UNDER THE HAT

•Luke Doyle is approaching two significant career milestones. The senior guard needs 18 points to reach 1,000 for his career, and he is also one 3-pointer shy of becoming Stetson's career leader. He enters play Thursday tied with Aaron Graham (2010-14) with 206 triples. Doyle and Graham are the only players school history with 200 3-pointers.

•Divine Myles is 7 assists shy of becoming the first player in ASUN Conference history with 1500 points, 500 rebounds, 500 assists and 150 steals in a career. He is also 5 points away from breaking Stetson's career scoring record.

•Myles is entering rarefied air on a national level as well. Since the start of the 1996-97 season, only 35 players across college basketball have reached totals of 1500 points, 500 rebounds and 500 assists (Stats, Inc./NCAA).

About the Game

•The Hatters close out the regular season on Thursday when they host ASUN Conference travel partner FGCU

•Prior to the game, the Hatters will honor seven seniors playing in their final home game. Those seniors are: Matthew Cioce, Larry Dennis, Luke Doyle, B.J. Glasford, Brady Moses, Divine Myles and Angel Rivera.

•Aside from gaining momentum heading into next week's ASUN Tournament, Thursday's game is relatively meaningless for both teams. Stetson clinched the No. 7 seed last Saturday and will play at Lipscomb next Monday, while FGCU clinched the regular-season title and No. 1 seed two weeks ago, and will host USC Upstate in the first round.

Catching History

Angel Rivera put his name at the top of one of Stetson's most significant career records at Kennesaw State on Jan. 18 when he dropped career assist No. 527 to overtake Frank Ireland for the all-time assist mark.

Rivera is also the first Hatter to have 100 assists in four straight seasons. His 577 career assists rank 6th in ASUN history.

Chasing History

Divine Myles has an opportunity this season to cement his status as one of the top all-round players in program history by breaking a long-standing career record.

Myles enters Thursday's game with FGCU needing 5 points to become Stetson's all-time leading scorer. With 1,822 points, Myles is well within range of Kerry Blackshear's (1992-96) all-time mark of 1,826 points. Myles is the ASUN Conference's active career scoring leader and is currently 18th all-time in league history.

The 1,000-Point Club

Last season was a historic one for the Hatters in terms of 1,000-point scorers as Brian Pegg, Derick Newton and Divine Myles all reached the milestone. This season might be no different.

Seniors Luke Doyle and Angel Rivera both figure to knock on the door of Club 1000 by season's end.

Doyle enters Thursday's game with 982 points in three seasons, and is 18 points shy with at least 4 games remaining on the schedule.

Rivera, whose career scoring average is 7.4 points per game, has a little more work to do as he needs 73 points to reach 1,000. Rivera's season high is the 240 points he scored last year.

Digging Deeper

•Senior Divine Myles is currently ranked in the Stetson career top 10 in scoring (2nd), assists (5th), field goals made (2nd), field goals attempted (3rd), steals (4th), free throws made (7th) and free throws attempted (6th). He is the only player in program history to rank in the Top 10 in scoring (1,822), assists (493), and steals (156).

•With 500 rebounds now under his belt, Myles is poised to become the first player in program history to reach 1,500 points, 500 rebounds and 500 assists. Only one other player in ASUN history has accomplished the feat: Lipscomb's Josh Slater (2007-11).

•Stetson has made at least one 3-point field goal in each of the last 422 games after making 9 on Thursday vs. Lipscomb. Stetson's last game without a trey was vs. Colorado State on Dec. 28, 2004.

•Stetson's 15 steals against Jacksonville on Jan. 29 were its most since recording 18 against Palm Beach Atlantic on Nov. 20, 2006.

•Stetson's 18-point margin of victory against USC Upstate was its largest against a conference opponent since a 59-39 win over Kennesaw State on Feb. 14, 2009

•Abayomi Iyiola enjoyed his second double-double (12-11) of the season against Upstate. His last such effort came in the season opener against Webber International.

•Myles and Angel Rivera not only combined for 22 points but also totaled 14 assists and just three turnovers against the Spartans.

•Stetson's win vs. NJIT was the fifth time this season the Hatters have won despite trailing at half-time. That only happened six times total in the two previous seasons combined.

