NOTEWORTHY

- Stony Brook has limited itself to single-digit turnovers in three of the last five games, committing 10 or fewer on six occasions.
- Junior Bryan Sekunda gave Stony Brook a big lift off the bench in his return to his home state of Pennsylvania. He helped lead the way in the win at St. Francis with a season-high 17 points, including five threes.
- Senior Lucas Woodhouse matched his Stony Brook career best in scoring and set new season highs in rebounds and assists, finishing the win at St. Francis with 17, 9 and 9, respectively.
- Junior Saintel returned to the starting lineup at St. Francis and earned the first double-figure scoring game of his Stony Brook career. The junior finished with 15 points and six rebounds.
- Freshman Michael Almonacy put up the best numbers of his debut season, scoring 15 points in the game at Hofstra, adding three rebounds and three assists.
- Redshirt freshman Akwasi Yeboah returned to double figures, scoring 16 points in the win over Lehigh, and followed it up with a season-best 18 points against Rutgers. He earned America East Rookie of the Week honors for his play.
- Tyrell Sturdivant has adjusted well to his new role this season. He hasn't missed a start this year, leading the team in rebounding and ranking second in scoring.
- The Seawolves have had the same or fewer turnovers than their opponent in nine of the ten games this season.

THE OPPONENT

The Highlanders recently snapped a four-game skid before the holiday break. They topped Dean College, a Division III opponent, 92-50 at home. Prior to the victory, NJIT nearly had Temple on the road, tied with the Owls in the final minute of play, but Temple was able to claim a 68-63 win in Philly.

NJIT is 6-8 on the season, but just 1-7 on the road so far. The Highlanders are led by senior Damon Lynn, who has scored in double figures in 28 straight games, and surpassed the 20-point mark on nine occasions this season.

THE SERIES

Stony Brook leads the series with the Highlanders, 5-0. The two teams first met in Newark, New Jersey, in 2006, as the Seawolves claimed a 65-61 road win. Stony Brook and NJIT met in each of the next three seasons, and most recently matched up last year, as the Seawolves topped the Highlanders 83-61 on the road. This marks the fifth meeting between the teams in the month of December. The lone November meeting was played in Stony Brook in 2009.

EARLY SIGNEES

Ochefe enters his senior season at Westtown School after helping his team to its first Pennsylvania Independent Schools Athletic Association (PAISAA) state championship last season. The power forward averaged 8.0 points and 6.0 rebounds per game as a junior as his squad made it three straight Friend's League championships.

JORDAN MCKENZIE – GUARD | 6-1 | 180 | CONCORD, N.C.

McKenzie was a four-year letterwinner at Jay M. Robinson High School before arriving at Hargrave Military Academy for a post graduate year. He averaged 16.5 points and 6.9 rebounds per game as a senior at Robinson, helping his team to a 3A state championship. McKenzie was a 1,000-point scorer and earned all-state as well as all-conference honors while at Robinson.

CORRY LONG – GUARD | 6-2 | 160 | CINCINNATI, OHIO

Long enters his final season at Cincinnati Hughes High School after averaging 19 points per game as a junior. Long was named First Team All-District 16, Enquirer First Team All-City and First Team All-CMAC following his junior season. As a sophomore, he averaged 16.0 points, 5.0 rebounds and 2.3 assists per game.

ELIJAH OLANIYI – FORWARD | 6-5 | 190 | NEWARK, N.J.

Olaniyi is coming off a strong junior season at Newark East Side that saw him average 10.8 points and 8.7 rebounds per game. He strung together seven straight games of double-figure scoring and notched a double-double on six occasions. Following the impressive year, Olaniyi was named to the All-Group 4 first team.

MEDIA POLICIES

Stony Brook's post-game interviews will take place in the women's basketball film room, located just beyond the double doors outside of the media work room. Seawolves' head coach Jeff Boals and requested players will be available promptly following the end of the game. Stony Brook's locker room is closed.

The SID of the visiting school will handle all interview request for the visiting coach and players, and designate an interview area.

