Salukis are 12-1 at home in McAndrew Stadium since 2003

Originally built by the Works Progress Administration during the Great Depression of the mid-1930s, McAndrew Stadium is still in service to Saluki Football 67 years after it opened in 1938.

At a cost of $150,000, the then 5,000-seat structure was hailed as “one of the most attractive yet to be erected in the Middle West.”

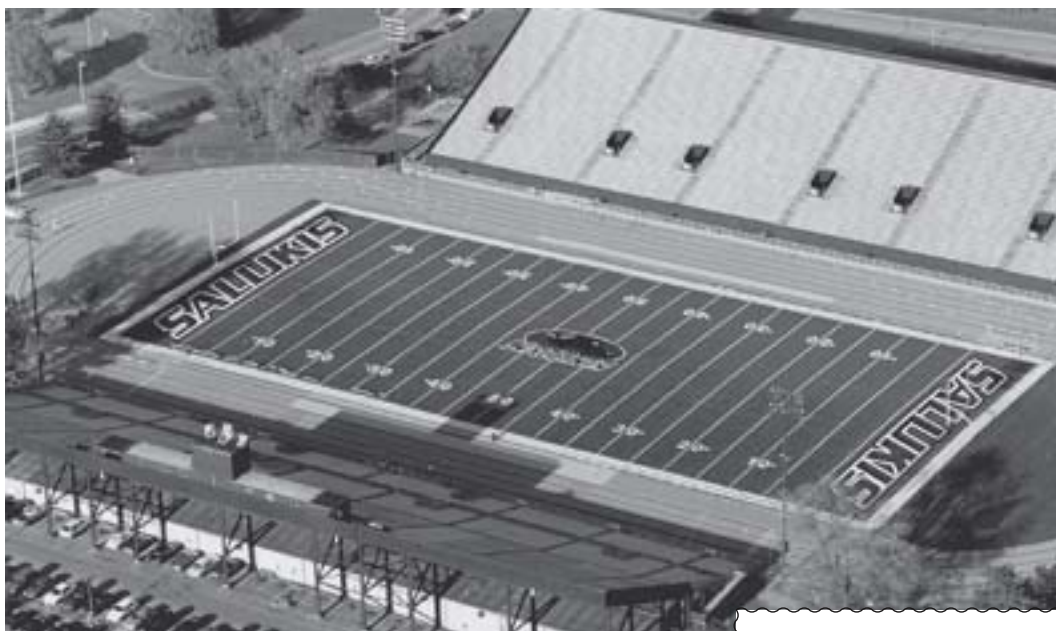

The first game at the stadium took place on Oct. 1, 1938, a 27-0 loss to Southeast Missouri State. Two weeks later, Southern Illinois University Normal defeated Arkansas State, 6-0, for its first home win in its new stadium.

When William McAndrew, the school's first head coach, died in 1943, the University named the stadium McAndrew Stadium in his honor.

The most comprehensive renovation to the stadium took place after the 1973 season, when additional seating was erected on both sides.

Southern Illinois has played 328 games at the stadium since it first opened and has a record of 168-154-6.

Among the more memorable games include a 16-13 win over nationally ranked Tulsa on Oct. 28, 1967. In 1983, SIU beat Nevada-Reno, 23-7, to advance to the Division I-AA National Championship game.

One of the more dramatic finishes came on Sept. 10, 1983. Terry Taylor blocked a short field goal attempt with seconds remaining to preserve a 17-14 win over Eastern Illinois.

In 2004, the Salukis ended the regular season with a 59-10 drubbing of Indiana State, stretching their home winning streak to a school-record 12 games.

The 2003 campaign saw SIU post a perfect 6-0 home record and record the highest average attendance (9,748) since the 1991 season drew 12,225.

After a 29-year absence, night football returned to McAndrew Stadium in 2002. The Salukis opened the season with a 78-0 win over Kentucky Wesleyan on August 29, followed by a fireworks show.

Local electrical union IBEW 702 installed the lights at no charge, saving the athletic department $100,000 on infrastructure improvements originally expected to cost $250,000.

Prior to 2002, the last night game at McAndrew was Oct. 20, 1973, when the Salukis hosted Tampa. The lighting system became inoperable the following year.

In 2003, the University's Board of Trustees approved a land use plan that will create a new “gateway” to SIU that includes a new football stadium. A feasibility study has been completed and progress toward the new stadium continues each day.

McAndrew Stadium will continue to receive care and upgrade until the new stadium is opened.

In 2001, a new AstroPlay turf was installed at a cost of $550,000. With its taller surface, the turf resembles natural grass. It also has a soft, rubber base to provide added cushioning. The same artificial turf will be used at the new stadium.

In addition to the turf project, several other improvements have been made at McAndrew in the past two years.

Improvements include new stadium signage, a painted scoreboard and press box, and the installation of signs with the new athletics logo along the east-side stands.

And, of course, lights were installed at the stadium in the summer of 2002. The Salukis will play two night games this year.

Southern Illinois University

From its humble beginnings as the state's second teachers college — founded in 1869 with a dozen academic departments and an inaugural class of 143 — Southern Illinois University Carbondale now ranks among Illinois' most comprehensive public universities.

Each year, some 21,500 students enroll in the 175 academic programs seeking associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral and professional degrees in law and medicine.

Think of a specialty and chances are good we offer a degree in it. And we're affordable.

Among our academic programs you'll find agriculture, art, aviation, automotive technology, anthropology, business, cinema-photography, computer science, education, engineering, foreign language study, forestry, history, journalism, music, political science, radio-television, social work, recreation, rehabilitation — just to mention a few.

Students flock to our academic programs and while they're here, they fall in love with our lush, rural landscapes and welcoming hospitality.

Surrounded by forests, fields, lakes and bluffs, SIUC is a regional nucleus of academic, creative and cultural endeavors. And the region is an outdoor paradise for boaters, rock climbers, hikers, nature lovers, hunters and horseback riders.

At SIUC, coursework and research opportunities push students to discover the basic truths about their world. Internship opportunities allow them to explore career options, learn teamwork and sharpen the kind of work ethic that guarantees a successful transition to future employment.

SIU professors never forget that their first responsibility is teaching; students often find academic "stars" at the lecterns of beginning-level undergraduate courses. SIU's faculty roster in-

Building Excellence Through Commitment

Southern at 150 articulates a series of commitments and actions that will place us among the top 75 public research universities in the United States by the year 2019, our 150th anniversary, while we continue to provide the foundation for academic, economic and social progress in Southern Illinois.

Our Core Values

Student-responsiveness: We must listen and respond to our students and provide instruction and services that help them achieve their full potential.

Diversity: Diversity will drive our ability to attain our educational mission.

Building trust: We are a public institution and covet the confidence and trust of the public we serve.

Academic freedom and responsibility: We are an academic institution dedicated to the discovery and preservation of the truth.

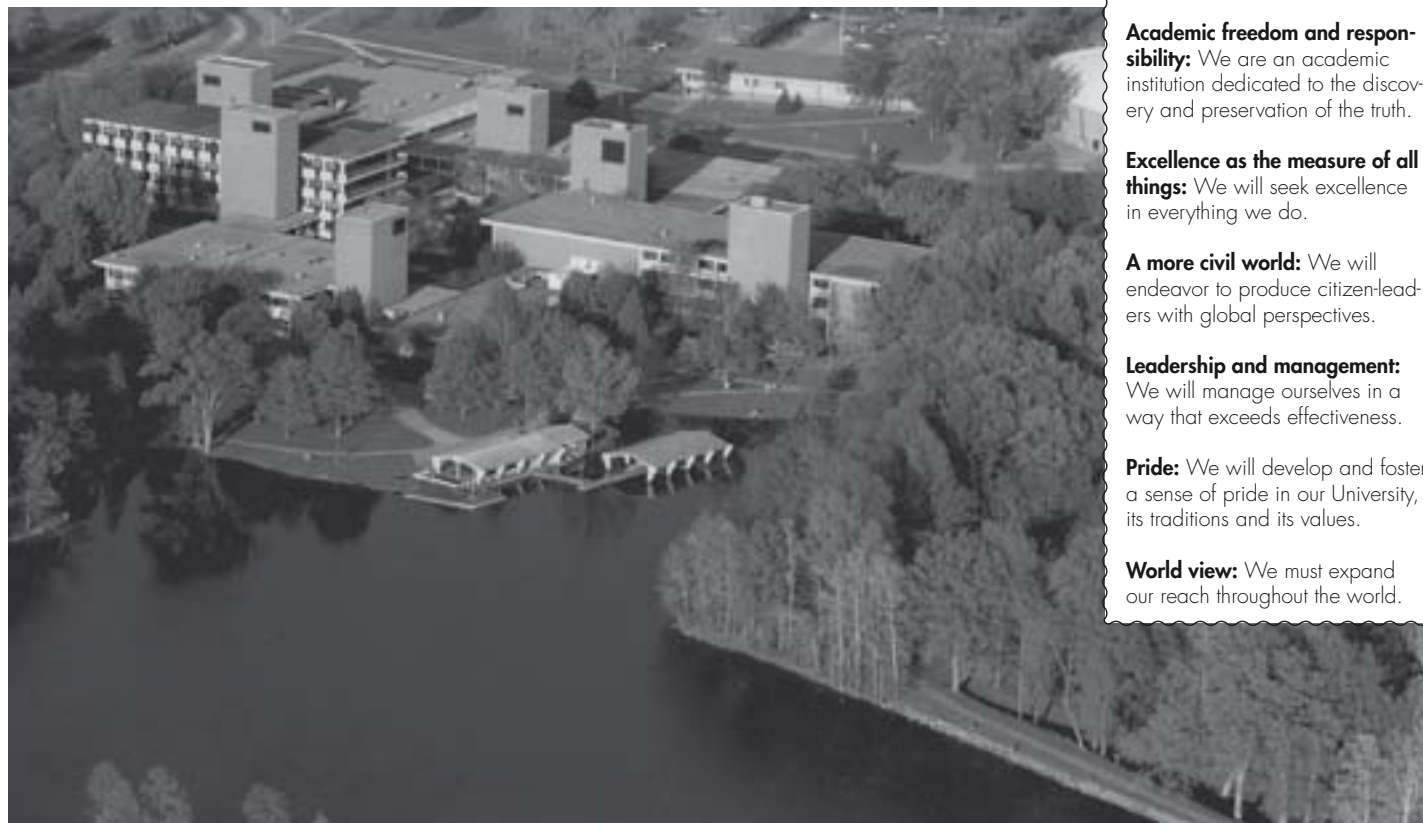

Excellence as the measure of all things: We will seek excellence in everything we do.

A more civil world: We will endeavor to produce citizen-leaders with global perspectives.

Leadership and management: We will manage ourselves in a way that exceeds effectiveness.

Pride: We will develop and foster a sense of pride in our University, its traditions and its values.

World view: We must expand our reach throughout the world.

cludes prominent scientists (such as anthropologist Brenda Benefit, whose discovery in Africa of the world's oldest-known monkey skull made international headlines) and accomplished artists (such as English professor emeritus Kent Haruf, whose novel Plainsong was named a finalist for the 1999 National Book Award).

Top faculty and staff, programs and a history of open doors to all students has created a rich legacy of choice and access at SIU. Many students choose the campus for its varied programs. Others are here because of a wide variety of programs and policies that focus on a tradition of access. For example, tuition at SIU has consistently ranked among the state's affordable; ample student work programs and other assistance help low-income students earn as they learn. About 75 percent of our undergraduates receive some financial aid.

SIU was one of the nation's first campuses to become physically accessible to students with disabilities, long before such access became legally required.

A host of programs, offices and organizations also support minority students. These include pre-college recruitment, financial support, tutoring, mentoring and leadership development opportunities. Among largely white colleges and universities, SIU consistently ranks among the top dozen in graduating African-Americans.

Did you know SIU...

- ◆ Enjoys a rating as one of nation's premier research institutions in rankings by The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.
- ◆ Consistently ranks among the Top 12 in graduating African-Americans, among largely white colleges and universities, and has a total of 17 percent minority students.
- ◆ Has more than 30 percent of its new freshmen come from Cook County.
- ◆ Brings in collegians from more than 100 nations — from Albania to Zimbabwe — annually study on campus
- ◆ Has an average of 77 percent of students come from Illinois, and just over half (54 percent) are men.
- ◆ Has a Cancer Institute that focuses the School of Medicine's efforts in cancer research, physician and public education and treatment for area patients.

Troutt-Wittmann Academic and Training Center OPENING IN SEPTEMBER 2005!

Thanks to a generous, multi-million dollar gift from Pete Wittmann, the largest private donation in University history, Saluki Athletics is proud to announce that the new Troutt-Wittmann Academic and Training Center is scheduled for completion in September of 2005.

The high-tech training facility for intercollegiate student-athletes will feature a massive, 7,500-square foot weight room, as well as study areas and computer labs, equipped with top-of-the-line technology.

