Chunhua "Joy" Zhao

Diving Coach

10th Year

Tian-Jin University (1989)

Tian-Jin, China

- 2010 MVC Co-Diving Coach of the Year
- 2007 MVC Diving Coach of the Year
- 2006 MVC Invitational Diving Coach of the Year

Chunhua "Joy" Zhao is heading into her 10th season as the diving coach at Southern Illinois.

In 2011, Brittany Weigel earned MVC Diver of the Year honors, marking the second consecutive season Zhao coached the MVC Diver of the Year. Weigel is the third diver to earn MVC Diver of the Year laurels under Zhao, and five SIU divers won the honor in a six-year stretch under Zhao.

In 2010, Zhao coached Emily Gable to MVC Diver of the Year honors, earning MVC Co-Diving Coach of the Year, as well as guiding Kyle Carevic and Justin Ruszkowski to the NCAA Zone C Regional Meet in West Lafayette, Ind.

The former international diver came to SIU in 2003 with 20 years of experience as a diving coach, ranging from the international to high school levels, in addition to her personal experience as an international diver in China.

She wasted little time making a mark in her first year as the Saluki diving coach in 2003-04. Zhao was named 2004 MVC Invitational Diving Coach of the Year at her first MVC Invitational Meet, after coaching Brandon Birchak to 1 and 3-meter titles and an MVC Invitational Diver of the Year award.

The Salukis came away with three of the four diving titles at the 2006 MVC Championship and Invitational. Cristina Curtuneanu won the women's 1-meter while Brandon Birchak swept the men's 1-meter and 3-meter titles. For their performance at the meet, Curtuneanu and Birchak both earned MVC Diver of the Year honors.

The accomplishments did not stop there, though, as Birchak and Curtuneanu, along with Jessica Leong, qualified for the NCAA Zone D Meet in Columbia, Mo.

In 2007, Zhao coached Curtuneanu to the MVC 1-meter and 3-meter titles and a conference Diver of the Year title. Zhao also garnered league honors as she was named the Valley's Diving Coach of the Year.

Zhao has also continued the tradition of a strong personality on the pool deck, and carries a strong knowledge of the sport, and an attention to detail consistent in SIU's diving coaches.

She came to SIU from Fresno State University, where she was the women's diving coach from 1999-2003. At Fresno State, her divers qualified for the NCAA Zone Meet and reached the Western Athletic Conference finals every year. During that same time she also served as the head coach for the Fresno (Calif.) Diving Club.

From 1997-99, Zhao was an assistant diving coach at the University of Nevada, where she coached Lang Rao, who finished second at the 1999 NCAA championships. In 1999, she also was the head coach at the Carson Valley Diving Club.

Prior to coaching in the U.S., Zhao held three international coaching positions in her native China. From 1993-97, she served her second stint as the men's and women's diving coach for the Tian-Jin Province Diving Team. During her four years, she had a women's diver win the silver medal on the platform at the 17th World University Games, a gold medal at the Youth Games of China and a bronze medal at the 1996 Chinese National Meet. She also coached Sang Xue to a silver medal at the 1998 Goodwill Games. Her work earned her the Excellence in Coaching Award in 1992 and 1993.

She also served as the diving coach for the Chinese National Team from 1989-93, where one of her divers finished fourth in the women's platform dive at the 25th Olympic Games (1992), second in the platform at the 7th World Cup and second in the platform at the 16th World University Games.

Zhao began her coaching career as the men's and women's diving coach for the Tianjin Province Diving Team from 1983-89. During her time there, two of her male and female divers qualified for the Chinese National Diving Team.

Prior to coaching, she competed internationally as a member of the Chinese National Diving Team from 1977-79, following four years (1973-77) as a member of the Tianjin Diving Team.

Zhao received her bachelor's degree in physical education in 1989 from Tian-Jin University in her hometown of Tianjin, China.

She lives in Carbondale with her husband, Mark Liu, and their sons, Matthew and Charles.

Scott Olson
Associate Head Coach
Fourth Year
University of North Dakota (1996)
Watertown, S.D.

Scott Olson is in his fourth year as an assistant head coach for the Southern Illinois swimming and diving program. He was promoted to associate head coach before the 2012-13 season.

Olson serves as the primary swimming coach for sprinters and some mid-distance swimmers, and he has directly guided three swimmers to All-Conference recognition in just three seasons. Two of those swimmers won a combined four events at the conference championships. In just the last two seasons, he has guided seven swimmers to a combined 16 appearances in A Finals appearances (top-eight finishes) at the conference championships.