INTERVIEW REQUEST POLICY

All interview requests for Stony Brook student-athletes, coaches and administrators should be made with the Stony Brook Athletic Communications office. Please contact Rachel Perreault, Associate Director of Athletic Communications and men's basketball contact, at (631) 793-0130 or by email rachel.perreault@stonybrook.edu.

LAST TIME OUT

Stony Brook picked up a 75-63 win at St. Francis to head into the holiday break on a high note. The Seawolves didn't allow a bucket in the first three minutes of the game and used steady production to distance themselves early. They led by double figures for the majority of the first half, but the Red Flash closed it out on a 10-2 run to get back within six at the break.

Senior Lucas Woodhouse had a big first half, putting up 14 points, while junior Junior Saintel, who returned to the starting lineup against the Red Flash, scored nine points and grabbed six rebounds in the opening period.

The Seawolves allowed St. Francis to get back within five early in the second half, but 11 straight points from junior Bryan Sekunda, including three makes from beyond the arc, allowed Stony Brook to match its largest lead of the day.

St. Francis got the difference back to single digits with 5:09 to play, but another three from Sekunda with 1:01 on the clock got the Seawolves' lead back above 10, and the Red Flash were only able to connect two times in the final minute of play.

TRIO LIFTS SEAWOLVES PAST ST. FRANCIS

Top performances from Lucas Woodhouse, Junior Saintel and Bryan Sekunda helped the Seawolves pick up a win before the holiday break. Woodhouse neared a triple-double as he finished with 17 points, nine assists and nine boards. Sekunda went off in the second half to score a season-best 17 points, including five threes. Saintel returned to the starting lineup and notched the first double-figure scoring game of his career with 15 points, and added six rebounds in the road victory.

YEBOAH NAMED AE ROOKIE OF THE WEEK

Redshirt freshman Akwasi Yeboah earned the first America East Rookie of the Week honors of his young career for his play against Lehigh and Rutgers. He averaged 17.0 points and 4.5 rebounds through the 1-1 week for the Seawolves. After scoring a season-best 16 points, also adding six rebounds, in the win over Lehigh, Yeboah upped his number as he put up 18 in a nail-biter against Rutgers.

ALMONACY BREAKS OUT AT HOFSTRA

Freshman Michael Almonacy had a breakout game at Hofstra, going off for 15 points while also adding three assists and three rebounds. This was the first time this season the Long Island native has scored in double figures.

FROM THE CHARITY STRIPE

Senior Lucas Woodhouse leads the team and is second in the America East from the free throw line, shooting 91-percent from the line on the year. Woodhouse made 28 consecutive free throws through a seven-game span. He went 8-for-8 in the final 1:38 of the win over Northeastern, before setting a new career best the next game with 12 makes on 12 attempts against Lehigh.

CLEAN PLAY

The Seawolves have limited their turnovers all season, keeping the number in single digits in three of the last five games and on four total occasions this season. They

SUCCESS IN A NEW ROLE

Upperclassmen Lucas Woodhouse and Tyrell Sturdivant have taken on new roles this season as full-time starters and leaders for the Seawolves. Woodhouse, who started just half of the games in his first season at Stony Brook, has doubled his production in his final year from 6.7 to 12.5 ppg. Sturdivant saw just 11.8 minutes per game last season, averaging just over three points and rebounds per game. This season Sturdivant leads the Seawolves in rebounding and is second in scoring.

HOT FROM BEYOND THE ARC

The Seawolves heated up from three-point range against Northeastern, sinking a season-high 13 attempts from beyond the arc. Junior Bryan Sekunda led the hot-shooting night going 4-for-5 from three, while juniors UC Iroegbu and Roland Nyama added three threes each. The victory over the Huskies marked the third straight game Iroegbu made at least three shots from downtown.

FIRST WINS FOR BOALS

Head coach Jeff Boals earned the first win of his head coaching and Stony Brook career as the Seawolves topped Hampton, 76-66, on Nov. 26, 2016. Boals added his first home win on Dec. 3, 2016 as Stony Brook held on to top Northeastern, 77-75.

WOODHOUSE SPARKS SEAWOLVES IN WINS

Senior Lucas Woodhouse matched his Stony Brook career best against Hampton, putting up all 17 of his points in the second half. He also added a career-high four steals, including a momentum-shifting take-away while pressing that helped extend the early end of Stony Brook's first lead of the game with under seven minutes remaining in the game.

