had striven for possession of an old Revolutionary cannon, making night forays and lugging it back and forth time and again. Not long before the first football game, the canny Princetonians had settled this competition in their own favor by ignominiously sinking the gun in several feet of concrete. In addition to this, I regret to report, Princeton had beaten Rutgers in baseball by the harrowing score of 40-2. Rutgers longed for a chance to square things."

A challenge for the game was issued by Rutgers. Three games were to be played that year. The first, played at New Brunswick, was won by Rutgers. Princeton won the second game, but cries of "over-emphasis" prevented the third game in football's first year when faculties of both institutions protested on the grounds that the games were interfering with student studies. An analytical account of the game appeared in the November, 1869 issue of the Targum, Rutgers' undergraduate newspaper.

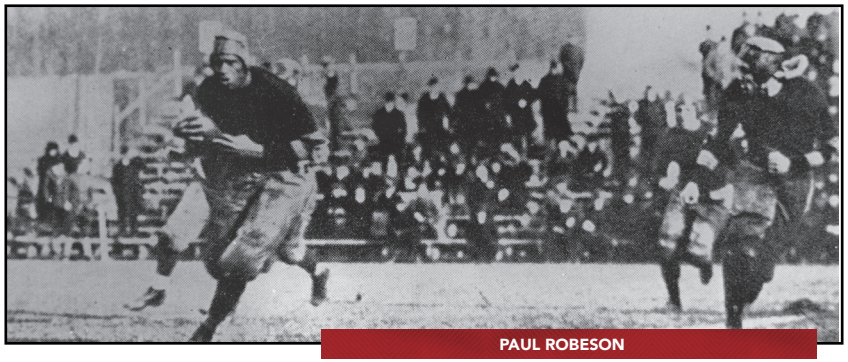

"To describe the varying fortunes of the match, game by game, would be a waste of labor for every game was like the one before," wrote the student reporter. "There was the same headlong running, wild shouting, and frantic kicking.

"To sum up, Princeton had the most muscle, but didn't kick very well, and wanted organization. They evidently don't like to kick the ball on the ground. Our men, on the other hand, though comparatively weak, ran well, and kicked well throughout. But their great point was the organization, for which great praise is due to the captain. The right men were always in the right place."

One of the Princeton players, William Preston Lane, in 1933 contended in a newspaper interview that Rutgers "ran us Princeton men out of town. I never found out why they did that," he related. "But we don't ask any questions. When we saw them coming after us, we ran to the outskirts of New Brunswick and got into our carriages and wagons and went away as fast as we could."

Lane's contention is refuted in the Targum account. "After the match the players had an amicable "feed together," the paper reported. "At 8 o'clock our guests went home, in high good spirits, thirsting to beat us next time, if they can."

Regardless of what actually happened after the first game, football was here to stay. Rutgers got Columbia University started in the grid sport the following season and in a few years most of the colleges and universities in the East were represented on the gridiron.

THE HISTORY OF RUTGERS FOOTBALL

Parts of this article were written by John Bruns, former longtime sports writer for the Home News and the Easton Times-Express.

1869-1912: The Birthplace of College Football

When Rutgers defeated Princeton in 1869, the setting was quite different than it is today. The game was contested on a field along College Avenue in New Brunswick. There were not tens of thousands of cheering fans in a multi-million dollar stadium. There was no manicured grass field or electronic scoreboard. There was no elaborate athletic equipment or television cameras. But on that fall day in 1869, those students established a tradition of quality football programs, competitiveness and school spirit that continues at Rutgers, the birthplace of intercollegiate football.

Entering its 151st season in 2020, Rutgers has had many historical moments, outstanding athletes and memorable triumphs over the years.

However, those historic moments were difficult to predict during the early years when intercollegiate football scheduling was inconsistent. For example, Rutgers won six of 10 games in 1882, but played only one game in 1885. Similarly, the Scarlet Knights went 8-6 in 1891, but two years later played only four games. By the early 1900s, scheduling had become more consistent and football became more popular across the country.

The eight wins of 1891 were not matched until Rutgers went 8-1 in 1947 with one of the most successful teams of coach Harvey Harman in the Golden Era immediately following World War II. That team, quarterbacked by Frank Burns, who would later become Rutgers' most successful coach, lost its opener to Columbia and then swept through eight-straight opponents.

1913-1925: 'A Tradition of Success Begins'

In 1913, coach George Foster Sanford began a tradition of success among Rutgers coaches in their inaugural year by leading his team to a 6-3 mark. He then flirted with two perfect seasons, improving the team to 7-1 in 1915 and 7-1-1 in 1917.

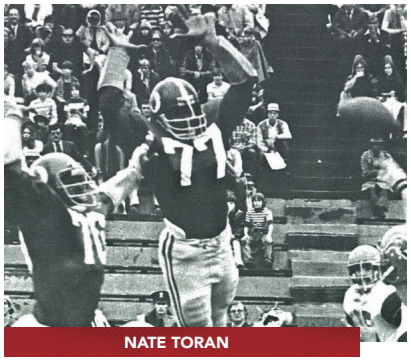

Those two seasons, which featured All-American Paul Robeson, were among Rutgers' best. The Scarlet Knights outscored opponents by an average of 44-3 in 1915 and 33-2 in 1917. Sanford, a member of Rutgers' Hall of Fame, also helped to introduce Rutgers to the New York metropolitan area, playing games at the Polo Grounds against teams like Notre Dame, Nebraska, Louisiana State and West Virginia. A few years later, in 1924, two-time All-America end and fullback Homer Hazel helped coach John Wallace continue the tradition of first-year coaching success, as Rutgers posted a 7-1-1 mark.

1925-1960: Making a Mark on the Collegiate Landscape

Harvey Harman also had a successful first season, going 7-1 in 1938, the year Rutgers dedicated the original Rutgers Stadium. Rutgers won the dedication game, 20-18, over Princeton.

Harman, however, was replaced by former coach Harry Rockafeller during World War II. His tenure included an 8-1 season in 1947 when Rutgers, dominated by WWII veterans, registered a combined record of 27-7 from 1945-48.

When John Steigman coached Rutgers from 1956-59, he brought back the single-wing formation to the Scarlet Knight offense, and led Rutgers to an 8-1 mark in 1958. The only loss of that season, 13-12 to the Quantico Marines, came when All-American tailback Billy Austin had to miss a game due to a broken hand.

1961-1972: RU's First Undefeated Season

Another first-year coach got off to an impressive start when John Bateman went 8-1 in 1960. That campaign was followed by Rutgers' first undefeated season in 1961, when the team went 9-0, capping the season with a fourth-quarter, 25-point comeback win over Columbia. That team included All-American center Alex Kroll, and was ranked 15th nationally. In his 11 seasons, Bateman led Rutgers to 73 wins in 124 games.

1973-1983: The Burns Era & 1976

In 1973, Frank Burns took the reins of Rutgers football and became the most successful Rutgers coach ever by building teams recognized for fundamentals and defense. Burns himself was also known as a fierce linebacker and won the Most Valuable Player Award in the 1949 College All-Star game, when he made 17 tackles against the New York Giants. The Burns' defenses were led by linebackers Ed Steward, Jim Hughes, Jim Dumont and defensive end Nate Toran. Burns' first team went 6-5, while running back "JJ" Jennings rushed for 1,353 yards (third in Rutgers history) and 21 touchdowns (second).

