1959 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

This is it," exulted John Dueker. "You can feel no more. There is no more to feel." A player for the first Billiken varsity soccer team, Dueker made those comments after SLU captured the first NCAA soccer championship in 1959.

The Billikens defeated the University of Bridgeport 5-2 on Saturday, Nov. 28, in Storrs, Conn., on a day so powerfully wrought with wind and rain that the score was kept inside a plastic bag.

Dueker had plenty to crow about. It was the first year that soccer was a varsity sport at Saint Louis. The team was comprised entirely of St. Louisans as compared to semifinalist City College of New York (CCNY), which had 14 foreign-born players on a roster of 16. The SLU team budget was $200. The players had to kick in for their shoes, and head coach Bob Guelker volunteered his services. That was a good thing, because he was the only one who owned a ball.

The Billikens entered that inaugural NCAA Tournament with an 8-1-0 record after outscoring their opponents 56-6. But the NCAA handicapped the Bills by ruling two Billiken starters ineligible. Starters Bob Kauffman and Bob Pisoni both were ruled ineligible under the 10-semester rule.

Additionally, the Billikens lost scoring leader George Endler for the tournament. Endler led the club with 24 goals in the nine regular season games, but was injured in the regular season finale against Purdue. Except for a few minutes, he would watch the tournament from the bench.

Nevertheless, Guelker had to hunt for some talent. He found a SLU student who was tearing up the local Catholic Youth Council league, and the young man graciously accepted the invitation to help the Billikens in their championship quest.

"I was attending Saint Louis University and working," said Michael Shanahan, who would go on to become chairman of the National Hockey League's St. Louis Blues and chairman of the University's board of trustees. "I got four goals in a game one day, and that must have caught Guelker's eye. He called me and asked why I wasn't playing for the Bills.

Jerry Knobbe and coach Bob Guelker

"I said that I was working and didn't have time for the practices. He invited me to come out. He said he was losing two guys because of eligibility. I took him up."

Shanahan ended up contributing goals in each of the last two victories as the Bills rolled to the first of their record 10 NCAA titles. "That was a great team," he said. "It had such great talent. I was lucky to be on it. I just wanted to play."

But it was Guelker who held it all together. Soccer had been a club sport at Saint Louis until Guelker approached then-athletic director Bob Stewart with an offer to coach the team for free.

Stewart had been a soccer player at Syracuse University and was looking for a fall replacement for football, which the University had dropped after 1949. Stewart leaned on some boosters to accumulate a little more than $200, and the Billikens were in business. Posters were put up in the West Pine Gym on campus announcing tryouts … "just bring your own equipment and don't be looking for scholarships."

Guelker passed away in 1986 after a Hall of Fame coaching career that concluded at SIU Edwardsville. "I think Guelker had more influence on soccer in the United States than anybody else in any other sport," said former athletic trainer Kim Tucci, who now is owner of The Pasta House Co. restaurants in St. Louis. "Not so much in tactical skills, but what he got from his players and the organization of the game."

Saint Louis opened the tourney with a convincing 4-0 whitewash of an impressive University of San Francisco side before an estimated crowd of 3,000 at the old Public Schools Stadium on North Kingshighway in St. Louis. That put the Billikens in the final four, which was played during the Thanksgiving holiday.

Range gave thanks on Thursday, Nov. 26, with a two-goal effort that rallied the Bills past CCNY. In the other semifinal, Bridgeport prevailed over West Chester 2-1 in a battle that carried on for two days. While Bridgeport and West Chester waged their war, the Bills enjoyed a day off by seeing the sights of New York City.

The championship match was played in horrible conditions as an all-day rain turned the pitch into a quagmire. Trost commended Guelker for some strategic moves, "He brought Dueker up to the forward line," he recalled. "Jack ended up scoring a couple of goals."
An All-American in '59, Dueker netted a hat trick as the Billikens rolled to a 5-2 triumph. Bridgeport coach John McKeon was impressed by the Saint Louis performance. "It would take an all-star team picked from the other three semifinalists to give the Billikens anything like a close game," McKeon said.

Most of the preceding information was accumulated from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch in a 30th anniversary article that was printed Sept. 27, 1989.

In 1959, the Saint Louis University soccer team set the standard for what it takes to win a national championship. The 1959 Billikens that won the first NCAA championship in history had depth, no individual playmakers, and they were unselfish.

So it came as no surprise that coach Bob Guelker's 1960 Billiken outfit had the same qualities as the 1959 team.

"We've got a team just like last year's – well-rounded, no individual stars and good bench strength," said All-American co-captain John Klein. "That's what makes a team. If all the players are good, you've got depth, and that's what makes for a winning combination."

That winning combination carried SLU to a 14-1 record and its second national championship in as many years.

Gerry Balassi, Bob Malone, Tom McDonnell, All-American Don Range and Bob Trigg headed the potent Billiken attack in Guelker's 5-3-2 offensive-minded setup. Balassi spearheaded the Billiken juggernaut. He tallied a team-high 19 goals and 14 assists. Range, an inside right forward, was equally dominant up front. The senior scored 16 goals while adding 12 assists. Trigg knocked in 14 goals to complete the arsenal of goal-scoring up front.

McDonnell and Malone chipped in nine and four goals, respectively. Tom Barry came off the bench and added four goals. The Billikens scored 73 goals in 15 games, averaging 4.87 goals per game. But perhaps the most stunning aspect of the Billiken frontline was its ability to pass the ball. Of the team's 73 goals, assists were registered on 64.

The unselfish trio of Klein, John Michalski and Tom Richmond anchored the midfield for the Billikens. Contrary to most modern-day teams, Guelker used his midfield as a go-between for the defense and the frontline. Klein, Michalski and Richmond's main task was retrieving the ball from the defense and getting it up to the quick and aggressive Billiken forwards. One need to only look at the statistics to realize how unselfish the three players were. Klein chalked up three goals and one assist. Richmond had one goal and one assist. Michalski tallied only one assist on the year.

