Setting The Scene

• Playing in a school-record fourth consecutive bowl game, SMU takes on former Western Athletic Conference-mate Fresno State in the Sheraton Hawai`i Bowl on Christmas Eve in Honolulu.

• This marks SMU's third bowl game in Hawaii, with the Mustangs going 2-0 in the previous games (1984 Aloha Bowl - SMU 27, Notre Dame 20; 2009 Sheraton Hawai`i Bowl - SMU 45, Nevada 10).

• The Mustangs will be playing for their third bowl championship in four seasons, having won the 2009 Sheraton Hawai`i Bowl and the 2012 BBVA Compass Bowl.

• Over the past two-plus seasons, SMU is 14-0 when scoring first but 0-13 when the opponent scores first.

• Three-time All-C-USA performer and 2012 C-USA Offensive Player of the Year Zach Line puts the "run" in SMU's Run & Shoot. Line has totaled 4,114 yards and 46 rushing TDs in his career, both of which rank in the top six among active players. His career rushing total is second-best in school history, trailing only Eric Dickerson. He has been a model of consistency, rushing for 80 or more yards in 32 of 36 games since becoming the feature back in 2010. His 20 career 100-yard games rank fourth among active players. He has surpassed the 1,000-yard mark for the third time and is just the second Mustang and the fourth player in C-USA history to reach that plateau in at least three seasons.

• SMU is tied for the national lead in pick-sixes (6) and is tied for third in the nation in total takeaways (33). The Mustangs are also tied for sixth in interceptions (19) and for third in fumble recoveries for TDs (3).

About The Bulldogs

• Co-Champions of the Mountain West and winners of five straight, the Bulldogs enter the game at 9-3 and receiving votes in both the AP and USA Today polls. Fresno State ranks in the top 20 nationally in both total offense (14) and total defense (19). The Bulldog offense is led by the prolific trio of quarterback Derek Carr (312 ypg/36 TDs), back Robbie Rouse (122 ypg) and wide receiver Davante Adams (97 ypg).

The Series

• SMU and Fresno State met six times from 1999-2004 as members of the WAC, with the Bulldogs owning a 5-1 series edge. SMU's lone win came back in the series opener in 1999, as the Mustangs posted a 24-14 win in Dallas.

The Coaches

• June Jones is in his fifth season at the SMU helm. His SMU record is 30-34 and his career mark is now 106-75. Jones led SMU to back-to-back Conference USA Western Division Championships in 2009 and 2010, and has led the Mustangs to four straight bowl berths. Jones went 76-41 in nine seasons at Hawaii, leading the Warriors to the All-State Sugar Bowl following the 2007 season. Prior to heading to Hawaii, Jones had a 12-year coaching career in the NFL, including head coaching stops at Atlanta and San Diego.

• Jones is coaching in his sixth Hawai`i Bowl with a record of 4-1 in his previous five appearances. He enters the 2012 game having won his last four Hawai`i Bowls.

• Jones is 6-3 all-time against the Bulldogs, with all nine meetings coming while he served as Hawaii's head coach.

• Fresno State's Tim DeRuyter is in his first season as a head coach but boasts 22 years of coaching experience, including 16 seasons as a defensive coordinator. He spent the past two seasons as the assistant head coach/defensive coordinator at Texas A&M and served as the interim head coach for the Aggies in the 2011 Meineke Car Care Bowl, leading A&M to a 33-22 over Northwestern.

LAST TIME VS. THE BULLDOGS

FRESNO - Paul Pinegar threw three touchdown passes and Bryson Sumlin added two scoring runs to help Fresno State beat SMU 42-0 on Oct. 30, 2004.

Pinegar completed 14 of 20 passes for 191 yards and no interceptions before backup Jordan Christensen took over late in the third quarter. Wendell Mathis led the Bulldogs with 72 yards, and Sumlin and Adam Jennings added 56 apiece.

Three of the Bulldogs' scoring drives came off turnovers, including two fumbles by quarterback Tony Eckert. Eckert finished 9-of-16 for 158 yards and two interceptions. Backup quarterback Jerad Romo led the Mustangs in rushing with 71 yards on 11 carries.

RUN (NOT WALK) THE LINE

Zach Line was named First-Team All-C-USA in 2010, 2011 and 2012, becoming just the 11th player in school history to earn all-league honors three times. He finished the year as the league's leading rusher in both 2010 and 2011, and was named the C-USA Offensive Player of the Year in 2012.

Last season, Line suffered a foot injury and missed the last three games of the season but still ranked seventh in the nation in rushing at 122.4 yards per game. He posted eight 100-yard rushing games in 10 games played and led C-USA with 17 rushing touchdowns.

In 2012, Line has posted 135 yards at Baylor, 104 yards against Texas A&M, 177 yards at Tulane, 113 yards versus Houston and 127 against Memphis. He has 1,207 yards on the year - the third straight season that he's broken the 1,000-yard mark. With three 1,000-yard seasons, he is just the second player at SMU with three 1,000-yard seasons (Reggie Dupard) and the fourth C-USA student-athlete to reach that plateau. He is the only Mustang with three 1,200-yard seasons.

His 20 career 100-yard games rank second in SMU history to only Eric Dickerson and fourth among active players.

Line has 4,114 yards for his career (2nd at SMU/6th among active players). He set a new school record by rushing for five TDs in the win over Northwestern State in 2011, and his 46 career rushing TDs are second all-time at SMU and in C-USA, and rate third among active players.

As a high school senior, Line held no FBS offers. That's when Bill Keenist, the Detroit Lions' Senior VP of Communications, decided to help. Keenist's son had played with Line at Oxford High School, and Keenist sent a DVD of Line's exploits to June Jones, a former coach for the Lions. Jones saw what he thought was a linebacker and recruited Line to SMU, but once Jones and the staff started slotting guys into positions, they moved Line to running back.

Line is joined on the Mustang squad this season by his younger brother, freshman Prescott Line. The PARADE All-American was named "Mr. Football" in Michigan in 2011 and was a two-time state champion wrestler, but is redshirting in 2012.

LUCKY 13

Thirteen Mustangs earned All-Conference USA honors this season, as selected by the league's head football coaches. Zach Line, Margus Hunt and Ja'Gared Davis were named First-Team All-C-USA, while Bryan Collins, Darius Johnson, Kenneth Acker and Taylor Reed were named to the second team.

Jordan Free, Jeremy Johnson, Torlan Pittman and Mike Loftus all received All-Conference USA honorable mention nods, and Taylor Lasecki and Shakiel Randolph were named to the C-USA All-Freshman Team.

THE GRADUATE

SMU quarterback Garrett Gilbert took 27 credit hours last spring so he could graduate from Texas and be immediately eligible at SMU.

The Gatorade National Player of the Year enrolled at Texas in 2009 and was thrust into the BCS Championship Game against No. 1 Alabama, replacing injured Colt McCoy after five plays. Gilbert threw touchdown passes of 44 and 28 yards to position the Longhorns for a comeback victory. Gilbert then started every game in 2010, passing for 2,744 yards and 10 touchdowns. Two games into the 2011 season, Gilbert suffered a season-ending shoulder injury (torn labrum) and was granted a medical redshirt. He then decided to transfer to the Hilltop.

Gilbert set a new career-high with four TD throws in SMU's win over Houston, and passed for a career-high 353 yards and rushed for two TDs as SMU thrashed Memphis. Against Southern Miss, Gilbert accounted for three TDs and 343 yards of total offense, including a 36-yard TD run. In SMU's must-win regular season finale against C-USA Champion Tulsa, Gilbert ran for 111 yards, becoming the first SMU QB to run for 100 yards since Justin Willis had 114 against Memphis in 2007. He also posted a 74-yard TD run - the longest SMU rush since 2006.

In addition to his ground game, Gilbert enters the bowl game with a streak of 126 attempts without an interception.

MY THREE 'SONS

Darius has been named MVP in back-to-back bowl games; Jeremy caught the game-winning TD in overtime at TCU in 2011 and Der'rikk is a deep threat with six of his seven career TDs coming from 25-yards or more out.

Darius was chosen a Second-Team All-C-USA performer and Biletnikoff Award Watch List member in 2012 after wrapping up 2011 with an MVP performance in SMU's BBVA Compass Bowl win. He has 13 100-yard games in his career, third-best at SMU, and ranks in the top five on the Hilltop in career TDs, catches and yards. With 229 career catches, he's tied for fifth among active players and his 2,814 yards are 14th-best. Along with current Pittsburgh Steeler Emmanuel Sanders, Darius is one of just two Mustangs with three 60-catch seasons.

Jeremy, a prep quarterback, played in 10 games in 2011 and caught 16 balls for 146 yards and a score. He leads the team with 67 grabs in 2012 for 679 yards and three scores, earning All-C-USA honorable mention honors for his play.

Thompson, the cousin of former Mustang great Keylon Kincade, caught a 72-yard bomb against UCF in 2011 and has four long TD grabs in 2012.

OUT OF LINE

Last season, SMU boasted the nation's most experienced offensive line, finishing the year with a combined 221 starts on the roster and starting five seniors. The 2012 roster tells a different story, though, as, entering the year, SMU OL returnees had combined for only 36 starts (McJunkin 26, Collins 9 and Free 1).

A HEADS-UP PLAY

During SMU's game at Texas A&M in 2011, Aggies DB Trent Hunter intercepted a pass and lost his helmet when Blake McJunkin tackled him. With Hunter's head exposed, McJunkin instinctively shielded his opponent with his arms until the play was over.

"It was just a natural reaction," McJunkin told the Houston Chronicle. "When he lost his helmet, it was just the right thing to do, no matter the color of his jersey. I've seen people get hurt in that situation."

McJunkin didn't speak a word of his selfless act to anyone. McJunkin's father, Kirk McJunkin, a former Texas guard and Pittsburgh Steeler, said even after spending the rest of the night with his son and driving back to Dallas with him on Monday, Blake didn't mention anything about the play.

"On Tuesday, someone sent me a link to the play and told me to watch it," McJunkin's father said. "Honestly, it makes me extremely proud because you raise your kids hoping they do the right thing."

"(Shoutout) to Blake McJunkin for looking out for me when my helmet came off during the game. Your (sic) a class act bro. Thanks!," Hunter later tweeted.

