PHIL MARTELLI Head Coach

Now in his 19th season as Saint Joseph's University head coach, Phil Martelli has built a program that is consistently one of the top in the conference, a perennial post-season participant and a key player on the national scene, while earning his place among the top coaches in the school's storied history. He has worked 29 years overall at SJU, including 10 seasons as an assistant coach.

Martelli is the Hawks' all-time leader in career victories with a mark of 359-246. He set the record with the victory over Morgan State on December 28, 2011, breaking the mark held by Bill Ferguson (309). Setting the school record for wins in a season (30) in 2004, Martelli has guided SJU to 20 or more victories eight times in his 19 seasons, which is the most for any Hawks coach.

Martelli is the dean of Atlantic 10 coaches as the longest tenured coach currently in the league. He also ranks second all-time in the league in overall career victories, and with a 178-126 mark in Atlantic 10 play, owns the most conference wins for any active coach.

One of the more respected coaches in the game, he is currently the President of the NABC's Board of Directors and is a member of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Ethics Coalition.

The 2012-13 season saw an experienced Saint Joseph's squad reach the Atlantic 10 Quarterfinals and earn a second consecutive NIT bid, for the 11th postseason berth in Martelli's career. Among the highlights of the season was a win over nationally-ranked Notre Dame in the Coaches vs. Cancer Classic, a victory over local rival Temple and two wins over conference foe Xavier.

In 2011-12, Martelli and the Hawks became one of nine teams in the nation to win 20 games after losing 20 the previous season, and also returned to the postseason with an NIT bid. Saint Joseph's boasted a young and exciting squad, and one of the most balanced in school history, as five different players received Atlantic 10 honors, the most ever for the Hawks. SJU also scored two wins over Top 25 teams (Creighton and Temple) and Martelli became SJU's all-time leader in victories.

In 2010-11, Martelli guided the youngest squad in his career, which included three freshman starters.

The Hawks made an exciting late-season run, earning a berth in the A-10 Tournament with a win in the final regular-season game, and won two games in the tourney to reach the semifinals. He reached two milestones with his 300th career victory (March 11) and his 150th conference win (March 5), while also coaching his 500th game and 250th A-10 contest.

Martelli faced a challenge in 2009-10 with a young and inexperienced squad that went 11-20, coming off a 2008-09 season that saw the Hawks go 17-15 for his ninth consecutive winning season.

Among the highlights of '08-09 was Ahmad Nivins earning AP Honorable Mention All-America honors and becoming the third Hawk in six years to garner the Atlantic 10's Player of the Year Award. Nivins was also chosen by the Dallas Mavericks in the 2009 NBA Draft, becoming the third player coached by Martelli to be drafted.

The 2007-08 Hawks reached the Atlantic 10 Championship game for the third time in four years and earned the program's 19th bid to the NCAA Tournament, and Martelli's fifth. The 11th-seeded Hawks fell to sixth-seeded Oklahoma in the NCAA First Round, while ending the year at 21-13.

Martelli has been at his best when it counts the most as his 17 postseason wins (6 NCAA, 11 NIT) are the most in school history, ahead of Ramsay's 12. Martelli ranks first among Hawk coaches with a .608 postseason winning percentage (17-11) and has taken SJU to the postseason in nine of the last 13 years, and 11 times in his 18 seasons.

Martelli turned in another top-notch coaching performance in 2005-06, as the Hawks went from a 10-12 record to win eight consecutive games to reach the Atlantic 10 championship game for the second year in a row. SJU was rewarded with its sixth consecutive postseason bid, but saw the season come to an end in the NIT Second Round.

In 2004-05, Martelli turned in perhaps a more remarkable coaching job than in 2003-04 when he was the consensus National Coach of the Year. Faced with the loss of two NBA first-round draft picks, the 2004-05 Hawks struggled early on, but Martelli guided SJU to 21 wins in the calendar year of 2005 to finish 24-12. Saint Joseph's posted the conference's best record (14-2), won its fifth straight regular-season title to tie the league record, earned the A-10's top seed and reached the title game. He was named the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year for the second straight season and the fourth time in his career. SJU made an exciting six-game run in the NIT, falling on a last-second shot in the championship game.

In 2003-04, Martelli guided a focused and unselfish squad that became the most compelling story in college basketball. The Hawks went undefeated in the regular season, reached the pinnacle as the top-ranked team in the nation and earned the school's first-ever number-one seed in the NCAA Tournament, while advancing to the Elite Eight. Jameer Nelson was the consensus National Player of the Year and with teammate Delonte West, were both first-round selections in the NBA Draft. SJU opened the season ranked 12th in the polls and moved up throughout the year, taking the top spot on March 8, 2004, for the first time ever, while finishing fifth in the polls, for SJU's highest final ranking since 1966.

Martelli joined with Nelson to sweep the national coach and player awards, marking one of the few times in history that the top player and coach were from the same school. In addition to the national awards, he was the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year for the third time and a repeat winner of the Big 5 Coach of the Year.

He served as head coach of the 2005 USA Under-21 World Championship Team, which finished in fifth place finish at the FIBA U21 World Championships.

A 1976 graduate of Widener, Martelli began his career on Hawk Hill with SJU's 1985-86 NCAA Tournament team. After 10 years as an assistant at Saint Joseph's, Martelli was named the 14th coach in school history on July 20, 1995, and just the third non-alumnus to follow in the storied tradition of SJU coaches.

Martelli burst onto the scene in his first season (1995-96) and took the squad to the NIT championship game. He followed that in 1996-97 with the Atlantic 10 regular season and tournament titles, along with a berth in the NCAA Sweet 16.

Prior to his arrival at SJU, Martelli spent seven years as head basketball coach at Bishop Kenrick High School and had a stint as assistant coach at Widener, helping guide the Pioneers to the 1978 NCAA Division III Final Four.

As a point guard at Widener, he was part of the NCAA Tournament teams in 1975 and 1976, and set the school's single season and career assist marks.

Martelli and his wife, Judy, a former basketball player with the national champion Immaculata College teams in the 1970s, have three children - Phil, Jr., Jimmy and Elizabeth. Phil, Jr. is an assistant basketball coach at the University of Delaware while he and Elizabeth are both Saint Joseph's graduates. The Martelli's have five young grandchildren, Philip Stephen, and Marra, who are the children of Phil, Jr., and wife Meghan; newborn twins Brynley and Avery, who are the daughters of Jimmy and wife Julie; and newborn Madalyn, who is the child of Elizabeth and Patrick Jefferies.

(full recap on pg. 27)

ALL-LEAGUE HAWKS: Saint Joseph's freshman DeAndre' Bembry was named the Atlantic 10's Co-Rookie of the Year, sharing the award with E.C. Matthews of Rhode Island. Senior starters Langston Galloway (First Team), Halil Kanacevic (Second Team) and Ronald Roberts, Jr. (Third Team), were each chosen to the 2014 Atlantic 10 All-Conference Teams, in voting by the league's coaches. It marks the most Hawks to receive All-Conference honors since 2002-03 when Jameer Nelson, Delonte West and Pat Carroll were each named to the All-League Team. Bembry, who is also an All-Rookie Team selection, becomes the first SJU Player to earn the A-10's Rookie of the Year honor since Nelson in 2000-01. Galloway, a second-team honoree in 2012, earns first-team recognition for the first time. Kanacevic, who received honorable mention in 2012, is also named to the Second Team for the first time in his career. Roberts earns Third-Team honors for the second year in a row.

ON A ROLL: Saint Joseph's has gone 17-5 since a loss to #14 Villanova in December, but that roll has been tempered by two losses in the final week of the regular season. Prior to the loss at GW, Saint Joseph's owned a six-game winning streak, which was the longest since a seven-game streak in 2008-09. The Hawks went 6-2 in January and had a 6-1 mark in February, and are now 1-2 in March.

20-20: The Hawks have matched the win total from the 2007-08 season when SJU reached the NCAA Tournament. Phil Martelli has guided the Hawks to 20-plus wins eight times in his career, and in two of the past three seasons (20 wins in 2011-12).

A WIN TODAY.. :

- would give SJU its most victories (22) since 2004-05 (24)
- its first berth in an A-10 Semifinal since 2011

GOOD BYE: The Hawks finished in a tie for third place in the league but earned the fourth seed and the bye due to the tiebreaker with GW. It is the Hawks' first bye in the conference tournament since 2004-05 and is the highest league finish for the Hawks since 2004-05 when they placed first in the East Division.

TOURNAMENT FIXTURE: The Hawks have qualified for 32 consecutive Atlantic 10 Tournaments, playing in every one since joining the league in 1981-82.

FOR OPENERS: SJU owns an all-time record of 14-14 in the A-10 Quarterfinals and is seeking its first berth in the semifinals since 2011. Last year, the Hawks were the 10th seed and edged 7th-seeded Xavier in the Opening Round, 58-57, and fell short to 2nd-seeded VCU, 82-79, in the Quarterfinals.

TOURNEY TALES: Saint Joseph's has posted a 34-29 all-time record in the Atlantic 10 Tournament. The Hawks have reached the championship game five times (1986, 1997, 2005, 2006, 2008).

THE VETERAN: Phil Martelli is the dean of Atlantic 10 coaches as the longest tenured active coach in the league. He's also been through 39 A-10 Tournament games and owns a 22-17 record in championship play.

TOP ROOKIE: DeAndre' Bembry established himself as one of the top rookies in the Atlantic 10, confirmed by his Co-Rookie of the Year award. The freshman, who was in the starting lineup from the first game, set a new career-high with 22 points at George Washington, while tying his personal best with eight assists. He ranks third on the team in scoring with 12.2 points per game and also ranks third in rebounds (4.5), assists (2.6) and field goal percentage (46.7), while topping the team in steals (1.0). The 6-6 wing player has tallied double figures in 21 games, including the last eight in a row.

TOP THREE: Langston Galloway now ranks third on the Hawks' all-time scoring list with 1,898 career points, an average of 14.7 per game. He is 87 points away from second place and Bernard Blunt's total of 1,985.

CAREER SCORING

4. Carl Jones	2009-13	126	1,845
5. Ahmad Nivins	2005-09	127	1,789

MR. DEPENDABLE: Langston Galloway has set the SJU record for career starts with 128 in 129 games. That breaks the mark of 125 career starts previously held by Jameer Nelson (2000-04)

THE COMPLETE GAME: The Hawks put together one of their most complete games in the 79-53 win over Dayton, snapping the Flyers' six-game winning streak. SJU jumped out to an 8-0 lead and was up by double digits with less than seven minutes gone by. The Hawks held a 30-point lead with over six minutes to play. Among the key stats of the game were:

- SJU FG%- 58.3; Dayton FG%- 31.7
- SJU 3FG%- 60.0; Dayton 3FG%- 22.7
- 8 turnovers by SJU; 11 by Dayton
- 19 assists on 28 field goals by SJU; 8 assists on 20 field goals by Dayton
- 39 first-half pts by SJU; 20 first-half pts by Dayton

RAINING THREES: Langston Galloway put on another long-range shooting exhibition vs. Fordham as he set the school record with 10 three-pointers en route to scoring a career-high 33 points. The senior made 3-of-5 in the first half and 7-of-10 in the second half, to hit 66.7 percent (10-of-15) in the game. The previous SJU record was nine by Brian Leahy vs. Duquesne on Jan. 17, 1988. Galloway scored 24 points in the second half, which matched his career best set earlier this season against Duquesne. In that game, the senior connected on 9-of-11 shots in the half, including 6-of-7 three-pointers to score 24 points in 19 minutes.

ALL-AROUND GUY: Halil Kanacevic is the only player to wear the Saint Joseph's uniform and amass over 1,000 points, 900 rebounds, 300 assists and 200 blocks in his collegiate career. He currently has 1,093 points, 978 boards, 390 assists, and 210 blocks, totals which include his freshman year at Hofstra. In looking at where those totals rank among SJU's career leaders, Kanacevic ranks 39th in points, fifth in rebounds; ninth in assists and fifth in blocks.

