"Texas got two outstanding prospects. They got both front-court and back-court help with two of the elite prospects of the 2017 class. Virtually the best point guard in the country in Chasity Patterson stayed close to home. She is electrifying, explosive and, end-line to end-line, she is maybe the speediest player in the class of 2017. She is going to be a real crowd favorite. Rellah Boothe, on a pure athleticism, raw talent basis, could be the best player in the country. She has to put it all together, but she's got four years now to do that under Karen Aston. They are both just going to add to the depth that already exists at Texas once they start playing there."

PALO ALTO, Calif. – Stanford junior guard Brittany McPhee posted a career-high 28 points to lead all-scorers en route to No. 11/10 Stanford's win over No. 8/6 Texas inside Maples Pavilion on Monday night, 71-59.

Tonight marked Texas head coach Karen Aston's 300th career game as a head coach. Aston holds an all-time record of 190-110 (.635) in her 10th season at the helm of a collegiate program.

The Cardinal leads the all-times series over the Longhorns, 7-4, and picks up its first against Texas since the 2013-2014 season.

"They were the better team. We haven't executed things in practice the way we need to," said Aston. "We went through a stretch where we fouled too much, and we went through a stretch where we weren't helping each other defensively. We will get home and get to work because that's all we can do."

Junior guard Brooke McCarty led the Horns across the board, registering a team-high 20 points and five rebounds on the night. Junior guard Ariel Atkins joined her in the double-figures with 14 points, including a 3-of-6 effort from downtown, and a game-high four steals.

As a team, Texas shot 35.3 percent (24-of-68) from the field to Stanford's 54.9 shooting percentage (28-of-51). The Horns outrebounded the Cardinal, 38-32, and registered nine steals in the contest.

Stanford's McPhee capped off her record night with seven rebounds and two assists.

Texas held the early 9-8 edge headed into the first media timeout, but Stanford answered with a 9-4 rally to lead by four (17-13) with 48 seconds remaining in the quarter. The Horns wasted no time on offense with a quick three-pointer from sophomore guard Higgs, and a buzzer-beating tip-in from Atkins closed the first in favor of Texas, 18-17.

The Longhorns held onto their lead until the 5:23 mark of the game when a Cardinal trey tied the match at 24. Stanford gained momentum behind an 11-3 run to lead at the half, 35-29.

Atkins and McCarty found the sweet spot behind the arc to open the second half, cutting the margin to five (40-35 Stanford) at 8:20 mark of the third. The Cardinal extended their lead to double-digits (52-42), but another trey from McCarty and a layup from freshman guard/forward Joyner Holmes got the Horns within five once again. Stanford continued to find its strength in the paint and held the lead heading into the final stretch, 58-50.

An 8-0 Cardinal run was cut short by a three-point play from McCarty, but Stanford continued to convert in the paint. The Cardinal would outscore the Longhorns, 13-9, in the fourth to close the game with the 71-59 win.

Texas will host its first regular season game against the Houston Baptist Huskies inside the Erwin Center on Wednesday, Nov. 16. Tip is slated for 11 a.m. and the game will be carried live on Longhorn Network.

AUSTIN, Texas – Freshman Joyner Holmes was one rebound shy of her first career double-double and led all scorers with 22 points and nine rebounds as the No. 8/10 Texas Women's Basketball toppled Houston Baptist, 98-46, in front of 6,378 fans inside the Frank Erwin Center on Wednesday.

With the win, the Longhorns move to 39-4 (.907) all-time in home openers and hold an unblemished 5-0 record under Texas head coach Karen Aston.

This was the first meeting between Texas and Houston Baptist in program history. The Horns lead the all-time series over Southland Conference foes, 36-9.

"I thought our team came out with a lot of energy," said Aston. "It was a difficult game for us to play this morning, honestly, because of the road trip and how late we got back. I was anxious to see how we would bounce back from a loss. I was pleased with the face that we were focused and ready to play today."

Holmes's 22-point game came behind an 8-of-17 shooting effort (.471) from the floor. She also added three blocks and one assist. Junior Brooke McCarty followed suit with 16 points, including a 4-of-5 effort from downtown, and four assists.

