QUICK NOTES

* The St. Francis Brooklyn women's basketball team is set to host the Army Black Knights in their home opener this evening.

* The Terriers are coming off a 56-51 victory at Pennsylvania, where three Terriers finished in double figures led by junior guard Eilidh Simpson's 16 point, nine rebound performance. Teammate Jaymee Veney contributed 14 points while Jessica Kaufman also scored 13 points and dished out a team and career best seven assists in the win.

* All-time in season openers, the Terriers are now 17-24. In home openers, St. Francis Brooklyn is just 15-22.

* Today's matchup in Brooklyn Heights marks the 12th all-time meeting between the two schools with Army holding a 10-1 advantage in the head-to-head series. Last season, the Terriers opened up the 2012-13 campaign in West Point, defeating the Black Knights, 59-47, at Christl Arena.

* This evening's contest with the Terriers is Army's season debut. The Black Knights enjoyed a 22-9 regular season to go along with an 11-3 Patriot League record.

* Army secured the League Tournament's No. 1 seed, but the Black Knights saw their NCAA hopes dashed with a quarterfinal loss to eighth-seeded Colgate on their home floor before the campaign ended in a 55-46 loss at Fordham in the WNIT's first round.

* Kelsey Minato was named to the Patriot League's Preseason All League team this season. Minato averaged and senior guard/forward Jen Hazlett (9.7 ppg, 5.4 rpg) are a potent returning combination.

2013-2014 Northeast Conference Preseason All-Conference Team

Name	Team	Yr.	Pos.	Hometown
Naana Ankoma-Mensa	Bryant	Sr.	F	Brampton, Ontario
Sydney Henderson	Mount St. Mary's	5-Sr.	G	Richmond, Virginia
Artemis Spanou	Robert Morris	Sr.	F	Rhodes, Greece
Gabrielle Washington	Sacred Heart	Jr.	G	Mesa, Arizona
Alli Williams	Saint Francis U.	Sr.	F	Altoona, Penn.

The Northeast Conference women's basketball coaches suggest that the 2013-14 season is when it will all come together for Robert Morris. In a split decision, the league's 10 head coaches tabbed Robert Morris, which is set to return four of five starters from its 2012-13 lineup, as this year's NEC preseason favorite. The Colonials received five first-place votes to edge out perennial title contender Sacred Heart for the top spot in the preseason survey, the results of which were announced live on NEC Front Row's coverage of NEC Basketball "Social" Media Day. Serving as a prelude to the season for a second straight year, the "Social" Media Day event unfolded on October 22 at Barclays Center in Downtown Brooklyn.

Four teams – Robert Morris, Sacred Heart, Mount St. Mary's and Saint Francis U – earned first-place votes in this year's coaches' poll, which projects one of the more wide-open title races in league history. Only time in NEC preseason poll history did more than four teams finish with a first-place vote. Five teams earned top nods prior to the 2011-12 campaign. With its first-place selection, Robert Morris made NEC preseason poll history. For the first time since the poll's inception in 1993, its highest vote-getter is a team that failed to qualify for the NEC Tournament during the previous season. Although the Colonials came up short of the postseason last year, it is easy to see why expectations are so high for the 2013-14 campaign. Robert Morris will take the floor with the reigning NEC Player of the Year (Artemis Spanou) and the Rookie of the Year (Ashley Ravelli) as part of its starting five. Sacred Heart, which pulled in three first-place votes, holds runner-up spot in the preseason poll for the second year in a row, but will play its first season under the direction of rookie head coach Jessica Mannetti. Coming off its first postseason victory in more than a decade, Mount St. Mary's secured one top nod and finished third. The lone remaining first-place vote belongs to 11-time NEC champion Saint Francis, which was picked fourth in the poll. Central Connecticut took fifth place followed by St. Francis Brooklyn in sixth. Bryant, which qualified for the NEC Tournament last March in its first year of Division I postseason eligibility, was projected to finish seventh. The coaches expect LIU Brooklyn to take eighth place, which is the cut-off for the postseason NEC Tournament. Fairleigh Dickinson and Wagner rounded out the preseason poll selections in ninth and tenth, respectively.