Academics and Community Service

The student services staff in Intercollegiate Athletics, under the leadership of assistant athletics director Kristina Therriault, seeks to provide the best possible academic, athletic, career and personal support services to Saluki student-athletes. Members of the support staff seek to help student-athletes with their overall adjustment and development.

Study Table

Study table provides a quiet, monitored study opportunity for student-athletes. It is held in the Troutt-Wittmann Academic and Training Center, Sunday through Friday. This service is available to all student-athletes, though those with a cumulative grade point average of 2.50 and below are required to attend. All incoming freshmen and transfer student-athletes are also required to attend for a minimum of at least four hours per week.

Tutoring

The primary goal of the tutoring program is to facilitate the learning process of our student-athletes in a comfortable and well-ordered environment. This program is a support mechanism that has been created to help student-athletes keep pace with rigorous classes while trying to maintain busy and challenging academic and athletic schedules. Tutoring services are free of charge to all Saluki student-athletes.

Academic Advisement

The academic units on campus provide academic advisement to students. Each unit employs professional advisors. Saluki student-athletes receive priority advisement and registration within their SIU academic unit or major. Student-athletes have the opportunity to meet with their academic advisors earlier than the general student body. The student services staff in athletics notifies student-athletes of the dates for which early advisement appointments may be made.

Academic Monitoring

Academic performance is monitored both formally and informally by the student services staff. During the 6th and 12th week of each semester, progress reports are sent to all instructors of each student-athlete. Instructors return the slips to the student services staff with information about attendance, participation, grades and general comments. The reports are copied and forwarded to coaches who then share the reports with their student-athletes. Monitoring of course progress allows the student services staff to become aware of problems and provide the assistance needed as quickly as possible.

Computer Resources

The Troutt-Wittmann Academic and Training Center is equipped with 30 computer workstations loaded with the latest educational software including Microsoft Word, Powerpoint, Excel, Access and Publisher. The computers also have internet access which can be used to search Morris Library or the World Wide Web. In addition to the 30 workstations, laptop computers are available for student-athletes to check out when away from campus for competition.

CHAMPS/LIFESKILLS

The CHAMPS program was designed to address the student-athlete as a whole person, not just a student or athlete. During the college years, every student-athlete is confronted with a variety of developmental challenges. The program is designed to address these challenges. The CHAMPS program provides a well-rounded program for all student-athletes to develop the skills necessary to lead successful, productive lives, and become leaders.

Personal Development

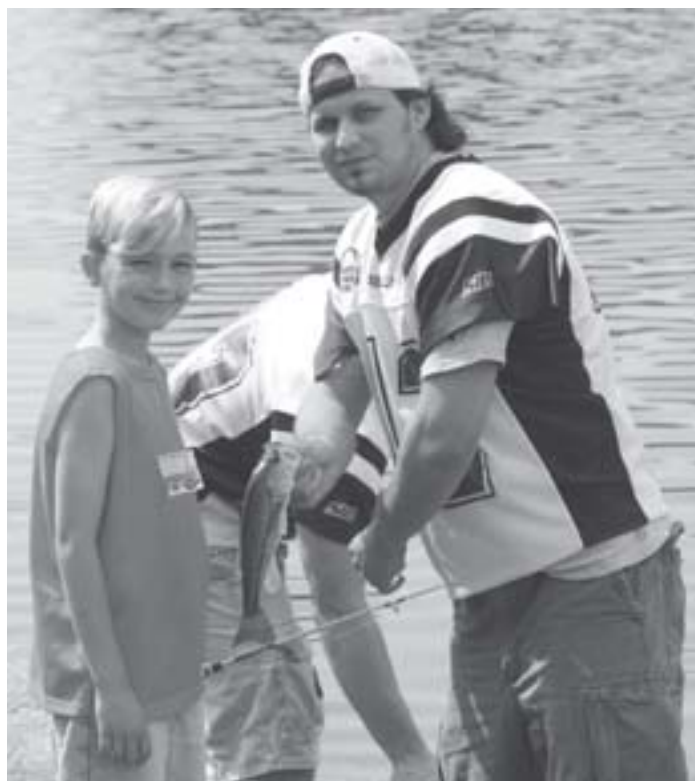

The personal development commitment promotes personal growth by providing education in the areas of decision making, health communication and leadership. There are a variety of educational opportunities for student-athletes provided by the CHAMPS program. Seminars address individual and team needs such as time management, drug and alcohol awareness, sexual assault awareness and prevention, diversity, stress management and establishing positive relationships with your instructors.

Career Development

Student-athletes who want assistance in choosing a major and/or career may meet with a member of the student services staff. Many resources are available to help student-athletes with their career planning. The student services staff works with University Career Services to provide guidance to graduating seniors. Professional career counselors are available to assist students in identifying interests, aptitude and achievement factors.

Community Service

We are proud of the level of commitment shown by our student-athletes here at Southern Illinois University. Student-athletes and coaches at SIU are dedicated to giving back to the community that so generously supports them. Our student-athletes give of their time, their most valuable commodity, demonstrating that they take an active part in the community and are dedicated to serving others off the field through their volunteer service. The student services office creates community service projects designed to assist schools, charities and other agencies in the Southern Illinois area. Saluki student-athletes are encouraged to participate in community service activities. By volunteering, student-athletes are able to enhance their leadership, communication, organization and people skills.

Reading with the Dawgs

The Reading with the Dawgs program involves the men's and women's teams going into their local communities and promoting reading activities designed to enhance children's self-esteem and strengthen their possibilities for success in school. The program encourages children's literacy through reading experiences with student-athletes. Throughout the academic year, Saluki football student-athletes make monthly visits to elementary classes.

Strength Program

Methodology/Philosophy

The primary objective of the strength and conditioning program at Southern Illinois University is to achieve the maximum level of performance of each athlete through an aggressive approach to comprehensive training. Training prescriptions will be determined by giving significant consideration to areas susceptible to injury, muscle groups involved, and energy systems stressed by each sport.

Linear speed, agility, range of motion, strength and work threshold will be developed in every athlete. Not only are these components important to the athletic success of each athlete, but also are determination and mental toughness. The ability to maintain athletic form and execution in a state of fatigue, therefore, demands a strong conditioning background. Thus, work threshold training will be a foundation of every athlete's preparation.

A year-round commitment is required to compete at the highest level. Program design is based on three phases of training. These phases include off-season, pre-season, and in-season training periods. Various training methods, applications of the concept of periodization and a wide variety of lifting techniques will be used to accommodate specific needs. Within the framework of a general program, individual programs will be used when it is determined to be more beneficial to the athlete.

Drive, determination, and dedication are cornerstones of athletic success. These traits, as well as mental toughness, accountability and integrity, will be developed over the course of the athletes' career. Improvement will be expected not only physically, but also within the drive to succeed.

Top Dawgs

This is awarded to the individual who displays all aspects of physical prowess within their skill classification. The classifications are Skill Players (WR/DB/TB/QB), Big Skills (LB/TE/DE/FB/K), and Power Players (OL/DT). The winner is determined by using a strength and speed index. The individual scoring the highest on the index wins their classification.

Iron Saluki Club

The club was created for individuals who attain a total of 1175 pounds in the combination of the Bench, Squat, and Hang Clean.

The origin of the Salukis

Several members of the Southern Illinois University athletic staff suggested a new nickname in 1951. The teams had been known as the Maroons since intercollegiate athletics began in 1913.

The name became official on March 19, 1951, when the student body overwhelmingly approved "Salukis" as the new symbol of SIU athletics.

Salukis received 536 votes, followed by "Rebels" with a mere 144 votes. Other names on the ballot included Knights, Flyers, Marauders and Maroons.

The oldest pure-breed dogs in the world with records dating back to 3600 B.C., the Saluki is an ancient Egyptian hunting dog known for its speed and hunting prowess.

So why is the name Salukis relevant to Southern Illinois?

Natives of southern Illinois know that the region is frequently referred to as "Egypt."

Historian Baker Brownell, in his book "The Other Illinois," explained how the region came to be known as Egypt.

He wrote, "There was a drought in the northern counties (of Illinois) in the early 1800s... the wheat fields dried up, the streams died in their beds. But in southern Illinois, rain fell and there were good crops, and from the north came people seeking corn and wheat as to Egypt of old. Thus, the name, Egypt."

The 19th century drought in Illinois parallels the Biblical account of the country of Egypt.

"There was famine in all lands; but in all the land of Egypt there was bread. All the earth came to Egypt to Joseph to buy grain, because the famine was so severe. And (Jacob) said, 'Behold, I have heard that there is grain in Egypt; go down and buy grain for us there, that we may live, and not die.' So 10 of Joseph's brothers went down to buy grain in Egypt." (Genesis 41:54b, 57, 42:2-3).

In Egypt at that time,

Salukis were accepted as the finest animal a family could possess. Adopting such a well-respected dog as its mascot fit perfectly for a school in a region known as "Egypt."

History of Saluki mascots

Since its adoption as SIU's sports symbol in 1951, 22 different Saluki dogs have graced the campus as the team mascot.

The first, and most well known, was King Tut who came to SIU in 1953, but was killed in an automobile accident just one year later. Tut was buried in the northeast corner of McAndrew Stadium by the Sigma Pi fraternity that housed him, and in 1961, he was honored with a small stone pyramid marking his grave.

During the 1956 Homecoming game, two beautiful new mascots, Burydown Datis and Ornah Farouk of Pine Paddocks, made their debut. The two pure bred dogs were donated by W. W. Vandever, an SIU alumnus and president of Ashland Oil Co.

Burydown Datis, a male, was imported from England, while Ornah Farouk, a female, was a direct descendant of a champion from the kennels of King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia.

These two produced a litter of seven, of which SIU kept four: Desert Dusk, Desert Dawn, Lord Sundanya and Lady Syriana. All four represented SIU at football and basketball games at various times during the 1960s.

In 1968, Dr. Bert Hanicke of St. Louis donated 18-month-old Amira. In the same year, Dr. Leon Striegel, a Carbondale veterinarian, bought and presented two 9-month-old sisters, Sarra Aribi and Yembo Aribi. Three months later, Sarra escaped and was found struck by a car.

In 1969, an SIU fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega, bought and donated four-month-old Billa-de-Esta Iben Saude.

In 1970, the University acquired Bir Sheba Cairo from Wendell Allen of Wichita. Shortly thereafter, Billa bore eight pups. Most were sold, one was kept, and two were presented to Shelby State College of Memphis, who took the nickname "Saluqis."

By 1979, only one Saluki remained from that litter. The University acquired Debbie and Bandit, and the dogs were housed and cared for by the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity.

Then in 1980, Gary Strong of St. Louis presented SIU with two more dogs, Sharif and Khalid. Sharif would become sick in 1982 and die, but would be replaced by Thunder, who was donated by Mary Capron.

In 1986, two alums, John and Linda Saunders, took over the duties of caring for the remaining mascots, Thunder and Khalid.

Upon the deaths of Thunder and Khalid in 1987, one of the Saunders own dogs, a beautiful Saluki named Tavanai Shabaka JoLinSco, became the first outside, or independently owned Saluki to represent SIU as its official mascot.

Shabaka was a dual AKC Conformation and Field dog show champion. He also earned the distinction of being the first Saluki mascot to lead the SIU football team onto the field.

Upon his death in 1997, the official mascot duties were assumed by another of the Saunders' dogs, Tavanai TUTI-ISIU JoLinSco (pronounced Tut 2 S.I.U.), also known as Tut II. Named after the original Saluki mascot, Tut II brought the mascot full circle. Sadly, Tut II was put to sleep in July of 2004, at the age of 13.

Saluki fans Don and Karen Magee and Scott and Jamey Lambert lended their Saluki dogs to serve as mascot during the 2004-05 season.

The Distinguished Wendler is Southern's Chancellor

Walter V. Wendler was appointed chancellor of Southern Illinois University Carbondale on July 1, 2001.

He is the guiding force behind the remarkable "Southern at 150" project, in which hundreds of people participated in a yearlong process to develop clarity and direction for Southern. Their comprehensive ideas created a vision about what the University should look like when it reaches its 150th anniversary in 2019. It is a living blueprint for the University's future.

Says Wendler, "Our brand of higher education will remain accessible, be of the highest quality, and will be the foundation for a society that is better prepared to meet the challenges of future generations."

Immediately prior to the appointment, he served as vice chancellor for planning and system integration of The Texas A&M University System since September 1999.

He was the inaugural holder of the William M Peña Professorship of Information Management in the College of Architecture.

Wendler was the executive assistant to the president of Texas A&M University beginning in September 1997.

He served as dean of the College of Architecture, initially appointed in March 1992, and was re-appointed in September 1996.

Wendler was the head of the Department of Architecture from 1989 to 1992, and executive associate dean in the College of Architecture at Texas A&M University from 1988 to 1989.

His present research interests include the pedagogy of the design studio and appropriate teaching and learning strategies for university education in this setting.

Before coming to Texas A&M University, he was an assistant professor in the Department of Architecture at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge. During his tenure there, he conducted research and service work related to energy use and its effect on building design.

