NEWS AND NOTES

- Kaitlyn Downey became the program's all-time leader in career starts, making her 127th at Saint Joseph's last Sunday, passing Samantha Clark (17) at tip-off. The graduate forward has never missed a game, appearing in 134 straight games in her Fordham career, third-most all-time. Anna DeWolfe made her 100th consecutive start to begin her career on Wednesday night.

- Fordham debuted at 86th in the NCAA NET rankings on December 5th, and are 90th as of January 27th, behind Rhode Island (68th) and Massachusetts (69th) in the Atlantic 10. The Rams finished the 2021-22 season 72nd.

- Fordham's starting lineup this season may be the most experienced in the entire country, unofficially via asking Division I's SIDs. Before the season began, the starters had a combined 498 games played among them. With Megan Jonassen and her 129 appearances out and Jada Dapaa's 108 now included, that number is 570.

- In the 95-48 win over Wagner, the Rams set the record for points in any half in program history, by seven, with 59, with the eight-most total points. The team's 28 assists were second-most all-time and most in regulation, their 38 field goals tied for second-most, 14 threes the third-most, while the players had just nine fouls, tied for fifth-fewest.

- Against South Dakota, Anna DeWolfe (26 points) and Asiah Dingle (27 points) became the first Ram duo to score 25 or more points in the same contest in the Atlantic 10 era.

- Asiah Dingle set a new school record with 10 steals in the 81-39 win over Saint Peter's, besting the previous record of eight. Her teammates also chipped in 11 steals to set a new team program record by three, with 21.

- Fordham is one of seven schools with three active 1,000-point scorers (DeWolfe, Dingle, Downey) but one of only two mid-major programs, UMass being the other. Virginia Tech has four.

- In the last five seasons, the Rams had scored 80 points twice. Fordham began the year with back-to-back 80-point efforts for just the seventh time in its history (12th if you include losses) and second since the start of the A-10 era (1995-96). The offense now has six games of 80 or more points, all wins, the fourth-most in a single season in program history. Only 1988-89 and 1991-92 (seven each, the former with two losses) and 1978-79 (nine, two losses) have more.

Setting the Scene

Fordham (14-7, 6-2) takes to the road to play at Saint Louis (6-16, 2-5) on Saturday night at 8 p.m. Eastern on ESPN+ and WFUV.

Last Time Out

The Rams rallied from a 12-point deficit on Wednesday night against Richmond to win by nine, 68-59. Fordham spent the majority of the first half playing from behind and trailed at halftime, 29-24. After getting within two early in the third, the Billikens steadily built its 12-point lead, 43-31. The hosts got it to seven, 45-38, heading into the final period and then went bonkers, scoring 30 points in the final frame. The Rams went on a 9-3 run to take the lead for good through a Sarah Karpell basket after an Asiah Dingle steal, one of three straight possessions with a theft and of eight total on the night, tied for second-most all-time. Fordham's full-court press was the catalyst, limiting the Spiders to 14 points in the quarter, although the visitors wouldn't let the lead grow beyond five and even got within one late, 57-56, before Dingle and free throws saw out the contest.

Anna DeWolfe produced a game-high 24 points, Dingle with 17 points and eight steals. Jada Dapaa produced her second Fordham double-double, scoring 11 points with 13 rebounds, eight offensive, while Karpell finished in double figures for a third time, with 10 points. The offense struggled from distance, hitting 3-of-17 shots, but converted 20-of-47 from inside the arc (42.6%). The defense tallied 14 steals, sixth-most in a single game, while committing just 11 turnovers.

Series History

The all-time series is tied up, 11-11, since the Billikens joined the Atlantic 10 in 2005-06. It's been back-and-forth the entire way but recently it's been mostly Fordham in the driver's seat, winning five of the last seven contests. The two schools didn't meet last year due to their game being cancelled because of a COVID-19 outbreak, but Fordham most recently won, 72-63, at Chaifetz Arena in 2021. Anna DeWolfe scored 26 points in that one, while Kaitlyn Downey netted a career-high 24 points, the two combining for nine threes and each with five assists.

Triple D - DeWolfe, Dingle, Downey

Shut the front door! The Fordham trio have been gnarly, righteous, dynamite, and, perhaps most importantly, the bomb-dot-com. All three earned Atlantic 10 All-Conference honors and had at least one A-10 Player of the Week award last season. Combined, they made up 66.1% of the team's scoring on a combined 40.2% shooting overall. They are the real deal. Through 13 games, those numbers are similar - 67.2% of the scoring on 42.9% shooting with two Player of the Week honors for Dingle and one for Downey. For context for the uninitiated, this entire blurb is an ode to Guy Fieri's Diners, Drive-Ins, and Dives.