John Thurston enters his second season as head coach of the St. Francis Brooklyn women's basketball program. Overall, Thurston embarks on his 41st season on the sidelines.

In his first season at the helm of the Terriers, St. Francis Brooklyn was picked eleventh in the preseason coaches' poll. Thurston led the Terriers St. Francis Brooklyn back to the Northeast Conference Tournament after a five year hiatus. The Terriers eleven wins marked the first time the program attained double-digit victories since the 2007-08.

In addition to the success on the court, under Thurston's tutelage, the St. Francis Brooklyn women's basketball program excelled in the classroom. The Terriers were tied for the second-highest Division I team GPA in the WBCA Academic Top 25 Team Honor Roll for the 2012-13 season. The team is the only New York Metropolitan area squad to earn the honor. Eight student-athletes received 3.8 or above grade-point averages in the spring semester alone, led by guard Katie Fox's overall 4.0 mark. The Terriers paced the entire Northeast Conference in women's basketball with a team grade-point average of 3.625.

Thurston is one of only a few coaches who have been a Head Coach at the NCAA DI, DII, DIII and NAIA levels in 26 years of coaching men's college basketball from 1971-1997. During the early 1970's, Thurston's Fairleigh Dickinson-Florham teams were known for their high scoring offense, averaging almost 100 points per game.

During the following ten years as an assistant and three as Head Coach at James Madison University, the Dukes went to four NCAA tournaments and one NIT. For his tremendous efforts in the 1986-87 season, Thurston was named the Colonial Athletic Association "Coach of the Year." In nine years at Wingate University he served the dual role of Athletic Director and Head Basketball Coach and is credited with moving the athletic department from NAIA status to nationally competitive NCAA DI affiliation.

From 2001-2003 Thurston held the position of General Manager at Atlanta's Suwanee Sports Academy establishing widely respected basketball training programs and bringing national events such as the adidas Showtime Championships and adidas Top Ten All-Star game to the Atlanta area.

While planning the Suwanee Sports Academy venture, Thurston took over the girls program at Marist HS in Atlanta in 1999. During his three years at the helm the War Eagles broke school records for wins each year advancing to the State Tournament each year with a pair of Elite Eight appearances. His teams were ranked in the Top Ten in GA all three years and six of his players went on to play college basketball, five at the DI level.

Thurston returned to collegiate coaching in the fall of 2003 to serve as Ann Hancock's top assistant at UNC-Wilmington and has been involved with the women's game for eight years on both the major and small college levels.

In 2005, Thurston moved to Northwood University in West Palm Beach, FL to develop the school's first ever women's basketball program. In their first two seasons of competition, he led the Seahawks to two Florida Sun Conference titles, and their first appearance at the NAIA National Tournament in 2008 in Sioux City, Iowa. He was named FSC Coach of the Year in 2008, and under his guidance, Kaitlyn Vican (2007, current assistant coach of the Terriers) and Kara Otterbine (2008) were named FSC Player of the Year.

Thurston has gained respect through the years as an evaluator and developer of talent, ranging from two NBA players, six overall NBA draft choices, seven European professionals, four "Rookies of the Year", three "Players of the Year", one "Defensive Player of the Year", eighteen All-Conference selections, three 2000 pt. scorers and thirteen 1000 pt scorers. Twelve of his former players have already been elected to their school's Hall of Fame.

A 1966 graduate of Archbishop Molloy High School he was an All-City performer in both baseball and basketball under legendary coach Jack Curran and was a 1966 draft choice of the Los Angeles Dodgers. He continued his education at Seton Hall University graduating with a degree in Government. He played both baseball and basketball for the Pirates and was awarded the John F Kennedy Award in 1970 as the school's outstanding student-athlete.

He and his wife, Candice, have been married for 41 years and have two daughters, Clancy and Corey and four grandchildren, Jack, Rhone, Luke, and Elsa.

BROOKLYN ST. FRANCIS BASKETBALL 2013-14 SEASON OUTLOOK

The St. Francis Brooklyn Terriers will commence its 41st season of play looking to build upon their success from a season ago, both on and off the court. In the classroom, the Terriers finished with the second-highest Division I team grade-point average out of 345 schools in the WBCA Academic Top 25 Team Honor Roll. The squad was the only New York Metropolitan area school to earn the honor. In addition, the Terriers were named the top academic team in the Northeast Conference.