PROUD PHIL: Phil Martelli has five grandchildren and three of them were born during this season. His son Jimmy and wife Julie had twin girls, Avery and Brynley, born on Jan. 21-22, which was the morning of SJU's game at Rhode Island. Then daughter Elizabeth and husband Patrick Jefferies had their first child, Madalyn, born on March 5. Martelli found out about the birth of Madalyn while at shootaround for the game at George Washington. His oldest grandchildren are Philip Stephen (4) and Marra (2), who are the children of son Phil, Jr., and wife Meghan.

FOUL BALL: Despite having done a good job of limiting their fouls all season, the past two road games have been tough for the Hawks with the whistle. SJU was called for 21 fouls at St. Bonaventure and 22 at George Washington, above the team's average of 15.7. At St. Bonaventure, Halil Kanacevic picked up his fourth early in the second half and played just five minutes in the second half. Ronald Roberts also fouled out late in the game, but not before hitting 7-of-8 field goals and finishing with 15 points. In the GW game, Kanacevic played a season-low 13 minutes and fouled out with 6:55 to play, finishing the game without an assist. SJU committed 20 fouls in the loss to La Salle, but 10 of them came in the last five minutes as the Hawks were trying to get the ball back.

FOUR TO SCORE: Saint Joseph's owns an 11-5 record when at least four players reach double figures in the game.

EASY POINTS: The Hawks have had their struggles from the foul line this year, shooting 64.4 percent. But SJU has gotten to the line 150 more times than its opponents. And despite the shooting percentage, the Hawks have still made 69 more free throws than their foes.

ROAD WARRIORS: Saint Joseph's owns an 8-4 record on the road this year, which is the most road wins since 2007-08, when that squad went 9-6. The Hawks are 2-1 thus far in neutral site games.

STRAIGHT SHOOTERS: Ronald Roberts and Halil Kanacevic rank first and second, respectively, in the A-10 for field goal percentage in league games. Roberts converted 59.7 percent while Kanacevic hit 58.7 percent from the field.

CAN'T MISS CHRIS: Chris Wilson converted all eight field goal attempts, including three three-pointers, in the Hawks' dominating win over Dayton. The junior point guard scored 11 points in the first half on 5-for-5 shooting, and then finished the game with a career-high 20 points. It ranked up there with some of the other "perfect" shooting games in Hawk history - the last one prior to Wilson's effort was Delonte West's 12-for-12 performance at Xavier on Jan. 17, 2004.

WINNING WITH BALANCE: In the Hawks' 21 wins, all five starters are averaging double figures. Langston Galloway leads the way with 17.7 ppg, with Ronald Roberts averaging 15.4 points and DeAndre' Bembry scoring 11.5. Halil Kanacevic and Chris Wilson are each averaging 10.0 ppg in the victories.

BOUNCING BACK: After a six-point effort at Rhode Island, Langston Galloway bounced back in a big way vs. Fordham with 33 points and a school-record 10 three-pointers. The longest stretch of his career in which the senior has scored less than 10 points is a three-game streak in January, 2013. Phil Martelli said, "He's done it through his whole career. It's very rare that he has two or three games in a row where he's playing poorly. You know, Lang gets it. He's a senior. He's got three left in this building. And he wanted to leave people with a memory on this one." Earlier this year, Galloway rebounded from two straight single-digit games to score 24 in the win over VCU. He has tallied double figures in 95 of the 129 games of his career and in all but five games this season.

DOING IT ALL: Halil Kanacevic fills the boxscore unlike any other player. In the Feb. 22 win over Dayton, he had 10 points, eight rebounds, eight assists and four blocked shots. He had a double-double against Creighton with 10 rebounds and 10 assists, which was the first of his career in those categories. That came after a 12-point, 11-rebound, 8-assist effort in the win over Marist. Then there was the career game - 27 points, 14 rebounds, 4 assists, 2 blocks - in the win over Drexel. Against #19 UMass, the senior had 19 points, 13 rebounds and six assists. Phil Martelli has called the senior the team's "most indispensable player."

DOMINATING DUO: Ronald Roberts and Chris Wilson combined for 42 points on 16-for-19 shooting against Dayton. The duo had the same amount of points as Dayton did with over four minutes to play - but the Flyers were shooting 16-for-56 from the field as a team.

STREAK STATS: The Hawks put up some impressive numbers in the six-game winning streak. Langston Galloway averaged 19.2 ppg during the streak, while Ronald Roberts averaged 15.3 points and 7.3 rebounds and DeAndre' Bembry scored 14.8 ppg, while tallying double digits in all six.

RALLY CAPS: The Hawks have won nine games in which they trailed at some point of the second half - Vermont, Washington State, Drexel, Boston University, Denver, George Mason, Rhode Island (two games), Dayton and St. Bonaventure. In three of those wins, Saint Joseph's trailed by double figures during the game. Those were:

Game	Biggest Deficit (Half)
Boston Univ.	12 (1st)
Denver	11 (1st)
Rhode Island	10 (2nd)

THE 600 CLUB: The win at Rhode Island was the 600th game of Phil Martelli's head coaching career. Martelli has posted a school-record 359 wins in 19 seasons at Saint Joseph's. The Fordham game was the 300th Atlantic 10 game of his career, and he owns 178 conference wins.

LONG-DISTANCE LEADER: Langston Galloway is Saint Joseph's all-time leader in career three-pointers with 326. Galloway hit three three-pointers at Richmond to break the record of 294 held by Big 5 Hall of Fame inductee Pat Carroll (2001-05). He also holds the school single-game record after he connected on 10 vs. Fordham while his total of 94 threes on the season is tied as the third best all-time.

CAREER 3-POINT FIELD GOALS

Name	Seasons	G	3FG
1. Langston Galloway	2010-	129	326
2. Pat Carroll	2001-05	98	294
3. Darrin Govens	2006-10	124	244
4. Marvin O'Connor	1999-02	89	231
5. Jameer Nelson	2000-04	125	229

STEPPING UP: The Hawks showed their balance again at St. Bonaventure, earning the win even though starter Halil Kanacevic was saddled with foul trouble and played just 19 minutes. Langston Galloway led the way again with 27 points, but the Hawks got a boost off the bench from sophomore Isaiah Miles, who scored 11 points. DeAndre' Bembry (18 pts) and Ronald Roberts (15 pts) also paced the Hawks, who shot an impressive 63.6 percent from the field in the game.

LUCKY SEVENS: SJU outscored Fordham, 21-2, early in the second half. But what was more remarkable was that the Hawks scored three points on each of seven consecutive possessions. Langston Galloway knocked down five three-pointers in the four-minute stretch, while Chris Wilson also hit a three and Halil Kanacevic had a three-point play.

WINNING WITH WILSON: Chris Wilson's career-best game vs. Dayton was the 12th game in double figures this season for the junior. He also had 18 points on 6-for-11 three-point shooting against Creighton and scored 17 points at Loyola, hitting 4-of-5 from the field and 3-of-4 from three-point range.

DEANDRE'S DEFENSE: DeAndre' Bembry has often been called on to guard the opponents' top scorer. Bembry drew the assignment of Tyreek Duren at La Salle and although Duren scored the Explorers' first eight points of the game, the Hawks' freshman shut him down the rest of the way, allowing the La Salle star just seven more points.

LATE-GAME HEROICS: Langston Galloway banked in a three-pointer with 1.8 seconds to play to give the Hawks a 60-57 win at Dayton on Jan. 29. It was the first game-winning shot of his SJU career.

ONE OF A KIND: Halil Kanacevic is a unique player and he's one of a few in the country to lead his team in rebounds (8.3), assists (4.4) and blocks (1.6). Stephen Madison of Idaho leads his team in those three categories as well as points and steals, while Jerrelle Benimon of Towson is his team's leader in rebounds, assists and blocks.

BIG-TIME BEMBRY: DeAndre' Bembry had a big-time game in the win over VCU. The Hawks used the freshman to bring the ball upcourt against VCU's pressure and he scored 18 points on 8-for-13 shooting while grabbing six rebounds. Among the plays on his highlight reel were a three-pointer near the end of the first half that gave SJU a 10-point lead, and a lob pass to Ronald Roberts for an alley-oop dunk that pushed the lead to 13 points with 5:56 to play. He also had a solid game at La Salle, scoring 16 second-half points after going scoreless in the first half.

AT THE LINE: Saint Joseph's has struggled at the foul line practically all season, but has also come through with some solid efforts. In the three games prior to GW, the Hawks were shooting 77.7 percent, compared to the current season percentage of 64.7. The best performance of the year was 81.8 percent at La Salle, with the worst in 10 games (54.5) coming against the Explorers at home on March 9. That gives SJU two consecutive sub-.600 shooting efforts from the foul line.

THREE-HEADED MONSTER: Phil Martelli joked that in the UMass game, Halil Kanacevic served as player, coach and referee - referring to the senior's vocal nature and the "help" he provides during the game to the SJU coaching staff and the officials.

BALANCED ATTACK: A testament to the Hawks' balance came when SJU led #21 UMass by 16 points at halftime and leading scorer Langston Galloway didn't have a point. The senior played just 12 minutes in the first half as he was saddled with two fouls. That happened again at Rhode Island when Galloway went scoreless in the first half and finished the game with six points. Ronald Roberts picked up the slack, scoring 18 points, while DeAndre' Bembry and Halil Kanacevic scored 12 apiece. Four of five Saint Joseph's starters are now averaging double figures, led by Galloway at 17.0 ppg. The Hawks have had four players score in double figures in 16 of 30 games and all five starters score double figures once (at La Salle).

AVOIDING THE WHISTLE: The Hawks have done a good job limiting their fouls this season and rank eighth in the nation with the fewest fouls per game (15.9). SJU's total of 476 personal fouls also ranks as the fifth best in the nation. At La Salle, the Hawks went until 5:23 remained in the first half without being whistled for a foul. Phil Martelli pointed out that Halil Kanacevic has been successful in limiting his fouls this season and that's allowed the senior to stay on the court. Kanacevic, who is averaging 3.7 fouls per game, has played all 40 minutes in six games this year. He has only been disqualified six times, but the most costly one came in the loss at George Washington.

IRON MEN: The Hawks' starters have logged a lot of minutes during A-10 play, with all five averaging over 32 minutes per game. Langston Galloway leads the way with 37.3 minutes and ranks second in the league in A-10 games only. Galloway leads the squad in minutes in all games with 35.7, a number that ranks third in the Atlantic 10.

MOVING ON UP: Ronald Roberts, Jr. eclipsed the 1,300-point mark vs. Dayton (Feb. 25) and now ranks 25th on the all-time scoring list with 1,345 career points, an average of 10.6 per game.

16. Ronald Roberts	2010-	127	825

SENIOR MOMENTS: Phil Martelli has repeatedly praised this group of players for their character on and off the court. And he's singled out the seniors for leading the way. After the win over La Salle, Martelli said,

"Seniors, seniors. They have been special since the summer when we were preparing for Italy. They were great on that trip and they've been great every practice. When I looked at the stat sheet at halftime, I thought that the seniors are taking us here."

SENSE OF BALANCE: The Hawks had their most balanced game of the year at La Salle as all five starters scored double figures for the first time this season. The Hawks also shot 49 percent from the field and went a season-best 81.8 percent from the foul line. SJU also committed just eight turnovers while forcing La Salle into 13 turnovers.

HEATING UP: Saint Joseph's shot 59.2 percent from the field vs. Fordham, tied as the second best number of the season, and made 15-of-29 from three-point range (51.7 percent). The Hawks also shot over 70 percent from the foul line (73.7 pct) for only the eighth time this year. Helping the team's field goal percentage were 4-for-4 efforts by both Ronald Roberts and Halil Kanacevic.