Olson guided Justin Wolfe to a berth in the 2012 Olympic Trials, which was the first Olympic Trials berth for an SIU swimmer in 12 years.

At Southern, Olson also serves as the recruiting coordinator and developed Southern's dryland training program. His swimmers have accounted for eight Division I B Cut times and nine NCAA top-40 times. He guided the 2011-12 200-yard freestyle relay team to the MAC Championship record and a conference title.

Also in 2011-12, Olson guided Juan Arbelaez to a MAC championship in the 50-yard freestyle and Wolfe to the conference title in the 100-yard butterfly. Arbelaez was the first swimmer in SIU history to break 20 seconds in the 50 freestyle and Wolfe set a MAC Championship record in the 100 fly. In 2010-11, Olson guided Wolfe to a sweep in the 100- and 200-yard butterfly at the MAC Championships.

Since Olson arrived in Carbondale, Southern has been ranked as high as No. 8 in the CollegeSwimming.com rankings among mid-major schools, and the team finished eighth at the USA Swimming National Championships in the winter of 2010. Olson's swimmers have broken three school records that were more than 20 years old.

Before coaching the Salukis, Olson was an assistant coach at the College of Charleston, where the men's team won Coastal Collegiate Swim Association Conference championships in his second and third years. Olson's swimmers broke 25 school records.

Olson also developed the school's first-ever alumni meet, performed on- and off-campus recruiting, and produced fundraising efforts for the program.

Olson was the interim head coach of the Tennessee women's program in 2005 after serving two years as a graduate assistant. He maintained academic responsibility for the athletes and acted as a consultant with the athletic staff in hiring a head coach.

As a graduate assistant at Tennessee from 2003-05, Olson performed stroke analysis using DART FISH, performed on-campus recruiting and arranged travel for the team. He produced a successful marketing campaign for home meets that resulted in attendance being doubled and built alumni relations. Before his graduate assistantship, Olson served as a volunteer coach for the Lady Vols swimming and diving team. As a volunteer, Olson helped guide the 100-yard backstroke swim to a fifth-place finish at the NCAA Championships.

Olson has also served as head swimming coach for the Barracuda Swim Club and Janesville YMCA. With the Barracuda Swim Club from 1998-2002, Olson managed three program sites that included five pools and over 120 swimmers. He trained swimmers at the sectional, junior national, and senior national levels. He was responsible for hiring, training and supervising all coaches.

At the Janesville YMCA in Janesville, Wis., Olson grew the swimming team from four total members to 65 members in just his first six months on the job. The boys team won the district title under Olson and placed second at the YMCA Senior State Championships. The team qualified for the YMCA Spring Nationals for the first time in eight years.

As a swimmer at North Dakota, Olson was an All-American swimmer and team captain. He earned his bachelor's degree from UND in 1996 and master's from Tennessee in 2005. Both degrees were in recreation administration.

From early beginnings to its current standing on the map of college athletics, the Missouri Valley Conference continues to be proactive. As The Valley enters its 106th season of athletic competition in 2012-13, the nation's second-oldest NCAA Division I conference continues to be a leader in college athletics and is one of the nation's most progressive conferences.

In what has become a wild, unpredictable age in collegiate athletics, the Missouri Valley Conference has remained strong and stable. Notably, 19 of the nation's 31 Division I conferences have new membership for this season, and all but five of those conferences have undergone a transformation in membership since 2000. Notably, the Missouri Valley Conference's current 10-member composition has remained the same since 1996 -- and only two leagues (Ivy, Patriot) can match that continuity. League members have worked together to focus on common goals and objectives, putting a high value on league harmony while continuing to invest in athletic programs to compete at the highest level.

The Valley brand remains very strong, both regionally and nationally, and the great athletic tradition of The Valley remains a compelling force in recruiting student-athletes and in marketing all the MVC programs.

Men's basketball continues to be the engine that drives Valley athletic programs. With UNI's NCAA Sweet 16 appearance in 2010, the league has had four different Sweet 16 teams since 2006, and The Valley is the only non-BCS league with more than two different Sweet 16 teams in that span. The State Farm MVC Tournament continues to be a spectacular showcase for the league, and the MVC has extended the tournament agreement with the Scottrade Center that will keep Arch Madness in St. Louis through at least 2015. During the 2011 State Farm MVC Championship, the league surpassed 1 million in total attendance for the event, now in its 23rd year.