For his efforts, McJunkin was selected as the Division I male winner of the NCAA Sportsmanship Award for notable displays of sporting behavior.

THE EASTERN BLOCK

For SMU defensive end Margus Hunt, 2009 was his first year of playing football. His only previous football experience consisted of playing NFL video games.

Hunt set an SMU single-season record and tied for second in NCAA history with seven blocked kicks (4 FG, 3 PAT) as a freshman.

He started 2010 by blocking field goal attempts against Texas Tech and Tulsa, and then blocked a PAT in the Armed Forces Bowl.

Hunt blocked a pair of PATs at Texas A&M, a field goal against UTEP and another field goal against Northwestern State - and earned honorable mention All-C-USA honors in 2011. He wrapped up the season with a dominant performance in the BBVA Compass Bowl win, racking up three sacks and five total tackles.

This season, Hunt broke the NCAA career record when he blocked his ninth career FGA in SMU's win over SFA. He added to his record total with another FGA block at UTEP and also had a PAT block against Texas A&M.

He now has 17 career blocked kicks (10 FGs, 7 PATs), which ties for second in NCAA history (record is 19). The seven career blocked PATs rank second in the NCAA Record Book (record is eight).

He has made his mark at defensive end as well, earning First-Team All-C-USA honors in 2012 and rolling up 14.5 career sacks and 24.5 career TFL. He has also accepted an invitation to play in the 2013 Senior Bowl.

Hunt was voted DFW's Top Athlete in a DallasNews.com poll this summer and was on the Watch Lists for both the Hendricks and Lombardi Awards. He was named the No. 1 athletic "freak" in college football by CBSSports.com.

Hunt won gold medals in both the shot put and the discus at the 2006 World Junior Championships, becoming the first athlete ever to win a shot/discus gold medal double.

THE BRUISE BROTHERS

SMU defenders Ja'Gared Davis and Taylor Reed have been impact players since arriving on the Hilltop.

Reed, who entered 2012 on the Lombardi Award Watch List, was named All-C-USA in 2011 and 2012 and was on the All-C-USA Freshman Team in 2009. He led SMU with 101 tackles last season and is just one stop off the team lead in 2012. If he finishes the season in the top spot, it will mark the third straight season he led SMU in stops. Reed now has 391 career tackles, ranking fifth among all active FBS players and his 249 solo tackles are second among active players. Reed had two picks in SMU's 72-42 win over Houston, returning one for his first career TD.

Davis, who was on the Butkus Award Watch List, is a three-time All-Conference USA selection. He started all 13 games in 2011, notching 83 tackles, including a team-high 12 tackles for loss and 5.5 sacks. He earned National Defensive Player of the Week honors after recording eight tackles, 2.5 for loss including 1.5 sacks, an interception, three pass breakups, and a forced fumble and recovery for a touchdown against UTEP and later led the team with nine stops in the BBVA Compass Bowl win. In 2012, Davis was huge in SMU's 52-0 win over SFA, notching nine tackles, a sack, 1.5 tackles for loss and a 34-yard fumble return for a touchdown. At UTEP, Davis returned an interception for a TD, marking his fifth career score (three fumble returns, a blocked FGA return and an interception return). In SMU's bowl-clinching win over C-USA Champion Tulsa, the linebacker forced and recovered a fumble to set up SMU's second touchdown, and followed that by intercepting a pass to set up SMU's third TD drive. He finished the game with seven tackles and two-and-a-half tackles for loss.

With 18.5 career sacks, Davis ranks 18th among all active players and his 39 TFL also rank 18th among actives. Davis is also the only Mustang in school history to start in four bowl games.

Both were named All-C-USA in 2012 and were tabbed to Dave Campbell's All-Texas Team.

PICK-6 6-PACK

After returning three interceptions for touchdowns against Houston, SMU has registered six scores on interception returns this season. This puts the Mustangs just two off the NCAA FBS record.

SMU has had 12 players pick off passes in 2012, the second-most among all FBS teams.

2.	SMU	12

SMU student-athletes with picks in 2012 are Kenneth Acker (3), Randall Joyner (3), Ja'Gared Davis (2), Taylor Reed (2), Ryan Smith (2), Jeremy Gray, Brett Haness, Margus Hunt, Stephon Sanders, Jay Scott, Cameron Rogers and Darrian Wright.

THE RED CARPET

With the arrival of June Jones, SMU may need to install a red carpet in the Mustang locker room as SMU has become "the place to be" in Dallas. Among the celebrities, legends, pros and former pros that have attended practice or stopped by the stadium are: Roger Staubach, Troy Aikman, Daryl "Moose" Johnston, Jeff George, Reggie Dupard, Eric Dickerson, Craig James, Jerry Ball, Devin Hester and Deion Sanders.

Former President George W. Bush even visits SMU football practice. Coach June Jones has given the 43rd President a practice schedule and he stops by when he can. On his first visit, Mr. Bush watched about an hour of drills and even put on a red SMU hat for part of his stay.

Jones later Tweeted, "(The President) talked to the guys and told them he will be supporting SMU and Dallas for years to come."

BIG D IN THE BIG D

Stout defense has been played by Dallas' Team in 2012, as the SMU defense has posted two shutouts in 2012, the first time that has happened at SMU since 1983. SMU is tied for the national lead in pick-sixes (6) and is tied for third in the nation in total takeaways (33). The Mustangs are also tied for sixth in interceptions (19) and for third in fumble recoveries for TDs (3).

Against No. 15 TCU, SMU held the Horned Frogs to just 156 yards of total offense. It was the fewest yards for a TCU team since 1997.

SMU then posted a 17-0 win at UTEP, shutting out a Mike Price-coached team for just the second time in his 31-year career. It was the first shutout of UTEP in El Paso since 1996.

TRIBUTE 23

Prior to the 2009 season, June Jones announced that a deserving student-athlete would be chosen to wear the number "23" on his jersey throughout the season to honor Jerry LeVias for his contributions to America, the sport of football and SMU.

LeVias was the first African-American to receive an athletic scholarship in the Southwest Conference. LeVias made athletic and academic All-America teams and, in 1966, contributed to the Mustangs' first SWC title in 18 years. He was an All-American in 1968 and was chosen All-SWC in 1966, 1967 and 1968.

Sophomore Stephon Sanders has the honor in 2012. Sanders played in 12 games as a freshman, with five starts late in the year.

In 2012, Sanders has started 11 games and has 46 tackles on the year.

SECOND SECONDARY

SMU lost three-year starting safety Ryan Smith for the year when he went down with a season-ending injury against TCU. Brett Haness, who then earned the job in Smith's absence, was then lost for the year just three games later. Sophomore J.R. Richardson, slotted as a starter at corner in the preseason, got injured in training camp and is out for the year. All-C-USA Freshman Team member Shakiel Randolph has also missed time and back-up corner Horace Richardson is out for the year with a torn ACL. The injuries have left the Mustangs a bit thin in the secondary.

BIG MOVE TO THE BIG EAST

SMU will join the BIG EAST Conference in all sports on July 1, 2013.

SMU, Houston, Memphis and UCF will join at that time as all-sport members, while Boise State and San Diego State will become football-only members. Tulane will join as an all-sport member and East Carolina will join as a football-only member in 2014, while Navy becomes a football-only member in 2015.

The BIG EAST will have the largest footprint of any college football conference in the nation, with a coast-to-coast presence. BIG EAST markets already contain almost one-fourth of all television households in the United States - more than twice as many households as any other conference - and will reside in many of the nation's top media markets.

BULLETPROOF

In Dallas, there was plenty of attention paid to the specially-designed bulletproof vest Dallas Cowboys quarterback Tony Romo wore to protect his broken rib last season. On the college level, several Mustangs now have special material in their helmets and pads.

Unequal Technologies calls the material it designed a combination of padding and ballistics-grade Kevlar, and boasts that it has developed the No. 1 shock suppression system in the world.

KEY PLAYS

SMU's Margus Hunt has developed a friendship with SMU's only other Estonian student, Hando Nahkur. The two enjoy speaking Estonian together, but they also share a love for another language, the language of music. Hunt was taking a beginning piano class last fall when he learned of Hando, a concert pianist studying under SMU's piano artist-in-residence. The two struck up a friendship, both encouraging the other. Both men are champions in their own fields – Hunt in the shot and discus, and Nahkur on the piano.

Hunt attended Nahkur's performances last spring, always researching the pieces being played before the performance. Nahkur also supported Hunt's playing piano as they both worked on pieces by an Estonian composer. Hunt now plays his classical music favorites - Bach Prelude # 1 and Beethoven's "Für Elise" - by memory.

In turn, Nahkur attended the SMU football spring scrimmage and has been in the stands this fall.

IT'S A BIRD, IT'S A PLANE, IT'S SUPERFAN

Paul Layne holds an unrivaled Mustang athletics record. He has attended every SMU football game for the last 40 years, even going to Tokyo. He once attended a game dressed in a Halloween costume to disguise his case of adult-onset chicken pox.

Layne's unyielding commitment to SMU football has even posed some challenges for family and friends – like the time his ex-wife remarried. He persuaded her to schedule her wedding on a Friday night, within driving distance of SMU's game at Nevada the following day. So the night before the Mustangs tangled with the Wolf Pack in Reno, Layne attended the wedding in California's Sonoma Valley, then drove 200 miles to catch the opening kickoff.

Starting when Layne attended SMU and was a team cheerleader, he's attended 432 straight games.

HAWAII TWO-O

The 2012 Sheraton Hawai`i Bowl marks SMU's third bowl game in Hawaii, with the Mustangs going 2-0 in the previous contests.

SMU edged Notre Dame, 27-20, in the 1984 Aloha Bowl, behind 100-yard rushing performances from both Jeff Atkins and Reggie Dupard.

After a 25-year bowl drought, SMU returned to postseason play in the 2009 Sheraton Hawai`i Bowl, where the Mustangs routed favored Nevada, 45-10, jumping out to a 38-0 lead in the third quarter.

Adding to SMU's historical Hawaiian success is head coach June Jones, who enters the 2012 game having won his last four Hawai`i Bowls. He's in his sixth Hawai`i Bowl overall and is 4-1 in his previous five appearances. Jones is also 16-1 in his last 17 games in Aloha Stadium and has won nine straight. He is coaching his 75th game at the stadium and is 54-20 in his previous games there as coach.

