HISTORY

The trans-Atlantic slave trade brought millions of Africans to America with many passing through the port of Savannah forming the Geechee and Gullah cultures of the Atlantic coastal communities in Georgia and South Carolina.

The slave trade in the South would lead to new social economic era where the color of one's skin determined whether you lived your life enslaved or free. It would take three generations and a war between the states to bring an end to slavery in America.

Through the hardships of slavery and the fight for civil rights, Africans in Savannah founded their own churches, schools and communities. Savannah, Georgia's oldest black community is one of the most historically significant African-American cities in the nation. To sample the true soul of Savannah one must walk the city streets and squares and visit the many African-American owned and operated shops, restaurants and bed and breakfasts that uphold the traditions of our African roots.

Guests who come to our city are truly captivated by Savannah's charm, the richness of our heritage and all the activities the city offers every day of the year. Come and experience the soul of Savannah where our heritage is celebrated.

STERLING STEWARD, JR.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Sterling Steward, Jr. will be entering his seventh year as director of intercollegiate athletics at Savannah State University.

Steward is responsible for all matters related to managing Savannah State's National Collegiate Athletics Association (NCAA) Division I sport programs for men and women including budgeting; compliance with university, University System of Georgia (USG) and NCAA policies and rules; and fundraising for programmatic needs.

"Mr. Steward brings to Savannah State's athletic program a wealth of knowledge in rules compliance and education, as well as extensive experience in athletic program management, event promotions and publicity, fundraising, facility management and fiscal affairs," Dozier said. "I have every confidence in his ability to lead Savannah State to new heights that will make us all proud."

During his five years at Savannah State, Steward has supervised the 5.1 million dollar budget for all sixteen sports, served as a member of the President's Senior Council Staff and secured guaranteed football games worth an estimated 5 million dollars. He has also assisted in obtaining more than 3 million dollars in basketball game guarantees; securing over 8 million dollars for the athletics department in game guarantees alone.

He has forged relationships with local businesses by developing sponsorship opportunities. These opportunities provide local businesses and the community the ability to engage the SSU fan base while promoting their company's brand. These corporate sponsorships have netted SSU athletics more than $100,000 per year.

He has maintained a culture of academic excellence by developing and implementing an academic support unit to address Academic Performance Rate (APR).

He has not only strengthened SSU's academics, but the Tigers have enjoyed many athletic accomplishments during his tenure. SSU has won Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) Championships in men's basketball, baseball and women's basketball; along with individual NCAA champions in men's golf, tennis and track & field.

He has also served on the booster club's executive management team; developed and managed a comprehensive NCAA Division I intercollegiate athletics program which sponsors sixteen varsity sports; marketed athletic sports events which increased attendance at baseball, softball, volleyball, football and basketball games; developed bid proposals to secure outside athletic events on the SSU campus; and created and established good rapport in the community. This rapport with external and internal stakeholders is a direct result of SSU's ticket sales increasing every year for all sports.

Steward came to Savannah State from Mississippi Valley State University in Itta Bena, Miss., where he served as senior consultant for Athletics Administration. Prior to that, he was interim athletic director/associate athletic director for compliance at Alabama State University (ASU) in Montgomery, AL. At ASU, Steward was a member of the President's Senior Council Staff and supervised 18 head coaches and other departmental employees with an $8.7 million dollar annual budget.

Prior to working at ASU, Steward held a number of positions at Kentucky State University (KSU) in Frankfort, Ky., over a four-year period including assistant athletic director/compliance coordinator, interim athletic director/compliance coordinator and assistant athletic director for administration/compliance coordinator.

Before joining KSU's staff, Steward served at Eastern Oregon University as its assistant athletic director for internal operations and held a similar position at Xavier University of Louisiana in New Orleans from 1999 until 2004.

A native of New Orleans, Steward attended the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg, Miss., where he received both his bachelor's and master's degrees in 1993 and 1996, respectively, in human performance and recreation.