He has delivered and published numerous papers on these subjects. From 1977 through 1981, he was a principal in an architectural firm that executed residential, commercial and institutional work.

He is an excellent teacher who has been recognized by the Association of Former Students of Texas A&M University, with a Distinguished Teaching Award.

He received his Ph.D. in curriculum and instruction from the University of Texas; the professional master of architecture degree from the University of California, Berkeley; the bachelor of environmental design from Texas A&M University; and an associate's degree in applied science from the State University of New York at Farmingdale. He is a member of a number of honorary societies, a registered architect and holds the National Council of Architectural Registration Board's certificate.

Wendler was reared in Northport, New York. He graduated high school there in 1968.

He married Mary L Haney in 1973. They have two grown sons, Walter III and Bradley.

Paul Kowalczyk directs Saluki renaissance

Under the direction of Paul Kowalczyk, Saluki athletics is enjoying unprecedented success on and off the field.

Winning teams, facility improvements and financial stability are hallmarks of the Kowalczyk era, which began in the summer of 2000.

The 47-year-old Ohio native has changed the culture of Saluki athletics, emphasizing customer service, teamwork and sound business practices.

The end result — Saluki Pride has never been stronger.

Faced with a host of challenges — such as underperforming revenue sports and deteriorating facilities, Kowalczyk quickly developed a plan when he took charge five years ago.

The results are amazing.

Winning is now commonplace. The department is on solid financial footing, and major facility improvements have taken place and more are planned.

The football team is coming off back-to-back Gateway Conference championships and spent 10-straight weeks ranked #1 in the nation in 2004.

The success on the gridiron is no accident.

Kowalczyk's first hire was the relatively unknown Jerry Kill, who has rebuilt the football program into a national powerhouse and won national coach-of-the-year honors along the way.

Facility improvements for football include a new AstroPlay turf surface, new stadium lights and a renovated locker room. A spacious 7,500-square foot weightroom will open in August.

A remarkable turnaround has also taken place in the men's basketball program under Kowalczyk, who has been adept at hiring the right coach at the right time.

Now led by its third head coach in three years, the Salukis have nonetheless maintained consistency on the court, winning four-straight Missouri Valley Conference championships and earning four-straight at-large bids to the NCAA Tournament in 2002, 2003, 2004 and 2005. The 2002 club advanced to the "Sweet 16," gaining unprecedented national media exposure. The 2004 squad rose to #15 in the national polls, the highest in school history.

An energized fan base is one of the outgrowths of the basketball program's success. Six sell-outs have taken place at SIU Arena in the last four years, including three in a row to end the 2004 season.

Olympic sports have also flourished under Kowalczyk. For example, the softball team has advanced to the NCAA Tournament three years in a row. In the 2004-05 MVC all-sports trophy race, the Salukis finished second, their best showing 10 years.

While many state universities are struggling to make ends meet in the wake of budget cuts, the Salukis are prospering, thanks to increased ticket sales and marketing opportunities, plus fiscal responsibility.

Kowalczyk recognized the need for a fund-raising mechanism to defray scholarship costs, as well as reward the department's valued supporters. Thus, the new Saluki Athletic Scholarship Fund was born in 2003. The SASF has been a huge success, already topping $500,000 annually in scholarship money.

Facility improvements are yet another major focus of Kowalczyk's administration, and new structures have been erected or are on the way.

Softball's Charlotte West Stadium, a state-of-the-art facility, opened in the spring of 2003 and has already hosted one Missouri Valley Conference championship. Thanks to a generous gift from alumnus Pete Wittmann, a new $3.4 million academic and training center will open this fall.

Success off the field is equally important to Kowalczyk, who is committed to supporting academic and community service programs for student-athletes. During his tenure, student-athletes have outperformed the general student body in the classroom. Last year, 51 athletes earned academic all-conference honors, and four were named Academic All-American.

Kowalczyk came to SIU from Northwestern University, where he was an integral part of the school's rise to success in the early '90s. He began in 1991 as the business manager in charge of finance and personnel, and was promoted four years later to associate athletic director for external affairs. Prior to Northwestern, Kowalczyk spent three years at Kansas State as assistant athletic director for business operations.

He began his career in athletics in 1986, working at his alma mater, Kent State, while earning a master's degree. He then accepted a position as business manager for athletics at Portland State.

Kowalczyk holds a bachelor's of business administration in accounting and a master's in sports administration from Kent State.

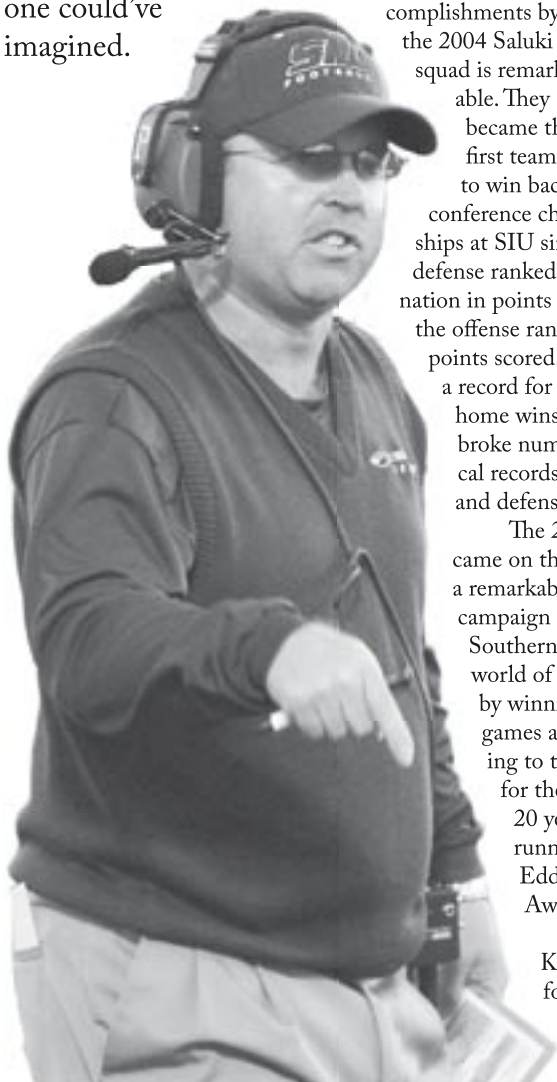

He and his wife, Peg, reside in Carbondale.

Jerry Kill leads Salukis to back-to-back Gateway championships

Before Jerry Kill arrived at Southern Illinois in 2001, the Salukis had never won a Gateway Conference championship. Now, they've won two. They had been to the playoffs only once in school history. Now they've been to three. The team has set more school records and reeled in more accolades than anyone could've imagined.

Now in his fifth year at the helm of Southern Illinois, Kill has guided the Salukis to back-to-back Gateway Conference championships and I-AA Playoff appearances.

In 2004, the Salukis spent 10 weeks atop the I-AA polls, and Kill was named the winner of the Eddie Robinson Award honoring the Coach of the Year in I-AA.

The list of accomplishments by the 2004 Saluki squad is remarkable. They became the first team to win back-to-back conference championships at SIU since 1961. The defense ranked #1 in the nation in points allowed, while the offense ranked #3 in points scored. The team set a record for consecutive home wins with 12 and broke numerous statistical records on offense and defense.

The 2004 season came on the heels of a remarkable 2003 campaign in which Southern shocked the world of I-AA football by winning its first 10 games and advancing to the playoffs for the first time in 20 years. Kill was runner-up for the Eddie Robinson Award in '03.

Eddie Robinson
Coach of the Year

Association meetings in the spring of '04, he was greeted by friends and colleagues who all asked him the same question.

"How on earth did you do it?" or words to that effect were spoken time and again.

The "It" everyone was referring to was no less than the resurrection of Saluki Football.

To fully appreciate SIU's 2003 season, which included a 10-game winning streak, a Gateway Conference Co-Championship and the school's first playoff bid in 20 years, you must first understand how far the program had fallen.

After dropping to Division I-AA status in 1983 and winning a National Championship, the Salukis hit a 20-year dry spell without a playoff bid or conference title.

In fact, the program had posted 11-straight losing seasons heading into the 2003 campaign.

Five head coaches had tried and failed to right the ship.

So when Kill took the reigns at SIU in 2001, no one in the AFCA could have expected him to build a model program in a mere three years. No wonder the organization has named Kill a regional coach-of-the-year two years in a row (2003 and 2004) and asked him to deliver a speech to his coaching brethren to explain exactly how he and his staff did it.

Although he deflects praise and directs it toward his players and coaching staff, there is no mistaking who has orchestrated the Saluki revival.

Yet who is Jerry Kill, and how has he risen from football obscurity to coaching a team that can contend for a national title?

The Cheney, Kan. native describes himself as an overachiever. Clearly, he has excelled when others thought he couldn't.

Not an especially gifted athlete, he weighed 160 pounds as a freshman at Division II Southwestern College (Kan.) in 1979. His football coach encouraged him to play point guard for the basketball team.

Instead, Kill played linebacker and eventually became a starter, all-conference player and two-time captain. He was named the team's most inspirational player his senior year.

Raised in a working class family, Kill became the first member of his family to graduate from college. He earned a degree in teaching with a minor in biology.

His coaching career began shortly thereafter, and Kill paid his share of dues, earning a meager sum as an assistant coach to his mentor, Dennis Franchione, at Division II Pittsburg State. He was eventually promoted to offensive coordinator -- the title he held during PSU's 1991 National Championship run.

Kill worked his way up the coaching ladder, eventually landing his first head coaching job at Saginaw Valley State in 1994. He posted five-straight winning seasons at SVS, including back-to-back 9-2 campaigns in 1997 and 1998.

Yet after his father passed away from liver cancer in 1999, Kill took the head coaching job at Emporia State (Kan.) to be closer to his grieving mother. In the process, he left a program that was nationally ranked to coach one that had a losing record.

Kill came to SIU in 2001 and quickly sized up his predicament.

"I thought it would take at least five years to turn things around," he said. "But it was worse than I thought when I came for my interview."

Yet, Kill rolled up his sleeves and made incremental progress his first two years.

He was instrumental in striking a deal with the local electrical union to install lights at the stadium so the team could play night football again.

He reached out to the community, making himself and his team available for frequent community-service and goodwill projects.

The community, in return, rewarded his team with the biggest crowds at McAndrew Stadium in more than a decade.

Himself a generous donor to worthy causes, he has inspired others to contribute to the program, which helped renovate the locker room and replace the stadium's artificial turf.

Kill brings a no-nonsense approach. His work ethic, honesty and integrity are unparalleled.

A practice session under Coach Kill reflects his personality; crisp, well-organized and fiercely competitive. He is very demanding of his players on the field, but is also a friend off the field.

"I try to treat people like I want to be treated," he said. "It takes a while to build that family atmosphere. You do it by being around the players. You've got to have them in situations where you're not just talking football all the time. Being visible, communicating with the players and getting to know them is very important."

What does all this say about Jerry Kill? Plenty.

No matter what the odds, no matter what people might expect him to accomplish, he has consistently exceeded expectations.

And he has done it by following the Golden Rule to do unto others as you would have them do unto you. He cares about people.

In June of 2004, Kill was shocked to receive a call from his alma mater. The reason for his surprise? They were calling to induct him into the school's hall of fame.

Hardly the kind of achievement anyone would have predicted when he first set foot on that campus 26 years ago. Or as Kill likes to joke, "not bad for a short, fat, bald guy."

Coach Kill would like to thank the many groups and individuals who support Saluki Football...

Brian ANDERSON

Wide Receivers
Western Illinois, '93

In addition to tutoring Brent Little, one of the best receivers in Saluki history, Brian Anderson has helped develop five wide receivers who went on to play in the National Football League. Prior to joining the Saluki staff in 2001, Anderson coached at Coffeyville Community College (1996-2000), where three of his receivers eventually achieved NFL status — Donni O'Neal (San Francisco), Joe Perez (Kansas City) and Boo Williams (currently with New Orleans).

Before joining Coffeyville, Anderson spent two years as receivers coach and passing game coordinator at Highland Community College (1994-95). That was preceded by a two-year stint as receivers coach at Western Illinois (1992-93), where he coached Fabian Bownes, a seven-year NFL vet, who played with Seattle, and Gunnard Twyner, who played with three NFL teams.

A native of Rockford, Ill., Anderson played collegiate football at Ellsworth Community College before transferring to Western Illinois.

Tracy CLAEYS

Def. Coordinator
Kansas State, '94

The Salukis had the nation's #1-rated scoring defense in Division I-AA football in 2004, and the architect of the squad was defensive coordinator Tracy Claeys. So dominant was Claeys' defensive unit that it held seven of 12 opponents to 10 or fewer points last year.

The Salukis are no one-hit wonder. In 2003, Southern ranked 18th in the nation in total defense. Under Claeys, SIU plays an attacking style, patterned after Gary Patterson's defense at Texas Christian.

Claeys accompanied Kill to SIU in 2001 after spending two seasons as a defensive assistant at Emporia State (1999-2000) and has a history of mentoring solid defenses. He coached at Saginaw Valley State (1995-98), tutoring the defensive line and linebackers, and the defense finished sixth in the nation against the run one year and led the Midwest Intercollegiate Football Conference.