Last year, the league matched a record with seven post-season teams, while Creighton and Wichita State represented the MVC in the NAAs, marking the first time since 2007 that the league had received multiple NCAA bids. Creighton's Doug McDermott became the first league player to earn First Team All-American honors since 1988. For the first time, the league had two ranked teams in the State Farm MVC Tournament (Creighton and Wichita State), while Creighton finished the season ranked No. 21 in the coaches' poll (taken after season's end). Wichita State (18) and Creighton (19) represented the MVC in the final regular-season writer's poll (March 12, 2012), marking the first time since 1974-75 that two MVC teams had been ranked in a season-ending AP poll.

While the success of men's basketball has received the greatest attention, the overall performance of league teams in virtually every sport continues to raise the national profile of the conference.

In men's soccer, Creighton reached the 2011 College Cup semifinals, falling in a shootout loss to Charlotte. Bradley and Creighton -- who shared the regular-season MVC title with Missouri State -- represented the MVC in the NCAA Championship. Bradley also won a match before falling in the second round. In 2011, Creighton ended the year with a 21-2-1 record as it recorded 19 shutouts, falling one shy of the NCAA record. CU's 0.20 goals against average on the year set an NCAA record, while All-American goalkeeper Brian Holt also set an NCAA record by posting a 0.206 GAA. Creighton led the NCAA with four soccer All-Americans, and Holt was named a Lowe's Senior CLASS Award winner and Academic All-American of the Year.

In women's basketball, the league set an all-time record with seven post-season bids, while 2012 marked the 13th-straight season in which The Valley earned at least three post-season bids. The Conference remains committed to keeping the tournament at a neutral site at the Family Arena in St. Charles. Establishing a neutral site remains a huge part of the overall efforts to improve women's basketball in The Valley.

In volleyball, UNI, Missouri State and Wichita State represented the league in the NCAA Tournament. It marked the sixth-straight season that multiple MVC teams were invited to the dance. UNI entered the NCAA Tournament with a 23-match win streak and advanced to the second round before falling to Florida. Notably, UNI has now won 61-straight matches against Missouri Valley Conference competition.

In baseball, Indiana State won its first regular season title since 1985, the program's first outright title. Five other Missouri Valley Conference teams -- Evansville, Illinois State, Indiana State, Missouri State and Wichita State -- passed the 30-win threshold, marking the sixth-straight season in which at least four MVC teams have reached 30 wins. For the fifth time in league history, three Missouri Valley Conference baseball teams were selected for the NCAA Baseball Championship. It marked the first time since 2007 that multiple MVC teams were invited to the dance and the first time since 2000 that three league teams were selected.

In track & field, the league picked up three more national championships. Southern Illinois standout Jeneva McCall earned the national championship title in the weight throw at the NCAA indoor meet, and she also took the outdoor title in the hammer throw. Illinois State's Tim Glover was the national champion in the javelin at the outdoor meet for a second-straight year. It marks the seventh NCAA meet in a row that the MVC has earned an individual national title in track & field. The MVC has now produced 13 national champions in the sport in the past six years.

Meanwhile, the success of The Valley television package is one of the great stories in the league. The MVC Television Network has blossomed into a revenue-generating vehicle and The Valley's most visible marketing tool. Also, The Valley is making video-streaming a major focus as it enters the third year of a three-year plan to upgrade the production and marketing of both institutionally-produced and conference-produced webcasts.

In 2010, The Valley took a major step toward ensuring current revenues in television media and tournament sponsorship sales would be guaranteed in future years when it announced a 10-year partnership with Learfield Sports. The Jefferson City, Missouri-based company now has the exclusive sales and marketing rights to MVC assets that include championships and television advertising.

During the tenure of Doug Elgin, The Valley's ninth and longest-tenured commissioner, The Valley has been aggressive in hosting NCAA events in St. Louis. Since 1998, the MVC served as host for a staggering nine NCAA tournament events in the 13-year period, which has made St. Louis one of the most frequent stops on the NCAA Tournament trail. The Valley hosted Women's Final Fours in 2001 and 2009 and the Men's Final Four in 2005. The league will host an NCAA second- and third-round men's basketball event in Kansas City in 2013 and has already assisted Creighton with preliminary round men's events in both 2008 and 2012.

The seeds for the creation of the conference were planted by eight administrators representing five institutions, who met at the Midland Hotel in Kansas City, Mo., on Jan. 12, 1907. The five schools which formed the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association were Washington University of St. Louis, and the state universities of Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska. Two months after the initial meeting, two more schools -- Drake University and Iowa State College -- were admitted.