CRYING FOUL: As one of the teams in the nation with the fewest personal fouls per game, the Hawks faced a different situation at Rhode Island on Feb. 19. DeAndre' Bembry picked up his second foul at 15:27 of the first half and sat the rest of the half. Halil Kanacevic was whistled for his second with over six minutes left in the first half and then he and Bembry picked up their third fouls in the first six minutes of the second half. Kanacevic got his fourth with over 10 minutes to play in the second half, but stayed in the rest of the game. Ronald Roberts had four fouls with over six minutes remaining, but finished the contest playing all 40 minutes. Bembry was whistled for his fourth at 5:32 of the second half, but finished out the Hawk victory.

COMEBACK KIDS: The Hawks fought back from a 10-point deficit at Rhode Island to score the 57-54 win. Ronald Roberts helped pace the win with 11 of his 18 points in the second half. Trailing by 10 at 14:27, the Hawks went on a 9-0 run and tied the game on a three-point play by Roberts at 9:57. The Hawks went up by 53-48 on a three-pointer by Papa Ndao and eventually sealed the win on a layup by Halil Kanacevic with 34 seconds to go. After shooting just 35.7 percent from the field and making 1-of-10 from three-point range in the first half, the Hawks hit 12-of-21 shots and 3-of-6 three-point attempts in the second half. It was the second biggest deficit overcome for victory this season.

20-20: After just missing a triple-double at Penn, Halil Kanacevic was within one rebound of a 20-20 game at Richmond. The senior had 21 points and a career-high 19 rebounds in the loss. Classmate Langston Galloway has scored 20-plus points 11 times this year, and in 34 games of his career, which is one of the best numbers in the A-10.

RIGHTING THE SHIP: After consecutive losses to city rivals Temple and Villanova (30-point loss) in early December, Saint Joseph's has gone 17-5 since then and Phil Martelli credits the players for the turnaround. "These guys looked at each other and decided that if they kept coming every day and kept themselves tight, then good things would happen. It was all of them. Not one guy wavered. I would say the strength of this group is the group and that's what they leaned on."

MISSED GAMES: Ronald Roberts, Jr., made his return to the starting lineup at Penn after missing the George Mason and Duquesne games with back spasms suffered at UMass. They were the first games in his career that Roberts missed, ending a consecutive-game streak of 113. Isaiah Miles was also back in action at Penn after missing three games (UMass, George Mason, Duquesne) due to a concussion suffered in the Denver game on Jan. 4.

BEMBRY'S WEEK: DeAndre' Bembry was named the Atlantic 10 Co-Rookie of the Week for Feb. 10, as he averaged 11.5 points and four rebounds per game in the Hawks' 1-1 week. Bembry scored 18 points and added six rebounds as the Hawks topped VCU, 69-62. He also added three assists and a game-high three steals in the win. It was the second weekly honor for Bembry as he was previously honored on Nov. 18.

REPEAT HONOREE: Halil Kanacevic was named the Philadelphia Big 5 Co-Player of the Week for February 3. It marked the third time this season that he's earned the Big 5 honor. The forward averaged 13.0 points, 8.5 rebounds and 4.0 assists and shot 55 percent from the field (11-for-20) from the field. In the Hawks' last-second 60-57 win at Dayton, Kanacevic had eight points along with a team-high 11 rebounds and two blocked shots, connecting on 4-of-9 field goal attempts. He also surpassed 1,000 points and 900 rebounds for his career in that game, a total which includes his freshman season at Hofstra.

TRIPLE PLAY: Halil Kanacevic just missed the rare triple-double against Penn, falling one point short. The senior had nine points, 15 rebounds and tied his career-high with 12 assists. The last time a Hawk achieved a triple-double was Dwayne Jones versus St. Bonaventure on Feb. 19, 2005, when he had 11 points, 11 rebounds and 10 blocks.

BACK IN FORM: Langston Galloway has returned to the long-range shooting form from his sophomore season, when he was the top three-point shooter in the A-10 and ranked fourth in the nation with 46.6 percent. The senior is currently third in the A-10 with 42.6 percent and first with 3.0 three-pointers made. He ranks 18th in the nation in three-point percentage and 22nd in both threes made per game and total three-pointers (94).

THE POINT FORWARD: Halil Kanacevic's unique passing ability for a forward allows the Hawk offense to often run through him. He has been SJU's leader in assists for the past two seasons and currently leads the team in rebounds (8.3) and assists (4.4), while ranking fourth in the A-10 in both rebounds and assists.

FAB FROSH: DeAndre' Bembry is third on the team in scoring with 12.2 points per game. He's on track to finish the season averaging double figures, and if he does so, will become the first freshman since Langston Galloway to accomplish that. Galloway averaged 12.8 ppg in his rookie season (2010-11).

GAME OF THREES: The Hawks have put on a few long-range shooting exhibitions this season, particularly a season-best 17-for-27 (63.0 percent) effort in the win over Duquesne. It marked the most three-pointers made since a school-record 20 by the Hawks against Temple in the 2003-04 season. SJU has also hit 14 three-pointers in a game twice this year, against Binghamton and Creighton, and then made 15 in wins over Penn and Fordham. Langston Galloway was responsible for a school-record 10 threes in the Fordham win. SJU averages 7.4 three-pointers made per game, a number which is second best in the A-10.

FACE THE NATION: Langston Galloway is fourth in the nation among Division I active career leaders for three-point field goals, with his career total of 321. He also ranks 29th in threes made per game (2.53) and 38th in three-point percentage (42.0). The top five players in career three-pointers made are:

Name, School	G	3FGM *
1. Travis Bader, Oakland	137	504
2. Akeem Richmond, E. Carolina	136	400
3. Sean Armand, Iona	135	345
4. Langston Galloway, SJU	129	326

AROUND THE A-10: Langston Galloway leads the Atlantic 10 in three-pointers made (3.0), ranks third in three-point percentage (43.1), and fourth in scoring (17.0). Halil Kanacevic is fourth in rebounding (8.3) and is fourth in assists (4.4), while Ronald Roberts is third in field goal percentage (58.6). As a team, Saint Joseph's leads in field goal percentage in both overall (47.0) and conference games (47.6).

DEPTH PERCEPTION: The injuries to starter Ronald Roberts and sixth man Isaiah Miles in early January emphasized the Hawks' lack of depth. At #19 UMass, SJU was without Miles because of a concussion suffered in the Denver win. Then Roberts suffered back spasms early in the second half (17:05), which sidelined him for the rest of the game. Phil Martelli used only seven players in the rotation and seniors Langston Galloway and Halil Kanacevic played all 40 minutes. It marked the first time in his career that Kanacevic played all 40 minutes - although he did play 44 in an overtime win over Notre Dame last season. The Hawks were without Roberts and Miles at George Mason, but Papa Ndao made the start and contributed a career-high 13 points, and Galloway and Kanacevic logged 40 minutes again. SJU's starters all average over 31 minutes per game.

TAKING SHOTS: The Hawks scored 84 points on just 48 shots against Duquesne, with the point total obviously helped by a season-high 17 three-point field goals. But the amount of shots the Hawks have taken concerns Phil Martelli as he feels the team needs to take at least 60 shots per game. The Hawks got closer to Martelli's "magic number" at Penn, with 55 field goal attempts and then surpassed it in the loss at Richmond, with 70 attempts. Saint Joseph's averaged 50.6 field goal attempts and 18.5 three-point attempts in the eight games during the month of January.

THE BIG THREE: Senior tri-captains Langston Galloway, Halil Kanacevic and Ronald Roberts, Jr., are the core of the Hawks' team and they currently account for 57 percent of SJU's scoring and 55 percent of the rebounding. There have only been four games this year in which the Hawks' leading scorer was not one of those three players. Chris Wilson and DeAndre' Bembrly have each led two games in scoring.

PAPA'S PLAY: Papa Ndao has earned the role of sixth man with his play this year. In the three games prior to the Rhode Island win, the junior made his last 7-of-8 three-point attempts and 9-of-10 total shots. He hit two crucial free throws with 12 seconds to play in the win over Massachusetts but was unavailable for the VCU game because of the flu.

ON THE MARK: Ronald Roberts ranks second in SJU history in career field goal percentage, converting 56.5 percent from the field (522-924). Ahmad Nivins, who was the 2009 A-10 Player of the Year, is the all-time leader with 62.7 percent.

NOW'S THE TIME: Papa Ndao stepped up in a big way at George Mason, replacing Ronald Roberts in the starting lineup. The junior made the sixth start of his career and responded with a perfect shooting game to score a career-high 13 points. It marked his first time in double figures as he went 4-for-4 from the field, making three three-pointers, and hitting two free throws in the final minute. Ndao played a career-high 37 minutes - his previous high was 20 minutes. He also started the Duquesne game and grabbed a team-high seven rebounds.

BIG MAN ON CAMPUS: Saint Joseph's senior Langston Galloway was named the Philadelphia Big 5 Player of the Week for Feb. 17. It was the second time this season that he has earned the honor and the sixth time in his career. The guard led a balanced effort by Saint Joseph's in the 75-

64 win over Atlantic 10 and city rival La Salle. He scored a game-high 18 points, with 10 in the first half, while hitting 5-of-12 from the field and grabbing four rebounds. Galloway went 6-for-6 from the foul line, with 4-of-4 in the last minute of play to seal the win. He also earned Big 5 honor on Jan. 20 when he averaged 23.0 pts, 4.0 rebounds and 2.0 assists as SJU defeated Duquesne and Penn. He had one of the best shooting weeks of his career as he hit 68 percent (17-for-25) from the field and a blistering 70.5 percent (12-for-17) from three-point range.

HOLDING ON: Against UMass on Feb. 1, Saint Joseph's shot 44.8 percent from the field and 62.5 percent from three-point range in the first half and held a 17-point lead with a minute to play. Up 41-25 at halftime, the Hawks cooled off and made just 1-of-5 from behind the arc and 36.4 percent from the field, allowing UMass to climb back into the game and tie it with 1:23 to play. Struggling from the foul line all year, the Hawks ironically won the game by making 6-of-8 free throws down the stretch, led by two from Chris Wilson and two from Papa Ndao.

FROZEN: Either the ice storm or the Saint Louis defense froze the Hawks' offense in the 65-49 loss to the Billikens. Saint Joseph's shot just 27.3 percent in the first half, and just 31.9 percent in the game. The Hawks had their worst effort of the season from the three-point line, going just 1-for-15.

ON THE SIDELINE: Kyle Molock is sidelined for the rest of the year. The redshirt freshman reinjured his right knee in practice earlier this month and had successful surgery on February 7 to again repair the ACL of that knee, of which he previously had surgery in August 2012. The injury to his right knee that took place in August 2012, was the second on that knee for Molock, and the third knee injury overall. He was averaging 19.0 points through eight games as a senior at Dublin Coffman when he tore the ACL of his right knee in January 2012; in July of 2010, he suffered a severe injury to all of the major ligaments in his left knee, causing him to miss his junior year.

THE HAWK WILL NEVER DIE: The Saint Joseph's Hawk mascot has been named the best college basketball tradition by NCAA.com in its rankings of the top five traditions. Ranking behind the Hawk are: 2- Kansas' "Rock Chalk, Jayhawk" chant; 3- the "Frisbee Cheer" at UCLA; 4- Duke's "Krzyszewski-Ville" when students camp out for the game with North Carolina; and 5- Wake Forest's "Rolling the Quad" with streamers of white tissue.

TEN YEARS AFTER: It's hard to believe but this season marks the 10th anniversary of Saint Joseph's memorable 2003-04 season, in which the Hawks went 27-0 during the regular season, and 30-2 overall, earned a number-one seed in the NCAA Tournament and reached the Elite Eight, while coming within two points of a Final Four berth. Jameer Nelson and Phil Martelli were the consensus National Player of the Year and National Coach of the Year, respectively, while creating a season on Hawk Hill for the record books.

