PIRATE NOTABLES

17 & 10

Seton Hall head coach Shaheen Holloway had, statistically, the best season by a first-year head coach in program history. He led the Pirates to 17 overall victories and 10 wins in BIG EAST play, both program records for a first-year head coach.

65.1

The Pirates allowed just 65.1 points per game last season, which ranked second in the BIG EAST and 43rd nationally. Seton Hall also finished 20th in KenPom adjusted defensive efficiency.

After finishing with 10 BIG EAST victories last season, Seton Hall has won 10 or more BIG EAST games seven times since the league realigned in 2013-14, which is tied for the third most in the conference

2,075

The Pirates added four Div. I transfers to the team this season; they combine to have scored 2,075 points in 148 career games.

3.246 GPA

Team cumulative grade point average at the conclusion of the 2022-23 academic year, the eighth straight year ending above 3.0. The Pirates had six student-athletes named to the NABC Honors Court, a program record.

The Three Musketeers: Head coach Shaheen Holloway has said repeatedly in the preseason that there are four Pirates who cannot have a bad practice; Dre Davis, Al-Amir Dawes, Kadary Richmond and himself. Holloway named the trio team captains this season and they will be the ones that will set the tone for the 2023-24 Seton Hall Pirates. The biggest key in the case of Davis and Richmond? Health. Both were hindered by injuries for long stretches last season. The Pirates were without either Davis or Richmond in 15 games last season, which made up for 45 percent of The Hall's contests in 2022-23. Seton Hall was 11-7 last season in games that Richmond and Davis were both available. In his first season playing back in his home state, Dawes led the Pirates in scoring with 12.6 points per game while shooting 38 percent from deep and 82 percent from the free-throw line.

Sizing Up: After playing all of last season with one true big man in Tyrese Samuel, head coach Shaheen Holloway went out and added three transfers and one European prospect whose collective average height is 6-10; Austin Peay transfer Elijah Hutchins-Everett (6-11), Boise State transfer Sadraque NgaNga (6-10), Santa Clara transfer Jaden Bediako (6-10) and Turkish freshman Arda Ozdogan (6-10). NgaNga, a former top 50 prospect coming out of prep school, is comfortable on the wing and at the four spot while Bediako and Ozdogan are natural centers. A native of Orange, N.J., Hutchins-Everett has the ability to pop out and shoot from three-point range and play with his back to the basket.

Holloway Home: Holloway is coming off of, statistically, the best first season that a Seton Hall head coach has ever had. Holloway finished last year as Seton Hall's all-time leader in wins (17), BIG EAST victories (10) and road wins (6) for a first-year head coach. He accomplished this despite inheriting a roster in March 2022 that had just five healthy scholarship players. Seton Hall notched multiple marquee victories in Holloway's first season back in South Orange: a buzzer-beating 70-69 win over Memphis at the ESPN Events Invitational on Thanksgiving; a come-from-behind 67-66 victory in the final seconds over eventual national champion UConn at Prudential Center on Jan. 18, 2023; retaining the Garden State Hardwood Classic Trophy in a 45-43 win over Rutgers at Jersey Mike's Arena on Dec. 11, 2022.

Exceeding Expectations: The Pirates have traditionally been underrated by the BIG EAST coaches when it comes to the preseason poll. In the previous 43 polls, Seton Hall has finished higher than its predicted finish 21 times, which is 49 percent of all the polls. The Pirates have met their preseason prediction 12 times (28%) and have finished below their preseason prediction just twice since the league reconfigured in 2013-14.

Year	Preseason Rank	Actual Finish
2023-24	9th	?
2022-23	7th	T-6th
2021-22	5th	T-5th
2020-21	5th	T-4th
2019-20	1st	T-1st
2018-19	8th	T-3rd
2017-18	2nd	T-3rd
2016-17	T-4th	T-3rd
2015-16	7th	3rd
2014-15	6th	T-7th
2013-14	8th	8th

Tough Schedule: It's now an annual tradition that the Pirates face a difficult schedule that helps them prepare for the rigors of the BIG EAST. During non-conference play, the Pirates have two games against teams who landed in the Associated Press preseason top 25 in No. 20 Baylor and No. 21 USC. In total, the Pirates' non-conference opponents combine for five NCAA Tournament appearances from last season. The Hall could face up to six non-conference opponents that finished in the top 70 of the NET in 2022-23 and is guaranteed to go up against four foes that finished 55 or higher.