Junior Ariel Atkins posted 11 points with three steals, while rookies Jada Underwood and Alecia Sutton rounded out the double-digit scorers with 11 and 10, respectively.

Senior Kelsey Lang put up two points and two blocks for the game, moving her onto the Texas all-time top-10 list for career blocks with 112.

As a team, Texas shot 46.1 percent (35-of-76) from the floor while holding Houston Baptist to a 28.8 shooting percentage (15-of-52). The Horns dominated every category across the board, including double-figures in assists (18), blocks (10), and steals (11).

Houston Baptist was led by freshman Lauren Calver with 11 points.

Texas jumped out on a 19-3 run to open the game, but the Huskies found their strength from the three-point range, draining four treys in the first quarter, to try and chip away at the Longhorns lead. Early foul trouble proved problematic for HBU, and Texas went on to end the quarter, 28-17.

The Horns held HBU to only four points in the second stanza and used their quick hands to convert 11 points off turnovers. The 29-4 margin quickly widened the Texas lead headed into the locker rooms, 57-21.

The third quarter played to Texas's post advantage, and the Longhorns went on to claim 14 points inside the paint. Holmes put an exclamation point on the quarter with a buzzer-beating jumper to end the stanza, 81-31.

Texas took its largest lead of the night, a 56-point spread, after a three-pointer from Sutton with 6:55 remaining on the game clock. In the end, the Longhorns finished just two shy of the century mark with the 98-46 victory.

Up next on the slate, Texas will travel to Starkville, Miss. to take on No. 10/9 Mississippi State on Sunday, Nov. 20. Tip-off is set for 5 p.m. and the game will be carried on the SEC Network.

STARKVILLE, Miss. – In its second top-15 matchup of the season, No. 8/10 Texas Women's Basketball (1-2) couldn't overcome a first half 17-point deficit and fell to No. 10/9 Mississippi State (4-0), 79-68.

The all-times series between the Longhorns and the Bulldogs is now tied at two apiece. Texas holds a 143-71 (.668) record against the Southeastern Conference.

"We didn't battle in the first half," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "I thought we showed some growth in one half. We just have to get a bench. Right now, that's the thing that's concerning to me. We're losing a lot of continuity when we sub."

Junior Brooke McCarty led the Longhorns with 19 points and four assists, while junior Ariel Atkins posted 18 points and four rebounds on the night.

Senior Brianna Taylor added 12 points while bringing down eight boards and adding a team-high three steals. Freshman Joyner Holmes was on the brink of her first double-double with nine points and eight rebounds.

As a team, Texas shot 42.9 percent (27-of-56) from the floor while Mississippi State shot at a 47.4 percent clip (27-of-57). The Horns outrebounded the Bulldogs, 36-26, and posted four blocks on the game.

Mississippi State was led by junior Morgan William with 23 points.

It was back and fourth in the opening stanza, with neither team taking more than a four-point spread. Texas utilized its strength, scoring 14 of its 16 points inside the paint, to end the first quarter in a draw, 16-16.

The Bulldogs held the Longhorns to nine points in the second quarter, seven of which came from the charity stripe. Junior Victoria Vivian posted 10 points in the second half to put Mississippi State on top headed into the locker rooms, 42-25.

A 7-0 run capped with the first Texas trey of the game from junior Audrey-Ann Caron-Goudreau cut the Bulldog lead to 10 and gave life to the Horns offense. Taylor added six straight points in the heart of the third to get Texas within eight, but Mississippi State pushed back ahead, closing the third with the 59-45 advantage.

The Longhorns continued to outscore the Bulldogs in the second half, closing the fourth quarter 23-20 over Mississippi State. Late baskets, including a McCarty three-pointer, chipped away at the deficit, but time stood in the Bulldogs' favor as they took the game, 79-68.

Texas will return to the Erwin Center to take on Northwestern State on Wednesday, Nov. 23. Tip-off is scheduled for 7 p.m. and the game will be televised on Longhorn Network. .

AUSTIN, Texas – Six Longhorns posted in double figures as No. 14/14 Texas Women's Basketball (2-2) downed Northwestern State (3-1) inside the Drum on Thanksgiving Eve, 86-39.

