Head Coach John Thurston Sixth Season

John Thurston is entering his sixth season as the head coach of the St. Francis Brooklyn women's basketball squad.

One year removed from putting together the best regular season in school history with a record of 19-11 (10-8 NEC) in 2013-14, Thurston helped lead the Terriers to their first Northeast Conference Championship, marking the school's first automatic NCAA tournament bid in either Division I basketball program. The Terriers lost to eventual National Champion and women's basketball power UConn Huskies in the tournament's opening round.

Last season, the Terriers finished 8-22 (6-12 NEC) and reached the NEC Quarterfinals, where they lost to the top-seeded Sacred Heart Pioneers, cracking the conference playoffs for the fourth time in five years.

Off the court, the Terriers have excelled in their academic ventures, proving to be one of the top schools in the books, and a perennial contender for the Women's Basketball College Association's Academic National Championship. In 2016, the Terriers actually won the National Title with a team grade point average of 3.72, the highest accumulative GPA in the country.

As a group, St. Francis Brooklyn Women's Basketball has finished in the top-five in each of the last five seasons, and most recently finished in fourth last season with a team GPA of 3.689.

Last season also marked the team's fifth consecutive NEC Sportsmanship Award for women's basketball. The NEC Sportsmanship Award is designed to acknowledge the team in each conference sport that, in the opinion of its peers, most closely demonstrates good sportsmanship based on the NEC Principles of Sportsmanship and Standards of Conduct.

As a result, the Terriers have garnered a favorable reputation on and off the court, known for the academic excellence and gamesmanship.

Head Coach John Thurston Sixth Season

Back in 2011-12, while coach Thurston served as the associate head coach, the team first appeared on the WBCA Academic Top-25 as they placed tenth with an overall team grade point average of 3.456. The following season, Thurston's first as head coach, the team finished in a tie with DePaul University for second in the nation with a team grade point average of 3.625. The 2013-14 Terriers capped off a successful season with a fourth-place finish with an overall GPA of 3.608.

In addition to being named to the WBCA Academic Top 25 Honor Roll in every season dating back to 2011-12, the Terriers had previously earned four consecutive Northeast Conference Team Institutional Awards thanks in large part to having one of their past student-athletes, Sarah Benedetti, being named one of 20 winners of the 13th annual Division I-AAA Athletics Directors Association (DI-AAA ADA) Scholar-Athlete Team. In 2013-14, Katie Fox, was one of 20 winners of the 12th annual Division I-AAA Athletics Directors Association (DI-AAA ADA) Scholar-Athlete Team while having 11 Terriers named to the NEC's Academic Honor and four being named to the NEC Commissioner Honor Roll in that season.

Thurston is one of only a few coaches who have been a head coach at the NCAA DI, DII, DIII and NAIA levels in 26 years of coaching men's college basketball from 1971-1997. During the early 1970's, Thurston's Fairleigh Dickinson-Florham teams were known for their high scoring offense, averaging close to one hundred points per game.

After a stint at FDU-Florham, Thurston joined Lou Campanelli's staff at James Madison, where he spent ten years as an assistant and was later promoted to head coach in 1985. During his tenure at JMU, the Dukes went to four NCAA tournaments and made one National Invitational Tournament (NIT) appearance. For his tremendous efforts during the 1986-87 campaign, Thurston was named the Colonial Athletic Association "Coach of the Year."

Thurston's next coaching stop found him at Wingate University, where he spent nine years in North Carolina. He served a dual role as Athletic Director and head basketball coach while helping the school transition from NAIA to nationally competitive DII affiliation.

In the fall of 2003, Thurston returned to collegiate coaching as he served as Ann Hancock's top assistant at the University of North Carolina-Wilmington. Two years later, Thurston moved to West Palm Beach, Florida, where he was hired at Northwood University to develop the school's first women's basketball program.

In their first two seasons of competition, he led the Seahawks to two Florida Sun Conference titles and their first appearance at the NAIA National Tournament in 2008 in Sioux City, Iowa.