Seton Hall Builds Leaders: With NJIT's hiring of Grant Billmeier in March 2023, Seton Hall now boasts five alumni in the head coaching ranks of Division I men's basketball: Billmeier, NJIT; Shaheen Holloway, Seton Hall; Dan Hurley, UConn; Levell Sanders, Binghamton; Donald Copeland, Wagner. Only Duke has more alumni serving as head coaches with six.

HEAD COACH SHAHEEN HOLLOWAY

Alma Mater: Seton Hall '00

Four NCAA Tournaments (1 Head Coach, 3 Assoc. Head Coach), 2022 Elite Eight

2020 MAAC Coach of the Year | CBS Sports' 2022 Best Head-Coaching Hire

Desire. Dedication. Discipline.

The Three D's are the foundation of head coach Shaheen Holloway's program and they are the words that he has lived by on and off the basketball court. It's a foundation that is centered around winning, personal and athletic development, and a commitment to Seton Hall basketball.

When Holloway, a former associate head coach and standout student-athlete at Seton Hall, was named the new head men's basketball coach at his alma mater on March 30, 2022, he stated this was an opportunity that he couldn't mess up because "it's way to important to me." He bleeds Pirate Blue and, with The Three D's as the bedrock, he will look to build on a solid first season at the helm of his alma mater.

Holloway's first campaign was, statistically, the best in the history of Seton Hall men's basketball for a first-year head coach. Holloway set program records for most wins (17), BIG EAST victories (10) and road wins (6) for a first-year head coach in school history. He was also the first Seton Hall head coach to lead the Pirates to a postseason berth in his first season since Tommy Amaker in 1997-98. Despite starting 0-3 in BIG EAST play, Holloway took a group of four returners and five newcomers and guided The Hall to a .500 record in league play for the eighth consecutive season.

The Pirates bought in to Holloway's philosophy on the defensive end of the floor in year one as they finished second in the BIG EAST and in the top 70 nationally in scoring defense (65.1 ppg), field goal percentage defense (41.5 percent), three-point field goal percentage defense (31.8 percent) and steals (8.2 steals per game). Seton Hall finished 20th in KenPom's adjusted defensive efficiency ranking.

Seton Hall notched multiple marquee victories in Holloway's first season back in South Orange; a buzzer-beating 70-69 win over Memphis at the ESPN Events Invitational on Thanksgiving, a come-from-behind 67-66 victory in the final seconds over eventual national champion UConn at Prudential Center on Jan. 18, 2023, retaining the Garden State Hardwood Classic Trophy in a 45-43 win over Rutgers at Jersey Mike's Arena on Dec. 11, 2022.

As is always the case with Holloway's teams, the Pirates excelled in the classroom in 2022-23. The Hall earned the NABC Team Academic Excellence Award, one of only two BIG EAST teams to earn the honor in 2023, and a program-best six Pirates were named to the NABC Honors Court for posting a cumulative GPA above 3.2.

Holloway returned to South Orange after leading Saint Peter's on a miraculous run to the Elite Eight at the 2022 NCAA Tournament. The 2020 MAAC Coach of the Year, Holloway led the Peacocks to the 2022 MAAC Tournament title and three straight campaigns with 10-plus victories in conference play.

Holloway's teams in Jersey City played with a toughness and intensity that mirrored the way he played the game at The Hall, where he holds the program record with 681 career assists and was inducted into the Seton Hall Athletics Hall of Fame in 2012. He's the first Seton Hall graduate to lead the men's basketball program since all-time great Richie Regan '53 led the Pirates from 1960-70.

Holloway led Saint Peter's to a run of three consecutive top-three finishes in the MAAC from 2020-22, a first for the program since the school's first three seasons in the conference in the early 1980s. Under Holloway's tutelage, Saint Peter's produced five All-MAAC selections, the NCAA Division I leader in blocked shots, the MAAC Defensive Player of the Year, and 10 student-athletes that were named to the MAAC All-Academic Team. Saint Peter's steady climb under Holloway culminated in a run that made shock waves across the nation in March 2022. It started with the Peacocks earning the No. 2 seed in the MAAC Tournament and defeating Monmouth in the championship game to clinch the conference's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The Peacocks then did what many outside of Holloway's squad thought was unthinkable, defeating second-seeded Kentucky in an overtime game in the first round before knocking off seventh-seeded Murray State in the second round and then toppling third-seeded Purdue in the Sweet Sixteen. Saint Peter's became the first 15-seed ever to reach the Elite Eight. For his efforts, Holloway was named a finalist for the Hugh Durham Coach of the Year, Ben Jobe Coach of the Year and Skip Prosser Man of the Year awards.