SMU graduate assistant Timmy Chang has also had a great deal of success in Aloha Stadium, going 21-8 there as a UH student-athlete and earning MVP honors in the 2003 Hawai`i Bowl and Co-MVP honors in the 2004 Hawai`i Bowl.

THE MUSTANG LEGEND

Legend has it that when Ford Motor Company was preparing to introduce the sports car that would gain fame as the Mustang, it was considering other names such as Cougar, Bronco, Cheetah and Colt.

But during the 1963 football season, SMU took an undersized but quick team to Ann Arbor to play a massive Michigan Wolverine squad. Michigan gained the early advantage, but had to fight off the feisty Ponies for a 27-16 win.

After the game, Ford's Lee Iacocca entered the SMU locker room and addressed the disappointed Mustangs.

"Today," Iacocca said, "After watching the SMU Mustangs play with such flair, we reached a decision. We will call our new car the Mustang. Because it will be light, like your team. It will be quick, like your team. And it will be sporty, like your team."

Ford's new car got its name, and the rest, as they say, is history.

SCORECASTING A WINNER

The first score of a game can be critical, and over SMU's last 27 games, it hasn't been just critical, it's been deciding. Over that span, SMU is 14-0 when scoring first and 0-13 when the opponent scores first.

THREE-TIME NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

SMU is one of just 20 schools that has both a Heisman Trophy winner (Doak Walker, 1948) and multiple National Championships (1935, 1981, 1982).

The 1935 season was highlighted by an epic showdown between SMU and TCU. The stakes for the game could not have been higher as the Southwest Conference title, a Rose Bowl bid and a National Championship would go to the winner. SMU was 10-0, and TCU was 11-0. It was No. 1 vs. No. 2. The National Broadcasting System sent it live across the country, marking the first broadcast of a game in the Southwest.

SMU won the game, the SWC title and the National Championship.

TAKING HOVER

Kicker Chase Hover took a risk by leaving Blinn College and walking-on at SMU in 2011.

Hover contacted the SMU staff after his father read a note in the Dallas Morning News about SMU's concerns in the kicking game. The 2009 Plano West graduate tore up his knee early in his senior year of high school, so any interest from colleges quickly disappeared. He rehabbed his first year of college (as a teammate of future Heisman Trophy winner Cam Newton) and then kicked for Blinn in 2010. He went through two-a-days with Blinn in the summer before things worked out at SMU, where he paid his own way.

This season, at Tulane, Hover tied the SMU record by kicking four field goals in a game, including a career-long 52-yarder, and then hit three field goals and was five-of-five on PATs, tying his career-high with 14 points as SMU topped Memphis, 44-13. His 16 made field goals in 2012 is third-best in a season at SMU.

GREAT TAILGATE

The editors at Southern Living posted a roster of the top 20 Southern schools with the greatest pregame celebrations in their September issue and SMU's Boulevard made the list.

Tailgating is a time-honored tradition at SMU. From the food and drink to the style and traditions, nobody does tailgating quite like the Mustangs. Gameday at SMU is The Boulevard. SMU's beautiful Bishop Boulevard is tailgate central for fun and entertainment.

Along The Boulevard, fans can mingle with family, friends and neighbors. They can bring a picnic, fire up a grill for a barbeque or visit the many food vendors stationed along the way.

PONY UP-GRADES!

SMU has made over $3 million in Ford Stadium improvements since the summer of 2011, including upgrades to the locker room and team meeting rooms, a new playing surface and a new lighting system.

Renovations included a new team meeting room with stadium-style seating and renovated positional meeting rooms. Changes to the locker room included the creation of a new team lounge, as well as new lockers, updated graphics and audio/visual equipment.

SMU also installed a state-of-the-art Mondoturf 3NX thermo-bonded ecofill artificial turf system.

SMU contacted Musco Sports Lighting last September, and Musco's new system has reduced energy consumption 50% and has saved more than 293 metric tons of CO^2 from entering the environment.

TIMMY TUTOR

Former record-setting Hawaii quarterback Timmy Chang is in his first season as a graduate assistant, where he helps tutor the Mustang quarterbacks. Chang has been reunited with June Jones and quarterbacks coach Dan Morrison on the Hilltop after spending five years at Hawaii with the coaching tandem.

At UH, Chang was a four-time All-WAC selection, setting an NCAA record by completing 1,388 of 2,436 passes (57.0 percent) for 17,072 yards. He also threw for 117 touchdowns and was a finalist for the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award in 2004.

2012 GAME RECAPS

Game 1 • Baylor 59, SMU 24
Sept. 2, 2012 • Floyd Casey Stadium • Waco, Texas

Nick Florence threw for 341 yards and four touchdowns, Mike Hicks returned a fumble for a score and Baylor beat SMU 59-24 in the opener for both teams.

The Mustangs' Garrett Gilbert was 34 of 59 for 286 yards and two touchdowns in his first game since transferring from Texas. Zach Line rushed for 135 yards.

Three plays later, Florence hit a streaking Reese for a 50-yard TD pass that extended Baylor's lead to 21-3 with 2:02 left in the first half.

On the opening drive of the third quarter, Johnson caught a short pass and lost the ball just before hitting the ground. Hicks picked up the loose ball and ran 66 yards for a touchdown.

Gilbert connected on five straight attempts, leading to Chase Hover's 22-yard field goal in the second quarter. The junior threw scoring passes to Der'rikk Thompson and Jeremy Johnson in the second half.

Game 8 • SMU 44, Memphis, 13
Oct. 27, 2012 • Gerald J. Ford Stadium • Dallas, Texas

Garrett Gilbert threw for 353 yards and a touchdown and ran for two more scores to lead SMU past Memphis, 44-13.

GIlbert scored on a short run after Memphis had pulled within three in the third quarter, and his 10-yard scramble put the Mustangs up 30-13 in the fourth.

Zach Line rushed for 127 yards and a touchdown for SMU. Darius Johnson had 141 receiving yards.

Trailing 16-13 after a 13-play field goal drive, Memphis sacked Gilbert on SMU's first play of the second half, but on the next snap, Johnson turned a short pass from Gilbert into a 70-yard gain, and Gilbert stretched across the goal line on third-and-goal from the 2.

Game 9 • UCF 42, SMU 17
Nov. 3, 2012 • Bright House Networks Stadium • Orlando, Fla.

JLatavius Murray rushed for 155 yards and two touchdowns and caught another score as UCF defeated SMU 42-17.

Quarterback Blake Bortles also accounted for three touchdowns -- two through the air and one on the ground -- to help the Knights secure their fifth straight victory.

SMU, which entered with the league's top-rated rushing defense, closed within four points in the second quarter, but never found consistency on either side of the ball.

After posting a career passing effort in last week's win over Memphis, SMU quarterback Garrett Gilbert was sacked three times and never got into a rhythm.SMU's offense entered the game with some momentum, but the Knights' defense kept the junior off balance throughout. Gilbert and Zach Line both had rushing scores.

Line finished with 96 yards on 21 carries, his longest run of the game a 20-yard burst in the first half. Line did move into second on the SMU all-time career rushing list, passing former great Reggie Dupard who had 3,772 career yards. Line enters next week contest with 3,847 career rushing yards. Former Mustang great Eric Dickerson holds the school record with 4,432 yards on the ground.

SMU rode Line on the ground as much as it could and kept the game close early. But the Mustangs went three-and-out on three of their six drives of the opening 24 minutes.

Gilbert did cap a solid, 15-play drive with a 4-yard rushing score to close the gap briefly at 14-10 midway through the second quarter. It was overshadowed, though, by two other long drives that ended in a punt and field goal.

The Mustangs' special teams also had a miscue, with Kenneth Acker muffing a punt early in the second quarter. It was recovered by UCF and set up Murray's first rushing score of the game.

Game 10 • SMU 34, Southern Miss 6
Nov. 10, 2012 • Gerald J. Ford Stadium • Dallas, Texas

Garrett Gilbert ran for two touchdowns and passed for another, leading SMU to a 34-6 victory over Southern Miss.

Gilbert had scoring runs of 36 and 19 yards and hit Darius Johnson for a 9-yard score. He rushed for 94 yards and was 27 of 43 passing for 249 yards.

Zach Line added 92 yards rushing and a touchdown for the Mustangs. It was the 41st career touchdown for Line, who ranks second on the school's all-time rushing list behind Eric Dickerson. Line's big night put him over 1,000 yards rushing on the year. With that mark, Line became the second player at SMU and fourth in C-USA history with three 1,000-yard rushing seasons.

Game 12 • SMU 35, Tulsa 27
Nov. 24, 2012 • Gerald J. Ford Stadium • Dallas, Texas

Zach Line ran for three touchdowns, and SMU got a last-second, goal-line stop to hold off Tulsa, 35-27, and become eligible for a school-record fourth consecutive bowl game.

Line, who totaled 81 yards rushing, scored on two 3-yard runs in the first half before his 10-yarder late in the third quarter gave the Mustangs a 35-6 lead.

The Golden Hurricane rallied behind Cody Green, who threw touchdowns to Willie Carter and Keyarris Garrett before Alex Singleton's 1-yard run pulled Tulsa within eight with 5:05 to play.

SMU's Garrett Gilbert threw a touchdown to Der'rikk Thompson and added 111 yards rushing and a score.

Mustang linebacker Ja'Gared Davis had a standout day for the Mustangs, blocking a punt, forcing and recovering a fumble and picking up an interception. The banner performance came in Davis's 52nd career game as a Mustang which is tied for 1st all-time at SMU.

SMU BOWL HISTORY

1925 DIXIE CLASSIC
WEST VIRGINIA WESLEYAN 9, SMU 7

Dallas, Texas
January 1, 1925

Thanks to a 19-game unbeaten streak, the 1924 SMU football team was invited to its first post-season bowl, the 1925 Dixie Classic. The Dixie Classic was a college football bowl game played in Dallas following the 1921, 1924 and 1933 seasons. It was the precursor to the Cotton Bowl Classic, which has been played every year since 1937.

The Mustangs faced West Virginia Wesleyan in the 1925 Classic on New Year's Day at Fair Park Stadium in Dallas. The 1924 Mustangs entered the Dixie Classic with 5 wins, 0 losses and 4 ties.