Woodhouse had another clutch performance in the victory over Northeastern as he again finished with 17 points and went 8-for-8 from the free throw line in the final 1:38 of the game to secure the win.

STRONG AT HOME

In their third season playing in Island Federal Credit Union Arena, the Seawolves are 30-6 at home. They have dropped just three non-conference games in the home building.

STURDIVANT SHINES AGAINST EAGLES

Junior Tyrell Sturdivant took over late at Boston College to help get Stony Brook back within four points after trailing by as many as 23 in the game. With 5:15 left to play, Sturdivant scored 13 of the Seawolves' next 15 points to make it a two-possession game with under a minute to play. He finished with a career-best 26 points.

WE MEET AGAIN

Stony Brook traveled to Maryland in the early part of the year to take on the Terps for the third time in program history. The Seawolves will open the 2017-18 season against Maryland at

GARCIA OUT FOR STONY BROOK

Freshman Andrew Garcia will miss the remainder of the 2016-17 season after undergoing surgery on his right knee. The Harlem, New York, native attended the Master's School in Connecticut, missing most of his senior year due to injury. He averaged 18 points and seven rebounds per game as a junior, earning honorable mention All-Class AA.

STRONG START

Stony Brook saw three players reach double figures in scoring in the season opener against Columbia as junior Roland Nyama led the way with 16 points off the bench and junior Tyrell Sturdivant notched the second double-double of his career with 11 and 10 in the game. Redshirt freshman Akwasi Yeboah made his collegiate debut and put up 11 points and seven boards in the game.

A NEW ERA

The Columbia game marked the start of a new era for Stony Brook men's basketball as first-time head coach Jeff Boals coached his first game after being named to the position in April 2016. He spent the last seven seasons as an assistant at Ohio State. This season, Boals and his staff direct a team with five newcomers and a pair of redshirt freshmen. Stony Brook also added three junior college transfers in juniors UC Iroegbu and Junior Saintel, and sophomore Blair Mendy.

RAISING THE BANNER

Prior to the Columbia game the Seawolves raised two banners honoring the 2015-16 season that saw the first Division I NCAA Tournament appearance in program history, which came after the team won its first America East Conference Tournament. Stony Brook positioned itself for a successful conference tournament run after claiming its fourth America East regular season title.

JEFF BOALS

HEAD COACH
FIRST SEASON
OHIO, 1995

Jeff Boals was named head men's basketball coach at Stony Brook University by Director of Athletics Shawn Heilbron on April 9, 2016. He arrived at Stony Brook after spending seven seasons as an assistant coach at Ohio State.

A member of Thad Matta's staff since 2009-10, Boals [pronounced BOWLS] helped guide Ohio State to seven postseason appearances, including six NCAA Tournaments. The Buckeyes, who won or claimed a share of three Big 10 titles, advanced to the Final Four in 2012. Ohio State went 193-62 during Boals' time in Columbus.

Boals was instrumental in bringing some of the top players in the nation to Ohio State, including current NBA stars Jared Sullinger and D'Angelo Russell, along with Aaron Craft, the all-time steals and assist leader in Ohio State history. He also coached the 2010 National Player of the Year, Evan Turner, during his outstanding collegiate career with the Buckeyes.

Prior to Ohio State, Boals spent three seasons at Akron, serving as the team's recruiting coordinator and working with the post players. The Zips advanced to three Mid-American Conference championship games, winning the title in 2009. It was Akron's first NCAA Tournament berth since 1986. Boals also recruited Anthony "Humpty" Hitchens, a MAC All-Freshman Performer, and Zeke Marshall, a top-35 national recruit.

Boals spent two seasons (2004-06) at Robert Morris and four years (1999-2003) at Marshall. In his final season at Robert Morris, the Colonials posted their first winning record in 15 seasons. He also spent a total of four seasons at Division II University of Charleston in two different stints.

A 1995 graduate of Ohio University, Boals was a two-time captain and four-year letterwinner for the Bobcats, who advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 1994. The following year, Ohio University won the Preseason NIT Championship after wins over Ohio State and No. 14 Virginia, as well as George Washington and New Mexico State at Madison Square Garden.