Thurston was named FSC Coach of the Year in 2008, and had back-to-back Player of the Year selections in current St. Francis Brooklyn assistant coach Kaitlyn Vican (2007) and Kara Otterbine (2008).

Through 46 years in the game, Thurston has gained the respect as an evaluator and developer of talent, ranging from NBA players, six overall NBA draft choices, 15 European professionals, four "Rookies of the Year," three "Players of the Year," two "Defensive Players of the Year," 19 All-Conference selections, three 2,000 point scorers and 16 1,000 point scorers. Twelve of his former players have already been elected to their school's respective Hall of Fame.

Thurston is a 1966 graduate of Archbishop Molloy High School in Queens, New York, where he was an All-City performer in both baseball and basketball under legendary coach Jack Curran. In June of 1966, Thurston was selected by the Los Angeles Dodgers in the 1966 MLB Amateur Draft. He continued his education at Seton Hall University, where he played both baseball and basketball for the Pirates. In 1970, he was awarded the John F. Kennedy Award as the school's most outstanding student-athlete.

Thurston and his wife, Candice, have been married for 46 years and have two daughters, Clancy and Corey. During the offseason, he spends time with his four grandchildren, Jack, Rhone, Luke and Elsa.

Thurston's Tidbits: "Alex is our most experienced and knowledgeable player. She also plays multiple positions and can hold her own defensively at multiple positions. Her long range shooting has been her most potent offensive weapon but her real value is in her versatility, which allows her to contribute in any situation. Alex is one of those players who can keep her team together on and off the floor."

2016-17 (Junior): Named to the Northeast Conference Winter Academic Honor Roll...Started in all 30 appearances...Finished as the team's second leading scorer (10.4 points per game), third leading rebounder (5.3), and assists leader (3.2)...Drained team-high 53 three-pointers...Dished out 3.6 assists per game in NEC action (fifth in conference)...Recorded 1.8 steals per contest in NEC play (sixth in conference)...Shot 35.1% from three-point land against NEC competition (11th in conference)...Became 12th women's basketball player in school history to hit 100 career three-pointers (2/27/17 vs Mount)...Reached double-figures in scoring 16 times in total, and in six straight games from January 30 to February 18...Played a team-best 32.4 minutes per contest...Averaged 12.7 points over final 10 games of the season...Was named an NEC Prime Performer after scoring a career-high 23 points against Saint Peter's (12/11/16).

2015-16 (Sophomore): Named to the Northeast Conference Winter Academic Honor Roll...Appeared in 19 games (14 starts) and averaged a career-high 29.6 minutes per-game, which was also good for the second most minutes played per-game behind Leah Fechko (38.7)...Averaged a career-best 8.3 points, 3.2 rebounds, and 2.5 assists per game...Shot 30.4% (28-of-92) from behind the arc during the season...Scored a career-high 18 points on 6-of-12 (50.0%) shooting from the field on February 8 against Fairleigh Dickinson University...Scored in double figures five times during the season.

2014-15 (Freshman): Named to the 2014-15 Northeast Conference Winter Academic Honor Roll... Hit the game-winning bucket versus Stony Brook in the Terriers first home win of the season... Averaged 16.6 minutes per game in 32 contests played, notching three starts... Scored a season-high 12 points against Sacred Heart in the NEC Quarterfinals.

Prior to St. Francis Brooklyn: Delaney has represented her country at the National Championships for six seasons. She was a member of the U18 team that won the championship in 2012, a second place finish in 2014, and a third-place showing in 2013. In the most recent National Championships, as a U-20 member, Delaney averaged 15.7 points per game while dishing out 5.3 assists. She also pulled down 6.3 rebounds per contest and shot 94.1 percent from the free-throw line.

Thurston's Tidbits: "Amy is a solid all around, true point guard who scores, gets to the free throw line, distributes the ball and defends aggressively. We have had all of these things in the past, just not in the same player. I love her attitude, her enthusiasm, her leadership skills and her high level of competitiveness."

