Softball's final-inning rally halted by Ball State flight plans
 March 11, 2012
 By ZACH BOND | UNCBears.com

DeLAND, Fla. -- In one of the strangest ways to end a softball game, Northern Colorado fell to Ball State 9-5 Sunday on the final day of the Stetson Classic, despite mounting a furious comeback in a seventh inning that, in the end, never happened.

After giving up six runs in the sixth inning, the Bears (9-9) went into the top-half of the seventh inning down 9-5.

From there, things got a little crazy.

In the seventh the Bears quickly loaded the bases with nobody out before Jamie Pollak came up and knocked in the inning's first run after a fielding error by the Cardinals. Tianalia Fa'asua then followed that with an RBI single, and, with the bases still loaded, Erin Wilkinson was hit by a pitch, scoring the third run of the inning.

Freshman Melissa Marcovecchio then played hero for the Bears -- for a little bit, anyway -- coming up with the go-ahead hit after ripping a two-run single through the left side of the infield.

Unfortunately, all the late-inning drama was for naught because Ball State had a plane to catch.

Before the game started, both teams agreed to a "drop-dead" time -- an absolute deadline when the game would be deemed over, no matter the score or inning. The Bears' seventh-inning rally came just as the deadline approached, which meant Ball State was not allowed to bat.

The NCAA rules for this situation states that in such a case the score of the game reverts back to the last completed inning and the game ends at that spot.

Thus, Northern Colorado saw all five of its seventh-inning runs cleared off the board and walked away with a 9-5 defeat.

"At the end of the day, I don't really care whether it was a win or a loss," Northern Colorado coach Mark Montgomery said. "Our girls played amazing. We did so many right things, and our process was fantastic. I'm just very pleased with the performance and heart of the players today.

"I'm just not worried about the outcome at this point in the season. Wins and losses are fine, but it's really about how we're playing the game, and I felt we played exceptionally well today."

The strange ending was a fitting way to cap a tournament that saw the host-Hatters pull out of some of their scheduled games because of pitching-staff injuries, only to be replaced by Youngstown State, and saw all of Saturday's games postponed or cancelled because of rain.

"Even though we didn't get the win that we were looking for, I think we are playing some good softball," Montgomery said. "If we continue to make the right kinds of plays and stick to our process, the results will come."

Softball Team Falls to DePaul, Ties Charleston Southern
 UNI Athletics Communications
 Feb. 11, 2006

DeLand, Fla. -- The University of Northern Iowa softball team is still seeking its first win of 2006 after falling to 14th-ranked DePaul and settling for a tie against Charleston Southern in the second day of the Stetson Tournament on Saturday.

The Panthers (0-3-1) were shutout 5-0 by DePaul in a rematch of Friday's opener and were forced to settle for a 4-4 tie with Charleston Southern after rain moved in and halted the contest in the sixth inning.

UNI freshman Monica Wright (Morrison, Ill./Morrison) took the loss in game one despite giving up a single earned run, as the Panthers committed a pair of costly errors and allowed 10 Blue Demon hits.

After Charleston Southern opened game two with a four-run onslaught in the first inning, the Panthers held the Lady Bucs scoreless over the next five frames and put together a rally. UNI picked up a pair of runs in the second inning, when freshman Kelly Papesch (Minooka, Ill./Minooka) drove in Stefany Shalla (Kalona, Iowa/Mid-Prairie) from first on a hit-and-run. An RBI single by freshman Brittany Ruzicka (Cedar Rapids, Iowa/Jefferson) then brought Papesch home.

The Panthers added another pair of runs in the third with some solid work on the basepaths. After Nikki Ferden (Eldridge, Iowa/North Scott) was hit by a pitch, Stephanie Aguero (Muscatine, Iowa/Muscatine) singled and senior Rachael Rogers (Dubuque, Iowa/Wahlert) executed a successful bunt to move Ferden to third and Aguero to second. A squeeze bunt by freshman Dyann Peterson (Fort Dodge, Iowa/Fort Dodge) brought Ferden home, and a throwing error by the Lady Bucs allowed Aguero to cross the plate, as well.

The teams then battled through three scoreless innings before the rain set in.

Stetson's games against DePaul and Charleston Southern were cancelled due to the inclement weather, but the host team Hatters (2-0) will face DePaul (3-0) for the tournament title on Sunday, while the Panthers get another shot at Charleston Southern (0-2) in a consolation game that begins at 9 a.m.

Hatters Fall to NDSU; Manhattan Game Suspended to Saturday
 Power Outage Halts Play in the Sixth Inning
 March 10, 2017

DeLand, Fla. -- After falling 3-1 to North Dakota State earlier in the day, Stetson's second game against Manhattan was halted in the bottom of the sixth inning due to a power outage at Patricia Wilson Field.

In a fun show of sportsmanship, players from both teams immediately took the field together and tossed a glow-in-the-dark-football back and forth while waiting for the lights to be restored.

Eventually, the game was officially suspended and resumed at 9:15 am Saturday morning. The Hatters defeated the Jaspers 7-3 in a game that took just 14 minutes to complete.

Stetson and Bethune-Cookman Rained Out Despite 8-0 Lead
May 6, 2007

DeLand, Fla. -- Four outs away from an official game, torrential rains and high winds ended Sunday's college softball game between Stetson and Bethune-Cookman at Patricia Wilson Field.

The Hatters led 8-0 in the bottom of the fourth inning with two outs when the skies opened up and delayed the game. After experiencing a power outage and witnessing a rain-soaked infield, the umpires decided to call the game.

The cancelation spoiled a two home run performance from Andrea Migliori, who at the time tied and then broke the school single-season home run record. Now her season total reverts to 14. Blythe Golden had also homered, Amy Joyce and Lindsay Wightman had tripled, and Amanda Lindsey had tossed four scoreless innings. None of the statistics from the game will count, and the game will not be made up.

Seniors Heather Colding and Sherrel Fountain were honored prior to the game.

It was the first time the newly constructed Patricia Wilson Field press box was in service.