Defenders Mike Shanahan and Tom Hennessy and goalie Bill Mueller resembled a brick wall in the defensive end. The Billikens allowed only 11 goals and 129 shots.

The year didn't start out too well for the defending champs. In addition to finding out that George Endler, the 1959 leading scorer, would not return from a knee injury, SLU dropped its first match of the season to Fairleigh-Dickinson 3-2.

But coach Guelker didn't worry. Despite the loss, he said, "The team is definitely developing into a fine ballclub."

"Fine" turned out to be an inadequate term. The Billikens rebounded from the loss by posting three consecutive shutouts over Wheaton College (4-0), Illinois (3-0) and Indiana (12-0). After defeating Washington (Mo.) University 5-1, the Billikens faced their stiffest challenge of the year: a match with the Michigan State Spartans.

Many people across the country thought that the Spartans-Billikens contest could determine the national champion. The Spartans were leading the Eastern Division of the Midwestern Collegiate Conference with a 6-0 mark, and the Billikens were in first place in the Western Division at 5-1. The game was huge in determining which team could represent the Midwest Region in the NCAAs. If both teams finished with identical records at the end of the conference season, the winner of the game likely would represent the Midwest Region in the NCAA Tournament.

The Spartans didn't provide too much of a challenge for the Billikens. Trigg notched three goals and an assist, and Range added one goal to lead SLU to a 4-0 win. The team credited the decisive win to Guelker. He decided to tinker with the forward line, moving Range and Trigg to the center-forward positions and dropping Malone behind the front line. The tactic paid off as Michigan State had trouble defending two center-forwards.

The early-season victory over a highly touted opponent seemed to lift the Billikens. After handling Pittsburgh 4-0 – a game which Trigg said SLU needed to win in order to bring SLU's soccer prestige in the East back to its old level – the Billikens rolled through their next four games. Air Force, Navy Pier, Chicago and Purdue couldn't disrupt the Billikens as they made their NCAA Tournament run.

After a 5-3 victory over Akron, the other soccer power in the Midwest, the Midwest Collegiate Conference picked SLU to represent the region in the eight-team NCAA field.

Guelker's Billikens started the tourney at Fairgrounds Park in St. Louis with a quarterfinal match against the California Bears. The Billikens overpowered the Bears, winning the game 2-0. Balassi and Trigg notched the goals as the Bills outshot the Bears 38-12. Mueller only had to make two saves on the afternoon.

In the semifinal versus West Chester, the Billikens pelted the West Chester goalkeeper, forcing him to make 23 saves. The only two other shots that the Billikens took were goals. After West Chester tied the game, Balassi kicked in the game-winner to give the Billikens a 2-1 win.

Maryland awaited SLU in the final. Mike Quinn replaced Mueller in goal, and he gave up an early goal to give the Terrapins a 1-0 lead. But Range and Balassi soon found their scoring touch. Range tacked on the Billikens' first goal. Balassi got the second, and Range added another. Maryland scored a late goal to trim the lead to 3-2 but couldn't get any more. The Billikens had won their second national championship.

Bob Trigg

West Chester College snapped Saint Louis University's two-year stranglehold on the national championship in 1961. But it didn't deter coach Bob Guelker's Billikens from making another assault on the crown.

Guelker and his Bills picked up their third championship in four years with a 4-3 victory over Maryland in the championship game. The win completed SLU's first unbeaten season as the Billlikens went 12-0-1.

Guelker had pointed to 1962 as a rebuilding year. The Billikens lost 10 lettermen from the 1961 finalist team, including All-American Bob Malone and John Michalski from the forward line. They returned only four starters: Tom Klein, Bob Trigg, Tom McDonnell and Gerry Balassi.

But those four took over the offensive duties for SLU. Balassi led the club with 16 goals and 14 assists. Trigg, who missed three games in the middle of the season, scored 12 goals while tacking on four assists. Klein picked up nine goals, and McDonnell added four while dishing out 10 assists. Tim Knox and Tom Mataya each subbed in on the forward line and supplied the team with 16 goals between them.

Seniors Al Toczylowski and Ed Oswald, along with goalie Roger Rupp, all stood tall in the defensive end for the Bills. With backs Don Ceresia, Joe Hennessy and Bill Vieth, they yielded 14 goals on 104 shots. They came up big in pushing aside last-minute attacks from Notre Dame, Harris Teachers College, Washington (Mo.) University, Michigan State and Maryland.

The Bills started the 1962 season much like they began the past two seasons– slowly. In 1960, SLU lost to Fairleigh Dickinson to begin the season, and the Bills lost to Akron in the second game of the year in 1961. In 1962, SLU topped Indiana in the first contest of the year. But the Billikens tied Notre Dame 3-3 in the second game, and they barely squeaked by Harris Teachers College 2-1. The Bills appeared to be in a little rut.

Guelker noted before the season began that his team lacked "that basic harmony that's always been ours in the past."

His squad soon began to gel and motor through the season. After routing Navy Pier, Indiana Tech and Illinois by a combined score of 27-1, SLU edged Washington (Mo.) University 2-1.
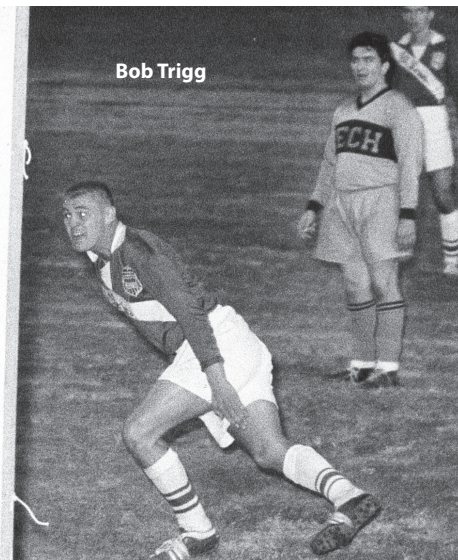