With the win, the Longhorns boast a perfect 5-0 record over the Lady Demons all-time. Texas holds a 47-9 (.839) record against members in the current alignment of the Southland Conference.

"I thought we played well," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "I thought we worked on some areas that we were deficient in against Mississippi State. We got a chance to play everybody and play a lot of young guys some minutes where we can have some teaching moments with them and continue to work on them."

Sophomore Lashann Higgs led the way for the Horns with 14 points, five rebounds, and five assists. Freshman Joyner Holmes and senior Kelsey Lang both notched 12 points while junior Ariel Atkins posted 11 points and a team-high four steals.

Junior Brooke McCarty and freshman Jada Underwood rounded out the double-digits with 10 points and two treys apiece.

As a team, Texas shot 57.1 percent from the floor (36-of-63) while holding Northwestern State to a 28.3 shooting percentage (13-of-46). The Longhorns gobbled up the stats across the board, outrebounding the Lady Demons 39-20 and swiping nine steals to Northwestern State's three.

NSU was led by senior Beatrice Attura with 15 points and five boards on the night.

Texas shot into action with an Atkins jumper and Taylor triple and headed into the media timeout with the 11-6 lead. From there, the Horns went on an 11-3 rally to end the first, 21-9.

After pushing out on an unanswered 22-point run, the Horns held the Lady Demons to only five points in the second stanza. A total of 10 Texas layups were complimented by three-pointers from McCarty and Underwood to send the Longhorns into the locker room with the 47-14 advantage.

A 24-10 margin lengthened the Texas lead in the third quarter. The Longhorns utilized their strength in the paint, handing Higgs back-to-back layups in the heart of the stanza and closing the quarter, 71-24.

All 15 points in the closing quarter came off the Texas bench, including a triple from Underwood and a block from sophomore Olamide Aborowa. The Lady Demons answered with an equal 15 points, but Texas clenched the game, 86-39.

Next, Texas will host No. 3/3 South Carolina in the SEC-Big 12 Challenge on Thursday, Dec. 1 inside the Erwin Center. Tip is slated for 6 p.m. and the game will be televised on ESPN2.

AUSTIN, Texas – Senior Kelsey Lang had a record evening, posting her second career double-double, as No. 14/15 Texas Women's Basketball (2-3) fell to No. 3/3 South Carolina (6-0) inside the Erwin Center on Thursday night, 76-67.

Texas leads the all-times series over South Carolina, 2-1.

"I was really, really proud of our team and how they attacked the game plan," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "Then you look at the stat sheet, and we did some things that we set out to do. We just didn't manage the foul game at all. I'm really encouraged by Kelsey because that's what we need from Kelsey Lang. She stepped up to the plate tonight, and if she continues to work like she has in practice and perform like she did tonight then I'm very encouraged about our future."

Lang's double-double came behind a season-high 15 points, including a 7-10 shooting effort from the floor, and 12 rebounds. The senior also registered a career-high six blocks.

Junior Ariel Atkins registered 14 points and a game-high four assists, and freshman Joyner Holmes put up 11 points and brought down four boards on the night.

As a team, Texas shot 41.2 percent (28-68) from the floor while South Carolina notched a 42.3 shooting percentage (22-52). The Longhorns outrebounded the Gamecocks, 40-37, and posted nine blocks to South Carolina's six.

South Carolina's junior A'ja Wilson paved the way for the Gamecocks with 31 points and 12 rebounds.

Texas maintained a slim advantage until the 1:23 mark of the first when a Gamecock layup squared things at 14. After junior Audrey-Ann Caron-Goudreau blocked one in the paint, sophomore Lashann Higgs managed to fire off a jumper to beat the clock, ending the first, 16-14 Longhorns.

South Carolina was able to capitalize off Texas foul trouble in the second stanza, converting nine points from the charity stripe. After tying things at the 8:34 mark, the Gamecocks pushed ahead to lead by as many as six points, but a junior Brooke McCarty three-pointer made it a one-possession game at the half in the Gamecocks favor, 33-30.