Prior to St. Francis Brooklyn: Amy O'Neill arrives to Remsen Street by way of Cowley College of the Kansas Jayhawk Community College Conference. The Melbourne born O'Neill joins Alex Delaney and Jade Johnson as current Terriers from Australia, and the sixth Australian under head coach John Thurston. O'Neill was named the 11th NJCAA Division I All-American in school history, earning Third-Team honors after the 2016-17 season, along with a First-Team All-Region selection.

As a sophomore, O'Neill posted all around numbers with 16.8 points, 4.6 assists, 3.9 rebounds and 2.5 steals per contest. She completed her time in Cowley as the 10th leading scorer in school history, and registered the ninth most points in a season last year.

O'Neill scored a season-best 47 points on only 23 shot attempts at Barton Community College in an 82-64 victory on November 26, 2016. In that game, O'Neill shot 60.9% from the field, hit 5-of-11 from three, and knocked in 14-of-15 on free throws, while also coming away with five steals.

O'Neill played a big role in 51 Cowley victories over a two-year period, which included a berth in the 2016 NJCAA National Tournament.

The 5-foot-6 point guard will have two years of NCAA eligibility. She is the first JUCO signee in the tenure of head coach John Thurston.

Thurston's Tidbits: "Tori is starting to show the benefit of two years; drills, drills and more drills! She fought through a leg injury to have a solid showing in Canada. She is the rare post player who knows where everyone is supposed to be on the floor at all times. Her knowledge of our system allows her to vocally direct our defense. Offensively she causes opponents problems with her 12-to-18-foot range."

2016-17 (Sophomore): Named to the Northeast Conference Winter Academic Honor Roll...Appeared in 26 games, recording one start...averaged 2.1 points and 0.9 rebounds in 6.0 minutes per contest...Scored in 17 games, led by a season-best eight points at Central Connecticut (2/25/17)...Shot 66.7% on free throws.

2015-16 (Freshman): Named to the Northeast Conference Winter Academic Honor Roll...Appeared in 27 games and averaged 8.4 minutes per game...Averaged 2.2 points per game on 33.9% 19-of-56 shooting from the field...Shot 87.5% (21-of-24) from the free-throw line...Scored a career-high nine points on 2-of-4 (50.0%) shooting from the field and shot a perfect 5-of-5 from the free-throw line against Fairleigh Dickinson University on February 8...Recorded a career-high two blocks on February 8 against Fairleigh Dickinson.

Prior to St. Francis Brooklyn: Wagner is a 6-2 center who will fill the post-player void that Jaymee Veney leaves behind. In an interview with the Patriot Press, the future Terrier said she chose St. Francis Brooklyn because it is a small school with amazing coaches. Wagner is Freehold's all-time leader in blocked shots. In her senior year she averaged 12.4 points, 8.4 rebounds and 2.4 blocks per game. She was recently named as a National Girls and Women in Sports recipient. Along with Ehling and Phipps, Wagner is also a 1,000 Point Scorer and is one of just seven girls to achieve that milestone at Freehold.

Wagner has found success at the AAU level as well. Here are some of her notable AAU achievements: 2011 USJN National Showcase Champions, 2011 Vivian Stringer Shootout Champions, 2012 U16 AAU Super Regional Champions, 2012 All Gym Ratz Team, 2013 USJN Big Apple Challenge Pool All Star Team. Max-Preps ranked her 58th overall in the state of New Jersey.

Prior to St. Francis Brooklyn: In her senior season with the Holmdel Hornets, the 5-8 Ehling averaged 13.6 points per game and scored in double-digits in 16 out of 22 contests. She scored 17 or more points in eight games including two games of 22 points and 23 points against Life Center and Manalapan, respectively.

Ehling was a 1,000 Point Scorer at Holmdel. The milestone making basket came in a loss to St. John Vianney on a jump shot in the second quarter. Just like future teammate Leah Fechko, Ehling has ball theft on her mind. She recorded 29 steals in 22 games and recorded three or more steals six times, including one game with five steals against Raritan. In the Quarterfinal Round of the NJSIAA Tournament against Somerville, she scored 12 points en route to a Holmdel victory.