Three 1,000-Point Scorers

With her tough turnaround second-quarter jumper at Princeton, Kaitlyn Downey became the 25th Ram to score 1,000 points in program history. Now 15th with 1,178 points after passing three former Rams at Dayton, she joins Asiah Dingle (1,854 across three schools and five seasons) and Anna DeWolfe (1,682 - fifth-most in school history). Nationally, the Rams are one of 11 schools with three active student-athletes with 1,000 career points, although they are one of only two mid-major schools, along with UMass. Virginia Tech has four 1,000-point scorers.

Where Do The 2022-23 Rams Stand in Program History?

Fordham is playing at a much faster tempo this season and its 72.2 points per game average, 64th in the nation, is a perfect example of that. In fact, that would be second only to the historic 1978-79 squad for the program record (73.8). As a result, with another 10 or so games left on the schedule, this team will surely threaten the record for made field goals, both inside the arc and out, while the team's current 77.9% free-throw clip and 1.12 assist/turnover ratio would rank second.

Iron Women

Kaitlyn Downey set the program record for career starts on Sunday, her 127th, in her 133rd career appearance, third-most all-time. Downey has never missed a contest, making all appearances consecutively since arriving on Rose Hill. Anna DeWolfe made her 100th consecutive start on Wednesday, like Downey all since she arrived in the Bronx.

Nationally Speaking (as of 1/27)

Fordham have played at a much faster tempo this season, averaging 72.2 points per contest, which ranks 64th in the nation. The offense's 1.12 assist/turnover ratio, third in the Atlantic 10, sits 43rd nationally. The team's recent slump from distance has dropped the offense down from 12th to 37th with 8.0 makes per game and from 48th to 94th in percentage, now at 33.5%. The Rams are dishing out the 71st-most assists per game (15.1) while committing just 13.6 turnovers per game, ranked 38th. The offense is also hitting free throws at the 21st-best rate (77.9%) despite taking the 340th-fewest attempts (11.62).

Individually, Asiah Dingle is seventh in steals per game, 10th in field goals, and 25th in points per game. Anna DeWolfe is 34th in points per game, 22nd in total threes, 12th in field goals, 47th in threes per game, and 37th in minutes per game.

Hungry Like DeWolfe

The 2020-21 Atlantic 10 Co-Player of the Year and two-time WBCA All-America honorable mention, senior Anna DeWolfe is averaging 18.4 points per game on 42.5% shooting overall and 36.2% shooting from distance (55-of-152). Named to the Preseason All-Conference First Team, she became the 24th Ram to reach 1,000 career points on December 12, 2021 against Lafayette, doing so on a patented mid-range jumper, hitting nothing but net, and is now up to fifth all-time with 1,682 points.

For her career, across 100 consecutive starts, DeWolfe is fourth with 660 field goals, fourth with 214 three-pointers, fifth with a career 16.8 per-game scoring average, is eighth with a 82.7% rate the line, and has now joined the all-time top-10 for career minutes played last Wednesday, 10th with 3,679.

Dingle All The Way

The Boston native is up to 130 career appearances across three schools and four-plus seasons, now with 112 career starts, starting all but one contest for Fordham since she arrived. Last year a Third Team All-Conference selection and now a preseason Second Team honoree, Dingle leads the team in scoring (19.4 points), assists (64), and steals (69), while shooting 45.1% from the floor, 35.1% from behind the arc, and 77.5% on a team-high 80 free-throw attempts.

For her career, she has accumulated 1,854 points, averaging 14.3 per game, 665 field goals, 295 steals, and a 400 assist/423 turnover ratio. She is a 42.9% career shooting with averages of 4.1 rebounds, 3.1 assists, and 2.3 steals per game. Prior to her arrival in the Bronx, Dingle was a 19.2% three-point shooter on 104 career attempts. Last year she shot 18-of-64 (28.1%) and has continued to work at her long-range shot, shooting 35.1% this year on an already-career-high 94 attempts.

Among active players in Division I, she has been in a three-way battle all season for steals alongside Michigan State's Stephanie Visscher and Gardner-Webb's Jhessyka Williams, but is currently tops in the nation, 15 ahead of the latter. She's also 12th with 453 free throws made and seventh with 625 attempts.

Princess Of Thieves

Asiah Dingle played in her 50th Fordham game on Wednesday against Richmond, where she totaled eight steals, tied for second-most in program history. She, of course, owns the record, set this year against Saint Peter's, with 10, and is already one theft shy of entering the Rams' single-season top-10, currently at 69. Dingle is currently Division I's active leader in steals by a whopping 15, with 295. She has at least one steal in all but two contests this year and at least two in all but four, with 10 instances of four or more. Last year she had eight such games and is up to 31 for her four-year career.