EVERYBODY INTO THE ACT: All 12 players who were dressed for the game saw action vs. Duquesne. Redshirt freshman Javon Baumann notched career-highs of eight points and five rebounds; Daryus Quarles had a season-high nine points; and senior walk-on Colin Kelly scored his first career points.

THE DUNK CONNECTION: Halil Kanacevic, the team's leader in assists, has a knack for finding Ronald Roberts around the rim. Kanacevic assisted on three of Roberts' five dunks in the Washington State game and has a total of 24 assists on dunks this season, mostly to Roberts.

WINNING WITH WILSON: Point guard Chris Wilson scored in double figures four times during the five-game winning streak in December. Wilson had 11 points against Drexel, 17 at Loyola and tied his career-high with 19 in the win over BU. He shot a career-best 7-for-14 from the field vs. BU, while making 3-of-6 three pointers. He then added 13 points vs. Binghamton.

COMING BACK: The Denver win marked the second time in three games in which the Hawks fought back from an 11-point deficit to earn the victory. SJU trailed BU by 11 with 18:52 to play in the second half and earned a 73-67 win. Against Denver, the Hawks trailed by 11 points mid-way through the first half and picked up the 53-52 win.

ODD OCCURRENCE: Halil Kanacevic went without an assist against Denver. It was the first time since the Butler game on Jan. 9, 2013 that the Hawks' leader in assists did not register one. In the Denver game, however, the Hawks missed 21 shots in the first half. He also did not have an assist at GW, but the senior was limited to 13 minutes of action with foul trouble.

FOUR FOR FOUR: Langston Galloway could become the first Hawk to lead the team for all four years in each of two categories - minutes played and three-point percentage. The senior is currently averaging a team-high 35.7 minutes played per game, and leads the squad in three-point percentage (42.5). No Hawk has led either of those categories for all four years.

HAWKS VS. THE TOP 25: The win over #21 UMass was Saint Joseph's first win over a ranked opponent this season and the first since an overtime win over #20 Notre Dame on Nov. 16, 2012. It was the first Top 25 win at Hagan Arena since an 82-72 win over #22 Temple on Feb. 25, 2012. SJU now owns a 4-7 record against ranked teams in the last three years, counting this season.

POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE: Langston Galloway, Halil Kanacevic and Eric Kindler became Saint Joseph's graduates on December 17, which was the end of the first semester. All three players finished the coursework for their degrees. Kanacevic earned his bachelor's in communications, Galloway received his in sports marketing and Kindler earned a degree in theology. Coach Phil Martelli said it was the first time in his career that he had that many players graduate in December. Both Galloway and Kanacevic will both exhaust their eligibility at the end of this season. Kindler will have one year remaining as he transferred to Saint Joseph's in his sophomore year but did not play basketball.

HAPPY HOMECOMING: Isaiah Miles put together a career-best game vs. Loyola in his hometown of Baltimore. The sophomore scored 11 points in the first half en route to a career-high 17, in just 12 minutes of action. He hit on 4-of-5 shots from the field and made all eight free throw attempts. He then had his second double-figure effort in three games when he scored 11 points in the win over Binghamton.

DYNAMIC DUO: Halil Kanacevic and DeAndre' Bembry combined for 45 of the Hawks' 75 points in the win over Drexel, and had nearly as many as the Dragons scored in the game (55). The duo combined to shoot 19-for-24 from the field.

HAIL HALIL: Halil Kanacevic was named the Big 5 Co-Player of the Week for Dec. 23 after he had a career game to lead the Hawks to the win over Drexel. The senior had a career-high 27 points and added 14 rebounds for the 12th double-double of his career. He also led the team with four assists and two blocks while shooting a personal best 12-for-13 from the field. Phil Martelli said, "Halil was the way he had practiced and the way he had talked. He was really emphatic with his teammates about getting their heads up and moving on to the next challenge." It was the first Big 5 honor of his career, but earned it again on Jan. 13 and Feb. 3.

ROCK OF AGES: This year's squad is one of SJU's most experienced teams in recent years. The average age of the starting five is 21.2 years old. Three Hawks - Langston Galloway, Ronald Roberts and Halil Kanacevic - have each played over 120 games in their college careers.

RAVING ABOUT RON: Phil Martelli had this to say about Ronald Roberts after the LSU game: "Ron has worked at his game. He's been the Most Improved Player as voted by the coaching staff for three years in a row.... And he'd even be a candidate for this year. But what Ron will probably tell you after tonight is that he had three turnovers. I'm happy for him, he's the product of a really great family. He and (asst. coach) Dave Duda have worked on his game every day to try to get better."

FIRST HONOR: DeAndre' Bembry was named the Atlantic 10 Rookie of the Week for Nov. 17. He averaged 14.0 points, 3.5 rebounds and 3.0 assists as the Hawks went 1-1 on the week, while connecting on 54.5 percent from the field and 55.6 percent from three-point range.

ABOUT BEMBRY: Phil Martelli likes what he has seen this season from freshman DeAndre' Bembry: "DeAndre' is a player beyond his age. He's got a really nice way about him and really takes in what you give him."

SEEING DOUBLE: Halil Kanacevic now has a team-high four double-doubles - including one in rebounds (10) and assists (10) vs. Creighton. Ronald Roberts led the Hawks last season with 13 double-doubles on the year and he has two so far, against Marist and Washington State.

ON THE REBOUND: Halil Kanacevic and Ronald Roberts provide the Hawks with a top-notch rebounding tandem. Kanacevic is averaging 8.3 boards and 6.3 defensive rebounds per game while Roberts is grabbing 7.2 boards and 4.5 defensive rebounds. Kanacevic has notched double figures in rebounds nine times this season. SJU's team rebounding margin stands at +2.9, which is the fifth best number in the A-10.

SERVING THE COMMUNITY: Chris Wilson was one of 70 NCAA Men's Division I nominees for the Allstate NABC Good Works Team. The award, now in its second year, recognizes a select group of college basketball student-athletes who have made significant contributions to the greater good of their communities through volunteerism and civic service. Wilson has participated in numerous Saint Joseph's community service projects, has volunteered at his church in Philadelphia and at home in Fayetteville, N.C. Teammate Langston Galloway was named to the inaugural team last year and made a trip to the 2013 NCAA Final Four.

FROM THE START: Freshman DeAndre' Bembry was the first freshman in SJU's starting lineup on opening day since 2010-11 when the trio of Langston Galloway, Daryus Quarles and C.J. Aiken each started their first collegiate game.

TWO-FOR-TWO: Ronald Roberts, Jr. was named both the Atlantic 10 Co-Player of the Week and the Philadelphia Big 5 Player of the Week for March 3. It was his second weekly honor of the year for both leagues, and the third of his career for both. Roberts averaged 18.5 points, 6.5 rebounds and 2.0 blocks in the Hawks' 2-0 week which ran their winning streak to six games. The senior shot 78.9 percent (15-19) from the field and 58.3 percent (7-for-12) from the foul line. He scored a game-high 22 points in the Hawks' 79-53 win over Dayton, while hitting 8-for-11 from the field and 6-for-10 from the foul line. He then had 15 points in SJU's 83-74 win over St. Bonaventure, hitting 7-of-8 field goal attempts while grabbing six rebounds and blocking two shots. He was also named the Atlantic 10 Co-Player of the Week on Dec. 2 after being selected to the 2013 Old Spice Classic All-Tournament Team by averaging 20 points, 7.0 rebounds and 1.7 blocks in SJU's three games in Orlando.

ENJOYING THE RIDE: On many occasions this season, Phil Martelli has said that he enjoys coaching this group. After the Creighton game, he elaborated, "I have a really great team. Now there are basketball pieces missing. But these guys, you can't wait to get to work with them in every aspect. The way they're perceived on campus and in recruiting is great."

VIVA ITALIA: Saint Joseph's got a jump on the season when it traveled to Italy in August for a 10-day, four-game tour. The Hawks visited Rome, Florence, Venice and Lake Como and posted a 4-0 record on the trip. It marked the second time that Phil Martelli took SJU to Italy, with the last trip coming in 1999.

DEAN OF COACHES: This is Phil Martelli's 19th season at the helm of the Hawks, and he is SJU's all-time leader in career victories with a 359-244 record. He notched his 350th win on Jan. 18 vs. Penn. He is the longest tenured coach in the Atlantic 10 (19 years) and is now second on the conference's list for all-time career victories, behind John Chaney of Temple (516). Martelli is currently serving as the president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC).

SIGN THEM UP: Saint Joseph's had four high school standouts - James Demery, Markell Lodge, Shavar Newkirk, and Obi Romeo - sign National Letters of Intent during the early signing period. Demery is a 6-6 wing player from Northside Christian Academy in Charlotte, N.C. He averaged 16.8 points and 4.2 steals last season as his team won its second straight Independent School 2A state title. Lodge, originally from Virginia, is a 6-7 wing at Pace Academy in Carrboro, N.C., who is known for his tremendous athleticism and leaping ability. Newkirk is a 6-0 point guard from Cardinal Hayes High School in Bronx, N.Y. Considered one of the top point guards in New York City, he helped Cardinal Hayes to the CHSAA Semifinals in 2012. Romeo, a 6-foot-10 forward with a 94-inch wingspan, is originally from Nigeria and has been in the United States for the past three years, attending Greenbrier East High School in West Virginia. He averaged 10 points and 13 rebounds last season for the team that went 20-5.

IN MEMORY: Halil Kanacevic changed his uniform number this year to 45 (from 21) in memory of his uncle, Rizo Popovic, who passed away during the 2012-13 season at the age of 45. Kanacevic explained, "It's one of the most selfish things you think of, as a player, when you're growing up. You get a certain number, you get infatuated with it...I've seen kids get into fights over a jersey number. My thing was, let me be unselfish about that and actually give meaning to it. I know what that number means, I know what it represents, I chose it for personal reasons, not a selfish reason. I felt like I needed to do it."

HOME SWEET HOME: This marks the fifth season of Michael J. Hagan '85 Arena. The arena was dedicated in October 2009 after a two-year expansion and renovation of Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse, which was the home of the Hawks since 1949. Saint Joseph's owns a 44-24 record in the five seasons of Hagan Arena, but a 363-106 overall record in 63 years of Hagan Arena/Alumni Memorial Fieldhouse. SJU went 11-4 on its home court this season, the best record since the Hawks posted the same mark in 2011-12.

STRENGTH OF SCHEDULE: Saint Joseph's non-conference schedule was ranked as the second toughest in the A-10, behind VCU's. Other non-conference foes of note on the Hawks' schedule were Creighton, Villanova, Temple and Vermont.

CAPTAINS OF THE SHIP: Langston Galloway, Halil Kanacevic and Ronald Roberts, Jr., have served as tri-captains this season.

WATCHING THE HAWKS: Saint Joseph's will have 21 games televised this season, including 13 national television appearances, which is the most ever for the Hawks. (full schedule on page 2)

WAITING IN THE WINGS: Freshman forward Jai Williams, from Philadelphia Electrical and Technical Charter School, earned All-Public League Fourth Team honors in redshirting the season. Aaron Brown, a 6-5 guard, transferred to SJU from West Virginia this summer and will sit out the year due to NCAA transfer rules. He was the Delaware County Player of the Year in 2010 for nearby Penn Wood High School and will have two years with the Hawks beginning in 2014-15.