Texas continued to stay on pace with South Carolina in the third, and back-to-back baskets from Higgs tied it at 47 and got the crowd on its feet. Texas took the lead back at the 3:47 mark courtesy of a freshman Joyner Holmes layup, but the Gamecocks close on an 11-3 stretch to head into the final quarter with the 55-49 advantage.

A basket from Lang at the 7:33 mark of the fourth made it a one-possession game (60-57 South Carolina) headed into the final stretch, but the Gamecocks never let the Longhorns closer than that. South Carolina outscored Texas, 21-18, in the closing quarter to seal the game, 76-67.

Up next on the slate, Texas will continue its challenging nonconference schedule as it travels to Uncasville, Conn. to take on the No. 2/2 UConn Huskies. Tip inside the Mohegan Sun Arena is set for 3 p.m. CT, and the game will be broadcasted on ESPN.

UNCASVILLE, Conn. – Junior Brooke McCarty led Texas with 15 points and senior Kelsey Lang picked up her second-straight double-double as No. 14/15 Texas Women's Basketball (2-4) was defeated by No. 2-2 UConn (7-0) inside the Mohegan Sun Arena, 72-54.

Both McCarty and Lang carved their spots in all-time top-10 lists. McCarty's three triples moves her into 10th all-time for three-pointers made with 117, while Lang's two blocks places her 9th all-time for career blocks with 122.

UConn leads the all-time series over Texas, 8-0.

"I think the biggest difference is execution," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "They executed offensively and we didn't. We just have to be tougher."

McCarty's 15 points included a 3-of-7 shooting effort from downtown along with three boards and assists. Lang picked up her third career and second-consecutive double-double with 12 points and 10 boards with a side of two blocks.

Sophomore Lashann Higgs totaled nine points on the night, and freshman Joyner Holmes posted six points along with two boards and steals for the match.

As a team, Texas shot 43.1 percent from the floor (22-of-51) while UConn shot at a 49.1 percent mark (26-of-53). The Longhorns outrebounded the Huskies, 31-34, and have not lost a battle of the boards this season.

The Huskies were led by sophomore Napheesa Collier with 24 points and eight rebounds.

Texas controlled the entire first quarter, dominating the paint. After a Huskie trey tied things at six, the Horns fired off the next six points to lead by as many at the 4:45 mark. Sutton notched Texas' first three-pointer of the match to make it 17-11 Longhorns just under the two minute mark, but two straight Huskies baskets closed the quarter, handing Texas the slim 17-15 advantage.

UConn opened the second stanza on an 11-2 tear to take the 26-19 lead, but the Longhorns battled it back to a one-basket game after a Holmes layup with 4:03 remaining in the half. The Huskies knocked down two three-pointers and a jumper to increase their lead to double-figures, and one from the line from McCarty ended the half in UConn's favor, 39-30.

Texas was able to close the margin to two late in third, utilizing strong paint play and three-points from McCarty and Taylor, to make it 51-49 UConn at the 3:18 mark. The Huskies were relentless and captured the last six points of the stanza to extend their lead to 57-49.

UConn closed the game with a 21-5 stretch that dampened the Texas momentum. McCarty added her third triple of the night along with a Higgs layup, but UConn took the game, 72-54.

Next, Texas will begin a five-game homestand against No. 22/25 Tennessee on Sunday, Dec. 11 inside the Erwin Center. Tip-off is set for 3:30 p.m. and the game will be carried live on FS1.

AUSTIN, Texas – Five Longhorns scored in the double-figures as No. 17/17 Texas Women's Basketball (3-4) held off Tennessee (4-4) inside the Erwin Center on Sunday afternoon, 72-67.

Although Tennessee has the 23-15 edge over Texas in series history, this is the third consecutive meeting the Longhorns have won over the Lady Vols. Texas possesses a 144-72 (.667) record all-time against members of the Southeastern Conference.

"I think that this win is, first of all, much needed for our team," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "This was just a little bit of a preview of what our games might be like for a while, and that's not a bad thing. It was a good learning experience for our young players."

Junior Brooke McCarty posted 13 points, including two treys, along with four blocks and assists on the match. Freshman Jada Underwood joined her with 13 points of her own, good for her new career high.