In the fall of 1907, basketball became the first competitive sport. Today, the Missouri Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country and track & field (indoor and outdoor), men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, women's swimming and diving, men's and women's tennis, and women's volleyball.

While The Valley no longer sponsors football (it did from 1907-85), six league members compete in football at the FCS (Football Championship Subdivision) level as Illinois State, Indiana State, Missouri State, UNI and Southern Illinois play in the 10-member Missouri Valley Football Conference (with North Dakota State, South Dakota, South Dakota State, Western Illinois and Youngstown State). That league competed as the Gateway Conference from 1985-2007. Drake plays non-scholarship football in the Pioneer Football League.

This season, the league will conduct its 102nd outdoor track and field championship, its 95th tennis championship, its 59th baseball tournament, and its 75th golf championship for the men. Those programs, plus other current sponsored sports of cross country

(54 years), indoor track (46), men's soccer (22) and swimming and diving (19), have helped solidify The Valley as one of the nation's most respected conferences.

Athletic accomplishments include four NCAA national basketball championships, 16 trips to the NCAA Final Four, a 1989 national baseball championship and 19 College World Series qualifiers. The league owns a total of 30 post-season national team championships, including Wichita State's men's basketball NIT title in 2011. In 2001, Missouri State added to The Valley women's accomplishments, as the Lady Bears advanced to the Women's Basketball Final Four in St. Louis. Creighton (2004) and Missouri State (2005) have claimed national championships (WNIT) in women's basketball. MSU also has a 1992 NCAA Women's Final Four appearance, and Creighton (2003), Drake (1999) and Illinois State (2009) have made semifinal trips to the WNIT postseason tournament.

Indeed, the inclusion of women's programs under The Valley banner has provided a boost. The Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference -- which began in 1982 -- merged with The Missouri Valley Conference and was unveiled as part of the new conference on July 1, 1992.

In fact, The Valley began honoring that tradition in the summer of 1997, when the conference began its athletics Hall of Fame. Hersey Hawkins of Bradley, Larry Bird of Indiana State, Wes Unseld of Louisville, Coach Henry Iba of Oklahoma State, Dave Stallworth of Wichita State, Ed Macauley of Saint Louis, and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati were members of the initial induction class. Currently, nearly 70 former players, coaches and alums dot the league's Hall of Fame.

Men's basketball, perhaps, has the league's most storied tradition, boasting the likes of Hall of Famers Bird and Robertson as former players, but The Valley has also produced national-caliber student-athletes in its other sponsored sports. In 2001, Missouri State's Jackie Stiles became the first Valley woman to earn the Honda-Broderick Cup, given to the nation's top female collegiate student-athlete. In the sport of track and field, Indiana State's Holli Hyche captured seven national sprint titles in the early 1990s, Southern Illinois' Darrin Plab won back-to-back NCAA outdoor high jump titles in 1991 and 1992, SIU's Brittany Riley became the World record holder in the weight throw in 2007, and Kylie Hutson of Indiana State swept both the indoor and outdoor pole vault titles in 2009 and in 2010. Southern Illinois' Jeneva McCall (three NCAA individual championships) and Illinois State's Tim Glover (back-to-back javelin championships in 2011 and 2012) are the most recent multi-year NCAA champions in the league's highly decorated history in track & field.

League members include Bradley, Creighton, Drake, Evansville, Illinois State, Indiana State, Missouri State, Northern Iowa, Southern Illinois, and Wichita State. Central Arkansas and Southern Illinois-Edwardsville are affiliate members in men's soccer.

Providing leadership in education and diversity, the Mid-American Conference moves into its 67th year of service to the student-athlete.

Since its inception in 1946, the Mid-American Conference has progressively grown and developed into one of the most aggressive Division I conferences in the country. One of only 11 football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) conferences, the MAC named Dr. Jon A. Steinbrecher as its eighth commissioner in the 65-year history of the league in March of 2009. Steinbrecher came to the MAC after serving six years as the commissioner of the Ohio Valley Conference.

The league has grown its commitment to championships by expanding to six its number of neutral site post season events – football (Detroit's Ford Field), volleyball (SPIRE Academy, Geneva, Ohio), men's and women's basketball (Cleveland's Quicken Loans Arena), softball (Akron's Firestone Stadium) and baseball (Avon, Ohio All Pro Firestone Stadium).

