THE HISTORY OF SHEPHERD UNIVERSITY

Shepherd University began when the county seat of Jefferson County, West Virginia, was moved from Shepherdstown to Charles Town in July 1871. The people of Shepherdstown and the vicinity decided to use the vacated courthouse for educational purposes. An article of incorporation for a school to be known as Shepherd College, designed to instruct students in "languages, arts and sciences," was drawn up and signed by C.W. Andrews, A.R. Boteler, C.T. Butler, G.M. Beltzhoover, David Billmyer, Samuel Knott, and Henry Shepherd.

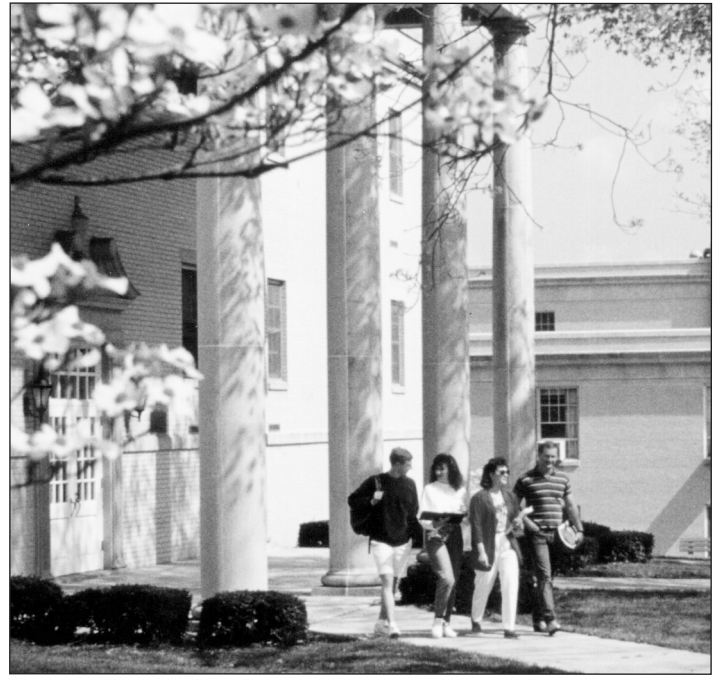

This body of incorporators gave itself power to elect instructors, pay salaries, and prescribe courses of study. Professor Joseph McMurren was appointed first principal of the institution, which opened with 42 students in September 1871, under the authority of the Board of Trustees.

On Feb. 27, 1872, the Legislature of West Virginia passed the following act: "That a branch of the State Normal School be and the same is hereby established at the building known as Shepherd College, in Shepherdstown, in the county of Jefferson."

Shepherd became a four-year college for the training of teachers on July 1, 1930, at which time the institution began granting the Bachelor of Arts degree. Shepherd was authorized to implement liberal arts programs in 1943, and in 1950, the Bachelor of Science degree was added.

Also in 1950, Shepherd was accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and in 1951, it became a member of the Association of American Colleges. Accreditation was received from the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education in 1954. In recent years, other programs, including social work, music, and nursing, have been accredited.

Shepherd officially became Shepherd University in March 2004.

RAM STADIUM

Ram Stadium has served as the home of the Shepherd football team since 1959, when it was dedicated at the Homecoming game on October 10 with a 14-0 win over rival Potomac State. Since then, the Rams have treated their fans to plenty of excitement, last-second wins, and hard-hitting tackles. With the crowd as the 12th man on the field, the Rams have compiled a 190-69-6 (.728) overall record on their home field.

The program permanently moved its playing site to Ram Stadium in 1960 after playing its home contests at Fairfax Field, which is now the revamped home for the University's baseball team.

In 2000 the stadium underwent a $2.2 million expansion. The home stands were moved to the west side, which features additional seating to increase the total seating capacity to 5,000. Two new sections of reserved seats are offered. A new press box, concession stands, and bathrooms are also included.

The Kenneth J. Boone Field House, a $1.25 million facilities building, was completed in 2003. The Shepherd University Foundation raised $500,000 in private gifts and grants with an assist from the Ram Stadium Committee chaired by Boone '76, a former Ram football player. The University covered the remaining construction cost through a bonding initiative.