CRADLE OF COACHES: The Saint Joseph's coaching connection is an impressive one. A total of seven Saint Joseph's graduates have gone on to become head coaches in the NBA, and SJU is tied with Illinois for second on the list of universities with alums that have served as NBA head coaches. Indiana tops the list with 11 graduates that have coached in the league. Jim O'Brien was the most recent NBA head coach, and his last year with the Indiana Pacers was in 2010-11. Below is the list of former Hawks who have held positions as NBA head coaches:

Player (Class)	NBA Teams	W-L (yrs.)
Jack Ramsay ('49)	Phila., Buf., Port., Ind.	864-783 (21)
Jim Lynam ('63)	L.A. Clippers, Phila., Wash.	328-392 (10)
Matt Guokas ('67)	Phila., Orlando	230-305 (7)
Paul Westhead ('61)	L.A. Lakers, Chicago, Denver	183-224 (6)
Jack McKinney ('57)	L.A. Lakers, Indiana	135-205 (5)
George Senesky ('43)	Philadelphia	119-97 (3)
Jim O'Brien ('74)	Indiana, Phila., Boston	303-327 (8)

PRESEASON PICK: Saint Joseph's was voted to finish fifth in the Atlantic 10 Preseason Poll, as voted on by media and the league's coaches. The Hawks finished in a tie for eighth place last year with an 8-8 record.

A LOOK BACK: Last year's squad went 18-14 and earned its second consecutive NIT bid, for the 11th postseason berth under Phil Martelli.

KEEPING IT IN THE FAMILY: Phil Martelli's staff consists of three former Hawk players. Assistant coach Mark Bass was a junior on Martelli's first team in 1995-96, and then was a senior on the squad that reached the NIT Final in 1997. Assistant coach Geoff Arnold played for the Hawks from 1982 to 1986, and was a member of the 1986 Atlantic 10 championship team. Arnold was a member of Martelli's coaching staff for one season in 1995-96, and then returned to Hawk Hill at the start of the 2008-09 season. Director of basketball operations Rob Sullivan was a member of the 2004 Elite Eight team.

LOOKING AHEAD: The Hawks are seeking their first appearance in the conference semifinals since 2011.

THE HAWK

The Saint Joseph's Hawk mascot has been flapping its wings for 57 years. One of the most famous mascots in college sports, the Hawk is best known for staying in constant motion by flapping its wings throughout every basketball game and representing the Saint Joseph's motto, "The Hawk Will Never Die".

The Hawk mascot was named the "Best College Basketball Tradition" by NCAA.com in 2014.

The idea for the Hawk as a mascot was originated by Jim Brennan during the 1954-55 season. Brennan, an ex-Marine and SJU cheerleader, at first wanted to secure an actual hawk, but later switched to the costume idea. The student government raised the 120 dollars needed to buy the initial costume, which Brennan donned for three years. He made his debut as the Hawk on January 4, 1956, a 69-56 win over La Salle at the Palestra. The Hawk has not missed a men's basketball game since that first season.

In addition to the constant flapping, the Hawk is also recognized by its "flying" in figure eights around the court during timeouts. The constant motion, coupled with the scrappy play of the University's athletic teams, helped to spawn the school's familiar slogan "The Hawk Will Never Die!" A few years ago, ESPN used a "flap-o-meter" on the national telecast of a Saint Joseph's game to estimate that the Hawk flaps its wings 3,500 times during a regulation game.

The Hawk is unique because it is one of the few mascots in the nation that travels to every game, and the student who holds the position gains a tuition scholarship. The student, who is selected through an interview process during the previous spring semester, also serves as a team manager for the men's basketball team and travels with the squad.

Ian Klinger, the 35th student to wear the wings, is the Hawk mascot for the second consecutive season. He is a senior finance and accounting major from Millersburg, Pa.

Game 3: November 16, 2013 - Hagan Arena

Creighton 83 - SIJU 79

Saint Joseph's fell in the final seconds to Creighton, 83-79, as Doug McDermott converted a three-point play with 4.9 seconds to play in front of a sold-out crowd at Hagan Arena. Ronald Roberts, Jr. gave the Hawks a 79-78 lead with a pair of free throws with 27.5 seconds remaining. SIJU had two fouls to give and committed both to force Creighton to inbound with 13.3 seconds remaining. McDermott, who scored 20 points in the game, got the ball on the baseline and hit a jumper inside the arc and was fouled on the play. The Hawks had one more chance but the inbound pass at 4.9 seconds remaining was intercepted and two Creighton free throws provide the final margin. The loss ruined a team high 20-point effort by SIJU freshman DeAndre' Bemby, who scored 14 in the second half. Bemby shot 8-for-14 from the field and connected on 4-of-8 three-pointers. Chris Wilson scored 18 points, making 6-of-11 three-pointers, while Langston Galloway scored 14 and Roberts had 13. Halil Kanacevic had a double-double with 10 rebounds and 10 assists. SIJU led by as much as 13 in the game, and had a 45-40 lead at halftime before Creighton came back in the second half.

Creighton (3-0)

Temple 77 - SJU 69

Langston Galloway led four Hawks in double digits with a game-high 24 points, but Saint Joseph's fell to Temple, 77-69, in SJU's Big 5 opener at the Liacouras Center. Ronald Roberts, Jr. (13), DeAndre' Bembyry (12), and Halil Kanacevic (11) also reached double figures for the Crimson and Gray. Next time down the court, Kanacevic missed on a three and Quenton Decosey made one of two free throws to increase the TU lead to 68-65. Roberts scored the Hawks' last basket of the game at :40, and then Temple took numerous trips to the foul line, making 7-of-8 to ice the victory.

Saint Joseph's fought back from an 11-point second-half deficit to defeat Boston University, 73-67. Chris Wilson tied his career high with 19 points to lead four Hawks in double figures while Ronald Roberts, Jr. had 19 as well, Langston Galloway scored 16 and freshman DeAndre Bembry added 11. Saint Joseph's trailed the Terriers, 35-28, at the break and BU opened the second half with two three-pointers to push the lead to 41-30 with 18:52 to go. But Galloway keyed a 13-2 run over the next five minutes, with seven points, including a jumper at 13:50 that tied the game at 43. After a 47-47 tie, BU went on a 7-0 spurt to take a 54-47 lead with 8:46 to go. From that point, the Hawk defense took over, holding the Terriers without a field goal over a span of 9:30. SJU 53 - Denver 52

Langston Galloway scored 14 points and DeAndre' Bembry added 13 as Saint Joseph's edged Denver, 53-52, for the Hawks' fifth win in a row. SJU led 51-49 with 2:06 to play and after two turnovers by Denver and one by SJU, Denver regained possession with 10 seconds to play. Marcus Byrd's three-pointer was off the mark and Halil Kanacevic blocked the follow-up. Bembry then grabbed the rebound and fed to Chris Wilson, who was fouled and made both free throws with six-tenths of a second to play to put the Hawks up, 53-49. Denver hit a three-pointer at the buzzer to provide the final margin. The teams traded leads in the early part of the second half, but Saint Joseph's went on a 9-0 run to take its biggest lead of the game, 45-37, at 8:07. The Hawks struggled offensively in the first half, shooting just 27.6 percent and had to come back from an 11-point deficit. SJU went without a point for close to five minutes as Denver jumped out to a 12-3 lead. Trailing 21-10 with 8:28 to play, Galloway started the Hawks' comeback, scoring seven consecutive points as SJU went on an 8-2 run. SJU closed to 23-21 on a layup by Kanacevic but Denver took a 25-23 lead into intermission. Ronald Roberts, Jr., grabbed 15 rebounds for the Hawks while Kanacevic had six rebounds and four blocks on the day.

Game 14: January 8, 2014 - Mullins Center - Amherst, Mass.

#19/19 Massachusetts 66 - SJU 62

A shorthanded Saint Joseph's team battled for 40 minutes, but a late run to end the game gave 19th-ranked Massachusetts a 66-62 victory at the Mullins Center in the A-10 opener. Halil Kanacevic led the Hawks with 19 points and 13 rebounds, while Langston Galloway and DeAndre' Bembry chipped in 18 and 16 points, respectively. Ronald Roberts, Jr. left the game early in the second half due to back spasms after an awkward fall and did not return. SJU was also without Isaiah Miles, who missed the game due to a concussion. Saint Joseph's held a 31-28 lead at halftime, but a 7-0 spurt by UMass put the Minutemen on top, 35-31, with 18:16 to go and then increased to 13-4 after a layup to put the home team ahead 41-35 with 14:05 remaining. A Galloway jumper at 13:48 kicked off a 7-0 run for the Hawks; a three-pointer by Kanacevic and a layup by Chris Wilson put SJU ahead by a point, 42-41, with 12:09 to go. With the score tied, 48-48, at 9:22, the Hawks would score the next nine points of the game, seven of them by Kanacevic, to take a 57-48 lead with 6:23 to go. But from that point forward, UMass outscored Saint Joseph's, 18-5, to secure the victory.

Game 15: January 11, 2014 - Patriot Center - Fairfax, Va.

Trailing by three points with 7:25 remaining in the game, seniors Halil Kanacevic and Langston Galloway put Saint Joseph's on their backs and led the Hawks to a gritty 84-80 win at George Mason in the first A-10 meeting of the teams. Kanacevic scored 23 points, Galloway had 20 and DeAndre' Bembry added 17, while Papa Ndao posted a career-high 13 points on 4-of-4 shooting in his first start of the season. The Hawks were without second-leading scorer Ronald Roberts, Jr., who missed his first career game due to back spasms, and Isaiah Miles who missed his second consecutive game due to a concussion. Trailing 45-40 at halftime, SJU opened the second half on a 10-2 run, culminating in a dunk and a layup by Kanacevic to put the Hawks on top, 53-47, with 16:26 remaining. The Patriots closed back to within 54-53 but a layup by Bembry restored a three-point lead a minute later. The Hawks took a 60-55 lead at the 12:28 mark, but GMU would answer with an 11-3 run to take a 66-63 lead with 7:25 left. Kanacevic answered with a layup and Ndao hit his third three-pointer of the game to put SJU ahead for good, 68-67, with 6:12 to go. That bucket kicked off a 9-0 run that featured four points from Galloway and left the Hawks with a 74-67 advantage with 3:16 to play. A pair of GMU free throws broke up the run, but the Hawks then scored six of the next seven points, punctuated by a fast break dunk from Bembry, to take an 80-70 lead at :45. Galloway and Kanacevic would each drain a pair of free throws to help seal the victory before GMU hit a desperation three-pointer at the buzzer to provide the final margin.

Game 19: January 25, 2014 - Robins Center - Richmond, Va. Richmond 77 - SJU 62

Halil Kanacevic led all players with 21 points and a career-high 19 rebounds, but Saint Joseph's struggled from the floor in a 77-62 loss at Richmond. During the game, Langston Galloway broke the school's career record for three-point field goals (294) set by SJU Basketball Hall of Famer Pat Carroll from 2001-05. Galloway sank the 295th three-pointer of his career in the second half. Leading 35-28 at halftime, Richmond opened the second half with an 11-2 run to take a 46-30 lead with 15:41 to go. SJU would cut the deficit to 52-43 after five points each from Galloway and Chris Wilson during a 13-6 stretch. The Spiders responded with a 12-2 run, taking their biggest lead of the game when a dunk made it a 64-45 advantage with 4:34 to go. After a dunk by Ronald Roberts, Galloway hit his record-breaking three to cut the deficit to 64-50. A three-pointer from Kanacevic with 3:20 to play preceded a pair of UR free throws that left the score at 66-53, but a jumper from DeAndre' Bemby and another three from Galloway capped off a 13-2 run that got the Hawks back within 66-58 with 2:22 to go. The Hawks could not get closer, however, as the Spiders converted 9-of-10 free throws over the final 1:25 to seal the victory. Saint Joseph's enjoyed a 44-35 advantage on the boards and pulled down 21 offensive rebounds, but shot just 37.1% (26-of-70) from the floor. Richmond hit on 47.9% (23-of-48) of its shots; that mark included 10-of-22 (45.5%) from three-point range, well over their average of 31.6%. Galloway scored 11 of his 13 points in the second half, while Bemby (11) and Wilson (10) also reached double-digits for SJU.