The SMU-West Virginia Wesleyan University game was a match-up of two schools started by the United Methodist Church. In fact, some football historians have referred to the game as the very first "Methodist Bowl."

The game was a low-scoring affair, with both teams fighting for field position. After a scoreless first half, SMU's George Watters blocked a punt in the third quarter, which he recovered in the end zone to give SMU a 7-0 lead. WVW battled back, though, answering with a 40-yard field goal to pull to 7-3.

In the fourth quarter, the Wesleyans took the lead on what the Dallas Morning News would call a "luck pass." WVW quarterback DeLong lofted a long ball which SMU's Logan Stollenwerck batted down. Unfortunately for the Mustangs, he knocked the ball directly to WVW's Gale Bullman, who raced into the end zone for a 66-yard score. The PAT, though, was missed.

SMU battled back and had a field goal try in the game's final minute for the win. Lawrence Reisor's 30-yard try was no good, however, and Wesleyan prevailed 9-7, handing SMU its first loss in two years.

1936 ROSE BOWL
STANFORD 7, SMU 0

Pasadena, Calif.
January 1, 1936

SMU entered the 1936 Rose Bowl as the nation's top-ranked team, sporting a perfect 12-0 record and a defense which had shut out eight of its 12 opponents during the regular season. Led by first-year head coach Matty Bell, the Mustangs were matched against a strong Stanford team which took a 7-1 record into the game.

Due to a traffic jam, the SMU team bus did not arrive at the Rose Bowl until 20 minutes prior to kickoff. Stanford quarterback Bill Paulman scored on a 1-yard sneak in the first quarter to give the Indians the early lead. It proved to be the only score of the game as SMU lost its best scoring opportunity with a fumble on the Stanford 5-yard line. The loss was SMU's only blemish in its first national championship season.

1948 COTTON BOWL
SMU 13, PENN STATE 13

Dallas, Texas
January 1, 1948

The 1948 Cotton Bowl featured a matchup between two unbeaten teams in SMU and Penn State. Led by All-American Doak Walker, the Mustangs jumped ahead early. Walker tossed a 53-yard scoring pass to Paul Page and later scored on a 2-yard touchdown carry.

The Nittany Lions struck back when, just before halftime, Elwood Petchel connected on a 38-yard touchdown pass to Larry Cooney which cut the SMU lead to 13-7. Penn State scored the only points of the second half when Petchel threw his second scoring pass of the game on a 6-yard toss to Wallace Triplett in the third quarter. The Nittany Lions, however, missed the extra point, and the game ended in a 13-13 tie.

1949 COTTON BOWL
SMU 21, OREGON 13

Dallas, Texas
January 1, 1949

Two of the nation's most powerful offensive teams met in the 1949 Cotton Bowl. Doak Walker and Kyle Rote led the Mustangs to their second consecutive Southwest Conference championship in 1948 while Oregon rode the right arm of quarterback Norm Van Brocklin to the Pacific Coast Conference co-championship.

The difference in the game was the use of the quick kick by SMU. Walker booted one 79 yards and Rote launched an 84-yard kick to pin the Ducks deep in their own territory. In addition to their quick kicks, the Mustangs' star running backs each scored touchdowns to give SMU a 14-0 lead. Answering the call for the Ducks, Van Brocklin threw a 24-yard touchdown pass to Dick Wilkins early in the fourth quarter. SMU put the game away just three minutes later when Chicken Roberts scored on an 8-yard run to push the lead to 21-6.

1963 SUN BOWL
OREGON 21, SMU 14
El Paso, Texas
December 31, 1963

In a rematch of the 1949 Cotton Bowl, SMU entered the game with a 4-6 record and had received a Sun Bowl berth largely on the basis of its 32-28 victory over fourth-ranked Navy in the third game of the season. SMU had a talented QB duo in Danny Thomas and Mac White, and both were counted upon to rally the Ponies in the fourth quarter after falling behind 21-0.

Thomas led the Mustangs on a drive which culminated in a 2-yard touchdown pass to John Roderick. Later in the quarter, Roderick was on the receiving end of a 7-yard scoring pass from White to pull the Mustangs within nine points. After White ran for the two-point conversion, SMU trailed by a touchdown, 21-14, but could not pull any closer.

1966 COTTON BOWL
GEORGIA 24, SMU 9
Dallas, Texas
December 31, 1966

After winning its first Southwest Conference crown in 18 seasons, SMU earned a trip to the Cotton Bowl to face Georgia. Kent Lawrence set the tone early for the Bulldogs when he raced 74 yards for a touchdown on the game's second play. The sophomore running back finished the day with 149 yards rushing on 16 carries, as the Mustangs were unable to contain the Georgia ground attack. SMU cut the lead to 7-3 midway through the first quarter on Dennis Partee's 22-yard field goal.

Georgia responded by scoring 10 unanswered points before Mike Richardson scored the lone SMU touchdown on a 1-yard dive with 1:14 left in the first half. Leading 17-9 at halftime, Georgia shut down the SMU offense and its outstanding sophomore receiver Jerry LeVias in the second half. The only score in the final two quarters came when Bulldog fullback Ronnie Jenkins, who rushed for 88 yards on 23 carries in the game, scored on a 4-yard touchdown run with 14:33 left in the game.

1968 ASTRO-BLUEBONNET BOWL
SMU 28, OKLAHOMA 27

Houston, Texas
December 31, 1968

The 53,543 fans who gathered in the Astrodome on New Year's Eve night for the 1968 Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl comprised what at the time was the largest crowd ever to see a football game played indoors. They also witnessed one of the most exciting college bowl games ever as SMU and Oklahoma combined to score 35 points in the fourth quarter before the game was decided.

OU scored on its first possession of the game when Bob Warmack carried on a sweep to the right for an 8-yard touchdown. Warmack's touchdown stood as the game's only score until the third quarter when Mike Richardson scored for SMU on a 1-yard dive. The Sooners retaliated by driving 80 yards and scoring on a 21-yard pass from Steve Owens to Johnny Barr.

The fireworks began in the fourth quarter when SMU's Chuck Hixson connected with Jerry LeVias for an 11-yard scoring pass to tie the game at 14-14. Richardson scored his second touchdown with 7:35 left in the contest to give the Mustangs a 21-14 lead. After OU answered with a touchdown to tie the game, SMU linebacker Bruce Portillo intercepted a Sooner pass on the OU 22. Hixson put SMU on top, 28-21, after a 19-yard pass to Ken Fleming with just three minutes remaining. After driving the length of the field, Oklahoma cut the Mustang lead to 28-27 when Barr caught a 30-yard touchdown pass from Mickey Ripley with 1:16 left. SMU held on to the lead when Ripley was stopped short of the goal line on the Sooners' two-point conversion attempt.

1980 HOLIDAY BOWL
BYU 46, SMU 45

San Diego, Calif.
December 19, 1980

The 1980 Holiday Bowl featured two teams with distinctly different offensive philosophies. SMU relied upon the running of Eric Dickerson and Craig James, while BYU boasted an explosive aerial attack led by Jim McMahon.

The Mustangs jumped out of the gate early, racing to a 19-0 lead in the first quarter after touchdown runs by Dickerson and James, a safety and a 42-yard field goal by Eddie Garcia. SMU had increased its lead to 29-7 in the second quarter before BYU's Vai Sikahema returned a punt 83 yards, pulling the Cougars within 16 at halftime. Entering the fourth quarter, SMU led 38-19, and with four minutes remaining the Mustangs held a 45-25 advantage.

With his team trailing by 20, McMahon led BYU to two quick touchdowns to cut the SMU lead to 45-39. With 18 seconds remaining, BYU's Bill Schoepflin blocked Eric Kaifes' punt to give BYU possession at the Mustang 41-yard line. After two desperation passes by McMahon fell incomplete, the Cougars had one final opportunity with just three seconds left. As time expired, McMahon found tight end Clay Brown in the end zone for a 41-yard touchdown pass, guiding BYU to one of the greatest comebacks in bowl history.

SMU 7, PITTSBURGH 3

Dallas, Texas
January 1, 1983

With the temperature in the upper 30s and a light rain falling at gametime, playing conditions were anything but ideal when undefeated SMU met Pittsburgh in the 1983 Cotton Bowl. Accustomed to playing in inclement weather, Pittsburgh appeared to have the advantage in the early going, driving to the SMU 1-yard line on the game's opening series. Panther halfback Joe McCall fumbled away Pitt's best touchdown opportunity when Mustang safety Wes Hopkins fell on the loose ball at the 2-yard line. SMU was not able to capitalize and after two quarters neither team had scored, marking the first scoreless first half in the Cotton Bowl in 22 years.

On their first possession of the second quarter, the Panthers scored the game's first points when Eric Schubert booted a 43-yard field goal. SMU responded with an 80-yard drive which resulted in Lance McIlhenny's 9-yard touchdown scamper around right end on the third play of the fourth quarter. Following the ensuing kickoff, senior quarterback Dan Marino engineered a drive which put the Panthers in scoring position at the SMU 7-yard line. On third-and-goal, Marino threw a pass which was tipped by Hopkins and intercepted in the end zone by Blane Smith, thus ending Pittsburgh's chance of handing SMU its only loss of the season.

1983 SUN BOWL
ALABAMA 28, SMU 7

El Paso, Texas
December 24, 1983

SMU squared off against Alabama in the 50th Sun Bowl on a cold and windy afternoon in El Paso. The temperature at kickoff was 28 degrees, with winds gusting up to 35 miles per hour. Alabama jumped on the Mustangs in the first quarter, scoring on touchdown runs of one and 11 yards by Ricky Moore. The Crimson Tide defense forced three SMU turnovers in the first half, and Alabama was able to stretch its lead to 28-0 by halftime.

Jeff Atkins helped the Mustangs get on the scoreboard early in the third quarter when he broke loose for a 58-yard run, setting up Lance McIlhenny's 15-yard touchdown pass to Marquis Pleasant. Pleasant's touchdown represented the only points of the second half as Alabama held on for a 28-7 victory. After giving up 303 total yards in the first half, the SMU defense limited the Crimson Tide to just 96 yards of offense in the second half.