Over the next five seasons, Burns' teams won at least seven games each season, including a five-season stretch from 1975-79 when Rutgers' winning percentage was .803 with a record of 45-11. The jewel in the crown of Burns' tenure as Rutgers' coach was the 1976 season, when the team was perfect at 11-0, establishing the best season ever at Rutgers. During Burns' 11 seasons at Rutgers, the Scarlet Knights won nearly two-thirds of their games (78-44). He also took Rutgers to its first bowl appearance – the Garden State Bowl – at Giants Stadium against Arizona State in 1978.

Doubtless, the biggest win of the Burns era was the 13-7 upset of Tennessee on November 3, 1979 in Knoxville. Burns called it "the greatest of my coaching career."

The following year, 1980, Rutgers had one of its great "near-misses" of its long history when the Scarlet bowed, 17-13, to a highly-favored Alabama team coached by Bear Bryant at Giants Stadium. The gracious Bryant said, "We didn't beat Rutgers. All I can say is we won."

1984-1989: Memorable Upsets

In 1984 when Dick Anderson was named head coach, a renewed commitment to football at Rutgers was backed by a $3 million state-funded package. Those funds helped finance the artificial surface practice fields, the practice "Bubble" and the Hale Center, which includes locker rooms, offices, a weight-training area and medical facilities for the football team.

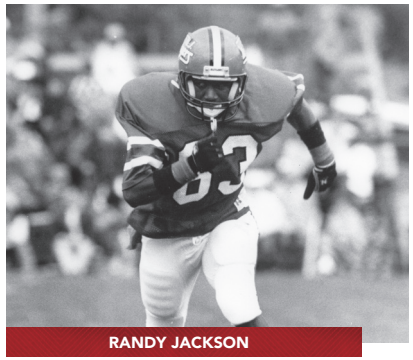

Anderson won seven of 10 games in his inaugural season. Other highlights of his years at Rutgers include upset wins over such nationally-ranked teams as Penn State and Michigan State, and a nationally-televised victory over Northwestern in the program's 1,000th game. Anderson's teams produced some of the most exciting players in Rutgers history, including record-breaking passer Scott Erney, career tackles leader Tyronne Stowe (533 from 1983-86) and football/baseball star Eric Young. Anderson's last game at Rutgers was a memorable one. It was the 1989 Emerald Isle Classic versus Pittsburgh in Dublin, Ireland, the first time a Rutgers team played overseas.

1990-1999: BIG EAST, Big Games

Doug Graber became the Scarlet Knights' 23rd coach in 1990 and placed an emphasis on recruiting the best talent in the state of New Jersey. His first recruiting class included three first team all-state selections and two second-team All-State selections among the 12 recruits from New Jersey.

Another major boost for Rutgers came in 1991 when Rutgers joined the Big East Conference and won its first league game over Boston College, 20-13. The team went 13-9 in its first two years in the league, including a 4-2 mark in 1992.

The 1994 season celebrated not only the 125 years of college football, but also the return of the newly-renovated and expanded Rutgers Stadium. The return was a welcomed one. Rutgers teams have been at their best at the stadium, compiling a 237-120-4 (.662) record there since 1938. The new stadium has been quite a different setting than that of the first college football game played 130 years ago, as the Scarlet Knights are playing for their own place in history as they continue the college football tradition that was born "On the Banks of the Old Raritan."

RANDY JACKSON

2000-2005: Schiano's Arrival

1998 Big East Coach of the Year Terry Shea concluded his tenure in 2000, as the Scarlet Knights opted to take the program in a different direction for the 2001 season. On Dec. 1, 2000, Director of Athletics Bob Mulcahy introduced the newest coach in the storied history of Rutgers football - Greg Schiano.

Schiano's first three recruiting classes rejuvenated the football program. In 2003, the team closed strong, upsetting Syracuse, 24-7, in the season finale. In 2004, before the largest crowd ever at the time at Rutgers Stadium (42,612), the Scarlet Knights defeated Michigan State, 19-14.

In 2005, Schiano coached Rutgers to its best record in over a decade, 7-5, and its first bowl bid since 1978. In a Wild West shootout staged at Chase Field in Phoenix, Rutgers fell just short, losing to Arizona State, 45-40, at the Insight Bowl Dec. 27.

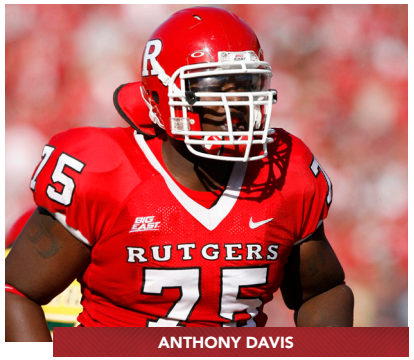

2006: Pandemonium in Piscataway

In 2006 Schiano was named the National Coach of the Year and Big East Coach of the Year, as the Scarlet Knights earned their first national top-10 ranking in 2006 and won 11 games for the second time in school history. The campaign included a thrilling win 28-25 over No. 3/4 Louisville in front of a Thursday night national audience on ESPN. The comeback victory, with RU overcoming an 18-point deficit, became one of the turning points in modern Rutgers history as fans stormed the field to ignite "Pandemonium in Piscataway." Rutgers ended the season with a ranking of No. 12 in the national polls.

The success Rutgers achieved on the field was something Schiano envisioned from the first day he became the leader of the Scarlet Knights. At his introductory press conference, Schiano stated, "We're going to win at Rutgers and we're going to do it the right way." The 2006 season was complete with a convincing 37-10 victory over Kansas State in the Texas Bowl, the first bowl championship in school history. In addition, Brian Leonard was the recipient of the Draddy Trophy, known as the Academic Heisman.

ANTHONY DAVIS

2007-11: Sustained Success

The program won eight more games in 2007, including the highest ranked win in program history with a 30-27 victory over No. 2 USF. The season concluded with a dominating 52-30 victory over Ball State at the International Bowl in Toronto. Ray Rice ran for a school-record 280 rushing yards on the day to bring his career total to 4,926, a program high. An All-America pick and Heisman Trophy candidate, the running back also set the Scarlet Knight standards for attempts (910), touchdowns (49) and 100-yard games (25).

The 2008 campaign for the Scarlet Knights started slowly, but the program relied on a strong foundation built by Schiano and together as a family Rutgers turned in seven consecutive victories to close out the season – culminating in a 29-23 victory over NC State in the PapaJohns.com Bowl. In 2009, the Scarlet Knights saw a number of milestones set en route to a record of 9-4, including a 45-24 victory over UCF in the St. Petersburg Bowl.

Prior to Schiano's arrival at Rutgers, the Scarlet Knights had never fielded a receiver who had gained 1,000 yards in a season. In 2009, Tim Brown became the fourth during his tenure to eclipse the mark. Brown also became the school's all-time leader in receiving touchdowns, passing RU's initial first round draft pick Kenny Britt. RU had two first round picks in 2010, with Anthony Davis being the highest pick in program history at No. 11 by the San Francisco 49ers. Devin McCourty was selected at No. 27 by the New England Patriots.

While the results on the field did not favor Rutgers in 2010, the world was introduced to Eric LeGrand. The junior defensive tackle suffered a spinal cord injury at MetLife Stadium Oct. 16 against Army, but he did not let the condition bring him down. LeGrand has become a public figure and has raised countless dollars towards spinal cord research. He became the first Scarlet Knight in the 144 years of the football program to have his number retired during halftime of the Sept. 14, 2013 game against Eastern Michigan.