In 2010, four MAC programs received bowl invitations and it marked the first time in conference history that the MAC had four or more teams receive bowl invitations in a three-year consecutive span. In addition, the MAC has sent four or more teams to bowl games in five of the last seven years. The four MAC programs that played in bowl games were: Miami (GoDaddy.com Bowl), Northern Illinois (uDrove Humanitarian Bowl), Toledo (Little Caesars Pizza Bowl) and Ohio (R+L Carriers New Orleans Bowl). The MAC record for bowl appearances is five, which happened in consecutive years (2008, 2009) and only three times (2004, 2008, 2009) in conference history. The 2010 season also witnessed Miami win the 2010 Marathon MAC Championship and record the best turnaround in college football with an eight win improvement over the previous season (1-11 in 2009). Northern Illinois entered the Marathon MAC Football Championship ranked No. 23 in the USA Today Coaches Poll and No. 24 in the Associated Press Poll. Two more MAC teams defeated Big Ten opponents during the regular season as Northern Illinois defeated Minnesota, 34-23 in Minneapolis, while Toledo rolled to a 31-20 win at Purdue in West Lafayette, Ind.

For the first time in its 65-year history, the MAC will have eight bowl relationships—three primary and five secondary. The three primary agreements are with the Little Caesar's Pizza Bowl (Detroit, Mich.), GoDaddy.com Bowl (Mobile, Ala.) and uDrove Humanitarian Bowl (Boise, Ida.). In addition, the MAC has secured secondary agreements with the BBVA Compass Bowl (2011-2013), the New Mexico Bowl (2011-2013), the Beef O'Brady's St. Petersburg Bowl (2011-13), the Kraft Fight Hunger Bowl (2011) and the TicketCity Bowl (2012).

In its partnership with ESPN, the MAC is in the third year of its eight-year rights agreement (through 2016-2017 academic years) for football, as well as men's and women's basketball. The deal is the most extensive in the 65-year history of the conference. The agreement calls for a minimum of 25 events annually to be produced and aired on an ESPN platform including the men's and women's basketball championships, a regular-season MAC presence on ESPN, the Marathon MAC Football Championship and a minimum of 11 regular-season football games.

In 2010, the University of Akron Men's Soccer team won its first National Championship by defeating Louisville, 1-0, in the NCAA College Cup. Akron junior defender Kofi Sarkodie was named Player of the Year by Soccer America, and Sarkodie was joined by senior midfielder Anthony Ampaipitakwong and junior striker Darlington Nagne on Soccer America's MVP First Team, as Akron's three honorees were the most by any school. In addition, Nagne was presented the Hermann Trophy, the most prestigious honor in intercollegiate soccer, as it marked the second consecutive year for a member of the Akron program to be honored with the Hermann Trophy (Teal Bunbury, 2009). History was made in the 2011 Major League Soccer Super Draft as seven members of the Akron's National Championship Men's Soccer Team were drafted, including five of the first eight selections in the first round. This set an MLS draft record for the most first-round selections from a single school.

In 2010-11 for men's basketball, the MAC set a conference mark as six programs received invites to postseason tournaments. Akron won the MAC tournament as the No. 6 seed and played Notre Dame in the NCAA tournament. Kent State won the MAC regular season title and represented the conference in the NIT with impressive road wins at St. Mary's and Fairfield. Buffalo, Ohio and Western Michigan were invited to the CollegeInsider.com tournament, while Miami received an invitation to the College Basketball Invitational. Three freshmen were named to the Mid-Major Freshman All-America Team—Juwan Howard, Jr. (Western Michigan), Javon McCrea (Buffalo) and Trey Ziegler (Central Michigan), while Kent State junior Justin Green was named MAC Player of the Year and named All-America by three different organizations—named Honorable Mention All-American by the Associated Press, tabbed Mid-Major All-America by College Insider.com; and second team Mid-Major All-American by College Hoops.net.

In wrestling, Central Michigan won its tenth consecutive MAC championship, while the MAC sent 23 wrestlers to the NCAA Division I Wrestling Championship as Kent State's Dustin Kilgore won the NCAA national championship at the 197 weight class. In addition, four grapplers secured All-America honors—Central Michigan's Scotti Sentes (133), Ben Bennett (174) and Jarod Trice (285), along with Kent State's Dustin Kilgore (197). Buffalo won its first championship in men's swimming and diving, while Kent State won its 19th MAC title in men's golf and received its 24th NCAA appearance. Ball State made its seventh automatic bid to the NCAA Men's Tennis Tournament.