Field Turf was installed in time for spring practice in 2008. The Field Turf Project was spearheaded by generous donations from former Rams Brian Jackson '87 and Chris Mack '88.

JEREMY OVERFELT
STRENGTH TRAINING
EMORY & HENRY '02

Weight and strength training is an important aspect of the Shepherd University football program. Individual instruction is vitally important. Improved team performance on the field is the end result. The program, for the most part, is a year-round effort toward betterment.

"Our program is a year-round regimen that focuses on ground-based and Olympic lifting techniques," said Jeremy Overfelt, who supervises the weight/strength program. "Our aim as a coaching staff is to implement an explosive and position-specific routine with a constant emphasis on increasing our players' acceleration, reaction time, agility, flexibility, and multi-directional speed."

The weight/strength training program for a Shepherd football student-athlete begins during his freshman season. Along with proper guidance, supervision, and motivation, the Shepherd student-athlete increases his endurance, strength, and agility.

The weight/strength training facility offers Nautilus machines, more than 6,000 pounds of free weights, military presses, incline presses, flat benches, bench presses, neck machines, squat racks, hip sleds, pec deck, leg extension/curl machines, sit-up boards, lat machine with low row, preacher curl machine, and T-bars.

The Shepherd football team has set numerous school records recently in the area of strength/weight training. Many of those records have been set by current members of the Shepherd football team.

HEAD COACH MONTE CATER

Entering his 29th season as head coach of the Rams is Monte Cater, a 1971 graduate of Millikin University. Cater was appointed the program's 12th head coach on February 9, 1987 and served as Shepherd's director of athletics from 1993-2004. Shepherd's all-time winningest football coach, Cater boasts a 209-90-1 (.698) record in 28 seasons as head coach of the Rams, and an overall record of 240-113-2 (.678) in 34 years as a head coach.

Cater's .678 winning percentage and 240 victories both rank among the top totals in the NCAA II coaching ranks among active coaches. He is the all-time leader in WVIAC coaching victories with his 190-87-1 mark and also holds the all-time mark for WVIAC coaching titles with 13. His 209 wins at Shepherd are the most by any collegiate football coach at a college or university in West Virginia.

Cater wasted little time establishing himself as a winner at Shepherd as he led the Rams to a tie for the WVIAC title in 1988.

A 6-3-1 record in 1990 earned the Rams a second-place finish in the WVIAC and served as a prelude to a two-year run of domination through the conference. Cater led the 1991 team to an 8-3 record and the school's first NAIA Playoff appearance since 1986. Although the Rams fell in the first round of the playoffs, they had established themselves as the team to beat in the WVIAC and finished the season ranked sixth nationally.

The 1992 season proved to be one of Cater's best as head coach of the Rams as Shepherd compiled a 9-3 overall record, which included their second straight 7-0 mark in the WVIAC. The Rams won their first NAIA playoff game with a 6-3 win at playoff-nemesis Carson-Newman.

In 1997, Cater earned WVIAC Coach-of-the-Year honors leading the Rams to a 9-1 mark and a share of the WVIAC title. The Rams earned their first-ever NCAA Division II ranking, and set a new school record for scoring with 340 points.

In 1998, Cater again earned WVIAC Coach-of-the-Year honors in leading Shepherd a 10-2 mark as WVIAC champions. Shepherd made its first appearance in the NCAA II Playoffs and upset Indiana (PA), 9-6, in the first round.

Cater earned WVIAC Coach-of-the-Year honors for the third consecutive season in 1999 as the Shepherd posted a 9-2 mark and returned to the NCAA II Playoffs.

Cater's 2000 squad posted a 7-3 mark. Dalevon Smith and James Rooths both earned First Team All-America honors for the Rams.

The Rams used a 6-0 start en route to an 8-2 record in 2001.

Cater led the Rams to a 7-3 mark in 2002. Shepherd finished just a win shy of the WVIAC title.

The Rams rebounded from a 0-3 start in 2004 with a 7-0 run in conference play to gain their eighth conference title under Cater.