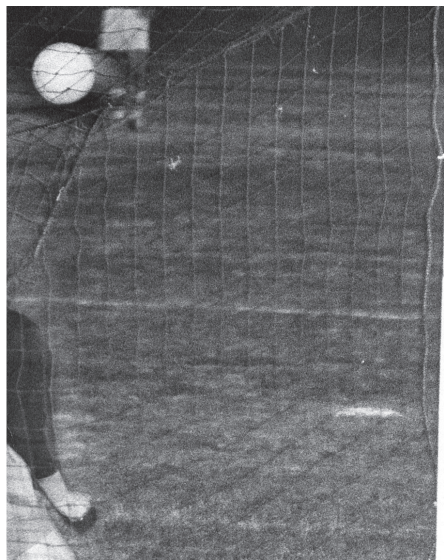

After dispatching Chicago 13-0 and Wheaton 3-0, the Billikens beat Michigan State 2-1 thanks to two goals by Tom Klein. He scored the game-winner late in the fourth quarter to send the Bills into the NCAA tourney. The Billikens played their best soccer of the year in the contest.

"From the standpoint of skill, it was definitely our best game," Guelker said. "And we were up so much for it. I doubt that we could have lost."

SLU thumped Stanford 9-3 in the quarterfinals, placing them in the semifinals for a rematch with Michigan State. The Billikens had emotions running high for the game. Not only was the contest a rematch with Michigan State and for a berth in the finals, but also the Bills were playing the game in memory of Mike Quinn. Quinn, who was in the nets when SLU defeated Maryland for the 1960 title, was killed in a car accident the week before the game. "We played this one for Mike," Guelker said.

Oswald scored his only goal of the year on a volley shot over his head in the first quarter. Balassi added a penalty-kick goal to secure a 2-0 win. Cliff Stevenson, a member of the NCAA rules committee, said of the game, "Saint Louis was passing well, and Michigan State had only individual efforts – no teamwork."

In the Maryland match, the Billikens snagged an early 2-0 lead in the first quarter on two goals by Balassi. But the Bills sat back in a defensive shell for the next three quarters. Their attack never truly got going, and Maryland took advantage. The Terrapins scored a goal late in the first period and then tallied two more right before the half to take a 3-2 lead.

The squads played a scoreless third quarter and 13 scoreless minutes in the fourth. It looked as though Maryland would win its first title. But Balassi stole the ball at midfield and dribbled 40 yards to the Terps' goal. Rob Williamson made the initial save on Balassi's first shot, but Balassi headed the rebound past the keeper to tie the game.

Then, just as in the Michigan State semifinal, a fullback knocked in the game-winning goal. Hennessy moved up from the back line and into the penalty area for a corner kick. Balassi struck the ball from the spot and Hennessy buried his shot to give the Bills a 4-3 win. Like Oswald, it was Hennessy's first goal of the season.

"At the beginning of the season I predicted that this would be a rebuilding year; next year was to be our big one," Guelker said. "However, I'm glad I was wrong this time."

The Saint Louis University Billiken soccer squad had a lot to live up to in 1963. In the four previous seasons of Billiken soccer, coach Bob Guelker's Bills were an aggressive, high-scoring machine that averaged 5.2 goals per game. Meanwhile, the defense shut down opponents, yielding only 0.71 goals per game in four years. On top of that, the Billikens had to try to uphold the past four squads' winter tradition of bringing back championship hardware from the NCAA tournament.

The 1963 club accomplished all of the above and more. In winning the program's fourth title in five years, the Billikens established a school record with 94 goals scored in 14 games, an average of 6.7 per game. Sophomore forward Carl Gentile netted 30 of those goals, also a school record. Forward Pat McBride, a fellow sophomore, collected 17 assists, which was a school record until Matt McKeon broke that mark in 1995. McBride also scored 18 goals. And the defense posted nine shutouts while giving up 12 goals.

The Billikens defeated Navy 3-0 in the championship match to gain the title, capping a 13-1-0 season.

Nearly everything was perfect for SLU during the season – except for a late-season loss to rival Michigan State. The offense clicked in every game with great passing and all-around solid forward play. Tom McDonnell added 11 goals and nine assists to Gentile and McBride's 48 goals. Reserve Tom Layton tallied seven goals and four assists. Terry Knox scored five goals and assisted on nine. Tom Mataya knocked in three goals and added five assists, while Tim Knox added two goals and five assists. In all, 14 Billikens scored at least one goal.

The defensive bunch of Don Ceresia, Joe Hennessy, Dan Leahy, Jack Gilsinn and Bill Vieth teamed with Roger Rupp to frustrate the opposition. Ceresia, Hennessy, Rupp and Vieth started on the 1962 team. They used their valuable experience as a cohesive unit to shut down rival attacks. And when they shut down the opposition, the defense quickly turned things around on the other side for the counterattack.

"Everybody deserves a lot of credit, but the way Bill Vieth, Don Ceresia, Joe Hennessy, Jack Gilsinn and Dan Leahy give you the ball, you can't miss up front," said McBride. "You just feel relaxed, and then you have a goalie like Roger Rupp – why, we have everything going for us."

The Bills blitzed through the early part of the regular season. SLU shut out Air Force (4-0), MacMurray (3-0) and Ball State (12-0) to start the year. After giving up the first goal of the year to Notre Dame in an 8-1 victory, the Billikens continued to blank their opponents. In a four-game stretch, SLU notched 39 goals while holding Wheaton, Chicago, Washington (Mo.) University and Miami scoreless. The Bills then pounded Illinois 10-2 before the big contest with Michigan State.

The Spartans clipped the Bills in the game, winning 4-3. But SLU avenged the loss the next week in the first round of the NCAA playoffs with a 2-0 win in East Lansing.

The San Francisco Dons faced the Billikens in the quarterfinal round. The Bills came from behind twice in the game to tie the score. Gentile evened the score at 1-1 right before the half, and McBride drew level terms in the second half at 2-2. In sudden-death overtime, Gentile booted in the game-winner to send SLU to the semifinals.