Two of Claeys' former SVSU players played in the NFL — DE Lamar King (Tampa Bay) and DE Paul Spicer (currently with Jacksonville). He also mentored Saluki linebacker Bart Scott, who is in his fourth season with the Baltimore Ravens.

A 1994 graduate of Kansas State, Claeys began his coaching career as a student-assistant at Kansas in 1990, and later as co-defensive coordinator at Santa Fe Trail H.S. in Carbondale, Kan.

Eric
KLEIN

Strength Coach
Carleton College, '93

The Salukis would not be two-time defending conference champions without the tireless work of Eric Klein. He is the guiding force behind the team's improved strength and quickness. Among his accomplishments are helping linebacker Bart Scott successfully train for his pro timing day and ultimately sign with the Baltimore Ravens.

Klein enters his fifth year at Southern Illinois after overseeing the recruiting and strength-training program at Emporia State. He also spent five seasons at Saginaw Valley State, where he coached defensive line for two years and running backs for three.

A 1993 graduate of Carleton College, where played football and track, Klein began his career as an assistant coach at his alma mater. He also gained track experience, coaching throwers at both SVSU and Carleton.

Matt LIMEGROVER

Off. Coordinator
Chicago, '91

The Saluki offense has gone from one of the worst in I-AA football to one of the best, and the man behind the offense's resurgence is Matt Limegrover.

In the last three seasons, the Salukis have averaged a remarkable 37.8 points per game. In the last two seasons, SIU has ranked third and fourth in the nation in scoring. The 2004 squad piled up a school-record 511 points and also set school records for first downs (285), rushing yards (3,404) and total yards (6,032).

Prior to joining the staff at SIU, Limegrover was Kill's offensive line coach at Emporia State (1999-2000). Before that, Limegrover spent two seasons as offensive line coach and running game coordinator at Ferris State (1997-98). Limegrover also served as a graduate assistant at Northwestern (1994-96) where he helped the Wildcats to two bowl appearances (Citrus and Rose) and two Big Ten Championships.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Limegrover was an all-conference tackle at the University of Chicago. He served as offensive assistant at his alma mater from 1991-92. In 1993, UC led the nation in rushing with Limegrover as offensive coordinator. Matt and his wife, Ann, have a daughter, Emma (3), and a baby, J. T.

Tom MATUKEWICZ

LBs/Co-Coordinator
Fort Hays State, '94

Tom Matukewicz enters his fifth year as SIU's linebackers coach and also serves as the team's running game coordinator.

His impact on the program is unmistakable. Matukewicz mentored Baltimore Ravens' linebacker Bart Scott and has been instrumental in the development of Royal Whitaker, currently the conference's premiere linebacker.

Coach "Tuke" came to Carbondale from Emporia State, where he was the defensive line coach and marketing and promotions director.

He began his career in 1994, coaching linebackers at Butler County Community College. Later, he moved to his alma mater, Fort Hays State, where he coached the defensive line. Next, he went on to coach offensive tackles and tight ends at Pittsburg State, where he earned a Master's degree. Matukewicz also coached at Coffeyville Community College, which has become a pipeline of talent for the Salukis.

Tom and his wife, Lenna, reside in Carbondale.

Pat
POORE
Quarterbacks
Fort Hays State, '86

As a former college head coach and offensive coordinator, Pat Poore is an expert on offensive strategy and the passing game.

Saluki quarterback Joel Sambursky has been the primary beneficiary of Poore's tutelage, earning Gateway Conference Player-of-the-Year honors in 2004. Sambursky enters his senior year as the school's career leader in touchdown passes.

Prior to joining Kill's staff in 2001, Poore was an assistant coach at Central Oklahoma (2000), after serving three years as offensive coordinator at Tarleton State (1997-99).

A defensive back at Fort Hays State, Poore coached at his alma mater from 1985-89, including two years as offensive coordinator.

A native of Stockton, Kan., Poore has also coached at Colorado School of Mines, the University of Chicago, Oklahoma Panhandle State and Iowa Wesleyan, where he was head coach in 1994 and posted an 8-3 record. Poore holds a master's degree from Fort Hays State.

Pat and his wife, Gwen, have two children, Trevor (18) and Taylor (16).

Rob
REEVES
Running Backs
Saginaw Valley
State, '96

Rob Reeves has mentored some of the best running backs in school history — Tom Koutsos, Muhammad Abdulqaadir, Brandon Jacobs, Terry Jackson, Arkee Whitlock — just to name a handful.

Southern's rushing attack has been nothing short of dominant in the four years Reeves has served as the unit's coach. In 2004, SIU piled up a school-record 3,404 yards, and did so without a 1,000-yard rusher. Brandon Jacobs led the squad in rushing, and he is now a member of the New York Giants.

Prior to SIU, Reeves coached running backs on Jerry Kill's staff at Emporia State (1999-2000).

As a player, Reeves was an All-American quarterback at Saginaw Valley State, and the offense broke more than 90 school and conference records during his career. He personally set conference records for rushing yards and total TDs by a quarterback.

A native of Saline, Mich., Reeves coached quarterbacks at his alma mater for three years while earning a Master's degree. SVSU led the nation in rushing in 1997 and 1998 and the offense was second in the country in scoring in '98.

Rob and his wife, Angie, have a new baby, Riley.

Bryce
SAIA
Defensive Line
Fort Hays State, '95

Bryce Saia joined the Saluki coaching staff after the 2003 season and has been a key asset on the recruiting front as well as a mentor to the team's talented defensive line.

Saia was the defensive coordinator at Coffeyville Community College for five seasons (2000-04) and the defensive backs coach for three seasons (1998-2000). Coffeyville has produced numerous Division I football players including a host of current and former Salukis.

Saia's defense ranked #1 in the Jayhawk Conference in 2003 and among the top 10 defenses in the nation each of the past four years.

Prior to Coffeyville, Saia coached running backs and linebackers at Butler County Community College (1997) and was assistant linebacker, defensive back and defensive end coach at his alma mater (1994-96).

Saia has a 10-year-old son, Nick.

Jay SAWVEL
CBs/Special Teams
Mount Union, '93

Jay Sawvel coaches Southern's cornerbacks and is also regarded as one of the finest special teams coaches in the country. The Salukis have routinely blocked a handful of punts each year, under Sawvel, and the punt coverage unit has excelled in net punting.

Sawvel joined the staff after serving as secondary coach at Ferris State (1999-2000). Prior to his stint at FSU, Sawvel was a grad assistant coach at Notre Dame (1996-98). While at UND, he worked with the defensive scout team, along with other responsibilities under former head coaches Lou Holtz and Bob Davie. Prior to UND, the Barnesville, Ohio native coached two-years at Eastern Kentucky, where he assisted with the defensive line and offensive scout team.

A 1993 All-Ohio Athletic Conference linebacker at Mount Union, Sawvel earned a master's degree in sports administration from Eastern Kentucky in 1995 and a master's in administration from Notre Dame in 1998.

He and his wife, Jeannine, reside in Murphysboro. The couple recently had their first child, Mackenzie.

Jason FAIRFIELD
Graduate Assistant
Southern Illinois,
'97

Jason Fairfield enters his second year as a grad assistant after serving as administrative aid in 2003. Previously, he spent four years coaching wideouts at Millikin University. The team was 31-9 during his tenure and made one playoff appearance. An SIU grad with a bachelor's degree in health education, Fairfield resides in Carbondale with his wife, Anne.

Travis STEPS
Graduate Assistant
Pittsburg State, '01

Travis Stepps begins his second year as a graduate assistant coach, after spending two seasons on the staff at his alma mater, Pittsburg State.

As a player, Stepps was a two-time All-American defensive back. The Fort Scott, Kan. native earned a bachelor's in social studies and education.

Salukis gearing up for another run at National Championship

The end of the 2004 season left a bitter taste in the mouth of Saluki players, coaches and fans. After overwhelming the Gateway Conference and spending 10 weeks at #1 in the nation, SIU's early exit from the playoffs was unexpected.

However, in the blue-collar method that has come to define the program under Jerry Kill, the 2005 Saluki team has re-dedicated itself to the mission of winning a National Championship.

The 2005 version of Saluki football will strongly resemble that of 2004 – a brick wall defense, a potent running game and a quarterback with the moxie and experience to win a championship.

The Salukis return seven starters on both offense and defense, along with an All-American kicker and veteran punter.

The field general and driving force behind the offense will once again be quarterback Joel Sambursky, who has started 36-straight games as the Saluki signal caller.

The fifth-year senior was the player-of-the-year in the Gateway Conference in 2004 and finished second in the nation in pass efficiency with a 163.04 rating. More than just a great passer, Sambursky has rushed for more than 1,000 yards in his career.

However, statistics don't do justice to Sambursky's importance to the team. His leadership skills, strength of character and commitment to the program are all symbolic of the renaissance of Saluki football. Sambursky was Kill's first recruit and the cornerstone of a successful rebuilding project.

Sambursky has proven weapons to turn to on offense, beginning with junior running back Arkee Whitlock.

Whitlock started and shared time with now New York Giants running back Brandon Jacobs in 2004. His gaudy 6.4 yard per carry average was no accident, as Whitlock possesses both the speed and running instincts to dominate the I-AA level.

When Sambursky goes to the air, his primary target will be senior Brent Little, who has the innate ability to stretch a defense. With his 23.5 yard per catch average last year, Little is the home run threat who keeps opposing defensive coordinators up at night.

As if the offense didn't have enough firepower, the team returns its top two tight ends, seniors Chris Kupec and Micah Turner, who combined for 41 catches and 476 yards in 2004.

The biggest question mark on offense, and perhaps the entire team, is the line, where just one starter — Will Justice returns.

The Salukis led the nation in scoring defense in 2004, allowing less than two touchdowns per game.

Southern's four-man front should once again dominate, though last year's eight-man rotation may be whittled down to six or seven. Four seniors should start across the defensive front, headlined by defensive tackle Linton Brown, a first-team all-conference player last year, and end Billy Beard, who ranks among the career leaders in sacks at SIU. Jeff Jones is an underrated end who led the D-line in sacks in '04.

The Salukis are deep at linebacker where senior Royal Whitaker is the premier talent. He has climbed into the top 20 in career tackles at Southern and should continue his ascent in 2005.

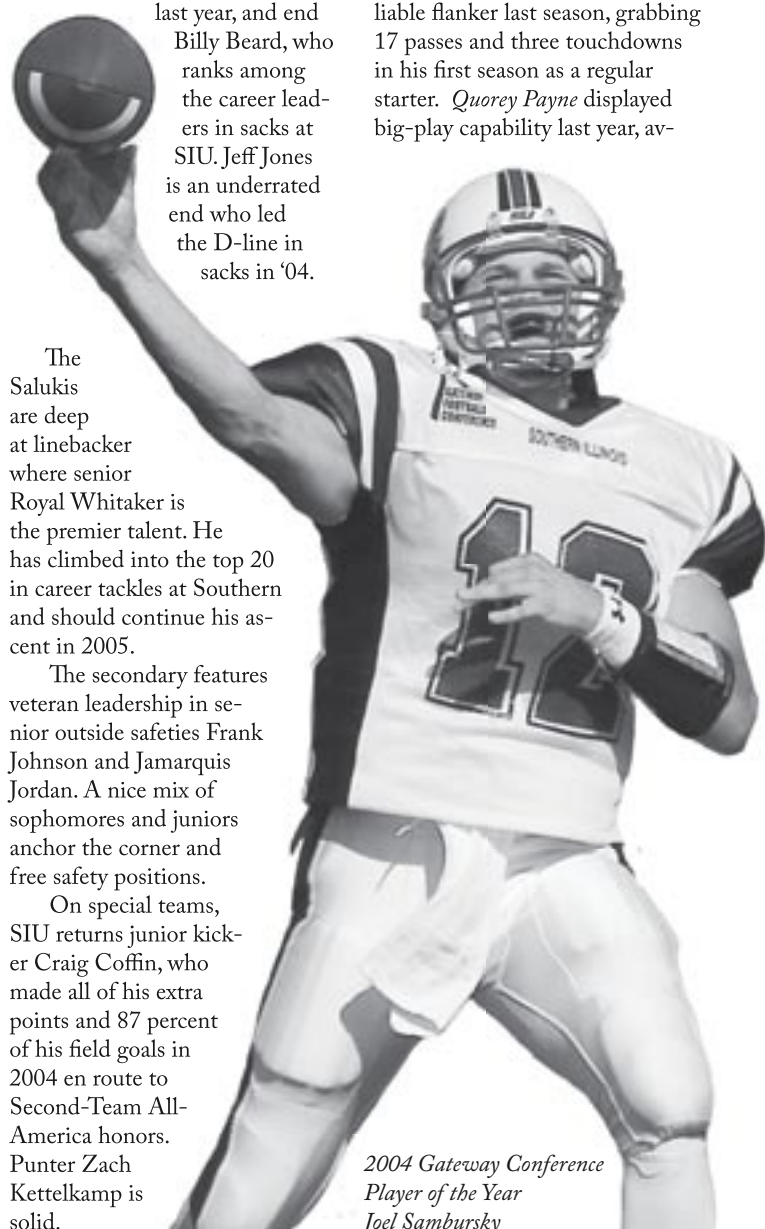

The secondary features veteran leadership in senior outside safeties Frank Johnson and Jamarquis Jordan. A nice mix of sophomores and juniors anchor the corner and free safety positions.