Downey Moving Up

The graduate forward broke the program record at Saint Joseph's on Sunday for career starts, with 127, surpassing Samantha Clark ('17), and has appeared in 134 consecutive contests since arriving in the Bronx. At Princeton earlier this season, she became the 25th Ram to reach 1,000 career points. She's up to 15th now with 1,178, passing Cecelia Wanker ('83), Hannah Missry ('17), and former teammate and now assistant coach Lauren Holden ('19) at Dayton. Against Wagner she moved into the all-time top-10 for career rebounds and just passed both Sharon Nast ('86) and former teammate Kendell Heremaia ('22) for fifth with 831. Also on Sunday she became the ninth Ram to reach 200 career three-pointers, now eighth with 201.

Asiah and Co. Steal the Show

You thought her five steals in the season opener was a handful? She doubled that with a program-record 10 against Saint Peter's, notching her ninth and 10th on consecutive possessions in the third quarter. Her previous best was six, which she'd accomplished several times over her career, including twice with Fordham. The previous program record was eight, done five times by four student-athletes, but not since Lauren Fleischer in 2001. Her teammates also added 11 more against the Peacocks to set a new team record, as well, by three.

Captains +1

Fifth-years Kaitlyn Downey and Megan Jonassen, plus senior Anna DeWolfe, served as team captains last year. They will do so again this year plus new addition Jada Dapaa, who was voted as the fourth captain by her teammates. It's Downey's fourth year as a captain, most in program history after J.J. Radice's three years, DeWolfe's third, and Jonassen's second.

The A-10's Best Backcourt?

DeWolfe and Dingle were selected to Preseason All-Conference teams - DeWolfe on the First Team, Dingle the Second, as voted on by the league's head coaches. Through 21 games, the duo are one and two in the league in scoring, averaging 18.4 and 19.4, respectively. Dingle is shooting 45.1% overall, 35.1% shooting from distance, and 62-of-80 (77.5%) from the line, with 5.3 rebounds, 3.1 assists, and 3.3 steals. DeWolfe is shooting 42.5% and 36.2% from behind the arc with 2.8 dimes per game.

Coming Up Clutch

In fourth quarters this year so far, Asiah Dingle is averaging a team-best 6.0 points on 46.7% from the field overall, but it's her touch from behind the arc (13-of-29, 44.8%) and at the line (27-of-34, 79.4%) that have been spectacular. She's also racked up a whopping 26 steals, too. Anna DeWolfe's averaging 4.7 points on 41.1% shooting and 35.7% from deep with a team-high 20 assists to 10 turnovers. Kaitlyn Downey is next up with 2.4 points on 39.0% shooting and then Jada Dapaa with 2.0 points and 1.9 rebounds, including a team-high 12 offensive boards. Off the bench, Colleen McQuillen is 6-of-13 from distance, while Matilda Flood paces the defense with seven blocks to go along with five steals and a 13/6 assist/turnover ratio. As a group, the offense is shooting 43.1% overall, 35.9% from deep, and 81.2% from the line, while holding opponents to 40.5% and 28.9% shooting, respectively.

Are You Experienced?

Fordham's current starting lineup entered this season with a mammoth 488 career games played, unofficially the most in the country via asking national Division I SIDs. Behind them at the beginning of the year were Virginia Tech (431), Oklahoma (427), and UT Arlington (402, but 444 including JUCO). With Megan Jonassen and her 129 career appearances out of the starting lineup and Jada Dapaa's 108 now included, that number is 70.

It's Raining Threes, Hallelujah

Call it the SID jinx? Mere days after creating this blurb, the Rams failed to convert any of their 11 three-point attempts last Sunday for the first time in nearly eight years while Anna DeWolfe missed all eight of her long-range attempts at George Washington. The offense has bounced back, though, with a combined 31 threes in the last four games, including 11 last Sunday. The team is 37th nationally with 8.0 makes per contest and 94th with a 33.5% rate from behind the line.

Colleen McQuillen leads the Atlantic 10 in three-point shooting, converting 46.2% of her looks (18-of-39), while the Triple D trio of DeWolfe (36.2%), Dingle (35.1%), and Downey (33.3%) have been knocking down shots all year long from distance, combining for 127 triples thus far. If you took out all other players, combined for 16-of-80 shooting (20.0%), that quartet, plus Megan Jonassen's 7-of-20 line, is shooting 36.0% (152-of-422).