Senior Kelsey Lang notched another impressive performance, just two shy of her third-straight double-double with 12 points and eight rebounds. Lang also tied her career-high with six blocks white adding two assists and one steal for the game in a career-high 40 minutes of play.

Freshman Joyner Holmes flirted with her first career double-double, registering 12 points and eight boards. Sophomore Lashann Higgs totaled 12 points, including a 5-of-10 effort from the field.

As a team, Texas shot 45.2 percent (28-of-62) from the floor while holding Tennessee to a 41.8 shooting percentage (28-of-67). Texas outrebounded the Lady Vols, 40-32, and has won the battle of the boards in all seven matches this season.

The Lady Vols were led by junior Jaime Nared with 22 points.

The Longhorns jumped out on an 11-2 run early in the game capped off by a tip-in from Holmes headed into the media timeout. Underwood knocked down the last four points for Texas to close the first stanza in the Horns' favor, 22-12.

Texas took its largest lead of the game at the 6:10 mark of the second quarter when a jumper from freshman Alecia Sutton put Texas on top by 15 (31-16). Tennessee slowly chipped into the Longhorn lead, converting three from downtown, to close the gap to five points headed into the locker rooms, 37-32 Texas.

The Lady Vols opened the second half on a 7-0 rally to take their first lead of the game (39-37) with 6:19 left in the third. From there, it remained a one-possession game, and a buzzer-beater from Higgs put Texas on top headed into the final stretch, 48-46.

After things evened at 52 with 7:36 remaining in the game, the Horns widened their edge to as many as eight (66-58) after a three-point play from Holmes. Tennessee continued to find its strength from behind the arc, knocking down three triples in just over a minute, to make it a 70-67 Texas with 7.3 seconds on the game clock. Underwood put things on ice with two from the charity stripe to end the game, 72-67 Longhorns.

Up next, Texas will continue its homestand against UT Rio Grande Valley on Thursday, Dec. 15. Tip-off inside the Erwin Center is scheduled for 7 p.m. CT, and the game will be televised nationally on Longhorn Network.

AUSTIN, Texas – Freshman Joyner Holmes and Senior Kelsey Lang both registered double-doubles as No. 16/17 Texas Women's Basketball defeated UTRGV inside the Drum on Thursday night, 85-61.

The victory marks 500 all-time wins for Texas Women's Hoops inside the Erwin Center. The Longhorns hold a 500-96 (.839) record at home since the Erwin Center opened during the 1977-78 campaign.

This is the first time two Texas players have notched double-doubles in the same game since Imani Boyette and Nneka Enemkpali accomplished the feat against Kansas State on Jan. 26, 2013.

Texas holds a perfect 7-0 record over UTRGV in series history.

"It's always exciting to be part of a win that is historic," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "I'm happy it was the 500th in the Erwin Center, and it just means a whole lot of special basketball has gone on here for a whole lot of years, and we're really proud to be a part of that."

Holmes led the way for Texas with a game-high 16 points and career-high 13 rebounds. The freshman also totaled a career-high four assists and three blocks.

Lang picked up her third double-double of the season with 10 points and rebounds, respectively. She also added one block for the night, moving her in a tie for 8th place all-time on the Texas blocked shots list with Tracy Cook (1998-02).

Junior Brooke McCarty posted 14 points along with five boards and a game-high six assists. Freshman Jada Underwood rounded out the Longhorns in the double figures with 12 points, including a perfect 4-4 effort from both the field and the charity stripe.

As a team, Texas shot 53.2 percent (33-62) from the field while holding UTRGV to a 29.2 shooting percentage (21-72). The Longhorns outrebounded the Vaqueros, 50-35, and have not lost a battle of the boards yet this season.

UTRGV was led by senior Shawnte' Goff and sophomore Bernesha Peters with 12 points each.

The Horns opened on a 9-2 push to start the game, and consecutive McCarty to Holmes lay-ups made it 15-10 Texas at a UTRGV timeout with 6:08 remaining in the first. Texas closed with a sophomore Jordan Hosey jumper and six lay-ups to end the first quarter, 29-17.