After playing three close games in a row, the Bills were looking to break out a little. Maryland was the unlucky recipient of a SLU rampage. The Billikens rocked the Terps 7-3, prompting Terrapins coach Doyle Royal to say, "That's the fastest and best college team I've ever seen."

SLU battled Navy in the final. McBride set the tone early by scoring his 18th goal of the year in the first four minutes of the game. Gentile and Terry Knox bagged one goal apiece in the third quarter to put the game out of reach. Rupp made nine saves on the day, several of them saving goals.

The Billikens earned rave reviews at the tourney final.

"Those boys could have played on equal terms with some of the best in Europe today," said Navy coach Glen Warner after the championship game. "We were outrun from the start, and the way Saint Louis sped those forward-moving passes, we didn't have a chance."

Pat McBride
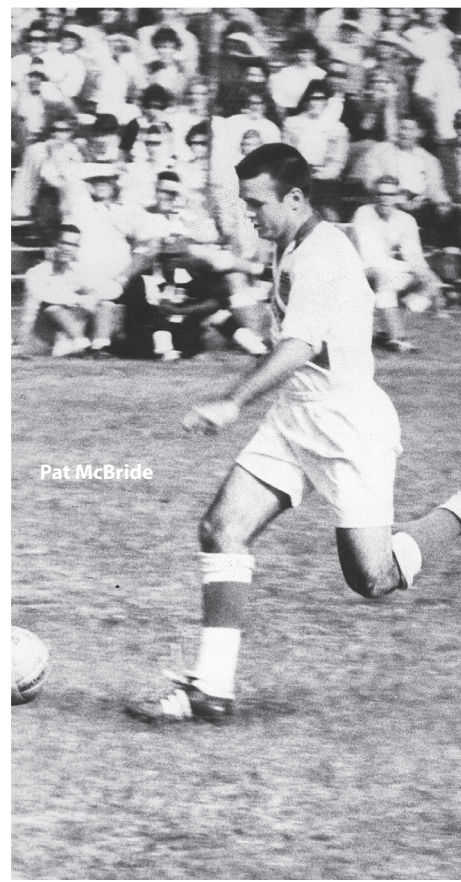

1965 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Six years of soccer competition. Six NCAA appearances. Four NCAA championships. A cumulative record of 74-6-2.

Those numbers translated into domination of the collegiate soccer scene for the Saint Louis University Billikens in the early 1960s. But while coach Bob Guelker's Billikens were becoming the superpower of soccer, one thing eluded the soccer program: a perfect season.

That changed in 1965, as the Bills picked up their fifth NCAA championship in seven years by rolling through the season with a 14-0-0 record. And this from a team that was supposed to undergo a rebuilding year.

Entering the 1965 season, Guelker returned only three seniors from the 1964 semifinalist squad: Carl Gentile, Pat McBride and Jack Gilsinn. Besides those three, goalkeeper Don Brennan was the only returning Billiken with game action. Fourteen juniors and six sophomores filled out the remainder of the Billiken outfit.

Everyone knew that Gentile and McBride would be dangerous up top. The two forwards had compiled phenomenal numbers in their first two years on the varsity. Gentile ripped the cords 57 times in two years, establishing the school's scoring record, and McBride scored 36 goals in two years. Jack Kinealy, Jay Moore and Wally Werner filled out the forward line for Guelker. Offense was never a problem in the past, and generating offense was the least of Guelker's worries in 1965.

But everyone thought that the Billikens' defense would have holes. All-American Don Ceresia and co-captain Dan Leahy graduated, leaving Gilsinn as the only Billiken with experience in the back. Gene Baker, Tim McAuliffe, Bill Murphy and Joe Westhus were to try to provide relief.

The defense proved everyone wrong. Gilsinn, Brennan and company held opponents to 10 goals on the year and posted seven shutouts, including five straight to open the season. SLU knocked off Illinois, Wheaton, Northwestern, Notre Dame and Air Force to start the year.

"When the season started, everyone said this would be our off year," said Brennan. "Well, no one is going to outplay this squad."

The undefeated Miami Hurricanes looked to be a tough opponent for the Billikens in their sixth game. SLU brushed aside the 'Canes, but Miami did something no other team had done: it scored twice on the vaunted Bills defense in a 6-2 loss.

Don Brennan
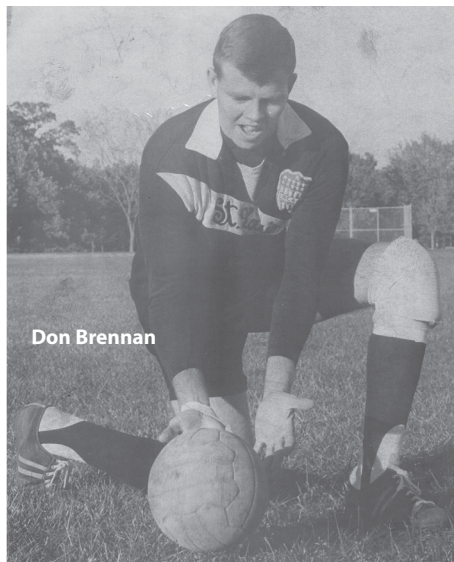

After a friendly match with SLU alumni, the Billikens faced their toughest challenge of the year in Michigan State. SLU was 6-1-1 against the Spartans in the past six years, knocking them out of the playoffs in 1962 and 1963. MSU was favored by two goals in this matchup, as coach Gene Kenney's squad had goal-scorer and St. Louisan Guy Busch at the forward spot.

SLU took a 1-0 lead on a goal by Kinealy in the first quarter. The Spartans responded with a tally from Busch in the first frame. Busch's second goal in the third quarter gave MSU a 2-1 lead. It was the first time that the Bills had trailed all year. In the fourth quarter, the forward line got rolling. Gentile scored and then set up Kinealy's game-winner at 16:45 to hand SLU a 3-2 win. Guelker was ecstatic after the victory.