The NEC's Best

Jada Dapaa broke out in a massive way last year for the Red Flash, corralling more defensive rebounds than any other player in the league had total rebounds, averaging 12.6 total boards, ranked third nationally, with 12 double-doubles, including eight straight to end the season, and setting a program record with 378 total rebounds. She was also named the NEC's Most Improved Player. Dapaa hauled in a career-high 23 boards at Sacred Heart in mid-January, one of her three 20-board games, and had 15 or more in 10 contests. She also dished out nine assists two days prior to the Sacred Heart game, at Central Connecticut. In 20 games for the Rams, Dapaa is averaging 7.0 points on a 44.0% shooting and 7.6 rebounds, 2.9 of which come on the offensive glass, with seven double-digit scoring games, including a season-high 15 at Dayton, and two double-doubles.

Dingle Earns Second Player of the Week Award

The fifth-year guard earned her third career weekly accolade from the league despite the Rams only have one game over the previous seven days. Dingle fell one point shy of her season-high in points while matching her career-high of 11 field goals and led the squad with four assists in the six-point loss to Seton Hall.

Back-to-Back Players of the Week

Asiah Dingle earned the league's first weekly accolade of the year after helping Fordham begin the year 2-1 while averaging 17.3 points on 46.2% shooting, 6.7 rebounds, a whopping 5.0 steals, including a record 10 thefts against Saint Peter's, 3.3 assists, and 0.7 blocks all over just 27.7 minutes per game. The next week it was Kaitlyn Downey's turn, her third time winning the award, after averaging an 18-point, 10-rebound double-double last week with 3.5 assists, 1.0 blocks, and 1.0 steals. She also became the 25th Ram to reach 1,000 career points, at Princeton.

Chairwomen of the Boards

Last year the Rams averaged 35.0 rebounds per game with 34.7% coming on the offensive glass (352). So far this year, Fordham has corralled 780 boards, averaging 37.1, with 216 coming on the offensive end, or 27.7%. Unsurprisingly, Megan Jonassen (58) and Jada Dapaa (57) lead the way on that end, though three others have 17 or more. Fordham has three players within the top-20 in the league in rebounding average, bested only by Duquesne's four.

This Is Our House

The Rams hold a 139-38 (78.5%) record at home across 177 contests over the past 10-plus seasons. Over the last four-plus seasons, the Rams are 83-18 (82.2%) in the Rose Hill Gym, including a 40-9 mark in conference play, three straight Holiday Classic crowns, and 9-3 record this season.

80 is the Magic Number?

Fordham is 95-22 over its last five seasons when scoring 60 points or more. The 2022-23 Rams are scoring at a historical pace for the program, their 72.4 per-game average second only to the prolific 1978-79 squad. Starting the year with back-to-back 80-point efforts was the seventh time that's happened in school history and second since joining the A-10 in 1995-96 and the squad now has six 80-point games for the first time since the title-winning 2013-14 season. Only three other teams in program history have had more: 1988-89 and 1991-92 had seven each, two of those for the former group coming in losses, while the aforementioned 78-79 Rams produced nine such instances, two also coming in losses. So far, Fordham this year has won all six times when scoring 80 or more.

Defense, Defense, Defense

Fordham holds an 90-8 record when holding opponents under 50 points over the last 10 years.

Rams in the Pros

G'mrice Davis ('18), Mary Goulding ('19), and now Kendell Heremaia ('22) are former Rams who graduated and currently play overseas. Davis currently plays in Tenerife in the Spanish LF Endesa after a stop in Turkey with Antalya 07, while Goulding plays for Mainland Pouakai in New Zealand's Tauhi Basketball Aoteroa. Heremaia singed with Whai in the same league in her native country. Previously, Davis played in Poland, Australia (with Goulding and the Bendigo Spirit), Israel, and Greece, while appearing in two summer camps with the WNBA's Minnesota Lynx. Goulding signed her first pro contract with Sweden's IK Eos before moving to Australia and playing with the Rockland Cyclones and the Spirit.

Mary Hayes '79 (left) and Anne Greogry '80 (right) embrace after the Rams won the 1979 Eastern Regional. The 1978-79 squad still holds six team records to this day.

Sharon Nast '86 (right) is third on the all-time scoring list at Fordham, and helped the Rams set team records in scoring average and field goal percentage during her career.

Bre Cavanaugh '20 (left), Fordham's first Player of the Year in the A-10 era, graduated with the fourth-most points and helped the 2018-19 squad set the single-season three-pointers record of 267, hitting 74 of her own.

Kathy Mosolino ranks second at Fordham with 115 wins, leading the Rams to a Final Eight national finish in the 1978-79 season, and was inducted into the Athletic Hall of Fame in 1994.