Game 20: January 29, 2014 - UD Arena - Dayton, Ohio SJU 60 - Dayton 57

Langston Galloway banked home a three-pointer with 1.8 seconds remaining to lead Saint Joseph's past Dayton, 60-57. Chris Wilson led the Hawks with 15 points on 5-of-9 shooting, while Halil Kanacevic scored the 1,000th point of his collegiate career and grabbed 11 rebounds. Ronald Roberts, Jr. added 12 points and DeAndre' Bemby had 11. With the Hawks leading 57-55, Dayton's Dyshawn Pierre tied the game with a layup with 11 seconds left. After a timeout, Galloway took the inbounds pass in the backcourt and dribbled around a pair of screens on his right. His shot hit the backboard and went through the net with 1.8 seconds on the clock. The Flyers missed a desperation attempt from halfcourt to give the Hawks the victory, their first in Dayton since Feb. 21, 2001, snapping an eight-game losing streak at UD Arena. The Hawks owned a 15-point lead in the second half, but almost let it slip away. With SJU leading 47-32 at the midway point of the half, Dayton made its comeback, outscoring the Hawks, 19-7, over the next eight minutes. After Dayton's Vee Sanford picked off an SJU pass, Bemby was whistled for a flagrant foul in trying to stop the break. Sanford hit both free throws to pull UD within 54-51 at 2:23, but Wilson intercepted a pass on Dayton's ensuing possession. Bemby then hit a pair of free throws to increase SJU's lead to 56-51. The Flyers came within 56-55, at :27, but Bemby connected on the front end of the one-and-one to give SJU a 57-55 cushion. The Flyers answered with a layup at :11 to tie the game at 57-57 and set the stage for Galloway's game-winner. SJU scored a season-low 20 points in the first half, and trailed 25-20 at halftime. The Hawks came out like a different team after intermission and opened the second with a 27-7 run, including 12 straight points to take a 47-32 lead.

Playing at Tom Gola Arena for the first time in nearly 13 years, Saint Joseph's defeated La Salle, 75-64. All five SJU starters finished in double figures, led by Langston Galloway's 18 points. After going scoreless in the first half, DeAndre' Bembry made 5-of-7 from the floor in the second to finish with 16 points. Ronald Roberts added 15 points, while Halil Kanacevic and Chris Wilson chipped in with 10 points apiece. SJU led from the 15:08 mark of the first half, but La Salle pulled within 68-62 with 2:10 to play. Galloway then made a pair of free throws to give SJU a 70-62 lead with over a minute to go before Kanacevic added another at :55. La Salle answered right back to come within 71-64 with 49.2 to go but Galloway and Roberts sank a pair of free throws apiece to salt away the win. Kanacevic was whistled for his third foul early in the second half, but the Hawks built up their lead without their top assist man. A pair of three-point plays by Bembry, followed by a layup by Galloway, gave the Hawks their biggest lead, 46-30, at 15:33. After LSU cut it to 56-48 with 10:53 remaining, a drive by Bembry gave the Hawks' another 10-point cushion, 58-48, followed by a pair of Galloway free throws and a three from Bembry put SJU's lead back up to 63-48. The Explorers then went on a 14-5 run to get within two possessions late. Saint Joseph's shot 53.6 percent from the field in the first half and led for most of the period. La Salle came within three at 27-24 with 3:28 to go, but the Hawks ended the half with a 9-2 run. A three by Galloway at :14 put the Hawks ahead by double digits for the first time, 36-26, at intermission. Roberts led the way, making all five shots in the half and scoring 12 points, while Galloway added 10.

Game 25: February 19, 2014 - Ryan Center - Kingston, R.I.

SJU 57 - Rhode Island 54

Ronald Roberts, Jr., tallied 11 of his game-high 18 points in the second half to lead Saint Joseph's back from a 10-point deficit to defeat Rhode Island, 57-54, at the Ryan Center. Halil Kanacevic and DeAndre' Bembry chipped in with 12 points apiece, while Roberts and Kanacevic each corralled nine rebounds. Trailing 38-28 with 14:27 to go in the game, Saint Joseph's went on a 9-0 run that featured five points from Bembry. A pair of URI free throws at 10:55 to go pushed its lead back to three, but Roberts hit 1-of-2 from the line and then converted a layup to tie the game, 40-40, at the 9:57 mark. The teams traded baskets over the next five minutes, with the Hawks taking their first lead since the 12:06 mark of the first half on a three-pointer by Langston Galloway that made it a 46-44 game with 7:21 to go. With 5:17 to play, Roberts hit a pair from the line to put SJU ahead, 50-48, before Papa Ndao drained a three with 4:37 on the clock to give the Hawks their largest lead of the game. Rhode Island got a pair of free throws to get back within three, but Kanacevic hit a layup to restore the five-point margin at 55-50 with 3:20 left. A pair of URI baskets pulled them to 55-54 with 2:21 left. After missed three-pointers by both teams, Kanacevic pulled down a key offensive rebound with a minute to go; he then found a seam and coasted to the basket for a layup to make it a 57-54 lead with 34 seconds left. The Rams were able to get off a pair of shots, but a three-pointer in the final seconds was offline, and Chris Wilson picked up the rebound and dribbled out the clock to seal the win. Rhode Island held a 33-25 lead at halftime. Bembry scored seven of the Hawks' first nine in the contest, but was whistled for his second foul of the game with 15:27 to go in the frame and only played six minutes in the first half.

Langston Galloway scored 27 points to lead Saint Joseph's to an 83-74 victory over St. Bonaventure at the Reilly Center, for the Hawks' sixth straight win. DeAndre' Bembry added 18, Ronald Roberts, Jr., had 15, and Isaiah Miles chipped in with 11 off the bench. Galloway also pulled in a game-high eight rebounds. Saint Joseph's held a 40-35 lead at halftime, but the Bonnies went ahead for the first time since early in the game, 45-44, with 16:54 to play. The teams then traded baskets, and with the score at 47-46, the Hawks embarked on an 8-0 to take the lead for good, punctuated by a three-point play from Galloway at 12:48 that made it 54-47. St. Bonaventure cut it to four with 12:34 to go, but Galloway scored the next five points to extend the margin to nine with 11:43 remaining. The Bonnies answered with a 7-1 spurt that cut the margin to 60-57, with 10:11 to play. The Bonnies would get no closer, however, as Miles scored five straight to cap off a 10-2 run that put the Hawks up, 70-59, at the 5:57 mark. St. Bonaventure would score seven of the next nine to get within six, but a baseline jumper from Bembry made it a 74-66 game with just 2:15 on the clock. From there, the Hawks went 7-of-8 from the free-throw line to ice the victory, part of a 21-of-24 (87.5%) effort from the line. In the first half, SJU led, 24-13, but the Bonnies then put together a 10-2 run to cut the Hawk lead to 26-23 at 7:58. Saint Joseph's notched seven of the next nine points to go up 33-25, with 4:07 left in the half. A Galloway jumper extended the lead to 35-26 before a quick 5-0 spurt for SBU cut it to 35-31 with 1:35 left, and the Hawks would hold a 40-35 lead at the half. Saint Joseph's shot 54.0 percent in the game, including a blistering 63.6% in the second half.

Game 29: March 5, 2014 - Smith Center - Washington, D.C.

George Washington 76 - SJU 71

DeAndre' Bembry scored a career-high 22 points, but Saint Joseph's saw its six-game winning streak come to an end with a 76-71 setback to George Washington at the Smith Center. Ronald Roberts scored 16 points, Chris Wilson netted 14 and Langston Galloway had 10, while Bembry tied his career-high with eight assists. Saint Joseph's led by as many as nine in the second half, 54-45, with 11:00 to play. GW answered with a 9-0 spurt over the next 2:38, tying the game at 55-55 with 8:22 to go. The teams traded baskets before GW hit a three-point play at 6:55, go up, 61-58. It was the fifth foul called on Halil Kanacevic, and from that point, the Colonials held on to the lead for the duration. Bembry pulled the Hawks back within a basket at 62-60, but GW scored the next five points to take a 67-60 lead with 1:45 to play. Wilson answered with a three-pointer to cut the margin to 67-63 with 1:23 left, but SJU could not get closer than four points the rest of the way. In the first half, Saint Joseph's held the early lead, but only made two of their next 12 shots while the Colonials used a 9-0 run to take a 13-10 lead with 13:21 left. With Kanacevic whistled for his second foul early, GW took advantage of his absence, pushing the margin to 30-16 with 5:32 to go. From there, the Hawks clamped down defensively, keeping the Colonials off the scoreboard and scoring the final 16 points of the first half to take a 32-30 lead into the locker room. Roberts scored all six of his first-half points during the run, including a dunk with 1:09 to go to put the Hawks on top for the first time since early in the game.

Game 30: March 9, 2014 - Hagan Arena

La Salle 71 - SJU 63

Saint Joseph's fell short on "Senior Day" as La Salle scored a 71-63 win over the Hawks in the regular-season finale at Hagan Arena. Langston Galloway scored 27 points for Saint Joseph's in his final game in Hagan Arena. DeAndre' Bembry had 15 points and eight rebounds and Ronald Roberts posted 13 points and eight rebounds. Halil Kanacevic grabbed 12 rebounds for the Hawks, who have lost two in a row for the first time since early December. Galloway made his first four three-point attempts and the Hawks took an 18-12 lead in the early going. But La Salle went on an 8-2 run to take its first lead of the contest, 20-18, with 7:41 remaining, and then built it up to 32-21. The Explorers went into the lockerroom with a 33-23 lead. The Hawks were careless with the ball in the first half, committing 10 turnovers, and made just 30.8 percent from the field. Saint Joseph's scored the first seven points of the second half to close to 33-30. La Salle then rattled off six straight to go back up by 39-30, and then took their biggest lead of the game, 47-34, with 12:05 to play. The Hawks made another run with a three by Galloway and layup from Chris Wilson to pull within 47-42 with 10:21 to play but that was the closest Saint Joseph's could get the rest of the way. Foul shooting has plagued the Hawks all year and it was more of the same as SJU made just 12-of-22 from the line, while La Salle converted 25-of-31. Saint Joseph's seniors - Galloway, Kanacevic, Roberts, Daryus Quarles and Colin Kelly - were honored in a pre-game ceremony for their final game in Hagan Arena.

The hawk is known for its cunning demeanor, the representation of a sly, clever predator that soars freely through the clouds to locate its prey. Once locked in on its unknowing victim, the hawk strikes: powerfully, and above all, mercilessly.

No one better embodies this characterization than Saint Joseph's senior forward Ronald Roberts, Jr. Known for his remarkable ability to consistently dominate above the rim, Roberts recognizes defensive weakness and seizes opportunity by soaring freely up into the air. Once above the rim, Roberts owns the advantage – power. And with that power, the Hawk strikes.

The hawk soars. Ronald Roberts, Jr., soars. It was meant to be.

Roberts' ability to launch himself high above the rim has allowed the senior to slam down the rock 164 times throughout his four-year career at Saint Joseph's. The power forward has thrown down his signature move five times in one game on three different occasions, including twice this season. Having played in 123 career games, the 6-foot-8, 225-pound senior averages 1.3 dunks every night he takes the court.

"I definitely love dunking," said Roberts. "It's something I've been doing since I was little, especially with my friends in my backyard on a little Fisher Price rim. Just watching Vince Carter growing up doing these crazy dunks. Dunking is my favorite thing to do on the court. It deflates the other team because they don't want their team to get dunked on. They kind of put their heads down, so it works as an advantage for us, especially with our home crowd. They go crazy."