On the hardwood, the Terriers superseded their expectations by making their first Northeast Conference Tournament appearance in almost five years under first-year head coach John Thurston. The Terriers secured the seventh seed in the tournament for just the third time in program history.

The current group certainly does not lack for talent as Thurston will return all five starters from last season along with a host of quality reserves.

"I think what we are building towards now is when a group comes in together and play as freshmen and sophomores, they develop that chemistry together and that knowledge of one another which allows them to excel and play at their most natural level," said Thurston. "If you take any one of our players and say is that an individual talent? We are pretty good, but to take them together, the group helps them get to another level. Sarah Benedetti, for instance, she is basically a shooter but playing within this group she can excel at what she does and play at an all-conference level. We have to capitalize on our experience. We also have players that are just behind them that have experience. Our reserves have played in a lot of games. Talent is great, but experienced talent is better."

THE FRONT COURT

Benedetti is widely regarded as one of the top three-point shooters and top returning players on the circuit after earning Third Team All Northeast Conference honors last season. The sharp-shooting guard paced the Terriers in scoring (11.6 ppg.) and three-point field goal percentage (.393).

Fellow classmate Jaymee Veney (7.8 ppg, 4.8 rpg) has become a versatile option for St. Francis Brooklyn. During her rookie season, she was primarily an inside scorer as she led the NEC in field goal percentage en route to being named to the 2011-12 Northeast Conference All-Rookie Team. Last season, she became a true perimeter threat, connecting on 37 percent from long-range.

Jessica Kaufman (8.8 ppg, 4.7 rpg, 1.7 apg) has blossomed into a complete player. She has shown the ability to score inside and out, after leading the Terriers last season with a fifty-percent shooting mark. Senior Kiley Grabbe (2.3 ppg, 24 blocks), junior Colette Hounshell (7.9 mpg) and sophomore Casey Cummings (8.6 mpg.) are capable of making an impact for the team with their defensive presence.

The lone newcomer who is expected to play a big role up front this season will be freshman Olivia Levey. Levey, a 5-11 forward, spent her freshman year playing for Christian Heritage (CT). She was a 1,000 point scorer at the school and was named to the 2009-10 Boston Globe All-Scholastic Team as well as the Connecticut Post All-Star Second Team. The next three years at Lauralton Hall, Levey garnered two Most Valuable Player awards while being nominated for the 2012 Gatorade Player of the Year. In addition, she was named a two-time All-SWC Conference selection.

THE BACK COURT

Junior Eilidh Simpson (9.4 ppg, 3.0 apg) will spearhead the backcourt this season. Simpson is one the top free-throw shooters in the conference and will be looking to build upon a campaign that saw her nearly triple her offensive point production.

Classmate Katie Fox (3.0 ppg, 2.8 apg.) is the incumbent after making 23 starts last season. Her knowledge, experience, enthusiasm and intelligence make her an invaluable member of the program and she is often referred to as a leader on the floor.

The Terriers will have several options at the guard position, starting with senior Jasmin Robinson (5.8 ppg. 2.5 apg.). Robinson was having an excellent year until shoulder and knee injuries hindered her effectiveness, which cost her 12 games. With Robinson back in the fold, another senior option, Ozana Marginean (5.9 minutes) will bring her hard-work and leadership to this experienced group of players.

St. Francis Brooklyn got a tremendous boost from sophomore Leah Fechko (6.6 ppg, 5.4 rpg.). Fechko became just the 10th Terrier in program history to be selected to the Northeast Conference All-Rookie squad. The Twinsburg, Ohio native was the Choice Hotels Northeast Conference Rookie of the Week on three occasions. During conference play, Fechko netted 8.7 points per game along with 6.3 rebounds per contest, which led all newcomers last season. Fechko sparked the Terriers' offense as she had nine games in double figures and a career best 18 points against LIU Brooklyn in the 20th Annual "Battle of Brooklyn," where she garnered Most Valuable Player honors.