"I'm very excited for Jeff, his family, and Stony Brook University. Jeff has done a remarkable job at The Ohio State University in his seven years as a Buckeye. He is certainly ready to be a head coach and has an amazing opportunity at such a fine institution. Jeff has a great basketball mind and will bring energy and enthusiasm to the great situation that Stony Brook University offers."

- Thad Matta, Ohio State Head Men's Basketball Coach

"Knowing that he is pursuing his dreams to be a head coach is big time. He has always been super supportive and a major mentor to me and my family throughout my process, thanks once again. P.S. Just became a Stony Brook fan."

- D'Angelo Russell, Los Angeles Lakers

"Congrats to Stony Brook and Jeff Boals, who I can say with 100 percent sincerity is a coach who still coaches me to this day. Best of luck JB."

- Jared Sullinger, Boston Celtics

"Jeff Boals will be a great addition to the Stony Brook community. His commitment, passion, and knowledge of the game is second to none. I'm excited to see the rise of the Stony Brook basketball program!"

- Evan Turner, Boston Celtics

"Jeff is a consummate professional, excellent teacher and person! He will be missed!!" - Gene Smith, Ohio State Director of Athletics "The first thing about Jeff is that he's won everywhere he's been. I like to think of Jeff as a diversified coach. He's a terrific recruiter, understands in-game strategy and is relentless. He has a chip on his shoulder like one of my former assistants, Shaka Smart."

- Keith Dambrot, Akron Head Men's Basketball Coach

COLUMBIA 73, STONY BROOK 66

FRI., NOV. 11, 2016 | STONY BROOK, N.Y.

KEYS TO THE GAME:

- Roland Nyama led the Seawolves off the bench with 16 points, while Tyrell Sturdivant notched the second double-double of his career.
- Akwasi Yeboah helped get Stony Brook out to a hot start scoring the team's first five points of the game.
- Columbia led by as many as six points in the first half, but it was a two-point game at the break.
- A steady push by the Lions to open the second half resulted in a double-digit lead just after the first media timeout.
- A pair of free throws from Lucas Woodhouse started a 10-2 run by the Seawolves that got them back within three with 5:41 remaining.
- Stony Brook kept it within two possessions in the final minutes, and three straight buckets by the Seawolves in less than a minute tied things at 65 with 2:22 left to play.
- A desperation three from Columbia's Mike Smith at the end of the shot clock and with 16 seconds on the game clock would prove to be the difference-maker.

BOSTON COLLEGE 82, STONY BROOK 75

SUN., NOV. 20, 2016 | CHESTNUT HILL, MASS.

KEYS TO THE GAME:

- Junior Tyrell Sturdivant (Chester, Pa.) led the Seawolves with a career-high 26 points, 16 of which came in the second half.
- Both teams got out to a slow start in the game, but things remained close until a scoring lull plagued the Seawolves midway through the first half. Stony Brook scored just four field goals in the final 10 minutes of the first half, which allowed Boston College to get out in front by double figures.
- Sturdivant put up 10 points in the first half, but didn't have a rebound as the Eagles doubled up Stony Brook on the boards.
- The Seawolves came out stronger in the second half and eventually got back within single digits, using an 11-2 run that was capped off with a three-point play from Roland Nyama (Frankfurt, Germany).
- With 5:15 left in the game, after the Seawolves allowed Boston College to go back up by 18, Sturdivant went off to score 13 of the next 15 points, making it a four-point game with 54 seconds to play.
- Stony Brook was forced to foul as the clock ticked down and was unable to counter as the Eagles didn't miss a free throw down the stretch.

MARYLAND 77, STONY BROOK 63

TUES., NOV. 22, 2016 | COLLEGE PARK, MD.