Roberts is a threat to score every time he touches the ball, whether on the ground or in the air. The senior brings the Hagan Arena crowd to its feet game after game with every rim-shaking dunk, highlighted by a pair of his personal favorites – a windmill dunk against Dayton in January 2012 and a monstrous throwdown against George Washington in February 2013. Although both dunks are remarkable in the stylistic sense, Roberts remembers them with a sense of pride due to the challenges he tackled to convert both plays.

“I went up to do the windmill dunk and I got fouled, and I still made [the free throw],” said Roberts of his sophomore-year dunk against the Flyers. “I like that dunk. And I like the dunk against George Washington where Halil [Kanacevic] threw it in on an out-of-bounds play; I caught it at a weird angle but I still got it to go in. That was cool.”

Roberts has been perfecting his craft since the day of his first real – outside of the Fisher Price days – dunk.

He was 13.

The standout admits that when he was first learning the move back in middle school, physically dunking the ball would take him multiple tries as he couldn’t do it on demand. However, his body would catch up quickly as just two years later he threw down dunk after dunk as a rookie on his freshman basketball team.

Of course, Roberts contributes in additional ways as he ranks second on the squad in scoring (14.3 points per game), rebounding (7.2 per game), and blocks (1.3 per game). Being one of SJU’s most effective all-around threats on both the offensive and defensive ends of the court demands an obvious amount of physicality. But contributing also requires a sharp mentality, and Roberts possesses a concrete understanding of what it takes to maintain a strong mentality from the opening tip through the final buzzer.

“It’s actually easy,” said Roberts in reference to switching his mentality between offense and defense. “I’m more defensive-minded if anything. I take it personally when my man scores on me. I just want to be the nastiest, dirtiest dude on the floor. A lot of guys are talented and have skills and that’s great, but I don’t think a lot of guys want to bring the toughness and nastiness, getting on the floor and doing all the dirty stuff, so I like to bring that to the game.”

Roberts utilizes his committed level of focus to lead his team by example. Although he is, self-admittedly, not the most vocal player on the court, Roberts demonstrates his leadership through each offensive and defensive play. And Roberts was rewarded for his consistency in leading by example in one of the most respected ways – alongside Langston Galloway and Halil Kanacevic, Roberts was named a team captain for the 2013-14 season.

“It meant a lot,” said Roberts of the captaincy. “I actually thought those guys were definitely going to be the captains because Lang was the captain before and Halil is very vocal. I’m more laid-back, but I like to show my teammates by example. I didn’t think I was going to get it, but I was very honored. It made me just want to show the younger guys what to do on the court and that you should always go hard. I love leading the team.”

Roberts has worked hard from the moment he stepped foot on campus for his very first collegiate basketball practice. He knew he would have to work hard on the college stage in order to succeed. So, he did. With the exception of a string of 12 starts in the final 13 games of his freshman season, Roberts began his career as a sixth man, coming off the bench for a majority of his freshman and sophomore campaigns. Although he desired a starting spot in the rotation in his second year, the then-sophomore continued to both work and play as hard as he could. That work ethic earned him 2011-12 Atlantic 10 Sixth Man of the Year recognition.

The Hawks’ captain has earned multiple accolades throughout his career, including Atlantic 10 All-Conference Third Team and All-Big 5 First Team recognition last season and a slot on the Atlantic 10 Preseason All-Conference Second Team this year. However, perhaps the most impressive pair of honors came last season. For the third consecutive year, Roberts received the Robert O’Neill Memorial Most Improved Player Award, and for the first time in his collegiate career, Roberts also received the John P. Hilferty Award as Saint Joseph’s Most Valuable Player. Most valuable and most improved. To Roberts, it’s all about continuous progression.

“You have to be patient and you have to keep working hard every day,” said Roberts of succeeding on the court. “Every time you get on that court, you have to realize the opportunity. It could change your life if you just keep going at it; you just have to keep at it. You can’t let little things distract you. There are always going to be bumps in the road, but you just have to be mentally tough. That’s the main thing – you have to be mentally tough. That'll take you through a lot of things."

With just a handful of games remaining in his senior year, Roberts has begun to look toward the future. In his short-term future, the senior has aspirations of playing professionally for as long as the opportunity presents. After that, he would like to put his communications degree to good use in the area in which he has always excelled – athletics. Roberts aspires to work his way into sports journalism at any level, potentially beginning with grammar- and high-school level teams with the goal of eventually reaching collegiate and NBA athletes. It takes commitment, focus, and, above all, hard work, to reach one's dreams, and that will only help Roberts on his path to success. As can be expected, Roberts will just keep working.

"I could keep working my way up," said Roberts. "I want to write about sports. I want to stay close to the game."

Returning to his present, Roberts is set to compete in the final two home games of his collegiate career, with the first of the two set to tip off tonight as the Hawks take the court against Dayton. The Hawks won their most recent matchup against the Flyers back on January 29. It was as close a game as it could possibly be as Galloway banked home a three-pointer with 1.8 seconds remaining in regulation to lift Saint Joseph's to a 60-57 victory. Roberts expects that same level of competition this evening.

"We know it's going to be a tough game," said Roberts. "Dayton is always really good and they're very athletic. But I think if we execute the plan and do what Coach tells us, we'll be fine.

"And playing at Hagan with all of these great fans is always good," he added.

Tonight, Saint Joseph's will fight for its milestone 20th win of the season and look to improve to 11-3 at home.

As always, we can expect that one defining moment, that moment when we see Saint Joseph's senior forward Ronald Roberts, Jr., outwork everyone on the court en route to soaring high above the rim.

Of course he'll soar. He's a Hawk.

And that's what hawks do.

With St. Joe's Bemby, the defense never rests.

A Hawk who relishes his role

By Marc Narducci
INQUIRER STAFF WRITER

This is Phil Martelli's 19th season as St. Joseph's head basketball coach and as he remembers he has never given a freshman as much defensive responsibility as he does to 6-foot-6 forward DeAndre' Bemby.

Most of the time Bemby will cover the opponent's top offensive player, regardless of size. That was the case in Saturday's 75-64 win over La Salle, when Bemby covered point guard Tyreek Duren, who was limited to nine shots.

"I would say DeAndre' has probably had the most significant defensive role of any freshman I have had," Martelli said.

One of the reasons Bemby has been so successful in this role is that unlike many college (or NBA) players, he relishes the chance to defend.

"I have always liked playing defense and have been guarding the other team's best player since I was young," Bemby said. "Guarding is definitely a positive thing for me."

He is able to adjust whether it's defending guards, forwards, or even centers.

In high school I covered all positions, so it's not a problem for me," he said.

Bemby isn't just a defensive specialist. He leads the 17-7 Hawks with 26 steals, but is also the third-leading scorer with an 11.4 average. Bemby is also averaging 4.6 rebounds and 2.3 assists.

On a team that starts three seniors and a junior, Bemby has blended in with the veterans. He is averaging 31.8 minutes per game, and the only statistic he cares much about is the number of points the player he guarded had scored.

DeAndre' Bemby is a fearless defender.

It was only just last week, but the Hawks' 60-57 victory at Dayton on January 29 already feels like a classic game from Hawk lore. After struggling from the floor in the first half, much as they had for the two games prior, the Hawks caught fire and ran out to a 15-point lead. But college basketball is a game of runs, and the Flyers had theirs at the right time, tying the game with 11 seconds to go.

Everyone remembers Langston Galloway banking home a three-pointer with less than two seconds remaining to win the game. But something historic happened that night that had nothing to do with Galloway, nothing to do with the Hawks breaking a long losing streak at UD Arena.

A look at the box score would reveal what appears to be just another night at the office for Saint Joseph's senior forward Halil Kanacevic. Eight points, 11 rebounds, three assists, two blocked shots, and a steal in 40 minutes. He certainly filled up his line, but nothing really blows you away. It's pretty much what we've come to expect from him.

Until you look at the big picture, that is. Kanacevic scored the 1,000th point of his collegiate career during that second half run. He also pulled down his 900th career rebound. Combine those milestones with the fact that he had already amassed over 300 career assists, and you might be inclined to wonder who else in Hawk history has put together those sorts of numbers.

You can stop wondering. It's Halil Kanacevic. That's the list.

Of all the great players to don the Crimson and Gray, none had scored 1,000 points, pulled in 900 rebounds, and dished out 300 assists as a college basketball player until that night in Dayton.

His stat line didn't tell the whole story. But maybe that is the story.

Show Menu

Halil Kanacevic is playing the best basketball of his career at the perfect time. After a 4-4 start, Saint Joseph's has won 11 of its last 14 games, and Kanacevic's steady production has been a driving force behind that record. This season, he is posting career-best averages in points, rebounds, and assists. Possibly most importantly, he's also averaging a career high in minutes.

"It's been the most important thing, but it's also been the hardest thing," Kanacevic said about his increased ability to stay on the floor. "I play pretty aggressively."

Throughout his career, Kanacevic has often found himself in foul trouble, a symptom of that aggressive style of play. Instead of being forced into becoming overly cautious on the defensive end due to foul trouble, he's figured out how to nip the problem in the bud.

"I think I've always known how to play with [foul trouble]," he said. "I think now I'm more so learning how to avoid it. It's kind of changed the way I play. It's different."

"It's the era, too," he continued. "I grew up playing physical basketball. It's a different story, how the game is called today."

In three of his last four games, he's played a full 40 minutes. One of his most memorable performances in a Hawk uniform, however, came just a few weeks ago during a game in which he played only 30 minutes.

On January 18 at The Palestra, Kanacevic posted a double-double in the first half and finished with nine points, 15 rebounds, and 12 assists, coming just a single point away from an elusive triple-double. Many in attendance and following along at home knew what he was close to accomplishing, but Kanacevic wasn't among them.

"I knew I had a lot of rebounds, and I knew how many points I had because it's on the scoreboard," he said. "But I didn't know about the assists."

Despite finding out that he was just a single point short of an outstanding personal achievement when he checked out of the game with over eight minutes to go, he never even considered asking back in. After all, there was only one stat he cared about.

"It's no big deal," he said. "It's more important to win the game."

Sometimes, even a team's best passer needs an assist.

We all make mistakes. Most of us are fortunate enough to make them privately. For Kanacevic, the lowest point of his basketball career played out in front of thousands of people.

In December of 2012, Kanacevic found himself suspended for two games and a week of practice after a well-publicized incident of unsportsmanlike conduct during a game at Villanova. For someone known for his intelligent play, it was a lapse in judgment he won't soon forget.

"It was dumb," he said of his behavior that night. "That's the best way I can put it. It was dumb. I'm definitely not proud of it, but it happened, and I can't do anything about it."

Being away from his teammates and the game he loves had a profound effect on a thoughtful young man like Kanacevic.

"It was depressing, honestly," he said. "You're kind of up in the air. You know how you're going to be perceived now. You know it's going to be one of those things where it's like, 'are you going to be able to get back from this?' in regards to people liking you again."

"I'm not the type of person that's overly concerned with what other people think about me," he continued. "But I don't care who you are; it's going to bother you to some extent. But over time, you start being able to recoup from it."

Just as Kanacevic dishes out assists on the floor, his teammates returned the favor during a tough period.

"I got texts from teammates, telling me they had my back," he said. "That was great [to have their support]."

Kanacevic returned to the lineup for three games, but soon found himself away from the team once again, this time for reasons beyond his control, when his uncle Rizo passed away at the age of 45. Kanacevic joined his family in Montenegro, and basketball ended up on the back burner.

Despite their physical distance, Kanacevic and his uncle were close, thanks to frequent phone calls and family conversations.

"We were really close, and it's...I don't want to say it's 'odd,' but it's kind of weird because he didn't live here [in the United States]," he said. "We spoke on the phone, and he always checked up on me. Even if he didn't talk to me directly, he always checked up on me, and I always asked my mom how he was doing."

The pair did get to spend quality time together when Kanacevic had opportunities to make the trek to Europe.