FOOTBALL AND TRACK & FIELD

The Savannah State Tigers will be playing their 44th season in Theodore A. Wright Stadium. In 2011, the Tigers played their first game in newly renovated T.A. Wright Stadium on October 1, after a $6 million revitalization project in 2010 that included new professional style locker rooms, ticket booths, concession areas, brick front, and field turf. The 2010 renovations added 500 seats to the stadium for a total capacity of 8,500, and heralded the inaugural season of competition in the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference. In 2009, a new press box was added, featuring a president's box. The stadium has undergone three major renovations since it was built in 1969. The most significant of these was the 1995 renovations that added the current track. In the 2009 a new press box was built prior to 2010's complete renovations. The original stadium's construction was part of massive school building project that spanned from 1964 to 1971. The new stadium was built at a cost of $133, 665 and John McGlockton, a 1935 graduate was instrumental in securing the lighting at no expense to the college. Prior to the current location in T.A. Wright Stadium the SSU football team played in several different locations in the over 100 hundred years of competitive football. From 1902 to 1940, the Tigers played where the King-Frazier building now stands on the Savannah State campus. From 1940 to the 1970, they played on the grounds that the A.H. Gordon Library sits on today. The SSU Track and Field team has competed in the stadium since 1995. The Tigers host multiple track and field events each year, utilizing the multiple fields inside and around T.A. Wright Stadium for events such as discuss, javelin throw, high jump, triple jump, and long jump.

TIGER FOOTBALL

The Savannah State football team rebounded from a rough start last year to end the season with the most wins the program has had since the 2008 season.

Second-year Head Coach Erik Raeburn and the Tigers will be faced with another changing schedule in 2017, but hope to pull off a few more victories.

SSU opened last year with back-to-back setbacks to Georgia Southern and Southern Mississippi before coming home to defeat Bethune-Cookman. It was the Tigers first win over B-CU since the 1992 campaign.

The Tigers were 1-4 after five games but won their next two with wins over Howard and Norfolk State. SSU closed out the season with three straight losses to end the year with a 3-7 mark. Savannah State had five wins in 2008.

The efforts paid off which resulted in five players making the All Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference Team. Marquis Smith and John Barron made the first team defense, Stefan Banks made second team defense, Arshon Spaulding made the third team offense while Mulik Simmons made the third team defense.

The Savannah State offense is set to welcome back eight starters. Spaulding, wide receiver Cantrell Frazier and offensive lineman Afolabi Ayanbayi used up their eligibility.

With Blake Dever transferring to Arkansas State, sophomore T.J. Bell steps into the role as fulltime quarterback. Derek Kirkland and Tino Smith should be his favorite targets along with tight end Tyler Hagan. The offensive line should be with the return of starters TJ Jackson, Rohan Francis, David Cooper and James Livingston.

Bell completed 72 of 146 passes for 762 yards and five touchdowns a year ago. Kirkland had 27 receptions for 317 yards and a pair of touchdowns while Smith was right on his heels with 28 catches for 310 yards and a touchdown. Hagan played in four games before getting injured. Nicholas Bentley and Rashad

Saxton are the top returning running backs.

The defense lost Marquis Smith, Marcus Lee and Steve Williams to graduation. Smith, who led the team with 79 tackles and 9.5 sacks, earned an invite to the Green Bay Packers minicamp during the spring.

The secondary remains intact with Juwan Tolbert, Isaiah Bennett, John Wilson and David Crowley all coming back. Banks will anchor the defensive line along with Brandon Carswell and Kevhan Bent. Simmons is the lone returning linebacker.

Tolbert had 39 tackles, Bennett had 54 with a team-leading 10 pass breakups, Wilson was in on 25 stops while Crowley had 34 tackles and a team leading three interceptions. Carswell had 26 tackles while Bent contributed 14. Simmons was second of the team with 73 stops.

With the loss of all conference kicker John Barron, special teams was also hit hard by graduation. Barron averaged 41.7 yards a punt and had 11 for 50 yards or more. The Marietta, Ga. native was successful in converting all 17 of his attempts and converted 6 of 9 field goals attempts.

Giovanni Lugo will attempt to fill Barron's shoes. The Georgia State transfer did well in Tigers spring game where he averaged 47.3 yards per punt-yard, made all four of his extra point attempts and kicked a 52-yard field goal.

The team was able to hold spring practice this year, the first time since 2014.

THE NEWCOMERS

Raeburn and his staff were able to sign 26 players to National Letters of Intent during the off-season. It was Raeburn's first recruiting class as the head coach of the Tigers.

The class includes 24 recruits out of high school and two mid-year transfers.

In a position breakdown, there are: six offensive linemen, five defensive backs, three defensive linemen, four wide receivers, two tight ends, two running backs, three linebackers and one quarterback.

Of the players signed, 19 are from the state of Georgia, five are from Florida, two from Virginia and one from South Carolina.

THE STAFF

Stability is a key to any good coaching staff and Savannah State is no different. The offensive coaches return while the defensive unit loss cornerback Cordell Taylor, who took a similar job at Norfolk State.