On special teams, SIU returns junior kicker Craig Coffin, who made all of his extra points and 87 percent of his field goals in 2004 en route to Second-Team All-America honors. Punter Zach Kettelkamp is solid.

Wide Receiver

Wide receiver is likely the deepest position on the team. Brent Little returns to his starting role at split end, where he already ranks among the best receivers in school history. In three seasons, Little has compiled 1,522 receiving yards and an amazing 20.3 yards per catch average. He led SIU with 822 receiving yards last season and consistently made big plays.

Kellen Allen emerged as a reliable flanker last season, grabbing 17 passes and three touchdowns in his first season as a regular starter. Quorey Payne displayed big-play capability last year, averaging 21.8 yards per catch and finishing second only to Little in TDs (6) and yardage (480).

As if that talented threesome weren't enough, a host of younger players have demonstrated ability to contribute. Walk-on Alan Turner was a nice surprise in 2004, as he worked his way into the rotation and caught six passes. Phil Goforth was a contributor early in the season, but injuries slowed his progress.

Ryan Beeler, Craig Ramsey and Nigel LeBlanc provide depth. An interesting project to watch will be the conversion of Jay Upthegrove, who made the switch from cornerback in the spring. Regarded as one of the top athletes on the team, Upthegrove has battled injuries throughout his SIU career.

Tight End

The Salukis have a pair of talented seniors returning at the tight end position. Chris Kupec was the primary starter in 2004 and finished third on the team in catches (22) and receiving yardage (267). His versatility is a plus — he can also line up at H-back or fullback. Kupec is a savvy player with reliable hands.

Micah Turner is a ferocious blocker and a much-improved receiver. He started four games last year and caught 19 passes, including two touchdowns.

Depth is not a problem at this position with Northwestern transfer Braden Jones expected to challenge the returning vets. Jones is a Harrisburg native who played linebacker for two seasons with the Wildcats. His athletic skills could also put him in the mix at H-Back and fullback.

Adam Bunting is making the switch from linebacker, while Keith McConnell rounds out the corps.

Center

The task of replacing All-American Elmer McDaniel falls to Will Justice. The lone, returning starter on the Saluki offensive line, Justice started every game at right guard last year. An intelligent player with great leadership ability, he made a seamless transition to center in the spring. Justin Kramer played in six games last year and serves as backup.

Offensive Tackle

No tackle on the roster has ever started a game for the Salukis offense. Nevertheless, offensive coordinator and O-line coach Matt Limegrover is excited about the group's potential. Darren Marquez had an excellent spring and has prototype physical skills to play left tackle. The right tackle spot will likely be manned by Andrew Kernes, who has improved his strength and has an excellent grasp of the mental side of the position.

Backup talent at tackle includes Craig Kombrink, who has made marked improvement in his size and strength, along with Mike Farrell and Wyoming transfer Dave Shipula.

Offensive Guard

Although the Salukis have no returning starters at guard, they do have more experience at the position than at tackle. Natu Visinia is the strongest player on the offensive line and plays the game with a nasty streak. He is expected to anchor the left guard position after playing in 10 games as a sub in 2004. Jared Green is in his second year in the program after transferring from Northeastern Oklahoma A&M and has the edge to start at right guard after a strong spring.

Also in the mix at guard are Matt Ruth, Jimmy Wegerer and Brady Wrezinski.

Quarterback

Joel Sambursky is the returning player-of-the-year in the Gateway Conference and enters his senior year poised to rewrite the school's record books. He's already passed for 5,199 career yards and 43 TDs, yet his leadership and poise under fire are even more impressive than his record-setting numbers. The statistics he cares most about are wins and losses, and SIU is 20-4 with Sambursky at the helm the last two seasons.

The Salukis are in good shape behind Sambursky with a pair of talented sophomores battling to be his heir. Jon Cairns completed 60 percent of his passes and had four TD throws in a mop-up role last season. DuQuoin High School phenom Nick Hill is now eligible after sitting out in 2004 upon transferring from Western Kentucky. The athletic southpaw played basketball for the Hilltoppers in 2003 and has terrific upside.

Running Back

The Salukis don't rebuild at this position, they simply reload. Although they lost Brandon Jacobs (N.Y. Giants, 4th Round) and Terry Jackson (Tennessee Titans, free agent) to the National Football League, they amazingly still return last year's starter in Arkee Whitlock. Whitlock has the best pro potential of the three, according to some NFL scouts. An instinctive runner, he combines great vision with the speed to go the distance. Last year, he averaged 6.4 yards per carry and totalled 959 yards.

Antione Jackson has labored in a back-up role much of his career. However, he is now fully recovered from a two-year-old leg injury and is a determined runner who makes the most of what's blocked in front of him. Craig Turner surprised everyone by becoming a key contributor as a true freshman last year. He totalled 334 yards and averaged a staggering 11.1 yards per carry in limited duty at fullback. Turner is also a gifted receiver who caught 13 balls a year ago.

Fullback

J.T. Wise is a rugged, dependable blocker who is content to pave the way for his backfield mates. While Brandon Smith,

• Indicates returning starter

Jonathan Habbe and Coffeyville Community College transfer Fred Rosas supply depth, don't be surprised if SIU lines up some of its surplus tight end talent in the backfield.

Defensive End

Billy Beard has started 24-straight games at left end and ranks in the top 20 in career sacks at SIU with 7.5. He is a steady, reliable force. The starter at right end will be Jeff Jones, who played tackle last year and led the defensive line in sacks (4.0). He is the unsung hero of the D-line.

JUCO transfer Jonathan Hamm is inexperienced, but has impressed with his athleticism and work ethic. Ball State transfer Lorenzo Wims started nine games last year for the Cardinals and will also compete for playing time. Demetrius Terrell and Keon Cummings round out the unit.

Defensive Tackle

The interior line is one of the strengths of the defense and was a key component in SIU's success at stopping the run in '04.

Linton Brown was a first-team all-conference player at one tackle. A massive man, he also possesses great quickness to penetrate the gaps. Lionel Williams started two years ago as a sophomore and was a key

First-Team
All-Gateway Conference
LB Royal Whitaker

member of the rotation a year ago. Quickness is his forte.

Depth is no concern at tackle because Mark Philipp would start for most teams and will play as much as the starters for SIU. He is a wide-body with a low center of gravity and a nose for the football. Philipp's four sacks last year tied Jones for the team lead among defensive linemen. Justin Lowes is another talented performer who warrants playing time, and Logan Mize is making good strides after switching from fullback.

Linebacker

Royal Whitaker was a first-team all-Gateway performer last year and has been a cornerstone of SIU's defense since his freshman year. He led the team in tackles and tackles for loss in 2004 and has an instinctive ability to diagnose a play and get through traffic to make the tackle.

His running mate will be Tony Rinella, a former walk-on and local product from Marion, H.S. He started all 12 games a year ago and finished fourth on the squad in tackles.

Linebacker is unquestionably the deepest position on defense, and perhaps the entire team.

Phillip Doyle didn't start last year, but repeatedly turned in big plays, leading the team in sacks (5.0). Thomas Laing is a veteran with strong special teams skills.

The coaching staff is high on a pair of youngsters — Weithley Leonord and Justin Thurston. Both players will be in the mix for playing time and are future stars at the position. Trevor Moe is a valuable special teams performer, and Micah King adds depth.

Specialists

Craig Coffin, an All-American in 2004, is about as reliable a placekicker as you will find, making 87 percent of his kicks last year. He also has range past 50 yards. Zach Kettelkamp is a solid and consistent punter, and Kent DeVinney is a dependable veteran at long snapper.

Outside Safety

It's hard to mention one without the other when talking about Frank Johnson and Jamarquis Jordan. They both transferred from Coffeyville Community College two years ago, both play the same position and both are underrated performers. Johnson finished second on the team in tackles last year, while Jordan was third. Each player picked off two passes and were keys to a Saluki defense that was eighth in the nation against the pass in 2004.

Behind this dynamic duo are a pair of improving juniors — Patrick Jordan and Kyle Colborn. Patrick Jordan played a significant role as a true freshman two years ago before being sidelined for part of the 2004 campaign due to injury. He had an impressive spring. Colborn is a good athlete, who along with veteran Paul Wright, gives the team depth.

Free Safety

Three-time All-American Alexis Moreland has graduated, but the free safety position is in good hands with Marlon Heaston and transfer A.J. Wallace. The battle for the starting job will head into summer camp. Heaston played in all 12 games last year and made 20 tackles. He has good range and is a reliable tackler. Wallace was among the top tacklers for Hutchinson Community College last year.

Cornerback

Brad Brachear will compete with JUCO All-American Larry Taylor for one corner spot. Brachear has spent much of his

Southern Illinois 28, Southeast Missouri State 7

Sept. 2, 2004, McAndrew Stadium (Attendance: 11,314)

CARBONDALE — After all the preseason excitement, the Southern Illinois University football team demonstrated that it was well worth the hype. Once the fumes from the pre-game motorcycle parade wore off, the Salukis mercilessly trounced their opponent until it was barely running on fumes itself.

Auburn transfer Brandon Jacobs rushed for 106 yards and four touchdowns as the second-ranked Salukis crushed Southeast Missouri State, Thursday, 42-3 in I-AA college football at McAndrew Stadium.

"I expected to win this game," Jacobs said. "We've been beating up on each other for three weeks straight, and it felt good to get out there and beat up on someone else."

The Salukis should be the nation's top-ranked team next week, due to the fact that No. 1 Delaware lost at home to New Hampshire.

Jacobs scored on runs of 1 yard in the first quarter, 2 yards in the second and third quarters, and a 29-yard TD in the final frame. Clearly, the 6-foot-4, 260-pound running back, was a man among boys on the football field.

After a slow start, the Salukis exploded for 28 points in the second half.

"I think we were conservative in the first," said SIU head coach Jerry Kill. "We've got a new offense. We were trying to see what we can and can't do."

SIU made no major mistakes, and all four running backs carried the ball at least five times.

"We didn't have any turnovers," Kill said. "We had a couple of dumb penalties, but overall it wasn't too bad."

SIU amassed a remarkable 554 total yards on offense.

"I'm pleasantly surprised at our offense," Kill said. "I didn't realize we got 500 yards on offense, but I guess you can't complain about that as a coach."

The Salukis accumulated 320 rushing yards to only 67 for SEMO.

"We have a very good defensive line," said SIU cornerback Yemi Akisanya. "Those guys do all the dirty work, and we get to come in and clean up."

With SIU leading 21-3 midway through the third quarter, Akisanya elevated and picked off SEMO quarterback Andrew Goodenough in the end zone. The turnover basically ended the Indians' chances of getting back into the game.

Northern Illinois 23, Southern Illinois 22

Sept. 11, 2004, Huskie Stadium (Attendance: 28,071)

DEKALB, Ill. — It was an absolute heartbreaker for the Southern Illinois University football team Saturday at Huskie Stadium.

SIU, trailing 23-16 with 2:23 left in the game, charged 78 yards down the field, led by quarterback Joel Sambursky's 19-yard touchdown pass to Brent Little.

With the score 23-22 in favor of Northern Illinois, SIU head coach Jerry Kill elected to go for a 2-point conversion. Sambursky faked a handoff to running back Brandon Jacobs and threw a pass to the right corner of the end zone that tight end Chris Kupec could not corral as he slipped to the turf.

The Huskies held on to defeat the Salukis, 23-22, in front of 28,071 fans, the fourth-largest crowd in NIU history.

"If we had ten times to do it again, we'd do the same thing," Sambursky said. "We had a great play called, but we just didn't execute. We were inches away from beating Northern Illinois at their place in front of 30,000 people."

The veteran quarterback performed the two-minute drill to perfection, but the end result took its toll.

"It hurts, man," Sambursky said. "Guys fight and battle like crazy.

We are all beat up because it was a war today. For it to come down to the last play, and you just don't execute like you normally do, it hurts a ton."

As for the decision to go for the win in regulation, coach Kill said he talked with his staff about what to do in a spot like that.

"We had a good play called, and I believe they went goal-line defense," Kill said. "I think we had an extra guy in there that was eligible. We had a guy open, and we just didn't execute the play."

"I'd do it again," Kill said. "There's about probably 10,000 Saluki fans that would tell me I'm crazy. The point being is, it was the right call, and there's no question in my mind about it."

"We were very fortunate to win," said Northern Illinois head coach Joe Novak. "Personally, I was more nervous about this game than any in the last four or five years. I knew how good they were, and how they would come in here and play us."