"It was a tremendous team effort to make a come-from-behind win like that," said Guelker. "Our boys were up for this one just a little more than Michigan State and perhaps hungrier for the victory."

In the NCAAs, the Billikens faced Ohio University at Fairgrounds Park in St. Louis. Guelker warned his Billikens not to take the Bobcats lightly, as they only lost to Michigan State 2-0. SLU fell behind 1-0 in the first quarter.

Ohio tried to protect its lead by falling back into a defensive mode. It didn't work. Kinealy came up big in the third quarter, knocking in a 12-yard shot past the Bobcat keeper. Then McBride scored in the first minute of the fourth quarter on a shot that squeaked by the keeper for a 2-1 triumph.

The Billikens headed west to tackle the San Francisco Dons in a quarterfinal match. For the second game in a row, SLU trailed in the early going. USF grabbed a 1-0 advantage in the first quarter on a goal by Tam Sagastami. After tying the game in the second quarter, the Bills erupted for three goals in the third period. Kinealy's hat trick paced the Bills, placing them in the semifinals for a seventh consecutive year.

Navy, the 1964 national champs, awaited SLU in the semifinals at Fairgrounds Park. The Midshipmen had eliminated the Bills in last year's tournament in the semis and were looking to continue a 28-game unbeaten streak.

SLU knocked off Navy 3-1 to advance to the championship game with Michigan State, which had defeated Army. Werner, Gentile and Kinealy scored for SLU.

The championship was almost like a St. Louis Catholic Youth Council reunion match, as SLU's roster was full of locals, and Michigan State had eight St. Louisans. The local flavor and the fact that the match was in St. Louis could have contributed to the feistiness of the players. The contest was plagued with a load of fouls, and there were a couple of near brawls.

The physical play led to the lone goal of the match. MSU's Nick Krat took down McBride in the penalty box, and the referee awarded a penalty kick. Gentile converted to give the Billikens a 1-0 lead in the third quarter. Gentile missed another PK minutes later, but the Billiken defense held tight. SLU won its fifth title in seven years while continuing its mastery of MSU.

"I thought we outplayed them and had more opportunities to score," Guelker said. "But if it had to be on a penalty kick, we're just glad we won. And we're champions."

1967 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

"The day of domination in college soccer is over," said coach Bob Guelker after his Billikens lost 2-1 in four overtimes to San Francisco in the 1966 NCAA quarterfinals. It was the first time in Saint Louis University's soccer history that the team failed to make it to the semifinals of the national tournament.

"With more teams in the circuits, no team will dominate," Guelker said. "With these better teams coming up, the competition will get keen throughout the season, not just during the tourney."

SLU certainly did not dominate the opposition in the 1967 season under new coach Harry Keough. The Bills posted a record of 8-3-2. SLU tallied only 31 goals in 13 games, its lowest production in the program's history. The Billikens also gave up a school-record 19 goals.

But the team was good enough to string together a couple of wins in the tournament, reach the NCAA final against Michigan State and continue SLU's domination of the sport. In a driving thunderstorm and on a field already filled with puddles, the Spartans and Billikens played to a scoreless tie in 42 minutes of action. The NCAA called the game right before halftime because of the terrible conditions, naming Michigan State and SLU co-champions. It was SLU's sixth title and Michigan State's first.

"I wish we could have won it, but at least we upheld the tradition of the school," said Keough after the game. "I don't believe you could single out an outstanding star in that mud. Everyone gave his best."

Keough had trouble singling out anyone as his star player in 1967; it was a complete team effort. Forwards John Pisani, Wally Werner and Gene Geimer led the team in scoring, notching six goals apiece. Tom Bokern was a threat as well, scoring four goals while adding three assists. Dave Schlitt knocked in two goals as did substitute Jack Galmiche.

The defensive corps of Gary Rensing, Tom Rich, Brad Melchoir, Steve Frank and Bill McDermott bent in the early games but didn't break in the late-season contests. It wasn't a glamorous club, but everyone came together to win the title.

The Billikens had ups and downs throughout Keough's first season. SLU lost goalkeeper Don Brennan from the 1966 squad, leaving Keough without an experienced goalie. The problem proved to be serious in the early part of the season. Jim Conley gave up four goals on 11 shots in the alumni game. He picked up the win in a 4-1 victory over Air Force, but he broke his finger. Bill Donley filled in as the replacement.

Donley won his first match against South Florida but struggled against SIU-Carbondale. He surrendered five goals on only seven shots. Donley hung tough, though, and was starting to come around when another setback occurred. He was ruled ineligible for the NCAA playoffs, throwing Conley back into the fire. Conley fared well in the tourney, picking up three wins and the championship tie.

Wally Werner

Just when Donley started to excel after the SIUC debacle, the offense suffered a setback. Charles Zoeller, who had scored three goals on the year, broke his ankle in the Quincy match. That forced Dave Schlitt to move up from the back line to the forward line. As a result, McDermott took over in the back.

The schedule gave the Billikens all they could handle as well. After falling to the alumni, SLU knocked off Air Force at home and South Florida on the road. But the Salukis shocked the Billikens in Carbondale for a 5-4 win.

The Bills were a little lucky to pick up wins in back-to-back contests against Rockhurst and Quincy. After 88 minutes of play in the Rockhurst game, the score was tied 1-1. Rockhurst, an NAIA member, was forbidden to play overtime by its member association. But they decided to try to take down the Bills.

Schlitt took exception to the fact the Hawks weren't satisfied with the tie. He assisted on Bokern's game-winner and then added a goal of his own to secure a 3-1 win. Against Quincy, Bokern was fouled in the penalty area in the fourth quarter. Werner made the penalty kick to give SLU a 1-0 win.

SLU twice erased two-goal deficits against undefeated Michigan State to tie the Spartans 3-3 in East Lansing.

SLU captured an easy 4-0 victory over Indiana. But Keough's club followed that with a loss to South Florida. Although SLU stubbed its toe, the NCAA awarded the Bills their ninth consecutive berth in the playoffs.