SEPT. 13, 2014: FIRST BIG TEN GAME

Rutgers returned to a bowl game in 2011 with a trip to the New Era Pinstripe Bowl. It was the second game of the season for the team at Yankee Stadium. The Scarlet Knights defeated Army during the regular season before beating Iowa State in the bowl game. Wide receiver Mohamed Sanu set the school record with 115 receptions on the season and was drafted in the third round of the NFL Draft by the Cincinnati Bengals.

2012: BIG EAST Co-Champions

Following the season, head coach Greg Schiano took the head coaching job with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers to end an 11-year tenure. Kyle Flood, who joined the program in 2005, was promoted from the staff to the lead position several days later.

Flood made an immediate impact on the Rutgers program with a successful first season, as he led the school to its first Big East Championship in 2012, ending with a 9-4 record and 5-2 record in the league. Flood was named the Big East Coach of the Year, an honor he shared with Louisville's Charlie Strong. Flood's nine regular season victories were the most by any first-year coach in Rutgers history, as eight players garnered All-Big East honors. Khaseem Greene totaled 136 tackles to earn Big East Defensive Player of the Year for the second consecutive season, in addition to All-America status. The defensive unit was among the best in school history, ranking fourth nationally in scoring defense, tied for ninth in turnovers gained and 10th in total defense.

The year culminated with a trip to the Russell Athletic Bowl in Orlando to face Virginia Tech. However, the Scarlet Knights fell 13-10 in overtime. In the offseason, Rutgers had 12 players signed by NFL teams, with a school-record seven selected in the NFL Draft.

Rutgers came out of the gates in 2013 with a 4-1 start through September. Following a 52-51 loss in overtime at Fresno State, RU rattled off four straight wins. The winning streak was highlighted by a comeback win over Arkansas in the first visit by an SEC team to High Point Solutions Stadium. In its first American Athletic Conference game, Rutgers won in triple overtime at SMU, 55-52. Other conference victories included a late fourth quarter win with the hurry-up offense versus Temple and a postseason-clinching performance on Senior Night against USF. The 2013 New Era Pinstripe Bowl was the eighth bowl trip in nine years for Rutgers. The Scarlet Knights took on a ranked Notre Dame team inside a sold-out Yankee Stadium.

2014-19: Big Ten - Our New Home

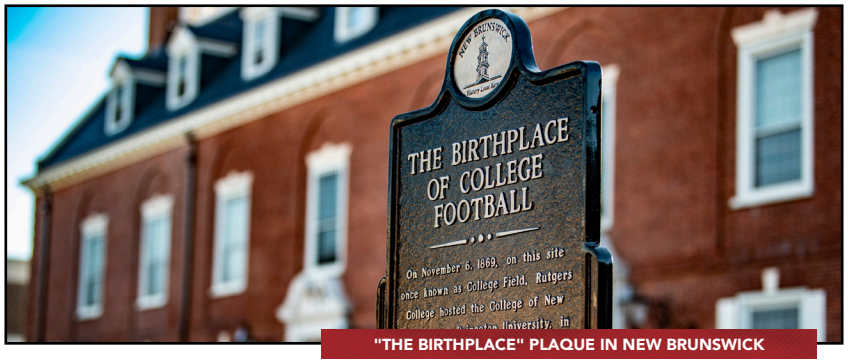

On July 1, 2014, Rutgers officially joined the Big Ten Conference to usher in a new era in its deep and storied history. Support for the program reached new levels for the Big Ten opener, as a stadium-record 53,774 fans packed High Point Solutions Stadium for a game against Penn State. The Scarlet Knights won their first Big Ten game Oct. 4 over Michigan, with Kemoko Turay leaping to block a potential go-ahead field goal to seal the win and set off a storming of the field. The first road win in conference play came at Maryland after RU erased a 35-10 deficit to win 41-38 in the biggest comeback in school history, which would be matched a year later at Indiana. Senior quarterback Gary Nova threw for 347 yards on a career-best 28 completions in the 2014 win versus the Terrapins, ending his career as the all-time touchdown passing leader (73).

The first year in the Big Ten would be capped off with a convincing 40-21 win over North Carolina in the Quick Lane Bowl, hosted by the Detroit Lions. The Scarlet Knights went 8-5 and earned the Lambert-Meadowlands Trophy, emblematic of the top team in the East in the Bowl Subdivision.

In the second year in the Big Ten, Leonte Carroo closed his time as a Scarlet Knight with 10 receiving touchdowns to raise his school-record total to 29 over 31 games at the position. He averaged a score once every 4.2 receptions over his career, racking up 2,373 yards to join the list of standout wide receivers.

"THE BIRTHPLACE" PLAQUE IN NEW BRUNSWICK

On Dec. 7, 2015, Chris Ash took over the program as the Scarlet Knights continued to establish a presence in the Big Ten and nationally. The program added a number of facility upgrades during his tenure, including the Marco Battaglia Football Practice Complex and the Brown Family Football Locker Room.

Culminating a year-long celebration of the 150th anniversary of the first college football game, Rutgers marked the occasion on Nov. 6, 2019 with the Ringing of the Bells at Old Queens and the unveiling of a new plaque at the site celebrating its 6-4 win over Princeton.

2020: Welcome Back, Greg

With a change of leadership announced during the 2019 season, Rutgers announced the return of Schiano as head football coach on Dec. 3, 2019. Schiano, who has three nine-win campaigns and coached 16 Rutgers All-America selections, holds a 68-67 record as the Rutgers head coach, including a 56-33 mark in his last seven seasons. The 68 wins are fourth in school history, behind Frank Burns (78), Harvey Harman (74) and John Bateman (73).

COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

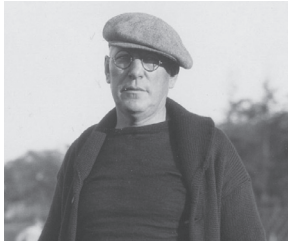

HOMER HAZEL (CLASS OF 1951)

He parted his dark hair down the middle, in the fashion of the day, and his deep-set eyes glowed with a competitive fire. Homer Hazel, Rutgers' first Hall of Famer, was, without doubt, the most versatile player the Scarlet ever produced. A natural athlete, Hazel excelled in various sports and was most successful as a track and field star. His speed and quickness served him well, for he once recovered his own kickoff in the enemy end zone for a touchdown. Homer led Rutgers to identical 7-1-1 records in his final two seasons, earning All-America laurels in each. He was an end in 1923, when the only Scarlet loss was to West Virginia (27-7). He had Rutgers on the way to an unbeaten finish in 1924 - this time as a hard-hitting fullback - when Bucknell untracked the Scarlet in the final game of the season, 12-7. During the 1924 campaign, Homer Hazel established school records for most points after a touchdown and longest completed pass. He could do it all. Carrying 226 pounds over a 5-foot-11 frame, Homer lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track at Rutgers. He later served as Athletic Director, football and basketball coach at the University of Mississippi for more than five years. He was a golf pro for four years, and a labor relations manager for more than 20 years. Hazel won his first letter in football at Rutgers in 1916. He left school because of a lack of funds. Hazel worked at various jobs and, at age 28, played football again at Rutgers. Walter Camp named him All-America end in 1923, All-America fullback in 1924. Hazel was born June 2, 1895, and died February 3, 1968.