THE SCHEDULE

For the third straight year, the Terriers will open the season away from Brooklyn Heights. This year, opening night finds St. Francis Brooklyn in the "City of Brotherly Love" as they visit the University of Pennsylvania Quakers on November 9th. The home opener for the Terriers is slated for November 11th as they welcome the Army Black Knights to the Pope Physical Education Center.

For the first time in twelve years, the Terriers will be facing off against the St. John's Red Storm at Carnesecca Arena on November 16th. A week later, St. Francis Brooklyn will host UMASS-Lowell on the 23rd and NJIT on the 26th.

Thanksgiving is a special time of the year and "Turkey Day" finds the team in Coral Gables, Florida, as they will participate in the Thanksgiving Tournament, hosted by the University of Miami. The Terriers tangle with the Hurricanes on November 29th with the consolation/championship games occurring on the 30th.

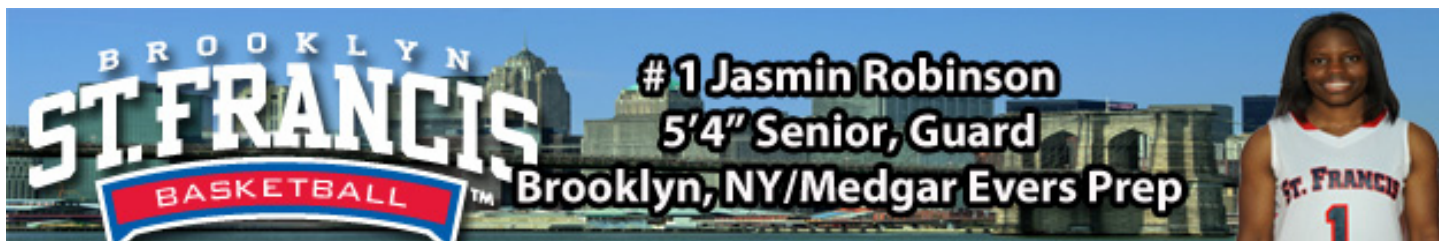

The month of December finds the team back home as they welcome local rival, Columbia, to Brooklyn Heights on December 4th. The team concludes their battle with the Ivy League on December 7th, as they travel to Ithaca, New York to square off against Cornell. The Terriers' final non-conference home matchup pits them against a familiar face as St. Francis College Hall of Famer Dianne Nolan brings her Lafayette Leopards to Remsen Street on December 20th. The Terriers end 2013 with a road trip to Dover, Delaware as they take on the Delaware State University Lady Hornets on the 29th.

Northeast Conference play starts on January 4th as the Terriers welcome Mount St. Mary's. St. Francis Brooklyn begins a three-game road trip at Fairleigh Dickinson on the January 6th. The team makes the 0.7 mile trip up Fulton Street as they take on the LIU Brooklyn Blackbirds on January 11th and conclude the road voyage in Emmitsburg, Maryland against the Mount on January 13th. A rematch of last year's NEC Quarterfinals pits Sacred Heart against the Terriers on January 18th in Brooklyn Heights. Last season, St. Francis Brooklyn took the conference opener at Sacred Heart before dropping the next two meetings. Two games in upper New England will have St. Francis Brooklyn taking on Bryant on January 20th and Central Connecticut on the 25th. To close the month of January, the Terriers play intra-borough rival, Wagner, on the 27th to begin a three-game homestand.

St. Francis Brooklyn welcomes Central Connecticut on February 1st and closes the homestand against Fairleigh Dickinson on the 3rd. A season-high four game trip sees St. Francis start in Western Pennsylvania as the Terriers take on Saint Francis University on February 8th and Robert Morris on the 10th. The Terriers come back to the Tri-State Area as they head across the Verrazano Bridge to take on Wagner on February 15th and close out the road trip against Sacred Heart in Fairfield on February 17th.

The final four games of the conference schedule are all in Brooklyn Heights as the Terriers welcome Saint Francis University on February 22nd, Robert Morris on February 24th, Bryant on March 1st and the 21st edition of the "Battle of Brooklyn" as they play LIU Brooklyn on March 3rd to close the regular season.