It was a 17-15 battle with Texas narrowly holding the edge as the Vaqueros found all their points from downtown with five triples in the second stanza. McCarty knocked down her first trey of the game at the 2:51 mark, and the Longhorns headed into the half with the 46-32 lead.

The Horns held UTRGV to only eight points in the third quarter and took their largest lead of the night, a 33-point spread, with just under a minute remaining. Lang knocked down two from the line to close the third, 71-40 Texas.

The Vaqueros held the edge in the closing quarter, 21-14, but it wasn't enough as Texas went on to win the game, 85-61.

Coming up, the Longhorns have a quick turnaround as they host UTSA inside the Drum on Saturday night. Tip is set for 5 p.m. CT, and the game will be broadcasted on Longhorn Network.

AUSTIN, Texas – Senior Kelsey Lang picked up a new school record and her third straight double-double as No. 16/17 Texas Women's Basketball (6-4) took down New Orleans (4-5) inside the Erwin Center on Monday night, 80-48.

Lang's career-high 23 points set a new school record for the first player to make 11 shots in a single game with a perfect field goal percentage. The previous record for the most shots made with a perfect percentage was nine by Angela Jackson in the 1997-98 campaign.

Texas leads the all-times series over New Orleans, 2-0.

"I definitely thought that the team was ready to play," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "They paid attention to the things that we prepped for in this game, and I thought that we had some really good moments."

Lang also added 10 rebounds to put her in double-double territory and posted two blocks on the night. Junior Ariel Atkins totaled 15 points, including two three-pointers, and five rebounds.

Freshman Joyner Holmes brought down 10 boards along with three assists, and sophomore Lashann Higgs put up eight points and swiped a career-high five steals.

As a team, Texas shot 51.6 percent (33-64) from the floor, marking the third time this season the Longhorns have shot over 50 percent. New Orleans was held to a 30.4 (17-56) shooting percentage for the game.

New Orleans was led by senior Jewel Angelo with 17 points.

The Privateers managed to remain within striking distance of the Horns in the first quarter with Texas holding the 16-13 edge at the 3:38 mark. The Longhorns then fired off an 8-0 spurt to increase the lead to nine, but New Orleans captured the last two baskets of the stanza to make it 24-17 in favor of Texas.

Atkins knocked down the Horns' first trey of the game to open the second, and Texas continued to distance itself from the Privateers. Junior Brooke McCarty drained a signature triple, and two from the line from New Orleans sent the teams into the half, 43-28 Texas.

The Longhorns only allowed the Mountaineers two points in the third quarter coming from a lone jumper at the 3:52 mark. Junior Tasia Foman picked up two assists and converted a three-point play, and a layup from Higgs closed the quarter, 68-30 Texas.

The Privateers outscored the Longhorns in the final quarter, 18-12, but Texas captured the win, 80-48.

Texas will return to action on Thursday, Dec. 29 as it opens its conference schedule at home against Texas Tech. Tip inside the Erwin Center is set for 7 p.m. CT, and the game will be televised on Longhorn Network.

AUSTIN, Texas – Junior Brooke McCarty registered a team-high 16 points and freshman Joyner Holmes posted her second double-double as No. 16/16 Texas Women's Basketball (7-4, 1-0 Big 12) defeated Texas Tech (8-4, 0-1 Big 12) in the first conference game of the season inside the Erwin Center on Thursday night, 67-47.

With the win, Texas has captured the past three conference lid-lifters.

The Longhorns lead the all-times series over Texas Tech, 68-29, and hold a 33-7 edge at home.

"I'm just excited that Big 12 play started," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "I was really pleased with our team's effort. Not everything was perfect, and I don't think it's going to be, but I really thought that we executed a game plan and played hard."

McCarty complimented her 16 points with four rebounds and one assist, and Holmes's double-double came behind 10 points and rebounds. Senior Brianna Taylor rounded out the Longhorns in the double figures with 10 points, including a 5-7 effort from the field.

Senior Kelsey Lang and junior Ariel Atkins were just shy of their double-doubles. Lang posted eight points and tied her career-high with 13 rebounds, and Atkins posted nine points and eight boards along with a team-high three steals in the contest.