Raeburn, William Rychel (offensive coordinator/offensive line), Chad Williams (defensive coordinator/linebackers), Nathan Scola (running backs), Paris Jackson (safeties) and Anthony Neymeiyer (tight ends) are all in their second year while Russell Demasi (wide receivers) is in his third year and Jonas Jackson (defensive line) is entering his fourth year with the program.

THE SCHEDULE

Like last year, SSU only has four home games on the schedule. The Tigers open the season with non-conference contests at Appalachian State and Montana before starting the conference slate at home against Florida A&M. The other non-conference game is against Charleston Southern. Other home games include Hampton, Delaware State and South Carolina State. SSU has other road games at Bethune-Cookman, Morgan State and North Carolina A&T.

TIGERS – SEAC CHAMPS

For Many Years, Savannah State University had no documented football athletics history. However, in 1990, Dr. Charles J. Elmore compiled the information upon which the SSU continuing athletics history is built. We now have an abundance of compiled information to document our rich football athletics heritage.

The earliest recorded date for football at Savannah State was Thanksgiving Day of 1902 when the Georgia Industrial College won its only game that year. There are no additional football records until 1907 when GIC had another one-game season on Thanksgiving Day and lost. There have been 19 head coaches in the history of SSU football.

The first person actually hired to coach football was Richard Richardson who was a graduate of Morehouse College. He was coach from 1929-1934. Although he was preceded by a gentleman named W. P. Tucker (1915-1928), he is generally recognized as the first head football coach.

Richardson was followed by Arthur Dwight (1935-1939), W. Mckinley King (1940-1941), John Myles (1942 head coach and player); Myles was also the coach in 1946. There was no football played from 1943 to 1945 because of World War II. Myles was followed by Ted Wright (1947-1949), John Martin (1949-1952), Albert Frazier (1953), Ross Pearly (1954-1956), William R. Davis (1957-1963), Leo Richardson (1964-1968), John Myles (1969-1976), Frank Ellis Jr.(1977-1985), William R. Davis (1986-1992), Joseph C. Crosby (1993-1995), Wendell Avery (1995-1996), Daryl McNeill (1997-1998), Steven Wilks (1999), William R. Davis (2000-2001), Ken Pettiford (2002-2003), and Richard F. Basil (2003-). Combined, the 19 coaches have compiled a career record of 239-348-29 in 98 years of competition. Six years of statistics (1917-1921 and 1924) are unaccounted for and only partial records exist for three (1934, 1936, 1940).

In 1938, Georgia State (school name was changed in 1932 from Georgia Industrial to Georgia State) celebrated her first football championship. The Tigers led the South Atlantic Athletic Conference with a 6-2 record. In 1947, Georgia State became a charter member of the Southeastern Athletic Conference.

The second conference title came to the institution in 1967 when Savannah State College (so named in 1950) was best with a 6-2-1 record.

Savannah State joined the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference in 1969 as a Division III participant and under the leadership of Coach John Myles, SSU had the best record in 1972 at 6-3-1.

1981 saw Tiger athletics move from Division III to Division II and 2000 saw them move to Division I-AA (NCAA) in which they are competing today.

The move to division II opened a new era in Savannah State Football. SSU took her lumps through the first four years in the new division, but in 1996, along came William R. "Bill" Davis. The Davis era lasted until 1992. During that seven year span, the SSU football program enjoyed a string of successes. Davis led the Tigers to their best ever records of 8-2 in 1988 and 8-1 in 1989.

The cream floated to the top in 1992 when the Tigers played in their first ever NCAA Football Playoff. They finished the regular season with an 8-3 record.

Savannah State opted to move to Division I-AA in 1998 and has since been independent of conference affiliation. 2000 marked the first year that the university was a counter at the 1-AA level. Full membership was granted in 2002.

March 20, 2000 saw William R. "Bill" Davis return to the confines of Savannah State University as head football coach. His return signaled the beginning of a new football era for the University.

However, the second Davis era was short lived as Davis passed away in the spring of 2002. Kenneth Pettiford was hired to replace Davis in June 2002. Pettiford struggled through the '02 season compiling a record of 1-9, but had an outstanding recruiting year and hoped to turn the program around. As it turned out, fortunes were not good for Pettiford as he was replaced five games into the 2003 season after failing to win a game. He was replaced by Richard F. Basil who finished the remainder of the season on an interim basis. Basil was appointed head football coach at the end of the season and now leads the Tiger football team into the 2005 season.