•In addition to a strong defensive effort which limited NJIT to 29 percent shooting in the second half on Thursday, the Hatters shot a season-best 56.1 percent from the field for the game, including 59 percent in the second half

Myles Named Preseason ASUN; Hats Poll 6th

Stetson's Divine Myles was named preseason all-conference and the Hatters were picked to finish sixth in the league's annual Men's Basketball Preseason Poll, the ASUN Conference office announced in late October.

Myles, a 5-11 senior, was one of ten players to make the preseason team. As a junior last year, Myles averaged 16.5 points, 4.7 rebounds and 3.9 assists per game while shooting 51 percent overall from the floor, 39 percent from 3-point range and 71 percent at the free throw line.

The Hatters were picked to finish sixth in the eight-team ASUN. Stetson was 11-21 last season, including 3-11 in conference play. In addition to Myles, the Hatters feature returning starters Luke Doyle, Angel Rivera and Larry Dennis.

ESPN3 to Carry All Home Games

Stetson Athletics continues a new and exciting chapter this season as every regular season men's basketball home game will be carried live on ESPN3.

Stetson will produce and broadcast each event through its own Stetson Video Productions, under the guidance Director of Broadcasting Jeff Taylor. Games are streamed on the Watch ESPN app and at WatchESPN.com. Evan Weston returns for his third season as the TV play-by-play voice of the Hatters. He'll be joined by a variety of color commentators throughout the season.

Select Home Games to be Broadcast on WSBB

In addition to home games on ESPN3, a total of 12 home games will also be carried on longtime radio partner WSBB AM 1230 & 1490.

Luke Mauro begins his fourth season as the radio voice of the Hatters. Mauro, who is also a member Stetson football's radio broadcast team, is the Director of Communications and lead play-by-play voice for the Daytona Tortugas Single-A baseball team.

HEAD COACH COREY WILLIAMS

Corey Williams begins his fifth season as Stetson men's basketball head coach in 2017-18.

Williams was named the 21st head coach in program history on June 3, 2013 -- less than 10 weeks before the start of the school year.

"I'm excited," Williams said at the press conference announcing his hire. "To be able to lead this program means an awful lot to me and my family. I knew back when I first started out in this profession that my ambition was always to be a head coach. For Stetson University to give me this opportunity, I'm very grateful. I'm humbled, I'm grateful."

"Stetson University is privileged to be able to call Corey Williams our new men's basketball head coach."

Stetson Director of Athletics Jeff Altier said that day. "Corey is a winner, he has worked with and played for some of the finest minds in the world of basketball and as such he understands the discipline, commitment and strategy that is needed to be successful. Everywhere Corey has played or coached his teams have won and won big, and I am excited to have him as a part of the Stetson team."

Williams has been blessed throughout his basketball playing and coaching career to be surrounded by and learn from some of the finest minds in the game, including Phil Jackson, Eddie Sutton, Bill Self and Leonard Hamilton.

A native of Macon, Ga., Williams played point guard at Oklahoma State. He had a lengthy career as a professional player, spending his rookie season in the NBA with the Chicago Bulls where he was a part of the 1993 NBA Championship team, before starting his coaching career.

Prior to taking the reins at Stetson, Williams spent six seasons as an assistant at Florida State. His career with the Seminoles coincided with the team's winningest five-year period, beginning in 2007-08. During this time the team won its first ACC Championship, enjoyed a school-record run of four straight NCAA Tournament appearances, four consecutive years of double digit wins in ACC play, produced five NBA Draft picks, recorded 16 wins over nationally ranked teams and appeared in the national rankings in four straight seasons.

Williams assisted in the development of the Seminoles into one of the best programs in the ACC with the perseverance that has also made him one of the nation's top recruiters. He was instrumental in Florida State's run to the 2011 NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 as well as the 2012 ACC Championship.

Before joining the Florida State staff, Williams was an assistant coach for seven seasons at Oral Roberts where he aided the Golden Eagles in achieving an average of 18 wins per season, including 20 or more wins in each of his last three seasons in Tulsa. ORU captured the Mid-Continent Conference regular season and tournament titles in 2006 and 2007, advancing to play in the NCAA Tournament each season. The 2006-07 squad not only finished with a 23-11 record, but the Golden Eagles also stunned the college basketball world when they defeated then-No. 3 Kansas, 78-71, in an early-season game at legendary Allen Fieldhouse.