"I just can't imagine any NIU fan walking away and not having a high respect for the Salukis," Sambursky said.

Southern Illinois 59, William Penn 9

Sept. 18, 2004, McAndrew Stadium (Attendance: 9,435)

CARBONDALE — The William Penn football team were the unfortunate recipients of a 59-9 thrashing Saturday, courtesy of Southern Illinois.

Running backs Arkee Whitlock and Brandon Jacobs scored two touchdowns apiece, in the first half, and SIU never let up.

Second-ranked SIU, led the entire way, and numerous players received some quality playing time.

"We did win the game, and we had some very bright spots," said Southern Illinois University head coach Jerry Kill. "I pulled the redshirt off Craig Turner, and he made me look very intelligent tonight."

Turner, a freshman, ran 54 yards for a touchdown, with 3:42 left in the third quarter, to make it 45-9 in favor of SIU (2-1).

Turner led the Salukis with 93 yards on only seven carries, a stunning 13.3 yards-per-rush average.

"Coach told me a few days before 'we might need you to fill in,'" Turner said.

The Salukis amassed 604 total yards on offense, just two yards shy of the school record of 606 yards against West Virginia Tech in 2002. Reserves saw plenty of action.

Backup quarterback Jon Cairns threw a 79-yard touchdown strike to Quorey Payne, at the beginning of the fourth quarter, for a 52-9 SIU advantage.

"They put me in, and I just wanted to pick up the tempo and get the offense going," Cairns said.

Cairns ended up with 127 passing yards on 4-of-5 passing. Besides the touchdown, Cairns was also picked off.

Joel Sambursky, the SIU starting quarterback, was thrilled that three other quarterbacks got some playing time.

"To see the light coming from their faces when Jon (Cairns) threw a touchdown, and Curtis (Holley) ran for a touchdown, is always a great feeling," Sambursky said.

Whitlock carried the ball 12 times for 89 yards and two touchdowns. The sophomore also had a 95-yard kick return called back after a penalty.

"We made some mistakes here and there," Sambursky said. "The great thing is now we have an opportunity to learn from them."

Southern Illinois 49, Delaware State 0

Sept. 25, 2004, Alumni Stadium (Attendance: 1,734)

DOVER, Del. — The atmosphere didn't compare with the last time Southern Illinois made a trip to Delaware, and fortunately for SIU, the scoreboard didn't either. The #1-ranked Salukis dismantled an overmatched Delaware State squad, 49-0, before a crowd of 1,734 at Alumni Stadium.

Last year, SIU was soundly beaten by Delaware in the first round of the I-AA playoffs in front of a packed house. It was quickly apparent on Saturday, however, that the Hornets (0-4) have little in common with last year's defending champion Blue Hens, aside from geography.

Coach Kill conceded that his team didn't play with much emotion, but they didn't need to. All it took to beat Delaware State was focus and execution.

"It was kind of a business-like approach - get the job done, win and go home," Kill said. "I knew there wasn't going to be much emotion. It was very similar to playing at Indiana State last year."

The Salukis (3-1) scored touchdowns on all five possessions in the first half and rolled out to a 35-0 lead at intermission. Yet there was hardly any celebration after each score.

Quarterback Joel Sambursky put SIU's first points on the board as he ran the bootleg around the right side to score from two yards out. The nearest Hornet defender was at least 10 yards away when Sambursky strolled across the goalline and calmly handed the ball to the official.

Delaware State's offense went three-and-out on its next three possessions, and the Salukis put together scoring drives of 55, 57 and 60 yards, using a balanced mix of run and pass.

SIU's running game piled up 230 yards on the afternoon, and Terry Jackson led all rushers with 93 yards on 12 carries. Arkee Whitlock added 64 yards and two TDs on nine attempts. Tailback Brandon Jacobs scored one TD, but carried only five times in the game due to muscle tightness, Kill said.

"I don't ever worry about distributing carries," Kill said, "I just worry about winning games and play the backs that are available and healthy."

The defense was relentless in its pressure, picking up six sacks and numerous quarterback hurries. Tackle Mark Philipp set the tone with a first-quarter bull rush in which he slammed DSU quarterback Andre Smith to the turf. It was Philipp's first sack of the season.

Southern Illinois 40, Northern Iowa 36

Oct. 2, 2004, McAndrew Stadium (Attendance: 12,326)

CARBONDALE — It ended up being a wild and unconventional game between two of the Gateway Conference's best teams.

Safety Marlon Heaston picked off backup quarterback Eric Sanders' third-down pass - at the 2-yard line - as time expired Saturday, and No. 1 Southern Illinois held off No. 15 Northern Iowa, 40-36, at McAndrew Stadium.

UNI began the final drive at its own 19, and moved 60 yards down the field to the SIU 20. Sanders - filling in for the injured Tom Petrie - misfired twice and threw the interception to finish the game.

The Salukis trailed 20-0 midway through the second quarter, mostly due to turnovers.

"It was a very unusual football game," said SIU head coach Jerry Kill. "But it's a great tribute to our kids being down 20-0. The kids found a way to win in a very adverse game."

SIU quarterback Joel Sambursky added, "We've been in worse situations before, but we definitely responded and won the game."

In the first quarter, as SIU drove deep in UNI territory, cornerback Dre Dokes picked off a pass - at the 5 -- from Terry Jackson that was intended for Sambursky. The cornerback proceeded to take it back 95 yards for a touchdown and a 7-0 UNI lead.

"If you execute it, you look good, but we just didn't execute it," Kill said. "The ball hung in the air, and Dre Dokes made a great play on it."

"I've never seen so many crazy, odd mistakes that just happened to us," Sambursky said.

But one of SIU's lesser-known skill players decided it was time to make some big-time plays.

Freshman Craig Turner ripped off a 58-yard punt return with 3:58 remaining in the first half to cut the UNI lead to 20-7. The Panthers led 26-14 at halftime.

Turner exploded for a 71-yard touchdown run at 11:15 of the third quarter. The freshman made some nifty cuts and broke several tackles on his way to the end zone. SIU still trailed, 26-21.

"If it were not for Craig Turner, we probably wouldn't be enjoying this victory now," Kill said.

Turner finished with a team-high 107 rushing yards - on only six carries. The freshman tallied 195 total offensive yards in the game.

Southern Illinois 37, Youngstown State 2

Oct. 9, 2004, Stambaugh Stadium (Attendance: 16,837)

DEKALB, Ill. — The balance of power in the Gateway Conference has shifted in 2004 and is now tilting due south.

Southern Illinois paid no mind to the four National Championship flags whipping in the wind atop Stambaugh Stadium as it humbled a tradition-rich Youngstown State program, 37-2, Saturday night.

The biggest difference between the two teams was speed. The #1-ranked Salukis have it in abundance and used it to generate big play after big play. Four of Southern's touchdowns came from 45 yards or longer.

SIU's All-American safety Alexis Moreland set the tone for the game in the first quarter when he picked off a Tom Zetts pass and raced 95 yards for a score. It was the longest interception return by an SIU player in 40 years and the second-longest in school history.

"We're very fortunate to have some young kids with great athletic ability," Saluki head coach Jerry Kill said. "Alexis made a big play that got the game going in the right direction."

Later in the first quarter, fullback Craig Turner caught a screen pass from Joel Sambursky and, in the blink of an eye, motored through the secondary and into the endzone for a 56-yard touchdown. The true freshman has scored four touchdowns in the last three games, and all of them have been long-distance efforts.

"Offensively we have some skill players who can make some plays right now," Kill said. "We're very fortunate to have them, and that's why we're having success."

Youngstown, long known as a smash-mouth, Midwestern football team, could muster little offense. The Saluki defense was relentless in its pressure and pursuit, holding YSU to 26 rushing yards on 19 carries in the first half.

The Penguins' passing game didn't fare much better. With the Salukis leading 14-0 early in the second quarter, Mark Philipp sacked Zetts in the endzone for a safety. It was one of four sacks in the game for SIU's defense.

Any doubts about the eventual outcome of the contest were laid to rest when the Salukis struck for two more big plays before halftime. On second-and-14 from the YSU 47, Sambursky hit a streaking Brent Little down the right sideline. Little turned on a burst of speed to outrun two defenders for a score that put SIU ahead 23-0 with 9:07 remaining before halftime.

Southern Illinois 38, Western Kentucky 10

Oct. 16, 2004, McAndrew Stadium (Attendance: 10,143)

CARBONDALE —In the end, it was not even close.

Brandon Jacobs scored three rushing touchdowns and top-ranked Southern Illinois crushed No. 4 Western Kentucky, 38-10, Saturday in Gateway Conference action at McAndrew Stadium.

The Salukis (6-1, 3-0) racked up 473 yards of total offense, and the Hilltoppers (4-2, 2-1) - despite gaining 352 offensive yards - had trouble finding the end zone.

Jacobs plowed through the defensive line for his third 1-yard TD at 1:09 of the third quarter - and SIU went up 28-3. The game was out of reach at that point.

"Brandon ran harder the last two games than he has all year," said SIU head coach Jerry Kill. "I think a lot of that has to do with comfort. He wasn't here in the spring, and he's had to pick all this up like that."

Jacobs indicated that some of WKU's defensive unit talked quite a bit of trash before and during the game. The transfer running back played against them last season while with Auburn.

"I had a good game against them last year, but I think this one is better because I'm closer with my team here," Jacobs said. "They came out saying all kinds of things, but I just ignored it and played football."

Jacobs did look like a man possessed when he touched the ball. The senior ran with fire and hit the holes with extra force. It was obvious he was really psyched up to play in this game.

"My offensive line really moved some Hilltoppers off the ball," Jacobs said. "They work hard all week, and I commend them for it."

"They did a great job."

Joel Sambursky threw a 12-yard TD strike to Brent Little late in the fourth quarter to put Southern up 38-10. Sambursky was 13-of-18 for 163 yards and a touchdown. The junior QB threw one interception.

Sambursky also eclipsed the record for the most offensive yards in school history. On his first play of the game, Micah Turner caught a 12-yard pass from the Saluki QB to tie the record - and the rest was history.

The quarterback's 214 yards of total offense moved him past Sherard Poteete to 5,211 yards - and he is only a junior.

"I'm ultimately going to be judged by the wins and losses," Sambursky said. "That's what I'm really concerned about."

"It is an honor, and it shows how great the guys around me are."

Southern Illinois 27, SMS 3

Oct. 23, 2004, Plaster Field (Attendance: 15,122)

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — Arkee Whitlock scored three touchdowns and Brandon Jacobs added 151 rushing yards as No. 1 Southern Illinois defeated Southwest Missouri State, 27-3, Saturday in Gateway Conference football at Plaster Field.

Whitlock had 200 yards of total offense - including 158 on the ground - for the Salukis (7-1, 4-0), who led 24-3 at halftime. The sophomore scored on runs of six, nine and 17 yards.

"We've got fresh legs everywhere out there because we're so deep in talent," Whitlock said. "We had good execution up front and holes were opening."

SIU racked up 500 yards on offense, and it held SMS (5-3, 2-2) to 273.

"We're just glad we got out of here with a win," said SIU head coach Jerry Kill. "We ran the ball fairly well today."

The words "fairly well" translate to 350 yards on the ground and an incredible 7.6 yards per carry average.

Near the end of the first quarter, SIU quarterback Joel Sambursky threw a 22-yard completion to Kellen Allen at midfield. Then, Whitlock broke loose for a 34-yard gain to the SMS 16. Two plays later, Whitlock ran into the end zone for a 6-yard score as Southern took its first lead 10-3.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Bears' Scottie Reddix caught the ball at the SMS 2 and was plowed by James Smith at the 5. SMS quarterback A.J. Porter fired a 30-yard pass to Gerald Moore, but the Bears' drive soon fell flat.

The Bears only scored three points in the game, and that happened after Craig Turner botched a punt deep in Saluki territory.

"I thought our defense played very well all day," Kill said. "The more we're on the field the better it is for our defense. They didn't really give up the three as much as we dropped the punt."

On its first possession of the second quarter, SIU started at the 50 with Jacobs ripping off a 20-yard run. On fourth-and-seven, Sambursky ran up the middle for 15 yards - which set up a Whitlock TD two plays later. SIU went up 17-3 with 10:38 remaining in the first half. The Salukis led 24-3 at halftime and added a field goal for the final margin.

"Our offensive line moved people off the ball just that well," Jacobs said. "I could've run it up the gut, or I could've tried to show some speed on the outside."

Southern Illinois 66, Western Illinois 13

Oct. 30, 2004, McAndrew Stadium (Attendance: 10,045)

CARBONDALE — The Southern Illinois University football team came out and dominated virtually every facet of Saturday's football game with Western Illinois.

Brandon Jacobs scored three rushing touchdowns as SIU beat Western, 66-13, at McAndrew Stadium.

"The kids wanted to make history tonight and have the longest home winning streak in school history," said SIU head coach Jerry Kill. "We were excited about doing that at home, and I just think the kids were ready to play."

SIU (8-1, 5-0) has won 11 consecutive contests at home since last season. The Saluki running machine racked up 436 yards on the ground - compared to 50 for Western Illinois (4-5, 2-3).