KEYS TO THE GAME:

- The two teams traded the lead early on and Stony Brook kept it within single digits until the clock got under 8:30 in the first half.
- Maryland finished the first half on a 4:57 scoring drought, making just one of its final six shots from the field in the period, but was still able to hold an 11-point lead at the break.
- Senior Lucas Woodhouse (Greenlawn, N.Y.) scored five of the first eight points for the Seawolves to get things going in the second half and get the difference back within single digits.
- After a scoreless first half, redshirt freshman Akwasi Yeboah (Chigwell, England) heated up in the second, scoring seven-straight points for Stony Brook, but the Terps had an answer for every bucket.
- The Seawolves went dry late in the second half and it took until Woodhouse banked one in off the glass with 2:34 left to play to end a nearly eight-minute scoring drought, cutting back into Maryland's largest lead of the night at 18 points.

TOWSON 88, STONY BROOK 63

FRI., NOV. 25, 2016 | TOWSON, MD.

KEYS TO THE GAME:

- The Seawolves started the game on an 11-3 run and led for much of the first half. Redshirt freshman Akwasi Yeboah (Chigwell, England) scored eight of the team's first 11 points. He reached double figures before the first media timeout.
- The score was locked at 16-7 in Stony Brook's favor as both teams went dry from the field. Towson began to press the Seawolves and eventually strung together a 7-0 run from the foul line alone, positioning itself for its first lead of the night with 6:16 left in the first half.
- The Tigers closed out the first half on a 32-2 run and took a 50-28 lead into the break.
- Stony Brook battled back in the second half and was outscored by just three points in the period.

GAME 5

STONY BROOK 76, HAMPTON 66

SAT., NOV. 26, 2016 | TOWSON, MD.

KEYS TO THE GAME:

- Stony Brook played catch-up for much of the first half, but kept it within two possessions until the midway point. Hampton put together a 10-0 run with just over 10 minutes until halftime and held a double-digit lead at the break.
- A dunk from junior Roland Nyama and a three-pointer less than a minute later got the Seawolves back within four early in the second half.
- Stony Brook hovered around a one-possession differential until a pair of free throws from redshirt freshman Akwasi Yeboah with 6:38 remaining gave the Seawolves their first lead of the game.
- Senior Lucas Woodhouse came up with a big steal as Stony Brook pressed following the foul shots, and he laid it in to extend the lead.
- Woodhouse hit back-to-back threes the next two times down the court to help continue what would be a 12-2 run for Stony Brook, securing the momentum late.
- The Seawolves led by as many as 12 in the closing minutes as Hampton was forced to foul.

GAME 6

LOYOLA (MD.) 71, STONY BROOK 70

KEYS TO THE GAME:

- After trailing for much of the first half, the Seawolves closed out the opening period very strong, putting together a 13-0 run to regain their early, taking a 35-33 advantage into the halftime break.
- Stony Brook carried the momentum into the second half, extending its lead to seven on three occasions.
- A drought for the Seawolves that saw Loyola score seven-straight points of its own, allowed the Greyhounds back in it.
- The game saw five ties over a five-minute span late in the second half, but Stony Brook did not give up its lead until Loyola's Chancellor Barnard hit a jumper to break the 62-all tie with 2:04 to play.
- The final two minutes saw six of the game's nine lead changes. Senior Kameron Mitchell drove the lane with seconds seven on the clock and was fouled. He hit both free throws to put the Seawolves up 70-69, but Loyola's Andre Walker went straight to the basket off the inbound and was able to get one to fall as the clock ran out.

GAME 7
STONY BROOK 77, NORTHEASTERN 75

KEYS TO THE GAME:

- Stony Brook used a 25-0 run after trailing by seven early on to control the momentum of the first half, leading by as many as 15 points.
- Northeastern worked its way back within single digits late in the first half, but the Seawolves maintained the lead at the break.
- The Huskies scored seven straight points in the beginning of the second half to put Northeastern back on top.
- After back-and-forth play, junior Bryan Sekunda (State College, Pa.) drained a three that sparked 13 straight points for the Seawolves and helped them get the difference back near double-digits.
- Stony Brook never trailed again in the game, despite the Huskies tying things up with eight second to play.
- The difference remained at one-possession for the final 1:30 of the game, but Woodhouse, who entered the game shooting 94-percent from the line, couldn't miss.
- Northeastern's Alex Murphy got his hands on a missed three and was fouled on the put-back. He converted the three-point play to tie the game at 75 with eight seconds remaining, but the Huskies immediately fouled Woodhouse, who sealed the game from the line.