Williams played collegiately at Oklahoma State from 1989-1992. He finished his career eighth on OSU's career scoring charts with 1,320 points. During his collegiate playing career he helped lead the Cowboys to consecutive NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 appearances under Coach Eddie Sutton in 1991 and 1992.

Following the conclusion of his collegiate career, Williams was a 2nd-round draft pick of the Chicago Bulls, but that wasn't his only professional opportunity. Despite having not played football since junior high, the Kansas City Chiefs selected Williams in the 12th round of the 1992 NFL Draft. He was the only OSU Cowboy drafted that year.

As a rookie in the NBA, Williams was a member of the Michael Jordan-led Bulls as the franchise captured its third straight NBA title. Following his one season in Chicago, Williams played parts of the next season with the Minnesota Timberwolves, while also playing for the Oklahoma City Cavalry of the CBA. He returned to Oklahoma State as a student assistant in 1994, serving as a member of the Cowboys' staff during their 1994 Final Four campaign. Williams then played and coached professionally in Taiwan, from 1995-98.

Williams, 46, earned his bachelor's degree in education from Oklahoma State in 2002. He and his wife, Nicole, have two children: Jourdan (18) and Corey, Jr. (14).

STETSON'S DIVINE MIRACLE

Divine Miracle Myles is his given name, and he most certainly earned it.

He earned it because he wasn't supposed to live. His mother's pregnancy was wrought with complications. Doctors were so certain he was going to be stillborn they almost threw him away after he was delivered. But the Stetson freshman -- and a higher power -- had other ideas.

Myles' mother, Tonya, was 20 years old when she was pregnant with Divine. It was a difficult pregnancy, and Tonya was told by her physicians her son would likely be stillborn. Their tests indicated she wouldn't carry him to full term. They said Divine didn't have a nose or a mouth, that his eyes, lungs and heart weren't developed. Doctors also cautioned that if he survived, he would be mentally retarded, without any motor skills of any kind, and he would be dependent upon his family for the rest of his life.

On Feb. 25, 1996, at just 24 weeks, Tonya went into labor. Divine was delivered via C-section and when he was removed from his mother's womb, Divine stunned them all.

"On the day I was born I was still in the amniotic sac and they were about to dispose of me," said Myles. "But God intervened and I kicked the bag open and began crying and screaming. When I was born I was whole. I was a healthy baby."

Shocked at what they were seeing, nurses immediately asked the doctor to place a breathing tube in the newborn. But the delivery doctor resisted and instead told nurses to check Divine's Apgar score, a procedure used to assess the health of a newborn child. Divine tested at the top of the chart.

Despite what his family called a miracle birth, doctors believed Divine still had a long road of recovery ahead of him. They insisted he be placed into a series of courses and classes designed to stimulate him both physically and mentally. For three years, Divine attended those classes until his mother decided he didn't need them anymore.

"I was 2 or 3 years old when I was in those classes, and I was ahead of all of the other kids," he said. "The doctors kept telling her I needed to go to the classes. But my mom said I was fine and she stopped taking me. She continued to work with me at home. The only effect I've had from any of this is that I had stiff bones as a child but I grew out of that."

It isn't hard to imagine that the series of events immediately before and after his birth have had a profound impact on Divine. A deeply religious young man, Divine believes the faith that he and his family hold so dear had a lot to do with not only his initial survival, but how he's thrived as well.

"We talk about it a lot because it's a big testimony in my life," he said. "My mom reminds me every so often how blessed I am, and that God has a purpose for me and has great things in store for me. That's why my middle name is Miracle. No man on Earth could get me through this. It was all God."

Myles went on to lead a perfectly normal childhood and developed into one of Alabama's top prep players at Blount High School, helping lead the Leopards to a 27-4 record and runner-up finish in the 2014 Alabama 6A state tournament. Now in his fourth season with the Hatters, Myles has started all but two games. As he begins his senior year at Stetson, Myles is on pace to become the Hatters' all-time leading scorer.

And while every student-athlete has their share of challenges, Myles isn't likely to be fazed by a hostile crowd or a larger opponent. He's already faced down the biggest challenge of his life... and it's a Miracle he came out on top.