"I think a lot of that has to do with our offensive line getting better," Kill said. "One of them (Jacobs) wasn't even here in the spring, and I still think we can keep getting better."

The Salukis' 66 points is a school record against Division I-AA opponents, and their 606 yards of total offense ties an SIU record.

Jacobs finished with 128 yards, and the team totaled 436 on the ground. Craig Turner added 96 yards rushing.

SIU led 28-0 when Jacobs made one cut to the outside and outran the WIU secondary for a 64-yard TD. Jacobs only carried the ball seven times in the game.

"When we move people off the ball like that we're going to have as many yards as we want," Jacobs said. "I give credit to my offensive line."

The Salukis inched one step closer to clinching at least a tie in the conference.

"It feels good because I haven't really won anything since high school," Jacobs said.

Western's Travis Glasford put the Leathernecks on the scoreboard with a 1-yard TD run, but Jacobs returned the favor a few minutes later.

The Auburn transfer took a handoff and ran through an enormous hole for a 28-yard score. The Salukis tacked on a field goal and led 45-7 at halftime.

"You can only run behind the men in the front," Craig Turner said. "That's where the game is won."

Southern Illinois 41, Illinois State 14

Nov. 6, 2004, Hancock Stadium (Attendance: 8,019)

NORMAL, Ill. — Southern Illinois used a high-powered aerial attack to beat Illinois State Saturday, 41-14, and clinch a share of the Gateway Conference regular-season title and claim the league's automatic bid to the I-AA Playoffs.

The #1-ranked Salukis (9-1, 6-0) lead Western Kentucky by one game in the standings with one game remaining for each team. However, SIU will get the league's automatic bid, regardless of next week's outcome, because it beat Western earlier this season.

Southern has won the Gateway title two years in a row. The last time the Saluki football program won back-to-back conference championships was in 1960 and 1961 when it competed in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

The Salukis entered the game averaging 287 rushing yards per contest, and the Redbirds (4-5, 2-4) were determined not to let Southern's ground attack beat them.

Illinois State repeatedly stacked the line of scrimmage, and the strategy worked throughout the first quarter, as ISU forced the Salukis to punt on their first three possessions.

However, Saluki quarterback Joel Sambursky eventually dissected the Redbirds' defense and finished the game with a season-high 256 yards passing and three touchdowns.

Neither team scored in the first quarter, but the first big break of the game came when ISU's Joe Walkins fumbled a punt, and it was recovered by Southern's Brad Brachear at the Redbirds' 40.

Six plays later, Sambursky completed a 12-yard touchdown strike to fullback Matt Weishaar.

"We started to settle in," Sambursky said. "We started to get used to what they were showing us defensively."

"(ISU) put so many guys up to stop the great running backs we have, and that opened up the passing game," Sambursky said. "When guys are keying in on our running game, it opens up other aspects of our offense."

"The last two or three weeks we've been able to run the ball," said Saluki head coach Jerry Kill. "People have been nervous about giving up the big play. Today Illinois State challenged us and had eight or nine guys in the box, and we tried to run it for a while, and then we decided to loosen them up and try to get the ball down the field."

Southern Illinois 59, Indiana State 10

Nov. 13, 2004, McAndrew Stadium (Attendance: 10,143)

CARBONDALE — The regular season finally came to an end Saturday, and the Southern Illinois University football team rolled over another Gateway Conference opponent to finish undefeated in its conference schedule.

Brandon Jacobs rushed for 122 yards - including two touchdowns - and Joel Sambursky threw for 246 yards and four TD as the Salukis pounded Indiana State, 59-10, at McAndrew Stadium.

SIU (10-1, 7-0) amassed 423 yards of total offense in the first half alone - and 588 for the game. The Salukis clinched the Gateway Conference title outright, and have won it two years in a row.

"It's a great accomplishment for these young players," said SIU head coach Jerry Kill. "What these seniors have done for this program, and where they've come from at 1-10, may be the most unbelievable thing I've seen in college football in a long time.

Senior wide receiver Brent Little enjoyed a monster performance with three catches for 167 yards and two touchdowns.

"I just went out there and tried to give all the effort I could," Little said. "It prevailed for me today."

The Salukis have only one loss - to Northern Illinois, a ranked I-AA school, on the road - and are in a great position to get one of the top four Division I-AA playoff seeds - which means SIU would host at least the first two rounds of the tournament.

"It's better for us to think that we're going to be here at McAndrew," Sambursky said. "This indeed won't be the last home game for our seniors."

Sambursky's 12-of-13 passing (92.3 percent) is the single-game best in school history. The junior QB also moved passed the 2,000-yard mark in his outstanding SIU career.

"It was just a lot of fun, and guys got open, and I was able to get them the ball," Sambursky said. "I wish I could've played the whole game."

Indiana State head coach Tim McGuire was disappointed but complimentary of the Salukis.

"They're truly fine champions of our league," McGuire said. "They have a great opportunity to win the championship. Jerry's done a great job here, and I wish him the best of luck in the tournament."

Eastern Washington 35, Southern Illinois 31

Nov. 13, 2004, McAndrew Stadium (Attendance: 7,304)

CARBONDALE — In the end - on a rain-soaked field at McAndrew Stadium - the Salukis simply ran out of time.

Eastern Washington quarterback Erik Meyer threw to Eric Kimble over the middle -- and the receiver outran the SIU secondary to the end zone with 1:49 left - as the Eagles upset top-seeded Southern Illinois 35-31 Saturday in the NCAA Division I-AA Playoffs.

The game went back and forth in the last quarter, and the Salukis' final drive ended as Joel Sambursky's pass was knocked down at the EWU 20-yard-line as time expired.

"We had enough time, but we just didn't execute," Sambursky said. "And, they're a great football team."

The Salukis, who had an outstanding regular season, found themselves in a disappointing first-round loss in the postseason.

"We played a very good football team today, and we knew that going in," said SIU head coach Jerry Kill. "We didn't take them lightly or anything like that. We played as hard as we can play, and they played better than we did today."

Darius Washington ran seven yards for a TD and put the Eagles up 28-24 with 13:37 remaining in the game. But, late in the quarter, Brandon Jacobs took over as SIU (10-2) grinded out a 99-yard drive to take a 31-28 lead. The bruising tailback scored four touchdowns and rushed for 166 yards in the game.

Meyer - the nation's top-rated QB - threw for a remarkable 437 yards and three touchdowns.

"Offensively, we haven't played anybody like that," Kill said. "And certainly with their quarterback, he's about as good as it gets."

After the game, in the SIU locker room, most of the players were distraught with what occurred on the field. A visibly upset Moreland probably echoed the sentiments of many people around the Southern Illinois area.

"I want to take my hat off to Eastern Washington," Moreland said. "They came out and beat the best team in the country today. I've spent four years in this program, and you never want to go out with a loss."

"We're certainly down about today, but there's been a heck of a lot accomplished here in a short time," Kill said. "I don't feel bad for myself, but I feel bad for the seniors.

SALUKI TRADITION

Southern Illinois Head Coaching History

William McAndrew
1913-16, 1921-38
Record: 83-79-20

Hired at SINU in 1913 to develop a physical education department "for boys," McAndrew organized the athletics program, which previously had "club teams" and occasionally an approved team.

He served as head coach, with the exception of years spent in the armed forces and while pursuing a second degree, until 1938. The stadium was built in 1938 and named in his honor in 1943, shortly after his death.

Sam Patterson

Sam Patterson was a volunteer coach for SINU, and he filled in for one season after William McAndrew joined the armed forces during World War I.

William Lodge

Like Patterson, Lodge was a fill-in for McAndrew. He also coached the basketball team and served as acting athletic director.

Glenn (Abe) Martin
1939-49
Record: 31-42-5

Abe Martin starred on the university's only unbeaten football team in 1930 and became the first alumnus to play professional football, competing for the Chicago Cardinals in 1932.

As coach at SINU, Martin's biggest milestone was guiding the 1947 team to a victory in the Corn Bowl.

In addition to coaching football, Martin was SINU's interim athletics director and head basketball coach in 1943 before eventually being named AD in 1945. He also revived the baseball program in 1947.

Bill Waller
1950-51
Record: 3-14-1

A Benton, Ill., native, Waller was an Illinois graduate who played professional football and baseball.

William O'Brien
1952-54
Record: 6-20

O'Brien lettered in football, baseball and track at SINU in the early 1940s.

After a stint in the Marine Corps, he returned to SIU in 1952 and was named head football coach at the age of 29. He coached until 1954, when he became director of SIU's Outdoor Recreation Department and embarked on a career in football officiating.

O'Brien had a long and productive career in the National Football League as a referee, and was an observer for the NFL until 1990.

Al Kawal
1955-58
Record: 20-15-2

Before arriving at SIU, Kawal had eight years of head coaching experience at Drake and Temple.

The native Chicagoan, had his best year in 1958, posting a 7-2 record, including a key, 32-31 win over Western Illinois. He was unbeaten in four seasons at SIU against Eastern Illinois and was 3-1 vs. Northern Illinois.

Carmen Piccone
1959-63
Record: 28-20

The 30-year old Piccone joined Southern Illinois' staff as an assistant coach in 1955 after serving under Al Kawal as an assistant at Temple.

Piccone had been a star quarterback at Temple and captained its 1952 team.

In five seasons at SIU, his teams never lost to Illinois State (4-0), Central Michigan (4-0) or Eastern Michigan (3-0).

His 1960 squad won the IIAC championship with a perfect 6-0 record.

Don Shroyer
1964-65
Record: 4-16

Shroyer joined SIU in 1964 after two seasons with the football St. Louis Cardinals.

His only wins at SIU were over Louisville, Drake, Northern Iowa and SW Missouri State.

He returned to the Cardinals and primarily helped develop former Saluki standout quarterback Jim Hart.

Ellis Rainsberger
1966
Record: 4-5-1

Rainsberger came to SIU after serving as an assistant at Kansas. He left the Salukis after one season to become an assistant at Illinois, where he spent six years. Rainsberger later moved on to the Canadian Football League.

Dick Towers
1967-73
Record: 30-37-2

Towers was promoted to head coach after just one year as an assistant at SIU.

His teams battled top competition including, Louisville, East Carolina and Oklahoma State. Towers' teams posted three seasons above .500, three below and one at 5-5. After leaving SIU, he returned to Kansas and later served as athletics director at Kansas State.

Doug Weaver
1974-75
Record: 3-18-1

Weaver was named athletics director at SIU in 1973 and added the head football coaching duties the following year.

Weaver had been an assistant at Michigan State, Missouri, Kansas and UCLA, and head coach at Kansas State prior to SIU.

He resigned at Southern Illinois following the 1975 season to become the athletics director at Michigan State, where he served until retiring in 1990.

Rey Dempsey
1976-83
Record: 54-37

Dempsey had a reputation for rebuilding programs and had turned around the football fortunes at Youngstown State immediately prior to taking over SIU.

The Salukis became a player at the national level during his eight-year stay, winning big games against Temple, East Carolina, Fresno State, Marshall, Tulsa, West Texas and New Mexico State.

His lone loss to Wichita State in 1983 cost the Salukis a Missouri Valley Conference championship, but better things were to come as the Salukis won the National Championship, and Dempsey was named Division I-AA "Coach of the Year."

Dempsey left Southern within a week of winning the national title and took over the football program at Memphis State.

He resigned after several years at Memphis to become a full-time minister in the Columbus, Ohio, area where he still resides.

Ray Dorr
1984-87
Record: 17-27

Dorr had the difficult task of succeeding Dempsey.

His 1986 team was a pleasant surprise as it was perfect against Ohio Valley teams. A one-point loss at Kansas, after taking a late lead, will be remembered as one of the toughest defeats in the school history. His teams were 3-1 against both Eastern Illinois and Illinois State.

Rick Rhodes
1988
Record: 4-7

Although credited with upgrading the program, the genial Rhodes resigned just two months after his first season ended.

He returned "home" to Alabama where he joined the Crimson Tide's staff. He later became an assistant at Kentucky, and in 1993 was named head coach at McNeese State.

Bob Smith
1989-93
Record: 17-38

In five seasons at SIU, Smith's teams and players established numerous offensive records.

One of the most remarkable accomplishments of his five-year tenure came in 1991 when the Salukis managed to post a 7-4 record by winning the first five games of the season, rising as high as #15 in the national polls. The 1991 team was adept at winning close games, as six of its seven wins came by a total of just 14 points. The club won three games by a single point.

Shawn Watson
1994-96
Record: 11-22

Watson took over at SIU after putting in impressive seasons as an assistant at Miami (Ohio). His first team avoided a winless season when it upset a good Western Kentucky club, 10-7. Following the 1-10 start, his teams recorded back-to-back 5-6 seasons in 1995 and 1996. His final club in 1996 got off to a 4-1 start and appeared headed for a fine season before a five-game losing streak and 5-6 overall finish.

Jan Quarless
1997-2000
Record: 14-30

Quarless became SIU's 18th head coach in January, 1997. He had previously served as an assistant with the Salukis from 1977 through 1982 under Rey Dempsey.