The Billikens clobbered Colorado College 6-1 in their first-round game. Then in a seesaw contest with San Jose State, the Bills edged the Spartans 4-3, placing them in the semifinals against an old playoff foe, Navy.

Before a classic semifinal with the Midshipmen, Keough said, "We have as good a chance as any club. If standing up under pressure means anything, we've been through lots of it this season."

On a muddy field, the Middies and the Billikens scrapped and clawed at each other through 87 minutes of scoreless soccer. But then Galmiche sent a shot at the Navy goal. Goalie Dan Bowler couldn't get a handle on the ball, and it fell to the foot of Werner. He calmly tapped the ball in with 21 seconds left in regulation to send SLU to the final against MSU.

The final, if it had continued, probably would have been just as good as the semifinal. The teams were even in every category. Shots were 5-5; corner kicks were 3-3; saves were even at 8-8; and both squads had two great scoring opportunities. But the rain was too much. The teams agreed to halt the action and declare each other co-champions.

1969 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

In 1969, the Saint Louis Billikens were in the midst of a run that would result in five NCAA soccer championships in seven seasons. The 1969 team itself triggered the most dominating stretch in collegiate soccer until Virginia won four consecutive titles during the '90s.

From 1969-73, Saint Louis set high standards for collegiate soccer. The Billikens posted a 74-5-7 (.901) record, outscored their opponents 276-56, had winning streaks of 24 and 19 games, posted a 45-game unbeaten streak that stretched over three seasons and won four championships. Only Howard's 2-1 victory over Saint Louis in the 1971 NCAA title match prevented the Bills from hoisting five consecutive championship banners. The NCAA later vacated the title when Howard was ruled to have used ineligible players.

Individually, Al Trost won the first of his two national Player of the Year awards that would lead to the award landing at Saint Louis for five straight seasons.

The Billikens cruised through a 9-0-0 unbeaten regular season in 1969 by dominating their opponents 36-5. Saint Louis entered the NCAA Tournament with a wary eye on first-round opponent and archrival SIU Edwardsville.

Top-ranked Saint Louis dispatched the Cougars 4-0 and marched through the second round by handling Cleveland State 2-1 in a quarterfinal match played in Akron, Ohio.

In the national semifinals in San Jose, Calif., Saint Louis hooked up with unbeaten Harvard on Dec. 5. The Crimson also entered the match unbeaten at 14-0.

Freshman Mike Seerey, who like Trost would eventually win two national Player of the Year awards, put the Billikens on top with an eight-yard strike to the left corner of the goal late in the first quarter.

Riding the outstanding play of goalkeeper Bill Meyers, Harvard staved off the Saint Louis University attack despite being outshot 27-11. The Crimson tied the match midway through the second quarter as Charlie Thomas beat Billiken keeper Don Copple, who yielded only his seventh goal of the season. But the Billiken defense was so tenacious that Copple only had to make two saves for the game.

Trost pumped in the game-winner with 1:58 remaining in regulation time. Trost converted a rebound of Gene Geimer's hard shot that Meyers had turned away.

San Francisco got past Maryland 1-0 in the other semifinal as the Dons handed the Terps their first shutout in four years.

The Billikens overcame a sluggish first half in the final to overwhelm the Dons 4-0 at San Jose State's Spartan Field on Dec. 7.

Head coach Harry Keough, who was thrown fully clothed into the showers by his celebrating players, thought his team played a so-so game in the first half. "Maybe our boys were a little tight," he said. "Our passing was ragged.

"We had a little get-together at the half. We improved and started to move the ball better in the second half.

"The whole key was San Francisco's failure to take advantage of our inability to play well in the first half. I don't think that we ever got up to the level that we did in beating Harvard."

Trost got the Bills on the board with a penalty kick two minutes into the third period. When USF keeper John Camacho stopped Trost's first attempt, the referee ruled that Camacho moved his foot before the kick and gave Trost a second attempt, which he converted.

The Billikens carried that one-goal advantage to the fourth period and then broke the game open. Jim Leeker tallied from six yards just two minutes into the period. Six minutes later, Jim Pisani connected off a cross from Seerey. Gary Rensing closed the scoring on a penalty kick with five minutes remaining.

The Dons complained bitterly to the referee about the final PK and saw three players – Camacho, center back Carlos Martin and defender Hans Friessen – ejected.

"The game was rugged all the way, and tempers ran high toward the end on both sides," Keough said.

In a wide-open affair, the Bills outshot the Dons 24-18, but Copple was called upon to make only two saves. Camacho made seven stops for the Dons.

Trost was named offensive MVP, and freshman defender Pat Leahy was named defensive MVP.

1970 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

During Bob Guelker's tenure as coach of the Billikens, there were two constants in Billiken soccer – an explosive offense and a solid defense. Under coach Harry Keough, who took over the program in 1967, those constants remained. They were especially present during the 1970 season when the Billikens won their eighth NCAA title in 11 years with a 1-0 victory over UCLA.

The Billikens rolled through the season undefeated, recording a 14-0-1 mark. SLU gave up only six goals during the season, two of which came in an exhibition game with the St. Louis Stars. Goalies Don Copple and Al Steck posted 10 shutouts, which at the time were the most in Billiken history. The Billikens destroyed the competition during the regular season by averaging 4.1 goals per game. They were in the midst of a 45-game unbeaten streak, with the only blemish coming from a scoreless tie with Quincy in 1970.

"They have skill, speed, brilliant ball movement and tight defense," said Hartwick head coach Al Miller after his team's 1-0 semifinal loss to the Bills. "They've got everything."

Al "The Hawk" Trost led "The Big Blue Machine." He received the Robert Hermann Award for outstanding college player in the nation for a second consecutive year. Trost patrolled the midfield for SLU, knocking in nine goals and adding five assists. Second-team All-American Joe Hamm joined Trost in the midfield. Both players were adept at ballhandling and had tremendous poise. They were considered the reasons why the Billikens were so successful.