1984 ALOHA BOWL
SMU 27, NOTRE DAME 20
Honolulu, Hawaii
December 28, 1984

Between 1949 and 1958, SMU and Notre Dame battled each other on the gridiron eight times. When the two schools met in the 1984 Aloha Bowl, it represented their first meeting in 26 years. SMU, playing in its fourth bowl game in five seasons, scored on its first two offensive possessions. A 7-yard touchdown carry by Jeff Atkins and Don King's 12-yard pass to Cobby Morrison gave the Mustangs a 14-0 lead. Notre Dame responded with 10 unanswered points before Brandy Brownlee connected on a 47-yard field goal to give SMU a 17-10 lead at halftime.

The Fighting Irish tied the game on Mark Brooks' 11-yard touchdown run in the third quarter, but SMU regained the lead on its next possession with Brownlee's second field goal of the game. The Mustangs were able to work on the clock for most of the second half due to the strong running of Atkins and Reggie Dupard, each of whom ran for more than 100 yards in the contest. Dupard's 2-yard scoring run gave SMU a 10-point lead with six minutes left in the game and the Mustangs held off a late Notre Dame rally to win, 27-20.

2009 HAWAI`I BOWL
SMU 45, NEVADA 10
Honolulu, Hawaii
December 24, 2009

Freshman Kyle Padron threw for an SMU-record 460 yards, leading the Mustangs to a 45-10 victory over Nevada in the Hawai'i Bowl - SMU's first postseason appearance in 25 years. It was a triumphant return to the postseason and paradise for the Mustangs and second-year coach June Jones, who left Hawai'i after nine seasons.

The 18-year-old Padron, who was 32 of 41 and completed two touchdown passes, was confident and composed on the biggest stage of his young career.

The 12-point underdogs dominated from the opening bell, jumping out to a 17-0 lead in the first quarter and building a 38-0 advantage by the third.

Padron had 303 yards passing in the first half alone, breaking SMU's bowl record of 281 yards by Chuck Hixson in the 1968 Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

Shawnbrey McNeal added 63 yards rushing and three touchdowns, including two in the first quarter. He also had seven catches for 53 yards.

On the second play of the game, Padron found a wide-open Cole Beasley near midfield. Beasley was dragged down from behind at the Nevada 9 for a gain of 71 yards. It was the longest pass in SMU bowl history, breaking Doak Walker's 53-yard pass to Paul Page in the 1948 Cotton Bowl. McNeal scored on the next play. The Mustangs got the ball back on the next series by stopping the Wolf Pack on fourth-and-two.

Padron then connected with Sanders for a 58-yard gain, setting up McNeal's 1-yard TD that put SMU up 14-0 less than 6 1/2 minutes into the game.

After completing a 53-yard pass to Aldrick Robinson in the third that setup a 3-yard TD run by Zach Line, Padron looked at Jones and just shook his head in disbelief. Robinson finished with nine catches for 176 yards.

2010 ARMED FORCES BOWL
ARMY 16, SMU 14

Dallas, Texas
December 30, 2010

Josh McNary scooped up a fumble and returned it 55 yards for a touchdown as Army held on to beat SMU 16-14 in the Armed Forces Bowl.

Army had a 16-0 halftime lead on SMU's home field, then ran out the final four minutes after Matt Szymanksi was wide left on a 47-yard field goal attempt that would have put the Mustangs ahead.

Army got the ball back with 4:05 left and quarterback Trent Steelman converted a pair of third downs. He ran for six yards on third-and-five after SMU called its final timeout, then later rolled right and threw a 22-yard pass on third-and-four for only his second completion in the game before a final kneel-down.

SMU faced fourth-and-six after Padron scrambled to avoid a sack and dumped a 3-yard pass to Darius Johnson. After a timeout, and coach June Jones exchanging a fist pump with Szymanski, the kick fluttered wide left.

2012 BBVA COMPASS BOWL
SMU 28, PITT 6

Birmingham, Ala.
January 7, 2012

J.J. McDermott ran and threw for first quarter touchdowns as SMU beat Pittsburgh 28-6 in the BBVA Compass Bowl.

Rishaad Wimbley ran for two scores for SMU, which tied a school record by playing in its third straight bowl under coach June Jones.

McDermott completed 16 of 26 passes for 239 yards and threw a touchdown to Darius Johnson early in the first.

Pittsburgh was held without a first down and fell behind 21-0 in the first quarter. Kevin Harper kicked field goals of 32 and 34 yards.

McDermott beat Pitt's blitz when he lobbed a 50-yard touchdown pass to Johnson for the Mustangs' first touchdown.

Johnson had seven catches for 120 yards. The 50-yard catch was the longest in the six-year history of the bowl.

After McDermott's 1-yard run capped an eight-play drive to push the lead to 14-0, Ja'Gared Davis hit Pitt quarterback Tino Sunseri, forcing a fumble that was recovered by Taylor Reed at the Panthers' 27.

McDermott's 19-yard pass to Cole Beasley set up Wimbley's 2-yard touchdown run.

Wimbley added a 1-yard touchdown run in the third quarter.

With SMU still leading 21-3 later in the quarter, Pitt drove from its 16 to a first and goal at the Mustangs' 10. On third down from the 5, Sunseri's pass bounced off tailback Isaac Bennett. The deflection was caught by SMU linebacker Stephon Sanders for an interception.

The half ended with Pitt again coming away with no points at the end of a long drive. Harper's 47-yard field goal attempt hit the left upright to end a 14-play drive.

SMU's Margus Hunt more than a football player

UNIVERSITY PARK - SMU defensive end Margus Hunt has blocked more kicks than anyone in NCAA history. His record stands at 17. That's 10 blocked field goals and 7 PATs.

Before football, he won gold medals for Estonia in both the shotput and the discus in the 2006 World Junior Championships. He switched to football four years ago and June Jones liked what he saw early.

"If he stays healthy, in four years he'll be a first or second round draft pick," head coach June Jones said then.

He's become a force on defense, but there's another side to this 6-8, 275 pound defensive end.

Last year, Hunt starting taking a piano class last fall.

"It doesn't seem normal in this culture and yet even in the days of the Greeks," says Sam Holland, Music director of SMU's school of music."They believed the two main components of a person's education were to make music and to be in athletics."

Hunt soon discovered that there was another student on campus, also from his home country of Estonia.

"It's very special," said Hando Nahkur, Hunt's friend. "When I got here, a few months later, I think it was October or November, I heard that there was another guy on campus from Estonia. I was like, 'where is he?'"

The two became instant friends. Nahkur is a concert pianist studying under SMU's artist in residence. When they get together, they play music.

"We get to speak Estonian," Hunt says. "I don't get to do that a lot. I talk to my mom every Sunday. But knowing him, and knowing that he's here, it's definitely helped me a lot."

Hunt still has a lot to learn about classic music but he may be the only player on the SMU football team who listens to it as well.

WOLF AT THE DOOR.

There's A Reason Why NFL Scouts Are Drooling Over SMU's Margus Hunt.

By Thom Fain on Friday October 5 2012 at 12:55 PM

And not only did he learn by experience, but instincts long dead became alive again. The domesticated generations fell from him. In vague ways he remembered back to the youth of the breed, to the time the wild dogs ranged in packs through the primeval forest and killed their meat as they ran it down. -- Jack London.

Margus Hunt stands in size 14 cleats, nearly a head taller than most of his teammates on the sideline. He's obviously well-built, and his paws are the size of a polar bear's. When he lines up on the defense, you can see him stick those paws out, one after another, just above the ground, ready to latch onto an unassuming ball carrier.

It's because of these hands that Hunt strikes fear and panic into the hearts of field goal kickers all across the NCAA.

He's been called a freak. A monster.

"I've been called that my entire life," he says with a disarming smile.

When shaking his hand, it's his smile that shines through. You get the feeling that he's a gentle person. That he's playful. Although his grip is strong, there's a warm feeling about that handshake. It gives you a sense that everything's all right in the world. He impresses upon you the best parts of Competitive Nature.

That's what makes him admirable.

There are, of course, other reasons.

The native Estonian is 6'8" with an 82-inch wingspan, and this is no secret. Neither is the fact that, at 280 pounds, he still manages a 4.6-second 40-yard dash.

That's why there's a buzz surrounding the defensive end in his senior year with the SMU Mustangs. With fewer than five months remaining until the NFL Scouting Combine, Hunt is being discussed as one of the top three defensive ends in college football.

He's being scouted as one, too. Two weeks ago, as SMU hosted Texas A&M in Dallas for a game at Gerald J. Ford Stadium, no fewer than three NFL scouts sat in the stadium's press box, their eyes fixated on Hunt's every movement.

The shocking thing? It's only his fourth year playing the game.

The path that took Margus Hunt to the SMU football program in 2008 goes something like this: After competing at the highest levels of track and field, a small-town Baltic Warrior leaves his home country for Dallas in hopes of furthering his training alongside SMU track and field coach Dave Wollman; because of financial reasons, the SMU men's track and field program, which had won the indoor national championship in 1983, collapses; with his scholarship in jeopardy, Hunt decides to explore America's New Pastime.

That alone would serve as a charming enough yarn. But Hunt has shown almost limitless potential in the game of football. He is a Pure Athlete, Mylon's Discobolus in the flesh.

Maybe that label is a bit of an exaggeration. But, on the other hand, maybe it isn't.

"The guy's a world class athlete," gushes SMU special teams coach Frank Gansz, Jr. "He understands balance. He understands leverage and angles. He understands what he has to do to compete at a high level."

But it's more than that, Gansz continues, now even more animated than before: "He has a great zest for life. He's very smart. He's great to hang around with. And his future is so bright, he should be wearing sunglasses all day long."

That praise comes with reason, of course, and these impressions are agreed upon by most anyone who has worked with Hunt.

Says Wollman, who maintains a close relationship with Hunt and remains the head coach of SMU's women's track and field team: "Because he has that physical talent and because he has the inside passion and desire to excel in everything he does, it's an absolute no-brainer to me to think that he's going to some day be one of the best defensive linemen in the NFL."

To wit: Hunt is currently the sole owner of the NCAA's career blocked field goals record, having registered nine blocked kicks. Four more blocked field goals or punts over the course of the rest of the season -- a plausible feat -- and he'll hold the NCAA career record for overall special teams kick blocks.