Shepherd had one of its finest seasons ever in 2005 with a perfect 11-0 regular season mark before falling to C.W. Post in the NCAA II Playoffs. Cater was named WVIAC Coach-of-the-Year and also grabbed Coach-of-the-Year honors for 2005-06 from The Journal.

Shepherd posted back-to-back undefeated regular seasons as Cater's 2006 team recorded a 10-0 record. The Rams proceeded to defeat Merrimack, 31-7, before dropping a 24-21 heartbreaker to Bloomsburg in the NCAA II Playoffs. The Rams finished eighth in the final AFCA NCAA II poll.

The 2007 Rams recorded a 10-2 overall mark and won its fourth consecutive WVIAC crown in the process. Cater's squad also made its third straight postseason appearance. Shepherd is among the 12 universities that formed a new all-sports collegiate athletic conference to be named the Mountain East Conference (MEC) in July 2013. The conference office is based in Bridgeport, W.Va.

The twelve team league's charter membership includes: Concord University (W.Va.), Fairmont State University (W.Va.), Glenville State College (W.Va.), Notre Dame College (Ohio), Shepherd University (W.Va.), The University of Charleston (W.Va.), The University of Virginia's College at Wise (Va.), Urbana University (Ohio), West Liberty University (W.Va.), West Virginia State University (W.Va.), Wheeling Jesuit University (W.Va.), and West Virginia Wesleyan College (W.Va.).

Shepherd, a charter member of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (WVIAC) in 1924, remained a member throughout the league's history (1924-2013). The WVIAC moved into the NCAA Division II ranks in 1994 after a long affiliation with the NAIA. The Rams briefly held a dual conference affiliation as a member of the Mason-Dixon Conference from 1964-68.

RYAN POPE 2007 RIMINGTON AWARD WINNER

In 2007 Shepherd center Ryan Pope was named the winner of the Division II Rimington Award as the nation's top center in his division. Pope, a four-year starter on the offensive line for the Rams, helped lead the Rams to four straight WVIAC titles and three consecutive NCAA II postseason appearances. He is believed to be the first Shepherd athlete to win a national individual award.

SHEPHERD FOOTBALL: A PROUD TRADITION

The Kenamond Era (1920)

A.D. Kenamond, who had both playing and coaching experience at West Liberty, began the football program at Shepherd in 1920. Kenamond served as head coach for only one season.

Shepherd's first football team in 1920.

The Legge Era (1921-24)

Withrow Legge, a graduate of Hampden-Sydney, was tabbed as the new head coach in 1921. Legge led Shepherd to its first winning season in 1922 as Gus Walker, Tubby Knode, and company posted a 7-3 mark. In 1924 Legge's team posted another winning season (4-3-0) behind the brilliant play of Whitney Michael and D.B. Lucas. Legge compiled a 16-15-2 career mark.

The Newcome Era (1925-41)

John Newcome, a former star at Davis & Elkins, took over as head coach in 1925. This year also coincided with Shepherd becoming a charter member in a brand new conference -- the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (WVIAC). Newcome would go on to coach the Rams for 17 seasons, the most in program history until the Cater era. He would coach some of the school's all-time greats. Thomas Rankine, Cleland Bergdoll, Hunter Maddex, Lucien Maddex, Bill Hahn, Henry Hanna, Kenny Waldeck, Mike Mitchell, Calvin Dirting, and Jesse Riggelman were some of Newcome's star pupils. Hunter Maddex, who was the first Shepherd player to earn All-America honors in 1932, was involved in one of the most bizarre plays in program history. In the final moments of the 1932 Homecoming game against Fairmont, Maddex broke into the open field and appeared headed for the winning score when an automobile (trying to leave the game early) forced him out of bounds at the seven-yard line. Fairmont held tough for a 19-18 win.