Although his first team was 3-8, his 1999 club went 5-6 and set a new SIU scoring record.

Jerry Kill
2001-Present
Record: 25-22

Jerry Kill became the Salukis' 19th head coach in December, 2000.

Now in his fifth year at the helm of Southern Illinois, Kill has guided the Salukis to back-to-back Gateway Conference championships and I-AA Playoff appearances.

In 2004, the Salukis spent 10 weeks atop the I-AA polls, and Kill was named the winner of the Eddie Robinson Award honoring the Coach of the Year in I-AA.

1983 NCAA Football I-AA National Champions

Nineteen eighty-three. For many Southern Illinoisans, that year brings back more than just memories of Michael Jackson, Ronald Reagan and big hair.

It was the year that the Southern Illinois University football team put together a dominating and magical run to take the Division I-AA National Championship.

After just missing an undefeated regular-season with a loss to Division I-A Wichita State in the regular-season finale, the Dawgs marched through the playoffs, outscoring their three opponents by an average of 23 points, capped by a 43-7 thrashing of Western Carolina in the National Championship game.

The Salukis finished that campaign with a sparkling 13-1 record, by far the best mark in SIU history. Fans were inspired to record a song about the team and carry the goal posts from McAndrew Stadium to the Strip on two occasions.

But has it really been 21 years? Believe it or not, more than two decades have passed since SIU won it all.

"Even though time is flying by," said then-SIU coach Rey Dempsey, "it's still amazing it's been 20 years."

"Sometimes it seems like 100 years ago," said that team's starting quarterback, Rick Johnson. "And sometimes it seems like yesterday. It's kind of weird."

The team celebrated the 20th anniversary of that magical season with a reunion at McAndrew Stadium on Sept. 27, 2003 when SIU played St. Joseph's. Approximately 50 players from that team attended the game and reminisced about what was indisputably the greatest football team in school history.

The '83 Salukis had it all

Rick Johnson

— chemistry, dedication, talent and a confidence that was there from the get-go.

"I recall friends saying 'I heard you are going to have a good team,'" Dempsey said of the weeks leading to the '83 season. "My reply was, 'I think we're going to win a I-AA championship.'"

"We thought we were that good coming in. In general, we agreed among ourselves we were going to do it."

That confidence was a direct result of the team's unparalleled unity and preparation. Dempsey and his staff set the tone.

"We were close knit as a team and staff," Dempsey said. "That looks easy to do, but that is a hard thing to do."

"The guy never slept," Johnson said of Dempsey.

"We felt nobody was going to outwork us as a staff," Dempsey said. "And our players worked very hard. It all starts from the top. If you work hard, they will work hard."

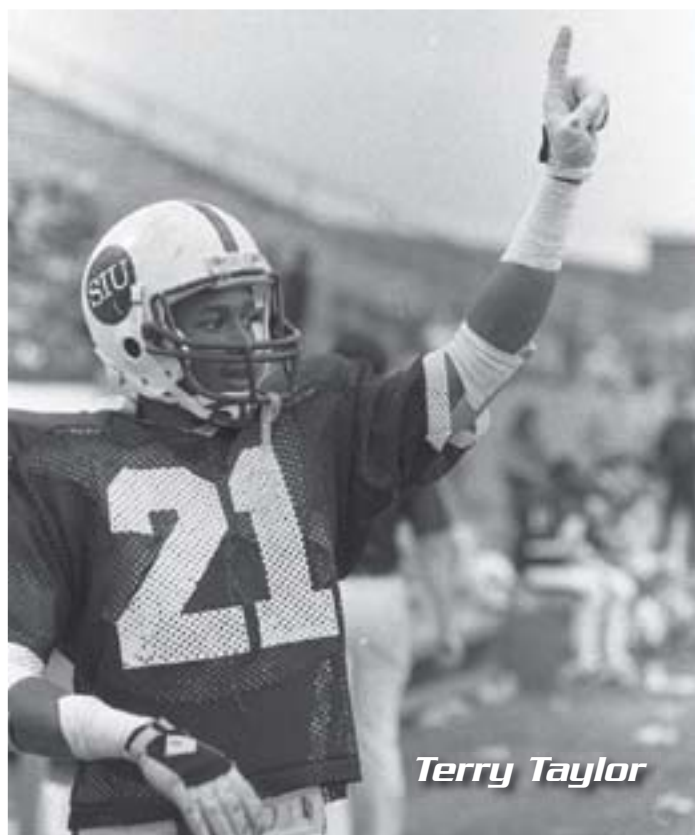

"You always had the sense that someone had your back," Johnson said. "We all hung out together. When you get that, everything starts to work together."

Ironically, despite being so dominant, the Salukis were not a team of superstars. There was no, one, star player, just a focused group of team-players with one common goal.

"You can name any player on the team," Dempsey told Greg Hardwig of the Southern Illinoisan in 1997, "and you can say 'Hey, he was very vital to us.'"

"You give credit to coach Dempsey," said tailback Sterling Haywood, "he kept us humble."

None of the players' indi-

Terry Taylor

vidual stats jump out at you. But the only stat that really mattered certainly does — SIU averaged 32.6 points per game that season and gave up just 14.3.

"I think 28 of those were scored by the defense," Johnson said, half-seriously. "Our defense was awesome. We just had studs."

Primarily in their second-year, which featured cornerbacks Terry Taylor and Donnell Daniel. Taylor went on to be a first-round NFL draft pick and have a, 11-year career.

"With Terry Taylor," Johnson said, "you could see the fear in the quarterback's eyes."

The duo were also dangerous on special teams, as Taylor specialized in blocking kicks, while Daniel was a threat on punt returns.

Safeties Greg Shipp and B.T. Thomas joined them in a secondary that picked off seven West Carolina passes in the National Championship game.

Linebackers Granville Butler, Fabray Collins, Dan Wetzel and Mike Brascia, plus linemen Ed Norman, Ken Foster and Haywood rounded out the unit.

SIU's offense was solid, but not spectacular, led by fifth-year senior Johnson. Their backfield featured tailback Derrick Taylor, fullback Corky Field and Terry Green. Wideouts James Stevenson and Cecil Ratliff were Johnson's primary targets, as were tight ends Cary Shephard and Carbondale native Mike O'Day.

"The defense was really good, but the offense put up a lot of points too," Haywood said.

Future NFL star Tom Baugh anchored a young offensive line at center, flanked by guards David Bock and Mark Banburry and tackles Ralph Van Dyke and John Cook.

The Salukis' success throughout the regular season can be attributed mostly to talent...and a little luck.

For the most part, SIU dominated. Wins over Western Illinois, Southeast Missouri State, Northern Iowa, Drake, Southwest Missouri State, Indiana State and New Mexico State were all decided by at least two touchdowns.

But the second game of the year, a 17-14 win over defending Division II national champion Eastern Illinois, is considered by Johnson, Dempsey and Haywood as the flashpoint of the season.

A blocked punt by Frank Carr that was recovered in the end zone tied the game at 14 late, and freshman Ron Miller kicked a field goal to provide the margin of victory later.

"I think we were just a normal team until the Eastern game," Johnson said. "I think that was a turning point. It seemed like we could never beat them.

"That's when it was like 'That's it, there is no turning back. That's when our team got the swagger.'"

The Salukis pulled out two other close games during the regular season, coming back from a 28-21 halftime deficit to beat Arkansas State, and shocking Illinois State, 28-26.

The Redbirds held a 26-21

lead, and had the ball in Saluki territory late in the game.

The game appeared to be over. But a pair of bad snaps — thanks in large part to a noisy McAndrew Stadium crowd — forced the Redbirds to punt deep in their own territory. SIU then drove in for the game-winning touchdown on the ensuing series.

The only blemish of the season turned out to be a blessing. At 10-0 and ranked 20th overall in the country (I-A and I-AA) going into the regular-season finale, the Salukis were humbled.

Wichita State ruined SIU's perfect season with a 28-6 thumping, costing the Salukis the Missouri Valley Conference title.

Fortunately, the loss just made SIU stronger.

"They didn't panic after the Wichita State game," Dempsey said. "That made them angry.

"It was a wake-up call," Johnson said.

"We lost conference," Haywood said. "We blew that. We definitely didn't want to blow it in playoffs."

"I don't think it phased us one bit," Johnson said. "I think it missed us off."

Did it ever.

Despite the loss, the Salukis entered the playoffs as the No. 1 seed, getting a first round bye. With home field advantage, they rolled past Indiana State and Nevada-Reno by identical 23-7 scores to advance to the championship in Charleston, S.C.

The confidence displayed in the regular season only intensified before their showdown with West Carolina.

SIU was so ready for their opponent that coach Dempsey canceled a team meeting the night before the game.

"He said 'this game is over,'" Haywood said. "And he told us to go back to our hotel rooms."

The Salukis were so anxious the next morning that many of them skipped the pre-game meal.

"Some of the players asked if they could take their steak and put it in a bag," Dempsey said. "They were ready to play."

The Salukis were able to back up that swagger from the opening kickoff to the final seconds.

"To tell you the truth, it was total dominance," Haywood said.

The Salukis picked off seven WCU passes in the game, and led 33-0 entering the fourth quarter. Johnson led the offense, completing 19-of-25 pass for 213 yards and three touchdowns in his final game at SIU.

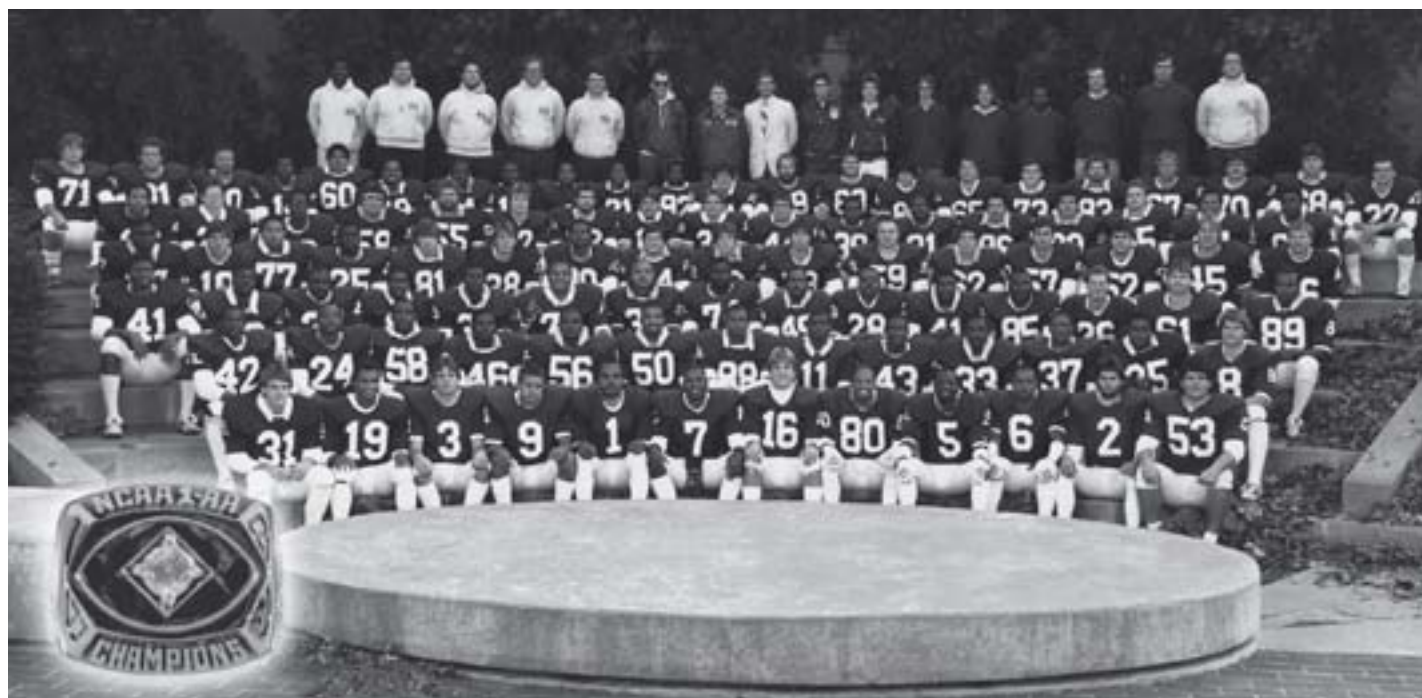

"We thought it would be a very close game because they had tremendous speed and great coaching staff," Dempsey said. "But we never expected that big of a lead."

"They were determined they were going to win that game."

To listen to Dempsey and Johnson reflect on that season, one would guess it happened a few weeks ago. But its been a while, and a lot has changed.

Johnson is now an actor, appearing in such films as Jerry Maguire, Any Given Sunday, and The Rock. Dempsey is a senior pastor at his church in Ohio.

But the Saluki program may be on the verge of going full circle. Twenty-one years after winning the National Championship, the Salukis are among the preseason favorites to compete for the national title.