It's those bear paws of his -- the ones that come reaching up out of nowhere, just seconds after he launches off the turf in those size 14 Nikes -- that afford him this special skill set. And not just on special teams, either, where he's shown an animal-like command on the football field.

In his team's final game of last season, in the BBVA Compass Bowl against the University of Pittsburgh, Hunt became a one-man Imperial Defense, tossing around the Panthers' O-Line like a bunch of wombats. In that game alone -- and in a performance now rather unsurprisingly immortalized on YouTube -- he registered three sacks and 7.5 tackles-for-loss as his Mustangs trounced Pitt to the tune of a 28-6 rout.

"It comes down to his power, his get-off," Wollman says. "He's very explosive. When you're that explosive and you're coming that hard at somebody, it's hard to stop."

On his left bicep, beneath his shoulder pads and below his sleeve of Under Armour, Hunt has a tattoo of a wolf. He says that's what his last name means in Estonian. Maybe it's also an external representation of the beast within. Watching him play, it's clear that he has an instinctive nature -- one that doesn't seem unlike a wolf's, although Hunt plays down any such connection.

"I'm still trying to find kind of that animal sense," he says. "I think I have it, but, in my mind, it's defined a little bit differently. I like to play hard, but I don't like to be a dirty player and talk trash -- even though that's part of the game. To me, let's just line up and let's play ball."

Alas, he is but flesh and blood.

Yet, even though his world right now is football, he does, in the little free time he has, like to visit the piano hall. He's exploring a number of different composers at the moment, he says, but he's become partial to Rachmaninoff concertos. Chopin speaks to him as well.

There's a stark contrast between his piano and football play: The same hands he uses to viciously tear the ball from his on-field opponents at at ease above ivory keys.

Clearly, he is a man of many talents. And yet his coaches and teammates are quick to point out his selfless side, his lack of a desire for the spotlight, and his indifference to all things flashy. He has no celebratory sack dance, they note. No supermodel girlfriend.

Credit his track and field background for that.

"Football is just a totally different thing than track and field," Hunt says with a shrug of the attention he now receives. "It took me a little bit to get used to it. But I like the team feeling."

As such, he is non-critical of his unit, despite the rough patches they can sometimes suffer. He seems to understand fully his place on the team. And he is not one to chastise others.

He sees the lighter side of such a serious sport. He's having fun. And, barring some sort of unforeseen bad fortune, he will continue using those hands of his to part through any and all obstacles laid out before him.

"He's got all those levers," Wollman says. "And once he actually figures out how to use them all on a football field -- and he will figure it out -- he'll be not just good, but a great player.

He's got the easy part down already. Athletically, he is what every American wants in a star football player -- what they create with their Madden controllers when given the option. He is a ferocious competitor. He hates to lose. He has these God-granted physical gifts that make him a beast of nature. He is a real Alpha Dog.

And, regardless of whether he shows it, he and everyone else around him simply knows it.

"You either are excellent -- and that's the way your mind works -- or you are not," Wollman adds. "Margus gets that."

Block party: For SMU's Margus Hunt, blocking kicks isn't luck – it's a gift

UNIVERSITY PARK — Before Texas A&M's recent game against SMU, coach Kevin Sumlin summoned his special teams coordinator, Brian Polian.

The topic: Mustangs defensive end Margus Hunt.

"Have you ever watched any of their film?" Sumlin said. "You're about to see the greatest PAT/field goal blocker of all-time."

Preparing for Hunt is one thing. Stopping him is …

Well, just ask the Aggies.

Although they rolled to a 48-3 victory, they couldn't stop Hunt from penetrating the line, raising his arms and swatting down an extra-point attempt, leaving another coach wondering what more he could have done.

"The guy's got a great gift, a knack," Sumlin said.

Entering Saturday's game against TCU, Hunt is one step closer to becoming the best kick blocker in NCAA history.

He holds the career record of nine blocked field goal attempts. He ranks second with seven blocked PATs, and he's tied for second with 16 total blocks, three shy of the record set by James Ferebee of New Mexico State (1978-81).

Probably the most remarkable aspect of Hunt's accomplishments is his lack of experience. He has played in 43 football games, all at SMU.

When Hunt was growing up in Estonia, his mother was a speedskater and his father raced motorbikes. Hunt had Olympic aspirations, winning the discus and shot put at the 2006 World Junior Championships.

But that inexperience is a positive to the NFL scouts who routinely stop by SMU practices to examine the 6-8, 275-pounder. They see a physical marvel who has an 82-inch wingspan, can bench-press 225 pounds 35 times and runs a 4.6-second 40-yard dash.

They also see an ascending player with no bad habits and the potential to play numerous positions, from a 4-3 defensive end to tight end.

"As far as blocking field goals, he's probably the best I've ever seen, including pro guys," said SMU special teams coach Frank Gansz Jr., who spent nine years coaching in the NFL. "The numbers speak for themselves. It's astonishing what he's done."

Hunt fits the mold of great kick blockers.

Ted Hendricks was most feared kick blocker of his era. Oakland's "Mad Stork," 6-7, 220, used his long arms to post 25 blocks of punts, field goal attempts and PATs. He swatted away a field goal try in Super Bowl XV, and his blocked punt set up a touchdown in a 1977 playoff win.

Alan Page, 6-4, 245, was a combination of size, speed and reflexes. He is credited unofficially with 28 blocked kicks.

Julius Peppers of the Chicago Bears measures 6-7, 287. He has 12 blocks in 11 NFL seasons.

In addition to his long frame, Hunt benefits from the training he received in becoming an international-level thrower. He takes notes in meetings.

"He's a gifted athlete who has great quickness off the ball, but he's really bought into the technique about how to block kicks," Mustangs head coach June Jones said. "Guys who are top-end athletes, they pay attention to detail. He knows how to get leverage and how to use his frame."

Hunt often lines up in the middle, sometimes right over the ball. His uncanny hand-eye coordination allows him to begin his push as soon as the center starts moving the ball.

His athleticism allows him to turn his shoulders to cut through blockers.

“He gets off the ball very fast; he’s an explosive athlete,” Gansz said. “He knows how to penetrate and elevate very quickly, which is a rare trait. And then when you add that size, man, that’s a recipe for blocking kicks.”

Defenses that double-team Hunt leave a hole somewhere else.

“It has gotten harder for sure because over the past four years, teams have tried different ways to block us,” Hunt said. “That’s why we have four guys up front who can block kicks.”

Hunt enjoys the fame his kick blocking brings. He does not regret trading in his Olympic dreams for a shot at the NFL.

“I’m happy with how it’s turned out,” he said. “It’s a different opportunity for me. I don’t know if the NFL is a dream. I never had that kind of dream growing up.”

Gilbert pleased to be back in saddle as Mustangs' QB

By Tim Griffin

Updated 11:57 p.m., Thursday, August 30, 2012

All Garrett Gilbert hoped for was another chance to play football.

There were some rough moments last fall when Gilbert was recovering from shoulder surgery. Several weeks earlier, he was granted his release by Texas after playing parts of three seasons with the Longhorns.

But even in his darkest periods of doubt, the former No. 1 national quarterback recruit never lost faith he would resume his career.

“It's tough and not any fun to watch football games on Saturday on your couch with your arm in a sling when you know you could be playing,” Gilbert said. “But it's a learning experience, and I've had a unique opportunity to learn for the past few months.”

Gilbert gets his chance to return to college football Sunday afternoon when his SMU team opens the season at Baylor.

It appears to be a promising match for Gilbert. He'll be working in June Jones' potent run-and-shoot offense, which largely has been responsible for the Mustangs' three consecutive bowl trips.

Jones said that Gilbert has progressed quicker than he expected in the Mustangs' offense.

“The biggest thing is that he's more comfortable in what we are doing,” Jones said. “It's similar to what he did in high school. Lake Travis had a spread look and threw the football around. We have a lot of the same concepts.”

The arrival of Gilbert will provide SMU with the top quarterback recruit in Jones' tenure. But Gilbert is even more excited about joining the Mustangs.

“It's definitely a fresh start for me,” Gilbert said. “I've really enjoyed the experience so far. It's been great and being able to be part of this team has been fun. It's all been good so far.”

Gilbert's tenure in the Longhorns' system began with promise when he relieved an injured Colt McCoy after only five plays and nearly rallied them to a victory over Alabama in the 2010 Bowl Championship Series title game.

After that, Gilbert had little luck as a starter. He threw 17 interceptions as Texas went 5-7 in 2010 — the only season without a bowl game in Mack Brown's UT coaching tenure.

Gilbert won the UT job last summer in training camp, but was pulled from the starting lineup after struggling in the second game against BYU.

Despite his struggles at Texas, Jones said he believes Gilbert could reach the potential he showed in the national title game against Alabama. In high school he set a state record with 12,540 passing yards and led Lake Travis to two state championships.

“I don't see any indication that he will be anything but a good player for us,” Jones said. “... I remember him in that national championship and how he competed and almost won that game. That's hard to do when you are 18 years old and I know he has it in him. It's our job to coach him and get him to that level.”

After that BYU game last season, it was revealed that Gilbert had sustained a torn labrum that resulted in season-ending shoulder surgery. And with young quarterbacks David Ash and Case McCoy in the program and a switch to a new offensive coordinator, Gilbert decided to transfer.

Gilbert said he left the UT program without bitterness.

“Playing for Texas was something I had dreamed about my whole life and for whatever reason, it just didn't work out,” Gilbert said. “I just used it as a learning experience, and I'm happy I had the opportunity to play for them. There were a lot of positives that came out of it.”

To have a chance to play immediately, Gilbert was required to graduate from Texas. During the spring semester, he took 27 credit hours to finish up requirements for his degree in sports management.

“It was a challenge,” said Gilbert, who will have two remaining years of eligibility with the Mustangs. “I remember telling one of the advisers and they looked at me in disbelief. But I finished up and had a 3.3 or 3.4 (grade-point average). But it wasn't the most fun.”

It's been more enjoyable once he started playing.

“Putting on my shoulder pads for the first time in 11 months was a relief,” Gilbert said. “And getting a chance to play again is something I'm really looking forward to. I can't wait to go out with my new guys, have fun and just play in a game again.”