The Lowe Era (1946-47)

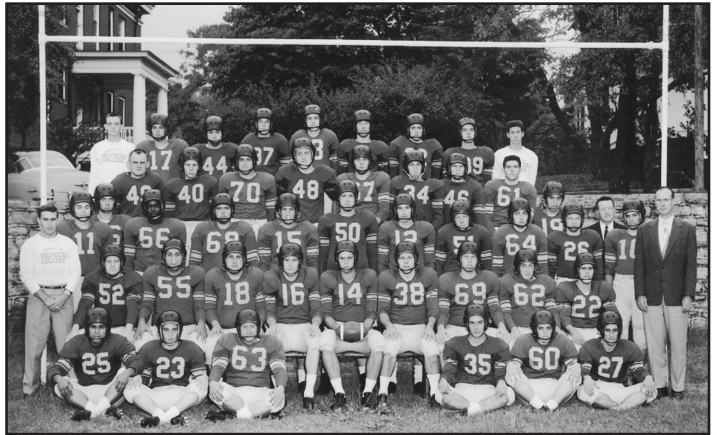

The Shepherd football program was halted from 1942-45 due to World War II. When the Rams returned to action in 1946, Cletus Lowe, a member of Shepherd's first football squad in 1920, became the first Shepherd graduate to coach at his alma mater. The Rams had a tough time rebuilding after the war, winning only one game from 1946-47. The win came in 1946, as Robert Butler's touchdown run lifted the Rams to a 7-0 win over host Salem College.

The Phillips Era (1948-50)

In 1948, Don Phillips, a Wheaton College graduate, became Shepherd's fifth head football coach. Phillips compiled a three-year record of 13-9-2, including a 6-2 mark in 1949. The 1949 team featured Jim Carey, Dick Harmison, Larry McKenzie, Barney Tucker, and Guy Tucker. Tucker (Guy) became the first Ram to earn First Team WVIAC honors in 1949. Barney Tucker would lead Shepherd in rushing with 539 yards in 1949 and 483 yards in 1950. Harmison would grab First Team WVIAC honors in 1950. Sam Berry, the basketball all-time great, would lead the Rams in passing in 1950 and again in 1951.

The Moore Era (1951-52)

William Moore would take over for Phillips in 1951. Under his direction, Shepherd turned in a 3-5 mark in 1951 and a 5-3 record in 1952. Jim Carey earned First Team WVIAC honors in 1951 and, along with Bob Hedmond, led the team offensively. Larry McKenzie led the Rams with 314 rushing yards. In 1952 Buddy Locke had a team high 243 passing yards and Jack Booth rushed for 440 yards as the Rams reversed their 1951 record.

The 1955 team went undefeated with an 8-0-0 mark.

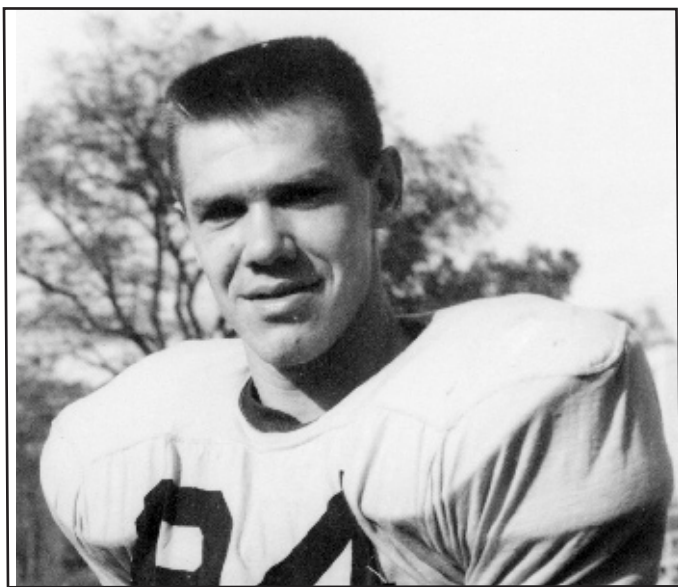

The Fuoss Era (1953-55)

Don Fuoss, a former standout at Catawba College, would coach the Rams from 1953-55, compiling a 15-7-2 mark. Fuoss's Rams struggled in their first season, winning only two games -- shutout victories over Newport News (15-0) and Potomac State (14-0). In 1954 the Rams began one of the finest two-year runs in school history. George Hott and John Shearer powered Shepherd during this span. The Rams would go 5-2-1 in 1954 and followed up with the first undefeated season in school history in 1955 at 8-0-0. Hott led the Rams in scoring with 54 points in '54, despite playing in only five games. He would follow that with a team-best 84 points in '55. Shearer would become the first Ram quarterback to pass for over 1,000 yards when he completed 48-of-83 passes for 1,002 yards and 15 touchdowns. Shearer became the first Shepherd player selected in the NFL draft when he was selected in the 29th round by the Baltimore Colts. The '55 team scored 299 points, while limiting their opponents to only 31 points.