GEORGE LITTLE (CLASS OF 1955)

A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, George Little opened his coaching career at the University of Cincinnati and produced a two-year record of 10-8-0 before moving up the road to Oxford, Ohio, home of the Miami Redskins, in 1916. There, Little brought the Redskins their first Conference Championship and a 7-0-1 mark. After service in World War I, Little returned to Miami and directed the Red and White to yet another league crown and a three-year post-war record of 20-3-1. He also coached the Miami basketball and track teams, claiming a conference crown in the latter sport. The 1922 and 1923 seasons found Little at Michigan under head coach Fielding Yost, the man he replaced in 1924. That year, Little's Wolverines were 6-2. The next season, Little was in Wisconsin as the new Athletic Director and head coach of the Badgers, and he led his charges to a two-year mark of 11-3-2. His teams displayed imagination and strength on offense, a unique ruggedness on defense. Little wound up his collegiate career as the Athletic Director at Rutgers, and then served as executive secretary of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

GEORGE FOSTER SANFORD (CLASS OF 1971)

At the entrance to Rutgers Stadium, inscribed upon a bronze plaque, is a tribute to George Sanford. It was financed and installed by his players, the men "...he inspired to deeds beyond themselves." Undoubtedly, Sanford was an inspirational leader of men, a gentleman who excelled as both player and coach. Sanford played center on the 1891 and 1892 Yale teams which held each of their 26 opponents scoreless. Though he was never chosen to an All-America team, a 1927 poll named him the all-time Yale center. Sanford began his coaching career at Columbia (1899-1901), called in to revive the football program which had been abandoned after the 1891 campaign. His 1899 team defeated Yale for the first time ever, and it was at Columbia that Sanford developed the famous "Flying Hurdle Play" which saw Harold Weekes catapulted over the line of scrimmage. Moving to Rutgers (1913-23), Sanford had marked success as his club rolled to a 56-32-5 record. He was hailed as a "miracle worker" in 1917, after his Rutgers team beat the heavily-favored Newport Naval Reserve All-Stars, 14-0. Between his teams at Columbia and Rutgers, Sanford devoted his energy toward a successful insurance brokerage business.

HARVEY HARMAN (CLASS OF 1981)

Few men loved the game with the fervor of Harvey Harman, a huge man with a grand smile and a fierce dedication to the sport. A former president of the American Football Coaches Association, Harman received that group's Amos Alonzo Stagg Award, symbolic of outstanding service to the profession. It was not surprising that Harman achieved such acclaim, for he learned his football lessons from two of the game's mentors - Glenn "Pop" Warner and Jock Sutherland - while at Pittsburgh. Harman was a starting tackle for the Panthers before taking his first coaching assignment at Haverford. From there he moved on to Sewanee (the University of the South), Pennsylvania and Rutgers. It was at Rutgers that he had his greatest success, directing the Scarlet Knights to a 26-7-1 record before interrupting his career to serve in the U.S. Navy during World War II. Harman returned to Rutgers after the war and led the Scarlet Knights for another 10 seasons before accepting a position as Executive Director of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, Inc. In that capacity, Harman became known as the goodwill ambassador for football, continuing to serve the game until his death in 1969. His career record lists a slate of 140-104-7.

PAUL ROBESON (CLASS OF 1995)

Paul Robeson played four years for the famous coach, G. Foster Sanford. Rutgers had a 22-6-3 record in that time. In 31 games, Rutgers scored 941 points to opponents' 191. Robeson was a powerful contributor to that record. Robeson was a two-time All-America end. Frank Menke named him All-America in 1917 and 1918. Walter Camp picked him in 1918. (Camp did not name an All-America team in 1917.) Following college, Robeson played three years as a pro - 1920 with Hammond, 1921 with Akron and 1922 with Milwaukee - in the American Professional Football League. He obtained his law degree in 1923. At Rutgers, Robeson was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and was valedictorian of the class of 1919. He won the college oratorical contest four-straight years and gave the commencement address at graduation. Robeson won 12 letters in four sports - four in football, three each in basketball and baseball, and two in track. He stood 6-3 in height and his weight was listed at 191 in early years, at 215 his senior season. This man of many talents became an actor, singer and lecturer. He was on Broadway and in the movies. His rich basso made his signature song "Ol' Man River" a classic. He starred in plays, such as "The Emperor Jones," "Othello," "Showboat," as well as many others, in the U.S., Europe and Africa. In 1925 he made a recording that sold 55,000 copies in four months. In 1972 he received the Whitney Young Memorial Award. Ebony Magazine called him "one of the 10 most important black men in American history." Paul Robeson was born April 9, 1898, in Princeton, N.J. His father, Rev. William Robeson, had escaped slavery in 1860 in North Carolina at age 15. His mother, Maria Bustill, was a teacher. When Paul was a high school senior, he won the statewide academic test and received a scholarship to Rutgers. In 1915, he was the third African-American to enter Rutgers and the first to play football. He died January 23, 1976. After his tenure at Rutgers, he became an accomplished actor, singer and lecturer, and was commemorated on a US postal stamp.

ALEX KROLL (CLASS OF 1997)

Alex Kroll, a consensus All-American center on Rutgers' first undefeated football team in 1961, is the Scarlet Knights' sixth inductee into the College Football Hall of Fame, as a part of the Class of 1997. Kroll, a 6-2, 228-pound center and linebacker, was a major force in Rutgers compiling a 17-1 record in his two years of play "On the Banks." In 1960, the Knights, under coach John Bateman, were 8-1 and followed up with the school's first undefeated campaign, going 9-0 in 1961. Team captain of the lauded 1961 squad, Kroll was a two-time first-team All-ECAC choice and won first-team All-America honors from the Associated Press, United Press International, Newspaper Enterprise Association, Look, and the American Football Coaches Association. Known as a "coach on the field," he was credited with making the quarterback sneak an offensive weapon as Rutgers scored seven touchdowns on that play in 1961 with Kroll clearing the way into the end zone for the signal-caller. He was also a first-team All-East choice by the AP in 1961 and played in the North-South game and the Senior Bowl. In 1960, he was an honorable mention All-American. Following his senior season, he was a second-round draft pick of the New York Titans, playing for one season in 1962. Kroll earned a BA in English Literature in 1962 and was a Henry Rutgers Scholar with a perfect grade point average in his major. He received a National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Post-Graduate Scholarship in 1961. In 1986, he was awarded the Silver Anniversary Award from the National Collegiate Athletic Association for his collegiate achievements. Immediately following his last game with the Titans, he joined the workforce at Young & Rubicam, the world's largest independent advertising agency, as a copywriter. After a succession of writing and supervisory jobs in the creative department, he was named executive vice president and worldwide creative director in 1970. He was named president and chief operating officer in 1982 and, four years later, Kroll became chairman of Young & Rubicam. He is retired but still serves as Chairman Emeritus of Young & Rubicam.

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. – In its first postseason action in program history, Rutgers faced Arizona State at Giants Stadium in the inaugural Garden State Bowl in 1978. The Scarlet Knights pulled ahead in the first half on a touchdown by David Dorn and field goal from Kennan Startzell to take a 10-0 lead. However, the Sun Devils closed the gap just before the end of the first half when Mark Malone found Bob Weathers in the end zone. In the third quarter, Arizona State claimed the lead with two Malone touchdown passes and in the final quarter added another score with a rushing TD to make the score 28-10. Ted Blackwell brought the Scarlet Knights to within 10 points with his five-yard rushing touchdown and successful two-point conversion. Rutgers had a final chance to take over the game when an offside kick came bouncing its way, but an offside flag on the kickoff erased the Scarlet Knights good fortune. Arizona State tacked on two touchdowns to secure the 34-18 victory.