Prior to his tenure at Saint Peter's, Holloway helped build a foundation at his alma mater that turned it into a program that competes for NCAA Tournament bids and BIG EAST championships on a yearly basis. In eight seasons as associate head coach under Kevin Willard from 2010-18, the Pirates experienced a multitude of success both on and off the court. The Pirates had three Associated Press All-America honorable mention selections, 12 All-BIG EAST selections, three BIG EAST All-Rookies and 36 BIG EAST All-Academic team selections. From 2016-18, Seton Hall became one of the premier programs in the BIG EAST as it recorded three straight 20-win seasons, three consecutive NCAA Tournament selections, and three straight BIG EAST seasons of 10 wins or more. That three-year stretch was highlighted by the 2016 BIG EAST Tournament championship, a run that was capped off with a 69-67 victory over eventual national champion Villanova in the title game at Madison Square Garden.

The core of that 2016 BIG EAST championship team was brought together by Holloway. With Holloway serving as a lead recruiter, Seton Hall boasted a top-15 national recruiting class in 2014, led by Isaiah Whitehead, the program's first McDonald's All-American since 2001 who went on to become a 2016 NBA Draft pick; Angel Delgado, the 2018 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar Award National Center of the Year and BIG EAST all-time rebounds leader; and Khadeen Carrington, who finished his Seton Hall career as the ninth all-time leading scorer in program history. Holloway was also the lead recruiter for Jared Rhoden, who was named All-BIG EAST First Team as a senior and helped lead the Pirates back to the NCAA Tournament.

Prior to joining Seton Hall, Holloway served on Willard's staff at Iona, where he helped turn the Gaels program around. Inheriting a team that went 2-28 in 2006-07, Holloway and Willard recruited and coached student-athletes to one of the greatest turnarounds in college basketball history as their 2009-10 team won 21 games to complete a 19-win turnaround in only the third year of the administration.

- Played from 1996-00, helped lead his team to the 2000 NCAA Sweet Sixteen and was inducted into the Seton Hall Athletics Hall of Fame in 2012

During his original stint on the Seton Hall coaching staff, Holloway was an administrative assistant from 2006-07. Holloway was responsible for coordinating film exchange, analyzing game tapes and assisting with scouting of opponents. He supervised fall conditioning as well as the year-round weight training program. Holloway was also responsible for academic progress reports for team members as well as the organization of all aspects of team travel for the Pirates. Holloway made his way back to his alma mater after serving as an assistant coach at the high school level at Bloomfield Tech.

He was a four-year standout at Seton Hall from 1996-00 and helped lead his team to the 2000 NCAA Sweet Sixteen, which included hitting the game-winning layup in overtime to defeat Oregon in the NCAA first round. Holloway ranks 18th all-time in program history with 1,588 points and also recorded 231 steals (fourth all-time) and hit 185 three-pointers (eighth all-time) in 116 games. In 2000, he was named the BIG EAST's Most Improved Player, while earning All-BIG EAST status three times and All-Metropolitan accolades in each of his four seasons at Seton Hall. A native of Queens, Holloway was a McDonald's All-American who played at St. Patrick High School in Elizabeth, N.J.
After his collegiate success Holloway played professionally in England for the Chester Jets and London Towers as well as a season in Ulm, Germany and Istanbul, Turkey. Back in the U.S. he had stints with the Brooklyn Kings of the USBL and Newark, Las Vegas and Chicago in the ABA. He was invited to three preseason NBA camps with the Knicks, Nets and Golden State Warriors.

Holloway is married to his wife Kim, a 2001 Seton Hall graduate, and he is a proud father of three; daughter Shatanik, a 2018 Seton Hall graduate, and sons, Xavier and Tyson.

TRENDSETTER & LEADER

From South Jamaica, Queens, Holloway took a chance on head coach Kevin Boyle and St. Patrick, becoming the first star player at the Catholic school in Hillside, N.J. He turned himself into a McDonald's All-American and was named MVP of the 1996 game.

