SPORTSMANSHIP STATEMENT

Susquehanna University, the Landmark Conference and the NCAA promote good sportsmanship by players, coaches, staff and fans.

We ask that you support players coaches and officials by cheering without using personal comments or insults. Refrain from using profanity, vulgarity, racist or sexist comments during the game. We also ask that you treat fellow fans and event staff with respect, give players coaches and officials space to perform by staying clear of the competition area. Finally, we also ask that you do not consume or possess alcohol and tobacco products.

Individuals that are unable to follow these guidelines, are disruptive or hostile to others or appear to be intoxicated, will be removed from the gymnasium and may face additional discipline.

2018–19 Susquehanna Men's Basketball

About Susquehanna

Susquehanna is a selective, residential university that combines excellent academic programs with career-building professional internships and research opportunities. In fact, 90% of students complete an internship, research or other professional experience. Students also develop critical thinking, writing and communication skills, which prepare them for the job market or graduate school. Ninety-eight percent (98%) of Susquehanna graduates are employed or pursuing advanced degrees within six months of graduation. Our winning combination of relevant academic programs and professional experience not only gets students to their first job, but also ensures that they are able to adapt for a lifetime of personal and professional success.

We offer more than 100 majors and minors, the faculty-to-student ratio is 1:13, and our average class size is 19. Faculty members are mentors as well as teachers. The university is recognized nationally for our commitment to off-campus study through the Global Opportunities (GO) program. All students complete a cross-cultural experience for at least two weeks in the U.S. or abroad, which broadens their perspective and provides them options. In a time of geopolitical and economic complexity, they are better equipped to connect with people from other backgrounds, be they coworkers or clients.

Our courses are taught by exceptional professors, not graduate students, who are accessible and eager to collaborate. Students benefit from a curriculum that is both innovative and flexible. Susquehanna has a School of Arts and Sciences and the Sigmund Weis School of Business. Our business school is AACSB-accredited, placing it among the top five percent of business schools worldwide. Other AACSB schools include Harvard Business School and the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School.

The quality of the academic experience, interactions with and support from faculty members, plus students' Global Opportunities (GO) experience, internships and research make them highly desirable job candidates when it's time to launch their career. For students who enjoy service learning, our Johnson Center for Civic Engagement helps them get involved, plus some of our GO experiences include a service component.

Susquehanna students make friends, learn leadership skills and have fun through more than 150 student-run clubs and organizations, fraternities, sororities, service groups and 23 NCAA Division III intercollegiate sports. Student-athletes compete within the Centennial Conference (football) and Landmark Conference, including baseball, basketball, cross country, field hockey, golf, indoor and outdoor track & field, lacrosse, soccer, softball, swimming & diving, tennis and volleyball.

Susquehanna Administration

President Jonathan D. Green

Jonathan D. Green became president of Susquehanna University in July 2017. A native of upstate New York, he earned a Bachelor of Music degree from the State University of New York at Fredonia in 1985 and a Master of Music from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst in 1987. He participated in a summer seminar at Oxford University's Trinity College in 1987, and went on to earn a Doctor of Musical Arts degree in conducting from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro in 1992 where he was a University Excellence Fellow. From 2011 through 2017, Green served as provost and dean of the faculty at Illinois Wesleyan University. At IWU, he was the athletics direct report. During his service in that role, IWU added men's and women's lacrosse, increased overall athletic participation by more than 100 students, significantly expanded the Shirk Athletic Center, won two national championships and eight individual national champions, made six additional team top-four appearances, and posted 13 new Academic All-Americans. He received the 2017 Coaches Recognition Award at IWU.

Green was a member of the faculty at Sweet Briar College from 1996 to 2011. The last eight of those years, he was dean of the college and vice president for academic affairs, which included serving as the athletics direct report. During his service in that position, the college hosted the first conference-wide NCAA athletic-academic integration program, renovated its tennis facilities, built a modern fieldhouse, added varsity softball, and hosted two national equestrian competitions. Green was twice named winner of the Robert Barlow Award for outstanding service, support and devotion to athletics at Sweet Briar.

Director of Athletics Pamela S. Samuelson

Pam Samuelson has been the director of athletics at Susquehanna since July 2003.

Samuelson came to Susquehanna after serving as assistant director of athletics at the University of Massachusetts-Boston since 1998.

While at UMass-Boston, Samuelson was involved in all aspects of the Beacons' 18-sport NCAA Division III program in addition to helping oversee the sports medicine and sports information programs, academic advising for athletes, the Student-Athlete Advisory Board and the strength & conditioning program.

Prior to 1998, Samuelson served for three years as the director of athletics at Curry

College in Milton, Mass., where she oversaw all aspects of the Colonels' 12-sport Division III program.

At Division III Beloit College in Wisconsin, she was coordinator of women's athletics, coordinator of athletic recruiting, director of the sports center and director of intramural sports over a 10-year period.