As a team, Texas shot 43.7 percent (31-71) from the field while holding Texas Tech to a 33.9 shooting percentage (19-56). The Horns outrebounded the Lady Raiders, 49-28, and has won every battle of the boards this season.

Texas Tech was led by sophomore Recee Caldwell with a game-high 24 points.

Texas darted off to a 16-4 lead to open the game at the 2:48 mark of the first, converting 12 points off layups. Texas Tech capped off the opening quarter with the next eight points, including two straight from downtown, to cut the margin to 16-12 Longhorns.

The Lady Raiders continued to nip at the Horns' heels, making it a one-possession game (20-17 Texas) after a jumper at the 4:46 mark of the second quarter. Atkins captured the next three buckets with midrange jumpers, and the Longhorns fired off the next ten points to lead at the half, 30-17.

Texas continued to drive ahead in the third, and a McCarty three forced a Texas Tech timeout at the 6:07 mark with the Horns holding the 43-22 edge. The teams continued to trade baskets, and a jumper from sophomore Lashann Higgs ended the third, 48-28 Longhorns.

It was an even 19-19 spread in the closing stanza with Texas Tech finding its strength once again from behind the arc. The Horns closed on an 8-0 stretch to take the game, 67-47.

Up next, Texas will play its first conference road game in Ames, Iowa on New Years Day as it takes on Iowa State. Tip inside the Hilton Coliseum is set for 12 p.m. CT and the game will be televised on FSN.

AMES, Iowa – Junior Ariel Atkins led all scorers with a career-high 25 points as No. 16/16 Texas Women's Basketball (8-4, 2-0 Big 12 Conference) defeated Iowa State (9-4, 0-2 Big 12 Conference) inside Hilton Coliseum on Sunday afternoon, 75-68.

This marks the first time in program history the Longhorns have won in Ames back-to-back. Iowa State leads the all-time series over Texas, 17-14, but the Longhorns have captured the last three contests.

"Iowa State plays a style that is difficult to guard, and it tested our discipline," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "Any win is a big win in the Big 12, but a road win is huge."

Atkins' 25 points came behind a 10-17 shooting effort from the field and a 3-5 mark from downtown. She also posted two boards and one assist for the game.

Senior Kelsey Lang picked up her sixth double-double of the season with 11 points and a game-high 12 rebounds and five blocks. Junior Brooke McCarty rounded out the double-digits scorers for the Horns with 13 points and tied her season-high with six assists.

As a team, Texas shot 47.5 percent (29-61) from the field while holding Iowa State to a 41.0 shooting percentage (25-61). The Longhorns outblocked the Cyclones, 7-1.

Iowa State was led by junior Jadda Buckley with 19 points.

Two treys from Atkins coupled with an early five points off the bench for Sutton paced Texas to the 12-10 lead headed into the first timeout. The game tied two more times in the opening stanza, but Iowa State knocked down a three-pointer with two seconds on the clock to end the first, 21-20 Cyclones.

The Horns continued to trail until the 6:10 mark of the second quarter when an Atkins jumper in the heart of an 8-0 burst gave Texas the 26-25 edge. After a Cyclone free throw evened things at 30, the Longhorns closed on an 11-0 stretch capped with a McCarty three to head into the half with the 41-30 lead.

An 11-0 Iowa State rout in the heart of the third got the Cyclones within four of Texas, but back-to-back layups from the Horns pushed the lead back to eight (47-39) with 3:52 remaining in the quarter. Iowa State continued to drive forward, outscoring Texas 16-8 in the third, to narrow the margin to 49-46 Longhorns headed into the closer.

Iowa State battled back to take its first lead since the second quarter with 4:10 remaining in the game, 58-57. Texas used an unanswered 9-0 run to go ahead by as many as eight, but Iowa State found its strength from the line and downtown to trail 71-68 with 23 seconds on the clock. Four from the line courtesy of Atkins and sophomore Lashann Higgs sealed the deal for Texas, 75-68.

Next, Texas will travel to Lawrence, Kan. to take on the Kansas Jayhawks inside historic Allen Fieldhouse on Wednesday, Jan. 4. Tip is slated for 7 p.m. CT, and the game will be televised on ESPN3.