Despite receiving offers from traditional "blue blood" programs, Holloway chose to stay close to his adopted home and signed with Seton Hall. He became the program's all-time assists leader (681) and helped guide the Pirates to the Sweet 16 as a senior in 2000.

Following his playing career, Holloway joined the coaching ranks, and his time as an assistant was highlighted by an eight-year run as an associate head coach. Holloway helped rebuild his alma mater in eight seasons from 2010-18 as the Pirates registered four 20-win seasons, three NCAA Tournament appearances and the 2016 BIG EAST Championship.

Always in search of a challenge, Holloway accepted the head coaching position at Saint Peter's where he built a program on toughness and tenacity. In four seasons, Holloway was named 2020 MAAC Coach of the Year, led the Peacocks to three consecutive seasons with 10+ conference wins and, most notably, the Elite Eight at the 2022 NCAA Tournament.

A HISTORY OF SETON HALL BASKETBALL, 1903-PRESENT

BY ALAN DELOZIER, UNIVERSITY ARCHIVIST

Seton Hall University adopted the game of basketball over 100 years ago, and it has become a popular fixture on campus among the student body, school administration, alumni, and all loyal rooters of the "White and Blue" ever since. The first official contest in school history occurred on December 9, 1903, when the Seton Hall five tied a local team, known as the Mohawks of Newark, 15-15. They scored their first win 10 days later against Brooklyn High School 28-18. Despite this early success, the program was discontinued, and a varsity squad was not fielded until five years later.

After resuming play during the 1908-1909 campaign, Seton Hall began a streak of excellence that resulted in 10 straight winning seasons (including an undefeated mark of 4-0 in 1910-1911) prior to 1918-1919, when World War I caused a second break in the schedule. During the early part of the 20th century, the college featured various head coaches including William Caffrey, Jim Flanagan, Dick McDonough, and the renowned Frank Hill. Counted among the most prolific sideline leaders in New Jersey history, Hill piloted Seton Hall teams from 1911-1929 and posted a 191-75-1 record in the process.

The Seton Hall basketball quintets of the early 1900s played their first home games on campus at Alumni Hall, or at more spacious armories and gymnasiums around the Newark area. Continued top-notch play by such cagers as John Outwater, Les Fries, and Pat Reynolds defined the style of successful South Orange teams from 1920-1922 that had a combined record of 37 wins and 9 losses in three years. Playing a largely regional slate of opponents, it was not until 1925, when Seton Hall scored its first major win by defeating Eastern Eight powerhouse Yale 33-29, that widespread recognition was earned for the program.

A milestone in school history came in 1931, when the college adopted its enduring nickname "Pirates" which was applied to all future Seton Hall basketball teams. On the court during the early to mid-1930s, Seton Hall's basketball fortunes fluctuated as various tacticians, including Dan Steinberg, Les Fries, and John Colrick assumed the head coaching post between 1930 and 1936. The arrival of John "Honey" Russell in 1936 was a pivotal event in Seton Hall basketball history, and the Pirates achieved national prominence during his tenure, including a 295-129 record over an 18-year span (1936-1943 and 1949-1960). Included in this tally is a 41-game unbeaten streak which led to the second undefeated season in school history (19-0 in 1939-1940) and a place in the Setonia basketball record books.

The first permanent basketball facility on campus, known as Walsh Gymnasium, opened in 1941. This structure played host to the 1939-1942 squads featuring a quintet forever known as the "Wonder Five," led by All-American Bob Davies, which brought Seton Hall its first-ever National Invitational Tournament (NIT) bid in 1941. Although the Pirates were not selected for postseason action, the team posted a combined 32-5 record over the next two years prior to the outbreak of World War II. Thereafter, they played a curtailed schedule that lasted until 1946.

Under head coaches Bob Davies and Jack Reitemeier, Seton Hall attained a 58-15 mark and three winning seasons between 1946 and 1949. These postwar Pirates were led by future National Basketball Association (NBA) stars Frank "Pep" Saul, John Macknowski, and Bobby Wanzer. Seton Hall became a prime attraction at the famed Madison Square Garden around this time, having earned its second-ever NIT bid during the 1950-1951 campaign. They followed this up with another postseason birth and 25-3 record in 1951-1952. The apex of Pirate basketball came in 1953, when Seton Hall, led by Richie Regan and All-American Walter Dukes defeated longtime rival St. John's to win the NIT Championship with a 31-2 mark and a year-ending rank of second in the nation. Afterward, the Pirates were able to rally and put together a 20-win season in 1955-1956 and three straight NIT appearances between 1955 and 1957.