In baseball, Kent State won the MAC championship and lost to Texas in the NCAA Regional Final. A total of 17 MAC student-athletes were selected in Major League Baseball's 2011 Draft—including Kent State LHP Andrew Chafin to the Arizona Diamondbacks as a compensatory first round pick, 43rd overall.

Women's athletics continued to shine for the MAC this past year. For the first time in MAC history, six women's basketball programs were invited to postseason tournaments. Bowling Green won the MAC tournament and received the invitation to the NCAA tournament, while four programs were invited to the WNIT—Toledo, Eastern Michigan, Kent State and Central Michigan. In addition, Buffalo was invited to the Women's Basketball Invitational.

Toledo's women's basketball program won the Women's NIT, the first post-season championship in school history with wins over Delaware, Auburn, Alabama, Syracuse, Charlotte and USC. In the WNIT Championship game, with a national television audience and sold out Savage Arena, Rocket junior Naama Shafir scored a career-high 40 points in the victory.

In women's soccer, Central Michigan won their second consecutive MAC championship, while Ohio won their third consecutive MAC volleyball championship and defeated Penn in the opening round of the NCAA volleyball tournament. In field hockey, Kent State won the MAC tournament and senior Rachel Miller and junior Debbie Bell were named to the Longstreth/NFHCA All-America Team. In women's swimming and diving, Ohio won its 11th MAC Championship and first since 2008. Four MAC swimmers were named to collegeswimming.com's Mid-Major All-America team – Kelsey Vehr (Miami), Rachel Heim (Ohio), Jacy Dyer (Ohio) and Laura Lindsay (Toledo). Lindsay also was named All-America in the 100 Breaststroke at the NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships.

Both Central Michigan and Kent State competed at the NCAA Regional Championships in gymnastics, while Kent State advanced to its first trip in program history to the NCAA National Championship and finished 12th overall. The Kent State gymnastics coaching staff, led by Brice Biggin, were recognized by the National Association of College Gymnastics Coaches/Women (NACGC/W). Biggin was named NACGC/W Head Coach of the Year, while assistant coaches Sharon Sabin and Tom Ward were named NACGC/W National Assistant Coaches of the Year.

Akron's women's tennis team won its first MAC Tournament in program history, while Western Michigan won the MAC softball championship. In women's golf, Kent State won its 13th consecutive crown, while Western Michigan's Brittney Hamilton and Ball State's Brittany Kelly became their programs first golfers to play in the NCAA Women's Golf Central Regional.

From two-time Super Bowl quarterback winning Ben Roethlisberger (Miami University), NFL Defensive MVP James Harrison (Kent State University), three NFL Pro Bowlers (Cleveland KR Josh Cribbs, San Diego TE Antonio Gates, Pittsburgh LB James Harrison), British Open winner Ben Curtis (Kent State University), World Series winning manager Bob Brenly (Ohio University) and Olympic bobsled team member Brock Kreitzburg (University of Toledo), the Mid-American Conference continues to excel in producing leaders in the world of athletics.

In Super Bowl XLV between Green Bay and Pittsburgh there were 15 former MAC student-athletes on rosters competing in the Super Bowl, including nine with the Packers and six with the Steelers, and six former MAC players were named to the 2011 NFL Pro Bowl.

History of the MAC

Based in Cleveland since July 1999 following a 15-year stay in Toledo, Ohio, the MAC has established historic measurements in both football and men's and women's basketball since moving to Northeast Ohio. The MAC was founded as a five-school league on February 24, 1946 in Columbus, Ohio with Ohio, Butler, Cincinnati, Wayne State and Western Reserve admitted as charter members. The Mid-American Conference has 12 full-time schools and a 13th, Temple, and 14th, UMass for football only (beginning in 2012). Comprising the East Division is the University of Akron (joined in 1992), Bowling Green State University (1952), University at Buffalo (1998), Kent State University (1951), Miami University (1947), Ohio University (1946) and Temple University (2007). The West Division members are Ball State University (1973), Central Michigan University (1971), Eastern Michigan University (1971), Northern Illinois University (1975-86, 1997), University of Toledo (1950) and Western Michigan University (1947).

In 1946 men's basketball was the first competitive sport in the MAC, which now sponsors a total 23 sports. Women's sports were brought into the conference's structure in 1980. For men, championships (11) are sponsored in football, basketball, baseball, cross country, soccer, swimming and diving, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, wrestling, golf and tennis. For women, championships (12) are sponsored in basketball, softball, volleyball, cross country, field hockey, golf, soccer, swimming and diving, gymnastics, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field and tennis.