The team also was loaded with freshmen starters. Dan Counce was the team's leading scorer as a center-forward with 14 goals and eight assists. The other starting freshmen were defenders. Denny Werner, Bob Matteson and Mark Demling teamed up with senior Ed Neusel to form a formidable back line that allowed few shots on Copple. Jim Bokern and Denny Hadican, who scored the game-winning goal against UCLA, subbed on the forward line.

Sophomore Mike Seerey, named "Mr. Striker" by his teammates, was the other center-forward with Counce. Seerey scored the decisive goal in the Hartwick contest in the fourth quarter to lift the Billikens, and he assisted on the game-winner in the championship. Jim Draude and Joe Leeker played the wings in Keough's 4-2-4 system. Both of those players joined the other opportunistic Bills in raiding the opponents' goal.

Coach Keough and assistant Val Pelizarro preached ball control, patience and conditioning to their players. Undoubtedly, those were the things that made the Billikens champions. It was something that every coach noted when his team tried to challenge SLU.

"Besides the skill of the players, they have tremendous anticipation of ball movement, don't yield an inch and keep up constant pressure," said West Chester coach Jerry Yeagley. "This is the best Billiken team among many good ones I've seen in the last nine years."

The Billikens were on their way to the NCAA Tournament as the No. 1-ranked team in the nation when they ran into the SIU Edwardsville Cougars in the Midwest Regional. SLU had defeated SIUE in the regular season 3-1, but the Cougars sought revenge.

In a defensive struggle, SIUE went up three minutes and 38 seconds into the fourth quarter on a goal by Chris Carenza. But SLU attacked relentlessly to get the equalizer. Hamm crossed a ball to Counce, who knocked in the tying goal at 9:45 of the period. Then with 10 seconds left in the game, Counce inadvertently notched the game-winning goal.

"I think I would have been hit squarely in the face or head by (Pat) Leahy's boot," said Counce, "so I dove down and tried to get a piece of it with my head and deflect it. I guess I was as surprised as anyone else when it went over (goalie) Benben's head and into the cords."

The Billkens faced a confident UCLA team in the final before 8,000 fans at SIU Edwardsville's Cougar Field. After defeating Howard 4-3 in the semifinals, UCLA coach Dennis Storer said, "We have the best offensive team in the country. I don't think the Billikens will shut us out."

UCLA, full of foreign-born players, was certainly quick and played a fast-paced game. But in the championship game, the Bruins played a more deliberate style. They played long balls down the flanks, trying to get their strikers behind the Billiken defense. But the back four of Neusel, Werner, Matteson and Demling stymied UCLA, allowing only 12 shots. Meanwhile, the Bruin defense and goalie Steve Burnside were just as effective in stopping SLU. The score was 0-0 at the half.

In the third quarter, the Bills broke through. Seerey sent a cross from the left side into a circle of players in the box. The ball somehow found Hadican, who headed home the game-winner at 11:36 of the third quarter. Interestingly, Counce was just getting ready to enter the game to replace Hadican. The goal was Hadican's second of the year.

Denny Hadican

1972 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Dan Counce was a junior on the 1972 Saint Louis University soccer team and was a major cog in one of the greatest runs in NCAA soccer history. Counce was a part of three title teams and one runner-up. He saw a group that knew how to win. "We all had a winning attitude," he recalled. "Most of our guys had won national championships at the amateur, high school or club level. This was a group that truly refused to lose.

"We also prided ourselves in being American players, homegrown players, because most of the good college teams were dominated by foreign players."

When the Bills dropped the 1971 title match to Howard, it was their first loss in 45 games dating back to 1968. Billiken alumnus and ESPN soccer analyst Bill McDermott calls the '72 team part of the halcyon era of SLU soccer. "This group truly put Billiken soccer on the map," he said. "They captured that nationwide notoriety for the Saint Louis program and the city that we still enjoy to this day."

Joe Clarke, a freshman defender on that 1972 team, would later go on to coach the Billikens for 14 years. There never was any doubt in his mind that the Billikens would reclaim the title that year. "If we didn't win it all, our season would have been a failure," Clarke noted.

Clarke knew he was about to join a special group of players. "That team was big, fast and hard," he recalled. "We were awfully strong up the middle with Counce, (Denny) Hadican and Bob Matteson, who made game-breaking plays regularly. Plus, we had the best goalie in the history of the program in Chuck (Zorumski). We wouldn't have won it without Chuck."

Under the guidance of legendary SLU coach and soccer Hall of Famer Harry Keough, the Billikens began their run to a ninth national championship on Nov. 24, 1972 – Thanksgiving Day. Saint Louis opened the NCAA Tournament by eliminating Bowling Green 2-0 at Musial Field in St. Louis. Midfielder Tim Logush put the Bills in front at 24:03 when he headed a well-placed cross from Denny Hadican into the right corner of the net. Sophomore defender Bruce Hudson made it 2-0 at 31:06 on a penalty kick.

Saint Louis advanced to the regional final in Athens, Ohio, where it was challenged by Ohio University. Despite a 16-day layoff, the Bills overwhelmed the Bobcats with three first-half goals and swamped OU 3-1.

Twenty minutes into the match, Mike Seerey, an All-American who was on his way to winning his second consecutive Hermann Trophy as the nation's outstanding collegiate player, put Saint Louis on top with an assist from defender Dale Harmon. Only 10 minutes later, Bruce Hutton built the margin to two goals on a penalty kick after Seerey was fouled. Counce scored the Bills' final goal off a pass from defender Mark Demling.

The Billikens qualified for their fourth straight final four and found Howard, Cornell and UCLA left in their path. The semifinal was a rematch of the previous year's title game that saw Howard upset the two-time defending champion Billikens. Howard was eventually stripped of the championship for using ineligible players.

The Billikens grabbed the early lead at 21:19 when Hadican scored unassisted by rifling a 10-footer past Howard keeper Andemichael Selassie. But the Bison answered at 24:32 on an Ian Bain 20-footer.