As the head coach of both the volleyball and softball teams at Beloit, Samuelson directed those teams to conference championships. She also served as an assistant track & field coach at Beloit for three years.

Samuelson graduated from Division III Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1981 with a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration and physical education. She earned her master's degree in physical education administration from Chadron State College in Nebraska in 1985 and a Ph.D. in higher education administration from Boston College in December 2003.

She is a member of NACDA and serves on the NADIIIAA Executive Board, the NCAA Research Committee and Women Leaders in College Sports. She is a member of both the Nebraska Wesleyan University and Lincoln Northeast High School Halls of Fame and resides in Lewisburg, Pa.

Head Coach Frank Marcinek

Frank Marcinek finished his 29th season on the Susquehanna sidelines in 2017–18. His career record stands at 417-320 (.566 winning percentage). He picked up win number 400 with an 89-83 win at Catholic on January 25, 2017.

He is the winningest head coach in the 115-season history of the Susquehanna men's basketball team. When Susquehanna defeated Penn State University-Altoona, 89–77, in the 2003–04 season opener, Marcinek surpassed the mark of 201 wins set by his predecessor—longtime Susquehanna Head Coach and former Director of Athletics Don Harnum as the all-time leader in wins.

During his tenure, Marcinek has guided 18 of his 29 teams to a playoffs berth, including the 2016–17 team that advanced to the Sweet 16 round of the NCAA Tournament. He has guided his teams to winning records in 21 of the 29 years at the helm.

In 2002–03, his efforts were recognized by his colleagues, as he was named Middle Atlantic Commonwealth Conference (MAC) Coach of the Year for the first time after leading Susquehanna to an 18-8 record and the MAC Commonwealth regular-season championship.

He and his assistants earned the Landmark Conference Coaching Staff of the Year award three times including 2015–16, 2014–15 and 2008–09.

Susquehanna has made four trips to the NCAA Division III playoffs (1991–92, 1993–94, 2015–16 and 2016–17) under Marcinek, won MAC Northwest Division titles in 1989–90 and 1992–93, captured the MAC Northern Division crown in 1991–92, won MAC Commonwealth regular-season titles in 1995–96 and 2002–03 and claimed the inaugural Landmark regular-season championship in 2007–08.

In addition to his coaching duties, Marcinek served as an assistant director of athletics at Susquehanna from 2003 until 2016.

Prior to becoming Susquehanna's head coach, Marcinek served five years as an assistant coach under Harnum (1982–83 to 1985–86, 1988–89). During that time, Susquehanna made three trips to the Division III playoffs and won two MAC Northern Division titles.

Marcinek was an assistant for two seasons (1986–87, 1987–88) at Ithaca College while he earned his Master of Science degree in physical education.

A 1981 graduate of Penn State University with a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education, Marcinek and his wife, Cindy, live in Shamokin, Pa. Marcinek's sons, Scott and Frank Jr., were both members of the Susquehanna men's basketball team.

Assistant Coaches

JJ Butler joins the men's basketball coaching staff at the start of the 2018-19 season.

Butler comes to Susquehanna after two years at Chestnut Hill College where he received his Master's in Administration in Human Services while playing in his final collegiate season before working as an assistant coach during his second year with Chestnut Hill.

Prior to Chestnut Hill, Butler played at Division I Lipscomb University in Nashville, Tennessee. He saw action in 53 games, leading his team in assist-to-turnover ratio his freshman season. At Lipscomb, he was a Hancock/Nipper Sportsmanship Award Recipient during the 2014–15 season. Butler earned his Bachelor's degree in Finance and Corporate Management in 2016.

As well as being an assistant coach, Butler will be the recruiting coordinator for the River Hawks.

Chad Bailey completed his 16th season on the Susquehanna coaching staff in 2017-18. Bailey is involved in all aspects of the program.

A native of Mifflinburg, Pa., and a 1988 graduate of Mifflinburg Area High School, Bailey began his collegiate playing career at Division III York College of Pennsylvania before transferring to Division III Lycoming College. He graduated in 1992 from Lycoming with a bachelor's degree in mathematics and began his coaching career at Athens (Pa.) Area High School that fall.

After coaching junior varsity high school basketball at Athens for one year, Bailey coached junior high school basketball at Milton (Pa.) Middle School for several years before becoming an assistant coach at the Pennsylvania College of Technology for the 1999–2000 season.

During the 2000–01 season, Bailey returned to Lycoming and served as an assistant basketball coach before coming to Susquehanna for the 2001–02 season.

Bailey is a math teacher at Mifflinburg and resides in Lewisburg, Pa., with his wife, Jocelyn.

