WASHBURNE STADIUM

One of the elite soccer venues in the country, Washburne Stadium is the home pitch for both the SMU men's and women's soccer teams. Both teams began competing at the pitch formerly known as Westcott Field in 1994.

The grass facility was used as a training site for the Dallas venue of World Cup USA '94. Teams from Germany, Bulgaria, Sweden and Holland practiced there before their games at the Cotton Bowl.

Within more recent years, Westcott Field has climbed the charts as one of the nation's most exciting soccer stadiums. In 2001, Westcott Field ranked among the highest attended facilities during the SMU men's team No. 1 reign for 14 weeks, as well as the women's team's march to the Western Athletic Conference Title.

In 2004, the Mustangs added a press box to the stadium featuring attractive lettering and the Mustangs' past champions. Before the 2006 season, SMU installed a new field and a state-of-the-art drainage system. In 2022, the stadium was redone and renamed as Washburne Stadium. The remodel features a new press box, locker rooms, stadium seating, and a patio area.