The teams battled on even terms for the next 74 minutes before Hadican passed to Counce, who headed the ball into the upper right corner after 8:37 of sudden death OT. It was Howard's first loss of the season after 14 wins and a tie.

Beating Howard in the return match was a huge moment for Counce and the Billikens. "When they were stripped of the 1971 title, we didn't want a championship handed to us, because we felt as if we lost that match," he said. "We wanted to beat them on our own merits."

UCLA dispatched Cornell 1-0 and set up a rematch of the 1970 championship match when the Bills beat the Bruins. The title game was hard fought. Counce again put the Bills on top first at 41:52 on a cross played by Clarke. Early in the second half, the Bills moved to a two-goal margin when Hadican converted a breakaway off a Logush throw-in.

Then it got a little testy. UCLA's Tekeda Alemu tallied the Bruins' first goal on a header, but exchanged punches with defender Denny Werner following the goal. Both benches emptied, and it was 15 minutes before play was restored. Although no one was ejected, two Billikens had to leave the game. Zorumski suffered a gashed lip that required stitches, and Hudson departed with a mild concussion.

The Bruins began to apply heavy pressure on backup keeper Al Steck, but Seerey came through with two goals within a 61-second span to secure the outcome. The 1971 national Player of the Year tallied his first on a rebound of Logush's free kick. The second came on a pass from Counce.

Saint Louis triumphed 4-2 to finish 15-2-3. It was only the second time in 20 games that the Billikens had surrendered two goals.

Counce was named the tournament's Most Valuable Offensive Player. He recalled the thrill of winning a national championship. "It's the pinnacle to win a title," he stated. "I was fortunate to win three, and words can't describe the feeling. You have to experience it."

McDermott remembers Counce. "He always was the big man in the big games," he said. "Between Counce and Seerey, that was a formidable duo. They were two bona fide goal scorers who gave as much physically as they took.

"They both had the entire package for goal scorers. They were dynamic with the ball at their feet and had the improvisational skills to move off the ball. Plus, they had that arrogance and nasty streak that all great goal scorers have."

1973 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

In the storied history of Saint Louis University soccer, there was arguably no greater run than the four-year dominance of the Class of '74. That senior class played in four NCAA championship matches and won three of them, including its final title in 1973.

That four-year era produced a record of 61-5-7, a winning percentage of .884. The Bills' prolific attack scored 228 goals, while solid defense yielded just 49.

The Billikens tuned up for their 10th title run with an eight-match international tour. SLU played three games in Brazil and one each in Colombia, Chile, Argentina, Uruguay and Mexico.

In the NCAA title match at Miami's Orange Bowl, UCLA jumped out to an early advantage on a Firooz Fowzi goal at 4:24 after a Billiken miscue. Billiken All-America midfielder Bob Matteson mis-hit a ball when he attempted to knock a back pass to goalkeeper Chuck Zorumski. Fowzi intercepted and put UCLA on top.

The Billikens picked up the offensive tempo in an attempt to tie the game and outshot the Bruins 34-12 after the early UCLA goal. SLU finally tied the game at 54:44. Denny Hadican's long through-ball sent Dan Counce in on UCLA keeper Fred Decker. Living up to his big-game reputation, Counce beat Decker high to send the game to overtime.

The 1972 tournament offensive MVP, Counce again made the play to set up the game-winner. He picked up a free ball in front of the UCLA net and knocked it in at 5:43 of the overtime session to give SLU its 10th national championship. Fittingly, Counce was the Bills' leading scorer with 11 goals and four assists. He also claimed the Hermann Award as the nation's outstanding player.

Billiken head coach Harry Keough thought it was an outstanding title match. "There were no losers here tonight," he said. "(UCLA head coach) Dennis Storer's players pushed our team to play their best soccer in order to win this game."

The Billikens reached the final by rolling past Brown 3-1 in the semifinals. Counce converted a pretty passing sequence as Matteson, Jim Bokern and Tim Logush all had touches before the Billiken All-American finished the play. The Bills' second goal was a superlative individual effort by Matteson, who dribbled 75 yards before beating BU keeper Mike Hampden. Saint Louis turned the game into a rout when freshman midfielder Bruce Rudroff scored on an indirect free kick with Matteson picking up an assist.

Zorumski lost his shutout when the Bears' Lamin Sarr converted a 2-on-1 break at 82:51. That set up the meeting with UCLA, which had dispatched Clemson 2-1 in overtime in the other semifinal.

The Billikens carried the No. 1 ranking and a 12-2-3 record into the NCAA Tournament. They grabbed the top ranking by blanking then-No. 1 SIU Edwardsville 1-0 in the annual Bronze Boot match. A rematch with the second-ranked Cougars in the regional final loomed after the Bills dispatched Bowling Green 6-0 in a first-round game. This time, the Billikens overpowered the Cougars 3-0 to earn their fifth straight appearance in the final four.

The senior group's talent was undeniable. Both Counce and Matteson played in the Senior Bowl in Orlando the day after the championship match. Counce was the game's MVP as he scored the only goal of the game to give the West side a 1-0 victory.

Seven Billiken seniors were drafted by North American Soccer League teams following the season. First-round picks included Counce by Boston, Mark Demling by San Francisco and Matteson by Dallas. Jim Bokern was selected by his hometown St. Louis Stars, Denny Hadican went to Seattle, and Denny Werner joined Counce in Boston. Zorumski passed on an opportunity to play professionally with Denver to pursue his medical career.

DON COPPLE SHINES IN NCAA TOURNEY

Former Saint Louis University goalkeeper Don Copple, who was in the nets during SLU's national championship titles in 1969 and 1970, holds one of the lowest career goals against average in NCAA Tournament play. In eight games in 1969 and 1970, Copple posted a 0.38 GAA, yielding just three goals in 720 minutes of action.

The Billikens' nine goals versus Stanford in the 1962 NCAA first-round match is tied for first in NCAA Tournament play.