"When I went over there, he would always have me by his side and would take me places," he said. "He was trying to make up for the time that we couldn't spend together over here. Most people have their aunts and uncles around them and get to see them, but we didn't have that, so when I went over there, we spent a lot of time together."

It can take a lot to bounce back from a loss like that, and we all find unique ways to process our grief and honor our loved ones. Kanacevic does so every time you see him take the floor: he traded in his old jersey number, 21, in exchange for 45, his uncle's age at the time of his passing.

"It's one of the most selfish things you think of, as a player, when you're growing up. You get a certain number, you get infatuated with it," he explained before the season began. "I've seen kids get into fights over a jersey number.

"My thing was, let me be unselfish about that and actually give meaning to it," he continued. "I know what that number means; I know what it represents. I chose it for personal reasons, not a selfish reason. I felt like I needed to do it."

It's not a temporary change, either. Wherever his basketball career may go, his uncle's memory will be right there with him.

"Of course. If I can keep it, why not?" he said of his new number.

With such a low point on the court followed so quickly by personal tragedy, many people would have broken down. But not Halil Kanacevic. He's about as tough as they come.

Growing up, he had no other choice.

They say that "game recognizes game." Nowhere is this more true than on playgrounds across New York City. If you can't play, then you won't play. But if you can? There will always be a spot waiting for you. That sort of meritocracy is what turned Kanacevic, a Staten Island native, into the jack-of-all-trades we've enjoyed watching for the past two-plus seasons.

"Sometimes when you're playing with older kids, you've got to rebound and pass the ball," he said. "They're not letting you score, you know? You've got to find other ways to score without them getting the ball to you. You've got to get an offensive rebound. Do you know how to move without the ball, so that when they actually do pass it to you, you're in a good spot to make a shot?"

All of these abilities conspire to keep a young player on the court. After all, who wouldn't want to have a guy like that on their team?

"If you keep getting rebounds, they'll want to pick you up for the next game because 'this kid rebounds all the time,'" he went on. "If you make good passes, they know if they give you the ball, you'll make a good pass. That's a way to finagle your way into playing with the older kids because they think, 'oh, we'll pick him up, he has all the intangibles.' And it's fun."

In the modern age of specialization, players are labeled by what they do best. A player can be thought of as a spot-up shooter, a low-post presence, a distributor, or any number of other labels that get bandied about when discussing what someone does well. This process often begins at a young age, when players go to summer camps and play in middle school or on the AAU circuit.

Halil Kanacevic is a post player. He's also a perimeter player. He's a magnificent passer and a tenacious rebounder as well. In short, he's a basketball player. And while it may sound counterintuitive, this well-rounded skill set is a result of his late entry into organized basketball.

"I didn't play a lot of organized basketball when I was younger, where you're coached," he explained. "It's like, 'oh, you're a big guy, you've got to post up, that's what you do.' I was more like, 'go outside and play; do everything and make a difference.'"

Despite developing a more reliable three-point shot throughout his time on Hawk Hill, Kanacevic does most of his scoring down on the blocks. When you're battling in the post, you need the power to fight through the trees for a put-back, good footwork to evade defenders, and a deft touch near the rim.

You're going to take a beating down there, so you've also got to be a pretty tough cookie. For that portion of Kanacevic's basketball education, he turned to the gridiron.

Well, kind of.

"We used to play a lot of street football," he recalled.

"I used to go home crying all the time, because they would just abuse me," he said with a chuckle, remembering the older kids with which he used to do battle. "I was probably about 12, and some of them were 16, playing high school football. My parents would yell at me for getting beaten up like that."

But those pickup games toughened him up, and also helped foster the competitiveness that he brings to the court every day.

"We used to have these two buildings, 18 and 20," he said. "We used to play against each other. In the middle of the two buildings there was a spot of grass; 'there it is, go ahead, go at it.' And we went at it. But it was fun and it was definitely competitive."

Toughness and a wide range of skills can go a long way towards building a good basketball player, but sometimes the flow of a game can change, and you need to be able to adapt. You could say that no one on this current Hawk squad has had to adapt, in a basketball sense, like Kanacevic has.

He began his career at Hofstra, playing one season for the Pride before transferring to Saint Joseph's. And while we've all grown accustomed to seeing him handling the ball at the top of the key, that wasn't the case when he was a freshman.

"My thing at Hofstra was to set screens, post up, pick and roll, pick and pop," he explained. "The offense didn't run through me, but you throw it inside and I'll score, I'll go get you a basket, I'll get you a rebound. I was more like a double-double guy."

To what by now should be no one's surprise, he was effective in that role, opening his career with 18 points and 12 rebounds in his first collegiate game – against perennial national power Kansas, no less – and averaged 8.6 points and 7.6 rebounds per game en route to CAA All-Rookie honors.

At Saint Joseph's however, where Ronald Roberts, Jr., and C.J. Aiken were already manning the post, Kanacevic's role changed.

"Once I got here, I couldn't play inside as much," he said. "I'm more acclimated to playing outside with the ball [than other post players] because my skill set allows that, and it's what the team needs."

Just like those games on the playground, transferring to Saint Joseph's was another step in the evolution of Halil Kanacevic, the basketball player. Of course, as is typical of a team-oriented guy, he won't take all the credit for his growth.

"I feel like it helped because it shows my versatility," he said of making the move to Hawk Hill. "But at the same time, I'm also playing with really good players, so that helps as well."

Looking at how he became the player he is today, it's easy to see that evolution and change are nothing new for Kanacevic. But there's a big change coming up on his horizon.

College is almost over.

Kanacevic finished the required coursework for his undergraduate communications degree in December and will walk with his class at Commencement in May. Before then, he'll play in his final collegiate games. Just like any soon-to-be college graduate, Kanacevic has already given some thought to what he'd like to do next. And just like most college basketball players, he hopes that next step involves the game he loves.

"God willing," he said about a potential professional career. "I'll do whatever's asked of me. If you want me to go out there and get 12 rebounds and that's it, I'll do that. If you want me to go set screens, I'll do that."

When his playing days eventually come to an end, if all goes well, he won't stray far from the hardwood. Kanacevic can certainly see himself coaching, but while many folks dream of someday running their own program, at this point, he wants no parts of that.

"I honestly don't know if I'd ever want to be a head coach," he explained. "I'd probably like to be a college assistant. Being a college head coach is something that you've got to grow into."

"That's a tough job. People don't realize it, but it's a really tough job," he said with a laugh. "Being a college assistant and helping players develop, I'd like to do that."

Like many players, the allure of television also shines bright for Kanacevic. Down the line, if a network is looking for an insightful basketball mind with an engaging personality to boot, he'd be ready to answer the call.

Of course he will. Because when you get right down to it, answering the call is just what he does.

Not long after leading his team past nationally ranked Massachusetts in front of a raucous crowd at Hagan Arena, Kanacevic pushed a laundry cart across the court. He stopped to speak with a young Hawk fan, signing an autograph before continuing on his way to the equipment room.

Earlier in the evening, a ball boy had attempted to mop a puddle of sweat off the floor. When a nearby official pointed out a few more spots in need of cleaning, Kanacevic grabbed the mop and got the job done.

You might think such menial tasks would be below a team's senior captain, someone who cut his basketball teeth on the playground in New York, a guy who has posted numbers no one in his school's history ever has. Maybe in some places they would be. But those places probably don't have anyone quite like Halil Kanacevic on their roster.

Saint Joseph's does. And with every tough put-back, critical rebound, and needle-threading assist he racks up, Hawk fans are increasingly glad that he's here to get the job done.

‘Lang’ in homestretch of strong SJU career

GEOFF ARNOLD was in Las Vegas one summer, going from gym to gym, watching AAU games, searching for players who might fit at Drexel, where he was an assistant coach. He had just talked to his sister Jeralyn, who had told him her son was in Vegas, playing for a 15-and-under team from New Orleans. Arnold had seen him play before, but it had been a while.

One morning when he did not have to see a game involving 17and 18-year-olds, Arnold went to watch his nephew.

“There was a jump ball and his team got it,” Arnold remembered. “He shot a three off the jump and it went in. A couple plays later, he nailed another three. At the end of the first quarter, I called my sister and I told her, ‘You don’t have to worry about paying for college.’ ”

Fast forward to 2014, and 22-year-old Langston Galloway has scored 1,746 points and made a school-record 299 threes as he enters the homestretch of a career at Saint Joseph’s.

Hawks coach Phil Martelli tells some classic offthe-record stories about some of his former players, calling a few high maintenance and most minimal maintenance.

Galloway , Martelli said, has been no maintenance.

There is nothing off the record about “Lang.” He graduated in 3 years. He never stops working on his game. He is accountable. He looks you in the eye when he talks.

“There’s no mask,” Martelli said. “There’s no costume with him.”

Arnold, the Hawks point guard from back in the day, came back to his alma mater in 2008 to be one of Martelli’s assistants. He did not forget what he saw that day in Vegas.

“He is a better shooter now than I ever was, even though he’s 15,” he told Galloway ’s mother.

SJU began to recruit the shooting guard from Baton Rouge, La.

“My uncle and the coaching staff started coming down,” Galloway said.

And they kept coming until Galloway decided to leave the South and come to the Northeast. It has worked out better than he or any of his coaches ever imagined. In life, Galloway is a pleaser. Galloway ’s high school team had just won a state championship semifinal in Louisiana when he came to Martelli and apologized for how he played.

If he has an on-court fault, it’s that he tries too hard, wants it too much. It can show in his expression, how his classic form can sometimes drift. It is why he felt the need to apologize when no apology was necessary. There has never been a question about his effort.

His freshman year at St. Joe’s, Galloway started on a freshmen-dominated roster that finished 9-21 in the regular season, but fell only four points short of playing for the Atlantic 10 championship.

“My recognition of Langston was he cares too much,” Martelli said. “He’s so hard on himself.”

He still is, but he plays through it. He often guards the other team’s best wing, sometimes even the point guard if that player is especially dangerous. He makes threes (42.2 percent career). He makes free throws (80.9 percent career). He plays to win the game.

“The thing that has stayed true is the quality of the person,” Martelli said. “The work ethic is unbelievable. The shooting stroke is his. He worked it, he refined it. He’s still his harshest critic. I’ve tried to wean him off that, but that’s who he is.”

Galloway spent enough time in the city before he came to Hawk Hill to have a pretty good idea of what he was getting into. Still, there were two issues.

“First thing was definitely the weather,” he said. “I was not prepared for it. Everybody was telling me you’ve got to be ready for the winter.” He wasn’t. He looked out one day, saw 10 inches of snow and said, “Where am I; am I in another world, or what?”

He also could not get used to the food.

“I was in need of some spicy food,” Galloway said. “Everything was bland. It was definitely a shock to me.”

This winter is giving him one final reminder of our reality. He solved the food issue. He cooks his own now. His parents are in town all the time to see him play, cook him some meals.

Galloway and Arnold's daughter, Gabrielle, are only children, so, according to Arnold, they are more like brother and sister.

"I never got a chance to coach her in athletics," Arnold said. "I'm just a fan. Having him on the team, it's the closest thing to having my son play for me."

When you recruit a player, even a player you know like family, you don't really know how it will turn out.

"He's exceeded my expectations," Arnold said. "His whole experience has been phenomenal."

And it is almost over. That 2011 A-10 run was a hint that two straight seasons of losing were over. SJU won 38 games the previous two seasons.

And here they are at 15-7 after missing an opportunity Wednesday against Saint Louis and looking at another opportunity at home tomorrow night against VCU, a chance to get Galloway and fellow 1,000-point scorers Ronald Roberts and Halil Kanacevic to their first NCAA Tournament.

"In the locker room, we'll talk about it," Galloway said. "We're definitely excited. We know the whole coaching staff is excited, because last year and the year before, everybody was down at this point, just trying to make our way through."