The Riggelman Era (1956-66)

Jesse Riggelman, who captained the 1940 team, was named head coach of the Rams in 1956. His 11-year reign was highlighted by a four-year span of consecutive winning seasons from 1960-63. He also posted winning seasons in 1956 and 1958. Several excellent running backs played for the Rams in this time, including Bunny Leonard, Elmo Hodge, Sam Taylor, and Pat Ruda, who still holds several Shepherd punting records. Bob "Tiny" Hogue became the second Shepherd player to be selected in the NFL draft. He was chosen by the Baltimore Colts in the 20th round. Wayman Everly had an excellent career at wide receiver. He was on the receiving end of aials from quarterbacks Ashley Scarborough and Walter Barr, who would later gain fame as the Shepherd head mentor.

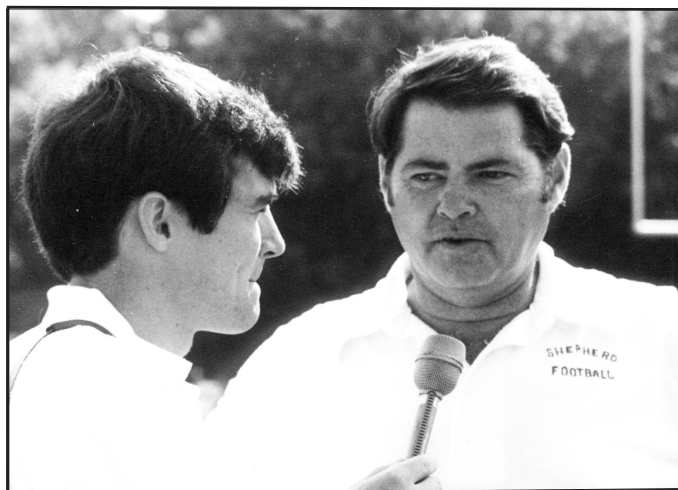

SHEPHERD HISTORY

Wayman Everly was a standout receiver for the Rams under Jesse Rigglesman.

The Parker Era (1967-70)

Roger Parker took over for Rigglesman in 1967 and was at the helm for four years. Parker's '69 team posted a 6-4 overall mark behind the stalwart play of standouts Frank Aliveto, Mike Calhoun, Bob Denton, and Gary McEldowney. Denton would finish his career as Shepherd's all-time leading receiver. The 1970 team featured the debut of two of the finest running backs in Shepherd history, as halfback Perry Hubbard and fullback Bob Pope began their careers.

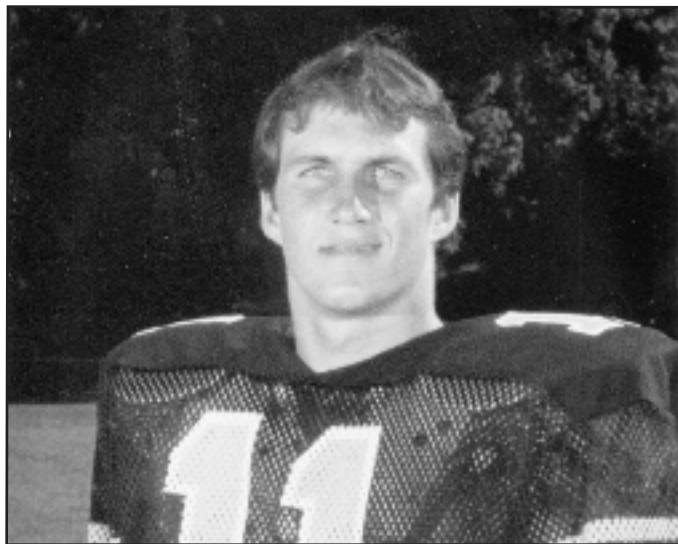

Walter Barr had 104 wins in his 15-year career.

