Javelina Hash

By Fred Nuesch, Coordinator of Athletic External Affairs

TODAY, I BEGIN my 57th year at Texas A&I and Texas A&M-Kingsville.

My first day at the position was Aug. 20, 1968.

When I decided to come to this great university, it was the best decision, professionally, I ever made.

Six national football championships, a track and field national title, hundreds of All-Americans and individual national champions, dozens of Lone Star Conference team championships and having worked with hundreds, or maybe even thousands, of great athletes, coaches, administrators and fans.

I have traveled with Javelina athletic teams to Austria, Canada, France, Germany, Hawaii, Mexico and many of the states.

I have often said, and sincerely mean it, I couldn't have been an athletic publicist at a better school, any division or association.

There is nothing better than being a Javelina.

Jalisco!

THIS IS ALSO the anniversary month for the Javelina Highlights, the weekly tabloid that features news on the Javelina teams and individuals.

The first issue of the Highlights came out in August 2000. It was started to give the fans more Javelina news than what was appearing in the news media.

Since that first issue, there have been more than 1,250 editions mailed and currently emailed to fans.

The Highlights is sent to anyone requesting the weekly emails and it currently has a mailing list of more than 1,000 and is on the Javelina athletic website each week.

THE NCAA HAS released its International Student-Athlete Handbook, first-of-its-kind resource to equip incoming international athletes, their families, coaches and administrators with information about their collegiate careers in the United States.

The handbook includes tools and resources to guide international athletes throughout their careers.

The comprehensive guide covers eight main topics: education; student life and development; immigration regulations, benefits and services; well-being and daily life; safety and security; taxes and legal matters; cultural aspects and opportunities, and NCAA eligibility resources.

More than 25,000 international athletes are enrolled at NCAA schools.

One LSC Team in NCAA.com Poll

One Lone Star Conference football team is ranked in the NCAA.com Power 10 listing released this week.

Central Washington is No. 8. Wayne Cavadi of NCAA.com stated in ranking Central, "The Wildcats were gritty in 2023, and surprised quite a few people by clawing their way all the way to the national semifinals. There is a ton returning—17 players who started on both sides of the ball—including Tanner Volk, my preseason pick for the defensive player and arguably the most dangerous defender in the nation."

Defending national champion Harding (Ark.) is ranked No. 1.