With the departure of Honey Russell following the 1959-1960 season, Richie Regan assumed leadership of the Pirates a year later. A point-shaving scandal in 1961 rocked the program, but Regan led the team back to respectability and winning records of 15-9 (twice), 16-7 and 13-12 between 1960 and 1964. These teams had the assistance of such performers as All-American Nick "The Quick" Werkman who was the leading collegiate point maker nationwide in 1963. The late 1960s featured many excellent performances and players who served as a prelude to the Bill Raftery era which began in 1970. Seton Hall returned to the NIT in 1974 and sported a succession of winning seasons between 1973 and 1979 under the playmaking of such court stalwarts as Glenn Mosley, Greg Tynes, Danny Callandrillo and Howard McNeil.

Seton Hall became a charter member of the Big East Conference in 1979. After Horace "Hoddy" Mahon took over on an interim basis in 1982, the hiring of P.J. Carlesimo came at a time when the Meadowlands Arena and competitive league play became synonymous with the Seton Hall basketball experience. The first winning record posted by Carlesimo came during the 1986-1987 campaign when a 15-14 mark and NIT banner were earned. In 1988, Seton Hall went 22-13 and made it into the second round of the program's very first NCAA Tournament appearance. Another highpoint in the hoop annals of Setonia was recorded in 1989, when the Pirates won the Great Alaska Shootout and Sugar Bowl Tournament prior to making a run at the NCAA title. They lost to the University of Michigan, 80-79 in overtime of the championship game. The Pirates compiled a 31-7 mark on the year and equaled the highest win total in school history.

Between 1990 and 1994, the Pirates posted three consecutive 20-win seasons, two Big East regular season and tournament titles, an NCAA Elite Eight appearance in 1991, and Sweet Sixteen showing a year later. The 1992-1993 season featured a 28-7 record, second-round appearance in the NCAA Tournament and a sixth rank in the season-ending polls under the play of such high scorers as Terry Dehere, Jerry Walker and Luther Wright.

Head coach George Blaney led the Pirates into the first round of the NIT in 1995 before his departure two years later. This led the way to the hiring of Tommy Amaker, who guided Seton Hall to three NIT invitations between 1997 and 2001 along with another NCAA Sweet Sixteen round contest in 2000. Amaker left after the 2000-01 season and Seton Hall turned the reigns over to Louis Orr. In Orr's five-year tenure, the Pirates made three post-season appearances which included the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and 2006.

One of the marquee moments in the program's history occurred during Bobby Gonzalez's four years as head coach. The Pirates opened the spectacular Prudential Center in 2007 as their new home court.

In 2010, a new era began at Seton Hall with the hiring of new head coach Kevin Willard. Among his staff members, Pirates' legend Shaheen Holloway returned to Seton Hall as associate head coach.

In Willard's second year at the helm, the Pirates won 21 games including a victory in the NIT, their first post-season win since the 2003-04 season. With a 15-2 start to the season, Seton Hall earned its first national ranking, No. 24, in nearly 12 years.

The 2015-16 season proved to be one of the most exciting in Seton Hall history. Behind five starting sophomores, the Pirates rattled off nine wins in their final 11 regular season games to finish 12-6 in the BIG EAST, the program's best regular season finish since 1993. Then, led by Most Outstanding Player Isaiah Whitehead, the Pirates defeated a pair of top-five teams in Xavier and Villanova at Madison Square Garden to claim the 2016 BIG EAST Tournament championship, Seton Hall's first since 1993, and the conference's automatic bid into the NCAA Tournament. Willard, the BIG EAST Co-Coach of the Year, guided the Pirates to a 25-9 record and a No. 20 ranking in the year's final Associated Press national poll.

The Pirates, led by the quartet of Delgado, Khadeen Carrington, Desi Rodriguez and Ismael Sanogo, then backed up 2016's success with two more NCAA Tournament appearances in 2017 and 2018, marking only the second time in program history that The Hall advanced to NCAAs three years in a row. In 2018, Delgado became the BIG EAST's all-time leader in rebounds, and he was named the recipient of the Kareem Abdul-Jabbar Award as the nation's top center of the year. Seton Hall defeated NC State in the first round of the 2018 NCAA Tournament, the program's first NCAA victory since 2004.