The Barr Era (1971-85)

Walter Barr built the Shepherd football program to one of the most feared teams in the West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference. In just his second season, the Rams captured the WVIAC title in 1972. Calhoun, Hubbard and Pope, who would gain First Team All-America honors, led the high-powered offense. The 1975-78 years resulted in four straight second place finishes in the WVIAC. Punter Larry Hersh led all Division III punters with a 43.4 average in 1975. Rick Kingsbury set numerous place-kicking records. Fullback Gregg Warfield would become the school's all-time leading rusher. His backfield mate, Wayne Wilson, would later go on to a successful pro career with the New Orleans Saints. The 1980s saw Shepherd gain two more WVIAC crowns as the Rams earned back-to-back titles in 1982-83. Quarterback Mike Coyle, running back Kevin McLeod, and wide receiver Tom Slack fueled the SC offense to the title in '82. Freshman running back sensation Anthony Crenshaw joined the attack in '83 and set a single-season rushing mark with 1,303 yards. Defensively, Shepherd got excellent play from WVIAC Defensive Players of the Year, linebacker Gene Lugat (1982) and defensive lineman Mark Brower (1983). Everett Yore set the single season mark for interceptions with 11. Barr recorded 104 wins over a career that spanned 15 years. Remarkably, Barr had only one losing season during his tenure.

Chris Mack played for three head coaches in his outstanding career.

The Jacobs Era (1986)

Mike Jacobs' tenure as Shepherd head coach was a short, but very successful one. The passing combination of John Fleming and Rob Bradford gave Ram opponents all they could handle. Shepherd posted an 8-3 record and captured the WVIAC title. Defensively, the Rams were led by Greg Cooke, Terry Corbin, Chris Mack, and Pete Yurish.

Todd Lipscomb

All-American Damian Beane helped lead Shepherd to its first ever win in the NCAA II Playoffs.

The Cater Era (1987-present)

Monte Cater became Shepherd's 12th head coach in 1987. After struggling through a 4-6 initial season, Shepherd rebounded with a 6-4 mark and a share of the WVIAC title in 1988. The Ram offense was led by freshman running back Bill Adams, who ran for a school-record 1,430 yards. After a two-year stint in the Army, Adams returned in 1991. Shepherd would go on to post back-to-back outright WVIAC titles in '91 and '92.

Johnson. Bennett would become the school's all-time leading tackler with 264 tackles, while Johnson grabbed a then school record 29 interceptions in his career. The Rams would win their first post season game in 1992 as Shepherd upset Carson-Newman, 6-3, in the first round of the NAIA Playoffs. In 1994, Shepherd again gained a share of the WVIAC title as Jay Mason, Allen Eye and cohorts lifted the Rams offensively. The Shepherd defense recorded 30 interceptions to lead the nation (all divisions). In 1996, defensive lineman Greg Stup garnered WVIAC Defensive Player of the Year honors and also set the career sack mark with 33.5. The passing combination of Chad Broadwater and Kelvin Stevens became the most prolific in school history. The duo capped off their careers with a share of the WVIAC title in 1997. The Rams set several records in 1997, including a new single-season scoring mark with 340 points. This was fueled by a phenomenal performance from running back Damian Beane. Beane, coming off a 1,358-yard performance in 1996, rushed for a then school-record 1,590 yards and set new scoring marks for points (114), touchdowns (19) and rushing touchdowns (18). Special teams play got a boost from Bootsie Washington, who tied or set three Division II return marks. Washington had six returns for scores, including three consecutive returns for scores against WVU-Tech. He finished the year with the best punt return average (24.3 yards) in Division II. In 1998, the Rams went 10-2 and advanced to the NCAA II Playoffs for the first time in school history. The Rams upset Indiana (PA), 9-6, before falling to Slippery Rock, 31-20, in the quarterfinals. Beane also finished fourth in the Harlon Hill voting, while Rooths led NCAA II in punt returns with a 21.5 average and set an NCAA mark for all divisions with five punt returns for touchdowns.