GAME 8
STONY BROOK 62, LEHIGH 57

TUES., DEC. 6, 2016 | STONY BROOK, N.Y.

KEYS TO THE GAME:

- Redshirt freshman Alonzo Campbell came up with a big block after checking in and laid one in on the other end of the floor for the first points of his career, which gave the Seawolves a lead they would keep going into the halftime break.
- Lehigh was without its leading scorer for much of the first half due to foul trouble, but Tim Kempston was still able to put up 11 points in the first half, seven of which came from the free throw line.
- Stony Brook strung together seven quick points in the beginning of the second half, five of which came from redshirt freshman Akwasi Yeboah, but Kempston halted the run with Lehigh's second three of the half early on.
- The Seawolves never lost their lead again after the opening minutes of the new half, and used a 10-2 run around the midway point in the period to earn their largest lead of the night.
- Lehigh never went away and was able to get back within one with 37 seconds remaining in the game after making back-to-back threes, but four straight makes by Woodhouse from the free throw line decided the game.

GAME 9
RUTGERS 71, STONY BROOK 66

KEYS TO THE GAME:

- Junior Roland Nyama hit a long three on Stony Brook's first possession to get things going, but the two teams traded baskets early on.
- Seven straight points for the Seawolves helped them control the tempo in the first half. Rutgers was able to get back within one by the halftime break.
- Stony Brook again started play with a make from beyond the arc, as junior UC Iroegbu connected from three to begin the second half. Senior Lucas Woodhouse followed it up with a three of his own the next time down the floor to force an early timeout by the Scarlet Knights.
- The Seawolves tacked on two more buckets to earn their largest lead of the night, up 10 in the opening minutes of the second half.
- A lull for Stony Brook midway through the half lost Stony Brook the lead and a 15-0 run by the Scarlet Knights gave them a six-point lead by the under-eight media timeout.
- Rutgers hit a dry spell of its own late in the game as it went the final 7:59 of regulation without a field goal, but it was able to make 10 free throws during that span.

GAME 10
HOFSTRA 96, STONY BROOK 58

TUES., DEC. 12, 2016 | HEMPSTEAD, N.Y.

KEYS TO THE GAME:

- Freshman Michael Almonacy led the way for the Seawolves, putting up a season-best 15 points in his first game in double figures.
- A steady push from Hofstra out of the gate helped the Pride establish a comfortable lead early and never looked back, leading by as many as 43 points in the game.
- Almonacy saw nine of his points come in the first half, but Hofstra had an answer for everything the Seawolves did.
- After leading Stony Brook in scoring in each of the last two games, the Seawolves were without redshirt freshman Akwasi Yeboah for the final 8:10 of the game as he quickly picked up his final two fouls and finished with nine points.
- Junior Jakob Petras led Stony Brook on the boards with a career-high seven in the game.

GAME 11
STONY BROOK 75, ST. FRANCIS 63

SAT., DEC. 17, 2016 | LORETTO, PA.

KEYS TO THE GAME:

- The Seawolves didn't allow a bucket in the first three minutes of the game and used steady production to distance themselves early. They led by double figures for the majority of the first half, but the Red Flash closed out it on a 10-2 run to get back within six at the break.
- Senior Lucas Woodhouse had a big first half, putting up 14 points, while junior Junior Saintel, who returned to the starting lineup against the Red Flash, scored nine points and grabbed six rebounds in the opening period.
- The Seawolves allowed St. Francis to get back within five early in the second half, but 11 straight points from junior Bryan Sekunda, including three makes from beyond the arc, allowed Stony Brook to match its largest lead of the day.
- St. Francis got the difference back to single digits with 5:09 to play, but another three from Sekunda with 1:01 on the clock got the Seawolves' lead back above 10, and the Red Flash were only able to connect on two occasions in the final minute of play.
- After scoring just three points in the first half, Sekunda dropped in four threes and a pair of free throws in the second half to finish with a season-best five three-pointers and 17 points on the day.
- Saintel's four blocks and 15 points mark a season-best for the junior, and the first time he has reached double figures in scoring.