PHOENIX – In a Wild West shootout staged at Phoenix's Chase Stadium, Rutgers fell just short of the program's first bowl victory, losing to Arizona State, 45-40, at the Insight Bowl. RU scored the game's first touchdown on a pass from Ryan Hart to Clark Harris, but ASU quickly responded with a TD of its own, evening the game at 7-7. Both teams traded a number of scores, but back-to-back touchdowns in the fourth quarter helped ASU to a 45-33 lead and the eventual victory. Rutgers engineered a 63-yard TD drive in the final 51 seconds, but it was not enough as the Sun Devils held on for the 45-40 win.

HOUSTON – Rutgers' most memorable season ended with another milestone victory. Ray Rice rushed for 170 yards and a touchdown and Tim Brown caught two touchdown passes, and the 16th-ranked Scarlet Knights won a bowl game for the first time, beating Kansas State in the Texas Bowl, 37-10. Linebacker Quintero Frierson returned an interception 27 yards for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage of the second half and Rutgers cruised from there, earning an 11th victory for the second time in the school's history. Rice was named the game's Most Valuable Player after topping 100 yards for the 10th time this season and the 15th time in 25 career games. The 5-foot-9, 195-pound sophomore went over 150 yards for the fifth time this season. The Scarlet Knights' seventh-ranked defense manhandled Kansas State's offense, holding the Wildcats to 160 total yards and six first downs. Freshman quarterback Josh Freeman finished 10-for-21 for 124 yards with two interceptions. Kansas State mustered only 94 yards after Frierson's return of Freeman's first interception put Rutgers up 24-10 only 33 seconds out of halftime.

TORONTO – In its third-consecutive bowl game, Rutgers pulled off another program milestone with its second-straight postseason victory as the Scarlet Knights defeated Ball State, 52-30. Ray Rice had one of the finest individual outings in college football history, rushing for a career-high 280 yards and four touchdowns en route to being named the International Bowl's Most Valuable Player, his second-consecutive MVP honor in a bowl game. Rice's 280 yards were the third-most rushing yards in NCAA bowl history. He entered the game with 1,732 yards on the ground and ended his season with 2,012 yards rushing to become the 13th player in NCAA history to amass more than 2,000 yards. The rushing total also set a Big East and school single-season record. The 52 points scored were the most in Rutgers' bowl history. Including both individual and team marks, RU set a total of nine bowl records at the International Bowl.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. – Fitting that Rutgers would end the 2008 season with a come-from-behind win. After winning only one of their first six games, Mike Teel and the Scarlet Knights erased an 11-point second half deficit to defeat North Carolina State in the PapaJohns.com Bowl, 29-23. Leading the comeback -- as he did all season -- was Teel, who passed for 319 yards and two touchdowns, including a 42-yard scoring toss to Kenny Britt to give the Scarlet Knights the lead for good in the fourth quarter. Teel's pass to Britt with 8:30 to play proved to be the winning touchdown. Britt, a third-team All-American, made a juggling catch as he crossed the goal line and finished with six catches for 119 yards. Teel, a senior, was the game's most valuable player. He ended his career on a seven-game winning streak. NC State held a 17-6 halftime edge, led by quarterback Russell Wilson who was 11-for-23 for 186 yards and a score. But Wilson left the game with a strained knee late in the first half and did not return. The Scarlet Knights scored 10 consecutive points in the third quarter on a 31-yard field goal by San San Te and an 11-yard pass from Teel to Tiquan Underwood. Rutgers took a 19-17 lead with 13:31 to play on a 28-yard field by Te after a 10-play 70-yard drive. The Wolfpack came right back as reserve quarterback Daniel Evans drove them 64 yards in eight plays and hit Anthony Hill with a 16-yard touchdown pass to give NC State a 23-19 lead. But it was only two plays later when Teel hit Britt for the go-ahead score.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. – Rutgers capped off its fifth-straight bowl appearance with its fourth-consecutive bowl victory, defeating Central Florida, 45-24, in the 2009 St. Petersburg Bowl at Tropicana Field. The Scarlet Knights showed a great display of balance in all three phases of the game, recording touchdowns on offensive, defensive and special teams. RU ended the night with two rushing touchdowns, two passing touchdowns, one interception and one kickoff returned for scores. Rutgers gained 380 yards of total offense behind a career passing day from freshman quarterback Tom Savage who completed 14-of-27 passes for 294 yards and two touchdowns. Fellow true freshman Mohamed Sanu also enjoyed a career-best evening as he accounted for three of RU's five touchdowns. Sanu had 13 carries for 41 yards and a pair of touchdowns, in addition to catching four passes for 97 yards and a touchdown. For his performance Sanu was awarded the Most Outstanding Player trophy, joining past bowl honorees Ray Rice (2006 Texas Bowl, 2008 International Bowl) and Mike Teel (2008 PapaJohns.com Bowl).

BRONX, N.Y. – Chas Dodd hit Brandon Coleman for an 86-yard touchdown pass late in the fourth quarter and Jawan Jamison ran for two scores to lead Rutgers over Iowa State, 27-13, in the New Era Pinstripe Bowl. The Scarlet Knights ran their bowl winning streak to five and improved to 2-0 this season at Yankee Stadium, where they beat Army earlier in the season. Rutgers, which played in one bowl game before 2005, is 5-1 in the postseason since that season. The Cyclones finished the season on a three-game losing streak, their last win coming on Nov. 18 in Ames, Iowa, when they pulled off the biggest upset of the season against No. 2 Oklahoma State. In this game, Steele Jantz relieved Barnett in the second quarter and helped pull the Cyclones within 20-13 in the fourth on Jeff Woody's 20-yard touchdown run with 10:00 left. After an exchange of punts left Rutgers deep in its own end, Dodd went deep to Coleman. The 6-foot-6 redshirt freshman went over 5-7 cornerback Jeremy Reeves, then outran the corner to the end zone to make it 27-13 with 5:47 left. It was Coleman's only catch, but it turned out to be the play of the game. Jamison, another redshirt freshman giving Rutgers fans hope for more bowls to come, finished with 131 yards on 27 carries.

ORLANDO – Rutgers saw its 2012 season come to an end with a 13-10 overtime loss to Virginia Tech in the Russell Athletic Bowl in Orlando. The loss ended the Scarlet Knights' bowl win streak at five, which had previously been the longest active streak in the nation. In the 15th meeting between the two squads, Rutgers held a 10-0 lead heading into the fourth quarter. The Scarlet Knights scored first on a ball that was snapped over Virginia Tech quarterback Logan Thomas and recovered in the end zone by Rutgers linebacker Khaseem Greene on the opening drive. An RU field goal by Nick Borgese late in the opening quarter would be the final points until the last stanza. In the fourth, the Hokies were able to tie it up. In the first overtime possession, the Hokies settled for a 22-yard field goal to take a 13-10 lead. Rutgers had a possession to answer, but after going three-and-out, Borgese missed wide-right on a 42-yard field goal attempt to end the game. Rutgers finished the year 9-4 and earned a share of the school's first Big East Championship.