Ehling compiled an impressive resume at Holmdel. Her accolades include: First Team All "A" Division, Arthur Harmon MVP All-Star Game Award 2015, Holiday Tournament 2014 MVP, and Class A Central Second Team. Ehling's Hornets made it to the State Championship Game in 2014. She also competed in the Shore Basketball Coaches Association Senior All-Star Game.

Thurston's Tidbits: "Fastest, quickest, strongest player on the team. You don't usually say that about freshmen post players. Casey was our leading scorer in Canada playing only about 15 minutes per game. She is a hard worker who wants to get better and only needs to add some finesse to her game. Her physical prowess keeps her ceiling high as far as improvement goes."

Prior to St. Francis Brooklyn: Forward Casey Carangelo from Thomaston High School in Connecticut will be the lone Terrier from The Nutmeg State.

Carangelo helped Thomaston to four straight State Championship game appearances, ultimately winning two titles to cap off a decorated high school career. The six-footer ended her career as the leading scorer in school history with 1,588 points. The mark broke a previous 23-year old record set by Amy Matthews in 1994, who finished her tenure with 1578 points.

Carangelo was named to the Connecticut High School Coaches Association Girls Basketball All-State team in both 2015-16 and 2016-17, and she also won HoopZone Player of the Year. She notably scored 30, 38 and 33 points in consecutive games, and was subsequently awarded Female Athlete of the Week honors from 'The Zone' in Connecticut on the week of January 16, 2017.

Thurston's Tidbits: "Talk about lucking out with a player in recruiting...we did just that when we found Abby late in the recruiting season. She has played like a veteran since she first entered a game up in Canada. A big, strong, versatile wing; she is what I would call a power guard. An excellent post up player, she can also stretch defenses with her shooting ability. She can make plays and rebound the ball, and she was a First Team All-State softball player."

Prior to St. Francis Brooklyn: Abby Anderson joins the Terrier roster from Holy Cross High School in Scranton, Pennsylvania, arriving as the second current Pennsylvania native.

Anderson, a forward, was a three-year varsity starter at Holy Cross, and became the school's all-time leading scorer, registering over 1,500 career points in four seasons. Anderson won several accolades in high school including a Pennsylvania Sports Writers All-State Third-Team honor, an NPF Sports All-District Small School Team mention, a two-time Lackawanna League All-Star recipient, a Scranton Times Athlete of the Week, and a multi-time Dunmorean Newspaper Athlete of the Month.

The 5-foot-11 forward put up 19.1 points, 10 rebounds and four assists per game as a senior, while shooting 78% on free throws and 42% from three-point land. In 2016-17, Anderson also poured in 522 points for the 17-win Lady Crusaders, the most for a single season in school history.

Anderson also plays softball, and was 2014 Pennsylvania Class "AA" First Team All-State outfielder.

Thurston's Tidbits: "The word potential immediately comes to mind when we talk about Ally. She was a virtual unknown in high school despite being in the Top 20 in New Jersey in both scoring and rebounding. Ally has a classic basketball body with speed, quickness and potential for growth. A great attitude allows her to get better every day. You will hear more about her down the road in her career."

Prior to St. Francis Brooklyn: 6-foot-1 forward Ally Lassen rounds out the Terriers' incoming recruiting class, adding another New Jersey native to the team.

Lassen was a standout at Point Pleasant Boro High School in Jersey, earned Class B South Player of the Year from the Shore Conference, and was named to the Shore Basketball Coaches Association Senior All-Star Game.

Lassen also eclipsed the 1,000-point mark for her career on February 23, 2017, and her highlight performance came on Senior Night, where she recorded 41 points and 20 rebounds in a 62-38 win over Howell.

"We are very pleased with our incoming class of recruits," added coach T. "They bring scoring ability, rebounding, size and speed to our roster. They all have a chance to contribute, how quickly they adapt to the D-I level of play and our system will determine their roles early on. As with all our players, they have outstanding academic credentials."