Myles Powell took over leadership of the program in 2018-19 and delivered two of the best individual season performances in school history, leading to first-team All-America honors in 2020, the program's first since Dukes achieved the distinction in 1953. Powell and the Pirates won the 2020 BIG EAST regular season championship and were ranked in the top-15 in the nation when sports were canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Willard's transformative 12-year tenure as head coach of the Pirates concluded following another trip to the NCAA Tournament and a 20-win season in 2021-22. Willard led Seton Hall to two BIG EAST Championships, five NCAA Tournament appearances and seven 20-win seasons. He left Seton Hall as the program's second all-time winningest men's basketball coach with 225 victories, surpassing the great P.J. Carlesimo, who had 212 wins in 12 seasons, and behind only Honey Russell, who accumulated 294 wins in 18 seasons. He also left with the 11th most BIG EAST wins (regular season and tournament) in conference history with 117.

Willard's departure opened the door for a Seton Hall legend to return home to South Orange. Shaheen Holloway was named the new head men's basketball coach at his alma mater on March 30, 2022. Holloway set two program records for first-year head coaches after guiding the Pirates to 17 wins and 10 BIG EAST victories in his first season.

SETON HALL RETIRED NUMBERS

FRANK "PEP" SAUL

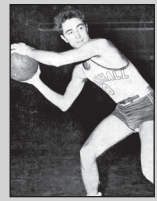

Seton Hall's first 1,000-point scorer, Frank Benjamin Saul, known as "Pep," was one of the top players on the Pirates during the heady 1940's. Saul played on the 1942-43 team, then served in World War II before returning to captain the team for three years from 1946-49. His 1,011 career points ranks him 32nd all-time at Seton Hall, and he led the team in scoring in '46-47, '47-48 and '48-49. He was drafted by the Rochester Royals of the NBA in 1949, and went on to win four NBA titles. Saul was elected into the Seton Hall Athletic Hall of Fame in 1973.

WALTER DUKES

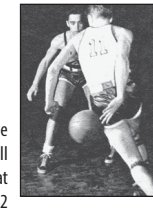

Few dominated college basketball like Walter Dukes did from 1950-53. Ranked eighth on the school's scoring list with 1,789 career points in just three seasons, Dukes led the team to the 1953 NIT Championship and an 80-12 record during his career. His rebounding numbers remain astounding to this day. He averaged 18.9 rebounds per game in his career, and 22.2 per game during the 1952-53 season when he set the single-season NCAA record with 734 boards. The mark still stands today and may never be broken. The 6-foot-11 All-American spent a year with the Harlem Globetrotters prior to an eight-year NBA career.

BOBBY WANZER

Inducted into the New York City Basketball Hall of Fame in 1991, Bobby Wanzer was considered by many to be one of the greatest shooters of his era. Wanzer was a standout on the 1946-47 squad, and, along with Pep Saul, led the Pirates to a 24-3 mark. Wanzer went on to a superb NBA career with the Rochester Royals, playing in five all-star games, earning All-League honors three times and being named MVP in 1953.

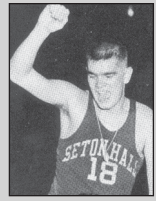

#11
BOB DAVIES

Bob Davies was simply one of the greatest basketball players of his time, and at Seton Hall from 1939-42 he became a genuine star. Half showman, half clutch performer, he was an All-American who captured the imagination of more than just the fans of the era – legendary Hall of Fame basketball coach Clair Bee was inspired enough by Davies' play in the 1941 NIT to base his 25-volume Chip Hilton sports literature series on him. Davies was ahead of his time and was often cited as the innovator of the behind-the-back dribble. Inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1970 after a superb professional career, Davies led Seton Hall to a three-year record of 55-5 as a member of the renowned "Wonder Five".