Eldon Hoy joined the Susquehanna coaching staff in 2016 after retiring from the head coaching position at Mifflinburg High School. He works primarily with the junior varsity players for the River Hawks and continues to serve as Athletic Director and Director of Student Services at Mifflinburg.

A graduate of Mifflinburg Area High School (1984), he attended Lock Haven University where he majored in Secondary Education Mathematics with a specialization in Computer Science, graduating in 1988. Since then, Hoy has been teaching various mathematics and computer programming courses in the Mifflinburg Area School District. In 2011, he became the Athletic Director and, in 2017, became the district's Director of Student Services.

At Mifflinburg, he coached varsity basketball for 21 years (seven with the girls' program and 14 with the boys' team). In his tenure as head coach of the Mifflinburg Boys' Basketball team, he compiled over 200 wins and won five league championships, culminating in the school's first District IV Championship in the sport of basketball (2011).

Hoy's family includes his wife, Lori, and two children, Zac and Kira. His son Zac was a 1,000-point scorer for Messiah College and after two seasons as a graduate assistant coach, he enters his second season as an assistant coach in 2018–19 season.

Mark Prusch '06 rejoined the Susquehanna coaching staff for men's basketball as an assistant coach prior to the start of the 2009–10 season.

Prusch played for Susquehanna from 2001–05 and served as an assistant coach for the team from 2005–07. He served as a men's graduate assistant for Division II Bloomsburg University during the 2007–08 season before returning to Susquehanna.

At Susquehanna, he helped the team win its first outright Middle Atlantic Conference (MAC) Commonwealth regular-season championship in 2003 and also earned a bachelor's degree in communications from the university in December 2005.

Meet the 2018–19 River Hawks

More than 100 Years of Susquehanna Basketball

The Susquehanna University men's basketball program is annually among the upper echelon of its conference, routinely contending for championships and often times winning them.

The decade of the 1980s was the most successful decade in team history, but even since 1990, Susquehanna has made four NCAA Division III championship appearances, captured a Middle Atlantic Conference Northern Division title and won a pair of MAC Northwest Division championships to go with a pair of MAC Commonwealth regular-season crowns as well as the inaugural Landmark Conference regular-season championship.

The program has posted winning records in 21 out of head coach Frank Marcinek's 29-season tenure and set a school record with 24 wins in a season in 2015–16.

Susquehanna basketball began in 1901 and has seen 27 coaches at the helm, including Amos Alonzo Stagg Jr. Stagg coached basketball from 1935 to 1951, during which time he also coached the football team, including a six-year co-head coaching stint with his legendary father, Amos Sr.

1980s and made the playoffs a regular part of its schedule, advancing to postseason play eight times.

During that decade, Susquehanna made the NCAA Tournament three times, won the MAC Northern title twice and captured the MAC Northwest championship five times. The 1985–86 team set the school record at the time for wins in a season, finishing at 22-8 while advancing to the Division III quarterfinals behind the standout play of Don Harnum Jr. '86.

2015-16 Team - School-Record 24 wins

In the 1990s, Susquehanna continued to qualify for the postseason tournament with six appearances under Marcinek. The program's 19-7 record in 1993–94 has the eight-best winning percentage (.731) in program history. The 2014–15 squad finished with an identical record.

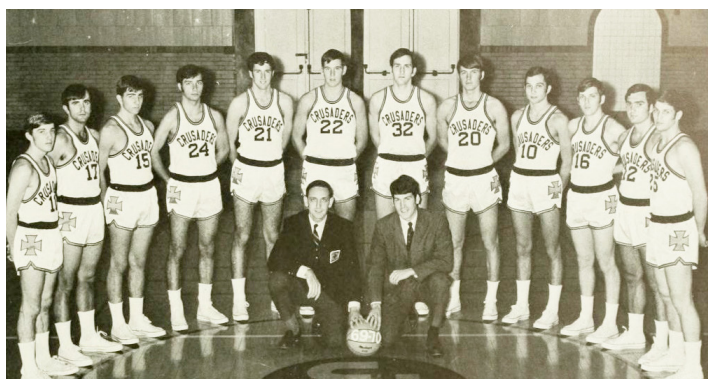

The 2015–16 squad posted the most wins in a single season (24) and the second-best winning percentage (.828) after going 24-5. Josh Miller was honored at the end of the season as a First Team All-Region selection by the NABC and was selected as the City of Basketball Love (CoBL) Region Player of the Year.

The 2016–17 team advanced to the NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 and was led by All-American Steven Weidlich. Weidlich was also the Landmark Conference Player of the Year, the Middle Athletic Region Player of the Year and was also an Allstate Good Works Award winner and a finalist for the coveted Jostens Player of the Year award.

In 2002–03, Susquehanna basketball celebrated its 100th season and the Orange and Maroon returned to the top of the MAC Commonwealth, winning the league's regular-season title for the first time since 1995–96.