Nichols: SMU's Ja'Gared Davis, Taylor Reed hope final season ends in fourth bowl

BILL NICHOLS
Staff Writer
brnichols@dallasnews.com

Published: 24 August 2012 10:40 PM

UNIVERSITY PARK — Coming out of high school, Taylor Reed did not even know that SMU was located in Dallas. Worse, the Mustangs were coming off a 1-11 season.

"No way I'm going there," he recalled telling his coach at Beaumont West Brook.

Ja'Gared Davis was skeptical of SMU, too, when mulling offers his senior year at Crockett High. Then he heard June Jones' recruiting pitch.

"He said, 'With the players we're bringing in like Taylor Reed and Darius Johnson, we can turn this program around,'" Davis said. "I bought into what he was saying. I wanted to come here and make history."

Reed and Davis are preparing for their final season together on the Hilltop. The linebackers hope to leave with a clean sweep — four years, four bowls.

They have been a big part of SMU's defensive improvement and overall success. The Mustangs are 23-17, including two bowl wins, since they arrived in 2009.

Time sure flies when you're making history.

"It's funny how God works in mysterious ways," Reed said. "Little did I know this was the perfect place for me — great coaching staff and great teammates. It's nice to know that we were a part of changing the status of this program."

As freshmen, Reed and Davis were determined to make an impact. They did extra work to gain an edge. Both played in all 13 games that season.

In the second game, against Alabama-Birmingham, Reed made a fourth-quarter interception in the end zone, and then he and Davis helped stop the potential game-tying two-point attempt with 13 seconds left.

"The locker room was on fire after that game," Davis said. "Everybody was going crazy."

The victory snapped a 17-game Conference USA losing streak and 15-game road skid. The Mustangs finished 8-5, including a victory over Nevada in the Sheraton Hawaii Bowl.

"That was a big turnaround in SMU history," Reed said. "We hadn't won a game on the road in so long. But coach Jones expected it. Everybody he brought in was used to winning."

Tom Mason, offensive coordinator/linebackers coach, switched from a 4-3 scheme to 3-4 when Reed and Davis were freshmen. The Mustangs' defense ranked 116th in 2007, when Mason took over. They were 26th last season.

He said the decision to play Reed and Davis as freshmen hastened their development.

"They were exceptional athletes that did a lot of good things early," Mason said. "They are really the result of where we are taking the program — high-caliber athletes. They've made dramatic strides. Now they're at the point where they are dominant college football players."

Davis, 6-1, 235 pounds, enters 2012 on the Butkus Award watch list. He had 83 tackles with a team-high 12 for loss and 51/2 sacks last season. He also had six pass breakups, two forced fumbles and a fumble recovery for a touchdown. As a sophomore, he posted 90 tackles and two touchdowns on fumble recoveries.

Reed is on the Lombardi Award watch list. He finished with a team-high 101 tackles, including 91/2 for loss and four sacks, in 12 starts last year. He had 145 tackles in 14 games in 2010.

When he got to SMU, Reed was 6-0, 185 pounds. He is listed at 240 after three years of strength training. He said he recently did 465 pounds on the bench press.

"He is one of the best inside linebackers I have coached," Jones said. "I coached a guy named Jessie Tuggle who went on to the NFL, and I think was one of the best smaller inside linebackers ever in the league, and I think that Reed is right on his level. He will play in the NFL."

Hart dreams big for SMU

By Katy Roden

Updated: Thursday, August 23, 2012 23:08

Sidney Hollingsworth/The Daily Campus

Third generation athletic director Rick Hart will help lead the SMU's athletic program in its move to the Big East.

In mid-July, SMU announced that it had hired new athletic director Rick Hart to lead SMU's athletic programs. With a move to the Big East ahead, Hart's decision will have long term impacts on SMU's Second Century Campaign goals to be a perennial powerhouse.

This announcement was only one of many recent changes occurring in the athletic department. Following the hire of legendary basketball coach Larry Brown, new women's soccer coach Chris Petrucelli, the coming move to the Big East conference, the renovation of Moody Coliseum and the construction of a new tennis complex, Hart is welcomed to the Hilltop at a time of, in his own words, "palatable excitement."

Despite all the anticipation, Hart did not come to campus with complete confidence.

"When you start there's all that excitement, and obviously you do your best to confirm that it's a place where my family can be happy, where I can grow personally and professionally and help advance our department," Hart said.

"You confirm those things but you still don't know beyond that if it's going to meet your expectations. And so now that I've been here a week, I've found that it does. It meets and/or exceeds my expectations as it relates to getting exposed to more people, to the area, to the institution. It has confirmed and supported what I hoped it would be like."

The search process, which began after the firing of former AD Steve Orsini in May, was only a few weeks for Hart, during which time he was the AD at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga. Hart worked in Chattanooga administration since 2006 and was at Oklahoma for the seven years before.

“We [Hart’s family] felt very fortunate that we really loved Chattanooga so there was no part of us that felt like we had to leave,” Hart said. “What really drove [the move] was the unique opportunity to come to a campus that is going through some transformative change, that’s had some success and has some momentum and strong, respected leadership. It just seemed like the right time and the right opportunity.”

With all the change occurring on campus, Hart is not yet sure what his contribution is going to be and says he doesn’t “pursue change for the sake of change.”

“SMU athletics is a program that has a lot of great things already happening for it,” he said.

“There’s a lot of momentum, good people and success. It’s not as though I’m coming into a situation where there’s a multitude of challenges. In fact, it’s quite the opposite.”

One issue that Hart is inclined to address is student attendance to athletic events.

“I think that [student attendance] is always a challenge today because of the demands on students’ time. What’s unique about SMU is I think our student-athlete population is about 7 percent, so it really is a pretty significant peer group. So at some point I think it has to be an effort by the student-athletes.”

However, Hart believes all the changes in athletics will be the beginning of the solution to the problem.

“Look at our home football schedule this year,” Hart said. “The quality of the opponents, the quality of the team, the product – as that improves I think more and more people will want to participate. All of the sudden being in the stands watching the game will become more important.”

Hart’s move to SMU also made him the boss of big names Brown and June Jones.

“Whether it’s a coach, staff-person or a student, it’s great to work with anyone who is accomplished, respected and has achieved success at the levels that those two individuals [Brown and Jones] have,” Hart said. “I look to learn from them, be around them and figure out how they became successful. And while they’re known for championships that they’ve won and some of the athletic accolades, they’re just good people.”

Hart is a third-generation sports administrator and was brought up around education and athletics – two things that collide in collegiate athletics.

“I’m not really passionate about professional sports, I’m passionate about the amateurism,” Hart said.

“I’m always in awe of our student-athletes. They inspire me with the way they balance their academic, athletic and social obligations at such a young age.”

The SMU athletic department is welcoming one more exciting change as Hart becomes accustomed to campus, and, he says, lost in the construction.

“You can sense that there’s a real eagerness about where we’re headed. To be able to be a part of that is certainly something that attracted me to the position and I look forward to helping it foster – keep doing the things that we’re doing well and find a way to do the other things better.”

Brothers Zach and Prescott Line follow similar paths to SMU backfield

BILL NICHOLS
Staff Writer
brnichols@dallasnews.com

Published: 21 September 2012 01:34 AM

UNIVERSITY PARK — Zach and Prescott Line excelled in football and wrestling. The brothers' high school feats landed them football scholarships to SMU.

But Joe Line also recalls periods of instability when his sons almost broke up the household.

"I love that they have a mutual respect until they try to find out who is best," he said. "That's when furniture gets broken. My wife will tell me to break it up, but I'll say, 'Are you crazy? That's 500 pounds of bodies flying around.'"

SMU coach June Jones has been watching Zach break through holes for four seasons.

With 104 yards rushing against Texas A&M last week, Zach moved to fifth in school history with 3,206 yards, passing Reggie Dupard and Craig James. The Mustangs have played in three straight bowl games with Zach in tow.

Prescott could be next in line. The freshman looks and runs like his big bro.

"They're very similar kids athletically and mentally," Jones said. "It looks like when Zach's done, we're just going to say, 'Hey, put No. 48 on Prescott,' and it's going to look like the same guy."

Zach is listed as 6-1, 230; Prescott, 6-0, 235. At Oxford (Mich.) High School, Zach played running back, linebacker and special teams. So did Prescott.

As seniors, Zach rushed for 1,723 yards and 17 touchdowns, Prescott 2,454 yards and 37 TDs. As an inside linebacker, Zach posted a team-high 154 tackles, eight forced fumbles and four recoveries; Prescott had 128 tackles, four forced fumbles and two interceptions.

"Zach was a role model to me, but I have a different running style," Prescott said. "Zach's more of a mobile, agile guy who gets to the outside. I'm more of a guy who goes toward somebody."

Despite their impressive stats, the brothers drew scant attention from colleges. Each took one visit — to SMU.

Zach was teammates with the son of Bill Keenist, the Detroit Lions' senior vice president of communications. Keenist sent Zach's highlight DVD to Jones, former quarterbacks coach with the Lions.

Jones called soon after, inviting Zach for an official visit to the University of Hawaii, where he was coaching. Zach gave an oral commitment. Then he got another call.

"They told me, 'Hey, hold off, we have some stuff going on,'" Zach recalled. "They had moved here, and I had never heard of SMU. They said, 'We're still offering you, but we want you to come check us out. So I came down here and loved everything about it."

Zach went through one practice at linebacker until SMU's staff decided he would be more effective punishing linebackers. He played in every game as a freshman, starting six. As a sophomore, he rushed for 1,494 yards, second in school history behind Eric Dickerson's 1,617 in 1982.

Last season he led Conference USA in rushing, averaging 122.4 yards, despite missing the final three games with a foot injury. He has averaged 99.7 yards in three games this year.

A bruising runner with deceptive speed and good hands, Zach has been a coach's dream, Jones said: "He's a solid football player, a leader. Everything he does is for the team. He's not flashy, just gets it done."

At Oxford, Prescott had even better stats than his older brother. He was selected "Mr. Football" in Michigan his senior year. He also won two state titles in wrestling.

Prescott orally committed to SMU before his senior season. He arrived ready to play running back or linebacker.

"I'm pretty sure they wanted me at running back the whole time," he said. "They're both fun positions for me."