#12 RICHIE REGAN

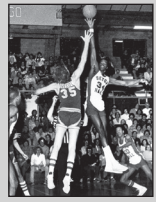

Known as "The Cat" and considered one of the finest playmakers in school history, Richie Regan was affiliated with Seton Hall basketball in some capacity – player, coach, administrator, etc. – for over 50 years until his death on Dec. 24, 2002. Regan was instrumental in leading Seton Hall to the 1953 NIT Championship and he scored 1,167 points in his career. After graduation, a stint in the marine corps and a two-year NBA career, Regan returned to South Orange, where he coached the Pirates from 1960-70. He then became the school's athletic director and Executive Director and Founder of the Pirate Blue Athletic Fund. Symbolic of Regan's generosity and love for Seton Hall was the "unretiring" of his #12 for point guard Andre Barrett '04. Barrett wore the number with pride for four years, then returned it to Regan's family on Feb. 28, 2004.

#24 TERRY DEHERE

Seton Hall's all-time leading scorer, Terry Dehere became the first Pirate to have his number retired while an active player. Dehere led the Pirates in scoring all four seasons he played at Seton Hall (1989-93). He propelled the Pirates to three NCAA Tournament appearances in four years, including a trip to the West Regional Final in 1991. Seton Hall also won two BIG EAST Tournament and regular season titles during Dehere's career. As a senior, he was a consensus All-American, was named BIG EAST Player of the Year and MVP of the league tournament. In four seasons, Dehere scored 2,494 points, averaging 19.5 per game. He played for five seasons in the NBA with the Los Angeles Clippers, Sacramento Kings and Vancouver Grizzlies.

#34 GLENN MOSLEY

Glenn Mosley was one of the best big men ever to play at Seton Hall. He averaged 17.4 points in his career, and currently stands 19th on Seton Hall's all-time scoring list with 1,441 points. He is also second on Seton Hall's all-time rebounding list with 1,263, and his 15.2 rebound per game average ranks as one of the all-time best career marks in NCAA history. Mosley led the NCAA in rebounding as a senior in 1976-77 with 16.3 boards per game. He was a first-round draft choice of the Philadelphia 76ers.

#44 NICK WERKMAN

Nick Werkman was one of the most prolific scorers ever to play college hoops. He ranks second all-time at Seton Hall, and in only three seasons, he scored 2,273 points, averaging a jaw-dropping 32.0 points per game from 1961-64. "Nick the Quick" averaged 14.6 rebounds as well and when he graduated he held 25 individual Seton Hall records. He was a two-time All-American and in 1962-63 led the nation in scoring with a 29.5 average. Ironically, it was his lowest average of his career. In 1961-62 he poured in 33.0 points per game, and as a senior in 1963-64, he averaged 33.2.

Pirates sail into NCAAs

Smash Big East record with blowout of Orange

By JOHN ROWE
Staff Writer

NEW YORK — All that was missing was appropriate background music. Instead of a tournament championship game, this was the Big Hair Conference's coronation of Seton Hall.

Something like "Hail to the Chief" or "We Are the Champions" might have been fitting.

While Seton Hall's 103-70 domination of Syracuse yesterday lacked suspense, it provided the Pirates with a send-off for the NCAA tournament.

"If we didn't do anything else today, we helped their seeding," said Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim.

The Pirates probably had their second seed wrapped up, but the message they sent before beginning preparation for Thursday's opening-round game against Tennessee State in the Southeast Regional was mind-boggling.

"We're not saying we're going to win it, but we are as good as anybody else," Seton Hall coach P.J. Carlesimo said in a rare display of public chest-pounding.

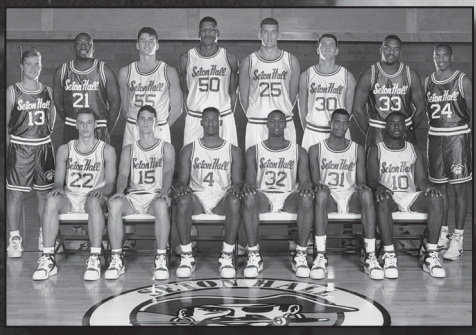

Anybody in the Madison Square Garden crowd or on either bench wouldn't argue with him.

The Pirates (27-6) were that good in completing their first

SETON HALL ALL-TIME ROSTER

The following list features the names of each varsity player in the history of the Seton Hall University men's basketball program. Names found in this register were taken from various university records. A majority of this list (post-1923) was compiled by the Athletics Communications Office. Some variations on first and last names were found, and the duration range (era) is used in regard to many early 20th-century players where documentation is not conclusive for career duration.