Marcinek, who surpassed 300 wins in 2010–11, earned his first conference Coach of the Year award in 2002–03 and repeated the feat in 2008–09, 2014–15 and again in 2015–16.

He soared past the 400-career victory plateau in the middle of the 2016–17 season and now has 417 wins to his credit and 26 seasons with double-digit wins.

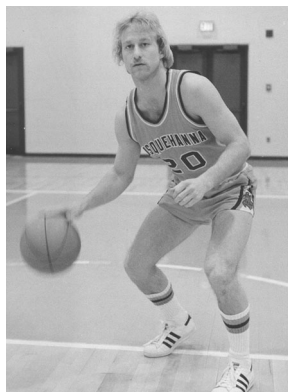

Don Harnum's first team in 1969-70

Susquehanna enjoyed several standout seasons during the early 1960s, including a 20-4 campaign in 1962–63 under coach John Barr. The late 1960s featured the explosive offense of Rick Eppehimer '68, who tallied a school-record 2,548 career points from 1964–68.

In 1978, guard Mike Scheib '78 became only the second non-Division I recipient of the Frances Pomeroy Naismith Award, presented by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) to the nation's most outstanding senior standing six-feet tall or less.

Under the direction of Don Harnum Sr., Susquehanna averaged 16 wins per season during the

2017 HALL OF FAME INDUCTEE - JOEL PATCH

A finalist for the 2008–09 Jostens Award for the College Basketball Player of the Year, Patch led the basketball team to an 18-win season as a senior and was voted the Landmark Conference Player of the Year, Landmark Conference Senior Scholar-Athlete award and was also selected to a pair of All-Region teams. He finished his senior season with 16 double-doubles and posted a career-high 22 rebounds in the Landmark Championship game. He became the 31st player to score 1,000 career points with a slam dunk against Juniata.

Athletic Facilities

Susquehanna boasts one of the premier athletics programs in the Landmark Conference with 23 varsity sports teams.

While adhering to the philosophy that Susquehanna student-athletes are here first and foremost for a quality education, Susquehanna teams have still earned NCAA Division III national rankings in men's basketball, men's soccer, baseball, softball, track & field, men's lacrosse and women's lacrosse over recent years. Track & Field athletes also routinely achieve All-America status at their respective national championships. Susquehanna teams won 18 Middle Atlantic Conference (MAC) championships in men's and women's sports during the decade of the 1980s. They added 21 more in the 1990s and nine more this century, as well as one Liberty League title and an Empire 8 Athletic Conference championship. Susquehanna has claimed four (2009–10, 2011–12, 2013–14, 2015–16) Landmark Conference Presidents' Trophy honors since the conference was formed and began competition in 2007-08.

ATHLETICS FACILITIES

Over the past several years, Susquehanna's athletics facilities have evolved into the finest in Division III.

JAMES W. GARRETT SPORTS COMPLEX

A popular hub for student activity, the facilities provide award-winning design, modern equipment and enhanced opportunities for collegiate and lifelong fitness. The complex includes a 51,000-square-foot field house, Chris Vialonga '93 and Colleen Supinski '96 Sports Performance Center, a 4,000-square foot Athletic Training room, Clyde H. Jacobs Fitness Center, Orlando W. Houts Gymnasium, a swimming pool, an indoor rowing training center, racquetball courts, the Douglas Arthur '49 (football practice) Field and a six-court tennis court complex that is home to the varsity tennis teams. Offices and meeting spaces, locker rooms and Clyde's Café are also part of the complex. The complex is named in honor of James W. Garrett, Susquehanna's head football coach from 1960 to 1965. He also served as an assistant coach and scout during a more than 30-year career in the NFL.

AMOS ALONZO STAGG FIELD at DOUG ARTHUR STADIUM

The 3,500-seat lighted stadium boasts a state-of-the-art ProGrass playing surface — replaced in the summer of 2013 — and has retained the familiar Stagg Field designation, while the installation of lights prior to the 2002 season permitted teams to play on-campus night games for the first time in program history. A video display board on the west end of the stadium, replaced prior to the 2013-14 academic year, is a state-of-the-art piece of equipment that few Division II or III schools in the country can duplicate. The stadium is home to the football team as well as the outdoor track & field teams that host the annual Jim Taylor Invitational each spring.

SASSAFRAS FIELDS

Opened in September 2004, Sassafras Fields consists of a lighted, ProGrass, multi-purpose field (resurfaced in 2015) for soccer, field hockey and lacrosse, and a separate softball field which recently underwent renovations adding new dugouts and a new scoreboard.

HAROLD BOLLINGER '39 FIELDS

Dedicated in 2001, Harold Bollinger '39 Field is the home of the 2016 Landmark Conference Champion River Hawks. The field complex includes pro-style dugouts (2016), state-of-the-art scoreboard (2016) and bleacher seating for nearly 500 fans.