Joe Line played football, baseball and track in high school. He said the kids get their athleticism from their mother, Kathy, a former swimmer and volleyball player. Joe and Kathy met in grade school.

The Lines' older daughter, 23-year-old Chelsey, played basketball, and her 17-year-old sister, Madison, is a volleyball standout at Oxford. The youngest, 16-year-old Ben, could also be headed to SMU. He plays tailback and linebacker, just like the Lines in front of him.

"We don't send them to football camps in the summer or anything like that. We just want them to have fun," Joe said. "People come over and say your house is very intimidating with all these trophies."

Zach Line is about to enter his senior season at SMU and like the rest of the Mustangs' senior class, his goal for 2012 is a simple one. Not only do Line and his fellow seniors want to win the Conference USA title after falling just short in 2010, but they also want to cap off their collegiate careers by helping guide the Ponies to a fourth straight bowl game, a streak that many considered practically impossible just a few short years ago.

The Michigan native is a preseason All-Conference USA pick and has been a first team all-conference performer for June Jones' Mustangs both as a sophomore and junior. The 6-foot-1, 230-pound running back comes off a season where he ran for 1,224 yards to lead C-USA and scored 17 touchdowns. He averaged 122.4 yards per game, most in C-USA and seventh-most in the nation, numbers that become all the more impressive considering he missed the final three games of last season due to a foot injury.

As a sophomore, he ran for 1,494 yards, second-most in school history, behind only Pro Football Hall of Famer Eric Dickerson. SMU started two-a-days earlier this month in preparation for its Sept. 2 opener at Baylor and Line can't help but realize he is indeed starting his final season on the Hilltop.

"You don't realize how fast things did go. I came in to play linebacker and was thrown into a position where I could have a key role on the team not just on the field, but that allows you to lead by example. It's kind of cool to see where the program has gone since I've been here," he said. "It's been a constant rebuild since the death penalty but I think SMU has gotten over the hump and made some great strides. It's a cool thing to be part of all of that."

And in what has to be considered nothing short of great news for all Mustang fans, his foot is completely healed and Line is now ready to finish what has been a stellar career at SMU with an exclamation point.

"Yeah, the foot was a six-month healing process so after six months, it got cleared. Obviously, didn't feel 100 percent right at six months, but that running and cutting I had to get comfortable with it again. It was more of a mental thing for me," he said. "I didn't trust it because I'd been in the boot for so long and I'd had an insert in my shoe for so long that finally this summer I started pushing my boundaries. During camp I haven't felt any lingering effects from the injury."

He originally came to University Park as a linebacker but was instantly switched to running back and played as SMU's short yardage back early on in his collegiate career. And as he thinks back to when he first arrived on campus, he can't help but realize how much he's truly changed since he was a freshman who didn't know what to expect in a new environment.

"Well, I came from Michigan. I'm used to having my parents around to kind of help me through stuff and manage my time a little better, but since I've been here I've really grown up. It really reinforces you're not young anymore. You need to manage your money, manage your time, pick the right friends," Line said. "I think I've just learned the right types of people to hang out with, who will get me to where I need to be and what I need to do to better myself as a football player, a student athlete and a person."

One interesting thing about his final season at SMU is that he will share the experience of being a senior with his younger brother Prescott, who like Zach, was a standout high school linebacker back in their home state of Michigan who made the switch to offense upon arriving at SMU and playing for Jones.

"I think it's bigger for him than for me. I've kind of gotten into my routine down here. I know how things go but I know how hard it is to come down here without anybody down here. It's awesome because he's one of my best friends. So it's awesome to hang out with him while teaching the offense," Line said. "He's in that walking stage now. There's walking, crawling and then you run. [I'm] just trying to help him learn the offense as fast as possible because on good teams the seniors have got to help the freshmen grow up fast so they can play."

During his first three seasons with the Ponies, he has been a top-notch running back and a big focal point of the SMU offense. But one part of his game that has been somewhat overlooked is his ability to be a receiver out of the backfield. His career high for receptions was the 17 catches he had in 2010 for 163 yards, a total he could eclipse in 2012 as he is now more comfortable as a receiver than ever before.

"They haven't really utilized me much in the past years catching the ball out of the backfield other than screen passes. More this camp, I've kind of been jumping in there. I think just getting confidence more in my hands this camp. That's all it really is-having confidence and just catching the ball every day," Line said.

As a freshman, he was part of a 2009 SMU team that won the Hawaii Bowl and ended a bowl drought for the Mustangs that had dated back to the Pony Express days of 1984, some 25 years. The Ponies have been to a bowl game in each of his three seasons and now he and his fellow seniors want to close out their college careers in a fourth and final bowl game, which would be quite an achievement for Jones and the program, especially considering what a low point SMU football was at when June was hired to turn things around in 2008.

"That's huge. A lot of the guys that are still here with me, we've been here for all of them and we all think the same thing. It's an awesome thing that we are the class [that helped turn things around]," Line said. "We were able to come in with some of the older guys that had gone 1-11 and you could see just how bad this program was. When we went to Hawaii, you could see the fans and the community has started to change. They still didn't buy in but as we started going to more and more bowl games, it becomes a winning tradition. Now we expect to go and if we're not there something needs to change."

But in a way, the evolution of Zach Line since coming to SMU in 2009 has mirrored the development of the Mustangs over the same span of time. He originally came to the Hilltop as a linebacker, switched to running back, first seeing time as a short yardage back before then becoming a focal point of the Pony offense as a sophomore. Line has never looked back, has continued to lead by example and has developed into the second-best running back in SMU history, ranking behind only some guy named Dickerson. And to think Zach still has one year left to ink his name further into the school record books, which should make keeping tabs on how he fares as a senior interesting to say the least.

Nichols: Texas transfer Garrett Gilbert living up to big billing so far with SMU

UNIVERSITY PARK — When he started coaching in the early 1980s, June Jones worked with California quarterback Gale Gilbert on the nuances of the run-and-shoot.

Twenty-five years later, Jones is teaching similar lessons to Gilbert's son, Garrett, at SMU.

"Small world, huh?" Jones said with a grin last week.

The football did not fall far from the tree in the Gilbert household.

Gale threw for 6,566 yards in three years as a starter at Cal. He went against John Elway in the famous Cal-Stanford game in 1982, which Cal won on a series of laterals through the Stanford band.

A veteran of eight NFL seasons, primarily as a backup, he is the only player to compete in five straight Super Bowls — four with Buffalo and one with San Diego.

Garrett, mentored by his dad in early childhood, was among the nation's top quarterback prospects after setting state passing records at Lake Travis in Austin.

He signed with Texas, but after injuring his shoulder two games into his junior year, Garrett decided to transfer to SMU. Jones named him the starter before watching him take a snap in practice.

"When this opportunity came up for Garrett, it was a no-brainer," Gale said by phone last week. "I've known June for a long time. How he has handled quarterbacks over the years, his record speaks for itself."

The Jones-Gilbert connection promises to pay dividends for SMU. The Mustangs were in dire need of a prolific passer. They lost J.J. McDermott to graduation, and Kyle Padron and Stephen Kaiser transferred.

Jones sees a lot of Gale in Garrett.

"Both of them have very accurate, strong arms and their personalities seem very similar," Jones said. "Garrett's the right kind of kid; a winner, a competitor, very accurate with the ball. The main thing is he has a complete understanding of what we're doing."

A three-year starter in high school, Garrett left Lake Travis as the state's all-time leader in passing yards (12,540) and second in touchdown passes (138). He led his team to a 39-4 record and consecutive state titles.

In his freshman season at Texas in 2009, Garrett was thrust into the BCS Championship game against No. 1 Alabama, replacing injured Colt McCoy after five plays.

Garrett threw touchdown passes of 44 and 28 yards to position the Longhorns for a comeback victory. But he also had five turnovers in the 37-21 loss.

"Here's a guy standing there on the sidelines who's as cold as he could be, and all of a sudden in the national championship game, it's like, 'OK, son, you've got it.' I can't even imagine," Texas coach Mack Brown said then.

Garrett started every game the next season. Although he passed for 2,744 yards, he had 17 interceptions to 10 touchdowns. The defending Big 12 champion Longhorns finished 5-7.

Two games into the 2011 season, Gilbert suffered a season-ending shoulder injury (torn labrum). With UT switching coordinators and a logjam of young quarterbacks, Garrett decided to transfer.

"It was a bad team anyway," Gale said. "You could have put John Elway in at quarterback and it wasn't going to be pretty. I'm proud of the way Garrett handled himself. He showed great perseverance putting up with what he had to deal with here in Austin."

Gilbert took 27 credit hours so he could graduate from UT in May with a degree in sports management and have two years of eligibility remaining at SMU. Under NCAA rules, a player who transfers from one Division I-A school to another must sit out one year unless he graduated from the previous program.

“It was definitely a learning process down there, facing that adversity, but you have to go through that kind of stuff,” Garrett said. “Now that I’m here, I don’t look back on it negatively; I look back on it and say, ‘What can I learn from it?”’

Garrett, 6-4, 210, seems the perfect catalyst for Jones’ run-and-shoot. He has raised eyebrows with his strong arm, accuracy and quick delivery. His ability to strike deep should help open the field and spread defenses for a team that ranked fourth in total offense and seventh in scoring last season.

Perhaps most impressive is how quickly Garrett has absorbed the intricacies of the complex offense. With a change in coaches after his junior year at Lake Travis and then a change in coordinators at UT, Garrett is learning his fifth offensive scheme in six years.

“He’s seen so many different systems, offensive reads and coverages that there are no surprises,” SMU quarterbacks coach Dan Morrison said. “I think it’s benefited him seeing all those different things and working with different coordinators. He’s very mature and has some very good skills.”

On the Hilltop, Garrett has quickly asserted his leadership. He slaps teammates’ helmets when they return to the huddle and offers advice to other quarterbacks during passing drills.

He seems to have developed a good line of communication with his receivers, a vital aspect of the run-and-shoot.

He rooms with senior offensive lineman Blake McJunkin, a mutual friend through FCA functions of former Longhorn Jamison Berryhill.

McJunkin enjoys watching his roommate square off against wide receiver Ryan Walker and linebacker Randall Joyner in Xbox 360 NCAA Football.

“I love to watch those guys play because they’re so competitive,” McJunkin said. “He’s a fun guy to have around.”