BRONX, N.Y. – A 47-yard field goal by Kyle Federico brought Rutgers within three with less than nine minutes remaining, but 10 unanswered points by Notre Dame iced the contest, as the Irish defeated the Scarlet Knights, 29-16, in the 2013 Pinstripe Bowl at Yankee Stadium. It was the eighth bowl trip in nine seasons for Rutgers. A Pinstripe Bowl record crowd of 47,122 watched a back-and-forth affair for the majority of the contest, with neither team leading by more than one possession until late in the fourth quarter. Brandon Coleman led RU in receiving with two catches for 65 yards and a touchdown, while Paul James logged 48 yards on 10 rushing attempts. Coleman's touchdown late in the first quarter was the 20th of his career, tying him for the school record. Federico converted all three of his field goal attempts.

2014 QUICK LANE BOWL

RUTGERS 40, NORTH CAROLINA 21

Dec. 26, 2014 • Detroit, Mich.
Ford Field • Attendance: 23,876

DETROIT – In control from the outset, Rutgers thoroughly dominated North Carolina, 40-21, in the Quick Lane Bowl at Ford Field, turning in one of its stronger performances of the year to finish the 2014 campaign at 8-5. Quarterback Gary Nova threw two touchdown passes, freshmen running backs Josh Hicks and Robert Martin proved to be a dynamic 1-2 punch in the running game, with each topping 100 yards rushing, and the Scarlet Knights' defense quieted the most productive offense in North Carolina history for all but the final 6:45 of the game. The Scarlet Knights jumped out to a 23-0 lead at halftime, sparked by a 34-yard touchdown pass from Nova to Andre Patton on the first drive of the game. Hicks and Martin both added rushing scores to pad the lead, with Kyle Federico connecting from 19 yards away with 11 seconds left in the second quarter. Nova, who finished 9-of-20 for 184 yards, pushed the Scarlet Knights' 23-0 halftime lead to 30-7 with his second touchdown pass - this one a 34-yard strike to Andrew Turzilli - with 7:33 left in the third quarter. The advantage grew to 37-7 on Martin's 28-yard touchdown run with 14:11 to play. Federico tacked on a 31-yard field goal with 10:04 remaining to make it 40-7. Martin and Hicks joined Ray Rice (three times) and Jawan Jamison as the only Rutgers backs to rush for 100 yards in a bowl game. Martin (19 carries for 100 yards and two touchdowns) and Hicks (202 yards and one touchdown on 19 carries) also joined Rice as the only true freshmen to reach 100 in a bowl for the Scarlet Knights. Hicks was named MVP of the game for his efforts. The rushing totals for both Martin and Hicks were career highs, with Rutgers' 340 rushing yards overall the most in program history in a bowl game and the highest total of the season.

JONATHAN HOLLOWAY

PRESIDENT OF RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

Jonathan Holloway, a U.S. historian, took office as the 21st president of Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, on July 1, 2020. He also serves as a University Professor and Distinguished Professor.

Prior to accepting the presidency of Rutgers, Dr. Holloway was provost of Northwestern University from 2017 to 2020 and a member of the faculty of Yale University from 1999 to 2017. At Yale, he served as Dean of Yale College and the Edmund S. Morgan Professor of African American Studies, History, and American Studies.

As Northwestern University's chief academic officer, Dr. Holloway supervised the university's educational policies and academic priorities, oversaw preparation of the university's annual budget, acted on faculty appointments and promotions, and directed the allocation of resources and space to academic units.

President Holloway's scholarly work specializes in post-emancipation U.S. history with a focus on social and intellectual history.

He is the author of Confronting the Veil: Abram Harris Jr., E. Franklin Frazier, and Ralph Bunche, 1919-1941 (2002) and Jim Crow Wisdom: Memory and Identity in Black America Since 1940 (2013), both published by the University of North Carolina Press. He edited Ralph Bunche's A Brief and Tentative Analysis of Negro Leadership (New York University Press, 2005) and coedited Black Scholars on the Line: Race, Social Science, and American Thought in the Twentieth Century (Notre Dame University Press, 2007). He wrote the introduction for the 2015 edition of W.E.B. Du Bois's Souls of Black Folk (Yale University Press), has completed the forthcoming book, The Cause of Freedom: A Concise History of African Americans, for Oxford University Press (February 2021), and is working on a new book, A History of Absence: Race and the Making of the Modern World.

Dr. Holloway, who began his academic career at the University of California, San Diego, received a bachelor's degree with honors in American studies from Stanford University—where he was a scholarship football player—and a Ph.D. in history from Yale University.

He serves on boards of the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation and the Academic Leadership Institute. He previously served on the Executive Committee of the Organization of American Historians and the boards of the Chicago Botanic Garden, Illinois Humanities, the National Humanities Alliance, and the Society for United States Intellectual History. In April 2020, New Jersey Governor Phil Murphy appointed him to the Governor's Restart and Recovery Commission, and in May 2020, New Jersey Assembly Speaker Craig Coughlin appointed him to his Economic Advisory Council.

Dr. Holloway is an elected member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the Society of American Historians.

He is married to Aisling Colón. They have a daughter, Emerson, and son, Ellison.

PRESIDENT HOLLOWAY

UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATION

Rutgers' unique history as a colonial college, a land-grant institution, and a state university helped shape its current governance structure. The Board of Governors, created by state law in 1956, is the chief governing body of the university.

The Board of Trustees, a governing body since the university's founding in 1766, acts in an advisory capacity to the Board of Governors and has certain fiduciary responsibilities. Rutgers' president implements board policies with the help and advice of senior administrators and other members of the university community.

PAT HOBBS

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

A New Jersey native with more than 25 years of leadership experience in higher education and public service, Pat Hobbs enters his sixth year as the Director of Athletics at Rutgers University in 2020-21. Outlined in "The Relentless Pursuit of Excellence," a strategic vision for Rutgers Athletics has taken course under Hobbs with a clearly defined core purpose, values and priorities.

The upward trajectory of the athletic department continued to soar in 2019-20 with a historic campaign on the hardwood for the men's basketball programs. With their first 20-win season in 37 years and a ranking in the Top-25 poll for the first time in 41 years, men's basketball sat on the cusp of earning its first NCAA Tournament berth since 1991. A record 10 sold-out games at the RAC in 2019-20 are evidence of the energy and excitement for the program under head coach Steve Pikiell.

National Championship banners were hoisted to the rafters during Hobbs' tenure with All-American wrestlers Anthony Ashnault and Nick Suriano claiming the first NCAA individual national titles in program history. The pair led a number of NCAA postseason trips that were earned in 2018-19. Women's basketball posted a 22-10 record and made its 25th NCAA Tournament berth, while women's soccer garnered its seventh straight NCAA bid. Number 11-ranked field hockey qualified for its first NCAA Tournament since 1986, and rowing, nationally ranked for the first time in program history, placed 11th at NCAA Championships. In addition, softball competed in the National Invitational Softball Championship, its first non-conference postseason tournament since 1996. Athletics also celebrated its first ever B1G Ten Conference Player of the Year with Chris Gotterup being named for Men's Golf.

Success in the classroom is a hallmark of Rutgers Athletics, ranking above the average APR rate in the NCAA. For the fourth-straight year, the Scarlet Knights achieved a multiyear score of 990 or better and nine programs either tied or set records in multiyear APR rate in 2018-19. A school-record 319 student-athletes were named to Academic All-Big Ten teams, while for the fifth-straight school year, RU set a department record with 126 Scarlet Knights earning Big Ten Distinguished Scholar accolades in 2019-20.

The development of capital projects to support these student-athletes is at the forefront of Hobbs' charge to further the mission of the only Power Five conference program located in the nation's largest media market.

Scheduled to open in December of 2020, the Gary and Barbara Rodkin Academic Success Center will serve all student-athletes and provide a range of resources, including academic advising, learning specialists, one-on-one and group tutoring. The state-of-the-art facility will house the men's and women's soccer and lacrosse programs, and the department administration.

The "Rodkin" follows the RWJBarnabas Health Athletic Performance Center, which opened to the delight of the gymnastics, wrestling, and men's and women's basketball programs. In addition to providing world-class practice facilities, training areas, locker rooms and office spaces for those programs, the Center also represents a partnership between Rutgers and RWJBarnabas Health to create a comprehensive sports medicine program to serve Rutgers athletes, students and communities throughout New Jersey.

Much of the capital project success can be credited to "R B1G Build," a comprehensive campaign launched on Jan. 20, 2016 to raise $100 million for new or upgraded facilities.

With his leadership, Hobbs has directed the construction of The Brown Family Football Locker Room, The Marco Battaglia Football Practice Complex, The Fred Hill Training Complex, The Garutti Strength and Conditioning Center, The Druskin Strength and Conditioning Center and the Abe Suydam Men's Basketball Locker Room. Additional facility improvements have extended to new playing surfaces at Bainton Field and the Rutgers Softball Complex as well as new locker room areas for softball, field hockey, cross country and track and field.

HOBBS IS IN HIS SIXTH YEAR AT RUTGERS

Enhancing the student-athlete experience is a priority for Hobbs and is laid out in his strategic vision for the athletic department. He placed an emphasis on elevated communication, improved resource allocation and enriched customer service. The Office of Leadership Development and Strategic Partnerships (LDSP) completed an organizational redesign and unit rebrand in 2018-19 that redefined its mission and vision. The unit has focused on professional development, providing each of the department's student-athletes with an opportunity to earn work experience through internships and professional shadowing.

In the consumer space, Hobbs shepherded the partnership between Rutgers and adidas, providing that the Portland-based company serves as the official athletic footwear, apparel and accessory brand through 2023-24.

Prior to joining Rutgers, Hobbs served as Ombudsman to the Office of the Governor in the Christie administration, serving as a resource for whistleblowers within the Office. He also oversaw ethics training and guidance to the 140 employees in the Office of the Governor.

Hobbs moved south down the New Jersey Turnpike after notable achievements at Seton Hall University. He joined the Seton Hall Law faculty in 1990 with a specialty in tax law. Hobbs became Associate Dean for Finance in 1995 and was named Dean in 1999, a position he held until 2015. In his years as Dean, He shepherded the Law School through a series of groundbreaking initiatives that raised Seton Hall Law to unprecedented prominence. The school was the fastest-rising law school in the U.S. News & World Report ranking over the past decade. From 2009 to 2011 Hobbs also oversaw Seton Hall's Department of Athletics, bringing new leadership to its men's and women's basketball programs, restructuring the Department, and negotiating the contract with the Prudential Center to serve as the home site for men's basketball games.

The Garden State product also spearheaded the school's largest fundraising initiative, Seton Hall Law Rising, a $25 million-plus campaign that revitalized alumni support and resulted in a contribution rate of over 70 percent.

Hobbs has been dedicated to fostering greater diversity in the legal profession. In 2008, he formed the Dean's Diversity Council, comprising faculty, students, alumni and administration working in concert to enhance the Law School's inclusive environment. In 2012, Hobbs was honored by the Thurgood Marshall College Fund with its Excellence Award for his work on behalf of diversity within the legal profession and for "exemplifying Justice Thurgood Marshall's commitment to justice, civil rights and education."

Prior to joining Seton Hall Law, Hobbs was a tax attorney with the law firm of Shanley & Fisher in Roseland, N.J. He received his B.A. in accounting, magna cum laude, from Seton Hall University, his J.D. from the University of North Carolina and his LL.M. (in taxation) from New York University.

Hobbs, 60, is the proud father of three children and resides in Basking Ridge, N.J. with wife Patrice.

Over the past decade, Hasim Phillips has worked as a media relations professional in the nation's No. 1 media market (New York) with roles both in college athletics and corporate communications. Phillips serves as the primary spokesman for Rutgers football, handling all media inquiries for the program's coaches and players. Additionally, he is the executive producer for the "RFootball Show," a 12-episode television series with distribution throughout the East Coast from New York to areas in Maryland. The program won back-to-back Mid-Atlantic Emmy Award in 2017 and 2018. Phillips also oversees all football related content on the school's official athletics website (Scarlet-Knights.com). For Phillips, this is the second stint with Rutgers Athletics, having previously served with the department from 2004-2012. Phillips began his career in athletic communications at Rutgers in 2004, serving as an assistant until 2007 before becoming an Assistant Director for Athletic Communications from 2007-11. During this time, he spent four seasons assisting the lead football contact with a variety of tasks, including practice and game day media coverage as well as game notes and media guide production. While at Rutgers, he was a member of an athletic communications staff that was twice (2009, 2010) recognized by the Football Writers Association of America as a "Super 11" communications department, awarded to the top PR offices in the country. In 2011, he was elevated to the role of Associate Director of Athletic Communications, serving as the primary media contact for Hall of Fame head coach C. Vivian Stringer and the women's basketball team. Phillips joined The Madison Square Garden Company in 2012 as Manager for Corporate Communications. He assisted in the publicity efforts of the MSG Sports brand, helping promote marketing partnerships and new business initiatives. He also worked to promote the New York Knicks' community service initiative "Basketball in the Boroughs," securing targeted media opportunities to highlight the franchise's work in the community. Phillips also oversaw inquiries regarding the use of MSG trademarks or logos in television or film projects. He was responsible for script review and concept approval in addition to working with production crews while filming on site at Madison Square Garden. He served as a liaison between MSG, the corporate offices of the National Basketball Association (NBA) and National Hockey League (NHL), and several major motion picture and television studios. Phillips, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., is a Rutgers University graduate, earning his bachelors degree in 2004 and an MBA in marketing in 2019.

RUTGERS JOINED THE BIG TEN IN 2014

BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Known as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten is home to a lineage of legendary names and an ongoing tradition of developing strong leaders. Even in its infancy, the conference established itself as the preeminent collection of institutions in the nation, where the pursuit of academic excellence prevailed as the definitive goal.

The history of the Big Ten traces back more than 120 years to the Palmer House hotel in Chicago, where on January 11, 1895, then-Purdue president James H. Smart and leaders from the University of Chicago, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University and University of Wisconsin set out to organize and develop principles for the regulation of intercollegiate athletics.

At that meeting, a blueprint for the administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' first known action "restricted eligibility for athletics to bonafide, full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies." That important legislation, along with other legislation that would follow in the coming years, served as the primary building block for intercollegiate athletics.

On February 8, 1896, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met at the same Palmer House and officially established the mechanics of the conference, which was officially incorporated as the "Intercollegiate Conference Athletic Association" in 1905.

Indiana University and the State University of Iowa became the eighth and ninth members in 1899. In 1908, Michigan briefly withdrew its membership, and in 1912 Ohio State University joined the conference, bringing its membership total back to nine. Upon Michigan's return in 1917, the conference was first referred to as the "Big Ten" by media members, and that name was eventually incorporated in 1987.

As the 1900s opened, faculty representatives established rules for intercollegiate athletics that were novel for the time. As early as 1904, the faculty approved legislation that required eligible athletes to meet entrance requirements and to have completed a full year's work, along with having one year of residence.

In 1901, the first Big Ten Championship event was staged when the outdoor track and field championships were held at the University of Chicago. The debut event marked what is now a staple of conference competition. Today, the Big Ten sponsors 28 official sports, 14 for men and 14 for women, including the addition of men's ice hockey and men's and women's lacrosse over the last four years. Big Ten schools compete in a total of 42 different sports, furthering the conference's commitment to broad-based programming and providing more participation opportunities than any conference in the country.

One of the conference's proudest traditions began in 1902 when Michigan took on Stanford in the Rose Bowl, the nation's first bowl game. Big Ten teams only appeared in Pasadena twice before the conference signed an exclusive contract with the Tournament of Roses in 1946, making it the first bowl game with permanent conference affiliations. But Michigan's appearance in 1902 cultivated a relationship that has endured for more than a century. In January 2014, Michigan State defeated Stanford in the 100th Rose Bowl Game.

Coupling the academic goals set forth by the leaders of the charter members of the conference and their steadfast commitment to athletics, the conference instituted the Big Ten Medal of Honor in 1915. It is awarded annually by each conference institution to a student of the graduating class who has attained the greatest proficiency in scholarship and athletics. For more than 100 years, it has been the most prestigious honor a student competing in Big Ten athletics can receive.

In 1922, Major John L. Griffith became the conference's first "Commissioner of Athletics." Griffith was the first of five men to assume the role of commissioner in the conference's history, followed by Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson in 1945, Bill Reed in 1961, Wayne Duke in 1971 and current commissioner James E. Delany in 1989.

After nearly 30 years with 10 members, the conference consolidated to nine schools when the University of Chicago formally withdrew its membership in 1946. Michigan State College (now Michigan State University) was added to the Big Ten three years later, bringing the number of affiliated conference schools to 10 once again.

In 1955, the Big Ten formulated a revenue-sharing model designed to pool all football television rights of its members and share those proceeds equally. The conference and its members continue to utilize a revenue-sharing model, dividing media rights, bowl payouts and other profits among all conference institutions.

While academics have always played an integral role in the conference, presidents of the Big Ten member institutions formalized the primacy of academics with the establishment of the Big Ten Academic Alliance (formerly the Committee on Institutional Cooperation) in 1958. The Big Ten Academic Alliance is an academic consortium of all Big Ten universities. Annually, the schools currently constituting the Big Ten Academic Alliance produced over $10 billion in funded research, $5 billion more than any other conference.

In one of Duke's first actions as commissioner, he oversaw the adoption of the Big Ten Advisory Commission in 1972, designed to study conference programs and make suggestions which would further Big Ten objectives. The Advisory Commission enlists former students that competed in Big Ten athletics to serve as liaisons to the NCAA's Diversity and Inclusion Department, the Big Ten Student-Athlete Advisory Commission and other organizations.

In 1981, the conference presidents and chancellors endorsed a proposal that enabled universities to affiliate their women's intercollegiate programs with the conference, and the first conference championships for women were staged that fall. The Big Ten was the first conference to voluntarily adopt male and female participation goals after launching its Gender Equity Action Plan in 1992.

In December of 1989, the conference agreed in principle to invite Pennsylvania State University for membership. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Presidents officially voted to integrate Penn State into the conference, giving the Big Ten 11 members.

In 2004, the Big Ten implemented a pilot program of instant replay for college football. Following the season, the conference forwarded replay proposals to the NCAA regarding the future use of instant replay, where it approved country-wide testing in 2005. In 2006, the NCAA approved the use of instant replay for all conferences.

In 2006, Delany announced the creation of the first conference-owned television network, a 20-year agreement with FOX Networks to create what would become the Big Ten Network (BTN). Launched on Aug. 30, 2007, BTN now produces more than 1,800 events across all platforms each year. BTN is in almost 60 million homes in the U.S. and Canada via the nation's major video providers and more than 300 additional video providers across the country. BTN is also available through the majority of OTT providers, and via the Fox Sports App, which delivers live and on-demand programming to computers, smartphones and tablets. BTN Plus streams hundreds of additional events each season.

On June 11, 2010, the Big Ten Council of Presidents/Chancellors (COP/C) approved a formal membership application by the University of Nebraska, expanding the conference to 12 institutions. Nebraska officially joined the Big Ten on July 1, 2011.

The conference expanded its footprint further in 2012 when the COP/C approved formal membership applications from the University of Maryland and Rutgers University on November 19 and 20, respectively. Maryland and Rutgers became official Big Ten members on July 1, 2014, giving the conference almost 9,500 students participating in intercollegiate athletics and more than 11,000 participation opportunities on 350 teams.

On June 3, 2013, the Big Ten announced that Johns Hopkins University had been accepted as the conference's first sport affiliate member. Johns Hopkins' addition in men's lacrosse gave the Big Ten six institutions sponsoring the sport, allowing the debut of men's lacrosse as an official conference sport and building on the Big Ten's tradition of broad-based sports competition. On June 17, 2015, the conference announced that Johns Hopkins was accepted as a sport affiliate member for women's lacrosse beginning with the 2016-17 academic year. On March 23, 2016, the conference announced that Notre Dame will join the Big Ten for men's ice hockey beginning with the 2017-18 academic year.

Since opening in the fall of 2013, the Big Ten conference center hosts more than 300 meetings annually for member institutions, Big Ten Academic Alliance (formerly CIC) related committees and coaches' groups. The headquarters also features an interactive digital museum - the Big Ten Experience – which brings the conference's storied academic and athletic history to life. For more information on the Big Ten Experience, go to bigten.org.

In June 2014, the Big Ten opened a second office in New York City, featuring both office and meeting space in Midtown Manhattan. Big Ten staff members are based in the New York City office to provide expanded coverage and service, while other conference and institutional administrators utilize the space as necessary when conducting business on the East Coast. The Big Ten and its member institutions also have access to satellite office space in Washington, D.C.

On March 4, 2019, Delany announced he would conclude his term as commissioner in 2020 following a 30-year career with the conference. On June 4, 2019, the Big Ten Conference Council of Presidents and Chancellors introduced Kevin Warren as the sixth commissioner of the Big Ten Conference. Warren started on September 16, 2019 providing an opportunity to transition alongside Delany who officially stepped down on January 1, 2020.

Warren and his staff work to meet the educational needs of students competing in intercollegiate athletics to allow them to excel in all areas of their lives. The conference office manages 28 different championships and tournaments, offers legislative and compliance services, oversees the production and distribution of more than 2,000 events annually, provides staff services to coaching and administrative personnel, and services media and fans interest for information on the Big Ten.

More than 120 years after its inception, the Big Ten remains a national leader in intercollegiate athletics on and off the field. Big Ten programs have combined to win more than 450 team and 1,800 individual national championships, consistently taking home individual honors for athletic and academic accomplishments and fulfilling the Big Ten's mission of academic achievement and athletic success.
